The next Computus, now existing, is that of John Marshall, for the 14th year of the same reign (A.D. 1391, 2). Among the items are,—“Paid a certain Friar for bringing back a book to the College 18d. For wine for the Chancellor, at the time of the Account 10d. For wine and a breakfast given to Sir Robert Charlton 30d. For gloves given to his men 2s. 5d. For wine at the time when Master Robert Gower entered upon (intravit) the ‘Sententia,’ 2s. 4d. For mending 2 bankquers (coverings of the benches for the banquet, or dessert) 4d. To a boy for mending the well (fontis), 2d. To boys for cleansing the ambulatory (spatiatorium) 4d.”

The next Computus is that of Thomas Foston, for the 15th year of the same reign (A.D. 1392, 3). Four Fellows were now in residence.—“For straw for the wall between our College and Little University Hall 18d” (probably the “White Hall,” which lately formed part of the College buildings). “For wine, when the servant of Sir Robert Scharelton (Charlton) supped with Master John Taylyor 4d. For trees for the pleasure-garden (disporto) 12d. For mending the Chapel vestments 21d.” The expenses for building the wall between the College and Little University Hall are then added. Then,—“For carrying away the old wall between our pleasure-garden and the pleasure-garden of Lodlow Hall. For one vestment before the altar in our Chapel 22d. For candles in the Chapel 12d. For torches 16d.” Under the head of Hampton Hall:—“To James Sthaytchare (Thatcher), for 7 days, 2s. 4d. To his wife, as many days 14d.”

The next now existing is the Computus of John Fayt, for the years 1399, 1400. New College pays a rent, for Maydynhalle. The number of Fellows has now increased to six: the chambers in the College inhabited by those not Fellows, have also increased in number; one of them is held, at a rent of 13s. 4d., by John, a monk of Furness. Master Henry Crumpe pays 20d. to this College, his name having occurred about ten years before; he was originally an opponent of Wyclif, but afterwards became his strong supporter.

The next is a Computus of John Fayt, 2nd year of Henry the Fourth (A.D. 1400, 1). A number of payments first occur here for various Schools in Oxford.—“For the Lower Schools 4s. For one Upper School 2s. 6d. For another School 20½d. Petyngtone owes for his Schools 20d.”

The Computus, or Account, of Thomas Heth, for the 3rd year of Henry the Fourth (A.D. 1401, 2), is the next. Three of the Schools before-named are here called “The three Schools in Schools Street.” “Expenses in the Library 17s. 11d.”

The next Account is, apparently, for the year 1406, but without the name of the Procurator, or Bursar, or the year, being mentioned. After this date, the accounts of expenditure are almost wholly omitted, reference being evidently intended to be made to other rolls or papers, which have probably long since perished. Among the rents received in this reign appears one (40s.) for the “Little University Hall, in High Street,” the former “White Hall,” probably. Some, if not many, of these latter Computus, which, in general, are nothing but long rent-rolls, have the signature of the Chancellor of the University, as Visitor ex officio, in the reigns of Henry the Fifth and Henry the Sixth. The preceding Computus are all in Latin.

A somewhat mutilated roll of parchment, in Latin, bearing date 1423, intituled (tr.):—“Memorandum as to the things, vessels, and other instruments, belonging as well to the buttery as the kitchen of the College of William of Durham in Oxford; delivered into the custody of Thomas Benwell, Procurator, and of Thomas Talbot, cook, of the same College, A.D. 1423.” The following are some extracts:—“In the buttery, a piece of silver, with a covercle to the same; 14 silver spoons, 9 with long handles (stert), and 5 with shorter, 12 having the founder’s arms . . . 2 wooden tables, one gallon, and one pynt. One pipe (pipa) for keeping the cloths, closed with a key. One cask for vordjuse (verjuice), another for lentils, and one other for ayseil (? vinegar). 4 cloths for the high table, one wanting . . . A chest for keeping cloths; and another which stood in the Chapel, with a cover. Two table-cloths for the high table, one for principal days. Four hand-napkins, for placing after dinner, two of the best cloth, for principal days . . . Memorandum, that Master John Castell lost one spoon, price —.” “Instruments of the kitchen” follow; and then “In the office of the Procurator—“There are in the keeping of Thomas Benwell, the “Procurator—First, one good bushel, sealed with the Chancellor’s seal. One barrow, with a wheel: 2 rollers; 2 mattocks; one sieve; three benches, one long, another shorter, and the third, in the kitchen, very short. One pair of balances, with weights, for gold. One spit for birds, made of wyer.”

The following are some items from an English description of the furniture in the Master’s Lodge, at a later date:—“The Colledge stuffe in hospitio Magistri, A.D. 1587°, anno regni Elizabethæ 29°, Maii 12°.” “In the haule below, a backe and side bench of waynscott . . . A court cupboorde . . . A waynscott portall. 2 waynscott windowes with cubboordes. In the upper haule . . . Hangings of greene saye. In the little chamber. A bedsteede corded. Hangings of greene and red saye. A curtayne in the window. A vallaunce of red velvet, about the bedsteede. In the gallerie. A joynd table, with 3 formes. Mattes in the flowre. Mappes—Orbis nova divisio in 4 partes, secundum neotericos (A new division of the globe into four parts, according to the moderns). A Mapp of the Low Countreyes. A mapp of Spayne. The mapp of the Worlde by Ortelius. Mercator’s mapp of Europe. A mapp of Italye. . . The pictures of the 7 Liberal Sciences. A mapp of the sege of Malta. In the studie . . . In the waynscote chamber . . . A bed-stedde. A truelle bed. Hangings of Dornix [Damask of Tournay], etc.”

There are a considerable number of ancient deeds in the possession of this College, dating from the time of Henry the Third, if not an earlier date. Several of them are in a mutilated, and almost illegible, condition, owing apparently to the action of fire at some remote period: but most, if not all, of them, have been transcribed into a series of eleven quarto volumes, compiled about the close of the 17th century, and beginning of the 18th, by William Smith, for many years Senior Fellow of the College, and afterwards Rector of Melsomby, in Yorkshire. He was the author also of a book, now of considerable rarity, intituled,—“The Annals of University College, proving William of Durham the true Founder: and answering all their arguments who ascribe it to King Alfred,” printed at Newcastle-upon-Tyne, in 1727. These volumes, still kept in the Muniment-room, are a striking monument of the writer’s industry.

One of the earliest deeds, followed by a series relating to the same property, is an indenture (in Latin) beautifully written, and perfect, whereby William le Orfouere (Goldsmith), of Oxford, conveys to Philip de Wormenhale and Alice, his wife, his messuage, situate in the parish of All Saints in Oxford, containing one hall with three sollars [or sun-rooms] and two cellars, and one brewhouse, for the lives of them and of either of them, at a yearly rent of 34s. 4d. Dated at Oxford, on the Saturday next before the Decollation of St. John the Baptist, in the 24th year of the reign of King Edward the First (A.D. 1296.) “Witnesses, Philip de Owe, Mayor of Oxford, Thomas de Henxe and Ralph de Stoke, bailiffs, Henry Oweyn, John de Ow, Nicholas Orfeure, Thomas de Mowry, Andrew de Prye, Robert de Wormenhale, Richard Especer, William de Hedindon, and others.”

There is another still earlier deed, somewhat mutilated by fire, date about 1240; whereby Henry Segrin and Matilda, his wife, convey to Andrew Achart, parson of Spersholt, a tenement lying near the land of William Knyt, in Kiboldestret, in the Parish of St. John, in Oxford, for a yearly rent of 4 shillings, he having already given 2 marks and a quarter of wheat. “Witnesses, Hugh Fulvus and Thomas Granger, then Provosts, Richard Bodi, Richard Curteis, Pentecoste, William Crompe, Hugh Fitz-Philip, William Knyt, William Clerk, and others.” This deed is beautifully written. The two oblong seals are in fine condition; one, in green wax, representing, apparently, a French lily, has the legend “S. Henrici Segrin”; the other, also in green wax, represents a rose, with the legend “S. Maltide,”—“the seal of Maltilda.” The person calling himself “Pentecoste,” without any other name, was probably a Jew.

A deed dated the 20th of February, in the 8th year of King Henry the VIth, being a Composition between the King and “his humble oratours and daily bedemen, John Rokesburgh, Clerk,” Master of the College, and the Fellows thereof—witnessing that the King, “of his bounteous grace, and for the tender zeal, love, and charitable affection, that his good grace beareth and hath unto the soul of Dame Anne late Countess Warweyke deceased, whom God pardon and assoile, of his most blessed and charitable almes, for divers great considerations moving his

WADHAM
COLLEGE,
OXFORD.

"noble Grace," had given 40*l.* sterling to the said Master, to be distributed, "for the health and wele of the soul" of the said Countess, in manner following:—"The said Maister and Fellows shull kepe or do to be kept within the said College yerely, during the term of four score years" then next ensuing, "a solempne Dirige by note on that day that it fortuneth the said noble Countesse to decease on; that is to say, yerely on the day of Seint Mighell the Archangell, and a solempne Mass of Requiem to be kept and devoutly songe there on the morowe for the soul of the same noble Countesse; and that the Maister of the said College . . . shall sing the said Masse, if he be disposed so to do, or else the said Maister . . . shall commaund and do some other discreet and virtuous preste and Fellowe of the said College in his sted in that behalve, and that as wel the said Maister or eny other Felowe, that shalle so synge the said high Masse in his stede, as all other Felowes of the same Colleg, the which shall be disposed to sing Masse there that day, shall devoutly remembre in his Masse these words in his Secund Memento, after the receyvinge of Cristis body—"Ihesu, Fili David, miserere animas famulas tuas, Anne nuper Comitissae Warrewyke," and that every poure scoler of the tenne poure scolers founded by the charitable almes of the College, shulle say, devoutly knelynge on their knees, bitwene thelevation and the reception of the most glorious and blessed body of Criste—"Ihesu, Fili" [etc., as above]; for the whiche yerely Obits, Masses, praiers, and godly observances, so in fourme above said solemnly and devoutly to be observed, established, and kept, the said Maister and his successors, Maisters of the said College for the tyme beyng, shulle dispose and distribute, or cause to be disposed and distributed, yerely, every yere, during the terme of four score yeres above said, for the soule of the sayde noble Countesse, tenne shillings in maner and fourme ensynge; that is to wyte, to the saide Maister of the said Colege for the tyme beyng, xii*d.*, to every Felowe of the same College vi*d.*, and to every of the said ten poure scolers iii*d.*; and overe and beside this, the said Maister and Felowes, for them and their successors, by common assent and aggreement, receyve and grauntene by these presents the soule of the said good Lady to be partener and partable amonge the soules of other noble benefactors of the said place of these Masses, praiers, [the following words down to 'graces,' have a line through them] indulgences, bulles, remissions, graces, and suffrages of Cristis Holy Chirche, the whiche shalbe ministered, said, or done, by the said Maister and Fellows within the said Colege duringe alle the said terme. To the whiche Diriges, Masses, prayers, observances, and godly suffrages of Cristis holy Chirche, feithfully, firmly, and inviolably, to be kept and observed in manere and fourme above-said, the said Maister and Felowes, and their successors, bynden them in their consciences before Almighty God by these presentes, during alle the terme aforesaid." The College have thereto set their seal, and the King has commanded his to be set thereto. H.R. (the letters running one into the other) is added at the foot.

The above-named Anne, Countess of Warwick, was Anne (Beauchamp), widow of Richard Neville, Earl of Warwick, known in history as "the Kingmaker," who was slain at the Battle of Barnet in 1471.

The Admission Books and Registers of the College, now known to exist, are comparatively few in number, dating from only the close of the 17th century.

It is with much pleasure that I acknowledge my obligations to C. J. Faulkner, Esqre., Fellow, Tutor, and Bursar, of the College, for the facilities he afforded me in examining the contents of the Muniment-room under his charge. I also owe my best thanks to E. J. Payne, Esqre., Fellow of the College, for many marks of kind attention which I received from him, and for the readiness with which, with the view of aiding me in the inspection of these documents, he placed both his personal services and his rooms at my disposal.

And further, before concluding my Report on the records of University College, I gladly avail myself of this opportunity of acknowledging how greatly I have been indebted to the Revd. Claude Delaval Cobham, B.C.L., M.A., a member of the College; for the friendly spirit and energy shown by him, on several occasions, in doing his utmost to ensure and facilitate my inspection of the archives of several of the Colleges in this University.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

WADHAM COLLEGE, OXFORD.

WADHAM
COLLEGE, OXFORD.

By the courtesy of the Revd. Dr. Griffiths, the Warden, to whom I have the pleasure of here expressing my obligations, I am enabled to give an account of what may be called "the archives" of this College. They will be found to be but very limited in number; owing mainly to the fact that the House itself,—though it has well held its own since it was founded,—is but of comparatively recent foundation.—

The Admission Book of the Wardens, Fellows, and Scholars, of the College, is a large volume, half bound, with paper leaves, about 300 in number, and coming down from the earliest days of the College to the present time.

The first written page, with 1610 entered in the margin, commences with an account, in Latin, of the laying of the foundation of the College, formally attested by a Notary Public, and preceded by the title of the book; the following is a translation of it, with which I have been kindly favoured by the Warden:—"Book of Wadham College, as to admissions of Wardens, Fellows, Scholars, and others, to the said College. In the name of God, Amen. By the present public instrument let it appear evidently unto all, and be known, that on Tuesday, to wit, the last day of July, between the hours of eight and eleven before noon on that day, and in the eighth year of the reign of our Lord, James, by the grace of God, of England, France, and Ireland, King, defender of the Faith, &c. and over Scotland the forty-fourth, the 'Te Deum' 'laudamus' having been first solemnly sung with voices and instruments, and an elegant oration having then been made by the Worshipful George Ryves, Doctor of Divinity, and Warden of the College of Saint Mary Winton in Oxford; in the eastern part of this College of Wadham, that is, in the Chapel or Church, to the honour of God, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, by the sacred hands of the Worshipful John King, Doctor of Divinity, Vice-Chancellor of this benign University of Oxford and Dean of Christ Church, and the Worshipful Richard Kilbey, Rector of Lincoln College, George Ryves, Warden of the College of Saint Mary Winton in Oxford, John Spenser, President of Corpus Christi College, and John Williams, Principal of Jesus College, Doctors of Divinity, in the names of the distinguished gentleman, Nicholas Wadham, Esquire, lately deceased, and of Dorothy, his relict, were laid the foundations, or rather was laid the chief foundation stone, of this renowned College of Wadham, so for future ages in the perpetual course of time from henceforth to be called. Which things being so done, had, and performed, to the honour of God, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, there was had another performance of "vocal and instrumental music." Followed by the attestation of Thomas Frenche, M.A., Notary Public. Dorothy Wadham, the Foundress, was not present at this ceremonial.

The next two pages are occupied with the formal proceedings on the admission of Robert Wright, Doctor of Divinity, nominated by the Foundress to be the first Warden, 20th April 1613. On the five following pages is recorded the admission of the first Fellows, Scholars, Chaplains, Clerks, and Servants, on the same 20th of April, all having been nominated in like manner by the Foundress.

On the 2nd of September in the same year (p. 9), upon the resignation of Dr. Wright, John Flemyng was appointed Warden by the Foundress.

The Founder and Foundress residing at Merifield in Somerset, there was at this period a great influx of persons born in that country. Robert Blake, afterwards the celebrated Admiral under the Commonwealth, a native of Bridgwater, was a Commoner of this College; but not being on the foundation, his name does not appear in the volume under notice. William Blake, of Bridgwater, probably his brother, was admitted a Scholar, it is here stated (p. 19), on the 30th of June 1620. Unlike the Admiral, he was an adherent of the royal cause.

P. 20, Tobias Venner, born at Bridgwater, aged 16, is admitted a Scholar, 30 June 1622: probably a son of Tobias Venner, who practised as a physician for many years at Bridgwater and elsewhere in Somerset, and died in 1660, aged 83. The physician wrote in dispraise of the Bath waters, taken internally; and is still remembered in literature by his "Via recta ad Vitam longam," a treatise on the right mode of living to ensure a long life.

WADHAM
COLLEGE,
OXFORD.

On p. 41 are recorded two Orders of the Committee for the Reformation of the University. By the first, dated 3 March 1648, Dr. Pitt was removed from the office of Warden, but no mention was made of Wilkins. By the second, dated 7 April 1648, John Wilkins was appointed Warden, in the place of Dr. Pitt, so removed. The two Orders together constitute the procedure whereby John Wilkins, of Magdalen Hall, (the mathematician, afterwards Bishop of Chester), was substituted as Warden for Dr. Pitt. The second Order begins as follows:—"April 7, 1648. Att the Committee of Lords and Commons for the Reformation of the Universitie of Oxon. Whereas it appears to this Committee, and accordingly was resolved, that Dr. Pitt was guilty of high contempt and denyall of authoritie of Parliament, and for an effectuall remedie thereof it was alsoe resolved, that the said Dr. Pitt be removed from being Warden of Wadham College in the Universitie of Oxford, and that John Wilkins, Master of Arts, be Warden of the said College." At the foot it is stated that this is a true copy of the decree, attested by Thomas Fulkes, Notary Public; who, instead of the Notary's usual device of a knot, or a wreath, or the like, has this motto.—"Est Deus, occultos qui vetat esse dolos." In the margin is signed "Joh. Wilkins, Gardian," in the Notary's hand. On the 3rd of October following, six new Fellows were elected by the Parliamentary Visitors.

In p. 48 is the admission of Gilbert Ironside as Scholar, born at "Steepleton in Com. Dorset;" admitted 9th July 1651. He was probably son of the Prebendary of York of that name, who was made Bishop of Bristol in 1660, and died in 1671. He was afterwards Warden of the College, and himself became Bishop of Bristol in 1689. On the 25th of September 1652 is entered the admission of Thomas Spratt as Scholar, born at Tatlton, in the county of Devon: he afterwards became Bishop of Rochester.

In p. 76 is entered the admission of Thomas Dunster as a Scholar, 24th September 1675, aged 18, born at Ilminster, in the County of Somerset. He became Warden in 1689.

In p. 79 are the admissions, as Scholars, on the 28th of September 1677, of Humphrey Hody, born at Odcombe, in Somerset, Robert Doyley, born at Southrop, in the County and Diocese of Gloucester, and Thomas Creech, born at Blandford in the County of Dorset, aged 16. Hody was afterwards a celebrated Divine, and Creech is still remembered as the translator of Lucretius, whose example he unfortunately followed in committing the act of self-destruction. Robert Doyley, not improbably, was a member of the same family as Sir William D'Oyley, often mentioned by Pepys in his Diary.

At page 85, under 29th September 1683, one "John Sagittarie," born at Blandford Forum, in the county of Dorset, is admitted a Scholar. The name is spelt "Sagittary," on his admission as a Fellow in 1690.

The admissions, which are limited to those of members on the foundation, stop short at page 102, the year 1694, and are continued at page 121, from 1738 to the present time. The entries for the intervening years are lost, and the cause of this singular hiatus seems to be now unknown.

The earliest Register of the Acts of the College is a paper book, in old leather binding, in good condition; the entries beginning in 1610.

On the first fly-leaf is the following entry:—"Dec. 22^o año Dñi 1618. Wee the Warden and Fellowes of "Wadham College decree that our trustie Mancoiple John Williams, for his diligent and faithfull service to our College, (for which he was much respected by our honourable Foundresse during her life, and deserveth to be well esteemed of us), shall have weekly of every Fellow-commoner 1d., of every other Commoner ob. qu. (½d.) and of every Batteller ob. (½d.), for his better encouragement to continewe his carefull and honest paines. Provided that this grant, made to the said John Williams, extende to no other man which shall succede him; nor to him any longer then he shall continewe in his mancoipleshippe. William Smythe, Warden," and the then Fellows.

Page 4. (tr). "On the 12th day of December, 1614, letters were sent to the College, written by Mr. John Arnolde, signifying the liberality of the most honourable Foundresse, who with full hand poured forth [effundebat] 60 pounds to her College; of which the following is a faithful copy:—"Good Mr. Doctor. I have solicited your sute for your Company unto my mistris, and I have preyed so farre with her, as that she hath sent you, to dischardge the carryadge and settlinge of your bookes, with the makinge of your "seales, fifty poundes; and withall because yt is the first Christmas that hath byn kept in Wadham Colledge, my Mrs. hath sent you likewise tenn poundes, which must be spent this Christmas in Gawdyes from her, as a token of her remembrance unto the whole Company; these monyes are sent by me in gould, and my mistrisse refers the managinge of yt unto your self, and the acquayntinge of your Company with yt. And so with my best remembrance to your self, and my kynde love to all my good freindes, I leave you to God, remayninge alwayes to the utmost of my power, your faithfull freind, John Arnolde."

Page 5, the Foundresse says, in a postscript to a Letter, dated in 1614. "I would have prayers and fasting dayes dewlye observed in the house, not allowing any in theyre chambres to breake it, or elsewhere within the Colledge."

P. 13. In a Letter dated May 23d, 1616, she says:—"often hearing from you doth greatly revive my minde, being mine only joy, to understand of all your well-fares, and that there is unity amongst you."

P. 19.—"I Dorothe Wadham, of Edge, in the county of Devon, widow, do decree and ordaine, that the time of supping, and the disputations that have been after supper, may be at any howers, at the discretion of the Warden, so farre forth, that the length of the disputations be not contracted or shortned; which I commande be diligently observed, and still continued for that length of time as is expressed in my statutes."

Page 20. She gives direction as to her "servant Arnold's two kinsmen, now Scollers," being elected into the next two Fellowships that shall be void.

Page 44. A.D. 1627, Mr. Harrington, a Fellow, is deprived of all benefits of his fellowship, he having a private income of 40 pounds per annum. In the following page he is ordered to appear before the Visitor, at Westminster, on the 10th of January next.

On the 17th of November 1627, Toby Venner, B.A. and Scholar, is censured (p. 45) for neglect of certain statutes, and contempt in failing to appear. He is afterwards deprived of his scholarship, for persistence in the like conduct.

Page 49. James Harrington, for his conduct, is deprived of all emoluments of his Fellowship, for 6 months, 1st Aug. 1629.

Page 100. A long letter from the King preceding, dated 5th January 1642 (3):—"It is unanimously consented and agreed by the Warden and Fellowes the 14th of January 1642 (3).—That all the plate of this College shall be lent unto the King, according to his Majesties request expressed in his letteres above written, reserving only our Communion plate. Dan: Escot, Warden, Will: Blake, Sub-warden" and eight other Fellows.

The entries in this volume end in 1690, page 172.

A paper book, folio, bound in parchment, commencing in 1609, and having for its title, in the first written page, "A note of money layde oute about the building of "Wadham College, from the month of April 1610." The accounts end on the 4th of September 1613; and the volume; which probably contains a complete account of the whole building expenses, is not quite filled.

In two small wooden boxes are contained a great number of very early deeds, connected with property held by the College at Writtle, near Chelmsford, in the county of Essex. The following is an account of some few of them, which have been selected for notice:—

A parchment deed, in good condition, of the 14th Edward I., with an oblong seal in white wax, representing a lily, or similar flower, but with the legend effaced: its contents, which are somewhat peculiar, are as follow:—"Omnibus Christi fidelibus, ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Salona, quæ fuit uxor Bertrami de Montepessulano, salutem in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra, me, per ordinationem et voluntatem parentum et amicorum meorum, et per meam meram voluntatem, in mea ligea potestate, dedisse et assignasse, pro me et meis quibuscunque assignatis, nomine consuetudinum prædictorum [P] puerorum dicti Bertrami, ad eorum promotionem, cum ad plenam ætatem pervenerint; videlicet, Johanni, filio et hæredi prædicti Bertrami, duos equos et unum bovem, pretii duarum marcarum in toto, et unam vaccam cum vitulo suo, pretii octo solidorum in toto, et duas oves matricas et quatuor agnos, pretii quinque solidorum in toto, et unam pelvem et unum lavatorium [de] cupro, pretii xviii. denariorum in toto, et unam carectam ferratam, pretii vi. solidorum et viii. denariorum in toto. Et Angneti, filie ejusdem Bertrami, unam vaccam cum vitulo suo, pretii viii. solidorum,

ADAM ALRED
FORD.WADHAM
COLLEGE
OXFORD

"et ii. vitulos superannuatos, pretii quatuor solidorum in toto, et iii. oves matricem, pretii trium solidorum. Et Johanna, filia ejusdem Bertrami, duas vaccas, cum vitulis earum, pretii xvi. solidorum in toto, et quatuor oves matricem, pretii quatuor solidorum. Quæ quidem omnia prædicta catalla dictorum puerorum, Johannis, Angnetis, et Johanne, in custodia mea remanebunt, usque ad eorum plenam ætatem, ad commodum et in incrementum dictorum puerorum in omnibus. Et si dicta Agnes et Johanna, seu altera earum, infra suam plenariam ætatem fuerit maritata, dicta catalla eisdem, seu alteri earum sua portio, restituantur. Ego etiam, dicta Salona, prædictos pueros in omnibus sibi necessariis pro posse, usque ad eorum plenam ætatem, sustinebo; promittens eisdem, et alteri eorum, suam portionem dictorum catallorum, vel pretii, in fine eorum plenæ ætatis, sine fraude et diminutione, restituere. Et si quis vel quæ dictorum puerorum diem clauserit extremum antequam ad plenam ætatem attigerit, catalla ipsius defuncti, sine alienatione prædicti defuncti, pro anima sua, et patris sui, distribuuntur pauperibus per visum amicorum illorum.—Datum apud Writele, die Mercurii in festo Apostolorum Philippi et Jacobi, anno regni Regis Edwardi xliii.;" et prædictum scriptum remaneat in custodia fratris "Algat."

Tr.:—"To all the faithful of Christ, to whom the present writing shall come, Salona, who was the wife of Bertram de Montpellier, greeting in the Lord. Know all of you that I, by ordinance and wish of my parents and friends, and of my own mere will, in my lawful power, have given and assigned, for me and my assigns whomsoever, in name of customs of the aforesaid [?] children of the said Bertram, for their promotion, when they shall have reached full age; to wit, to John, son and heir of the aforesaid Bertram, 2 horses and one ox, value 2 marks in all, and one cow with her calf, value 8 shillings in all, and 2 ewe sheep and 4 lambs, value 5 shillings in all, and one basin and one ewer [of] copper, value 18 pence in all, and one iron-bound cart, value 6s. 8d. in all. And to Agnes, daughter of the same Bertram, one cow with her calf, value 8 shillings, and two calves over age, value 4 shillings in all, and 3 ewe sheep, value 3 shillings. And to Joan, daughter of the same Bertram, 2 cows with their calves, value 16 shillings in all, and 4 ewe sheep, value 4 shillings. All which chattels aforesaid of the said children, John, Agnes, and Joan, shall remain in my keeping, until their full age, to the advantage of, and increase for, the said children in all respects. And if the said Agnes and Joan, or either of them, shall be married before being of full age, the said chattels are to be restored to them, or to either one her portion thereof. And I, the said Salona, will maintain the children aforesaid in all things necessary for them, until their full age, to the best of my power; promising to them and to either of them, to restore his and her own portion of the said chattels, or of the value thereof, without fraud or diminution, at the end when they reach full age. And if any one of the said children shall die before reaching full age, the chattels of the one so dead, without any alienation from the one aforesaid so dead, are to be distributed to the poor, for the soul of such one and of his or her father, by view of their friends. Given at Writele, on Wednesday the feast of the Apostles Philip and James, in the year of the reign of King Edward the 14th [A.D. 1286]; and the writing aforesaid is to remain in the keeping of brother "Algat."

A bond (in Latin) on parchment, by John Geffry, of Fyfyde, and Editha, his wife, to Richard de Aleford and Elena, his wife; the money to be paid in the church of All Saints, at Writtle, 30 Edward I.

Release, in Latin, on parchment, by Philip le Brun, of Writele, of a yearly rent of 5½d. out of 6d. and one clove (uno clavo gariophili): without date, but belonging to the earlier part of the reign of Edward I. It has an oblong seal, in dark wax, with a fair impression of two figures upon it.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost, finely written, without date, but probably of the reign of Henry III.; whereby Walter de Brome grants to Sawalus de Sulwede, for his homage and service, the land which Roger the Gardener [Gardinerius] held of him, in Bronwede, near Writele, at a yearly rent of one penny, Sawalus having paid 16s. beforehand. Witnesses, Walter de Bures, Richard de Bures, William Geryun, Philip Vineter, Roger de Brome, Reginald Butler [Pincerna], Alexander de Widiford, Alwin de Widiford, Alured Fitz-Albini, Walter de Aldewic, "who wrote this deed," and many others.

A parchment deed, in Latin, without date, but probably of the early part of the reign of Edward I.; being a grant by Walter, son of Walter Tyrel, to Sawallus de Sulwede, of 10 acres in Haningefelde, at a yearly rent of 12d., half a mark having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Robert de Cloville, William de Haningefeld, John de Bedenestede, Roger de Haningefeld, Thomas Parage, Sawallus Fitz-Radulf, John Peverel, Walter de Brome, and many others. The seal, in white wax, with a fleur-de-lis and legend, is in fair condition.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by Roger Fitz-Radulf, of Writele, to Bertram de Montpellers, for his homage and service, and 20s. sterling, of 20 pence of yearly rent which he was wont to receive of William Burel out of 8 daiuerkis [elsewhere written "daiwirkes," dayworks] of land, which William Pey held of him near the bounds [merkis] of the market of Writele, with a payment of two hens, at our Lord's Nativity; also one bederepe [precaria] at the lord's victuals, and one dry bederepe in autumn; he paying a rent of one clove at Easter. Witnesses, Richard Cook, Eustace de Brome, Henry de Sperkebrige, Geoffrey de Reines, Robert le Waleis, Alexander de More, Robert de Sokeleston, Geoffrey Ailmer, John Capon, William Paskedon, and many others. The oblong seal is whole, with a fair impression; and the deed, without date, probably belongs to the time of Henry III.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by John, son of William de Legia, to Sewalus, son of Adam de Crundene, for his homage and service, of 15 acres of land, which he had with Avice, his wife, in marriage, in the vill of Haningefelde, being the 10 acres which Godewine held, and the five which William Fitz-Muriel held, at a yearly rent of 18d., 9 shillings being paid beforehand. Witnesses, Alexander the Chaplain, Alured Gavy, William Fitz-Adam, Walter Chaplain, Richard Chaplain of Writhell, Bartholomew de Firling, Robert de Moryns, Richard Gay, Richard de Gurnay, Philip the Clerk, "and many others." The seal is lost; the deed is without date, and belongs probably to the latter part of the reign of Henry III.

A small parchment, in Latin, with a very diminutive red seal, dated at "Hallifeld Regis," the 10th of July, 12 Edward III. It is only remarkable, as being an acknowledgment by John Mounpellers the younger, son of John Mounpellers the elder, his brother. It was not extremely uncommon, in the middle ages, for two brothers to have the same Christian name.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Laurence Waleys, Thomas Albyn, and John Ruddok, of Wrytele, grant to Richard Stacy and others a croft, called "Buddescroft," in Writele, for a yearly rent of one red rose; 8 Richard II. There are two seals attached.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby A., Dean of St. Paul's, and the Chapter, ratify the grant of the Venerable Lord, William, Bishop of London, to Adam Fitz-Nicholas of 30 acres which Robert de Moreguy held in the park of Crundene. Witnesses, A., the Dean, Peter of Blois, Archdeacon of London, Richard Archdeacon of Essex, Richard Archdeacon of Colchester, Benedict Precentor of London, Robert de Clifford, Master Roger the Chaplain, Richard the Younger, Gilbert Banastre, Braund, John de St. Laurence, Henry de Civitate, William de Poterne, Ranulf de Besancon, Richard de Chamham. This deed must bear date about A.D. 1198; as William de St. Mary Church became Bishop of London in that year, and Peter of Blois, Archdeacon, is supposed to have died soon after that date. The seal (of the Dean and Chapter), of large size, is broken; it represents St. Paul, with one hand raised, in the act of benediction, and holding an open book in the other, the people kneeling around. This deed, which is in good preservation, is most beautifully written.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

MAGDALENE COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE.

MAGDALE
COLLEGE
CAMBRIDGE

The earliest now existing Register, or Admission Book, of this College, begins A.D. 1644. It contains, however, other entries besides admissions, and is styled within the cover, in an old hand, "College Register, "No. I." It is a small folio volume of 233 leaves, bound in old calf, and its title, on the obverse of the first page, is—"Catalogus Admissorum in Collegium "Beate Mariæ Magdalensæ, apud Cantabrigienses,

MAGDALENE
COLLEGE,
CAMBRIDGE.

"Anno Domini millesimo sexcentesimo quadragesimo quarto." The first entry is (in Latin), that "John Gibbon, son of Antony, of Langton, near Wragby, gentleman, aged 16 years, was admitted Pensioner the 7th day of September 1644, from the school at Islington. Tutor, Sir Perinchiefe" [his title as Bachelor of Arts].

In the same page occurs (tr.): "Samuel Moreland, son of Thomas Moreland, Priest, was admitted Sizar in this College May in the 19th year of his age; a boy of Wickham's College, near Winchester. Tutor, Sir Turner." This, no doubt, was the future secretary to Thurloe, and afterwards known as an experimental philosopher; whose mechanical devices at Chelsea are mentioned by Pepys. Folio 10 b. "1649, June 9^o, Richard Cumberland, son of Richard Cumberland, citizen of London, in his 17th year, of St. Paul's school, was admitted Pensioner; his Tutor, Mr. Merryweather," afterwards known as the learned and eminently virtuous Bishop of Peterborough.

In fol. 12a, we come to the admission of Samuel Pepys, the Diarist: in the original Latin;—"Oct. 1, 1650, Samuel Peapys, filius Johannis Peapys, annos natus, — e schola Paulina, admissus est Sizar, Tutor, Domino Morland." In the margin there is an insertion, as to his previous admission at Trinity Hall:—"Memorandum, eum prius admissum fuisse in Aula Trin. 21 die Junii ejusdem anni, ut patet ex testificatione Magistri Twells, ibidem Socio [sic], dat. Mar. 4, 1654; quo die etiam, in ordinem transiit Pensionarium apud nos." Fol. 14 b. "April 23 1653. Thomas Doughty, son of Robert Doughty, Schoolmaster of Wakefield, in the county of York, in his 16th year, was admitted a Sizar from the same school. Tutor, Mr. Hill." Against this entry there is a note in pencil, in an old hand,—"Canon of Windsor, and preceptor to James the 2d daughters." There are great numbers of admissions at this time (about A.D. 1654), from the Grammar School of Berwick-upon-Tweed. June 28, 1656, is the date of the admission of Henry Waterland, probably brother of Daniel, the eminent divine, afterwards Master of this College. June 13, 1662. Fol. 30 b. (tr.):—"John Shakespeare, son of a butcher of Coventry, in the county of Warwick, was admitted Sizar, aged 19, from the public School at Warwick; Master Holling being his tutor."

At fol. 57 the subject changes to lists (Nov. 8, 1648) of the then Fellows of the College, and then of all the Fellows under the various heads, from the foundation of the College.

Under Oct. 17, 1650, in fol. 62, is the following entry (tr.):—"John Sadler, Esquire, Master of Arts, and one of the Masters in Chancery, was admitted Master or Prefect of this College, by virtue of an ordinance of Parliament, dated the 19th of September in the same year, with letters under the seal of the most honourable Lord, James, Earl of Suffolk." The entry is signed by six of the then Fellows. James, Earl of Suffolk, was the then owner of Audley End. John Sadler, who had also been Town Clerk of the City of London, was ejected in 1660: a remarkable prophecy by him will be found noticed under the head of Emmanuel College, in the preceding Report of this Commission. The election of Samuel Morland, previously mentioned, as a Fellow, is entered in folio 63, Sept. 24, 1651; as also, that of John Peachell, afterwards Master. In fol. 63 b is entered the election of Robert Sawyer, as Fellow, afterwards Attorney General, and named by Pepys in his Diary: elected June 11th, 1652. In fol. 64a, under April 16, 1653, is entered the election of Richard Cumberland as Fellow.

At fol. 87 b, lists begin of the then Scholars of the College, on the various foundations, and then the dates of later admissions of Scholars, on the same foundations; Samuel Morland being the earliest named, 8 July 1645.

In fol. 92 is the admission of Samuel Pepys, as a Scholar, upon the Spendluffe foundation. "April 3^o, 1651. Ego, Samuel Peapys, admissus fui in discipulum hujus Collegii, pro Magistro Spendluff." The signature of the President, "J. Sadler," follows, and those of five Fellows, among them "Sam: Morland," and "Hez: Burton;" the latter was afterwards Prebendary of Norwich, and wrote the Preface to Dr. Cumberland's Book on "The Laws of Nature." In fol. 94 is the admission of Samuel Pepys as a Scholar "on the foundation of John Smith," three Fellows signing; among them, his Tutor, and acquaintance in after life, Samuel Morland.

Some thirty leaves are written upon, beginning at the other end of the volume; commencing with lists of the College plate in 1647. Much is crossed out with ink, but the following items are still legible.—"A note taken of all the plate now in y^e College, Apr. 7, 1647. In y^e Master's hands: Smith eare pot; Sidley can; Guevara can; caudle-pot, and porringer; 2 wine dishes; one little square salt; a salt with three knobs. Mr. Dacres, caudle-pot and cup. Can Bray, Colville stoop, Mr. Tallents. Can Trolope, Mr. Lodington. Can Cotton, Mr. Hammond. Stoope Greene, eare pot Leek, Mr. Turner. Can Ashton, Mr. Merryweather. Stoope Ashton, D^r Dacres. Stoope Knight, stoope Bigge, Mr. Percivale. Left in y^e Butler's custody,—6 stoope Coll. Magd., bowle Ryley, bowle Appleyard, eare pot Haslerig, ear pot Cotton, ear pot Cartwright. 3 old salts. One little square salt, new. A double gilt salt, 4 wine bowles, 22 spoones." Entries follow, for the 26th of August 1647 and 16th September 1648. On the other side of the leaf, among articles in the Butler's custody, October 25, 1649, is entered "Pot Boone;" afterwards crossed out, with a side-note against it,—"Y^e Goodman Townsend saith was lost before Dr. Rainbow left y^e College [in 1650], on the Thanksgiving day for y^e Victory at Dublin." The names mostly that follow the above articles of plate are those of the Fellow-commoners, or Noblemen, by whom they were presented on leaving.

The next entry of plate is in 1657, and then in 1663. In the leaves following, at this end of the volume, various memoranda of College business are interspersed. At p. 31 from this end is a copy of a letter (in Latin) sent by the College, October 5, 1667, to Sir Orlando Bridgeman, Privy Counsellor, and Keeper of the Great Seal, formerly Fellow of this College. Hezekiah Burton, before-mentioned, became his Chaplain. The lists of the College plate are brought down to February 25th, 1714.

There are four additional loose leaves in this volume, containing various memoranda relative to College business; and, among them, the following, relative to Pepys the Diarist, who seems to have got into trouble here, in spite of his election successively to two Scholarships. "Oct. 21, 1653, Mem. y^e Peapys and Hind were solemnly admonished by myself and Mr. Hill for having been scandalously overseene in drink y^e night before. This was done in y^e presence of all y^e Fellows then resident, in Mr. Hills chamber. John Wood, Registrarius," followed by, "September 9th, 1654. Memorandum, y^e Sir White and Anderson being both taken drunke, should have received admonition for it, but being contumacious and refusing to come into y^e Hall, they had both their names forthwith out out of y^e tables, and Sir White was finally expelled, though Anderson, upon his reading a recantation, had his name put in againe. J. Peachelle, Registr." On another leaf is an inventory of the College goods, in the hands of the Butler in 1648.

Audit Book: a folio volume of about 250 leaves in old calf binding, in a somewhat tattered condition. The earliest entry in it, is probably that in the first page, in reference to payments from Fellow-commoners, for the purchase of plate:—"Decretum est unanimi consensu Magistris et Sociorum, Martii 29^o anno 1574, ut singuli Pensionarii post hunc diem in sociorum [communam] admittendi, solvant Collegio in die admissionis, (pro quibus eorum Tutores sponsonem faciant,) viginti solidos cum [p ad] poculum argenteum, vel aliquod ejusdem generis, compendium." Signed—Ricardus Howland Pr. . . . Gulielmus Bulkeley, Henricus Vaux, Jacobus Brommell. Richard Howland, the Master, or President, here named was afterwards appointed Master of St. John's College, August 1577, or thereabouts. On the other side of the leaf is a list of the Master (Thomas Neville) and Fellows; in 1582 or 3, Barnaby Goge, among them, afterwards Master (in 1604), and son of Barnaby Goge, now best remembered as translator of "The Kingdom of Antichrist," by Naogeorgus. A list of the Masters, and their subsequent promotions, is given in p. 3. In p. 4. is entered:—"Mem. in this book are set down Audits and Accounts to page 130, the first Audit, 1575." In the accounts of 1582, there are payments entered, as made to the "Baylaife, Schavenger, Laundres, Cooke, Butler," and to "the Musitions 2s. 6d." with "Presents to my Lord Cheife Justice, 20s." In the next year's account, there are items,— "To the Bedells and Musicians, 6s. 6d. An Audit supper at the last Accounte, 4s. 5d. . . . A marche pane [almond cake],— Martii 1^o, 1582, 10s. A Combination Sermon, 8d." At fol. 165 entries of elections of Scholars begin, in the year 1604. In fol. 167a is the admission of Adrian Scrope as Scholar, 27th November 1613; probably the

MAGDALENE
COLLEGE,
CAMBRIDGE.

DALME 1898,
BRIDGE.

royalist of that name, of Codrington, in Lincolnshire, who fought for King Charles at Edgehill, and not the Adrian Scroop, who sat as one of the judges on the trial of Charles, and, on the Restoration, was beheaded. Fol. 178, Sept. 28, 1633, Henry Blow is admitted Scholar; qy. if of the same family as the eminent musician and and composer, Dr. John Blow, born in 1648.

Fol. 177. 13th November 1633. Election of Thomas Cracherode as a scholar (qy. if an ancestor of C.M. Cracherode, the famous book-collector). Fol. 213b. admissions of Fellows follow, A.D. 1643. At fol. 224b, is entered a Letter from Theophilus (Howard), Earl of Suffolk, to the Master and Fellows; at the close of which is added the following note:—"Memorandum, that againe upon "Saturday 15 Augusti 1635 the said original Letter " (whereof this is a true copy) and the Statutes of y^e " Colledge were publickly and audibly read, by Sir " Gale in the chappelle, immediately after common " prayers, before any fellow or scholar went out of chap- " pell; and then and there the Master of the Colledge " (Henry Smyth) exhorted and advised all fellowes " and scholars to the study of divinity, and monished " and required them all to keepe and observe all the " Statutes of the Colledge and University, together " with all the Canons and lawfull ceremonies used in " the Church of England generally, and to weare " capps in the hall, and capps and surplices in the " chappell, and to forbear all hunting or coursing, and " haunting the towne, especially all such houses or " places where wine, ale, beare [sic], or tobacco, is " soulede." The Letter in question, itself bears reference to the due observance of the Colledge Statutes.

At fol. 230a, admissions of Fellows recommence, in the year 1575, that of James Bromell among them, he being named thereto (ex denominatione) by the Queen. In fol. 240b is the admission, as a Fellow, of Adrian Scroope, before mentioned, May 22nd 1618. In fol. 242b, the election of Orlando Bridgman (afterwards Lord Keeper), as Fellow, July 7th, 1624. In fol. 235a is the election of George T. . . hby, as a Fellow, to fill the next vacancy, 23rd September 1602; and in fol. 256b is this entry:—"Whereas I, George T. . . hby, " Fellow of this Colledge, being converted before the " Maister and Fellowes the 27 of February in the yeare " of our Lord 1607, and then convicted of sundry mis- " demeanors tending to the great offence and the dis- " quiet of the whole society, was censented [sentenced] " to lose my commons or dyet from the 27 day afore- " sayd unto Easter next, and admonished to reforme " my disordered life, and to conforme myselfe to a more " quiet and peaceable life; I doe by these presence wil- " lingly confesse myselfe guilty of the premisses, tak- " ing it as an especiall favor done unto me by the " sayed society, that they be not here to my further " disgrace more particularly excited, and I doe ac- " knowledge the sayed censure to be justly imposed " uppon me; and I doe further protest that I am " hartly sorry for my former disorders, and will en- " deavour hereafter by my honest and peaceable life " to recover the love and good opinion of the whole " society; and if I shall hereafter faile herein, I shall " be contented to forfeit my whole estate and interest " in Magdalen Colledge. In witness whereof, I have " to this my present submission sett my hand, the daye " and yeare above written. George T. . . hby." Written, in an almost illegible hand, by himself, no doubt.

In fol. 257b there is the following entry:—"Memo- " randum, that the third of March 1597, an advowson " of Stanton Parsonage was granted unto our Master, " Mr. Doctor Palmer, (ether for his use or for any " frend of his,) by the consent of the company, whose " names are here subscribed. Signed by John Palmer " (Master), Thomas Yates, Barnabe Goche," and six other Fellows.

The second Register Book is a small paper folio, in old calf, of about 800 pages, containing mostly Colledge Accounts, Admissions of Masters, Fellows, Scholars, and Colledge officers, presentations to livings and exhibitions, etc.; the admissions of Pensioners and Sizars beginning in 1674. In fol. 9 is the admission as Fellow-commoners, on the same day, of William Herrick, father, and William Herrick, son (aged 20), of Beaumanor in the county of Leicester, July 4th, 1676. On May 30th, 1677 (fol. 12), is the entry of Thomas Herriok, son of the above William, the Elder, as Pensioner. P. 19, the admission of Samuel Morland, son of Sir Samuel Morland, Baronet, previously mentioned. P. 31, admission of Richard Cumberland, son of Richard, Bishop of Peterborough, June 16th, 1694, from Stam ard school. P. 55, admission of John, another son of the Bishop, May 3rd, 1698. The admissions of Scholars in this book come down to 1814, p. 353. At p. 361 begin, "Orders, Conclusiones, Concessions, and Memorandum," the first bearing date November 3rd, 1674.—Among them is the following:—"July y^e 20th, 1677. Whereas " Dr Duport, Master of y^e Colledge, hath freely bestowed " an organ upon us for y^e Chappell, these are to declare " y^e wee, y^e Fellowes of y^e Colledge, do thankfully accept " of it." Signed by J. Peachell and Gabriel Quadring, (both afterwards Masters of the Colledge,) and nine other Fellows. All traces of this organ have long since been lost. An allowance of 8 pounds yearly was immediately set apart for payment of an organist, but in 1693 this payment to the organist was discontinued. In p. 370, under the date of December 8th, 1679, is the following entry:—"Whereas of late yeares divers vitious and " disorderly customes have by the petulancy and pre- " sumption of some looser schollers been introduced " into this Colledge, tending notoriously to y^e idle ex- " pence of time and money; to wit, excesse and quarel- " ling, and all this to y^e manifest corruption and de- " bauchery of youth, and so to y^e just scandell and " offence not onely of y^e present society, but of many " worthy persons formerly members of y^e same, and " utterly strangers to such loose and idle manners in " their time: For prevention of y^e like enormities for " y^e future, and y^e mischievous effects consequent there- " upon [ordered] . . . That no Sophister or scholler " whatsoever demand for Sophisters cheese above 12d. " of a pensioner, and 8d. of a sizer; and y^e no scholler " after, or at, his first admission, offer or yield to pay " more, and y^e he pay it in cheese to be equally divided " twixt himself and y^e Sophisters, pensioners by y^m " selves, and sizers by y^m selves, according to former " and even late custome and priviledge. . . . That " no scholler at his entrance into a chamber upon his " first comming to y^e Colledge, or upon any removall " afterward, do offer to give money or to treat and " intertaine, eyther by eating or drinking, his chamber " fellowes, or any y^e keep above or below y^e same floors " or staires, or any other schollers in y^e Colledge. " And y^e no scholler whatsoever dare to demand or " receive any such treat, entertainment, or money, at, " after, or before, any such entrance or removall, as " aforesaid. That no schollers give or receive at any " time any treat or collation upon account of y^e foot- " ball play, on or about Michaelmas Day, further then " Colledge beere or ale in y^e open hall to quench their " thirsts. And particularly, that y^e most vile custome " of drinking and spending money, Sophisters and " Freshmen together, upon y^e account of making or " not making a speech at y^e foot-ball time, be utterly " left off and extinguished. That neyther y^e Freshmen " nor any others dare at all to make any treat or colla- " tion, as aforesaid, for their comrade, who make y^e " speech on Magdalen Day. That no Sizer, who is a " senior in commons, dare to demand or receive groats " or y^e worth of one farthing from any his juniors, upon " their coming to y^e table, eyther when Freshmen or " Sophemen, nor y^e Fellowes Sizers to exact or receive " admission-money, or y^e expence of one farthing, from " any, at their coming to wait and serve tables in y^e " hall. That no seniors dare to hale or compell any " his juniors, at y^e time of y^e yeare, eyther in y^e Col- " ledge or out of it, to give them cherries, berries, or " any other expence of fruit whatsoever, nor set others " on to do it. That those sottish and even savage " trickes of grubbing, salting, mustarding, and y^e like, " rarely used by any but rakehells and dunces, be " utterly disused and abolished." Signed by J. Peachell, the then Master (newly appointed), and nine Fellows.

The book, now known as the "Old Book," is a thin folio paper volume, in old embossed calf, formerly closed with a thong and buckle, and consisting of about 500 leaves, many of them left blank. It contains an account of the various foundations of the Colledge, and its foundation Charter. In fol. 12a is the following, apparently, the earliest entry in the book:—1586. This yeere the "trees in the backside, commonly called the 'Grove,' " were soulede unto Harry Flamson, of Cambridge, " baker, for ixli., and that mony by the Maister (Thomas " Nevile) bestowed towards the makinge of a great " lover for the Colledge Hall." The "Grove" still adjoins the Master's grounds; the "lover" has long since disappeared. In fol. 120b is a list of "Money " given to the New Building in the time when Dr. " Duport and Dr. Peachell was [sic] Masters." The second entry of donations is "Sir Robert Sawyer, 50l.;" and the third, "The Honble. Mr. Secretary Pepys,

MAGDALENE
COLLEGE,
CAMBRIDGE.

MAGDALENE
COLLEGE,
CAMBRIDGE.

"50l." Under money given to the New Building when Dr. Quadring was Master, Pepys is entered as subscribing an additional sum of 10 pounds. This is the building which now contains the Pepysian Library. This volume is mainly devoted to what may be called the private business of the College.

In a folio volume of blank leaves are preserved, loose, a number of letters written to the College, with the sign manual of Queen Elizabeth, in favour of various persons who, at her desire, were to be admitted to the King's Fellowships in the College. These are Jordan Chadwick, to be chosen in the room of Henry Thrustcrosse, 25th November, in the 35th year of her reign; John Bell, in the room of John Dawbney, 1567; George Fludd, in the room of David Roberts, 7th of October, in the 27th year of her reign. The persons earliest named as being elected to these two Fellowships, were John Dawbney, B.A., and Ciprian Valerie, a Spaniard, then a student in the College; the Queen signs a letter, dated the 12th January, in the 2nd year of her reign, stating her desire that these two may be chosen "to the rowmes of the same, now presentlie voyde." The names of their predecessors are no longer known. There are mandates in favour also of John Payne, 22nd January, in the 39th year of her reign; William Goldington, 5th of June 1568; David Roberts, M.A., of Christ's College, 23rd of January 1580. These letters of Queen Elizabeth are followed by similar letters sent by James the First and Charles the Second, similarly signed at the head. Dr. Peachall, the Master, was suspended by James the Second, but there is a letter dated 24th of October 1688, with his sign manual at the head and that of "Sunderland" below, restoring the Doctor to office; he died in 1690. The order for deposition is on parchment, dated 7th May 1687, with the Great Seal attached.

In this book are two letters, dated from Clapham (in Surrey), 22nd of July and 6th of August 1703, and written by Mr. Jackson, nephew of Samuel Pepys, to Dr. Quadring, Master of the College, relative to the death of his uncle, and the gift of his library, either to Magdalene College, or to Trinity. (Jackson was to retain possession for his life, and the College did not come into possession of the library until 1724, when it was removed, with the original book-cases, to the College.) He had been a member of the College himself, and in the Second Register, page 36, is the following entry:—"Johanna Jackson, filius Johannis, de Brampton in Comitatu Huntingdoniæ, 15 annos tantum natus, e Schola publica Huntingdoniæ admissus Pensionarius. Tutore Magistro Millington, Junii 28^o 1686."

My best thanks are due to the Master of the College, the Honourable and Revd. Latimer Neville, for the kind interest which he manifested in the inspection of these volumes. To the Revd. Mynors Bright, Senior Fellow, I feel myself under great obligations, for the readiness with which he afforded me every facility for inspecting them, by placing his rooms at my service, and for giving me much useful and interesting information in reference to the early history of his College. I have also to thank Francis Patrick, Esq., Senior Tutor of the College, for his good offices in obtaining for me the requisite permission to make this inspection.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

PEMBROKE COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE.

(Second Report.)

There is a considerable number of mediæval Manuscripts in the possession of this College; some of which, as we gather from a very interesting communication made to the Cambridge Antiquarian Society in 1860 by Dr. Corrie, the Master of Jesus College, were gifts made to the Society by various Masters and Fellows shortly after the foundation of the College (in 1347); the number having been increased, by subsequent donations, to about 140, in the course of little more than a century after that date.

Dr. Corrie's list of donors is founded upon an ancient Register, to which his attention had been called by Dr. Ainslie, the then Master of the College; but this authority, we find, stops short, as to Manuscripts, (with perhaps a few exceptions), in the latter part of the 15th century, and leaves the sources from which many of the volumes now in the possession of the College, were obtained, unaccounted for. On examination of the books themselves, some of them, it will be found, were the gift of William Smart, Alderman of Ipswich, (in the time, probably, of Edward the Sixth); while others appear to have been transferred from the Abbey of Bury St. Edmund's, at the period of the Dissolution of the Monasteries. These volumes are now kept in the Muniment-room of the College, being about 230 in number, some in good condition, and some in various stages of decay. They are mostly still in their original oaken boards, some of which are much worm-eaten and are crumbling to dust. With the courteous permission of Dr. Power, the Master of the College, I have recently examined a portion of them; and the most ancient, probably, among them all, is a folio volume of "Eglogæ," or Excerpts, from the Pastorals of St. Gregory, which, from the writing, would appear to belong to the later Saxon times. There is a 17th century Catalogue of these volumes, in the Muniment-room, compiled by Bishop Wren; as also, a later Catalogue, extracted from the former in the year 1799. The following are the names, as there given, of some few of the volumes:—Anselmus de Similitudinibus; Apparatus Johannis de Aton; Armachanus [Fitz-Ralph] de Quaestionibus; many works of Thomas Aquinas; eight treatises of Johannes de Anchona; Beda De Templo Salamonis; In Lucæ Evangelium, Historia Anglorum; Bæstoni Distinctiones; Bromyard Tractatus; Burly In Ethica et Politica, and In Politica (cum Ægidio); Collecta Samuelis Presbyteri; Comestoris Sermones; Sermones et Alleg. Historiarum; Historia Scholastica; Gandavensis Quodlibeticum; Gilberti et Gaufridi Practica; Glosses on Scripture; many volumes of, Gorham super Psalterium, super Lucam, super Epistolas Pauli, Distinctiones et Sermones; St. Gregory, several works of; Halesii Quaestiones; Hieronymus, several works of; Holcot Quodlibeticum, and In Sapientiam; Hugo de St. Victor; Januensis (John of Genoa, writer of the "Catholicon"); Legenda Sanctorum; Isidori Etymologia, and Liber Contra Judæos; Kilwarby Tabula super Originalia; Kricladensis (John of Cricklade) Homilies; Lanthoniensis Harmonia; Lincolnensis (Grotesteste) Compotus, Dicta cum Tabula, de Lingua, de Literas componendi forma; Lombardi Sententiæ; Lyræ Postillæ; Media Villa In 3 Sent. and In 4 Sent.; Petrarchæ Africa; Pupilla Oculi (attributed to John de Burgh); Raymundi Summa; Repindoni Sermones; Rogeri Compendium; Rupellæ Summa de Malo; Scotus super 2 Sentent.; Stimulus Conscientiæ; Summa Summarum; Tholomæi Centiloquium; Wallensis in Psalterium. In Dr. Corrie's List, a "Polychronica," and a copy of the Chronicle of Martinus (Polonus) are named, and indeed are the only works of that character there mentioned; whether they still survive, as a part of the collection, I am unable to say.

These volumes, many of which are large folios, and some of them very ponderous, are at present in a locality, which wholly forbids the possibility of a leisurely and thorough examination of them: I have little doubt that, under the auspices of the present Master of this ancient and august foundation, they will ere long be submitted to what they plead for, and well deserve, a thorough cleansing and repair. If transferred to the College Library, they would, in my opinion, adorn its shelves, and perhaps be more than equal in value to any like number of volumes that could be selected from its most valuable contents.

There has been lately found in the College, after having been overlooked, perhaps, for several generations, a small folio volume, in embossed calf binding of the 17th century, in which is inserted a collection of Letters, dating from the 15th century downwards, many of which are deserving of notice. The following is a brief account of them:—

A small Letter, on paper, written and signed by Sir John Fastolf Chlr. [Knight] of Caistor, near Yarmouth, in the 15th century, and addressed,— "To my ryght wel beloved Cosyns Henry Inglesse and Johan Berney Escuiers."—"Ryght wel beloved Cosyns. I comand me to yow and please you to hafe in knoulege that at whyche tyme ye were delyvered out of prysoun by the moyen of ii prysonnars that y delyvered yow, whyche as ye know well one was Burd Vynollys and the other Johan de Saint Johan dit Delot, and in lyke wyse I boughte another prysonner clepyt Johan Vilers for the delyveraunce of Mautbye Sqwyer whyche mater ye knowthe welle. And for as moche as my wrytynge that makyth mencion of that delyveraunce of the said Mautbye be not in my warde, y pray you that ye wolle undre yow seelys certyfyf me the trouthe how the said Mautbye was delyvered by my moyen. Y have founde a cedule that makyth mencion of that prysonner, of whyche y sende you a double, to be better avertysed of the mater. And therfor as my trust ys yn yow that ye sende me your gode

BROKE LOVE
BRIDGE.

"remembraunce in as goodly haste as ye may. And "our Lord kepe you. Wryt at Londone, the 7 day of "November." Sir John Fastolf, it is almost needless to remark, took part in the French wars of Henry the Fifth and Sixth. (In the preceding Report of this Commission, an account is given of a large collection of Fastolf deeds and papers preserved at Magdalen College, Oxford).

A Letter, in English, signed, "Syr Water Blownt" (Treasurer of England) 27th November 1464, and addressed to the Bishop of Norwich, [Walter Hart].
John Pastone has been outlawed, and the Treasurer begs the Bishop to allow none of his goods to pass out, if there are any in the Monastery (Priory) of Norwich.

A short Letter, on paper, addressed—"To my ryght
"trusti and wel beloued frend, Johan Paston Sqyer."
"Right trusty and wel beloued frend. I comande me "to you and for certain mater that I have for to do for "the which ma[ter] . . . sende unto you a Squier of
"myne called Elyngham, praying you to gefe hym "faythful credence of that he shall declare you on "myne behalfe as for this tyme. God have you in "hise keeping. Writene at Midleton the xviii. day of "Julle. Yowre frend. Scales." In a note, written on the letter, in a hand of the earlier part of last century, it is suggested that it is the writing of Lord Scales, afterwards Earl Rivers, brother of Elizabeth Woodville, wife of Edward IV., who was beheaded by order of Richard the Third; he held the title in right of his wife, Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas, Lord Scales.

A paper Letter, signed "By your older sone Johan "Pastone," and "Wretyn at Heyleston the Fryday
"byfor Seynt Michelle;" and addressed—hys ryght
"worshypful . . . dre [P fadre] Johan Pastone, beyng
"[at] the Flete at Londone, be thys del"—Syr Thomas Howes will resign the benefice of Mawteby "to a ful
"prestly man of Norwych callyd Sir Thomas Lyndys", "whom I suppose ye have knolech of." He asks his father's assent thereto.

A Letter, on paper, signed "Your lovyng Cousin Tho"mas Su[rrey]:" Thomas Howard Earl of Surrey, who commanded against the Scots (A.D. 1513) at Flodden Field. It is addressed—"To my right worshipfull cousin
"Sir John Paston," and is endorsed, in an old hand,
"Littera Com: Surrey." It begins "Cousin Pastone," and is to thank him for having been so good a master to the Earl's servant, William May, and for having, at such a cost, caused him to be duly apparelled. "Wretin
"at Sherif Hoton the vi. day of July, with the hand of "Your"—as above.

A Letter, on paper, and in English, signed, in large characters, "Oxynford" (John de Vere, fourth of that name, Earl of Oxford,) dated the 3rd of April in the 21st year of Henry VIII. (A.D. 1530); stating that John Parys of . . . in the county of Cambridge has done homage to the Earl for his land in Gildersland in the said county, and has paid one third part of the relief; the other two parts being assigned to his wife for jointure.

A receipt in English, signed "Oxynford" (the same John de Vere), for 10 pounds, received of Philip Parrys, "fermer" of his lordship, of Saxton, for one half year.
Dated 21st June 18th of Henry VIII (A.D. 1526).

An acquittance, on parchment, and in English, to Francis Calthorpe, Esquire, of Norwich, and his sureties, Philip Calthorpe, of Ludham, and Henry Ingless, of Dylham in the county of Norfolk, for moneys owing to the late king, Henry the VIIth. It is signed at the top by King Henry, his successor, with also his peculiar mark, or device, and is addressed to Cuthbert Tunstall, Keeper of the Records in Chancery. Below, it is signed "John Myklate" (apparently,) and "John Roper."

Receipt on paper, signed by Sir George Broke, Lord
Cobham, 17th November 29th Henry VIII.

Receipt, on paper, in English (with three of the crossbar, or portcullis, devices therein, used by King Henry the Eighth) for 10 pounds, received as a prest from William Yelverton, Gent., of Rogham, 7th June 34 Henry VIII.

Receipt on paper, in Latin, 20th July 1545, signed Thomas [Goderich] Elien, (Bishop of Ely).

Receipt 35 Henry VIII., signed by Matthew Parker, then Prebendary of Ely.

Another receipt, in Latin, by Thomas Goderich,
Bishop of Ely, A.D. 1536.

Receipt, in English, by Anne de Vere, late the wife of John, Earl of Oxford, for "the sum of ccl. du to me, "lady and weddowe, Contys of Oxynford." She was daughter of Thomas Howard, Duke of Norfolk.

An acquittance, signed by John, "Lord Coniers," in the third year of King Edward the Sixth.

A warrant—"We sende unto yow by the bearers
"hereof the body of Sir Anthony Kingstone, Knight,
"whome the Quene's Majesties pleasure is ye shall see "kept in salfe wardo untill ye shall receyve farther order "from hence. Whereof we require yow in no wyse to "fayle. And so fare ye well. From St. James, the xth "of December 1555, Your loving frendes" (as below).
"Postscript. Ye must suffer the sayd Sir Anthony "Kingston to have his man to wayte upon hym, and "his bed, night-gere, and such other thinges as he shall "have nede of." Signed (William Marquess of) Winchester (H. Fitz Alan Earl of) Arundell. Edward (Earl of) Derby. John (Russell Earl of) Bedford.
(William Herbert Earl of) Pembroke. W. Howard (Earl of Effingham). Cuthb. Duresme (Tunstall, Bishop of Durham). Thomas Ely (Thirlby, Bishop of Ely).

A warrant, dated 13th December 1555, directing that the wife of Thomas Kelk, a prisoner, with his creditors and securities, shall have liberty to visit him in prison.
Signed Arundell, Edward Derby, Thomas Ely, R.
Ryche (Lord Chancellor), William Paget (Lord Paget), Edward Hastings (afterwards Baron Hastings of Loughborough), William Petre.

A receipt, signed by Thomas Sutton, afterwards founder of the Charter-house, 1575.

A Letter, dated 6th of December 1613, and signed—"Your very loving assured friend, Chr: Hatton." The original direction does not appear, but a note states that it was addressed to "Mr. Paris Esq." The person in whose favour it was written, was probably Antony Rudd, Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, afterwards
Dean of Gloucester, and Bishop of St. David's. It begins in the following singular manner, but becomes less frigid towards the close—"Sir. Though there be no parti"cular desire on my parte, to induce your good favor
"to accept of any request of myne, yet understanding
"your good dispositione to piety and vertue, I have "presumed you wyll frendly interprete my good mean-
"ynge in commendynge to your favorable and curious "regard a Chaplayne of myne, one Mr. Doctor Budd,
"in whose behalfe I am most earnestly to intreate you "to confer upon him the parsonage of Hildersham [in "Cambridgeshire], etc."

A Letter, dated 16th of December 1593, from Sir
Edward Coke to Bassingbourne Gawdy, Esquire, High
Sheriff of Norfolk, in favour of his deputy bailiff.

A notice, dated 10th of July 1595, signed by three Justices of the Peace for the County of Cambridge, granting leave to Ferdinando Paris, a (Popish) recusant, to remove beyond a distance of five miles from his dwelling, for a limited time; he to return before the 10th of September.

A receipt signed by Horatio Palavicine, of Badbur-ham (now Babraham), in the County of Cambridge, for eight shillings; received from "Mr. Fardinandoe
"Parris Esquire" for his manor of Little Lyntone,
"for ayd-silver and castle ward" for one year, due to her Majesty "as to the Honour of Richmond fec."
Sir Horatio Palavicene, originally an emissary from the Pope to collect certain moneys, became a convert, and appropriated them, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. He held a command against the Spanish Armada, and was buried in the church at Babraham. As mentioned in Walpole's Anecdotes of Painting, the following epitaph was suggested for him:—

"Here lies Horatio Palavicene,
"Who robb'd the Pope to lend the Queen.
"He was a thief. A thief? Thou lyest;
"For why? He robb'd but Antichrist.
"Him death with besom swept from Babram
"Into the bosom of old Abraham.
"But then came Hercules with his club,
"And struck him down to Beelzebub."

He died on the 6th of July 1600, and, on the 7th of July in the following year, his widow married Oliver Cromwell, the future Protector's uncle.

A long Letter, dated at Norwich, the 2nd of July 1600, beginning—"Right honourable and our very good "lorde,"—though it does not appear to whom it is addressed. The writing is extremely faint, and almost illegible; but it is written in favour of the town of North Walsham, in Norfolk, a great part of which, within the space of two or three hours, had been burnt to the ground. It is signed by "William (Redman) Nor"wich,"—the Bishop,—Miles Corbet, Bassingbourne
Gawdy, and six others.

A Letter, signed by the principal inhabitants in and near Beeston next the Sea, in Norfolk, in behalf of Henry Clifton, a poor man, with "a wife and three "smale children," whose house and property have been destroyed by fire, the 4th of October 1609. It is coun-

PEMBROKE
COLLEGE,
CAMBRIDGE.

PENBROKE
COLLEGE,
CAMBRIDGE.

tersigned by four Justices of the Peace at the Sessions at Norwich, who allow him 53s. 4d.

A Letter addressed to Sir Edward Coke, the eminent lawyer, by John Coke, his fourth son, as follows:—
“Holkham. Innumerable manie are the benefits, deare Father, which I have received from youre hands, and this last, not the least, I hope it shall be the last in this kind, and if it will please youre Lord: out of youre fatherlie love, I deserving, if not to release me of my debts, I hope your Lord: shall see me soe to husband my estate, that whereas I have offended youre Lord: by my carelessness, I shall in some measure give youre Lord: content, (though never fully satisfie you,) by being carefull and diligent with a continuall watchfulness never to offend hereafter, and to assure youre Lord: of this, I will never lett affection bear away where discretion should rule; but I will bend all my endeavours and actions to shew myself an obedient child to soe loving a father. And here I present unto youre Lord: a true and reall summ of all my debts which are my particularie, as well in the countrie as in London, beseeching you, deare Father, to forget what is past, if you see amendment in the time to come. I humbly take my leave, my wife and all my children, together with myselfe, remembering our duties to youre Lord: praying daylie for youre health, with longe life and happie daies.—Your obedient sonne, John Coke.”

A long Letter, addressed “To his worshippful frende, Ferdinando Parys, Esquyer, yeve thes,” and signed “John Blennerhaysete,”—the words “of Frense in Norfolk,” being added in a hand of the early part of last century: dated Walden, 28th of July 1563. It mainly bears reference to the Duke of Norfolk’s right to tithes of corn growing in the park of Walden.

A Letter, formerly addressed, as stated in a hand of the last century, “To our loving Frend, Ferdinando Paris, Esq., of Lynton,” dated 2nd of April 1595. The Queen requires light horsemen to increase her forces in Ireland; he is therefore required “either presentlie to make readie a man meete to serve on horsebacke, armid with a good cuirasse and a head peece with sleeves of mayle, a light horsman’s staffe and a pistoll, with the horse, or geldinge, to be sounde and sufficient for the service, with all necessaries,” or “to pay the sum of 20*l*. With the original signatures of Jo: Cant. (Archbishop Whitgift), Jo: Puckering, Hunsdon, W. Burghley, Essex, Howard (Earl of Effingham), T. Buckhurst, J. Heneage, J. Fortescue, and Ro: Cecyll (second son of Lord Burghley, and afterwards Earl of Salisbury).

A notice, signed “Jo: Cantuar.” (Whitgift, Archbishop of Canterbury), addressed to William Monox, ordering him to summon Ferdinando Paris, of Lynton, in the county of Cambridge, and Philippe Parys, his son, who are under a bond of 2,000*l*. “a peece,” to appear within 10 days before the Lords of the Privy Council, or before the Archbishop, upon notice to them given, or left “at the howse of one Edw: Sleepe at the sign of the Three Kings in Fleet Street, within the suburbe of London.”—“Given at Lambeth, the 29th of July 1599.”

Receipt by Thomas Sutton (Founder of the Charterhouse) for 3*l*. 10s., received from “Fardynando Parys Esquier” for one quarter’s rent of his manor of Hadstock, 4th December in the 15th year of Elizabeth. This and another receipt are in the handwriting of Sutton; the latter being dated the 13th of October in the eleventh year of the same reign, the payment for the manor of Hadstock being there made by Parys for Richard (Cox), Bishop of Ely.

A Letter, signed “Edmund Norwich” (Dr. Edmund Freke, Bishop of Norwich), and addressed, “To Mr. Ferdinando Paris Esquier, at Puddinge Norton in Norfolk.”—“Having of late receaved verie sharpe reprehension, from my Lordes of the Counsaill for my lenitie extended towards you and the reste in question for religion in these partes, upon some complaint made against me for that your libertie, I am hereupon urged to calle you and the reste to prison, requiring you therefore not to faile in your repaire to James Bradshawes in Norwich, within tenne daies next after the receipt hereof, there remayninge as before. And so I bid you well to faire in Christe. Ludhom [in Norfolk] this 13th of March 1581. Your lovinge frende.”

A Letter signed “Your lovinge frend Fra: Walsingham,” the Secretary of Queen Elizabeth, and written in his hand; dated 13th of December 1583, and addressed “To my loving frend Mr. Parrys of Little Linton Esquier.” He hears that the parsonage of Hyldersham, in his gift, is like to become vacant, “the incumbent, thereof, as I heare, baying in suche weake state of bodie, as he is not lyke to recover: theise are hartly to pray you, in case God call him awaye, to bestow on mee the next donation of the sayd benefice.” He promises to place there a sufficient man, such as shall be profitable to that parish and the one adjoining.

An order, addressed “To the Farmours of Her Majesties impost of French and Gasconye wyne;”—directing them not to levy any impost upon a tun of wine, or part thereof, to be imported by “Mr. Bassingbourne Gawdie, Esquire,” in the port (apparently) of Norwich; dated 20th of December 1585, and signed by William, Lord Burghley.

A Letter, signed, and apparently written, by Richard Bancrofte, afterwards Bishop of London and Archbishop of Canterbury. A note, in a hand of the last century, says that it was addressed to his “Worshipfull good frend, Mr. Paris, Rector of St. Andrew’s Holbourne, Treasurer of St. Paul’s, and Prebendary of Bronesbury, in that church.” Its object is to request a favour at his hands in behalf of a “very honest man,” one Mr. Smith; as mentioned below.

A summons, signed “Jo: Cantuar.” (John Whitgift, Archbishop of Canterbury) at Croydon, 16th of August 1592, “to Ferdinando Paris, of Linton in Com. Cantuar. brig. Esquier, at Edwardes Sleepes howse in Fleetstreet in London;” (as being a Popish recusant) he is to appear before the Archbishop, either at Lambeth or at Croydon.

A Letter, signed by Sir John Fortescue, Chancellor of the Exchequer and of the Duchy of Lancaster, addressed—“To Mr. Gawdy Esq^r High Sheriff of Norfolk;” dated, London, 21st of February 1593. It is in reference to the tithe corn belonging to the parsonage of Martham, in Norfolk.

A Letter, in the handwriting of Sir Edward Coke, dated 27th of March 1594, and directed, as stated in a hand of last century, to Sir Thomas Knevet. Since coming into the country, he has had a fit or two of the ague, but has now, he hopes, “prevented” it. He adds, “I am very sorry to heare of my good Lady Hickes. I pray God send her a speedy and perfect recoverye.”

A Letter to Ferdinando Paris, Esquire, dated 17th of August, and signed “Your pore frend Tho. Dove.” He was Rector of Hayden, and Vicar of Walden, in Essex, and afterwards Bishop of Peterborough (A.D. 1600–1630). He understands that Mr. Smith [already mentioned as Dr. Bancroft’s nominee] has taken possession of the parsonage of Hildersham, to which Mr. Paris, apparently, intended that the writer should be presented. The only course is for Mr. Paris, as patron, to proceed by “Quare impedit,” otherwise, “there is no remedie, but patience.” There are two other letters by the same writer to Ferdinando Paris.

A copy of a letter of complaint, signed “Elizabeth Southwell,” addressed to Sir Basingbourne Gawdy, and dated 22nd of February 15—[torn away]. The party addressed is entreated “to entertayne a widowes complaint of the great disturbance (P) of the towne of Carbrooke, which cannot be reformed without the assistance of the . . . Justices of the limit.” Among other complaints,—“The pore are grown so unruly there, that they have left neither hedge, nor gate, nor stile, unburned. And now they goe to my woode, and fell and lopp at their pleasure. The . . . that they have don of late are not to be repayed with 20*l*.” She is “also exceedingly wronged by the malice of one Luke Unger, of Tottington, who very dishonestly censured me at his pleasure; . . . and animateth them that are prone enogh to evill.” The writer of the original letter was daughter of Charles Howard, Earl of Nottingham, Admiral of England, and her first husband, Sir Robert Southwell, served as Rear Admiral against the Spanish Armada; her second husband was Stewart, Earl of Clanricarde, in Ireland.

A warrant, addressed to Ferdinando Parys, from Nonesuche (in Surrey), the 4th of August 1599. A descent is expected by an army of the King of Spain, to destroy her Majesty’s navy, or the City of London. A levy is consequently to be made; and he is to send to “Shordiche” by the 12th of August “two lawncees and three light horses, furnished, to remaine for the space of one moneth.” Signed, Nottingham, Tho. Egerton, T. Buckhurst, G. Hunsdon, Ro. North, W. Knollys, Ro. Cecyll, J. Fortescue.

A Letter of Archbishop Whitgift, dated 4th of September 1599—but to whom addressed is not stated. It is in reference to the confinement of the recusants in the castle of Banburye, and the palace of the Bishop of Ely, in view of the threatened invasion.

PENBROKE
COLLEGE,
CAMBRIDGE.

NOTE
MS. A.
1062.

A licence, dated 6th March 1600, signed by Martin [Heton] Bishop of Ely, Umphrey Tyndall [Dean of Ely] and John Cotton, granting leave to Philip Paris, of Lynton, a recusant, to travel, on his business, beyond the distance of 5 miles from his dwelling, until the 30th of the same month. There are four other similar licences, from other Justices of the Peace (the Bishop's name again appearing in three), one dated the 16th of November in the year 1600.

A Letter, written by Sir Edward Coke to Sir Basingbourne Gawdy, dated 28th September 1602. Gawdy's father, having lands in Mylesham, had a book of extents, or valuations, made: Sir Edward, having lands there "with my kynde recommendations to you and my good lady," asks for the loan of it.

A licence, dated the last of April 1608, granted to Philip Paris, a recusant, enabling him to travel on his law business, for the space of six months. Signed, Northampton, E. Worcester, Salisbury, E. Wotton (Baron Wotton of Maherley), E. Bruce (Lord Kinloss and Earl of Elgin), L. Stanhope, J. Herbert.

A Letter, written by Sir Edward Coke, almost illegible from damp. His eldest daughter is to be married on the 13th September next, at his house in Holborn, and he begs for the "presence and companie" of the person whom he addresses, but whose name does not appear. He is aware "that the waie is long, and the journey painefull."

A Letter, written by Sir E. Coke to a person not named, dated 31st of August 1602. It begins—"Howe pittifully your poore countrey menne, and specially the cost-menne, have bene afflicted by the lose of Dunkirke, we all knowe to our grief; and because I knowe some scruple hath been made what might be justified (?) in that case, you shall recieve letters by this bearer from the Lordes of the Councell for clering of that scruple."

A Letter, written by Sir Edward Coke, dated—"From my Chamber in the Inner Temple London, the seconde of December 1601;" and addressed to a person not named. It is "on behalf of my servant, William Thurlbie, Gent., bailiff of my libertie within the countie of Norfolk." It requests a "generall warrant for him, for the breakeing upp of all proces and writts to be executed within my saide libertie . . . duringe this yere of your office," as had been always used by all high Sheriffs in the said County. It was no doubt addressed to Basingbourne Gawdy, already frequently mentioned, who was Sheriff of Norfolk about this date.

A Letter from Sir Edward Coke to Sir B. Gawdy, dated 26th of April 1603, requesting him to continue the bearer, Francis Hexham (?) in office as Bailiff of the Hundred of Tunsted.

A Letter, signed "M. Elie" (Martin Heton, Bishop of Ely), to Mr. Paris, of Linton, dated 16th of February 1602. Mr. Paris had already presented the Bishop's kinsman, Dr. Tinlie, to the living of Duxford: the Doctor is now promoted by the Bishop, who desires Mr. Paris to present his Chaplain in like manner. Dr. Tinlie was Fellow of Magdalen College, Oxford; he was collated to the Archdeaconry of Ely, and died in 1616, Vicar of Witham, in Essex, where he was buried.

A licence, granted to Philip Paris (apparently "Parvis") of Lynton, a "recusant convict," to travel on his affairs for six months; dated 28th of February 1606. Signed, T. Dorset, T. Suffolk, H. Northampton, Salisbury, G. Zouche, and E. Wotton.

The Certificate of the ruynated estate of the . . . ; "town of Eccles (near N. Walsham, Norfolk), 1605," signed, "Jo. Norwich, Will. Paston, W. (?) Scambler." The town (or rather, village), so far as can be gathered, for some part of the document is illegible, had suffered from the ravages of the sea. (The church and about 70 houses were in this year destroyed by the sea.)

A licence, dated the 23rd of May 1600, and signed by certain Justices of the Peace, enabling Ferdinando Parris and Philip, his son, recusants, to travel beyond five miles from their residence, down to the first of August, next to come.

Licence to Philip Paris, a recusant, to travel for six months. Dated "From Salisbury House ye 18 of October 1607," and signed, "T. Ellesmere, Canc., H. Northampton, T. Suffolk, Salisbury."

A similar licence, dated 20th of April 1609, to Philip Paris, and signed, "R. Salisbury, T. Suffolk, L. (?) Stanhope, J. Herbert."

A Letter of thanks, for presentation of his Chaplain to the living of Hildersham, signed "Sa: Cicestren;" (Dr. Samuel Harsnet, Bishop of Chichester, afterwards Bishop of Norwich, and Archbishop of York.) There is no address on it, or date; but it was written to one of the Paris family, no doubt.

Another licence, granted to Philip Paris Esq^r., dated 11th of January 1610; signed "R. Salisbury, H. Northampton, T. Suffolk, Gilb. Shrewsbury, E. Wotton, F. Stanhope."

Another similar licence, dated 16th of July 1612: signed, "H. Northampton, Suffolk, E. Worcester, E. Wotton, Jul. Caesar (Master of the Rolls), Tho: Pain. Another similar licence, the date torn out: signed "R. Salisbury, H. Northampton, Exeter, Jul. Caesar."

Two letters of Sir Edward Paston to Sir Edward Knevet, dated 1611 and 1615.

A licence, granted to Philip Paris, and dated the last of November 1613: signed, "H. Northampton, Lenox (Lodowick Stuart), E. Worcester, Pembroke, T. Suffolk, E. Wotton."

A long Letter, from Roger Townshend to his sister, Mrs. Catharine Knevet, at Asswellthorpe in Norfolk. It begins "Noble Sister" and is dated from London 21st of December 162: as, among other things, it mentions the relief of Breda, it probably belongs to the year 1624, or 25: in the latter year that place was taken by Spinola.

An order of the "Committee of the House of Commons for Examinations," dated 10th of November 1643, and signed by Miles Corbett (afterwards executed for his share in the Great Rebellion, 16th April 1662); for the apprehension of William March, Gent., who is to appear before the Committee, in the Inner Court of Wards at Westminster. Addressed to John Hunt, Esq^r., Serjeant at Arms, or his deputy.

A warrant, dated at Northampton, the 15th of April 1645, stating that Sir William Andrews, Baronet, having had certain goods taken away by the Parliament soldiers, and sold to the inhabitants of Denton in the said county, leave is granted to him to search for such goods, and to buy them back at the prices that had been given for them; he giving an account of the goods so bought back, and the sums paid. Signed "Edw: Farmer, Rob: St. John (apparently), Richard Samwell, Ed. Harby, John Norton, Tho. Pentlow, Phillip Holman."

A Letter, from Sir William Paston, Bart., to Thomas Knevet, Esq^r., dated "Queen's Street, 30 January 1650." Among his items of news, it is mentioned that Sir Ralph Skipwith, at his first appearance, was committed to the Tower; 15 knights and gentlemen of quality, and divers others of inferior rank, in Hampshire, were apprehended "uppon the Norfolk account."

Lord Chief Justice St. John goes on Tuesday as extraordinary Ambassador to Holland, and the Earl of Pembroke to Spain. An embassy has arrived from the King of France, to congratulate the Commonwealth.

A Letter, written by Mr. (afterwards, Sir) William Dugdale, "From the King's Head in Linne 23^o Maii, neere 8

"at night," to either Sir Edward Bishe, or Mr. Edward Bishe, who was Clarenceux King of Arms, in 1646. The place being so distant from his correspondent's house, he cannot be there till "2 of the clock" tomorrow afternoon, which he wishes to spend with him. On Monday he goes, by Tilney and other places, to Wisbech.—"We "have with us one Mr. Jonas Moore, the surveyor of "all the South Levell, who hath conducted us through"out our Itinerarie hither, and is to accompany us to "the end of this large tract, till we come towards Lin-"colne. He hath also his sonne with him, a very pretty "youth."—A postscript is added,—"Mr. Ashmole re-

"members his service to Mr. Bishe."

A warrant, with the sign manual at the top of King Charles the Second, and signed at the foot by William Morice, Secretary of State, and dated 9th of July 1660; to the effect that Josias Calmady, of Wenbury, in the county of Devon, late tenant of the impropriate Rectory, or tithes of corn and grain, of Wenbury, belonging to the Dean and Canons of Windsor, shall pay the late annual rent reserved out of the same by the Trustees during the vacancy of the said Dean and Canons, and, for the present, 50*l*. yearly to the minister that shall be settled in the rectory.

A Letter, written by Sir Thomas Browne, the eminent writer and physician, "To Mr. William Dugdale, at his "lodging at y^e Seven Stars on y^e North side of St.

"Paul's Ch. Yard, London." "This was wrote on, or "about, 1660."—The above is written at the foot, in a hand of the earlier part of last century. Sir Thomas speaks of the [fossil] head and bones "of a very great

"fish, yet to be seen, found at Hasburghe in Norfolk;

"when the cliff fell down, as it is eaten away by the "sea; and this was within a yard of the toppe. Pay at "your opportunity my service to Mr. Ashmole."—In a postscript,—"I understand a second Volume of Mon"asticon Anglicanum is in the presse, and almost

PENBROKE
COLLEGE,
CAMBRIDGE.

PEMBROKE
COLLEGE,
CAMBRIDGE.

"finished. I should be glad to understand whether it will be a distinct piece, or the first also taken into it. Your letters will come more safely unto mee, if you leave the post unpaid." The words "Norwich — xvii. [1]657" can be faintly traced in the corner. Sir Thomas Browne was a member of Broadgates Hall, now Pembroke College, Oxford; his manuscripts are in the Bodleian Library and the British Museum.

A Letter, "For his much respected friend Mr. Fowler, at Wootton, near Northampton, These," from Ralph Cudworth, "— 25, 1667 [Chr]ist's Coll: Cambridge." He states that he considers his own signature, as Master of the College, sufficient on a receipt, without the College Seal; although he once (and that time only) did gratify Sir William Andrews with setting to a receipt so signed the College Seal.

"A note of all the moneyes I have received of Sir William Andrewes for his daughter Mrs. Anne." Here follow eight items, making in all 316*l.*, between 1673 and 1676, and then the signature "Mary Bedingfeild," with an attestation, in Latin, by a notary at Bruges, in Flanders; stating that she was Prioress of the English Convent there.

A Letter, addressed, "For my Lady Andrewes, at Dounham Hall, to be left with the Post Master of Ingerston Essex. By y^e way of Lond." neatly written by Eliza Blount; without place or date named. The words—"so ecclesiastical a person" occur in it, and to them is added a note, in a hand of the earlier part of last century:—"This ecclesiastical person was Sam^r Parker, D.D., whom King James 2d intended [to force] on Magdalen Coll. for their President. He would have changed his religion for y^e of Rome, so great was his obsequiousness to y^e King; but his wife would not part from him. He was made Bishop of Oxford in 1686, about this time; this letter was wrote on April 9. Consecrated October 1686, and died in March 1687 (8)." The writer, both in her own and her mother's name, condoles with Lady Andrewes on Mrs. Parker's troubles—"Sir Richard Alibone did us the favour to cal heer" (he was one of King James's Judges, and gave judgment against the seven Bishops, who were sent to the Tower). "Our Sherif has been continued in his office this too years, at first a Protestant, and now a Catholick; the chapel at Hereford was fitted up and open'd to receive them, and six or seven preists to officiate, and an excellent sermon, my cozen Elliot, as hee has heard in London; and the Judg told us, for the credit of our country, he had not seen a pretier chapel: therefore I hope your Ladyship is convinc'd Herefordshire is a more Christian place then Essex. . . . Cozen Tom Blount goes on with his study at Oxford. . . . So ecclesiastical a person, methinks, one such wom: [woman] as Mrs. Parker has met with, should put a spot upon al the rest I am sorry for. Albeit I am sorry for him (but what they would have more further, to quit his right to her): and I am doublely sorry for your Ladship. May God Almighty supply to you in al, is the prayer of your constant servant." The above is obscure, to say the least of it.

An original certificate, or affirmation,—"By these presents I do certify, as I hope for salvation, that I never did deliver, nor cause to be delivered, unto Sir William Andrews any commission, as is specified in his accusation. Witness my hand this 12 June 1679. Th: Whitbred." The latter was Provincial of the Jesuits in England, tried and condemned for conspiring the death of the King (Charles II.) in the above year.

A written Catalogue of curiosities in Lady Paston's closet, at Oxnead Hall, Norfolk, temp: Charles II; consisting almost wholly of shells, china, and precious stones, with two ostrich eggs, set in silver. The last item but two is—"A Jack Napes heade," meaning an ape's head. The value is set against each article, but in pistoles.

"Route for One Companye of Major Generall Farrington's Regiment from Odiam to Southampton, to march the 9th instant,—Alresford,—Winchester,—Southampton; whence they are to pass over to the Isle of Wight." Signed by Sir Robert Walpole, when Secretary of War.

It is with much pleasure that I here acknowledge my obligations to the Rev. J. C. Rust, Fellow and Tutor of Pembroke College, for the pains he took in giving me access to the Manuscript Collection in the Muniment-room, and for affording me every possible facility for a leisurely examination of the collection of Letters from which I have so largely quoted. I have also to thank the Rev. C. E. Searle, Fellow and Senior Tutor, who has had the good fortune to recall to memory the fact of the existence of this Collection, for kindly making the due arrangements for my inspection.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF THE CORPORATION OF RYE.

The archives and records in the possession of the Corporation of Rye, and preserved in their Town-hall, are very numerous; consisting, to speak in general terms, of Charters, volumes, memoranda, and deeds of various descriptions.

The Charters, granted to the town individually, or in common with the rest of the Cinque Ports, are to be found described in Jeake's Charters of the Cinque Ports, Holloway's History and Antiquities of Rye, and the Histories of the County of Kent.

First among the bound volumes, may be named the "Customal" of Rye; a thin folio volume of 26 leaves of vellum, bound in rough calf of the latter part of last century: the upper corners on one side have been eaten away by mice, (before rebinding); otherwise it is in good condition. It is a copy, no doubt, of an older book, the earliest portion being written in the time of Mary or Elizabeth. It begins,—"Theis byn the usages of the Comynaltye of the towne of Rye, used ther of tyme out of minde, which mons myndes cannot think the contrarye." The older articles of the code (in English) are 66 in number, beginning with Electedions of the Mayor, and ending with the rules for the attendance of the Barons of the Cinque Ports, at the Coronation of the Kings and Queens of England. These are followed, at page 31, by the—"Boundaries of the towne of Rye"; at p. 33, the—"Decrees of the towne of Rye . . . the xxth daye of August in the fyft and syxth yere of Kinge Phillippe and Queene Mary's reigne, in the fyrst yere of Alex^r Willes Mayraltie." These "Decrees" are 105 in number: after which there are three leaves, in modern writing,—"Extracted from the Hundred Book 1825."

All the other volumes of an earlier date, with one or two unimportant exceptions, though of varying sizes, were uniformly bound in rough calf, about the year 1776; to which date the latest volume in the series (and so bound) belongs.

The First Volume, labelled "Chamberlains' Account book" on the back, begins with the close of the year 1448, and comes down to the sixth year of King Edward the Fourth, 1466, 7: its contents will be found more fully detailed in the sequel. After this, there is a hiatus in the series, which will also be further noticed in a future column.

The Second Volume of the series, a large paper folio, bound in rough calf, has similar contents, being Chamberlains' Accounts, but is differently labelled, as, "Hundred Book," and comprises the years 1489-1494.

The Third Volume, a massive paper folio, begins in 1494, and ends in 1515. It is labelled "Hundred Book," similarly to the preceding one, but contains, under each successive Mayoralty, the Chamberlains' Accounts.

The Fourth Volume comprises the Chamberlains' Accounts of 1515-1543.

The Fifth 1545-1550.

The Sixth 1551-1564.

The Seventh 1564-1572.

The Eighth 1573-1593.

After this, the volumes form a mixture of Hundred Court Books, Assembly Books, and Chamberlains' Account Books, with one or more Churchwardens' Books, and come down to the year 1776; being in all 38 or 39 in number, the last volume being numbered 39.

Volume 17 in the series is a large folio volume, with paper leaves, containing Churchwardens' Accounts from 1515 to 1570. It would probably well repay a close examination of its voluminous contents; for but very little use seems to have been made of it (as indeed of the great bulk of the Corporation records) by the late Mr. W. Holloway, in his History and Antiquities (published in 1847) of the Town of Rye.

Volume 18 in the series seems now to be wanting;—at least it was in vain that I searched for it among the Corporation books: it seems not unlikely that it may have been a continuation of the Churchwardens' Accounts of the Parish.

Volume 19, a small quarto paper volume, in rough calf, is filled, as to the earlier part, with matter of a most miscellaneous description, the latter part comprising minutes of plaints and proceedings in the Hundred Courts, in the reign of Henry the Seventh, and the latter part of the reign of Henry the Eighth: it is labelled "Court Book," and some further account of it will be found below.

The 20th Volume is also a quarto paper Court Book, and comprises the period 1517-1529; its contents being of a similar description to those contained in the latter portion of the preceding volume.

The 21st is a somewhat larger paper volume, in quarto, comprising from 1530 to 1541; being a Court Book, with contents of a similar description to those of the preceding one.

To revert:—The following are some extracts, bearing reference to the contents of Volume 19, the earliest of the so-called "Court Books." It is labelled on the back with the dates 1497-1504; but this gives a very inadequate idea of the real date of all of its contents. The first eight leaves of the book are of vellum, containing remarkably fine samples of writing and flourishes, in various hands, such as Court-hand and old English, or modern Gothic, written in the time of Edward the Fourth; together with precedents as to the different modes of addressing (in writing) the various personages of exalted rank, both lay and ecclesiastical. At the foot of the first page is written (certainly but little in harmony with the rest of the context):—"Hæc [sic] sunt dies in quibus si homo minuerit sanguinem, infra decem dies morietur; et si comederit carnes aucurum, infra quadraginta dies morietur;—ultima die Aprilis, prima die Lunæ Augusti, ultima die Lunæ Decembris."—"These are the days on which if a man lets blood, he shall die within 10 days thereafter; and if he eats goose flesh thereon, he shall die within forty days thereafter;—the last day of April, the first Monday in August, the last Monday in December."—The second page contains, in English, the oath of the "Duodecenarii," or "Dozen" of Jurors, on the homage. Several forms of address to the King and other personages follow, with various capital letters in ink, beautifully flourished. On folios 4-7 various alphabets, in different styles of writing, are entered, with some scribblings, of the time of Edward the Sixth, on folio 7a. On folios 7b and 8 are copies of several documents, but without date, and at the foot of folio 8a is written,—"Per me, Wilhelmum Roberthe, Clericum villæ de Rie, in Comitatu Sussexie, generosum;"—"By me, William Roberthe, Clerk of the vill of Rie, in the County of Sussex, gentleman." Part of this folio has been cut off; on the reverse of it is a copy of a bond (in Latin), and defensance, of William Diggy, "Gentilman," to Babilon Graunford, Esquire, of Rye, dated 10th of November in the 13th year of King Edward the Fourth [A.D. 1473]. At folio 9 the entries are no longer on vellum, but the rest of the volume is of paper, nearly throughout: the folios consist, for some pages, of deeds in Latin, attested probably before the Mayor and Jurats, temp. Henry the Seventh. At fol. 14 is a transcript of a deed, in Latin, executed by William Longe, of Rye, in the 2nd year of Henry the Sixth. Fol. 15 is left blank; fols. 16, 17 being occupied with a copy of an English deed in reference to the executors of William Wykwyk, late Vicar of Rye: no date is given, but he was Vicar 1478-1510. Fols. 18-21 contain transcripts of other deeds, temp. Henry VII., both Latin and English. Fols. 22, 23, are blank. Fol. 24 is a fragment of an older book, with different paper and finer writing; beginning with the proceedings (in Latin) of a Court holden at Rye on the third Monday after Pentecost, in the 6th year of Edward the Fourth. The Homage, among other things, presents that—"John Plumbe did alienate to John Lyght a cottage lying in Alrethe [or "Alreche], with certain lands called 'Pennylandes, without leave of Court." Fol. 25 contains presentments by another Homage, entered in another hand. Fols. 26-28 contain, in an earlier hand, Latin forms for duly giving in a Steward's Account. At fol. 29 follows, in the same hand as the three preceding leaves,— "Computus Johannis Pawlyn, Senescalli Hospitii Domini Roberti de Harynton, a Festo Paschæ anno regni Regis Henrici, Sexti post Conquæstam, nono, usque ad Festum Sancti Michaelis Archiepiscopi . . . videlicet, pro xxiii. septimanis;"—"Account of John Pawlyn, Steward of the Household of Sir Robert de Harynton, from the feast of Easter in the ninth year of King Henry, the Sixth after the Conquest, until the Feast of St. Michael the Archbishop [Archangel] . . . namely, for 24 weeks." In it, receipts are named from the bailiffs of Purlok, [Porlock, in Somerset], of Gleston, and of Grantham; expenses of the household, in London or Porlok, are mentioned; of Sir Robert and his people travelling from London to Porlok; and of the new hostel of the same Lord Harynton at P[orlok]. In fol. 29b, a continuation of the same Account, the following articles are entered (in Latin) as being bought for victuals;—a salmon, a conger, plaice (pectines), eels, a millerwell [green, or Scotch, cod], small fish, milk, butter, a calf, a pig, a swan, 2 partridges, at 3 shillings [pence] each, one quail 2d. 12 plovers 20d.—It may be here remarked that, if a Lord Harington, of the Christian name of "Robert," is here meant, at the beginning of the reign of Henry the Sixth, no such person is to be found in Sir H. Nicolas's Synopsis of the Peerage.—Fols. 30, 31 contain an Assize of bread, in English, probably of the time of Edward IV.; setting forth, in different columns,— "The price of a quarter of whete. The halfpeny whete looff. The peny whete looff. The halfpeny loof of all paynes." Several blank leaves then follow, and one leaf with a copy of an indenture (in Latin) of the 9th year of Henry IV., whereby John Bevere, Chaplain of the Chantry of St. Mary at Rye, and William Shipman, to ferm let to William Marchant all their land in the parish of Idenne, called "Hiltys land," in right of the said Chantry. Fol. 36 contains a copy of ordinances (in Latin) made by the Corporation, in the 20th year of Richard II., against acts of violence, John Baddyng being Mayor; with the scale of fines payable to the town for the offence of drawing blood. Regulations are also added, as to the future price of herrings; and it is ordered that the Common Seal (which will again come under notice) shall be kept in the custody of the Mayor, under the seals of three or four Jurats, chosen thereto. For a pipe of wine, or cider, drunk in a tavern, a duty of 4 pence is to be paid; if drunk out of a tavern, 2 pence. From the same folio we learn that on the 19th of May in the 10th year of Henry IV. [A.D. 1409] Robert Onewyn was Mayor; on the 1st of April in the 11th year of Henry IV. [A.D. 1410] Thomas Longe was Mayor; persons appearing before them, and paying fines for assaults committed. In fol. 37b are entered Ordinances made at a Court of Gestling, holden at Winchilse, on the 16th of February in the 17th year of Edward IV., the "Combarons" of Hastings, Rye, and Winchilse, being present. It is there agreed between the three towns, that if any stranger shall be in debt to any Combaron or inhabitant of either of such towns for fish bought, no new "oost" shall "make fissue" for him, till he shall have paid the old debt. Fol. 38a contains Ordinances, in Latin, of the 3rd year of Henry VI., as to the freedom, brewers, and bakers. Thomas Pers being Mayor. Every brewster's barrel is to hold 26 gallons, and half barrel 13. If ripiers [carriers and retailers of fish in ripes, or baskets] neglect to pay their "Maltodes," or dues, on leaving the town, they are to pay a fine of 4 pence, additional, on their return. Fol. 38a, in the 6th year of Henry VI., John Segnoos appears before Stephen Bever, the Mayor, and the Jurats, and acknowledges that he has "maliciously offended in words" against the Mayor. However, "by grace of the Mayor," he is pardoned, on condition of not doing so again. One William Keele also is pardoned for a similar offence, committed against William Longe, Mayor, in the 9th year of Henry IV. In the same page there is an entry, in English, that, at a Gestillyng holden at Winchilse on the 8th of July 19th Edward IV., it was agreed by the three towns before-mentioned, that—"He that maketh fissue for the King in any of the foresaid three towns," shall not "make fissue" for any other person, on pain of paying 40 shillings to his town. Fol. 39a contains ordinances (in Latin), made before William Broughton, Mayor, in the 8th year of King Henry VI.; enjoining that certain "Maltodes" shall be paid fortnightly, under a penalty, and if any one shall curse the collector thereof,—a not uncommon offence probably—he is to pay 3s. 4d. On loading vessels with billets, a "Maltode" is to be paid of ½d. per thousand; but if the billets are laid on the "Strond" [the ground by the waterside] then one penny.—"If any person has a cow, ox, horse, beast of burden, or swine, or other irrational animal, going about in the churchyard, he shall pay each time, towards the fabric of the church, 3s. 4d." All persons who have dung standing before their house, are to remove it before the Feast of All Saints, under a penalty of 3s. 4d. Fol. 39b.—Thomas Longe being Mayor, in the 9th year of Henry V., it is enacted that all offenders "summoned to the Tower" [Ypres Tower, in Rye, built by William of Ypres, afterwards used as the common gaol], "and not attending at the hour assigned, are to pay 12 pence." This is followed, on the same page, by minutes, in English, "of a Brotheryeld [Brothergild] holden at 'Romene," on the 14th of May, 18th of Edward the Fourth. Fol. 40 contains minutes, in English, of a

CORPORATION OF
RYE.

Brodhelle, holden at Romene, on the 24th of September, in the first year of Richard III., John Wymonde being Mayor [a so-called Mayor of New Romney, but he was speedily displaced]. "At a Cominaltee holden and assembled in the churchyard of Rye," on the 8th of July, in the 18th year of King Henry the Eighth, it was agreed that the two boxes of Maltodes of the revenues of the town shall be no more opened in the Mayor's howse, but in the Towne halle, at such tyme as hath be before accustomed."—"And that ther shall no Mayre have but 4 li. fee for his yere of Mairealtie, and quarterly at the opening of the box to be paid, as hath bene tofore used; and that the Mairesse shall no more be charged to make a dynner the day of the opening of the boxis, as hath be wount; nor shall not have from hensforth vis. viiid. in rewarde for the same, as hath bene accustomed." Entries of proceedings in various Courts then follow, bound up irregularly together; the context from folio 45 to 74 commencing at the 30th year of Henry the Eighth; while folio 75 reverts to a series of Courts commencing at the 13th year of his predecessor, Henry the Seventh.

The First Volume of the series, or Chamberlains' Account book, already alluded to, is a thin paper folio volume, the entries commencing at the close of the year 1448. In this year the town of Rye, for the second time, was burnt by the French, and it is not improbable that the preceding books of this description may have been then destroyed; though, on the other hand, (more especially seeing that some at least of the records then in the hands of this Corporation did not perish in the conflagration), it is equally possible that this was the earliest volume in which such accounts were regularly entered and kept. The volume is nearly perfect, and, in general, in good preservation throughout, the entries being wholly in Latin, in the earlier part. The following is a selection from various portions of its contents.—

Pasted on a fly-leaf at the beginning is a copy of a Charter "Pro libertate villæ," granted on the 26th of October in the first year of Henry, "King of England and France." The "Patent of the Market" follows (in Latin), granted in the sixth year of the same reign. Folio 1 of the volume, as numbered, begins—"Die Sanctæ Lucie Virginis, anno regni Regis Henrici Sexti, Angliæ, vicesimo septimo, per assensum et consensum totius communis, electus est ad officium Majoratus villæ de Ria Johannes Sutton, ad implendum locum Willelmi Broughton, qui die illo tollebatur a medio; animæ ejus Deus, pro summa misericordia sua, propitiatur;" the election of John Sutton, as Mayor, taking place on the same day (13th December) that his predecessor, William Broughton, died. This is followed (fol. 2) by "Maltodes," or rates, paid by fishermen of Rye for fishing with "trammel nets." An account of "Receipts of the great box of Maltodes" follows; added to which is (in Latin),—"But at this time there was nothing in the Ripiers' box, but afterwards, on the 9th of February, there was had from this box 9s. 4d." Matthew Clyffe, a fisherman, pays 12½d. for fishing five weeks with "boasettys."

Among fines for assaults, in fol. 3 b, is the following (tr.):—"Robert Burne and John Russell, tailor, made assault upon William Brande, and, as is said, ran after him on the 'Stronde,' with drawn 'aruncudiis' (or perhaps, armicudiis, some kind of dagger). The said Burne was fined 20 pence." The Strand, at the foot of the town cliff, is still known by that name.

John Southyn made assault, in presence of the Mayor, in the market of the town, upon two strangers, whose names were John Direchyesone, etc., and the said Southyn made sign of drawing his 'aruncudum' out of its sheath, notwithstanding the Mayor's presence." In fol. 5a there is a long list of expenses incurred by the Mayor upon the "Water-gate" (Porta Aquatica), and upon mending the quay there. Robert Unwyn is paid 55 shillings for 55 days' attendance at Parliament; 4 pence also was spent on taking the account of W. Broughton, the late Mayor, "in the Mayor's house, upon drinking ale there." The Mayor's stipend, or payment, was 13s. 4d. per quarter. The collectors of the great maltody box had 2s. ½d. for their fee. "A certain man who carried a letter for a Brodelle"—later, a "Brotherhood"—received 4 pence. Amid the Latin there occurs,—"Item, for beryng up of the returne of the wrytte for the Parlement, 8d." James Sedley was paid 6 pence "for the hire of the boat, and for his drinking, when he came from the Brodelle;" 2 pence also was paid for a quart of wine "for the man who carried the answer to the letter of process on the vill of Old Romene." Fol. 6a, "Given to the minstrel of "the Lord de Say 20d." Also, "Paid for repairs of the ship called 'Dolmanysbarge of Wynchylse' 5s." "Given to the minstrels of our Lord the King, for the honour of the town 3s. 4d. Also, given and expended upon another minstrel of the Lord de Say, who is called 'Nicholas Lambutarme' 2s. 2d." Fol. 6b, "Given to the minstrel of the Duke of Somerset 12d." At this date the names of James Sedley and Richard Shadwell, as influential men of the town, occur.

Fol. 7a, on Sunday after the Feast of St. Bartholomew, in the 27th year of Henry the Sixth, John Hamonde was chosen Mayor; among the "Poundages of Fishermen" (fol. 7 b) 4 pence is received from Simon Froste, "for fishes called 'molettys' (mullets)." Fol. 8b, Thomas Poope (sometimes written "Pope") pays for the sale "of two pipys and two hogge hedys of wine that he had sold 6d." Fol. 10a. (tr.) "Constitutions of the vill and port of Rye. The Constitutions, by use and custom hitherto accustomed, are, from every stranger, as though from a prisoner taken, payment of his finance (finantiam) for his ransom, and, when he has entered the fortresses of the port, for his passage thence 3s. 4d.; he having to pay towards the building of the walls and gates there, what pertains to the common weal of the town." Among the foreign fishermen who have to pay such "finance," William Abay is charged for "his wares, as coming from Dieppe," 21s. 8d.—"A certain strife arose between Robert—and John Sutton; whereon Sutton, it is said, struck the said Robert on the breast with his fist, upon which the said Robert drew a two-handed sword out of its sheath." "A strife arose," it is also said, in presence of the Mayor and Jurats, between Robert Unwyn and John Sowthyn; whereupon Robert violently laid his hand upon his 'aruncudum':—this Robert, as we have seen, was member of Parliament for the place, and both he and Sutton filled the office of Mayor.—"Every person who takes upon himself the burden and safeguard of watching, and who is found asleep, has committed a great and grievous offence, against the constitution of the town; for that the burden and safeguard has been entrusted to him by the Mayor, or some one else in his place, and in putting such confidence the town has been deceived; therefore he is to be placed at the discretion of the Mayor and Jurats." Hence, Richard Vynde "being caught sleeping, in that that he lost his arms, he offended against the said Constitution."

Fol. 12a.—"Expenses upon a certain 'pourservant' (pursuivant), for that he carried a seal of the arms of the Lord Duke of Boughkyngham with him; and in reverence for the said seal, a pleasant and joyous countenance was extended to him 2½d. Expended upon the said 'pourservant' when we had him to supper, for reverence for the said Duke of Boughkyngham, and for the honour of the town, in wine and other victuals 4d. For wine at the Mayor's house, when the Lieutenant of Dover was at dinner upon the capon which the Mayor gave him 4d."

In fol. 13b, charges appear for repairs during two weeks of the town walls, near the North Gate.

Fol. 14a. "Paid the maker of the pellet-powder (pulveris librillarum) for the old gounnys (guns), for his labour 3s. Paid for a quart of vinegar to test the saltpetre 1½d. Given to the minstrels of our Lord the King 3s. 4d. Paid on giving mulled wine to Fysshende in Canon's house, when he brought the writ of proclamation 1½d. For provender for the horses of the minstrels of our Lord the King, in the house of John Bayle 3d. Paid John Bayle for making a little sack of sheep's leather, and for the leather for the sack, which sack was provided to carry sulphur and saltpetre for the pellet-powder, which the Lord Chamberlain gave 6d. Paid John Bayle for a certain strainer through which the charcoal was sifted or cleansed for the pellet-powder.—Paid Robert Lubard for making the pellets of iron 6d."

Of fol. 16 half has been cut away with a knife, the preceding leaf being also mutilated, but not imperfect, so far as the context is concerned.

Fol. 18b. Thomas Sprotte and one Robert are fined 20d. "propter verba sesquipedalia [sic]"—long-worded abuse, probably.

Fol. 196.—"Paid a certain soldier called 'Robert' by name, to go to Apuldore, to make inquiry whether the Captain, with his army, who was then near the windmill there, had entered that town, or not, 8d."—This must have been Jack Cade, or one of his party.—Paid to labourers to throw down branches so as to make a hedge near the sea-shore, on the east side of

CORPORATION OF
RYE.

"the town, so that the high tide might no longer hurt the shore; the labourer, John Wetherst, being employed two days in throwing them down 10*d*." There are numerous other items in reference to this "hedge," upon which it was intended that sand should accumulate; many waggon-loads of branches, with pegs for fixing them, being carried thither for "backing" it.

Fol. 20*a*.—"Paid the expenses of the Common Clerk, to go to Tenterden, to tell them that one of us and of them should go to London, to labour for the saving of the franchise of Tenterden 6*d*." Fol. 20*b*.—"Paid John Warrene of Udemer, for cleansing the horse-pool without the North Gate 2*s*. 2*d*. Paid for 3 felt caps (caleptris) given to Younge of Bristow, and to Lacon and Elam, that they might the sooner be friends to us and the franchise of Tenterden 2*s*. 6*d*. (Tenterden was made a member of Rye by Charter dated 1st August 1449.)

Fol. 26*b*. (29th Henry VI.)—"Received of the wife of Yprys for a common fine levied in the Court of our Lord [the King], for certain lands of the said Yprys within the liberty of Rie etc. 6*s*. 8*d*." This was John Ypres, late a Jurat, to whom the tower of Ypres (still standing) was sold by the Corporation. Further mention will be found made of him in the sequel.

Fol. 27*a*.—"Paid for a capon and 2 ribs of beef (costibus bovinis) given to Master Faukes, 18*d*." Fol. 27*b*. "For watching two nights when a ship was being looked out for, off the Cambre, with Frenchmen, 15*d*."

Fol. 29*a*.—"For fish bought and given to Richard Wyderton, Lieutenant to our Warden, and for fish bought for the Mayor and the men empanelled, and the servants and other expenses on the 13th of May, at the time of the sitting held at Wynchilse 16*s*. 7*d*." The nets that in the early part of the book are called "bosennettys" are now called "bosmys," under the head of "Maltodes" levied upon the fishermen of Rye. These appear to have been a class of "trammel" net. Where a fisherman used hooks (hokys), his "Maltode" seems to have been increased.

Fol. 32*a*.—"Paid Babilon Grauntfort for hire of two horses to go to London 6*s*. 8*d*. This is the first mention of him; some fifteen years afterwards, he was Mayor.—"Paid the expenses of John Unwyn, Babilon Grauntfort, and two servants, for riding to Caunterbury to the installation of the Bishop [John Kemp] there, 4 days, 20*s*." Fol. 32*b*.—"Paid for a boat going to the general Brodelle at Romney, and returning 12*d*. Paid James Sedle, the younger, to go for Janyn, the carpenter, to Ewerst 4*d*. Paid the same Janyn for his coming to see 'le Kay' upon 'le Strond' [the Quay on the Strand] 8*d*. Given to the minstrels of the Lord Chancellor 12*d*. For Robert Onwyn, the Mayor, being at Reding, for Parliament, 28 days, at 18*d*. for each day 42*s*. Paid the minstrels of the Duke of Bokyngham 3*s*. 4*d*." He was the then Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports.

Fol. 36*a*.—"Paid for 2 loads (ii^{bus} loodis) of 'rys' (twigs) to make the 'Keye' at the Strond 22*d*. Paid for mending one 'style' and the 'dyche' at Bad-dyng 2*d*." Fol. 36*b*.—"Paid the minstrels of the Lord de Bowseir [Bourchier] and the Lord Fenys [Fiennes] 2*s*. Paid for a stock of fish for Richard Witherton, Lieutenant of Dover, to be a good man to us in the matter of Tenterden, by John Tregoo 3*s*. For the expenses of Richard Wetherston, Lieutenant of our Warden, at Rye, at the time of the sitting there; that is, in bread, ale, white and red wine, and sea fish, for supper; and, for dinner, mutton, porkers, geese, capons, and chekyns; and other costs upon the men empanelled, and their servants, 47*s*. 7*d*."

Fol. 37*a*.—"Given to the minstrels of the Lord Duke of Bukyngham, and their expenses at the tavern 4*s*. Paid Richard Ryys for his being at Parliament at Redyng and London 3*l*. 18*d*." This Ryys, or Rype, had formerly been the Mayor's attendant, and soon became Mayor himself. Fol. 39*a*.—"Item, on the day of Seynt Luke the Ewangelist cam before me, the said John [Suttone], Mayre of the seyd towne off Rye, on Davy Howell and John Tregoss, and ther in presence cam and recorde the eschaunge of ii hors, the ton a grey gyldyng, and the tother a lytell lyght bay with a whyght sterre in the forhede; the said Davy havyyng the gray gyldyng for the lyght bay hors off the said John, and the said John bayhyng the said bay hors for the said gyldyng off the said Davy; and for the said eschaunge made within the said place of Rye the said parties well and truly have paid her toll, after our lawes and usage, etc."

Fol. 42*a*. 32, 33, Henry VI.—"Given to the minstrels of the Earl of Warwick 3*s*. 4*d*. Given to the minstrels of the Duke of Yorke 3*s*. 8*d*. (Engl.) Item, for a present of porpays to the Bastard of Exettre 4*d*. (Engl.) Payd for ii congris and ii turbettes for to send to my Master Lieftenant 3*s*. 4*d*." Fol. 42*b*. "Item, in expenses of Hexstall and the fellyship that cam with hym, when the theff was hangyd, bothe on eve and morowe 6*s*. 8*d*." Hexstall was a servant of the Lieutenant at Dover Castle.—"Item, in expenses of Thomas Haymes, John Davy, Thomas Whythede, Robert Brekynden, Robert Dimy, Thomas Robyn, James Glover, Thomas Kaxton, off the paryssh and hundred of Tentyrden, for the enche making off ser-teyn stryves and contraversies be twene the sayd hundred and parysshe aforsayd and John Sutton, Mayre, Jurats, and Comons, off the towne off Rye, 6*s*. 6*d*." It seems by no means improbable, from various circumstances, that the above "Thomas Kaxton," who appears to have been a shrewd man of business, and a lawyer, was a brother of William Caxton, our first printer. The same person, beyond a doubt, is found, a short time after this, acting as Town Clerk, and principal man of business, at Lyde (now Lydd); then Bailiff of Lydd; and, after that, Town Clerk of Sandwich; as seen more fully set forth in the Reports upon the records of Lydd and New Romney in the present Report.—"Item, in expenses of the Mayre, Laurens Dobyll, James Sedley, Alan Bryce, Thomas Kyng, and iii servants with hym at Wyttysham, to intercomyn off the Composition making with the Bayle and Jurats of Tenterden 6*s*. 10*d*. Item, gevyn to Kaxton for his labour and comyng hedyr, to over se the said Composition 12*d*."

Fol. 43*a*.—"Item, paid to Laurens off Borow for rydyng up Dover, for to have pardonyng that we should not ryde up so many men as the said warant comaundhyt 2*s*. 4*d*." Fol. 43*b*.—"Paid to Rychard Wattyssone and Thomas Chatte for the voydyng out of the gras off the towne dyche 2*s*. 1*d*. Item, gevyn to the mynstralles off my Lord of Arundall 3*s*. 4*d*. Item, in expensis off the Lyefstenaunt and his meyne [retinue], and theyr hors, fyrst in brede 2*s*. In smaller court lovys [loaves] 16*d*. For iiiii half pynnes of ale 3*s*. 4*d*. For bere, half a boune and ii pottes 2*s*. 4*d*. In good wyne x galones and a potell 7*s*. In swete wyne for vi quartes 21*d*. For vi rybbys of beef 12*d*. For a legge off flele 4*d*. For iii kapons 2*s*. For a lam 16*d*. For x chekyns 12*d*. Payd to William Wayte for ii lapster 2*d*. Payd to Petyr for a turbut 16*d*. To the same Petyr for iiiii copyll solys 6*d*. Payd to Rychard Baker for viii boote faggis [? bundles of faggots] 20*d*. Payd to John Osand for a quarter [?] plays [plaice] and vi copyll soles and viii bote plays 2*s*. 9*d*. Payd to John Sander for viii boot ff [? faggis] 20*d*. Payd to Clays Jordan for viii boote ff 20*d*. Payd to Harry Shape for a tur-but 16*d*. Payd to Pers Stotey for a doerey 16*d*. Egges 3*d*. For ii galons of kreme 5*d*. For ii salt ffyshe 8*d*. Paid for spyces to John Yonge 3*s*. 6*d*. Payd to Thomas Hoget for his labour 12*d*. For half a buyshell off flour 8*d*. For a pynt off hony 2*d*. For powder synamon 4*d*. Payd to Rychard Waryn for ii congres 15*d*. For waysshyng off the vessels, and off the napery 11*d*."

Fol. 44*a*.—"Gevyn to the mynstralles off my Lorde of Exettre 11*d*. For a quart off Romney at the selying the comysion for the Parlement 3*d*."

Fol. 45*a*. On Sunday after the Feast of St. Bartholomew in the 34th year of Henry VI., Richard Rype, already mentioned, was chosen Mayor. From about this point, the entries, to a great extent, are in English. 45*b*.—"Item, receyved off Syr Thomas Warner is prest, for Warner is liberte, beyng behynde in Sutton is tyme, beyng Mayre, 6*s*. 8*d*." Among the entries of "Poundage," from the fishermen of Salcote, the name of "Stephen Aldrych" frequently occurs.

Fol. 48*b*. 33, 34 Henry VI.—"Gevyn to the Kynges mynstralles 3*s*. 4*d*. Gevyn to the mynstrellis off my Lord Bowysrs [Bourchier's] in wyne and mony 2*s*. 2*d*. Gevyn to men off Lede [Lydd], when they shewyd her play 6*s*. 8*d*."

Fol. 49*a*.—"Yevyn to the mynistrallys off my Lord off Bykyngham 3*s*. 4*d*." Under "Expenses off the Liefftenaunt," among other items, are the following:—Payd to John Young for powder off synamon, peper, clowys [cloves], maces, safferon, and reasons off Corans [raisins of Corinth, or currants] 3*s*. 6*d*. Paid for ii capons fett [fetched] at Stono 16*d*. For a dossier [dorser] off chekyns 12*d*. To Thomas Kyng his wyff for a henne, 4*d*. Payd to Janyn Reyner for ii congour 14*d*. To Wylliam Way for a quarter flagge and a crabb 16*d*. To John of

CORPORATION OF
RYE

" Brege for viii bote flag' [?] 2s. 1d. To Toty for a dorrey 4d. For a lytill turbut bought off a merchman 3d. For iii skoppys [?] scoops] flowre and di (half)—11d. For fewell 6d. Payd to iii turners off brooches [spits] 3d. Payd to Hoget for his labour off making pastyes, dyting [arranging] off the dyner and sooper 16d. To Jany Marchaunt is wyff, for a bundell off grasse 1d." Fol. 49b.—" Payd and allowed to John Bayle for expenses off Haxtall his meyne [retinue] in mete, drynke, and other cost off Suttone is tyme, when the man was hanged 3s. Yovying [given] to the Kynges messenger, that brought the Kyng's Privy Seale to Rye, for havyng off a ship or two flor to kepe the see 3s. 4d."

Fol. 51a. 35 Henry VI. "Babilon Grantfort" is now named the first on the list of Jurats.—"Also, it is accorded, with the assent off the said Mayre, Jurates, and commons, that every ale brewer off the said towne off Rye shall answer, gader, and pay the Maltode off all such ale as thei shall brewe and delyver to the hukkester, to the said Maltoters during the said yere, uppon the payne and [?] of] lesynge off the same brethyne, he that doth the contrarie. Also, the same day, it is accorded and ordeyned by the said Mayre and Cominaltee, that the here brewer whiche bryngyn bere to the said towne off Rye shall paye to the said towne for Maltode off every hole bune [or bowne, a measure] bere 2d." The distinction is here made between the brewing of ale and of "bere," or sweet-wort and of ale bittered with herbs.

Fol. 52a. (tr.)—"Jacob the Flemmyng, of Salcote, for assault made upon Sir William Pynke, Chaplain, in the Mayor's house, to the shedding of blood, therefore, according to the Constitution (he pays) 7s."

Fol. 53a.—"Govyne to Thomas Hextall for my Master, Liefftenaunt, vis. viiid., and for hymself to be owre good meen, that we com not to Dovorre as for the resumpcion, and for beryng up off the aliens mony for the terme off Mychelmas 16s. 8d. In expenses of the comons when they karyed grete stones to the kay, in breed and ale, 8d."

Fol. 54a.—"Paid to John Breknok, John Atteson, and Thomas Breknok, and Thomas Oxenbruge his man, for beryng up of the said vi gonnes unto the chyrche 6d." These "gonnes" had been recently bought of Hankyn Colyne and Hewe Thomas, for 53s. 4d.; a "gonner" having been brought to assay them, at the cost of 8d.—"Paid to Martyn off Dovorre, when he brought the proclamation under the Kynges Prive Signet, with the commaundment off Dovorre, as for that no man shuld resseyve devyses nor lyvereis in noon maner wyse 8d. Payd to Moryce Getard for beryng uppe to Dovorre off the alienes mony at the terme off Easter, and for the retorne havyng up off the warrant tham [sic] cam for the dymes off the chyrch off Rye, the chyrch off Farlegh, and of Pesemersh 2s." Fol. 54b. "Payd to John Suttone for the expenses off my Lord off Bukyngham mynstralles 8d. Payd to the same John for half c off-gonn stones 4s." Among the expenses of entertaining Richard Wytherton, Lieutenant of Dover Castle, are the following payments to the Mayor; who, unless the money was given to him in repayment of his previous outlay, seems to have bred poultry on a large scale.—"Payd for iii capons to the Mayr 18d. Paid for xx chekys [chicks] to the Mayr 2s. Paid to the Mayr for iiiii geese 16d. Paid for botter, egges, vyngere, and vergeis [verjuice] 9d. Paid, Johane Wymond and Bartyne for waysshyng off the vesselle, and serving at tabyll 6d. Payd to Sutton is ost for i turbut, iii bramys (breames), and i gongre 2s. 4d."

Fol. 55a.—"Payd for the making off the towne buttes 6d. Gevyne to my Lorde of 3orke his mynstralles 3s. 4d. For bred and ale to the said mynstralles, and to a part off the commons 4d. Paid to the mynstralls off the Lord Tresorer 2s. 6d."

Fol. 58b, 36th Henry VI.—"To John Benett to warne the constabyll to sett a fyre the bekyng [beacon] 2d. Gefyn to Cakston in reward for bryngyng off his felychyp [from Tenterden] 12d. In expenses uppon the felyschyp off Tentyrden at here goyng home 9d. Gefyn unto the same felychyppe to be well wyllyng to come azen 10s. Spent at a drynkyng a nother tyme 9d." We have here another allusion to the busy lawyer of Tenterden.

Fol. 59a.—"In expenses in bryngyng my Lord Stafford to Wynchelse 14d. Item, to Thomas Hoget for making off a pytte to laye in a gunne be syde the North Gate 6d."

Fol. 61b.—"Gefyn to my Lorde Schrynysberye mynstrallys 2s. 6d."

Fol. 64b.—"Receved of Babilon Graunteforte and Richard Rips, as maltode for salt sold, 3s."

Fol. 66a. (tr.) "Firts, paid the harpers [sitheratoribus] of the Earl of Pembroke 3s. 4d. The minstrels of the Earl of Warwick, their expenses and other things 4s. Minstrels of the Duke of York, 4s." Fol. 67 has been nearly wholly torn out, by the hand of some one as ignorant as he was mischievously inclined.

Fol. 68a. (tr.) Paid for a certain foca [classical Latin, "phoca"], called a "porpaes" 20d. "Given to John Bayle, serjeant to the Lieutenant, when he carried the arms of England and of the Cinque Ports before the Lieutenant, through the whole of the port 2d."

Fol. 72a.—"Received of John Dowyng, of the vill of Taunton, in the county of Somerset, marchande, for purchase of his freedom, he paying beforehand, 6s. 8d. And afterwards, yearly he is to pay for having such freedom 20d., so long as the same John shall stand as our Combaron, and retain our letters of such freedom under the common seal and the seal of our Mayoralty, attesting it, etc."

Fol. 73b. 38 Henry VI.—"Paid for mending the town mace at London, by the hands of the Mayor, 6s. Given to Robert Benet on Wednesday (in London) that he might be our friend in the Exchequer, 20d. Paid for wine in the afternoon in Cheape (in London) with Robert Benet 3½d. Paid for apples that night, in the chamber 1d. Paid on Friday in the early morning for drinking wine when we were setting out, 1½d. Paid for our chamber while we were in London, 4½d. There are other items (in Latin) as to this visit to London, on law matters, all of them of interest.

Fol. 74a.—"Paid Babilon Grande (sic. Grandefort) for his trouble and expense in excusing the town to our Lord the Earl of Arundel, 3s. 4d." Fol. 74b.—"Paid for two bolts of 'froggelockers' for the gates of the town, 2s. 3d. Paid Thomas Barbur, alias 'Netherland,' on the day when the men of the Lord Warwicke entered the town with a strong band, and took down the quarter of the man, and buried it in the churchyard, 2d." This is an incident connected with the Wars of the Roses.

In fol 75a, (38 Henry VI.) is a list of (tr.)—"Payments and expenses incurred in the time of John Rounge about the edifices of the north tower, called 'Landgate Tower,' from the 3rd day of September to the 24th day of October then next ensuing." These items extend over six closely written pages.

Fol. 78b. (tr.)—"Paid the expenses of John Rounge, Mayor, Thomas Kyng, Deputy-Bailiff, John Sutton, John Hamond, Richard Rips, and John Bayle, Jurats, John Clerke, Common Clerk, and William Sutton, at Dover, going and returning, on carrying the mens' quarters, when the Mayor and Bailiff, with 4 Jurats, were sent under the heaviest penalty, and on pain of contempt of our Lord the King 19s. 3d. For expenses at Dover, in drinking malnesey there, in the house of Extalle, before dinner, 2d."

Fol. 79a.—"Paid John Neterton for 12 bundles of faggots to make a fire this night, for [warning against] the Frenchmen 4d. Paid for the hire of a certain vessel called 'a cok,' to carry the Mayor and John Swan out and home from the town to the Cambre 12d. Given to the minstrels of the Lord de Dakys [Dacres] in ready money 12d. Given to the minstrels of the Duke of Bukenham, our Warden, in ready money 4s. Paid for their expenses the same time 2½d." Fol. 79b.—"Paid John Pampulon for himself and his trouble in sailing to the Cambre, to communicate with the mariners coming from the West, to inquire the news as to the Lord the Earl of Warwick, 6d. Paid a certain mariner of Rye, 'Frosie' by name, for his trouble in going to Leede (Lydd), to inquire what was the great fleet out at sea and sailing 8d. Paid James Sedly for his trouble and expense in carrying a letter from the Earls of March and Warwicke to the Mayor and Bailiff, that we should meet them on the day following, at Canterbury 6d. Paid the night following to Morris Gedard for his trouble and for hiring a boat, to go to Wynchilse to inquire if the Mayor and Bailiff there intended to ride to meet the said Earls, as had been written to them 4d. Paid at Melkehous by the Mayor and Common Clerk, when they drank a quart of wine there 2½d."

Fol. 80a. (tr.)—"Paid at Maydeston for dinner, in company of the Mayor and Bailiff of Wynchylse 8d. Expenses of our horses there 3d. For wine at Sedyngburne, for me [the Mayor] and the Common Clerk at dinner there 6d. Expenses of our horses there 4d. Paid one to attend our horses there while

Continued
on p. 493

"feeding 1d." (From Sittingbourne they appear to have turned southwards, and not gone to Canterbury, the Earls probably having passed on, on their road westwards.)—"Paid one to lead us on the way between Sedynghburne and Leene [probably now Lenham] 1d. Paid our expenses for the night there 2d. Paid our expenses in breakfasting there, in company with the said Mayor and Bailiff 8d. Paid the expenses of our horses there, the night and morning, 4½d. Paid for our bed there, and it was well worth it, witness, a feather bed 1d. Paid one of Leene with his horse, to lead us to Fordemylle; for the way between Leene aforesaid and Fordemylle was a nuisance (nociua) to us, who had never gone by it 2d. Paid at Apuldore for a dinner, in company with the Vicar there, and the same Mayor and Bailiff, and for a share of that of a certain man of the Earl of Warwick, and of Simon Boteyn; seeing that, being in our company, they paid nothing, 8d. Expenses of our horses 1½d. At Oxney Ferry, for ferryage, or carriage, of our horses, 1d. For expenses this night at supper, in the Mayor's house, when we came home 4d. Paid then for hire of two horses, for the Mayor and the Common Clerk 2s. Paid to John Stephen 'laborer,' and to Wibbeley, for their labour one day in carrying up stones upon the town walls, in order, as being a matter of necessity, to be ready for defence of the town 6d. Paid John Stephyn of Barlynde for himself and his beasts carrying 6 cartloads of rocks or stones, to lay on the town walls, for defending the town in resisting the King's enemies 9d. Paid the aforesaid John and Wybbeley, for their labour half a day in making hurdles in the wood, to put on top of the tower over the Water-gate, for men to stand there in defending the town 3d. Their expenses that time, in the wood and at home 3d. Paid John Stephen of Barlynde for carrying the hurdles to the town from the wood 3d. Paid the same John for mending the bridge of the North Tower 3d. Paid to a man of Lede, bearing a letter sent from Calice to Dover, and so through the Ports, to warn us that the Frenchmen were ready with all haste to enter the Ports, while the counties of Kent and Sussex were up (sursum) with the Earls of March and Warwick, at Southampton 8d. Paid by the hands of the Mayor, for the King's proclamation at London, to be proclaimed at Rye, as to spoilers and other delinquents, 20d."

Fol. 83b.—"Paid for 4 bushels of salt, given to John Benge, Clerk of the county of Kent, that he may be favourable to us, the town, and the hundred of Tenterden, in the way of friendship, in such matters as we have to do, 3s. 4d. Paid Babilon Grandeford for being for the town at Battle, to excuse the town to the Lord de Audeley, 2s."

Fol. 84b. 39, 40 Henry VI.:—"Given to the minstrels of the Earl of Warwick, 20d. Paid for the expenses of Thomas Grevill and his son at supper in the Mayor's house on Saturday, and at dinner on the morrow, to labour for us at Tenterden for our yearly payment, which was so in arrear, seeing that the same Thomas was great with them of Tenterden; so that we might be the sooner contented as to our said yearly payment 6½d."

Fol. 86b.—"Paid Thomas Oxenbrugge for his trouble in going to Romenei, to inquire whether the Frenchmen were arrived in the Downes or not, as was reported in Romenei Marsh; John Smyth of Wynchilse then having brought the news with him, as having heard it in the said marsh 8d."

Fol. 87b.—"Item, paid to Babilon Grantford, Squier, in ful paiement of his wageis, beyng at the Parliament of Coventre, and for his ridyng up to London whan he was sent up to the Kyng and the Lorddis for the towne with excuse; what tyme it was not, as it is now, blessed be God of His grace, of amendment, and so to continue 10s. 8d."

Fol. 88b. (tr.).—"Paid for 'planke' and timber for the bridge called 'Langate' 6d. Paid for a seam of fish given to John Scot, with the consent of the town; for that the same John, as Controller, expedited our bill for the King's grant of all lands and tenements of James Hyde, being within the liberties and franchises of Rye 9s. Paid Richard Becwelle for the livery of the town at the day [iter] of St. Alban's, given in 5 red jackets to our neighbours (rubiis jaketteis con vicinis nostris data) 16s. 8d."—soldiers sent to join the ranks of the Earls of March and Warwick, at the second Battle of St. Alban's, are probably here alluded to.—"Paid the expenses of amending the 'hors-pond,' outside the North Gate 2d."

Fol. 91b.—"Received from Boner, of Wettressam, 'spicer and mercer' for 'haukyng' with spices round the town, against the Mayor's warning; notwithstanding that the same Boner had been often warned by the Mayor not to do so, and yet did it; therefore he forfeited and paid 3s. 4d. Received of the Bailiffs of Tenterden and their fellows, when in the town at dinner, when our Lieutenant was in the town, upon the session on the sea-shore, on Friday the 2nd of July, as their expenses 3s. 4d.:" a Court of Admiralty, held on the sea-shore, is alluded to.

Fol. 94a.—"Paid Robert Lumbard for a certain great nail called 'aspek' [a spike] for the 'getey' [jetty] and mending a certain 'crowe' of iron 3d. Paid to Babilon Graundeford for the Coronation [of Edward IV.], as is the usage 26s. 8d. Paid the Mayor for the Coronation, as has been the usage heretofore 26s. 8d."

Fol. 95b. "Given to the minstrels of our Lord the King, 6 in number, 6s. 8d. Expenses of the same minstrels 7d."

The volume ends with folio 109, the 6th year of King Edward the Fourth.

In one of the chests, filled with miscellaneous papers and documents belonging to the Corporation, I found a fragment of a large folio paper volume containing Chamberlains' Accounts, for the 14th, 15th, and 16th, years of Edward the Fourth, filling up a portion of the hiatus that exists between the volume from which the preceding extracts were taken, and the Second Volume in the bound series, the one that now succeeds it: on the volumes being rebound, in or about the year 1776, its existence was probably unknown, or, at least, it was overlooked. Its contents are full of matters of interest, and the following are some extracts; being translations from the Latin, except when otherwise mentioned:—

On Sunday after the Feast of St. Bartholomew, being the 28th of August, in the 14th year of Edward IV. [A.D. 1474], "by assent and consent of the whole community of the town of Rye," Babilon Graunford was elected Mayor, "in the place from of old accustomed," for the following year; the first set of accounts contained in the fragment being for that period:—Among other elections on the same day,—"John Notyngnam, alias Sextene, was chosen to the office of collector for the box of the Ripiers on the Strond, by the Mayor, Jurats, and commons, there."

The following are among the receipts for the year.—"Received of the Bailiff of Tenterden for the vill and hundred, 53s. 4d." Tenterden, as already noticed, had been made a member, or adjunct, of Rye by Henry the Sixth; to enable it the more easily to bear its burden, after its impoverishment on being burnt by the French in 1448. "Received from Babilon Graunford for his workshop [opella], in the market, 20d. From the same Babilon for his workshop on the Stronde, 12d. From the same Babilon for half a year for the Ynnyng at the Gutt, 12d."—"Inning" was the name given to land recovered from the sea: the "Gutt" was probably the name of the harbour, as it then existed.—"From John Yonge for his new building near to the churchyard 8d." "Received from a certain man, a Flemmyng, 'pro bombagio,' 4d." Entries under this head frequently occur; it probably means "boomage," a fee for removing the boom, on admission to the harbour.—"Constitutions of the town (fines so called) for disturbances of the peace. Of Henry Squytte for an assault upon John Roby 20d. Of Richard Knygthe, alias Dawncor, for an assault 16d. Of John Roby, for an assault upon Henry Squytte 20d." Among the payments for this year (in English):—"Item, payed to Edward Carpenter for makyng of stokkis, and for the Key at Stronde, 16d. Payed for a planke for the Kaye, and 2 pecys of tymbere to sett the stokkis uppone 4d. Payed to Jamys Lowes and to Thomas Keme for fellyng of ryse and stakys for the heggys with owte Londe Gate, for ther wages, mete, and drynke 14d." "Ryse," elsewhere called "frith" in this fragment, consisted of twigs, or coppice-wood.—"Item, payed for expences of the Maier and ii of his brodern [brethren] at Wynchelse, beyng for Baseleys matter, at Malyn Vernyngcomes, uppon Sen Kauteryne Evyne [Saint Katharine's Eve] for a potel of wine 5d. Payed the same tyme for ther boote [boat] to bryng them to Wynchilse, and (back) ageyne 13d. Payd the same tyme when they wer com home, in the Meyres house at sopere, 12d. Payde the nexte day after for a dyner in Malyns house at Wynchelse, beyng for same mater of Robert Basele ther 2s. 10d. Payede for brede, drynge, and candel, the whiche the xii men

CORPORATION OF
RYE.

"had, syttinge upon the verdyt in the Tower 7d." —the Ypres Tower is meant.—"Payede to William, the Maires manne, for a gawnde [gallon] of wyne whan the sayd queste delyvered up ther verdytt 8d. Payede to Richard Sander for a seme [horse-load] of fyche, the whiche was sent up to the Erylle of Arundelle, the Satirday after xii day 5s. 6d. Payede to the players of Romeney, the which played in the chirche 16d. Payede to John Derby for fetyng [fetching] of the forsayde fysche 2d." The following items are translated from the Latin:—"Paid the Mayor for his wages 13s. 4d.;" for a quarter, namely, his "wages" at this time being, as for many years before, 53s. 4d. yearly.—"For the expenses in the Mayor's house 6s. 8d.;"—this was for giving a dinner there, on the day of the election.—"Given to the poor, on opening the boxes 18d.;"—these were the boxes containing the "Maltodes" and the moneys levied upon the Ripiers.—"Paid John Cowper 'pro bom-bagio. Paid for bread and ale in the church, when John Trego and John Estone made their account 3d.'" In English,—"Paid whanne the Mayier and his broderne sate to fyere [affer, or value] the endymente [assessment], for bred, ale, and woode 2½d. Payede for a dyner whanne the Bayle of Tentirdene and his brother ware her to syt upon an enquiry for the Kyng 12d. Payd to Thomas Kembe for makynge clene of a goter by for his dore, the whiche hurte the stret, for his days wage, mete, and drynke 5d. Payde in John Usandes house for expences in brede and drynke, whan the Chaumberlaynes, the Common Clerke, and the Sargeante, yid to gader the endythmentes, at on tyme 3d. Payde to a manne that browthe the letter fro Roger Brent of Canterbury, that the Mayor and certeyn of his bretherne shulde appere be fore the Kyng at Sandewych 9d. Payde to John Estone for ii bondel of thache-rode [thatch-rods], to thache the baryn [barn] the whiche the Mayer hathe of the towne 4d. Payde to the thacher and his man for iii dayes labour, met and drynke, and wages 2s. 6d. Payde in expences in mete and drynke upon Hewe Banke, what tyme he com from Sandewych with a commycion fro the Kyng to take men, at the Mayer's, in mete and drynke 17d. Payede to the boder [summoner] of Dovorre, what tyme he com with a writ for the shippyng for the Kynges viage 8d. Payede in expences in brede and drynke whanne John Tregoose and John Estone made ther accountes in the chirche 2d. Item, the same tyme whan they had geve ther accountes, come home in to the Maires house, in brede and wyne spente 16d. Payede to the Kynges menstrellis what tyme they were here 6s. 8d. Payede the same tyme in the Mayers house for ther expences in wyne 12½d. Payede in expences what tyme we wer at [T]entyrdene, for to undirstond what ther parte shuld be of the benyvolence, spente ther and whan we come home, at sopere 8s. Payde in expences for brede and ale what tyme we satte to assesse the benyvolens 5d. Payde in expences for brede and wyne, what tyme the Bayle of Tentirdene and his bretherne come hyder to bryngge downe the money of the benyvolens 2s. 10d. Payde to the Dewke of Clarence mynstrelles what tyme they were here 5s. Spente upon them the same tyme in bred and wine 18d. Payede to ii menne for to set Moreyce aboard the Bretenne, what tyme men of Wynchilae fet [fetched] hym awaye 4d. Payede to a man that broughth a proclamacion fro Dovorre that there no man shulde querrelle with othir, for non olde sores, and for drynge 9d. Payede to Richard Wynde for his Parlament wages 13s. 4d. Payede in John Atsones house, in expences, what tyme the Bayle of Hastyng was here, for to geve the Mayer knowledge what tyme the schippis shulde goo in to the Downys 11d. Payede for a seme of ffysche, the whiche was sent to my Lord Dakere 10s. 10d. Payede to the Mayer for xii days iiis. iiid. a day, the whiche was grauntide hym by a comune for to go to Londone, to the Tresorer of the Kynges house, for the chypynge [shipping] to the Kynges vyage 40s. Payede to a purcevant of my Lorde of Arundelle, the whiche was sent to speed tydyng of whan the shippis of Frenchemen lay here be fore the towne 2s. Payede to a massenger sent by the Kyng, the whiche browte a letter to have a [sic] serten mareneres to the se 8d. Payede in expences in bred and whyne in the Maiers house, what tyme the Mayer and his bretherne sate to undirstonde what men wer best to go to the shippis 13d. Payed upon Mary Magdalyn Day to a manne the whiche brouthe wrytyng fro the Kyng for to have "men (for) the shippes 8d. Payede to iiiii wetchemen the whiche whiche [watched] for the towne, what tyme the Frenchemen lay be fore the towne 8d. Payede for the carriage of a seme of ffysche [fish], the (which) was sent for the towne to my Lord Dakers, and for the bryngyng home of the vensone 3s. 4d. Payede to a porcevaunt of the Kyng, the which broughth good tydynges 3s. 4d. Payede for brede and wyne what tyme the Shawmeirlyaynes [Chamberlains] layde the booke of ther accountes 4d."

On the Sunday after the Feast of St. Bartholomew, being the 27th of August, in the 15th year of Edward the Fourth [A.D. 1475], Robert Lumbard was chosen Mayor. The following are some extracts from the Chamberlain's accounts, in this fragment, for the year of his Mayoralty. (Tr. from the Latin).—"Received of Robert Hekke, ripier, for his hepe upon Stronde 6s. 8d.;" this alludes to the rent paid to the town by each fisherman for liberty to place his "heap" of fish upon the ground by the water-side.—"Received, for the Constitutions of the town, of Robert Browne for an assault upon Stephen Boteler 20d. Received on the 2nd day of July from a vessel with salt, which went to Apyldore, and paid for custom 3s. 4d. Received of Master Graunfort [the late Mayor] for his vessel with salt, at Stronde 6s. 8d. Received rent for the town for the kychene [kitchen] at the tower [of Ypres], from John Morkok 12d."—"Memorandum, that on the xth day of Septembre, the xvth yere of our Souerayn Lorde Kyng Edward the iiiith, it was aggreide by for Robert Lumbard, than beyng Mayor of Rye, by fore the Bayle and dyverse of there brothern, with othir certen comuners, at the acompte of John Usande and William Parnelle, that alle manner of dewtes [debts] by-tewyene the towne and Babilone Graunfort, from the begynnynge of the worlde unto the day forsayde, is clere satisfyed and content." (Tr. from the Latin).—"Paid on the first of Septembre to a certain man of my Lord Arundelle, who first brought news of the peace between our Lord the King and the King of France 3s. 4d." Engl.—"Payd the ix day of Octobre to a berewarde [bearward] of my Lorde of Clarence, for baytynge of the berys [bears], for a stake to tye [tie] them by 2s. 1d. Payd the xxii day of Octobre to a bodere of Dovorre, for bryngynge of the proclamacion that non Englischman should by no Gasken wyn of non alyene, 8d. Payede the xx day of Novembre in expences in Wanstalles house at soper, the first nygth, goyng to the Brodhell holdyn at Romney, upon the next morow after Sent Edmonde the Kyng, ther beyng Robert Lumbard, the Mayer, John Sutton, and John Tregoose, with other iii of ther servauntes 12d. Upon the next morowe after, payd for their brekefast 11d. Paid the same tyme to Wanstalle for horse hire 4d. Paid the same day in Morleyes house for Romney [a kind of Malmsey wine, from Napoli di Romania] and for other vitel at ther dyner 14d. Payede the same day in oure commynge home at Lede [Lydd] in Thomas Yonges house, for Malmesey 8d. Payede in almes to a Fryere, at the instance and requeste of the Mayer of Wynchilse, the same tyme 4d. Payede the xv day of Decembre in expences for wyne uppon Sir Thomas Montgomery, when that Lady Margaret [the Countess of Richmond] was here 8d. Payede the iii day of Janyvere to one Stainere of Hastyng for beryng a letter to the Baly ther, for to make ffische for us, and to be carride and had to my Lorde of Arundelle 2d. Payd for wood, bred, and ale, the whiche was had to the Towyre, to the xii men that were upon the queste 5d." Tr. from the Latin:—"Paid William Parnelle for a farthing of broken gold—quadrante auri fracti—2s. 4d. Paid Robert Gooche for a horselod of arrows 17s. 4d. Paid to Richard Wynde for his wage when about to go to Parliament, from the account of the Ripiers 6s. 6d. Paid or allowed to Richard Wynde, as his wage when going to Parliament out of the account of the great Maltode, 6d. for washing, and 6d. for his clothes—vestiis suis."—"Theese ben the expences don a geyne the commynge of the Leve-tenant, the whiche shuld a kept the Courte of the Amaraltee with us at Rye the iii day of Aprill. First payed for ii coddis 12d. Payed for a turbat 8d. For a rombolde of whyttinge 5d. For a mary of gurnardes, and for ii pirlis [P], bowt of John Edirtone 2s. 8d. For a mary of gurnardes bowt of a Pykerde 18d. For ii elys 12d. For halfe a samone 12d. For brede 2s. For spyce 10d. For ii pottes with ale 10d. For ii solys 2d. For a gurnarde, and anothir dorry 14d. Payede to ii sarvauntes that made and dressed

CORPORATION OF
RYE.

“ the sayd mete 10*d*. Payede the same tyme at dyner, for iiii potellis of redde wyne 16*d*. Payede the same tyme for a potelle of Romney 6*d*. Payede the same afternone in expences in brede and wyne spent upone the Baly of Tentyrdene and his feleshyp 2*s*. 8*d*. Payede the same tyme for stale brede 4*d*. Payede the same tyme for woode 4*d*. To John Estone, for flowre 8*d*. Payede in expens for brede and drynke for the cokis 24*d*. Payede for a newe garnet [hinge] for the stokkes, the whiche stondyth at the Water Gate 4*d*. Payede to Groche for the todirdelle [? other lot] of the arrowys the vi day of Apryle, the whiche was by Hyde unpaid 4*s*.” Tr. from the Latin.—Paid Thomas Fletcher for mending the water ‘stayir’ 4*d*. Paid the minstrels of our Lord of Arundelle, as assigned by the Mayor and Jurats, 6*s*. 8*d*.; and for expences in bread and wine in the house of Master Graunford, Alderman, 5*d*.” Engl.—Payede the xxii day of Aprill, or that we went to Br[o]dehill, in bred, ale, and vitelles, at oure brekefast 12*d*. Payede the same daye in expences for mete and drynke at Wanstallis howce at Lede [Lydd] outewardes 10*d*. Payede the same nyght at Romney in Morleys houce, in mete and drynke for oure sopere 21*d*. Payed the same next day after at oure departyng from the Bradhell, at oure brekefast and dynere in the said Morleys houce 2*s*. 1*d*. Payed the same daye in the Brodelhouce to the comyn box 10*s*. Payede the same tyme to the vi li, the whiche was payed to Pemsey by alle the hole houce, for oure parte 11*s*. 5*d*. Payed to the porter of the Brodhell houce the same tyme 2*d*. Payed to Wenstalle the same tyme homewarde for mete and drynke, and horse hyre 8*d*. Payed for horce hyre for John Hamond and Harry Bayly, the same tyme 8*d*. Payede the same tyme for ledying of the horce home agayne to Lede 8*d*. Payede to Barnham the same [time] for bryngyng us to the Cambir, and home agayn 20*d*. Payede the same day home wardes at Thomas Yonges houce for Romney [wine] 11*d*. Payede the same nyght for oure soper, when we wer come home, fore mete and drynke, 2*s*. 5*d*. Payede to my Lorde of Clarence mynstrallis the xi daye of Maye 6*s*. 8*d*. Payede in expences done upone the same mynstellis, the same day 23*d*. Payede the xxvii day of Maye to the Kynges mynstrelles 10*s*. Payede the iii daye of June in expences for mannys mete and horse mete, what tyme the Mayer, the Baly, the Vycare, and the Jurattes, rode to Batell, unto my Lorde of Arundell 6*s*. Payede unto John Harte, the manne of law, the xv daye of June, for hys fee 6*s*. 8*d*. Payed the secunde day after the box opynnyng, at the rekynnyng of the comyn boke, upon the Maier, the Comyn Clerke, John Sexten, with othyr moe at oure brekefaste 6*d*. Payede the xi day of August to a bodere of Dovorre, the whiche brout a bille charyng the Maier and Balifes to do [cause] come be fore the Amerale or Leutenant xviii of the most wisest owre Combarouns the xxvi day of August 8*d*. Paid John Sexten for his trouble in writing, by the Mayor, 2*s*.”

The following are extracts from the Accounts in the time of Henry Bayly, Mayor, who was chosen to that office on Sunday after the Feast of St. Bartholomew in the 16th year of Edward the Fourth [A.D. 1476]. Tr.—Received of Master Herte for making a pair of butts, when at supper, and Master Warner was with us 20*d*. Received of Robert Belyngham, Esquire, for his freedom, at the Feast of Easter 3*s*. 4*d*. Received from one Bretenne [Breton] for his vessel laden with salt 3*s*. 4*d*. Received, for the Constitutions of the town, from Gilbert Rudde, when he drew blood with his nails from Thomas Aleyne, John Edirton’s man, 20*d*. Received for John Knytte, Stephen Butlere, and William Peyntore, for playing at dice [decies] 4*s*. 4*d*.” The following items, extracted from a long list, bear reference to a sumptuous dinner given to the Lieutenant of the Lord Warden.—“Payede to Robert Lunbardes wife for vi chekynmys, 8*d*. Payede to John Rippis for onyonys, clowis, maces, and saforne 3*d*. Payede to John Tolkyne for saforne i*d*. Payed to Thomas Fletcher for goyng to Levysham for pigges, and yet he cowde not spede there i*d*. Payede to Wibeley, for tornynge of the broche [spit] the same tyme i*d*. Payede to Master Graunfort for xviii pesonys [? some kind of edible] the same tyme, 9*d*. Payede to the same Master Graunfort for a capone the same tyme 12*d*. Payede to the cooke for his labore, and to Revet Hatche 20*d*. Gevyn in rewarde to the mynstrelles of the Kynges modire [Cecily, Duchess of York], vppone our Ladyes Evyn the Natyvite 3*s*. 4*d*. Payed for the expences don and spent upone the men that laborde abowte the fyre, the whiche was at John Cokkes house done by Hantis child, the Munday next after the Fest of Seynt Edward: ffyrst payed to xiii mon, the whiche watchid for the saide fyre the next nygth after 4*s*. 4*d*. Payede for ii halfe bounys of bere for the men to drynk, what tyme thei labored uppone the saide fyre 2*s*. Payede for candil had at Oxenbriges for the menne that weched the same tyme 14*d*. Payed for a dyner for the Prynces mynstrelles, ther beyng the Mayer, the Baily, John Suttone, Robert Acroche [at the Cross], with othir more of theire ‘brothern’ 22*d*. Gevyn to the saide mynstrelles the same tyme, the viii day of Novembire 6*s*. 8*d*. By the consent of the Mayer and his bretherne, gevyn to the players of Lede [Lydd], the whiche pleyede here the Sunday after Cristemas halidayes, 16*d*. By the consent of the Mayer and his bretherne and commyners, the money that John Graunfort payed for his fredoum was gevyn unto hym a yen, to be goode frend unto the towne 6*s*. 8*d*. Payed the Thursday nexte after the Fest of Sent Hillary for a capone ordeyned for Master Ancheres suppere, by the concent of the Mayer and serten of his bretherne, at which sesone he cam not, and for expences at sopere the same tyme 12*d*. Payed to Master Angere for Newnden Brige, in party of payment of v marke the xxii day of Janyver 6*s*. 8*d*. Payed the xxiiiith daye of Janyvere in expences for a dyner for Maister John Hert, the man of lawe, that tyme beyng here 16*d*. Payed to John Tregoose for a gret rede boke 6*s*. 8*d*. Payed to Thomas a Bayne for his Parlemeute wages, the which was left by hynde unpaide in John Suttone his tyme 40*s*. Payed to the players of Wynchilse, the whiche played in the churche yerde, uppone the day of the Purificacion of oure Laday 16*d*. Payed to ii carpenteres goyng to Romeny to se the jetyes, and to take of them exhauple 10*d*. Payede for expences uppone the Mayer and the Bailif, afor thei yede to Wynchilse, ther to meete with the Mayir of Wynchilse and the Bayly of Hastyng, what tyme my Lorde of Arundelle sent downe wrytyng to atache sirtayne persones that robbid uppone the see 4*d*. Payed after the Mayer and his bretherne come owte of the Towere [of Ypres] from the affyryng [affeyring, or assessing] of the quest, unto Master Graunfortes hous, to a dyner ther, with them beyne present Master Robert Oxenbrige, Squyer, for expences ther in mete and wyne 2*s*. 8*d*. Gevyn in almes, the same tyme as the Maier of Wynchilse and the Baileife of Hastyng dede, to the byryng [burying] of Slobusche 3*d*. Payed the xi day of Aprille to John Alys, smygth, for ii hespis [hasps] and ii stapiles for tway dores in Towyre 4*d*. Payed unto John Bele the Saturday next after the Fest of Ester for goyng to Brede, to fetch the Master Robert Oxenbrige and his sonne unto the Meyers and to the Baylif for sertayne maters of the towne 4*d*. Payede the same day, whan the said Master Robert and his sonne was come, at dynere, there beyng present the Mayer, Baylyf, and serteyn of there brethern, and also Master Hert, for vitel and wyne 18*d*. Payed to Master Thomas Oxenbrige for his labour comyng to Rye, and for his goode councelle the same tyme 3*s*. 4*d*. (In Latin.)—Paid the Mayor’s wife for expences in her house 6*s*. 8*d*.—“This was a charge for a dinner at the Mayor’s house, on the day of his election.—“Given to the poor and to the servants there, 21*d*.”—“These ben the expences spent at the Brodhille holdyn at Romene, the Tuysday next after the Clause of Ester, ther beyng Henry Bayly, thanne Mayer, John Graunfort, Bailif, John Suttone, Esquyer, Richard Wynde, John Tregoose, John Usande, John Swanne, Comyn Clerke, William Estone, Thomas Oxenbrige, Thomas Litherlonde, Thomas Morris, Master Graunforte, ii menne, Robert Mayhowe, that (was) waytting uppone the Mayer, Nicholas Suttone, and John Bayly. That tyme payed fyrst outewardes at Lede [Lydd] at Swannes hous and at Thomas Yonges, for bred, wyne, bere, and vitelles 2*s*. 1*d*. Payed at Romene for onyre sopere the same daye at nygth, for brede, wyne, ale, bere, and vitelles 3*s*. Payed for ther beddes and expences in bred and wyne for the feleship, the whiche lay not at Morleys that nygth, but at other placis in towne, and for wyne that the Mair and his feleshe [fellowship] that laye at Morleys hade in the morning, or thei yede in to the towne 2*s*. 4*d*. Payede for their brekefast, or that they dede into the Brodehill house 12*d*. Payed for bred and wyne that was spent uppone the Baylife, John Tregoose, Thomas Oxenbrige, and othir, whil a letter was in the makynge in the Brodhil house, the whiche shulde be sent unto my Lorde of Arundelle, spent the same tyme 7*d*. Payed first, in the said house of the Brodhill, to the box 10*s*. 6*d*. Payede the

CORPORATION OF RYE.

CORPORATION OF RYE.

" secunde tyme in the saide house 11s. 4d. Payede to the Leyutenaunt his costes, as it was allowede by every towne thier the same tyme, for oure parte 12d. Payed at Morleys house for a dyner for the Mayer and his bretherne, with all the seid feleship, ther beyng present Master Hert, for brede, wyne, ale, and vitellis 3s. Payede and gevyn therethe sametyme to the women, the whiche gadderd forther Pariche church 4d. Payed to Richard, Master Graunfordes man, there, the same tyme, for horsemete for his masters hors, spent ther and at Lede, and for othir expences that the said Richard and John Bele hade leyde owte, in all 9d. Payed homewardest at Lede, for brede, wyne, and for checonys [chickens], at Swannes hous, for the Maier, Balif, and ther feleship 10d. Payede for vii horse hyere ther the same tyme 2s. 4d. Payede for brede and bere at the Hermytage homewardest 3d. Payede to William Barnham for bot hyer owtewardes and homewardest 2s. Payede to Maister Hert for his labor commyng to the said Brodhill 6s. 8d. Payed to the saide Maister Hert for his fees, the whiche he hathe yerly of the towne 6s. 8d. Payede for brede, alle, and wyne, and for vitalles, the whiche was spent in the Maier's house uppon the saide feleship byfore reherside, at their brekefast, or thei yede owte unto the saide Brodehille, and at sopere when they were come home 4s. 4d. Payede and gevyn to the Quenys mynstrelles, the secunde day of Maye 6s. 8d. Payede the same daye for ther dyner, for bred, wyne, and fische 16d. Payede and gevyn to the Duke of Clarens (mynstrelles) the v day of May 6s. 8d. Payed the same tyme for ther soper at Maister Graunfortes hous, the Maier and the Bailif, with sertayne of ther bretheren ther beyng present, for vitel and wyne, 2s. Payede for a seme [horse-load] of fyssche, the whiche was sente unto Maister Tresorer, when he was here at his wallynge in [? walling-in] the Marshe 10s. Payed to William Barnham for carryng of the saide fysshe unto Maister Tresorer, beyng in the Mershe, and also for fetchyng over the Maier, the Viker, the Bailif, with othere of ther broderne, unto the saide Maister Tresorer, and home ayene 9d. Payed and spent uppon Maister Warner and John Yonge, what tyme the said Maister Warner was (here), and gaif the Maier leve to have turf uppon his grownde at the Lee, for to make the buttes, the whiche stond now without the North Gate 8d." The various items for making the butts are then added. At the 46th page, this fragment, the writing of which is upon a very stout wire-wove paper, comes to an end.

Among the earlier documents stowed away in one of the chests, there is a torn leaf of vellum with writing on it, of the close of the 15th century; the following is a description of a portion of its contents.—A copy of a mandate, in Latin, by John (Arundel) Bishop of Chichester, dated the 9th of July 1476, in the church of St. Thomas, at Wynchelse, upon his Visitation, addressed to Master William Wykwyk, Vicar of Rye, wherein he says he has been informed that the Parish church of Rye is "dedicated in honour of the glorious Virgin Mary," and that formerly the parishioners had been bound to make their due oblations on the Feast of the Nativity of St. Mary [8th of September] as being the "Feast of the place," but that in modern times it had come about that they were wholly absent therefrom; some of them going abroad, some frequenting the fairs in neighbouring places, and others fishing for herrings in remote parts,—“So that divine worship is not then observed by them as it ought to be, and the due oblations are withheld, and hardly ever paid;” considering therefore that their absence cannot be conveniently prevented, and wishing to appeal to their consciences; he orders that all the parishioners of Rye, of either sex, who are admitted to Holy Communion, shall in future make their oblations upon the Feast of the Assumption of St. Mary [15th of August], instead of the Nativity, and that they shall not be considered bound to offer on the Feast of the Nativity, unless they wish to do so, from feelings of devoutness. On the other side of the leaf are the following entries, in Latin,—“A.D. 1488; on the last day but one of the month of April, it was determined by Adam Oxenbrugge, the then Mayor, the Jurats, and the whole community of Rye, that as holiness becomes the Lord's house [domum Domini decet sanctitudinem], in future, to the honour of God and of the glorious Virgin Mary, the Parish church of the said town, with the churchyard, and the manse of the vicarage thereof, should be of the same freedom, and with as much liberty, as the other houses of the freemen of the town aforesaid, especially as to arrests and other matters.” A fresh paragraph then commences, also in Latin, to the following effect:—“Also, in the year aforesaid, on the 6th day of July, King, Richard and Queen Anne, his consort, were crowned at Westminster, by the Reverend Father in Christ, and Lord, the Lord Thomas Bowrgchier, Cardinal, and Archbishop of Canterbury: at which Coronation there were chosen to bear the silk canopy over the King and Queen aforesaid, for the Barons of the town of Rye, Adam Oxenbrugge, and the then Mayor thereof, Thomas Bayen, (and) Robert Croche; who, after the said Coronation, on the same day, claimed, in right of the town of Rye aforesaid, the canopy that had been carried over the King before named; which canopy they kept in their possession, and afterwards carried away with them, with four spears and four silver bells, to the town of Rye aforesaid: giving surety that they, with their companions, the Barons there present, would make answer for the said canopy at the next Broodehill held. And so at the next Broodehill, which was holden at Romene on the 22nd day of July following, it was found in the books of the Common House there, that the said canopy belonged of right to the town of Rye aforesaid: and so, by common consent of all the Barons then and there present, the said canopy was allowed to remain in the town of Rye.”—Another paragraph then commences (tr.):—“The manner of retaining or receiving the canopy at the Coronation of the King and Queen, as among the towns of the Cinque Ports, namely, Hastyng, Wynchelse, Rye, Romene, Heethe, Dovorre, and Sandewyche, is this.—When the service is done by the Western Ports, namely, Hastyng, Wynchelse, and Rye, as to one canopy, then the service is to be done by the Eastern Ports, namely, Dovorre, Romene, Sandewyche, and Heethe, as to the next two canopies that follow: and when ever any such canopy falls to the Western Ports, then each town of those Ports is to have the canopy whole, with spears and bells, according to a certain series and succession: and when any canopy falls to the Eastern Ports, then such canopy shall be divided, with the spears and bells, at one time between the towns of Dovre and Romene, and at another time between the towns of Sandewiche and Heethe, as by acts in the Broodehille, and the fact of preceding canopies remaining in the said towns, more evidently appears; and as, for example, may be seen below. The canopy of King Henry V remained with Hasting; of his Queen, Katharine, with Dovorre and Romene; of King Henry VI, with Sandewiche and Heethe; of his Queen, Margaret, with Wynchelse; of King Edward IV, with Dovorre and Romene; of his Queen, Elizabeth, with Sandewiche and Heethe; of King Richard III, with Rye; of his Queen, Anne, with Dovorre and Romene;”—the following are added in successively later hands;—“of King Henry VII, with Sandewiche and Heethe; of his Queen, Elizabeth, with Hastyng; of King Henry VIII with Wynchelse; of his Queen (Katharine) with Sandewyche (and) Heethe; of his Queene, Anne, with Dovorre and Romene; of King Edward VI, with Rye; of Queen Mary the First [Mariæ Primi] with Sandwyche and Hyeth.”

The following parchment and paper writings (other than volumes) have been selected for description, from among the numerous miscellaneous documents lying promiscuously in the various chests at the Town Hall; as constituting, to all appearance, the most ancient, now existing, of the Corporation records of Rye:—

Two tattered leaves of parchment, which, from the stitch-marks, have evidently formed a Chamberlain's roll (in Latin) of Maltotes and other charges, the proceeds of which were due to the Corporation; with the expenditure thereof. From the writing, it belongs to the beginning of the 15th century, but it is in so mutilated a condition that its exact date can only be surmised: it appears to belong to the Mayoralty of John Makop, in the 6th year of the reign of Henry IV. The "Receipts" consist partly of "Rents of Assize," William Walpol, among others, paying 21d. The next are charges upon nets and loads of fish; "flueres," (a kind of net) are mentioned, and lasts of "sprottes," or sprats. Under this head also, William Walpol pays 21d., and John Fynche a like amount, for "the Term of St. Andrew." Lists of fines are given, for violating the "Constitutions" of the town, by making assaults, in one instance with a "pollax," in another with a "daggar." Maltotes "general," and those exacted from "Ripiers," (retail dealers in fish), with "Maltotes of rents and forms" from inhabitants then follow; more easily, (this membrane being comparatively perfect) to be deciphered:—"First, from John Makope (the Mayor) 2s. 4½d. From Robert Dyne, for his mill, 2s. 11d. From John Wykam 2s. 6d. From Stephen Pawlyn 2s. 6d. From Robert Onewyn 3s. 4d."; and other receipts of smaller amount. The Chamberlains then account for a moiety of the "Rents ferm collected from "strangers." Under the head of "Shares of balengiers," occurs,—“Also, received from William Longe, for Frenchmen taken, 13s. 4d. namely, from two balengiers. Also, from John Hayward 4s.”

CORPORATION OF RYE.

On the reverse of the roll are the items of expenditure for the same year, but almost wholly illegible in the earlier part. "Payments to officers and counsel for the town," are comparatively easy to be deciphered. The Mayor is paid 100s. "for his office," according to the ancient custom of the vill." Then—"To Robert Oxenbrugge, for his stipend, 26s. 8d; to the Common Clerk, 40s., and in cloth for his livery 15s.; to him for parchment and ink 2s." These rolls were superseded in the middle of the 15th century, if not earlier, by the Chamberlains' Books, which have already come under notice.

A narrow slip of parchment, about two feet in length, containing a list of the inhabitants of Rye, as assessed for—"The half Scot, imposed in the time of John Langport, Mayor, in the 2nd year of the reign of King Henry the Fifth," for the war with France, no doubt. The Mayor stands first, for 6s. 8d.; John Shelle and Robert Onewyn, following for like sums: these, with eleven others, belonging to the Ward without the Gate. A much poorer class of people, 21 inhabitants of Nesse Ward, then follow; then 28 inhabitants of Watermelle Ward, equally poor; the inhabitants of Market Warde succeed them, more numerous, but not more wealthy; except that John Standene is assessed for 6s. 8d.: in another list, under the same Mayoralty, but apparently for another assessment, it is stated, under an abbreviated form, "dm. m." that John Standene was "Lord of the Manor" in this Ward.

In some oblong papers, consisting of 10 small leaves sewed together, there is entered a list of (apparently) those summoned to a Hundred Court at Rye, holden before Adam Oxenbrege, Mayor, in the third year of King Henry the Seventh, the name of Oxenbrege being run through with a pen, and "W. Barnham" substituted. The list begins with Adam Oxenbrege, and John Suttone, Esquire. The localities here named are Paternoster Rowe, Chepe, The Ma[r]ket Place, Olde Fisshestrete, and Bukelersbery. Then, in the same book, in a list of assessments in the Mayoralty of William Barnham (Mayor 5 years later, in 1493), the localities named are, Market Warde, Paternoster Warde, Fishersstrete Warde, Buklersberry Warde,—names, evidently, mostly derived from London localities. One of the persons assessed in this last Ward is entered as—"Harry that weddid Quytow Love;" being assessed at a payment of 4 pence. Other entries are,—“Richard Broke, for Grensted Place 3s. 4d.” “Geffrey the Laborere 4d.” “John the Tynker 4d., and Cornelis frescheman 4d.” William Estone, William Stonaker, John Suttone, William Pernelle, and Robert Croche, are each assessed as owning 400l., the largest sum named. “Robert Joly, the Fetero,” owns but 40s. Among other surnames, Drynker, Puk, Bigman, and Cutberd, appear. The total value of the property possessed by the inhabitants is 6,303l. The property of certain women, is assessed, as to value, in the following singular form.—“Lumbardes Love 20 li. Richard Wor-thies Love 20 li. Marion, Drilandes Love 10 li. Balies Lof 80 li. Richard Wynnes Lof 30 li. Richard Waytis Love 5 li.” Under their payments, assessed at 2 pence in the pound, they appear in each instance as the “Wedow” of the persons respectively named. The mention of these poor widows, as “Loves” of their late husbands, is almost poetry, and this too where we should least expect it.

Letters Patent, dated in the 5th year of the reign of King Richard the Second, bearing reference to the building of the walls round the town of Rye;—of which walls some fragments still remain. The document is endorsed, in a hand of the 16th century,—“A Charter for building the walles of Rye.” It begins—“Ricardus, Dei gratia etc. Sciatis quod nos, pro eo quod dilecti Barones nostri, Major et Communitas villæ de la Rye, manuceperunt coram nobis et cancellaria nostra villam prædictam muro de petra et calce infra triennium a data præsentium in locis necessariis sufficienter claudere et firmare.”—It is given at length in Holloway's History and Antiquities of Rye, 1847; but under the very singular impression that it belongs to the reign of Richard the First. The town had been plundered and burnt by the French in 1377, some 4 or 5 years before.

A very long deed (in Latin), stating that the Prior and Convent of the Order of Friars Heremites of St. Austin, in Rye, have granted “to the reverend man, William Tailleur, of Rye,” and to Agnes, his wife, not only the suffrages of their prayers, but have assigned a brother, a priest professed of their Order and Convent, for a sum of money by the said William and Agnes paid, “and for other benefits bestowed, and in future to be bestowed;” which brother shall celebrate daily at the altar of St. Nicholas in the Parish church of Rye, for the healthful estate of them and their children, and for the soul of John, the brother of the said William; and for ever for the souls of the said William and Agnes, when they shall depart this life. Touching the holy [Gospels], the Prior and Convent have made corporal oath thereon, and executed these presents. In case of omission or neglect, they are to incur sentence of the Greater Excommunication. The seal of their community, and the seal of the office of Prior, are attached thereto.—“Given at Rye, in our Chapter place, on the 18th day of August in the year of our Lord 1368. Present, the venerable men, Sir Stephen —, Dean of the Deanery of Hasyngges, Sir William de Leycestre, perpetual Vicar of the church of Rye, Richard Baddyng, then Mayor, Henry Goldezeve, John Ivory, Laurence Taverner, John Salerne, Stephen Andrew, Laurence Curboyl, Stephen Elyot, Thomas Kittay, Robert Bernhand, Richard Pak, John Otringham.” The two seals, vesica-shaped, and each representing St. Augustin, in the act of benediction, are in fair preservation.

Jeake, in his Charters of the Cinque Ports, seems to imply that the Friars Heremites were only settled in Rye in the 16th year of Henry the Eighth; the error has, however, been corrected in Holloway's History and Antiquities, where it is noticed that the Austin Friars of Rye are mentioned so far back as the 37th of Edward the Third (A.D. 1364).

Gift and confirmation (in Latin), by the Mayor and Barons of Rye to the Prior and Brethren of the Order of Friars Heremites of St. Austin, of the Convent at Rye, of all that place called “Le Haltone;” “saving to us a competent space near to the foss, for building the wall of our town, and a way to go to such wall.” In case the Prior and Convent shall leave the said place, or be unwilling to inhabit it, it shall be lawful for the Mayor and Barons to resume the same.—“In witness whereof, we have caused our Common Seal to be set. Given at Rye, on Thursday, the Feast of the Translation of St. Thomas the Martyr, in the second year of the reign of Richard, after the Conquest of England, the Second.” Witnesses, William Batisforde, William Hoorne, Robert Ore, Robert Echighame, William Geldeforde, John Edward. This is the counterpart of the original deed of gift, and to it a very fine impression of the seal of the Friars Heremites is attached; representing St. Augustin, holding a crozier, with an upright anchor before him, and people standing below. The legend is nearly perfect. This deed goes far towards shewing that the fine remains of their Convent, still to be seen at Rye, are of a much earlier date than that of Henry VIII., a date that has been assigned to them.

A notification (on parchment), in Latin, to Simon Northew, Rector of the Parish church of Suthese (near Lewes) in the Diocese of Chichester, and Vicar in Spirituals in the Archdeaconry of Lewes, by the Archdeacon of Lewes; to the effect, that he has inducted John Bevere, Priest, into the perpetual Chantry of St. Nicholas and the Blessed Virgin Mary, in the Parish church of Rye, on the presentation of William Lange and Thomas Lange, in succession to Sir John Casselake, deceased. Dated at Wynchelse, the 22nd of February 1418[9]. Henry [Ware], Bishop of Chichester, named therein, was Bishop for only 2 years and 9 months. The document is sealed with the oblong seal of the Deanery of Lewes, of which only a small fragment is left.

Copy (on parchment) of a letter, in French, dated 19th of November in the 19th year of Richard the Second (A.D. 1395), and addressed “by your brethren and friends the Mayor and Jurats of the vill of Rye” to their “Combarons” of one of the Cinque Ports, not named. They entreat them, as they have frequently done before, that they will compel John Petham to pay 46s. 8d. which he owes to John Hamone and Walter Englishshe, and 10s. damages for the unjust withholding thereof. The copy is, no doubt, of contemporary date with the original.

CORPORATION OF
RYE.

The following is of interest, as having the signature upon it (T. Stanley) of Thomas, Lord Stanley, created Earl of Derby by Henry the Seventh, in 1485; being a release of all claims and rights of action against the Mayor and Barons of the vill of Rye:—"Noverint universi per presentes, me, Thomam Stanley, militem, Dominum Stanley, Senescallum Hospitii Domini Regis, remississe, relaxasse, et omnino in perpetuum quietam-clamasse, Majori et Baronibus villæ de Rye, unius villarum Quinque Portuum Domini Regis, et toti communitati ejusdem villæ, omnimodas actiones et demandas personales, quas versus ipsos, vel eorum aliquem, habui, habeo, seu quovis modo habere potero, ratione aliequus debiti, compoti, conventionis, contractus, aut alterius causæ, rei, vel materiæ cujuscunque, ab origine mundi usque in diem confectionis presentium. In cujus rei testimonium, sigillum meum presentibus apposui. Data vicesimo septimo die Aprilis, anno regni Regis Ricardi, Tertii post Conquestum, secundo." Of the small seal the impression is entirely effaced. Platted rushes are inserted in the wax. Lord Stanley was at this time the owner of the Ypres Tower, formerly in the possession of John de Ypres and Thomas Stoughton.

A notification, on parchment, in Latin, to Master William Miltone, Dean of Chichester, and Keeper of the Spiritualities of the Bishopric of Chichester, the See being vacant, by the Archdeacon of Lewes; stating that he has inducted John More, eve, Priest, into the perpetual Chantry of St. Nicholas and the Blessed Virgin Mary, in the church of Rye, on the presentation of William Longe (elsewhere "Lange") and Thomas Longe, of Rye, the true patrons thereof, upon the death of Sir John Bever, the late Chaplain. Dated the 1st of November 1420.

A notification, on parchment, in Latin, dated A.D. 1279, under five seals, by John, perpetual Vicar of Bexele, proctor of Master Richard de Pagelham, Chancellor of Chichester, executor of the testament of Brice de Rye, deceased, James Marchaunt, co-executor thereof, and John Sampson, called "de Yham," John de Carette, and the said James Marchaunt, as executors of the testament of Elena, formerly the wife of the said Brice; setting forth that the said Brice, in his testament, with the consent of the said Elena, assigned a certain sum of money to purchase a rent for the maintenance of two priests, to celebrate daily for the souls of the said Brice and Elena in the church of St. Mary at Rye; and that, such having been the desire of the said Brice and Elena, they have assigned one half of the said rent to Robert le Paumere, Clerk, of Pevenese, that he may be admitted to the holy orders of subdeacon, deacon, and priest, by the venerable Father, the Bishop of Chichester; to the end that he may be one of the priests celebrating in the Chantry aforesaid. "Given at Winchelese." Of the 5 seals, only one, with the impression of a wheel, is left.

Petition on parchment, in Latin, date 1281, addressed by John Bone, son of Henry Bone, of Rye, and heir of Brice de Rye, to S. [Stephen de Berksteed] Bishop of Chichester, setting forth that a Chantry had been founded in the church of Rye by the said Brice and Helena, his wife, for celebrating a mass daily, "in honour of God, the glorious Virgin, His Mother, and all Saints," for the souls of the said Brice and Helena; and begging that, at his presentation, the Bishop will admit Robert de Pevenese, who has already been duly admitted to the requisite sacred orders, to officiate therein. His seal being unknown to most persons, that of the Deanery of Hastings has been added thereto. The latter seal is lost; that of John Bone is perfect, representing a hand holding a bird. There is also a counterpart of this petition, both seals of which are lost.

A formal receipt, on parchment, dated the 41st year of Edward III. As it is one of the very few documents here met with, written in French, it is given in full:—"As touz ixeux qui cestes lettres verront ou orrent, Piers de Brewes, Chivaler, Henry Auger, William Stanttone, Clerk, William Olmestede, et Robert Conert, Chapeleyn, salut en Dieu. Com nous avoms venduz a William Taillour de la Rye certeyn bois en nostre Manoir de la Mote en le Counte de Sussex, sachetz nous avoir resceu, jour de la faisance de ycestes, de lavaunt dit William Taillour et Thomas, son filz, quarante marc3 desterlynges, en partie du paiement dune somme au quele les ditz William Taillour et Thomas a nous sont tenuz pur la vente du dit bois; des quex quarante marcs nous sumes pleynement paie3, et les avaunt ditz William Taillour et Thomas acquitoms pur cestes presentz. En tesmoignance

"de quele chose, a ceste presente escrit nous avoms mys nos seals. Donec le qatersisme jour de Octobre, lan du regne nostre Seignour le Roi Edward Tierce puis la Conquest, qarantisme primere." It is an acquittance by Peter de Brewes, Knight, Henry Auger, William Stanttone, Clerk, William Olmestede, and William Conert, Chaplain, to William Taillour, of Rye, and Thomas, his son, for 40 marks, in part payment for wood bought from their Manor of the Mote, in Sussex. Of the five seals, three are left, in a bad condition, one a shield, bearing apparently, a lion rampant.

A contemporary copy of a Certificate (of the time probably of Richard II.) given by the Mayor and Barons of Rye; stating that Joan, the wife of William Ive, of Tenterden, and daughter and heir of Stephen Elyot, late of Rye, is of free condition, and born in free and lawful wedlock:—"Omnibus Christi fidelibus, ad quorum notitiam presentes litteræ pervenerint, Major et Barones villæ de Rye salutem. Quia nobis supplicaverunt Willelmus Ive, de Tenterden, et Johanna, ejus uxor, filia et hæres Stephani Elyot, nuper de Rya, de vera notitia ipsius Johanne testimonium perhibere; universitati vestre innotescimus per presentes, quod, in Plena Communitate tenta die confectionis presentium in loco constituto, capta ibidem inquisitione coram nobis de notitia prædicta, omnes ibidem existentes unanimiter dixerunt præfatam Johannam esse natam et procreatam in villa prædicta, videlicet, de libero et legitimo thoro; cujus pater et progenitores liberi fuere, tam corporibus quam catallis, absque contradictione cujuscunque; unde ad ibidem libertatis beneficium perspatium centum annorum honeste conversati fuere, bonæ famæ ac conversationis illasæ, prout nobis et quampluribus Quinque Portus [sic] palam dinoscitur et testatur. Et ne testimonii diligentia prædicti in posterum verteretur in dubium, nos, prædicti Major et Barones, assensu totius communitatis ejusdem, nostrum Commune Sigillum presentibus litteris nostris fieri fecimus patentes [sic]. Datum, etc." Had Joan been of native birth, i.e., the daughter of a native, or born bondman, impediments would not improbably have been thrown in the way of her heirship.

The following receipt is of interest, as bearing the seal, (in red wax), of Sir Thomas Holland, the first husband of Joan Plantagenet, "the Fair Maid of Kent," who afterwards married the Black Prince, and was mother of Richard the Second. He claimed the title of Wake in right of his wife, who was niece of Thomas, the last Lord Wake. In 1360 he also assumed the title of "Earl of Kent," in right of his wife, as heir of John Plantagenet, the last Earl of Kent. The writing is so faint as to be almost illegible:—"As toutz y ceux qui cestes lettres verront ou orront, Thomas de Holand, Seigneur Wake, salut. Sachetz nous avoir resceu du baillif du manoir de Isdene trent sept soudes et deux deiners desterlynges, en partie de paiement de seissaunt sesse soudes et quatre deiners par an de nostre fee ferme illoeges. Des queux trent sept soudes et deux deiners nous nous conissions estre bien paie3, et lavant dit baillif ent quite, pur le terme susdit, par cestes noz lettres patentes ensealees de nostre seal. Escrip a Londres, le quart jour de Mai, lan duregne le roi Edward, Tierce puis le Conquest, trentism tierce." It is simply an acknowledgment that he has received 37s. 2d. out of a sum of 66s. 4d. due from the bailiff of the manor of Isdene [? Iden]; dated at London the 4th of May 1359. The seal is broken; a shield surmounted by, apparently, two tilting helmets, with large plumes.

A parchment document, in Latin, bearing date the 10th of December, in the 8th year of Henry the Fifth; setting forth, in formal language, that there had appeared before the Mayor and Barons of the vill of Rye, John atte Wode and Thomas Langele, Jurats of the said vill, Richard Bedyll, John Wayte, and many other trusty persons; who confessed to them that Joan, late the wife of John Baker, of Gestlyng, in their presence said, and requested them to bear witness thereto, that she would rather eat dirt (mallet manducare terram) than ever alienate to any one those lands, rents, and services, which are called "Hykeman Thomasisland," or the lands called "Whetfletismershe, and "Padyams mershe," or any rents and services to the same belonging; but that the same should remain wholly to the next heirs, namely, John Burgeys and John Yonge. The four small seals of the persons named are still appended; but that of the Barons of the vill of Rye (their second seal in date, as herein-after noticed,) is greatly mutilated.

A small parchment indenture, in Latin, bearing date the Sunday before the Feast of St. Thomas the Apostle, in the 9th year of King Henry the Sixth [A.D. 1430], made between William Broughton, Mayor of Rye, the Jurats, and the community thereof, of the one part, and John de Iprys, of the other; and witnessing that the said Mayor, Jurats, and community, in full commonalty, holden in the church of St. Mary of Rye, before the altar of St. Nicholas, on the day aforesaid, granted to the said John a certain tower situate in the said vill, with reasonable way thereto from the King's highway, with horses, carts, and wains, with reasonable ground also on the south side of the tower as far as the Clyff, of the same breadth as the tower, or more; it to be lawful to the said Mayor, Jurats, and community, and their successors, in time of hostilities or war, together with their goods, to enter the said tower, for defence of the vill aforesaid, that is, for as many as may be reasonably admitted therein; saving the easement therein of the said John, his wife, and their domestics. Upon the understanding, also, that, upon view of the Mayor for the time being, and the said John, those who are to be received therein, shall bring with them a sufficiency of victuals for the time they ought there to remain, through the necessities of war. No consideration is mentioned, and of the Common Seal, appended to the grant, only a fragment is left. There is also the counterpart of this deed, with the seal of John de Iprys attached. The tower of Ypres, here mentioned, built by William of Ypres (in the time probably of King Stephen) is still an ornament to the town of Rye.

COUNCIL
CHURCH
1871

A grant (in Latin) on parchment, by John Sedley, John Couthene, Richard Canone, and William Wayte, Wardens of the works and light of the church of St. Mary, at Rye, with the assent of William Broughtone, then Mayor, and of the whole community of Rye, in full commonalty, holden on Sunday the 4th of June, in the 19th year of King Henry the Sixth, to John Ypres, Esquire, and Elizabeth, his wife; of a parcel of land and garden, without the North Gate, adjoining a parcel of land and garden of John Sedley, late of William Munte, and another parcel belonging to Thomas Longe; at a yearly rent of one peppercorn at the Feast of Easter. They have thereto set their seals; but as the said seals to many are unknown, they have procured "the Common Seal of the Barons of the vill of Rye" to be also appended (A.D. 1441). Witnesses, William Broughton, Mayor, Thomas Pope, Bailiff, Thomas Longe, John Graunger, John Suttone, Richard Bayle, John Comptone, Clerk. Three of the five seals (two of them representing the letters H and W) are left; of that of the Barons of Rye only a small fragment remains.

A large deed, in Latin, on parchment, bearing date—April, 30 Henry VI. [A.D. 1452]; whereby John Iprys, of Rye, Esquire, grants to Thomas Stoghtone, of London, Fishmonger, the tower last above mentioned, in the terms therein stated; also, a tenement, with a cellar beneath, near to the town wall; also, two parcels of land in Rye. And further, he, the said John Iprys, and Elizabeth, his wife, have granted to the said Thomas Stoghtone certain parcels of land and garden without the North Gate, near to the parcel of land and garden of John Sedley, late of William Munte, and the land late of William Pashelewe; also, a piece of land and garden, near to the land of John Downe, and that of the Hospital of St. Bartholomew, and near to the lane that leads to Blekewelle from the King's highway to the south, and near to the land of the heirs of Stephen Langporte, to the north; also, a tenement without the North Gate, near to the lane called "Le Pyggelane;" also, another tenement without the North Gate, near to the tenement late of Stephen Slade, and the lands of John Bayle and John Warner; also, a barn in the said vill, near to the lands of John Sowthen, and of Robert Unwyn and John Younge. Witnesses, John Suttone, John Hamound, James Sedley, John Comton, John Bayle, William Wanstal, Richard Rippys, John Younge. The "seal of arms" of John Iprys, named as being set thereto, is still appended, and in good condition. Of the Common Seal of the vill of Rye, appended at the request of Elizabeth, his wife, only a fragment is left.

A warrant of attorney, in Latin, on parchment, by the said John Iprys, "late of Rye," appointing John Suttone his attorney, to deliver seisin to Thomas Stoghtone of the tower, and other tenements and hereditaments last mentioned. Dated the 20th of April, in the 30th year of King Henry the Sixth. Of the seal of arms of John Iprys, originally appended, only a fragment is left.

Another warrant of attorney, in Latin, whereby the said John Iprys, late of Rye, appoints John Tregooos his attorney to be receiver, in his name, of all moneys arising from all the lands, tenements, rents, and services, which John Suttone, Richard Fourde, Richard Canone, and John Younge, lately bought, of his gift and feoffment, according to the form and effect of a certain deed of feoffment between him and them made. Dated the 8th of April, in the 30th year of Henry the Sixth. Of the seal only a fragment is left.

Warrant of attorney, in Latin, on parchment, by Thomas Stoghtone, of London, Fishmonger, to James Hyde, Esquire, authorizing him to receive the rents and fermes due, in Rye and without, from the tenants of the said Thomas; and especially to receive from John Suttone 12s. 4d., which the said Thomas had allowed him out of his rent for repair of the tenement rented by him; and which repairs are not done, as it is said. Dated the 12th of March, in the 32nd year of Henry the Sixth [A.D. 1454]. It not only has the small seal of Thomas Stoghtone, (in good condition, representing a mermaid), but is signed by him as well; being also signed "Noreys." From the next deed, it will be seen that Stoghtone soon afterwards sold his Rye property to this same James Hyde. The Mermaid Street, and Mermaid Inn, in Rye, not improbably had their name from the arms of this Thomas Stoghtone.

34 Henry VI. Grant (in Latin) by James Hyde of Rye, Esquire, to John Hyde, of Bredbury Esquire, John Pashele, Esquire, and Thomas Wodeward, of Wynchelse, of "a certain tower, situate in the vill of Rye, with a certain reasonable way to the said tower, with horses, carts and wains, and with reasonable ground on the south side of the said tower as far as Le Clyff, being of the same breadth as the tower, or more;" also, all other his property in Rye; as he bought the same of Thomas Stowgton, Fishmonger, of London. Witnesses, Richard Rype, Mayor, Laurence Dobylle, Deputy, Thomas Pope, Bailiff, John Suttone the elder, James Sedley, John Younge. A diminutive seal is attached, representing, apparently, a hart. On the exterior is written, in an old hand, "For Baddinge." The Tower of Ypres, which Stoghtone had already transferred to James Hyde, is the place conveyed by this deed.

Copy of proceedings on parchment, in French, written in the reign of Richard the Second, on a plaint made to "our very dear brethren, Combarons, and friends;" stating that complaint has been made by "our very dear and well-beloved Combaron, John Salerne, of La Rye;" that Sir William Sherindone, Chaplain, has broken a covenant with him; forasmuch as he had agreed with the said John Salerne, to obtain, between the Feasts of Christmas and Candlemas in the 13th year of King Richard the Second [A.D. 1389-90] two bulls, sealed with lead, from the Court of Rome, from our most Holy Father, the Pope; one to be an indulgence for him and for Agnes, his partner (sa compaignie), and the other a licence to have a Chaplain at his manor-house of La Leghe continually; such bulls to be delivered by the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, in return for a certain sum of money, of which the said William had received 2 marks, in part payment; which bulls the said William had not yet delivered, to the complainant's damage, to the amount of 20l. The said John is therefore called upon to prove the same.

On the back of this, a grant has been written in part, (in Latin) by Helewis William, of Winchelese, relict of Robert William, late of Rye, to Robert Stontone, of Rye, of a tenement near to that of the heirs of Simon Broker, and to the land of the heirs of Matthew Turold, and the tenement of Richard Putsterne; this is followed by a copy, in a neat hand, of the Vulgate version of part of the sixth verse of the first Chapter of the Gospel of St. John.

The following is a paper writing, without full date given, but of the reign of Henry the Sixth.—"Be it opynly knowen to all them that this writing shal se or here, that for the cause folowyng, among other causes, the melle callyd 'Goldhoppmelle,' which Robert Onwyne late helde at the lordes wille, after the custume of maners, was seysed in to the lordes handes, by cause the said melle was not welle and sufficiently repayed, as hit ofte to have bene. Also, for the declaration of the said Robert, be it knowene that he never hadde in his keypyng the court rolles of Playden, wherturht [? where-through] he at any tyme myght have amended them, or appaired them. Ne he at any tyme hadde labord to the amending or to the appaying as ferforth [? far] as y understande, or ever cougth knowe or vele by all the wayes and menes of dilygent examination, that y by my discrecion have made theryn. And as for the sayd rolles, like as they were delyvered to me by Simon Bate, late my Steward of Playdone, so they remayne without amending or appaying. Yeven under the sealle of myne Abbotsey, -

CORPORATION OF RYE.

"the xiii day of August last. By William, Abbot of "Robertsbridge." Of the seal, impressed on the paper, only a few small fragments remain. The Cistercian Abbey of Robertsbridge, near Battle, is meant.

A testimonial, in Latin, on parchment, by the Mayor and Barons of Rye, stating that John Wikham, the bearer thereof, "Schipwrite," had dwelt in that community for 20 years, was of honest conversation, good fame, and unblemished reputation; wherefore he had enjoyed the advantages of the freedom for 16 years, while building the ships of that port; that from his goods he scotted and lotted, and bore his burden along with others.—"And lest the diligence of such testimony "be at a future time turned into matter of doubt, we, "the said Mayor and Barons, with the assent of the "same community, have to these our letters patent "set our Common Seal. Given at Rye, on the 18th "day of the month of January, in the 15th year of the "reign of King Richard the Second." (A.D. 1392). As no seal appears to have been attached, this is probably only a draught of the testimonial. Below, in a contemporary hand, has been written by some facetious person, near five centuries ago, the following Leonine hexameter:—

"Omnibus est notum, quod multum diligo potum."— Which we may render.—

"All know, I think, I'm very fond of drink."

Followed by another line:—

"Si mea penna valet, melior mea littera fiet."

("The pen the better, the finer the letter.")

The scribbling is continued with various single letters (some often repeated) in alphabetical order, followed by "Es est Amen."

A parchment writing, in French, some parts of which are faint and illegible:—"Lez comunnes, chargez de par "nostre Seigneur le Roy, sur lour fay et legeance de luy conseiller a sone Parlement tenutz a Westmestre "a la quiazaine de Seint Hillare, lan du regne nostre "dit Seigneur le Roy xviiie, sur lez articlez comprisez "en un endenture faite par entre nostre dit Seigneur le "Roy et sone adversarie de France, les queux luz et "en partie entenduz, sont considerez par tut le comune "trois pointz, si chargeantz, cestassavoir, homage, "lige soveraygnete, et resort, dont lez ditz comunnes "unques ne oseront reprendre de conseilere ni treter "de si haute et chargeante matiere. Des quex trois "pointz lez di-z comunnes [sont] autrement deschargez "a cause que nulle moderacion dicelles est unque "fait, ne lez Seignurs ount nulle conissance quele "moderacion y serra. Dont nostre dit Seigneur le Roy "eiant avis, sibien par lez Seignurs Espirituels et "Temporels, Chivaleres, Justises, et altres nobles, ent "duement examinez en ceste present Parlement, con- "siderantz lestat de son roialme, sont condescenduz, "que homage serra fait par bon moderacion a faire "pur ses terrez de Guyen, tout foitz reservez que "nostre dit Seigneur le Roi, sa corone, son roialme, et "sez legez dEngleterre, biens et chateux, ne soient "chargez ne abandonez par ascume manere quecon- "que, a cause dez ditz homage, soveraignete, resort, "service, ou titel fait ou a faire par ascune voie. "Mesque le Roy et sez heirs, son roialme, et sez leges, "et lour biens et chateux, soient auxi frances come "ils ont este ene temps dascun de sez nobles progeni- "tours. Et sont auxi pourveux et asentuz par nostre "dit Seigneur le Roy, les Seignurs, et [autres] avaunt- "ditz, qe en cas que le pees, et lez contractez faitz, ou "affaire, parentre nostre dit Seigneur le Roy et son "adversarie de France soient enfrenceintz par la partie "du dit adversarie, ou ses heirs, par ascun manere que- "conques, qadonques nostre dit Seigneur le Roy et sez "heirs resoront a lour primer estat, droit, et title, "nient countresteaunt les contractes, reles ou services "ent faitz ou affaire. Et depuis que nostre tres re- "doute Seigneur le Roi, les Seignurs, et autres avaunditz, "considerantz si tendrement lestat du dit roialme et "son poeple, vollant et considerant que lez contractz "duement [avant, Rolls of Parlt.] especifiez, soient "por le mieulz, lez Comunnes, avaunditz tous jours "come obeisantz et suantz sibien la volente du Roy "come de touz lez Seignurs Espirituels et Temporels, "Chivalers [de honour, Rolls of Parlt.] et Justises, "ent duement examinerez come devant, ciantz con- "sideracion a le consentement du nostre dit Seigneur "le Roy, lez Seignurs Espirituels et Temporels, Chiva- "lers [de honour, Rolls of Parlt.], Justises, et autres "avaunditz consentent, pur bon pees avoir, a les con- "tractz du pees avaunt especifiez, a le bon avys nostre "dit Seigneur le Roy, lez Seignurs, et altres avaunt- "ditz ent faitz en cest present Parlement." The whole of this passage (in reference to the terms of a proposed peace with France, in January 1394,) is to be found, but in a totally different dialect, and with some few variations, in the Rolls of Parliament, Vol. III., pp. 315, 6. It was, no doubt, then looked upon as a communication of considerable importance; and was most probably sent inclosed in a letter by one of the Burgesses in Parliament of the place, to his constituents at Rye, for their information.

A notification, in Latin, of the 19th year of Richard II [1395], on parchment, by John, Lord Beaumont [died A.D. 1396], Constable of Dover Castle, and Warden of the Cinque Ports, finely written, and with a fragment of his seal appended; setting forth that he had received "by the hands of William Tydecumbe, our receiver in "the castle aforesaid," the moneys underwritten; namely, of issues of the land of William Tailleour, one of the executors of William [? John] Tailleour 12d.; of land of the same John 10d.; of land of Thomas Lewes and John Parker 8d.; of land of Thomas Wellys and John Parker 8d.; of land of John Parker and Robert Parker 8d.; of land of Laurence Courboille 2s.; of issues from William Tailleour, "late Mayor of the vill "of La Rye" 8d.; issues from Laurence Courbaylle (sic), one of the collectors of the subsidy 6d.; from the balance [libra] in the port and vill of La Rye 12d.; from the issues of John Otringham and William Tail- lour 6d.; from the issues of John Fyst 4d.; from the issues of John Hog and William Dogyl 4d.; from the issues of William Paston Chuddebe 6d.; from the issues of Laurence Courboille and William Tailleour 6d.; from the issues of Peter Bocher 4d.; from the issues of Robert Aleyn and John Otryngham 6d.; from the issues of Robert Clerk and Robert Byrkenyd 3d.; from the issues of William Lymford and William Tailleour 2d.; from the issues of Henry Goldwyne and Benedict Sely 3d.; and from the issues again of William Tailleour, as executor of the testament of William Tailleour 5s. 5d. These "issues" were apparently the sums due from various persons in Rye who had collected the subsidy granted to the King: in cases of death the sums due from them would be levied from their lands. Who "William Paston Chuddebe" was, it seems impossible to divine; perhaps the word "and" is omitted after "Paston," and the following word should be written "—Chuddele." William Paston, who was afterwards a Justiciar of the Court of Common Pleas, was at this time a youth about 17 years of age.

In the following document, a lease of the 25th year of King Henry the Sixth, (carefully and distinctly written in a small hand), we have an excellent sample of the English language as it was written in business matters, in the South West of England, in the middle of the 15th century: it is but rarely that documents of this description, in English, occur at so early a date. The seal, representing a bird, apparently, is still pre- served, and the writing is remarkably distinct.—"This "indenture, made betwene Adam Leulorde, upon the "one partie, and Robert Onwyne, of Rye, in the Shire "of Sussex, gentilman, Johan Suttone, of Rye, fisch- monger, and Richard Schadwell, of Rye, in the shire "of Sussex, housbondeman, upon the othir partie, "berithe witnesseth that he said Adam hadde take and "let to ferme to the said Robert, Johan, and Richard, "his maner of Levisham with alle and almaner londes, "tenementis, rentis, and services, and all he appur- tinences, lyeng within the lordship of Brede and "elliswhere within he shire of Sussex, to he saide "maner in anywise perteynyng, forthwith certain- "greynes, as it foloweth, that is to say, viii quarters "whete, viii quarters barley, viii quarters benys, and "viii semys [horse-loads] otyes, mesuride by the mesure "of Rye: To have and holde the said maner, with all "his appurtenances and graynes afore reherside; to "the saide Robert, Johan, and Richard, and to heire "assignes, fro the feste of Seint Michelle Archangille, "next to comme aftir the date of pis presents, unto "the end and terme of v yeer then next sewyng, upon "the condicions that folowen, that is to wete: that the "said Robert, Johan, and Richard, and thaire execu- tours and assignes, shul paie yearly to the saide "Adam, his heirs and his assignes, xx li. of lawfal "money of Englande at the Festis of Estir and Seint "Michelle Archangille, by evyne porcions; and the "berne, the gerner, the stable, and shepyn [sheep-pen], "of he saide maner roof-thight kepe at paire owne "cost duryng he terme aforesaide: and ovir that, bere "and paie to the owners of he saide lordship and fe "of Brede he rentes and fines for sute of courtes dewe "and custumable the saide terme duryng. And the "saide Adam, his heirs or assignes, he housis asfor re- hersid in tymbre werk of he roofis, and wal thight,

“at þair propre costes sufficiently shul repaire and “mayntene duryng al the sayde terme. And þe saide “Robert, Johan, and Richard, and þaire executours
 “and assignes, bi al the terme aboue saide, shul haue “sufficient and resonable plow bote, closure bote, and “fire bote, one þe saide maner growyng, uppone and “in þe saide maner to ben spent during þe saide terme, “without any wast doing. And it shal ben leefful to “þe saide Adam, his heires and assignes, the saide “maner to entre and issue in alle couenable tymes, to “cary and drive uppone the landis and weyes of þe “saide maner, to outtre [carry away] his graynes in “the saide maner beyng, betwix the Feste of Seint “Michell Archangille next comynge after þe date of “þese presents and Nativite of Seint Johan Baptist “than next folowyng. And ouer that, at all tymes “leefful þe saide maner to entre and issue, carye and “dryve, for ovirsight and reparacion of þe saide maner,
 “with the apurtenaunces. And the saide Adam graun“tith, for hym, his heires, and assignes, þat it shal ben “leefful to the saide Robert, Johan, and Richard, þaire “executours and assignes, the saide maner in al reson-“able tyme to entre and issue, and over þe saide “landes and weyes to cary and dryve, to outtre and “voide thaire þaire graynes and othir goodes, fro þe “Fest of Seint Michele Archangille next, and at þe ende
 “and terme of þe saide v yeere unto þe Fest of Nativite “of Seint Johan Baptist þan next folowyng. And “yef it hap þat any walecot or waterscotte ben sett “uppon þe landis of þe saide maner duryng þe saide “terme, þan þe saide Robert, Johan, and Richard, þair “executours and assignes, shul kepe þe daies of pay“ment therof, paieng after the rate, so þat þe saide “Adam, his heires, and assignes, forfete to þe bailif of “the Levelle no wаны [wains]: takinge þerfor fulle “allowance of þe saide Adam, his heires and assignes,
 “at þe payment of þaire ferme abouesaide. And yef “þe saide Adam come with iii hors iii tymes enery “yeer duryng the saide terme to þe saide maner, than “þe saide Robert, Johan, and Richard, þaire heires and “assignes, shul fynde þe saide iii hors, and one man al “þe while þat þe saide Adam abidith pere. And in “cas þe saide Richard discece within þe term of v yeer “abouesaide, than it shal ben leefful to þe saide Robert
 “and Johan, þaire executours and assignes, þe saide maner
 “with his appurtenaunces, (the housis aboue named roof “thight, payments and delyuerance of alle the greynes “aboue rehersed to þe saide Adam, his heires and as-“signes, devly made), to þe saide Adam his heires or “assignes, up to zelde [yield] at þe next fest of Seint “Michel Archangille þan next sewyng, or the saide “maner to ferme forth holde duryng þe terme in þe “forme and condicion aboue rehersed. And in the “ende and terme of þe saide v yeer the saide Robert,
 “Johan, and Richard, the saide maner, as in helyng “[tiling] of þe housis aboue rehersed, and closures, in “als good state as þay hem receyved, or in betir, forth“with þe sune and als muche of enery greyne [grain] as “is aboue rehersed, to the saide Adam, his heires or “assignes, up shul delyuer. And in cas þe saide ferme “of xx li be behynde unpaid [in] partie or in hole at “any fest aboue saide, þan be it leefful to þe saide “Adam, his heires and assignes, in al þe aforesaide “maner, and al his appurtenaunces, to entre and dis“treyne, and distresse so take leeffully to bere away, “dryve away, and to hem withhold, til þe ferme so “beyng behynde to þaym fully be satisfied and paid.
 “And yef þe saide ferme of xx li be behynde unpaid,
 “after any fest of the festis afore rehersed, at whiche it “ought to ben paid, by thre monthis, and sufficient “distresse within þe saide maner and appurtenaunces
 “to the paiement of þe saide ferme so beyng behynde
 “may not be founde, þan be it leefful to þe saide “Adam, his heires and assignes, to entre into þe saide “maner, londes, tenementes, rents, and services, with “al his appurtenaunces, and þayme in þair hole and “ful estat to kepe; and þe saide Robert, Johan, and “Richard, þaire executours and assignes, to put out “perof, þese indenturis notwithstanding. And the “saide Adam and his heires the saide maner, with al “londes, tenementes, rents, services, and al his appur-“tenaunces, to þe saide Robert, Johan, and Richard, “thaire executours and assignes, uppone and vndir the “condicione and forme aboue rehersed, agayns al maner “folk shul warant, quite, and defende, during the terme “abouesaide. In witness of al the þinges aboue wre“tyne, þe saide Adam to þe parti of þis endenture at “þe saide Robert, Johan, and Richard, abyding hap put “his seel; to þe oþer partie, to þe saide Adam delyvered
 “and abedeng, þe saide Robert, Johan, and Richard, “hau put þair seellis. The xxiiii day of August in þe “zeere of þe regne of Kyng Harry þe vith after þe “Conquest of Englande xxvth” (A.D. 1447.) This indenture, having borne but one seal, was the one delivered to the lessees. It seems to have been one purpose of the deed to guarantee to the lessees the delivery of a certain amount of seed, upon their entry on the lands. The use of the Saxon þ (th) in this deed, and of the mediæval letter ȝ (in mediæval Latin called “jugum,” and representing probably a guttural “gh”) will not pass unnoticed.

A Letter, on parchment, in Latin, by Sir John Devereux, Constable of Dover Castle and Warden of the Cinque Ports, to the authorities of the Cinque Ports, containing a communication dated the 8th of June in the 13th year of Richard II. [A.D. 1390], in Latin, and by writ of the Privy Seal, to the following effect. — The King has heard that certain merchants and others, his lieges, have been in the habit of selling ships of war and other vessels to aliens in friendship with England; but that the said aliens “by reason of the excessive profits thence arising, have often sold the same to the enemies of the realm;” from which to it “inestimable losses” have accrued; therefore, “to resist the preconceived malice of our said enemies, by whom we are on every side surrounded,” as also, for the safety of the fleet of the realm, the Constable is enjoined, in every place of the Cinque Ports, to give notice, by proclamation made, that no owner of any such ship or vessel, under penalty of forfeiting double the amount, is to sell such ship or vessel to aliens, or to exchange it for other goods and merchandize. This is apparently the original notice sent to Rye by Sir John Devereux (who died in 1394), and a seal appears to have been formerly attached thereto. This, however, is somewhat doubtful, as, on the other side of the parchment, in the same hand, is a copy of another writ of the same King, in Latin, under the Privy Seal, bearing date the 4th of June in the same year, directed to the same official; ordering proclamation to be made against the exportation abroad of plate, bullion, or money, either by natives or aliens, without special leave for the same. Whether it is an original document or not, the writing on both sides is of the time of Richard the Second, and it is in a good preservation.

A Letter, in French, addressed by “Thomas of Lancaster, the King’s son” (second son of Henry the Fourth) in the 6th year of that reign, to the Mayor, Bailiffs, “habnars,” shipmasters, and mariners, in the port of the vill of Rye, as Steward and Admiral of England, and Lieutenant of Ireland. Having been appointed by his father his Lieutenant and Admiral on the seas, he is disposed to commence his voyage on the same by taking ship at Sandwich on the 20th of April next to come; he therefore desires proclamation to be made in the port, that all persons who have any ships of war which they may wish “to maintain for any gain by war, in his said voyage,” must appear before him with such ships in their best form (manero), at the said time and place; and he further gives notice, that whatever profits and gains such persons shall make from the King’s enemies on such voyage, they shall have and enjoy freely, without impediment or disturbance; they in the meantime to be attentive and obedient to him and his lieutenants in all points, both as to going and remaining, whether upon the land or upon the sea. This document is finely written, but the seal, unfortunately, is lost.

A summons, in Latin, on parchment, dated the 13th of July, in the 18th year of Richard II., by John de Beaumont, Constable of Dover Castle, to the Mayor and Bailiff of Rye, to enjoin 12 of their Combarons, Jurats as well as others, to be before him at a Court of Schipweye “at the usual place,” on the Feast of St. Bartholomew the Apostle then next ensuing, — “to do and receive what the Court, according to the custom of the Ports aforesaid, shall think proper to decree.” The Mayor and Bailiff are also to be there present.

A notice in French, on parchment, the writing almost illegible, apparently through the action of water, from the Mayor, Bailiff, and burgesses, of the port of Dover, to their “Combarons” of Hastings, Wynchelse, Rye, Romene, Hethe, and Sandwich; dated the 9th of September, in the 19th year of Richard the Second. For great and very weighty matters touching the defence of the country, a Brodhille is to be holden at Romene on Thursday next, and they are requested, each of them, to send two or three of their most substantial Combarons thereto: a collection of money, apparently, is about to be made, but for the greater part, the notice does not admit of being deciphered.

CORPORATION OF RYE.

CORPORATION OF
RYE.

A writ, on paper, in Latin, the seal now torn away, by John de Beaumont, Constable of Dover Castle, and Warden of the Cinque Ports, dated the 17th of January, in the 17th year of Richard the Second. By a former writ, in obedience to the King's letter, he has ordered the Mayor and Bailiff of Rye to seize William Passelewe, of Rye, and Stephen Elyot, at the suit of Agnes Oungesell [indistinct] in a plea of debt; and they have returned that the said Stephen is dead, but that they have arrested the said William. They are therefore safely to conduct the body of the said William, and to have him before the Warden, or his Lieutenant, in the church of St. James at Dover, at the hour of Prime on the Friday next.

A notice, in Latin, on parchment, from John de Beaumont, Constable of Dover Castle, etc., to the Mayors, Bailiffs, and ministers, of the Cinque Ports, dated the 4th of August, in the 17th year of Richard the Second: reciting a copy of a letter received from the King, to the effect that the truce had been prolonged between him and his "adversary of France;" dated the 26th of June in the 16th year of that reign. The Warden also further recites therein a copy that has been sent to him of a "schedule," in which the terms of such truce, in French, are set forth; it having been first made at Lenlyngham on the 18th of June 1389, and having been since from time to time prolonged. If this is the original notice, the "seal of office," formerly attached to it, is lost.

A notice, in Latin, on parchment, by John de Beaumont to the Mayors, Bailiffs, Jurats, and Combarons, of the Cinque Ports; stating that, as he had summoned them to a Court of Schypweye, at the usual place, on Thursday, the morrow of the Purification last past, he now, by precept of the King, defers the same till Monday the Feast of St. Valentine. Dated the 18th of January in the 19th year of Richard II. The "seal of office," if ever attached to the parchment, is lost. At the foot is written "Sharp Capellanus Cantariæ Sanctæ Mariæ:" not improbably, this Sharp, Chaplain of the Chantry of St. Mary, conveyed the missive.

A warrant in Latin, dated at Hastyng, the 1st of July 1462, with fragments of a very fine oblong seal attached; whereby Nicholas Calf, Bachelor "in Decretis," Commissary and Sequestrator General within the Archdeaconry of Lewes, empowers Joan Onewyne to administer to the estate of Robert Onewyne, intestate, deceased: his debts first to be paid, and the residue to be distributed for the health of his soul.

Contemporary copy of a notice (in Latin) by John de Beaumont, Constable of Dover Castle, and Warden of the Cinque Ports, stating that the King (Richard II.) is about to summon a Parliament on the quinzaine of St. Hillary next ensuing, in the 17th year of his reign; each of the Ports is to send two of its best and most discreet Barons thereto.

A Letter, on parchment, in French, but so faint as to be almost illegible, dated at Fescamp (in Normandy) the 18th of December 1389; signed at the foot "Biau"fiz," with several flourishes, and with a somewhat mutilated seal appended; representing an angel, holding a shield, charged with three mitres. Guillaume Beaufels, Seneschal of Fescamp, makes known that he has seen the letters of "the religious person and honest
"brother," Pierre de Derac, Bailiff of Fescamp, wherein it is stated that there had come before him Pierre Cusin, Mahieu Gournay, and Philippe le Ronyer, burgesses of the vill of Fescamp; who had said that in the year 1383 they had heard it testified unto Stephen Cely, called "Playdenne," Stephen Willes, and James Hoppe, Englishmen of the vill of La Rye, who were then prisoners there, that Constance de Rodas, who was then "Master of the said English," had deducted from the ransom of the said Cely, or Playdenne, 35 franks of gold, for and in the name of Thomas Goscelin, burgess of the said vill of Fescamp; such sum being due from the said Goscelin to Alart le Fevre (Smyth) of the vill of Rye. Cely having now, no doubt returned home, this would be an official notice, probably through the Mayor of Rye, to Alard Smyth to look to Cely for the 35 franks due to him from Goscelin, and which had been so deducted from the sum due for Cely's ransom.

A bond, in Latin, dated the 17th of April in the 9th year of Henry the Seventh, whereby Cornelius Lucas, of Calais, mariner, Richard Wodelande, of Bekley in the county of Sussex, "yoman," and John Drynker, of Rye, "yoman," acknowledge that they owe 20 pounds to Adam Oxenbregge, "gentilman," collector of the King's customs, in his vill of Rye. The defeasance, on the other side of the parchment slip, in English, is as follows:—
"The condition of this obligacion is such, that if the with-

"inbounden Cornelys and Richard, or oon of theym, their factours, attorney, or assigneis, or any of theym, brynge or seynde, or cause to be brought or sent, by the Feast of the Nativitie of Seynt Johan Baptist within wretene, a certificate from the deputie Lieutenaunt, Maier, Tresourer, or Comptroller, of the towne of Calais, unto the within named Adam Oxenbregge, or to his deputie, therin expressyng and makynge mencion that the foresaid Cornelius hath well and truelie delyvered and discharged, at the said Calais, and at noon other place, all such billetes and other merchandize, as the foresaid Richard hath, at herof making, freight within a cogshippe of the said Calais, wherof the foresaid Cornelius is master, as in a coket therupone made openly apperethe, that thanne this present obligacione to be voide, and of noon effect. Or els to abyde in all his full strength and vertue."

The oldest bit of writing probably, (the Charters excepted, which have been described by Mr. Holloway, in his History and Antiquities of Rye), is a fragment of an Office Book, of, apparently, the early part of the 13th century, consisting of one leaf, in small quarto, and part of another. It contains passages from the New Testament, among them, the anointing of Jesus, and His rebuke to Martha; followed from time to time by the Sequence, in smaller characters, the length of the pauses in chanting being denoted by the longer or shorter spaces between the words, the general gist of which is the praise of the Virgin Mary. The initial letters have been illuminated in various colours, and words are inserted in various places in rubric, none of which can now be deciphered, they having faded from lapse of time. The writing is finely executed, and, from its singular distinctness, bears marks of its comparatively close relationship to Saxon times. This fragment, not improbably, may have formed part of an addition to a Service Book, or a Martyrology, upon which the early Mayors and other officials of the town were sworn.

Rye was plundered and burnt by the French in the year 1377 (when, as we learn from Walsingham's English History, its church bells and the leaden roof of the church were carried off, but were afterwards recovered); and again, to some extent, in 1448. Jeake says, in his Charters of the Cinque Ports, that in the latter year the early records of the town were destroyed, some few fragments only excepted. It certainly is the fact, that the Account books now existing commence in the latter year; from which we may perhaps conclude that the records of a like nature, preceding them, had come to an untimely end. The "fragments," however, that have survived, belonging to dates prior to 1448, are, as may be judged from the extracts immediately preceding, more in number than, from Jeake's assertion, might have been expected. In addition to them, there are also now existing, in the various chests belonging to the Corporation, (but in a state of entire confusion when I first examined them), a mass of documents under seal, relative to the transfers of property in the town and places in the neighbourhood (Winchelsea in particular), about 150 in number, for more than two centuries, between the reigns of Henry the Third and Henry the Seventh; which, not improbably, as in the case of Axbridge, in Somerset, Bridport, and other towns, were from time to time deposited, for safe keeping, with the Mayor, or Common Clerk, of the town. The whole of these documents have been subjected by me to a careful examination; many of them bear marks of having been immersed in water, (on one of the occasions, probably, on which the town was set on fire by the French); but with only one or two exceptions, they admit of being thoroughly deciphered; and the remaining columns of this notice will be occupied with a description, in the chronological order in which I have since arranged them, of their contents.

Save from the one or two early Charters granted to the town, and the few particulars relative to its transactions in connexion with the other towns and members of the Cinque Ports, all traces of the history of Rye, or of its inhabitants, before about the middle of the 15th century, have until now disappeared; and its at present known list of Mayors, (a printed copy of which has been very obligingly forwarded to me by Mr. G. Slade Butler,) begins no earlier than 1396; comprising in all but eleven, whose names have been hitherto known to have survived, down to the year 1448. From the various documents in question, the names of the Mayors of Rye have now been brought again to light, in almost an unbroken succession, down to 1380, from the first institution probably of the office, towards the close of the 13th century, or, at the latest, the beginning of the 14th (A.D. 1304, 5). Its principal inhabitants for two hitherto forgotten centuries are here to be found mentioned; with, in some instances, particulars in reference to their property, avocations, kinship, and connexions by marriage. The early streets and localities of the place (the formal streets, or streets with names, at an early date being evidently but few in number), are here to be traced; Merstrete, Piggeslane, Schierstrete, the Market place, Schyebourglane, the Halton (where the Austin Friary was afterwards built), the Est Stronde, the Nesse, and the North Gate, being those which are thus mentioned. In reference to family history,—one or more individuals appear of the name respectively of Twysden, Sokeling (later Suckling) and Dedes; while there are more numerous notices in reference to the families of Allard, Salerne, Lunsford, Tailour, Onwyn, Tychebourne, and Oxenbregge. In the time of Edward the Second, Paul Fitz-Robert was evidently the great man of the place; where he is not mentioned as being Mayor, his name invariably occurs next to that of the Mayor, in the list of attesting witnesses. Robert and James Marchant were, no doubt, opulent traders residing in the town. Their names occur as attesting witnesses to deeds, through a long series of years, and Robert Marchant was Mayor of the town in the reigns of Edward the First and his two successors, at intervals extending over forty years or more. Among the curious, and now obsolete, surnames that indicate callings or trades, are,—Bloodletters (the "Leche" of other places), Mustarder, Crabber, Smerekervere (Butter cutter, or retailer), and we find mentioned a Claryoner (player on the clarion). To proceed now with a detailed list of these documents, the contents of which, at least to some extent, must bring ancient Rye to life again before us.—

Dated at Rye, the Wednesday before the Feast of Tyburtius and Valerianus the Martyrs [April 14th] A.G. 1258. Grant (in Latin) by John, son of Eadmund Beckett, to Parnel, daughter of Richard Dyer (or ? Webbe, Tytoris), of land between that of Stephen and Luke Koleram, on the east, and that of Robert Makerell, on the west, at a yearly rent of 5 pence at Mid Lent, at the King's Court to be paid; she having paid 13s. 6d. sterling beforehand. Witnesses, John Thorell, John Pharon, Thomas Pharon, Nicholas Blund, John Gregory, Nicholas de la Nesse, Thomas de la Nesse, Henry Slyphe, Laurence Slyphe, Alexander Helis, Reginald Marchont, Luke Koleram, Robert Makerell. A beautifully written little deed, with a fine and perfect impression of the seal, a fleur-de-lis.

Temp. Henry III. Grant (in Latin) by Henry Slipe to Brice Fitz-Nicholas of a messuage near the land late of Richard de Gatheberge, and that late of John Samson, and that of Andrew Colebrond and William le Paumer, for a yearly rent of one halfpenny, a rent-service of 18d. being reserved to the chief lord; the said Brice having given to him a messuage in Rye, which belonged to Nicholas, his father. Witnesses, William Byaufiz, Herbert James, Henry Bochar, John Torel, Clement Pacock, Laurence Slipe, Nicholas Blund, Nicholas de Nesse, Thomas de Nesse, John Gregory, William son of William Byaufiz, Nicholas Joye, Walter Chaplain, "Notary of this writing." Beautifully written; the seal, appended by, apparently, a silk cord, is nearly whole, but much worn. Torel, Slipe, Nicholas, and Thomas de Nesse, Gregory, and Blund, are witnesses to the deed last mentioned.

Temp. Henry III., no date given. Grant (in Latin) by John Buss to Alexander Pac, of a messuage near to land in Rye late belonging to Roger Sage, at a yearly rent of 2s. payable on the day of St. Andrew; half a mark of silver having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Nicholas Blund, Reginald Alard, Pharon de Port, Alan Curboyl, Richard Hennyng, Adam Staniere, Thomas Buchard, William Lambyn, Payen Prud, John his son, Alexander Helis, Peter Ardinge, Stephen le Thaylur. Finely written; the seal is lost. Blund and Helis are witnesses to the deed first mentioned.

Probably, temp. Henry III. Grant (in Latin) by Roger le Vynch, with the assent of Alice, his wife, to Alexander le Sweyn, with Parnel, his daughter, in free marriage, of a house in Rye, extending from the highway which leads to the mill, on the west, to the land of John le Bode, on the east; for a yearly rent of 3d., payable at Mid Lent. In case the said Alexander shall have no heirs by the said Parnel, the house is to revert to the said Roger and his heirs. Witnesses, Brice de Rye, John Thorel, Herbert de la Nesse, Nicholas White, Thomas Pharon, Andrew Kolebrond, Laurence Slype, Martin Pamere, Richard Long, Laurence le Sweyn, Andrew de Pottepurys, Herbert Galiot. The seal is lost. No day, year, or reign is mentioned, but several of the witnesses occur in the preceding deeds.

A.D. 1283. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas, son and heir of Hamon de Pipeneselle, to Henry, son of William de Pipeneselle, of half and a quarter of an acre of land at Pipeneselle, in the parish of Rye, in the place called "Prietoy," of the tenure of the Lord Abbot of Fismcamp, lying near the great street which leads from the place called "Clivesgache" to the land called "Regges;" to hold to him, his heirs, and assigns, and to convey the same as he may think fit, save to a house of religion, or to Judaism; he rendering yearly at Clivesgache, on the day of St. Michael, one penny sterling; one half mark sterling having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, William de Pipeneselle, Geoffrey "called" "Walterman," John, his son, Bartholomew Wytte, William "called Leeman," William [sic] his brother, Reginald le Broc, Thomas de Regges, Bartholomew de Helwestre, John Robert, Robert the Chaplain.—"Done" at Rye; and I put the said Henry in full seisin of the "said land, with the appurtenances, at Pipeneselle, on "Sunday after the Feast of St. Margaret the Virgin." The seal is lost.

Saturday after the Feast of St. Lucy the Virgin, 14 Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by Gervase, son of Richard de Pipeneselle, to Henry son of William de Pipeneselle, and his heirs or assigns whomsoever, "a" "house of religion, and Judaism, excepted," of 2 acres of the fee of Pipeneselle; for 2 marks of silver paid beforehand. Witnesses, John Thomas, William Wytte, John Geoffrey, Wymund ate Grenevalle, Adam ate Halle, William de Pipeneselle, Bartholomew de Helwestre, John Robert, Wymund Robert, Helyas Witte, Robert the Chaplain. The seal is perfect, six sprigs meeting at a centre.

28 Edward I. Agreement (in Latin) by John Lamsyn and Parnel, his wife, by bond to Pharon Johan, of Rye, to pay 5 shillings of silver yearly as rent for a messuage abutting, on the west, on the King's meadow, on the south, on land of the heirs of Henry de Rackele, and on the north, on the tenement of Gunnild Dethue and Joan, her daughter. In case of non-payment, the said Pharon may distrain by whatever judge he pleases, ecclesiastical or secular; and each time they will give to the bailiff or official distraining 2 shillings of silver. Witnesses, Robert Paulyn, Paulin his son, Justin Alard, Henry de la Nesse, Laurence Dyer, Geoffrey Solaz, Peter the Clerk. A fragment of one of the two seals is left.

30 Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas de Sandherst, brother and heir of Simon, of the parish of Promhelle, to Edmund Andrew, of Wynchelse, son of John Andrew, of his tenement, late of Simon, his brother, at Wike, in the parish of Lyde, of the tenure of Dengemersch, belonging to the Lord Abbot of Battle; which his said brother, Simon, bought of Adam Baker of Wynchelse; for 6 marks sterling, paid beforehand. Witnesses, Robert Willeame, Henry Thomas, Godring de Wyke, Richard Meydekin, John Hughe, Gervase Andrew, John Manokin, John Yevegod, Richard Trute [?], William Lefchild, Philip the Clerk. A diminutive seal, with the letter H apparently, and a crown, is still attached. Promhelle, now Broomhill, was partly destroyed by an inundation of the sea, in the 15th year of Edward I. The Courts, at a late date called "Brotherhood" Courts, were probably held at this place, in early times.

32 Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by Ralph Ambroys to Stephen, his son, and Isabel, his daughter, of his tenement in Rye, acquired of John Bone, near the land late of Nicholas atte Nesse, and that late of William de Petepirie, and the tenement late of Stephen Provost; they rendering yearly to the heirs of John Bone 12d. on Sunday in Mid Lent, and 10d. on the Day of St. Michael, and to himself and his heirs one halfpenny in silver, at his principal tenement in Rye. Witnesses, Pharon Johan, the Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Justin Alard, Henry ate Nesse, John Ambroys, Stephen Ambroys, Philip Russe, Richard Whyte, John Whyte, Richard Portesmouthe, Richard Benet, Peter the Clerk. The seal still remains, apparently some animal is represented. This deed contains the earliest mention of a Mayor, under a stated date, A.D. 1304.

32 Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by William, son and heir of John de Kechnnore, to Thomas Dyges of a moiety of the land which he acquired of Adam de Boseny, in the parish of Idenne, in a marsh called "Lewedymers," near the land of Ralph Boseny therein; at a yearly rent of 9d., payable at his house at Peesemersse; 40s. having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, William de Lyghe, Edmund ate Euere, William Robert, Robert de Leghe, Richard de Glesye, Robert de Patlesham, William de Kechnham, William de la

CORPORATION OF
RYE.

Hamme. The seal is mutilated, and the deed is torn in half.

33 Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by John de Hauecherste, son of Richard, and Thomas Ater Lieghe, son of Hamon. to Richard de Hauecherst, son of Richard, of half an acre of land, situate in a place called "Yngelberdeslond;" in consideration of 10s. sterling. Witnesses, William John of Hauecherst, Adam Thomas, Symon le Brun, Richard Donet, and others. The seal is lost.

33 Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by John, son of Stephen Ricote, and Margery and Emecota, daughters of the late Stephen Webbe (Teytoris), to Thomas Ricard, of the tenement which they formerly held of Samson de Leuelishamme, and of Juliana, wife of Ralph Atewelle, situate in Rye, near to the tenement of La Lee; they rendering to the said Juliana 1½d. at her principal tenement, on the Feast of St. Michael, and ½d. on the Feast of St. Andrew the Apostle; and to the said Samson 2½d. at the same times, and suit at his Court of Leuelishamme; 2 marks sterling having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Samson de Leuelisham, Robert ate Wode, Richard ate Welle, Ralph de Blykewelle, Peter the Clerk. The three seals are perfect; one of them, a star, is the seal of "Eme le Webbe;" the others are the seals of Margery Recote (a fleur de lis), and John Recote (a star). Peter the Clerk is Peter de Hegsthone, mentioned in the following deed.

34 Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by Peter de Hegsthone, Clerk, and Dionysia, his wife, to Adam de Tuysdenne, butcher, and Parnel, his wife, of a tenement which one Henry, the butcher, formerly held of them, "situate near the Market-place of our Lord the King, in the vill of Rye;" for a yearly rent of 8s. sterling; 40s. having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Robert Marchaunt, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Justin Alard, Richard Beneyt, Richard Portesmothe, Pharon Johan, William ate Wyssche, Geoffrey Solat, John atte More, John Pokoc, Symon Knockebregge. Part of the small seal of Peter is left. That of the "Community of the Vill of Rye," appended "at their prayers, in the name of the said Dionysia," is lost. This Peter is the Clerk who attests (and no doubt wrote) many of these deeds: see under the fifth and later years of the next reign.

Wednesday before the Epiphany, 35 Edward I. A large indented deed of covenant (in Latin), between Richard de Portesmouth the elder and William Broun, of Wolbaldingherst, whereby the former grants to the latter part of his land, with a grove and other appurtenances, in the parish of St. Mary of Rye, "in the Borgh de Colspore;" one piece of land being called "Ricardstegh," abutting upon Kaneswische, to the east, at one end, and, on the other, on the common way from the high street towards Longewisch, the said grove being to the south; the other piece of land being in Longewische, between the land of Elias Broun and that of the heirs of Ralph Aterwelle, abutting at one end upon the Hamme, and on the other upon the land called "Kaneslond." Another piece, called "Torclesacre," lies near the land of Samson de Lewleshamme, and that of Ralph Aterwelle, and land called "Regge." A fourth piece of land is called "Brabourne," lying between the heath of Elyas Broun and that of the heirs of Richard de Walbaudingherst. Land called "Bletteghe" is also mentioned: the consideration being a yearly payment of half a mark of silver, payable at the four terms of the year. Witnesses, William de Leghe, William de Feldemore, Martin de Podlesham, Daniel de Podlesham, Thomas de Podlesham, Stephen de Tyllingham, Richard de Fonte [or Atewelle], Elyas Broun, Alexander Auc. The seal and its thong are lost.

35 Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by John Torel to Richard de Portesmouth the younger, of a field called "Crockeresfeld," in the vill of Pleydenne, near to the land of Ralph ate Euere and that assigned to the works of the church of St. Mary at Rye, and the land called "Stubbeslond;" for 4 marks sterling paid beforehand. "Done at Playdenne." Witnesses, Robert Marchant, Mayor of Rye, Justin Alard, Richard le Whyte, Geoffrey Solaz, Robert ate Wode, Robert Caderethedom, Robert Vynch, Robert Agave, Peter the Clerk. There are two impressions, both perfect, of John Torel's seal, a ship with one mast; one of them being appended to a diminutive letter of attorney, tied to the conveyance, empowering John Ferale to deliver seisin to Richard of a field called "Crockereslond."

35 Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by John Torel and Alice, his wife, to Peter de Hegsthone, Clerk, and Dionysia, his wife, of their messuage and land in Merstret, in the vill of Rye; for a payment of 10s. sterling, "Done and recorded at Rye, on the Sunday after Easter." Witnesses, Robert Marchaunt, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Pharon Johan, Geoffrey Solaz, Justin Alard, Richard Portesmothe, Philip Russel, Richard Blykewelle. John's seal, a ship with one mast, is perfect; the seal of the Community of the vill of Rye (the older seal), set thereto on behalf of his wife, is much mutilated; it represents the church, with the Virgin and Child over the porch: the counter-seal represents a galley, with one mast, steered by an oar. This is the earliest instance in which it occurs; the latest being the close of the reign of Edward III. As to Peter de Hegsthone, see under the preceding year.

Temp. Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas Panes to Helias le Corvayser (Shoemaker) and Joan, his wife, of a place near to the common way, going to the tenement late of Henry Pichepap, at a yearly rent of one silver penny; 2 marks having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Robert Paulin, then Bailiff, James Marchaunt, Richard his brother, Henry de Rackele, then Mayor, Philip Russel, Reginald Paccoko, John Lambert, Robert Smerekervere [Butter-cutter], Richard de Portesmothe, Walter Schipwerste, Walter Belde, Baker, John Pokoc, Robert de Pevenese, Chaplain. The seal is lost. The mention thus early of "the Bailiff," and of the Mayor, deserves notice. This is perhaps the earliest deed, containing the name of a Mayor; as Henry de Rackele was dead, as we have previously seen, in the 28th year of Edward the First [A.D. 1300.] Robert Paulin, the Bailiff, it will be observed, takes precedence of him.

Temp. Edward I. Gift (in Latin) by John, son of the late Geoffrey Pokoc, to Peter de Hegtone, Clerk, of his tenement in the parish of Pleydenne, held of the Court of Idenne, at a yearly rent, at such Court, of 7d.; the sum of 5s. having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Robert Marchaunt, then Mayor of Rye, Paul Fitz-Robert, Pharon Johan, Justin Alard, John le Hwyle, Richard de Portesmothe the elder, Richard his son, John de la More, Alexander Botemount, Clerk. A small seal, with the impression of a star, is appended. The deed is finely written; it belongs to the 34th or 35th year of this reign; Peter the Clerk, has been previously mentioned.

Temp. Edward I. Release (in Latin) by Joan Dore, of the vill of Wynchelse, to Robert, called "Bredeware," of her right in a messuage, with buildings thereon, in the vill of Rye, which her late husband, Richard ate Welle, and herself, had purchased of Henry le Yonge; for 40s. paid beforehand. Witnesses, James Marchant, Robert Fitz-Paulin, Robert le Smerekervere, Henry Yvori, John de Clive, Robert Michel, Robert de Arundel, Henry Ambreis, Ralph Ambrois, John Ginnor, William Hamvile. The large seal, in yellow wax, representing a star, is in fair condition. As to the same property, see under the fifth year of the next reign.

Temp. Edward I., early in the reign. Grant (in Latin) by William Tanner, son of Gilbert Tanner, to Marjary, daughter of William du Val, and Isabel and Eleanor, her daughters, of a half acre of land which he bought of Peter Harang, abutting on the way from Tutesham to Ealding [now Yalding], they rendering yearly to Peter Deacon 2d.; 14 shillings of silver having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, William de Tutesham, John, his son, William de Ludeneford, William de Orsmulle, Robert de Ylesersse, Walter Roberd, Benedict Bomur, John le Cod, William called "Cod," Thomas de Punpe, William Poteman, Walter his brother. The seal is lost; and the deed is finely written.

Temp. Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by Baldewyn de Stowe, Knight, lord of Wyltinge, to William, son of Philip ate Hurst, of a piece of land at Chillonde, called "Le Halstede," in the parish of Holintone, on the road from Wyltinge to Hastinge, and abutting on the meadow called "Smalewyche" and that of John de Ore, at a yearly rent of 12d.; 40s. having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, John de Ore, John de Peplesham, John de Codinges, Gilbert de Senesuges, William Aurey, Henry and Peter de Wyltinge, Roger le Rede. The seal is lost, but the canvas in which it was wrapped, is still appended.

Temp. Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by Henry Poulin and Joan, his wife, to Reginald de Pichele and Alice, his wife, of one acre of land in Colemerse, in the parish of Rye, lying near the lands of the heirs of John Roger and of William de Hechingham, John Eve, and John Valentine, to hold to them and their assigns (Jews and religious excepted) for ever; at a yearly rent of one clove at the Feast of St. Michael, payable at their principal house; in consideration of 24s. paid beforehand. Witnesses, Helyas de Brohexe, William Wylte, Geoffrey

CORPORATION OF RYE.

FORA-N OF
YE.CORPORATION OF
RYE.

Walterman, Henry de Pipenishille, Wymund atte Walle, Goldwin de Bateberwe, William Munte. Written in a very peculiar hand. The seal is lost.

Temp. Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by John Ambroys to William Elys and Margery, his wife, of a third part of the land which William son of Gervays atte Hoche acquired of John, son of Henry Bone, being 7 acres, in Rye; at a yearly rent of 12*d.* sterling. Witnesses, John de Glesham, John de Bechenore, John de Leghe, William Joce, Robert atte Enere, Robert atte Wode, John Vynch. The seal is lost.

Temp. Edward I. Grant (in Latin) endorsed, "Carta de Winterlonde, juxta Vinchhulles," by John and William, sons and heirs of William Norman, to Hugh, son of Ingelbert Covent, of half an acre, and half a quarter of an acre, of land, in a plain called "Wynter-londe," near to the land of Geoffrey Storm and a street called "Denestrete," and extending from Nortburne to the King's highway; at a yearly rent of 3*d.*, at the house of the said John, at Gateberg, to be paid; 20*s.* having been paid beforehand.—"And forasmuch as much challenge there is wont to be as to the doings of men, unless the tongues of witnesses, or writing, have force, we have strengthened this charter with the impress of our seals." Witnesses, Geoffrey Storm, Hugh Wilkine, William Munt, Galding Hore, Luke du Pre, Walter Spud, Nicholas Lambekyn, Luke, his brother, Hugh Faggere, Geoffrey Munt, William Whytte, Henry Koc, Geoffrey Walterman. The seal of John is still attached. This deed belongs to the earlier part of this reign, and is beautifully written.

Temp. Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by William de Pipenecelle, to Henry, his brother, of his right in an acre of land which fell to him, or might fall to him, after the death of William, their father, such acre being in the parish of La Rie, on the road leading therefrom to Pipeneselle, and near to the land of the heirs of Hamon de Pipeneselle; to hold to him, his heirs, and assigns, a house of religion excepted, at a yearly rent of one halfpenny; 6 shillings having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Geoffrey Waltermand, Geoffrey Storme, William Wit, Elias de Brocheye, Elias son of William de Wyk, Hugh de Gaterberge, William Munt, John, his son, Hugh Hulle, John Eve, William the Clerk. The seal is lost. This deed is written in a remarkable hand, and almost illegible. Date about A.D. 1283.

Temp. Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by Henry lo Yonge, of Rye, to Richard ate Welle, of Wynchelese, and Joan, his wife, daughter of the late Walter de Bromleghe, of Wynchelese, of a messuage near to the land of John Austyn and the messuages of Pharon Johan and Robert de Arundel, at a yearly rent of 4*s.*; six marks having been paid for this grant. Witnesses, James Marchant, Robert Fitz-Paulin, Stephen called Clerk, John the Baker, Reginald de Rackele, Reginald Joye, Robert le Smerekervere, Paulin de Horne, John le Nore, Wulvin Moghe, Robert Stalle, Robert le Brode, Laurence the Clerk. The seal is lost.

Temp. Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by Richard, son of William de Pypeneselle, to Henry and William, his brothers, of his part of 2 acres of land which fell to them after the death of their father, in the marsh of Gadeberg, near the lands of Hamon and Robert de Pypenesell; extending from Grenewall to the land of Robert Marscot; to him, his heirs, or assigns, houses of religion excepted, at a yearly rent of 2*d.* sterling, at his "capital house of Pypenesell, to be paid;" 15*s.* sterling having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Robert and Hamon de Pypenesell, Robert Kneder, Henry Broc, Henry Koc, Geoffrey Storm, William Munt, Geoffrey Walterman, Henry Lade, Robert Kix, Luke Broc, Richard Snow, Robert Marscot. Most beautifully written. The seal is lost. The deed belongs to the early part of the reign of Edward I.

Temp. Edward I. Grant (in Latin) by John Bone, son of Henry Bone, and heir of Brice de Rye, his grandfather, to Richard Goldeloue and Richard de Portes-mouthe, of 14 "ymettas" of his land, of the tenure (manor) of Sir William de Echengehame, in the marsh of Gadebergh; 11 6*f* which lie near to the lands of John de Yham and of the heirs of Nicholas Joy, and of Robert called "Michel," John Thomas, and Reginald Paccok; and also near to Beteleffete the 3 others, "which in English are called 'Caltesteyles,' lie near to the fleet (iflet) which is vulgarly called 'Pipenesellesfleyt.'" rendering to the principal lords 6*d.* on the day of St. Michael, and to him, at his principal house at Rye, one silver penny, "de forgesbulo" [?]: saving always the walls and waterways (wallis et watergangis) to the said land belonging; the consideration being 33 marks, paid beforehand. Witnesses, James Marchaunt, Nicholas de Nesse, Laurence the Dyer, Reginald Paccok, John Thomas, Henry Wytto, Henry de Pipeneselle, Reginald de Rackele, Robert the Chaplain. The seal is in fragments.

2 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas, son of the late Thomas ate Nesse, to Sarra, his sister, of his right accruing through the death of Nicholas atte Nesse, late uncle to his father, in houses, rents, and lands, in the vill of Rye. Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Mayor, Justin Alard, James ate Nesse, Henry ate Nesse, Robert Marchaunt, John le Whyte, John ate More, Stephen Vyse [?], Richard Portesmouth, Peter the Clerk. The small seal, in green wax, representing a star, is in good condition.

5 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Sarra, daughter of Thomas de la Nesse, to Peter de Heghton, Clerk, and Dionisia, his wife, of all the houses, rents, and lands, which she had of the gift of her brother, Thomas ate Nesse; for 40*s.* of silver, paid beforehand. Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Mayor, Justin Alard, Robert Marchaunt, James, his brother, Richard de Portesmouth, John Paccok, Geoffrey Solaz, William ate Wische, Thomas Faraon, John Salerne, John Kittey, Clerk, Alexander Botemond. The seal, a star, is in good preservation. This "Peter the Clerk" has been previously mentioned.

5 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by John, son and heir of Richard de Webaldingherste, to Richard Portes-mouthe, Baron of Rye, of an acre of meadow, of the fee of the Abbot and Convent of Fiscamp, which is called "Westwissche," lying upon La Heghesforde, in Rye, near to the land of Elyas Broun and of Guncelin ate Helle; also, a part of an acre called "Le Thoun"; also, half an acre of marled land in the plain called "Le Hok;" in consideration of 40*s.* Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Sampson de Packham, John Thomas, Daniel de Pedlisham, Thomas, his brother, Robert de Pedlisham, Guncelin ate Helle, Elias Broun, Peter the Clerk. The seal is perfect, representing, apparently, a trefoil.

5 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Robert, called "Bredeware," to Henry, called "Mentel," of Peneceestre, and Isabel, daughter of Richard le Pours, of Battle, of the tenement in Rye which he bought of Joan Dore, of Wynchelse; for 7 marks sterling paid beforehand. Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Mayor, Justin Alard, John Ambroys, Robert Marchaunt, James, his brother, John Paccok, Geoffrey Solaz, William ate Wissche, Richard Portesmouth, John Salerne, Reginald de Rackele, John Thomas, Peter the Clerk. The seal, representing a ship with a single mast, is in good condition. It is tied with a rush, to the deed of Joan Dore, noticed at the close of the preceding reign.

5 Edward II. Agreement (in Latin) between William, son of Philip the Tailor, and William Godman, Tailor, and Juliana, his wife, daughter of the said Philip; whereby the said William agrees to give his tenement which he lately had of Moyses the Corveser (Shoemaker), of Rye, situate between the high street and the tenement of William Maufras; the said William Godman and Juliana giving him the tenement near the Market-place, which they had received from the said Philip, the father; the said Philip, the father, to live in the first-named tenement for the rest of his life, with the said William and Juliana, who shall keep the house "waththiht" [? walltight] and "roftthiht" [roof-tight]. Witnesses, Richard de Portesmouth, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Robert Marchaunt, James, his brother, Geoffrey Solaz, William ate Wische, Richard Beneyt. The one seal, formerly appended, is lost.

6 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by John, son and heir of Geoffrey Pocok, to Richard, son of the late Henry Ambroys, of the messuage near to the place belonging to the heirs of Stephen Ambroys, and the tenement of Elena Wodeman; rendering to the chief lord of the fee 6*d.* on Sunday in Mid Lent; for a payment to the grantor of 40*s.* Witnesses, John Paccok, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Robert Marchaunt, James, his brother, John le Whyte, William ate Wissche, Geoffrey Solaz, John Kyttey, Thomas Pharon. The small seal, a star, is in a perfect state.

6 Edward II. Grant indented (in Latin) by John Munt to Robert Hulle of a piece of meadow, near to the lands of Richard Hulle, William Storm, and Robert Hulle, in exchange for land in the same parish of Rye, near to the land of Walter Mot. The said Robert to find for the said John a way for driving his cattle to his close of Shrobbes, when it is in grass at summer time. Witnesses, John Thomas the elder, Richard, his son, William Thomas, William Storm, William de Gatebergh,

CORPORATION OF RYE.

Walter Wymund, Walter Mot. "Given at Gatebergh, the Sunday next after St. Peter's Chains." The seal, of John Munt, a star, is nearly perfect.

7 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Ralph "called Slegh," of Rye, to William de Hetherst, dyer, and Isabel, his wife, daughter of Ralph, of a room (domum) in the east part of his tenement, being 14 (man's) feet by 18; at a yearly rent of one farthing, within 12 days of our Lord's Nativity, to be paid, at his principal tenement; 20s. sterling having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, John Paccok, then Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Elias Muriele, Robert Marchaunt, John Ambroys, William ate Wische, Geoffrey Solaz, John, son of Stephen Ambroys, Stephen, his brother, Richard Blykewelle, Laurence Pharon, William Stase, John Blodletere, Peter the Clerk. The seal, with the impression of an axe, and the legend "S. Radulfi Slegh" in the margin, is perfect.

7 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas le Boneved and Juliana, his wife, to Ralph Fitz-John and Christina, his wife, of the half, or south part, of a tenement which Gymmota Snoth, the mother of Juliana, bought of John le Blodletere and Margery, his wife; they rendering to the said John and Margery 3s. yearly, and having paid 20s. beforehand. Witnesses, John Paccok, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Robert Marchaunt, William ate Wissche, Geoffrey Solaz, Henry Goldyeve, Reginald de Rackele, Richard Blykewelle, John Whyte, John Ambroys, Stephen, his brother, Andrew Colebrond, Peter the Clerk. One seal, representing a church-tower, is in fair condition; of the other, a fragment only is left.

8 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Robert Fitz-Peter and Emma, his wife, daughter of the late Jordan le Spyker, to Ralph Fitz-John and Christina, his wife, of a moiety of the tenement which belonged to Gymmota Snoth, mother of the said Emma; for one silver mark, paid beforehand. Witnesses, Robert Marchaunt, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Elyas Muriele, John Paccok, William ate Wishe, Geoffrey Solaz, John Kyttey, John Ambroys, John Salerne, Robert Vincent, Henry Viss, Peter the Clerk. The seal of Robert (vesica-shaped) is in good condition; that of the community of the Barons of Rye, appended on behalf of Emma, is lost.

8 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Stephen Skynnere, to Thomas Pyron, miller, of the messuage in Rye which he had of Agnes Soake; at a yearly rent of 5s.; the sum of 40d. being paid for the grant. "Given on Sunday, the Feast of the Apostles Peter and Paul." Witnesses, Robert Marchand, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Elyas Muriele, James Marchand, William ate Wische, John Paccok, Geoffrey Solaz, Thomas Faron, Thomas Muriel, John Kyttey, John Ambroys, Robert Vincent, Reginald de Rackele, Richard Blykewelle, Peter the Clerk. The seal is lost.

8 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Henry Mentel and Isabel, his wife, to John Kittey the elder, and Martha, his wife, of a messuage purchased of Robert Bredeware, abutting on the messuage late of Pharaon Johan and that of Robert de Arrundel, and the land of John Austyn; at a yearly rent, to be paid to Henry le Yonge, of 4 shillings sterling; 8 marks of silver having been paid beforehand. His own seal has been set thereto, and that of the Community of Rye, at the request of his wife. Witnesses, Robert Marchaunt, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Geoffrey Solaz, William de la Wische, Reginald de Rakkelee, William le Taverner, William de Pesemersch, Luke le Salater. The seals are lost.

8 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by William de Hetherst, dyer, and Isabel, his wife, to Ralph, son of John Rolf, and Christina, his wife, of the house which they had of the gift of Ralph Slegh, with part of a chamber adjoining thereto, bought of Richard, son of the said Ralph, for a yearly rent of 2½d.; a sum of 20s. being paid beforehand. Witnesses, Robert Marchand, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, John Paccok, William de la Wische, Geoffrey Solaz, J. Ambroys the younger, Robert, son of Robert Vincent. The seal of William is in good condition, that of "the Community of Rye, at the supplication of the said Christina appended," is lost.

8 Edward II. Release (in Latin) by John, called "le Blodletere," and Margery, his wife, to Ralph Fitz-John and Christina, his wife, as to a house, part of a messuage bought of Richard le Knyst; which house is situate near to a place belonging to the works and lights of the church of St. Mary, which John Elkyn holds; and near to a curtilage and the principal messuage of Ralph and Christina, and a curtilage of Paul Fitz-Robert, "belonging to the Hall," to the south; and of a rent of 6½d. formerly paid by them to the said John; they paying a yearly rent of 12 pence in the King's Court in Rye, on Mid Lent Sunday; as also, 18d. to the works and lights of the church of St. Mary; and one halfpenny to the said Richard le Knyst. His own seal, and, for greater evidence and security, the seal of the Community of Rye, have been set thereto. Witnesses, Robert Marchand, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Geoffrey Solaz, John Ambroys, William de la Wyssche, James Marchand, Richard Beneyt, Alexander Botemont, Clerk. The seal of John (a star) is unbroken, but partly illegible; that of the "Community," appended in behalf of Margery, is lost.

9 Edward II. Release (in Latin) by Joan Wyse, relict of Henry Ambroys, to John Kyttey the elder, of all her right and claim, in name of dower, in the lands and tenements which belonged to the said Henry; for one mark of silver, paid beforehand. Witnesses, Robert Marchaunt, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, John Marchaunt, John Ambroys, Geoffrey Solaz, William de la Wische, Robert Vincent, Richard Beneyt. The oblong seal, a starred cross, with the legend "S. Johene Wise," is in fine condition.

9 Edward II. Release (in Latin) by Henry ate Welle, and Isabel, his wife, daughter of the late Richard Martyn, to John Kittey the elder, and Martha, his wife, of 2d. yearly rent for a tenement formerly belonging to John Nasse, opposite to the principal messuage of the said John Kittey; 2s. being paid beforehand. Witnesses, Elyas Muriel, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Robert and James Marchaunt, John Ambroys, William ate Wische, Robert Vincent, Richard Beneyt, Butcher, William le Taverner, William de Pesemersch. A fragment of one of the two seals is left.

Temp. Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Stephen Ambroys, to John Kyttey and [Martha], his wife, of the lands and tenements which came to him after the death of Henry Ambroys, his father, and Agatha, his wife; in return for which, they have given him, for life, sustenance in the Abbey of Cumbwelle. Witnesses, "Eliseus" Muriele, Mayor, Paulin ate Rye, Robert and James Marchand, John Ambroys, John le Hwytte, John Paccok, John Salerne. This deed is mutilated, and the seal is lost. The next deed is almost exactly similar to this, except that it is attested under another Mayor, James Marchand. Muriele was Mayor in the 9th year of Edward II., James Marchand in the tenth.

Temp. Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Stephen Ambroys to John Kittey and Martha, his wife, of the lands and tenements which came to him after the death of Henry Ambroys, his father, and Agatha, his wife, in the parish of La Rye; in return for which, they have given him, for life, sustenance in the Abbey of Cumbwelle. Witnesses, James Marchaunt, Mayor, Paulin ate Rye, Robert Marchand, John Ambroys, John le Wyte, John Paccok, John Salerne. The seal is lost. This deed belongs to the 10th year of this reign.

10 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Richard Beneyt to John Kyttey and Martha, his wife, of 5½d. yearly rent; which he was wont to receive from the tenement between those of Roger le Prest and Henry Juvene, at Pentecost; for 5s. paid beforehand. Witnesses, James Marchand, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Robert Marchand, Elyas Muriel, John Ambroys, John Paccok, Geoffrey Solaz, Richard Hurst, Thomas Richard, Peter the Clerk. A small seal, representing a bird on a spray, is still attached.

11 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Robert "called Lotekyn," and Joan, his wife, to Richard Kittey and Beatrice, his wife, of a place of land within the liberties of the vill of Rye, near to the lane called "Piggeslane," and near to the lands of John Cok and of the heirs of John de la More; and to that of Thomas de Boulon; at a yearly rent of 2 silver pennies, "on St. Giles's Day," at the principal messuage which belonged to William "Pate, at Wynchelese, to the heirs of the said William" to be paid; the said Richard and Beatrice having given a small parcel of land in Rye, in exchange. Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Mayor, Robert Marchaunt, James, his brother, Geoffrey Solaz, John Ambroys, Robert Vincent, Henry Fish, Richard Beneyt, butcher, Thomas Ricard. Of the two seals one is lost, a portion of the other, representing a cross, with four pellets, remaining.

12 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Reginald de Brede to William Waryn and Joan, his wife, of a messuage near to the tenement of John Lyteman, and that of the heirs of Pharon Johan, also "near to a way" which is pertaining to the visnet there, by my feoffment, for a yearly payment of 6d., on Sunday in Mid Lent 3d., and on the day of St. Michael 3d.; 2s. 6d. having been paid beforehand. Sealed "in the month of "August." Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Mayor, Elias

CORPORATION OF RYE.

CORPORATION OF RYE.

CORPORATION OF RYE.

Muriel, Robert Marchaund, James Marchaund, John Ambroys, John Paulyn, John Kyttey, John Paccok, Robert Vincent, William Gaylard, Henry Fys, Richard Blykewelle, Peter the Clerk. A portion only of the seal is left.

14 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Alice, daughter of the late Laurence called "Le Deghere" [the Dyer], to John Le Kok, of her moiety in a parcel of land lying in a lane called "Piglance," near to the land of the heirs of John ate Stronde, and that which belonged to Richard Bycote; for a yearly rent of 6 silver pennies, on Sunday in Mid Lent; 12*d.* sterling having been paid beforehand. "Given on Passion Sunday." Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Mayor, Robert Marchaund, James Marchaund, John Ambroys, John Paulyn, Robert Vincent, John Kyttey, Thomas Paccok, William Gaylard, Richard Blykewelle, Thomas the Tanner, Peter the Clerk. The seal, a star, is in fine condition.

14 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by John le Whyte to John Kyttey the elder, and Martha, his wife, of 8 pence yearly rent, which he was wont to receive on the day of St. Michael from the tenement of Henry Dyges, lately belonging to Walter le Clenchere; they rendering to the chief lords, the heirs of—Ambroys, 1*d.* yearly; in consideration of 8*s.* paid beforehand. Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Mayor, Robert Marchaund, James Marchaund, John Ambroys, John Paulyn, Geoffrey Solaz, John Paccok, Robert Vincent, William Gaylard, Richard Blykewelle, Peter the Clerk. This deed is beautifully written; the seal is lost.

14 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by John le Whyte to John Kyttey and Martha, his wife, of 6*d.* yearly rent which they were wont to pay to him for their salt-house (domo salina) on the Est Stronde, in Rye. Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Mayor, Robert Marchaund, James Marchaund, John Ambroys, John Paulyn, Robert Vincent, William Gaylard, Robert Thomas, Richard Blykewelle, Peter the Clerk. The seal is lost.

14 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Richard le Whyte, son of Richard, to John Kyttey and Martha, his wife, of a fourth part of the Windmill in Rye, called "Heghe-theghe," for 40*s.* to him paid beforehand. Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Mayor, Robert Marchaund, James Marchaund, John Ambroys, John Paulyn, Robert Vincent, William Gaylard, Geoffrey Solaz, John Paccok, Richard Blykewelle, Peter the Clerk. The seal appended is in fragments.

15 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by William Storm, of Gateberwe, to Robert Hulle and Helena, his wife, of 1½ acres of land, near to the land of William ate Wische, and that of William ate Welle and of William de Gateberwe; at a yearly rent of 2*d.* Witnesses, Richard Thomas, William Thomas, John Witte, Edmund Witte, William Storm, John Monte, William Gateberwe. "Given at Gateberwe." The seal is lost.

15 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Laurence, son and heir of Pharon Johan, to Ralph Fitz-John and Christina, his wife, of a yearly rent of 12*d.*, from the tenement of John le Taverner; in consideration of 10*s.* paid beforehand. Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Robert Marchaund, James Marchaund, John Ambroys, John Paulyn, [eter] the Clerk. The seal is lost, and the deed has apparently suffered from water, or damp.

16 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by John Scherale and Goda, his wife, daughter of the late John Torel, to Ralph Fitz-John and Christina, his wife, of 7½*d.* of yearly rent which they were wont to pay from the principal tenement of John Lambsyn, without the gate of the vill of Rye; for half a mark of silver paid beforehand. "Done on Sunday after the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul." Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Mayor, Robert Marchaund, James Marchaund, John Ambroys, John Paulyn, Robert Vincent, John Paccok, John le Whyte, Robert Thomas, Geoffrey Corboyle, William Gaylard, Symon Merseye, Richard Blykewelle, Peter the Clerk. John's seal (a star) is perfect; of that of the Barons of Rye, set thereto for Goda, only a fragment is left.

16 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Reginald de Rakele and Matillidis, his wife, to Ralph Fitz-John and Christina, his wife, of a tenement near to that of the heirs of John Pocok, on the Est Stronde, and to that of Thomas Hallere, at a yearly rent of 4*d.*, payable on Sunday in Mid Lent; they having paid 4*l.* beforehand. On behalf of Matillidis, the seal of the Barons of Rye is set thereto. "Given on Sunday, the morrow of St. George the Martyr." Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Mayor, Robert Marchaund, James Marchaund, John Ambroys, John Paulyn, Robert Vincent, John Paccok, Symon Merseye, Peter the Clerk. Reginald's seal (a star) is perfect, that of the Barons is in fragments.

17 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Andrew de Potepiric to Peter de Hegsthone, Clerk, and Dionysia, his wife, of one penny of yearly rent from 2 messuages standing near the principal tenement of Henry le Juvene; for 20*d.* sterling, paid beforehand. Witnesses, Paul Fitz-Robert, Robert Marchaund, James Marchaund, John Ambroys, John Paulyn, Robert Vincent, Robert Thomas, Richard Blykewelle, John Yevegod. The seal is lost. As to the above Peter, see various notices under the preceding extracts, and the deed next mentioned.

17 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Andrew Potepiric, of Rye, to Peter the Clerk, and Dionysia, his wife, of 3*d.* yearly rent, from the tenement which was of John Peitevyn in Potepiricstrete, and now held by Robert Reinecod. Witnesses, John Whyte, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Robert and James Marchand, brothers, John Ambroys, John Paulyn, Robert Vincent, John Paccok, Robert Thomas, William Gaylard, Richard Blykewelle. The small seal, representing a star, is nearly perfect. Peter the Clerk, already noticed, and here named, occurs as the final attesting witness of many deeds of this reign, and was no doubt the writer of them; the present deed is apparently in his hand.

18 Edward II. Release (in Latin) by Alexander, son of Elyas Cole, of Rodmersham, to Simon, son of Vitalis de Chiltone, of his claim in 5 roods of land in the parish of Rodmersham, at Sherlyng, in the field called "Northfelde," near to the land of Alan Cole, on the south, and abutting on the land of the Hospital of St. John, on the east and west. "Given at Sherlyng." Witnesses, Walter le Mere, Richard le Mere, John, his brother, Robert Capeleyn, Edmund, his brother, Alan Cole, John Sokelyng, John his son, John, and William, sons of William Sokelyng, John le Gray, William his son. The seal, somewhat broken, has a shield with an indistinct impression.

18 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Robert, "called Archer," of Wyncholese, and Margery, his wife, to Robert, called "Holstok," baker, and Joan, his wife, of their tenement in Rye, acquired of Richard, son and heir of Roger Belde of Rye, at a yearly rent of 6*s.* 9*d.*, for 60*s.* paid beforehand. Witnesses, James Marchaund, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Robert Marchaund, John Ambroys, John Paulyn, William Gaylard, Geoffrey Courboyle, John Paccok, Richard Blykewelle, Nicholas Wylles, Matthew Parys, Ralph Ambroys, William Taylor, Peter the Clerk. The seal of Robert Archer, (a star, like a Maltese cross) is perfect, that "of the Community of the Barons of Rye," set thereto on behalf of his wife, is lost.

19 Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by John Scherale and Goda, his wife, daughter of the late John Torel, to Ralph Fitz-John and Christina, his wife, of 12*d.* of yearly rent from the tenement of Robert Faron, in the Market-place of Rye, to be received on Sunday in Mid Lent; also of 6*d.* yearly rent from the tenement of Richard a Grove, "which was at Veyrheud (? Wear-head) without the Gate," for one mark sterling, paid beforehand. Witnesses, James Marchaund, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Robert Marchaund, John Ambroys, John Paulyn, Robert Vincent, William Gaylard, Geoffrey Corboyle, Robert Thomas, John Snoghel, Nicholas Willes, Thomas Tannere, John Cok, Thomas Hallere, Richard Blykewelle, Peter the Clerk. The seal of John Scherale (a star) is nearly perfect; of that of the Barons of Rye, appended for Goda, a small fragment only is left.

19 Edward II. Sale (in Latin) by John Kyttey, son of John, to Martha, his mother, the widow of the said John, of all his right in a mill called "Heytehy" on Estrond (East Strand). Witnesses, James Marchaund, Mayor, Paul Fitz-Robert, Robert Marchaund, John Ambroys, John Paccok, Robert Vincent, William Gaylard, Geoffrey Corboyle, Nicholas Carpenter, Thomas Tanner. The seal is lost.

Temp. Edward II. Grant (in Latin) by Robert Smith (Faber), of Rye, and Joan, his wife, daughter of the late Walter ate Hoche, and Matillidis, daughter of the said Walter, to Thomas Ricard, of all claims which may arise in the parishes of Rye and Idenue, upon the tenures [manors] of Iwherste and La Lee. Witnesses, Sampson de Pageham, William de Leghe, William de Kechenore, John de Gleshamme, Richard de Glesye, Robert de Pedlishamme, Daniel and Thomas de Pedlishamme, Robert de Leghe, Thomas ate Euerc, John, his brother, Peter the Clerk. Two of the three seals in green wax, one representing a star, the other flowers, are still attached.

3 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Richard, William, Laurence, and Thomas, sons of John Thomas, and brothers and heirs of Robert Thomas, to John de Toulve-

CORPORATION OF
RYE.

herst, Corveser, and Parnel, his wife, of their right in a moiety of the tenement which the heirs of James ate Halle lately held. Witnesses, Robert Marchand, Mayor, James Marchand, John Pauly, Pauly Marchand, John Ambroys, John Whyte, Thomas atte Nesse, Thomas Muriel, Robert Vyncent, Nicholas Pauly, Stephen Rousel, Symon Merseye, William Gouss, John Portesmouth, Peter the Clerk. The three seals are lost, and the deed is almost illegible from damp.

4 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas Dyges to Stephen ate Leghe, tanner, of the moiety of the land which he acquired of William de Kechenore, in the parish of Idenne, in the marsh called "Lenedimerss;" for 20s. paid beforehand. Witnesses, Sir John de Garlethorpe, Chaplain, Warden of the Hospital of St. Bartholomew at Rye, John Pauly, Robert and James Marchant, John Ambroys, Barons of Rye, John de Kechenore, William de Leghe, John de Gleshame, William de Kechenham, John de Oxnebregge, William ate Hope, Robert de Abotteslonde. The impression of the small seal attached (a star) is almost effaced.

4 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Juliana, widow of Richard Portesmouth, to Margery, widow of Thomas Hallere, of her part of the mill lately built by the said Richard, upon the "folisia" (cliff) near to the Nesse; for a payment yearly, during the life of the said Juliana, of 2 seams (horse-loads) "of good wheat and "reasonable corn," so long as the said mill shall remain there; and if the mill be removed, the said Juliana, if she wishes to receive the said rent, shall pay her share of the expenses of such removal thereof. Witnesses, Robert Marchant, Mayor, James Marchant, John Pauly, Nicholas, his brother, John Ambroys, Thomas his brother, Robert Vincent, Thomas Muriel, John Portesmouth, Peter the Clerk. The seal is whole, but the impression is nearly effaced. Peter the Clerk, who drew so many of these deeds, now disappears.

6 Edward III. An indenture (in Latin) testifying that whereas Thomas, son of Richard de Pipenselle, enfeoffed Robert Elis, of Occene, and Joan, his wife, of 2 acres in the New Marsh, at Pypenselle, the said Thomas is bound to defend the same against the lords of the fee, and especially the Abbot of Fiscamp; and the said Robert agrees to pay him, at his house, at Pypenselle, 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. yearly, and to protect the same land, as to walls and "watergangs." Without witnesses. The seal is lost.

6 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by John, son and heir of John Taverner, to John, son of Robert Stronge, of a third part of a messuage in a lane leading towards Schierstret, near to the tenements of Robert Bernebond and John le Whyte, and the place of John Enggel, for a term of 1,000 years, with reversion to the grantor's heirs; 10s. having been paid. Witnesses, Robert Vincent, Mayor, Robert and James Marchand, John and Thomas Ambroys, John and Nicholas Pauly, William Gaylard, Stephen Russel, John the Clerk. The impression on the seal (a star) is almost effaced.

7 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Walter Ganter (Glover) and Christina, his wife, to John de Kent, Corveser (Shoemaker), of Rye, of the land, and building thereon, which Christina had acquired of John Portesmouth; situate in Rye at "La Haltone," near the tenement of Richard Elis, and Joan, his wife; at a yearly rent of 2s. In the name of Christina, the common seal of the Barons of Rye is set thereto. Witnesses, Robert (? Marchant, or Vincent), then Mayor, James Marchant, John Ambroys, John Pauly[n], Nicholas, his brother, Stephen Russell, John Heued, John Dyges, Laurence Courboille, John the Clerk. The seal of Walter, representing stars and flowers, is nearly perfect, that of the Barons of Rye is lost.

9 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by John Roger, "Corveser" of Rye, to John de Kent, "Corveser" of the same, of the land which he acquired of Stephen atte Legh, tanner, in the parish of Idenne, in the marsh called "Lenediesmerch;" in consideration of 4 marks sterling, paid beforehand. Witnesses, John Pauly, Robert Marchant, James Marchant, John Viel, Paul Marchant, John de Kechenore, William Joce, John de Bosne, Richard de Kelfreut. The seal (a star) is mutilated.

9 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Robert Smyth to Ralph Rorlf and Christina, his wife, of 12d. yearly rent from his tenement within the North Gate of Rye. Witnesses, Robert Marchant, Mayor, James Marchant, John Ambroys, John Pauly, Nicholas Pauly, John Yevogod, Laurence Corboille, Robert Arnold, John Tanner. A portion of the seal, a cross formed of four palm-branches, is left.

12 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Geoffrey, son and heir of John Kyttey, to Martha Kyttey, his mother, of his part of the mill called "Hegheteghe" in the vill of Rye, which he inherited from his father. Witnesses, Richard Pauly, Mayor, Robert and Paul Marchant, John Pauly, Laurence Courboille, Symon Merseye, John Yevogod, John the Clerk. A portion of the seal, representing, apparently, a stag's head and antlers, surmounted by a cross, is left.

13 Edward III. Indenture (in Latin), whereby John le Tannere, of Rye, grants to Benedict le Whyte and Parnel, his wife, half an acre of land in the parish of Rye, in the "borgh" of Culppore, "of yards of Normandy," which Margery Red formerly held, of the manor of Brede, near to the land of John Bakere, the land of Landewe, and that of John Marchant; at a yearly rent of 3s. 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. Witnesses, John Pauly, Robert Marchant, John Ambroys, Paul Marchant, Stephen de Pedlisham, Daniel de Pedlisham, Philip de Pedlisham, William de Tillingham, Walter Martin, Walter de Culppore, John Stevens, of Tillingham. There are two seals attached, but the impressions are undecipherable. The counterpart also accompanies it, its one seal lost.

14 Edward III. Indenture of grant (in Latin) by John Tannere to John Marchant and Margery, his wife, of half an acre of land in Rye, in the "borgh" of Culppore, which Margery Reed lately held of the manor of Brede; situate near to the land of Benedict le White, the land of Landewe, and the garden of the Hospital of St. Bartholomew; at a yearly rent of 3s. 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. Witnesses, John Pauly, Robert Marchant, Stephen de Pedlisham, Daniel de Pedlisham, William Tillingham, Walter Martyn, Walter Couppore, and others. The two seals are still appended, one of them broken; they are oblong and concave, and are alike, and, apparently, representing a man with a sword in his left hand.

14 Edward III. Indenture (in Latin) between Richard le White and Thomas Peronel; whereby the former agrees to remove a house near to the Nesse, between the houses of Nicholas Pauly and Stephen Russel, and to build another, in like form, between the houses of Laurence Courboille and Philip Skynner: the timber of the house to be as good as that of the former one; but the said Thomas is to find the ironwork. For moving the house, finding the timber, building, and doing the work, down to the covering, the said Thomas is to pay 12s. 6d. The said house is to be removed and completed before Easter following the date thereof—the Feast of St. Hillary, and on such completion the said Thomas is to pay another 12s. 6d. Witnesses, Paul Portesmouth, Gervase Skalle, John the Clerk. The seal is lost; and the deed is partly illegible, from having been immersed in water.

14 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Richard le Whyte to John Mathew, baker, of a place near to the tenements of Edmund Passele and Thomas Barbour, and near to the place of John Pauly; at a yearly rent of 12 silver pennies. Witnesses, Thomas atte Nesse, Mayor, Robert Marchant, John Pauly, Paul Marchant, Stephen Russell, Laurence Courboille, Robert Arnold, John Diges, John the Clerk. The seal is nearly whole, but with a worn impression, of a man wielding a sword in his left hand, as already mentioned. It probably belonged to John the Clerk, who prepared the deed. It has somewhat of the aspect of being an ancient gem.

14 Edward III. Release (in Latin) by John Kyttey, brother and heir of Richard, who was son and heir of Richard Kyttey, of Robert Quinterel, of the parish of Pleidoune, as to 12 pence of yearly rent for what was the principal tenement of the said Richard, and as to all claim to the said tenement; for a certain sum paid beforehand. Witnesses, Thomas atte Nesse, Mayor, Robert and Paul Marchant, John and Nicholas Pauly, Stephen Russell, Laurence Courboille, Alexander Kyttey, John Dedes, John the Clerk. Faintly written, and mutilated; the seal is perfect, but with a faint impression of the man with the sword, as above mentioned.

15 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by John de Kent, "Corveser," to Elias atte Halle, of Rye, of all the land which he acquired of John Roger, of Rye, in the parish of Idenne, in the marsh called "Lenediesmersch." Witnesses, Robert Marchant, John Pauly, Stephen Russell, Nicholas Pauly, John de Kechenore, Reginald de Hope, Walter Joce, Robert ate Euere, Richard a Grene, John the Clerk. Of the seal, in green wax, representing a star, a portion is left.

15 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Dionysia, widow of Peter the Clerk, to Nichola, her daughter, wife of John Hony, of her place near to the tenement of John Lambot, and that late of Thomas de Sandwich, and near to the land late of Thomas Muriel. "Given on Sunday" after the Feast of St. Laurence." Witnesses, Thomas

CORPORATION OF
RYE.

CORPORATION OF RYE.

CORPORATION OF RYE.

atte Nesse, Mayor, Robert Marchant, John Paulyn, Nicholas Paulyn, Stephen Russel, Paul Marchant, Symon Merseye, John Dyges, John Magfeld, John the Clerk. The oblong seal, with a sort of Maltese cross, is in fair condition. Peter the Clerk has been frequently mentioned, under this and the preceding reigns.

17 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas Pokel, of Canterbury, and Alice, his wife, daughter and heir of Stephen Skynner, to William Baker, of Apoldre, of the eastern half of a house formerly belonging to the said Stephen, in Rye; with the reversion after the dower of Margery, widow of the said Stephen, being the other half. Witnesses, Robert Marchant, Mayor, John and Nicholas Paulyn, John Ambreys, Paul Marchant, Laurence Courboille, Stephen Russel, John Dyges, Matthew Baker. The seal of Thomas is mutilated; of that of "the Community of Rye," appended "at the instance of Alice," only a small fragment is left.

17 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Robert Scot and William Sprot, of Hastings, to Thomas Swyft, of the same, and Agnes, his wife, of a place of land in the said town, near the tenement of Henry Pasteman there; at a yearly rent of 2s., to be paid to the chief lords of the fee. "Given at Hastyng, on Monday after the Feast of St. Matthias the Apostle. Witnesses, Richard Goldwyne, then Bailiff of Hastyng, Robert, his brother, Richard Thurbarn, John Beneyt, Thomas, his brother, Ralph Hardyng, John Aleyn." The two seals are lost, and the little deed, which is finely written, is much torn.

18 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by John de Grafherst, of Iklesham, to William de Eytone of his lands and tenements in Iklesham and Geslinge. Witnesses, John de Cressy, Richard Thomas, Thomas de Stonlynke, John de Sapertone, Alan de Ferne, John de Rotelonde. A small seal (apparently a star) is appended. No consideration is mentioned in this deed, the writing of which is very faint.

21 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by William Brun to Nicholas Pawlyn, of a yearly rent of 12d. from his tenements at Le Hole. Witnesses, William Paulyn, James Marchant, Paul Portesmudthe, Robert Bocher, Peter the Clerk. The writing is partly effaced by damp, and the seal is lost.

23 Edward III. Indenture (in Latin) witnessing that, whereas William de Eytone enfeoffed Sir John de Wardintone, perpetual Vicar of the church of Iklesham, and John de Sapertone, of all his lands and tenements in Iklesham and Gestlyng, it is his will that they shall hold the said tenements for 16 years, at a yearly rent of 100s. sterling. Given at Iklesham. Witnesses, John de Ore, John Cressy, John de Pidintone, William de Lyndherst, Thomas Elys, John de Estwyk. There are two small seals in red wax, with the impressions much worn.

23 Edward III. Release (in Latin) by Parnel, widow of John de Kent, of Rye, to Stephen, son of Stephen Andrew, of Wynchelse, of her right in an acre and a quarter of land which the said Stephen had, of the gift of Joan, widow of Stephen Russel, in the parish of Brede, and in a certain marsh called "Wytflet," abutting on the land called "Cassemarysland," and on lands belonging to John Vynch, the heirs of John Wallere, and the heirs of Richard Thomas. Witnesses, John Wytte, William Hemhamme, John Hemhamme, William Clerk, Henry de Wyke, William de Brosexse. The seal (a star) is somewhat broken.

25 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Stephen, son and heir of Stephen Andrew, of Wynchelse, to William Tailleur, son of William Tailleur, of Rye, of all his lands and tenements in Rye, Wynchelse, and Ihamme. "Done at Wynchelse." Witnesses, Robert Arnald, Mayor of Wynchelse, Paul Portesmothe, Mayor of Rye, Paul Marchant, Bailiff of Rye, Vincent Fynch, John Longhe, of Wynchelse, Benedict Sely, Walter Salerne, and Walter Bydynden, of Rye, and Richard Smyth, of Ihamme. The seal is still appended, the impression appearing to be a human face.

25 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by John de Sapertone to Sir John de Wardyngtone, perpetual Vicar of Iklesham, of his interest in the lands, rents, and tenements, late of John de Grofherst in Iklesham and Gestlyng. Witnesses, William de Lyndhurst, William Clerk, Elias Bakere, Robert Bakere, Robert Lideham, Thomas Elys. The seal is lost.

26 Edward III. Letter of attorney (in Latin) of Martha, widow of John Kyttey the elder, appointing Stephen Andrew her attorney to give seisin to William Taylour, son of William Taylour the elder, of all her lands at Pipensell "in the borgh of Gatebergh." Her seal, much worn, is still attached.

26 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by William Bonho, of Rodemershams, to Richard Tichebourne, of half an acre of land in Rodmersham, in a place called "Longelonde," near to the land of the Hospital of St. John, and the lands of the heirs of John Bonho and of Peter de Chiltone, and the land of the heirs of Alan Cole; also, a parcel of land lying at the Doune, near the land of the heirs of Sir Roger de Hegham. Witnesses, Richard Otterforde, William Thruleghe, John Sokelynge, Richard atte Court, William de Nordehne, William Hunte. "Given at Rodmersham, on Sunday after the Feast of the Invention of the Holy Cross."

26 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Robert Dyvet to William Austyn and Agatha, his wife, of the messuage which he had of John Mahyew, in Chercestrete, near the land of the Prior and Convent of Christ Church, Canterbury, and the messuages of Alexander Pyrmelde and John Yardherst. "Done at Manencherch" (indistinct). Witnesses, William Cryndhey, William Reynold, William ate Pynue, Richard Melle, Robert Derwold. The seal is nearly whole, with a worn impression of, apparently, the lamb and flag. It seems doubtful to what place this deed relates.

27 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by John Peytevyne to James Bonjour and Sarra, his wife, of his messuages in the Westronde, formerly belonging to John Eppelman, at a yearly rent of 10s. Witnesses, Henry Goldgive, Mayor, Benedict Sely, Walter Bydynden, William Tailleur, Paul Portesmouthe, John Wasshere. A fragment of a small and beautiful seal, tied with silk, and apparently charged with three crosses pattees fchees, is appended.

27 Edward III. Release (in Latin) by John, son and heir of Robert Alard, of Wynchelse, to John Peytevyne, of the same, of all his right and claim in all the lands, tenements, services, and rents, with the advowson of half the Chantry of the Chapel of St. Nicholas, in the church of St. Mary at Rye, in the vill of Rye, Pesemmershe, Brede, and Udymer, which came to him, by heirship, after the death of John Ambroys, of Rye. For greater surety, he has procured the seal of the Mayoralty of the vill of Wynchelse to be set thereto. Witnesses, Robert Arnold, then Mayor of the vill of Wynchelse, John Fynch, Vincent Fynch, Benedict Sely, William Tailleur, William de Pageham, John de Pageham, John Paulyn of Merle, Walter Sextayn, John Wylcok, William Joce, Simon Joce, Robert Dymond, Bartholomew Andrew, John Estwyk, Clerk. His seal, representing a person standing in a porch, is fairly perfect; of the seal of Wynchelse only a portion is left.

28 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by William Brekeston the elder, and Joan, his wife, to John Thomas and Alice, his wife, of a messuage without the gate of Rye, and near to the land of John zevogode, and situate between the tenement of Abraham Cane and that of Henry Penyale, at a yearly rent of 4s. Witnesses, Henry Goldzeve, Mayor, William Tailleur, Paul Portesmouthe, William Brekston the younger, Nicholas Smyth, Richard Pak, John Jolyf, John Lad, Clerk. The small seal of William (a kind of trefoil) is perfect; but the seal of the Commonalty of Rye, which was set "for greater security," is in a mutilated condition.

28 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Peter Mulwod, of the parish of Playdenne, to Richard Pak, of Rye, of the moiety of a place of land, with half the house built thereon, formerly belonging to William Joye: also, 2s. of yearly rent which he was wont to receive of Alice Kyttey, from the principal tenement, formerly belonging to Nicholas Joye, situate in the Market-place. Witnesses, Paul Portesmouthe, Mayor, Henry Goldzeve, Benedict Cely, John Curboille, Richard Gaillard, Laurence Taverner, John Lad, Clerk. The seal is lost.

29 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by William, "by God's sufferance," Abbot of the Monastery of Begeham, and the Convent thereof, for the many benefits received from Walter Lucy and Joan, his wife, "and, as it is hoped, in future to be received," to them, for their lives, of a yearly payment of 8 marks, at their dwelling-house in Rye to be paid. In case of nonpayment within 8 days from any of the terms therein named, power is given to them or their attorney to distrain upon the manor of Teleton, belonging to the Convent. The seal of the Convent, formerly attached, is lost.

31 Edward III. Release (in Latin) by Richard Gayllard to Thomas Bakere and Joan, his wife, of all his right in a windmill in Rye, formerly belonging to Thomas Hallere, situate at the Nesse upon the Falese (Cliff), near the harbour, on the south side. Witnesses, Paul Portesmouthe, then Mayor, William Tailleur, Benedict Cely, John Courboille, Henry Goldzeve, Richard Baddyng, John Waschere. The seal is lost. This is the first appearance of the name of "Baddyng," afterwards much connected with the history of Rye.

32 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas and William Potter, sons and heirs of Walter Potter, to Adam Fonghle and Matildis, his wife, of a tenement situate near the tenement of the heirs of John Tanner, and that of Alice Seward. Witnesses, Paul Portesmouth, Mayor, William Taylour, Benedict Cely, Henry Goldzeve, John Courboile, Walter Lucy, Ralph Ambroys. The two seals are lost.

32 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas Bakere and Joan, his wife, to William Taylour and Agnes, his wife, of one half of a windmill, formerly of Thomas Hallere, situate on the Falaise (Cliff) at the Nesce, near to the harbour of the sea. Witnesses, Paul Portesmouth, Mayor, Benedict Cely, Henry Goldzeve, John Courboile, Walter Lucy, Richard Baddyng, John Lad, Clerk. A large portion of the seal of Thomas is left. The seal of the Commonalty of the vill of Rye, set thereto, "at the instance" of Joan, is lost.

33 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Matildis, widow of William Pykevirle, to John Aleyn and Margery, his wife, of her principal tenement in the parish of La Rye, situate on the highway leading from Pleydenne to Rye, on the east, and near the lands of Robert Allard, on the west, and near to the messuage of the heirs of Benedict le Webbe. Witnesses, Paul Portesmouth, Mayor, William Taylour, Bailiff, John Finch, Richard Hogheles, Robert Allard, Thomas Pott, John Lad, Clerk. The seal, in red wax, apparently representing the Virgin and Child, with a penitent kneeling, is nearly perfect.

35 Edward III. Release (in Latin) by John, son of Alan Ussack, to Richard de Tichebourne, of his right in half an acre of land in Rodemersham, in the place called "Sherlyngesfeld," near the lands of John Morys, of the heirs of Peter de Chiltone, and of the Hospital of St. John, and near to the way from Sherlynge to Cokerilstrete. "Given at Rodemersham." Witnesses, Richard de Otteforde, William Bonho, William Thrulegh, Richard de Cust, William Huitte, William Neweman. The seal is whole, but the impression very indistinct.

35 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Adam Voghel, of Playdoun, to William Taylour, of Rye, and Agnes, his wife, of a tenement acquired of Thomas and William Potter, sons and heirs of Walter Potter, near the tenement of the heirs of John Tanner, and that of Alice Seward. Witnesses, Paul Portesmouth, Mayor, Benedict Sely, Henry Goldzeve, John Courboile, John Marchaund. The seal is unbroken, with no impression beyond a dent.

35 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Robert, son of Robert Alard, of Yhamme, to Robert de Hethe, of Ydenne, and Alice, his wife, of a messuage in Rye, between the messuage of Matillidis, widow of William de Pigevyre, and the land of the brethren of the Hospital of St. Bartholemew. Witnesses, Paul Portesmouth, Mayor, William Pageham, John Pauly, Richard Kechenore, John Finch, Richard Seward, John Marchaund. Each party has set his seal to this indenture, but only one, with a worn impression, is left.

36 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by William Taylour to Thomas Horsman and Goda, his wife, of a place near to the tenement of Thomas Doune and John Potyn; at a yearly rent of 4s. Witnesses, Henry Goldzeve, Mayor, Benedict Cely, Richard Baddyng, John Ivory, Thomas Kittay, John Otringham, Clerk. The seal is whole, but the impression much worn.

37 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by William Taylour and Agnes, his wife, to Stephen Andrew and Joan, his wife, of a place near the tenements of Stephen Elyot, John Crabb, John Otringham, Robert Spicer, and William Idenne; such place having been acquired of John Shypman, of Hethe; in tail general, at a yearly rent of 6s. 8d. Witnesses, Henry Goldzeve, Mayor, Benedict Cely, Richard Baddyng, John Salerne, Simon atte Wod, John Otringham. The seal is broken, the impression, a human face, apparently.

37 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas Bakere and Joan, his wife, to Richard Wyke, "Tannere," and Alice, his wife, of a piece of land near to the land of Joan South, and the land of William Storm, called "Le Teynton," and abutting on the meadow called "Le Kynggiswische," and the King's highway called "Blekelaue;" which land came to the said Joan after the decease of Richard Gailard, her father; at a yearly rent of 2s. Witnesses, Henry Goldzeve, Mayor, William Taylour, James Dyghes, William Brekestone the elder, William Storm, William Brekestone the younger, Robert the Clerk. The seal of Thomas Bakere is perfect, representing a man on a lion, apparently, blowing a horn, with "IRIDE" above. Of the "seal of the Community of the vill of Rye," which, for greater surety, Joan had procured to be appended, only a portion is left.

37 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Walter Symoun, of Pesemersch, to Gervaise Symoun and Parnel, his wife, of his piece of land called "Kombys Wyssch," and of another piece, called "Kombys Teghe," and half an acre called "Kombys Teghe Hyl," and half an acre called "Baldebourne," and "Heggyshole," of the fee of Lodeleghe. Witnesses, John Pauly, Richard Hethenore, William, his brother, John Wylkoc, Robert de Legh, John Osebern, John Dyn. "Given at Pesemersch, on Sunday after the Feast of St. Katharine." A fragment of the seal is left.

37 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Robert Quyn-trel, of the parish of Playdenne, and Nichola, his wife, to John Jolyf, of Rye, of the lands which they hold of the Court of Brede, called "Pesex, Ploggescroft, La Wyhsche, Brounys, and Le Hok." Witnesses, Richard Pak, of Rye, John Fynhc, Stephen Potyn, William ate Grove, Danyel Gybbe. Of the two seals, only a fragment of one remains. There is no consideration mentioned in the deed.

39 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by John Foghelere (Fowler), of the parish of Pesemersch, to Gervase Simond and Parnel, his wife, of a moiety of a piece of land in the said parish, in a place called "Berlyngbroke," near Baldebourne, adjoining the land of Eggishale. "Given at Pesemersch." Witnesses, John Pauly, Walter Symond, William Kenep, Richard de Coumbe, John Anite. The seal is whole, but with a faint impression. It is tied, with a rush, to the preceding deed.

39 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by William, son of John Matheu, of Rye, to William Taylour and Agnes, his wife, of a tenement near Schytbourglane on the south, the sea-shore on the east, and the King's highway on the west. Witnesses, Thomas Taylour, Mayor, Henry Goldzeve, Benedict Cely, Richard Baddyng, Stephen Andreu, John Salerne. The seal, broken, represents a dragon, apparently.

40 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas Taylour and John Ivory, Wardens of the work and lights of the church of St. Mary at Rye, to John Osborn and Sarra, his wife, of a place of land lying at the Haltone, near to the tenement formerly of Alexander Kittay, the place formerly of Simon Lukke, and the tenement late of John Yevogod; for a yearly rent of 6d. sterling. In witness whereof, they have obtained the common seal of the vill to be set thereto. Witnesses, Richard Baddyng, Mayor, William Taylour, Henry Goldzeve, Stephen Andrew, John Crabb, Robert the Clerk. A fragment of the old town seal is left.

41 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Richard Baddyng and Joan, his wife, to William Taylour and Agnes, his wife, of three vacant places, near the messuages of John Wotteghe, Adam Persone, and Henry Kyttey; which came to the said Joan after the death of Walter Bechyn-denne and Dame Joan Rossel, her mother; at a yearly rent of 4 pence halfpenny farthing, and one red rose, to be paid at the Nativity of St. John the Baptist. Witnesses, Henry Goldzeve, Benedict Cely, John Ivory, Stephen Andrew, Stephen Eliot. The seal of Richard is nearly complete, but with the impression almost effaced; of the seal of the Community of Rye, appended on behalf of his wife, a portion is broken away.

41 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Robert de Hethe and Alice, his wife, to Roger Geffray, of West Mallyngge, and Margaret, his wife, of a messuage in Rye, situate between the tenement late of William and Matildis Pykfilrle and the land of the Hospital of St. Bartholomew. Witnesses, Richard Pak, Nicholas Smyth, Thomas Stakyndenne, William Brekstone, William Walram. The two seals are in fair preservation; that of Alice being a lozenge intersected by another.

45 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas Taylour and Joan, his wife, to John Otringham and Agnes, his wife, of a place which he acquired of Matthew Torold and Juliana, his wife, near to the place of John Otringham, late of Stephen Russel, and his own place, lately belonging to Stephen Polchestre, and to the land late of John Callere; also, another place, near the place late of Alice Raulyn; at a yearly rent of 6s. 8d. His own seal, and, for greater security, the seal of the Commonalty of Rye, is set thereto. Witnesses, John Ivory, Mayor, William Taylour, Laurence Courboile, John Salerne, Robert Bernehand, Stephen Eliot, Robert Bocher, John Crabbare, Robert the Clerk. The seal of Thomas Taylour is perfect, a shield charged with a crescent, and, apparently, two swords crossed; that of the "Community"—the old seal—is much broken: it is the last instance in which it appears; the matrix (a fine work of art) was probably lost when the town was plundered, five years after this, by the French.

CORPORATION OF RYE.

45 Edward III. Grant by William Tailleur, to Thomas Donne and Margery, his wife, of a place of land which Thomas Horsman formerly held of him, situate near to the place [vacant space] of John Potyn; at a yearly rent of 3s. "Given at Rye, on Sunday, the Feast of St. Bartholomew the Apostle." Witnesses, John Ivory, Laurence Curboyl, John Salerne, Stephen Eliot, Stephen Andrew, Simon Lonsford, John Otringham, Clerk. The seal, a shield of iron-heater shape, is very similar to that of Thomas Tailleur, just described, but with a much worn impression.

45 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by John Peytevyne, of Wynchelse, to William Passelewe, son of John, of the vill of Rye, and Isabel, his wife, of 2s. out of 7s. of yearly rent which they were wont to pay him, for a tenement formerly of John Callere of Rye, near the tenements of John Vox, Walter Scherman, and Thomas Tailleur. Witnesses, William Taylour, Mayor, Thomas Tailleur, Bailiff, Laurence Courboille, John Yvori, John Salerne, Laurence Taverner, Symon atte Wode, Robert Bucher. The impression on the seal is the letter E, surmounted by a crown.

46 Edward III. Release (in Latin) by Richard Marchamme and Odierna, his wife, to Stephen Andrew and Joan, his wife, of the piece of land which they had lately of the gift of the said Stephen and Joan, formerly belonging to Richard Shipman, near the tenements of John Crabbare and Robert Spicer, and that of Stephen Eliot. There are no witnesses to this deed; the seals of Richard Marchamme and of the vill of Rye, appended at the request of Odierna, have disappeared.

46 Edward III. Release (in Latin) by John Crabber and Agnes, his wife, to Stephen Andrew and Joan, his wife, of a piece of land near that of William de Idenne, and that late of Robert Spicer, "Given at Rye, on Sunday in Mid Lent." Witnesses, John Ivory, Mayor, William Tailleur, Thomas Tailleur, Laurence Curboyl, Robert Bernhand, Stephen Elyot, Robert Bocher, Simon de Lonsford, John Otringham. The seal of John Crabber, apparently, two branches of a tree, with a bird, is in fair condition; the seal "of the Community of the vill of Rye," procured to be set thereto by Agnes, has disappeared. The deed is still tied, with the original rush, no doubt, to the preceding deed.

46 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by Stephen Eliot, to Robert Bocher and Benedicta, his wife, of a piece of land in Rye, near to the land of Lenelesham, and the land lately belonging to Robert Bocher the elder; at a yearly rent of 2s. Witnesses, John Ivory, Mayor, Thomas Tailleur, Laurence Courboille, John Wettigh, Simon atte Wode, Robert the Clerk. The seal, originally with a fine impression of a decorated cross and flag, is in fragments.

48 Edward III. Indenture of grant (in Latin) by William Tailleur the elder, to John Berlelot and Joan, his wife, of a place between that late of Alice Bowfrount and the highway, and near to the site of his mill, and the land late of William Maghefeld; at a yearly rent of 22d. "Given at Rye, on Sunday the Octave of Easter." Witnesses, Thomas Tailleur, Mayor, Laurence Curboyl, John Salerne, Simon Lonsford, Stephen Elyot, Robert Bocher, John Otringham, Clerk. The seal is perfect, representing 4 branches of palm or fir meeting in form of a cross.

48 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by William Tailleur the elder, to Stephen de Wye, butcher, and Alice, his wife, of a place near to the selds (open sheds) of Reginald Bocher and Richard Whyte, and to "the Market-place of our Lord the King," on the north, and the grave-yard of the church of St. Mary, on the south, at a yearly rent of 4s. Witnesses, Thomas Tailleur, Mayor, Laurence Curboyl, John Salerne, Simon Lonsford, Robert Bernhand, Stephen Elyot, John Otringham, Clerk. The seal is whole, but the impression on the shield is effaced. Is tied with a rush to the deed next mentioned.

48 Edward III. Release (in Latin) by Robert Stonehurst to William Tailleur the elder, of all his right in a place near to the selds of Reginald Bocher and Richard Whyte, and to the Market-place and the grave-yard of the church of St. Mary. Witnesses, John Salerne, Laurence Curboyl, Reginald Bocher, Robert Bocher, Richard Marchant, John Otringham. The seal, as above, four palm branches meeting in the centre, is in fair condition.

48 Edward III. Release (in Latin) by Thomas Tailleur to William Passelewe, of his right in a piece of land lying in the marsh called "Padihamesmerch," which the said William to ferm let to William Tailleur, his late father. Not attested; the seal is lost.

50 Edward III. Grant (in Latin) by William Whyting and Isabel, his wife, daughter and heir of Henry Kittay, to Robert Flemmyng and Matildis, his wife, of a place near the land late of John Janeman, and the land of the community called "Le Haltone," and the land of John Osbarne and of the heirs of William Tailleur; at a yearly rent of 4s. On behalf of Isabel, the seal of the Community of the town of Rye has been set thereto. Witnesses, Simon Lonsford, Mayor, Richard Baddyng, Thomas Tailleur, John Salerne, Laurence Curboyl, Stephen Elyot, John Otringham, Clerk. William's seal, the same as that of Thomas Baker, described under the 37th year of this reign, a man blowing a horn, still exists; that of the town is lost.

1 Richard II. Release (in Latin) by Thomas Taylour, to William, his brother, and Joan, his wife, of his claim in the lands which he had of the gift of William Taylour, his father, in the parish of Idenne; as also, his share in all lands and tenements similarly received in Sussex and Kent. As his seal is unknown, the seal of the Mayoralty of the vill of Rye is set thereto. Witnesses, Simon Lonsford, Reginald Portysmowthe, Robert Londoneys, of Wynchelse, Reginald Bocher, Peter Bocher, Richard Whyte, Stephen Elys. The seal of the Mayoralty is in good condition, and this is the first time it appears; being used in place of the seal of the Community, probably, now lost.

3 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by John Osborn to Richard Eldrych and Alice, his wife, of that place which he had acquired of the Wardens of the works and lights of the church of St. Mary at Rye, lying upon La Haltone, at a yearly rent to the said Wardens of 6d. Witnesses, Simon Lonsford, Mayor, John Salerne, Laurence Courboille, Stephen Elyot, John Crabbare, Robert Bocher, Robert Aleyn, Clerk. The seal is perfect, but with a faint impression; apparently, a female holding a flower.

4 Richard II. Grant by indenture (in Latin) by John Erby and Juliana, his wife, of Wynchelse, to John Burgoyne, of the same, and Margery, his wife, of a pigstie of a place of land at La Trecherie, below the cliff of the said town, near to the places of Robert Londoneys and Michael Strodman, and towards the Salt Marsh; at a yearly rent of 12 silver pennies. "Given at Wynchelse, on Sunday after the Feast of St. Lucy the Virgin." Witnesses, Robert Londoneys, then Mayor, Simon Salerne, Henry Cele, Henry Hokere, Thomas Robinhood, William Hobelyn. The two small seals, in green wax, are still attached.

8 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by Alard Smythe, of La Rye, to Peter Rede, of Dovor, of all his lands and property, moveable and immovable. "These being witnesses," then a blank. A fragment only of the seal is left, and no consideration is mentioned. This Alard Smythe is mentioned in the Fescamp document, relative to the ransom of prisoners, before mentioned.

8 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by Richard Hefdrop and Alice, his wife, to John Eadmund, and Robert and John, his sons, of 1½ acres of land in the parish of Odmere, of the tenure of Brede, lying between the King's highway, called "Couperesstrete," to the east, and land called "Fyssheltre," to the west, and near to a place formerly belonging to Lorchon Thomas, to the north. Witnesses, John Monte, Stephen Wytte, John Wymond, Luke Wytte, John Edestone, William Wytte. The two seals are nearly perfect, one with fanciful devices, but indistinct.

8 Richard II. Grant indented (in Latin) by Thomas Tailleur, to Robert Holstok and Agatha, his wife, of a place near to the Market of Rye, and near the place held by Thomas Prestone of John atte Wode, and that of Robert Bocher: such place formerly belonging to John Pikestrawe; "which I recovered by award," according to the ancient law of the vill; at a yearly rent of 6s. 8d. Witnesses, Robert Dyn, Mayor, John Marchame, William Bleseworthe, Walter Dissour, Robert Beregrove, Clerk. The seal is almost perfect, with a faint impression of a shield.

9 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by John Moryng, called "Dragener," to John Bertelot and Robert Beregrove, Clerk, of his lands and tenements, rents and services, in the vill of Rye. Witnesses, John Marchame, Mayor, Stephen Elyot, John Macop, John Corveiser, John Carpenter. The seal, broken, is still attached.

13 Richard II. Grant by indenture (in Latin) by Isabel Batot, of Wynchilse, and John Lamsyn, her son, to William Flecher, of Rye, and Isabel, his wife, of a messuage without the North Gate of Rye, near to the land of Robert Wayte, and the land called "Kyngia-

CORPORATION OF RYE.

CORPORATION OF
RYE.

" wysshe," and the garden of William Hereward; at a yearly rent of 10s. Witnesses, Laurence Lunsford, Mayor, John Baddyng, Bailiff, John Salerne, Stephen Elyot, John Macope, Richard Tichebourne, John Plumpton, Clerk. The two seals are perfect; one of them, very rude in design, represents a soldier with helmet and shield; the other, apparently, a flower with four petals.

14 Richard II. Release (in Latin) by Matildis de Dene, otherwise called "de Berelynde," of the parish of Badlismere, in Kent, to Richard Tichebourne, of Rye, of all right and claim in the lands late had by her of the gift and grant of John de Hastyng, formerly of Prestone, near Canterbury, as they lie at Berelynde, in the parish of Pesemersshe, "of the tenure of Bromsmythe." Witnesses, Richard de Coumbe, John Hoghet, Walter Sextayn, Simon Sote, John Symonde. "Given at Pesemerssh." The seal is partly broken; it represents a church with a spire, surmounted by a cross.

14 Richard II. Acknowledgment (in Latin) by William Barry, "Chevalier," and Joan, his wife, formerly wife of Peter Rede, of Dovorre, and executrix of the testament of the said Peter, of the receipt from Joan, widow and executrix of Thomas Tayllour, by the hands of John Gesebourne the younger, of 25 marks. "Given on Sunday before the Feast of St. Laurence." Of the two seals appended, a fragment of one only, a shield charged, apparently, with six lilies, is left.

15 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by Robert Henghulle, of Favresham, and Mabel, his wife, to William Atevaute, of Rye, and Margery, his wife, of a piece of land within the liberty of Rye, in a marsh called "Seint Marie Croft," near to the common land, and the lands of William Blaisworthe, John Salerne, and Joan, relict of Richard Baddyng. The said Robert thereto sets his seal, "and for greater surety in the premises, 'I the aforesaid Mabel, of my free will, have caused the common seal of the Barons of Rye to be set to these presents, in name of a fine, in testimony of the premises.'" Witnesses, John Baddyng, Mayor, Laurence Lunsford, John Bertelot, Robert Dyn, John Plumpton, Clerk. The grantor's seal is whole, though with a very faint impression; of the seal of the Barons—the more recent one, the matrix of which still exists (this being the first time it occurs) with the Virgin and Child,—only a fragment is left. The earlier seal of the "Barons," occurs till the 45th year of the reign of Edward III.

15 Richard II. Obligation (in Latin), whereby William Londoneys, of the parish of St. Margaret, Canterbury (or, perhaps, Kent), William Pylland, of the parish of Boxle, John Waleys, of Boxle, and John Smyth, of Est Mallyng, "mason," of the county of Kent, bind themselves to John Baddyng, of Rye, to the payment of 120*l.* at the Feast of St. Michael then next ensuing. Three out of the four seals are still attached. The defeasance of this bond, in connexion with some public building, no doubt, is lost.

15 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by Robert Bocher, son and heir of Peter Bocher, to John Macope and Alice, his wife, of a vacant place of land, near to the curtilage late of Luke Coupere, and that late of John Randis, and near to the tenement of the heirs of Richard Hwite, and to that of John Prechil; at a yearly rent of 4*s.* 6*d.* Witnesses, John Salerne, Mayor, John Baddyng, Laurence Lunsford, John Bertelot, John Plumpton, Clerk. The diminutive seal is perfect, 'T' with a cross above it.

A.D. 1392. Copy of a letter of attorney (in Latin), whereby Ralph Repyndone, Parson of the church of Walesby, in the diocese of Lincoln, appoints John de Ivelich, Clerk, his attorney to receive corporal possession, in the Hospital of St. Bartholomew, at Rye, as set forth in letters patent of Richard, then King of England. "Given in the manor of Wodestoke, on the 9th day of October." This is evidently a contemporary copy of the original; to which, as the seal of the said Ralph was to many unknown, the seal of "Master Nicholas Slake, Archdeacon of the church of Welles," was set. To the present document no seal has ever been attached. See under the 19th year of this reign.

16 Richard II. Bond (in Latin) of Richard Bernard, of Rye, to Richard Tichebourne, for 7*l.* 5*s.* 4*d.* A fragment of the seal is left.

16 Richard II. Release (in Latin) by Joan, widow of Thomas Taillour, and Juliana, "daughter and heir of the said Thomas and Joan," to Robert Parker, of their claim to a piece of land called "Ambroysestoune," in the parish of Pleydenne, near to the sea shore on the east, and to the land of Stephen Paulyng, at "Le Grene Oke," on the south, the land of Thomas Gold, on the west, "and the land in which Le Gute lies, to the north." "Given at Pleydenne." Witnesses, Thomas Bone, Thomas Gold, Thomas Peneherst, Geoffrey and Robert Qwyndrelle. The seal is lost.

16 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by John Bakere and Agnes, his wife, to John Waryn, of Pleydenne, of the vacant place which they had of the gift and feoffment of Roger Welle, of Kenertone, in the parish of Rye. Witnesses, William Smyth, Geoffrey Quintrelle, John Newestrete, John Elgod, Thomas Forster, John Salesbury. The single small seal is still attached; it represents, apparently, the letter M.

18 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by William Pashelewe the elder, to William Shypman and Joan, his wife, of a vacant place in the Market, near to the selds [store-houses or sheds, open at the sides] of Robert Bocher, to the south; which place Robert Mustarder held of him, after it was awarded to him by judgment of the Mayor and Jurats. Witnesses, Robert Dyn, Mayor, Henry Portour, Bailiff, Richard Tychebourne, Laurence Lonsforde, John Bertelot, John Maffey, Clerk. The seal, representing the letter W, is broken.

19 Richard II. Letter of attorney (in Latin) by Ralph Repyntone, Clerk, official within the King's household, appointing John Dent his attorney, to ask and receive of John Bowetby, of Rye 7*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*, which he had recovered in the King's Court at La Rye. "Given at Wyndesore, on the 19th day of September." The seal, the impression of which is effaced, has rushes inserted in the wax at the margin. See above under A.D. 1392.

20 Richard II. Release (in Latin) by John Moore and John Mellere, of the parish of Hawekherst, in the county of Kent, to the Mayor and Barons of the vill of La Rye, of all personal actions whatsoever that they may have a right to bring against them. The two seals are lost.

21 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas Langelee, of the vill of La Rye, and Joan, his wife, to John Cotiller, vicar of La Rye, and Robert Dysour, of a tenement situate near to those of Henry Nichol, Laurence Lounceford, and the heirs of John Seward; which tenement the said Joan and John Yonge, "Claryoner," her late husband, had of the gift of Laurence Lounceford and Joan, his wife, daughter of John Yvory. Witnesses, John Baddyng, Mayor, Richard Tychebourne, "Lieutenant," William Asshe, Bailiff, Laurence Lounceford, William atte Vaute, John Hamon, Jurats, John Maffey, Clerk. The seal of Thomas is still attached; that of "the Community of the Barons of Rye," formerly appended in behalf of his wife, is lost.

21 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by William Wodeward, of Playdenne, to Robert Edmund, of Rye, and Margaret, his wife, of a place, with the houses built thereon, between the place formerly of Walter Wykham, and afterwards of John Marchame, and the place of Andrew Crockere, and the land late of John Brok. Witnesses, John Baddyng, Mayor, Robert Dyne, John Langport, Laurence Lounceford, William atte Vaute. The seal is broken, and a fragment only left.

21 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by Peter Reade, of Dovorre, son of Peter, to Richard Tychebourne, of Rye, and Joan, his wife, of the lands and tenements in Rye which Peter the elder purchased of Alard Smyth; at a yearly rent of 8*s.* Witnesses, William atte Vaute, Mayor, William Asshe, Bailiff, John Baddyng, Robert Dyne, John Langeport, John Macop, William Englys. The seal, in red wax, is in fair condition, representing a shield, charged with a fish (probably a dolphin) with waves beneath.

21 Richard II. Letter of attorney (in Latin), whereby Roger Baret appoints John Maffey his attorney, to give seisin to William atte Welle and Richard Chesman, of a tenement situate near to those of the heirs of William Godhewe, of Robert Assendone, and of Robert Dysour, and near the sea-shore, to the south. The seal is whole, but the impression much worn.

22 Richard II. Conveyance (in Latin) by John Radding, Laurence Lounceford, and John Wykham, Wardens of the works of the church of St. Mary in the town of Rye, with the assent of the parishioners, to Robert Dyn, John Langeport, and John Macop, of all lands and tenements, rents and services, belonging to the church, within the liberty of the town, for ever, they appending the seal of their office thereto. Witnesses, William atte Vaute, Mayor, John Hamond, John Bertelot, Walter Englysh, Philip Loonge, William Blayseworthe, John Maffey, Clerk, and others. The seal of the Commonalty of Rye, in almost perfect condition, is still attached; without the galley, as Counter-seal, but with a very diminutive impression of a bird, with expanded wings, on the reverse.

CORPORATION OF
RYE.

22 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by John Salerne, of Idenne, to Richard Tychebourne, of the vill of La Rye, and Joan, his wife, of 4 acres of land upon the highway leading from Le Hole to Woundenepyrre, and adjoining land of Robert Bocher the elder, called "Wellesfelde." "Given at Le Hole, in the parish of Rye." Witnesses, Robert de Echynghamme, John Chytecroft, William Marchaunt, John Aa, John Ellertone. The seal is lost.

22 Richard II. Grant (in Latin) by William Kechynore, of the parish of Idenne, and Juliana, his wife, to Richard Tychebourne, of Rye, and Joan, his wife, of a tenement called "Le Hole," and 3 pieces of land and heath belonging thereto, in Rye, which they had of the feoffment of Robert Bocher, of Rye. "Given at Le Hole aforesaid, on the 4th day of October." Witnesses, William atte Vaute, Mayor, John Baddyng, John Chytecroft, John Salerne, William Mot. The two seals are in fair condition; that of Juliana has the letter J, with a crown above it.

4 Henry IV. Grant (in Latin) by Richard Tychebourne to Robert Onewyn, of his tenement without the North Gate, which he bought of Peter Reede, and of a vacant place bought of William Brekeston, near the lands of John Macop. Witnesses, William Vaute, Mayor, John Langporte, William Longe, John Robert, Philip Longe, William Shipman, Thomas Longe, Clerk. The seal is lost.

4 Henry IV. Letter of attorney (in Latin) given by John Maffey to Richard Dyn and Robert Bocher, of the vill of La Rye, to deliver to Robert Wevere and Juliana, his wife, daughter of the late Joan Spryner, seisin of the moiety of the lands and tenements which the said John had, together with Richard Wyndesore, of the gift and feoffment of the said Joan; according to the force and effect of a certain feoffment made to the said Robert and Juliana. There is a small seal attached, with the figure of a bird.

6 Henry IV. Grant (in Latin) by Joan, widow of John de Leghe, to John Beegyndone, of the parish of Lyde, of a tenement in Rye, near the vacant place of John Baddyng, late Otrynghames, to the east, and the garden of John Bartelot, to the south, and a place belonging to the said Joan, to the west. Witnesses, John Macope, Mayor, William Vawte, Stephen Wy, John Bartelot, Thomas Longe, Clerk. The seal is lost.

7 Henry IV. Grant (in Latin) by Robert Onewyn to William, Lord of Echyngham, Knight, John de Chitecrofte, and William Longe, of all his lands, rents and tenements, within or without the liberties of the Cinque Ports, in Kent and Sussex, except one virgate in Pesexe. Witnesses, the said William Longe, then Mayor, John Langeporte, Robert Dyne, William Vawte, John Macope, John Robert, Richard de Wermyncham, Clerk. The seal and thong are lost.

7 Henry IV. or V. (qu. which). Grant (in Latin) by Robert Kyng, of Wynchelse, to Walter Yong, Richard Tychebourne, Thomas Longe, and John Colot, of all his rents and services, both within and without the Cinque Ports. "Given at Wynchelse." Witnesses, Vincent Vynch, then Mayor of that place, Robert Fyschelake, Bailiff, John Salerne, John Hewe, Thomas Thondyrre, Robert Burgoyne, Thomas Thondyrre the younger, Alan Kentone, John Barbour. The seal, representing a key and initials, is nearly perfect.

10 Henry IV. A very long indenture (in Latin), as to defeasance of a bond for 100*l.* given by William Longe, of Rye, to John Salerne, of Idenne; William Armesby, of Hadle, in Suffolk, and John Avelyn, citizen of London, being likewise bound in a bond for 11*l.* 12*s.* to the said William. "Given at Idenne." Witnesses, John Robert, Thomas Longe, Laurence Mersey, William Shipman, Richard de Wermyncham, Clerk. The small seal, with a faint impression of two letters, is still attached.

10 Henry IV. Lease (in Latin) by John Coteler, Clerk, John Botertok, and John Knight "Cowper," to Stephen de Wy, of an acre of land, which they had of the feoffment and gift of William, son and heir of William Bleseworth, the land lying near to that of William Walpol and of William Vawt; and extending lengthwise from the cave [or vault, "antro"] of the vill of Rye, to the land of the said William Vawt, to the north. Witnesses, William Longe, Mayor, John Macope, Robert Dyne, John Langport, John Robert, Laurence Mersey, Richard de Wermyncham, Clerk. Two of the seals are tolerably perfect, the third is lost.

11. Henry IV. Grant (in Latin) by John Salerne, of Idenne, to John Macope, of a parcel of land without the North Gate, near to the land of John Randys, and the lands of John Roper and William Vawt, at a yearly rent of one peppercorn, at the Feast of St. John the Baptist. Witnesses, William Longe, Mayor, John Langport, William Vawt, Philip Longe, Laurence Mersey, Stephen de Wy, Richard de Wermyncham, Clerk. A small seal, with a cross and globe, and I.S., is attached.

11 Henry IV. Grant (in Latin) by Robert Burgoyne, of Wynchelse, to Robert and Roger atte Gate, of all his land and tenements in Wynchelse. "Given at Wynchelse." Witnesses, William Skele, Thomas Yonge, Saunder Bentley, Richard Snaylham, William Nicholle. It has had no seal attached, and being on paper, is probably only a copy of a deed. It is in a mutilated condition.

11 Henry IV. Grant (in Latin) by John Macope and John Langport, Wardens of the church of St. Mary, and of the works thereof, with the assent of the Mayor and community, to Richard Posterfe, of a messuage near the land late of John atte Leagh, now of Robert Onewyn, and lands late of William atte Nesshe and John Bertlot, at a rent of one peppercorn, payable at Easter. Witnesses, William Longe, Mayor, William Vawt, William Shypman, John Robert, Richard de Wermyncham, Clerk. The oblong seal remains, but the device, on a shield under a canopy, will hardly admit of being deciphered.

11 Henry IV. Grant (in Latin) by Peter Hendenne, of Wynchelse, to John Danyelle the elder, and Robert Holdenne, of the same, of all his lands and tenements in the county of Sussex. Given at Wynchelse. Witnesses, Robert atte Gate, Mayor, Robert Fyslake, Bailiff, John Wottone, William Folde, John Danyelle the younger, Edward Hoppar, John Hoppar. A small seal is attached, in a mutilated state; a chevron can be distinguished, on a shield.

12 Henry IV. Grant (in Latin) by Joan Tychebourne, widow, to John Coteler, Clerk, John Aas, of the parish of Idenne, and William Brym, of a tenement called "Le Hole," and 18 acres of land and heath thereto pertaining, which, with Richard Tychebourne, her late husband, she had of the feoffment of William Kechynore and Juliana, his wife. "Given at Le Hole aforesaid." Witnesses, John de Chytecroft, William Marchant, Philip Trody, William Mot, William Passhelew, John Leneham, William Smyth. A seal, representing a cross and circle, is still attached.

12 Henry IV. Letter of attorney (in Latin) by Joan Tychebourne, appointing William Wodewarde and Stephen Wayt, of Saltecote, her attorneys, to deliver seisin to John Coteler, Clerk, John Aas, and William Brym, of the tenement called "Le Hole," and 3 pieces of land and heath, in the parish of La Rye. "Given at Le Hole," the same date as the preceding. A seal, similar to the preceding one, is attached.

12 Henry IV. Grant (in Latin) by William de Worthe, of the parish of Tenterdenne, to Roger atte Gate, of Wynchelse, and Robert Onewyne, of Rye, of a tenement and 11 acres of arable land, which he purchased of Richard Anery and Thomas, his son, situate on the Denes (Dennas) of Acre and of Heddene; also, 30 acres of land inherited from Agnes, his mother in the same parish, on the Dene of Haukeherst, called "Curtland" and "Nederland;" also, all the lands called "Cornecote," in the tenure [the Court of] of Cornecote. "Given at Tenterdenne, on the 26th day of March." Witnesses, Stephen Adam, William Godday, John Geffe, John William, John Bate, John de Worthe, Stephen Donett. The seal is lost.

12 Henry IV. Grant (in Latin) by William Acdenne, son of Thomas Acdenne, of the parish of Wytreshamme, in the county of Kent, to Robert Onewyn, of the reversion of his lands in the new marsh called "Corboylles-mersch," near Rye, and also in Seyntemarycrofte, near Rye, as well within the liberty thereof as without, with reversion of all the lands called "Lee," in the parishes of Rye and Pesemerache, formerly belonging to John Paulyn the elder. Witnesses, Thomas Longe, Mayor, John Chytecrofte, John Salerne, Robert Oxenbregge, John Schelle, Laurence Mersey, Thomas Langele, Henry Thorne, Geoffrey Cooke. The seal, a large W, is in a mutilated condition.

13 Henry IV. Bond (in Latin) of William Akeden, of Canterbury, to Robert Onewyn, of Rye, in the sum of 40*l.*, payable within the Octave of St. Michael. His own seal being unknown, he has also procured the seal of the office of the Mayoralty of Rye to be set thereto. The latter seal is lost, the former, apparently representing the letter H, still remains. This is tied with string to the preceding deed.

1 Henry V. Certificate (in Latin) by Stephen Thomme, Clement Trevevan, John Wyt, and John Bykynden, "as it is worthy and just with our trusty neighbour in a trusty cause to certify," that John

CORPORATION
OF RYE.

Hodynnette owes to Reginald Page, their "neighbour," of the vill of Redyngge," 6ls. 6d. Their four seals are appended on a thong, one in fair condition, with two objects resembling love-knots, surmounted by a cross.

3 Henry V. Grant (in Latin) by Nicholas Monyn and Alice, his wife, of the county of Kent, to John, their son, of their lands and tenements, rents and services, with the advowson of half the Chantry of St. Nicholas in the church of St. Mary, at Rye, in the vill of Wynchelse, Rye, Pesemersh, Brede, and Udymer, which came to Alice after the death of Agnes, daughter of John Peyteyyn, of Wynchelse. Given at Wynchelse. Witnesses, Roger ate Gate, the Mayor, Vincent Fynch, Thomas Oxebergge, William Werde, Stephen Donet. With two small seals, the impressions partly effaced.

3 Henry V. Power of attorney (in Latin) by Nicholas Monyn and Alice, his wife, to William Blome and Alan Kyntone, to give seisin to John, their son, of all the lands, in Wynchelse, Rye, Pesemersh, Brede, Udymer, or elsewhere, which they had conveyed to him, with the advowson of half the Chantry of St. Nicholas, as in the preceding. With two small seals, as before.

3 Henry V. Grant (in Latin) by Geoffrey Wodeland, of the parish of Odymere, to Thomas Wylles, and Alice, relict of Walter Vynche, of Rye, of land in the parish of Ikelysham, in the place called "Gregge," which Robert Herst had of Vincent de Wodelande, for a term of 12 years: and if they are disturbed in possession thereof, then they shall take in fee simple the two pieces of land called "Fogelysham" and "Kokenham." "Given at Ikelysham, on Sunday after the Feast of our Lord's Epiphany." Witnesses, Stephen Echyn-ton, Robert Tollinstall, Robert Schepherde, Thomas Schepherde, Simon Bayforde. Of the small seal, representing W., a portion is left.

4 Henry V. Acquittance (in Latin) by William, son of Thomas Accdenne, of the parish of Wyztreshamme, of Robert Onewyn, of Rye, for 3l., in part payment of 6l. The small seal attached, representing W, is perfect.

5 Henry V. Indenture (in Latin), stating that whereas Thomas Longe and William Schipman had granted to Richard Londenays, Robert Londenays, and Ralph Kyrkeby, the tenement which they had lately had, of the gift and feoffment of Geoffrey Cooke and Agnes, his wife; yet that it is the will of the said Richard, Robert, and Ralph, that if the said Geoffrey Cooke, or any one in his name, shall pay to them, at the Feast of the Nativity or of St. John the Baptist, next ensuing, 10 shillings, and continued sums of 10 shillings, amounting in all to a sum of 7 pounds 10 shillings, then the said deed shall be held as null. Under certain circumstances, the said Geoffrey is to hold them indemnified against John Vynhawe, his heirs and assigns. Witnesses, Robert Onewyn, Mayor, John Schelle, John Langport, John at Wode, Stephen Wy, William Chaloner, Clerk. The seal, which has a faint impression of a flower, is broken.

6 Henry V. Grant (in Latin) by Agnes, relict of Henry Prichett, daughter and heiress of Robert Strode-man, of Pypesille, to Robert Onwyn, of a tenement in Pypesille, 4 acres, and one grove adjacent. "Given at Pypesille." Witnesses, John Chitecroft, Esquire, John Wymond the elder, John Brooke, William Crowche, John Stefene, William Brook, Roger Courteys, Clerk. The impression of the seal is almost effaced; it represents, apparently, a sort of decorated cross.

7 Henry V. Grant (in Latin) by John Halle, of Ore, Esquire, to Henry Dobyll, of Wytreshame, of the wardship of the lands, and tenements, and person, of Elizabeth, daughter of John Grenewyche, son of Margery Pesyndenne, cousin and heir of Joan, sister of Stephen Paulyn; with the marriage of the said Elizabeth; because the said Joan held lands of him by knight-service in Pette and Farlegh, in Sussex, on the day of her death; in return for a certain sum of money paid. The deed has no witnesses, and the seal is lost.

7 Henry V. Indenture (in Latin), whereby William Caunville grants to Robert Onewyn his lands and tenements, with a yearly rent of 55s., a cock and two hens, which Alice, the late mother of William, received in the parish of Pesemersh. "Given at Pesemersh, the 15th day of March," in the year above-named. The indenture has no witnesses. The seal, a diminutive one, with some straggling letters, is perfect.

7 Henry V. Release (in Latin) by John Edstone the elder, of the parish of Brede, to Robert Onewyn, of Rye, of his right in a piece of land lying near "Le Hole," late of Benedict Andrew. Witnesses, John Shelle, Mayor, William Longe, Thomas Pere, Stephen Langeport, William Mounte, Roger Courteys, Clerk. The seal is lost.

9 Henry V. Grant (in Latin) by John Edstone the elder, of Brede, to Robert Onewyn, of Rye, of the lands, tenements, and rents, called "Pypheneselle," in the parish of Rye, which he had of the gift and feoffment of Robert Webbe. "Given at Pypheneselle." Witnesses, John Wymonde the elder, William Crouche, John Brokke the elder, John Wymonde the younger, William Brokke, Richard Brokke, Roger Courteys, Clerk. The seal is whole, the impression apparently being the letter I.

1 Henry VI. Bond (in Latin) of John Nevow, of Rye, to Robert Taylour, of the same, in 4 marks sterling, payable at the Feast of the Annunciation then next ensuing. The seal, representing the letter N, is still attached.

3 Henry VI. Grant (in Latin) by Robert Onewyne to Henry Dobyll, of Wygtresham, of all those lands called "Portesmothes landes," containing 10 acres of marshland "and susannes (fallows)," formerly belonging to Reginald Portesmothe, and 15 acres of land in Pesemersh, formerly bought of John Grovere, situate on the Dene (Dennam) of Esshwydenam, "Given at Pesemersh, on the last day of September." Witnesses, John Castwysle, Richard Stewne, William Doraunt, of Rye, William Wykyng, Thomas Bosne. The seal is lost.

5 Henry VI. Grant (in Latin) by Thomas Longe to Simon Remys of a parcel of land, with a cellar beneath, in the vill of Rye, situate near the land late belonging to Robert Onewyn, on the east, and the town wall, on the south, and the little lane leading to the wall, to the west; at a yearly rent of one penny. Without witnesses; the diminutive seal is still appended, but the impression is indistinct.

6 Henry VI. Grant (in Latin) by William Batot, of Wynchelse, and Joan, his wife, to Thomas Longe, of Rye, of two parcels of land, with one parcel of water lying between them, in a certain marsh called "Seinte-maryescroft," by a certain wall, leading towards Horlyngdene, and near to the land of the heirs of Robert Onewyne, and that late of Stephen Wy. Witnesses, Thomas Perys, Mayor, William Broughtone, Thomas Langle, John Batot, Walter Stoodham. The small seal, with the impression of the letter I with a crown, is in fair preservation.

7 Henry VI. Grant (in Latin) by Henry Dobyll, of Wygtreshamme, to Joan, widow of Robert Onewyne, of all the land, called "Portesmotheslandes," being 10 acres of marsh land, and the "susanne" [fallow], formerly belonging to Reginald Portesmothe, in the parish of Pesemersh, which he purchased of the said Robert Onewyne; to her for life, remainder to Robert, son of the said Robert Onewyne; remainder to Roger atte Gate, of Wynchelse, if the said Robert shall die without heirs of his body lawfully begotten. "Given at Pesemersh." Witnesses, Richard Stowne, Richard Fowgylle, Richard atte Vanne, John Castwysle. The small seal, in red wax, with the impression of a St. Andrew's cross, is perfect.

9 Henry VI. Release (in Latin) by John Webbe, son of Robert Webbe, to Roger at Gate of Wynchelse, and Robert, son of Robert Taylour, late of Rye, of all his right and estate in the marsh lands and "susannes," which the said Robert Taylour bought of the aforesaid Robert Webbe, in the parishes of Rye, Udymer, and the Manor of Brede. "Given at Gatebergh." Witnesses, Thomas Long, Stephen Langport, Thomas Langle, William Monte, Thomas Estone, John Wymond, Thomas Walcok. The seal is mutilated; it represents, apparently, an animal's head.

10 Henry VI. Grant (in Latin) by Simon Remys to John Yprys, Esquire, of a tenement, with a cellar beneath, and a garden, near the land late of Robert Onewyn, and near the town wall, to the south, and a lane leading from the high street to the wall, to the west. Witnesses, William Broughtone, Mayor, Stephen Bevor, Lieutenant, Thomas Pope, Bailiff, Stephen Langport, Thomas Longe, John Batot, John Gaunther, Richard Baylly. A small seal, a branch of a tree ending in a cross, is appended. No consideration is mentioned in the deed.

16 Henry VI. Demise (in Latin) by Simon Cheyne, Andrew Wychard, and Robert Pecard, to Richard Pusterff and Alice, his wife, of a parcel of land, called "Hetewateris," with a yearly fee-farm rent of 4s. issuing from a messuage late of Walter Fynche; such parcel lying near the land of Stephen Bever and Richard Bayle, and the Chantry land, and the land late of William Warre; which land and rent they had of

CORPORATION
OF RYE.

CORPORATION OF RYE.

CORPORATION OF RYE.

the gift and feoffment of William Cheyne and Alianor, his wife, and of John Warener and Isabel, his wife; at a yearly rent of 12*d*. Witnesses, Richard Essp[icer], Mayor, Thomas Longe, Thomas Langley, Stephen Bever, John Batot, John Sutton, John Sote. The three seals are left, but the impressions of two are effaced; the third, probably of Andrew Wycharde, representing the letter A, surmounted with a crown.

19 Henry VI. Grant (in Latin) by Isabel Hokere to John Cedle, and Joan, his wife, of a tenement and garden without the North Gate, near the garden of Thomas Longe. Witnesses, William Broughtone, Mayor, Thomas Pope, Bailiff, Thomas Longe, John Gaunther (Glover), John Suttone, Richard Bayly, John Parys. The small seal, R, with a crown above it, is perfect.

19 Henry VI. Grant by indenture (in Latin) by Simon Cheyne, Andrew Wycharde, and Robert Pecard, to John Bayle, of a parcel of land, formerly of John Peylond, near the land of Henry Elyassone, late of William Lyon, and near that late of Richard Alrede, and formerly of Henry Pycott; also, near to land of John Bayle, formerly belonging to Brekstone, and near the stone wall of the town, to the north; the said land having been lately had by them of the gift and feoffment of William Cheyne and Alianor, his wife, and John Warner and Isabel, his wife; at a yearly rent of 4 pence. Witnesses, William Broughtone, Mayor, Thomas Pope, Bailiff, Thomas Longe, John Sedley, John Suttone, Richard Bayle, John Comptone, Clerk. The three small seals, in fair condition, are still attached; that probably of Wycharde has a capital A; a second, apparently, a flower; and the third is indistinct.

21 Henry VI. Grant (in Latin) by John Sedley to Richard Bayle and John Bayle, of Rye, of a messuage with a garden and croft, without the North Gate, near the road leading to the spring called "Blykewelle," and adjoining the lands of John Parys, and those of the heirs of John Salerne, and of Robert Taylour, and that of John Ypres, and that late of John Seignour; the same messuage having lately belonged to John Munte. Witnesses, William Broughton, Mayor, Thomas Pope, Bailiff, John Suttone, James Sedley, Richard Canon, William Wayte, John Comptone, Clerk. The seal, with the impression of two keys, is still attached.

21 Henry VI. Release (in Latin) by John Sedley to Richard Bayle and John Bayle of all claim to a messuage by the preceding deed granted to them. Some of the witnesses attest, that are named in that deed, and the name of Richard att Wode is added. The seal is appended, as in the other deed. "Given on the Feast of St. Michael the Archangel." By another deed under seal, attached, the said John appoints James Sedley his attorney to deliver seisin.

21 Henry VI. Indenture of release (in Latin) by Robert Onewyne, otherwise called "Taylour," son of Robert Onewyne, to Richard Putsterffe, of a yearly rent of 2*s*., for a certain "place of land" in Rye. Witnesses, William Broughtone, Mayor, Thomas Pope, Bailiff, John Sedley, John Suttone, Richard Bayle, Richard Canone, John Comptone, Clerk. The seal has the impression of a shield, charged with a chevron, and, apparently 3 mullets. It has the original rush twisted round the thong.

33 Henry VI. Grant (in Latin) by Laurence Dobyll to Thomas Pope, Esquire, of all his goods, live and dead, moveable or immovable, whatsoever and wheresoever; and that this his gift might have full effect, he gave and delivered to the same Thomas, in the name of seisin and possession of all the said goods and chattels, moveable and immovable, one silver spoon. Witnesses, Robert Onwyne, James Sedley, Robert Cocke. The seal is lost.

33 Henry VI. A long deed (in Latin) not attested by witnesses, reciting that whereas Robert Onwyne had, in the 26th year of the same reign, granted to John Fordman, alias Hamond, and Agnes, his wife, his messuage, in Rye, situate near the vacant land belonging to the King, late of Stephen Marchant, and near the town walls and the land of Richard Bailly, at a yearly rent of 2 shillings; he hereby grants to Bartholomew Pollard, William Broune, citizens and grocers of London, and William Wygot, otherwise Somercote, Chaplain, the said rent of 2 shillings, with powers of distress for the same. The seal is lost. This, like various other deeds of this period, was, no doubt, a grant to religious uses.

37 Henry VI. Grant (in Latin), not attested by witnesses, by Robert Unwyne, Esquire, to Robert Dalgrygge, Esquire, Thomas Brasse, "yoman," and John Brigge, "fyssher," of all his goods and chattels, and all his property, moveable and immovable. No consideration is mentioned, and the seal is lost.

6 Edward IV. Deed indented (in Latin), whereby Babilon Graunford, Esquire, Mayor of the vill of Rye, and the Jurats thereof, with the assent of all the community, grant and confirm to Robert Croche a parcel of land on Le Stronde [the Strand], adjoining the land of William Hille, at a yearly rent of 2 shillings. Witnesses, Richard Fineis [Fiennes] Knight, Lord of Daker, Thomas Echyngham, Knight, Lord of Echyngham, Robert Oxenbrugge, Esquire, Thomas Thunder, Mayor of Wynchelse, William Biker, of Brede. This is the counterpart, executed by Robert Croche, and his small seal is still attached. It is endorsed, in an ancient hand "Thys ys the ded of "shoppe of Strond."

24 Edward IV. A deed (in Latin) badly written, whereby Henry Auchier, of Lossenham, in the county of Kent, Esquire, grants to Richard Bayle, son and heir of John Bayle, late of Rye, a yearly rent of 12 pence, arising from a messuage in which the said John lived, "while life was his companion;" such messuage being near the lands of Richard Wynde and William Barneham, and also near to the town walls. The grantee is to pay yearly to the Wardens of the goods of the parish church of St. Mary one penny of lawful English money, to the use of the said church. Witnesses, Adam Oxenbrugge, Mayor, Robert Croche, and Richard Wynde. A small seal, with the impression of, apparently, some animal rampant, is appended.

7 Henry VII. A long deed indented (in Latin), whereby John Floure, of Rye, grants to Richard Brecknoke a parcel of land near the lands late of John Bukherst, now of William Stille and Henry Fletcher; at a yearly rent of 4 pence. Witnesses, William Barnham, Mayor, Stephen Wayte, Thomas Litherlond, John Cheseman, William Estone, Robert Wymond, John Swanne, Common Clerk of the vill of Rye. The seal, of one of the two parties, is apparently intended to represent a shield with a field vert.

7 Henry VII. A deed (in Latin) whereby Edmund Wyble, of Wynchelse, appoints William Estone, of Rye, "Bocher," his attorney to deliver to Adam Oxenbregge, "Gentilman," possession of a tenement of his, in Rye. Part of the small seal, the impression effaced, is still appended.

12 Henry VII. A letter of attorney (in Latin) of Robert Crouche, appointing Henry Stephyne, of Rye, his attorney, to deliver to Clement Adam and John Tyler seisin of the lands and tenements, which, with Thomas Thunder, Richard Davy, of Wynchelse, and Richard Bergrove, Clerk, Rector of the parish church of Snergate, in the Marsh of Romene, John Estone, William Bernan, and Alan Cresserd, of Uherst, in Sussex, deceased, he had had of the gift and feoffment of John Bayle, by deed in the 11th year of Edward the Fourth. The small seal, apparently the letter R, is still appended.

12 Henry VIII. A letter of attorney (in Latin) by the Mayor and Community of the vill of Rye, appointing John Shurley, Esquire, Cofferer of the King's household, and Bailiff of the vill aforesaid, and Nicholas Whyte, their attorneys and proctors, to appear before the King and his Council, and then and there to produce all and all manner of their charters and confirmations thereof, letters patent and close, writs, precepts, ordinances, statutes, acts, and provisions, touching their liberties and privileges, and to claim, prosecute, and defend, the same. A fragment only of the town seal is left.

From the time that the place was plundered by the French in the year 1377, the deeds deposited with the town officials, it will be observed, greatly decreased in number. For some years after that date, but few transfers of lands or houses are recorded; and consequently, the names of the Mayors at this period less frequently come to light than at an earlier date. From the time of Henry the Sixth, the practice of depositing deeds with the officers of the Corporation, gradually fell into disuse. In the great majority of instances, the properties transferred, in the town itself, are only described by their position in reference to the adjoining properties, streets being but rarely mentioned: consequently, the exact locality of them, at the present day, can in but very few instances be identified.

I have, in conclusion, the pleasure of expressing my obligations to C. P. Meryon, Esq., the Worshipful the Mayor of Rye,—by whose desire, in combination with that of the Town Council, this inspection of the Corporation records has been made,—for his courtesy in placing the whole collection at my disposal for the purposes of inspection, and providing me with every possible facility for a thorough examination of the more ancient portion of them. To G. S. Butler, Esqre., F.S.A., my thanks are also justly due, for the useful information he so readily imparted to me, during my visit, in reference to the past history and antiquities of his native town; a subject which, from his intimate acquaintance with it, he has evidently made peculiarly his own; and upon which a very large amount of additional light, it is hoped, will be found to have been thrown, in the columns of the present Report.

CORPORATION
OF
LYDD.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

CORPORATION
OF
LYDD.

THE CORPORATION OF LYDD, KENT.

By the kind favour of the present Bailiff of Lydd, T. M. Bass, Esq., and owing to the good offices of Henry Stringer, Esq., Town Clerk jointly of New Romney and Lydd, I have had the opportunity of making a lengthened examination of such of the earlier archives of this ancient town as are now known to exist. Broadly speaking, they may be divided into Charters, deeds, and volumes.—

The earliest Charter, probably now no longer in existence, was granted by Edward I., bearing date the 12th of February, in the 18th year of his reign [A.D. 1290], whereby he granted that the Barons of Lyde and Ingemareys [now Dengemersh], jointly forming a member of the port of Romenhale [Old Romney], should have the same liberties and free customs as the Barons of Romenhale and the other Barons of the Cinque Ports then had; they finding one ship in aid of the service of five ships due from the Barons of Romenhale, as often as summoned to take part in the King's expeditions. This Charter was confirmed by King Edward II.; but his Charter, like the preceding one, probably now no longer exists.

In the Book of Accounts (fol. 142 b), herein-after more fully mentioned, there is an extract, in a hand of the reign of King Henry VI., from Pleas of Juries and Assizes, holden before Hervey de Stanton and other Justiciars Itinerant, at Canterbury, on the Octaves of St. John the Baptist, in the 6th year of the reign of King Edward II. [A.D. 1313], wherein the said Charters are in part recited, and are then allowed in favour of the Barons of Lyde and Ingemareys. To turn now to the Charters that have survived:—

The earliest Charter now existing, in the possession of the Corporation, is a Charter (in Latin) of Insuperimus and Confirmation, dated at Westminster the 12th of July in the 38th year of Edward III. [A.D. 1364]; confirming the said Charter of Edward I. to the Barons of Lyde and Ingemareys, and granted with the object of rectifying any omission by reason of non-user of the privileges therein granted. The seal, of green wax, is much mutilated; but the Charter has a contemporary painting on it of the arms of the Corporation, a church, with a steeple, joined on to the half of a ship of war.

The next are,—a Charter of 1 Richard II., [A.D. 1378] dated 17th February, and similarly confirming that of Edward I. A part of the Great Seal, in green wax, is left.

An Insuperimus Charter of 13 Richard II., [A.D. 1390] dated 10th of February, confirming a Charter of Edward III., who thereby confirmed a Charter granted to the Cinque Ports in the 26th year of Edward I., 28th of April [A.D. 1298]; and Exemplification thereof, for the men of Lyde and Ingemareys. A fragment of the Great Seal, in green wax, is left.

A Charter of 1 Henry IV., 20th of February [A.D. 1400], confirming the Charter of King Edward I. to the Barons of Lyde and Ingemareys. A fragment of the seal, in green wax, is left.

A Charter of 1 Henry V., 24th of October [A.D. 1413], being a Confirmation of the Great Charter of Edward I. to the Cinque Ports, and extension thereof to the Barons of Lyde and Ingemareys. "Extracted by John Wakeryng [the then Master of the Rolls] and John Thoraby."

A Charter of 2 Henry V., 18th of January [A.D. 1415], in the same terms as the preceding. Some fragments of the Great Seal, in green wax, are left.

Contemporary copy of a Charter, 4 Edward IV., 25th of March [A.D. 1464], of confirmation to the Barons of the Cinque Ports; reciting the rights of the Cinque Ports in the times of Edward the Confessor and William the Conqueror.

Among the town's papers there is a small, round, black leather box, labelled, erroneously, as containing "An Inquisition, taken on the death of a man, by the Bailiff and Jurats of Lydd"; whereas its sole contents are in the shape of a parchment document, dated 1386, bearing reference to a plaint made by the Barons of Lyde to the Prior of Bilsington (in Kent), in reference to the carrying off of some cattle.

There are several Court-Books, and other business books, still existing, belonging to the 15th, 16th, and 17th centuries; the entries in which seem to be, in general, of a formal and comparatively uninteresting character. Among them are some leaves of paper, of folio size, which formerly were part of a Register of plaints in Court, for debt and trespass, beginning in the first year of Henry VIII., A.D. 1509. The grounds of action are in each case stated, but in the most succinct form possible.

The town Accounts, (after a few years called the "Chamberlain's Accounts"), begin near the commencement of the reign of Henry VI.: the earlier portion of them, down to the reign of Richard III., being contained in a quarto paper volume of 185 written leaves, bound in limp parchment, (without much attention to the proper chronological sequence of its contents,) if we may form an opinion from the numeration of the pages then added, about the time of James I. The names of the various Common Clerks, by whose hands the entries were successively made, have been found by me, from internal evidence, to be,—William Ellis, William Leycroft, Thomas Caxton, Robert Lucas, William Nycole, and James Bate. From the following summary of its contents, of which, in all, about one sixteenth part has been here extracted, it will be found that they are of singular interest; and of a nature so peculiar and so diversified, as to shew the great importance, in former times, as a member of the Cinque Ports, attached to the town of Lyde and its fishing station of Denge Ness.—In the earlier part of these entries, the gifts recorded as made by the Corporation to men in office, both great and small, must have absorbed a very large proportion of the revenue derived from the "scots," or rates, and taxes under other denominations, which were being continually exacted. Troops of minstrels, attached to the households of the great, and players from the surrounding country, on their own account, were continually visiting the town, receiving largesse and refreshments, bestowed with no sparing hand. The "Boy Bishop," with his companions, came over from New Romney on St. Nicholas' Day each year, (the church of which had St. Nicholas for its patron Saint), and was rewarded with fees and feasting, on an equal scale of liberality. Candles were kept burning in the Common House, on the nights of the Nativity of John the Baptist (Midsummer Day) and St. Peter's Day. Watchfires were lighted upon the shore ever and anon, straw, reeds, and wood, being carted thither for the purpose. Men were kept on the watch in the church steeple for days and weeks together, to give first notice of the approach of a foreign foe: early notice of "Frenchmen" being now received from, and now sent to, the other Cinque Port towns. Frequently we read of "cries made," or proclamations, at the church-style, as also at the sea-side, at times; often in reference to the necessity of calling in the cattle from the fields, possible marauders being, no doubt, near at hand. Soldiers are quartered upon the town from time to time; broils and "debates" arise in consequence, and, with frank avowal, the bribes are entered in the book which were paid to their officers to get rid of them. The Bailiff and Jurats take refreshment occasionally, while in council, at the Common House, the charges being defrayed out of the town moneys: but, with a commendable simplicity, they are mostly contented with dry bread and a draught of either ale or beer, (a distinction between the two beverages being clearly drawn). Deputations of the Bailiff, Common Clerk, and Jurats, are continually leaving the place, on horseback, for the transaction of the town's business, at London, Dover, Sandwich, or Canterbury; one of such deputations even following Jack Cade to London, with the present of a porpoise; in order, no doubt, to conciliate his favour, in case he should finally get the upper hand. The Lieutenant of Dover Castle sits in session of Court of Admiralty from time to time upon the sea-shore; supper on the one day is duly followed by dinner on the next, and the items of the bill of fare are placed before us. Wrestling-matches appear in these entries; one at Brookland in particular on a Sunday, some members of the Corporation being in attendance, and handsomely rewarding the victor. Proclamations are made against tennis and dice-playing, to induce the youth of the town to turn to bow and arrows, and other manlier recreations. The town guns are continually under repair, or being dragged on sledges to the sea-side, to the Gote (Gut), or to the Ness; indeed, on one occasion the townsfolk turn to making their own gun, and the items of expenditure "Abowte the gunne, the Serpen-

CORPORATION
OF LYDD.

CORPORATION OF LYDD.CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

"tyne" appear in long detail. Items also for equipping and provisioning the townships, supplied to the royal navy from time to time, frequently appear. In accordance with the provisions of the "Customall of Lyde," a thief has his ear nailed to a door, to check his light-fingered proclivities. Pleased with the novelty of the sight, and true to the kindly feeling which in those days was evidently its characteristic, the Corporation bestows 8 pence upon "the man who came through with the dromedary." The incoming Mayor and Jurats were chosen at varying times in the year; though latterly St. Mary Magdalen's Day (22nd of July) seems to have been the time fixed upon for the Bailiff's election. Among contemporary names of the great, those of the Earls of Warwick and Arundel most frequently occur. Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester, Earl Rivers, and the Earl of March, also appear.

In the early part of the volume, there are numerous items as to the building of the "Common House," or place of meeting for the Corporation, a structure built of wood only. Towards the close, however, items appear in reference to the building of a "Court House," a more substantial structure evidently, but now no longer existing. In these times, as indeed down to a recent period, the church tower was surmounted by a steeple; and from some entries in the volume, it would appear that the belfry was a wooden fabric in the churchyard; similar perhaps to the remarkable belfry of that nature still surviving in the neighbouring parish of Brookland. The church bells too are frequently mentioned, and the church organs at times.

To proceed now with extracts of some of the more characteristic passages:—

Apart, and by itself, on the flyleaf of the earliest written portion of the book, there is (in Latin) the following remarkable entry:—"On Thursday, the 17th of August, in the 7th year of King Henry the Sixth [1429], came here Joan, the mistress (concubina) of Thomas Frenshe, Parish Clerk of Lyde, from the side of Dengemershe, being the wife of William Mardone, daughter, as she says, of the late Sir John Hille, Knight, of the county of Somerset, before William Sharley the elder, Bailiff there, and William Bate and other Jurats, and other trustworthy persons [named]; who was examined upon divers matters and charges: which Joan there made oath upon the Book, touching the Holy Evangelists of God, that she would go out of the liberty of the vill of Lyde, and never enter again the liberty aforesaid, nor approach that liberty within 7 miles of the same, on pain of perpetual imprisonment; and so she departed."

Accounts 6, 7, Henry VI. (1428, 9):—These accounts begin, with a Pentameter in Latin:—

"Assit principio Sancta Maria meo." [Here at my outset may Saint Mary be.]—"Given to the players of Romene, who shewed their play here 13s. 4d. For bread, wine, and ale, for the players 5s. 5d. For wine for a valet of the Crown, who brought a letter here 6d. Given to a herbyiour [harbinger, or billet-master,] of the Lord Salysbury, that he might prevent the soldiers from coming hither 8s. 8d. Paid the Vicar, in part payment for the organs 13s. 4d. Paid by the hands of the Jurats of Lyde for drink of the Bishop from Romene, and other men of the same town, who came here with him, on St. Nicholas Day, 4s. 3d." This was the "Boy Bishop," who, in honour of the festival of St. Nicholas, 6th December, yearly visited this town, from New Romney, down to the reign of Richard III., if not later.—"Paid for 3 wyld malardys given to Derell Esquire, when he was here, in name of the commonalty 10½d. For fish given to him 12d. Paid for 2 heryns (herons) for the Seneschal of Dover, in name of the commonalty 14d." The accounts were presented by the Jurats to the commonalty this year on a Sunday, and on the same day the Jurats for next year were chosen: most business transactions, in general, take place on a Sunday, almost throughout the book.

7, 8, Henry VI. (1429, 30).—"Received from Simon Hayton, for a certain rebelliousness in words against the Jurats 10s." Jo Selvyr pays 12d., and Thomas Hykke 5s., for the like offence. The "Common House," or place for Corporation meetings, was being built this year, and this Account is full of the items: it was, evidently, built of wood.—"Paid for bread and ale for the Jurats and commonalty at the muster 10d."—See what is a continuation, probably, of this Account, (fols. 49 and 153 of the volume) in the sequel.

8, 9, Henry VI. (1430, 1).—"Given to the players of Romene, who shewed their play here on Sunday after the Feast of the Nativity of John the Baptist, the Account day 6s. 8d. For their expenses, and those of "others with them, in bread, wine, and bere 2s. 8d. Given to the players of Rokynge [now Ruckinge] shewing their play here, on Saturday after the Feast of Relics [third Sunday after the Feast of St. John the Baptist] 6s. 8d. For a candle burning in the Common House, on the nights of St. John and St. Peter 2d. Paid at Romene, on the Account day, towards the repair of Illesbrege 9d." This was a wooden bridge over the river Rother, about a mile from Romney. The channel of the river has been for centuries filled up; and the site of the bridge is now partly a cornfield. Items for its repair repeatedly occur in this book.—"Paid the minstrels of the Duke of Gloucester, when they came here, as a courtesy 6s. 8d." This item occurs yearly, down to the time almost of Humphrey's death.—"Paid Andrew Heyne, for riding to Sandwich, to get a Clerk there for the Parish of Lyde 2s. 6d." In place probably, of the delinquent, Thomas Frenshe, already mentioned.—"Paid the ship's cook, for his labour 3s. 4d." The ship which the people of Lyde were bound to supply, as their contribution to the King's navy. In every year's account, also, mention is made of payment of the "fifth penny," which the town had to pay as a member with New Romney, which contributed to the Crown the other four fifth parts of a sum assessed, towards the expenses of the navy.—"Paid the relict of Honywode for the expenses of the herbyiour [harbinger] of the Lord Marshal of England 12d. To the relict of John Thomas, for a swan given to the Seneschal of Dover 3s. 4d. To William Bate, for a bulloke for the ship 18s. Paid for a letter from Dovorre to arrest the men who came from beyond sea, without leave and without billets, and for crying the same 5d. Paid the Vicar on the old debt for the organs 6s. 8d. Given to Janyne the Pursuivant [le Pursewan] of Sir Elias Lynot, as a courtesy 21d. For a pair of bellows for the Common House 8d. Expenses upon the Seneschal of Dovorre in the house of the relict of John Honywode 8s. 6½d. Fish sent and given to the Lieutenant of Dovorre, for having his friendship 2s. Rushes for the Common House, against the Feast of St. John the Baptist. For 2 heronseyws [heronshaws, or young herons] sent to the Seneschal of Dovorre 18d. To William Bate, for cheese bought of him for the ship, last year 3s. 4d."

9, 10 Henry VI. (1431, 2).—"The Jurats of this year lent Thomas Dygone [probably the person elsewhere called 'Thomas Box'] 5 marks from the common purse, when going to the Northsee, and he repaid the same well and trustily, and paid as increase thereon 7s. Given as a courtesy to the minstrels of the Lord of Gloucester, when here on Saturday before the Feast of St. Margaret.—For making the trendille of wax 6s. 8d." The trendille was probably a wheel, or corona, used in the church, with wax candles on it.—"Expenses of the Jurats in the house of Thomas Bate 4d. For a swan from Richard Clement, and for wilde fowle, sent to the Seneschal of Dovorre, for having his friendship 2s. 5d."—The horse and the man, carrying the swan and "wilde fowle," cost 1s.—"Expenditure by the hands of Stephen Lestell and Robert Williams, upon the voyage of our Lord the King, coming from Calais to England, from Thursday before the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary to Tuesday before the Feast of St. Valentine the Martyr.—First, for a ship for that voyage 23s. 4d. Pay of 7 sailors 26s. 8d."—The items are continued at further length; the vessel so hired being part of the King's escort. The vessel was hired at Redinge (a place near Tenterden); William Broker received 1s. for hiring it, and it lay at the Camber; a name which seems then to have been given to the coast extending between Lydd and Winchelsea; (the "Camber Farm" still exists, near Lydd).—"Spent for bread, wine, and ale, given to the Bishop of St. Nicholas, from the vill of Romene 5s. 7d. For one plays [plaice] sent to the wife of Richard Ildeshalgate by the Jurats 4d. Given to the players of Romene, on the Eve of the Apostles Peter and Paul, shewing their play here 6s. 8d."

10, 11 Henry VI. (1432, 3).—"For wine given to John Shelley, on the day of St. Margaret the Virgin, for having his counsel 6d. Paid Cokke, the symthe, for ironware for the Common House 3s. 4d. Expended upon the Seneschal and Ralph, and their servants, being here on the Feast of St. Michael the Archangel, for having a verdict upon an inquest of the Admiralty: first, for meat 23d. For wyld fowle and one capone 11d. For fish 5d. For bread, ale, and fuelle, and the horsés dinner 4d. For spices, the cook, and the wydders [of the spit] 7d. For a quart of sweet wine 8d. Paid for meat for the Lieu-

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

"tenant of Dovorre when here at supper, on Corpus Christi Day 2s. 4d. Bread 19d. Wine 5s. 8d. Ale 2s. Three capons 15d. Spices 6d. Wood, vinegar, and milk 5d. Sending the horses of the Lieutenant from the Camber to Lyde, and back again 10d."—to return to Dover by sea.—"For letyr for the horses 4d. Paid the cook and the servants, for their trouble 8d. Paid the pagis [pages] for watching the Lieutenant's horses here, when he was at Wynchelse 20d. Paid for 4 herynsewys [heronshaws] sent to the Seneschal of Dovorre in the name of the community, and for carriage of them 3s. 4d. For the man's trouble, who took them 6d. On the Day of Saint Anne, the mother of Mary, in the 11th year of King Henry VI., the Jurats lent out of the common purse to William Bate, of Lyde 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ d.; for which sum John Baker and William Melale bind themselves, their heirs, and executors, and all their goods, wheresoever they may be found, to pay the same to the said Jurats, upon a fortnight's warning, without any delay."

11, 12 Henry VI. (1433, 4). "Given to the Common Serjeant of the vill of Romene, as a courtesy ['curiositate' is the word generally used in this sense] 4d."—Fish, 3 herynsewys, and a swan, are also sent to the Seneschal of Dovorre, "in the name of the Commonalty."—"Expended on the minstrels of the Duke of Gloucester, on the 17th of July 17d. For candles burning in the Common House on the night of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist 1d."

12, 13 Henry VI. (1434, 5).—"Expenses upon the Lord of Crowthorne when here at Lyde, on the day of St. Mary Magdalen.—Bread 8d. Wine 4s. 1d. Meat 11d. 2 capons 14d. Fish; 2 plaice 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. Paid Richard Hamone for one plaice 3d. Richard Jan for one plaice 2d. For spices 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. Powdered ginger 2d. For fuel —. Given as a courtesy to the minstrels of the Duke of Northfolk, when here on the Feast of All Hallows 5s. Paid for the expenses of Thomas Wynday and others who were at Romene on the day of St. Nicholas the Bishop, at the Brodhill there 1s. For fish given to the Lieutenant, when sitting at Romene for the Admiralty 11d. For one potel of sweet wine, given to the Lieutenant and Seneschal, when they came from Wynchelse 6d."

13, 14 Henry VI. (1435, 6).—"Paid by the hands of William Smyth, in the name of all the Jurats, for one breakfast ['jantaculo'] given to the Seneschal of Dovorre and the Common Clerk there, for having their friendship in a case touching the community of Lyde, in the month of August etc. 5s. 4d. Paid for the expenses of nine Jurats and the commonalty, riding to the Archbishop of Canterbury, for the matter of John Dyne, who beat Sir William Loue, late Vicar of the church of Lyde, which John was put in the stocks 2s. 9d. Paid to William Leycroft, the Common Clerk, going to Rome, for his salary for half a year, with leave of all the Jurats and the commonalty asked and obtained, who began his journey on Monday after the feast of our Lord's Epiphany 13s. 4d."—Immediately after this entry, Leycroft being now absent, the hand changes in which the entries are made.—"Allowed John Galwey for 4 heronsewys given to the Lieutenant 2s. 8d. Paid expenses on the day of muster, that is, for 2 days 15d. Paid expenses at Wynchelse, for hiring a ship 5s. 4d." Among the stores for the ship are:—"Butter bought for the ship 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. One cheese [casu] for the ship 9d. Dishes and platris, and one bolle [bowl] for the ship 6d. To 2 men working at the ship on Rogation Day 8d. For one tabilcloth bought for it 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. Paid the herbyjour of the Earl of Saresbery, when here 3s. 8d. Paid the minstrel of William Warbilton, when he was here 6s. 8d. Expended upon the Lieutenant, on St. Barnabas' Day; first for meat 12d. For chekyns 6d. Bread, ale, and fuelle, 18d. 3 potelles of wine 10d. On the Tuesday following, for a supper to the Lieutenant; first, for bread 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. For ale 18d. Wine 12d. Meat 20d. Chekyns 4d. Fish 2d. Spycerie 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. Oats 6d. Hay and litere 3s. 4d. A table for 3 men 14d. Expenses incurred by Thomas Wynday: first, a pipe of sithir [cider] 9s. Carriage thereof 9d. Half a pipe of cider 5s. Bread and ale 1d. Fish 2d. Fuel for tallowing the ship 3d. Garleke and onyns 2d. For writing this account for the half year 4s. 6d. Paid for expenses incurred upon Roger Twissyn den, in the matter of Nicholas Shallwell 21d."

14, 15 Henry VI. (1436, 7).—"Paid a man for bringing a letter here from the King, for shipping to watch the sca 5d. Paid to John the Pursewan for carrying to Dovorre Castle an answer on the matter aforesaid 20d. Paid for 2 horns bought for the wachemen 3s. 4d. Expended upon Horne, bailiff of the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, when he was here on the matter of Shalwell 7d. For a potelle of wine given to William Sevaunte Esquire, for having his friend-ship 4d. To a man for carrying a letter hither from Dovorre Castle, for the King of Portogale; and for expenses upon him, and for 2 cries made for the King 6d. Richard Glover paid, by appointment of the Jurats, for expenses incurred upon the auditours, the croysour [crozier, or cross-bearer], and clerk of the kitchen, of the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, when here, 21d. For bread and ale, when the Jurats sat on the Rype, to view the mustour 7d. For a letter sent here to arrest ships, for crossing over to Flanders 5d. The same Richard Glover paid for expenses at Canterbury, when there with the Lieutenant of Dovorre to excuse this town from the voyage, on passing over into Flanders 7s. 6d. Given, as a courtesy, to Thomas the Clerk of Wynchilse, when here on the day of the dedication of the church, and throughout the week 20d. Lent to the fabric [or woodwork] of the new belfry 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ s. 6s. 8d."

15, 16 Henry VI. (1437, 8).—"Paid Thomas Wynday for 2 lodys of ryse [twigs] bought for the tynnyng [dividing] of the bassels [butts] 2s. 8d. Paid the expenses of all the Jurats when they were together, when the soldiers made the bate [dispute] with Thomas Hugheyne 13d. For a gallon of wine, given to the knight [militi] who was in the house of James Ayllewyne, at his supper, that we might have his friendship 8d. For another gallon of wine, given to the knight who was in the house of Thomas Atte Bregge, and other expenses upon him 19d. For another gallon of wine given to the said knight, and to the esquire of the Earl of Warwick, in the house of James Ayllewyne 8d. For the pay of the wardemen and expenses incurred upon them, when they watched for the soldiers aforesaid 2s. 10d. Expenses incurred by Thomas Atte Bregge and Richard Glovere, when at Wynchilse, for two days, with the Earl of Warwyke, to get a discharge for the soldiers, that they might pass out of this town 4s. 6d. Given to the harbyjour [harbinger, or billet-master] of the Lord Earl of Warwyke, coming here from Wynchilsee the first time, to make cry here, that no soldier was to take anything without well paying for it, and to see as to the bate [dispute] that was here between the men of this town and the soldiers 6s. 8d. Given as a courtesy to the trumpet, the clerk, and the valet, of the same harbyjour 3s. Given to the esquire of the knight who was in the house of James Ayllewyne, that he might pass on to Wynchelse, for the said harbyjour to come here 3s. 4d. Given to the said harbyjour of the Earl of Warwyke, for his pains, when he came here to discharge the soldiers 6s. 8d. To the clerk of the herbyjour, as a courtesy, 2s. To the valet of the same herbyjour, as a courtesy 8d. Expended on the supper of the said herbyjour, the same night 5d. For dinner and supper of the herbyjour and his servants 20d. For the paper bought for making belettes 1d. Paid for peace being made between the town of Lyde and the soldiers, and for the debate [strife] between this town of Lyde and those soldiers, by ordinance of the same Earl and Sir Andrew Hogard, Knight 20s. Paid for expenses upon the men of Romene, when they shewed here the sports [probably, wrestling] on St. Matthew's Day 14d. Paid the Common Clerk of the town of Romene, who brought a letter for the rescue of the Castle of Gynys [Guynes, near Calais] 6d. For the dinner of a man going over to the Ness [Dengeness], to cry and shew the same letter to the fishermen there 2d. To Robert Glovere, for riding to the Lieutenant at Dovorre, for him to excuse the town of Lyde from the voyage for the Castle of Gynys 5s. For wine given to John Derelle, when he came here for the goods of the Vicar of Newechirche, arrested here 6d. Expended on the Lieutenant, when here on Wednesday before the Feast of St. Margaret, and for the expenses of a Queste [Inquest] before him the same day, of 18 men:—For bread 3s. 4d. Ale 2s. 6d. Beer ['birra', as distinguished from 'cervisia'] 2s. 6d. Wine 2s. 7d. Meat 2s. 8d. Capons 18d. Spices 9d. Fish 2s. 1d. Oats 4s. 10d. Hay 2s. 4d. Paid the cook for his trouble 6d. For wood 5d. The turnspit 2d. Butter and eggs 4d. Salt, vinegar, and washing the cloths, 6d. Paid a woman for cleaning the vessels, 2d."

16, 17 Henry VI. (1438, 9).—"Expended upon the commonalty of Lyde, and on the men of the town of Romene, when here on the morrow of St. Laurence,

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

CORPORATION OF LYDD.CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

"when the fray was at Promhill 3s. 4d. Paid for sending back a returne to Dovorre Castle of a letter sent here for Geoffrey Hasilwode, a poor man 20d. Expenses upon delivery of grain to the poor at the Feast of Christ's Nativity 6d."—Mention is made of gifts of corn to the poor, yearly, at Easter and Christmas, almost down to the end of the book—temp. Richard III. The "minstrels [mimi] of the Duke of Gloucester" visited the place twice, according to the Account of this year, in August and the following July. 17, 18 Henry VI. (1439, 40).—"For samone and salt fish that was bought for a Queste of 18 men, being at Romene before the Lieutenant of Dovorre 3s. 2d. For one turbutte and mullettes bought 7d. Expenses incurred in obtaining 4 eels given to the Lieutenant there, at the same time 14d. For 2 turbuttes given to him there 12d. Given to a certain clerk of the Lady of Bukholte, who came here, being sent by her to be Parish Clerk 3s. Paid for one cunghur [conger] given to the Lady of Eochingham 2s. Paid for wine given to the steward of the Archbishop of Canterbury, when here at Lyde, to have his friendship 2s. Paid a clerk for warning the poor as to the grain to be given and delivered to them at Easter 3d. Expenses incurred at Dovorre, upon an inquisition there about the alyons who were here; the Constable and Common Serjeant being then there, 2s. 4d. Paid a man who carried a letter from Dovorre for the money of the alyons, 4d. Expenses of the Common Serjeant carrying up that money to Dovorre 9d. For hire of a horse to Dovorre, when the money of the alyons was carried thither 8d."—After this date, charges for carrying the aliens' money to Dovorre, repeatedly occur: the object being, no doubt, that it might not be employed in the purchase of shipping, or other materials, to the public detriment.—"For 3 herynsewys [heronshaws] sent and given to the Seneschal of Dovorre and Ralph of Le Chekkere [the Exchequer], for having their friendship for the town 2s. Paid Thomas Jan, for 13 lb. of wax bought for the trendylle 8s. 8d. Paid the same Thomas for making the said trendylle 2s. 6d. To William Leycroft [Common Clerk] for composing this account 4s." 18, 19 Henry VI. (1440, 1).—"Given to a man who was a prisoner, from Wynchilse, passing through all the Ports, for the pety raunsone 8d."—a prisoner collecting the ransom money, which he had engaged to pay.—"Expended here upon the said prisoner 7d. Given to the players of Wytesham, shewing here their play, in the month of June 6s. 8d. Given to the players here from Romene 6s. 8d. Expenses incurred upon the players, in the house of James Ayllewyne 4s. Paid for one 'sifta' [? cup] for the common house, bought of Henry Lucas 15s. For drink for the Jurats, when they sat together 5d. Given to the players from Herne, shewing their play here 7s. Paid for hire of a horse to carry to the Seneschal of Dovorre one cowpull of senetys [cygnets] sent to him, for having his friendship 8d." 19, 20 Henry VI. (1441, 2).—"Expenses incurred upon Wraby, cross-bearer of the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, when here 3s. 4d. Paid to William Lestell, going over to Crotay 3s. 4d. Given to a man, who brought hither one bucke, sent by the Archbishop of Canterbury to the men of Lyde 20d. For spices bought for baking the same bucke 6d. For the baking of it 4d. Paid to John Fermour for a letter from Dovorre Castle, for the expedition to Crotey, 4d. Paid the same John for carriage of the things to the Camber, of the men who were chosen for the expedition to Crotey 8d."

The following is the next Account, on the same leaf as the preceding one; four years being here omitted, some of which will be noticed in the sequel:—

24, 25 Henry VI. (1446, 7).—"For red wax for sealing an acquittance by the men of a ship of Hulle, for the town 1d. For the expenses incurred about Richard Clitherowe, Esquire, and by the Jurats of this town, he being Commissioner of our Lord the King, for goods lost in the sea by the Bishop of Chichester 4d. For wildefowle sent to Neteham, Clerk of Dovorre Castle, to have his friendship about the said matter of Richard Clitherowe 7d. For the expenses of Richard Aleyn and his horse, riding to the said castle, to obtain advice that the said Richard Clitherow was not to sit here; and he did not, 8d. Paid Stephen Elys an old debt, on the voyage of the Lady Isabel, Queen of England 16d."—This debt must have been owing more than 40 years.—"Paid William Melale, late Constable of this town, for a letter coming for the Shepway to be held by the "Duke of Gloucester; which was not held by him, 4d. For one cowpull of frankyd swannys sent to our Lord the Archbishop of Canterbury, he then being and lying at Maydenstone, to have his friendship for the whole of the town 8s. Also, paid for ledying up of the same cowpull, and for a nothir cowpull sente to hym 4s. 4d. Given to a minstrel of Sir James Say, being at Lyde 3s. 4d. Paid for making the buttys against the day for play 9s. 2d." The later part of this Account is entered wholly in English, for the first time; it being largely occupied with,—"The expenses made by the steryng [stirring] of Sir Andrew Ayllewyn agaynys the towne." This "Sir Andrew" was the late Vicar of the town: one of the long items runs thus:—"Also, the forsaide Sir Andrew procuryd that William Bette was arestyd in Londone, as we suppose, for 2 thousand marke, for the Archedekyns Official sware ther that the Archedekyn of Canterbury ne he knew not therof. The costes and expensia at that tyme made for counsell to be had for to have the feturs of yrone of his leggis, and for [to] come out of prisone, comyth to 40s. And the saide prisone-ment [made] grete harme and scathis to the towne." Another explanatory item is as follows:—"And also, the sayd maynetenours that caused this good soo to be spendid awaste, sayn and enformyth the comyns that the suorne man toke a false quarell; the whiche shulde desire Maistur William Habbenge, and none other, for her Vykerie. Whereto we say and reporte us upon the bille of peticyon putte to oure Lord of Canterbury, that we desired a Vicare here resident. And nought only him, but if the lawe wolde geve hit hym, to the whiche we mygte not say nay by right if the lawe wille yeve hit hym."—This does not seem very intelligible.—"Also we, sworne men, certifie you comyners, that this forsaide goode hadde never be spendid ne witholde, made be Sir Andrew and his mayntenance beyng in this towne. For we reporte us to the most parte of you, that we wolde nevyr have goo owte of towne therefore, made we be compelled ther too, that we mooste nedys doo hit." 25-27 Henry VI. (1447-9).—"For expenses incurred at London, when William Smyth and Thomas Jan were there, and at Croydon, before the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, on the 1st of August 23s. 4d. Given to the minstrels of the Lord de Say (Constable of Dover Castle) as a courtesy, when here at Lyde, 2s. For the carriage of one cowpull of swans to Dovorre, given to Ralph Toke, Mayor of Dovorre, to have his friendship for the town, paying for the horse 8d. For the carriage of 2 cowpull of swans, given to Gervase Clifton, Lieutenant of Dovorre Castle, to have his friendship to the town 4d. For oats given to the swans by Richard Aleyn 8d. Paid to John Walter, of the parish of Brokeland, for 9 hernesewys sent to Ralph Toke, to have his friendship for the persons that were indicted, 6s. 8d. Given to the minstrels of our Lord the King, as a courtesy 6s. 8d. Delivered to the Churchwardens of Lyde, for expenses upon the hangyng of the bells 53s. 4d. Paid John Bate and Laurence Elys their expenses at London, about the bells 9s. 10d. Paid Henry Aleyn for one cowpull of fat cygnets, and John Bate the elder for another cowpul of cygnets, sent to the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury 6s. 8d. Paid the expenses incurred upon ledying up the said 2 copull of cygnets to Lambeth, given to the said Archbishop, while there 5s. 6d. For capons and fish given to Ralph Toke, the Marshal, and the Seneschal, of the Castle 3s. 9d. Given to minstrels of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and of the Lord de Say, as a courtesy 3s. 4d. Delivered to William Groce, common servant [or serjeant] to the town, for riding to Sandwich, to know when the men of that town would come to the ship 20d. Paid to James Buye for a horse drawing a cart to Sandwich, with the harneys, taken thither for the ship 16d. Paid the wife of John Ayllewyne for the expenses of the minstrels of our Lord the King, when here in the month of July, 2s. 3d. Paid for 4 lambs given to the Lieutenant of Dovorre, when his ship lay at the Broke Ende 3s. 4d. Given to the minstrels of the Lord de Say, being here in the Court house [Curia] 20d. Given to — Yerthe, harbyjour of the King, for having his friendship, so that he might not assign many soldiers to this place 6s. 8d. Paid Matthew Turgis, for bote-hire from Sandwich to Romene—bryngyng home of gere of men of this towne, goyng in the ship 21d. Paid for wine given to the Lord of Powys, here on two occasions 15d. Expenses incurred by James Ayllewyne and Henry Aleyn, riding from Lyde to Appuldre, and from thence

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

"to Wynchelse, to speak with Erthe, the King's harbyjour 2s. 2d."

28 Henry VI. (1450).—"For bread and ale had on the Rype, on the day of the muster 5¹/₂d. Paid for one horse to Dovorre, ledyng up thedir bred and flesh, what tyme the Luetenant sent hedir for men to kepe the Castell of Dovorre 8d. For a pound of candles burning in the Common House, the night of St. John the Baptist 2d. Paid at Hethe, ther baytyng the Jurats and comyners sent to Dovorre, for to kepe the Castelle ther, by the prayer of the Luetenant 2s. 8d. Paid at Romene, in drynkynge ther, as they come ridyng homeward 4d. For drinking in the house of John Saulys the same evening, when they came home 8d. Given to 2 men bringing a letter from the Captain, at the suit of Henry Lucas 2s. Paid John Benet for a horse, on which John Fermour the younger, the Constable, rode to Assheforde—for to aspye tythyngge [tidings] of the Capitayne of the oste 4d.—An allusion to Cade's rebellion, the "Captain" being the name by which he was generally known.—Expenses at Assheforde, of the said Constable, at the same time 1d. Paid Thomas Burtyng for a cry, on the peace between the King of England and the King of Scots and the Flemings 1d. For 2 other cries for the muster to be made 2d. Paid a man bringing a letter from Dovorre Castle, sent through all the ports, that the save-condid [safe-conduct] be not broken 4d. Given to a man who brought a letter hither from the King 4d. For wine given to Geoffrey Godeloke at Romene, being (sent) there by the Jurats and commoners, when Christian was killed by the men of Romene 8d. Paid for one purpoys, sent to the Captain by the Jurats and commoners 6s. Paid for the hire of one horse, ledyng up the said purpoys from Hericitysham to Londone to the Capitayn 12d. For the hire of a horse that John Menewode rode uppon to Londone the same tyme, for to helpe to present the purpoys to the Capitayn 14d. Paid for an horse hire (sic) that Richard Alayn rode uppon from Lyde to Londone, with the purpoys 20d. For expenses the same time, in ledyng uppe of the purpoys 2s. 8d.—This anonymous "Captain" to whom the porpoise was presented, was, no doubt, Jack Cade himself, and he is so alluded to in the records of Rye; the desire being "to have his friendship," in case of his ultimate success.—"Paid to John Hays, for carrying a letter to the Captain, in excuse of this town 3s. 4d."

28-30 Henry VI. (1450-2).—Among the receipts is one "For light silver 26s. 8d.," the same as "torch silver" elsewhere; money paid for lights burning before the bodies of the dead in the church.—"Expenses incurred by the Constables, Jurats, and commoners, when James Godard, William Frost, and William Frode, brought hither a commission that the men should meet the Duke of Somersete 17d. Expended in bread and wine, when John Passheley, Knight, and Robert Horne, were here 20d. Expenses when Gervays Clifton was here at Lyde, coming from Portsmouth 18d. Expenses of 20 men, riding to the Duke of Somersete, when at Wylmynton 8s. 5d. Paid a man carrying a letter from Dovorre Castle for Selonde and Holonde 5d. Given to two captains who came here on a certain Saturday 2s. Expended upon them at the same time 2d. Paid John Bate the elder for 2 copulls of cygnets, given to the Lieutenant of Dovorre Castle; to have his friendship 8s. Given to a minstrel of the Archbishop of Canterbury, as a courtesy 3s. 4d. Spent on the Day of St. Nicholas in the 29th year of King Henry the Sixth, upon the Bishop from Romene 5s. 4d. Paid for the hire of 5 horses to Braburne, to speak with my Master Gervase Clifton, when theré, upon the matter of the Rector of Seynt Mary-chirche; in the monthe of January in the 29th year 3s. 4d. For wilde fowle given to my Master Gervase Clifton, at the same time, to have his friendship 16d. For hire of horses to Canterbury, and from thence to Osprynge, and from thence to Braburne, to speak with our Lieutenant on divers matters of the town, at the time when our King came to Canterbury, being out two days and a night 16d. In expenses when that John Fermour the younger, the Constable, and William Groce, were sent up to Canterbury, for to speke with owre Luetenant for counsell for to be had, for to wete [know] how we shulde be rulyd when the Kynges men come hedur for the Vicare; for mennys mete and horsemete, the same nyghte 7d. In expenses and feys when William Groce [the Common Serjeant] was in prison in the Castell of Canterbury 6s. 5d. Item, he loste ther his purse, and his money therinne 6s. 5d. Item, he loste ther his sworde, his daggere, a payre of botys, and a payre of sokkys, price of 4s. Item, he payd ther to the maistur portere of the Castill, for to gete hym his horse, his cloke, and his sporys agayne, 8s. 1d. Paid for 6 cadys of sprot rede [dried sprats] yeven to the Luetenant for frenship to be had 6s. 11d. Paid the expenses of Milet riding to Folkestone, to enquire about the ships which were in the Downys, in the month of June in the 29th year 2d. For 2 Myd-somerys candles, for the Common House, to stand there on the night of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist 1d. For 2 fagetys of brome [broom] 1d. For carriage of belet [billets] and brome to the New Gote, for to make a wacchefyre there, the Fryday byfore Relek Sunday, in the 29th year 2d. For wax bought for the trendyll hanging in the church of Lyde, before the high cross there 5s. 9d. Paid David for making it up 20d. Paid at Shippeway, to the Warden, the Duke of Bokyngham, there sitting 53s. 4d. For bread and ale given to the players of Romene, in the house of Richard Glover 6d. Paid to 2 captains here with the Lord de Redvers, for to be delivred of the sowdeors then beyng here, 6s. 8d. Paid for the ho, s¹ on which William Gros rode to Heth¹ for 14¹/₂d expenses, when speaking there for the parish priest 7d. For a cry made for keeping the wacche and the wards on the sea-shore 1d. For another cry to cease ball [pilam] playing, and to take to bows 1d. For od. hundred of wood, had at the firehowse, to ma, the wacche fryys there 5d. In expenses made aboute the chief herbejowre and abowte Gye, on a Fryday at evyn for her [their] soper 8d. And for expensis of 2 horsis that nyghte for to have a dyscharge for the sowdears, And so they assyngnyd us to be with hem, at Romene at her logyng. And so Andrew Newland was sente theder for a letter that every sowdeare shulde remeve hennys [hence], the whiche expensis bith 4d. And when this letter came to Gye, for to do crie this mater, then payde in wyne 8d. Item, in expensis made by the Constable, Jurates, and commoners, in the howse of Jamys Ayllewyne, when Sir Andrew Ayllewyne [the late Vicar] was there, and toke his leve and wente towards Romene, 20d. Paid 3 men for drawyng of brome for a day, for the wacche [watch-fire] 15d. For the carriage of brome to divers places on the coast, for the wacche 15d. For expenses made at Romene for to enquire of the wacche, and where the bekyns shulde be made 4s. Given the King's minstrels, when here in the month of May 6s. 8d. Paid the expenses of the Lieutenant of Dovorre Castle, when sitting here in Admiralty, on the sea-shore, the 11th of May 41i. 2s. 5d. Given to the minstrels of the Duke of Bokyngham, when here on the Eve of the Apostles Peter and Paul 6s. 8d. Expended upon them 8d. The "Newebygging" [New Building], a locality in the town, afterwards frequently alluded to, is first mentioned under this year.

30, 31 Henry VI. (1452,3).—"For se[r]chyng in the 2 Countrys [? for Counties] at Londone, if any persone of the towne of Lyde hadde be suyd in the Hustynges 16d. Paid Richard Hughelot, tailor, for 2 curlewys sent to the Lientenant and to Honxstall 15d." Also, a turbot (20d.), and an eel (5d.) and a conger (12d.), are sent to the Lieutenant,—"to have his friendship."—"Given to a certain man at Brok-lond, for a courtesy 20d. For wyldefowle given and sent to Robert Horne, for having his friendship 9d. Given to the minstrels of the Duke of Exeter, when here, as a courtesy 3s. 4d. Given to the minstrels of the Lord the Earl of Arundel, as a courtesy 3s. 4d. Given to the minstrels of our Lord the King, as a courtesy, 6s. 8d. Given to a man of Dovorre Castle for bringing a letter for a sitting of the Admiralty upon the sea-shore 4d. Given to William Groce [the Common Serjeant] a gown, value 6s. 8d., to hym promysid mony day. Given to James Ayllewyne for 1 cappe, to hym promysed the laste yere at the day of Counte and of Election, for his labur hadde at Canterbury before the Lordys, when the Kyng, owre most Suverayne Lord, lay ther at Canterbury, 13s. 4d. Memorandum, that awarde was made the day of election by alle the forsayde Jurattes and commoners of Lyde, that alle olde dettys beyng by hinde unpayde to the Parisshe Clerkys of Lyde, that is for to saye, to William Leycroft of the party of Lyde, William Brownflette of the parte of Dengemerashe, shulle well and truly be gaderyd up, and to hem shulle be payd"—a clerk for each side of the Parish.—"Also the same day they have made awarde that the forsayde Jurattes of this yere shulle nue augystt

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

"her bokys and rollis of her quarteragis, and augyste [agist, or assess] every persone after his havynge etc."

31, 32 Henry VI. (1453, 4).—"Payment made by the Jurats for the delivery of grain to the poor, against the Feast of Easter 6d. For wilde fowle sent to the Lieutenant of Dovorre Castle, against the Feast of the Nativity of our Lord Jesus Christ 23d." Shortly after this, 6 molets [mulletts], one bace [bass], and 4 herynewys [heronshaws, or young herons,] are entered as sent to the Lieutenant: "to have his friend-ship." "Given to the minstrels of the Archbishop of Canterbury, when here at Lyde 2s. Paid for expenses about the Lieutenant of Dovorre Castle being here at Lyde, on Wednesday the 22nd of May, at supper, and on Thursday, the day after, at dinner, when he sat here, in Admiralty upon the sea-shore, in all 32s. 10½d. Given to the minstrels of our Lord the King, when here on Sunday before the Feast of our Lord's Ascension 6s. 8d. Expended upon them, the same day 3s. 4d. Given to the players of the Minstrel, & wing their play here, on the Day of the Translation of St. Thomas of Canterbury, 3s. 4d. For the bread & drink given to them 11d. Expended on the minstrels of the Duke of Exeter, on the 6th of July 16d.—8 "cadys of sprot" [barrels of sprats] were sent as presents to various persons; two of them to Gervase Clifton, coming home from Burdeux, 2s. Given to Cok of Sandwich, wrestling at Broclond [Brookland] on Sunday before the Feast of the Assumption of St. Mary the Virgin, by consent of the Jurats and commons of Lyde, who were at the said wrestling 3s. 4d."

32, 33 Henry VI. (1454, 5).—"Expended upon a minstrel of the Archbishop of Canterbury, in bread and wine 5d. Paid and given to him, as a courtesy, the same day and time, 3s. 4d. Paid John Swan, carpenter, in part payment for the newe rofe [roof] of the church 40s. Expended upon a messenger of the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, when here, on passing through the Ports, to warn the men thereof to be present at the enthroning of the Archbishop [Thomas Bourchier] 2d. Given to the minstrels of the Lord the King, when here on the 4th of May 6s. 8d."—"Paid the expenses of John Locok, Bailiff, and Richard Barley, Common Serjeant, riding to Dovorre, to carry thither the money of the aliens dwelling in this town 3s. 4d. Expenses of Richard Barley, when he was at Wynchilse, for the fish given to the Lieutenant of Dovorre Castle by the men of the town of Wynchilse 3s. 4d. Paid for a horn, bought for this place 8d. Paid to Laurence Bate, for making the buttes 11s. 11d. Expended upon the minstrels of the Lord Duke (sic) of Arundille, when here, 8d. Expenses of the Lieutenant of Dovorre Castle, when he sat here on the sea-shore 37s. 4d. For bread and beer given to the players of Romene, shewing their play here, on the day of the dedication of the church 2s. Given to the same players, as a courtesy 10s. Expended on the minstrels of the Duke of Exeter 16d. Expended on the players of the town of Romene 8d."

33, 34 Henry VI. (1455, 6).—"From this point, the entries are very rarely made in Latin.—"In expensis made abowte the mynistrallys of oure Lord the Duke of Bokyngham, beyng here abowte the Feste of Seynt Bartylmewe last past 2s. 1d. And no peny they hadde of yifte [gift] here. Fissehe yevyn to oure Lorde the Arshebysshop of Canterbury, beyng at Appuldre 3s. 4d. For horsehure too tymys, rydyng for to speke with the forsaid Archebisshop, comyng from Appuldre rydyng to the Castell of Saltwode 22d. For 2 cowpull of swannys yevyn to the forsaid Archebisshop of Canterbury, beyng at the Castell of Saltwode 16s. 8d. In expensis made on Saint Nicholas' Day, abowte the Bysshop of Romene 9d. For fissehe sente to the Luetenaunt and to Hexstall, on Saint Gregory Day, for frenship to be hadde for the maysturs of botys [masters of boats] of Lyde 4s. 8d. In expensis made the iiiith day of July, beyng here Sir Thomas Keryell, the Luetenaunt of the Castill of Dovorre, and hir [their] wyvys, seing the play of Seint George 18s. 6d. For 4 crys made for the Kyng, owre most Sovereine Lord 4d. Yevyn to the mynstrels of our Lord the Kyng, beyng here in the month of Aprill, 6s. 8d. For gunne powder bou3te at Sandewyche 6s. 8d. Expenses made abowte men of the cuntrey coming hedir, to withstonde the Kynges enemyes comyng uppe on londe, at the Pyre howse and at the Brokys Ende, Thursday the 8th day of July last past 18s. 10d. In expensis made abowte

"the Kynges messenger bryngyng hedir the Kynges Privy Seall for men (who) shulde kepe the see, and he was here on Seint Jamys Day 2s. For the expenses of 2 carpenters setting up the maste in the stepull, and also for her labour 15d."

34-36 Henry VI. (1456-8).—"Given to a man bringing a letter from the Luetenaunt of Dovorre to Rye, for shippes to kepe the see, forthwith other shippis of Londone and of other places, sent thorowe alle the Portys for to withstande the navoe of Fraunce, beyng then in the North See, 4d. For cariage of ston from Romene to Lyde for to make of gunne stonys, on Fryday nexte byfore Saint Bartholomew Day 2d. To John Further wachyng yn the stepull on Seint Laurence Day was xii monthe 2d. To 2 men wachyng in the stepull for a ny3te 4d. Paid for gunne stonys [cannon balls of stone] 10s. 4d. Paid in expenses made aboute John Grynforde and Thomas Hexstall, and for other mo personys beyng here to make acorde by twene maisturs of botys of this towne and the Portygualens [Portuguese] 7s. 4d. Paid for 2 shidys [sledges] for to draw the gunnys to the Nesse 4d. Paid to Thomas Ayllewyne for rydyng to Canterbury, for hym and for his man beryng up 2 letters, on to the Priour of Crechirche [Christchurch], and an othur to the Mayre of Canterbury, for men of this towne, pylgryms, my3te resorte thedur in pylgrimage 12d. In expenses mad ther, abowte 2 gantylmen of the forsaid Priour, goyng with Thomas Ayllewyne to speke with the Mayre for the same pylgryms 12d. For a quarte of malmesyn, yevyn to the Mayris wyfe, 3d. Paid to Robert Uffytone for stokkyng of the grete gunne 3s. 4d. Paid for wode and brome, and for cariage therof to the see side, in the monthe of August, when enemyes were ther 8d. For an horse hure ledyng fysshe to John Grynford, sente to hym on Shere Thursday, for frenship to be had, 8d. For 2 cadys of sprot, yevyn to the Luetenaunt of Dovorre, for frenship to be hadde, 14d. In expenses made by John Saulys and Thomas Ayllewyne the 2de day of Juin, abowte a man of counsell makying 2 lettres, and sente to Canterbury, on of hem sente to the Priour of Criccherche [Christ Church], and that othur to the Mayre of Canterbury, that menne of Lyde, pylgryms, my3te goe and comethedur withowte restyng [arrest], by Robert Glover 20d. In expenses made abowte the same man of counsell 9½d. Expenses made abowte the Gunne, the Serpyntyne:—Inprimis, paid to the gunne makers on Sunday nexte byfore Seint Thomas Day of Inde [India, perhaps July 3] 11s. 8d. Paid to John Boldyng for byndyng of the grete gunne the serpentyne, and for irone had ther too 18s. Paid to John Godfray, bocher, lente to the makying of the gunne 3s. 4d. In expenses made by Richard Barley and William the gunne maker, when they wente to Wynchilse and to Hastyng for to bye metalle for the forsaid serpentyne, 3s. 6d. Paid to William Gros, for bras lente to the same gunne 3s. 4d.—Yevyn to the mynstrellys of the Duke of Bokyngham, oure Wardayn, beyng here the 21 day of May last past 6s. 8d. Paid to John Hunte, yevyn to John Cheynu, of Romene, for counsell to be had for the mater of John Charlys, outlawed, 3s. 4d. For 6 horse hure the same tyme, ledyng up to Dovorre the same John Charlys 3s. 4d. Paid for freshe fysshe and for salte yelys [eels], yevyn to oure Lorde the Archebisshop of Canterbury, lying at Saltewod in Lenton last past 7s. 10d. Paid to the same Jamys (Ayllewyne) for 2 horse labour drawyng 2 gunnys to the Nesse 2d. Paid to William Growte for distyng [preparing] of 3 dyners, and for his labour to Sandwyche facyng ther gunne powdur 2s. Paid in expenses made by the Jurattes, and by the Constabull Thomas Bate, on Seint Blasys Day laste past, sittyng to gadur for a inquyraunce made upon straungers beyng that tyme in this towne 2s. 1½d. Yevyn to Martyn of Dovorre bryngyng a letter hedur, that no manne shulde take no leverey of no lord ne gentylman, the whiche was proclaymd here, 4d. Paid to a man, crying that the wache [was] to be kepte by the see side, and that no man shulde playe at the tenys [tennis] 1d. Given to a man of the Luetenaunt, makying a crie at the see syde 4d. Paid to a man ledyng strawe to the Nue Havyn, and for the same strawe, and for the cariage therof, for to make a wache fyre ther 6d. Given to a man bryngyng a letter comyng from the Luetenaunt of Dovorre, isente from the Yerle of Warwyk from Caleys, that the Frenshemen wolde come hedur 4d. Given to a man makying a crye to mustur at Romene by fore the Yerle of Stafford, in the monthe of September 1d. Given to anothur makying a crye that

CORP
TION
LYD.

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

"every man of this towne shulde keepe her wache in 3 partyes, and also in the stepull, 1d. Payd and yevyn to the mynstrellys of oure Lorde the Kyng, beyng here on Tuesday the 11 day of October 6s. 8d. Payd to 2 carpynters for mete and drynke for a day, mending the gunnys, the Munday that the Frenshe men come on londe at the Nesse 4d. Paid to a mason for smale gunne stonys, that is for to say, 2s. 4d."

36 Henry VI. (1458).—The Accounts are now (fol. 53) no longer entered in the hand of William Leycroft, as Common Clerk, but in that of Thomas Caxton, who, though not this year, succeeded him in the following one. This Caxton, no doubt, was the same person of that name who is mentioned in the Chamberlain's Accounts of Rye, shortly before this date, as acting as a leading law-man for the town of Tenterden, in its transactions with Rye. After serving some years as Common Clerk of Lyde, Caxton retired from office, and ultimately became Bailiff of the town. Mention is made in Boys's History of Sandwich of a Thomas Caxton, Town Clerk there in 1476; identical with this person, no doubt. He is mentioned more than once, as himself writing out these accounts: they are entered in a fine bold hand, and in general he writes the word Ihu (Jesus) at the top of each page, (a practice more common in the West of England at this date). It is clear that for many years he was the most active man of business in this place, and his evident abilities tend to confirm the impression that he was nearly related to William Caxton, our first printer.—"Paid for fysche, for Walter Moyle, 2s. 8d."—Moyle was a Judge of the Common Pleas, residing at Eastwell.—"For fysche for Sir Thomas Kyryell 9d. Paid to the mynstralles of the Duke of Bukyngham 6s. 8d."—There are several items here for keeping watch at the "Weyis Ende"; among them,—"Paid to Thomas Quykeman for carriage of a loode of woode to the Weyis Ende, and carriage of a gunne to the Nesse 6d. For bere and sider inne the Common House, to the Jurats 4d. Paid to John Fermour the yonger, for expences of James Aylewyn . . . at Wynchelse to speke with menne of the Portes for the shipp that shold go a werre [to war] 18d. To John Fermour the elder for fysche to the olde Lientenaunt at Romene 10d. Paid for 2 horse to the Nesse for to fetcche 4 gunnes there 5d. Paid for wrytyng and compylyng the troublis matere of Thomas of Aghene to gedir, remembryng the grete wronge and undewe vexacion had to the towne of Lyde 3s. 4d."—There are several entries on this matter, but the charge against this Thomas of Agen (a place in France, on the Garonne), connected probably with the quartering of soldiers here, is involved in obscurity: Caxton, with his ever ready pen, was probably the person employed to "write and compile" these troubles: indeed, the use of these very words almost implies the scholar and man of business. It seems not unlikely that Caxton may have been first brought to the notice of the people of Lyde, in consultation upon this matter.—"Paid in expences of Thomas Caxtone and his horse, beyng here 2 dayis abowte the townys nethis [needs], on Hoke Monday 8d."—This is the earliest mention of Caxton's presence in the town.—"Paid for fysche yeven to Sir Thomas Kyryell, at the entryng in to his office of Lientenauntship of Dovorre, 2s. Paid to John Hunte for horsehire to Dovorre and to Caunterbury, for Thomas Bate to speke with my Lord of Bukyngham 16d. Paid for a cabon by the see 12d."—a wooden hut for fishermen, often mentioned afterwards.—"Paid be Thomas Aylewyn for 2 horse hyres for myself on the townes nethes [needs] to Grenford (at Dover) for counsell 16d."—Caxton is here speaking of himself.—"Paid to a child to go to Andrew Bate 1d. Paid for 2 yerdis and half of grene clothe for the Common Serjaunt, at 22d. a yerde 4s. 7d. Paid to Thomas Caxtone for horse 2 tymys to Sir Thomas Kyriell, and onys to Dovor onne the townys nethes [needs], to shew the matere of Thomas Aghene, 16d. Paid for Kyriells costes, when he went to the Lorde of Warwyke 5s. 1d. In horsemete for 7 horses 1 day and 2 ny3this, 2s. 5d. Paid in expences of the cariage of the mennys harneys to the see syde, that went with the Erle of Warwyke, and expences in the bote of bred and bere, 5s. 8d. Paid to 23 menne that went with the Erle of Warwyk at the townes election to the see, every manne 3s. 4d., 3 li. 16s. 8d. Paid to Thomas Aylewyne for his wrongfull vexacion hadde at Caunterbury, rydyng ther onne the townes nethes [needs], for to speke with the Meyre of Caunterbury for the shipp that shold go a werre [to war], sewyd be Robert Glover, for the grete malice that he owid to the towne 16s. Paid to Robert Howghe for brynggyng our menne a borde be fore

"the Lorde of Warwykes persone, there havyn grete thonkes 6s. 8d." 36-38 Henry VI. (1458-60).—"Paied to Thomas Caxtone, the first day of October, of his wagis 6s. 8d."—This is the first entry as to Caxton, in his new office of Common Clerk. He seems to have begun with double the salary of Leycroft, his predecessor.—"Paied for delyvere of Simone Reede unto the howse of Lazaris 10s. Paid to expences of 8 men rydyng to Caunterbury to our Lord of Caunterbury, suynng for a Vikere resident, be a supplication 10s. 1d. Paid in expences of drynkyng of the Lieutenantaunt and othirs, and drynkyng of the sworne menne at the Common Howse at the muster 20d. Paid in expences at the delyvery of poore menne cornis [grain] 8d. Paid to John Howlet junior, of olde dette 3s. 4d. Paid in expences of my Mayster Moyle, and other, ynne the moneth of Octobre, at Thomas Ailwynnes, thonkyng his labour that he did for the towne, to the Lord of Caunterbury, 6s. 8d. In expences abowte the Steward (of Dover Castle) and his wyff, beyng here the 10 day of Juyn, at Thomas Ailwynnes, 4s. Paid for 4 cryis at the Cherchestyle for the Kyng and the towne 4d. Paid to the Kyngges menstrelles the weke before Wytseyntyd 6s. 8d. Paid to the Duke of Bukenhams menstrelles 3s. 4d. Paid to Caxtone for expences at Romene, for counsell for the matere of John Dane 4d. Paid to James Bate for a dayis labour at Waychehows 5d. Paid to Harry Colyne for half a day dragging at the Goote for the Waychehows 6d. In expences of diverse menne goyng to Dovorre unto the Lord of Warwyke, for to have goo to the see 13s. 2d. Paid for a horse-hire for Richard Kny3th to Romene, to wete there, whan here menne shold ben redy for the Lord of Warwyke 6d. For dyggyng of clay, and leying thereof with ynne the buttes 12d. For diggyng of turvis [turfs], and leying of the same, and diggyng and abotying of the sandbankes 10d. In expences of the Kynggis menstrelles for them and there horse 22d. Paid for the Crosse to Robert Newis, and other costes, forth with horsehire 3li. 10s."—This was perhaps a market-cross.—"Paid to Thomas Bate the younger, for a dayis labour for hym and his manne at the Weyis Ende, at the Waychehows, 8d. Paid to Caxton for horsehire to Sir Thomas Kyriell, to lede up fysche 4d. Paid to Hans Pekilheryng, of olde dette, 12d."—His name often appears as a resident, and he is also mentioned in the records of Romney.—On Sunday after the Feast of the Translation of St. Edward in the 38th year—"it was agreed that Thomas Caxtone, the Common Clerk, should have a gown each year." 38 Henry VI.—1 Edward IV. (1460-2).—"Paid to Caxtone, for his gowne of the towne 6s. 8d. Paid in expences of the Lord Reverys [Rivers] messenger, which rode thorow the Portes 6d. Paid to Caxtone for expences ridyng to Cheryng, to speke with the Vikere wheche was ynne purpos to a laboryd to a bene Vikere here 12d. In expences of the Jurettas labouring abowt the sowdiours that shold go up to Sandwich to the Lorde Reverys 12d. Paid in expences of the Vikere of Cheryng, beyng here the Sondag a fore Saint Thomas of Ynd [India] 18d. For wyldefowle and fysche yeve to hym 23d. Paid in expences of the Baylyff Andrew Bate, William Gros, and the Common Serjeant, sent be message to the Lord Reverys to speke with him 10s. 10d. Paid to the cartars for ledyng mennys harneys to Sandwich, and 3 cariages to the Nesse 11s. 4d. Paid in expences of John Fermour and Caxtone ridyng to Sandwich to the Lord Reverys, and to Gervase Clyftone 3s. 8d. Paid in the expences of the Bisshop of Romene, beyng here onne St. Nicholas Day, at Andrew Bate's hows, 7s. 9d. Paid in expences of John Searlis, William Benet, and Caxtone, beyng at Romene, with the Jurattes, to comene [commune] of our demenyng-for the Lordes men of Warwyk 20d. Paid in expences to Thomas Aylewyne, and Caxtone, and Trendelherat, and Barle, to London, to speke with the Lordes for the towne, the tyme that the Lord of Warwykes men landyd here. And for to knowe how we shuld speke and be gydyd, 25s. 8d. Paid to Richard Lowys, for waychyng at Weyis Ende, for hym and his horse, 6d. Paid in expences of Caxtone to Wynchelse, for counsell on a letter of proces that came from Laurens Holdernes 10d. Paid for horsehire for John Fermour and Caxtone to Sandwich 2s. 8d. Paid to John at Wyk for amending of a gunne, and the brassyng 20d. Paid for a lombe sent Mayster Hornys for Janever 12d. Paid for bryngyng of a letter from the Lordes of Caleys, for Franshmen, 4d. Yeven to John Clerk, Steward

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

CORPORATION OF LONDON.

CORPORATION OF LONDON.

of the Lord of Canterbury, for his counsell and good advise on our charteris and fraunchise 6s. 8d. Paid for horse hyre to Canterbury, for Thomas Aylewyne and Caxtone 8d. Paid in expensis of Walter Moyle, beyng here ynne Lent 10s. 4d. Paid to Gros for bred and half bunne [a measure so called] beere at Nesse, the tyme the Frenshmenne roode there 3s. 8d. Paid to the Lord of Caunterbury's mynstrelles beyng here ynne May 3s. 4d. Paid to the menstrelles of the Duke of Bukingham, beyng here ynne May, 3s. 4d. Paid in expensis of Vincent Sedele and Caxtone ridyng to Canterbury, to speke with Mayster Horn, and Fogge for the menne of the Lord of Marchis in prysons 6s. 11d.—The "Lord of March" was afterwards Edward the Fourth.—Paid to Robert Newis in fulle paiement of money borrowed at Londone of Hamptone for the jurnay of Northampton, above we have resseved 22s.—This appears to be interest on money borrowed for fitting out soldiers who fought under the Earl of Warwick at the Battle of Northampton, 1460.—For horsehire of James Frode and Caxtone to Canterbury, to speke with Rogger Brent, for counceille for the towne 2s. Paid for horshire to Romene, when menne of werre were in the Cambour 2d. Paid to James Base for 1 cariage with vitell to the Nesse 6d. For 1 loode strawe to the Nesse 6d. Paid to hym for his labour to help set up the bekene at the Weyis Ende 3d. Paid in expensis of Gros and Caxtone ridyng to Grenford, the Monday and Tuysday afore Cristemasse, for to comone of the tretis betwix Moyle and the towne, and also for Robert Glover, 12d. Paid for horshire and expensis of Caxtone at Hornys with a letter that came from Caleis, for Frenshemen 6d. Paid to the jurnay of St. Albons, in money to them that went—to 34 men and 2 strangeris 11s. 10s.—An item for payment of troops supplied by the town, who fought under the Earls of March and Warwick, at the Second Battle of St. Alban's 1461.—Paid to "Seefowhill [elsewhere called 'Seefowl'] for wayche ynne the steple for 8 days 16d.—He watched a further 6 and 14 days in the steple.—Paid for vittelle sente to Londone; to the jurnay of York 3li. 11s. 9d.—For support of the town's contingent, which fought, under the Earl of March, in the campaign which closed at Towton, in Yorkshire, 1461.—For beryng of a letter to Rye, for Frenshmenne 8d.—giving notice of the approach of the French.—Paid to James Lucas, for horsehire for Nayshe is man beryng tithyngges [tidings] to Sandwich for Frenshmenne 16d.—Caxton and others go on two journeys to London, at this period, in reference to a matter about "Trendleherst.—Paid in expensis at the last Brodhill of Andrew Bate, Gros, and Caxtone 16d. Paid for expensis of ledyng up the manne to the Kyng, that wasse take with letters from the Duke of Somerset 26s. 8d.—The Duke of Somerset was Henry de Beaufort, beheaded in 1463. Many items are entered as to the "town gunnes" at this date.—Paid to William Mellale for wayche, for horse and hymselfe, for 8 nightis with a horse 4s. Paid in expensis of Barry and his felowshipp, at Cornelius, on Holy Rood Day 20d. For gunne wheles, and a whele for the bekene 4d. Paid for two crys for the muster 2d. In expensis of Jurattes at muster on St. Petre's Day 2d. Thomas Caxton is the largest creditor but one of the town at this date, the debt due to him being 49s. 6d.; of which, as stated in a note added, he repaid himself 13s. 4d. on St. Machufus' Day, 15th November.

A 1, 2, Edward IV. (1462, 3): the earlier part of this Account is in Latin.—Paid the minstrels of the Earl of Warwick on the Feast of All Hallows, 3s. 4d. Paid the expensis of Thomas Aylewyne, Andrew Bate, William Gros, John Fermour, James Frode, Thomas Caxtone, and John Knyzt, riding and going to London, for one month and more, on the matters between the town and Walter Moyle, in the months of November and December, at the Parliament, in the first year of Edward. The visits to London, by Caxton and others, on town business, about this period, are very numerous.—Paid for a cry for the goodes of the karek, 1d.—in allusion to the public sale of goods from a foreign carack, wrecked on the Ness.—Paid in expensis at Canterbury, in drynkyng yeven to diverse menne, and expensis of Caxtone his horse, and Barleis horse 5s. 8d. In expensis at Apoldre for vine [wine] 6s. 7d. Paid for horshire to Westyng-hanger with James Frode, to speke with the Unther Shereff, 6d. Paid for two crys, one for tenys players, another for the wayche 2d. Paid for wax [sealing wax] for inquisition of the karek lost 1d. Paid to William at Wyke for ironworke to the buttes 9d.

The following is an entry at the end of this year's account.—"Also hit is ordeynyd be the Comon Semble, that alle foreneres fischermerne beyng and fyschyng here in diverse secons, wekely resortyng, drying her fysche a land, shall pay to the commone scotte of here fysche merchaunt, to be taskyd, as for catell, like as they use in Wynchelse and Rye." 2, 3, Edward IV. (1463, 4).—"Paid John Wolvyne of the debt to the church from the torchesolver, for setting of the torchis, woodewerk, ironwerk, and labour of W. Benet, 3s. 6d. In expensis of John Searlis, Andrew Bate, John Hunt, Vincent Searle, Thomas Caxtone, and Barle, rydyng to Fristone, to speke with Sir John Scotte, for the sowdiours to Caleis, the 2 day of September, 2s. 8d. Yeven to the Kynges menstrelles at Michelmas 3s. 4d. Payd in expensis of the Lord Warden's menstrelle 16d. Paid to Vincent Sedele, in full payment of dette owyng to hym for lyverey cloth to men of Caleis 13s. Paid to the players of Romene on Dedication day 6s. 8d. Paid to Thomas Howghe-lyne for waycohyng with his hors at Weysend, whanne tithyngges of Frenshemen come here 6d. For 2 oriis, one to have water at mennys doors, the other for men to go to Caleis 2d.—The water at the doors was to be in readiness, in case of fire.—Paid to the hangmanne for his labour 12d. For his expensis 6d. Paid to Martynys son, for brengyng a letter how the feld was broke in the North, and to let [hinder] passage over the see 4d. Paid for bryngyng of a letter how the Kyng wold ynne to Scotland, and how vitellers sholde follow aftere 4d.—This is in allusion to the landing of Queen Margaret, and the support she received from Scotland.—Paiede to Barle rydyng with a knyghte to the Erle of Worcester, in to the Downys 4d. Paid to the Ly3thselver of [? or] torchesolver of olde dette in ful paiement of the same, to Vincent Sedele 3s. 6d." 3, 4 Edward IV. (1464, 5).—Among the receipts, for the first time.—"From strange men fishing here, for their scot to the town 23s. 8d. From merchants shewing (their wares) in market, beyond the statute of the town 14d.—Paid to Martynne brengyng a maundement for the pees betwix England and Fraunce be land 4d. Paid for a cheyne to the stokkis, with a lokke, 10d. Paid to a man brengyng a maundement for Flaunders war 4d. In expensis of Caxtone to Wynchelse, for to speke with Mayster Thunder, uponne the proces of Robert Newhous 8d. Paid in expensis of the Lord of Warrikes marshalle 10d. Paid in expensis of Mayster Thunder and his wyff, beyng here the 11 day September 6s. 11d. Paid in expensis of Thomas Aylewyne, and Thomas Caxtone, and Barle, beyng at Brodhylle the 12 day of September, for the sute of the Chartres of Portes, 20d. Item, of the comone money paid to the orgone maker for the orgonis; whiche the cherche owith to the towne 18s. 8d." 4, 5 Edward IV. (1465, 6).—"Paid in expensis of the Baylyff, Thomas Aylewyne, John Kempe, Thomas Caxtone, Richard Barle, and Morley, for the maundement that come from Dovore, recytyng to have Margarete Bewe to Londone, at the sute of Walter Moyle, and to shew our Wardeyne our compleynt 4li. 2s. Paid for wyne to the Suffricane, whan he was here 3d. Paid for a porpays sent to Mayster Scott 9s. For bryngyng hom of the porpays 6d." 5, 6 Edward IV. (1466, 7).—"Received from William Benet and Thomas Caxtone for one gunne, that weighs 2 cwt., 3 quarters, 18 lb., at 12s. 4d. the cwt., total 36s.—The following entry is here made (fol. 76 b):—"22nd day of January Robart Matrasmakers came before the Bayly and Jurattes, and confessyd hym gylyty for brekyn of the Kynges prysons, and ther afore the Bayly he hath found surety to kepe the towne harmles, Wylliam Gray and John Ivy, and the said Robart to kep good rewle pay not a 100s.—"Yeven to a manne brengyng tythyngges from the Baylyff of Hastyng, how Frenshemen were at the see 4d. Paiede to Thomas Bayene (their London agent) for our Charter, be Andrew Bate and Thomas Caxtone, and also for his fee 3li. 4d. Paiede to a manne brengyng the pees of the Kyng of Denmark 6d. Paiede for gunne powther, fet at Sandewich 5s. 4d. Paiede for expensis of the players of Hethe, here onne Dedication Day 8s. 10d. Yeven to hem, the same tyme 6s. 8d. In expensis of the players of Romene shewyng here play here on Whitsond Monday 3s. Yeven to them the same time 6s. 8d. Paiede to 4 waychemen the first Sondag at the play of Romene 16d.—The meaning probably is, that they watched on the shore, while the play was going on.—Paiede to my Lorde of Caunterbury menstrelle 20d."

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

6, 7 Edward IV. (1467, 8).—“Memorandum, that Harry Bate ys chosyn the debyte of Lyde on Seynt “All Sowlyn Day” (2nd November). “Paid for a cry to have hogges out of the feldis 1*d*. Paid for a cry to shet yn shoppys at Service tyme 1*d*. Paid by the Baylyff to a manne of Dovorre, brengyng the pees betwix Ingland and Breteyne 4*d*. Paied in expences of the Lieutenaunt of Dovorre and his menne, beyng here onne Schroff Thursday 9*s*. 4*d*. Paied in expences of oure bane [bann, or notice] cryars of oure play 20*d*. Paiede to a manne beyng a nyghte at Caunterbury, fetchyng the Abbates Charter, with the surveier 8*d*. Paied to my Lord of Warwykes menstrelle 20*d*. Paied for a bace and ele sent to Mayster Lieftenaunt 3*s*. 4*d*. For horshire there to his place in the Weld [Weald] 6*d*. Paied in expences of William Bate and Caxtone to Londone, for to breng relacion of apoyntment of treti betwix the Lord of Batell and the towne 18*s*. 10*d*.—The Abbot of Battle, “John Newton” by name, is meant. Caxton’s salary is now found increased from 13*s*. 4*d*., to 20*s*., per quarter; but in this year, from the following item, still in Caxton’s own writing, we find that he ceased to hold the office of Common Clerk; resigning it, not improbably, for more lucrative pursuits:—“Paied to Robert Lucas, at his comenaunt [covenant] making with the Baylyff and Jurattes to be Clerk here 5*d*. Paiede for a porpays sent to Londone to Mayster Fogge and Scotte 6*s*. Yovene to the manne that had the dromedary 8*d*. Paied to Vincent and Caxtone for expences to London for the mater of the Abbate of Batelle, brengyng home a bylle of the Abbates mater, and making an answer to oure Coun-celle 13*s*. Paied for a boyschell [bushel, as a standard] for the towne 8*d*. Paied to Caxtone in ful paiement of his salery for Midsomer and Michelmesse 40*s*.—This is the last item of this description.—“Paied for a lokke to the common pound 6*d*. For two wrastlyng colers [collars] 10*d*. One staff for the Comon Serjaunt 2*d*. Paied to John Blossom to breng message to the towne for the porpays 2*d*.”

7, 8 Edward IV. (1468, 9).—The entries,—at least for the present, are now no longer in Caxton’s hand.—“Paid to Smythys Pot, the carpenter, for making of the brygge [bridge] to the Won Way [elsewhere “Ven Way”] 2*s*. 4*d*. Presents of “cades of sprot” are mentioned as being sent to Mayster Skot, Syr John Fogge, Syr John Gylford, Master Gilford, and Mayster Foggys, followed by these items.—“Paid for a capone to William Wenstell, gevyn to Maister Markham and Maister Grenford 6*d*. Paid for a galune of rede wine gevyn unto theym in the townys name at that tyme 8*d*. Paid for there sopere, at that sopere beyng John Serlys, Thomas Caxtone, and Robert Lucas, to pray the sayd jentylmen to be frendly in our mater be twyxt the Abbot of Batayl and us 7*s*. 5*d*. Paid unto the Baylyff, that the sayd Baylyff payd to a manne “wacchyng at Gore Wall 4*d*. From this Account, it appears that Lucas’s salary was but 6*s*. 8*d*. per quarter; one-third, only, of that of Caxton, at the time of his retiring from office. Entries follow here of various deeds executed in the closing years of Edward IV. and the earlier years of Henry VII. (fols. 82 b—86 b); they are written in the hand of James Bate, the Common Clerk, hereafter mentioned; as in the case of entries made by Caxton, under whom he was probably trained, the word “Jhu” (Jesu) appears at the top of most of these pages. In a deed of the 18th of Edward IV., the “Stremedyke,” of Lyde, is mentioned.

Folios 87 a—99 a are occupied with contemporary entries of deeds, beginning in the 7th year of Henry VI., and ending in the earlier part of the reign of his successor. The only facts in them worth notice, are;—mention of the “public highway leading from West-” broke, through the rectory, to the church of All “Saints of Lyde;” land of “John Schelley, in Lyde;” the Court (or Manor) of “Old Langport” there; the land there “of the Prior of Bilsyntone;” “Pigwell Wall;” the “Court (or Manor) of New Langport; the highway “leading from the church to Hettiswall;” the street called “Trygggestrete;” mention of one Simon Hayton, of Lyde, and his wife, having the Christian name of “Mace;” a locality called “Lambardyswall;” the “Watergange, of White Kempe,” and “a certain green “way leading from the Thre Elettet to the Brode- “water.” The entries in fols. 95 b—98 a are in Caxton’s hand. At fol. 98 b, there are three entries, in the hand, evidently, of Robert Lucas, his successor; the first of them being as follows:—“This xiith day of February, the yere “and the regne of our Soverayn Lord King Edward “the iiith after the Conquest of Ingland the viith, “came John Adam of Lyde afore the Baylyfe and “Jurattes of the for sayd towne, and confesseid opynly, “without ony ceacion sayd, that one Johan Andrew, of “Tenet, delyvryd to the forsayd Johan Adam, at “dyvers tymys, sum tyme whete, sum tyme bere [barley], and other pod ware, for to sow yt uppone “his propyr landes, unto the great hurte of the sayd “jentylman.”—The entries at the foot of this page and in fol. 99 a, are again in Caxton’s hand.

At folio 99 b, the Corporation Accounts are resumed; being a continuation of those for 7 and 8 Edward IV. (1468, 9).—Among the receipts are the following:—“Received from Hans Skomakar, for his servant, “Thomas Skot, for an assault 3*s*. 4*d*. From Thomas “Caxtone, for a breakfast to the Seneschal on St. “George’s Day, 6*s*. 8*d*.—a collection probably made by Caxton.—“From men of West contray fishing “here, 3*s*. 6*d*. For polmoney [poll money] 3*s*. 3*d*. “Resseyvyd of William Barbour for blod schedyng, “6*s*. 8*d*.—Among items of expenditure:—“Expenses “on the Day of St. Nicholas, for the Bishop from “Rumene 5*s*. 10*d*. Payd for fyche bouthe at Nesse, “gyvyn to Sir John Fogge, and Sir John Skot, to be “brendly [friendly] un to our mater be twyxt the “Abbot and us, at all tymys of nede 3*s*. 8*d*. Delyveryd “unto John Kemp, the 2nd day of February, rydyng “with John Searlys and Thom[a]s Caxtone to Lundun, to “answer the Abbot of Batell, of hys ple takyn uppon “John Serlys and Thomas Caxtone, for beryng away “of x mil^e (thousand) of wytyng at Dyngennesse 26*s*. 8*d*. “Payd Thomas Caxton beyng for the sayd mater at “London a monyth 15*s*. 2*d*. Payd to the sayd Thomas “Caxton on Candylmesse Day last was, he coming “hom to enforme the comynns of the Abbotes “wroful, sute, and so goyng up agayn to Lundun “with hys answers of the benche and the comyns, “10*s*. Payd for the expencys of Sir John Skot, and “Mayster Hawth, comyng downe to the sayd towne “of Lyde on Seynt Georgeys Eve last vas, for the “mater be twyxt us and the Abbot.—Payd to Anneys “[Agnes] Tutor for bred and ale the eve and the “sayd day 5*s*. 2*d*. Payd to the sayd Anneys for a “potel of vyneger 3*d*. To the same Anneys for half a “bunne of bere 20*d*. For woode 6*d*. For fysch, to “the sayd Anneys at that tyme, 12*d*. For fyre in ther “chamber, and candyll 8*d*. For 2 buschell and half of “otys 12*d*. For hors breede [bread] 8*d*. For hay 7*d*. “For half hundred eggs to the sayd Anneys 4*d*. Payd “unto the sayd Anneys for her beddyng, her labour, “and her servaunts, and for the veschyng [washing] of “the clothyng 2*s*. 2*d*. For 6 galunys of wyne to Wylliam “Venstall 4*s*. For spycery 18*d*. For hors mete 9*d*. “For a gungyr [conger] bowth for the sayd dyner 17*d*. “For 4 coddess, and the bryngyng home 2*s*. 1*d*. For “2 copyll of solys and a pyrle [p. brill] 6*d*. For a sneke “[p] and a 2 solys 5*d*. For a cungr and 4 rede “fyachys 14*d*. Payd to Thomas Gros for half bunne of “bere, i drunk in the Nesse, Syr John Skot and Syr “John Hawth at that tyme beyng ther, with Jurats of “Lyde 20*d*. The following are among the items for a “dinner to “Mayster Grenford, on Seynt Gerge Eve.— “Payd to Thomas Caxtone for an ele to the forsayd “dyner 12*d*. Payd to Mawd Browne for weschyng “of wescell [vessels] ther 3*d*. Payd unto the schewars “of the play of Apuldur 3*s*. 8*d*. The usual route from Lydd to London appears, at this time, to have been, by horse to Gravesend, and from thence by boat.—“Payd unto Thomas Caxtone, (allowed) in hys skot, “to geve the Baylyfe good concell for the plee be “twyxt William Fermour and John Carlylle, there “beyng al the forene atornays to ple the sayd ple 20*d*. “Payd for the letter borne to Rye on the 8th day “of Juin, warnyng theym of the Frenchmen 8*d*. Paid “unto Richard Barley for 4 cryes at the chyrche style “4*d*.—He was Common Serjeant, and Crier as well.—The end of this Account (after fol. 102 of the present numeration) is missing, as also the beginning of that for the next year, but in fol. 184 of the volume, noticed in the sequel, it appears.

8, 9 Edward IV. (1469, 70).—the items of expenditure, however, are given, and written nearly throughout in Caxton’s hand.—“Paid in expences of John Serles and “Caxtone rydyng to Caunterbury, metyng with Sir “William Terell, to see the Boundes of the franchis “of tharchibisshoppe be twix Blakewase and Denge- “nesse, unther autentik seale 5*s*. Paied for horshire for “Caxtone and Barle, whan they went to London 6*s*. 8*d*. “Paied in expences of John Serles, Harry Bate, Thomas “Caxtone, and Laurence Gros, beyng at Londone, the “Abbates matere, for bootehire to Westminster, while “they were there 2*s*. Paied for horshire for John “Searlis and Caxtone to Caunterbury, and from thens

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

EXTRA-OF OF JDD.

CORPORATION OF
LYDD

"to Graysende 6s. 8d. For horshire for Harry Bate "and Lawrence Gros to Graysende 4s. Paid in ex"spences divers tymes at the Cardynalis Hatte, of the "Sergeauntes of Lawe and menne of Councell, Thomas
"Bayene, oure attornay, and other, comenyng [com"muning] of oure matere. 5s. 4d. Paid to Maister
"Catsby, for pletyng [pleading] at the barre divers
"tymes this quarter."—This was John Catesby, afterwards a Judge, and finally one of the unpopular and unfortunate ministers of Richard III. In November, Caxton was 20 days in London, in reference to the "Abbatess mater;" and was there again after Easter.—
"Yoven to the servaunt of oure Lorde of Caunterbury
"brenyng a deer to towne from the seid Lord, and in "exspences 2s. 8d. Paid to Stephen Hoigge, for a "porpays yevene to the Lord of Caunterbury 6s. Paid "to Harry Colyne for lodyng of gunny in the Nesse,
"and for an horse there, there beyng Frenshmen 8d.
"Paid for a letter from my Lord of Warricke to "thabbot of Battell, be Henry Bate 5d. Paid in ex-
"spences of Serles, Caxtone, Gros, . . . and others,
"havyng a day with the Abbatess Councell at Wynchelse
"4s. 10d. Paid to the whechemen that waytchithe
"Robert Lucas in the Common Hows 2s. 10d."—Here we have apparently Caxton's successor, as Town Clerk, under arrest.—"Paid to Richard Barle for beryng of a "pot of gunnepowder to the Nesse 1d.—Paid to "the menstrelles of the Lorde of Arundell 3s. 4d.
"Paid to the menstrelles of the Kyngge 3s. 4d. Paid "to the playars of Stone, crying the banes [notice of "their play] here 3s. 4d. Paid to a manne brenyng
"a letter from Romene, to warne us of the navy of "Frenshmen 4d. Paid to 2 men for waycchyng in the "stepyll 12d. Paid to 21 menne, goyng on the viage
"with the Lordes of Clarence and Warwyk 7li. 6s. 8d."
9, 10 Edward IV. (A.D. 1470, 71). This year "William
"Wanstall and Thomas Caxtone were chosen Treasurers
"for the year, and receivers in the common purse."—
"Delivered to Richard Barley, when he rode for Cales "[Calais] 5s. 7d. Paid to Caxtone for his spendyng at "Dovorre for the prisoners in Scotland 19d. Paid to "Vyncent Sedle for his horsse to Caunterbury, for to "spere byfore the Kyng 12d. Payde in exspences to "Dovorre of the Bailly, Vyncent Sedle, (and) Thomas
"Caxtone, when they fett [fetched] the othe 23d. Payde "to John Symone, for mendyng of the comyne cheste
"in the cherche 4d. Payd for naylyng of Thomas "Norys is ere 12d. Paid at Romene, for havyng ther
"letter of record of Dyngenesse, in all exspences there,
"2s. 2d. Paid to Thomas Gros for exspences whenne
"a man came from Maister Skot, to have menne to "labour with the Kyng. 10d. Paid for the mace 5s.
"Paid for menne wachyng by the sea 6d. Payde to a "manne of Sir John Scotte, bryngyng tydynges fromme "Lynkkolle [Lincoln] 8d. Paid for bryngyng of the "grete Proclamacion 4d. Paid to a manne bryngyng "commaundement that we shulde areste all maner of "schippis bylongyng to the Yerde of Warwike 4d.
"Paid to a manne of Wynchelse bryngyng the Kynges "Privy Seale and another letter therewith, for menne "to there carvell 4d. Payde to a manne bryngyng a "Privy Seale, how that the Kyng had sesed the office "of Wardenschip into his handes 4d." The preceding account is written, in a fine hand, by William Nycolle, the new Common Clerk. A general payment is mentioned at the end.—"Item, Thomas Caxtone
"hathe receyved in all thynges 55s. 4d." Henry VI.
was temporarily restored to the throne from October 1470 to about April 1471. There is an entry in fol. 109 belonging to this period, (tr. from the Latin)—"On the "second Sunday after the Feast of St. Michael the "Archangel, in the — year of the reign of King Henry
"the Sixth:" the clerk was at a loss what year to call it; it was, correctly, the 49th.

10, 11 Edward IV. (1471, 2); the Interregnum of Henry being included in that space.—"Paid to Rychard
"Howlett of owlde det, rydyng 2 tymys for heyren-"sewys [heronshaws] to Apildowre, ayenst the comyng
"of the Kyng 12d. Payd for one crye to have catell
"owte of the feldys 1d. Paid to Wyllyam Barbour
"goyng to the Camber, to knowe whether that menne
"of werre beyng there were, cumyng to towne to robbe "oure nybours the alyonys [aliens] 4d. Paid for "1 purse to kepe in the towne his monye 1d. Paid to
"6 meune goyng to Sandwiche to wayte onne the "Kynges Cownsell 22s. Paid to Thomas Jekynne for "caryng of 2 hurte menne from the Nesse 6d. Paid "to Thomas Caxtone for horshire to Graysende, with "William Benet 2s. Paid to Wyllyam Benett and "Thomas Caxtone, for that they spended in Londone
"13s. 4d. Paid to Caxtone his manne bryngyng us

"tydynges that the Kyng was comyng with his oste "into Kente 2s. Spended upone the Knygth comyng
"from the rode (?) 3d. Paide for a letter sente from "Dovorre, warnyng us of the Dánys 4d. Spended
"upon wachemenne at the Nesse the same tyme 6d.
"Payde to wachemenne wachyng in the stepyll the "same tyme 44d. Spended at Cawnterbury, when "Thomas Caxton, Thomas Groce, John Kempe, and
"John Puleyn, rode to the Kyng 15s. 6d. Spended at "Londone, whenne Thomas Caxtone and Harry Bate "were there with the Kyng 19d. Spended in the "chirche upon the Bayly and Jurattes, whenne they "enquired what lyvelod menne have in Lyde 2d."—for the purpose of assessing a "scot," or income tax.—"Paid
"to John Bakone, goyng to Langer to se what schippes
"that they were, the which rode there 4d. Spendyd
"at the takyng of the manne, the which the Lordes "sent for to Asschforde 4d. Paid for wachyng of the "schipmenne 6d. To Vyncent Sedle, for his horsse "to Folkestone, whenne thye fet gunstonys 6d. To "Thomas Bate, for 1 peyr of whelys to the gunne 18d.
"Paid to Wyllyam Swanne for his horsse and his childe "to Syr John Fogge, with Thomas Caxtone, beryng to "hym a presente, 12d. For one horse and a childe
"[page] to Syr John Scotte, when the sowders wente
"to Sandwich 6d." Fol. 113a., (tr. from the Latin):—
"On Sunday before the Feast of St. Michael the Arch"angel, Thomas Caxtone was chosen Bailiff of the "town of Lyde for the following year."

From fol. 113b to fol. 115a several transcripts of deeds are entered, of the reign of Edward IV.; mostly written by James Bate, with "Jhu" at the top of the page. In fol. 114b is the copy of a will of Alice Kokyred, dated 10th June 1490; she leaves 3s. 4d. for a priest to celebrate Masses in the church of All Saints at Lyde; and to Isabel Kokyrhed, her sister, she leaves her best gown, and her best cow of "browne" colour. In fol.
115a, there is a copy of a deed, whereby, in the 9th year of Edward IV., Alice Cokeryd (the same person, probably) and John, her husband, convey to Thomas Caxton, Simon Bate, and two others, a messuage in Lyde, situate between those of Henry Bate and Thomas Caxtone, with 2 pieces of land in the tenure of the Court of Aldyngton. It was a secret conveyance to religious uses, no doubt. In fol. 116a, on the page reversed, there is an entry of the acknowledgment of a deed; the deed being dated in the 9th year of Edward IV., the acknowledgment bearing date the 7th of June in the first year of King Edward V., a reign extending little beyond two months. The entry is in the hand of James Bate.

11, 12 Edward IV. (1472, 3): Caxton being Bailiff this year.—"Spended upone the Bayly and Trazarerys
"[Treasurers] receyvyng the monye of the towne 2d.
"Spended upone the Stuarde of the Lorde Archebys-"shop of Caunterbury 2s. Paid to Thomas Caxton for "wrytyng and makyng a supplicacion to the Lordes of "Arundelle and to the Leutenante 8d. Spended
"upone the Admyrall, in alle thynges 59s. Paid to "John Symone for makyng of fetres [fettors] 2s. 2d.
"For amending of the stokkes 4d. Yevyne to the "mynstrellys of our Lord Wardene 3s. 4d. Spended "uppon a manne of his in wyne 2d. Spended at "Hastynges by the Bayly, and others with hym, 18s. 7d.
"Delyvered to Thomas Caxton and Wyllyam Nycoll, "rydyng to Sandwich, to speke with the master of the "carvell for to ordeyn menne for us 13s. 4d." (This item has a line run through it.)—"Paid to Laurence
"Groce rydyng to Romene to warn theme of the navye
"of Frenshmenn 8d. Paid to Wyllyam Swanne for his "childe rydyng to Harry Horne, to warne hym of the "navy rydyng at Nesse, 4d. Paid in exspences of the "Bailly and Thomas Groce beyng (at) London, and 2
"children [pages] with themme 17s. For a proclama-
"cion for to have harnesse to the Nesse, and leve dyse "playing [dice playing] 1d. Paid to owld Robert,
"caryng a gunne to the Nesse 4d. Spended on the "Monkes of Batell in wyne 12d. In wyne to the "Kynges messenger 14d. Spended uppon Veske, the "Lorde of Arundell his mann 4d. For one cade sprot
"yewe to hym 12d. For horse to Graysende for me "and my child [the Common Clerk and his page] 4s.
"Paid to the servaunte of Romene bryngyng autoryte "of havyng agayne of oure franchise 8d. Paid to one "bryngyng a letter from Sandwich for the French
"navye 4d. In exspences of the Bailif and John "Durham at Romene, spekyng with the Lord Matri-
"face [P] 44d. In exspences of the Bailif and Wyllyam
"Swanne at Cawnterbury, attendyng onne the Lorde
"Matriface 6s. 5d. For reede for waschmen to brenne "[watchmen to burn] 3d. In exspences onne my

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

"Lorde of Arundelle his manne, bryngyng a lettre for the schip loste at the Wayhisende 8d. Paid to John Symon, having of [off] the fetres from the thefe 4d. Paid for wyne yevyn to Sir John Culpeper 10d. —Expences aboute the theffe.—First, deliverye to Richard Barly for expences of the theffe 8d. For strawe 1d. For wache [watch] to Robert Longe 3d. For makyng of the stokkes, to Jamys Maket, 6d. For tymbre therto 4d. For yryne werke 16d. To John Toyte beryng knowlege to Hastynges 8d. Paid to Richard Barle and his felowe, lying in the Comyne Howse, and wachyng there every nyghte for one weeke 14d. In expences that weeke for the theffe 8d. [The next week.] In expences of the theffe 6d. Paid for one paire of schone [shoes] to his dow3ther 3d. Paid to Richard Barle for wachyng 11 wekes, 7d. one weke, 6s. 5d. Item, yeven to the quest of womenne 4d.,—summoned, perhaps, in reference to the daughter.—"To the hangmanne 8d. Paid to John Durham for 2 haltris 3d. To the Duke of Clarens his mynstrallys 3s. 4d. Paid to hymme that browgth a commawndment for alyens sylvyr 4d." In fols. 121b and 122a is contained an Account, in Caxton's hand, of expences incurred upon provisioning and fitting out the town's ship, upon a first and second "viage;" the crew seem to have been about 20 in number:—"Item, it is owyng to Edward Alwey for occupyng of his bote, and hurtyng of his cabelyng 6s. 8d." 12, 13 Edward IV. (1473, 4). Among the receipts this year occurs:—"Item, receyved of Thomas Caxtone, chapmanne, 'pro sua contributione,' for his scot, 14d."—"Paid for one crye to have catele oute of the feldes 1d. Paid for mattes to the Comyne Howse 10d. Spended at Londone by the Bayly [and others], beyng there to helpe to be dyschargged [sic] of the navye 15s. 5½d. Yevyne to John Bette, goyng to the Ile of Oxney to speke with the queste 12d. Spended at Rye be Thomas Caxtone and others 7s. Spended upone the Lorde Cardynalle his menne, in all thynges 3s. 6d." (Thomas Bouchier, Archbishop of Canterbury, and Cardinal, is meant.) "Paid to Thomas Caxtone, advysyng a letter to our Lorde of Cawnterbury for the wreke 4d. Paid to hym copying the said Lorde his evydence 8d. Paid to Gilbarde to speke with the maister of the Antony 12d. Paid to the mynstrallys of the Lorde of Arundelle 20d. Yevyne to the Kynges mynstrallys 3s. 4d. To the Duke of Clarence his mynstrallys 3s. 4d. To John Bette, caryng strawe to the Gutte [for watchfires] 6d. Paid for one crye to sett water at menne his dorys 1d. Spended by the Bayliff, John Kempe, Willyam Nycolle, and others, beyng with our Cardynall, 10s. Paid to a manne bryngyng a proclamation of the Kyng of Scottes 4d. Paid for one gurnarde fet [fetched] at Rye by J., and yevyn to the Lorde Cardynall his menne 8d." The fish now known as the "gurnard," could not surely be of such a value.—"For one molet yevyne to them 6d. Paid for 3 potellys of wyne 9d. For one potelle of bastarde 5s. Unto themme onne the Hundred day, for 3 potellys of wyne 9d. Delyverid to Thomas Caxtone, rydyng to Oeprenge to speke with Sir John Fogge 3s. 4d. Spended by the Baylye, Thomas Caxtone (and others) beyng at Londone for the queste, and uponne our dayes menne 38s. 6d. Yevyne to Cattysby, our serjaunt, 3s. 4d. Paid for the dyner of the menne of the Mersche 2s. 3d. Paid for one crye to have menne in to the Antony [the town's ship] 1d. Spended by John Alwey uponne the Admyrall 5s." Fols. 126b and 127a are occupied with the enrolment, (in the hand probably of James Bate), of a deed in the 15th of Edward IV. In it mention is made of a piece of land called "Meneland," in the "Eastfelde."

At fol. 128a, after a break, the accounts recommence, in the 17th year of Edward IV. (1478): among the sums received, one "Thomas Bagot" pays 5s.; and 25s. 4d. is received as "Lordshypsilver." On the other side (128b) is a portion of the account of debts due in the 16th year; Thomas Caxton "owing for 2 old scots of the Lordship of Scotteney, 6s."

Fols. 129, 130, contain various entries, out of place, in Caxton's hand, belonging to the earlier years of Edward IV. In Latin, fol. 129a, there is the following entry:—"Thomas Bocher, and John Etherik, and James Hevere, have certified on the day of St. Katharine the Virgin, that Henry Bate sold one sow and one ewe sheep, not wholesome. Also Henry, servant of Henry Bate, says that the sow aforesaid was not wholesome. Also, the butchers aforesaid present that Andrew Bate follows the craft of a butcher, to the nuisance and destruction of the craftsmen there."

Fol. 129b.—"On the 22nd of May, in the 5th year of King Edward IV., before the Bailiff and Jurats, Edmund Smythe, and Isabel, his wife, have made oath that they will depart from the town of Lyde, and will not again approach the same, unless it be for the sake of pilgrimage, or upon a voyage of our Lord the King; nor will they approach within 7 miles of the said town. And they further have made oath, that they will do no evil or damage, either by act or words, to the Bailiff, Jurats aforesaid, or commonalty; but well and trustily will behave themselves, as being trusty to our Lord the King, and to his liegeas."—"On the 18th of October in the 6th year of Edward IV. William Benet produced in Court 6 silver spoons, valued and appraised at 7s. 9½d.; of which amount 6s. 10d. is due to the said William, and so there remains the sum of 11d. [sic] in the hands of the said William."—"On the day of St. Clement, in the 6th year of Edward IV., Andrew Bate made plaint before the Bailiff and Jurats against John Sedele, that the said John said of him, Andrew, that he was an extortioner, and that (he) had dryven away half Dengemersh. And the said John denied this, and said that he did not say so, but that the said Andrew shold dryve menne owt of Dengemersh, as menne said." From a large amount of evidence subjoined, it appears that Andrew was possessed of large herds of cattle, which, to the injury of his neighbours, overran their lands, and the greater part of Denge Marsh.—"Thomas Smyth said that he wold not have sold his landes at Dengemersh for dowble the selver, yf he my3th have occupyd in pees. . . And that be the catell of Andrew Bate he was greuously hurted, thorow whiche he lost yerely his corne, which was cause that he sold his londe. Item, the said Andrew drove his mare into the mire, whiche was cawse of here dethe." The result of these plaints does not appear. At a Common Assembly, holden on the 9th of June in the 5th year of Edward IV., it was "ordeigned, that alle Westrenmen havynge fyshes at Nesse dreid, shall be distreynnyd be here bodyis to yeve acompte of here fyshes. . . and to pay of every 1000 whytyng 2d., and of every 100 lang fysshe [ling], codde, and conger, 2d. And of every 20s. fysshe that they sell be londe 4d., to the common profet."

From fol. 131a to fol. 153b, the matter belongs mostly to the reigns of Henry VI. and Edward IV., the leaves having been misplaced in the binding; their contents will be noticed in the sequel.

At fol. 154a, the Account, in the hand of James Bate, for the 17th year of Edward IV., is continued.—"Paid to the Prince his minstrelles 4s. (Prince Edward, afterwards Edward V.). To the Quene hir minstrellys 16d. To players of Romene 6s. 8d. Paid James Bate, in full payment for his wage, and his liverey gowne 20s. Paid for 2 warrantes, one for the pese of the Kyng of Denmarke, and the other for wole and wolfells, shorlyng and morlyng 8d. Paid for proclamacions made for tenys playeres, dyse players, and koyle players 1d. Paid in expences of the Bailiff, Jurates, and commenyng, goyng to Romene, to see our Customes 2s. 2d." The "Custumal" of Lyde, kept at Romney, is meant.—"Paid John Symon for spykes, and setting onne the feterys of the preste [priest] 8d. In expences of John Chenew, John Ford, and Thomas Conyer, comyng to comene [commune] for the benevolens sylver 4d. (Fol. 155.) Paid Thomas Caxtone for wrytyng of the customes 13s. 4d." This book, "The Custumal of Lyde," already noticed, still exists; and further mention of it will be found in the sequel.

17, 18 Edward IV. (1478, 9).—"Received from Yerysshgrotes and badde sylver 3s. 8d."—Irish groats and clipped money, probably are meant, as being forfeited by those who circulated them.—"Paid the minstrels of our Lord the King 2s. Paid the common purse a 5th part for a ayde for preserving our Charter 24s. 8d.;"—Romney probably paying the other four-fifths. "Paid to a manne of Dovorr portant hither of the Acte of Parliament 4d. Paid in expences of the Yeryll of Arundellys menne, beyryng a letter for wacche for the Flemynge 20d. Paid to the wrasselyng 6s. 8d. Paid to bane cryars of Folstone 6s. 8d." (players who first cried their play throughout the neighbourhood, and then acted in the town). "Paid in expens of the sayd bane cryars of Folstone 6s. 8d. Paid to John Symone, smythe, for smythying of the federys [fettlers] of the preste 2d."

18, 19 Edward IV. (1479, 80).—"Paid for 4 capons, given to the Abbot of Batele and four knights, being at Lyde upon the matter between the Lord Arch-

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

"bishop of Canterbury and the Lord Abbot 3s. 2d.
"Paid the minstrels of the Lord the King 20d. Paid
"Robert Grygge for cleansing the Wateryng by the "Mill 6d. Paid to the ravyne bocchar for takyng of "ravyngs [ravens] 22d. Paid to Richard Fullar, bear"ing a letter for the peace between our King and the "King of Spayne 4d. Paid to Goderynges dowghetyr,
"pour mayde, for hosyne and shoyes, and other thynges
"2s. 4d. Paid to the players of Rye, as a reward 12d.
"Paid for a bagge for the seale villæ ietius, (of this "town) 1d. Paid to the Quene is mynstrelles 2s. Paid
"in expenses at sysyng [assizing] of the busshels,
"and of the Quenes mynstrelles 16d. Paid for 4 pro"clamacions atte chyrchesteyle 4d."

19, 20 Edward IV. (1480, 1).—"In this year died
"William Elys; may God have mercy on his soul (not "improbably the former Common Clerk of that name).—
"Paid the Common Clerk for parchment, and writing
"the new book. Paid to the players of the Lord of "Arundelle 12d. Paid the expenses of Gervase Hoorne
"Esquire and Thomas Oxenbregge, when here upon "the matter of the Abbot of Battle 10d. Paid to the "minstrels of the Lord of Arundelle 16d. Paid to the "bane cryars of the town of Romene 6s. 8d. To the "minstrels of the Lord the King 5s. 5d. To the min"strels of the Queen 3s. 4d. To the minstrels of the "Prince 12d. Paid the expenses of the Bailiff, Vincent "Sedle, and the commoners, when at Romene, when
"Inbasterys [Ambassadors] of France (? were there) 2s.
"Paid expenses of the men of the town of Romene and "other men of the Marsh at Lyde, fetchyng home of "the George 4s. 10d.:"—one of their ships for the royal "navy; so called, probably, after the Duke of Clarence.—
"Paid to the leperys [lepers], whenne the George was "fette home fro Hethe 4d. John Catelyne owes for "his scot 8d."

20, 21 Edward IV. (1481, 2).—"Paid John Teylar
"[Tiler] in taskwork, teylyng the Courtehowse 7s.:"
"—the first mention that occurs, of a Court-house as "distinguished from the former "Common House," of "wood.—"Paid Andrew Bate for 1000 teyle [tiles], half "a hundred corner and 2 regge [ridge] teyls, for the "Courte hows 2s. Paid the minstrels of the Lord of "Arundelle 20d. Paid Thomas Yownge (and) Laurence "Gros, goyng to Rye and to Wynchylse, to speke with "the menne of werre, be a letter sent fro Master
"Gervayse Hoorne 2s. 8d. Paid the expenses of the "Bailiff, Jurats, and commoners, riding to Dovorre,
"Asshford, and Hethe, for the benevolence of the Lord
"the King 20s. Given to the Lieutenant to help us, as "to the benevolence to the Lord the King 6s. 8d. Paid "for fish and its carriage to Asshford, given to the "Lieutenant and the Commissioners there 9s. 2d. Paid "to my Lady of Yorke ys menstrelles 12d."

21, 22 Edward IV. (1482, 3).—"Paid Thomas Maykyne, "to kepe Goderyngys doughtyr 3s. 4d." A leaf is "missing (after fol. 165).

22 Edward IV., 1 Richard III. (A.D. 1483, 4).—"Re"ceived from men standing in the market-place, this "year 1s. 6d. From brasyarys standing in the market"place 20d. Received from polsylyver [poll-silver] this "year 21s.—Paid James Bate, the Common Clerk, his "wage 26s. 8d. Paid John Baker for a gunne 3s. 4d.
"Paid in the house of John Aylewyne the expenses of "the Bishop from the town of Romene, on the feast of "St. Nicholas 5s. 4d. Paid the expenses of John a "Forde, of the town of Romene, for tydings of the "Parliament 2s. Paid the expenses of the Bailiff,
"Thomas Gros, and other men, riding to Rochester, to "speak with the gentlemen, and comyng home 7s. 4d.
"Paid the minstrels of the Lord Duke of Gloucester, "Protector and Defender of England 2s. Paid the "minstrels of the Queen of England 12d. Paid the "expenses of Thomas Gros, Thomas Yow[n]ge, and "John Nycolle, riding to Sandwich for certain evidences "and books, with Thomas Caxtone 11s. 7d. Paid for "horsheir [horse-hire] of 3 horsys 3s."—As already "noticed, Caxton had now removed to Sandwich; and,
"from this item, he would seem to have carried away
"some of the Corporation records with him.

1, 2 Richard III. (1484, 5).—"Paid Thomas Berell for "dekyng [dyking] of the common Wateryng near the "Mill 5s. Paid the expenses of the Bailiff of Romene
"and John a Forde, coming to the town of Lyde,
"praying that the men would go out to the Marsh to "the Lord Cardinal, the Archbishop of Canterbury.
"[Thomas Bouchier] 8d. Paid for mendyng of "Wylliam Aleyn ys jak 3d. Paid to the wacche-
"maste 13s. 4d." Probably a mast erected for a light.—
"Paid for one lb. candylle 1½d. Paid for 2 comene
"scotte bokes to James Bate 3s. 4d. Paid Richard

"Fullar, when he brought hither the commission of "the Lord King Richard, in the night 8d. Paid Johr
"Umfray, when he brought hither the letter as to peace "between King Richard and the King of Scotland, for "a month, 4d. Paid William Nowell, Outnose, and "Watkyne the Furbusher, for their wages 7s. 6d. Paid "for wylde fowle sent to Rafe Asshetone, Knyghte 18d.
"Paid the expenses of Ralph Asshetone, Knight, the "Bailiff, and the Jurats, in the house of Thomas Yonge,
"when they made oath to the Lord King Richard "32s. 5d. Paid the expenses of Sir Rave Asshdowne
"and Maister Kemp, Commyssioners of (the) Kynge, "comyng to Lyde to se the moustre, at the houses of "John Aylwyne and Thomas Yong 17s. 9d. Paid expen"ses at the muster of our Lord the King 10d. Paid the "minstrels of the Lady Anne, Queen of England, and "their expenses 2s. 2d. Paid for a payr of hosyns of "ruset for Goderynges doughter 5d. To William
"Aleyne for his jakke, in part payment 2s." Goderynge "was some poor man, whose history we are not told.

2, 3 Richard III. (1485).—"Paid in expenses of the "Bailiff, John Aylwyne, William Kempe, and others,
"goyng to Wynchylse, to speke with the Lord Gray for "menne shold not go a warre 5s. 2½d. Paid for a queyer "of paypr 3d. Paid the minstrels of the Lady of York
"[Cecily, Duchess of York] 12d. Paid for a kertycloth
"of Herry Goderynges doughtyr, and for makyng
"therof 3s. 1d. Paid John Playce for brengyng home "of Wylliam Aleyns jak 20d. Paid to John Bowdyne
"for a forlok of a gunne 4d. To John Bette for caryage "of a gunne to Nesse 2d. To the minstrels of the Earl "of Arundelle 12d. Paid to the playres in the hyghe "strete 5d. Paid to John Bowdone for mendyng of the "loke of the prisonhowes dore, and stapyll therto 2s.
"Paid to John Whyte goyng to Knolle, carrying thither
"a letter to the Lord Cardinal of Canterbury, upon the "matter as to our Charter 2s." The above, like many "other entries, is in the hand of James Bate, the Common "Clerk: from the peculiar nature of his writing, and his "habit of writing "Jhu" (Jesu) at the head of most pages,
"we have fair grounds, as already stated, for supposing "that he had been trained under Thomas Caxton's tutel"age.—In the latter part of these accounts, it deserves "remark that the expenditure on presents was not nearly "so great as in former years: the sums of money given "to minstrels and players were not so large; and depu"tations of numerous persons, sent to a considerable "distance, were much less frequent than formerly.

Leaves 176-185 (the end) are inserted without refer"ence to chronological sequence, they belonging to various "dates; before bringing them under notice, for a moment
"we must revert to the previous insertions out of their "chronological order, notice of which has hitherto been "omitted.

Fol. 49 (blank on the reverse) is misplaced, it con"taining a number of memoranda, in Latin, of 7-9
"Henry VI. On Sunday after the Nativity of St. John "the Baptist, 7th Henry VI., Thomas Hykkys produced
"as his pledges Thomas Ikham, harper, and John "Pevenyssey, that he would abide by the award of the "Jurats as to a "rebelliousness in words" against the "Bailiff, Jurats, and commonalty. He afterwards ac"knowledges it, and pays to the common purse 6s. 8d.
"All persons appointed by the Bailiff and Jurats, to go to "Romene or elsewhere, on the business of the town, and "refusing, without reasonable cause, are to pay 10s. On "the Day of St. Bartholomew, in the same year, the day "on which Hykkys acknowledged his offence, it was "enacted that so often as he should utter any unbecoming
"(inhonesta) words against the Bailiff and Jurats, he should "have a like punishment; and he "consented and agreed
"so to do, in all things." John Selvir was also put upon "similar terms. Persons refusing to pay their quota "towards the stipend of the Parish Clerk of Lyde, are to "be distrained by the Common Serjeant.

Folios 131-153, misplaced—23 Henry VI. (1445)—
"the commencement of the Account is wanting, and there "are no fewer than 7 Scots, or taxations, levied for this "year.—"Paid Thomas Love, carpenter, for making the "gyne for castyng of the belfry—Paid Richard
"Swetyng for mendyng the Wateryng 16d. Paid
"Thomas Buntynge for keeping the torches of the "church this year 20d. Paid Stephen Howhe for his "boat to Farlay, and for his trouble, 2s. 6d. Paid
"Richard Wodeman, carpenter, for making doors for "the new belfry 26s. 8d. Paid John Greneforde, "attorney for this town in London 13s. 4d. Paid the "shyngeler for his labour, 3s. Paid Richard Swetyng
"for carriage of one purpays to the Lord of Scar"burgh, Governor of Dover Castile, for having his

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

"friendship 20*d*. Paid 2 shyngelers and a boy, mending the old rofe of the church 20*d*." Repairs seem to have been done this year to the church on an extensive scale; and a further account is added, of these expenses, amounting in all to nearly 30*li*.—"Received of ly³te selvyr [money for candles and torches in the church] collected from Lydestrete and from the Newe-bygyng, and from the Est Rype 3*li*. 6*s*. 8*d*. The like from Dengemershe 6*s*. 8*d*. The like on the side of Westebroke 6*s*. 8*d*. Received from Richard Glovere for wool left by legacy for the work of the new belfrey, 4*d*.—Paid the expenses incurred by John Sarlis, when he went to Wynchilse to see the ship of Sir Thomas Kyryell, that was to be hired for this town, 2*s*. Paid towards the 'sawerys' [? meaning] 2*s*. 8*d*. Under another Scot, or taxation:—"Received for torches that were burning around the body of Thomas atte Bregge 6*s*. 8*d*. From money collected by men and women on Hokke Day 29*s*. 11*d*." The items of this Account enter largely into the rigging and equipment of the ship hired by the town, of Sir Thomas Kyriel, from Wynchelse.—"Paid William Kempe for one purpoys given to Master John Fray, Chief Baron of our Lord the King, to have his friendship 15*d*. Delivered to Richard Hughelot, mariner, pursere of the said ship of the town of Lyde, 6*li*. 3*s*. 4*d*. Paid at Appuldore for the breakfast of the men who went thither for the ship called 'Le Ruge Cule,' of Bretagne; huryd [hired] for the voyage for escorting the Lady Margaret, who is to be Queen of England, into England 10*d*. For a cheese bought of John Bate for the ship 6*d*. Paid for 7 ptobells of bere drunk in the Common House 7*d*. Paid the master of the ship of Bretagne 6*s*. 8*d*. Paid for shalis [?] of hemp for talowyng the said ship 2*s*. Paid for fresh herrings for the ship 15*d*. Paid for the carriage of one pipe-cotur to the Sergeant of Dengemershe, for putting in the bread 1*d*.—this was probably a pipe for wine, sawed in half, for storing the ship's bread. The Account is followed by one for the outfit of another ship, similarly sent to escort Queen Margaret to England.—"Paid John Sarlis the former debt for payment made by him at Sandwich for hiring the ship called the 'Trinite,' for the town of Lyde, for the voyage on escorting the Lady Margaret, who is to be Queen of England, into England 29*s*. 4*d*."—Many of the items are run through with the pen, and a note says that there was sent to Richard Hughelot, the pursere, at Portemouth 3*li*. 5*s*. 8*d*.—"For a bordclothe for the ship, and for a bord, 20*d*. Paid William Brownflet for rygging [ridging] the house with turfs, situate in the churchyard, 3*d*. Paid Thomas Olberd for bringing the ship into the Camber from Appuldore 4*d*. Paid for one kildyrkyn of butter, bought for the ship, 3*s*. 6*d*. Paid for the expenses of the Bretons of the ship, here at Lyde 23*d*. Paid Gydne, owner of the ship of the town of Sandwich, in part payment for hire 8*li*."—No doubt, Sir John Gedney, Lord Mayor of London in 1447: he elsewhere receives 10*li*. on two occasions. The Jurats of the town delivered to John Garard the younger, and John William the elder, when they went over to the ship lying at Harfete 6*li*. Under another Scot, or taxation, for this year.—"They answer for 40*s*. received from Richard Hughelot, mariner, pursere of the said ship, called the Trinite, of Sandwich. They answer for 33*s*. received by them as given to the fabric [wood-work] of the new belfry by all the salvers of the takylle of the ship from Hulle."

23, 24 Henry VI. (1445, 6):—"Received of ly³te selvyr 30*s*. this year, which was spent for making of the belesfore, and hanging the bells. The gift of William Say, Esquire, to the new work of the belfry, 3*s*. 4*d*. Given to the minstrels of our Lord the King, when here last year, 3*s*. 4*d*." Lead for the belfry is mentioned among the items of this account, partly paid from the light-silver; the lead being bought in London, and there put on board ship, for Sandwich; whence it was again brought,—"9 sowys of lead," in quantity—by ship to the Camber.—"Paid the plumbers for helyng [covering] the belfry, and for sowerdore for the pipys 37*s*. Paid and given to the bereward, as a courtesy 12*d*. Paid Richard Aleyn for horsehire, when he rode to Sandwich, to make there the last payment for the ship hired for the voyage, on escorting the Queen to England 16*d*. Given to the minstrels of the Duke of Gloucester 3*s*. Expended upon them 4*d*. Paid the expenses at Dover of John Sarlys, Thomas Wynday, Stephen Elys, with the Common Serjeant, being there before the Lieutenant, sitting in the church of St. James; to speak with him to have his favour as to "a queste of the Admiralte by 18 men, that it would not come thither, as was intended to come 6*s*. 8*d*. Continuation of leaves misplaced.—9 Edward IV., (1470).—"Memorandum, that on Seinte Margett [Margaret] ys Daye the yere by fore sayde, was delyvered to Harry Bate and John Pultone, and there felyschypp assigned with them, goyng to the helpe of Kyng Edward, our Soverayne Lord, with my Lord of Warwike 9*li*. 6*s*. 8*d*. Item, to Richard Valance 8*d*." This probably bears reference to the hostilities which ended in the temporary dethronement of Edward by Warwick, October 1470—April 1471.—"Memorandum, that the 21 daye of January, the yer of the regne of oure Soverayne Lorde Kyng Edward the IVthe the 9the (1470), byfore the Bailly and Jurates, it was agreed by all the maisters of the botes, and comyns, that frome that tyme forwarde shulde be kepte contynualle wache at the Nesse by the saide maisters and their manye [household] every festefull day, both the evyne and the daye, and at al other tymys of charge. And that, for every maister and meyny a manne. And no manne to be assigned to the said wache but an oneste indwellere. And yf any of the seide maisters lakke at his wache, and no manne there for hym, be he amerced, as oftentymys as he lakketh ther, at 12*d*.; and every other of the seide maynye at 6*d*. . . . and that mercement lowyd to goo to the reparacion of the gunnys at the seide Nesse. Also, every bote maynye [crew] to have at the seide Nesse 4 bowys and all thynges perteynyng suffyciently to them, at the leste, and 4 gode byllys [bills] or stavys. And what master and meynye that lakketh of the seide ordinaunce and wepynes, be they amerced at 12*d*." In Latin, it is further stated, in continuation of the same page, that on the 29th of May in the 10th year of Edward IV. William Iddryk, of the county of Kent, labourer, shewed to the Bailiff and Jurats a deed of pardon for past offences against the King; which being shown, on cry made, he was set at liberty. In fol. 142a, under the 12th year of Edward IV., (1473), the "court," or "manor," of "Waborne," at Lyde, is named, and a locality called "Hamptounys-crosse" [Hampton's Cross]. In fol. 143, 13 Edward IV., land of the Fraternity of All Saints at Lyde, is mentioned, a brotherhood, no doubt, connected with the parish church of All Saints. In fol. 144b, lands are mentioned as situate in the parishes of Lyde and Promhyll, between Goryswalle and the sea. In an Account of (apparently) the 13th of Edward IV. (1474), Henry Bate being Bailiff, are the following items:—"Paid to Wyllyam Growte, for makynge of a dyner to the Admyralte, of owlde dette 6*d*. Spended upone the Byschopp of Romene 5*s*. 4*d*."—the boy Bishop, St. Nicholas, being meant. Account for 13, 14 Edward IV. (1474); the whole written in Thomas Caxton's hand.—"Paid to Thomas Caxtone for 2 mesures of assise of pewter; that one, a quart off wine mesure, that other a pynt of ale mesure, bow³th be the Standard at Sandwyche 17*d*. Paid for expenses with the Maire there, and other officers 14*d*. Paid to the mynstrelles of the Lord Wardeyne this yere 3*s*. 4*d*. Paid to the bane cryars of Hethe, for reward and expenses, 7*s*. 10*d*. Paid to the bane cryars of Folkstone, for reward and expenses, 8*s*. 4*d*. Paid to the Kyngges menstrelles beyng here 6*s*. 8*d*. Paid this yere for 8 criis at the cherchestyle 8*d*. Paid to Thomas Caxtone for wrytyng and attendyng for this accompt 3*s*. 4*d*. Memorandum, as distresses:—For John Edward, for 16*d*., one mare. For John Hamond, for 8*d*., one lyne, leded. For Roger Pellander, for 6*d*., one axe and one . . ." (illegible). 14, 15 Edward IV. (1475, 6):—in the latter year, Caxton, as already mentioned, probably removed to Sandwich, as Town Clerk there: we have seen him visiting that place in the Account of the preceding year. This Account is apparently in the hand of James Bate, the Common Clerk. Among "Receipts" are the following items:—"Received from Andrew Bate, for bones of the beffe 20*d*. Of Andrew Bate, for salt befe 20*d*. Of Stephen Locoke for flour, 10*s*. Expenses of the Bailiff and Andrew Bate riding to Sandwich, to converse with the Lord the King, 6*s*. 6*d*. Paid John Hystede, Parish Clerk, for his hervest 6*s*. 8*d*."—an extra fee paid to the officials in harvest time.—"Paid for wrytyng of a new scotte boke, and assesyng of the Parysshe Clerke is boke 2*s*. 4*d*. Paid to Richard Barle for riding to Apoldre, to speak as to a new clerk, and horsheir 12*d*. Paid in expenses atte delivery of the pour pepylle is corne 10*d*. Paid wrytyng of a pese betwix the Kyng of England and Scotland, and in expens of a gentyllmanne here 16*d*. Paid to the Kyngges menstrellys 3*s*. 4*d*.

Caxton
T. 142

EXTRA-TION OF YDD.

" Paid expenses of the Bailiff and Jurats on choosing
" 21 men for the ship of Lyde 2s. Paid Robert Admand " and William Admand for sleying [slaying] of befe 11d.
" Paid in expenses att sleying and dryhtyng [pre" paring] of befe 24d. Paid John Bette, riding to " Dovorre, to warn of Frenssh flete, 8d. Paid for a " capone yevyne to John Keryelle 8d. Paid Richard " atte Gate, master of the ship 7s. 6d. Paid for one " hundred weight wode and strawe to the weche atte
" see, and caryage, 22d. Paid for 4 stone crusys to the " shyp 6d. For botyr 8d. For garlyk and oynony 2d.
" For gret [coarse] salt 1d. For dysashes and tren-" cherys 2d. For mostard 1d. For fresshe fetelle
" [? victuals] 7d. For papyr [pepper] 1d. For a ladyll
" 1d. Paid for heir [hire] of the ketyl 12d. For a " tubbe to water [soak] fleshe 4d. For 5 pipes of here
" 37s. 6d. Paid for makyng of paveys [shields], and " payntyng of them 14s. For bord to make paveys 8d.
" Paid expenses of Thomas Groce at Sandwiche, speak" ing with the Lieutenant 6d. Expenses at Canterbury
" of the said Thomas Grose, and horseheir, on speaking " with our Lord the King and our Warden, 19d. Paid
" Thomas Caxtone for wrytyng of 2 bokes and 2 inden" tures, atte 10th peny of the Scotte 4s. Paid to the " audioris [soldiers] that went with John Keryell
" 23s. 4d. Paid for 4 capones, yevyne to the Abbate of " Batell, 3s. 2d. In expenses whenne Thomas Hex" stalle, Maire of Dovorre, is manne was here to inquire
" for the Frenssh flete 4d. Paid for makyng of jakettes
" 3s. 10d. Paid for one flycche of bacone to Robert
" Howgh 16d.—There are in arrear John Bregge,
" Thomas Caxtone, and Thomas Bate, in the collection
" of lyvelode, as set forth by the book :—the " lyve-
" lode" was probably an income tax, or rate upon " profits earned. John Bregge (or "a Bregge") was one " of the Jurats in the following year.

15, 16 Edward IV. (1476, 7).—" Paid to John Brewar
" and his fellowys breyngyng the shipe to Camer
" [Camber] 6d. Paid John Wolfyn for mendyng of the " gunnes 10d. Paid to Richard a Gate, atte the comyng
" over of the Kynge, in reward, 4s. 8d."

Fol. 153 probably belongs to the Account for the 7th and 8th years of Henry VI., fol. 8 in the volume:—
" Paid by the hands of the aforessaid Thomas Jan the " expenses of the Bishop of St. Nicholas from the town " of Romene, when here on St. Nicholas' Day, in the " house of William Turnour, for wylde fowle for him " and his people 14d. Paid to a man who brought " a letter from Dovorre, for arresting the men who " came from France into England without leave 4d.
" Paid the wife of William Turnour, for the men of " Romene who were here with the Bishop of St. Nicholas
" on St. Nicholas Day 3s. 4d. Paid William Menewode, " working at the Common House 4½ days, at 5d. per " day 23d. Paid for wine given to a lord arrested
" here, who came from beyond sea, 12d. Paid for one " stokfyshe, oil, oysters, and wine, in the house of John " Baker, for the Jurats and John Adam, Esquire, and
" James Lowys and others with him, who were to go to " Dengemersh, by precept in a letter from Dovorre,
" for receiving and watching the goods of the Scots
" 12d.:—"a hand is drawn in the margin, to call notice
" to this.—" For bread and ale for the Jurats, who chose " men for the voyage of our Lord the King 3d. Paid " for 4 pounds of candles for the ship 6d. Paid for " bread and wine given to the herbyjour of the Lord
" Marchalle of England, in the house of Lynot 16d.
" Paid for a gallon of wine given to the wife of John " Shelley 8d. Paid William Bate for 3 potells of butter
" for the ship 12d."

The remaining leaves in the volume, folios 176-185, are bound up promiscuously, and belong to various dates. Fol. 176 contains various memoranda, in Latin; one of the 36th year of Henry VI. (1458), to the effect that Henry Cartare, the run-away apprentice of Thomas Knyth (Knight) of Stapville, had come to an agreement with his master, before the Bailiff and Jurats of Lyde;
the apprentice being pardoned for all the offences by him committed "since the world began." In the same year, one Thomas Charle is accused by certain strangers of being a Scot by nation, and not a friend of the King; upon which he is put in prison, and the accusers are to appear at 9 the next morning. They fail to do so, on cry made, and he is released. As to a certain maidservant called "Joan Swan," living with Stephen Hoigge, of Lyde, a dispute arises (in the same year) between the said Stephen and William Swanne of Romene. They agree to abide by the arbitration of Andrew Bate and John at Wyke thereon. Fol. 177:—
" Also, the sayd day—Seynt Austenys Day the Doctor,
" in the viiith yere of the Kyng that now ys (Edward

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

" IV.)—they are agreyd and fully conclude Robert
" Lucas to occupy the sayd service of the Town Clerk-
" schyppe the yere than next folowyng, takyng for hys
" hyre 26s. 8d. and gown." An agreement is also made the same year, with Wylliam Horn, "Vicorye of Lyde;" that "Robert Lucas, Clerk of the sayd paryche, shall " have of the sayd Vicorye, or of hys debite, every Sun" day in the yere a penny, upon thys condicion; that
" the said Robert, or a lawfull debyte [deputy], bryng
" hem to hys hows halywatyr."—The meaning of the following entry (fol. 177b) is not altogether evident; but it belongs to the year in which Caxton resigned the Town Clerkship, and was succeeded by Robert Lucas.—
" Memorandum, that the 2d day of October in the 8
" year of the regne of Kyng Edward the IVth, aperyd
" afore the Baylyfe and Jurates of Lyde, in the Com" mon Hows, Wylliam Olberd of the sayd towne; and " there confescyd that Andrew Bate opynly sayd that " Thomas Caxtone and Vyncent Sedley scholde have " spendyd of the townys money 5 markes to bere hym
" sylle owt for the man that was gydyd owt off our " fraunchyses in to the foreyne, and so ledd up etc; whych
" manne was longyng unto Mayster Alfray of Sowth-
" sexe etc."

Fol. 178b.—Fragment of an Account belonging to 27, 28 Henry VI. (A.D. 1449, 50):—" Paid John Buntynge
" an old debt due to the servant of the Bailiff of Mar" londe, that carts might pass upon the Wall (super " Wallam) when the belfry was making, according to a " promise made to him, 20d."

Fol. 179a. Fragment of an Account without date, but about A.D. 1490.—" Payed to the power man keepyng
" the power chyld 12d. Payed for a stoyll for the " clerk 2d. Payed for makyng clene of the dongen
" 2d."

Fol. 179b contains an agreement, in Latin, with the Bailiff, Jurats, and commoners, dated the Day of St.
Edmund the Confessor 1466, for Robert Lucas to be Parish Clerk, at a salary of 20s. per quarter, together " with half profit of all the bells, with other profits of " the same office." Below, in another hand:—" On the " 11th day of January in the 7th year of King Edward
" IV., came John Edryke, William Frode, and John
" Swanne, before the Bailiff and Jurats, and entered " into recognizances, each for himself in 20 li., to be " paid to the Bailiff and Jurats, or their successors, at " the Feast of Easter then next, under the following " condition, namely;—if John Edryke shall not covet or " desire the wife, the daughter, or the maid servant, of " William Ferdygley, of Lyde, nor yet of any other " man of the parish of Lyde, then this obligation and " recognizance shall be held as null; otherwise it is to " remain in full force."—Also,—" On the 16th day of " January in the 7th year of the reign of King Edward
" IV., came one John Andrewe, bailiff of the liberty of " the Abbess [for "Abbot"] of Battle, as supported by " Andrew Bate, of Lide, and delivered a certain Dis" tringas, in the words following:—" Distrain John " " Serlis, of Lyde, yeman, and Thomas Caxtone, of the " " same, yeman, by all their lands, etc., and issues, etc.,
" " so that I have their bodies at Westminster on the " " Octave of St. Hillary, before the Justiciars of our " " Lord the King, to make answer to John [Newton]
" " Abbot of the Monastery of St. Martin, at Battle, in " " a plea of trespass.—By the Sheriff of Kent to John
" " Andrewe, bailiff of the liberty of the Abbot of " " Battle." Fol. 181b (partly in Caxton's writing) contains a long account, in English, of alleged exactions by Andrew Bate, from "Western men," drying their whiting on the Nesse, while Caxton is represented as supporting William Rolfe, in his offer to the Abbot of Battle, as lord of the manor, of a larger rental for the manor of Dengemersh, against Bate: "cabons" are mentioned, evidently the wooden huts of the fishermen there. Andrew Bate, at this time, seems to have been "fermour" of Dengemersh; much, it was alleged, to the detriment of the place.

Fol. 182a, in Caxton's hand, in Latin:—" Memorandum, " that on the Day of St. Anne, mother of the Virgin, in " the 5th year of the reign of King Edward IV., came " before the Bailiff and Jurats of Lyde, Agnes, relict of " John Hunt, and, after all things being taken into " account, the town owes the said Agnes for rent of the " house for the great organs, 13s. 4d.; and further, she " gave up to the church of Lyde 5s. 10d. of her debt,
" for the souls of John Hunt and of Sir Roger Jelever.
" And the said Jurats granted that the Churchwardens
" should pay the said 13s. 4d. to the said Agnes."—
" On the same day, Alexander Gray, being in prison,
" because he fled to the church for a wound inflicted " upon Simon Etterik, supposing him dead therefrom;

"and the same Simon having been hitherto sound for the space of 40 days since the wound was inflicted, and no action having been brought against the said Alexander; was, by award of the Bailiff and Jurats, restored to his liberty in the church, and therefore acquitted." The following (in Latin), on the same folio, is in the hand of James Bate:—"Memorandum, on the 17th day of the month of September, at the 8th hour at night, in the 2nd year of the reign of King Henry VII., there came one John Davy, and entered the churchyard of All Saints in Lyde, and asked for privilege of church there, and a Coroner; and Laurence Gros, Bailiff there, as Coroner, examined the said John Davy, for what reason he was there —"; it then breaks off. Fol. 182b.—"On the 4th day of March, in the 4th year of the reign of King Edward IV., Edward Elys and Richard Harry, feoffees of Stephen Harry, came, and promised to give 100s. and more, of the money received, and to be received, from the tenement late of the said Stephen, unto the church of Lyde, on condition that the name of the said Stephen should every Sunday be published and prayed for, among the other Benefactors of the same church."

Fol. 184, a, b, is a fragment of the Account for the 8th and 9th years of Edward IV. (1469, 70): the following are among the items:—"Received from men standing in the market, beyond one day in the week 3s. 4d." "Received from a Common Scott without polle money 19 li. 14s. 10d. Fines for drawing daggers this year 3s. 4d. Payd unto Thomas Caxtune for hys hors 2 tymys to Gravyshende 4s. Payd unto the sayd Thomas Caxtune for syttyng with the Baylyfe [John Serlys] in court 3s. 4d. Payd unto Vincent Sedlay, he drynkyng with Thomas Bayene at Londone, 4d." Bayene, as already noticed, was the town's London agent.—"Payd unto Thomas Caxtune goyng to Lundene, havyng every day 6d. a day; beyng owt 22 days for the mater betwyxt the Abbot and us, 11s."

On closing these extracts, a few additional remarks, in reference to Thomas Caxton, and his probable relationship to William Caxton, our first printer, may perhaps be not out of place.—He left Lyde, as already noticed, in 1476, to accept office as Common Clerk of Sandwich. That William Caxton was, by apprenticeship with Robert Large, Mercer, a member of the Mercers' Company in London, is a well known fact. Among the persons who sued for the royal pardon, as having taken part in the Rebellion known as "Jack Cade's Insurrection," appears the name of Hugh Caxton, of Sandwich, Mercer (Jack Cade's Rebellion, by B. B. Orridge, p. 68). In the following year, as we learn from Mr. Blades's Life of Caxton, an order was sent from the Mercers' Company in London, to some person (not named) at Sandwich, for gowns for the gentlewomen of the Duchess of Burgundy; in close proximity to whose Court, at Bruges, William Caxton was then living. It is only a surmise, but certainly not an improbable one, that this order may have been given to Hugh Caxton, of Sandwich; and this, through the intervention, all the more probably, of William Caxton, if connected with him by blood. On the other hand, Thomas Caxton's visits to Sandwich, as entered in this book, are very numerous, and sometimes prolonged—though certainly in reference to the town's business—as set forth in various items between the years 1458 and 1476.

One other circumstance also deserves remark, in reference to this question.—One of William Caxton's fellow apprentices in London was a "Robert Dedes," a person of which surname, as seen in the Report upon the Records of Rye, was residing in that place in the reign of Edward III. Supposing, as elsewhere suggested, that William Caxton was a native of Tenterden, he may not improbably have been influenced in selecting Robert Large as his master, by a (comparatively) near neighbour, Robert Dedes, of Rye, a member perhaps of the same family as the John Dedes of the time of Edward III.

The Custom Book, Customall, or Custumal, of Lyde, as transcribed by Thomas Caxton, from the older copy at Romney, and for which he was paid the sum of 13s. 4d. just before his departure for Sandwich in 1476, has been previously alluded to.—This identical copy, a thin quarto volume, of 28 leaves of vellum, still exists among the archives of the Corporation of Lydd. The first 13 leaves, containing 75 heads, or chapters, are, to all appearance, wholly written in Caxton's hand; those on the remaining 15 belonging to various more recent dates. With the exception of the first three leaves, which are slightly mutilated, the volume is in good condition. On the parchment cover, which is somewhat torn, and is formed of 2 leaves of an illuminated folio Service-book of the 14th century, is written, in a hand of a somewhat more recent date than Caxton's time, "The Customall of Lydd." There are various names scribbled on the cover, in later hands, John Bate and John Bartruppe in the number; but, among them, his own name does not appear. Among them also, the adage, "Homo homini lupus"—Man to man is a wolf, twice appears. A few passages among the more curious of these Ordinances deserve to be noticed.—

"Also, it is used that whanne a manne fleeth to Holy Chirohe, the Baylef, as Coroner, shal come to him to examyne him [as to] the cause of his fleying etc. And he wyll felony k[n]owleche, be it inrollyd. And thanne he shalle abyde in the churche xl dayes, yf he wille, and att the ende of the seid xl dayes, he shalle forswere the Kynges londe ther before the Baylif and Jurattes, and he shall chose his porte for to passe; and if he wille make abjuracion within xl dayes, he shalbe except [accepted] therto, and a noon after the abjuracion he shalle take the crosse, and then the Baylif shalle do cry, onne the Kynges behalfe, that no manne, on forfettour of his lyfe and lyme, do him no harme, as long as he is in the Kynges high-way toward his porte.

"Also, it is used, if ony be founde cuttyng purses or pikeyng purses or other smale thynges, lynnyn, wollen, or other goodes, of lytille value, within the fraunchise, att the sute of the party, [he] be brought in to the high strete, and ther his ere nayld to a post, or to a cart whele, and to him shalbe take a knyffe in hand. And he shall make fyne to the towne, and after forswere the towne, never to come ayene. And he be found after, doying in lyke wise, he thanne to lose his other ere. And he be found the thirde tyme, beryng tokyne of his ii eris lost, or els other signe by which he is knowene a theffe, att sute of party be he jugged [judged] to deth."—The "knife in hand" was delivered to him, that he might liberate himself by cutting off his own ear.—

"Also, it is ordenyd, that the Kynges comone Court shalbe hold the Saturday, before the Baylif and Jurattes, sitting in the Comene House, the Kynges Jugges; and at ix of the cloke, before the Court begynne, the great belle be knellyd a xii strokes, or moo, as for warnyng to the Court.

"Also, it is used that the market be hold in the high strete, both of vetaylle and of all other manner of marchaundize brought by strangers; and that no manne be sufferde for to sell his ware goyng howse by howse."

Among the regulations belonging to a somewhat later date, it is enacted, apparently in the reign of Henry VIII., as to "Taverne keepers, or Typplers," among other things,— "That none be admitted, but suche as shalbe able to have competent lodgings for strangers and weyfarynge men, and to have a competent stent of fuell wood, mete for suche occupyenge.

"Item, that none refuse to sell owte of there dores suche wyne, ale, or beare, as thaye use to sell in there owne houses, uppon payne of fyne and amercement."

"Item, that none putte sale any kynde of vytells in ther howses uppon the Sundayes or holly dayes, in the tyme of Devyne Service in the churche, uppon payne of amercement, except it be to suche strangers as shall come at the tyme of Common Prayer, and cannot tarry any long wyle, without frawde or culler.

"Item, that they retayne no man's servantes in there howses at unlawfull tymes, nor suffer them at any tyme to playe at unlawfull games, or to kepe yll rule in there houses, uppon payne of grevous amercement." Chandlers are enjoined, "that there be no lack of candell at any tyme by the space of xxxiii howers together, uppon payne of amercement."

Among "Ordynances concernynge everye perticuler person," are the following, out of a great number,—

"Item, for avoydng of commen annoyances, yt is orderyd that none shall washe any clothes at any commen wells of the towne, nor gyve any horse, geldyng, mare, or bullock, drynk at the buckett of any suche well, uppon payne of iis. for every such offence."

"Item, that none shall mysuse or mysorder the common wells called 'Pyggwell,' or 'Kete Well,' to the hurt or detremet of the water or sprynges of the same well . . . uppon payne of iiii. 4d."

"Item, that every poore man within this towne have of his owne in his howse or close, at Michelmas every yeare, three lodes of fuell wood at the least; uppon payne of imprisonment, and to be found suspicious of hedge pykyng and wood stelyng."

SPORA-IN OF LYDD.

CORPORATION OF
LYDD.

"Item, it is ordered that no collection or gatheringe be used in the church upon the Sabothe daye, or holly dayes, but only for the poore people, upon payne of xxs. for every offence."

In reference to Bakers,—“That there breade be well made, holsome, and good paste, and well bake; and that thaye bake no muste corne, upon payne of forfaiture of theire breade.

"Item, that there commen kyndes of brede be whyte, ravell [whitey-brown], and browne, and no lacke hereof at any tyme. And that they gyve vantage to every dosen and half dosen, upon payne of amercement:—the loaf thrown in to make the "baker's dozen," or half-dozen, is alluded to.

"Item, that every commen baker have his proper marke, to be allowed by the Baylyf, and recorded in the towne bookes, upon payne of amercement."

As to Brewers,—“That thaye refuse not to sell there bere to poore folkes by the pynne [P measured up to the 'pin'], coppell [small cup], or gallon, for there redy monye, nor to any other inhabytant not beyng customed with them; upon payne of amercement."

"Item, that there be no lacke of beere at any tyme throughe there defaute, upon payne of amercement."

As to Butchers,—“That thaye kyll not (to put to sale) any meesly fleshe, nor rotten or unwholsome fleshe. And that there fleshe be well kylde and well fedde, mete to be allowed in any market, upon payne (of) forfaiture of the same.

"Item, that thay sell not their tallowe owte of the towne, yf any chandler in the towne will buy the same, upon payne of fyne.

"Item, that no butcher leave of kyllyng, or sellinge of flesh, before Shroftide."

The entries in this "Customall" end with some new forms of oath in the reign of James the Second.

Among the muniments of the Corporation of Lydd, there are a number of tattered folio leaves of paper, with writing in a hand of, apparently, the latter half of the 17th century; being a copy of a series of curious memoranda in reference to the early history of the town and its various manors, drawn up, for some legal purpose, in the earlier part of the reign of Queen Elizabeth. Some of the information contained in these memoranda seems to have been derived from recondite sources, in part, at least, probably now no longer in existence: extracts of the more important portions are therefore subjoined:—

"Memorandum, it is to be noted that the Archbishop of Canterbury was allways the chief Lord of the towne of Lydd, as now the Queene is; and that the Bayliffe, Jurats, and Commons, of the same towne by old Charters were called,—'Homines Archiepiscopi Cantuariensis in Lydd et Dengemarsch,' or 'in Lydd et Ingemarsch, commorantes;'" which indeed were his tenants.

"There is comprehended within the liberties of Lydd, 3 Bouroughs, viz., Lydd, Dengemarsch, and Orwellstone (otherwise Orwarstone). The Bourough of Lydd is a cirquit, known by marks and bounds, lying wholly within the tenure of the Court of Aldington, appertaining to the said Archbishop. The which bourough was called, in Latin, 'Collecta de Lydd,' and in old English 'The Cullet of Lydd;' and was divided into two Inges and one Verge; as appeareth by an old book of the Archbishop of Canterbury called 'The Black Book,' and bearing no date.

"And afterwards, the service done to the Archbishop of Average (a service done by and with beasts and cattell), before all time of memory, was charged (P changed) and turned to a sum of money; as much as the service of Average then came unto, viz.:—7*li*. 8*s*. 3*d*. for (P with) a henne, and 30*s*. for common fine and all profits of Court, yearly. So that the said men or tennants so called, which be Baylif, Jurats, and Commons, that be freeholders of Lydd, be Lords in mean of the said bourough of Lydd, holding the same of the manor of Aldington for the rent and common fine abovesaid, and have, apertaining to the same, their common called 'the Ripe,' 'Holmstone,' and 'Beach.'

"(Note. The inhabitants of Lydd and tennants of the Archbishop did not assume unto themselves the name of Baylif, Jurats, and Commonalty, of Lydd, till the reign of King Henry the Sixt.)

"The Bourough of Orwellstone, otherwise Orwarstone, is the land on the north and west side of the towne to Old Romenye; and is called, as appeareth by old precedents of the bounds and Barony of Lydd, 'Inge-

'marsh;' and is divided into 3 parts, Westbrook, Orwellstone, and Mydley, holden of divers Lords; viz., some part of Orwellstone, as part of Mydley, and the Marsh called 'New Lands,' were parcell of the 2 Inges and one Verge above mentioned. And Westbrook lyeth within divers Lordships, being mean lands to the Archbishop, as Old Longport, New Longport, Bletching, and the Vicar of Lydd. The residue of Orwellstone is holden of divers Lords, as the manor of Belgare, the manor of Jacques Court, the manor of Warehorne, the Sextre of Christ Church, the Castle of Rochester, the late Chappell of Batleghe, the Dean and Chapter of Christ Church, and of no other Lordes.

"The Bourough of Dengemarsch is the land on the east and south side of the town, or Ripe, to the sea, and is partly holden of the manor of Aldington, and appertaining to the said tennants of the Archbishop of Canterbury dwelling in Lydd, and part of the manor of Dengemarsch sometime of the Abbot of Battell, and, before that, the Prince; and by King William the Conqueror given to the Abbot of Battell; that is to say, all the lands lying on the east and south side of the water course of Dengemarsch is within the lordshipp of the Abbot of Battell, and all the lands lying between the Ripe and the water course, and so to Polehill, lieth in the Lordshipp of the Archbishop of Canterbury; as by the bounds thereof hereafter mentioned may plainly appear."

The above entries are followed by—"Orders taken for the Ripe, the 26th of September 1574, by the Bayliffe, Jurats, and Commons, of Lydd." The commons, in a code of 28 resolutions, agree thereby to forego their rights of common on the Ripe, and, in lieu thereof, to have a flock of sheep there for the general use of the town; but how this was to be effected, in the way of division, is not stated. A town shepherd was to be appointed for keeping the stock, as follows:—"Item, it is ordered that yearly, at the Feast of St Mary Magdalen, there shall be chosen a shepperd to keep and look to the sheep of the towne, by the Bayliffe, Jurats, and Commons, as they may accord; which shepperd shall yearly make account of the number yearly remaining, and of the increase and decay of the same. And which shepperd shall yearly put in sureties for his dealling."

This is followed by an account of the sheep then given for the formation of the town flock, to be pastured on the Ripe.—"The benevolence of sheep given to the towne by the Bayliff, Jurats, and Commons, as followeth.—John Heblethwait, Bayliff, notwithstanding his great loss in sheep last year," gives "6 ewes." Among others "Thomas Bate, Jurat," gives "40 ewes," and "John Bate, Jurat, 10 ewes," the total given being "392 ewes."

The Memoranda then proceed with,—“The bounds of the Archbishop's Franchess, sometime so called, or the ground which now is called 'Bishoprick;' which seemeth to be made by way of pertition between the Archbishop and his tenants, and the Barrons of Lydd:" the boundaries, stated at length, having been "found and presented by Andrew Bate and John Bate, tennants to the Lord Archbishop, in the 2nd year of King Edward IV., 1462." This is followed by—"The bounds of the Barrony, including the Archbishopprike, as it was presented in the 2nd year of King Edward IV., 1462," such bounds being also given in full.

The following is an extract, in continuation, of the principal portions of these Memoranda:—

"And it is to be noted that the cirquit of ground commonly called the 'Bishoprick,' is, in the antient records of the principall Court of Aldington, called 'the Denn of Lydd,' whereof came first the name of 'Densmarsh;' to wit, the marsh lieing under, or by, the Den of Lydd; for the same Denn of Lydd is a bank ground much higher than all the rest of the marshes or grounds adjoyning.

"And the said Denn of Lydd is holden of the Mannor of Aldington, by the Barrons of Lydd, for the yearly rent of 7*li*. 8*s*. 3*d*., as before is mentioned, and for the sum of 30*s*. yearly in the name of a common fine, for not appearing at Aldington Court, and for all manor of profits of Court, escheats, reliefs, and other duties.

"The which Denn of Lydd of old time, long sithence, was divided into two Inges, or Yeats, called in the Latin Recorde, 'jugum terræ.' And the service that in old time was done and had for the said 2 Inges, or Yates of land, was called 'averagium,' and was done by catell.

CORPORATION OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

fitting out of the new balenger, or town barge; 3s. being paid for a kettle (cacabo) for it.

10, 11 Richard II., A.D. 1387-8, William Holyngbroke, of Holyngbroke Ward, heads the list of Maltotes. James Tyce appears in this year for the first time, in Holyngbroke Ward, as there paying the very humble sum of 2d. In the preceding year he paid 2d. as a Vintner; and in this year he also pays 11d. in High Mill Ward. He afterwards rose, in the town, to be a man of eminence. The payments of the Vintry this year are fourfold in number those of the preceding year, Alice Mortimer paying the highest sum, 10s. 8d.; probably she was the widow of Richard. William Ropere still heads the list of Butchers, in the amount of his Maltote.—“Paid Margery Watte 3s. for hire of one room for the rigging, for three quarters of this year.” 10s. 10d. given to the men of Hythe for their play. 23s. 2½d., the expenses of Stephen Adam and William Holyngbroke in conferring with the Lord Archbishop. 4s. 4d. paid for the expenses incurred in saving a ship “at the Kenele.”

11, 12 Richard II. A.D. 1388, 9. William Holyngbroke is at the head of the list of Maltotes paid: Alice Mortimer has disappeared from the Vintry; and William Ropere still pays the largest Maltote as a Butcher. In fol 25 b, (old numeration), under this year, there is an interpolation, to the following effect (translated):—“Be it remembered, that John Lewyne was arrested for his rebelliousness committed against Symon Clerk, Jurat, and the other Jurats, at the dest (P dais), on the 11th of December in the 20th year of the reign of King Richard the Second, and was bound in a penalty of 20s., by pledges, Symon Beaupry and James Hikke, if guilty thereof for the future.”—Account of 11, 12 Richard II. continued.—“Received 40s. from the executors of John (P Simon) Colrede for one anchor which the said Simon took at Romene, upon the sands there.”—“Paid 11l. 2s. 3d. to John Elys, to deliver the same to the Warden of Dover Castle, on the promise made to him at the Shepwey. 11s. 2d. for fish sent to the lady, the wife of Sir John Devros. 7s. 10d. paid for making the bridge of Ille:—a wooden bridge over the Rother: the locality where this bridge once stood, is still pointed out.—“Paid to Nicholas Peintour, mason, and his men, for their work upon the Slow (Sluice). Paid 26l. 13s. 4d. to Nicholas Whatemane, carpenter, for his work upon the Slow. Paid 3l. 15s. to Andrew Colyn for digging in the Ree. Paid John Louecok 18s. for a panel for the Slow.”

12, 13 Richard II. A.D. 1389, 90. William Holyngbroke is still the first in the list: Hugh Fletcher pays the highest Maltote as a Butcher, William Ropere the next.—“Paid 6s. 8d., by James Tyce and Robert Jeffe, for groynynge the bridge of Ille. Paid 3s. 4d. to John Salmon, pilotage (lodmanagio) to Scotland (for the town balinger). Paid 8d. for a pound of sealing-wax (ceræ gummatæ). Paid 21½d. for engraving the little seal. Paid 11s. 2d. for fish sent to the Archbishop, being at Saltwode.”

On fol. 30 a a transcript is given of a long indenture bearing date the 21st of Richard II. (1398), and made between William Porter and Robert Geffe, of the one part, and Edith, the wife of Andrew Colyn, of Romene, of the other part. The following localities are mentioned in it.—A messuage, called “the Salt-shoppes,” in the Parish of St. Laurence. A messuage in Spytelstrete, in the Parish of St. Laurence. A stall (stallagium) at which the said Andrew used to stand. An acre of land called “Brettysacre” in the Parish of Hope All Saints, “near the land of the heirs of William Holyngbroke the elder,” and near the “land of Crawthorne.” A messuage called the “Kayhouse,” in the Parish of St. Nicholas, at Romene. A stall in the Parish of St. Laurence, at which John Hurtyne, of Hethe, used to stand. Two acres of land, situate at Bowetoune, in the Parish of Lyde, near the land of William Septvantz, Knight, and the land there of James Tiece. A stall in the Parish of St. Laurence, opposite the market called “the Poultry [le Pultrie].” A new barn and a new stall, in the Spitelstrete, in the Parish of St. Laurence. A house called “the Herhouse:” the latter, possibly, may have been a mere fowl-house.

13, 14 Richard II., A.D. 1390, 1: William Holyngbroke, of Holyngbroke Ward, is still named first among the inhabitants. Three millers are named, serving under three different masters, as paying Maltote, in Hope Ward. In the “Vintry,” John Lucas, “of the Hope” (Hoop) pays 4d.; and he, or another person so called, pays 22d. as a “Mariner.”—“For remuneration given to a certain messenger, sent to Zerne-mouthe (Yarmouth) for the saving of the liberties of Romene there. Paid for capons and cygnets sent to the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, at Saltwode, and horses hired for the same, with messengers 27s. 10d. Expenses of the Jurats and their horses, then riding to the same lord 26s. 8d. Expenses of the Slowe (Sluice) and of the bridge of Horne, and of repair of the way at Walgate 11s. 6d. For the pay of John Pecham, Common Clerk, for the whole year, and remuneration given to him, 56s. 8s.”

14, 15 Richard II., A.D. 1391, 2. As hitherto, William Holyngbroke heads the list. The name of “John Cakstone” appears this year, for the first time; a man of some means, as paying one of the highest Maltotes in Holyngbroke Ward. Reference will again be made to him, at a later date. In Heymelle (High Mill) Ward, Simon Eadmund pays 10d. for Maltote; Margery, his wife, is named, but pays nothing. John Orgoner, (as he has done from the beginning of the book) pays 12d. for Maltote, in Joce Ward: it was his duty probably to play the organ in the church of St. Nicholas, or St. Laurence. Receipts—“16d. for an old debt from William Swantone, late Vicar of Romene, for a Maltote. 40s. for a fine from John Talbot, Bailiff of Romene, paid to the commonalty this year, because he offended against it.”—“Paid for the expenses of 18 best men of the town, riding to the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, to protect the liberty of the town, and that the said Lord might not usurp it 28s. 4½d. Paid for all costs incurred upon 24 capons, 24 geese, 24 pullets, sent to the Constable of Dover, on holding the Schipwey 31s. 8d. Paid in divers expenses upon Edward Dalingregge, Knight, when in the town for one night, to ride on the morrow to the Schipwey, namely, in wine, capons, and pullets, sent to him 6s. 1d.” Large sums are spent this year upon a ship, “hired and arrayed for the King’s service.”—“Expenses upon Henry de Horne, when he came to the town of Romene, to treat with the commonalty thereof, for the bridge called ‘Hornysbregge’ 3s. 7d. For rent for a solar hired in the house of Henry Roger, for three quarters, to put the things belonging to the commonalty there 3s.”

15, 16 Richard II., A.D. 1392, 3: William Holyngbroke is at the head of the list. John Bachelor pays 2s. 2d. for Maltote in Hope Ward, and Salamon Mous 9d. William Robyn pays, as a Mariner, 3s. 1½d. and 2s. 6d. for a trawulere, probably a trawling-net.—“Paid for divers expenses at various times upon the Slow, and taking down of the bridge of Hornesbregge, and Walgate, and other necessary expenses 3l. 11s. 7d.”

16, 17 Richard II. A.D. 1393, 4: William Holyngbroke heads the list. John Cakstone is here written as “Kaketone”; his Maltote having declined from 4s. 4d. to 3s. “John Swetemouth” pays 22d. in Hamersnoth Ward. The occupation of “Hospites,” or Hostlers, is now no longer limited to women, but equally shared by the two sexes.

At fol. 41 b. an interpolation occurs (in Latin) bearing date the 12th year of Henry VI. (A.D. 1433) stating that Melis Vantellicht, of Danske (Dantzic), master of the ship “Mary Knygth,” which had been wrecked, claimed certain goods that had been saved, and were in the town of Romene, and that the Jurats and certain commoners made composition with him for 7 marks 6 shillings; whereupon a release was duly executed by Vantellicht.

16, 17 Richard II. continued.—“They answer for fines received, for dung 10s. 10d. and 2s. fines for swine. Also 12d. received for one pipekoker (empty winecask). And 2s. received for ferm (rent) of the Slow:—this may mean that the revenues of the Slow, or Sluice, had been recently let on lease.—“Expenses of John Elys, being at London various times for the making of indentures for the Cinque Ports, as to their liberties 4l. 4s. Paid for yarne and a cord for the wine 4s. 4d.; and for making up of the same 15d.”—this was for “Wyntrendyng and portorage of wine,” upon which town dues, or Maltotes, were raised.—“Paid for the desque which stands in the church of St. Nicholas 20d.” A list of the “Barge stores” is given under this year. An interpolation (in Latin) at fol. 42 b. states that on the 9th of June in the 20th year of Richard II. (1397), “came Symon Spicer of Hethe, into our Chancery,” before the then Bailiff, Richard Water, (a Notary, and probably appointed by the Archbishop of Canterbury) and the Jurats, as also, before Henry Philpot, Jurat of Hethe, and John Smalwode, Common Clerk of Hethe, and entered into a certain bond.

CORPORATION OF
NEW ROMNEY.

REPO-
SION OF
NEW MONEY.CORPORATION OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

17, 18 Richard II. A.D. 1394, 5. The name of William Holyngbroke disappears for a time, he probably being absent from the town; the name of Joan Holyngbroke probably his wife, heads the list of inhabitants paying Maltotes. John Cakystone pays a reduced Maltote, of 2s. No fewer than 48 persons pay Maltote under the head of "Vintry" this year. Payments.—"They account for expenses incurred in gifts to the Lady Beaumont, in the absence of the Warden [John Lord de Beaumont], he being in Ireland at the time, when the same lady was delivered of a son; the same as the other Barons did at divers times, and on the day on which the same lady was church'd; on which day the best [valentiores] men of the town of Romene were at Dover Castle, at dinner there, 7l. 11s. 6d. Paid the Lord de Beaumont, on account of the promise made by the Cinque Ports, and in remuneration of the officers at Dover Castle, and in other costs incurred thereon, before the departure of the Lord de Beaumont for Ireland 11l. 8s. 8d. For expenses incurred by Jurats sent at different times to Stephen Betenham, and for victuals bought for the same Stephen, when he came to Romene, to give his counsel for maintaining the liberties of Romene 38s. 10d. For presents given to John Wotton, and expenses incurred to gain an order of the Lord Archbishop, as to destroying the market, except upon feast days 23s. 10d. For gifts to, and expenses incurred upon, John Drax and William Lente, Serjeants-at-arms to our Lord the King, coming severally at different times with letters patent for holding inquest as to goods coming by wrec upon the sea-coast this year, 30s. 10d. For the expenses of Stephen Adam, John Elys, Hugh Flegger, James Tiece, and John Pecham, riding to Maidestone by appointment of the Jurats, to know the will of the Lord Archbishop, what he purposed to do against the liberties of Romene; and also, upon Master Richard Water, Notary, coming from Canterbury, for making challenges (provocationibus) in Romene 52s. 3d. For expenses upon John Colpeper, for a certain breakfast 16s. For expenses of John Pecham riding (equitantis) to Ireland for the community, and his remuneration for 11 weeks 10l."

18, 19 Richard II., A.D. 1395, 6. Joan Holyngbroke heads the list of Maltotes. John Cakstone pays an increased Maltote of 3s. 10d.—"Paid for gifts given to the Lord de Beaumont [Beaumont], Warden of the Cinque Ports, when he arrived from Ireland, and to the Lady de Beaumont, in the absence of the said lord, as the other Barons did, for the maintenance of the liberties of the Cinque Ports this year, 9l. 12s. 6½d. For divers gifts and expenses this year, in the Jurats making suit to the Reverend Father, the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, to put his bailiwick into the hands of the community of Romene, at ferm 15l. 14s. 7½d. Paid rent for the chamber for the Jurats, and forms in the same; costs of the Slow; and stores, and costs of the Schipwey this year 41s. 6d."

19, 20 Richard II. A.D. 1396, 7; Joan Holyngbroke is the first in the list, beginning with Holyngbroke Ward: William Clederow, a townsman afterwards of note, appears for the first time. John "Cakton" pays an enlarged Maltote of 4s.; and a Robert Cakton also appears, paying 4d. "A stranger there dwelling" pays 14d. in "Bocherye" Ward. 8d. is paid for Maltote upon two porpoises, "cut up," or, by retail.—"Received 42s. for dishes, chargers [parapsidibus], ox-hides, and other things sold this year." "Spent on buying a new barge 53l. 6s. 8d. For making, repairing, and mending, together with divers tools, and carpenters' wages, as to the said barge 28l. 10s. 4½d. Expenses at Parliament of John Yon and Robert Geffe, and two grooms, and four horses, holden on the 19th of February 106s. 0½d. Expenses incurred upon the Queen's [Isabel of France] Coronation, by Stephen Adam, Symon Clerk, John Gardynner, and James Tiece, with purchase of 3 garnitures [garnementorum] of baudekyn with 3 hoods of scarlet, and 4 men and 8 horses, going and returning 12 days, 12l. 19s. 8d. Paid for the repair and mending of the house of the Slowe [Sluice house] 9s. 9d." It is found also that 10l. is due to the Hospital of St. John.

20, 21 Richard II., A.D. 1397, 8. The name of William Holyngbroke now reappears: he pays the comparatively large Maltote of 6s. 8d., there being a note against it, "pro agreemento," by agreement, it being understood, probably, to include all that might have been due in his absence. The name of Joan Holyngbroke follows, with the small Maltote of 9d., John "Caktone" pays 4s., Robert Caktone 2s. 8d., these in Holyngbroke

Ward; but in Bocherye Ward, a Robert Caktone pays also 14d. In addition to the preceding payment by William Holyngbroke, John Turnour pays a sum of "3s. 9d. of the Maltote of William Holyngbroke in arrears from the 19th year." Three men are excused from paying in Joce Ward, "because they are mariners;" we may perhaps hence conclude, that this Ward was adjacent to the sea-shore. The Hostellers, consisting of five women, are but few in number now; their lodging-houses probably being gradually superseded by the inns. Under "the Vintry," William Lucas is mentioned as still keeping the "Hope" [Hoop]; and John Yon, the Member of Parliament, pays the largest Maltote for importing wine.—"Presents sent to the Archbishop and Lieutenant of the Castle, and gifts to the said Lieutenant and to John Wytton, and the Clerk of the Castle, and to John Blakeburne, Serjeant-at-arms to the King, and to other Serjeants 6l. 5s. 6d." This is followed (fol. 52 b.) by "The Account of Symon Clerk, Robert Geffe, surveyor of the barge, and John Palmere, master thereof." In the same page tuns and pipes of wine, perry, [pirotar], and oider [segear] are mentioned as being warehoused in the town.—"On the 23rd day of December, Richard Grygori was sworn to search all boats coming with fish and herrings to market, so that no one should sell any fish or herrings from any boat at market or elsewhere, until all the fish or herrings in every boat should have been exposed for sale."

21, 22 Richard II., A.D. 1398, 9: William and Joan Holyngbroke head the list of Maltotes; John "Cakton" pays a Maltote of 4s., but Robert "Cakton" disappears. William Elmet pays 2s. 5d. jointly with "Argent, his wife." In Joce Ward, against John Organer, the Organist's name, is entered "mortuus est," he is dead. In Mill Ward, Stephen Adam now has a mill, in addition to the Heyemulle (High Mill). In fol. 51 a. is entered (as an interpolation) the formal resignation, (1 Henry IV.) to the twelve Jurats of Romene, of the Mastership of the House, or Hospital, of St. John, by John Wyginton, Master thereof:—"Received 24s. from Roger Coupere, arrears of his account upon the voyage from Roohel to Dunkirke, in the time of John Palmere, master of the ship or barge." Items occasionally occur to shew that the Corporation earned money by freightage on board their ship, or barge, when on foreign service.—"Paid for a house standing on the Quay of St. Nicholas, bought of John Tymberden for the community this year 106s. 8d. Given to John Bone, coming hither from Flanders to make the Sluice, for his pains 23s. 4d. and for his expenses the time he stayed here, namely, for 3 days 20d. In the prosecution for forbidding the market of Lyde, and other costs and expenses 23s."

22, 23 Richard II., 1 Henry IV., A.D. 1399, 1400. William and Joan Holyngbroke, in Holyngbroke Ward, are at the head of the list of Maltotes. John "Cakton" pays 4s.—"Received at Milford 9l. 13s. 4d. for wages of men and ships," "Costs upon the Coronation of our Lord the King (Henry IV.), by John Lunceforde, John Gardiner, and John Talbot, for 10 days, with purchase of 3 gowns and 3 hoods of scarlet, and broidyng of 3 sleeves, and making up of the gowns and hoods, with hire of their horses 9l. 11s. 4d. Costs incurred upon the pleas holden at Westminster, and lances and bells 3s. 4d., for the canopy held over the Sovereign by the Barons of the Cinque Ports.—"For renewal of the Charters this year, 6l. 12s. 10½d. For the costs of . . . and for the costs of Robert Holier and John May, riding to Sandwich and to London, and along the sea-coast, to obtain news as to the arrival of the present King."

1, 2 Henry IV., A.D. 1399, 1400. William and Joan Holyngbroke head the list of Maltotes: John "Caktone" pays 3s. 4d. In a deed interpolated, of the 5th year of this reign, fol. 59 a. mention is made of St. Martin's churchyard.—"Expended upon the barge for 7 weeks, on a voyage to Newcastle, this year, 8l. 7½d. Gifts, costs, and rewards, given for return of writs, and for letters of Brodhull, and to the players of Hethe, this year 35s. 7d. For digging a delve (dam) for the barge, and strikyng the rigging of the barge, and for the warden of the same, and to William Brabesone, for melting the tallow 11s. 7d." The tallow would be used for rubbing the barge, to make it water-tight. "To John Fynch, for paper, wax, oil, and spices, bought of him, and for pilotage at [p to] Kirkeleye 28s. 1d." Probably Kirkley, or Kirtley, near Lowestoft, is meant: the Bailiff sent from Romney to the Fair at Yarmouth would probably land there.—"For repair of the Common House this year 9s. 6d." In an interpolation in fol. 60 a. of the sixth year of Henry IV., the Jurats are mentioned as "holding session" in the church of St. Nicholas. Reginald Willes is put upon his good behaviour for having sold an oar belonging to the commonalty, and taken possession of the "common boat," against the will of the Jurats. In the same year presentment is made to the Jurats, in the same church, as to the finding of 250 pounds of wax, near the sea-shore. The Bailiff of the town takes, "in the name of the Lord," (the Archbishop of Canterbury), 88 pounds, the rest being divided among the freemen and non-freemen who had found it.

CORPORATION OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

Fol. 60 b, further interpolations occur, among them the following, (tr.):—"Be it remembered, that whereas various dissensions and disputes had been mooted between the Barons and community of the town of Romene of the one part, and many men of the Marsh of Romene of the other part, as to certain land within the two walls towards Appuldre extending, and to the community of the town of Romene pertaining; which land the said men of the Marsh of Romene have occupied, and do not cease daily to occupy, to the no small prejudice and grievance of the aforesaid Barons and their heirs; therefore the said Barons of Romene, desiring and wishing to resist the malevolent designs of the said men of the Marsh of Romene, and to prevent their occupation of the land aforesaid with their cattle, distrained William Kene and Thomas Merasher, occupying the land aforesaid with their sheep; that is to say, on the 2nd day of May in the 9th year of the reign of Henry the Sixth. Wherefore, on the morrow of the said day came the aforesaid William Kene to the vill of Romene, and put himself upon the favour of the Jurats; which Jurats decided that the same William should pay 6s. 8d. for occupation of the said land; and the aforesaid Jurats to ferm let the same parcel to the said William, to have and to hold the same to him and his assigns."

Fol. 61a, John Hamone, of Radynge [Reading Gate, near Tenterden], in the 19th of Richard II., is put upon terms by the Jurats, sitting in Chancery, not to throw "lastage or sand" in the haven. John Kenne, in the 20th year of the same reign, "binds himself in Chancery before the Jurats," not to speak evil of the Jurats, or offend against them. In the 21st year, the same John Kenne is fined for speaking evil of James Tiece, one of the Jurats. In the same page a transcript is given of a royal precept to John Wode, of Smethe, the King's escheator, in reference to markets wrongfully held, weekly, by the men of the vill of Lyde and Broklende [Lydd and Brookland], enjoining inquisition to be held thereon.

Fol. 61 b, (tr.).—"On Tuesday next after Palm Sunday in the 14th year of the reign of King Richard II. Richard Grigory confessed that he had offended against the custom of the town; and out of reverence for the Duke of Lancaster, the 100s. in which he had been before bound, to the community were reduced to 6 shillings, etc." On the 16th of April in the same year, John Bode, of Mergate, is bound in future not to obstruct the entry of seawater into the haven, by throwing sand or anything else therein. Stephen Fere is fined 5s. for buying 100 mackerel at Widisnesse, for 3 shillings, and afterwards selling them in the market. Richard Stille is fined 6s. 8d., for buying 200 mackerel at the "Keye," before sunrise, and selling the same in market. On the 28th of October in the same year, Nicholas Hamon acknowledges that he has offended against the community, by absenting himself from the town, during the time of the King's service, and pays 6s. 8d. fine.

2, 3 Henry IV., A.D. 1400, 1. William Holyngbroke (but paying no Maltote) heads Holyngbroke Ward; Joan Holyngbroke pays 4d. John Talbot, (who was at one time the Archbishop's Bailiff of the town) pays 13s. 4d. the highest Maltote levied in the Ward. The Maltote of John "Caktone" is reduced so low as 18d.—"22l. 12d. received this year for freight of 42 tuns of wine of La Rochele, brought in the new barge, at 10s. 6d. per tun."—"Expended upon victuals for the Archbishop and Warden of the Cinque Ports, and presents given to them this year 9l. Expenses of James Tiece riding to Dover, with William atte Vawte, for the discharge of 3 balengiers and 2 barges, demanded by the King for the escort of the Queen [Joan of Navarre] to Calais 4s. 8d. Gift to, and expenses of, John Bytham, Serjeant-at-arms to our Lord the King, coming here to stay ships bound for Gascony 7s. 6d. For timber and workmen at the Sluice, the latrine, and the delf for the new barge 3l. 14s. 6d. Expenses of William Cliderowe, sent to London for renewing the Charter, "as to certain articles mooted between the brethren of the Cinque Ports 6s. 8d. To Peter Reade, of Dover, Bailiff of Jernemouth [Yarmouth] this year 3l. 6s. 8d. To a certain man of Dover, for carrying the said money 4d. Expenses of divers men, as well Jurats as others, riding to Smallyde at different times, to see and buy the new barge, and to pay for the same 30s. 4d. Paid to the Chapel of Smallyde, at the launch of the barge 3s. 4d. For purchase of the same vessel 40l. 6s. 8d. For victuals for the same ship, and ready money given to the master, on going to Rochelle 10l. 9s. 9d. Paid James Hakeman, for a gonnapouch bought of him, for the voyage to Scotland 5s. Paid John Barone, carpenter, in part payment for making the common latrine 9s. 4d. Paid John Maffey, for compilation of this account 10s." The name of the town barge seems to have been the "Oneswithe," or "Eneswithe;" but on this point the context, entered in a remarkably small hand, is somewhat confused and doubtful.

3, 4 Henry IV., A.D. 1401, 2. The name of William Holyngbroke now disappears, and he is probably dead; Joan, perhaps his widow, heads the list of Maltotes; John "Caktone" pays an increased Maltote, of 4s. Among the "Receipts"—"From St. John's House 10l." Paid expenses this year in making new gates to the sluice of Snergate 16l. 10s. 9s. Victuals and other necessities for the voyage from Bretagne 17l. 10s. 4d. For making and digging the new harbour [novum portum] 41l. 6s. 6d. For expenses on the Lord Archbishop, the Lieutenant of Dover, and others coming to the town this year 5l. 14s. 5d. At Parliament, upon Coronation of the Queen of England, and a 15th allowed 18l. 5d. To John Halegood, Master of St. John's House, 13s. 4d. in part payment of a debt of 10l."

4, 5 Henry IV., A.D. 1402, 3. Joan Holyngbroke still heads the list of Maltotes; John "Caktone" pays 4s. Alice Talbot, probably the widow of John, pays the largest Maltote in Holyngbroke Ward.—"Received 6l. 6s. 8d. for our share on our ship escorting [conducentis] wools to Flanders, and other profits to the same ship pertaining."—"Be it remembered, that on the 23rd day of the month of March in the 5th year of the reign of King Henry IV., the Jurats of Lyde and Dungemareys made account in the church of St. Nicholas, at Romene, before the Jurats there, of all their outlays and expenses, and the said Jurats paid 6l. 1d. as their rated proportion of the said expenses; the Jurats of Dungemareys paying 2s., their fifth thereof."

5, 6 Henry IV., A.D. 1403, 4. Joan Holyngbroke heads the list of Maltotes, paying 6d.; Alice Talbot pays the very large sum of 16s. 6d.; John "Caktone" paying, as before, 4s. The name of William Caustone appears almost immediately below his, without a sum for Maltote being annexed thereto.—"Received 17s. 6d. from Richard Cobbe, for rent of the Common House at Snergate, from the feast of the Nativity of John the Baptist to this day. Also, 5s. received for occupation of the Common House at the Keye. Also, 19s. 8d. received as a fourth part of wax, found by certain men of the town, not freemen, near the sea."—"Paid for a boat, bought for the common ship 27s. Spent on the pig-house [domo porcorum], and for minor expenses 4s. 10d."—"Be it remembered that John Wygynton, on the 12th day of February in the 7th year of the reign of King Henry IV., was chosen Master of the House of St. John, at Romene, for the term of his life; and it was granted him that he should have out of that house one corrody of 8d. weekly, on the understanding that he lives well and honestly. And on the same day, the said John acknowledged before the Jurats of the town aforesaid, that, if he should die holding such office of Master, then the said house should have of his goods 40s. sterling."

6, 7 Henry IV., A.D. 1404, 5. Joan Holyngbroke still heads the list, but no Maltote is placed against her name, she being no longer in trade, probably. John "Caktone" pays an increased Maltote, of 5s. 7d. William Caustone is named, but pays no Maltote.—"Received 30s. from rebels in the community, for that they contradicted the lawful precepts of the Jurats, in keeping their watch, and in other matters touching the good rule of the town aforesaid. 3s. received from William Denys, for hire of the house of the community upon the Keye. 10s. from Richard Colyn, for letting of the house at Snergate. 7l. 18s. received from Thomas Kent, Master of the common ship, for freight of 39 tuns of wine from Burdeau.

ORAL
107
IV
SNT.

"50s. for the share of such ship in one tun of oil, taken up at sea, on the same voyage. Also, 15*l*. 12*s*. freight of 40 tuns of wine, and one tun of oil, the goods of merchants; such merchants having 21 tuns as 20, according to the manner of merchants. 12*d*. for certain wood that was found at Gerounde [Gironde]. 2*s*. 6*d*. received as freight for 3 pipes of wine in the said ship from Sandwyche to Romene." — "Paid 50*s*. 7*d*. for planks, timber, carriage, and workmen, on repair of Illesbrigge, and digging at the Sluice; 7*l*. 15*s*. 8*d*. as promised to our Warden of the Cinque Ports." The expenses of the common ship, in being fitted out for its voyage to Bordeaux, form a large part of the items this year.

7, 8 Henry IV., A.D. 1405, 6: the name of Joan Holyngbroke now disappears; and Stephen Holyngbroke, (paying 18*d*. for Maltote), in Sharle Wood, is, for a time, the only representative of this once opulent family. John "Cakston" pays 5*s*. 4*d*. for Maltote; and William Caustone is mentioned, in the same Ward of Holyngbroke, without a sum there annexed to his name as a Maltote; but he pays 3*d*. under the head of Vintry. — "Received 8*s*. 4*d*. as freight for 5 thousand of bylet in the common ship, for Sandwich." — "Paid 6*l*. 2*s*. 1*d*. for a new gate this year, made for the Slow. 6*l*. 4*s*. 10*d*. for canavas for a new sail to the ship, and carriage thereof from London. 4*l*. 14*s*. 2*d*. for wheat, bread, cider, meal, fish, salt, firewood, and other supplies for the common ship, to Burdeux. 3*l*. 12*s*. 2*d*. expenses of John Ive, John Maffey, William Robyn, Alexander Upton, John Wilyam, and others, and in presents for having counsel and friendship in the trial against John Knyght in the Admiralty Court, in the plea of account."

8, 9 Henry IV., A.D. 1406, 7: the names of John Cakstone and William Caustone now disappear. The former may very possibly have been nearly related to the Thomas Caxtone, mentioned in an accompanying Report (on the Records of Rye) as a lawyer, first living at Tenterden; and then (in the Report upon the Records of Lydd) as removing to Lydd, and holding the office, first of Common Clerk there, and afterwards of Bailiff; from which place he removed, as Common Clerk, to Sandwich, in 1476. Whether the person at present under notice, John Cakstone, was removed by death, or whether he left Romney, for some other place, perhaps Tenterden, there are no grounds for ascertaining. The name of Causton, is said to have been but a variation of "Cakstone," or "Caxtone;" but this seems somewhat doubtful, as we here have them in juxta-position. — "Received 3*s*. 4*d*. from a certain Portuguese, for retail of salt. Received 55*s*. 3*d*. collected by Vincent for digging the Common Ree [? the bed of the river Rother]." — "Paid 14*s*. 10*d*. for a certain present made to the Archbishop of Canterbury, to have his good assistance in prosecuting our business. 9*l*. 14*s*. 3*d*. for the digging of the Ree. 13*l*. 6*s*. 8*d*. to Robert Barone, in part payment of 20*l*. for a certain sluice newly made."

9, 10 Henry IV., A.D. 1407, 8. In this year, we miss the name of William Roper, who has generally paid the largest Maltote, as a Butcher, during the last 20 years. — "Received 3*s*. 4*d*., a free gift of John Hacche, Vicar of Romene, that the Jurats in future shall not hold their session in his church, while Divine Service is being celebrated." — "Paid 5*l*. 2*s*. 3*d*. costs and expenses for renewing the General Charter, with the clause of Licet. Paid 6*s*. 8*d*. for cleansing the Market dyke. Paid 3*l*. 18*s*. to Thomas Rokyske, Master of St. John's House, on the old debt, so that nothing is now due."

10, 11 Henry IV., A.D. 1408, 9. Maltote is paid for "Spitlemelle," or Hospital Mill, in Hospital Ward. Thomas Mellere pays also 3*d*. for "Loverotismelle," Loverote's Mill, in the same Ward.

An interpolation in fol. 77a states that on the 19th of January in the 12th year of Henry VI., Richard Glover, of Lyde, took of Stephen Pocock, Master of the House of St. John the Baptist, 8½ acres belonging to the Brethren and Sisters of that house, situate in the Parish of Lyde, according to the terms of an indenture then made.

10, 11 Henry IV. continued. — "Received 6*s*. 8*d*. of John Palmere, for one keggynqanere [kedge anchor] sold to him." — "6*s*. 8*d*. given to the players of Lyde, as a courtesy, for the honour of the town. Paid 21*s*. 8*d*. to William Clidrowe, for rent of the house in which the Jurats hold their sessions, for a year and a half, and half a quarter, at 13*s*. 4*d*. per annum. 5*l*. for expenses and presents made at London, with the other brethren of the Cinque Ports there, for maintaining their liberties."

5.

11, 12 Henry IV., A.D. 1409, 10. A person named "Robert Curthorse" pays 2*d*. for Maltote in Hospital Ward. — "Received of Thomas Mylet, for letting of the house of the community at Snergate 11*s*. 2*d*. Received 6*s*. increase upon white salt bought by the Jurats for the community. Received 4*l*. 12*d*. moneys assessed for the digging of the water-course." — "Paid 6*s*. 8*d*. to Hugh Flegler for 12 cartloads of stones, to renew the pavement, near the corner of Simon Leg. Paid 15*s*. 9*d*. for timber, nails, canvas, cords, and other necessities, for repairing the sluice at Snergate. 32*s*. 11½*d*. to carpenters and labourers working thereat. 52*s*. 8*d*. to divers countrymen digging there, for cleansing the gates of the sluice. 40*s*. 8*d*. for wine given to the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, for having his good will. Paid 5*s*. to divers men, labouring in the new Sluice this year. Paid 5*l*. 10*s*. the expenses of William Clidrowe riding to London twice, by order of the Brodhill, to prosecute divers business before our Lord the Prince, touching the state of the Cinque Ports. Paid 5*s*. for hire of horses and expenses incurred, in carrying our Charters to Faversham, for the same cause. Paid 13*s*. 4*d*. to Hugh Flegler, in name of the heirs of William Holyngbrook, for hire of the Common House this year. Paid 20*s*. expenses of William Clidrowe and John Maffey, and their servants, with horsehire, to Canterbury, to have counsel from Stephen Bettenham on divers pleas moved in Court; and for one dozen of salted eels sent him, because he would receive nothing from us. Paid 10*s*. 10*d*. for repair of our house at Snergate, and for wages of the keeper there. Paid 2*s*. 1½*d*. for drink and fuel at the dest [dais] in the Common. In house."

In fol. 80 b, a Composition, or Agreement, is entered, in Norman French, signed by the Bailiff and Jurats of Romene, on the 7th of November 1412: it seems to be of so remarkable a nature as to deserve translation:— "To all those who this privy letter shall see or hear, the Bailiff and Jurats of the town of Romene, greeting in our Saviour. We do let you know that, for the especial desire and the good will that the masters and mariners below named, have to keep and maintain certain needful and profitable contracts and appointments below written; there have met and appeared before us, on this day, John Palmer, William Robyn, John Broclond, Simon Pere, William Wottone, John Maydekyn, John Saltere, William Saltere, Thomas Feldswelle, John Hughelyn, John Lucas, Richard Walter, and John Penfelde, all masters and mariners of the said town of Romene, John Smythe, William Makemete, William Sharle, Simon Loonge, Simon Gerard, Robert William, Richard William, Franceys Hayne, Henry Maynard, Stephen Lesse, Stephen atte Wyk, John Skral, Nicholas Galiot, Richard Beneyt, Michael Spicer, Nicholas Knyvet, William Englye, and Thomas Dygone, all masters and mariners of the town of Lyde; the which say and acknowledge, that they do will, and do grant, as well for themselves as for all other masters and mariners, abiding in the towns aforesaid, and in the boundaries around, that all masters and mariners dwelling on the coast of France, from Harfleu as far as Hendrenesce, and in the boundaries around, who may be taken by the masters and mariners above-named, or by others of the said towns of Romene and Lyde, shall be acquitted of their ransom or payment, in the manner that follows: that is to say, that every master shall be acquitted of his ransom, or payment, for six nobles, with his expenses, 20 sterlings [pence] for each week, for his table; and every mariner shall be acquitted for 3 nobles, with his expenses, 20 sterlings for each week, for his table, with half a noble for his safe-conduct. And if it happen that a fishing-boat be taken on the one coast or the other, all the boat, with its nets and tackle, shall be acquitted for 40 pence sterling. And so a man of the one coast or the other, who is dwelling within the boundaries aforesaid, in whatsoever place he may be taken, shall be acquitted as to ransom or payment. And if it happen that from the one coast or the other there be taken a gentleman or a merchant, those who take him might, and may, put him to such payment and ransom as shall please them, and seem good to them, without in any way infringing or weakening the contracts and engagements above agreed upon. They and every of them, to wit, the masters and mariners above-named, promising by their faith and by their corporal oath, that all the aforesaid contracts and engagements shall from henceforth on their part be strictly held, kept, and observed, without ever going to the con-

3 Y

CORPORATION OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

"trary thereof. Provided always, that it be so done also by those dwelling between the town of Harfen and Hendrenesse unto the masters and mariners between the town of Hamptone [Southampton] and the Isle of Tanet. In witness of which matter, at the prayer of the masters and mariners above named, we, the aforesaid Bailiff and Jurats of Romene, to these letters have set the seal of our office, the 7th day of November, in the year of Grace 1412."

In an interpolated entry in the same folio, 80 b, the two parties, in a case there stated as to be submitted to arbitration, agree that if either shall contravene the award, the one shall pay 100s. to the church of St. Nicholas at Romene, or the other 100s. to the church of Hope All Saints.

12, 13 Henry IV., A.D. 1410, 1. In this year, the name of William Caustone reappears in Holyngbroke Ward, but without a Maltote annexed. The names of Hugh and William Holyngbroke also appear in this Ward, with the small Maltotes of 5d. and 4d. annexed, Hugh paying 3d. also under the head of Vintry. "Three men pay one shilling each for selling a 'porpoys' out of the town this year.—"Received 13s. 4d. from the Wardens of the church of St. Laurence for one bell, silver-gilt, sold to them. Also, 12s. from the Wardens of the church of St. Nicholas, for another bell of the same; which bells came to the community at the Coronation of Henry IV., King of England, at Westminster. Received 38l. 6s. from moneys assessed by the community for making the Sluice anew, and repairs. Also, 20s. received from John Hache, Vicar of Romene, for the same work."—"Paid 21½d. for wine given and drunk among the commoners of the town, on their petition. 28s. 3d. for fish brought and sent to the Lord the Prince, our Warden, at Dover. 13s. 4d. for one sturgeon, and its carriage; bought and sent to Richard Clyderowe, Esquire. Also, 3l. 16s. 5d. expenses of 21 men, Jurats as well as others, with hire of horses and servants, when at Dover on the morrow of our Lord's Ascension, and there for 3 days and 3 nights, on Inquisition made for the King, as well in the church of St. James there; as on the sea-shore. 6s. for wine given to Sir John Pelham, Knight, for divers benefits, by his favour, done to us heretofore. Also, 9s. 4d. for wine given to Sir John Wake-ryngge, Archdeacon of Canterbury, and Sir John Prendirgest, and others, coming to the town, to have their friendship. 45s. 6d. expenses of victuals with the mariners, sent to Sandwich by sea, by command of the Lord the Prince. 33l. 6s. 8d. paid to a Hollander [Dutchman] in part payment of 100l. for the Sluice. Also, 6d. paid to him in the name of Goddisselver [God's silver, a hansel]. 10s. 10d. paid to divers carpenters and labourers drawing timber to the Sluice, near Gefles Saltcote. 13s. 4d. for rent of the Common House. 4s. 11d. for counters, coals, rushes, and wine, drunk at various times at the session of the Jurats and others coming amongst them. Also, 7s. 10d. for our part of the service which the Lord de Bardolf claims to have of the Cinque Ports at Dover. 4s. to James Tiece for hire of a certain room, in which certain goods of the community are kept."

13 Henry IV., 1 Henry V., A.D. 1412, 3. The name of William Caustone does not appear this year.—"Received as a gift of Nicholas Middeltone, Chaplain, this year, to the Sluice 6s. 8d. Of Hugh Neweman, Chaplain, for the same 6s. 8d. Of James Muryell, Chaplain, for the same 6s. 8d.; and of Nicholas Oby, Chaplain, for the same 6s. 8d."—"Paid to Thomas Mayhew, of Sandwich, for his suit before our Lord the King, in abridgement of our voyage 16s. 8d. Paid to divers men for the walls, for digging, and for throwing out the water, both day and night, in making the dammes for the site of the Sluice, 36l. 6s. 8d. Paid to Brice Shert and to Thomas Rokesle for surveying the same work 40s. Paid William Thwoyt and his companions, for digging and walling, in making the wall around Jeffes Saltcote, and for digging opposite the Qwenehalle, and for other days' work done by them about the Sluice, 5l. 4s. 2½d. For hurddes and stanchons bought for the dammes 6s. 2d. Paid for the painting of 23 pavises [shields], and their renewing or repair 7s. 3½d. Paid divers carpenters working at Snergate this year 6s. Paid the takers of pigs, and for impounding them 4s. 11d. Paid Gerard Mattheyessone at divers times 43l., in part payment. For woollen cloth, and shearing it, and making it up into one gown and four hoods, for the said Gerard and his 3 wormen 20s. 2d."—This Gerard was probably the "Hollander," before mentioned.—"Paid for iron chains for the small gates of the Sluice, and to the sawyers sawing boards to cover the Sluice, in the name of the said Gerard 10s. 11d. For 4 boltes, 2 binders, hooks, and one lock with a key, for the turnepyke 3s. 2d. For a chain, lock, and key, for the wheel of the Sluice 16d. Paid to John Adam for his wages in Parliament, at Westminster, 25 days 3l. 2s. 6d., at 2s. 6d. per day."

Among some ordinances, in French, at fol. 84b is the following:—"Also, that all the dunghelles standing on the franchise, in the highway, be removed by those who made them, on penalty, at the discretion of the Jurats; and that no man put dung in the highway from henceforth, under such penalty. Also, that no swine shall be allowed to go within the franchise, out of keeping; and if there be any such, let it forthwith be taken by certain officers of the town, thereto assigned and sworn, and put in the pound; which pound shall be made at the common costs of the town. And that no swine shall be delivered up, until its owner shall have paid, for each swine, one penny, of which the community shall have one half, and the takers the other half."

In the same page, in Latin,—"It was ordained and enacted by the Bailiff and Jurats of the town of Romene, that all priests [presbiteri], and those who commonly frequent taverns, shall be in their houses where they ought to pass the night, at nine o'clock at the outside, under a penalty of 6s. 8d., to be levied from the said delinquents, and applied by the Bailiff and the community, in equal parts; and that no taverner shall maintain such delinquents, under the penalty aforesaid. Also, it was ordained etc., that all cur [scouriles] dogs shall be expelled from the town, or at least be safely kept, so that they do no harm, under a penalty of 20d., within eight days after publication of the said enactment, to be levied from those rebelling against the same."

The following is from a set of enactments, in French, bearing date the 5th year of Henry VI., interpolated in fol. 85a.—Persons, free of the town, selling wine within it, are to pay 12d. per pipe, if sold wholesale; but 2s. if "by way of tapping." Persons, not freemen, are in all cases to pay 2 shillings.—"Also, it is ordained, that every man selling cider in the said town, shall pay 6d. for each pipe."

In fol. 85 b an entry is made, under the 14th year of Henry IV., with a pen run through it, that, whereas Dame [Domina] Beatrix Prendergest had exposed a tun of wine, in a tavern called "Rome," contrary to the tenor of the mandates before stated, William Herberd, Chaplain, appeared before the Jurats, and gave security for 10 marks on her behalf.—"John Boturforde, on the Eve of the Annunciation of the Blessed Mary, in the first year of the reign of Henry V., was arrested and imprisoned, for that he broke the seal of the Common Serjeant, when put upon his house by precept of the Jurats:" his fine was 20s.—"On the 8th of August in the first year of the reign of King Henry V., John Hughelyn was presented, for that he transgressed and offended against the statutes of the town, seeing that he cursed and lied to John Palmere, one of the Jurats, and also contradicted William Robyn, his twentyman [vintenario] and the Jurats, in making watch of the said town. On being examined, he acknowledged the trespass, and pledged himself in 10l., by favour of the Jurats."—"Also, on the 21st day of July, in the 2nd year of the reign of King Henry V., Thomas Curray was arrested by the Common Serjeant, for that he repeatedly refused to come before the Jurats of the vill of Romene, to perform the duties of Collector of Maltotes of the same town, and he would not go there. Therefore the Jurats of the said town proceeded to the house of the said Thomas, to arrest him, and to make him come to the Common House, to make answer why he refused to be arrested. Upon which day the same Thomas stood at his door, with a certain implement called a wefd, to resist the said Jurats, against the usages of the town aforesaid; and there he said that he would not go with them to prison until after noon on that day. But afterwards, when the Jurats had departed, after noon, the said Thomas surrendered himself to prison, and voluntarily entered the Common House, as a prisoner, and there confessed the trespass aforesaid." He was thereupon fined 20s., and gave surety to the amount of 4l.—"Also, on the first day of February in the year above mentioned, William Horewode was arrested and imprisoned in the Common House, for that, whereas certain dissensions had arisen between him and John "Olyversone, and the Jurats of the said town had wished to make peace, between them, he, the said William, declared that the said Jurats intended to do him an injury, to the scandal of the Jurats aforesaid, and the disgrace of the whole community." His fine was 20*d.* and he gave surety in 7 marks for his good behaviour.

1, 2 Henry V., A.D. 1413, 4. Under the Wards, now jointly, of Hamersnoth and Colbrond, Bartholomew Bermakere pays 4*d.*: his occupation, probably, was the making of beer." John Hughelyn pays a Maltote upon sprottes [sprats] of 10*d.*—"Received 11*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* of the goods of John Ive, for a corrody of 26*s.* from St. John's House, to the behoof of Joan, daughter of John Rolfe. Also, 40*s.* from the same goods to the use of the community, for the health of the soul of the said John Ive. Also, 33*s.* 4*d.* received from James Lowys, from the goods of Hugh Tiece, for charity's sake. Also, 8*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.* received from Thomas Rokysle for one tun and one pipe of wine belonging to the community, drunk in the tavern of Onobette. 3*s.* 4*d.* from John Fastolfe, for an impression of the common seal to a certain writing of attachment, here in Court recovered. 20*s.* from John Mountfort, in name of John Hughelyn, for divers trespasses, and his bad behaviour towards the Jurats, against the custom of the town. 35*s.* from Thomas Milet, at the feast of our Lord's Nativity, for rent of our house at Snergate for 3 years. Also, 19*l.* 4*d.* moneys collected from divers men riding and hunting beyond the new Sluice." Paid,—"First, the costs and expenses of William Cliderow, William Chance, and James Lowys, being at Westminster this year, at the King's Coronation, 4*l.* 14*s.* 7*d.* Given to the players [histrionibus] in the Hall that day 10*s.* And for 3 gowns of scarlet for the same 6*l.* 18*s.* Given by William Cliderow and James Lowys to the Clerk of the Rolls, to have his friendship as to allowance of the 10th and 15th, granted in Parliament 3*s.* 4*d.* Given to the Usher of the Parliament Chamber, at the same time 8*d.* Paid for the writing of the Acts of Parliament 12*d.* Paid the wages of John Gartone, being at London for renewal of the Charter, and for obtaining writs of the 10th and 15th, for 24 days 40*s.* Also, for our share of the fine, sealing, writing, and presents given to the lawyers for having their counsel on the same case 5*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* Paid to our Warden, for one tun and one pipe of wine bought of him 6*l.* Also, for drawing the same, and a place for it in the tavern 10*s.* For wine given to the Lord Archbishop 9*s.* 4*d.* Expenses of Thomas Milet, at Snergate, for repair of our houses there for 3 years past 31*s.* For mending the Common House upon the Keye, and mending the latrine; two loads of rys [twigs] and half a quarter of stanchones for making a hedge to close the way to the Sluice; and for making the same, canvas, tallow, old hides, nails, and other small things, bought for the benefit of the Sluice 16*s.* 2*d.* Paid Gerard Mathyessone in part payment of his contract 22*l.* 2*s.* 5*d.* Expenses of James Tiece and James Lowys, riding to Cranebrok to represent to the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, that we may have 5 marks to the use of the community out of the goods of Hugh Tiece 5*s.* 4*d.* Paid Hugh Flegger and James Lowys for Colbrondes tenement, bought of them for a Common House 16*l.* Paid certain people of Olderomene for making a damme there in the preceding year, at the bridge 3*s.* 4*d.* Expenses of fish sent to the Lieutenant at Dover, that we may have his friendship in divers causes touching the state of the Cinque Ports 7*s.* 1*d.*

2, 3 Henry V., A.D. 1414, 5. In Sharle (now called "Sherlegh") Ward, one "John atte Sluz" is rated to the Maltote; from which we have some ground for concluding that the Sluice was situate in that Ward. In Hamersnoth and Colbrond Wards, now united, "a certain stranger dwelling in Leggesoore" pays 9*d.*; "a certain piper" [quidam fistulator] 2*d.*; and a certain "cufator" [P cupmaker] 2*d.* The "Hospites," hostel, or lodging-house, keepers, no longer appear; being superseded probably by the taverners, or vintners. Against the ten Butchers this year a sum total of 58*s.* 7*d.* is placed, with a note that it was entered in that form, because the collectors of the Maltote "had lost the tallies."—"Received of Thomas Turgis 18*d.*, for one herthetok [P] sold to him, the property of the Common House, 6*s.* from people carrying and riding beyond the Sluice, in sprottyme—spratime.—"Collected 34*s.* 4*d.* upon the Strond, Maltotes from the market."—"Paid 21*l.* 15*s.* 9*d.* for digging in the port this year. 4*s.* 1*d.* for fish given to the Earl of Arundel, coming to the town this year; and for wine given to the Archbishop, coming to the town, to have his influence, and other "things 11*s.* 7*d.* For carriage of thorns, to make a close between the land of the commonalty and the land of James Tiece 2*s.* 1*d.* For small expenses, such as fuel, nails, rushes, and sometimes drink with divers men coming to the town 7*s.* 2*d.*"

Fol. 91 b.—"Richard Wottone was arrested on the 13th day of June in the fourth year of King Henry V., for that he took his servant, whom the Jurats had handed over to Simon Pere, to go to Harfen with victuals for our Lord the King, and withdrew him from the ship; in derogation of the estate of the Jurats, and against the usage of this town."—He was fined 3*s.* 4*d.*, and had to find surety for his good behaviour.

"Be it remarked, that Walter Harwarstok, on the 13th day of this month of March in the 7th year of King Henry V., [was arrested], because that, with opprobrious and crooked words, he had vilified the venerable Jurat, James Tiece, saying and calling him a false and perjured man." He was accordingly fined 4 pence, and put upon surety for his good behaviour.

3, 4 Henry V., A.D. 1415, 6. There are no fewer than 44 entries under the head of "Vintry" this year; the "tavern of Rome" being down for 3*s.* 4*d.* A certain "cuphator" [cup maker] is also set down, but there is no Maltote entered against his name.

Interpolation in fol. 92 b.—"Be it remarked, for the lasting remembrance thereof, that on the 4th day of June in the 10th year of the reign of King Henry V., Thomas Bartone, Common Clerk of Romene, has received from his masters, Jurats of the town aforesaid, and from William Pyers, barbour, and Peter Newene, then Wardens [Chamberlains] of the said town, a small piece of land lying in his garden, near to his own land and to a wall belonging to the community, and to land of James Tiece, and to a lane leading from the High Street to the churchyard of St. Nicholas, he rendering yearly to the town 4 pence."

3, 4 Henry V. continued.—"Received from men of the foreign 22*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* for divers trespasses and injuries by them often committed, against the liberty of the Cinque Ports. 6*s.* 8*d.* a gift from Robert Penfeld, towards the work of the new Sluice. 3*s.* 4*d.* from John Luncesford, rent for the common garden at Clobrandes."—"Paid 33*s.* 9*d.*, costs for the Lord de Talbot, to have his favour as to his ships for the voyage, 3*l.* 2*d.* for divers costs of the balenger of Richard. Walter for the same voyage. 3*l.* 15*s.* 9*d.* for repair of the barge of the said lord, on the same matter. 11*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* delivered to John Grymesby, for victuals for 84 men, on a voyage for our Lord the King this year, towards Holand, for 15 days. 18*s.* 6*d.* for victuals bought to go to Calais, to await the arrival of the King from Harfet." There are also a few other items as to men and ships for the campaign this year, (in which occurred the Battle of Agincourt).—"46*s.* 6*d.* for divers persons labouring in wallyng and gromynge, for the strengthening of the Sluice. 13*l.* 16*s.* 8*d.* paid to the Lord Humfrey, Duke of Gloucester, and Warden of the Cinque Ports, as our share of 100*l.* granted to him on the day of his reception at the Shepwey. 28*s.* in gifts and rewards to the surveyor of the works (at Dover Castle) and others to whom it seemed proper, for the common advantage. 10*s.* 11*d.* for victuals for divers good men and mariners, going to sea against our enemies, who were then off the coast. 16*s.* 8*d.* to John Gartone, to make prosecution at London, together with Richard Huntynghdone, of Hastyngs, against the men of Jerne-mouth [Yarmouth], for divers injuries by them against us purposed or moved. Paid 28*s.* 4*d.* to the men of Hastyngs, as our part of the composition made between the men of this coast and the men of France, for ransom and payment for prisoners on either side. 26*s.* 8*d.* paid to Clement Bridham for taking care of the Schuse. 3*s.* 4*d.* for our share of the payment of the Common Clerk of the Cinque Ports, for registering the Acts of the Brodhill. 4*s.* 7*d.* for paper, wax, drink among the Jurats and others, strangers, coming to the town, and for coal to warm the Jurats and others in winter time."—"To the church of St. Nicholas of Romene there are due 40*s.*, moneys borrowed of it."

Fol. 94 a. "The Account of Richard Walter, master of the ship called 'the Marye' of Romene, as to one voyage to Bu[r]deux in the 4th year of the reign of King Henry V." Among the items appear—"26*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* freight of 53 tuns and one pipe stowed in the same ship on its return." 50*s.* is the sum paid for freight of merchandize to Burdeaux; 5*s.* is its share of pillage taken on the voyage. This is followed by—"The Account of John William, master of the same ship, for a second voyage to Burdeaux, in the year above-

CORPORATION OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

"mentioned." 56 tuns of wine are brought on the voyage home.—"19s. for table [mensa] sold to divers men in the ship, on the voyage aforesaid"; by these men passengers probably are meant.

4, 5 Henry V., A.D. 1416, 7. In this year Hamersnoth Ward is not mentioned, but it is probably included under Colbrond Ward. (After folio 95, the pagination and sequence of the folios is wholly incorrect, the various years having been thrown indiscriminately together, when the volume was rebound, probably at the close of the 16th century.)—"Paid the expenses and wages of divers mariners of Romene, for safely conducting our ship to Apuldreflet, for her second voyage this year to Burdeux, and for regging and keeping of the same 22s. 1d. For wine, sicere [cider], and bere, bought for the same voyage 10l. 4s. 10d. For the cost of one vessel and four mariners going to Calais, for the passage back of our Lord the King 28s. For the cost of one boat and mariners, to fish there for the King 7s. 2d." Under the 7th year of the same reign, in the same folio, mention is made of the hire by the community of one balenger, vulgarly called "the Duustan." In the same folio it is also stated that on the 15th of December, in the 7th year of the same reign, Thomas Sthepeneton took of the Jurats a house called "the Slowhous" [Sluice House], at Snergate, for 5 years, at a yearly rent of 10s. "in the Common Exchequer of Romene to be paid;" the Jurats duly to keep the said house in repair.

Two leaves have been cut out here, and they not improbably contained the Account, now missing, for 5, 6, Henry V.

6, 7 Henry V., A.D. 1418, 9. Hamersnoth Ward reappears in this Account. Under Scharle Ward, a William Holyngbroke pays one halfpenny, as Maltote.—"Paid for cygnets, capons, and geese, given to the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury 18s. 6d. For work done upon the Market dyk 2s. 4d."

7, 8 Henry V., A.D. 1419, 20. In this year, for the first time, the Maltote paid by each person is not annexed to the name: about this time, also, mention of the Wards of Colbrand, Codde, Deme, and Joce, disappears. Thomas Stephenstone pays 4s. rent for the Slouesshouse [Sluice House] for the past year.

An entry, in Latin, at the foot of fol. 100 b. to the following effect:—"We, the Bailiff and good men, and all the commonalty, of the town of Great Jernemouth, signify unto you that the attorneys of some towns of the Barons of the Cinque Ports, on Sunday next after the Feast of St. Michael last past, at the hour of Prime, delivered to us another writ under tenor of this writ; upon which an answer such as this was given to them, that whereas it is contained in a certain Composition between the Barons of the Cinque Ports and the citizens of the said town of Jernemouth, that the same Barons, at the time of the Fair of the said town of Jernemouth, for 40 days shall have custody of the bread, in such form as to have 4 serjeants, one of whom is to carry the banner of the kingdom, and another is to sound a horn for gathering the people, this year they ought not to exercise such office; seeing that, in the year last past, as to exercise of that office, their liberty, through their own default, was discontinued; so that, without the special favour of our Lord the King for renewing their liberty, as it seems to us, they ought not to exercise that office. And seeing that that writ requires that we should permit the Barons to use and enjoy that office, according to the tenor of the Letters and Charter of the Lord the King as to their liberties made, it was required of them to shew the same; the which they would not shew, but said that they had them not with them. And further, it was told them, that if by virtue of that writ they ought to enjoy the liberty aforesaid, they must use such liberty in the customary manner; namely, every Lord's Day, during the Fair, at the hour of Prime, before High Mass is begun there; whereas, at the time when this writ was delivered, the hour of Prime had passed, and High Mass was begun, and so they had let pass their proper time." These disputes in reference to the rights and prerogatives of the Bailiffs of the Cinque Ports at Yarmouth Michaelmas Fair, as to the assize of bread and other matters, were the source of frequent discord, probably, for centuries.

8, 9 Henry V., A.D. 1420, 1.—"Received as a Maltote from the Porters and Measurers of the Strond 26s. 6d. —Paid expenses incurred on preparing the kraye [a sort of vessel] of Hethe, and in money delivered to the hired man going to sea with the said kraye 26l. 10s. 8d. For expenses upon the Lord Archbishop, namely, for wine given and [P] other funeral [funeralibus] expenses, at divers times incurred, for the business of the town 20s. 11d. To the Barons for the Queen's Coronation 6l. 21d. Expenses upon the voyage to Crotay, at the feast of Christ's Nativity 3l. 19s. 9d. Expenses for going to seek the King and Queen at Calais 3l. 13s. 10d."

9, 10 Hen. V., A.D. 1421, 2.—"Expenses incurred in the repair, or the building, of the Common House 45s. 1d. Expenses on the voyage of our Lord the King, in crossing over from Sandwich to Calais 29l. 10s. 1½d. Paid to divers strangers and people of the Court 2s. 8d."

1, 2 Henry VI., A.D. 1422-4. "Paid John Onterdel for keeping the Sluise this year 22s. 2d. Paid him for making a gate for the said Sluise 19s."—Onterdel not improbably was a Hollander, or Dutchman, from his name.—Paid to the men of Lyde "when they came with their May [a play], and ours, on two occasions, and when (they came) to converse with us as to the two voyages to Crotay 19s. ¾d. Paid for candles, rushes, and other things for the Feast of St. John, in the Common House 5½d. Paid upon two voyages to Crotaye this year 15l. 15s. 10d. Given to the minstrels of the Duke of Gloucester 6s. 8d. Paid for pullayes and ropes, to the department of the Portage pertaining 2s. 5d. Paid John Horne, for the hire of a bushel measure for measuring the salt 10d. Paid him for purchase of the said bushel for the common use 19d. Paid Thomas Bartone, Clerk of the community, in part payment for his labour 20s."

In an interpolated register of a conveyance of a house in the Parish of St. Laurence, in the 10th year of Henry VI., apparently of some importance, there is a covenant to keep it thatched with straw. To the same house there was also belonging "a lead [unum plumbum] called a forneys, and a great kettle."

Another interpolation, in the same page.—"On the 8th day of August, in the 20th year of the reign of King Henry VI., John Godynough, not free, was arrested, because he had come to the Common House, not warned, to hear the common counsel of the said town of Romene. And he submitted himself to the correction of the Jurats, and was sworn upon his oath to be good and trusty to the commons and liberties of the said town, and to conceal the common counsel."

2, 3 Henry VI., 1424, 5. For this year no list of Maltotes appears.—"Paid to William Byfeld, tailor, of Lyde, from moneys left in the common chest by Simon Legge, to the use of his daughter 3l. Paid for divers expenses and the hire of ships for the voyage of the Lord Duke of Gloucester 6s. 7d."

3, 4 Henry VI., 1425, 6.—"Received of Geoffrey Cropwode 2s. 6d. for the common house at Snergate. 6s. 8d. of William Whyting, for the barn and garden there, belonging to the community. 12d. for the cutting up of one porpays."—"Paid for renewing the patent of our general Charter, for our share 14s. Paid for repair of the Common House which William Whyting has to ferm, and for repair of the house at the Slough 16s. 6½d. Paid for making a rope, namely, a kable, for the Slough 25s. 10d. For a bell for the Common House 5s."

4, 5 Henry VI., 1426, 7. In this and the preceding year, a William Holyngbroke appears as one of the Jurats: his name is under Scharle Ward, but no Maltote is set against it.—"Received 20s. in part payment of 40s. for the gate of the Slough [Sluice], sold at Snergate."—"Given to the men of Wyghtersham, upon the shewing of their Interlude 6s. 8d. Paid William Love for ryes [twigs] for the Rysbank 4s. For new counters bought 3d. Paid for the making of a clapyr for the little bell in the Common House, and for hanging the same 3s. 10d. Paid for red wax, and one matte, and other necessaries, for the Common House 6d."

5, 6 Henry VI., A.D. 1437, 8. William Holyngbroke, a Jurat, pays 8d. for Maltote, in Sharle Ward.—"Received 6d. for spoons [spoons] from Robert Merscher. 6d. from the relict of Peter Newene, for a labourer for one day in the haven. 20s. for the old gate of the Sluice, sold to Luke Harnden. 20s. from John Bate, for his pasture upon the Salt Marsh. 4s. from the same, by the hands of Richard Clytherowe, for going beyond the Sluice. 6d. paid by John Harneys, in one bushel of white salt, for going beyond the Sluice. 20d. from the relict of Stephen Harry, for a parcel of land of the community between the Walls." These "Walls," no doubt, marked the ancient bed of the Rother, to Old Romney, or to Snergate.—"5s. 8d. received from the Porters on the Strande, for the INCORPORATION OF NEW ROMNEY.

CORPORATION OF NEW ROMNEY.

"portage of fish this year. 20*d.* from John Halle for "a parcel of land of the community between the Walls. "6*d.* of William Barbour for the like."—"Paid William Lokyer for nails and bonds for the common chest 19*d.* Rushes for the Common House 3*d.* Paid Bartholomew Randolfe for saving the gate of the Sluice 8*d.*"

6, 7 Henry VI., A.D. 1428, 9.—"Received 6*s.* 8*d.* for the tenement of the community at Snargate, let to the relict of N. Coppewode. 4*d.* for croppis, the common property, sold at Rokynge. 4*d.* received for a garden of the community let to ferm to Geoffrey Pater, near the Keyhouse. 20*d.* received of Agnes Harry, for rent of a parcel of the common land [between the Walls]. 8*d.* received from Richard Bydyndene for a certain gold chain, found in the sea this year."—"Paid for wine and fish given to the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury 47*s.* 8*d.* Paid for sweet wine drunk in the Common House 3*d.* Paid for rushes and mardylle, bought for the Common House 6*d.* Paid for the expenses of seven Jurats and three servants, riding to Dover, and for horses hired, on account of the wrekke from Portugal, on mission of the Lieutenant 12*s.* 10*d.* Paid Henry Tolkyn, glazier, mending the glass window in the Common House 13*d.* Paid for two gallons of wine, given to the venerable men coming with the Lord of Salesbury 16*d.* Paid John Gardyng, carpenter, for mending the common latrine, and for boards and nails for the same 11*s.* 1*d.* Paid William Crystemasse, for trying to keep in the swine 1*d.* Paid Robert Skiptone, the Common Clerk, for his wages 40*s.*"

7, 8 Henry VI., A.D. 1429, 30.—"Received 2*s.* from three persons who slept in summer, at the time of the watch. 4*d.* from Geoffrey Porter, for the rent of a piece of land without the Sluice."—"Paid for making the bascelles [butts] at the Barrokes [? sandhills] 20*d.* To the minstrels of the Duke of Gloucester 7*s.* 8*d.* Given to certain persons, coming from Hyerne with a certain play 10*s.* 8*d.* Paid to a messenger of the Lord of Gloucester, coming with a letter for armed men and archers, to be had in Romene and its members 3*s.* 7*d.* Paid to John Chaplain, carrying three lances, used at the Coronation of the Lord Henry, the King, from London to Romene 3*s.* 4*d.* Paid for three yards of canevas, with a cord, for the said lances 21*d.* Given to the herbergeour [harbinger] of the Lord the King, in a gallon of wine 8*d.* Paid the expenses of Thomas Smythe, draper, and Henry Eylwyne, riding to Redyng and Sandwich, three times, to obtain ships for the voyage of our Lord the King 7*s.* 1*d.* Paid for making a wall near the Sluice, in the marsh 3*s.* 8*d.* Paid Thomas Smythe, drapere, for the provender of the horses of an Esquire-at-arms and a clerk of the ships of our Lord the King, that we might have their friendship 20*d.* Paid for their victuals, with wine given to them 2*s.* 2*d.* Given to the minstrels of the Lord the King, at his Coronation 6*s.* 8*d.*"

8, 9 Henry VI., A.D. 1430, 1.—"Received 6*d.* from divers men, not free, riding beyond the Sluice. Received from the men of Hethe, for divers damages done by them to our ships 3*s.* 4*d.*"—"Paid for expenses of the Lord the King, to Calais 18*l.* 14*s.* Paid for ale and wine consumed in the Common House 12*d.* Given to the play of Rokynge 6*s.* 8*d.* For bread, wine, and fodder for horses, given to the minstrels of the Lord of Gloucester 3*s.* 2*d.* Paid for 5 bordes 300 theslattes [thatch-laths], and 1000 tyel priggas [tile nails], for repair of the Common House 4*s.* 2*d.* Paid Robert Skiptone, for our share in entering the Acts of the Cinque Ports 3*s.* 4*d.* Paid for expenses of the men of Lyde, on the day of their account, in the house of James Lowys, 2*s.* 6*d.* Paid for one molet and one gournard [gurnard] bought and given to the Lieutenant of Dover Castle, that we might have his good friendship 14*d.* Paid Thomas Smythe, drapere, for carrying divers Charters of our Lord the King to London, to discharge our foreign lands etc. 6*s.* 8*d.*"

9, 10 Henry VI., A.D. 1431, 2. In Hope Ward, the name of "Joan Brekespere" occurs. Only 5 names appear under the head of "Vintry" this year, William Whytyng importing 8 pipes of wine, and paying 6*s.* 4*d.*—"Received 20*d.* in part payment for 2 years' rent of the common house at Snargate. 2*s.* received as a certain fine from Thomas Edryk and William Kene, for occupying the common land between the Walls. 21*d.* received on cider this year."—"Paid divers expenses upon the men of the Marsh 11*l.* 2*s.* 1*d.* Expenses on the Sloughhowse at Snargate 3*s.* Paid to Simon Grene, for making a cry to bring the commons together 1*d.* Paid Thomas Ingland, for bread,

"ale, and cider, consumed in the Common House 9*d.* "Paid for one dog of iron, for the Common House 12*d.* "Paid 6 men watching on St. Peter's Eve. Paid Ralph Herbard for green cloth, bought for the exchequer in the Common House 2*s.* 6*d.*"

10, 11 Henry VI., A.D. 1432, 3. In this year, in addition to the nine Wards of preceding years, a new Ward appears.—"Warda Jacobi Tyece," "The Ward of James Tyece." He had probably bought a considerable portion of landed property, and had had sufficient influence to have it constituted a Ward.—"Paid for wine given to the players of our town 16*d.* Paid for wine, ale, and cider, consumed when surveying the haven and the Slow 16*d.* Paid the expenses of Geoffrey Lawther, Lieutenant of Dover Castle 24*s.* 8*d.* Given to the players of Lede, for their expenses 10*s.* 4*d.* Paid Roger Wenlok, Common Clerk, his wages 32*s.* 11*d.* Paid the expenses of the Seneschal of Dover Castle, when he received the verdict of the 12 Jurats, upon the sea-shore 2*s.* 6*d.* Paid for blowing the horn for gathering the commoners 2*d.* Paid William Byfeld for wine consumed, on shewing the play of Lede 16*d.* Paid Thomas Boltere, Common Clerk, for his wages 22*s.* 8*d.* Paid for 2 gallons of wine, given to the players when they shewed the May [in ostensione Maii] 16*d.*"

11, 12 Henry V., A.D. 1433, 4.—"Received 46*s.* 8*d.* of Richard Stotard, because he did not ride to Jerne-mouth [Yarmouth], when he was chosen Bailiff. Received 2*s.* of Thomas Roggere for rent of land between the Walls. 3*s.* 4*d.* of John Erle for rent of land between the Walls. 16*d.* of Matthew Playdone for rent of land between the Walls.—Paid to Thomas Hosyer, because he went to Jerne-mouth in the name of Richard Stotard 3*l.* Paid John Gardener for his trouble on the Slowe of Snergate 4*s.* 5*d.* Paid William Whytyng for one sturgyn, given to the Lord Archbishop of York 5*s.* Paid for expenses upon the common house at Snergate 14*s.* 6*d.*"

12, 13 Henry VI., A.D. 1434, 5.—"Received 4*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* of the men of Snergate, for stone sold to them. 3*s.* 4*d.* of James Bomelond, for pasture of sheep upon the Gorse."—"Paid a clerk sent from London that he might take the office of Common Clerk 3*s.* 4*d.* Paid for the expenses of the new wall, and for ryse [twigs] and other necessary things 21*s.* 11*d.* For carriage of timber from Snergate to Romene 12*d.* Paid Thomas Boltere, Common Clerk, his stipend for the time he stood in office 33*s.* 4*d.* Paid 2*d.* for blowing the common horn, on the Day of the Annunciation," the day on which the accounts for the past year were made out.

13, 14 Henry VI., A.D. 1435, 6. Three persons pay Maltote on cider this year; 10 pipes in all, at 3*d.* per pipe. The "Mill of James Lowys" pays Maltote, other than the "High mill."—"Paid Robert Wycham for his trouble, when he came from Canterbury to make a covenant to be Common Clerk 2*s.* 4*d.* Paid William Holyngbroke for 2 elms bought for the new pynnok [drain] 20*d.* The expenses of making this drain follow, at considerable length.—"For wine given to the Earl of Southfolk 4*s.* 6*d.* Paid a man for carrying a letter making mention of the capture of Depe 6*d.* Given to the King's herbergeour, at the time of the soldiers being here 6*s.* 8*d.* For wine given to him 6*d.* Given to John Shelle, when he brought news as to a common Brodhille for the voyage of the Duke of York 8*d.*"

14, 15 Henry VI., A.D. 1436, 7. Three persons are entered as paying for "pasture between the Walls," on the recovered land, probably, of the bed of the Rother; three others pay for pasture "on the Gorse."—"Given to John Exsam, Clerk of the ships of our Lord the King, at various times, that we might have his friendship 10*s.* For repairing the Common House 12*d.* Paid William Ludbrugh for carriage of timber from Snergate to the great Sluice 2*s.* 4*d.*"

15, 16 Henry VI., A.D. 1437, 8. The rent for the house at Snergate is entered at 5*s.* William Warmestone pays 3*s.* 3*d.* "for pasture between the Walls, from Illi-brege to New Romene. John att Mede for like pasture 20*d.*" John Fuller pays 8*d.* for the rent, for one quarter, of the house upon the Strond,—probably the "Key-house" before mentioned.—"Paid for a breakfast given to the men of Lyde 14*d.* Paid John Buxhirst for his labour upon pipes and barrels with stores, provided for the voyage of the Duke of York 7*d.* Paid to Rose Milhale for spices for the Lieutenant of Dover, an old debt 10*d.*"

16, 17 Henry VI., A.D. 1438, 9. In addition to the rents for the localities last mentioned, Richard Prowde pays 20*d.* for pasture between Elsebrege and the

CORPORATION OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

"Barre;" John Legge pays 2s. for pasture called "the Horssho;" Alice Barbour and William Synderford 8d. for a piece of land, called "the Harpe." Also,—"Received 3s. 3d. from William Warmestone, for pasture between Elsebregge and the Bruge [Bridge] of Old Romene. Also, 10d. from William Worth for one kedell in the past year."—"Paid to John Sompter for mending two eyes of the cords pertaining to the great Slowe 3d. Paid to William Watte, labouring 2 days upon the stone wall of the common pound 9d. Paid to Richard Clitherowe for the support of our work done at Rowchester [?] 22s. 4d."

17, 18 Henry VI., A.D. 1439, 40. Under the head of Vintry, the amount of tuns, butts, pipes, or hogheads, imported by each person, is stated. The rent of the "House upon the Stronde" is entered as that "of the Keyhous" this year.—"Paid divers expenses incurred upon Walter Sheryngtone, and other persons, riding with him, to survey the new watercourse of the haven 10s. 10½d. Paid for 11 elmes, bought for bomyng [?] booming] the harbour, and for laying the same 7s. 10d. Given to the Common Clerk, who is to be, coming from Wynchelse, to make the agreement, 20d., and for wine given at the same time 6d. Given to a man coming from Wynchelse, to know whether the truce ought to be kept between us and them of Depe 8d. Given to John Rogger, for carrying to Dover the moneys of persons not English born 10d." The account for 18, 19 Henry VI. appears to be wanting.

19, 20 Henry VI., A.D. 1441, 2. The name of William Holyngbroke no longer appears, in Sharle Ward; and this once important family is, apparently, extinct. The "Keyhous," or "House on the Stronde" is here mentioned as "the Common House."—"Received Maltotes from strange Ripiers 11d. Received 6s. 8d. of William Chenew for allowing sale of the stone walls of Colbrandes. Received 11½d. of John Lucas and William Feldeswelle and their companions, going out to sea to fish for a week."—"Given to the men of Wyghtsham, to shew their play upon the Crockhill 3s. 4d. For wine given to them 8d. Given to the men who played upon the Crockhille 2s. 3d. For the expenses of Richard Clytherow, John Chenew, William Warmestone, James Lowys, and Stephen Bukherst, with their servants, riding to Canterbury, to talk with the Seneschal of the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury as to the office of Bailiff of Romene 17s. 2d. For mending the latrine at the Slough 18d. Given to a man, bringing a letter of the Lord Duke of Gloucester, to have men at Crotay 4d. Paid to John Joseph, Common Clerk, for his wages, 60s."

The remaining entries in this volume (fols. 140-144) are of a miscellaneous nature, and belong to various dates. They are mostly of a wholly formal character, and do not call for notice. The following extracts have, however, been selected from the Latin of the original.

On the 30th April, in the 9th year of Henry V., appeared before Clement Overton, Bailiff, and the Jurats, of New Romene,—"John Barwell, Clerk, Rector of Old Romene; and confessed that he had offended against our Lord the King, and the community of Romene, and against the liberties of the franchise thereof, in that he had procured two writs of the King, to vex Henry atte Stone and another, before the Chancellor of our Lord the King." He offered to pay 10l. for the offence, but they pardoned him the whole thereof, save 20s.—"And then, the said Jurats and Bailiff well saw the humility of the said John Barwell, and so pardoned him the aforesaid 20s.," whereupon, he made corporal oath that he would never again offend against the liberties of the Cinque Ports.

"On the 12th day of August in the 6th year of the reign of King Henry IV., John Mokayt, of Romene, was arrested by the Jurats, and imprisoned, for that he had wished that all the Jurats of Romene had been burnt in the common ship." He confessed his offence, paid a fine of 6s. 8d., and was put upon surety as to his future good behaviour. This calamity, which befell the "Common ship" of the town, does not seem to be elsewhere noticed.

"On the 26th day of May in the 12th year of Henry IV., John Goldhorde was presented by trustworthy persons; for that, when the Jurors were at Dover, in virtue of a mandate of our Lord the Prince, he said that the Jurats aforesaid were looked upon at Dover as so many grooms, [garçiones]." On confessing his offence, he was fined 6s. 8d., and put upon surety as to his future good behaviour.

On the 18th of October in the 14th year of King Henry IV., Hugh Newenton, Chaplain, was arrested and imprisoned for cursing John Luncsford, one of the Jurats, and calling him a false thief. On confessing his offence, he was fined 20s. to the community, and was ordered to pay 20s. to John Luncsford, and to find surety for his future good behaviour.

At fol. 143 a. is given a part of the Account of the Jurats for 23, 24 of Henry VI., A.D. 1445, 6. A Maltote is entered as—"from Bretons this year, for 120 quarters of salt," but the amount is omitted.—"Paid to the minstrels of the Lord of Scerburgh, 12d. Paid John Colkyn 10s. for digging in the channel, near Saltcote." The last page of this volume (fol. 144 b.) is almost wholly illegible.

The first leaf of the volume, as already mentioned, contains various miscellaneous entries, mostly of the 22nd year of the reign of Henry VI. It is in a sadly tattered condition, but the following are a few extracts from it:—

"Walter Spaldyng, Clerk, Vicar of Romene, born at Penbrugge (now Pembridge) in the county of Hereford, was admitted to the freedom on the 22nd day of March, in the 20th year of the reign of King Henry VI. And he ought to pay 6s. 8d., which is wholly pardoned him; and he is to pay, for his yearly contribution, 6d." A pen is run through this entry, and at the end it is stated, in Latin,—"Because he renounced the freedom."

"John Iprys, born at Duraham, was admitted to the freedom, on the 12th day of August in the 22nd year of the reign of King Henry VI. And he gives for his freedom 3s. 4d." Not improbably, this was the John de Ypres who was so closely connected with the borough of Rye.

On the obverse of the next leaf, the reverse of which contains the earliest entries in the volume, (belonging to 7, 8 Richard II., as already stated), there are some entries written at the close of that reign, and the beginning of the reign of Henry IV. One of them is a copy of a precept made by Nicholas Watte, Bailiff, and the Jurats, of Romene, to John Lunsforde, as to delivery of a house and appurtenances; dated "in the church of St. Nicholas of Romene, 28th of April, in the first year of Henry IV." Another is a copy, one or two words being illegible, of—"Lestatut de Admi[ralte] fait lan du Roy Richard Seconde xv." Statute of the Admiralty, made in the 15th year of King Richard the Second.

The Volume in continuation of the preceding, is a large folio, originally containing 138 leaves of parchment, in the fragments of a leather cover; the first leaf now being lost, and the last five or six in a tattered condition, apparently gnawed by mice. The preceding volume ends with the Account of 19, 20 Henry VI., and a portion of that of the 23rd and 24th years of the same reign. The concluding portion of that volume is evidently lost, as the present, of which only the first leaf is wanting, begins with the 26, 27 Henry VI., A.D. 1448, 9. Nine Wards only appear; and comparatively few of the names have the Maltote set against them. Richard Clederowe, as heretofore, heads Holyngbroke Ward. "Hans Pykylhering," who has the comparatively large Maltote of 3s. 4d. against his name, appears in Boucherie Ward. Among the "Advocantes," meaning, persons "avowing" themselves to be freemen of the town, the name of Walter Moyle is mentioned. He lived at Eastwell, in Kent, and became Chief Justice of the Common Pleas in 1461. As to sums received:—"They answer for 6s. 8d. received in part payment of a greater sum, for the Cayhous [Keyhouse] sold this year. 2½d. received from a certain stranger, as Maltote upon oymenys [onions] this year. 23s. 6d. received as Maltote from strange Ripiers upon the Stronde."—"Paid 4s. 0½d. as the cost of Thomas Cowpere and the hire of his horse, riding to London for a new Charter. 12d. for salmon, bought and given to John Grenford, Seneschal of Dover Castle, to have his friendship. 6s. 8d. given to minstrels of our Lord the King this year. 7s. 6½d. to John Carpenter, of Hastynges, for suit made at Yernemouth, and for wine given to Master Foxe, Dean of Hastynges, by general assent of the Brodhulle. 12d. for making the poley for the porters." There are very numerous entries now of admissions to the freedom, of persons born in various parts of England.

Folio 6 is wanting.

27, 28 Henry VI., A.D. 1449, 50. The names of Gerard Forselle, Richard Lamplow, and John Sellenger, appear this year in Holyngbroke Ward, with which the Ward of James Tiece is now united. But one person pays under the head of "Vintry," and one only for cider.

CORPORATION OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

CORPORATION OF
NEW ROMNEY.CORPORATION OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

"They answer for 20s. given to the community by Geoffrey Goodlok out of his wages at the Parliament holden at Westminster."—"Paid for blowing the horn, on Account day, last year 2d. Given to the minstrels of the Lord Archbishop and of the Lord de Saye, with wine given to them 7s. 6d. For making the buttes 8s. 6d. Paid for 3 dozens of poyntes 6d. Paid William Martyn, for digging a gutter in the wall 10s. Paid William Harneys for his labour, digging two days in the Pette [Pit] at Fowelnea 8d. Paid for 2 pieces of timber for the bridge at Fowlynese 18d." In a deed, transcribed in fol 10 b., dated 17th Henry VI., acres of land in "the Southlesis, in the Parish of St. Laurence, in Romene," are mentioned.

28, 29 Henry VI., A.D. 1450, 1. The mention of the "Ward of James Tiece" now disappears. In the joint Wards of Hamersnoth and Olbard, the "Rector of the Church of St. Mary in the Marsh" appears, with "the Vicar of Romene" following.—"Paid for a certain porpays, with carriage thereof, sent to the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury 13s. Given to Alexander Mosewell, to make inquiry as to the Insurrection 8d."—Jack Cade's Insurrection is meant.—"For his horse-hire at that time 6d. Paid for fuel, all consumed in the Common House at divers time, and straw for the Common House 4½d. Paid Richard Brykeynden for a certain cornshovyll 3d. For wine given to the men of Lyde, on the night when they watched 2s. 2d. Given to a man carrying a quarter of a man, to supersede the said quarter 3s. 4d.;" in other words, they bribed the man to carry onwards his hideous burden, part of the body of one of the rebels, and deposit it elsewhere.—"Paid 18d. for a pair of boots, as a reward promised to him."—"The community owes to John Sellenger, for his wages in Parliament at Leicester 4l. 19s."

Fol. 13 b.—"Sir Richard Barker, born at Tykell, in the county of York, was received to the freedom on the Eve of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, in the 30th year of the reign of King Henry VI. And he gave 20d. for fine."

In terms of apprenticeship entered in fol. 14 a., 29th Henry VI., it is provided that the intending apprentice shall not play at dice or chequer-board; and that, at the end of his service, his master shall give him 10s., or a bed of that value.

In fol. 14 b. is a lease for four years, by Andrew Aylewyne, Clerk, of the rectory-house of Romene, called Aliens' Pounteney [Pounteney Alienig'], together with a grange, 2 barns, and a stable, in Spytelstrete, and formerly called "Bouremannys Bernis" [Boureman's Barns].

29, 30 Henry VI., A.D. 1451, 2.—"Sampson Ducheman" is named under Holyngbroke Ward, Simon Wygge and Thomas Eadmund in Hospital Ward, and John Walkot in Sharley Ward.—"Received 4s. for a parcel of land between the Walls."—"Paid 18s. 2d. to the men of Fordwych for our share of a certain suit by them made against the Abbot of St. Augustine's, for their liberties. Paid 3s. 8d. for making a bekene in the campanile of St. Nicholas. Given to Alexander Mosewell, for riding to inquire news as to the Duke of York, on his arrival in Kent, with his horsehire 6s."

30, 31 Henry VI., A.D. 1452, 3.—"Received of Richard Barker, Vicar of Romene, for the salt-pit upon the Gorst 4s. Received 2s. 6d. for herrings forfeited this year for being sold at night. 3s. 4d. in part payment for the house at Snargate, sold this year. Expenses of Richard Forde and William Copelande, riding to Croydone, to talk with the Lord Archbishop, with the hire of the horse of the said Richard 13s. 4d. Paid costs and expenses of Robert Scras and John Forde, riding to London to communicate with the Lord Archbishop, for the preservation of our new Charter; with 6s. 8d. given to our attorney in the Exchequer, and to the serjeant of the Lord Archbishop, with their horse-hire 25s. Also, for one fish called a 'dolphyn,' sent to the Lord Archbishop, with carriage and expenses 15s. 10d. For dinner of the horse of the Archbishop's surveyor, with wine given to the surveyor 3s. 6d. For expenses of the Jurats, surveying the Market dyk, with wine given to John Cheynu, when he received his money for going to Jernemouth [Yarmouth] 6d. For a certain book bought for the Court 4s. 4d."

31, 32 Henry VI., A.D. 1453, 4. In this year the name of John Lambard first appears; in Hope Ward:—"Received of the Vicar of Romene for the salt-pit near his tenement, upon the Gorsse 4s. 6d. Simon Colyn, for the Horsho 2s. Thomas Cowpere, for a parcel of land, called 'the Harpe' 4d."

Interpolation in folio 20, as to enfeoffment, in the 21st year of Edward IV. of a parcel of land called "Barrockes," in the Parish of Hope All Saints, in the fee of the Courts of Lymynge and Cronthorne.

31, 32 Henry VI. continued.—"Received 12d. of John Tarselle, a fine for breaking the common pounce."—"Paid 5d. for the horses' dinner of the minstrels of the Archbishop of Canterbury. In full payment to the wife of John Sellenger, for the wages of the said John in Parliament at Leicester 40s. Paid the expenses of Robert Scras and Richard Gardenere, mending the Lowpete of the Gote [Low pit of the Gut] 3d."

On a small parchment leaf, inserted:—"On the night of the Lord's Day next after the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, in the 34th year of King Henry VI., John Sandys was watching for Thomas Edmund, which John was found asleep in the market-place of the same town; whereupon the same John, on the Tuesday after, was arrested by the Common Serjeant, and imprisoned. And he made fine to the community, 21d., according to the ordinance made as to watching; and by favour of the Jurats he was pardoned 8d. On the same day, Cornelius Williamson was arrested, because he left the watch without leave of his twentyman [vintennarii]; and he paid a fine of 21d., according to the ordinance aforesaid; and as security for such fine he placed in the hands of the Jurats one brass platter and two plates of peutre, and one sausers; and he had 15 days to pay it in. On which day came Mariona, wife of the same Cornelius, and offered the money aforesaid; and by favour of the Jurats she was pardoned 10 pence."

32, 33 Henry VI., 1454, 5.—"Paid by John Porter for land situate between the Walls, near the harbour ['juxta port']; that is, from the Horsho to Longbrigge, near Cotehelle 2s." Several "forlands" are also mentioned, as let by the Corporation.—"Paid to John Joseph, our Bailiff at Yernemouth 3l. 6s. 8d. Paid 13d. for one bass [bass, a fish] sent to Haxtall, Clerk of Dover Castle, to have his friendship in the return of a certain mandate directed to us, to make inquisition as to the goods and chattels, lands and tenements, which William Tykle had on the day of his death. 3s. 6d. given to the messenger of the Archbishop [Thomas Bourchier] for the installation of the Archbishop; with wine given to him. Also, given to Richard Bartone, minstrel of his Lordship of Canterbury 20d."

33, 34 Henry VI., 1455, 6; the list of Maltotes is given, with the inhabitants of the Wards; but the receipts and expenditure do not appear.

In fol. 28 a. there is an entry (tr.):—"James Frode, of Oldromene, and there born, was admitted to the freedom of the said vill of Oldromene on the 25th of March, in the 35th year of King Henry VI.: and he did fealty. On the same day, William, his son, was admitted."

34, 35 Henry VI., 1456, 7.—"Joseph Hamon, otherwise Cinyare, pays for the Salt-pit opposite the High Mill, 5s. yearly. Richard Clederow, for rent of the house and garden near the Common House."—"Paid 13s., given to the players of Lyde, with bread and wine given to them. 3s. 4d. for making a certain butte at the Barrockes. 3d. for counters bought this year. 10d. for fish bought and given to Haxtall, Clerk of Dover Castle, to have his friendship on a certain inquisition and resumption. 5d. for the expenses of the Jurats on interview with John Cobbe, as to a certain dam, ordered to be made at Stonbreg [Stonebridge], by the Jurats of the Marsh, to the nuisance of the town. 6s. 8d. for 2 gonnyys [guns] with six chambers [cum sex cameris], bought for the community. 66s. 8d. paid to Robert Scras, as our share in a certain suit against the men of Yernemouth and Norwich, for a trespass this year committed against our Bailiffs there, at the time of the Fair. 24s. 6d. for bows and arrows bought and delivered to certain persons in the town, unstrung, together with four bows, being in the Common House."

Fol. 32 a.—"John Russell, servant of John West, son of William West, of Herryettesham, was arrested on Friday next after the Feast of St. Edmund the Bishop, in the 37th year, for that he bought 13 hundred of herrings of Robert Hoo before sunrise, at Fowlynese, before it had come to market."

CORPORATION OF NEW
ROMNEY.

35, 36 Henry VI., 1457, 8. In this year, the name of Richard Clederow (who had been representative in Parliament) no longer heads Holyngbroke Ward; but for two years he still pays rent for a house and garden, in which he is then succeeded by John Chenewe. — "John Portere pays for the Saltcote 5s. John Hykke, for the forland between Ilysbregge and Old Romene 2s. John Kynge, for the forland between the Harpe and Ilysbregge 2s." — "Paid to John Joseph, in part payment of his wages for riding to London, with the other Barons of the Cinque Ports, to commune with the Council of our Lord the King, upon the safe-keeping of the country 20s. For divers expenses upon Thomas Kyrielle, Gervase Clyftone, Knights, Robert Horne, Culpeper, and other men of the country, when the French were at Sandwich 16s. 10d. Expenses of the Lord the Earl of Stafford, when he came to view the country 22s. 2½d. Paid Thomas Haxtall and John Cobbe, for having their friendship for delivery of a prisoner 13d." John Cobbe is now the first on the list of "Advocantes," persons claiming to be free, but residing without the precincts; who made, it would seem, certain payments, and to whom, probably, certain privileges were allowed.

36, 37 Henry VI., A.D. 1458, 9:—"John Kynge pays—for the pasture between the Horssho and Ilysbregge." This "pasture" is identical with the "forland," previously mentioned. — "Paid 4d. for mending the Slow [Sluice]. Paid 10s. to William Mayster, the Common Clerk."

Fol. 37 a.—"Be it remembered, that on Friday, the Eve of the Translation of St. Thomas the Martyr, in the year before-mentioned, Simon Maket was admitted to the rule and governance of the Hospital of St. John at Romene, by name of Prior of the said Hospital, taking for his wages and soap for washing the vestments of the said hospital, yearly 20s. On the same day also, John Porter was admitted Seneschal of the said hospital, to supervise the lands and tenements thereof, and to let them to farm, and to receive the rents thereof, and to account for the same, taking for his labour yearly 15s."

37, 38 Henry VI., A.D. 1459, 60. There is nothing to extract, worthy of remark.

Fol. 40 a. Interpolations of later date. — "William Lambarde, born at Canterbury, was admitted to the freedom of Romene on the 1st day of April, in the 22nd year of the reign of King Edward IV.; and he pays for his fine 3s. 4d." "John Cheyne, Knight, born at Scherlond, in the Parish of Eastcherch, in the Isle of Sheppey, was admitted to the freedom of Romene on the last day of May, in the 2nd year of the reign of King Henry VII.: and he gives for fine 10s., and for his yearly contribution 2s., and to the fleet of the Lord the King 3s. 4d., and to the Parliament of the Lord the King 2s.; and to every Coronation of the Lord the King 20d." He was son of William Cheyne, Chief Justice of the King's Bench.

38, 39 Henry VI., A.D. 1460, 1. In this year the name of William Hardyng appears in Sharle Ward; and a John Zakary in Olbard Ward. — "Paid a man carrying a letter from the commons to the Marquess of Salisbury [Richard Neville, Earl of Warwick] and the Lord de Fauconberge 2d. Paid John Chenew and John Joseph, for their trouble about the new Charter this year 20s."

1, 2 Edward IV., A.D. 1461, 2.—"Remark, that the men of Old Romene did not pay for their contribution this year. Whereupon, it was ordered by the community that they should be distrained for their contribution, and precept was given to the Common Serjeant, with others, to distrain for their contribution. They afterwards came and paid such contribution; that is, 20s., and submitted themselves to the community for their dismissal; and they were forgiven on their (good) behaviour." — "Paid Richard Hore for tilling the Common House, and for his dinner 10d. Paid for our share of a certain gift of 100 marks to Richard, Earl of Warwick, our Warden, to have his friendship in the office of Warden aforesaid, at the Court of Shepewey 11l. 2s. 3d. Paid to William Legh, Common Clerk, for his wages 25s."

2, 3 Edward IV., A.D. 1462, 3. The name of John Badmynton, an inhabitant of the town, and a Jurat for a short period, appears this year, for the first time. — "Robert Scras pays for a little garden behind the Common House 4d. Received of the men of Old Romene for a certain subsidy granted to the King, for the defence of the town of Calais 10s." — "Paid to Robert Clytherow, bringing letters of our Lord the King and

"the Earl of Warwiek to have men ready for sea, in support of his ships 6s. 8d. Paid for wine given to the Lord de Fawkynebregge 15d. Paid for a breakfast with the men of Lyde, on the day of their account 5s. 8d."

3, 4 Edward IV., A.D. 1463, 4.—"The relict of William Clytherow pays for rent of the house with a garden, near the Common House, 4s. yearly. John Haymon, as rent for the Saltpit and sallaynes yearly 4s."

Fol. 50 (tr.):—"Over King Edward IV., on the day of his Coronation, the Barons of the Cinque Ports bore a canopy of cloth of gold upon 4 gilt lances, or spears, and at each corner of the said canopy a bell hanging, of silver gilt; whose due, of right and of honour, it is to do so; as in Charters of former kings of England, and the grant of the said King Edward; and the customs of the Cinque Ports, more clearly appears. And the said canopy, lances, and bells, were delivered by the Barons of the Cinque Ports to the Barons of Romene and Dovorre, to whom on this occasion they belonged; and among them they were divided, namely, half of the said cloth, and 2 lances, and 2 bells, to the Barons of the town of Romene, and the other half of each thereof to the Barons of Dovorre."

3, 4 Edward IV., continued.—"Paid Robert Scras [serving in Parliament for the town] for moneys expended upon the Lord Dacres, Comptroller of the Treasury of the King's household, and others of the Council of our Lord the King, together with the Barons of the Cinque Ports, at London, on two occasions, in taking counsel for confirmation of the new Charter 3s. 6d. For moneys expended on the Admiral this year 13s. 4d. For a small cord for the bell in the Common House 3s. 4d. Paid to Agnes Forde for the play of the Interlude of our Lord's Passion 6s. 8d. Paid to Thomas Pety, of Dovorre, Bailiff of Jernemuth this year 66s. 8d."

Fol. 51 a. "John Derynge, born at Lymyng, was admitted to the freedom of Romene, and sworn, on the 26th of May, in the 4th year of the reign of King Edward IV.: and he paid for fine 3s. 4d.; and his yearly payment to the community there is to be 16d. And on the same day, John, his son, was admitted."

In fol. 52 a., under the year 1465, a message, situate in the Parish of St. Laurence, is mentioned as being commonly called Le Seler,—the Cellar."

4, 5 Edward IV., A.D. 1464, 5.—5, 6 Edward IV., A.D. 1465, 6.—"Laurence Whatman and Augustus Frode pay for the pasture between Ilysbregge and Old Romene 2s." — "Paid a man, bringing a letter for the Queen's Coronation 8d. Paid Robert Scras and Thomas Howlot, for being at the Coronation of our Lady the Queen, 7 days 35s."

Of the following entry, in fol. 56 a., the first part is run through with a pen:—"John Cheyne, born at Romene, free by birth, was admitted to the franchise and sworn, on the 17th day of April, in the 6th year of the reign of Edward IV., King of England.—He is condemned [dampnatur]; because publicly, before the Jurats and the commonalty, on the day of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, in the 20th year of the reign of King Edward IV., he refused [refutavit] his freedom."

Fol. 56 b.—"The Testament of John Bukherst, extracted for the reason written below.—In the name of God, Amen. On the 10th day of January in the year of Our Lord 1465, I, John Bukherst, of the Parish of St. Laurence of Romene, being sound in mind etc., do make my testament in this manner. First. I leave my soul to Almighty God, and my body to be buried in the churchyard of St. John the Baptist at Romene aforesaid. Also, I leave to the high altar of St. Laurence, for my tithes and oblations forgotten, 6 pence. Also, to the light of the Holy Trinity there 6d. Also, to the light of St. Catharine there 3d. Also, I leave 4 pence for a wax taper to burn before the image there of St. Thomas of Dancastre. Also, I leave to the Prior of the Friars of Rye 6d. Also, I leave to Alice, my daughter, after the decease of Rose, my wife, one girdle of sanguyne, silver-plated, one basin and one ewer, and one great platter. Also, to Isabel, my daughter, one cobbord, and one basin. Also I leave to Joan Palmer one red chest, etc." His will, in reference to his lands, is then referred to, and it is given at length in fol. 58 a. He leaves his principal tenements, with 3 acres, near Ilysbregge, to his wife, Rose, for life. The residue is to be disposed of for the health of his soul, and the souls of his parents and benefactors, and all faithful deceased. John Bukherst, it may be added, was a Jurat, and paid Maltote in Butchery Ward; which we may hence conclude to have been, partly, at least, in the Parish of St. Laurence. St. Thomas of Dancastre, was probably St. Thomas, or Thomas Plantaganet, Earl of Lancaster, who was beheaded in 1321.

INCORPORATION OF NEW MEN.

CORPORATION OF NEW ROMNEY

6, 7 Edward IV., A.D. 1466, 7.—“Paid the men who were players from Hethe, this year 6s. 8d. For the expenses of Thomas Howlot and others, going to Lyde, to hold a conference with the men there as to the men of the Marsh; and for wine given to Carstone, of Lyde, bringing a message from John Cobbes 8d. For wine given to the players of Hethe 22d. Expenses of John Cobbes, Henry Martyne, and 5 others, viewing the harbour here 2s. 8d.” This John Cobbes, or Cobb, was one of the most influential of the “Advocantes.” “Master John Bachelor,” appears this year also, as one of the “Advocantes.” In the preceding year “John Fryght” and “John Lytylbrother” appear as residents in Bocherie Ward. As to “Carstone,” here named, further mention of him will be found in the sequel.

Fol. 59 a.—“John Hykky, born at Old Romene, free by birth, was admitted to the franchise of Old Romene, and sworn, on the 23rd day of October, in the 8th year of the reign of Edward IV.”

Fol. 60 a.—“William Courthope, born in the Parish of Lymynge, in the County of Kent, was admitted to the freedom of Romene, on the 8th day of February in the 20th year of Edward IV. And he gives for fine nothing, because he is forgiven by the Jurats. And he is to pay 12d. for his yearly contribution.”

7, 8 Edward IV., A.D. 1467, 8.—“Paid the expenses of Richard Brodnex, Richard Lynter, and others, making scrutiny of the Levell, for the harbour 12d. Paid to the players of Lyde, in reward, bread, and drink, given to them 7s. 11d.” The Maltotes now are no longer entered against the names.

8, 9 Edward IV., A.D. 1468, 9.—“John Hamon pays, for rent of the salt-pit, one seam of white salt.” “John Derynge” appears in this and the preceding year as one of the “Advocantes,” his name following that of “Master John Bachelor,” and each paying 20 pence.—“Paid to a man bringing news about French ships at sea 8d. For fish given to the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury 15d. Paid the expenses of John Cobbe, Richard Brodnex, Richard Lynter, and William Pyrvile, and divers other persons of the marsh, for levelling and taking the water of the said marsh by the Fowlesnesse, as set forth in particulars in the paper-book 12s. 2d. Paid the expenses of Thomas Howlot, John Frances, and Thomas Couper, and others, going to Apuldre, to converse with William Pyrvile, as to making a harbour 17d. For carriage of timber for the Gutte from Apuldre to Romene, and for carrying divers other loads of timber to the Gutte in this town, as set forth in the paper 17s. Paid for the labour and table of Richard French, working with Pyrvile at the East Gutte 20d. Paid for ringing the bells on the day of election of the Jurats 1d. Paid William Gregory for sharpyngge, roggyngge, and settyngge, the bomes 9d.:—probably booms across the mouth of the haven.

9, 10 Edward IV., A.D. 1469, 70.—“Paid a man, bringing a letter as to the French ships, standing for England 6d. Paid John Cheynew, Thomas Couper, and others, employed on the voyage of the Earl of Warwick this year 34s. 10d. [The men of the Cinque Ports were supporters of the Earl of Warwick against Edward IV.] Paid William Selver, of Apuldre, for his labour upon the tree at Bylsyngton, given by John Cobbes for the work of the Gutte 2s. 4d. Paid men for making scrutiny in the Helmes, for carrying off the water of the marsh 8d. Paid a man bringing royal letters to have men at Canterbury to speak with our Lord the King 6d. Paid for mending the Market dyke at Randleslowys 3d. Paid the expenses of Robert Scras and John Castlake riding to Doverre, for the prisoners in Scotland 3s. 8d. Paid the expenses of Robert Scras, John Castlake, and others, and the expenses of their horses, at Canterbury, when our Lord the King was there 5s. 8d.”

10 Edward IV.—49 Henry VI., A.D. 1470, 1.—“The Jurats answer for 3l. 6s. 8d. received as their share from the men of Lyde, of 10l. given for the voyage of our Lord the King, for conducting back our Lady the Queen, this year. Received upon the sale of one dolphin 12d. For a tree sold in the common garden 2s. 4d.”—“Paid for wine given to the men of the Marsh, on the day of the confirmation of their liberties 7d. Paid for the Acts of the Parliament 12d. For laying the bomes, and for the bomes 22d.”

5.

Fol. 70 a.—“Robert Stuppeny, born at Ivechyrche, was admitted to the freedom of Romene, and sworn, on the 5th of February in the 13th year of the reign of King Edward IV., and 6s. 8d. was to be his fine, to be paid on the Feasts of the Annunciation of the Blessed Mary, of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, of St. Michael the Archangel, and our Lord’s Nativity [erroneously, put as the Annunciation] in equal parts.” This is the first mention of a family long resident in Romney. The tomb of Richard Stuppeny is still to be seen in St. Nicholas’ church there; he probably was a son of this Robert. In the same page,—“Sir John Greyff, born at Dalketh in Scotland,” is admitted to the freedom.

11, 12 Edward IV., A.D. 1471, 2.—“Expenses about Geoffrey Horne, at Apuldre, by Robert Scras, Thomas Couper, John Frances, and others, to ride with him to our Lord the King 6s. 11d. Paid to the minstrels of the Lord Warden 2s. Expenses of Robert Scras and William Legh, riding to Arundel with other Barons of the Cinque Ports, to hold counsel with our Warden, for re-confirming our freedom 6s. 10d. Paid a footman [pedestro] of our Warden 12d. Paid a man bringing venesone from the Lord Archbishop 4d. Paid a man carrying a letter from the Lord of Arundell, and from the Mayor and Jurats of Wynchelse, as to a present to be given to our Warden 6d. Paid a man for bringing a letter from the Mayor of Sandwich, as to warning of the French ships 6d. Paid for bomes, settyng, and carrying 2s. 8d. Paid the Commissioners of our Lord the King at Asshetisforde [Ashford], as fine for the whole town 13l. 6s. 8d. For a swan given to them 3s. 4d. For capons 2s. Paid the expenses of the Lord of Arundelle, sitting here to make inquisition as to the men who were at Blakheth [Blackheath] 47s. 0½d.”

12, 13 Edward IV., A.D. 1472, 3. This is the last year in which a list of those paying Maltote is given under their respective Wards.—“For wine given to Sir John Fogge, Knight 2s. Paid the Common Serjeant for keeping the Gutte and the Helmes 16d.”

13, 14 Edward IV., A.D. 1473, 4.—“For reward of the minstrel of the Earl of Arundel 20d. For the expenses of John Chenew, riding with a porpes to the Lord Cardinal [Thomas Bouchier] 2s. 7d. Paid for the expenses of the Lord Arundel, bread 4s. 5d. Reward given to the trumpetre and fotemen 16d. Paid a man bringing a proclamation, as between our Lord the King and the King of Danemarke 16d. Paid John Lytylbroder for fish given to the Lord of Norwyche 4d. Paid John Lane for the like 12d. Paid John Tudor, Bailiff, for a breakfast given at Parliament 3s. 6d. Paid Robert Eve for the chambir of the gonne 10d. Paid the Bailiff of the Marsh [Marisch] and others, viewing the water of the Level from the Gotte to the sea 23d. Paid the wages of the Warden, for this town 22s. Paid for toling the bell 2d.”

Fol. 76 a.—“Sir [Dompnus] Robert Bernyngham, Prior of the House of St. John the Baptist, of the town of Romene, born at Bernyngham [now Barningham] in the county of Suffolk, was admitted to the franchise of Romene, on the 8th day of October, in the 20th year of the reign of King Edward IV. And he was sworn and made free. And the fine was pardoned him by the Jurats.”

14, 15 Edward IV., A.D. 1474, 5.—Many of the following entries bear reference to the Thomas Caxtone who has elsewhere been mentioned in these Reports under the heads of Rye and Lydd. In the Report upon the latter place, it is mentioned that he was Common Clerk there for some years, and that he became Common Clerk of Sandwich in 1476. Caxton seems to have served here temporarily, probably both as Common Clerk and in other capacities.—“Paid Thomas Caxtone for his wages at the Common Court 4d. For wine given to Thomas Caxtone 2d. Again, to the said Thomas, in wine given to him 7d. Paid Thomas Caxtone for his wages at the Brodhull 2s. For his table 4d. Paid the minstrels of the Earl of Arundel 10d. Paid the minstrels of the Duke of Clarence 12d. Paid for a present to the Bailiff’s boy, 8d. Paid one bringing a mandate from Dover Castle for proclamation as to Irish groats 4d. Paid in the house of Richard Randleslow, for proclamation of the banyes [notice of a play to be acted] of Folstone 6d. Paid to the men of Folstone in the house of Robert Scrase, for proclamation of the banyes 5d. Paid the men of Folstone on the day of crying the banyes 3s. 6d. Paid wages to the watche 8d. Paid Thomas Caxtone

3 Z

CORPORATION OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

"his wages for holding the Court 8d. For the table of the same Thomas 7d. Paid the same Thomas his wages for holding the Court and other expenses 14d. Paid in the House to Thomas Caxtone 2d. Paid for wine given to Master Moyle for the common Gutte 5d.:—(a survey, probably, of the Gote, or Gutte).—Paid to the King's minstrels 3s. 6d. Paid Richard Fuller for 5 bushels of oats for the swans 14d. Paid Nicholas Morley for oats for the swans 3s. 1d. Paid the same Nicholas for 2 cygnets 3s. Paid at a breakfast with the Bailiff of Lyde, Thomas Couper, and others, at the house of Nicholas Holle 14d. Given to the Bailiff's boy 8d. Expended in the house of Richard Randislow, on the departure of the Bailiff 2d. Paid Richard Chambre for his wages, and for keeping the rabbits 18s. Paid to John Fermour for performing the duties [occupationes] of Common Clerk 12s. 6d."

15, 16 Edward IV., A.D. 1475, 6.—"Moneys received for rabbits this year 14s."—The Account for this year, it deserves remark, is slightly rubricated.—"Paid for mending the Book of Customs in the days of King Richard, and for paper 3d. Paid for beer [bers] and ale in the Common House, at the time of assessing the scot 10d. Paid for expenses upon Thomas Bagott 7d. Paid for one pottle of wine, given to Feake, the bodar [summoner] of Dover 5d. Paid for expenses at Broklond and in Romene, upon Henry Lokke, of Hethe, and upon the slaying of the cattle 4d. Paid the men who brought the gonne to the Common House from the harbour 1d. Paid Richard Fuller for watching one night, for himself and his horse 4d. Paid Thomas Wilson for himself and his cart and 2 horses, in carrying the harness of William Holt and 5 other men of his company to Dover, who were to go with John Kyriel to sea, in a certain ship called the 'Faule cone' 18d. Paid John Robyne for paper bought at Calais 10d. Paid Thomas Usbarne for the expenses of the men and horses of the Bishop of Norwich, at the time of the Absolution of the town 13s. 5d. Paid John Herd for expenses of men and horses in his house at the time of the Bishop of Norwich 17d. Paid Robert Glover for hire of his horse to Chart, at the time of the Absolution of the town 6d. Paid William Dobille for expenses in his house of men and horses at the time of the Bishop of Norwich 4s. Paid John Robyn for mending the forms [formularum] of the Common House 1d."

Fol. 79a.—James Goldwell, Bishop of Norwich, born at Great Chart, in the county of Kent, was admitted to the franchise of Romene, on the 4th of February, in the 17th year of King Edward IV., and was sworn. And all contribution is forgiven him, and given to him, by the Jurats and community of the town, on the 21st of December in the year of the reign of King Edward IV. aforesaid.—"John Goldwell, born at Great Chart, in the county of Kent, was admitted to the franchise of Romene, on the 13th day of May in the 18th year of the reign of King Edward IV., and was sworn. And his contribution is forgiven him by the Jurats and community of the town aforesaid."

16, 17 Edward IV., A.D. 1476, 7.—"Given as a reward to John Grygge for writing a certain book of covenants [doubtful], and other necessary things therein contained 20d. Paid for wine, given to John Waterman and another servant of the Lieutenant of Dover 3d. Given as a reward to the minstrels of Lord Arundell 10d. Given as reward, and expenses, of the minstrels of our Lord the King 4s. Paid on Monday in the week of Pentecost for two men working [laborantibus] at Old Romene, to hear an inquisition held between Sir Robert Esone, Chaplain there, and Laurence Honer 7d. Paid expenses on Thursday in the week of Pentecost upon Master Gervase Hoorne and others 7d. Presents and rewards given to the men of Lyde, at the time of proclaiming the banns of their play 8s. 5d. Paid John Paynet for his watching on Tuesday in the week of Pentecost, at time of the play 4d." [Two others receive similar pay.] Paid for a capon bought of Thomas Goore, given to the Lord Cardinal 12d." [Two other capons for the like purpose 2s. 8d.] "Paid Thomas a Gore for carrying thorns and fagottes to the Gote 2d. Paid John Cheynew for his trouble and expenses in riding to speak with the Lord Cardinal, the Archbishop of Canterbury 8d. Paid the said John for a capon given to the said Lord Cardinal 12d. Given to the minstrels of the Lord the Prince 12d. Paid Robert Stuppeny in part payment of an old debt of 6s. 8d. on a certain lone 19d." [Elesbregge is largely repaired at this date.]—"Paid Henry Somer, with John Lucas, for talowyng the ship in which he sailed, for 2 days, taking 3d. per day, 6d."

Fol. 88 b.—"Hamon Lambard, born at Demcherche, in the County of Kent, was admitted to the franchise of old Romene on the day of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, in the 12th year of the reign of King Edward IV."

Fol. 89 a.—"On the 3rd day of April in the 18th year of the reign of King Edward IV., Gervase Hoorne, Esquire, born at Apoldor, in the county of Kent, was admitted to the franchise of Romene, and sworn, and made free; and his contribution was forgiven him, and was given to him by the Jurats and community of the town. On the 21st day of December in the 17th [18th] year of the reign of King Edward IV., Adam Bidley, born at Haltwesell, in the county of Northumberland, was similarly admitted."

17, 18 Edward IV., A.D. 1477, 8.—"Paid William Knyght for making seats in the church of St. Laurence, on the Feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, in the 17th year 2d."—There is a similar entry to this in each year, for many years following.—"Rewards given to the minstrels of our Lady the Queen 20d. Paid William Gregory for carrying one load of hay from Wyllyngham to the Gote 4d. For wine and fish given to William Hawte, Knight 8d. For wine given to the Treasurer of the household of our Lord the King 8d. Paid the minstrels of the Lord Duke of Gloucester 10d. Paid the minstrels of our Lord the King 2s. Paid George Gate for 2 dogges of iron for the Gote 2s. 4d. Paid Thomas Wilsone for a piece of timber for the bridge over the Market-dyke 2d. Paid for bomes for the havyyn 16d. Paid for fish given to the Coroner of our Lord the King 20d. Paid John Grygge, Common Clerk of this town, for his wages this year 50s."

18, 19 Edward IV., A.D. 1478, 9.—"Paid by the Jurats to William Knyght, Sacrist of the church of St. Laurence, for making seats for the Jurats in the said church, on the Feast of the Blessed Virgin Mary above-mentioned [the Annunciation] 2d. Paid a watchman of Dover Castle, bringing a proclamation as to Irish groats 8d. Given as a reward to the minstrels of Sandwich 20d. Given as a reward to the criers of the banns of Folstone 6s. 8d. Expenses upon the players of Folstone 2s. 11d. Reward to the Queen's minstrels 3s. 10d. Paid expenses of the men of Lyde, at the time of proclaiming their banns 8d. Reward to the minstrels of the Duke of Gloucester 12d. Reward to the men of Lyde, proclaiming their banns 6s. 8d. For a bushel of hoppes, given to John Brode, Coroner of our Lord the King 12d. Paid to William Quikmanne, for watching, at the time of the first play of Lyd 4d. Paid John Fermour, for making 2 dams in the Crekys upon the Gorse 10s. Paid John Lane for fish given to the Bishop of Norwich 16d. Paid expenses of the men of Folstone and Lyd, at the time of the banns here 3s. Paid Henry Devenish, for watching, at the time of the play of Lyd 4d. Paid Richard Fuller, for watching at the time of the first play of Lyd 4d. Expenses of the men of Lyd in the house of John Castlake, at the time of proclaiming the banns of Lyd and Folstone 12d. Paid William Gregory for a porpes and other fish, given to the Lord Cardinal, Archbishop of Canterbury 14s."

19, 20 Edward IV., A.D. 1479, 80.—"Paid the minstrels of our Lord the Prince 12d. Reward to the minstrels of the Lord of Arundell 8d. Paid John Cheynew for a capon given to the Bishop of Norwich 20d. Paid him for 3 geese given to the said Lord 12d. Paid William Lewene for working at the walle near the Helmes, for 3 days and a half 17½d. Paid as a reward to the Queen's minstrels 3s. 4d. Reward to the minstrels of the Duke of Gloucester 12d. Paid William Lewene, labouring at the Sewers near the walle, and covering up the Market dyke 14½d. Paid William Dobell for goslings [ancerulis] sent to the Lord Bishop of Norwich 12d. Paid Richard Fuller for working at the Common House with the tiler, and for the taking down dilacerationes thereof, together with whitelyng the same house, for 6 days 2s. 6d."

Fol. 92 b.—"Thomas Otway, born at Effyngham, in the county of Sutheray, was admitted to the franchise of Romene, on the 23rd day of January, in the 20th year of the reign of Edward IV., and was sworn and made free; and he gives as his fine 4s., and as his yearly contribution 12d."—"William Persy, born at Shilbotell [near Alnwick] in the county of Northumberland, was admitted to the franchise of Romene, on the 23rd day of January in the 20th year of the reign "of King Edward IV., and was sworn and made free, and he gives as his fine 3s. 4d., and as his yearly contribution 12d., if he dwell without; and 12d. to the King's fleet, and to the Coronation of our Lord the King 12d."

20, 21 Edward IV., A.D. 1480, 1.—"Received for 3 books 5s. 8d."—"Paid William Gregory for half a porpesse 5s. Paid as a reward given to the Queen's minstrels 2s. Rewards given to the King's minstrels 3s. 4d. Paid a watchman of Dover Castle, making proclamation as to malefactors of Denemarke 8d. Rewards to the minstrels of our Lord the Prince 2s. To the minstrels of the Earl of Arundell 2s. Paid expenses of the Ambassadors of the King of France, and gentlemen of our Lord the King, on a message from the same our Lord the King 13s. 4d. Reward given to the minstrels of our Lady, the King's mother [Cecily, Duchess of York] 2s. Reward given to the minstrels of the Duke of Gloucester 20d. Paid expenses of the men of Lyd, when here, for the honour of this town 4s. 4d. Paid the expenses of the men of Lyd, at the time of putting up the image of St. George 2s. Paid expenses of divers Jurats and commoners being at Canterbury, with the Council of the Lord Cardinal Archbishop, as to the Gorse 18s. 4d. Paid men working to fill up the seler under the Common House, by way of covenant 2d."

21, 22 Edward IV., A.D. 1481, 2.—"Paid for fish given to the Commissioners of the Lord the King 10s. 3d. Paid Thomas Galion for a porpesse given to the Lord Cardinal 20s. Paid for a quart of malmsey given to the Master Lieutenant of Dover 4d. For fish given to the Lord Cardinal at Canterbury 5s."

22, 23 Edward IV., A.D. 1482, 3.—"Received 6d. from a certain ship, taking the common ground with coals."—"Paid for a gallon of wine given to John Aldy, John Swanne, and John Honywode 8d. Paid the Common Clerk of Sandwich for writing the award between Romene and Lyde 4d. Paid Thomas Caxstone and Wanstall, of Lyde, in the name of the whole of their community, when they brought their contribution 3s. 4d. Paid the same Thomas and Wanstalle, as a reward 8d. Paid for crying the banns of the town of Hethe, as a reward 6s. 8d. Paid the minstrels of our Lady the Queen, as a reward 2s. 8d. To the minstrels of the Duke of Gloucester 16d. To the minstrels of the Lord the Prince 12d. Paid a clerk coming from Sandwich to be Common Clerk, as his reward 2s. Paid for 2 mullets given as a present to John Scott, Knight 11d. Paid the expenses of John Ford and other men, going to Dover, to go in a certain ship with Parker, called the 'Grete Portyngale' 2s. 4d. Paid Nicholas Morley for 2 swans given to the Lord Cardinal 8s. Paid the Bailiff's boy for riding with the said swans to Knolle 8d. Paid William Percy for measuring coals in the Helmys, and for drink at that time 3d. Paid the expenses of Jurats and others at the time of measuring the Marsh 2s. Paid the expenses of John Forde and Gervase Horne, for 2 breakfasts given to the Lords and other gentlemen of the House of Parliament, on part of our town 20s."

23 Edward IV., 1 Richard III., A.D. 1483, 4.—"Paid for a pottle of wine and a quart of malmsey given to the Mayor of Sandwich and his brethren, as we wanted them to be our friends against the men of Lyde 10d. Paid the minstrels of our Lord King Richard [originally written 'Duke of Gloucester'], as a reward 3s. 4d. Expended upon them, in the house of Thomas Usbarne 8d. Paid to a certain man of the Earl of Arundell, bringing a commission as to the King's Coronation, as a reward 20s. Paid for a message from Dover Castle, postponing [contradictent] Parliament and the Coronation 20d. Expended upon the minstrels of the Lord of Northumberland 5d. Paid Laurence Norkyne for hire of his horse to Hethe, for Richard Fuller, riding to learn how many Barons they chose for the Coronation of the Lord the King Edward V. 4d. Paid John Cheynew, riding to aid at the Coronation of King Edward V., for 8 days, at 2s. per day, 16s. Paid Patrick Gille for one capon, which the Jurats gave to Master William Scotte, against the Feast of All Saints in the 22nd year 20d. Paid 2 minstrels of the Lord Arundell, as a reward 8d. Paid William Colstone, for his trouble in coming here from Canterbury for the indentures 6s. 8d. Paid the expenses of the Bailiff and John a Forde riding to Eshetisforde [Ashford], to communicate with the gentry 3s. 8d. Paid Edward Middilton for his trouble, going to Maidstone to inquire the news 20d. Paid Vincent Fynche, Bailiff, for his wages at the Coronation of King Richard, for 8 days, 16s. Paid a servant of Lord Arundell, bringing a proclamation to take the gentry 20d. Paid Thomas Galion for one hawsere, having in length 80 fedome [fathoms] 4s. Paid John Umfrey, Common Clerk, for his wages, 50s. Paid as a reward to Thomas Ponte, for going to Old Romene, to speak with them, that they might find one man 2d. Paid a certain minstrel of the Lord Arundell, in the house of Richard Randislowe 8d."

Fol. 97 a.—"William Lovelas, born at Wykham, near Canterbury, was admitted to the franchise of Romene, on the 14th day of June in the first year of the reign of King Richard III., and he is to give for his fine, paid beforehand, 6s. 8d. And if he remain without the liberty of the said town, he shall give, for his yearly contribution 20d. He was sworn and made free." The surname "Lovell" is still remembered, as that of a writer of authority upon "Wills."

1, 2 Richard III., A.D. 1484, 5.—"Received from Robert Stuppeny 12d. for fish forfeited at Foulness."—"A fruitless attempt, it will be seen, was made to set up a Mayor for the town, under the momentary auspices of King Richard, probably."—"Paid for fish bought by the Mayor, and given to Ralph Asshdon, Knight, 18d. For making a certain silver mace at Canterbury 19s. 7d. For the expenses of John Castlake, riding to Canterbury, about the said mace, 9 days, 5s. 7d. Reward given to the minstrels of our Lady the Queen, and expended upon them 3s. 5d. Expended upon George Cheynewe, in the house of Richard Randislowe, when he came to communicate with the town as to a Mayor 18d. Paid for one quart of malmsey and one quart of reade wyne, given to the Mayor of Sandwich and his brethren on the day of the Brodell 6d. Paid John Stephynsone, Common Clerk of Sandwich, and expended upon him in the house of William Dobyll 18d. Paid a watchman of Dover Castle, bringing a proclamation as to the Earl of Oxford and other gentlemen, as traitors 4d. Paid the expenses of John Siltone, in the house of Richard Randislowe, when he came to communicate with the Mayor, on certain matters of the town 2s. Paid the expenses of Adam Tuter, when he brought a Privy Seal to depose the Mayor, 18d. For expenses in the house of Richard Randislow upon the Bailiff and Jurats of this town, and the Bailiff and Jurats of the Marsh, when they were in communication that they might be one Corporation 17d. For a quart of claret wyne given to the Bailiff of the Marsh, on his departure 2d. Paid Richard Fridde for making the gonna, in part payment, 4d. Expended upon the Mayor and Jurats in the house of John Dobyll, when the Mayor went to Lyde to converse with the Lord le Grey 18d."

It is not stated who this simulated Mayor was; but according to the earliest Court Book of Rye, "John Wymonde" would appear to have been his name.

Fol. 98 a.—"John Rickmanne, born at Lymmynge, in the county of Kent, was admitted to the franchise of Old Rome[ne], on the 24th of March in the 4th year of the reign of King Henry VII."

2 Richard III., 1 Henry VII., A.D. 1485, 6.—"Paid Robert Eve for making the markyng-iron for the town 4d. Paid Henry Malford, carrying news from the Mayor of Rye, as to the Coronation of the present King 8d. Paid a certain man, bringing news and a letter from the Mayor of Dover, as to the resumption of the liberties of the Cinque Ports 4d."

1, 2 Henry VII., A.D. 1486, 7.—"Received 18d. of John Watte and Clement Baker, as a fine for playing at cards [lusionne ad le cardes]. Received 7s. for pasture upon the Gorse this year."—"Paid the minstrels of our Lady the Queen 2s. Paid a waite of Dover Castle, bringing a proclamation of war between Charles of France and the King of the Romans 4d. Paid as a reward to the criers of Lyde, when they cried their banns 6s. 8d. Paid their expenses in the house of Thomas Bursell 6s. 8d. For 2 horns for the waite 2s. Expended on the surveyor of the Lord Chancellor, with horsemete 3s. 1d. Paid the expenses of Richard Gildford, Knight, [and] of Edward Porynges, Knight, in the house of William Dobyll 2s. 8d. Paid a waite of Dover Castle, bringing a mandate as to vagabonds 4d. For fish given to the above gentlemen 10d. Paid a waite of Dover Castle, bringing a proclamation of peace between the King and the Duke of Bretagne, 6d. Paid for 2 jakettes, for Henry Robyne and James Richard, 2s. 4d."

2, 3 Henry VII., A.D. 1487, 8.—"Received 20d. as a fine from John Watte, for playing at cards."—"Paid for wine given to the surveyor of the Lord Cardinal, in the house of William Dobyll 6d. Paid Richard Fuller—pro sessione de la Hæestake [?]. Paid for game

CORPORATION OF NEW
ROMNEY.

"given to the Lord Cardinal 2s. 6d. Paid the expenses of William Dobyll and others, riding to Maydistone, to the Lord Cardinal, about the havyne 6s. 10d. Paid the expenses of certain Jurats and commoners when they were at Kildfordmerssh, for water there for the havyne 17d. Paid the expenses of the men of Lydde, when they sealed the indenture, in the house of Richard Randislow 3s. 8d. Paid the expenses of the men of Lydde, when they were here to communicate about the burning of the cabin [cabannia] of the relict of William Gregory, in the house of William Dobyll 17d. Paid for the seme (horseload) of fish that was given to the Lord Cardinal 9s. Paid John Playdene, for a capon given to the Lord Cardinal 8d."

3, 4 Henry VII., A.D. 1488, 9.—"Paid the expenses of William Wodar, at Apuldore, when he was there with Gervase Hoorn, Knight, about the havene 3d. Paid the expenses of the Jurats in the houses of William Dobill and Thomas Galione, when they surveyed the common watercourse in the Helmys 2d. Paid the minstrels of the Lord the King, with their expenses 2s. 5d. Paid the expenses of the Jurats, when they were collecting the capons for the Lord Archbishop 3d. Given as a reward to the banners of Apuldore, when they cried their banns 3s. 4d. Given to the surveyor of the Archbishop 2 molettes, price 14d. Paid the relict of Richard Randislow for wine given to the Archbishop, when he was at St. Mary Church 18d. Paid William Wode, for a capon given to the Lord Archbishop 12d."

4, 5 Henry VII., A.D. 1489, 90.—"Received 2s. 8d. this year, for the old house near the Keye."—"Paid Robert Pundherst, for scouring a watercourse [aquagii] near the Vicarage 2d. Expended upon the Bailiff of the Marsh, and the Jurats thereof, in the house of Thomas Usbarne, when they viewed the watercourse for the havyne 3s. 4d."—"Several other sums are this year expended upon the haven."—"Paid the banners of the play from Charte, in the house of Thomas Usbarne 2s. 10d. Paid for 2 capons given to the Lord Archbishop, 2s. For 2 geese given to the same Lord 8d. Paid the minstrels of the Earl of Arundel 4d. Paid for wine in the house of William Dobill, given to a man of Richard Gildforth, Knight, coming for the gunnis and cabillis of the wrek 10d. Expended upon the survear, when he came to measure the land for the havyne 8s. 4d. Paid Thomas Lambard for red wax 8d. Paid William Browning, the (new) Common Clerk, for his stipend 5s. Paid Thomas Galione his expenses at Lyde, when he went thither to see the original of our play there [ad videndum originalem ludi nostri ibidem] 4d."

5, 6 Henry VII., A.D. 1490, 1.—"Paid for putting up the kokingstole 4d. Paid the wardens [gardianis] of the play for the loan of vestments 20s. Paid a messenger who brought a proclamation of the peace between our King and the King of Denmarke 4d. Paid 2 men watching by the sea-shore 4d. Paid in reward given to the minstrels of our Lord the Prince 8d. Paid a messenger who brought a commission to have archers at the town of Calais 6d. Paid for a potell of wine given to the Bailiff of Lyde, when he came to inquire about the said archers 5d. Paid Robert Eve for mending 5 gunnys 13d. Paid a man who put the woman on the cokingstole 5d. Paid John Elys for the jacket [le jaket] 10d. Paid John Wardene for the crane that was given to Richard Gildforth, Knight 16d."

6, 7 Henry VII., A.D. 1491, 2.—"Paid John Melale for cloth to make jakettes for the soudyers 10s. 1d. Paid John a Lane for the gunstonys 13d. Paid a messenger from Dover Castle for a proclamation as to Eriashpens [Irish pence] 6d. Paid expenses upon the criers of the banns of Wy, in the house of William Dobyll 2s. 11d. Paid as a reward to the minstrels of Sandewyche 8d. Paid for digging up the turfis for the butts 2d. Paid expenses of William Wodar and John Plaidene when they rode to London for artillari 4d. Paid Robert Eve for 2 vorlokkes for the 5 gunys 5d. Paid Thomas Arnold for his expenses when he rode to Dele, to communicate with Master Joseph as to the armour and artillari 20d."

Fol. 103 a., a memorandum is entered, in English, that at the Annunciation in the 8th year of King Henry VII. leave was given by the Bailiff, Jurats, and commonalty, of Romene, to Vincent Fynche to bar and inclose a lane between his tenement in the Parish of St. Martin's and the lands called "Barrokkes."—William Dobyll and John Warden have a lease of the Common Marsh of the town, as a reward for the making of a Goote.

Fol. 103 b., in a grant executed by John Boldistone, Rector of Ivechurch, 8th of Henry VII., mention is made of the Market dyke, the common watercourse called "the Sole," and a lane called "Shoptownelane." In the same page, John Wilson, born at Norram [now Norham] in the county of Durham, is admitted to the freedom.

7, 8 Henry VII., A.D. 1492, 3.—"Received 46s. 8d. of the men of Old Romene, towards the voyage for escorting our Lord the King this year beyond sea."—"Paid William Lucas, master of the Antony of Snodeland, for preest for himself and 2 mariners in that ship 8s. Paid Clement Galyone, master of the Trinity of Folkestone, for preest 4s. Paid John Lucas, master of the James of Romene, for his preest and that of six mariners 16s. Paid a man for bringing pipes and other vessels from divers places to the byrehouses 2d. Paid for 9 yerdes of blankett for jakettes 6s. Paid Cornelius Note for victuals in the Thomas of Newhethe 3s. 6d. Paid Thomas Gregory for making the jakettes for the mariners, and for claspes 3s. 6d. Paid the mariners as a reward, in copper money to be divided between them 18d. Paid Richard Fuller for bread, eggs, and butter, bought for the ships 6d. Paid Thomas Gregory for riding to Apoldore for the ship of Thomas a Lye 3d. Paid William Stokes for 2 pairs of shoes for the mariners of Snodelande 12d. Paid Richard Dunche for himself and his servant, watching by night in the ship of Newhedde [New Hythe] 4d. Paid Robert Bysshop, for watching at the bekene, with Henry Howlott 16d. Paid John Tyler for carrying 4 bunnes of byere [beer] to Hethe, for the ships there 8d. Paid Moses Armynarde for cheese for the ships 16d. Paid William Pyxe for his stipend this year 50s." This account is about ten times the ordinary length, and is full of items in reference to the supply and equipment of shipping, for the King's service.

8, 9 Henry VII., A.D. 1493, 4.—"Paid the criers of the banns of the play of Lyd 6s. 8d. Paid the expenses of divers Jurats riding to Master Ponynge at West-rynghangre, and spent upon the servants of Master Ponynge in the house of Henry Baldwyne at the same time 3s. 4d. Expended upon the breakfast for the criers of the banns of Lyd 4s. 4d. Paid for 4 capons given to Master Ponynge 5s. 4d. Paid Andrew Clerk for the expenses upon Giles Love, coming to the town upon the requisition of the Jurats, at the time of the vexation caused by Robert Tovy 21d. Paid Thomas Frensshe for making up the pavysses, and mending the skrene in the Common House 9d. Paid Edward Hexstalle, of Dover, for the share of this town in one tun of wine given to Edward Ponynge, Knight, by all the Ports 15s. Paid Andrew Clerk for the expenses upon Master Ponynge and his servants at the Crowne 8s. 11d. Paid William Baldwyne of Ivecherche for carriage of the bomes, from Ivecherche aforesaid to the havene 10d. Paid Thomas Lambarde for watching in the town at the time of the play of Lyd 4d. Paid Richard Fuller and James Markeby for 4 curlawes sent to Master Ponynge 2s. Paid as a reward to the minstrels of our Lord the King 2s. Paid Richard Paysshe for wine given to the criers of the banns of the play of Rye 8d. Paid William Pyx, Common Clerk, for his year's wages 50s. Paid Richard Fuller for his labour in laying the bomes 2d. Paid Thomas Gregory for expenses upon the great surveyor from the house of the Lord Cardinal 18d. Paid the expenses of Vincent Fynche and others, on departing and returning from Canterbury, for the prisoner 9d. Paid Thomas Gregory for expenses upon a Friar of Rye, at the same time 5d. Paid the same Thomas for 2 horses' dinner for 10 days, when they came from Canterbury with the prisoner 3s. Paid for making the Longbregge 12d. Paid a Friar of Rye who came to hear the confession of the prisoner 12d. Paid the hakeneyman of Canterbury as a reward for his horses, beyond what was agreed 17d. Given to the minstrels of our Lady the Queen 12d. Paid William Swanne for 4 geese given to the Lord Cardinal 2s. Given to the minstrels of the Duke of Bedford 8d. Paid for beer given to the men of Lyde, who rode forth upon the expedition of our Lord the King, when our enemies were in the Downes 4d."

At this point, fol. 107, the Accounts of one year are missing:—(but see the extracts from the succeeding volume.)

10, 11 Henry VII., A.D. 1495, 6.—"Received of Vincent Fynche for rent of the Salt Marsh and of the warens this year 106s. 8d. Received of John Lau-

Continued
on p. 549.

“ther, Clerk, for the rent of the House of St. John the Baptist 10s. Received 11d. of Richard Dodde, of Old Romene, for occupation between the Walls from Ilesbregge to Olde Romene.”—“Paid the expenses of some men helping the carpenters in taking down the bemes of the Common House 2s. Paid the expenses of the Jurats and their servants riding to the Lord Cardinal, in Easter week 13s. 3d. Paid John Tudor, Bailiff, as a reward given to him for his wages in Parliament the past year 6s. 8d.; and be it known that the residue of the wages of the said John is forgiven by him, to the use and advantage of this town.—Given as a reward to the minstrels of the Lord Duke of York [afterwards Henry VIII.], Warden of the Cinque Ports 3s. 4d. Given to the minstrels of the Lord the Prince 3s. 4d. Paid Richard Fuller [the Common Serjeant] for working at cleansing the High Street and the Market dyke two days 8d. Paid a messenger from Dover Castle, bringing a proclamation against the Scots 6d. Paid a serjeant of Dover Castle, bringing a Letter of myssef (missive) from our Lord the King as to receiving our Lady of Spain [Katharine of Aragon] 8d. Paid Moses Armynard for 2 lodes of lome for the Common House 4d. Paid for the congre given to Master Ponynge 3s. Capons are mentioned as frequently given to the Cardinal. Robert Stuppene first appears among the Jurats in this year.

11, 12 Henry VII., A.D. 1496, 7.—“Paid William Waryne, of Dover, and others, for our share of one tun of wine given to Master Ponynge, and for fish given to the Lord Cardinal, and for divers copies of writings 18s. Reward given to the minstrels of our Lord the King 3s. 4d. Paid a serjeant of Dover Castle, bringing a mandate for a proclamation as to the Roman groats [le Romans grottes] 8d. Paid for a paper common book printed [paupiro libro communi impresso] 1d. Paid the expenses on the election of a Common Clerk 2d. Spent on the Preacher 23d. Paid expenses upon the Preacher 23d. Paid Thomas Prenestone, Chaplain, the debt for the play, in full payment of his bill 6s. 8d. Paid Thomas Gammell, Chaplain, for the same, in full payment of his bill 15s.—Three other like bills are settled, amounting to 14s.—“Paid Richard Fuller for warning given to players [gamesters] in divers places 12d. Paid John Belle, Common Clerk, for his wages from the Feast of our Lord's Nativity 12s. 6d. Paid Thomas Gregorie, expenses of the play 2s. 8d.” There are several items of expenditure for capons given to the Lord Cardinal (John Morton, Archbishop of Canterbury).

12, 13 Henry VII., A.D. 1497, 8.—“Paid the serjeant-keeper of the beasts of the Lord Warden of the Ports, as a reward 2s. 10d. Paid as a reward to the minstrels of our Lady the Queen, and expended upon them 3s. 10d. Paid John Delle, as a reward for writing the new Custumal 3s. 4d. Expended on the minstrels of our Lord the Prince 2s. 8d. Paid a minstrel of the Lord Cardinal as a reward 12d. Paid a serjeant of Master Ponynge, carrying a mandate of our Lord the King as to Peter Warbekke 8d. For 2 capons given to the Lord Cardinal 2s. 4d. Paid expenses of mending the haven this year 60s. 11½d.”

13, 14 Henry VII., A.D. 1498, 9.—“Received by the hands of Peter Wynche from Thomas Doble 4s. for the land between the Wallles. Received from Robert Toby 3s. 4d. for rent of the House of St. John the Baptist. Paid the minstrels of the Lord Cardinal and the Lord Oxford, as a reward 2s. 3d. The minstrels of our Lady the Queen 12d. The minstrels of our Lord the King 3s. 4d. Paid a servant of Master Ponynge, carrying a mandate for seizing ships when the Duke of Suffolke was going to Flanders 8d. Expended upon the Vicar of Lydde, when he came to preach in the church of St. Nicholas, on the Second Sunday in Lent 2s. 4d. Paid Richard Pasche for wine, when he went to the town of Rie 9d. Paid Thomas Gregori for wine given to the wife of William Scot, in the house of Vincent Fynch 8d. Paid in reward upon the players [super ludorum] of the Lord Arundell 12d.”—The Latin in which these entries are made, is of the very worst.

14, 15 Henry VII., A.D. 1499, 1500.—“Received 12d. of Robert Stuppene for rent of land between the Wallles, from Ilesbregge to Olderomene. Received 3s. 4d. from William Mugge for rent of land between the Wallles, near Lynghoke, for 2 years.”—“Paid for 6 capons given to the Lord Cardinal 5s. 6d. Paid a carpenter for his wages upon the High Cross 2s. 8d. Paid expenses upon the cry of the banns of the play of Haldene 18d. Paid William Hortone for timber for the High Cross 6s. 7d. Paid John Holle for 43 feet of borde for the High Cross 3s. 4d. For 740 tiles for the same Cross 3s.”

15, 16 Henry VII., A.D. 1500, 1.—“Received 3l. 6s. 8d. of Vincent Fynche for rent of the Saltmarsh. Received 8d. of Thomas Hunde for rent of land in the Hoppegardyn, for four years. Received of the widow of William Swanne for rent of land between the Walls, from Ilesbregge as far as the Barre, 2s. 8d.”—“Paid John Lane his wages for keeping the clocke for one quarter 12d. [This clock was in the church of St. Laurence]. Paid William Bukherst his wages for the clocke 4s.”

16, 17 Henry VII., A.D. 1501, 2.—“Received 12s. in full account for lands belonging to St. John the Baptist. Received of Robert, parish clerk of St. Laurence, for drawing blood of Thomas Wevill 20d. —Paid John Lane as a reward for carrying a parcel of the banns of the play of the town of Romene 8d. Paid Richard Humfrey for his expenses in riding to London, for the serch of the billetes in the Exchequer of our Lord the King there 11s. 8d. Given as a reward to a minstrel of Master Ponynge, and paid his expenses 18d. Paid Master Blachenden as a reward for his trouble in the Exchequer, when Richard Humfrey went to search for the fifteenths and tenths, in wine given to him 4d.”

17, 18 Henry VII., A.D. 1502, 3.—“Paid Richard Humfrey for his expenses when he went to Hastynge for a certificate of Magna Charta 16d. Paid as a reward to the Bailiff and Jurats of Lyd, when they came to cry their play 6s. 8d. Spent upon the men of Lydde when they came from Hide with the banns of their play 14d. Delivered to the Warden of this town for the play [pro ludendo], in the way of lome 20s. 6d. Paid the relict of John Wardene, in full payment for the carriage of gers from London to Romene, for the play 3s. 4d. Paid John Lane for his labour in that play 3s. 4d. Reward given to the minstrels of the Lord Admiral 3s. 4d.”

18, 19 Henry VII., A.D. 1503, 4.—“Received of John Bonvassall, Clerk, for the Lane 2d. Paid the Bailiff and Jurats of Hithe, when they came to cry the banns of Hythe 6s. 8d.” [Large sums were also spent, at the same time, on their entertainment. These banns, probably, were slips of parchment, of a descriptive character, distributed to those who were to see the play.]—“Paid William Wodar for hay, on the occasion of the play 12d. Paid him for wine delivered at the play 7d.”

19, 20 Henry VII., A.D. 1504, 5.—“Paid as a reward to the minstrels of the Lord Oxford, with their expenses 3s. 4d. Paid Thomas Lambard, in full payment of the old debt owing to him by the town for the play 28s. 3d.”

Fol. 117 b. contains the admission of Mighell Bonvassall, born at Saint Mary Mount [apud Seynte Mari de Monte] to the freedom, on the 25th of May in the 21st year of Henry VII. (A.D. 1506). At this point, the leaves in this volume containing the Accounts for some years are missing; but are entered, originally perhaps in duplicate, in the volume next described.

23, 24 Henry VII. A.D., 1508, 9.—“Paid the criers of the play of Bedresden this year 3s. 4d. Paid as a reward to the minstrels of the Lord the Prince 2s. 8d. Paid William Cotyng for his labour in schoeing [shoeing horses] at divers times 16d. Paid Robert Walter and William Bukherst their wage for making the buttes near the mill 4s.” Part of this Account has been cut out.

24 Henry VII., 1 Henry VIII., A.D. 1509, 10.—“Received 20s. of Thomas Arnolde for land belonging to the House of St. John the Baptist.”—“Paid a serjeant of Dover Castle, bringing a monition as to the sekenesse [the plague], against the Coronation of our Lady the Queen 8d. Paid as a reward to the minstrels of our Lord the King 2s. Paid to the bereward of our Lord the King, as a reward 16d.”

At fol. 119 a., a recognizance in the sum of 40l., by Richard Stuppene the elder to Thomas Gregori, is entered; dated the 1st of December, in the 2nd year of Henry VIII. A pen is run through it, in proof that it had been satisfied. It was this Richard, probably, who was buried in St. Nicholas' Church at New Romney; and at whose tomb the yearly election of Mayor still takes place.

At the foot of fol. 119 b., is entered the admission of Richard Stuppene the elder, born at Keneston, to the freedom, on the 22nd of March in the 3rd year of Henry VIII.; paying nothing for his fine. He appears

CORPORATION OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

however on the list of Jurats in the preceding year. Robert Stuppene's name has disappeared.

1, 2 Henry VIII., A.D. 1510, 1.—“Received 5s. of Richard Humfrey for timber sold to him from the place called the ‘Slow.’ Received 3s. 10d. of the widow of Thomas Lambard for rent of land lying in the place called ‘Southlese,’ and from that place to Ilesbregge. Received 6d. from the same for land inclosed in the lane near the place called ‘Colverlese.’ Received 4d. of Richard Humfrey for a parcel of land near Perys fige crosse.”—“Paid the expenses of the Bishop, when he came to bless the High Cross 6s. 6½d. Reward given to the minstrels of the Earl of Oxford 3s. 1d. Paid the relict of Thomas Lambard, in full payment for his expenses at the Coronation of our Lord the King and the Queen 2s. 8½d. Paid as a reward to a serjeant of our Lord the King, called the ‘bereward’ 22d.

2, 3 Henry VIII., A.D. 1511, 2.—“Received 20d. of Richard Richarde of Old Romene, for leave given to him to make a way to his barn near the churchyard of St. John the Baptist.”—“Paid William Bukhurst for a new cord for the clockes 14d. Paid a serjeant of Dover Castle, bringing a commission from our Lord the King to hold a muster of the men who were to go to Gildreland 8d. Paid as a reward to the men of Halden, when they came to cry their play 20d. Paid to the men of Brokeland for the like 5s. Paid as a reward to the men of Folkestone for the like 6s. 8d. Paid John Hakett for his outlay upon Master Copledike, when he came to view the men who were to go to Gildreland 2s. 2d. Paid Thomas Glover for canvas of gussets, standers, and aprons of mayle 12d.”

3, 4 Henry VIII., A.D. 1512, 3.—“Paid the expenses of a certain priest of Oxford, for a sermon made in the church of St. Nicholas in Lent 6d. Paid Clement Baker for his expenses for a dinner given to the Lord Warden, at London, at the time of Parliament 17s. 4d. Paid for half a porpes given to the Lord Cardinal 10s. 10d. For half a porpes given to the Lord Admiral 10s. 6d. For canvas for the porpes 6d. Expended on the Suffragan, when he came to this town 8d. Paid Richard Stuppene the elder, for arms bought of him 13s. 4d. Paid the expenses of Richard Humfrey, riding to Master Scott, to shew him the words used by Michel Bonevassell 8d. Paid as a reward to the minstrels of the Duke of Bukyngham 2s. 8d. Paid to the King's bearward, as a reward 3s. 5d. Paid a man bringing a warning from Rye of three ships of the King of France 4½d. Paid as a reward to the players of St. Mary's 8d. Paid William Bukherst for a salette [head-piece] bought of him 3s. 4d. Paid Moses Armynard for the [la] wodknyf 2s. 4d. Paid a serjeant of Dover Castle, bringing a letter as to the excommunication of the King of France 8d. Paid George Cobbes, Common Clerk, for his wages for one quarter 12s. 6d. Paid Clement Baker for his expenses upon Master Roper [? the son-in-law of Sir Thomas More], Master Hale, and others, at the time of Parliament 4s. 10d.”

4, 5 Henry VIII., A.D. 1513, 4.—“Received 16d. for the mill called Southmill.”—“Paid Henry Holle, Joseph Hakett, Christopher Herfeld, and John Buntyn, as a reward for their trouble and expenses upon the play 13s. 4d. Paid Henry Robyn for hiring 2 men with arms, at Westynghanger 4d. Paid a man bringing a mandate from the Queen, as to the escape of the maryners and soldiers, without leave given 8d. Paid a man bringing a letter from the Lord Howard, the Admiral, for watching the bekons for the Scottes and Frenchmen 8d. Paid a man bringing a proclamation that all Frenchmen should wear white crosses on the left shoulder 8d. Paid for wine given to the Lord Suffragan 4d. Paid William Woodar for going to Asshford, to inquire for a clerk for this town 8d.”

5, 6 Henry VIII., A.D. 1514, 5.—“Received of Richard Gybson for rent of the common land lying between the Walles, from a certain place called the ‘Barre’ to Ilesbregge, for two years past 5s. 4d. Received 6d. in part payment for blood drawn between priests.”—“Paid John Adam, the bereward of our Lord the King, as a reward 2s. Paid Edward Frencham, Clerk, his wages for a quarter 12s. 6d. Paid a man bringing a mandate to prepare for the Queen of France [the Princess Mary] passing beyond sea 8d. Paid Robert Dunney as a reward, when he came to view the havyn 2s.”

6, 7 Henry VIII., A.D. 1515, 6.—“Paid expenses of Master Manwood, when he preached here 15d. Paid

“for wine and fish given to the Lord Suffragan [Domino Suffricano] 2s. 2d. Paid a serjeant of our Lady the Queen, bringing news of the Princess [de la Princesse] 3s. 6d.”—the birth of the Princess Mary, February 18, 1516, is alluded to:—“Paid as a reward to the minstrel of Master Ponynge 12d. (he is called John Thoroll in the next book.) Paid the expenses of the Bailiff and Jurats of Lyd when they brought their contribution, and the fifth part of the payment to the Burgess in Parliament, in the house of Thomas Glover 5s. 4d. Paid Clement Baker his wages as Burgess in Parliament, 17 days at 2s. per day, 34s. Paid the executors of the said Clement Baker, for one set of brekynders [? brigantines, a light suit of mail], being in arrears, and not paid in his life-time 10s. Paid John Baker for the crabs and fish given to the Lord Cardinal 14d. Paid Richard Stuppene the remainder of his wages as Burgess in Parliament, last year 38s. 10d. Paid William Bedell for the molett [mullet] given to the Lord Suffragan 10d.”

7, 8 Henry VIII., A.D. 1516, 7.—“On the 5th of May given to the players of our Lord the King 12d. Expended upon Sir Richard Pever, Vicar of Romene 6s. 4d. Paid for drinkings of the Combarons in the dwelling-house of John Hyxe on the matter of the said Richard Pever, the Vicar 5s. Spent at the Crowne when the jurors came from Estringhanger, on the matter aforesaid 5s. 4d. Paid Robert May, Common Clerk of Romene and of the Cinque Ports, for his wages this year 50s. Paid for cutting the Mersshe walle, which is called ‘Lambardes Wall’ 3d. Paid Thomas Beanquike for watching Richard Pever, the Vicar, when he was in Smallsporte, for his merits 6d.”

8, 9 Henry VIII., A.D. 1517, 8.—“Paid for drinkings at the Crown, with the serjeant of the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, concerning the Saltmershe 7d. Paid John Alwey for watching Smallesporte, while Richard Pever was there in prison for his offences 6d. Paid Simon Wodford for one cord to serve for the clock, namely, in the church of St. Laurence 12d. Paid for drinkings at Master Glover's, with the messenger of our Lord the King, when he brought news concerning the commotion which there was among the Apprentices of London 6½d. Paid and given to the players of Appoldore, when they cried their banns here 32s. 10d. Paid for a dinner at the Crowne, while Mistress Rose was here 3s. 8d. Paid the expenses of our players, as set forth in the Account of Christopher Hensfeld 3l. 18s. 5d. Paid Richard Ward for his labour on the old havene 19s. 6d. Paid Richard Stuppene the elder, in reference to the old havene 37s. 6d. Alms given to the Brothers Observant at Canterbury 3s. 4d.”

9, 10 Henry VIII., A.D. 1518, 9.—“Received of John Bate, Chaplain, (as a fine) for drawing blood of John Legat, Chaplain 21d. Received of Richard Lambert for drawing blood of John Bate, Chaplain 21d. Received of William Tadlowe, deputy-bailiff of the Archbishop of Canterbury, at Romene, for the rent of Southemersshe, otherwise called ‘Commenmersshe,’ or ‘Saltmersshe,’ from the feast of St. Michael the Archangel in the 9th year to the same feast in the year next ensuing 3l. 6s. 8d. Received of Hermanne, the servant of Richard Stuppene the elder, when he made an assault on Robert Paris, a Jurat 3s. 6d.”—“Paid at the Brodelle for a breakfast, as was the wont from of old 4s. Given to the players of Wynchelsy and Rie, as a reward 18d. Given to Doctor Scott, who preached here, in drink, 10½d. Paid William Bukerst for keeping the clock of St. Laurence's for a year 4s.”

10, 11 Henry VIII., A.D. 1519, 20.—“Paid the minstrel of Sir Edward Ponynge 12d. Given to a minstrel of the Lady Arundel 16d. Item, paid for a bylle sent to the Bayley, consernyng the grounde (of the) Spitill 8d. Paid for fish for the Lord Ponynge, namely, a baize and 2. elys 3s. 4d. Item, paid for borde and for nayle for the Proclamation, 2d.”

In fol. 131 b., an entry is made, in English, to the effect that, on the 13th day of March, in the 12th year of King Henry VIII., Richard Lambarde, of New Romene, appeared before Richard Stuppene the elder, and other Jurats, and James a Barrowe, Common Clerk, and acknowledged that he had delivered to “Richard Gybsone, of Londone, and serjaunt of the armys of our Soverayng Lord the Kyng,” certain tenements situate in the Parishes of St. Nicholas and St. Laurence in that town; a marsh called “Newe beggyng,” a field called “Conlver Leyase,” a field

NO-R-
OF
NEW BRY.

called "Safferon Leysse," and a field called "Cheynewes."

11, 12 Henry VIII., A.D. 1520, 1. The entries are in English.—"Paid to a bodar (messenger) for the proclamation concerning the waoche and privy serche, and adnulling of gally halfpence 16d. For wyne spent upone the Mershemmen at the beakone, 4d. Paid to Turrolde, my Lorde Wardens mynstrelle 14d. Paid at Master Stuppenys for drynkynge, when scotte was seysyd [assessed] 3s. 11d. Paid in expences at the Crowne upone Staple of Hethe, and Adam the berewarde, in rewarde, 3s. 4d." The ordinary Account is followed by a separate one of some length, thus headed:—"Costes and expences abowte the schyppys, conseryng the transportyng of the Kyngs Grace over to Calys, be the space of 15 dayes."

12, 13 Henry VIII., A.D. 1521, 2.—"Item, leide out in rewarde to the players of Broklond 4s. Item, in expenses upon them, att drynkynge 6s. 8d. Item, paide uppone Seynt Laurence Day in rewarde to the Kynges mynstrelles 12d. Paid in rewarde to the Duke of Suffolkes berewarde 2s. 4d. Paid to John Mores, Comen Clerk, for his wages for 3 quarters 37s. 6d."

The Accounts for the next two years are missing; there following, at fol. 135, a portion of that for—

15, 16 Henry VIII., A.D. 1524, 5.—"Paid to Edward Wodell, for mowing down of the weedes at the comen place 1d. Item, in expenses upon my Lord Wardene, when he was att ladyng of his tymbre 15d. Geven to the cariars of the same tymbre 4d."

16, 17 Henry VIII., A.D. 1525, 6: numerous sums are received for rent of the town lands this year; two persons pay rent for a "Salte cote," and the "comen ground" at Snargate is also mentioned.—"In expenses uppone Hewe Smythe, my Lorde Wardene's servaunt, whenne he sett the felowe out of prysonne, whiche was laide in for talyng away of the Portyngal's sailes from Tyers 12d. Gevyne to one that went to Seyntmaricherche att that tyme for a crane, to be gevyne to my Lord Wardene 2d. Item, paid to Mores whenne he went to Londone to Master Gybsone, with the bill of arreyment for the play etc. 8s. Paid in expenses att William Garrarde, whenne the Lorde of Misrewle of Olde Romene came to towne 40d."

Entry at fol. 137 a.—"Att this daye it is condescended by all the comons, that from hensforth Johan Wilsone shall be taken as no freeman, unto tyme he hath proved hymme self to be anne Englishman."

17, 18 Henry VIII., A.D. 1526, 7. This Account occupies the last two leaves, folios 137, 8; they are much mutilated, and, to a great extent, the writing is illegible.—"Paide for William Taberer, the wayte, for his bourdyng.—Geven in rewarde to my Lord Cardynalls mynstrelles 3s. 3d. In rewarde to the Kynges players."

The last page is almost wholly illegible, and some leaves which followed have been cut out.

(Since the preceding account of their contents was written, the two volumes last described, I am glad to say, thanks to the attention and liberality of H. B. Walker, Esqre., have been substantially bound, and thoroughly repaired.)

The next book in sequence is a small folio paper volume, bound in limp parchment, with a numeration in a hand of the 16th century. The first leaf contains proceedings of the Jurats in the 7th year of King Henry VII.; after which, it includes assessments of Maltotes, and Scots for the King's shipping, upon the inhabitants of New Romene, and Corporation Accounts.

Fols. 2-28 contain only lists of names of the inhabitants, as assessed to Scots for the King's shipping. In fol. 29 are entered, in Latin,—"Receipts of sums given by the youths and other friends of this town, towards the shipping, this year;" among the trades are named tailors, smiths, labourers, shoemakers, and a salter. "Hanastatus, servant of John Stokes," gives 6d.

Fol. 22 b.—"Received of John Knechebulle 4s. 1½d." about the 8th of Henry VII.: this is the first instance in which the name appears. The surnames of Whetman, Epps, and Wygge, appear in the same page.

In fol. 30 b., 9 Henry VII., there is a long list of fines for drawing blood. John Cheynewe the younger, and Laurence Cotard, are each fined 21d. for drawing blood from the other. William Busse is fined a like sum for drawing blood from John Somer; also "John Galyone, Clerk of St. Martin's 21d., for drawing blood of Richard Byshop."

In fol. 47 is an entry of a lease, 10th Henry VII., for 7 years to Vincent Fynche, "Gentilman," of all the Salt marsh, with the fresh pasture in the Helmes, and the free warren belonging to the Jurats and commons of Romene. Vincent Fynche and John Tudor were at this time Burgesses in Parliament for the town.

In fol. 48 b. et seq. is entered the expenditure by the Corporation in the 9th and 10th years of Henry VII. (A.D. 1494, 5), which does not appear in the folio parchment volume last noticed. The following are some extracts:—"Given as a reward to the minstrels of our Lady the Queen, and for wine for them 2s. Given as a reward to the criers of the banns of the play of Brokelond 4s. Paid expenses upon them in the house of Henry Baldewyne 3s. 4d. Paid Peter Wynche for beer given to the criers 2d. Given as a reward to the criers of the banns of the play of Hethe 6s. 8d. Paid Henry Robyne for a potell of wine given to them 4d. Paid Peter Wynche for beer given to them 2d. Paid expenses upon them in the house of Henry Baldewyne 4s. Paid as a reward to a serjeant of our Lord the Prince, who came with the babyone (baboon) 12d. Given as a reward to the players of the Prince 10d. Paid John Hakette for his labour, in setting the bones in the haven 2d. Paid Richard Bursell for watching in the town, at the time of the play of Lyd 4d."

Fol. 50 a., 1st of March 10th, Henry VII., John Cheynewe, Gentilman, and John Holle, give surety for the good behaviour of the master and mariners of the ship called the "James" of Romene. In the same month, John Adam, carpenter, and John Hevesyde, enter into like surety to keep the peace.

Fol. 50 b. contains an entry as to the freedom.—"William a Bowe hath granted for his fredom ii lambes, or iis. in money, to be payde at the fest of Seynt Michell next comyng. John Bursell hath granted to lend to the town x shepe by the space of iii yere." Similarly, John Playden lends 20 sheep for 3 years, Henry Baldwyn 6 sheep for 2 years, Robert Joseph 4 sheep for 3 years, Vincent Fynche 20 sheep for 3 years.

Fol. 52 b., 9 Henry VII.—"Thomas Usbarne the elder pays rent for a parcel of land in the Hopgardyn, withdrawn from the common Marsh."

Fol. 58, 8, 9, (apparently) Henry VII.; items which do not appear in the preceding volume.—"Paid Thomas Gregorie for a potell of wine given to the criers of the banns of the play of Rye 4d. Reward given to the criers of the banns of the play of Rye, 4s. Paid Richard Fuller for the heptre [P] at the Longbregge 1d. Paid as a reward to a Friar of Rye for confessing the prisoner put to death [ad mortem positum] 12d.;" (given before, apparently, but in another form.) "Paid 2 men watching the prisoner in the gaol for 2 nights 8d."

At this point, fols. 60-67 are wanting; fols. 68a-70 a. contain the account of expenditure, only, of 11, 12 Henry VII., the whole of which is preserved in this volume last noticed. In fol. 74 a. Richard Knechebulle "pays 5s. for the freedom, sold to him;" in fol. 75 a. John Knechebulle pays 4s. 2d., as an "Advocans," or one claiming the freedom, but dwelling without the liberties. In fol. 78b., the 14th year of Henry VII., Richard Knechebulle, as being an "extravagans," or freeman living beyond the liberties, agrees to pay to the Chamberlain 4d. yearly. In fol. 80 a., the same year, the persons who have in the past year sold cider in the town (venditores cesaris) are 13 in number. Also, in the same year,—"Received of Phineas Usbarne the elder, for rent of a parcel of land in the Hopgardyne, recovered from the common Marsh 2d. Of William Strogulle for rent of a parcel of the King's highway, containing 12 roods, on the north side of his messuage, in the Parish of St. Martin's 6d."

Fol. 80 b.—"On the Feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Mary, in the 13th year of the reign of King Henry VII., it was enacted that the criers of the banns of the play of Romene, commons of that town, should carry in their banns, or at least bills of the same, before the Feast of St. George next after that date; and that those who failed therein, should be imprisoned 40 days, or else find sureties for delivery of the same." This entry is in very corrupt Latin.

Fol. 88 a.—14th Henry VII.; succeeding John Bell, Richard Humfrey is named as the Common Clerk.

In fol. 95 a., 16 Henry VII., is enrolled a sale by Thomas Otewey, son of Thomas Otewey, of a tenement, near land called "Lotroches," in Romney.

In fol. 108 a., occurs this hexameter, a scribbling, temp. Henry VII.—"Dum sumus in mundo, vivamus corde jocundo."

CORPORATION
OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

CORPORATION OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

In fol. 119 b. a list of names of persons is given, who are presented for "blodwyke" [blodwite], punishment for assault with bloodshed.

Fol. 120 b., on Friday before Christmas Day, in the 20th year of the reign of Henry VII.,—"Thomas Gregori" was sworn upon his halydom othe, that he had well "and truly delyvered iii letters of processe unto the Bayleif of Lydde."

In fol. 125 b., 21 Henry VII., John Crosse and Mighell Bonevassalle are bound to keep the peace, on pain of paying 13s. 4d.—"unto every of the three chirchis;" the three, no doubt, being those of St. Nicholas, St. Laurence, and St. Martin.

Fol. 129.—"On this day (the Annunciation, 21st Henry VII.) it is aggreed and enacted, and for a law for ever to be kepte, that any servaunt, that is to say, a man servaunt that takith for his wages 40s. by yere, shall pay yerely to the comyn charge, that is to say, for Maltehode [Maltote], at what tyme it is gadred, 4d."

The entries at fol. 136 b., for 20, 21 Henry VII. (A.D. 1505, 6) are not given in the preceding book: the following are some extracts:—"Paid as a reward for crying the banns of the play of Brokelond 5s. Paid the expenses of the banns on the same day, in the house of Edward Wodell 5s. 4d. Paid as a reward to the minstrels of the Lord the Prince, and expended on them 21d. Paid the minstrel of Master Ponynge, as a reward 12d. Paid the expenses upon the Brothers Observant in the house of Edward Wodell, when they came to preach in the church of St. Nicholas 6d."

Fol. 142 a., 21, 22 Henry VII. (A.D. 1506, 7).—"Paid, as a reward, to the minstrels of the Lord the King 2s. Paid for one shefe and a half of arrowes 3s. 9d. Item, paide for poyntes for the bregandynes 1d. Paid William Mugge for sawyng [sewing] of the canvas upon the gorgettes of maile and aprons of maile 8d."

Fol. 144 b. (22, 23 Henry VII.).—"Thomas Musterdyne pays rent for common land between the Walls, that is, from Ilesbregge to Longfare, for one year, 4d."

Fol. 146 b.—22, 23 Henry VII. (A.D. 1507, 8).—"Received custom for salt in the havyn from a Frenchman 20d.—Paid Robert Walker and William Bukherst their money for making the buttes 4s."

Fol. 148 b.—"The 15th day of Juin the first yere of the raigne of our Soueraigne Lorde, King Harry the VIIIth, the Jurats of the towne of Romenei have electe for burgessis of the Coronacion of our Soveraigne Lorde Kynge Harri the VIIIth and the Quene, Johan Holle, Clement Baker, Thomas Lambarde, and Thomas Glover."

Fol. 149, 23, 24 Henry VII., A.D. 1508. 9.—Among those paying the "general Maletot" this year, is named "Edward at the Cherche stile of Saynte Martyns," paying 4 pence.

The Account of the expenditure of 24 Henry VII.—1 Henry VIII., fol. 152, does not correspond with that given in the preceding volume: the following are some extracts:—"Paide in expenses uppone the Suffrecan, whanne he was here, the Tuysday before Ester 16d. Paid as a reward to the men of Lydde, when they came to cry their play 6s. 8d. Paid the wages of 4 burgesses at the Coronacion of our Lord the King and the Queen 4 marks. Paid the minstrels of our Lord the King, as a reward 2s. 4d. Paid the minstrels of our Lord the King, Henry VIII. 2s. Paid Thomas Glover in full, for his wage at the Coronacion 2s. 8d." In this year, among the "Contributions dewe by certain persons to the towne of Romenei," Richard Knacchebulle is named, as owing 4d.

Fol. 155 b.—"The last day of Marche, the furste yere of our Soveraigne Lorde Kyng Harri the VIIIth, one John Hubberd was strayned for dute perteynyng to the towne for Maltehote the space of 5 yere, every yere 6d., summa 2s. 6d., the whiche distresse is 3 pannys of bras, and a ketylle."

Several of the yearly Accounts now given are almost repetitions of those in the preceding volume.

Fol. 168 b.—"Be it known that the Chamberlain, for the time being, of the town of Romene, let to Robert Davy at the Feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Mary, in the 3rd year of the reign of King Henry VIII. common land of the said town; that is, from the place called Ilesbregge to Oldromenebregge, for one year, he to pay 12d."

Fol. 169, 3, 4 Henry VIII., A.D. 1512, 3.—Richard Knacchebulle and John Whatmanne are among those making payments this year.

Fol. 170. Peter Johnson, "born at Delfe in the parts of Holand," is among those admitted to the freedom. Fol. 178, apparently 4, 5 Henry VIII., A.D. 1513, 4.—"Paid Master Doctor, that is, the Rector of Wyttysssham, for his expenses 2s. For tymber pertaining to the common ditch of the town 12d. Paid Thomas Mowne, as a reward when he came from Ashford to Romney to serve as Common Clerk to the said town, he remaining there for 5 days; for his trouble and expenses 2s. 8d. Paid for 4 capons given to Master Ponynge 5s. 4d." In the same year, the Maltote paid for the 'Souzthmelle' (South Mill) by Simon Woodward, is 16d.; that by William Fardynghly for the Hyzemelle (High Mill) is 2s. Retailers are to pay "for every tonne of swett (sweet) wyne 8d., and for every tonne of Gaskonne wyne 4d." In the same folio (183) a message called "Cowpers" is mentioned.

Fol. 187 b., 5 Henry VIII., Robert Apsele, born in the Parish of Myltone, in the county of Kent, is admitted to the freedom.

This volume ends, at fol. 196 b., with some memoranda of the 7th year of Henry VIII.

The next book to be noticed, in chronological sequence, is a quarto paper volume; being a collection, apparently, of fragments, put together, if we may judge from the numeration of the pages, in the 16th century, and bound in limp parchment: the first 56 leaves of it, as then arranged, being lost. It seems to be partly an Assembly Book, and partly a book of Accounts. At fol. 57 it begins with the first year of Queen Mary, but lower down on the page the entries belong to the first and other years of Elizabeth; the next page continuing with the "Common Scot" Accounts of the first year of Elizabeth. The name of Agnes Stuppeny appears; from the comparative amount of her assessment (6s. 8d.) a person of some opulence; John Stuppeny pays but 4d.—"George at Mr. Couchman's," "John that was at Chaunders," and "the boy at Mr. Buntynge," are also respectively charged 4d. Three persons are taxed, as living "bytwene the Wallis" with this addition.—"Note that these 3 last sommes were taxed upon inhabitants within the parish of Olde Romenei. And therefore these were dwelling in the Liberty of New Romenei, though in the parish of Olde Romenei."

At fol. 70 (original pagination) there are entries of persons admitted to the freedom in the 21st year of King Henry VIII.; on the reverse of which folio is the following curious entry (tr.):—"On which day (the Feast of St. John the Baptist, 8th Henry VIII.) the book called 'Le Playboke' was delivered to Henry Robyn, to keep such book to the use of the town 'aforesaid until etc.'" The Common Clerk who made this entry (in very bad Latin) was Robert May. The question arises whether this was a common Plea Book only, or a Play Book, connected with the Town Play, next mentioned.

On the 14th of December, in the same year, the Jurats and commons—"chose Wardens, to have the play of Christ's Passion, as from olden time they were wont to have it, namely, Richard Stuppeny, Christopher Hensfeld, Robert Paris, John Buntynge, William Bedell." In the same page it is stated that, on the 5th of October in the following year, Robert Broune, "born in the vill of Hamersmyth, in the county of Middellsex," was admitted to the franchise. Also, "Upon which day (date not named) the book called 'Le Playboke' was delivered from the keeping of Henry Robyn into the hands of Robert May, Common Clerk there, safely and securely to be kept to the use and behoof of the said town."

Fol. 72:—"On the sixth day of July in the 9th year of Henry VIII. Richard Bursell the younger sent to Robert May, Common Clerk, by William Bukherste, for Le Playboke aforesaid, and then and there he delivered the same to the said William, and so the book now remains in his hands."

Fol. 72 b. On the 13th of December in the 9th year of the same reign, four persons named,—"then and ther examyned uppone ther halydome othes, whether that the halfe-cowe the whiche was seized at Hithe by Richard Butler wer good and able fleisshe and merchandisable; the whiche affirmed it god and able in the presence aforesaid."

Fol. 73 b., 13th of March, 9 Henry VIII. surety for 40s. is given by John Wilson, of Romene, to James Swanne, of Lydd, for "horses fleisshe" of him bought.

In fol. 75 a. 22 November, 8 Henry VIII. is an account, apparently, of voluntary contributions—"To the provyng of the dykes of the Havene;" 5 persons subscribe in the parish of St. Nicholas, and nine in that of St.

Laurence, 13s. 2d. being the sum collected. No other parish is named.

Fol. 80 b. :—On the 18th of December 8 Henry VIII. the Jurats distrained, for the benefit of creditors, the grain of John Haket, lying in the barn of Nicholas Peynet—"as well in grain as in sheaf," of whatsoever kind.—"So much so, that the said John suddenly, and unforeseen, departed from the town aforesaid to Sanctuary at Faversham."

At fol. 82 the list of Maltotes collected, is continued from the preceding volume, at 7, 8 Henry VIII. (A.D. 1516, 7.)

At fol. 87 b. are given the receipts for 8, 9 Henry VIII. (A.D. 1517, 8.) Porpoises sold out of town are still subject to a Maltote of one shilling. Deryk, the servant of John Stuppeny, pays 20 pence for an assault.

At fol. 90 are the accounts of expenditure for a year, the date not named, but evidently 7, 8 Henry VIII. A.D. 1516, 7.—"Paid a man bringing a mandate from the Lord Warden, warning us of the Scottisshe barke that was upon the sea 8d." Other payments are given, as in the preceding extracts from the folio volume.

Fol. 100 b. 8, 9 Henry VIII. A.D. 1517, 8.—"Payments made by order of the Brodhill;" some of the entries appear in the Account for this year given in the second folio previously noticed. The following seem to be additional to those there given.—"Given to the collectors of the parish church of Ostringhanger for torcheligh, that is, in the chamber of the Lord Warden. [Sir Edward Poynyngs] 4d. Given to the butler there 4d. Paid on the 26th day of May to a serjeant of the Lord Warden, who then brought a mandate to the Barons of New Romene here, that they ought not to play the play of the Passion of Christ until they had had the King's leave etc. 9d."

Fol. 105. On the 24th of January, 9 Henry VIII. John Chilton, of Romene, "Gentilmanne," acknowledges himself indebted to Stephen Buntynge, of Lyde, "Yo-manne" and to Thomas Waynflete, of the city of Canterbury, "Vyntener."

In fol. 112 some additional accounts are given for 9, 10 Henry VIII. A.D. 1518, 9.—"Paid Richard Thorwall as a reward, because he is a minstrel of Sir Edward Poynyngs, Warden, on the last day of May 16d. Paid Thomas Waynflete 3s. 4d. Expended upon Sir Master Doctor [Domini Magistri Doctoris] preaching in the church of St. Nicholas, on the 23rd day of January.—Paid for repairs to the havene 11s. 1d." Wild fowl and fish are charged for, as being sent to the Lord Warden.

Fol. 115 b. et seq. : on the 18th of April, 9 Henry VIII. by common assent of the Jurats and commoners it was enacted, that from thenceforth no more "Maletoltes" should be collected; but that Scottes and half Scottes should be gathered. To all appearance "Maletoltes" were sums levied upon the sale of commodities; and "Scots" were assessed upon the property of the individual.

Fol. 117 : at the same Assembly it was "established, condescended and enacted," that, as the inhabitants of Greate Jernemouth had recently decreed that the Bailiffs from the Cinque Ports should reside there full forty days, instead of 3 weeks or a month only, as theretofore, the Bailiff should from thenceforth have an augmentation to his payment, of 40 shillings.

Fol. 117 b., contains an account of the first levy of "Scots." Richard Stuppeny the elder, Jurat, pays the largest sum, 10s. William Woder, Jurat, pays but 8d.—"quia senex et pauper," because old and poor. The smallest Scots, in amount, are 4d.

Fol. 119; on the 30th June, 10 Henry VIII., it was agreed that warning should be given to Richard Lamberd, of Romene, to have made at the course called the "Town Dike Watercourse," a gutter, called "a pynnoke," a foot and a half square, at least. On the day of July in the same year, John Chilton, Jurat, ask security of his brethren against Henry Houll and Patrick Mores, "laborer," especially "as to the burning down of his houses." The said Henry was arrested, and called upon to find security.

Fol. 120.—"On Thursday the 10th day in February Thomas Henry and Leonard Kyrkeby with wordes of malice assaulted either other, and in so moch that they went together in handes at Hokkes dore, where the said Leonard brake the hede of the said Thomas with a stone, and of him drew blode, ayenst the peace." They were called upon to find surety to answer to the Hundred, and were bound over, each, in a sum of 40s., to keep the peace; the breaking of the head seems to have had no extra weight as against Leonard Kyrkeby.

Fol. 120 b.; in the 10th Henry VIII. a Recorder appears for the first time, Robert May, the late Town Clerk.

Fol. 122, John Baker owes 3s. "for ferme of the Havene streames."

Fol. 123 b., 1st March, 10 Henry VIII. the "Court-hall" of Romene, is mentioned for the first time.

Fol. 126, a later insertion, 20 August, in the first year of Queen Mary; a meeting of the Jurats is mentioned as taking place "on Sondaye" in the "Guylede-halle" of Romney.

Fol. 127 b. Account of expenditure for 10, 11 Henry VIII.; many items being given in addition to those in the folio volume before noticed.—"Gevyne to the banne criers of Brokelond, in reward and expences 13s. 6d. Payd to the brynger of the precepte concernynge the eschape of the rovers of the see 8d. Peyde to Richard Afforde for halfe porpesse that was sent unto Mr. Wardene 6s. 8d. Paid to the Duke of Suffolk berrewarde 15d. Paid to my Lord Wardens mynstrelle 18d. Paid to Henry Robyn for hys expence goyng to Apuldore Cryke with the proclamacyon 6d."

Fol. 130, 11 Henry VIII. : A "common pond," in the Parish of St. Laurence, in Romene, is mentioned, known as "Trewsole."

Fol. 130 b., 12 Henry VIII. cognizance is taken of an affray between Peter Johnson, "cordoner," and James Twisseler, the former bearing all the costs of the affray.

Fol. 131, in the same year, "Robert Warham, Gentyll-man," is mentioned as being the Bailiff of Romene; a kinsman, probably, of William Warham, Archbishop of Canterbury, who appointed to that office.

Fol. 133, 13 Henry VIII. John Morrys is named as being Common Clerk.

Fol. 135, in this year among those paying Scot are named, "William Fright, alias Pulter 4d. The tylor 4d. The sheperde 4d. Servaunts with Mr. Lamberde."

The closing leaves of the volume are occupied with entries of the time of Elizabeth. In fol. 142 b. is an entry of the 24th of February in the 8th year of that reign, with a marginal contemporary note—"4li. yearly to be payde out of the townes purse towards the mayntenaunce of a good schoolemaster."—Above it is written, in a like hand "vac.," i.e., "to be omitted;" immediately below which stands, in a little later hand, "—More pittie." The "good schoolemaster" was to be appointed for the better eddyfyng, erudicion, and brynginge upp, of youthe within the seide towne.

Fol. 144, on the 10th of December 9 Elizabeth, 3 yards of land at Slowe (or Slnice) Gate are let. The High Street was paved this year, and in the details, the "High Cross" is mentioned.

Fol. 145, in the same year of Elizabeth, an ordinance is made for scouring the Town Ditch; the same to be done by the owners of lands adjoining thereto.

Fol. 145, b. in the same year, an ordinance is made as to such as shall cut the Sea-wall, or the Pynnoke.

Fol. 146, 7th of October in the same year, the Mayor and the Jurats order that there shall be paid yearly 10s. "to the Glayser, for glaseng of [the] church of St. Nycholas."

Fol. 148, on the 7th of March, 10 Elizabeth, the Mayor, Jurats, and commoners, agree,—"That all the players, or the moste part of them, shall enter into sufficient boundes of 40s. to Mr. Wallishe, at or before the next daye of rehersalle . . . with condicion effectually to prosecute the playe the same; otherwise every player having . . . shalle presently surrender all their partes up again into the handes of Arthur Bee; and so to be no more spoken of, or any more repetition of rehersall thereof had or made." The above entry seems almost to defy explanation.

Fol. 148 b., on the 9th of June, 10 Elizabeth, William Epps, Mayor, and the Jurats and commons,—"have agreed, in consideration of the Quenes Majesties proclamation concerning the Lotterie, that thei shall rise out of the townes purse 40s. of good money of Inglonde, being iiiii lotes. And so the posey for the seid lott to goe and bewrytten under the townes name."—"Also they have agreed that one Snowe, a pore lame boye, being borne at Romene, and abiding at Lydde by the space of 3 or foure yeres, and now ys sento the towne, in consideration to have hyme sette some occupacion, they have geven out of their comon purse towards the same 20s., which ys paid to the Baylyf of Lydde."

Fol. 149.—"That Mr. Parker shall have authoritie to deale for the towne, that ys to provide and beye for Mr. Wyllcok, Counsellour, 4 fatt wethers, and to be sento London for hyme, towards the prepara-

CORPORATION
OF
NEW
ROMNEY.

"cion of his redinge dynnere—the charges thereof to arise out of the comen purse."

Fol. 149 b., 2nd January 11 Elizabeth, Thomas Sterr, butcher, is fined 10s.; because he did "highe [raise] his price of beffe, contrarye to the order by the seide Meyer and Jurates to hym geven."

Fol. 152, without date, but about 12 Elizabeth:—"Be yt lykewyse enactyd, that from hensforth ther schalbe sold no more stone out of thys towne; for whosoever that carryth or sellyth eny out of thys towne, schalle forfeit totiens quotiens xxs."

Fol. 152 b. James Carrowe is mentioned as being the Common Clerk in the 12th year of Elizabeth. In a slip at the end of the book, in a hand of the time, apparently, of Henry VIII., mention is made of—"The comen grownde, the whiche lyeth betwene the Wallys to Apuldore ward."

The volume ends at fol. 152; but up to fol. 57 the leaves are wanting, as already noticed.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

BOROUGH
OF HIGH
WYCOMBE.

THE BOROUGH OF HIGH WYCOMBE, OR CHIPPING WYCOMBE, BUOKS.

The archives of this ancient borough are comparatively few in number, and those few are now in the hands of the Wycombe Municipal Charity Trustees; to whose courtesy I am indebted for an opportunity of examining them. They consist of a single volume, and a number of deeds, some of them belonging to a very remote date.—

The volume in question, when in use, was known as the "Leger-Book" Number 1, a large quarto, in limp black leather, containing about 230 leaves of parchment, all filled (with one or two exceptions) with entries of various dates. The volume, at the beginning, is padded with seven leaves, and at the end with eleven, of a law book, in writing of the beginning, probably, of the 14th century, with illuminated initial letters in red and blue; the context, much abbreviated, being apparently a series of commentaries upon the Pandects of the Emperor Justinian, with glosses in the margin. Some of these leaves are perfect; others have been wantonly cut and slashed with a knife. The writing on the leaves is beautiful, probably by an Italian hand, but very minute: the subject in general seems to be the inheritance and division of property.

The volume, most probably in its present (decayed) binding, was given to the town in the year 1475 by William Redehode (or Redhood) the then Mayor; as we learn from an inscription in the first (numbered) folio, said to be written in Redehode's own hand, of the Latin of which the following is a translation:—"In the name of God, Amen. In the year of our Lord 1475, and in the year of the reign of King Edward, after the Conquest the Fourth, the fifteenth, I, William Redehode, then Mayor of the vill and borough of Wycombe, to the honour of God, the Blessed Virgin Mary, and All Saints, have given this book [istud librum] to the burgesses of the said vill and borough, called 'A Register' for all the goods, charters, evidences, rents, and names of feoffees, of all lands and tenements, with their appurtenances, to the Parish Church of Wycombe aforesaid, and to the said Burgesses, pertaining or belonging, within the vill aforesaid, etc."

William Redehode was also a citizen, and salter, of London; and the house in which he dwelt, at High Wycombe, near the Church, is still pointed out. He erected in the church a screen, or parclose, with a well-preserved inscription, which was existing until recently.

On the second of the two parchment fly-leaves at the beginning is written, in a hand of the 17th century:—"The first Charter which I read of granted to this Borough, was granted by Kinge Henry the Third, father to Kinge Edward the First. James Bigg."—He was Mayor in 1647.

Fol. 2a contains an award, in English, 18th Henry VII., between Gefery Pusey and John Peytefore, and Jone Pusey and William Pusey, of the one part, and Raffe Waryne, William Johnson, and Alis, his wife, of the other part. Various properties in the town are named; among them, a tenement called "Amyots."

Fol. 3 contains—"An Inventory of the goods of the Parish Church of All Saints at Wycombe, made there A.D. 1475, in the time of Nicholas Grove, John Porter, William Harper, and Thomas Lytylpage the younger, Wardens of the church aforesaid: in the first place" (the preceding is in the Latin, the following in English).—

BOROUGH
OF HIGH
WYCOMBE.

"A sewte of vestmentes of rede bawdekyne, beryng werke damaske branchis of gold, with lyons and byrdis of the same. A sewte of stuffe berynge werke branchis of grene, with levis of golde. A sewte of rede velewet, powdyrde with crownes of gold. A sewte of blewe bawdekyn, berynge werke grene branchis with byrdis of golde. A sewte of white bawdekyne, powdyrde with byrdis of golde. A sewte of white bawdekyne, with damaske-werke. A sewte of rede sylke, powderid with white branchis. A sewte of blacke for Requiem Mas. A chesapylle of rede bawdekyne, powderid with birdis of golde, with an awbe [alb] longyng therto. A sewte of grene velewet, except the cope, beryng a grene bawdekyne. A chesapyll and tenekylle of sylke, beryng branchis of blewe purpylle with apys of golde, with apparell therto. A sewte of blew sylke, with rayes of golde, except the awbys and copis of playne white sylke. A white chesapyll, with apparell therto; ii chesapyllis of sylke with apparell therto; ii olde chesapyllis of sylke; vii pelowis of sylke and of bawdekyne; iii pallis of clothe of sylke, powderid with gold; vii auter clothis to lye uppon the hye auter. A palle for the hersee of blacke sylke; a blacke saye clothe [perditur, lost.—Note]; another of wollen [perditur, lost.—Note]. Item, v longehoselyng towellis of diaper; ii waishinge towells for the hye auter; a blacke frontell for the hye auter, with branchis of grene powderid with squierelles of gold. Item, a blewe frontell with branchis of grene, powderid with hyndis of golde. Item, v corporas cases of diverse clothis of sylke, vii corporassis casis of lynnynne. Item, a purse of clothe of gold: a purse of clothe of sylke, with the reliquis. Item, iii baneris of sylke, with the stavis therto, a crosse baner of sylke, with a staffe of copur and gylte; a crosse staffe peyntid; iiiii banir clothis of lynnynne. Item, a canape of purpull sylke, with iiiii botons gylt; a canape of white clothe; vi py-nounse [pennons] of sylke; iii pendautes of sylke; iii lecturne clothis. Item, iiiii steynide clothis for the hye auter, with iiiii curtayns, ii steynid clothis, with a frontell counterfeet clothe of gold for the hye auter; ii curtayns of purpylle sylke; ii auter clothis for Lent, with the curtayns; iii lecturne clothis for Lent. A staynid clothe of golde, powderid with gold and sylver for the Sepulchre, with a lynnynne clothe therto; a Sepulchre of tymber with a stole therto. A vayle of white, with a crosse of rede; ii canstykkys of latone, to stonde uppon the hye auter; ii grete canstykkys of latone, to stonde in the queir. A sensare of latone; a shippe of latone; a pyx-box of latone, with a box of ivorie. A crismatorie of sylk, that weyth xxvii unces. A chalys with a patent of sylver and gylt, that weyth xvi unces and i quarter. A chalys with a patent of sylver and gylt, that weyth xviii unces and i quart. A chalys with a patent of sylver and gylt, that weyth xxvii unces and dwt. A chalys with a patent of sylver and gylt, that weyth xxx unces i quarter. A chalys with a patent of sylver, that weyth xii unces and dwt. A sensare with cheyns of sylver, that weyth xxxvii unces. A sensare with cheynes of sylver, that weyth xxxiii unces i quarter. Item, ii shippes of sylver, with ii sponys of sylver, that weyth xx unces, iii quarters, and dwt. A crosse of sylver and gylt, that weyth lxxiii unces; a fote of a crosse, with a penacull of sylver and gylt, that weyth lxi unces; ii crewettes of sylver, that weyth ix unces and quarter; ii baens of sylver, that weyth xxx unces; ii canstykkys of sylver, that weyth xlix unces and half unce. Item, a pax of sylver and gylt, with v stonys, that weyth xv unces; a lytyll box sylver and gylt, that weyth 8 unces; a lytyll box of sylver, with dyverse reliquis therin; a box of copur and gylt, and enamilde, with reliquis therin. A crosse of copur and gylt, another crosse of copur and gylt with iiiii stonys. A crosse of latene; another of tree [wood]: a surplice for the quere. Item, ii Mas bokys to the hye auter; ii grete Lugeris [Leigers, or Antiphonars] in the queire; iii Portowis [Portifories, or Portehors]; a Responsor, with a lytyll Graylle; v Grayles; vi Prosessioneris; ii Mantellis; i Dirgeboke; ii Pystyl bokys [Epistle books]; a Legent; i Ordinalle; i Martilage [Martyrology]; a Cathalicane [Catholicon]; a lantorne; an halywater stok of latone; ii lecternys of tymber; ii hoselyng bellys [houseling bells]; iii bellis for the bedmanne [bedeman, or summoner]; ii beris [biers] with ii coffyns therto. Item, i crowe of irene, weing ix li. weight. Item, a sute of clothe of golde tynau of the gyfte of Sir John Stoktone of Londone, with alle the aparelle. Item, ii copys of whighte damaske,

"the orferasse [orfrays] of blew damaaske, ex dono Willemi Redehode [the gift of William Redehode]. Item, ii blao copys of worstede, the orferasse of blew worstede, poudered with letters of gold, ex dono dicti Willemi Redehode [the gift of the said William Redehode]. Item, a palle of imperiall a—. Item, a Processionary, coveryd with blacke damaaske. Item, ii awter clothis of blew worstede, powderyd with flowrys of golde and spangyls of sylver. Item, ii curteynes of blew sarsenet, frengyd with sylke. Item, a pyx of sylvyr gylt, with a lytyll pece of sylver, weyeng xvi unces. Item, ii candystykkys of latene, stondyng in Seynt Nicholas chauncelle. Item, a kercheffe of plesans, with a bordur of sylke and golde, ex dono Johannis Collarde. Item, a gowne of purpyllesarsenet for Ihesus awter, ex dono Johannis Collarde. Item, a cloth of blao worstede for the herse, with a whyte crosse imbrowderyd in v placis with the name of Ihesus. Item, a canape of launde, with iiij botons of nedylle werke, frengyd rounde abowte with rede sylke and golde, ex dono Margerie Bontynge [the gift of Margery Bontynge]. Item, a lynnyn cloth, with a crosse of blao bokeram, for the roode. Item, a towelle to hossyll [administer the Sacrament to] peple, conteynyng by estymacion xix yerdes, with blew porelles [? tufts] at the ende. Item, a baner cloth of blew sylke, chaungeable with a feure of the Trinite, of the yefte of John Collarde. A chales with a patent of sylver and gylte, weyeng x unces, of the yefte of William Redehode ad dictum Capellan Beate Marie [to the said Chapel of St. Mary]. At the end of all this is written, probably by some zealous spirit in early Protestant times,—"Vacat," to be left out; in addition to which, a pen is lightly run through the whole of the context.

This is followed, in fol. 4b, by a like Inventory, taken in the year 1503; some of the former items have disappeared, and others are added. Among the latter:—"A sewte of rede sylke, with steris and the floure de luce. A sewte of blak with flouris of golde in the crosse. A cope of grene bawdekyne with lyones rampyone of gold. A chesebylle of grene borde alisaundre [a cloth probably resembling sandalwood] with a crosse of saye sylke. Myters of diverse sewtes. ii stremers of sylke, one rede, another blewe. iii qweyres noted, of the Visitation of oure Lady, iii qweyres of the Transfiguration of Ihesu, and the Masse also. Two bokes, on off Seynt Austen's workes, another of Seynt Gregories worke. iiiij wol stremers to goo by the crosse upponne high days."

At fol. 6 is entered:—"Anno 1647 Kinge Charles marched through this towne from Osam [Caversham] towards Woburne in Bedfordshire;" to which is added, in another hand,—"Mr. James Big then beinge Mayor;" and then to that, by another person, with somewhat of unctio[n] probably—"and afterwards was beheaded at Whitehall Gate uppon the 30th day of January Anno Domini 1648"—which has elicited the annexed remark—"To the perpetuall infamy of the English nation."

In fol. 7b follows an Inventory of the Church goods made on the 20th of January 10 Henry VIII. (A.D. 1519), in the presence of Thomas Kare, Mayor. The last in general resembles the preceding ones: the "Lyght awlter" is mentioned; the "Bowre aultere;" the "Resurrection awltre;" "Jesus awltre;" "Saynt Clement's awltre." Many "vestments" are mentioned; among them "A vestment of grene dornekke" [cloth of Tournay], "A stremer of bokerham, image of our Lady," "A baner of bokerham of Saynt Poule."

This is followed, in fol. ix., by an Inventory (of the same date) "of the godes, jewellys, and ornamentes" belonging to the Chapelle of oure Lady. Among the items, the following may be noticed:—"A crowne for our Lady, silver and gylte, with stonys on the border of the same. Another crowne, lesse, wyth eyght stonys on the bordere of the same. An ouche of silver, lyke a bokylle of silver, and gylte. A pair of coralle bedys with xl stonys, of silvere and gylte, and rynges of silver"—a line run through it, and added—"Sold to Johan Putt." "A pair of blak bedys, with xxi stonys of silver and too ringes of silver"—"The rynges wher sold." "A pair of bedys, rede amber, with one peny of silver upone them."—"Ther-lakketh the peny."—"Another pair bedys of yellow amber, with gaudes of jasper stonys. A pair of bedys, amber and glasse, with ii ringes of sylver"—"The rynges were solde."—"A pair of blacke gettys [jet] bedys, and another of ambur. A chaplet for our Lady, of tyassewe. A garment to oure Lady of white, with ermyns. A Masseboke, prented. A lytelle Portewas, called our Lady Portewas [Portifory]. A curten clothe, for our Lady lofte. A gyrdylle, the pendentes with aukament [? tin]: iiij thyrcchoys [turquoises] with a laude [a large bead].

Fol. x. "Memorandum, delivered into the handis of John Standishe the xithe daye of Octobre, in the first yere of our Sovereigne Lorde Kynge Edwarde the Sixt.—

"Inprimis, ii chalices; which ii chalices were delivered to Simone Watnall, then Mayor. Item, a vestment of blewe brannchide damaaske, with a redde crosse thereupone with all. Item, a vestment of redde and blewe dornycke, with a grene crosse thereupone. Item, a blacke vestment, with grene birdes and flower de lues, and the crosse with splaide and gilt of golde. Item, a white vestment of dornicke, with a crosse of grene silke, withe sterrys [stars] of gold thereupone. Item, a Masse booke, with a corporas case, and ii corporasses therein. Item, a glasse paxe, ii crewettes. Item, ii alter clothis of diaper, and one of playne clothe. Item, an alter hangings of blewe silke, with white flowrys. Item, v halfe shetys, with ii kerchevys. Item, a yerde and a quarter of tyssu. Item, another pece of tissue. Item, a canvas clothe for the aultre."

Fol. x b. "An Inventorie of the Charche goodes that be left, taken the xxiii daye of Aprell in the vith yere of the reigne of ower Sovereigne Lorde Kinge Edwarde the Sixte, in the presents of Mr. George Parteferr, then Maior, and his brethren William Corwyne, Edwarde Corye, Rowlande Wytnall, and Gilyys Skidmore, Churchwardens.—

"Inprimis, a sute of blacke worsted, with R of golde, and the lynene that belongeth thereto, with one coope of the same. Item, an olde sute of white bawdekyne, with damaaske flowrys, without a coope, havinge ii albys. Item, a sute of blewe and grene bawdekyne, with hynder of golde, and a coope, with all the lynens therto belongynge. Item, a sute of redde silke with steris and the flowredeluce, lackynge all the lynen, with ii coopis. Item, a sute of black, with flowris of golde on the crosse, with ii lynens therto belonging. Item, a pawle of blewe velvet, with flowers of golde. Item, an aultre clothe of blewe worstede, with flowris. Item, ii olde courtynes of sarsenet, of purple colourid. Item, ii courtyns of red sarsenet olde. Item, i coope of redde velvet. Item, i redde coope of damaaske, with flowris. Item, ii albys for chylidren, with ii aultre clothis of red damaaske. Item, a vestment of red sateene, with Saint John Baptist. Item, a vestment of blewe damask, with the albe therto belongynge. Item, vii towellys of lynen, and iiij litle towels for the aultre. Item, vii casis and xi corporas clothis. Item, a vestment of redde dornecke, wythout lynnen. Item, a pilowe of red velvet. Item, a pece of chaungeable sarsenet. Item, five aultre clothis of lynnen, one of them ys diaper. Item, twoo desk clothis. Item, iii olde vestmentes, with ii albys, one of them redde, with the crosse of Saint George, and an other grene, velvet, and the thirde with flowers redde and grene. Item, iiij silke stremers, litle. Item, an olde grene aultre clothe. Item, a white coope of damaaske, wyth images as the orphresyres. Item, v surplusses olde, wythe a lynnen courtayne. Item, xi cofers, ii candilstickes of lattene, with one chayre. Item, a vestment of white fustiane, with the lynnen."

Fol. xi b. The next Inventory is an almost similar hande; probably following close upon the previous one, in the reign of Edward VI. "The Inventorie of the Churche goodes nowe remainynge to the same.—

"Inprimis, iii chalices with ii patenttes. Item, i coope of redde velvet, and another of white damaaske, with flowers of golde. Item, an olde sute of white, lackynge a coope, and all the lynnen. Item, ii olde deske clothes, and ii grete brasse pottes. Item, i crysmatory of latten, i crosse of cooper [copper] part gilt. Item, ii sencers of latten, vii candylstickes for the aulters. Item, i blewe aultre clothe hangynge of satten, abrydged. Item, ii stremers, and ii square banners, with iiij poolys therto. Item, ii olde pallys [palls] hangynge at the highest aultre. Item, ii paintid hanginges for the other ii aulters. Item, iii heres [?] for the iii aulters. Item, i vestment of redde velvet, withe the albe to the same. Item, an olde white vestment of dornecke, with the albe. Item, iii aultre clothes of lynen, olde; with iiij towels and ii short towelles. Item, a vayle for Lent season, of olde clothe paynted. Item, ii candilstickes to sett talowe candelles in. Item, ii crosses of tymber, with

BOROUGH
OF HIGH
WYCOMBE.

"a crysmatory of tymbere. Item, ii corporas cases, with a corporess clothe. Item, a greate Antiphoner of parchement, with a Grayll of parchement, and an Antiphoner of paper, unbounde, with a Graill of paper, unbounde. Item, i Processionall of parchement, and ii of paper, unbounde. Item, an olde manuell, and another manuell of parchement, unbounde. Item, a Masse booke of a small volume, with a Ymnalle of paper. Item, an olde Masse booke, with ii litle Portuous [Portifories], and iii olde surples.

Fol. xiii. under the head of "Rents belonging to the Chamber," a Rouland Lyttelboy is mentioned as a tenant. The surname "Littlepage" has previously occurred.

Numerous entries follow here, in reference to town charities and bequests for the poor; and various orders made, in the 17th century, by the Common Council.

Fol. xxi.—"Anno regni Regis Henrici Septimi decimo octavo, xiith of November." "Inventory of the goods in the Chapel of the Blessed Mary the Virgin there, in the time of William Aley and Hamlet Taylour, Wardens, delivered before Robert Aschebrok, Mayr." The following are among the items mentioned.—

"ii chalys, one grete dobyll gyld, a nothir parte thereof gyld, with a scripture [writing] abowte the fote, praying for the sowlys of William Redhode and his frendis. A crowne of silver, upon oure Ladyes hede, and gyld. A pece of corall, with ii typpys of sylvere. A bedestone of silver, enamelled."

Fol. xxii b, under date 24 March 1657, moneys are raised for the purpose of renewing the Charter of the town, by anticipating the rent yearly paid by Jerome Gray for the old Guildehall: at the head of the page some royalist has written.—"This is to gaine a Charter from Olliver, in the Rumpers time; which Charter was burned on the day our most gracious Kinge Charles the Second was crowned, whom I pray God to send long to reigne." Below are written in the same hand, the words, apparently, "Rumper's Charter."

Fol. xxiii, a contemporary entry of the 15th of Edward IV., wherein John Foulmere, of Bekenysfelde, "husbondmanne," acknowledges a deed before William Redehode, "then Mayor of the vill of Wycombe."

Fol. xxiv b.—"1647. Jhon Welson had one [surety], and Mr. Pettifer, Alderman, engaged himself that he should wait upon the Mayor to church every Sabboath Day, upon payment of 2s. 6d. to be paid of the said Mr. Pettifer for every neglect."

Fols. xxv b. xxvii. William Child, Gentleman, of Chesham, an attorney in the Court of the Mayor and Aldermen, for several specified "misdemeanours," (in the form of bad expressions, the instances being given), "slovenly language, malepart caridge, and fanaticke like deportment," was declared to be no longer an attorney of that Court.

Fol. xxxi. "27^o die Septembris 1692. Memd^m that att a common Councill then mett, it was ordered by us whose names are hereunder written, that the inscription att the front of the new Almshouses shal bee cutt out, and an new inscription made in the place thereof, in honour of Queene Elizabeth, the Donor and Benefactor to this Corporation." Signed by Jo: Bigg, Mayor, and eight others.

Fol. xxxi b. On the 8th of January 1664 "benge Sabboth Day," Samuall Trone, Jeremia Stevens, Nicholas Noy, John Littleboy, John Cock, George Ball, and Joseph Steven, "laboerrers, and being professed and knowne Quakers, having this day assembled themselves together, with divers women, at the house of John Raunce in this burrough, under pretence of religious worshipp, contrary to a late Act of Parliament," were committed, for 3 months, to the house of correction. Four of them were, soon after, again committed, for a repetition of the offence.

Fol. xxxiii. Copy of the will of Edward Cary the elder; apparently of the time of Edward IV.; he mentions a street in the borough of Wycombe, "called Frogmore, in the fee of the Abbess of Godstowe." "Frogmore" was the correct form of the name.

Fol. xxxiii b, (without date given.) "I Thomas Davies doe declare that I hold that there lyes noe obligacion upon me or any other person from the oath commonly called the 'Solemne League and Covenant'; and that the same was in itselfe an unlawfull oath, and imposed upon the subjects of this realme against the knowne lawes and liberties of the kingdomes."

According to the old pagination, after fol. xxxv, seven folios are missing, having evidently been cut out of the book.

Fol. xlvi b, under A.D. 1665 a tenement at the east end of the borough, "of old called the 'Hermitage,' and "of late the 'Snails,'" is mentioned.

Fol. liii.—"An Order for weareing the badges," of very considerable length. Among other things it is stated,— "And whereas the poore people of the said burrough are growne very numerous, and are likely to increase dayly, to the great impoverishment of the tradsmen of the said burrough, many of them through idleness being able to work, yett will not, because they find an easier way of living by collection. And unlesse some speedy care be taken to prevent the excessive growth of such poore, all or the greatest part of the tradsmen of the said burrough in a short time are like to come to poverty, and to bee unable to maintain themselves and familye by reason of such great taxes towards the releiffe of the poor." The benefit of the "easie rates" when "the poor people wore badges," is then adverted to; and it is therefore ordered by the Mayor and the major part of the "Common Councell," that before the Overseers or Churchwardens give "any releiffe, collection, or money, to any poore man or woman of the said burrough, they shall give a badge, being the sign of the swan, or the town armes, and shall cause him, her, or them, to wear the same upon his or her uppermost garment at all times, soo as the same may be seen apparently and openly." In case of refusal, no relief or "collection" is to be given; as it is clear that the person refusing can live without it.

Fols. lxii-lxiii contain a kind of register of acts of the Corporation from the time of Edward I.; entered (from older authorities) in Latin, in a hand of, apparently, the time of Edward IV. From it we find that Gervais le Baker was Mayor 3 Edward II., and that in that year a yearly sum of 14d. was remitted to William Outred, out of a rent of 2s. 2d. which he paid yearly for the tenements formerly belonging to Matilda de Burnham. Also, at the same time, a remission of rent was made to Edward Haueryngden on a tenement formerly belonging to the "Assigns of the Chapel of St. Mary," in the street called "Bynethbrugge."—[Beneath Bridge; this street, I believe, can no longer be identified]. At the same date the "lane called 'Croyndoneslane'" is mentioned; Crendon Lane of the present day.

On Thursday after Hokke Day, that is, on the Feast of the Invention of the Holy Cross,— "In a large and full court of the vill of Wycombe, it was agreed that the butchers of the town should take the skins and hides, with the heads," of all cattle and animals killed within their houses, and shew and expose them at their stalls, bond fide for public sale; and that if the dealers of the town should refuse to buy them, they might then be at liberty to sell them to stranger dealers. The butchers appealed against this, in favour of stranger dealers being put on a level, as to purchase, with those of the town; but this, it was deemed, would be to the town's prejudice; so it was refused.

In the 9th year of the same reign, a pightle of land is granted to Thomas le Warner, tailor, in Frogmore Street.

In the same year, it was ordered by the Mayor and Commons, that all weavers working within the liberty, shall only give 12d. yearly to the Gildani, for each argoye [? loom] working. The "Gildani," are frequently named with the Mayor and Bailiffs about this date; it was their duty, probably, to regulate the "gilds," or trades, of which the "Merchants' gild" seems to have been the chief.

In the 12th of Edward II. Gervais le Baker was again Mayor. A rivulet is mentioned as running near a wooden building in Frogmore Street.

Fol. lxiii b. Under the same year, the lane leading to "Croyndene" is again mentioned. This, no doubt, was the dene, or valley, where the "croyns," or old ewes, were harboured in winter. Croydon in Surrey, is named "Croyndene" in Domesday, and for the same reason, probably.

Fol. lxx. 20 Edward III. the "Wardens of the work of St. Mary's" are mentioned; the Chantry Chapel of St. Mary probably being, at that time, under repair. In the 23rd year of the same reign, by his testament, Matthew, son of Matthew le Fuller, left a tenement in the High Street, to maintain a lamp to be always burning before the altar of St. Mary in the church of Wycombe. At this date, meetings before the Mayor, Bailiffs, and commons, were known as "Gilds."

Fol. lxxiii. (tr.)—"On Tuesday in the 4th week of Lent, in the 40th year of the reign of King Edward III., it was ordained that every child of a burges, who at the time appears to be the oldest, after the decease of "his father, on claiming the freedom, shall have the same, on paying 10*sd.*, without any further payment; namely, to the Mayor 1*d.*, to the clerk $\frac{1}{2}$ d., to the under-bailiff $\frac{1}{2}$ d., to the Gildsmen [Gildanis] 8*d.*, and to the Master of St. John's $\frac{1}{2}$ d.; he making oath, etc."

Fol. lxxviii b. 43rd Edward III., Thomas Gerveys is named as being Mayor, in June of that year.

Fol. lxxix. A locality in Wycombe, called "The Cressche," is named under the year 1368. "Newlond Street" is named under 1378. It deserves remark that (apparently) a division of land is mentioned as "terra unius fenestri."

Fol. lxx., in the 4th Richard II., a "solar" (or sun-parlour) at the end of the Gildhall is let to John Deye for life, at a yearly rent of 3*s.* 4*d.*

Fol. lxx b.—"At a view of Frankpledge, holden on Thursday before the Feast of our Lord's Ascension, comes Richard Donne, Chaplain, and asks of the commonalty that he may have one 'bugittum'; and it is granted to him, he paying yearly for the same to the vill of Wycombe 2*d.*; namely, at the house of John Knyght in the High Street; in the 4th year of the reign of King Richard II." The "bugittum," elsewhere written "buchettum," was probably an oxstall, or a similar outhouse. About this date, mention of a field called the "Reye" frequently occurs.

Fol. lxxi. Nicholas Sperlyng is named as being Mayor on the Eve of our Lord's Nativity 12 Richard II. (A.D. 1388.)

Fol. lxxi b, 13 Richard II., a lane called "Poukelane" is mentioned, near Newlond Street.

Fol. lxxii, 14 Richard II., month of October, John Petytevyne is named as Mayor.

Fol. lxxii b. 21 Richard II., month of October, Nicholas Sperlyng is named as Mayor.—"On Thursday in Cena Domini [Our Lord's Supper] in the 21st year of the reign of King Richard II., before the Mayor and Commons of the town, it was ordained and granted, that no person, of whatsoever condition, in the vill of Wycombe dwelling, after the 10th hour at night should go wandering about the town, except for reasonable cause for such wandering. And if any one were found wandering about after the said hour, he was to be taken by the officers of the town, and imprisoned, and kept in prison until delivered by the Mayor, or his deputy, and the commons, etc." On same day it was ordered that no one was to be a "dicer" [aliator] in the town, on pain of imprisonment.

Fol. lxxiii b, an order is mentioned as being made, 18 Henry VII., "at the Law Day, holden in the Rye," in other words, held in the open air: William Alew then being Mayor. On the 13th of March, 1 Edward VI., Richard Cary is named as Mayor.

Fol. lxxiv, 10 Henry VIII., a suit is mentioned, relative to a meadow called "Templemede," or "Fyscherysmede."

Fol. lxxv b.—"Memorandum, that at the Law Day hold at Wycomb in the Yeld Hall, the Thursday next after the Fest of Sent Luke the Avangell' yn the yerre of oure Lorde God xx^{iii} and x (1490), afforre Roger Bramston, then Mayre of the town, yt ys orderit be the avys of the sayd Mayrre and hess bretherne, and granted be alle the borgess and commonalte, that be dwellyng withyn thay same town, that eff there be any borges dwellyng withyn the same town from thes day forth, were [wear] any leffray [livery], sayne [sign], ar [or] conysant [cognizance], contorare to the Statutes of the lande, shalle lees his freedom and xl s. of lawfull monay of Yngland, the on half to the Mayrre, the tother half to the Baylyf, for the tym beyng; to be levede upon the goodes and chatelles be the sam Baylyf of them so founde fawle."

Fol. lxxvii b.—"Memorandum, that it is agryed at the Landay in the Rye, the Thursday next after the Fest of Sant George, before Robert Aschebroke, Mayre of the towne of Wycombe, with the burgesses, with the comunalte of the same Burgh, that the Mille callid the 'Brygemille' schalle have goynge in the Rye there one geldyng, to lede with all unto the seide mille, payng yerly unto the Gyldens of the seide [Burgh] for the tyme beyng ii*s.*; and as ofte as it may happyn the seide geldyng to be founde lose within the saame Rye, be the Gyldan for the tyme beyng, to be pounded, and pay at every tyme so founde i*id.*; and for defeaute of non payment of the seide ii*s.* of yerely rente, it schalbe leffull unto the seide Yeldens for the tym beyng to enter and to distreyn . . . apone any of the godys and catalles of the occupation of the seide mylle for the tyme beyng. Wyche agrement was graunted the xviith yere of the

"regne of Kyng Harry the VIIth, and the day above-seid etc."

Fol. lxxvii. Richard Burch is mentioned as Mayor at the Invention of the Holy Cross, 4 Henry VIII.

Fol. lxxvii b.—"That the Thursday next after the Fest of St. Thomas the Martyr, the xxth yere of Kyng Harry the VII., in the full Gilde Aule, before Nicholaus Jerarde, Mayre of the burough, and all the hole comunyte of the same, that it is orderyd and stabely acted, that the Yelde Hall dore shalbe standyng opyne freely, whereas ony burgess be committed to warde, be the comaundment of the Mayre for the tyme beyng; and inspeciall that other burgess may have licens to exorte and advise hymme to the beste etc." Thomas Frere is named as Mayor in May 1509. Thomas Pymm, Gentleman, is this year relieved from holding all offices, save that of burgess of Parliament.

Fol. lxxviii b has "Jhesus Mercy" written at the head of it, a usage much observed in the documents and official records of the West of England, at about this date.

Fol. lxxix b., 7 Henry VIII., a place called "Poulyls-rewe" [Paul's Row] is mentioned, near Coppyndhalle.

Fol. lxxx. a piece of land is mentioned, called "Mil-borns," and a meadow called "Trinite Mede," 9th Henry VIII.

Fol. lxxx b, 10th Henry VIII., Richard Pede and Thomas Scheresfeld having reviled the Mayor, Thomas Frere, and cited him before the Court of Arches, it is agreed at a Court holden of the Mayor, Aldermen, "and the more parte of the burgences," that, if they persist in such course, they shall pay a fine of 40*s.*, and lose their freedom, with such other punishment as may be thought proper.

At fol. lxxxi, same date, a list of the chief burgesses is given; among them are, John Kelehogge, John Lytylboy, and Jans Cutt. Orders are made for the due, or better, keeping of their common pasture called the "Rye," and for defending their title to the same against Rowland Messinger, Clerk, the Vicar.

Fol. lxxxi b, 19 Henry VIII., regulations are made as to the Fair held on the Day of St. Thomas the Martyr, in the street called "Estyntowne," George Peytefere being Mayor. It is also then enacted,—"That no maner of manne nor womanne that shall brew to sale and typyll (shall keep) it with hym or hyre, but send it forth into the towne to the typpellars, for to be sold according to the assayer's pryss."

Fol. lxxxii b; in May 32 Henry VIII., William Gravet is named as Mayor.

Fol. lxxxiv, 20 April, 2 Philip and Mary, Thomas Pymme is Mayor: Robert Gravet being Mayor in the 5th year of the same reign.

Fol. lxxxv b, 22nd April, 2 Elizabeth, John Sterling is mentioned as Mayor: on that day, all deeds and conveyances theretofore made by the Corporation, were duly ratified and confirmed.

Fol. lxxxvi b; 26th April, 5 Elizabeth, Rowland Witnall, alias Elys, is named as Mayor; all persons bringing burdens of wood, out of the hedges or elsewhere, "or any pershes, or other yong trees," into the town in the daytime, are to be punished with the stocks.

Fol. lxxxvii; 24th April, 6 Elizabeth, William Twhaytes, Mayor.

Fol. lxxxviii.—"Memorandum, that the xxvth daie of November, anno Domini 1576, anno xviii^{mo}. Elizabethæ Reginae, William Fletewoodde, Esquier, Recorder of the citie of Londone, did gyve unto the Maire, Baillyffes, and burgesses, of this burowe one staffe of stele ring yrne [iron] parsal gilt and damerskyne, to be a staffe of justice for the towne, in perpetuum rei memoriam."

Fol. xc.; 30th March 1593 an order was made—"That noe manner of hogges and swyne shall goe out of the owner's house without his driver or keper, within the precinct of this burrough, except the same hogge or pigge be vere well ringed or pegged, that the sam maye not digg or root."

Fol. xci.; an order is made by the Mayor and the greater part of the "capitall burgesses, and Bayliffes," dated this 20th of March, 42 Elizabeth, repealing an order made in the preceding year: followed by the respective signatures of the Mayor and other persons then present; being the earliest instance in the volume of such signatures being annexed.

Fol. xciv; 21st September 1608, an order was made that the Bailiffs should from thenceforth keep two Feasts yearly in the Guildhall for the Mayor and burgesses, on the days on which the "Lectes" are held; under a penalty of 20*s.*, to be paid by each Bailiff, on neglect thereof.

BOROUGH
OF HIGH
WYCOMBE.

Fol. xciv b. The tailors inhabiting within the borough, complaining that they were much oppressed with the number of foreign tailors coming within the liberty, and much impoverished and hindered thereby, an order was made on the 16th of October, 7 James I., that in future such foreign tailors should keep no shop in the town; and in case of contravention of the order, their shop-windows should be shut up by the serjeant of the town; if further resistance were made, they were to be committed to prison.

Fol. ciii b:—"Memorandum, that the 2^o June 1660, the foure leaves of this booke were now cutt out and defaced, wherein were entered the corrupt and unjust orders of Collonel Tobias Bridges against divers members of this Common Counsell and burgesses of this burrough, by order of the Common Counsell of this burrough. William Davenport."—Accordingly, the four following leaves are missing. In the same folio, by an order of 16th February 1656, we find George Tymberlake elected Bailiff in the room of Thomas Sedgwick, "who was excluded by order." In the preceding year (1655) George Moore is removed from his Aldermanship, for absenting himself from the town; Nicholas Bradshaw being Mayor.

Fol. cxib, contains a copy of a most remarkable address, presented to King Charles II.:-

"To the King's most excellent Majestie. The most humble addresse of your Majesties most loyall subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgesses, and other inhabitants of your Majesties Antient Corporation of Cheppying Wycombe, in the county of Buckingham.

"May it please your sacred Majestie. Most of our late defeated Politicians, disappointed of their dark dissignements by your Majesties profound wisdoms and divine provision, have endeavoured to disarrange all loyall addressees either as uselesse and insignificant, or as discountenanced and unregarded, and that the glut of them doth cloy and surfett rather than satisfie your Majestie.

"Notwithstanding these slye ejected discouragements, wee have alwayes detested and rejected them, together with their now exploded scanty and forsaken abettors; and have ever incerted our loyall selves amongst the resolute, grave, and deliberate persons; and wee doe most highly applaud the stout Fidelios, the strenuous, brisk, and valiant youth of this your now much undeluded nation.

"Wee therefore, your Majesties most dutyfull and most devoted subjects, entyrelly professe that wee will, to the utmost stresse of our sinewes, to the latest gaspe of our lives, and the last solitary mite in our coffers, adhere to your Majestee. And wee beseech your Majesties most gracious acceptance of our most humble and unfeigned thankfulness for all your Majesties most princely purposes, comprized in your Majesties most gracious declaration; your royall resolves for frequent Parliaments; your most pious intentions to perpetuate the Protestant religion amongst us; your equall government in Church and State by the laws establish't; and the legall (though wee hope in God the many years remote and distant) descent of your royal diadem.

"Many have outstript us in the wing, but none shall exceed us in their wishes: wee envye much their more early applye, but none shall ever appeare more faithfull, though many in this have been more fortunate.

"God preserve your Majestie from all rebellious machinations. Amen.

"This addresse was delivered to his Majestie, by Doctor Lluelyn, att Windsore, upon Bartholemew Day Anno 1681. Mr. Henry Bigg being then Mayor. Teste Jo: Bigg. T. Clerke."

The "defeated politicians," alluded to in this marvellous composition, were probably Shaftesbury, Algernon Sidney, and Somers.

Fol. cxii b. contains an account of the election, 11 November 1671, of Mr. William Larnier, of Bradenham, Clerk, as School-master of the Free School, in place of Mr. Philip Humfrey, deceased. The latter having died very poor, his successor is bound, on his election by the Common Council, to pay to his widow, Katherine, ten pounds in the course of the next two years, "provided she doe not turne Quaker in the mean time, or otherwise becotne a Sectary, and not observe and obey the Liturgy of the Church of England."

Many of the succeeding folios are devoted wholly to the admissions (complimentary and otherwise) of burgesses, or freemen, during the earlier half of the 18th century, the Duke of Bridgewater and the Earl of Shelburne in the number.

At fol. cxi entries of the time of Edward IV. are resumed, as follows:-

"Wycombe.—At the Gildhall there holden, on the 14th day of December in the 14th year of the reign of King Edward, after the Conquest the Fourth, before Thomas Gate, then Mayor, there being, with the consent and will of all the burgesses and tenants of the Chapel of the Blessed Mary the Virgin, it was there ordained"—(the preceding translated from the Latin)—"that the preyst hired that syngeth or seyth Mas at oure Lady auter, and all other preistis that shalle be hired in tyme to come in the Chapell forseid for ever to sey Mas, and bytwene the offatorie, or [before] that he wasse at the lavatorie, he shall turne hym at the auteris ende, and pray for the good state, welfare, and prosperite of all the tenautes, menne and womenne, bretheryne and sisteris unto the seide Chapell of Oure Lady and for the good state, welfare, and prosperite, of all the tenautes, menne and womenne, bretheryne and susteris unto the seide Chapell of Oure Lady, and for the good staat, welfare, and prosperite, of Willyam Redehode and Jone his wyfe, and of Margerie Fyssher, terme of their lyves, and for all their kynred, being alyve. Wich done, Miseretur etc. Pater noster cum Suffragiis, and a Colet [Collect] Deus caritatis etc. And after the decees of the said William Redehode and Jone his wyfe, and of Margerie Fyssher, to be prayed for with them that be departed out of this world, it is to be understonde that when the preist hath prayed for the quicke, than he stondyng styllle at the auteris ende shall pray for the sowlis of alle the tenautes, menne and womenne, and of alle the sowlis of alle the brethern and susteris and benefactors of the same Chapell; and in especyell for the sowlis of Richard Redehode Agnes, and Agnes, his wyfes, and for the sowlis of alle their kynrede, for the sowlis of William Lancastelle, Emma his wyfe, and for the sowlis of all ther kynred; for the sowlis of John Covyntre and Jone his wyfe, and of alle the kynred; for the sowlis of Henry Colleshill and Agnes his wyfe, and for alle ther kynred; for the soule of Thomas Fyssher and for alle his kynrede; and for alle Cristene sowlis he shalle sey De profundis, with the Versiclis and Colet Inclina or Fidelium, as in a tabylle stondyth upponne the same auter opynly it apperith. For the whiche dayly prayeris kept, the forsaid Henry Colleshill Yere to the towne of Wycombe the reversion of his house, with the gardyne lying therto, bytwene the house of the Charnelle, that the preistis of the Charnelle dwelle in, on the east part, and the house of Thomas Gate, somtyme Jone Briggewaters, on the west part, the Kynges hyewey on the south part; the whiche house the forsaid William Redehode hath repairede and made. Whiche costis and chargis drawith to the somme of xiiii li. Also, the forsaid William Redehode willet and graunteth that after his decee be delivered to the keperis of Oure Lady auter, and collectoris of Oure Lady rent, a chalys, part gylt, with the scriptures on the fote—Orate pro animabus Ricardi Redehode Agnetis uxoris ejus, Willelmi Redehode et Johanne uxoris ejus, weying x unces and more of troye weyght; one preist to synge ther with on the werkedayes. The forsaid Meyre, burgeys, and tenautes, wollen and grauntyne that yf the preist that now is, that seyth Mas at oure Lady auter, and alle other preistis that shalle be hirede in tyme to come to syng at the forsaid auter, shal pray dayly for the forsaid lyvis and sowlis by name. And yf it so fortune and happe the forsaid lyvis and soulys to be unprayed for by iii dayes in a month, the forsaid preist to lese [lose] iiiid. of his wagys to the reparacion of the same chaunselle, as ofte tymes as he and any other, in tyme to come, so dothe foryete the forsaid lyves and soulis, unprayed for. And yf it so be that the collectors of Oure Lady rent, the whiche shalle pay for the wagys of the forsaid preist, rebate not so moche of his wagys as ofte tymes as defaute is founde, and acounte therupponne in the rekenyngis not do, than the chirchemen, to the behovith [behoof] of the chirche, to receyve the forsaid iiiid. of the preistis wages, to be payed by the hondis of the collectors of Oure Lady rents, and they to acounte upponne the same. Also the tabylle, on the auter, with names, to be repayrid at alle tymes when it nedith, on the cost of Oure Lady rent."

Fol. cxi b.—"Also, the day and year within written, before the said Mayor and burgesses, it was granted to William Redehode and his assigns"—(the above tr. from the Latin)—"to have a part of the watur that cometh

BOROUGH
OF HIGH
WYCOMBE.

"out of Frogmore, thorow William Estis house, late William Petypas, unto the gardyn of the saide William Redehode, the whiche gardyn longyth to the place that the forsaide William dwellith in, ayenst the west side of the chirche of Wycombe, so that the forsaide William, or his assignes, make and kepe a brigge in Frogmore, over the same watur, ayenst a house that longyth to the Chapell of the Holi Trinite in Wycombe. This brigge sufficiently made and kept the forsaide William and his assignes to have his esement and servyse of the forsaide water, without lettynge of any persone or personys, by the graunte of the forsaide Meyr and burgeys."

Fol. cxli; the following is tr. from the Latin.—"Also, at a view of frankpledge holden in the Rye, before Richard Cary, Mayor, with the consent of all the burgeses there, on the 8th of May, in the 17th year of the reign of King Edward, after the Conquest the Fourth, it was ordained and granted unto William Redehode and his assigns, that those two Chaplains, called 'Oure Lady Preist,' and the 'Boure Preist,' who now are, or for the time being shall be, shall have and hold those 2 chambers, with the gardens adjoining and their appurtenances, late of Henry Colleshille, near to the tenement called 'The Charnelle House,' on the north side of the churchyard; to have and to hold the said two chambers, with the gardens adjoining, and their appurtenances, to the aforesaid Chaplains, so long as they hold and fulfil their offices; rendering yearly therefor to the said William Redehode and his assigns 13s. 4d. of lawful money of England, at the two usual terms of the year, namely, the Feasts of St. Michael the Archangel and of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary; to be paid yearly by the hands of the Collector of the rents of the Chapel of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and of the renter of the rectory there, etc."

Fol. cxli b.—The Thursday after Midlent Sunday, 20 Henry VII., Nicholas Jerard is mentioned as Mayor.—"In the Gilde Haule holdene the day above wrytyn etc., that it is stablyly acide from this forthe that no burgesse nor forener make no labour nor desir no man to speke before the day of election of the Meyre, for no singular desir, but every manne to schewe ther voyces at ther owne mynde, without trobyll or unreasonabille doyng ther in the tyme of ther election, under the payne of every burges that so offendyth, with dewe prove, to lose xx s., and that to be levied of his godes to the behove of the Chaumbre the one halfe, and the other halfe to the reparacion of the Chirche. And every forener so offendynge, to lose x s., and to be levied in lyke wyse etc."

Fol. cxliv b, A.D. 1612, an inn called "The George" is mentioned.

Fol. 146 b. Under date 27 May 1615, a list is given of the names of the adventurers for Virginia, i.e., of persons who ventured sums of money in the Lottery made on the new settlement there; the largest venture being that of Robert Kempe, Gent., who subscribes 40s.; the smallest sums subscribed being 5s. The Common Clerk probably made the entry, and does not appear to have very favourably regarded the speculation, as he ends the list with "Possibilia spes comitatur"—after which is entered.—"Memorandum that it is agreed amongst the said adventurers that Roberte Gray, seargeant, and Edward Randall, Parishe Clarke, shall have, eyther of them, the benefitt of a lott of 5s., for there paines in collecting of the abovesaid somys of money, as well and fully as though they had adventured there lottes." Many children's names having been entered, each for a lot, the following is added.—"It is agreed the parents of the said children shall have and take the sommes due to the children, and discharge the towne."

Fol. 156 b.—"Memorandum, that this 6th day of March 1664, Nicholas Wilson gave security to dwell in the Burrough, and to follow his only vocation of distilling strong waters, and did then assume and undertake not to follow any other calling by keeping of a retaile shop, or the like; and then at his admittance did pay a fine of 50s. to the towne. Jno. Boulter Clerk."

Fol. 177 b. 22nd September 1681.—"I, John Michell, doe hereby declare that I hold that there lyes noe obligation upon mee or any other person, from the oath commonly called the 'Solleme League and Covenant.' And that the same was in itselfe an unlawfull oath, and imposed upon the subjectes of this kingdome, against the knowne lawes and libertyes of this kingdome. John Michell."

"Memorandum, that the day and yeare abovesaid the above-named Mr. John Michell was duely elected "and sworne Mayor of this Burrough, and did then take all the oathes required to be taken by such a magistrate, by the Statute for regulating of Corporations made in the 13th year of his Majesties reigne. Testis, Johannes Bigg, Communis Clericus."—The above declaration, made on taking office, repeatedly occurs in the latter part of the volume.

Fol. 208 b:—"Memorandum, that in the year 1686 the ewe tree now growing in the church yard, was planted by John Sharp, keeper of the Bowling Green, who hath desired, when hee dyes, to be buried under it. Test. John Bigg, senr."

The remaining portion of the volume is occupied with admissions to the freedom; elections of Mayors, Aldermen, and Bailiffs, in the latter half of the 17th century; the oaths to be administered to the several officials; and an Index to the contents of the volume. Enough has been extracted to shew their singularly miscellaneous character; and the utter want of all system and chronological order in the sequence of these entries. The latest entries are between 1730 and 1740; after which date they are continued in Ledger No. 2.

There are also a number of early deeds, formerly belonging to the Corporation, now in the hands of the Municipal Charity Trustees: the following is some account of the most ancient among them:—

A small parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost, belonging to the reign of Henry III.; whereby the burgesses of Wicumbe agree, for the love and services of Adam Fitz-Walder, that they will be his attorneys to see and prosecute that the grant and promise made to him by the Abbess and Convent of Godstowe shall be fulfilled; namely, to see that a priest shall celebrate in the church at Wicumbe for the souls of Walder, his father, and of Alina, his mother, and for his own soul, and the soul of Agnes, his wife. Also, that the brethren and sisters of the Hospital of Saint John the Baptist shall yearly cause to be distributed to the poor, for the souls aforesaid, bread of 2 quarters of wheat, on the day of St. Mary in March, between Prime and Tierce. Witnesses, Hubert, Vicar of Wicumb, Humfrey de Dun, John de Croendene, Richard de Rouen, Simon Hochede, Geoffrey de Hugendene, and others.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, beautifully written, the seal lost, temp. Edward I.; whereby Hervey the Clerk, son of William, son of Hervey, grants to William Tailor [Scissor] a shop in Wicumb, adjoining the cellar of Walter de Poderugge, and the shop of Robert the smith, to hold the same freely, quietly, wholly, well, and in peace; but not to convey to houses of religion: at a yearly rent of 9s., at 2 terms in the year. Witnesses, William Fitz-Walder, Walter de Poderuge, Thomas Wauder, Simon Tanner, William Menge, William Tabbe, Richard de Horningel, Richard de Sobintune, John de Dusteburge, Hugh Smith [Faber], Robert Bordwat, and others.

A diminutive Latin deed poll, on parchment, seal lost, apparently of the close of the reign of Henry III.; whereby Cecily, widow of William Reyner, grants to William le Weyte [the Watchman] and Alice, his wife, a piece of land which she had in name of dower, and which the said William held of Emma Ruffe; she having received 9s. 6d. beforehand. Witnesses, John de Essewelle, William de Lude, John de Croinde[n], Nicholas Hochede, John de Pushulle, Thomas de la Lude, David the Miller, and others.

A parchment deed, in Latin, seal lost, probably of the early part of the reign of Edward I.; whereby Gervase de Wycumbe grants to Geoffrey le Mercer, of Hugendene, and Margery, his wife, a messuage in Wicumbe, between the messuages late of Roger Pur and Gilbert le Chaloner, at a yearly rent of 3s.; he having received 40s. of silver beforehand. Witnesses, William Fitz-Walder, Walter de Puderuge, Thomas Waudere, Robert de Eesbburg, John de Dusteburge, William Tabbe, Henry Fitz-William, William Dreng, Richard de Horningel, Robert de Horningel, Adam Bil, Hugh Smith, Robert the Baker, and others.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, seal lost, belonging probably to the close of the reign of Henry III.; whereby Robert le Portere, of Wycumbe, grants to Geoffrey le Mercer half of a shop, between the shop of Walter Bil and the tenement which Hugh the Cutler held of Richard the Saddler; he paying a yearly rent of 4d. to the villate of Wicumbe for the same; 20s. of silver having been paid to him beforehand. Witnesses, William Wauder, Hervey Fitz-William, Gervase the Draper, Walter Bil, John de Dusteburge, Walter de Puderuge, Benedict Bil, John de Horningel, William de Puderuge, Hugh the Cutler, Gilbert de Haveringedone, and many others.

BOROUGH
OF HIGH
WYCOMBE.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, seal lost, of about the same date; whereby Adam le Kareter, [Carter], of Wycumb, grants to Stephen Bolebec a part of his capital messuage in the vill, which lies nearest to the tenement which belonged to Walter de Puderuge; as also, all the wall on the north side thereof; at a yearly rent of 2s. he having received 2 marks of silver beforehand. Witnesses, William Wauder, Thomas Wauder, Hervey Fitz-William, William de Lude, Walter de Puderuge, William his son, Roger le Cuver [Cooper], Thomas de St. Alban's, Peter Kippelune, William Cole, William le Taillur, and others.

A parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost, finely written, of about the same date; whereby William Wauder grants to Hugh le Taillur a messuage in the vill of Wycumbe, on the fee of the Abbess of Godstowe; between the messuage which Simon de Santredune held, and the messuage which William le Taillur held; at a yearly rent to the Abbess and Convent of Godstowe of 2s. 4d., and to himself of 2d. yearly: the said Hugh also giving a yearly rent of 3s. 2d. to support a Mass, for ever, of the Blessed Virgin Mary in the mother church of that vill; arising from the messuage which Geoffrey de Agmodesham held, lying between the messuage which Hugh Pimme held and that which Turric the Carpenter held; the said Hugh rendering yearly 2d. to William and his heirs. Witnesses, Thomas Wauder, William de Lude, Hervey Fitz-William, Simon de Santredune, John de Ireland, William de Puderuge, William le Taillour, John de Radeneche. Ralph Warner, Richard Warner, Gervase le Ferrun [Ironmonger].

A small parchment deed, in Latin, belonging to the reign of Edward I., the seal lost; whereby Ralph de Croindene, son and heir of John de Croindene, of Wycumbe, grants to God and the Chapel of the Blessed Mary of Wycumbe, for the support of a Chaplain, there serving God and the Blessed Mary for the health of the souls of him and his ancestors, a piece of ground near the churchyard of the church of All Saints, between the tenements of Thomas le Wauder and William le Cotiler. Witnesses, Roger Hutred, Thomas Wauder, William the Goldsmith, Matthew the Fuller, Gilbert de Haveringdoun, John le Casiere, Thomas de Wycumbe, Clerk, and others.

A parchment deed, in Latin, somewhat mutilated, the seal lost, of about the same date; whereby Thomas de la Lude grants to Thomas le Taylur, of Little Marlow, for 20s. of silver paid beforehand, a shop in the borough of Wycumbe, between the shop of Richard Mowerton and that of Ralph Gerveys; at a yearly rent of 8s. of silver; he warranting the same to the said Thomas against all men and women. Witnesses, Thomas Wauder, Roger Utred, William the Goldsmith, William the Draper, Roger the Cordwainer, Richard Mowerten, Ralph Gerveys, John de Bretwelle, Thomas de Wycumbe, Clerk, and many others. This and the preceding deed are, no doubt, in the writing of the said Thomas, the Clerk.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost, probably of the earlier part of the reign of Edward I.; whereby Ralph Gerveys, of Wycumbe, grants to Thomas the Tailor [Cissor], of Wycumbe, and Cecily his wife, "for 2 marks of silver of good and lawful money," paid beforehand, a piece of ground [placeam] near to that of William the Goldsmith; and near the tenement of Alice de Ireland; they paying one rose yearly, at the Nativity of St. John the Baptist. Witnesses, Roger Hutred, Mayor of Wycumbe, Walter le Lorimer, Walter Pilfedis, William the Goldsmith, Richard de Mandwelle, John de Bristwelle, Roger de Menholte, and many others.

A parchment deed, in Latin, finely written, the seal lost, of the earlier part of the reign of Edward I.; whereby William, called "le Taylur," son and heir of William le Taylur, of Wycumbe, grants to Thomas le Taylur, of Little Marlow, for one mark of silver, paid beforehand, a shop, situate between that of Richard Mowerton and that of Ralph Gerveys; he rendering 9s. yearly to the chief lords; "that is 4s. 4d. [? 6d.] at the "Feast of St. Michael, and 4s. 4d. [? 6d.] at the Feast "of St. Mary in March." Witnesses, Thomas Wauder, Nicholas de Kent, William the Goldsmith, Richard de Sandwelle, William the Draper, Roger the Cordwainer, John de Byrchwelle, Richard Mowerton, Ralph Gerveys, Thomas the Clerk, and many others.

A parchment deed, in Latin, seal lost, of the time of Edward I.; whereby Thomas son of John West, of Sandhurst, grants to Ralph, son of John le Bogelere, of Sandhurst, a piece of ground called the "Hethplot," lying between the "garston" of Ralph de Hulle and the lane which leads from the heath towards the house of Henry de Wyfild: he rendering yearly 3 halfpence for the same; 15d. sterling having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Adam de Benethfeld, Robert Norman, John le Bogelere, Ailward West, Hervey de Ford, John the Miller, Roger Chepman, and others. This deed bears reference, probably, to Sandhurst near Wokingham, in Berkshire.

A large sheet of parchment, in Latin, much mutilated, the seal once appended now lost; being the probate copy of the testament of Thomas Waldere. It begins:—"In the name of the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Ghost, Amen. I, Thomas Waldere, of Wycumbe, in this my last sickness, on the Sunday next after the Feast of St. Nicholas, A.D. 1291, before Sir John, perpetual Vicar of Wycumbe, Stephen Agod, John Bil, John the Clerk, son of Matthew, and others, seeing and hearing the same, do make my testament in this manner. First, I give and leave my soul to Almighty God, and my body to be buried in the churchyard of the parish church of All Saints of Wycumbe." He gives to the high altar of that church, for arrears of tythes, 5s. To Sir John the Vicar 2s. To the parish Chaplin 6d. To the second (Chaplain) 6d. To Stephen, Chaplain of St. Mary's 12d. To the 6 Clerks serving in the church aforesaid 12d. To buy torches to be lighted around my body 10s. To buy linen cloth to sew my body in 8d. To buy cloth for the poor on the day of my burial, and for one month after 40s. For the meeting of my neighbours on the day of my burial 13s. 4d. To the Friars Minors of Rading 2s. To the Friars Preachers of Oxford 2s. To the Friars Minors of Oxford 2s. To the Friars of the Order of St. Austin, at Oxford 12d. To the Friars of Mount Carmel at Oxford 12d. To the Nuns of Merlawe, for pittances 2s. To the Hospital of St. John at Wycumbe—of yearly rent from the tenements which Osbert de Sandersdene formerly held 2s.; from the tenement of William Beryar 8d.; and from the tenement of Hugh Eadmund in the Lane 4d. To the Nuns of Merlawe all his right in the tenement and curtilage, formerly of Thomas le Blakiere. To the Abbess and Convent of for the support of a Chaplain celebrating in the church of Wycumbe, for the souls of his ancestors, and for his soul 4s., that is, from the tenement of Roger . . . 12d., and from the tenement which Roger Cristemass held 3s. To Agnes, his wife, 3s. of yearly rent for the term of her life, that is, from the tenement of John Gregory 20d., and from the tenement which Robert le Barbur held, between the tenement of William and that of Walter de Dusteburwe 16d.; and after the decease of Agnes, to John Gregory and his heirs. Also, to the same Agnes, all his rents within the borough of Wycumbe not otherwise left, for term of her life. Also, to Thomas, son of Geoffrey Clerk, after the decease of Agnes, 3d. of yearly rent, namely, from the shop which Robert le Poltere formerly held 2d., and from the shop of Payen le Casiere 1d. To John son of John de La Rye 3s. of yearly rent, to be received from a croft called the "Pondlond," which John de Bristwelle held of him, in the suburb of Wycumbe. To Thomas, son of Nicholas Walder, 6d. of yearly rent, to be received from the tenement of the said Nicholas, his father. To the heirs of Henry Agod he gives and remits all the rent which he was wont to receive, by the hands of the said Henry, from the tenement formerly belonging to him and Agatha, his wife, for the health of his soul. To Agnes, daughter of Ralph Walder, 6d. of yearly rent from a curtilage formerly of Richard le Monnere. To Thomas Warner 1d. of yearly rent from the curtilage of Roger de Schenholte in Bergerie. He makes his executors Agnes, his wife, John Gregori, and Michael Endorsed as having been proved in the church of Wycumbe, before the Archdeacon of Buckingham, on Friday after the Feast of St. Lucy the Virgin, A.D. 1290 [? 1291]. This Thomas Waldere was probably the wealthiest man of his time in Wycumbe.

A parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost; being a bond indented, whereby Ralph Rethel, of Wycumbe, acknowledges that he is indebted in one mark yearly to be paid to Matildis, widow of Nicholas le Vineter, of Wycumbe, to be levied from his tenement in Wycumbe, which had belonged to her husband; with power of distress therein. Witnesses, Roger Outred, Richard le Hurlere, Hugh le Casiere, then Bailiffs of the Borough of Wycumbe, William the Goldsmith, Richard de . . . , John de Bristowe, William le Heyward, Gervaise le Bakere, Geoffrey the Clerk, and others. Given at the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, in the year of the reign of King Edward, son of King Henry, 23.

A large parchment deed, in Latin, finely written, the seal lost; whereby William le Drapere of Wycombe grants to Ralph de Hayles, for 30s. paid beforehand, a tenement there, situate between the tenement which belonged to John le Cluter and that late of Ralph le Vinitier, and adjoining, on the north, to the land of the Abbess of Godestowe; he paying 5*d.* yearly to the chief lords of the fee, and 4*d.* yearly to the grantor, and the heirs of Alice, his wife. Witnesses, Roger Oughtred, Gervase the Baker, Richard le Hurlere, William le Cayser, Robert Power, Geoffrey de Sandwelle, John de Brightwelle, and others. Given at Wycombe, on the feast of the Annunciation of our Lady, in the year of the reign of King Edward, son of King Henry, 24.

ROUGH
HIGH
COMBE.

A parchment deed, in Latin, somewhat mutilated, the seal lost; whereby Gervaise, called "le Bakere," of Wycombe, grants to Ralph de la Calenge, for 7 marks sterling paid beforehand, a curtilage at "la Grene" [the Green] in the vill of Wycombe, between the tenements which Gilbert de la Grene and Adam Freysel held: also, a meadow which is called "Lutlemed," which he had had of the gift and feoffment of Richard de la Grene, in Wycombe, lying between the meadow of the Templars and the great meadow formerly belonging to John de la Grene; also, a yearly rent of 12*d.*, from the tenement late held by Adam Freysel at the Grene. Witnesses, John de la Linde [?], John de Esshewelle, Geoffrey de Hugendene, William Neyrunt, Richard le Horlere, John Gregorii, Richard de la Hul, Richard Turri, and others. Given at Wycombe, on Saturday next after the Feast of St. Matthias the Apostle, in the year of the reign of King Edward, son of King Henry, 29.

A parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby Adam de Schenholte, brother and heir of Henry de Schenholte, grants to Gervaise, called "le Bakere," of Wycombe, his right in a tenement which his said brother recovered in the King's Court against Richard le Cotiler; situate in the street called "Bynthebrugge," between the tenement which Walter le Harnere held, of the fee of the Hospital, and the tenement which Benedict le Henne-meis held; at a yearly rent of 12 silver pence. Witnesses, Roger Outred, Edmund de Haveringdon, Richard le Archer, then Bailiffs of the borough, Richard le Horlere, John de la Grene, Thomas le Tayllour, Roger the White-tawyer, Robert the Smith, Thomas Andrew, and others. Given at Wycombe, on the 2nd day of May, in the year of the reign of King Edward, son of King Henry, 30.

A parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby Richard, called "le Moyner," of Wycombe, grants to James called "le Tayllour," of Wycombe, and to Cecily, his wife, for 4 marks of silver paid beforehand, a shop in Wycombe which he had of the gift and grant of Ralph Gerveys. Witnesses, Roger Outred, then Mayor of the borough, Edward de Haveringdone, Richard le Bowyer, then Bailiffs, Gervaise le Bakere, Ralph le Hurlere, John de la Grene, William le Heyward, John Andren, Richard Onyet, and others. Given at Wycombe, on the 9th day of December, in the year of the reign of King Edward, son of King Henry, 31.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby Agatha, widow of Ralph Gerveys, called "Tropinel," of Wycombe, grants and quitclaims to Thomas le Tayllour all her right of dower in the tenement lying between that of William Gerveys, her son, and that of Thomas le Tayllour, and extending from the high street to the kitchen which William de Hallynge held, and for some time belonging to Geoffrey de Ireland. Witnesses, Gervase le Baker, William le Heyward, Richard Onyet, Gregory le Barbur, Henry Wade, and others. Given at Wycombe, on the Feast of St. Luke the Evangelist, in the year of the reign of King Edward, son of Edward, 5:—temp. Edward II.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, the seals lost; whereby Richard, son of Thomas Andren, and Joan, his wife, grant to Adam, son of Matthew le Fullere, a messuage in the borough of Wycombe, near the tenements which William Goldsmith and Robert Kippelove held, and extending from the High Street to the running water; for a sum of money paid beforehand—the amount not named. Witnesses, William Outred, John Bellard, Gilbert Man, John Benyt, John Geky, and others. Date 23rd January 1 Edward III.

There is also a counterpart of the preceding deed, with but one seal originally, now lost; executed on the same day, but with additional witnesses to those before-named; John Borgeys, William atte Lythe, William atte Welle, "and many others." This, no doubt, was the counterpart executed by the grantee.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, finely written, the seal lost; whereby Ralph de Wydindone grants to Richard Sywat, of Wycombe, a meadow in the Newelond, between the meadow of the said Richard and that of William Bil, also adjoining the meadow of John le Thrower and the curtilage late of John de Weston. No consideration is mentioned, beyond the clause binding the grantee to do the services, due and accustomed, to the chief lords of the fee. Witnesses, Thomas Gerveys, John de Bradele, Michael le Heyward, William Bil, John Throwere, and others: 5 Edward III.

A parchment deed, in Latin, mutilated, without seal; whereby Nicholas, son of Alexander de Colshulle, of Hugendene, Roger son of John Ranner, and Andrew Sely, of the same place, release and forgive to John le Clerk, Mayor of Wycombe, John le Ferrou, John Goyr, John son of Andrew Batyn, of Wycombe, John de Stonhale, Richard Beneyt, Richard Perkyn, Robert de Crempeslithe, late Bailiffs and Constables of the borough of Wycombe, John Ballard, of the same, and the whole community of the said borough, all actions, claims, and demands whatsoever. Given at Aillesbury, 6 August 15 Edward III. It is stated there that the parties making the release have thereto set their seals. There is no indication that to the present document any seal was ever set: it is perhaps only a copy.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby Walter le Frere, of Wycombe, grants to the Mayor and community of the borough 6 pence of yearly rent which he used to receive from the tenement which John Brounstel held in Croyndenelaue. No consideration is mentioned. Witnesses, Matthew le Fullere, William Outred, John Ballard, John Matthew, Ralph le Hurler, Thomas the Clerk; 10th June 21 Edward III.

A parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby John de Haveryngdoun, of Wycombe, grants to Robert Beneyt and Emma, his wife, a pigtle of meadow in the street Bynthebrugge, running down to the rivulet. No consideration is mentioned. Witnesses, John de Sandwelle, Mayor, Geoffrey le Freynche, Richard Andreu, Henry atte Slou [at the Sluice], Simon Pemme; 13 September, 21 Edward III.

A parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby the Prior and Convent of Bustelesham [Bisham, Berks.] remit and quitclaim to John atte Done, of Wycombe, all their claims to 2 messuages near the tenements late of Richard Sywat and John Beneyt; and which tenements were left to them by the testament of Adam Maheu. Witnesses, Robert Whelare, Mayor of Wycombe, Richard Sywat, Walter Smythe, John de Taleworthe, Thomas Ballard, and others. Given at Bustelesham, on Saturday after the Feast of the Translation of St. Thomas the Martyr, 33 Edward III.

A parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby Robert Beneyt, of Wycombe, grants to Andrew Hyemis, Chaplain, a meadow without the said borough, between the meadow of Richard Preyntiz and that of William atte Dene. Witnesses, Robert Whelare, William atte Dene, Richard Hortone, Thomas Ward, Thomas Ravel, John Jeky, John Ballard, and others. Given at Wycombe, the Sunday before our Lord's Ascension; 36th Edward III.

A somewhat large parchment deed, in Latin, faintly written, the seal lost; whereby John Geyr, of Thunderlee, in the Hundred of Rochforde [in Essex], grants to Thomas Revell, William Frere, Walter Noble, and Richard Huyrthe, of Wycombe, Wardens of the work of the Blessed Mary of Wycombe, a yearly rent of 2*s.*, arising from a tenement in the street of Froggemore, near the tenement late of Gilbert Marchal, between the rivulet and the High Street; and from another tenement in Newlond Street, near the tenements which John de Westone and Agnes de Abyate formerly had. Witnesses, Roger de Estwyk, John Poter, Walter Honesdone, John Osbarne, Gilbert Throwere, and many others. Given at Thunderlee, on Sunday the Feast of St. George the Martyr, 41 Edward III.

A parchment deed, in Latin, somewhat mutilated, the seal lost; whereby John le Smythe, of Bradenham, grants to John Palmere, "irmongere," of Wycombe, a meadow called "le Paasche," lying between the way which leads from Bygery [? indistinct] towards the mill of Thomas atte Lude, and the water running from the sluice of the mill of Philip de Broutone. Witnesses, Thomas Gerveys, Mayor of Wycombe, Thomas Ballard, Richard Jordan, Bailiffs, William atte Dene, Thomas Cornewayle, Giles atte Reye, Nicholas atte Broke. Given at Wycombe, on Monday before the Feast of St. George the Martyr, 44 Edward III.

A parchment deed, indented, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby William Frere, of Wycombe, grants to Thomas Revel, Walter Noble, and Richard Hughete, Wardens of the work of the Blessed Mary of Wycombe, a messuage in Newlond Street, between the meadow of William atte Dene and that late of John Sandwelle;

BOROUGH
OF HIGH
WYCOMBE.

BOROUGH
OF HIGH
WYCOMBE.

they paying yearly 6s. 8d. to the grantor and Ceale [sic. qy. Cecily or Celia] his wife. Witnesses, William atte Dene, Mayor of Wycombe, Thomas Ballard and Richard Jurdan, Bailiffs, Thomas Cornwaile, John Bramptone, Stephen Kirkeby, Walter Frere, and others. Dated 18th March, 45 Edward III.

A parchment deed, in Latin, mutilated, the seal lost; whereby Roger Schenholte, of Saunderdone, grants to William atte Dene, his right and interest in 16 pence of yearly rent arising from a tenement between one formerly belonging to William ate Combe, and that of Walter Sywet; the said William himself having lately acquired the said tenement of Philip Breghtone [P being torn] and Alice, his wife. Witnesses, John Ballard, Richard Kele, Thomas Cornwayle, John Jeky, John Broun "Diere," and others. Given on Thursday, the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 46 Edward III.

On parchment, what is probably, the probate copy of the testament of William atte Coumbe, in Latin, dated "Tuesday,—A.D. 1354:" whereby he leaves "to the Holy Land, 6d.; to the church of Lincoln 6d.; to the church of Haveringdoun, for my soul, and the soul of Thomas [my uncle], 18d. and one sheep;" to the church of Bradenham one sheep; to the church of Hugendene one sheep; and to the church of Wycombe one sheep; to Sir Roger, Chaplain of the parish, 6d.; to the Sacrist 3d.; to the Clerk, 2d. He leaves to the Wardens of the church of Wycombe 2s. of yearly rent from the tenement of Richard le Carpenter, formerly of John le Mareys [Marsh] "to find one torch and the raising [levationem] of the body of Christ, in the Chapel of the Blessed Mary of Wycombe." To the same Wardens also 6d. yearly, to be received from a certain shop which formerly belonged to Matthew le Fullere, near the tenement of W. le Carpenter. Also, to the same Wardens one penny of rent from the tenement which belonged to Serche, towards the fabric of the church. To Roger Rawner, one quarter of draget [mixed corn]; to Hawise, wife of the same Roger, one black steer; and to the two daughters of Roger 2 sheep. To his own 3 daughters, 3 sheep. To John, son of John atte Coumbe, one calf, 2 two-years' sheep, and 2 bushels of draget. Also 20s. to be spent on the day of his burial, and the same on his Anniversary days. The residue of his goods he leaves to be distributed, at the discretion of his executors, for his soul, and the soul of Thomas atte Coumbe, his uncle; one earthen pot [brec] excepted; which he leaves to the house of St. John the Baptist, of Wycombe. To the high altar of Haveringdoun he leaves 2d.; to the altar of the Blessed Mary 2d.; and to the altar of St. Thomas 2d. To the Friars Minors of Radinge one bushel of wheat, and one bushel of draget; and to his sister Susanna half a quarter of wheat. "And for the execution of this testament, I do make, ordain, and appoint, Sir John, Parson of Bradenham, and Edith, my wife, to be executors."

A parchment Latin deed indented, in duplicate, the seals lost in both instances; whereby Walter Noble, John Bramptone, Richard Brounstel, and Richard Highete, "Wardens of the work of the Blessed Mary" of Wycombe, grant to John Reynald and Matildis, his wife, and Cecily, their daughter, one messuage, with half an acre of arable land, situate in the borough of Wycombe, at La Cresche; between the tenement of John Wydyndone and the land of William Hayward, for their lives respectively, at a yearly rent of 4s. 4d.; with power of distress, and a covenant to keep the said messuage in good repair, "in timbering and in tiling." Witnesses, Thomas Revel, Mayor, William Prophete and William Haykyn, Bailiffs, John Jeky, John Barone, diere, and others. Given at Wycombe, on Wednesday, the Feast of St. Michael the Archangel, in the 2nd year of King Richard II. Of the two counterparts, that executed by the grantors has had four seals, that by the grantees two.

A parchment deed, in Latin, one of the two seals, in red wax, nearly whole; whereby Richard Brounstel and Richard Heygate, of Wycombe, grant to Richard Peytevyne, Sir Richard Butte, Chaplain, and Nicholas Sperlynge, a meadow which they had of the gift and feoffment of John Palmere, which is called the "Plasshete," in Wycombe, and lies between the King's highway which leads from Begerye Street to the mill of Thomas atte Lude on one side, and the water coming from the sluice of the mill of Philip Broughtone, on the other. Witnesses, Richard Kele, then Mayor of Wycombe, John Spycere and Ralph Drynkere, then Bailiffs, William atte Dene, Richard Sandewelle, and others. "Given at Wycombe, on the Sunday before the Feast of the Exultation [sic] of the Holy Cross, in " the 16th year of the reign of King Richard, after the Conquest the Second."

A small parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost, of the same date; whereby William atte Dene, of Wycombe, grants to the persons last named, a meadow which he had, of the gift of Andrew Lyouns, Chaplain; lying without the borough of Wycombe, near the field late of Richard Nerynyte. The same witnesses as to the preceding deed, William Depham added.

A large parchment indenture tripartite, in French, the seals lost, and the deed much mutilated; stating that there have been disputes between the Mayor and Commonalty of Wycombe and Ralph Lude, Esquire; the former claiming 21 shillings of rent from certain tenements which the said Ralph holds of them in the said vill; also 2s. 3d. from a meadow similarly held; they also claim an old rental touching the Mayor and Commonalty, which the said Ralph has in his possession; and they complain that he has built on the waste land belonging to the vill. They have therefore submitted to the award "of the very noble and very gracious Lady, Joan de Bo[hun]e, [P] Countess of Hereford; who has awarded that the said Ralph shall pay such rent of 21s. Awards are then made as to the rental of 2s. 3d., suit of Court, and the building on the town waste; but the greater part of the context is wholly effaced. As to the old rental claimed, the said Ralph is to have a copy made thereof, which he shall keep, and shall deliver the rental itself to the said Mayor and Commonalty; the copy which he retains being sealed with the common seal. "Given at Westmynstre, the 27th day of October, in the 9th year of the reign of King Henry, after the Conquest the Fourth." It may be worth enquiry who this "Countess of Hereford" was; possibly, a younger daughter and coheir of Humphrey de Bohun, Earl of Hereford, who died without heir male in 1372.

A parchment deed, in Latin, indented, the seal lost; whereby John Cotyngnam and Thomas Mortone, Clerk, grant to John Hampdene, son of Thomas, of Wycombe, all the lands and tenements in the "foreign" of Wycombe, called "Toterugge," which they lately had of the gift and feoffment of the said Thomas, and which he had of the gift and feoffment of William Clerk, of Wycombe. Also, they grant the lands and tenements in Asschendone, which they had of the gift and feoffment of the said Thomas, to hold in tail general to the said John Hampdene; remainder, in like manner, to his sister Joan; remainder to Edmund, lord of Hampdene, and his heirs for ever. Witnesses, Thomas Merstone, then Mayor of the vill of Wycombe, Andrew Sperlyng, Thomas Durem, John Savage, William Clerk, and others. "Given at Wycumbe, on Sunday after the Feast of the Apostles Peter and Paul, in the 4th year of the reign of King Henry, after the Conquest the Fifth." This deed having had but one seal (now lost), must have been the counterpart, executed by the grantee. The heralds' books shew that the family of Hampden, of Wycombe, was a collateral branch of the family of Hampden, of Hampden, of which John Hampden, the Parliamentary leader of the 17th century, was a member.

A parchment deed, in Latin, one of the two seals partly remaining; whereby John Spycere, of Wycombe, and Alice, his wife, grant to John Shrymptone two cottages and the garden adjoining, in Croyndene Lane, between the curtilage late of Roger Byps and that of Thomas Anereedelle, and the one late of Thomas atte Lude; which cottages they had had of the gift and feoffment of Richard Pycheron, of Arundelle. Witnesses, William Clerk, Mayor of Wycombe, Thomas Scarbroke and William Lytelboy, Bailiffs, Thomas Merstone, William Potanale, Richard Shrymptone, William Shrymptone, and others. "Given at Wycombe, on the Sunday next before the Feast of St. Luke the Evangelist, in the 7th year of the reign of King Henry, after the Conquest the Fifth."

A large parchment deed, in Latin, the seals lost; whereby John Benet, Clerk, and William Stockens, of Wycombe, grant to Andrew Sperlyng, Roger More, Thomas Merstone, John Covyntre, Thomas Anereedelle, William Broughtone, William Potenale, John Chapman, Walter Cary, Richard Huchyndene, John Cotyngnam, and William Pycot, a yearly rent of 53s. 4d.; to be received from a tenement situate between the tenement of John Welle and that late of John Clerke, and extending from the King's highway to the close of the rectory of Wycombe; such tenement being called the "Newe In," and lately had of the gift and feoffment of John Kele. Witnesses, William Clerke, John Hampdene, John Savage, John Justicar, John Corbrigg,

NEW HIGH COURT.

and others. "Given at Wycombe, on Wednesday before the Feast of the Nativity of the Blessed Mary, in the 8th year of the reign of King Henry, after the Conquest the Fifth."

A parchment writing, in Latin, temp. Henry VI., containing copies of two deeds:—by the first, Richard Sandwelle, of Wycombe, grants to John Bryan, citizen of London, John Sandwelle, Thomas Merstone, Richard Merstone, Thomas Squire [Armiger], William Vachell, and John Wodecock, all his lands and tenements in the parish of Wycombe. Witnesses, Nicholas Sperlyng, William Merchaunt, Thomas Comyne, Thomas Andresdell, John Mundy, and others. "Given at Wycombe, on the Feast of St. Brice the Bishop, in the 8d year of the reign of King Henry, after the Conquest the Fourth."—By the next deed, on the same parchment, William Fachell [for Vachell] of Colee near Redyng, (probably as one of the two survivors of the preceding feoffees), remits and releases to Thomas Merstone, of Wycombe, (probably the other survivor), all his right in the lands and tenements before mentioned. Witnesses, John Wellesbourne, Mayor of Wycombe, William Lambard, William Smythe, Bailiffs, John Hampdene, William Stoktone, William Broughtone, and others. "Given at Wycombe, on Tuesday next after the Octaves of the Purification of the Blessed Mary, in the 5th year of the reign of King Henry, after the Conquest the Sixth."

A parchment deed, indented, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby Thomas Merstone, Mayor of Wycombe, John Wellesbourne, John Hampdene, Thomas Anersdelle, John Covyntre, John Wyke, Richard Whyte, burgesses thereof, grant to Roger Bakere a tenement in Crendon Lane, between the garden of John Crede and those of the Abbot of Messendene and Thomas Olerke, and near to the tenement of John Wellesbourne, late of William Halle, and the land of William Northwyke, at a yearly rent of 2s. to the Wardens of the Blessed Mary of Wycombe. Witnesses, Thomas Merstone, Mayor, Thomas Maynolf, William Persone, Bailiffs, John Justyoe, Edward Cary, John Blakpol, and others. Executed on Thursday before the Feast of the Apostles Simon and Jude, 19 Henry VI.

In a mutilated Probate copy of the testament of John . . . of Wycombe, dated 20th February 1485, of which nearly one half has perished, mention is made of the place of burial in the churchyard there of "Thomas Sprot, late Vicar of that church;" and a house in the town is named, "called the George:" beyond this, so mutilated is its condition, that, though of great length, nothing else of interest can be gathered from it. A fragment of the seal of the Archdeaconry is still attached: and an endorsement states that the testament was proved before the Official of the Archdeacon of Bucks, on the 18th of April 1437. The testator's sons were named Thomas and Richard, his wife's name was Margery, and he had a daughter named Matildis. He seems to have been a man of opulence; makes bequests to the clergy and towards the building of the Church; and leaves 3s. 4d. for a silver chrismatory for its use, and 12d. to find a lamp to burn in the choir.

A parchment deed, indented, in Latin, somewhat decayed, its two seals, in red wax, surviving, but one without an impression; whereby John Prykke and Richard Redhod, of Wycombe, grant to Agnes, widow of Henry Colshulle, a tenement and curtilage, in Wycombe, between the tenement of the Chantry of the Holy Trinity on the east, and that of Joan Brygwater, on the west, extending from the highway along the churchyard to the land of John Wellesbourne, on the north; to hold to the said Agnes for life; remainder to John, son of Henry Colshulle, above mentioned, remainder to William, his brother, remainder to John Hampdene, Mayor, or the Mayor for the time being, and to John Wyke and Walter Colarde, or other the Wardens of the works of the church of Wycombe; to sell and dispose of the same for the use of the said church, and for the health of the souls of the said Henry Colshulle, his parents and benefactors. Witnesses, John Hampdene, Mayor of Wycombe, Robert Colyn and William Barnard, Bailiffs, Robert Cotyngnam, John Blakpolle, John Sadeler, Thomas Croft, and many others. Dated on the Feast of St. Michael, 20 Henry VI. This is probably the earliest instance in which the family of Redhode is mentioned.

A large parchment deed, indented, in Latin, its one seal, in red wax, remaining, representing, apparently, a lily; whereby John Hampdene, Mayor of Wycombe, John Wellesbourne, Thomas Merstone, John Blakpolle, Robert Cotyngnam, John Wyke, Walter Colarde, and Edward Cary, grant to Thomas Croft a tenement and garden in Wycombe, in the street called "Estyntone," between the tenement of Robert Broune and the toft and garden late of William Scheresfelde, and extending to the town ditch; at a yearly rent of 10d. to the Mayor and burgesses, and of 10d. to the Bailiffs, William Frere and John Hamonde: with powers of distress. To the part remaining with the Mayor and burgesses [the present one], Thomas Croft has set his seal. Witnesses, Gawin Le Penne, Juda Wellesbourne, Thomas Hullemede, William Crowe, John Gate, and others. Dated 20th December, 22 Henry VI.

A large parchment deed in Latin, somewhat mutilated, with seal in red wax, three shields thereon, impressions effaced: whereby Thomas Merstone grants to Robert Cotyngnam, John Wellesbourne, John Redsele, John Blakpolle, John Martyne, John Sadeler, John Wokyngnam, Thomas More, John Merstone, William Trewe, William Redhode, William Corbrygge, Walter Mundy, and Thomas Crofte, a yearly rent of 58s. 4d., arising from a tenement in Wycombe called the "Newynne" and the "Saresenehede" [Saraacen's Head], situate in the High Street, between the tenement of Thomas Wheler, Clerk, Vicar of Huchendene, on the east, and the tenement of John Wellesbourne, on the west, and extending to the Rectory close, called the "Boursheys," to the north; he having had the same, with Andrew Sperlyng and others, all now deceased, of the gift and feoffment of John Benet, Clerk, and William Stoktone, of Wycombe, in a deed of the 8th year of King Henry V. Witnesses, John Hampdene, Walter Colard, John Corbrygge, Richard Redhode, William Hasyllbury, and others. Dated on the Feast of the Conception of the Blessed Mary, 24 Henry VI.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, with a seal in brown wax, the impression effaced; whereby Thomas Letterfort, of the parish of Cookham, Esquire, grants to Robert Cotyngnam, John Hampdene, John Blakpolle, Walter Colard, John Wokyngnam, William Veer, alias Trewe, and John Sadeler, a messuage and garden in Wycombe, in the street called "Estyntone," between the tenement of Agnes Bisshope and Crendon Lane. Witnesses, Robert Cotyngnam, Mayor of Wycombe, John Scharpe and John Gate, Bailiffs, Thomas Merstone, Richard Redhood, Richard Ernolde, William Frere, Thomas Croft, John Lytelboy, and others. Dated 4th February, 25 Henry VI.

A parchment deed indented, in Latin, the seal lost; between John Hampden, Mayor of Wycombe, Thomas Browne, Richard Cary, Bailiffs, Robert Cotyngnam, Walter Colardo, John Corbrygge, John Wyke, Walter Mondy, and William Barre, "oom-burgesses" of the same vill, of the one part, and John Blakpolle, of the other; reciting that the latter was seised in his demesne, as of fee, of one messuage, with its appurtenances, in Wycombe, near the bridge, between the tenement late of Stephen Dormere, on the north, and the rivulet running to the mill called "Brygmyle," on the south; and abutting on the highway leading to Merlow on the east; and that the same John and the previous owners of the said messuage had been wont to repair and maintain a latrine, under the roof of that messuage, to the easement of the community of the vill of Wycombe; whereas the said John had now built a new latrine in the middle of the rivulet, near the bridge, he willed and granted thereby that he and his heirs, and all in possession of the said messuage, should in future maintain such latrine newly built, at their own costs and expenses. In case of neglect so to do, power is thereby given to the community to enter the said messuage, and restore the place in question to its former state. Witnesses, Gawin de la Penne, Thomas Geky, William Dormere, Robert Deram, William Schrymptone, and others. Dated 21st May, 27 Henry VI.

A small parchment indenture, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby John Wokyngnam and John Sadeler, Wardens of the Chapel of the Blessed Mary of Wycombe, and collectors of the rents thereof, with the assent of all the brethren and tenants of the said Chapel, grant and let to William Redhood a meadow of the Blessed Mary, called "the Plassey," near the moor, by the mill called "Broughtone Mylle," in the foreign of Wycombe, for a term of 80 years, at a yearly rent of 6 pence. Dated 10th October, 27 Henry VI. There are no witnesses to this deed.

A large parchment indenture, in Latin, much mutilated, the seal lost; whereby John Blakpolle, Mayor, John Hampdene, Robert Cotyngnam, Walter Colard, John Wokyngnam, John Sadeler, William Veer, Walter Mundy, Thomas Croft, John Lytelboy, Robert Ernold, and William Redhood, grant to John Russello, alias Carpenter, a messuage between the tenement of Agnes

BOROUGH
OF HIGH
WYCOMBE.

BOROUGH
OF HIGH
WYCOMBE.

Bysshop and Crendone Lane, at a yearly rent of 6s. 8d. to the grantors aforesaid, and to John Pymme and John Tytyng, Bailiffs, and the Bailiffs for the time being, 2s. 8d.; with powers of distress. The attestation is torn and illegible. The date is — September, 27 Henry VI.

A parchment deed, in Latin, partly effaced, and the seal lost; whereby Henry Puttenham, Esquire, grants to John Hode the elder, Robert Cotyngnam, John Wellesbourne the elder, and John Radeshille the elder, of Wycombe, a piece of meadow in the borough of Wycombe, lying in a street called "Seynt Marie Strete," running from the tenement of the said John Hode to the King's highway, leading to a certain pasture called "the Reye;" and near to a certain moor called "Horsynchircheyerde," on the east; which the said Henry had, of the gift and feoffment of Robert Forster and Peter Coudray, Esquire, at a yearly rent of 2 ounces of pepper, at Our Lord's Nativity. Witnesses, John Martyne, Mayor, William Buntynge, John Gomme, Bailiffs, John Hampdene, John Blakepolle, and others. Dated 7th April, 28 Henry VI.

A parchment deed, in Latin, somewhat mutilated, the seal lost; whereby John Merstone, son and heir of Thomas Merstone, of Wycombe, remits, releases, and quitclaims, to John Hampdene, John Wellesbourne, Robert Cotyngnam, John Blakpolle, Walter Colarde, John Sadeler, William Veer, Barnaby Stokke, Walter Mundy, Thomas Croft, John Lytelboy, Robert Ernold, and William Redhood, all his right to a shop in the market of Wycombe, between the two shops of Thomas Merstone, his father. Witnesses, John Martyne, Mayor, William Bontynge, John Gomme, Thomas Brown, Richard Cary, and others. Dated, the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 29 Henry VI. A fragment of a deed is pasted on to this; which, translated, reads—"writing shall see or hear, Thomas Merstone has confirmed to John Hampdene, Robert Cotyngnam, Barnabas Stokker, Thomas . . ."

A small parchment indenture, in Latin, mutilated, the seal lost; stating that whereas Thomas More, of Wycombe Magna, Esquire, by his writing obligatory is bound to John Blakpolle, Walter Collard, Walter Mondy, and William Redhode, in a sum of 80 li., to be paid at Whitsuntide next; if by then he shall give good surety for a yearly rent of 6s. 6d. to the Vicar of Wycombe, they will be satisfied therewith; the same to arise from a tenement opposite the church, in which Thomas Baverdyn dwells; and to be paid half yearly to John Hampdene and other persons there named. Dated 22nd January, 34 Henry VI.

A parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby William Spenser, of Myssenden, grants to John Wellysbourne and John Colshille, a croft and garden adjoining, at Great Kingishille, lying between the common pasture called "Wycombe Hethe," on the east, and a field called "Heyonisfelde" on the west, and near the land called "Blakes," to the north; also 3 pieces of land in Heyonisfelde [now Higgins-field]. Witnesses, Juda Wellysbourne, Thomas Clerk, Richard Huone, Thomas Tirry, Henry Rouse, and others. "Given at Huchyndene, on Monday next after the Feast of St. Ursula the Virgin, in the 32nd year of the reign of King Henry, after the Conquest the Sixth.

A large parchment indenture, in Latin, much mutilated, the seal lost; whereby John Martyne, Mayor of the vill of Wycombe, John Wellisborne, John Blakpolle, Robert Cotyngnam, Walter Collard, John Admer, William Balkburgh, Walter Mondy, William Corbrygge, Barnabas Stokker, and Nicholas Oxenford, burgesses, grant to John Russelle a garden in Estyntone Street, in Wycombe, between the tenement of Thomas Lytylpage and that late of Thomas Croft; and extending from the King's highway, on the south, to the garden of Barnabas Stokker, on the north; he rendering yearly to the Wardens of the Chapel of St. Mary 12 pence. The said John to build a new tenement in the said garden, near the road, 29 feet of assize in length, and 16 in width. Witnesses, Robert Bardesey, Robert Duream, Henry Newman, Thomas Gery, Richard Dormer. Dated 20th December 39 Henry VI.

A large parchment deed, much mutilated, the seals lost; whereby Edmund Arnold, citizen and grocer of London, and Katherine, his wife, grant to William Redehode, citizen and salter of London, dwelling in Wycombe, Richard Graunt, citizen and salter of London, and William Colard, of Wycombe, mercer, their tenement called "the Garet," in Wycombe aforesaid, between the tenement of William Pygot, and that of Richard Savage, and near the Market place on the south. Walter Mundy being Mayor and John Sheyfelde [P] and Robert . . . Bailiffs. Witnesses, John Martyn, Robert . . .

John Sharpe . . . and others. Dated 4th of March, 5 Edward IV. There are two fragments pasted to this deed; one of them part of a power of entry and distress; the other consisting of, apparently, four Latin verses; two of them illegible, the other two apparently:

"Caseus est dignus [correctly, from another source, Caseus insignis], non est dandus nisi dignis."

"Caseus est carus, sic dixit præsul avarus."

"Cheese is worthy [Fine cheese is] to be given only to the worthy. Cheese is dear, so said the greedy prelate."

A parchment deed, in Latin, of the seal a fragment only left; whereby William Colshulle, son and heir of Henry, releases and quitclaims to John Sharpe, William Redehode, Richard Cary, Christopher Waas, William Bontyng the elder, John Pymme, Walter Cary, Laurence Watforde, Edward Cary, William Bontyng the younger, Robert Brampstone, and Ralph Nasshe, his right and title in a tenement and curtilage in Wycombe, between the tenement of the Chantry of the Holy Trinity, on the east, and that late of Joan Bryggewater, on the west; and extending from the King's highway, near the churchyard, on the south, to the land late of John Wellesbourne, on the north. "Given on the 6th day of April, in the year from the beginning of the reign of King Henry the Sixth, 49, and in the first year of his recovery of the royal power." Deeds belonging to this short term, October 1470—April 1471, are of but rare occurrence.

A parchment deed, in Latin, very indistinct, the seal lost; whereby Richard Cary, the Mayor, William Redehode, and others named, grant to John Sharpe, a tenement and garden in Saint Mary Street, between the garden of John Blakpoll and the tenement of Joan Burrey, and extending from the high street to the meadow of John Pusey; also, a cottage situate in a lane going towards the Eldeyeldeshall [Old Guildhall], late belonging to William Body; he rendering yearly to Roger Brampstone and Thomas Peytevere, Bailiffs of Wycombe, and their successors, the two sums of 8 pence and 12 pence. Witnesses, John Penne, Thomas Gery, Richard Dormer, Richard Dyker, John Golofer, and others. Dated 10th of May, 16 Edward IV.

A parchment indenture, in Latin, with seal in brown wax, broken, and with no impression; whereby Roger Brampstone, Mayor, and Thomas Okebanke and Thomas Watforde, Bailiffs, and Christopher Waas, Richard Cary, William Redehode, Thomas Pymme, John Peytever, John Blappelle, Richard Bernarde, Walter Cary, Thomas Broune, and Thomas Baydon, burgesses, grant to Robert Asshbroke a certain messuage in Wycombe, in a street called "Powlesrewe" [Paul's Bow], near the bridge, between the tenement late of William Dormer and the rivulet running to the mill called "Bryggmille," to the south, and abutting upon the King's highway leading towards Merlowe; on condition that he keep in repair a latrine standing in the middle of the rivulet, near the said bridge, to the easement of the community of the vill of Wycombe; with power of entry and distress, in case of non-repair thereof. Witnesses, John Penne, John Poynant, Thomas Lytilboye, William Frere, John Goodson, and others. Dated 6th of March, 5 Henry VII.

A parchment indenture, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby William Clerke, Richard More, John Ratlef, and Thomas Sextone, Wardens of the Parish Church of Chepyng Wycombe, with the assent of Robert Aschebroke, Mayor, John Aley, Roger Brampstone, Thomas Pymme, and all other the burgesses, grant to Nicholas Wynshurste a tenement and garden without the borough, in a street called "Frogmore," near the tenement late of John Whyte, on the east and north, and the dam of the mill called "Bardesey's-mylle," and the tenement of William Russelle, on the west and south; at a yearly rent to the said Wardens of 4s., and of 2d. to the Wardens of the Chapel of the Blessed Mary in the church aforesaid; and also a yearly payment of 22d. to Nicholas Jerarde; with powers of distress. Dated 29th September, VII.

A parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost; whereby William Colshulle, of Great Missyndene, grants to William Bunse the meadow and 3 pieces of arable land, within the parish of Huchyndene, upon Great Kyngshulle; the meadow being called "Curtismede," and extending from the common, called "Kyngshulle," to a field there, called "Hugynesfelde." Witnesses, Richard More, John Colshulle, John Nasshe, John Brykhulle, Nicholas Wydmer, and others. Dated at Kyngshulle, 8th October, 20 Henry VII.

The preceding are followed by seven deeds of the time of Henry VIII., three of them in English; four of the reign of Edward VI., all in English: one of the reign of Philip and Mary, in Latin; of which last the following is a description:—

BROUGH
HIGH
WYCOMBE.

A large parchment deed, the seal lost, but signed "George Peytefere:" by it, George Peytevere, Gentleman, one of the Aldermen of the vill of Chepyng Wycombe, grants and confirms to Thomas Frere, alias Pymme, Gentleman, the then Mayor, William Dormer, Knight, Robert Dormer, his son, Esquire, John Cheyney, of Agmondesham, Esquire, William Chalfount, Gentleman, John Borrell, Christopher Petefere, John Sterlyng, Rowland Wytnall alias Elys, Thomas Boty alias Parkyns, Timothy Pymme, John Pusey, Thomas, son of Robert Pusey, Thomas Bele, Daniel Cary, Thomas Wynch, Nicholas Jerard, son of Nicholas, Richard Lytilboye, William More, son of William, butcher, William Chelfounte, son of Thomas, and George Pymme, a yearly rent of 53s. 4d., arising from a tenement in Wycombe, called "the Antelope," in the High Street there; with power of distress. Dated the 17th of April, in the years of the respective reigns of Philip and Mary 2 and 3.

The documents of Elizabeth's reign are eleven in number; they are of a miscellaneous nature, and, in general, of no interest.

One is a mandate to the Sheriff of Bucks, to summon Jurors in a cause to be tried between John Greneland and Thomas Eles, Complainants, and John Adysone, Defendant; on another slip, the names of the jurors summoned are given. Three of the documents, in English, are letters of attorney, and a fourth is a deed in amplification of a previous deed, to ensure quiet enjoyment.

In concluding this notice of these Church deeds, all that has been saved, probably, from the wreck of time, to throw some faint light upon the remote history of Chipping Wycombe, it only remains to be remarked, that of the families still dwelling there in the 17th century, those of Pymme and Utrud, or Oughtred, appear to have been the oldest: the once powerful family of Waldere, evidently, soon became extinct, so far at least as Wycombe was concerned. William Oughtred, the divine and mathematician, born at Eton in 1573, was not improbably connected with the Wycombe family of that name.

It only remains for me to express my obligations to John Parker, Esqre., Solicitor to the Wycombe Municipal Charity Trustees, for the interest he has taken in my researches, and the facilities he so readily obtained, with the view of enabling me to make a thorough examination of the few surviving records of this ancient town.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

CORPORATION OF ST.
ALBAN'S.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF THE CORPORATION OF ST. ALBAN'S.

The following is an account of the, at present existing, records belonging to the Corporation of St. Alban's; for an opportunity of inspecting which I have much pleasure in acknowledging myself indebted to the courtesy of T. W. Blagg, Esq., the Town Clerk. The books and papers are preserved in the old Corporation chest, at the Town Hall; they are comparatively few in number, and of no great antiquity: many probably have been lost amid the mutations and vicissitudes to which in former ages the place has been subjected; in addition to which, it must be borne in mind, that the town only received its Charter of Incorporation so late as the reign of Edward the Sixth:—

Liber Electionum, or Court Book; a thin paper folio volume, in limp parchment, of about 140 pages. Its earliest entry is the Election of "Mayor, Burgesses, and " Assistants in Common Council," in the 28th year of Queen Elizabeth, A.D. 1586. It contains entries of proceedings in the "Court of the Mayor and Burgesses," sometimes in Latin, but mostly in English. The then existing Companies of the Barbers, Bakers, Shoemakers, "Bruers," and Butchers, are mentioned. The entries are continued to p. 127, the 9th year of James the First. Commencing at the other end of the volume, there are three leaves, containing an account of "corslette," bills, and "men trayned," in the respective Wards of St. Alban's, in the years, apparently, 1563 and 1587. In the latter year, among the arms used for training, "quillivers" (calivers), "muskettes," bills, and "bowes," appear. The back of the volume is braced with a fragment of a manuscript of the 14th century, a Latin treatise on various religious subjects, with glosses, "The Good Shepherd" being in the number. Inclosed in the volume are some loose leaves, of a similar nature to the contents of the volume, but belonging to a later date, the year 1634 to 1639. At the end of the last date follows—"The Oath in the Act made 13 Car. 2nd, for the " well governing and regulating of Corporations."

The now operating Charter of the town is still preserved. It belongs to the reign of Charles the Second; bearing date the 4th of July 1667, and being a confirmation of the Charters that had preceded it. The Charter, as to its form, is remarkable not only for its drawn and coloured portrait of King Charles the Second at the head of it, but for the fact of its being also accompanied with other pictorial illustrations. At the head of one of the folios is a view of St. Alban's at that date, apparently in Indian ink. Sopwell, the building that succeeded the nunnery there, is seen depicted in its then integrity; a portion only of its ruins now remains; the Clock-tower also is depicted, the Abbey Church, St. Peter's, and St. Stephen's. In the margin of the same leaf, also painted apparently in Indian ink, is a very tall "Royal Oak," containing in its foliage a series of three golden crowns. The Charter of Incorporation granted to the town, bears date the 12th of May, in the 7th year of King Edward the Sixth (A.D. 1553). It has been printed, in the original Latin, in Clutterbuck's History of Hertfordshire, Vol. I.

A Charter granted to the town by Queen Elizabeth, bears date the 7th of February in the second year of her reign (A.D. 1560), and has part of the Great Seal attached to it.

A Charter of King James the First, granted in the 8th year of his reign, ratifies the Charter of Edward the Sixth, so far as it empowers the erection of a Grammar School in the Church: a piece of barbarism formerly enacted within the precincts of its beauteous Lady's Chapel, but now happily put an end to; an attempt being about to be made to restore this adjunct to this Abbey Church to somewhat of its original beauty and integrity.

A Charter of Charles the First, bearing date the 17th of December in the 8th year of that reign (A.D. 1632); it has also a part of the Great Seal attached.

Another Charter of King Charles the First, bearing date the 27th of July in the 16th year of his reign (A.D. 1640).

A Charter of King James the Second, with an engraved portrait of the Sovereign, bearing date the 16th of March, in the first year of his reign (A.D. 1685). After the Revolution of 1688, this Charter was held to be illegal, and null and void. A fragment only of the Great Seal is left.

A Patent, in Latin, bearing date the 24th of March, in the 12th year of Queen Elizabeth (A.D. 1570), whereby at the request of the Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, Sir Nicholas Bacon, "for the relief and sustentation" of the Schoolmaster and the Grammar School, she grants to the Mayor and Burgesses the liberty of licensing two taverns for the sale of wine; they to receive, in behalf of the School, the sums due for such licence. The Great Seal, once attached to the Patent has now gone.

A small quarto paper volume, bound in limp vellum, and endorsed "Poor rates for Abbey Parish, with Overseers' Accounts, 1655 to 1672." It is finely written, in general, and in good preservation.

"Constitutions" of the Borough, beautifully written, in English, and bearing date the 18th of September, in the tenth year of King Charles the First, A.D. 1634. The seals are appended by silver cords, and are preserved in cases of boxwood; being those of Thomas Lord Coventry, Lord Keeper, Sir Thomas Richardson, Chief Justice of the King's Bench, and Sir Robert Heath, Chief Justice of the Common Pleas. The document consists of seven large sheets of parchment, and is in good preservation.

An Inventory, in Latin, of the goods and "cattalls" of Richard Rainshaw, Esq., of St. Alban's 1572, founder of what is now known as "Richard Renshaw's Charity," and of which the Corporation are trustees.

A folio paper volume, in limp parchment, with brass clasps, containing minutes of the elections of Mayors and other officers, and meetings of the Mayors and burgesses, from 1640 to 1732. There are no leaves wanting, apparently; but there is no entry between Michaelmas Day 1648, "the 24th year of the reign of our Lord Charles, " by the grace of God, King of England, France, and "Ireland," and the 27th of June 1649. The volume is in good preservation, and, if thoroughly examined, would be found probably to contain much matter of interest.

Among the older deeds belonging to the Corporation, none of which apparently go very far back, is one of the 15th of May in the 4th year of Henry the Seventh

CORPORATION OF ST.
ALBAN'S.

CORPORATION OF ST. ALBAN'S.

(A.D. 1489) in which mention is made of "Bothelynge-stock," "Le Stockhowse," and a lane called "Bothel-stret," in the town of St. Alban's.

An Exemplification of the Borough boundaries, in the reign of Charles the First. The description of the boundaries is given in English.

The miscellaneous papers and documents, belonging to the Corporation, of any pretensions to antiquity, are the following:—

A Letter of Request, on the occasion of a fire at the town of Nantwich, in Cheshire, in 1583. It is signed with signatures (copied, not original) of Thomas Bramley Chancellor, Francis Earl of Bedford, Walter Mildmaye, Christopher Hatton, Francis Walsingham, and several others of the Queen's ministers; and states that, as had been learned from the Earl of Darbye, and "others of good credytt," the towne of Nampwiche had lost 800 houses by fire "with the moste parte of the goodes and householde stuffe of the inabitantes to a verye greate valewe, whereby a greate number of the inabitantes, beinge men of good worth, are, with their wives, children, and famylies, utterly spoyled and undone, and the town become desolate, whiche of late was not only of good welthe and trade, by reason of the situation; but also of good importance for the service of her Majestie and the realme, beinge a thoroughfare lyenge conveniently for the receipte of soldiers, carryage, and munition, to be sent into the realme of Irelande." The Queen herself, "having contributed to a good valewe, hopeth that her lovinge subjectes will also have commyseration of the lamentable estate of these poore afflicted inabitantes, as they wolde desire relief of others, upon the like visitation from Goddes hande." Collections of money are consequently ordered to be made for their relief.

A long Letter, of two small folio pages of paper, endorsed, in an old hand, "Proposalls for setting the poor to spin in this burrough," and signed "Saint Albones this 2 of May 1618. Per me Steven Langley, Clothier." The general object of the writer seems to be, though his mode of expressing himself is less clear than his writing, to have poor and destitute persons in the town thoroughly taught the art of spinning. After much to this purpose, he concludes:—"Lastly for the advansment of the country by the knowledge of curious wosted woll workes and exelent yernes, I hould itt good and necessary that there bee 2 or 3 maides, Dutch or English, of most religious parentage, and them selves of good skill in spinninge and of good behaviour: such to bee sought out and kept in a rednes in the same house [for teaching the art]: which may bee allowed by the maiestrate to goo to any gentleman or yeo[man's] house in the country that desireth to have them to teach their wife, children, or servantes such worke: and soe to retourne again, at their tyme lymitted, to the same house: to bee apointed likewise to some other that shall desire them herein," etc.

In a paper under date the 25th of May in the 26th year of Queen Elizabeth (A.D. 1584) and signed by John Clarke, he, as "one of the principall burgesses of the borrough of St. Albons," in consideration of 12 pence to him paid, promises to pay to John Comport, of the same town, the sum of 20 shillings, within one month after the said John Comport shall procure such benevolence and payment of money to be yearly paid unto the Mayor of the said borough for the time being, "for and towards the keeping of eyght geldings, mares, or horses, within the saide borrough for the service of hir Majestey for post horses and carryedge of the poultreys for hyr Majestey. So that all straungers and others not inabitants within the saide borrough shall be discharged thereof, and theyre geldings, mares, and horses, not to be taken for . . . the service at any time."

This paper, the exact meaning of which seems somewhat obscured by the endorsement, is endorsed, in an old hand,— "The Postmaster's agreement for keeping of horses."

A bond, in Latin, with defeasance in English, entered into by Thomas Ramridge, tailor, of Luton, with Barth. Lawrence and Richard Whelpley, on the 29th of March, 1587; to the effect that "he shall not at any time hereafter by himself or his servants, or any other for him, use, exercise, or occupye his occupation, that is to saye, the occupation of a tayllour within the borrouge, or . . . fetch any worke from any inhabitant of the said borrouge to be wrought elsewhere for the same inha[bi]tant, without fraud or covine." This document deserves remark from the fact, that a Thomas Ramridge had died Abbot of St. Alban's about 60 years before. If they were members of the same family, its fortunes, to all appearance, had not improved.

An order, finely written, on paper, and signed by Richard Newcourt, Deputy Registrar (the laborious author of the Repertorium) "made by the Right Revd. Father in God, Henry, by divine permission, Lord Bishop of London, on the 12th day of November 1679 about a seate in the Abbey Church of St. Alban's, etc." It states that there had been a difference between the worshipful the Mayor and Aldermen of the town, and one Mr. Dagnall, an attorney, about a pew or seat in the Abbey Church, in which he had been formerly seated by the Churchwardens; which seat and the one adjoining had been recently made into one, one of the Churchwardens dissenting. The Churchwardens, however, had lately come to an agreement on the matter, and had placed the Aldermen's wives in the two seats, now laid into one, and had placed the Schoolmaster's wife, who had formerly sat in one of the said two seats, "in another convenient pew, to her own good liking." Further, they would have removed the said Mr. Dagnall into the uppermost seat, next the Aldermen, and then were still ready to do so, "if he pleased to accept the same." His Lordship, therefore, "being very well assured that the said Maior and Aldermen did not make or interpose any order about the said seates at their Town Court in prejudice to his Lordship's ecclesiasticall jurisdiction, as hath been suggested, was pleased to approve what has been done therein, and . . . to ratify and confirme the laying of the said two seates into one, and the placing of the Aldermen's wives in the same."

A Letter, in good preservation, addressed—"To my very assuerede and good freinde, Mr. Babbe, Maior of the Boroughe of St. Albans—Yeave [give] theise." It is addressed—"Frome Lincolnes Inne the xiiith daye of October 1593" and signed "Your very freyid allwayes to use Robert Spenser." The letter states that "this pore woman the wydowe Evans have byn with me, I pray youe let her have your favour. She doth honestly lyve and use the trade of classes [sic, but qy. the meaning] for the gettinge of her lyvinge, and have used the towne theise iii or iiij yeres, comynge and goynge for her money," etc. The sand still lies upon it, with which the ink was dried.

A curious Letter, the address of which is lost, but otherwise perfect, and written by John Thomas, a native of Bois-le-Duc, in Holland, the then Master of the Grammar School at St. Alban's, in a neat and legible hand. His monument is still to be seen in the Abbey Church; and, from it we learn that he was a teacher of eminence, who had been a schoolmaster in France, Belgium, and Ireland, after being driven out of his native country. The letter seems, from its earnestness and simplicity, to deserve transcription:—"Right Worshipfull Mr. Maior your humble and obedient client, John Thomas Hylooomius, the Schoolmaster of thys free schoole, beyng requested of thys bearer, good man Kento, desyre most earnestly off your Worship not to take in evell part thys my bold entrepryse to trouble your Worship. Because he ys a poore man, I could not in conscience refuse hym. Hys request ys that I should helpe to entreat your Worship that you would be so good with hym, and wryte, or send, to Mr. Williams, our person, that by your auctoritie and apointement, he myght declare in the pulpite unto the people and commend the miserable estate off thys poore man, that some men may be ordeyned to gthather a collection off the wel disposed and devonte people. Thus Right Worshipfull Mr. Maior, I earnestly desyre you to graunte us this charitable deed, wiche the Lord wil see and reward in the day of Hys appearaunce. No more, but pray your Worship to pardon me that I wryte thus negligentlye and unordnately unto your W; for the man was very hasty, and I scarce was at aise, and so cold that I could hardly hold the pen in my hand, and he standyng and urgyng me till I had done. 21 November anno 1633, in my schoole. Joann: Thomas Hylooomius [i.e. of Bois le Duc]." The writing, in places, shews signs of a hand somewhat tremulous from cold. The question seems worth suggestion, whether John Thomas, (from his mastery of the English language, evidently a clever man), may not have owed his appointment, as the first Master of the new Grammar School, to Sir Nicholas Bacon, (who is known to have interested himself in the school); and have been one of the early instructors of Francis Bacon. On his monument it is stated, that his scholars were a company of generous birth "generosa cohors."

Cambridge
Library

FORA-
OF ST.
ALB'S.

A Letter, addressed "To the worshipful and my very frinde Mr. Mayore of St. Albones, and to Mr. Goodridge of the Black Bull there Yeve these." It is written at "Lillingston Dayrell this viiith day of December 1583. Your frinde Paule Dayrell." The letter is brief, and is simply in favour of the bearers, his "neighhors of Thorneborowe," who have had 21 "of hogges stollen from them." He desires the Mayor's "lawfull favour and furdurance unto these bearers for there expedition," in prosecuting the offenders.

A Letter, dated 12th August 1584, and signed "Your lovinge frende John Cutts," addressed "To my very frend Mr. Mayre Yeue [give] these." It is to the following effect:—"Mr. Mayer—Whereas I was purposed to invyte my good neighbors to the marriage of my man, and accordinge to the custome used in such cases; and for that yt fell so out as my Lord Chancellers comynge unto my howse in Cambridgeshire hath called me from hence before I was determined; Mr. Weebb, my good frende, in my absence in Essex sought meanes, as I undirstande, in good will to my servaunt, to assaye the liberalitie of your townsmen towards the helpinge forwarde of a poore begynner, which, as I fynde to be more then I have deserved, so am I desirous to signifie my good will agayne, that I might not seeme eyther unthankfull nor indetted to much where I have geven lytle cause, I praye you all accept of this I send you; namely a bucke to be mery together such as herein I have bene beholdinge unto; and withall a drynkinge penye, partly to discharge your wyne at your feast as I meane it I shal be beholdinge unto yow. And so I bide you hartely farewell." The meaning of this obscurely worded letter seems to be, that he had intended to invite the Mayor and Corporation to the marriage of his man-servant, and then make a collection in the man's behalf, he being but a "poor beginner." That, being compelled to be elsewhere, he could not do so; but that his friend, Mr. "Weebb," has made the collection, and with more success than he could have expected. He therefore presents the contributors with a buck for their feast, and a contribution towards the expense of their wine.

A Letter, addressed—"Too my very good frynd Mr. Babb Maior of the town of Seynt Alban's," and signed "Your loving frynd John Brokett." Its date is probably 1584 or 85, and it is as follows:—"Mr. Maior upon Twesdaye nexte by the grace of God we mynde to vewe yowr soldears at Nomansland, praying yow that your 22 qualivers furnished to be ther by six of the clock in the morning and we do allowe to every soldiar xiid. the day for his wagis and one pound and a halfe of powder for the two dayes and iid. for matche. And this to be collectyed amongst yow agaynst the day so as the poore men may be payd and the servise well performyd. Also I pray yow geve me the notise of sutche men as you do thynke most fyt for this poorposse, allwayse remembring that by your choyse we may have them forthcomming. Yf yow have a dosin halbertes, I pray yow lett me have them and I will returne them safe unto yow agayne. And as I will commend yow to God. Brokethall, this present Fryday."

Another Letter, on the same subject, addressed "To my very veris lovinge freind Mr. Babbe Maior of St. Alban's Give theise," and signed "Your loving frynd John Brokett." It is as follows:—"Mr. Maior I pray yow yf yow have annye defectes in your coraslates or your calivers, lett them be presently amendyd, and yow shalbe sparyd for all the rest, and shall not be traynyd at all, nor yett amend anye of them, and besyde your armyd men shalbe browght for the only twyse, but your shott [artillery] must be traynyd four days. Also yow must spare me four boemen and no more. Thus I will commend yow to God and geve you notice of the day at some other tyme as we can be preparyd, but I think yt will not be above seven days. Brokethall this 2 of June."

Another Letter on the same subject, written originally by John Brokett, but signed, at a later time and in another ink, by John Cutts; and addressed, "To our very loving frend Mr. Mayor of St. Albones theis."—"Sir For that upon Monday nexte the Sessions is apoynted at Hertford, and upon the Tuesday folowynge is nowe apoyntyd your Session Day at Seynt Albons for the Libertye, we have apoyntyd upon Wednesday folowynge being the xvth day of this instant for our trayning. Therfor I pray yow apoynt sitche men as we have allredy traynyd to stend upon me apoyntyd to be theyr capteyn, as also xv of your "ablest men armyd with coraslettes with theyr pikes. I take your number of qualivers is xxii, and also we desiar yow to apoynt me fowr of the ablest bowe men in all your towne, and they all to be redy in Keye Field by six of the cloke in the fornone. Thus mutche I hoope shall be sufficient unto yow to have all well apoyntyd, as owr trust is in yow. Written from London this 6 of Juli. Your loving fryndes John Brokett John Cutts. For the chargis you know I shall not need to sett downe, having yowr number certyn." There are also some other letters by Sir John Brokett, or by Brokett and Cutts, on the same subject.

A Letter, addressed "To my loving frind Mr. Maior of St. Alban's, and to the rest of his brethren:" it is signed "F. Bedford" (Francis, Earl of Bedford, 1554-85) but the body of the letter is written in another hand. It is dated "From Bedford House the 29 of January" but no year is named. The letter is as follows, the "Lord Keeper" referred to being, no doubt, Sir Nicholas Bacon:—"After my right harty commendacions unto yow. Good Mr. Maior, here is an ould servaunt of my Lord Keeper's, a good honest man, hath a sute unto yow, that yt would please yow to examin one Dorothy Grymes upon certayne thinges he shall declare unto yow. And I am to desier yow that yow would accomplish his request heriu, and to show him your lawfull favour in this matter. And if yow do him my pleasure heriu for my sute, I shall think myself beholding unto yow. And so do bid yow right heartely ffarewell. . . . (Postscript) Yf his matter be good, I pray yow do what yow can for him, and not otherwayes."

A Letter, addressed "To our vearie lovinge frend the Maior and his bretherne of the towne of Sainte Albones," signed by Sir John Brokett and John Cutts, already mentioned. "Mr. Maior Knowinge that in all ages and by her Majestys lawes victuall is to be provided and killed for the sicke and suche as by the lawe shall be licenced to eate fleshe in Lente, and for that Roger Beche, one of your townes men, a butcher, is desirous of your favour, and hath made meanes to us that we wolde entreate your good will in the granting of him your licence to kill fleshe this Lent according as he was appointed thereunto the laste yeare. These are to praie yow the rather for our sakes to graunte his suite, in which doinge you geve us occasion to requite the same in anny of your semblable requestes. And so we presume of your brothers assent herein. Thus we bidd you hartely farewell. From Brokett Hall, this seconde daie of Marche 1583. Yowr assuryd fryndes John Brokett John Cutts."

A paper writing, containing three folio pages of accounts for training soldiers at St. Alban's in 1585. The items are very numerous; among them the following perhaps deserve notice.—"First payd to Richard Laurence corporal to the qualivers [calivers] for two days wagis. . . vs. Item, payd for ii li. of powder and two peeces of matche, allowed to the said Richard Lawrence for two dayes iis. iiiid. Item, payd to th drommer for his two dayes wagys iiiis. Item, payd for wagys to xiii men traned in coraslettes xiiis. Item, payd to Barnaby Lawrence for makynge of hoose and dublettes for ii men xiiis. vd. Item, paid to Mr. Peetre for a rapier iiiis. viiid. Item, payd to the cutlar for mending Mr. Cartar's qualiver viiid. Item, payd for a flaxe and a tutche box, that weare burned at Nomansland iis."—"Flaxe" was probably a "flask" for gunpowder.]—The account ends with items constituting the "Charges of the setting up of the beaçon."

In a small bundle of accounts pinned together, and all belonging apparently to the Mayoralty of Mr. Babb, in 1583, is the following: it shews how the Justices and Commissioners, present at the muster, fared:—"The note of the chargis at the dynnare for the Justises and Comysioners, with ther mene, at the muster. Item, halfe a bussell of oystars xd. For buttore xxd. For lunge [ling] and grene fyse, or habberdene iiiis. iiiid. For boylid veyle and bacone, xxd. For boyled befe and for ii legges of muttone, iiiis. vid. For veyle roasted, and lame, and capons iii, and on [one] henne at xviis. vid. For a pegg [pig] and fresshe samone, and ii trouttes, and eyles [eels] in brothe, viiis. iiiid. For iii rochattes [piper fish] in brothe, for iii had-dockes, and iii sawlte eyle, iiiis. vid. For quense [quince] pyes and aples tartes, and fegges, and almons, fruit and chese, vd. Brede and bere xs. vid. For wyne viii pottles and iii pynttes, wherof viii pottles and a quart of clarett wyne and a pottle and a pynt of sacke, ix. iid. Sume is iii li. viiis. id.

CORPORATION OF ST. ALBAN'S.

CORPORATION OF ST. ALBAN'S.

The following is an account for the Sessions Dinner in 1579.—“A not of all the chargis for the Sessions “Dyner kept for the borrounge the xvi day of Decem-“bei anno regni Domine Regine Elizabethæ xxii”. “In primis, for veal, befe, and legges of mutton, xs. “Item, for ii gyese and ii pygges vs. vii. Item, for “peper, suger, fruites, and other spices to backe the “chinepyes and venison, xs. vii. Item, for two “couple of flatt rabbettes iis. Item, for iiii capons to “boyle and roste, vs. Item, for purtreges, wooddcokes, “and larkes, iiii. Item, for suett to bake the veneson “and other thinges iiii. Item, for egges to make “whit brothe vid. Item, for warden pyes apele “tartes, iiii. i. Item, for clarett wyne and sacke, vis. “Item, for flour to bake the pyes, xii. Item, for wine, “ale, and beare, viis. vid. Item, paid to under cokes “and torn spittes, xvi. Summa lixs. xd.”

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

CORPORATION OF SANDWICH.

THE CORPORATION OF SANDWICH.

Upon the occasion of a short visit recently paid by me to the town of Sandwich, by the kind courtesy of the Worshipful the Mayor, R. Joynes Emmerson, Esqre., to whom I am desirous of here expressing my obligations, I was afforded an opportunity of seeing the archives which are preserved in the Town Hall there. So far as my researches extended, I am able to say that they are, for the most part, in fair condition, and that, as compared with those of some other corporate bodies, they seem to have been carefully preserved. The contents of the more ancient among them have already been exhaustively described by the late Mr. W. Boys, a Jurat of the town, in his able and interesting work, Collections for a History of Sandwich: such being the case, I felt myself precluded from entering upon anything like a close examination of them, as a detailed description of their contents would only have been a needless repetition of what has been for now nearly a century patent to the public. The following are a few details, relative to the earlier volumes containing the municipal records of the place, both as a town and as a member of the Cinque Ports, which, for the most part, are not to be found in Boys's work.—

The “Custumal” of Sandwich, is a small quarto volume, of 76 leaves of vellum or parchment, bound in the old wooden boards, which have now come loose, and stand in need of repair. Many of the pages are soiled, but nowhere illegible, and it may be said to be in very fair condition throughout. A large portion of the book, which is in Latin, has been translated by Boys in his work, and he has the following remarks upon it in his Preface:—“Part of it was copied from a more “ancient manuscript, written by Adam Champneys in “the year 1301; and was transcribed in the beginning “of Edward the Fourth's reign by John Serles, Town “Clerk of Sandwich, who has interwoven with the “older work many observations and customs of his “own time, and introduced charters and letters patent “of dates subsequent to 1301. So much as was written “by Mr. Serles is in a fair text hand, with very frequent mistakes; but many entries have been made “since his time by different Town Clerks.”

The oldest of the Year Books, or Journals of Corporation transactions,—and the oldest volume now in the possession of the Corporation—is the Black Book, or Old Black Book, a large folio volume, with paper leaves, and bound in old embossed leather. Pasted on the inside, at the beginning of the volume, there is the following note, in the hand of Boys, the historian of Sandwich:—“This book originally contained 318 folios, “in which are the following deficiencies, anno 1817. “Folio 1, a small fragment only remaining. Folio 2 “tattered, and a small part gone. Folios 13 and 19 “missing. Folios 71 and 84, tattered. Folios 85, 143, “144, 145, 158, 159, 270, 271, 317, missing.” The entries begin in 1432 temp. Henry VI., and end in 1487, 8 (temp. Henry VII.), the third mayoralty of William Salmon. It has been borrowed from by Boys, in his work already mentioned; but there is much matter in it, of course, which he has not extracted.

The White Book is the next of the Year Books, a thick folio of originally 378 leaves of paper, and generally in good condition. Boys has inserted, on the first leaf, a paper with the following note:—“Folios missing “in the year 1817, 53, 54, 55, 104, 137, 148, 149, 173, “187, 188, 291—300, 307, 355, 364, 374, 375, 376, 377.” On the first leaf is written, in German text, in a comparatively modern hand,—“The Yeare Booke called

“the White Booke 1488.” The first four or five leaves are eaten away somewhat by mildew. Its contents end with the Mayoralty of Roger Manwood in 1526.

The next is, as inscribed on the first leaf, “The Yeare “Book, called the old Red Booke,” a thick paper folio volume of 251 leaves, bound in old calf: it has suffered considerably from damp. It begins in 1527, and ends with the Mayoralty of Thomas Mucklewick, in 1551. The binding, of embossed leather, not improbably, was once red, but now it is a deep brown.

The next of the Year Books is the Little Black Book; a smaller folio, of 376 leaves of paper, in fair condition, bound in old black embossed calf. It begins with the Mayoralty of Thomas Menesse in 1552, and ends with that of John Tyson in 1567.

The new Red Book follows, a thick folio, in fair condition, with paper leaves, bound in black embossed calf, now in tatters. It begins in 1568, John Tysar being the Mayor, and ends with the Mayoralty of Richard Porridge, in 1581.

The next is the “Year Book called A and B,” a large folio, in good condition, containing 379 leaves, in old black embossed calf. It begins with the Mayoralty of Stephen Rucke, in 1582, and ends with that of William Wood, in 1608. This volume is strengthened on the inside of the binding with part of an ancient Service Book, containing anthems, written in very large characters, with musical notation, and finely illuminated.

The next is the New Black Book, or Book C and D, a large folio, in good condition, containing 441 leaves of paper, bound in embossed leather. It commences in 1608, William Harflete being Mayor, and ends with the Mayoralty of George Wood, in 1642.

Book E and F, containing 445 leaves of paper, in good condition, bound in old rough calf. It begins with the Mayoralty of Henry Forstall, in 1642, and ends, in 1730, with that of Harflete Spratt.

Book G and H, a large folio, in good condition, containing about 460 leaves (the later ones not paginated) bound in old rough calf. It begins with the Mayoralty of Peter Crickett in 1731, and ends with that of Peter Rolfe, in 1828.

An old folio volume, containing about 300 leaves of paper, some in bad condition, bound in what is now in tatters, but was once black embossed leather. It contains records of fines, and other conveyances of property, acknowledgments by married women, to bar dower, records of wills registered, and copies of various other documents. Its earliest entry belongs to the 20th year of Henry the Eighth, (A.D. 1529), and its latest occurs in the Mayoralty of Henry Forstall, in 1642.

In addition to the above, and some other volumes of Corporation Accounts which do not call for notice, there are a considerable number of miscellaneous letters and papers belonging to the Corporation; which, in general, bear marks of having been preserved with care. At some period in, probably, the earlier half of last century, they seem to have been collected, and to some extent, perhaps, assorted, and placed in three portfolios, one of large, and two of smaller, size. On the inside of each of these portfolios there is pasted a summary, or rather, what professes to be a summary, of its contents, in the handwriting of Boys, the historian of Sandwich, previously mentioned. These summaries, so far as they go, appear to be correct; but they are mostly written in so concise and so perfunctory a manner, that, without reference to the document itself, their meaning is not to be easily understood. The following is a brief description of such among these letters and documents, as seem to be the most deserving of notice:—

In the larger portfolio.—

Process of Witherzam, issued from Folkestone 1626, two papers.

A Certiorari from Dover Castle, signed by William Brooke, Lord Cobham, Constable of Dover Castle, and Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, 16th century.

An assessment towards the 15th, in the 34th Edward III., in French, on paper; nine-tenths illegible from damp. A fragment only is left of the impressed seal, that of the Mayoralty of Sandwich.

Return, in Latin, on paper, to the Lord Warden's mandate to distrain John Hubbard, holder of the office of King's butler in the port of Sandwich.

A list, in Latin, on paper, of names of the Barons of Sandwich not contained in the certificate of Sir William Morant and others, Collectors of the duties on wools granted to the King, in Kent; writing of the 14th century.

Certificate, in Latin, of the Collectors of Customs in Sandwich in 1367, on paper, and mutilated.

Appointment by the Crown of supervisors of malt and "bere," 4th year of Edward IV. [A.D. 1464, 5]; on paper, in Latin, imperfect.

Mandate by Henry, Prince of Wales, (afterwards Henry VIII.), as Constable of Dover Castle, and Admiral of the Cinque Ports, as to the coin of England. In English, finely written, and nearly perfect.

Copy of a Petition of the Mayor and Jurats of New Romney to William Brooke, Lord Cobham, Lord Warden, as to their right to use process of Withernam against towns in France and Flanders; in English, on paper, date 1560.

Incorporation of the Shoemakers of Sandwich, in 1562, on parchment, in English, imperfect.

A Composition made between the Cinque Ports and the Lord Warden, William Brooke, Lord Cobham, in 1574, on eight large folio leaves of paper.

Draught of a lease by Roger Manwood to John Paramor, of the Tower house, or turret, which the said Roger holds by the grant or demise of Thomas Smythe of Ostenhanger, Esquire. The tenant is not to meddle, with the game of coney in the warren there; on paper, 16th century.

Order made by the Lord Warden for restoring the commons of the town of Sandwich, and the parishioners of St. Peter's, to their voices, or votes, for the non-suiting of a cause in Chancery; and for establishing the companies of Woollendrapers, Linendrapers, Mercers, and Taylors, there; in English, on parchment, date 1628: signed "Theo: Suffolke;" Theophilus Howard, Earl of Suffolk, the then Lord Warden.

Warrant, (in English, and finely written), for convening the Vintners, Cooks, Innholders, and others, to take licenses, and enter into recognizances.

A list of grievances, submitted by the Cinque Ports to the Lord Warden, Theophilus, Earl of Suffolk, in the 5th year of Charles the First.

Draught of a Petition of the Free Barons, or Free men, of the town of Sandwich to the House of Commons, to be restored to their "voices" in elections; on paper, without date.

Draught of a Petition of the Commons of Sandwich to the Privy Council, to the like effect; on two leaves of paper, without date.

Copy of a return made by the Mayor of Faversham to a writ of Habeas Corpus, from Westminster; to the effect, "quod non currit in Portubus"—that it does not run in the Ports.

A very long sheet of parchment, containing a list of those who, in these parts, formed an Association for the protection of the person of King William from assassination, in 1696. The signatures, more than 100 in number, bear different dates in June and July in that year.

A Charter, on parchment, much mutilated, and mounted on cotton, as to tronaage on wool; date the 32nd year of Edward the Third; without a seal.

Confirmation of the Charta Forestæ, 28th Edward the First, only some fragments, stretched on cotton; without a seal.

Confirmation of Magna Charta, in the 28th year of Edward the First; in fragments, and mounted on cotton; without a seal.

Confirmation of privileges granted to the Cinque Ports, by King Richard the Third; in fragments, mounted on cloth; without a seal.

In one of the two smaller portfolios, are the following:—

Remonstrance of the Gentry of Kent, with their signatures, Robert Filmer, John Tufton, Jacob Astley, and others, to the Lord Lieutenant, against Sir John Bancks being nominated for Winchelsea, his "person" and principles being so obnoxious to the whole county." It contains, apparently, the genuine signatures, but has no date, and it is doubtful if it was ever sent.

Letter by Sir W. Trumbull, dated, Whitehall 15th October 1696, in favour of Edward Burrell, who "is desiring to stand for a Fellowship in our Colledge," (All Souls, Oxford). Addressed to the then Warden of All Souls.

Letter, signed "E. Winchelsea," with this endorsement, Lady Dowager Winchelsea's Letter to her son-in-law, Doctor L. W. Finch, concerning his Father, "the Earl of W., Ambassador in Turkey."

Letter, signed "Jo: Tillotson 13th September 1689," in reference to some one to whom the King has just given a Prebend of Canterbury; "next to his Majestie, you are greatly obliged to the Earl of Nottingham, for his zeale and concernement for you." It is addressed "To the Honorable Leopold Finch Esq," at Eastwell in Kent."

The Lord Warden's Orders for the reformation of the Government of Sandwich, 1602.

Returns as to corn and malt in the Cinque Ports in 1608, a great number of papers.

Report of the Commissioners for viewing Sandwich Haven in 1559.

Report of Andrian [sic] Andreson, the engineer, thereon.

Petition of the men of Sandwich to the Lord Warden, respecting the Cuts near Retisborough (Richborough); in English, of the 15th century, mutilated.

Report to the Commissioners as to horses, vessels and mariners, in Sandwich, in 1565.

List of vessels employed in fishing at Yarmouth, from Ramsgate; vessels and number of men belonging to Yarmouth, at Sandwich; several papers.

Statement of the refusal of the inhabitants of Brightlingsea (near Colchester, in Essex), to contribute to the expenses of the Brotherhoods, in 1631, they not having been required to do so since the 10th of Elizabeth [A.D. 1568].

Copy of the Corporation's address to Charles the First, with a list of signatures.

Copy of Articles of Misdemeanor exhibited before the King in Council, against Bartholomew Combe, Mayor of Sandwich, in 1682.

Copies of heads proposed to be inserted on the renewal of the great, or general, Charter of the Cinque Ports.

Claim of privileges, in French, by the Barons of the Cinque Ports, at the Coronation, temp. William and Mary.

Documents as to putting in force the Statutes against Papists, in the year 1715.

Quietus in the Exchequer, given to Sir Edward Ryngley, holder of the Lestage, in the 8th year of Henry the Eighth; in Latin, mutilated.

Quietus given to the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, in the 12th year of Elizabeth.

A series of papers containing amercements of the Constable of Dover Castle and others, in the reign of Elizabeth.

Memoranda as to Courts of Shepway, holden from the 26th year of Henry the Sixth [A.D. 1447, 8].

Copy of a Writ of Inquisition as to the Privileges of the Cinque Ports, in the 14th of Edward the Fourth; and Return thereto.

Proceedings of a Generall Brothyrhill, holden at New Romney, on Tuesday "after the close of Easter," in the 6th year of Henry the Seventh: six leaves, the entries in English, in good preservation.

Account of armour in Sandwich, and its members, in 1558.

Report as to the state of the town of Sandwich in 1559.

Paper on the castles and landing-places on the Kentish Coast.

Release by Margaret Udmore [P], in the handwriting of Sir Roger Manwood 1559.

Names of those constituting the Watch at Sandown, without date.

Inquisition as to the number of ships and mariners at Sandwich, in 1561.

Regulations as to the price of Labour, in 1561.

Proceedings of a Court of Guestling, holden at Rye, on the 3rd of January 1597, with the names of those attending there.

Copy of the Lord Warden's patent, 7th of Elizabeth, his right to wreck, and his oath.

The number and families of mariners in Sandwich, without date.

In the other smaller portfolio there is an equal, if not larger, number of documents, mostly belonging to the 16th and 17th centuries. The following are the principal among them:—

An order for mustering the Militia, date 1559.

Letters written by William Brooke, Lord Cobham, Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, to the Mayors, Bailiffs, and Jurats, of the Cinque Ports, in reference to outrages at sea committed by vessels belonging to those ports, date 1560.

Letter written by the same Lord Warden for the due execution of Exchequer Writs in the Cinque Ports, date 1560.

Advice given by Sir Roger Manwood, as Counsel, to the Corporation of Sandwich, to send to the Secretary of State twelve cushions.

Letter sent by the Corporation of Sandwich to Secretary Cecill, with six arras cushions, "the first work of the strangers in the town," meaning, probably, settlers from the Low Countries; they also ask his favour as to their suit for the haven; date 1561.

CORPORATION OF SANDWICH.

Letter from Lord Cobham, the Lord Warden, forbidding the Corporation to meddle with the affairs of the Balliwick; date 1569.

Letter from the same, commanding the Corporation to displace Thomas Thomsone, a Jurat.

Copy of a Letter written by the Mayor and Jurats to the Lord Warden, in reference to a riot at Sandwich; date 1570.

Copy of a Letter to the Lord Warden, in reference to Burgesses to Parliament.

Order from the Lord Warden, for the apprehension of James Grene, a butcher, charged with the murder of one Cryspe, alias Crippes; date 1570.

An account of the proceedings against the person who killed one Cryppes "a warrenner of Mr. Serjeant Love-laces connyes," in "the Downs,"—a farm lying between Sandwich and the sea: addressed to the Lord Warden by the Mayor and Jurats of Sandwich; date 1570.

Letter to the Mayor and Jurats of Sandwich from the Lord Warden, complaining of them for imprisoning his servant, Gilbert Knowles, date 1570.

Letter from Sir Roger Manwood, on Exchequer Writs.

Letter from Lord Cobham, the Lord Warden, being an order to the Mayor and Jurats to stop all vessels and mariners, and return their numbers; date 1570.

Letter signed by J. Taylor, and addressed to Mr. Fagg: in it he says, among other things,—“It shalbe very well that you send my lord the benevolence which the Ports promised my lord at your last being with his Lordship. It shalbe the cause that his Lordship shalbe the better mindfull of you and of your suyte.” The name of the “Lord” here alluded to does not appear; the Lord Warden probably is meant.

A communication from the Lord Warden as to the Militia, and in reference to certain seditious writings, that had been “lost and dispersed in common places,” date 1571.

Letter from Sir Roger Manwood to the Mayor and Jurats, recommending a poor widow to their consideration, date 1571.

Letter from Sir Roger Manwood, on the town's quit-rents, date 1571.

Original order from the Privy Council, for securing the owner of a vessel which had “spoiled the Earl of Worcester”; signed “W. Burghley, R. Leicester, E. Lincoln, T. Sussex,” date 1572.

A similar Letter, ordering the Mayor of Sandwich, Dover, or Feversham, as the case might be, to send up before them one Captain Oliver, accused of piracy, but who said he was acting under the Prince of Orange, in seizing woad going to Rochelle; signed as in the preceding, but “T. Smith” added; date 1572.

Letter to the Mayor of Sandwich:—“After our harty commendacions—Where Samuel Seth, of your towne, by his supplicacon exhibited to us, hath complayned of greate iniurye don unto hym by those of the Bryll, ye shall understande that we all have a verye good mynde to releave the said Seth, and others in like manner wronged in goods or person. And therefore whatsoever yow maye or canne lawfully devise or doe for his or theire reliefe, we doe advise yow, and will yow to doe, assuringe yow that yow shall have the Queenes Majesties lawfull allowance and supportacon of your lawfull doeing therin, with all favor. So fare ye well. From the Courte, the 18 of June. 1573. Your loving friends.” Signed “T. Sussex” [Thomas Ratcliffe, Earl of Sussex] and another. A third signature, probably that of Secretary Walsingham, has been cut off.

Letter from the Lord Warden, as to the number of “hackney horses” to be found in Sandwich, date 1573.

Order by certain County Justices, for the apprehension of Henry Butcher, of Deale, accused of “lewd behaviour” and other offences; signed “Roger Manwood, Edward Boys, Thomas Godwyn,” and “Robert Alcock;” date 1576.

Letter to the Mayor and Jurats of Sandwich from (Secretary) Francis Walsyngham, concerning certain prisoners taken by Mr. Holstoöke, committed to their charge; date 1576.

Commission of Array for levying soldiers to practise archery etc., date 1577.

Copy of a letter from the Privy Council, for enforcing a Sumptuary Law, date 1577.

Letter from the Mayor and Magistrates of Graveling, concerning some persons who had been shipwrecked near Dunkirk: beautifully written, and apparently well expressed as to language, but it has no date.

Letter “to the officers of Sandwich,” with his signature, from Lord Burghley, enjoining them to allow of shipping some wheat for Dover, date 1579.

A paper, signed by certain of the County Justices, complaining of exactions, grievous to the farmers and the County; date 1584.

Letter from Lord Cobham, the Lord Warden, enjoining that 12 ships be furnished by this Cinque Ports for the defence of the Narrow Seas; date 1587.

Letter from Sir Thomas Fane, Lieutenant of Dover Castle, for the relief of sundry bakers, date 1591.

Letter from the same to the Mayor of Sandwich, enjoining that 22 “hackneyes” be provided, “for the use of Mr. Secretary and his trayne,” being in number about 200; date 1597.

Reference, on a dispute between Dover and Sandwich, respecting their proportion of the expenses of furnishing ships, to certain gentlemen of the county.

Letter from Sir Thomas Fane, as to the duty of watching and guarding the beacons on the coast; date 1597.

Letter from Henry, Lord Cobham, Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, on the same subject; date 1597.

Letter from Sir Thomas Fane, Lieutenant of Dover Castle, for mustering the Militia; date 1597.

Letter from Henry, Lord Cobham, Lord Warden, ordering payment of arrears of ship-money; date 1598.

Letter as to arbitration, with the aid of witnesses, in the dispute between Dover and Sandwich about ship-money; date 1598.

Order of the Privy Council for the proclamation of James, King of Scotland, as King of England, 27th March 1603; with about twenty original signatures, the first of which has been cut out.

Copy of a Letter from Henry, Earl of Northampton, Lord Warden, relative to the duties on beer exported; date 1604.

Letter, signed “George Byng,” to William Harleto, Mayor of Sandwich, date 1609.

Paper sent by certain County Justices, concerning the plague at Sandwich, and in reference to the temporary removal of the market; also, in terms of expostulation with those to whom it is sent, who, however, are not named; date 1610.

Various papers relating to the establishment of a Fishery, date 1611.

Letter to the Mayor and Jurats of Sandwich from “the Counsel for Virginia,” concerning the settlement of that colony; and papers relative thereto, with the names of the subscribers to the undertaking; date 1610.

Letter from Edward, Lord Zouch, Lord Warden, to the Mayor of Sandwich; among other things, he says that “he has been afflicted with the payne of the gout;” date 1616.

Letter from the same to the Mayor and Jurats, Commonalty and inhabitants, of Sandwich, requiring a subscription for the King and Queen of Bohemia; date 1620.

Letter from the Privy Council, requiring the Corporation of Sandwich to send some fit person to confer with them about the coin, date 1621. Some of the signatures have been cut out.

Letter from John Philipott, Somerset [Herald], offering himself as a Burgess in Parliament for Sandwich; date 1627.

Letter from Edward Dering, on a matter pending at the Assizes, and the necessity of appearing; date 1630.

Letter from John Philipott, Somerset [Herald], to the Corporation of Sandwich, giving an account of his services; date 1631.

Notices, signed “Dorset” and “Edward Dering,” containing orders to Mayors and others to search for a packet of value, “lately miscared,” for her Majesty's use, and directed to Mr. Robert Oxwick; date 1631.

Fragment (not easily intelligible) of an order from the Privy Council, dated July 1632.

An order, signed by Edward Master, for payment of Ship-money, at Canterbury, 1st of March 1633 (9).

Letter from John Manwood, offering himself as a Burgess in Parliament for Sandwich; dated from Dover Castle, 29th December 1639.

Letter from Secretary Edward Nicholas to the Mayor of Sandwich, ordering him—“to stop Dr. Tyrrel, an antient Irish priest, and one Burck, another Irish priest, of about 40 years old, and of a middle stature, who weares a greene cloth sute and a periwig, and coming over from France or other parts beyond the seas, and having the repute of dangerous instrumentes . . . with no good intentions to this kingdom;” date 1641.

POLA-
NS OF DWICH.

Letter from Edward Partriche, as to proceedings in Parliament, date 1641.

Copy of papers on propositions made for an Association of certain Counties, 23rd January 1642 (3).

Order, (signed by H. Elsinge, Clerk,) made in Parliament, for choosing a new Town Clerk for Sandwich; Robert Jager, the late Town Clerk, having been committed to Newgate by the House, for misdemeanour committed by him against the Parliament.

Regulations proposed by the County Justices, to prevent the spread of the plague, date 1644.

Letter from Edward Partheriche, as to a Fast appointed, date 1646.

Letter from John Boys, Deputy Lieutenant of Dover Castle, with injunctions to secure the person of the Duke of York, who is expected to embark in woman's apparel; date 1648.

Letter written by Algernon Sydney, (without date beyond 16th July, but probably when he was Governor of Dover Castle), as to the town of Sandwich taking no money from his company, when on the march.

Two letters from Thomas Harrison, of the Rainbow, in the Downs, date 1650. He says that Mullett, "that noted Cavalier, is at present in your harbour, ready fitted with 5 or 6 guns, pretending to go to New-castle."

Letter from Edward Brooke, of Magdalen College, Oxford, wherein he declines an invitation to serve the town of Sandwich, "in the great work of the ministry;" date 1652.

Notice of the Charter of Sandwich having been called in by the Committee for Corporations, signed "Samuel Blgrave"; date 1652.

Letter signifying encouragements given for sailors; signed "R. Salwey, Jo: Carew," at Whitehall; date 1652.

Warrant, signed "Oliver," the Lord Protector, enjoining that persons shall be stopped, who attempt to pass the seas without license; date 1654.

Notice of an embargo temporarily laid on shipping; signed by order of Council, 16th of March, 1655.

Letter from Thomas Kelsey to the Mayor and Jurats of Sandwich, as to differences in the town about performing Divine Service, date 1656.

Letter from Thomas Seymour, Speaker of the House of Commons, enjoining the attendance of Members in the House: without date.

Opinion of "Counsel" (Thomas Londlaw) as to the jurisdiction of the Cinque Ports at Yarmouth; 13th September 1558.

Letter of William Lockhart, commending the care of sick soldiers, from Dunkirk, date 1658.

The following documents, which did not come under my notice when at Sandwich, have since been named to me by Mr. Dorman.—

Two Grants, bearing date respectively 1295 and 1345.

Sign Manual of King Richard the Third.

The taking of Sanctuary by one guilty of murder, 1487.

Taxation of the Barons of Fordwich, in 1542.

It would be an omission on my part, were I to neglect this opportunity of expressing the obligations I am under to Thomas Dorman, Esqre., a member of the Corporation of Sandwich, for his good offices rendered me on the occasion of my taking these notes; in the way of giving me much useful information in reference to the records and past history of this ancient town.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

HARTLAND.

THE PARISH DOCUMENTS OF HARTLAND, N. DEVON.

(Second Report.)

Since my preceding Report upon the Church books belonging to this Parish, a large collection of additional documents, probably near one hundred in number, have been forwarded to the Commission, for examination, by the Revd. Mr. Chope, the Vicar of the Parish. Upon inspection, many of them have been found to be deeds and papers of the last two centuries, of an ordinary routine character, belonging to the "Governors" and feoffees of the Church lands and goods; while many others are indentures of parish apprenticeship, orders made for ratings, bonds and orders made on affiliation and for settlement, parish discharges for paupers, attorneys' bills, and certificates of seisin, belonging to the 17th and 18th centuries. The following is a description of most of those documents which bear an earlier date.—

HARTLAND.

A Catalogue, or list, of documents, beautifully written, with the following heading:—"The 8th of May 1663; "recd then of the 24 Governors of the Parishes of "Hartland thirtie seaven particulars hereunder written, "as followeth." To these 37, three more are added in a later hand: out of all the items mentioned in it, bonds, leases, and depositions, only five or six seem to have survived.

The only deeds among these surviving documents, with any fair pretensions to antiquity, (one belonging to the reign of Mary excepted), are but three in number, as follow.—A parchment deed, in Latin, bearing date the 30th of October in the 23rd year of Henry VII. [A.D. 1507], clearly written, in good condition, with the parchment thong still appended, but the seal lost. It is a feoffment made by Thomas Knapman, reciting that Thomas Dalyn, of Luttisford, and Robert Rawe, had conveyed, on the 28th of August in the 16th year of King Edward IV., to the said Thomas Knapman, jointly with Philip Beaumont, Esquire, John Denys of Orleigh, William Coffyn, Thomas Cutlyff, John Coke the younger, John Leyman, John Clyff, and Thomas Veyle, all now deceased, certain lands and tenements in Yeryche, in the parish of West Putford, in the county of Devon, lands lately held by Isabel Pudding, in Chepyng Torton, and a tenement in which Batina, late the wife of Robert Gifford, lately dwelt, with 12 acres and their appurtenances, in Herton, and a tenement near "Herton Mille," which Alice Bagilhole lately held, in the parish of Hertland. He now gives and demises the same to Laurence Cutlyff, Thomas Docton junior, Laurence Prust of Ilmycote, John Husband, John Veyle, and John Draper; making Hugh Prust and William Blanchard his attorneys to deliver seisin. The witnesses are, Richard Lorymer, Abbot of Hertland, Louis Pollard, John Prust, Peter Cawode, and others. "Given "at Hertland," date as above. This deed is chiefly of interest for the names of persons which it contains, Denys, Gifford, Coffyn, and the Abbot. It is endorsed "12," and is so numbered in the old "Catalogue" previously mentioned.

A lease, on parchment, in Latin, in duplicate; being the lessee's part and the lessors' counterpart, the two seals of the one, and the one seal of the other, being lost; whereby the above-named Laurence Cutlyffe, and John Husband, of Gawliche, gentleman, Feoffees of the lands of the parish church of Stoke St. Nectan the Martyr, of Hartland, in the county of Devon, lease to Richard Chauntrell of Hartland, a tenement called "Cawlehouse," or "Colehouse," in the borough of Harton in the parish aforesaid, for a term of 70 years, at a yearly rent of 2 shillings. Dated the 15th of April, in the 36th year of King Henry VIII. [A.D. 1545]. It is endorsed "15," and is so entered in the old Catalogue previously mentioned.

A parchment deed, indented, in Latin, the two seals lost; whereby the two Feoffees above-named, in consideration of 40 shillings, give leave to Agnes Bagilhole to rebuild a messuage in the borough of Harton, she paying them a yearly rent of 8 shillings, as also, in their name and behalf, a yearly rent of 9s. 7d. to the chief lord of the premises: remainder, after the decease of, or surrender by, the said Agnes, to William Botteler and Joan, his wife, for their lives, and the life of the longest liver, on the terms before-mentioned. They also appoint Philip Olyver, and William Bagylhole, of Loveland, their attorneys to give seisin and possession. Dated the 3rd of February, in the second year of King Edward VI. [A.D. 1548].

A paper-writing, dated 17th of March 1634 (bearing reference to ship-money, the cause of so many troubles in those times), being a precept of Sir Thomas Drewe, Sheriff of Devon, to the Constables of Hartland, and to William Atkinson, Charles Yeo, and Laurence Deyman, "Collectors by me appoynted for his Majesties "service, for gettinge forth of shipping for his Majesties service." The persons, he states, thereunder named, "doe obstynately and rebelliously refuse to "paye such reasonable sommes of money as hath bene "by me assessed on them for and towards the advancement of his Majesty's service, in gettinge forth of "shipping for the better safeguard of his Majesty's "subjects against robbers and pyrates both of sea and "land . . . to the dishartninge of his Majesties "lovinge subjectes, and evill example of others who "may thereby take encouragement to adventure the "like rebellious and obstinate refusall." Injunctions are then given to levy the money by distrain on the recusants' goods. Among the nine who have so refused to pay, are named Thomas Cooke, assessed for 3l. 6s. 8d., and John Ippthorne 12 shillings. The surname of

HARTLAND.

"Lapthorne," in connexion probably with a member of the same family, will be found mentioned in the further account given of the Portledge documents, in this Report.

In reference to this subject, and the John Lapthorne above-mentioned, the following occurs;—a diminutive torn letter, sealed, and addressed,—“To my very cosine Mr. Phillip Elston, at the 6 Clarks Office in Chancery Lane dd;” and endorsed in a contemporary hand,—“Mr. Sherriff’s discharge of Lapthorne and Ferrets ship-mony.” It is probably the Sheriff’s own writing, and is as follows.—“I woulde have you to forbear the levieng of xs. [? xii] upon John Lapthorne, milner [miller], and six shillings upon John Ferrett in Hartland, servante unto Hughe Priest, untill you receave farther directions from me Tho: Drewe. This 20th of Marche 1634.”

A small paper-writing of the end of Elizabeth’s reign; belonging to the time when the parish provided, not coffins, but shrouds, for the poor, when carried to the grave; headed,—“A note of such shrowdes as weare delivered.” There are eight items, the following three among them.—“Imprimis Riches wife hade iiiii yeardes of creas at xd. per yeard, iiis. iiiid., in threed id. Prustes daughter had iii yeardes and half of creas at xd.—iis. xid., in threed id. The ould man Ashton had iiiii yeardes of creas at xd.—iiis. iiiid., in threed id.” The texture here spoken of is elsewhere written “crease.”

A paper, written in a diminutive hand, being an original set of Church Treasurer’s Accounts for the year 1638, 9. In the Account itself, the following is the only entry of interest.—“To enquire who was buried in the church and not paid for. Those that have a tombstone laid over them are to pay xs., the rest vis. viiid., according to an order. Suzan Tooker, and for putting a stone on her. Thomasine Larimar, Anne Hardwicke, Nicholas Velly gent., Christopher Nicholl.” On the outside is the following endorsement, followed by eleven signatures.—“The second day of November anno Domini 1639. It is agreed on, that John Gibbins shall before Christmas next erect and new build upon the roodloffe in our church, on both sides of the organs there, so many seates as the same will conveniently containe; and the said John is to have the benefit of the first sitting of the same for the terme of their lives that shalbe therein respectively placed, and for their only use that shalbe so placed; and that the said John shall not nominate or place any one in any of the said seates without the approbation and consent of the 24 governors of the Parishes church of Hartland or the most part of them, and each one that shall sit in any of the said seates, to be erected as aforesaid, is to pay yearly towards the reparation of the said Parish church one penny.”

A loose paper, headed,—“The Constable Cookes accompt for the Militia, for a monthes pay towards the payment of the foote souldiers in August 1651.” There seems to be no entry of any interest in it.

A loose paper, headed,—“The rate appointed to be collected for the reparation of the Parish church of Hartland. Northgather 1634.” It gives a list of all the hamlets or districts within the Parish, with all the householders therein, beginning with Abbey Berry, in which Nicholas Luttrell heads the list with xxii. vid. Blackpoole mill, Martadon, Tichbury, and Blegbery, follow, with some other places. John Lapthorne occurs under Harton Mill, being assessed at ii pence. The divisions for collecting the church moneys, it may be here observed, were styled “Northgather, Westgather,” and “Middlegather.”

Two loose papers, pinned together, of Churchwardens’ Accounts for 1638, 9. Among the items are,—“Paid Mr. Atkins’ man for three wild cats’ heads, xiiid. Paid Honry Smeath for a feesches [fitches] head iid. Paid the doggwhipper vid. Paid Hugh Hollaford for amending a twest of the vanne [? vane] iiiid. Those that have a tombstone laid over them are to pay xs., the rest vis. viiid., according to an order.”

A loose paper, containing an account of John Bond and Richard Hockaday, Churchwardens, from Easter 1639 to Easter 1640; the first item being,—“May 30th. Laid out at Torrington, at the Officialis Court, being questioned because perambulations were neglected in the parishe, in the Rogation weeke, iis. vid.” Another is,—“September 8th. Paid William Shepheard’s wife for meate, drinke, and lodging, for x Iriahe people, for their supper and breakfast iis. Decr 19th. Paid John Hollaford for suitables and neales [nails] for the poore man’s box iiiid. January 6. Paid for ii foxe heads iis. January 9. Paid to our xi Iriahe people xiiid. March 2. Paied the apparitor for a article Booke vid. Paid Richard Pearse for xvi gallands one quarte and one pinte of wine at 12d. ob. the quarte iiiid. viiid. The various items of wine in this year’s Account, (partly tent, at 20d. the quart, and partly inferior wine), amount to the apparently large aggregate, when added together, of 24½ gallons.

Some Churchwardens’ miscellaneous Accounts and memoranda, sewed together, belonging to the 13th and 14th years of James the First.

A large mass of loose quires, in perhaps twenty different parts, each containing from 12 to 20 leaves on the average: some in a tattered condition, and some in good preservation. These fragments having been put together by me, and arranged in chronological order, have proved to be portions of what was originally an Account-book of Church expenses, beginning in the year 1597; the original purchase of which, as one of its earliest entries, will be found mentioned in the sequel. The first leaf is detached, and somewhat injured by damp, commencing with the following heading.—“Hartland Church. The Accompte of William Hooper, William Atkyn of Blegbery, John Seecombe, and Rychard Yeo, governors of the goodes of the Parish Church of Hartland, from the feast of All Sayntes, in the yeare of our Lorde God one thousand five hundred nynety and seven untill the same feast then nexte followinge, beinge the yeare wherein the said William Atkyn did the office [of Paymaster], and the seconde yeare of their office, as followeth.”—The book continues down to the year 1706, and contains the yearly accounts of the successive Churchwardens, as well as the Governors. Speaking in general terms, the principal items that occur in it, are minutes of expenditure upon the church bells, which were being repeatedly re-cast or repaired; expenses (at an earlier date) of repairing or renewing the “church armour,” consisting of “musquets,” pikes, swords, daggers, and corslets; supplies of sacramental wine, which was bought sometimes at hand, and sometimes fetched from Northam, Clovelly, Bideford, or even Launceston; expenditure for stone or lead, the latter of which was brought from Bristol, and landed either at Northam, or “Clovelly Key;” expenditure for the repeated renewals of the “shindles,” or wooden tiles, for the roof of the church, purchases of which were made, some thousands at a time, and a “shindle-house” was appropriated for their storage; and rewards given for the killing of wild-cats, foxes, grays, and fitches. The volume is nearly perfect, there being but few interruptions from the loss of leaves; and its entries amount to several thousands in number: the following are some few extracts from them.—

In the Account for 1597, 8.—“Item, paid for a booke sent from the Archdeacon, when her Majesties fleete went to the sea iiiid. Paid to George Husbände for three bullett bagges for the three churche muskettes xiiid. Geven to a poore man that had a licence under the Greate Seale to begg vid. Paid for lace to fasten the lyninge of the morians belonging to the churche corslettes, and for priming yrons for the churche muskettes iid. Paid to George Pruste for carriage of one of the churche muskettes to Torrington, att the trayninge, and home again vid. Paid to Roger Syncocke for mendinge the head of one of the churche pikes id. Paid [at the Archdeacon’s Visitation] for Peter’s farthinges [sometimes written ‘farthing’ only] and somner’s fee xxd. Paid for a hilt and handle, and a scabert for a sworde, and for mendinge a dagger of the church iis. Paid for respite untill Christmas to make a Register booke in parchment, of those that are borne, weded [sic], and buried, in this parish iiiid. Given at Torrington to the souldiers impreste for Ireland, for their dynner xiiid. Paid att Exon for a corslett furnished, and iii muskettes furnished, haveinge one dagger [fixed probably, for use as a bayonet], and for a pike vii. xiiis. Paid for this accompte booke, boughte att Exon by John Abbatt and by hym brought home for noughte iiiis. Paid for a girdle and hanginges for one of the churche armors, xiiid. In the Account for 1598, 9.—“Paied for two ‘Quorum nomina’ iiiis. [repeatedly entered afterwards as ‘Coram nomina’] iiiis. Paid for a xi yeardes and a quarter of dowllesse, at xiiid. the yeard, to make a paire of surples xiiis. id. Paid to John Frier for keepinge the dogges out of the churche this yeare iis. Paid the xth of November 1598 for the carriage of iii men’s armor at Torrington, when the souldiers went into Ireland xiiid. Paid for the amendinge of one of the churche calivers, with a morian, flaske, and toch box [touch box] and other furniture for the same

LAYD. "xs. viid."—The "church armor" was carried at this time to Woolfardisworthie and to Buckland Brewer, "att the trayning."—"Paid more for the carriage of gunpowder, matche, and some parte of the armor from Hartland to South Tavistocke, when the souldiers went firste to Plymmouthe iis. viid. Paid att Plymmouthe for two swordes for the pyoners iis. iiiid. Paid for a blacke bill for the pyoners iis. iiiid. Paid for a passpote for those that brought home the horses from Southe Tavistock, which the souldiers did ride, when they went firste to Plymmouthe xiid. Paid for singinge bookes for the churche, viz., the Psalmes and other godlie bookes in fower and five partes vis." Account for 1599, 1600,—"Paid to Robert Winter for keeping the church yeast [gate] vid. Paid for two yeardes of inkle [small tape] id. Paid for a lock to put on the post nagg xd. [sic in MS., not 'bagg,' meaning, probably, the post horse]." Account for 1600, 1,—"Received for two souldiers coates, a olde surplus, and a raquett, of the churche goodes, which were solde vis. viiid. Paid to Richard Yeo for strappes for the Booke of Comon Prayer id. Paid for a booke containing the Queenes Injunctions, for the parishe vid. Paid to her Majesty's Purveior for this parishe xviis. vid. Paid for two calivers for the parish, for Ireland "service vis."—"When the souldiers set out on this occasion, it would seem that it was from Barnstaple."—"Paid to the same Philippe [Maye] for takeinge out of the base of the crosse iis.;"—"a rooting up of the church-yard cross, in all probability, is meant. Account for 1601, 2,—"Given towards the reedifyinge of a towne consumed with fire iis. iiiid. Paid for a fox head to Mr. Coffin's huntsman xiid. Paid to the outler for a chape for a sworde, makenge cleane of the same, and mendinge of a flaske viiid. Geven to Mr. Haswill, the preacher, for preachinge two tymes in our churche vs."—"Peter's farthings" are again paid, at the Archdeacon's Visitation.—"Given towards the relief of Richard Grafton, deceased in her Majesty's service vs. Paid for an arminge sword vis. Paid to Alice Deyman and Richard Waldon, in goeing to Exon to geve evidence against Radegon Yeo, being arraigned for murdering of her childe, at the last Assizes, towards their expences vis. viiid." From entries about this time, it would seem to have been much the custom for poor persons to leave a sheep to the church, by will. Account for 1602, 3,—"Paid for a glasseinge bottle [merely meaning, a glass bottle] to carry wyne in viiid. Paid for a sandglasse xviid. Paid to William Maye for setting of a litle borde by the chauncell dore for the sandglasse to stand on id. Paid to Hugh the Glasier for glasses for the litle squinches of the tower xd. Paid for the travell and expences of Richard Ellacott in comminge to viewe one of the church windowes, beinge ruinous viiid." Account for 1603, 4,—"Paid for the bringing of a letter for the collection towards the reliefe of Geneva vid. Geven towards the collection for Geneva xis." Foxes' heads are very frequently brought in at this time: and notices of the "church armor" become of less frequent occurrence.—"Paid to Peter Blagdon by the consent of the Churchwardens, for the seatings of the churche xl. xvs. vid. It is agreed by Mr. Abbott and the reste of the xxiiiith present at this accompt, that the said Peter Blagdon shall repay the said xl. xvs. vid. about Shrovetide next, or before, if there be occasion for the use of it to be imploied for the church; and the same so required by Mr. Abbott and Mr. Docton:"—"a singular arrangement, and one hardly advantageous, it would seem, to Peter Blagdon; a doubt probably existed as to the legality of the payment. Account for 1604, 5,—"Paid to Richard Yeo for shrowdes for those who died at Forswill and others, as it appeareth by his bill shewed att this accompt xxviis. iid. Paid for a booke of Constitutions and Cannons Ecclesiasticall xvd. Paid for a bottle of glasse xviid. Paid for a tynninge bottle [bottle made of tin] xvid. For a standing pot of tynne to put wyne in, att the tyme of the Communion vis." Account for 1605, 6,—"Paid to William Maye for amending the billowes [bellows] and certaine pipes of the organs xiid. Geven to Mr. Maye's sonnes for their attendance in singing in the church xiid. Paid to Steven Beare for comminge for the money collected for the decayed churches and chapples vid."—"in the North of England, as we learn from the next account, vis. viiid. being the sum there named as being collected on two occasions. Account for 1606, 7,—"Paid for 7 yeardes and a half of dowlas to make the clarkes surplus, at 15d. the yard, xs. iiiid. Geven towards the reedifying of Collompton xvd. Geven to-

HARTLAND. wards the building of the steeple of St. Sidwill's neere Exon iis. iiiid. Geven to the ringers on the 5th of August xs. Paid to Nicholas Cholwill for a graies head xiid." In the Account for 1607, 8, occurs this item, for the first time,—"Paid to the ringers the vth of November 1608, vs.;" also,—"Paid to the ringers the 24th of March, viis." [the day on which King James succeeded to the English Crown.] "Paid for the expences of the wardens and questmen, att the Bishopes Visitation, viis. iiiid. Geven to the singing boyes xiid. Paid for the diall on the church wall iiiid." Account for 1608, 9,—"Paid for the Communion table xs. Paid for the carriage thereof from Clovelly xiid. Paid for a matt for Mr. Dove to kneel on iiid."—"Mr. Dove, it may be remarked, was the amanuensis and accomptant of the parish, and it is in his handwriting, there is every reason for concluding, that the present entries are made. — Account for 1609, 10,—"Geven to two poore men, being some tyme taken captives by the Turkes, and their toyngues cut out viiis. Paid for a new pulpite xxxiis. iiiid. For bringing the same pulpit from Bedford xvd. For a booke of Bishop Jewell's works, to remayne in the church by commandment xxxs. To Henry Keyne for bringing the same booke from Exon iiiid. Paid for our [the Churchwardens] passage over the water, when we fetcht wyne iiiid.,—"from Northam, probably. Account for 1612, 3,—"Paid at another tyme for expences at Torrington, about the Princes [Charles, Prince of Wales] aide money vs." Account for 1613, 4,—"Receaved of Mr. Docton as a guift towards the setting up of the King's armes and Sentences on the wallles in the church iis. iiiid. Receaved from John Blagdon as a guift from the youth of this parish towards the casting of the bells iiii. viis. Paid to Alee [Alice] Popham for drinke, when the three bells were let downe [for recasting] iiid. Paid for canvas of Cane [Caen] and silke and thred to make a pulpit cloth and cushion xxiid. Paid to Skitch for a chaine to tye the booke of Erasmus iiiid. Paid to William Maye for worke about the place for the ten Commandments to stand iiiid. Paid to John Lang for making the Minister's seate xxxs. Paid to John Coleman to hoise out the bells at Barnestable Keye iis. When Thomas Cholwill and myself were to Barnestaple 3 daies to see the bells cast vis. To Philip Nicholl for carrying the bells to Northam from Barnestaple in a boate, viis. vid. To Peter Peard for a mat to lie in Mr. Dove's seate viiid. To Humfrey Skitch for 2 paire of gims [hinges] for Mr. Dove's seate xiid. For the Paraphrase of Erasmus xiiis. Paid to Tristram Prust for 12 gallons and a quart of Canary wine against Easter, at 9[d.] per quart 1l. 16s. 9d." Account for 1614, 5,—"Paid to Henry Rateleiffe, for carrying of a lettre to Exon about the seate busines iis. Paid to Martyn Snowe for his paines in blowing the organ this yeare iis. Paid to Philip Can, dogwhipper, for his wages this yeare iis. Paid for two Spanish pikes, with their heads xs. Paid to Lawrence Deyman, for his register's fee for the recording the order for the seates xs. Paid for one pottell of wine against Trinity Sunday xviid. Paid for my expences at Torrington, when I paid the money that was collected for the building of a church in the Palsgraves countrey viiid. Geven to a poore man, having a breif, by the consent of Mr. Nicholas Luttrell iiiis. Paid young Assheton, of Welcombe, for killing 4 foxes iiiis." The "Peter's Farthing" still appears each year, 3s., or 3s. 6d., in amount. Account for 1615, 6;—"payments of 2 pence for a 'fitchewe's head,' now frequently occur.—"Paid for the lent of a zaw to zaw the [gate] postes vid. Paid for a scabbard to the church sword xiid." Account for 1617, 8,—"Paid a Gloster man who had his house burnt, he having a breife to gather the countrey xviid." Account for 1619, 20,—"Paid towards the following of abusive concerning the church xs. For two pints of wine for a private Communion iiiid. Paid Mr. Sparke for his paines here for two sermons, by the direction of the 24tie xs. Paid Mr. Greenwood for his paines for two sermons xs. Paid Mr. Badoock for his paines for preaching xs. Paid Mr. Sherwood for his preaching here the 16th of September xviis. viiid." In the account for 1622, 3, a charge of 12 pence is made for one quart of wine "against a wedding;" on which occasions, indeed, the Sacrament seems to have been usually administered.—"Paid Mr. Isack for his paines in preaching here in Mr. Chapman's absence xs. Paid John Pearse for ten dozen of rookes heads xxd. Gave to Mr. Tobey Sherwood, for two sermons vis. Gave to an Irishman that had a

HARTLAND.

"passe from the Councell. Gave to two other Irish gentlewomen that travelled by passe viiid. Paid Mr. Ballard for a sermon vs. Paid Mr. Browne's expenses when he preacht here iis." Account for 1624, 5.—"Gave to two souldiers, being prest to goe in the King's shippis vis. Paid Anderton for two Prayer booke for the Fast iis. vid. Paid Justinian Yeo for an houre glasse xd. Paid William Maye for setting up of the King's name on the pulpit, and for mending the north church doore iis. vid. Paid for a Service-book to be read Wednesday xiid. Paid for the fetching of Sibbelley Briant's seate, when she stood excommunicated iis. vid." Account for 1626, 7.—"Gave to two poore women, prisoners in Turkey iid. Gave to Simon Quance and his partners, that followed and killed a madd mastiff dog xiid." It is perhaps somewhat remarkable that there are no items for ringing bells in this account, or the preceding one. Account for 1628, 9.—"Paid for a Prayer booke for the Fleete iid. Paid to 9 Irish people, with the consent of the Constable Prust xiid." Account for 1630, 1.—"Paid the ringers at the birth of the young Earle of Bathe iis."—probably a son of Edward Bourchier, the then Earl of Bath; if so, he must have died before the Earl, whose title went to his cousin, Henry, in 1636.—"Paid Abraham Bond for a post to set the houre glasse on xd. Gave to one Robert Burton, a poore scholler, at the request of Mr. Churton iis. Paid William Roch and his wife and 3 children, which had a passe to gather as they were travelling homeward iiii." Account for 1631, 2.—"Receaved of Hugh Mitchell, of Loveland, for a seate for his sonne William to sit in during his father's life, with George Prust, of Luttsford 2s. Of Mr. Thomas Velley, for a seate for him to sit in, either in the former seate behinde the organs, or the next seate behinde it 2s. Of Thomas Dallin the younger and Thomas Rowe for the seate under the roodloffe to sit in respectively, during the lives of their fathers, 2s. a peice. Receaved of John Crang to sit with Charles Prust, and to leave the seate he now sits in 6d. Paid for an houre glasse 1s. 4d. For cariage of the same from Barn[staple] 2d. Paid for 9 yards of holland at 10 groates the yard, to make supplesse 1l. 10s. Paid Anderton for a Praier for the Queene 3d." At this period many items occur for the relief of "Irish people." Account for 1632, 3.—"Paid for the Act against cursing and swearing 6d. 4s. 6d. is charged "for diett then," and 6d. "for horsemeate," when the Act was sent for, probably to Barnstaple; about this period the payment of fees for ringing the bells on certain days, appears to have been discontinued. Account for 1634, 5.—"Paid John Loosemore for setting upp 6 Sentences in the church, and on the porches, and for playing the organs 1l. Paid John Loosemore for a diall for the church 12s. Paid for a booke to be read, touching the Gunpowder Treason 10d. Paid hym (Richard Deyman) more, which he had given to a minister's wife, which had a passe 1s." Account for 1636, 7.—"Paid for making the clarke's supplesse 1s. 2d. Gave to two poore men, the one of them having his hand and leg cut off, 2s." In the next year there are several receipts of 5s. from men, for seats for their wives; for example,—"Received of Henry Bagilhol, for his wife to sit in the new seate in the south middle rowe, 5s."—"Gave towards the redeeming of a captive in Genoway [P] 1s. 9½d. Paid Mr. Incledon [not the regular organist] his paines to play the organs 14s. Paid the kitching boy to the Abbey, for a grayes head, 4d. Gave Mr. Leverland to preach the 7th of October 5s. Paid John Couch for a toyte [hassock] for Mr. Churton to kneele upon 3d." Some leaves of the book are probably wanting here, but the original Accounts for 1638–1640 still exist among these papers, and have been previously noticed. Account for 1640, 1.—"Paid for two bookes for the Fast 2s. Paid for a praier for the King 6d. Gave to a man who had a collection under the Lord Bishop of Exon's hand 2s. 6d." Payments to the "dogwhipper" come to an end for a time about the year 1645. Account for 1648, 7.—"Paid for iron stuffe about the minister's pue 3s. 4d." Account for 1647, 8.—"Paid for a tit [hassock] for the minister 2d. Paid Charles Deyman for preserving of the chalice from the troopers 13s. 4d." Account for 1648, 9.—"Paid William Noy for keeping the dogs out of church, 3s. Gave Mr. Scampe for a sermon 6s. 6d." (The Scampes, it may be observed, were an Ilfracombe family).—Though it is now the time of the Commonwealth, the administration of the Sacrament seems to have gone on as before, in this remote parish. Account for 1649, 50.—"Paid Richard Pearse for wine for a Communion, the 9th of September, being for 8 quartes of Mallago sacke, at 16d. the quart." Tent wine is also used. Many Irish people are relieved this year. Account for 1650, 1.—"Paid for taking down the organs 4s." For 1651, 2.—"Spent on the ringers when the day of Thanksgiving was 5s." For 1652, 3.—"Allowed for my paines to ride at Justice Fortescues for a warrant to receive in the church rates 1s." In 1653 it is not the Account of the "Governors of the goods" of the church, or of the Churchwardens, that is entered, but "Hartland church. The Accompt of the foresaid Anthony Hamlyn of such money as he hath received and paid from the first of November 1653 untill Easter then next following." Account for 1654, 5.—"Gave Mr. Braddon for two sermons 6s. Heads of fitchews, foxes, wildcats, and "graires," are still paid for, on a very large scale. From the Account for 1655, 6, it appears that Churchwardens were then again chosen, and gave in their accounts. William Noy, the dogwhipper, still receives his "fee," of 4 shillings; the next item being,—"Paid William Powell for carrying the mony to Mr. Champneys for the inhabitants of the valley of Lucerne 2s. 6d." Account for 1659, 60.—"Paid William Bishop to ride to Pourtledge, and for his horse to ride there, to buy timber for the church 1s. Paid George Prust for 12 hedgebores heads 1s." Account for 1660, 1.—"Paid the painter for painting the King's armes 2l.;" somewhat singularly, in the preceding account, the only charge for ringing the bells is for ringing on the 5th of November; the Restoration, to all appearance, was not then welcomed with a peal.—"Paid Mr. Rogers for quartering of four travellers which required [it of] us, by the King's orders 3s. 8d."

There is an hiatus in these fragments, from 1663 to 1668. In the account for 1668, 9, William Noy is paid 4 shillings "for doing his office":—"disbursed to the foxcatcher in the behalfe of the parishe 9s. 9½d. Paid the ringers the 29th of May 1668 2s. Paid John Luttrell, gent, for two fox heads 4s." Account for 1669–70.—"Gave to 4 travellers, to aide them in their way to Penzance 1s." For 1670, 1.—"To Master Anthony Coffin, for 30 figh heads 2s. 6d. Gave to a woman that had a passe, and came from London to goe to Bodmant [Bodmin] 6d. Gave to 12 that came from Ireland with a passe, theare houses and goods all burnt 1s. For writing to [sic] duplicates of the brife to redeeme the Christians out of Turkey 3s." For 1671, 2.—"Received of Thomas Prust, of Naton, Gent, for that part of the seate that was Blagdon's, in which hee now sits, 3s. 4d. Received of Master William Lambe for that that did beelunge to Blagdon for the wimming [women]; but hee is not to place in a teuset [hassock], but Mistresse Emme Canne is to sit theare till hee come to bee an inhabitant 3s. 4d." For 1672, 3.—"Paid to aleven semen 3s. Paid to fower semen and his wife [sic] 3s. Master Anthony Coffin for 27 figh heds 2s. 3d." For 1675, 6.—"Paid to Ozias Couch, for doeing out of William Noy's office [as dog-whipper] 1s." At this point there is another hiatus, the next Account being that for a part of 1678, 9;—"Ozias Couch [who has now succeeded Noy] for sweeping the church and whipping the doggs halfe yeare 4s." For 1679–80.—"Received of William Prust, of Harton, for a seate for his wife, being the seacod seate in the souther middle roome above the south churche doore 3s." The word "roome," as meaning a pew, is suggestive. For 1680, 1.—"Paid William Orchard, minister, for arrearas in the yeare 1679, for offices don for the parish, according to the order of the Honorable Governors of Sutton's Hospital [the Charterhouse] 7l. 10s." For 1682, 3.—"Paid Thomas Simons for a box to keepe the parishe accomptes 3s. Paid Edmond Cowle for breaking of his ground, and uzeing of his goods when the bells were cast 10s. Paid the bell-founder for casting of the bells 28l." For 1683, 4.—"Received of Richard Ellis wife for the second seat in the south middle roome 3s. 4d. Received for a heriott upon the death of William Luttrell, Gent, for West Staddon 2l. Paid for the King's Declaration 6d. Paid for a booke for the parson 6d." For 1684, 5.—"Paid for a booke for Master Orchard 2s. Paid the ringers the 9th of September 6s. Paid eight seamen that had a pas to travell to Pensance 1s. Paid to tenn seamen that had a pass to travell to Famoeth 1s. Paid the ringers the 19th day of February 7s. Paid the ringers the 23rd of Aprill 12s." For 1686, 7.—"Paid for beere when the bells were drawne up into the tower 3s. 2d." For 1687, 8.—"Paid the ringers the 30th of January and the 6th of February, 6s."—The bells in — this year must have been tolled in remembrance of the death of Charles the First on the 30th of January, and rung for the accession of James the Second on the 6th of February.—For 1688, 9.—“Paid the ringers att the news of the birth of the Prince 4s.” [afterwards known in history as the First Pretender]. “Paid the ringers the fourteenth of July for the deliverance of the Bishops 10s. Paid the ringers the fourteenth of February, being a day of Thanksgiving 12s. Paid the ringers upon the news of King William 2s. Paid the ringers Cronation day 11s.” For 1689–90,—“For a new maund [probably a basket] for the church 7d. Paid the ringers att the news of the birth of the Prince 5s.”—it is singular that this latter item should have been divided between two years; or, possibly, allusion may be made to the birth of one of the children of the Princess Anne. For 1690, 1.—“Paid William Growden which had a pas. to travell for the redemption of his father in Turkey 3s. Paid to fower seamen which were taken by the French, and retaken by the Dutch 3s. Paid to a traveller that had a pas for a towne in Lincolneshire, which was drowned by water 3s. Paid the ringers at the returne of the King 6s.” For 1691, 2.—“Paid the ringers att the news of the reduceing of Ireland 8s. Paid the ringers att the news of the taking of Gallaway [Galway] 4s. Paid for a booke of the Fast 6d.” For 1692, 3.—“Paid the ringers att the overthrow of the French fleet 10s.” For 1693, 4.—“Paid Zios (for Ozias) Couch for sweeping the church, and whipping the dogs 10s.” Paid three men, one carryed a horseback, which [with] a pas 1s. 6d. Paid the ringers att the news of the King’s return from Flanders 5s.” A similar item to this last occurs in the next year’s Accounts. At this period, seamen and travellers are being continually relieved by the Churchwardens, sometimes in companies of ten or fifteen at a time. For 1695, 6.—“To Thomas Shutt for two foxes heads 4s. To Richard Harris for two old foxes heads 10s.”—Fitches’ heads are now but seldom paid for; but “old foxes” seem to have been largely caught.—“Paid the ringers att the news of the victory in Flanders 5s. Paid the ringers att the news of the last victory, att sea 8s.” For 1696, 7.—“Paid Edmond Woodley for sweeping the church and whipping the dogs 10s. Paid a man that redeemed his father from Turkey 5s. Paid one maimed souldier 1s. Paid the ringers att the news of the comming home of the King from Flanders 6s.” For 1697, 8.—“Spent upon Bideford men for singing 6s. Paid the ringers att the news of the Peace 10s. Paid to seven and twenty souldiers that had a pas 2s. 6d.” The whole of the Account for 1699, 1700 is wanting. For 1701, 2.—“Paid the ringers when Queen Anne was crown’d 8s.” For 1702, 3.—“Paid the ringers at the taking of Vigo 8s.” The last in these Accounts is for the year 1705, 6; Edmond Woodley is still paid 10 shillings “for his services,”—sweeping the church, and whipping the dogs, most probably, as before stated; a few payments are made for “fitchew’s heads,” and one traveller only is relieved, but with the comparatively large sum of 2 shillings. Down to the close of the 17th century, the women had seats, in Hartland Church, it is evident from these entries, apart from those occupied by the other sex.

Among these papers there is a printed proclamation of King Charles the Second, dated the 10th of August in the 22nd year of his reign, A.D. 1670, for the collection of moneys for redeeming Christian captives in Turkey; in a mutilated condition, accompanied by two folio leaves of paper writing, with this heading,—“Hartland, February the 8th 1670 (1). Duplicate of wat hath bin collected, with theare names, for the redeeming of the poore Cristians out of Turkey.” This list, not improbably, included every householder in Hartland at that day; the subscriptions varying from 5 shillings to 2 pence. It is headed with the name of “Thomas Docton, gen.” who gives 5 shillings, “Mistress Briget Docton” giving one shilling, “Hounphry Coffin, gen.” and “Fraunces Coffin, gen.” each contribute 6 pence; a like sum being subscribed by “Thomas Coffin, gen.” “Thomas Prust, gen. and his family” contribute 8 shillings; Peter Laphorne, the miller, of Colehouse, or Colehey, subscribes 2 pence. The sum total gathered may be learned from the receipt, enclosed with the paper,—“Feb: 8th 1670 (1). Received the sum of nine pounds eight shillings of Richard Yeo [at first written ‘Yawe’] which was gathered in Hartland for the redemption of the poore captives in Turkish slavery. I say received by me Rob: Simpson D. R.”

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF THE TOWNS OF WEYMOUTH AND MELCOMBE REGIS.

WEYMOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

[In the possession of the Corporation.]

The Corporation of this borough is still in possession of some of the ancient Charters that were granted by the Sovereigns of England to the town of Melcombe Regis, and some only; any that may have been granted to the town of Weymouth, are either missing, or are no longer in existence. The following is a brief account of the more ancient of the documents and records now remaining in the Corporation’s hands.—

A parchment deed (in Latin), imperfect, and decayed, almost to shreds, dated in July 1252; whereby William de Taunton, Prior of the Church of St. Swithun, at Winchester, and the Convent, grant that their port of Weymouth shall be a free port for ever; and that every one shall be at liberty to moor there, and dispose of his merchandize, paying to them the customs due for the same. The then limits of the borough are given, within which those enjoying the privileges of freemen must reside. Among localities of ancient Weymouth, there are named herein, the “Hope Hus” (Hope House, “Hope” is a place still known in the locality), the Cross, and a well called “The Tunn.”

An Insuperimus Charter of King Edward the Second, granted to the town of Melcombe Regis, dated the 22nd of January, in the 11th year of his reign (A.D. 1318). The Charter (in Latin), which is in a somewhat mutilated condition, confirms the one that had been granted by King Edward the First, his father, in the 8th year of his reign [A.D. 1280]; whereby he had conceded to the burgesses of Melcombe all rights which the citizens of London had; and further, the present Charter grants to the burgesses several pieces of vacant land, situate in St. Thomas’s Street, St. Mary’s Street, and St. Edmund’s Street,—all which streets still exist. “Bakerestrete,” there mentioned, is now no longer known. The original silk cords, and a fragment of the Great Seal, are still appended to the deed.

A Charter of Insuperimus and Confirmation of the preceding Charter, by King Edward the Third, dated at New Sarum, the 3rd of November, in the second year of his reign [A.D. 1328]; much mutilated, and with only a fragment of the Great Seal left. There is also a duplicate copy of this Charter, in an equally bad condition, the seal entirely gone.

Exemplification, in Latin, made, at the instance of the burgesses of Weymouth, on the 10th of February in the 41st year of Edward the Third [A.D. 1367], of a finding upon inquisition, at Shirbourne, in the 8th year of Edward the First, before the Justiciars, John de Reygate and others: upon which Inquisition it was found, that the Earl of Gloucester and Hertford claimed certain rights in Wyk, Portlond, Waymouth, and Hellewell; the successive holders of such rights having been the Prior of St. Swithun, Almaric [de Valence] Bishop Elect of Winchester, Earl Richard [de Clare], and the (then) present Earl. The seal, which was appended by a thong of parchment, is lost.

A small Charter, in Latin, bearing date the 27th of November, in the 5th year of Henry the Seventh [A.D. 1489], confirming certain measures that had been taken in the reign of Henry the Sixth for lightening the burdens of the town of Melcombe, it having then been recently ravaged by “our adversaries of France and Normandy.” The burgesses are to hold from henceforth of the Crown at a fee farm rent of 20s. only, for all tenths and fifteenths. This document is in good preservation, and part of the seal, on a strip of parchment, is left.

A Charter, bearing date the 10th of November, in the 4th year of Henry the Eighth [A.D. 1512], confirming the one last-mentioned. It is in good condition, but the seal is lost.

An Exemplification, bearing date the 1st of June, in the 13th year of Elizabeth [A.D. 1571] under the Great Seal, of the Act of Parliament for the union of the two Boroughs and Corporations of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis. The document is in good preservation, but the seal is lost.

A Charter, dated the 3rd of July in the 24th year of Elizabeth [A.D. 1582], explanatory of the Mayor’s duties in the government of the united Boroughs of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis. A fragment of the Great Seal is left. These are followed by several other Charters, of a later date, belonging to the reigns of Elizabeth, Charles the First, and William and Mary.

In addition to the above Charters, the only other old records now in the Corporation’s possession, seem to be two large folio paper volumes, bound in parchment.

WEYMOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

The first volume contains about 400 leaves, and its pages are little more than half filled. The first 76 pages contain miscellaneous matter connected with the union of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, in 1571, and the Oaths of the Officials of the Corporation; after which the volume becomes a Register of proceedings in the Law Courts of the town. The first Court mentioned in the book belongs to the year 1616, and it is thus headed:—"Curia Legalis et Visus Franci plegii, una cum Curia de Melcombe Regis, infra burgum et villam . . . ultimo die Septembris, anno Domini 1616." These entries end with the year 1681. At the end of the volume there are a number of leaves, with entries of the Sessions of the peace in the 6th and 7th years of Charles the First, now loose, but originally forming part of the contents of the volume. At the time of the great Rebellion, the last Court named as held under the reign of that King, is headed:—"Villa de Weymouth et Melcombe.—Curia Legalis, cum Visu Franci Plegii, pro Weymouth, ibidem die Lunæ, nono die Octobris, anno regni Domini nostri Caroli, Dei gratia, Angliæ, Scotiæ, Franciæ, et Hiberniæ, Regis, Fidei Defensoris, vicesimo quarto, 1648;" thus loyally acknowledging his title, while in the hands of his enemies, and within four months of his (so-called) trial and death. The first Court after that date is entered under this title:—"The Court Leete and Law day, with view of Frankpledge, together with the Court of Melcombe Regis, within the Borough and Town of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, in the County of Dorset, there held the third day of October, in the yeare of our Lord 1649." Like the one next described, this volume in some places is decayed and tattered through damp; standing much in need of the repair which, I am glad to learn; while writing these lines, it will shortly receive.

The next is a volume of similar size and appearance; being an Assembly Book, at the Guildhall, of the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, and capital and principal burgesses, for the Borough and Town of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis; the first entry being of a Court holden on the 9th day of October 1617. At page 26 a list of enrolments of apprenticeship begins, the earliest entry going so far back (copied probably from a preceding volume, now lost,) as 1614. These lists of apprenticeships are continued to the year 1641. A list is also given of the tenants in burgage in 1616. On the Weymouth side, the names of the tenants only are stated, with the amounts due; but in Melcombe, the property then held by each person, arranged according to the streets, is described. Between the years 1645 and 1648 many entries that would have been appropriately made in this volume, are made in the one, for those years, which now forms part of Mr. Sherren's Collection, and from which large extracts will be found in the present Report. The Assembly Book now under notice, ends, at p. 426, with "Minutes of a Hall," holden on the 10th of April 1695.

I have here to acknowledge, with thanks, the good offices rendered me in many ways, during my prolonged examination of these records, in combination with Mr. Sherren's Collection, by T. B. Groves, Esqre, one of the members of the Common Council of the Borough of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis; owing to whose suggestion (arising from the laudable interest which he takes in the past history of his native town) it is, primarily, that this inspection has been made.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF THE TOWNS OF WEYMOUTH AND MELCOMBE REGIS.

[Mr. Sherren's Collection.]

With the exception of some early Charters of Melcombe Regis, two or three other documents, and two Minute-books of the 17th century, which are elsewhere described in the present Report, it is most probable that all such of the most ancient records of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis as are now in existence, have come into the possession of Mr. James Sherren, of St. Mary's Street, Weymouth; who received permission to remove them, many years ago, as I learn from him, from a stable in which they were then deposited as so much rubbish; and so had the good fortune to rescue them from the housemaid and fire-grate, to whose tender mercies a considerable portion of them had been already consigned. Notwithstanding the extensive havoc that, no doubt, had been already made among them, partly by such agency, and partly by decay, the papers and documents in Mr. Sherren's Collection are some hundreds in number. The whole having been placed in my hands by Mr. Sherren, most obligingly, for the purpose of a thorough and searching examination, I have selected the following, as being either the most ancient documents, or the most worthy of notice.—

A set of enrolments, on long sheets of parchment, eight in number, of proceedings in the Law Court of the borough of Melcombe Regis, in the 20th and 21st years of the reign of Richard the Second (A.D. 1396-98). Some of the entries in these enrolments (which are all in Latin) throw light upon the manners and usages of the time; and as they are the earliest documents in existence (the Charters excepted) that bear reference to the remote history of the place, I have thought it advisable to quote rather largely from them. Persons, both men and women, are repeatedly fined for brewing "contrary to the assize, for selling ale in cups (in cippis), "or in vessels without the seal (signo), or for tapping " (tappare) without due supervision." The Bailiffs of the town (Melcombe Regis) are amerced at the first Court, the records of which are preserved, (Monday after the Feast of St. Michael 1396), for not having brought into Court a sword that had been drawn "against the King's "peace;" as also, a "baselard," (a short sword, worn by civilians), that had been drawn by one William Corfe. William Helier [the Tiler] appears at the first Court, and pays 6 pence for Richard London, who had drawn a "daggar," against the peace. This Court ends with the following entry, (tr.):—"Twelve free men, being sworn, "whose names appear on the schedule sewed hereto, "present that Philip Bat has a step put upon the high- "way near to the door of his tenement, to the nuisance "of those passing by; therefore he is amerced. John "Shudde uses a quart measure that is unfair [minus "juste]; therefore he is amerced." At the next Court, on Tuesday after the Feast of St. Martin the Bishop (11 November), in the 20th year of the same King (1396), the Bailiffs present that John Swan drew blood with his hand from Thomas Deigher [Dyer], against the peace; therefore he is amerced. The accused who fail to appear, are "attached," by their goods, such as horses, cows, or swine, being seized. Thomas Vicory and Emma, his wife, are amerced for not prosecuting their suit against Edith atte See, in a plea of debt. Mention is made in this Court of certain "burgages," (houses or lands held by burgage tenure), that had been first named in the Law Court of "Hokke Term," in the 19th year of the same reign, which now remain in the hands of the King, through default of heirs, and for rent (payable to the King) that had been in arrear thereon. At the next Court, Tuesday after Epiphany, in the 20th year [1397] John Shudde, (whose name frequently appears, as getting into trouble,) is complained of for "breaking the arrest" of one cask of ale, which had been arrested by the Under-bailiffs; "for they had tasted it [tastavere], supposing (rightly) "that the said ale was bad, not good and sound for the "body of man." Richard Moryssh makes plaint against Thomas Walyssh in a plea of trespass; "which Thomas "is a burgess; therefore, according to the custom of the "will, he remains unattached, until he shall have made "default (in appearing) three times." At the Court holden on Tuesday after St. Matthias [24th February] in the 20th year [1397], Thomas Sterer [P Steersman, or Pilot] is "amerced for drawing, against the peace, a "staff upon Agnes Cappere, his pledge (or surety) being "Hugh Deer." The Bailiffs also present that they "arrested" two trees lying felled in the tenement of William Fysshher, for his rent [burgage-rent], which had been in arrear ten years or more; "which trees Henry "Barbour had carried away from thence, with their "leave; and he (Fysshher) had found as his mainpernors " [or sureties] John Northover and Eustace Kemere " [PComber, or Woolcomber] for his paying such rent, "when the other burgesses of the vill pay for their "burgages." The Bailiffs further present that in the lane called "Maydestrete," dung is placed, to the nuisance of the community.—This street is called "Mayden Strete," in other enrolments; and, as "Maiden "Street," it still exists.—"John Joce [Joseph] makes "plaint against John Northovere in a plea of trespass, "which John Northovere is a burgess of the vill, and "does not appear; so, according to the custom of the "vill, he makes one default, and it stands over." On the same day,—"Thomas Sterer, in full Court, finds pledges, "William Smert and Thomas Walyssh, for his good "behaviour (gestura) and that of Cristina, his wife, "under penalty of 20l., towards Agnes Capper and "others, the liege men of the King." At the Law Court holden on Tuesday after the Feast of St. Ambrose the Bishop [4th April], in the 20th year [1397].—"The "Bailiffs present that Cristina, the wife of Thomas “Sterer, against the peace, drew a rake against Edith Ketes; so she is amerced;” a portion of this membrane is quite illegible. At the Law Court of “Hokke Term,” holden on the 15th of May, in the 20th year [1397], Henry Barbour is amerced in the sum of 3 pence, for drawing blood with his fist from Richard Kete the elder. At the same Court, Edith Ketys is amerced (in the sum of 3 pence) with five others, for breaking the assize as to brewing ale, also “for using cups and other false measures.” Further,—“Twelve free men, being sworn, present that the Abbot of Myddelton Abbas [now Milton Abbas, in Dorset], the Abbot of Netele [Netley, near Southampton], the Lady of Beaumont, John Syward, John Gouyg, Robert Calche, Nicholas Bayly, William Corf, Thomas Cronk, Henry Brouke, John Bakebere, the Abbot of Abbodesbury, Robert Veel, Nicholas Webbe, Thomas Stapilforde, John Cleybury, Henry Rykard, William Momford, burgesses, who owe suit at this day, make default; therefore they are to be amerced; as also, Nicholas Berde. Also, that William Heliere had justly (juste, but qy. injuste) raised hue and cry against Richard, the Chaplain of Thomas Cole (the Mayor), therefore he was amerced 6 pence.” They also presented “that John Swan broke the arrest of Thomas Cole, the Mayor of this vill, and of Thomas Sterer, the Under-bailiff, as to two leaden measured cuves, or vessels, [cupis metretis] and other goods, to the value of 40 shillings, arrested in the house of Walter Clopton, at the suit of the party complaining against him in a plea of debt, such complainant being John Shudde.” This latter person, himself, is also presented, “for placing dung in a vacant place opposite to the Chapel in Melcombe Regis, to the grievous damage of the common people walking there.” The existence of this Chapel is mentioned (in Dean Chandler’s Register at Salisbury) about a century before this; but there seems to be no other record of it than the present one, at this date; from a document at Salisbury we learn that there was “no place dedicated to God” in Melcombe Regis in 1428.—The mother church, it may be here observed, was, and still is, that of Radipole. (The Walter Clopton above mentioned, can hardly have been the person of that name who was the Chief Justiciar of the King’s Bench, and had formerly been member of Parliament for the borough: it is just possible, however, that he may be here alluded to, as being owner, or lessor, of the house.)—Robert Clavley “was entered anew to be on the assize, and sworn.” The name of Clavell often appears in the Weymouth records of a later date.—“Robert Walkelayn, being present this day in Court, spontaneously [agrees] that he will, before the Feast of the Nativity next to come, erect a good and competent house for making a mill therein, in Melcombe Regis.” Among his six sureties is “Thomas Cole, of Weymouth,” not the then Mayor of Melcombe, of that name. (Melcombe, it may be here remarked, is said to have had its name from its windmill, or mills, and the “combe,” or valley, in which it is situate.) At this Court, a person whose name is obliterated, is attached in a plea of debt, “by the arrest of a third part of 30 tuns of red wine.” To this membrane, a small slip of parchment is attached, containing the panel of the 12 free men, or jurors, before mentioned, 4 of whom have the name of William, 2 John, 2 Thomas, one each, Eustace, Richard, Robert and Henry. The next Court is holden on Tuesday after the Nativity of St. Mary (8th of September) in the 21st year of Richard the Second [1397]. William Tilie is fined three pence for drawing a “dagger” upon John Cokeman. The dagger also was forfeited; but it was to be sold back to the said William for 8 pence; John Shudde being his surety for payment of both sums. An “Election of Officers” follows.—“The twelve men that were sworn to choose officers for the following year, chose for the office of Mayor of the same vill Henry Forde, and he was sworn. For the office of Bailiffs, Eustace Kemere and John Cokeman; and they were sworn. For the office of Constables of the same bailiwick, William Smert and William Hellyer; for the office of Under-bailiffs, Roger Fox and Hugh Deer.” Precept was given to bring Roger Couke, servant of Richard Latoner, and to put him on the Assize. These names of ancient Mayors of Melcombe, it may be here observed, have been hitherto lost, and are now for the first time brought to light. The next Court is holden on Tuesday after the Feast of St. Michael, in the 21st year [1397]. The twelve jurors, named in the schedule before alluded to, present that William Mustard (elsewhere named “Mustard”), Robert Smythe, Thomas Stapilforde, John Ricard, William Forde, John Sterer, William Monfort, John Bakere,

John Wedone, Henry Broke, Robert Calche, John Neel, the Abbot of Netle, the Lady of Frampton, William Walkelayn, and Nicholas Webbe, burgesses of the vill, have made default in appearing. They were all fined 3 pence, that sum appearing over the name of each. The jurors also present that Philip Attewell, Richard Kete, Edith Cartere, and Thomas Russell, have put dung on the Quay (la Kaye), at the east end of the tenement of Thomas Russell, “to the nuisance of the whole vill.”—It may be here remarked, that the noble family of Russell springs from this part of Dorset. “They also chose William Ricard and William Helier to collect the King’s rent this time, and chose Henry Clere and Hugh Deer to keep a certain polye [pulley, or crane], with a cord, belonging to the Commonalty of the same vill, and collect the profits thereof.” The next Court is holden on Tuesday after the Feast of St. Thomas the Apostle (21st of December); and the next, and last on this set of rolls, on Tuesday before the Feast of St. Gregory (12th of March) in the 21st year of the same reign [1398]. At the latter Court, Richard Latonere is presented for drawing a “daggare” upon Richard Kete, against the peace, and order is given to seize the said knife; but as the Under-bailiffs are found to have concealed it (concell), they themselves are amerced 2 pence. John de la Wythel drew a “daggare,” against the peace, upon Henry Semere; and because the Under-bailiffs did not have it in Court, they were amerced 4 pence, and ordered to produce the dagger as well. As to the tenement of Agnes Capper, which Edward Skynner lately occupied, it remained in the hands of the King, by reason of the idiotcy of the said Agnes. Towards the end of this roll, there are five smaller slips of parchment sewed to it, with entries in Latin, the contents of one of which are as follow:—“Melcombe. Payments and expenses incurred by Eustace Kemere and William Helier, Bailiffs there, from the Feast of St. Michael in the 18th year [1394] to the Feast of St. Michael in the 19th year, of the reign of King Richard the Second [1395]. First, the expenses of William Helier, for going to London for the Community, 13s. 4d. The expenses of Robert Calche [Member of Parliament], going to Parliament for the Commonalty of the town, 13s. 4d. Wages of the Steward, 40d. For fowls brought as a present to Walter Clopton [the then Chief Justiciar of the King’s Bench], 2s. 6d. Expenses of Walter Clopton, when he came here, all included, 5s. 2d. Expenses of the Steward, coming here divers times, and of the Bailiffs going to the Sessions and County Court holden at Dorchestre, divers times, 18s. 9d. For one cord, bought for drawing up wine, 2s. 8d. For two bonds of iron bought for the poller, 8d. Melcombe. Moneys received from Eustace Kemere and William Heliere on their account, at the Feast of the Nativity of St. Mary in the 20th year [1396]; and delivered to Thomas Cole, Mayor of the same vill, 72s. 74d.”

The next document, though brief, is curious, as being an enrolment, on parchment (in Latin), fastened to the same roll as the preceding, of proceedings in a Pie-powder Court; a document of this nature, of that early date, being, no doubt, rarely to be met with.—“Melcombe Regis. A Court of Pie-powder, holden there on Wednesday next after the Feast of St. Leonard (6th of November) in the 21st year of the reign of King Richard the Second [1397]. Henry Marchant is at law (ad legem) against William Helyere, for that he did not [as had been asserted] make trespass against him by striking him with his hand, at Melcombe Regis, in a certain spot called the place of William Richard, on Tuesday the Feast of St. Leonard in the 21st year etc.; on surety of John Northovere and Eustace Kymere. Afterwards the same Henry was amerced, because of default in making his law” [establishing his innocence of the charge, by producing witnesses to swear as to his innocence]. “William Heliere was amerced for making a false plaint against Eustace Kymere in a plea of trespass. William Walkelayn was at law against William Helyere, for that he did not make assault upon him with a certain stone, against the peace, on Tuesday the Feast of St. Leonard in the year aforesaid, at Melcombe; on surety of Eustace Kemere and Henry Marchant. Afterwards, the said William Walkelayn was amerced for default in making his law against William Helier aforesaid. Henry Marchant was to keep the peace towards William Heliere, and other liege men of our Lord the King, on penalty of 40d. . . . The Bailiffs present that William Helier raised a club against Eustace Kymer, Henry Barbere, and William Walkelayn, whether justly or not, they know not.

WEYMOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

"Therefore, inquisition is to be made." This was a Court probably, in which foreigners, or non-freemen, (who were presumed, as travellers, to come with "dusty foot") could implead or be impleaded, for debt or damages. A diminutive piece of parchment, attached to the above, contains, in a brief and summary form, proceedings at Courts holden on Tuesday next after Hokke Day [the third Tuesday after Easter Sunday] and Tuesday the Feast of St. Barnabas (11th of June) in the 21st year of the same reign [1398].

The next of the three Law Court Rolls now surviving, begins with Tuesday after the Feast of the Epiphany, in the first year of the reign of Henry the Fourth [1400]. It is in a very mutilated state, and consists of two small sheets of parchment only, with two parchment slips attached. Among other things, Thomas Cole and Willelmina, his wife, executors of the will of Henry Frampton, make plaint against Emma Gilbertes, in a plea of debt; and she is accordingly attached, by seizure of one small pot and one cup (in another place described as a mazer, bound with silver,) valued at 13s. 4d. Thomas Wotton makes plaint against John Elys in a plea of debt, his surety being John Jurdan,—a surname, which, as "Jurdeyn," or "Jerdan," frequently occurs in these records, during the 17th century.—In a portion of the roll, partly mutilated and partly illegible, John Abbot is mentioned as the then Mayor. The next Court mentioned is the Law Court of Hokke Term, on Tuesday after the Feast of St. John Port Latin (6th of May), in the first year of Henry the Fourth (1400). Among other things, the twelve jurors present that Roger Fox had found within the vill one barrel of "pych" (pitch); whereupon, the said Roger came into Court, and made fine with the Court for such barrel, in the sum of 2s. Also, that a black horse had come there from strange parts at the last Feast of the Purification of St. Mary, and that cry had been made, and no one claimed it; so it was to remain in the custody of the bailiff until superannuated [quousque superannuat]. The next is the Law Court holden on Tuesday after the Feast of the Nativity of St. Mary (8th of September), in the first year of Henry the Fourth (1400). Among other things, the twelve jurors, being sworn, choose Henry Forde for Mayor, John Benefeld and Eustace Keymer for Bailiffs, and Hugh Deer and Roger Fox for Under-bailiffs. The next is the Law Court holden on Tuesday after the Feast of St. Michael, in the second year of Henry the Fourth (1400). This roll, which contains nothing of interest, ends with three lines of proceedings of a Court of Pie-powder holden on Tuesday before the Feast of St. Nicholas the Bishop (6th of December), in the second year of Henry the Fourth [1400].

The third, and only other, Roll of this description, in Mr. Sherren's Collection, is an enrolment commencing with the 16th of December, in the 34th year of King Henry the Sixth [1455], being from 50 to 60 years later than the preceding ones. Mention is made of a burgage in "Seynthomastrete" (St. Thomas Street, still existing under that name), as being in the hands of the Mayor and Commonalty, for arrears of rent. John Rogger is to make answer to the Mayor and Commonalty for having ceased to keep his watch, as also for not having paid his rent the five preceding years. The next Court is holden on the 21st of January, in the same year of Henry the Sixth [1456]. The tasters [tastatores] of ale present that Geoffrey Samwyse had brewed twice and Alianor Houperes once, and sold ale, against the assize: he is amerced 2 pence, and she one penny.—"Samways," it may be remarked, is a very common name in Weymouth at a much later date.—Precept is also given at this Court to Robert Chapman, to remove a dog of his, that bites and kills sheep, geese, and other poultry, of his neighbours, "to the grievous nuisance of such neighbours," on pain of paying 3s. 4d. Order is also given to attach John Russell, in a plea of debt by Geoffrey Samwyse. The name of William Gigges occurs here more than once; John Soppe is also another name mentioned. The next Court is holden on the 16th of February, in the 34th year of King Henry the Sixth [1456]. Robert Chapman, owner of the dog before-mentioned, is "at law," now (with four witnesses, or jurors), against Robert Clark, "for that he did not kill one goose of his, with his dog, value of the goose 40 pence." The Roll ends with a list of various payments made into the King's Exchequer, between the 30th and 35th years of Henry the Sixth, now more than half obliterated.

One of the most ancient documents in Mr. Sherren's Collection is a small parchment deed, in Latin, without date, but belonging either to the reign of Edward the Third or Richard the Second. The single seal which belonged to it is lost; but it is a deed poll, whereby William Peverel, of Estringestede, (East Ringstead, in Dorset) grants to William Gervays, of Melcombe, and Cristina, his wife, a messuage and curtilage, situate between his own messuage and that of Adam Trute, for 32 shillings of silver, paid to him beforehand. Witnesses, Thomas Slyde, Nicholas Smith (Fabro), Henry Langyro, Henry Bendis, Henry de Ringstede, and many others. The above is the only early deed in the whole collection.

Among these multifarious records there is a portfolio, containing a large assortment of papers, probably near a hundred in number, belonging mostly to the reign of Elizabeth, and some few to that of James the First. On a close examination, however, it has been found that the whole of them, with but comparatively few exceptions, consist either of depositions of witnesses, and of pleadings in private actions, or suits in the local Courts, often about ships and mercantile claims, now of no interest; or else, of papers in connexion with the frequent disputes that took place between Melcombe Regis (with its Mayor), and Weymouth (with its Bailiffs), previous to their union by Act of Parliament, in the 13th year of Elizabeth's reign; but which, in spite of such union, were still for some years continued. By this Act of Union they were united under the name or title of the "Town of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis," with one Mayor and two Bailiffs for the two. William Pytte, (a member of the same family that afterwards gave birth to the great Earl of Chatham, and his even more illustrious son,) was Mayor in 1586, 7, and other years; in these papers his name frequently occurs. Among them there are several Accounts of Roger Keate, the Mayor, on the occasion of his frequent visits to London in 1576, on business of the Corporation; also, one or two other sets of Accounts of nearly the same date. The following are two items selected from the contents of this portfolio:—

The first, a paper writing, in a rather obscure hand, shadows forth the coming of the Spanish Armada, two years later:—"xxixth of July 1586 before Mr. Mayor, "Mr. Richard Pytte, Mr. Mageor [sic]; Nicholas Abraham, of Lyrpole [Liverpool], Merchaunte, and Johan Lamberte, of the same, shipman, saye that theire beinge prysoners in Bilboe for the space of xii. monethes and xx dayes last past, came from thence "about the xxiii of June, by our accounte [our reckoning], and duringe the tyme of there being in "Bilboe, did understande by credible reporte that "there was provided and sholde be 700 sailles of "shippes, gallis, galiasses, pynnesses, and pattashes, "and of men to the number of cc and eightie thousande, and by reporte commonlye there had, for "Englande. And further doe saye, that they hard "one Captayne Teretuno of Bilboe reporte to one "Roger Stacey, of Saltasshe, that yf he wolde stave "and goe withe him to Lysshebourne (Lisbon), he "wolde lande him at Waterforde. John LL. Lambert his signe { Nicholas Abraham }."

A written paper, giving some account of the old records then in the possession of the Corporation.—"Sent up to Mr. Hanam [the Recorder] the 6th of "Februarie 1577. The new and last Charter. The "Statute under seall. The olde Booke. The copy of "the Quo Warranto of Waymouth. A Letter under "the name of Mr. Fleetwood, Recorder [of London]; "John Tomson, Richard Compton, William Watson. "and Fabian Phillips. The copie of Poole Charter, in "Latin and in English. Another Book of notes under "Mr. Raynolds' writing. Sent before this by Nicholas Ceate.—The copie of the Quo Waranto and Commission for Melcombe."

Among various loose papers, not contained in the portfolio above-mentioned, is an account of Roger Keate's expenses in 1578, for "Chardges disbursed "about the townes affarres." From this "account" we learn that he left Weymouth, on horseback, on Saturday, the last day of May, and reached London on the 3rd of June. For many days he pays for "bote hire to "and from Greenwich [where the Court then was], 8d. "or 10d." The following are other items in the Account:—"Item, payed for a supper bestowed upon Talbot, the Clarke of the Towre iii s. vi d. Item, payed "for seeinge iii or iiiii bundells of recordes at the "Tower iii s. iiiii d. For a payre of showes [shoes] "xvi d. Item, payed to my hostes for 42 meales, at "vi d. per meale, xxi s. Item, for my horsemeate for "24 daies at gras, at iiiii d. per day viii s. Item, for "shoyng my horse viii d. Item, for washing my

WEYMOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

"sherte xii^d. Item, for drinckinge in the morninge
"and other times at my hostes [hostess], over and "above my ordinary tables, by all the tyme above said,
"ii s. x^d. Item, given to the ostlers and keepers of my "horse at grasse viii^d. Item, to the maydes of the "house vi^d."

In a portfolio, with clasp, in Mr. Sherren's Collection, numbered (1), there are probably near a hundred documents, each inclosed in a doubled sheet of blank paper. The following are selected from them.—

A sheet of paper, with writing in an almost illegible hand:—"In that the vth day of June 1576, William James alias Ledoze, being commanded by Owen Raynolds, Maior of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, and Mr. Thomas Howard, Esquire, and Barnarde Mason, bailiffes and justices of the peace of the towne aforesayd, to find suretyes to answer at the next Assyses to suche matters as shoulde then be layd to his chardge, then answered these wordes followinge, vizt.:—"I hope to be found a trewer 'subjecte then suche as shall say anything to my 'chardge.' Likewise Richard Pitt, the elder, answered that the said Ledoyse, alias James, shoulde not put in suretyes for the sayd matter, but remayne as prisoner. Also the sayd James, in further speache to the Mayor aforesaid, sayd that he hadd spoken to as good men as he was. Further, the aforesaid Richard Pitt affyrmyd that the opynions of the town judges beinge offered to the Quene's Majesties' honourable Counsell, was by them tost over the barre, and not regarded. These words also he spoke.—Before Mr. Mason's comynge, he examined the sayd Ledoys in the presence of Thomas Clarke, one of the sergeantes of the sayd—and Henry Knight. But he added farther, that when the Counsell had caste the opinion over the barre, no man woulde take the same upp, but John Peers."

The subject here in dispute was probably a reference to Parliament in respect of the quarrels and disputes that were then going on between Weymouth and Melcombe; which, by Act of Parliament some five years before, had been united.

Copy of a "Letter to the Right Honourable Thomas Howard, and his Answer;" both written upon the same sheet.—"So it is (if hit please your Worshipp) that the great lamentation of the scoller of Oxforde, sithence [since] your Worshippes departure, movethe us to wryte to you againe for his deliveraunce and settinge at libertye; who now briskely confesseth himselfe to have abused his dewtie towards God, his cuntrye, and your Worshipp, and cannot deny but that he himself, with Robert Egerton, contrived that licence, even of sett purpose, to gett monye in this cuntrye for there better exhibition. Wherefore if hit maie please yow to wryte back youre favourable wilignes for his delyveraunce, there is no other likeli-hood but that he maie prove an honest man. Melcombe, this xxvth of Januarie, a^o Domini, 1580. Youres to commande, Henry Rogers, William Pitt, Rychard Pitt, John Mounsell." The Answer thereto, written below.—"I hope neyther any off yow all dobtte off my wyllingness to gratyfy any off your deysers, neyther off any dysposyson to shoo mercy, but suche may be the sequell yn thys cause [case] yf I shod do eyther off them, that yow myght repent yow off your requests, and myself be found unable to aunswer my doyngs. Synce my departure from Melkum, I have sene letters dyrected from the Counsayle to apprehend all suspysious parsons [persons] that are unknown, and espesially such as go dysgyssed, wheroff thys advertysment they geve: sum go leke maryners, sum leke marchants, sum leke scollers, sum leke laks [? lackies], sum leke sarvyng men. Therefor, I pray contynue not the favor which may turne [to] so dayngerus a repentance, but fourthwythe to serche hym thoroughly yn alle, ynysyde off his garmentes, and to cause him to shew where Egerton ys, and how he may be apprehended, then to geve advertysment thereof to sum —, whereby they may fynde menes to take hym, though he be yn some other cuntry. So yourselves I pray to be more carefull off your common wele, then petyfull off a shambles [shameless] forsworn varlet, to yow all so mere a stranger as by lekelyhode he may be the worst man levyng. Ther ys suche lamentable news from Scotland and from the North, as I wyll not commytte ytt to the trust off thys paper, grete troubles above; worke therefore wysely yn thes and other the leke causes [cases] which may hapen yn my absence. Your lovyng frend, Thos. Howarde." This Thomas Howard was a younger son of Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, and had been summoned to Parliament as a Baron by Writ in 1579. He had previously been one of the two Bailiffs of the town of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, an office which might be held by a person not a freeman of the place.—On the back of these copies is written what appears to be the Oxford man's information against Egerton, in writing conspicuous for its badness:—"I left him at . . . a Monday was 3 wykes; he wilbe at Oxford on Shrofe Monday, at one Smallmans, one of the bedelles of the Universite, dwelling withyn Est Gate." The copy of the original letter, is thus addressed.—"To the right Woorshipfulle Master Thomas Howarde, Esquier, geve these with speede." The Oxford student, apparently, had been going about the country with a forged licence to beg; and was suspected of being a malignant.

A Letter from the same Lord Thomas Howard to William Pytt, of Weymouth; of the date probably of 1581. It begins, "Mr. Pyt," and goes on to say that it is impossible to do anything in Parliament,—“For when I should have bestoed chargeable somms off mony ‘yu fframyng bylls, yn rewardyng them that shoulde speke flavorably yn them, yn gratyfing the Speker and other men off authoryte, then shoulde I loke for a hard passage off the byll, by reson that Syr Chrys-topher Hatton's countenance and credit wod worke muche agaynst yt, and surely wod overthrow yt, when yt shoulde come to her Majesty's hands, and therefore would not cast away your money at this time in so . . . affairs. Wors than thys, theis wyked men are so ffavoured and petyed, as they had by Parliament clene overthrowne your former decree and quyetness for ever, yff I had not thoroughly labored all my ffreundes, and the Counsayle also, ffor the stopping off the same.” This seems to be a letter of some importance, as shewing the political intrigues and party-spirit of the day.

Another Letter from the same, of nearly the same date, addressed—"To my loving frends of Melcoum geve this:—" It begins,—“Such hath byn the slender delyngs, or such hathe byn the yndyrect delyngs, off sum of Melcoum, as the money allredy gathered, I dobt me wylle retorne small or no benefyt unto the towne at all; therefor provyde no more mony untill the same may be better ymployed. There is one Tomson played yn the Hows by my Lord of Bedford, so as yt ys not possyble for me to do my plesure yn respect off that I myght have don, yff I had byn yn the howse, notwithstanding they shall want no carefull good wyll in my doyngs.”

Another Letter, from the same Lord Thomas Howard to Mr. Pitt, endorsed (in pencil) "10 June 1581." In it he says,—“I pray, accordyng to your promys, cause the fylthe behynd the towne to be rydd agaynst Mydsomer, about the tyme, God wylling, I wylybe at home, to make amends for my long absence:” he alludes, probably, to the slime and refuse accumulated in what is known as the "Backwater."

Another Letter, from the same to the same, dated 12th July 1581. In a postscript, he adds,—“I trust to fynd the town clene, and all the annoyance behind the towne removed, accordyng to promys.”

Another Letter, from the same to the same, dated "London, the 2 of March." He begins by saying,—“I receyved your letters, Mr. Pyt, the fyrst off Apryll, wherein you leve to my dyscoresyon my stay here, and suppose that Mr. Tomson can and will do as muche for your affairs as occasyon shall requyre. To that I answer I thynk hym no enemy to the towne, so know I that he neyther ys off sufficyent credyt to do yt, nor yet wylle adventure to cross the doyngs off grete parsons [persons] ffor to wyn the favor off ten suche townes. . . . You wante no enemys, therefore I pray dele wysely yn all your actyons, and yn orderyng off your market, which no doute had ben cauled bak, yf I had not ben here to aunswer yt; and yet ys yt not determyned, but at leisure tyme the Counsayle wyll common [commune] further with me; but I nothing doute the satysfying off them yn that, and yn all other poynts also tuchyng your towne, which I wyll tender as yff the holle towne were my own, and do hope yff the the Parliament prosede to do that which ys not loked ffor. . . . I pray you yn any wysse let all the myxsons [dung-hills] and annoyances be carryed away byffore the spryng do cum.” In a postscript is added “I pray desyer him [your brother Rychard] to stay the six peses of sayle cloth which I byspake of hym, and I pray when any penyworth of good pych and tar shall cum, let me have for [four] barrels of fyne tar of the bigger band [? bread], and tow [two] of pych.”

WEYMOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

WEYMOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

In another Letter, date in 1586, addressed by Lord Thomas Howard,—“To my loving ffrende Mr. Wyllyam Pit, Maior off Weimouth and Melkom Regis, give these;” the writer asks of him—“with help of his brethren and ffrendes,” a loan of 40 pounds for six weeks, when it shall be repaid with, “a quarter of whete, for the frendly lone theroff; otherwise I will deliver good and parfyt whete, at iii s. iiiii d. the bussell, to levy thys 40 pounds; which mony I wol not for any thing myss a Fryday night or Saturday morning. I am yndifferent which off theis two offers be taken, preying you most hartely I may be ffrended to have the mony, what soe ever I give, to serve a present paiement, and such as I cannot breke, with my credit. The mache [? sample] ys good for bakers, and such as make byskey [biscuit]; for my whete ys very good, such as I sell to my neyghbours for iiiii s. the bussell. Redy to requyte, do byd you farewell. From Walterston, thys present Wednesday 1586. Your very loving ffrend Thomas Howarde.” There are also in this collection several other Letters from the same personage, coming down to the year 1593, if not a later date.

The following are extracts from the accounts of a person not named, but Roger Keate, in all probability; for his expenses in going to London on business of the town.—“I tooke my journey towarde London on Mondaye the viith of Februarie 1575(6). Spent as followeth. The viith, viiith, and viiith daies nothing, because Mr. Howarde paid my charge to London. Inprimis, at Sarum for mendinge my spurre leathers, and geevin to the hosteler for pains taken about a medecin for my horse, ii d. . . . Item, on Fridaie the tenth of Februarie, in the companie of certain courtiars, and of Mr. Robert Gregorie, at Westminster, at the Sarrazin’s Head, v s. Item, for 2 paire of shooes, and for greasinge my bootes, iiiii s. iiiii d. Item, for a pockett, because my pocket was all torne with the carriage of the money, vi d. . . . Item, on Saterdaie the xith of Februarie to dinner at Westminster, in a certain courtiar’s companie, xx d. Item, spent in sundrie drinkinges in Mr. Gregories companie, and in companie with Thomas Clementes and Thomas Samwise, ii s. ii d. Item, given to the dorekeeper of the Counsell Chamber, ii s. vi d. Item, for new stallinge my bootes, xvi d. Item, for a new paire of spurres, because I lost my spurres.”—Another somewhat similiar account of Roger Keate’s has been already given.

There is preserved a long correspondence, in 1569, between Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, about defaults in abiding by the award as to the collection of the “Petty Customs,” at the mouth of the river, or harbour; which had long been a cause of contention between the two towns. The Bailiffs and officials of Weymouth address those of the other place in civil enough terms, and sign themselves,—“Your friends;” but the people of Melcombe make answer, among other things,—“The more it semethe unto us, why youe shoulde so impudently burthen us with youre owne faulte;” and sign themselves,—“Your poore oppressed neyghbours of Melcombe Regis.” The above-mentioned papers are copies only of the original correspondence.

A parchment deed (in Latin) of the 35th year of Henry the Eighth (1543), whereby Richard Michell, Mayor, and the Bailiffs, of Melcombe, in consideration of 11s. 4d., paid by William Peres, as of the stipend “of our priest” [nostri sacerdotis], celebrating in the Chapel of St. Mary, at Melcombe, grant to him a burgage, or parcel of vacant land, on the south side of the said Chapel, between the “perambulatoria” [? cloisters] around the said Chapel, on the north side, and the vacant land now belonging to the town, but formerly to John Blackabere, on the south side; and extending towards a tree that is called “Lo gret Elme” [the great Elm], neare Maidensstrete, on the east side, and towards another tree with a like name, near Seynte Maryestrete, on the west side. The seals both of the Commonalty and the Mayoralty of Melcombe were originally set hereto, but are now lost.

A bill indented, dated the 1st of October and 1st of May, probably in 1571, 2, wherein Owen Rainoldes, Mayor, acknowledges the receipt of 47s. 4d. “towards his wayges, expenses, and allowances for being Burges of the Parliament.” After the union of the two towns under one Corporation, there were four burgesses elected for Parliament; the two highest on the poll being considered to be members for Weymouth, and the next two, members for Melcombe. Owen Rainoldes was one of the members for Melcombe side.

A paper writing, mutilated, and in an almost illegible hand. When deciphered, it is as follows:—“Die Saturni tertio die Februarii, anno regni Domine nostre Elizabehe xxx.º [A.D. 1588], apud The Taverne vocat ‘The Bores Hedd’ . . . die et anno supradictis, Johannes Broke, de W[eymouth] M[elcombe] Regis, in Comitatu Dorsetiæ, dixit hæc verba, videlicet,—That the Exemplification for the unities of the haven of Weymouth M[elcombe] Regis, under the Greate Seale, was forged by procurement of the townesmen, and that a priest or person [parson] near the North Battery was the forger thereof, and had for this purpose xx li. And that one Henrie Holman, of thile of Portlande, was witness thereof; in the presence of us . . . John Davys de . . . sen.” In the early days after the union of the two towns by Act of Parliament, they seem to have been much known under the name of “Weymouth Melcombe Regis,” without the interposition of the conjunction “and.”

A small paper writing, in a neat and legible hand:—“A note of such things as are delivered to John Gundry, Gentleman, this xth daye of Aprill anno Domini 1591, by Mr. Maior of Weymouth Melcumbe Regis. Imprimis, Mr. Gibbes Direction. Item, Mr. Swaynes note of the case in the Book of Assize. Item, the Incorporation of Mayors. Item, the Boundarie, under seal. Item, the Charter of Edward I., and the copie thereof. Item, the warrant whereby the distresse was taken. Item, a note of the discoverye of the title of Weymouth. Item, the copie of Mr. Watkins purchase of Raddypole. Item, the plot of the bounde. Item, the Charter exemplified in the Queen’s time for me Jo. Gundry.” The Charter of Edward the First to Melcombe Regis, which was existing at the above date, is now lost.

A Letter, dated 9th of October 1593, and signed “Howard,”—Charles, Lord Howard of Effingham, Lord High Admiral. He has been informed by Thomas Alworthe, of Bristol, merchant, and his own servant, Thomas Ware, that a “carvell,” belonging to them, “was caryed away by some lewed maryners,” and sold, without the owners’ consent: and that those (some persons of those parts) who bought her,—“set her onte” to the sea under commissione of reprisall, naming “her the ‘Tabacco pipe,’ in which voiage it was ther good hap to take an Indian prise, laden with hides and other merchandise.” The persons to whom this Letter is addressed, are requested to “arrest” the said carvell and prize, in favour of the rightful owners of the carvell. The Letter is addressed,—“To all officers of the Admiralty, to all Maiors, Justices of peace, Bayliffs, and other Her Majesty’s officers to whom it may apertaine.” Tobacco had been introduced into England, by Sir W. Raleigh, only about eight years before this mention of the ship, “the Tabacco pipe.”

There are various papers respecting the bringing of fresh water into Melcombe Regis from two springs in the common of pasture called “South Downe,” in the manors of Sutton Poyntz and Preston; the water then in use being “something brecheye [? brackish];” belonging to the reign of Elizabeth.

A paper, signed by William Waltham, Mayor [A.D. 1616], and 13 or 14 others, containing,—“The names of the parsons of Radipole [the mother church of Melcombe Regis] which have bin from time to time by the space of three score yeares last paste and up-wardes; and how they have used to say divine service in the Chapple of Melcombe Regis in the severall times wherein they were parsons there.” The person first named in the list is “Mr. Simon Bell,” who had been sometime “Prior of the Priorye, or Fryerie, of Melcombe.” “Threescore years past, he was parson of Radipoll, and so continued during his life.”

An autograph Letter, in a fine hand,—“Mr. Mayor; Theis shal be both to pray and require you to send all the constables in your towne to the musters at Dorchester to-morrow by ix of the clock in the morninge, and to place them uppon the tallest and meetest persons you have there to serve with them. Whereof expecting that yow will not faile, do bid you farewell. Wolveton, this xiiiith of July 1590. Your freend, George Trenchard.” There are also several other communications of a like nature, by the same hand.

A precept of the Justices of the Peace, signed “George Trencharde, John Wilyams, 30 Sept. 1585,” to the Borough of Weymouth Melcombe Regis, “as to the muster, armour, and training. A portion of it is as follows:—“Furthermore, you shall cawse each shott to bringe with him bulletts, a rolle of matche, and one pounce and half of powder, and not to shewte one

WY-
MOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

" shott thereof before such tyme as he shall be directed " to which ende he shall expende the same."

A confession, dated the 3rd of March 1585, by William Samwayes, to the effect, that he had laid hands upon Ralph Colston, because the said Ralph rescued George Moone; who had been arrested by authority of the Bailiffs, William Ledoze and Roger Gyer; before John Mokette, Mayor. Of interest only, for the occurrence of the surname of Colston, so well known in connexion with Bristol.

A paper, indistinctly written, addressed to the Mayor, Bailiffs, Constables, etc., for the apprehension " of John " Younge, of the cyttie of Exceter, of the age of 50 yerres " or upwardes, a surgen by his syence, his apparell black, " and doth speake French-like"; he being suspected of felony: date, 5th of January 1582.

A Letter, signed " Chr: Hatton," and directed,— " To my very lovinge frend Mr. Tho. Mounshall, Maior of " Melcombe Regis." He expostulates, at great length, on part of Her Majesty's Privy Council, on the violent proceedings of the authorities, in staying certain bushels of salt belonging to " Robert Bushoppe, a poor man;" " From the Court at Sunninghill, the 3 of Sept' 1583." Pleas (in Latin) in a Court holden at Weymouth 1st of July 1610, in an action of debt by William Mower against Samuel Grosse, of Great Yarmouth, in the county of Norfolk, for his wages, as masters, for 2 months and 21 days, of the vessel called the " Mayflower," on a voyage from Plymouth to Middleborough (Middelburgh in Zealand, in Holland). It seems not improbable that this was the same vessel that afterwards carried the Pilgrim Fathers to the coast of Massachusetts in 1620, where they founded Plymouth Dock, in New England.

A Letter, addressed to the authorities of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, signed by Theophilus, Earl of Suffolk (son of Lord Thomas Howard, previously mentioned), and dated " Audley End July 11th 1626"; asking them to make a return to him, in accordance with directions in a Letter to him of the Lords of the Council, a copy of which is enclosed, bearing date the 10th of July 1626. In it they speak of the preparations for an invasion of England, then being made in Spain and Flanders. All able men from the age of 16 to threescore are to be enrolled. He himself (the Earl) is to report generally on the state of defence of the three Counties of Cambridge, Suffolk, and Dorset, by the 10th of August next. In a postscript to the Earl's Letter is added—" To my verie " loving freends, Mr. Henry Hastings Esquier, Sir " Tho. Freke, Sir Jo. Browne, and Sir Nath' Napper, " Deputy Lieutenants for the Countie of Dorset, these be " delivered." Below, the names of " citties or townes," are added; " Cambridge, Ipswich, Edmondsburie, Poole, " Lyme, Weymouth, and Melcombe," with the amounts of powder, match, and lead, in those places, respectively, in store; Weymouth having 2½ lasts of powder, 2½ tons of match, and 2½ tons of lead.

A Letter, addressed to the Mayor of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, from Dorchester, " the last of Sep- " tember 1626," and signed by John Browne, Thomas Freke, and Richard Strodes, three Deputy Lieutenants. The Mayor is informed that he has at Weymouth the lieutenants and ensign of Sir Thomas Yorke's Company, with part of such Company. The intent of the writers was, that the people of Weymouth should receive the officers so consigned to them, and therefore the fewer of the Company had been sent. Their expectation had been that means would be taken to billet the officers " in some private house amongst you;" but on the contrary, " they, being at a common inn, doe finde it " very chargeable." The authorities are therefore asked to find the lieutenants 20 shillings, and the ensign 13 shillings, per week; the same to be returned out of their pay, when received from the King.

A letter to the " Right Worshipful the Mayor of Wey- " mouth and Melcombe Regis," signed " Jhon Wattes," without date. He is commanded by " my Lord of Den- " bigh, Vice-admirall of his Majesties fleete, now " bound to sea," to write and inclose a note " of such " men as are pressed, and stand tested for His Majesties " service;" and have since run away, or are absent. If found, they are to be sent aboard his Majesty's ship the Red Lyon. A postscript is added,— " My Lord " entreateth youe to remember his service unto Sir " Thomas Freake, with many thanckes for his present."

A contemporary copy of a Letter from the Lords of the Council, dated the 28th of October 1629; stating that in Holland and especially at Amsterdam, as also in France, more particularly Rochell, and in the " porte towns in " Britany," there is " a contagious and infectious sick- " ness, whereof great numbers dayly dye;" and that the infection has been lately brought into the " Isle of Sylley,

" by a marchant shipp of those portes that lately touched " there." Directions are therefore given at length, for staying communication with the infected places.

A small paper, neatly written, with a number of signatures mostly finely written, of the then chief person- ages of St. Helier's, in the Isle of Jersey; in Norman French.— " Nous soubssignez, Counestable et principaux " de la paroisse de la Trinite, certifions a Monsieur le " Bailly, et a Messieurs de justice, que nous trouvons " Abraham Coutaunce et Jeanne, sa femme, bien propre " et capable pour tenir taverne en la dite paroisse, et " tenir maison ouverte a tous hostes et gens de bien; " en soy veiglant, gouvernant, et conduisant, suyvant " aux ordres de justice. Donne a St Helier, le 27 jour " du mois de Mars 1633."—" We the undersigned, Con- " stable and principal persons of the parish of the Trinity, " do certify to Messire the Bailly and my Lords of jus- " tice, that we find Abraham Coutaunce and Jean, his " wife, very proper and capable to keep tavern in the " said parish, and to keep house open to all guests and " people of means; watching, governing, and conduct- " ing themselves, according to the orders of justice. " Given at St Helier's, the 27th day of the month of " March, 1633." Among the signatures, ten in number, the surname " Dumaresque " twice occurs.

A written sheet of paper, the purport of which is as follows.— " xii. February 1636. A note of the Charters " sent to London to Mr. Recorder. Exemplification of " Liberties the 8 Edward I., made 41 Edward 3^d. The " Great Charter. A testimony of divers Charters in " Winton remaining, granted by Kinge Ethelred. " Grant of the Prior of St. Swythine's to Waymouth, " anno 38 regni Regis Henrici 3. Grant of divers " Libertys anno 11^{mo} Edwardi 2^d. Exemplification of a " Quo Warranto brought in 8 Edward I. Exemplifica- " tion of the Charters anno 22^{do} Elizabethæ, which " were granted 41 Edwardi 3rd. Confirmation of the " Charters anno 1^{mo} et 2^{do} Elizabethæ. Exemplifica- " tion of an Act of Parliament anno 13th Elizabethæ. " A perpetuity of the fee farme anno 40 Elizabethæ. " A decree made 23th Elizabethæ. Exemplification of " an Order 24 Elizabethæ. A decree made sexto Eliza- " bethæ. A decree 24th and 25th Elizabethæ. Paper. " —Inquisition 6th Edward 3.—Wanting this 27th of " January 1639 of the towne writings.—Inquisition in " paper. Exemplification of an Act of Parliament, in " confirmation of the Chartre anno 1 and 2 Elizabethæ. " —Delivered the 27th of January 1639 unto Mr. " Francis Gape, [the Town Clerk], 5 ancient Accounts " of the former Mayors." A pen is run through the entry as to missing papers, in a darker ink.

A paper writing, stating that William Pease, Gent., has been appointed by the Commissioners for the Navy to see to the impressing and raising of 250 mariners in the County of Dorset; choice to be made of the best and most sufficient mariners and seafaring men, " and " not of such as be loose and unskilfull, and not fit to be " employed in soe important a service. From the " Courte of Whitehall, this 21st of June 1626. (Signed) " G. Buckingham, Hollande, E. Conway, Pembroke, " Carlyle, Carleton, Grandison, J. Coke, Jul. Cæsar, " and others. Addressed to " Sir George Trenchard, " Sir Tho. Freke, Sir Jo. Strangways, Sir Jo. Browne, " the Mayors of Waymouth and Poole, or any of them."

A Letter, addressed,— " To my loving friend Mr. " Humfrey Jollif, att the signe of the Black Spread " Eagle, behynde St. Clement's Church Yard in the " Strand, at Mr. Gowur's house, London. Give these."—" Mr. Jollif. Herewith you shall receive a Conrt " Booke kept by Mr. Smale; it is one of the antientes " that I have in my custody, the rest being locked up " in the Town chest among antient records; I was " willing to have sent up my present booke that I now " keepe, but that I cannot spare the same, for that I " have every day use thereof. I hope this (though not " so well kept as could be wished) will serve the turne " at present, and satisfy of your keeping the Court. " We hold another Court on Waymouth syde, but that " holds pleas of causes under 40s., and is by act: only, " being kept 'de tribus in tres' [three-weekly], " whereof there is noe question, as I conceive. As for " wrecks of sea, flootsam, jettson, and lagan, I know " none can give you better information thereon than " Mr. Mayor, who is now in London. You have also " many others of our towne there, with whom you " [can] conferre about that businesse, and who (for " ought I know to the contrary) are able to make " affidavit thereof. And thus, with my love remem- " bered to you, I rest your very loving freind, Fran: " Gape. Melcomb Regis, 5to Januarii 1638." As already noticed, Francis Gape was at this time Town

WY-
MOUTH AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

WEYMOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

"better relief of the towne, at such reasonable price which by yow and John Smyth shalbe thought mete. For as it doth not appertaine to me, soe will I not sett downe any price for that which maie be called hereafter in question; yet doe I thinke, and soe would have it knowne, that the towne is to be favoured in the price more then any others. I thanke you for your newes out of Spaine; and pray you, as occasion of such matters may fale out, to acquaint me therewith, whome you shall find myndefull of your good-wills therein. Soe fare you hartely well. From the Court at Greenwich, this 14 of January 1586(7). Your verie loving freind (signed) C : Howard."

Another Letter, by the same, addressed,— "To my verie lovinge freinde, Wylliam Pytt, Mayor of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, and to others of that Corporation, give these."—"After my verie hartie commendations unto yow. I have received your letter of the 18 of Aprill, and marvell not a litell that Mr. Hawley would send proces ether to staie the goods or to arrest the parties to apaire before him at Corcasstell. Therefore as you have done well in permitting the goods lawfullye bought to pass away accordinge to my letters, and wisely in takeinge recognizance of the captaine and the companie to aunswere any matters in their late voyages for supposed piracie, according to his proces; soe now doe I require you to discharge the same recognizance; for that the captaine standeth bound to me in the highe Court of the Admeraltie to aunswere to whatsoever may be objected against him or them for any thinge done in the same voyage. And as I will not in any waye wittingly prejudice your libertees and privileges, soe will I not lose the prerogative and right incident to myne office, and therefore pray you to send up some about the middell of the next terme to confer with my counsell therein, and yf they finde you to have right in any things touching the Admiraltie, I will not debarr you of your dewe that may come thereby. And soe I leave you to the Almighty. From the Court at Grenewich, this 26 of Aprill 1587. Your very loving freind (signed) C : Howard."

A long Letter, on foolscap, with autograph signature, as follows: addressed,— "To our loveing freinds the Mayor or other cheefe officers of the townes of Weymouth and Poole."—"After our hartie comendacions. His Majestie [Charles I.] well understanding the ambicion and mallice of his declared enemy, the King of Spaine, and being certified from all partes what great preparations of sea and land forces are in readines for the invasion of these kingdomes, hath by the advise of his Councils, as well of Estate as of Warre, taken this royal resolution, not only with a new and strong flecte to carrie the warre as farre as may be from our owne coasts, and to assaile the enemy within his owne ports, but also to arme and strengthen himselfe upon his owne coast, that by God's blessing he may repell and frustrate anie attempts which may be made against us either from Flanders or from Spaine. And considering that the religion, libertie, lives, and estates of us all are nolesse engaged herein then his Majesties owne safetie and honour, hee doth not doubt that all his loving subjects will shew their forwardnes and courage in performing no less (or rather more) then upon like occasions hath with great alacritie ben don in former tymes. And because theise great occasions, besides the whole strength of his Majesties navie royall, require a present preparation of a considerable number of the shippes of his subjects, his Majestie, of his royall grace and wisdom, to make the burden more easie, hath commaunded a proportionable distribution to be made amongst the ports of this kingdom, that most helpe may be required from the places of power, and that the weaker may be charged with so manie shippes onely as by our letters shalbe assigned; and that therein also they may be assisted not onely by their members, but by the inland townes and counties adjoyneing, according to such directions as shall be given in that behalfe. And now, according to this his Majesties most gracious will and pleasure, the towne of Waymouth and Poole, with the other sea townes and ports of that parte, is appointed to sett out but twoe shipp of 2— tonnes in burden, which must carrie twelve peeces of ordinance, and be fitt in warlike manner with all necessarie tackles, sea stores, and munition, and maned with — men at least, and victualled for three monethes. And because it is conceived that their is not any shipp belonging to that porte of that burden and force, which may be fitt for this service, there is order already given for such shipp to be sent you from London, which is to be hired and furnished by yourselves in such state as shall be fitt. And if you want men, there is likewise order given to the Justises, your neighbours, to supplie from the countie a third parte of the coplement of your shippes out of such able bodies as may be fitt to use musketts. And the Justises are also directed to assist and beare a part with you in the provision of victuals. And if you cannott gett powder and shott in those partes, the officers of the ordinance shall see you furnished therewith at a moderate charge; soe as haveing all these helpes, and your employment beeing intended no further than our coast, and for defence of the kingdome, which cannot be deserted without dangers and reproach, we rest assured that, like men of courage and zeale to the common cause, you will not faile to use such dilligence and expedition in setting forth the shippes, that the other portes may not prevent [i.e. anticipate] you in coming sooner to the rendezvous at Portsmouth, whence the whole flecte must sette to sea by the end of July, and is not to be retarded by the neglect of anie, who shall thereby incurre his Majesties just offence. And so wee bid you hartily fare well. From the Court at Whitehall the last of June 1626."—[In another hand]—Postscriptum. "You have to observe the proportion of 2 men to every 3 tonnes, for the manning of your shippes."—"Your loveing freinds (signed) Tho. Coventrye. Marleburgh. Manchester. Montgomery. G. Buckingham. Totnes. Pembroke. Kellie. Grandison. E. Conwey. D. Carleton. J. Edmondes. Jo. Suckling. Robt. Naunton. Rich. Weston. J. Coke, Jul. Cæsar. Hum. May." There is an endorsement on this Letter, in a contemporary hand:—"Receaved this letter the 12th daye of July, aboute 8th of clocke in the eveninge 1626."

Another and somewhat similar Letter, addressed,— "To our verie loveing freinds, the Mayor, Magistrates, and cheefe officers of Waymouth."—"After our hartie commendations. Whereas his Majestie hath bene advertised from divers good parts, that the King of Spaine, both in his remote and neere dominions, doth prepare a puissant army by sea and land to invade this kingdome, in a most hostile manner, insomuch that now very suddenly wee expect an attempt upon us, and because we have represented to his Majestie, that you, as being next the danger, will be most concerned herein, his Majestie, out of his royall and tender care of your good, taking into consideration the present condition and weaknes of your towne, hath thought fitt not only to send you tymely warning hereof, but gratioously to authorize and give you leave by [the] advice of the Lo. Leiuetennant, or in his absence the Deputie Leiuetennants, of your shire, and three of the Justises of Peace next adjoyneing, to fortifie your towne by all those waies and means which may best secure you from the invasion of the enemy. And for that purpose to use this letter as a warrant; not doubting that accordingly you will take the assistance of such ingineers and experienced men in the warres as may make your towne most defensible; assuring you for the rest that his Majestie hath noe intercoures herein any way to discharg himself from the due care he hath of your safeties, but only to incite and stirr you upp; that in imitation of other townes in forraigne countries, which have bene drawne to the same exigent, and which have made use of the same remedies, you would, according to the libertie his Majestie doth voucsafe unto you, take the benefitt of this his favour for the securing yourselves from these imminent dangers. The further proofe of which his Majesties gracious intencion we doubt not but to procure unto you, when we shall understand of your forwardnes herein. In the meane tyme, if you shall discover any considerable number of shippes, or other apparent argument of an enemy upon your coasts, we doe require and charge you, not only to fyre the beacons, and warne the countries adjoyneing of your danger, but to send us imediate word thereof. And so we bidd you farewell. From the Court at Whitehall, the 7th of July 1626. Your very loving friends Marleburgh. Manchester. Totnes. J. Bridgewater. E. Conwey. J. Coke."

A Letter, addressed,— "To our verie loving friends, the Maior and Aldermen of Waymoth and Melcombe Regis, these be delivered." Dated "Blandford, 3rd Augusti 1626," and signed "Henry Hastings. Tho. Freke. John Browne. Nath. Napper." The Lords of the "Privie Counsell" have abated one of the three shippes first assessed upon the three ports and county of Dorset, and expect the other two to be "presently sett

WYMOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

" forth." They are requested to meet the undersigned at Dorchester on the Tuesday next, to receive further information on the contents of the letters which they have received. There is a postscript added:—"Wee further desier you to take notice wee and the muster-master will be at Weymouth, to vew and see your trained companies, upon Wednesday the ninth of this instant August."

These are numerous sets of yearly Accounts of the Mayors of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis in Mr. Sherren's Collection, belonging to the 16th and 17th centuries, mostly in small folio pamphlet form; in addition to which there are several of what may be termed "volumes," recently put in brown paper covers. The following is a brief account of them.—

A large folio volume, of 68 leaves of very stout paper, several of them, towards the close, being left blank. It has formed part of a thicker volume, the first leaf, in old numerals, being numbered 39: its character would seem to have been, partly that of a journal, and partly a common-place book, containing forms, precedents, and statutes. It begins with forms of indentures and obligations. At fol. 43, "The Customes of Billingsgate," here written out, of the Guildhall of London, ordered "by the Maior, Aldermen, and Commons," being a translation of the Latin code, a copy of which is to be found in the Liber Albus, belonging to the Corporation of the City of London. The Oaths of various Officials follow; then, at fol. 49,—"Melcombe Regis. The subsidye payde owt of the said town in anno 1570, as followyth":—the sums paid appearing under the heads of "Laundes, Goodes, Denyzins, Allyens, Sessors [? Settlers]." This list is for Melcombe Regis only, its union with Weymouth having taken place in the following year. Seven persons pay the subsidy in respect of "Lands," Owin Raynoldes (a celebrated Mayor of the place) paying 3*l*., George Bagge 40*s*., Margaret Pytte 3*l*. Seven persons pay in respect of "Goods;" one Denizen, Jervaise Mocket, "for goods" 20*s*.; three Aliens, and three Sessors: hence may be formed an idea of the then extent and resources of Melcombe Regis, (the portion of the present Weymouth that lies east of the haven, and facing the sea.) The book, having originally belonged solely to the town of Melcombe Regis, still contains entries in reference to the exclusive rights of inhabitants of that place: in folio 51 are given,—"Certayne Speciall Articles towchinge the chieff and princypall poynts of Melcombe Regis Charter, gevinge them boath the name and profits of the port, which the Bayllyfes and inabytaunts of Weymouth have and do withhold from them." Then follow the Articles, extracted from the Charter granted to Melcombe Regis in the 8th year of King Edward the First, which probably no longer exists, but which is recited in that of the 11th of Edward the Second, still in the possession of the Corporation. This is followed, in folio 52, by "Certayne other manyfeste proufe and sufficient good evidence, declaringe and aprovinge Melcombe Regis to ben the port and moreover the creeke as well by Statute [sic] lawe of the realme, and by the graunt of the Charter of Pole, as also by the custumes and Controlers accompts, geven up to the Exchequer in the xxxvi. yere of King Henry the Eyghth." Fol. 52b has "Thearle of Pentrouke his letter to the Maior and burgh of Melcomb Regis, procured by the Bailys of Weymouth upon a false informacion." In fol. 53 is a copy of a Letter, addressed probably to the Earl of Pembroke, acknowledging the receipt of his "gentell letters." At fol. 53b is a copy of a somewhat singular Letter from Robert, Earl of Leicester:—"My Lord of Leciter his letter for 40 horses." "For asmoche as I am crediblie informed that within the counties of Dorcet and Somerced ther be divers and sondrie pastures and other grounds so overpressed and rescived with a nombre of smalle nags, as well horses as mares, contrarie to the Statute in that case provided, as that thereby the good race and breede of sufficient serviceable horses and geldinges ys greatlly impayred and hindered, I have thought good by vertue of myne office to lyvence and authorise this berrer, Robart Gregorie, my servaunte, to by for his reasonable monye within the said too shyres the number of fortie of the same smalle unlawfull beastes, and them to transport beyonde the seas, ther to sell againe, or otherwise to exchange for other comodities to his best behauf and benyfit. And therefore these shalbe to require yowe and every of yowe, to suffer the said Gregory quietlie to imbarque and transport the same fortie smalle beastes owt of any of hir Majesties havens within the said twoo counties of Dorcet and

" Somerced, without any your let, staye, or mollestacion, wherof faylle ye not, as you will answer to the contrarie. At the court; the iiiiith of June 1571." R. Lesiter. To all Shryves, Justices, etc." At fol. 56, the union of the towns has now taken place (13th Elizabeth), and the volume is devoted to entries of the united Corporations:—"Waymouthe and Melcombe Regis. Constitucyons and orders made and fully agreed upon by the Mayor, Justices, and Allderdmenn [sic], Comon Counsell of the same toune, the viiith daie of Julie in the xiiiith yere of the raigne of our most gracious and soverain Ladie, Quene Elizabeth, Anno Domini 1571." Fol. 57b,—"Constitucyons for the maytenance of the haven, fullie agreed upon, and ratyfyed." Fol. 58,—"Constitucyons agaynste annoyances of the saide toune fully ratyfyed and establyshed, the penalties whereof beinge forfaycted ar to be received by the receiver of the same toune, and none other." Fol. 58b,—"Constitucyons agreed upon for the tranquilitie and better quietnes of the said toune, as aforesaid, the second daye of October, anno regni Reginæ Elizabethæ prædictæ xiii." These "Constitutions" are signed, in folio 59, "By me Rychard Pitt, Maior. By me Thomas Hanam, Recorder," followed by the signatures of all the then principal inhabitants of the united towns. At fols. 60, 61, follow copies of various letters written to the Corporation. Fol. 62 et seq., the mode of "Kepinge of Courte," and holding inquisition as to various offences. Fols. 66b, 67, Assessments to the Subsidy granted to her Majesty A.D. 1571. Fol. 68,—"The copie of a Letter sent from certayne of the Queenes Majesties most honourable Privie Counsell to certayne Commissioners, as may appere upon the sensiter complaynt of thinhabitants of Waymouth, upon articles falsly by them aleaged against thinhabitants of Melcombe." Fol. 72, Answer of John Jeffery and Roger Manwode, the Commissioners (apparently) appointed to arbitrate in the said disputes. Fol. 72b, "A taxation made for the Townes causes, the xith of October 1583, in the time of Bartelmew Allyn, Mayor." 20 shillings is the largest sum assessed, and sixpence the smallest.—Fol. 73b, "This order was had, made, and taken, in the Councell Chamber, by the Queen's Majesties most honorable Privie Counsell there assembled, the later ende of June, or 1, 2, or 3 daye of Julye 1582, et anno Reginæ 24^{to}. That none of Waymouth shalbe againe hard at the Counstable [error for 'Council'] table etc." It is thereby ordered that no petition by the inhabitants of Waymouth is to be heard at the Council table, in favour of John Brooke, of that place, who is in prison for disobeying the enactments consequent upon the union of the towns in 1571. From fol. 74 it appears that Brooke was a merchant of Waymouth, imprisoned in the Fleet Prison. One of his offences was "Contemptuous speches of an order" made in the Court of Exchequer, viz., that it is "not worthe a button." Fol. 75,—"A taxation made the last of Aprill 1584, aboute the bridge to be erected" (between Weymouth and Melcombe Regis), "Bartelmew Allyn, Mayor." Fol. 76,—"The names of the xxiiti chosen and supplied in the roomes of suche as were ded, taken in Aprill 1584, in the time of Mr. Bartelmew Allyn's Mayoraltie." Fol. 76b,—"Constitutions made and agreed upon for the payment of suche taxation as well upon freemen at lardge as other men, the xxxth daye of December, anno Elizabethæ nunc Reginæ xxvii." This is signed by "Thomas Howarde, Hewgh Randell, Mayor," the then Bailiffs, and all the chief inhabitants of the town. Fol. 77b,—"Orders and Constitutions made and agreed upon, the xiiith daye of October in the xxxvith yere of the reign of our Sovereigne Ladye Elizabeth, the Quene's Majestic that now is." This is signed by "Robert Morris, Mayor," and the principal officials and men of the town. Fol. 78,—"The Counsells letter for authorisinge certayne Justises at lardge to assiste the Mayor for the time beinge in executinge justice etc." Fol. 79, copy of a Letter from Francis Walsingham to the Lord Chief Baron. It is to the same effect as the copy already mentioned, and Walsingham's signature here also is facsimiled. Fol. 80,—"A generall taxation, maid the xxth day of Julye 1591 by these persones heare under wryten, to be weickly paid from the furste day of June until thaire be a sufficient some of mony gathered for fyndinge [founding] of the jeattye on Melcombe side." One or two copies of letters then follow, the last date being 1594; the volume ending with a translation of the "Statute of Winchester." On the 14th of October 1594 (fol. 81), Richard Swayne succeeds Serjeant Hanham as Recorder; the latter having been appointed on the union of the towns in 1571.

WYMOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

WEYMOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

A book, small folio, paper, imperfect, containing minutes of the proceedings of the Law Court of Weymouth and Melcomb Regis, from 17th January to 1st of October, 18th Elizabeth; there is a presentment by the Jury, in English, at the end, 1st October 1576. The cases themselves seem to be mostly actions for debt.

The next volume, in date, is of a somewhat similar nature, containing proceedings of the Law Courts, with View of Frank Pledge, together with the Manor Court, held at Weymouth, Wareham, Portland, or Portlond, Pimperne Hundred, and Wyke Regis, these being, all of them, royal manors, and the Courts there being held by the stewards of the manors respectively. The entries begin at the 1st of October in the 24th of Elizabeth, and end the 3rd of September in the 25th. As in the preceding volume, the entries are in Latin, but the "Ordinationes" that are occasionally introduced are in English. For example, on the 15th of April, in the 25th year, at a Law Court, or View of Frank Pledge, holden at Weymouth, it is ordered,—"That the beere and alle brewers and sellers wythin this libertye shall sell theyre drynk under the reuge at iii*d*. the gallonde, and beyng stale att iii*d*. the gallonde, and to use just measures upponne payne for every that make default to forfeit iis. vi*d*." Also, at the same Court,—"That every hyghe tenant shall be bounden unto her Majestie with sureties for his under tenant, yf he hathe anye, that he shall dyscharge the parysshe of all such under-tenants, and of the sequell [family, or wife and children], and that they shalbe of good goverment and no wood stealers, upon payne for every hyghe tenaunt making default, to forfeit vs." There are also contained in this volume minutes of the—"Three weeks' Court," "Curia Dominae Reginae de tribus septimanis;" a Court formerly held in pleas of debt under the sum of 40 shillings, from time to time, at the several places whose names are above-mentioned. At a Law Court and Manor Court holden at Weymouth, on the 8th of April, in the 25th year of Elizabeth, the following order was made:—"Hytt ys ordenyd and decreed by the consent of the Jurators and others, thatt the Charters and other evydences and wryttings concernyng or belongynge to the towne and the libertye of the same, shalbe kepte in the commone cheaste, accordynge to thauncyent usage of the towne; as also the towne seale. And that nothyne in the sayde cheast shalbe taken oute, nor the sayd chest openyd, except there be present xii of the burgesses of the sayd towne. That none shall suffer theyr pygges at lardge in any place wythyn the towne, upponne payne to forfeit for every foote one peny, and the fyrst [first] to take to the same. That the shambles be taken downe, and sayvd to the use of the towne, or otherwyse. That they who bryng the butter or cheese to the towne to sell, shall stande att the markett place, and nott to goo to the howses, so as the towne maye be generally servyd. That the flyshers doo bryng the fysh into the markett, that the towne maye be fyrst servyd. That the buttes maye be newe made." There appear to be many particulars of value among these entries in reference to the royal manor of Portland, in those days; there are some entries also bearing reference to the town of Wareham.

A thin folio paper volume, containing proceedings of the Court of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, from the 24th of November in the 27th year of Queen Elizabeth to the 13th of July in the same year; imperfect, and in a mutilated condition. The proceedings are before Hugh Randall, the Mayor, or his Deputy, and seem to be mostly actions for debt. The minutes are entered partly in English, but mostly in Latin.

The next is a thin small folio paper volume, containing proceedings (in Latin) in "The Court of our Lord the King in the Guildhall, which has been holden time out of mind" for the town of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, beginning on the 9th of September in the 4th year of King James the First, and ending on the 20th of April in the 7th year of the same reign.

The next is a similar volume, in good condition, containing proceedings of the same Court, from the 2nd of October in the 2nd year of James the First to the 12th of August in the 4th year of the same reign; the entries are mostly in Latin, but some few in English. Application is occasionally made by persons who "stand in dread of their life, or some hurt of their members to be done unto them," by others.

A similar volume, beginning 21st October in the 4th year of James the First, and ending the 31st January in the 6th year of the same reign. The entries are in Latin, and it is imperfect at the beginning.

A thin volume of a similar nature, imperfect, and containing only a few leaves. It begins in July, and ends 5th of September 1609.

A similar book, but on smaller paper, beginning 20th April in the 11th year of James the First, and ending the first of October in the 14th year of the same reign. The contents (in Latin) seem mostly to be actions of debt or trespass, before the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, burgesses, and commonalty, of the town. In this and the preceding book, the Court is also described as having been holden "time out of mind"—cujus contrarii memoria hominum non existit.

A thicker volume, almost perfect, with its old parchment cover, the entries beginning on the 29th of March 1625, and ending, the last three or four leaves being much mutilated by damp, on the 1st of May 1627. Among other matters, there is an entry (in Latin) to the effect that Avice Locke, widow, had offended "against form of the Statute," by selling smaller beer (minorem cervisiam) than at the rate of one ale-quart (unum le alequarte) for one penny.

The next is a similar volume, the entries beginning at the 23rd of December in the 4th year of Charles the First, and ending the 11th of May 1630. As in the preceding volumes, the entries are generally pleas of debt or trespass, in Latin; but in this volume, apprenticeships are enrolled (in English) as well. At the other end of the volume are a few copies of letters written by or to the Maior, in 1621-3, in reference to matters connected with the trade of the town.

A similar small folio volume, the entries beginning on the 6th of September 1631, and ending the 24th of November in the 9th year of Charles the First: there seem to be no entries of apprenticeships in it. Commencing at the other end of the volume, are the minutes (in Latin) of a single Piepowder Court, holden at the Guildhall on the 4th of April in the 8th year of Charles the First; the only case apparently being an action of debt by Matthias Cassemar, gentleman, against James Jolly, Knight, "Seneiur de Besne," otherwise called "James Jolly, Scieur de Besne, Knight," for a sum of 265*l*. After repeated adjournments, judgment is given in favour of the complainant. This is the only entry here of proceedings in a Court of Piepowder, since the 14th century, that has been met with.

The next volume, in date, is a Minute-book of the Corporation, a small folio, in its original stiff parchment binding. Its latest entry belongs to 1649, its earliest apparently being of the 21st of March 1644; when Mr. Francis Gape, Town Clerk, seemingly without notice given, but not improbably for political reasons, suddenly abandons his office, and Richard Stovile is elected, by ten votes of the Corporation, against Gilbert Loader, with two. In p. 11, 29th January 1644, "It is ordered that the Towne Litter [Lighter] shall bee forthwith trimmed upp, and made fit for service." The following entry (p. 8) bears reference to the Parliamentary soldiers then quartered in the town:—"Thexamination of Martha Gould of Waimouth and Melcombe Regis, widow, the 10th day of January 1644 (5), who sayeth that John Barnes, one of Lieutenant Colonel Cokers souldiers, on or about Fry-day last about 6 or 7 of the clocke, at night, brought into the Examinant's howse one quarter of a fatt pig or a porker, and there left it with this Examinant; which this Examinant did salt, and putt it up in a tub, and kept untill the constables upon search found it in her powdering [salting] tub." There are many further examinations entered in reference to this pig. P. 12,—3rd of July 1645, "Concerning the Governor's proposall about takinge downe the timber of part of the Chappell. The Maior and Company do humbly conceive itt fitt that the timber should remaine, and that it should be covered. And in regard it was spoiled in the tyme of the seige, the state may bee at two thirds of the charge for the covering of it, and the townsmen of Weymouth at the other third, if the Governor shall thinke it fitt that it be covered againe. but not otherwise. As touching the building of a fort at the Looking place—the Maior and Company now presente doe agree that a rate shall bee made upon the townsmen for the raising of tenne pound towards the charge thereof, yf the Governour please to order the raising of a fort there." P. 15,—"It is agreed that such liters as there shall bee occasion of, shall be ympressed for the use of the towne. by warrant from the Vice-admirall, for the carrying away of the soile which now lies in the streetes and lanes." An order is afterwards made, that the inhabitants shall collect the "durt" before each person's house, and that the same shall be removed

Weymouth
and Melcombe
Regis.

WY-
MOUTH AND MEL-COMBE
REGIS.

WY-
MOUTH AND MEL-COMBE
REGIS.

twice a week by horse and cart. Admissions to the freedom frequently occur in the early part of this volume. P. 19,—“Memorandum, at a Hall on Friday the xxth of September 1645, there was paid in unto Mr. John Thornton, the Towne Steward, 20 shillings for a fine paid by the tobacco merchant, for a licence to sell his tobacco here.” P. 40, 21st November 1645,—“Mr. Robert Hardy, of Melcombe Regis, apothecary, on his oath sayeth that on Wednesday last, in the afternoon, he heard Thomas Allin, one of the constables, say that a company of Cavaleer raskals had abused him, which spake faire to his face, and abused him behind his back.”—“Roberte Waall of this town, merchaunte, on his oath, sayeth that on Wednesday last he, being present on the bridge, heard Thomas Allin, one of the constables, call Mr. George Churchey, one of the Aldermen of this town, a drunken malignant knave, and say there was a good nice fraternity of them.” P. 45, 19th December 1645,—“John Dudle, clerk of the Parish of Melcomb Regis, is this day promised by the Maior and Company xls. for ringing of the bell from Michaelmas last till Lady Day next, at 4 in the morning and at 8 at night, and for keeping of the clock according to the former custome.” In p. 48 there is a corrected draught of a Petition to Parliament, the nature of which is to some extent explained by this entry, in p. 49,—“Another Petition to the Standing Committee by the said Maior, etc. To the Honourable Committee of the County of Dorsett. The humble Petition of your Maior, Aldermen, etc. Humbly Shewith, That your Petitioners being deeply affected with the necessity of having an able, godly preacher of the word to bee settled amongst them, and a sufficient mayntenance for such a minister, doe conceive itt their duty to present their petition to that end unto your high Court of Parliament. Your Petitioners doe therefore humbly crave your letter unto the Speaker of the House of Commons in favour of the Petition herewith tendered unto you. And your Petitioners shall pray, etc.” P. 53, 11th March 1645 (6).—“This day, Captain John Arthur, Vice-admirall of the County of Dorset, came before Mr. Thomas Waltham, Mayor and Justice of Peace and Quorum of this town, and did sweare his peace against John Waltham, of Weymouth and Melcomb Regis aforesaid, merchaunt. And the said John Waltham did say that hee would take away the life of the said Captain Arthur, and called him many opprobrious [sic] names, viz., rogue, toade, cowardly slave, severall tymes, and used many other abusive termes towards the said Captaine Arthur, in the presence of the said Maior, and swore two oaths, by the name of God and God’s wounds, in the said Maior’s presence. And it appears unto the said Maior, upon the oath of the said Captaine Arthur and of Arthur Holman, of Weymouth and Melcomb Regis aforesaid, merchant, that the said John Waltham assaulted and strooke the said Captain Arthur within this town. Further, the said Arthur Holman testified upon his oath, that the said John Waltham first strooke the said Captain Arthur with his fist, and afterwards strooke him with a stick in his face, which brake the skin of his face neere his eye. John Browne, Esquire, testifieth on his oath, that the said John Waltham this day said that hee would kill the said John Arthur, and that hee would make noe more to kill him than a toade. And the said John Waltham said unto the said Captaine Arthur out of this Court, hee would have right upon him.” The result was, that Waltham was put upon his recognizances in the sum of 80 l. In the same page William Fudge is fined 5 shillings for being drunk, which sum was to be paid to Constable Leonard Hillard, for the use of the poor. P. 56, 20th March 1645,—“It is ordered and agreed upon, that all the inhabitants of this town in the afternoon in every weeke, forthwith upon the toling of the Hall bell, shall clense ther gutters before their severall howses, lands, and grownds, at the same time, and carry away all such durt and soile unto severall wast places in places void and convenient in Weymouth,” under certain penalties there stated. P. 57,—“Mr. John Huney sayeth that Roger Legg, one of Captaine Henry Culliford’s soldiers, on Tuesday 16 March, brake up the pound in the Fryery, and tooke out thence one pigg of the said John Huneyes, which was impounded by the porters for annoying the streetes.” The “piggs” seem also to have led to other annoyances; p. 57,—“Daniell Windsor, one of the porters of this town, on his oath, deposest that hee being in the execution of his office in the ympounding of the piggs of William James for going

“about the streetes of the towne, Wensday last, Mary, the wife of the said William James, called this deponent base consart and base raskall, and other opprobrious names.” P. 58,—10th April 1646. John Dudley says on his oath, that Robert Saunders, mariner, had said “that Mr. Ince and Mr. Way, the two ministers, were knaves both in their preaching, and that the said Mr. Way did preach plaine Popery; and that he would justifie to Mr. Ince his face, that he was a knave in his preaching, and that he would soundly heare of it; or used words to the like effect. And . . . that the said Robert Saunders said in this examinant’s hearing that hee fought not against the Papists for their religion, for twas lawfull for every man to use his conscience, but hee fought against them as bloudy men; and said that hee would fight as valiantly against the Presbyterians, as ever hee did against the Cavaleers.” P. 60,—5th May 1646, John Thomas, one of the Corporals of Lieutenant Colonel Coker’s Company, arrests a “marriner” and a sailor of Southampton; the former for being drunk, the latter being “well entred in beere;” one of the offenders, he says, “blasphemously swore” one oath, the other three oaths. The town, it may be here remarked, was at this time in the hands of the Parliamentary forces, under the command of Colonel Sydenham, and oaths were rigorously counted. P. 61,—“John Biere, mariner, on his oath sayeth that on Wensdaie last, about 7 of the clock in the evening, this deponent was upon the key, neere the George, where hee heard John Jourdain say to Mr. Henry Rose, one of the Bailiffes and Justices of this town, that hee was a cavaleer, and as bad as Fabian Hodder, [who was condemned to death, if not executed, by the Parliamentarians], or worse; and was a two faced knave. And that [he] heard Mr. Bailiff saye to Jourdain,—that hee, meaning Mr. Bailiff, would throw downe all againe shortly.” Another witness, David Dove, by name, improves upon this, at the next Court (p. 62) and asserts that the said John Jordan [sic] then said,—“Thou art a double-faced man, and Fabian Hodder is an honest man then thou; for hee hath stood to what hee hath undertaken, but thou hast turned on every side.” Jourdain acknowledges his offence, but is pardoned at the intercession of Bailiff Rose. This was on the 8th of May 1646, and on the 15th, Isaac Bolt gives information that he has heard Giles Gregorie, sailor, say in an alehouse kept by Robert Wyer, a sergeant of Captayne Bragg’s Company,—“that Thomas Waltham, Waltham’s calfe, Maior of this town, is a traitour.” Gregorie is consequently put upon his recognizances in the sum of 40l., to appear at the next Sessions of the peace, with two sureties of 20l. each. On the 27th of May in the same year (p. 63), John Waltham, merchant, is accused by Richard Covett of threatening to kill Captain John Arthur [who was a strong Parliamentarian], and calling him “cuckoly rogue,” with another bad name. Of Mrs. Pitt it was also alleged that he spoke in as strong terms, as being “an Independant loose woman [by periphrasis], and that he would have her, and all other such Independant loose women whipt out of the town.” In p. 64 it is stated that,—“The said John Waltham carryed himselfe very saucily before the said Maier, and said that the said Richard Covett [the witness against him] shuld not write, and bidd goe about his business, and tooke him by the arme, and tooke away the Towne Clerke’s booke from him:” the consequence being, that the said witness has here omitted to sign his name, as was usually done. From the following passage (p. 75), the 19th of June 1646, we learn that at this date spirit-drinking, as a help towards getting drunk, had already set in:—James King, servaunte of Richard Keate, of Weymouth, blacksmith, by his own confession before Mr. Maier and Mr. Bailiff Leddoze, was drunk on Saturday last in the afternoone in Weymouth; and confesseth that hee and one about Osmington drank a cupp of beere at Dorothy Benfeilde, and from there the said King, and some others, went to Caseways, and there drank strong waters, and came home, and quarrelled, and strooke his master.” The father and master [with singular leniency] promise to pay his fine within a fortnight, 5 shillings “for the use of the poore.” P. 77,—8 July 1646, “Katheryne Kinde, widow, being examined on her oath, sayeth that about 3 weekes sithens [since], she was neere the shopp of Mr. John Swetman, where Mr. Maddox and others had discourse about Independentes. And shee heard the said Mr. Maddockes [sic] say that hee did beleive there would bee a greater warre then had ben yett, if they did goe to putt downe Independentes.” P. 84,—“Matherwes Day, 21 Sept. 1646. This day Doctour John

WYMOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

"Bond tooke his oath of Recorder of this towne, and his oath of supremacye." John Bond, of Lutton, who was also Member for this town, had been a Fellow of St. Catharine's Hall, Cambridge, and was at this time Master of Trinity Hall, in that University. P. 95.—"George Churchey, of Wymouth and Melcomb Regis, humbly sheweth that upon Tuesday the 13th of October 1646, being market-day in that borough, about three of the clocke in the afternoone, as the said Mr. Churchey was following his calling, (divers countrey cheapemen being then in the towne, who were indebted to him), Mr. Peter Peeke, meeteing him in the market-place, told him that hee should forthwith quarter in his house 3 souldiers: the said Churchey answered him,—'Sir, you know that I pay weekly by your order six pence unto Daniel Hawk, one of your souldiers, and that my house being full of children, I have noe roome to entertaine any.' Mr. Pike [sic] then replied,—'Make your composition with these men,' there being then in company seaven or eight souldiers. My answer was, that what he did order I would pay. His answer againe was,—'Will you or will you not?' Myne againe was, that I would conforme myself as others of the towne did; whereupon he commanded his souldiers to carry me to the Black Rodd, which I willingly obeyed, and entered without any refusall, and being in the staires of the Hall, where prisoners use to bee, I was followed by the said Mr. Pike, who straightly charged his keeper to clapp mee up a close prisoner; which I perceiving, being at the topp of the staires, I turned myself about, and told him he needed not to feare; I was a prisoner, and would use noe indirect way to escape, and if hee pleased he might clapp irons on my leggs (therewith I tendered him my legg, in obedience), hee being at the foot of the staires, and myselfe at the topp; whereupon, in a fury, he mountes the staires, thundering out these words,—'Dost thou spurne at mee with thy foot?' and he takes me by the cloak, and pulls mee over three or foure staires, in much danger; whereupon my speech unto him was, that hee would forbear to assault me in the prison, for that I was not under his command, but a prisoner, and that I desired the priveledge of a prisoner. Whereupon I remained there untill nyne of the clocke in the night; at which tyme he came againe and told me, yf I would pay eightene pence weekly for souldiers lodgeing, I should bee free. My answer was, that he well knew I was never backwards to any payment in the garrison, and that what hee ordered I was ready to obey, as I had formerly answered him; whereupon I was freed. On Monday the 25th of October Lieutenant Peeke sent to mee in the morning 2 souldiers to quarter at my house. I told them I did quarter two already, at a widowes house, and would soe continue to lend them bedding and lodgeing as formerly I did; notwithstanding, a little before night hee sent a sergeant with 4 souldiers to quarter at my house. I asked them who sent them, who told mee it was the Lieutenant Colonell. I asked them if hee were at home, who answered hee was. Then in obedience to his warrant, I presently went over to him to give him satisfaction, how my lodgeings in my house were disposed of. But by the way, neere the mayne guard, Lieutenant Peeke came, in a hasty and colericke manner, to meet mee, and told mee I would not obey the L. Colonell's warrant. I then told him I was going to him to acquaint him whom I did quarter, and how I had quartered souldiers formerly, and was soe contented so to do; but he answered mee that I should have more in my house. I told him I could not; but hee said I should, and gave me many provoking and urgent termes, insomuch hee said I had sworne, and the oath, hee sayeth, was 'by God,' and hath soe taken his oath; which, if it were upon my salvation, I doe verily beleive it, there was not any such oath sworne, but in this manner I said unto him, when hee said they should quarter in my house, I said,—'God [sic] Sir, they shall nott,' soe that I did not sweare by God, as they falsely do accuse mee for swearing. Soe the same Munday night, about seaven of the clocke, there came Lieutenant Peeke, Captain Harding, 2 sergeants, and many musketeers, with matches burneing, and cam into my house in a hostile manner, and affrighted my people, and in a speciall manner a sicke sonne in a dying condition, and brought in the 4 souldiers. I told them I could not lodge them in my house, because my beds were all full; but I would lodge the two souldiers, as formerly I did, and told them I would spare them an house, which had a chimney in it, a locke and key to the door, that they might goe and come in and out at their pleasure. This would not give them content, but I must lodge them in my house, but pay for their quarter abroad; and gave me many provokeing termes. Captain Harding told me I was a malignant and a Cavaleer, both of them abusing mee in my owne house, and told mee that it was happy for mee I was proclaimed a traitour in the King's ruling tyme, but Mr. Peeke would have account of my French journey; and, as I can prove, he hath bin long seeking to prove some untruths which should be raised against mee, and would know what I have don for the Parliament, which I am ready to render an account of. And after a long and troublesome discourse, they left the four souldiers in my house, so that the 2 souldiers I quarter, or lent them bedding, they went to their old quarters; the other two, I preferred to give them fower pence betwixt them to pay for their lodgeng, soe that at the length they departed in a loveing manner, and well contented, and would not have any money to pay for their quarters. And soe I thought all had ben quiet; but betwixt 8 and 9 of the clocke he sent 3 other souldiers; one of them came into the towne not long since, for feare of a presse in the country, one Nathaniel Trim; the other was, as I am informed, a Cavalier souldier a little since, his name 'John Butcher.' These came with the match burning, the other had no musket; but these three would have lodgeing in my house, and knockt at my door in such furious manner, as though they would break up my doores, and comaunded a candle to go to bed. I told them they were best know where they should lodge first; they told me that they would lodge in my house. I told them I had sailes; if they would lodge in them, they should, but I had no bed then free to lodge them in. But they made as though they would have lodged in my sick son's or my other sonne's bed: but I kept them out, and still they continued in a quarrelling and threatening manner, untill they saw my sonnes abed, and then would needs see my daughter's lodgeing, which they did; and when they saw all the beds disposed of, then they searched the house, and cupboards in the house, for bedding; and in the end gave them a groat, and soe they went." P. 97,—23rd October 1646.—"It is ordered by the Maior, Bailives, Aldermen, and burgesses, that yf any deal boards which are landed out of the Hamburger now in the harbour, shall be laden in carts to bee carried out of the towne, they shall bee presently seised on for the use of the towne; untill further [?] notice] bee given. This order is given to the porters, for the doeing of the same." P. 98,—2nd November 1646. "Reasons given by the townesmen of Wymouth and Melcomb Regis for the setting of Mr. Ince in this towne, and not in Dunhead. Mr. Ince having used his function of a minister in this towne, as a preacher to the garrison almost 2 yeares, the townesmen had severall conferences with him to settle him amongst them as their pastor; and the Maior, Aldermen, Bailiffes, and burgesses, of the towne, at a meeting in the Towne hall to that purpose, upon a full debate of the busines, proposed the same solely to Mr. Ince, who at that time ingaged himselfe to bee their minister, in case hee might have a competency of mayntenance; for the procurement whereof, the Maior, Aldermen, Bailiffes, and burgesses, promised their endeavours, and in pursuance of the same, they sent one of the Bailiffes and Justices of the towne to London, with a petition to the Parliament to settle some mayntenance on the towne for a minister, nothing arising out of the towne, (being very poore and populous), but what the people please voluntarily to contribute. And upon their endeavours they obtayned a promise of 100l. per annum to be settled upon this and Radipole, which is but one pastorall charge. And the townesmen have generally promised to contribute according to their abilities for the more comfortable subsistence of the said Mr. Ince, and to provide him a house fitt for his habitation. Notwithstanding, Mr. Ince, (as the townesmen are informed), contrary to their expectations, hath sithence ingaged himselfe to the parishioners of Dunhead [in Wilts] to bee their minister; which is a very small charge of soules in comparison of this towne; soe that this populous place, of knowne consequence, is now left wholly destitute of any settled teacher. And the townesmen doe further humbly offer that they conceived Mr. Ince was fired to the town, as 'tis a garrison for the Parliament. And not only the townesmen, but the souldiery and the parts adjacent, are very much concerned in

WYTHMOUT
AND MELCOMB
REGIS.

"his continuance heere, who have unanimously manifested their earnest desier of the same, in regard he was a great encouragement to the souldiers in the late seige against the towne, in his own example and instructions unto them; soe that through Gods goodness hee was very instrumentall in the preservation of the place. And the souldiery and the townesmen are very much troubled and discontented upon hearing of his removall." From an entry at the other end of the volume, we learn that Mr. Ince was troubled in conscience as to whether he could, under these circumstances, break his promise to the people of Dunhead; the matter was accordingly referred to the House of Commons, who again referred the case to certain members of the Assembly of Divines, nominated for that purpose. These seem to have been the six persons next mentioned; but their decision nowhere appears.—P. 99, "The persons elected for the Townsmen. Mr. Stephen Marshall, Mr. Herbert Palmer, Mr. Obadiah Sedgwick, Mr. Ed. Calamy, Doctour Temple, Mr. Caudry." (Stephen Marshall was a violent Puritan preacher of those times, ridiculed in Hudibras; Herbert Palmer, a Puritan of exemplary life, who had been presented by Archbishop Laud to the living of Ashwell, in Hertfordshire; he was also President of Queens' College, Cambridge, from 1644 to 1647, when he died, in his 47th year. Obadiah Sedgwick was a well known member of the Assembly of Divines. Edmund Calamy, the Nonconformist, is remembered as one of the authors of Smectymnus, a treatise against Episcopacy, written in answer to Bishop Hall. "Doc-tour Temple" was probably Peter Temple, a member of the Long Parliament, and one of the judges of King Charles the First.) P. 104.—"John Milles of Kirton, in Devon, sayler, George Lawrence, sayler, a Norman, being both newly married, are to find security to discharge the towne by Fryday next, or else to depart the towne." P. 105, 29th December 1646.—"Mr. John Knight, of Yetminster, came this day before Mr. Maior and the Company, and desires to bee admitted to sett upp a Grammar Schoole in this towne, upon certain termes by him proposed. Butt the towne did not admitt of his termes, yett were content to admitt him as the only master of the Latin tongue; upon which hee desired one monethes respite, to give his answeare to the towne, which was graunted unto him accordingly." P. 106.—15th January 1646-7. "Memorandum, that heeretofore there was collected in the church in Melcomb fower pounds fower shillings and six pence, for the redeeming of two captives out of Argeir [Algiers]; which money was delivered over to Mr. George Churchey, one of the Overseers of the poore, for the use aforesaid." P. 107, (same date).—"It is agreed upon and soe ordered by a full consent of all now presente, that in regard Mr. Edward Buckler hath taken greate paynes in his ministry in Melcomb, for which hee hath not had any reward, and for that this toune is wholly destitute of a pastour, that a Petition shall bee presented to the Committee of the County (who placed him in Weeke Regis) to take him off thence, and to settle him minister of the towne. And that in the meane tyme, a dwelling house with thappurtenances be forthwith provided for the said Mr. Buckler, fitt for his quality and condition, at the townes charge, in case the said Mr. Buckler, at the next Hall, shall like of these propositions, and consent unto them." Mr. Ince, it would appear, had not complied with their solicitations, and had given Dunhead the preference. P. 108, 1st February 1646-7. William Luke, sonne of Thomasine Luke, widow, "for playing yesterday, being the Saboth, . . . and disturbing Mr. Buckler, the minister, as he was exercising and praying with his parishioners, upon his submission, was excused for the present." In the same page we have "The Aunswere of Mr. Edward Buckler, Clerke. For ordering me an house in Melcomb gratis, I doe thanke the towne, and looking upon it as a favour shall endeavour to deserve it. To the townes desire to have mee their minister I shall condescend, with these following provisos, vizt. That 6 divines (to whom I shall shortly addresse myselfe) judge my departure from Weeke [Wyke Regis,] and my [remo]vall hither to bee lawfull and expedient. That the Committee of this County, and others concerned in it, and I, doe agree upon termes of settlement and maintenance. That I bee assured by the towne that what shall faile at any time hereafter of the stipend at first allowed mee by the Parliament, shall by their contribution be made up; soe that such contribution exceed not 50*li*.

"per annum. When the town shall satisfy mee in the last of these provisos, I shall, in some competent time after their aunswere received, give them satisfaction in the other thing. Feb. 1st, 1646 (7)." On the 5th of February Mr. Buckler's proposition was accepted, and it was agreed, if necessary, to raise such 50*li*. by a rate. P. 120, 4th August 1647. "Francis Reymond, of Portland, hellier [tiler], did depose that John Fawne, seaman, in his hearing, Munday last, at the sign of the Shipp, did say that Captain John Arthur was a French dogg, a curre, and a toad." Fawne is therefore bound in his recognizances, to the amount of 20*li*., to appear at the next Sessions of the Peace. Captain Arthur was Collector of the Customs, and a most zealous Parliamentarian, as appears from other passages in the book; he became Mayor in 1649. P. 142, in January 1648, the Town Clerk is instructed to treat with Mr. George Thorne, "to exercise his ministry" within the town for one year. The negotiations therefore with Mr. Buckler had, no doubt, failed. P. 142. Same date.—"William Reape was this day chosen Clark of the parish, in the place of John Dudly, Clark; and hee is to receive the usuall wages for ringing iiii. and viii., sixpence for every knell. And he is to teach (according to his owne offer) the poore children to write and cipher, without any reward for his paynes of those parents who are not able to paye." P. 166—29th September 1648.—"Whereas this day there was driven ashore 2 great fishes called 'Campas' [P.Gram-pus] within the precincts of this towne, and some difference hath arised betweene the Towne and Captain Arthur, Vice-Admirall, to whom the same fishes belong, it is agreed betweene them that the towne write to Mr. Bond, our Recorder, for the decideing of the same; and in case they belong to the towne, that Captain Arthur shall deliver up the same, which are now in his possession, unto them, the towne allowing him the charge hee shall be att in the interim about them." P. 167 (same date).—"Mr. Churchey brought into the Halle, and delivered over to the Towne, an auncient booke of records of this towne, which was lately in the hands of Mr. Francis Gape,"—who had been recently Town Clerk. The latest date at this part of the book is on this page, 21st November 1648. The volume has also some entries of miscellaneous memoranda and correspondence, beginning at the other end, and extending over nine pages. The correspondence is mostly in reference to grants by Parliament for the repair of the harbour, which had fallen into a state of decay, and grants proposed (successively) to Mr. Ince, and to Mr. George Thorne, late Fellow of Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge. There is the evidence also given, on the 12th of October 1649, by two witnesses, 74 and 83 years of age, as to former Perambulations of the borough on Ascension Day. The minister of Rodipoll [now Radipole], it is stated, used at the same time to go on procession, in like manner, with his parishioners; at a certain place he read a chapter in the Bible, and a Psalm, which was then sung. There are also entered formal proceedings of Law Courts and View of Frankpledge; and there are many other passages in the volume of considerable interest, but which will not admit of transcription at the present day, cases of affiliation, more particularly. Taken altogether, it is a curious record of the vicissitudes which a place had to submit to, while held in a state of siege, and submitted to the rigours and annoyances of Puritan occupation: under such circumstances, espionage, as might be expected, reigned supreme.

The next volume, in date, is a large paper folio, rather decayed at the beginning, being the Treasurer's Accounts for 1668-93. On June 8, 1668, there are charges "fore fagotts for a bone fiere on the King's birth day 4*s*. 6*d*." In 1669, a person dignified with the name of "John Locke" was earning money for the Corporation, as master of the town "liter." At this time the Treasurer was Sir Roger Cuttance. The entries seem in general to be of an ordinary and uninteresting character. There is the following entry in 1682,—"Paid Edward Lake's bill for firing the guns upon the happy newes of His Majesty's safe deliverance for [sic] the horrid plots of Presbiterians lately discovered, 6*s*. 8*d*." In 1683, September 16th,—"Paid Edward Lake's bill . . . for firing the gunns on the 9th instant, being Thanksgiving Day for His Majestie and Royall Highness safe deliverance from the late conspiracy against them." 1685, October 14th,—"To a bill of disbursements for the gallows, burning and boiling the rebells executed per order at this towne, 16*li*. 4*s*. 3*d*."—in allusion to the atrocities inflicted

WYTHMOUT
AND MELCOMB
REGIS.

WAYMOUTH
AND MELCOMBE
REGIS.

upon the bodies of those who had been engaged in Monmouth's rebellion.

Minutes (in Latin) of the Court of Record, holden at Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, from the 29th of May to the 18th of September 1677; consisting of two leaves only, under a paper cover; with one leaf added, bearing reference to Courts holden in October in the second year of James II. (A.D. 1686).

The latest volume in this Collection is a Minute-book of the Corporation, the last entries in which belong to the year 1724; a thick folio paper volume, in good condition, bound in vellum. Some of the entries in the volume are curious; but in general, they seem to be of too recent a date to call for notice. In p. 42 there is the following entry:—"xxiii^e die Junii 1702. On this present day Marmaduke Rawdon, Captain Lieutenant of the Royal Regiment of Fusileirs, under the command of Major General Hara, did voluntarily take the oaths of abjuration appointed. (Signed) Marmaduke Rawdon, Cha: Langrish Mayor, John Pitt Bay-liff." In p. 68, under date of 22nd August 1704, mention is made of the playing of shuffleboard at an inn, for ale: a recent mention of a game which, at least in this country, is now unknown. In pp. 72, 73, under date of 27th December 1704, one Dr. Griffin is named, "who hath a stage in this town," as being applied to for a recipe for the cure of cramp: a quack doctor, who exhibited his nostrums on a wooden stage. At the beginning of this century, a Dr. Bossy, of the like calling, still "had his stage," in London, on Tower Hill.

The Sherren Collection, it may be here noticed, has, to some slight extent, been made use of by the late Mr. George Roberts, in his Social History of the Southern Counties of England in past Centuries. (London, 1856.)

Since the preceding Report was written, I have received information, I am sorry to say, of Mr. Sherren's decease: a man of literary tastes, and much regretted by all who knew him.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

THE CORPORATION OF FOLKESTONE.

The following are some transcripts of papers, of the time of Edward the Fourth, in the possession of the Corporation of Folkestone, which have been transmitted for notice, through the Rev. R. C. Jenkins, Rector of Lyminge, by the Worshipful the Mayor of that town: preceded by a brief description of the subject of this correspondence; in which the language is pretty nearly followed of Mr. Jenkins's courteous communication, which accompanied the Letters in question.—

Thomas Banns, or Banes, formerly a monk, having secularized, had become Chaplain to Cecily, Duchess of York, (the widow of Richard, Duke of York, and) the King's mother. Obtaining the influence alike of the King, the Duchess, and the Archbishop of Canterbury, he prevails upon the Mayor of Folkestone to recognize and receive him as Prior of the Benedictine Priory there, to which he seems to have been appointed either by the monks or the Archbishop of Canterbury.

In the meantime, however, Henry Ferrers, brother of the Earl Ferrers, and brother-in-law to John, Lord Clynton, had, as being under the latter's patronage, received the same appointment at his hands. Lord Clynton, we find, also claims a kind of regal authority over "his town and commons of Folkestone;" but the Mayor, probably standing in awe of the still greater authority arrayed on the other side, (however unworthy of such support Banes may, in reality, have been,) probably from the first inclined in that direction.

The first item in the correspondence, is a Letter, in English, from Lord Clynton, to the Mayor, Jurats, and Commons, of Folkestone. In ostensibly bland terms, his Lordship first tries upon the Mayor the powers of persuasion. His letter is written on vellum, in a small hand.—

"John, Lord Clyntone and Say, to oure trusty and welbeloved the Maire, Jurats, and Commons, of oure towne of Folkeston, send greting. And forsomuche as we understand the malicious disposition wille and entent of Dan Thomas Banns, late pretended Priour of oure Prioury of Folkestone forsaide, to destourbe oure trusty and faithful brother, Henry Ferrers, of his possessione, title, and intresse, of and in the said Prioury, and that that bene appertenynge therto, late yevene to oure said brother in your presence.—We therefor wol and charge yow, and also hertily pray yow that if the said Dan Thomas Banns, or any other for hym, come to oure said towne to make any suche destourbance or chalenge, that ye and everyche of yow, with al youre might resiste thair malice and disposicione, and theym to arrest, [and] appeal, and justifie, after the lawe and custume of our said towne, at suche tyme as ye shal by oure said brother, his servauntes, and ministres be ther of . . . , yeven in commandement to alle oure servauntes, officers, and menyall menne, to them . . . to be obedient, assisting, and attendant. And that ye . . . as we shal be youre good lorde. Yeven the xxv day of May, the yere of the regne of our liege lord King Edwarde the iii^e the iii^e." [A.D. 1463.]

A day or two after the receipt of the preceding letter, the Mayor, if not already acquainted with the circumstances of the case, must have been much perplexed by receiving the following, from a probably still more influential personage, the Duchess of York; (written on paper):—

"The Kyngys Moder, Duchesse of York.

"Trusty and welbeloved, we grete you welle. And whereas we understande that it hathe pleased my lord and son the Kyng, and also our cousin tharchebisschope of Canterbury, entendering the righte of oure welbeloved Chapellaine, Thomas Banye, to wryte for hym unto you and othe [r], for to see hym reioyce such lyvelode as he oughte of righte to have; we desire and pray you that, according unto the tenure of the letters of oure said lord and son, and cousin, aforesaid, ye put you in devoyr to the performyng of the same, and withe the more diligence, at oure especiall contemplacion, as we trust you. And that no personne vexe, inquiet, nor trouble hym, as we may for his sak thank you in in [sic] tyme to come. Yeven under our signet, in our place at Baynardys Castle in Londone, the xxvii day of Maye.

(Addressed) "To our trusty and welbeloved The Mayre and Jurattes of Folkestone, and to everiche of theyme."

(There is a scrawl in the margin, in large characters, which, we may guess, was intended for her signature, "Cecily.")

A day later, the Mayor receives another Letter from Lord Clynton; who calls upon him to set at nought any instructions upon the matter, save those coming from himself; supported as he is, in spite of King and Duchess, by the Lord Ferrers, the Lord Herbarde [William Herbert, afterwards Earl of Pembroke], and other Lords of the King's Council; on paper:—

"Righte worshipful Sirs. Y pray yow, as ye love my worship, profit, and welfare, that for any letters sende to yow by the King or by my Ladi of Yorke for Dan Thomas Banns, a yenst the welfare of my brother Ferrers, that ye suffre not the said Banns in no wise to entre in to the priorie of Folkestone, but hym utterly resiste and defende in my title, as my verrai right and patronage, as fulle and hole as y were there my self. And y, uppon the peyne of alle my landis and godis, shal save yow alle harmlees a yenst the King and, my saide Lady, bi the help of my Lord Ferrers, my Lord Herbarde, and othere lordis of the Kinges Councelle, that knowithe my right and title. And hit shalle not be longe to, but the King and my Lady shalle write the contrarie that is wretene for the saide Banns; for y have spoke withe my lerned councele of alle this, and thei sey me, gif ye obey this writinge that is broughte to yow from the King and my Lady, ye shalle breke for ever the liberte and fraunchis of the Portis for ever, whiche were youre undoing and my shaame for ever; and that y wolde not, for all my land. And therefore y charge yow, that ye well understand and takithe heed of any writing for any talis or wringes, for your welfare and my worship, and alle myne heirs hereafter. And over that, y charge all my servauntes, that thei be helping towarde yow to defende and resist the said Banns. And also y charge yow, as ye wille aunswere to me therefore, that ye arrest the saide Banns, and alle tho that comme withe hym, except the Kinges Serjauntes and my Lady of Yorke, and tham saufully kepe in prisone, unto tyme that thei aunswere to certaine contempes and trespasses doone to me and my Lordship of Folkestone, a yenst the privilege, and franchis, and liberte, of the Portis, and not to deliver tham withoute my special commandement. Yeven at Westminster, under my signe manual fore youre surete, the xxviii day of May.

"And that my bailly there be attendaunt to this commaundement. And also the depute of my said bailly, for any excuse.

Your hertly and faithfulle Lorde
John Lord Clyntone and Say.

"CLYNTON."

CORPORATION
OF FOLKESTONE.

(Addressed) "To the Maire, Juratis, and alle my good communes and servautes of my towne of Folkstone."

Singularly enough, immediately upon this letter follows another, written (privately probably), to the Mayor; warning him of the consequences of his too evident tendency to oppose his Lordship's wishes in behalf of Ferrers; (on paper):—

"Maire. We mervaille moche of youre disposicione "towards us and oure brother Ferrers, with that "untrew monke. Thinke not the contrarie, but as law
"wille, thow wille righte sore repent thi dedis, for thei
"beene nothir vertuous nor laful, for thou settist my "commaundement at noughte. And yit thow shalt "righte wel think y am thi lorde, and so wille be, and
"that thow shalt right wel know, or els the law shal
"faile me. We send a letter late to the and the "Jurattis as for my saide brother, and for special "favour that thow haddist to the saide monke, thow
"kepist the letter fro tham, and wilt not nor woldist
"suffre tham to know thentent therof. And therefore "in alle thy governaunce and rewle, as to this mater,
"hit is and shal be righte wel understand. And such "charge as y have yevene myne officer, caas [i.e. in "case] y charge, we have not a doo therwith, for
"thoghe thow [will]ist, hit shal righte litell availle, "saf to thyn own hurt. Writtene at Londone in "hast, the xxix dai of May.

"JOHN LORD CLYNTON AND SAY."

(Addressed) "To the Maire of Folkstone."

Immediately after this, recourse is had, on the part of Ferrers, to legal proceedings, and an appeal to the Apostolic See: the nature of which is explained by the following official communication, (on paper,) in Latin; a close translation of which involved piece of composition, it has been thought as well to subjoin.—

"Officialis Curie Cantuariensis, discretis viris, Morgan Ayssheley et Willelmo Barbour, ac universis et singulis rectoribus, vicariis, capellanis [this word is repeated], curatis et non curatis, clericis, et literatis quibuscunque, per Provinciam Cantuariensem ubilibet constitutis, salutem in Auctore salutis. Ex parte venerabilis viri, Domini Henrici Ferrers, Prioris Prioratus de Flokkestone, Cantuariensis Diocesis, nobis existit intimantur [intimatum], quod idem Henricus fuit et est dictum Prioratum canonice assecutus, ac ipsum Prioratum, sic assecutus, cum suis iuribus et pertinentiis universis, per nonnulla tempora possedit pacifice et quiete; et, salvis infrascriptis, sic possidet etiam in presentibus; ac pro Priore ejusdem Prioratus fuit, et est, communiter dictus, tentus, habitus, et reputatus, palam, publice, et notorie. Et licet ex parte ejusdem Henrici, Prioris, integri status, bonæ famæ, opinionis illæsæ, et conversationis honestæ, ac in possessione præmissorum existentis, metuentis tamen, ex quibusdam causis probabilibus, et verisimilibus conjecturis, sibi circa præmissa grave posse in futurum præjudicium generari, (ne quis, in ipsius præjudicium, circa præmissa, vel eorum aliquod, quicquam attemptet, seu faciat aliquam literam attemptari,) ad Sacrosancam Sedem Apostolicam, et pro tuitione Curie Cantuariensis prædictæ, palam et publice legitime extiterit provocatum; quidam [tamen] Frater Thomas Banns, monachum se prætendens, in mundo apostatando discurrens, notorie excommunicatus, atque de crimine pessimo et non nominando, (pro quo Schema Omnipotens civitates et opida multa destruxit), per eum confessato, ac etiam judicialiter convictus, et propterea in hac parte inhabilis; qui nichil juris in dicto Prioratu habuit, seu habet alicqualiter, vel ad eum; juri, titulo, et possessioni, ejusdem Henrici in eodem Prioratu, absque causa rationabili seu legitima quacunque, temere se opposuit, et opponit; ac dictum Prioratum ad ipsum pertinuisse, pertinere, et pertinere debere, ipsumque, Thomam, Priorem ejusdem Prioratus fuisse et esse, (licet sic non fuerit,) verum, sic publice asseruit et prædicavit; ac eundem Henricum, Priorem, dicti Prioratus verum et canonicum possessorem, quominus jure, titulo, et possessione, suis in dicto Prioratu libere uti et gaudere valeat, temere impedivit et fecit, sicque impedit et facit; ac sic et alias dictum Henricum, Priorem, in præmissis, et circa ea, per se et suos, multipliciter et indebite inquietavit et perturbavit, sicque molestat, inquietat, et perturbat, etiam in presentibus; ac sic se velle opponere, prædicare, asserere, impedire, facere, molestareque, inquietare ac perturbare, sapientie publice comminabatur et comminatur, nititurque, ut asserit et intendit; et ad hoc se paravit et parat, villiter [viliter] et injuste, in ipsius, Henrici, Prioris prædicti, præjudicium non modicum, et gravamen: unde, ex parte ejusdem, "sentientis ex præmissis gravaminibus indebite prægravari, ab eisdem ad Sedem Apostolicam, et pro tuitione Curie Cantuariensis, legitime extitit appellatum. Quocirca vobis, communiter et divisim, committimus et mandamus, firmiter injungendo, quantocius præfato Fratri Thomæ Banes, cæterisque omnibus et singulis quibus jus exigit in hac parte inhiberi, auctoritate dictæ Curie, inhibeatis; quibus nos etiam, tenore præsentium, sic inhibemus; ne, pendente in dicta Curia nostra Cantuariensi hujusmodi tutionis appellacionis negotio, quicquam, hac occasione, in dictæ partis appellantis præjudicium, attemptent, seu faciant alicqualiter attemptari, quominus liberam habeat hujusmodi tutionis suæ appellacionis prosecutionem, prout justum. Citetis insuper, seu citari faciatis, peremptorie, dictum Fratrem Thomam Banes, quod compareat coram nobis, sive alio dictæ Curie Præsidenti, in ecclesia Beatæ Mariæ de Arcubus, Londoniis, proximo die juridico post festum Commemorationis Sancti Pauli proximo futurum, in hujusmodi tutionis appellacionis negotio [negotio] processurus, et procedi visurus, facturisque ulterius, et recepturus, quod in ea parte justitia suadebit. De diebus vero receptionis præsentium, ac citationis et inhibitionis vestrarum, modoque et forma earundem, necnon quod in præmissis feceritis, nos, vel alium dictæ Curie Præsidentem, ductis [dictis] die et loco, debite certificetis, per vestras, seu sic certificet ille vestrum qui prius nostrum mandatum fuerit executus, per suas, litteras patentes, harum seriem continentes, authenticè sigillatas. Datim Londoniis, Kalendis Junii, anno Domini millesimo cccclxiii^{mo}."

"The Official of the Court of Canterbury, to the discreet men, Morgan Ayssheley and William Barbour, and to all and singular the rectors, vicars, chaplains, with cure and without cure, clerks, and literates whomsoever, throughout the Province of Canterbury wheresoever being, health in the Author of salvation. On behalf of the venerable man, Dan Henry Ferrers, Prior of the Priory of Flokkestone [sic], in the Diocese of Canterbury, it is unto us intimated, that the same Henry canonically has held and does hold the said Priory, and the same Priory, so held, with its rights and all its appurtenances, for some time has peacefully and quietly possessed; and, save as below written, does so possess even at this present; and as Prior of the same Priory has been, and is, commonly called, held, had, and reputed, openly, publicly, and notoriously. And although, on behalf of the same Henry, the Prior, being of sound estate, of good fame, of unblemished repute, and of honest conversation, and in possession of the premises, still fearing, from certain probable causes, and on likely conjectures, that grievous prejudice might in future unto him be engendered as to the premises, (to the end that no one, to his prejudice, should attempt aught, or in any way cause aught to be attempted, as to the premises, or any thereof), appeal has openly and publicly lawfully been made to the Holy Apostolic See, and for the protection of the Court of Canterbury before-mentioned; [still] one Brother Thomas Banns, pretending himself to be a monk, wandering to and fro in the world as an apostate, notoriously excommunicated, and [accused] of a crime most foul and not to be named,—for which Almighty Providence has destroyed many cities and towns—the same being by him confessed, and he also judicially convicted thereon, and by reason thereof disqualified in this behalf; and one who neither has had, nor has, any right whatever in any way in the said Priory, or to the same; unto the right, title, and possession, of the same Henry in the same Priory, without reasonable or lawful cause whatsoever, has rashly opposed, and does oppose, himself; and that the said Priory unto him has pertained, does pertain, and ought to pertain, and that he, Thomas, was and is, (though such is not the fact,) the true Prior of the same Priory, has so publicly asserted and preached; and has rashly hindered and acted, and so does hinder and act, as not to let the same Henry, the Prior, of the said Priory the true and canonical possessor, freely use and enjoy his right, title, and possession, in the said Priory; and so and in other ways has in manifold manners and unduly disquieted and disturbed the said Henry, the Prior, in the premises, and about them, by himself and his people, and so does molest, disquiet, and disturb, even at this present; and has oftentimes publicly threatened, and does threaten, that he will so oppose him, preach, assert, hinder, do, and molest, disquiet, and disturb, and does endeavour, as he does assert and intend; and unto the same has prepared and does prepare

CORPORATION OF FOLKESTONE.

"himself, vilely and unjustly, to the no small prejudice and grievance of him, Henry, the Prior before-mentioned: as to the which, on behalf of the same, feeling himself by the before-stated grievances to be unduly aggrieved, lawful appeal has been made to the Apostolic See, and for protection of the Court of Canterbury, against the same. Wherefore, unto you, jointly and severally, we do entrust and command, strictly enjoining, that, so soon as possible, you do, by authority of the said Court, inhibit the aforesaid Brother Thomas Banes, and all and singular the others whom right demands to be inhibited in this behalf; the which we also, by tenor of these presents, do so inhibit; that, while the matter of this appeal for protection is pending in our Court of Canterbury, they shall, on this pretext, attempt, or cause in any way to be attempted, ought to the prejudice of the said party appealing, that so he may not have free prosecution of such his appeal for protection, as [is] just. You are to cite also, or cause to be cited, peremptorily, the said Brother Thomas Banes, that he appear before us, or other President of the said Court, in the church of St. Mary le Bow [or, at Arches] in London, on the next justice day after the feast of the Commemoration of St. Paul [30th June] next ensuing, in this business of appeal for protection to proceed and see proceedings taken, and to do further and receive that which justice in that behalf shall suggest. And as to the days of receipt of these presents, and of your citation and inhibition, and the manner and form of the same, as also, what you shall have done in the premises, you are, at the said day and place, duly to certify by your, or he among you who shall have first executed our mandate, is to certify by his, letters patent, containing the proceedings herein, authentically sealed, us or other the President of the said Court. Given at London, on the Kalends of June [1st June]. A.D. 1463."

This is closely followed by a formal Letter, in Latin, from Lord Clynton, to the Mayor and Bailiffs of Folkestone, (on paper); a translation of which is here added—

"Johannes, Dominus de Clyntone et Say, Miles, Dominus de Folkestone, quæ est membrum Portus Doveriæ, in Comitatu Kancie, unus Custodum pacis Domini nostri Regis in Comitatu Kancie conservandæ, Majori villæ de Folkestone prædictæ, et ballivo ipsius Johannis villæ prædictæ, necnon in hac parte suo sufficienti deputato, salutem. Vobis, et cuilibet vestrum, ex parte Domini nostri Regis, ex ex parte Magni Gardiani Quinque Portuum, præcipimus et mandamus, quod capiat, seu aliquis vestrum capiat, Dompnum Thomam Bannes, monachum, si inventus fuerit in balliva vestra; et eum salvo custodiat, seu aliquis vestrum custodiat, absque aliqua contradictione, aut in balliam aut in manucapTIONem, ad respondendum tam dicto Domino nostro Regi quam præfato Magno Gardiano, de certis felonis, prodicionibus, insurrectionibus, transgressionibus, robbiriis, et routeriis, contra formam Statuti inde editi et provisi, infra membrum prædictum factis. Et hoc nullatenus omittatis, seu aliquis vestrum omittat [written 'amittat'], sub pœna incumbente. Et qualiter hoc præceptum nostrum in executionem posuistis, seu aliquis vestrum posuit, nobis constari faciatis indilato. Datum sub sigillo nostro, quinto die Junii, anno regni Regis Edwardi Quarti tertio."

This paper is not addressed: it bears at the foot the impress of the seal, much defaced, but with a border of rushes still surrounding it—

"John, Lord Clyntone and Say, Knight, Lord of Folkestone, which is a member of the Port of Dover, in the County of Kent, one of the Keepers for keeping the peace of our Lord the King in the County of Kent, to the Mayor of the vill of Folkestone aforesaid, and the Bailiff of the same John in the vill aforesaid, as also to his sufficient deputy in this behalf, greeting. Unto you, and each of you, on behalf of our Lord the King, and on behalf of the Great Warden of the Cinque Ports, we do enjoin and command, that you take, or that one of you take, Dan Thomas Bannes, monk, if he be found in your balliwick; and that you safely keep him, or one of you safely keep, without any gainsaying, either on bail or on mainprise, to make answer as well to our said Lord the King, as to the Great Warden aforesaid, as to certain felonies, treasons, insurrections, trespasses, robberies, and riots, against the form of the Statute thereon made and provided, within the member aforesaid committed. And this you are in

"no wise to omit, nor is any one of you to omit, on the peril attached thereto. And how you have put in execution this our precept, or one of you has put the same, you are to let us be certified without delay. Given under our seal, the 5th day of June, in the year of the reign of King Edward the Fourth the third."

A Letter from Thomas [Bourchier], Archbishop of Canterbury, closely follows; strongly encouraging the Mayor, Jurats, and Commons, of Folkestone, to resist the demands of Lord Clynton in the said matter, as having no right or title whatever in reference thereto, (on paper):—

"T. Archbisshoppe of Canterbury.

"Trusti and welbeloued we grete you wele. And forasmuche as we understand by yonre letters, late directed unto us, that ye have be helping and assisting unto oure right welbeloued Dan Thomas Bannes, Priour of Folkestone, according to the Kinges honourabil letters, and our writing sent unto you in that behalve: whereof we thanke you alle right hertly that ye have soo doo, desiring specially that ye wul contynue the same unto hym hereafter, as alle right and good conscience axethe; acertainynge you that the Lord Clyntone, as the caas requirethe, oughte nat to have to doo in the matiere on any wise, notwithstandinge the saide Lord Clyntone hath desired and promysid faithfully unto us by mouthe to doo and be demeanyd in the matiere as we wul have hym. Wherefore we desire and wul, that ye feere nat to doo that right requirethe in the matiere, as oure truste is in you. And like as yonre neighbour, bringer hereof, canne more largely informe you according to oure conceipt in this partie, to whome wul ye yeve credence in that behalve. God have you in kepinge. Written in oure manoir of Lamehithe, the xi daie of June.

(Addressed) "To oure trusti and welbeloued the Maire, Jurattes, and Communes, of the tounne of Folkestone, in the Countee of Kent."

The correspondence, so far, apparently, as it has been preserved, ends with two paper fragments of Letters, addressed by Lord Clynton to the Mayor and Jurats of Folkestone; the latter of them directly charging Banes with most heinous crimes and offences. Their date does not appear, but they were written after the letters of the 28th and 29th of May 1463.

"Also, Sirs, y wille and charge yow, that ye aunswere the messenger [messenger] that bringethe the Kinges letters and myne Ladi of Yorkes letters, that ye dare not take uppone yow to medle of these maters withoute the advice of me and of my counelle; bicause hit concernethe myne inheritance and also my worship, and also the keping of the liberte and fraunchis of my towne of Folkstone, where ynne ye be dwellers. And, withe this aunswere y doute me not ye shal plesse the King and my Lady. And therefore, uppone my perille, douteth not of my Lord of Caunterbury nor of noone othere, for this mater. And y charge yow that this letter be rad openly afore the communes of my saide towne, except the mater conteyned in this bille."

(Second Paper.) "Also, Sirs, y declare to yow alle that the saide Bannes is a fals sodomyte, and for open and proved sodomyte stante acursed, and may not be assoyled of no Bisshop in England, but of the Pope. And zit [that] the saide Bannes, by the law of the Chirche, most in his owne persone at Rome doo his great penance therefore, and els to be brand as a fals sysmatik, and an herytick to God and alle Holy Churche. And alle that eet and drynk withe hym are cursed or [i.e. without] help. And that in resonable hast shalle be declarid afore yow of recorder, under sufficient auctorite, selis, and witness. And therefore y charge yow to have not a doo withe him, otherwise then to kepe hym in prisone, but the King and the Lordis is not informed herof, but thei shalle be in hast: for alle the writings that the saide Bannes can shew for his absolucione of the saam, ben of noone effecte nor of auctorite. And Sirs, thoghe the Kinges letters and my Ladi of Yorkes letters come to yow bi a fals informacione of the saide Bannes, zit [yet] hit is not the Kinges intent nor will to hurt me nor my brother for suche a fals man."

Banes succeeded in retaining the office of Prior, until the year 1493; when, as we learn from Dugdale's Monasticon, he was removed from office for dilapidating the property of the house.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF THE PARISH OF MENDLESHAM, CO. SUFFOLK.

Lying in the middle of Suffolk, and in one of the most fertile districts of the county, Mendlesham retains some of the characteristics which caused John Kirby, author of the "Suffolk Traveller," in the last century, to call it disdainfully "a dirty town." On the other hand, it is fortunate in possessing a noble church, that has been fitly restored within the last few years, a considerable property in land left for charitable uses in the parish by former inhabitants, and an unusually interesting collection of parish documents.

On entering the belfry chamber, which has long been the depository of these records, I found myself surrounded by ancient chests, and piles of rusty armour borne in past times by the trained bandsmen of the town. On turning the three locks and raising the heavy lid of the largest of these chests I found the coffer full of papers,—sheets of papers stitched together (with from four to eight sheets in each stitched set), and an almost countless number of separate pieces of paper covered with writing. The state of these records was remarkable. It seemed that each set of stitched papers had been first crumpled with the hand and then thrown into the huge box. Most of the single sheets bore signs of having been treated in the same rough manner, on being rudely confided to the coffin of settled accounts. With the assistance of Mr. Barnes, a most intelligent churchwarden, who afforded me effectual aid in this part of my work, I straightened out and arranged these crumpled papers according to their dates. On having thus brought the accumulation of records into something like order, I found them to be an incomplete series of accounts, setting forth the particulars of the yearly disbursements of Mendlesham churchwardens, from the time of Mary to the opening years of the eighteenth century; the sets of stitched sheets being the complete bills for their respective years, whilst the loose pieces of paper were the vouchers for the items of the yearly accounts. In the smaller chests of the belfry chamber were found old parish accounts, registers, and a considerable number of deeds and records on parchment. At the vicarage, in the personal custody of the Rev. Edmund Roger Mainwaring White, M.A., who was good enough to afford me every facility for inspecting the archives of his parish, I found other registers, one of which ("A Booke for the Registering of all Mariages, Births, and Buryalls in the towne of Mendelsham, made the six and twenty day of November 1653," and closing with the year 1659), deserves especial notice.

The Mendlesham records may therefore be arranged in the following divisions:—(a.) The parish account books and yearly accounts of churchwardens. (b.) The parish registers. (c.) The old deeds of the parish chest.

(a.) The Parish Account Books.

1. The churchwardens' account-book from the year 1541 to 1696, with especial memoranda on its flyleaf and three last leaves, and this title on its opening page, "The Towne Boke of Mendyllsham made the yere of our souvrayn lord King Henry VIIIth, xxxii^d of our Lord 1541."

2. The churchwardens' book from 1699 to 1786.

3. The parish book from 1714 to 1793.

4. The yearly accounts of the churchwardens from the time of Mary to the beginning of the eighteenth century.

Extracts from these records.

1541. Md. y^e at this xvith daye of Januarii y^e yere abonesayd Gylbrett Blomesfield & y^e towne of Mendyllsham in y^e presens of those persons aboneseyd, & he inthe countyd & dyscharyd for hys ferme to y^e feast of St. Archangell last past.

1544. Md. Wyltur Seymond and Thomas, y^e yere abonesed and x. daye of January in y^e same yere w^t Ivon Marfield & Robert Beale haue soule unto Gylbart y^e gouldsmyth of Ipswch 1 payre of sencers, 1 payre of chaylis of dubyll gylte, 1 pyxe, a schep as a sponne, soule vnto y^e forsayd Gylbyrd afr iii s. vi d. the ounce, the wyche sume movntythe vnto xvi li. and ii s. viii d., by y^e consente of Wylmth Singultn gentyll and Wyllymth Dunckyn y^e elder. And a croslyt of plate and gylt w^t stones and ii payre of challysysh of paarsyl gylt.

1545. Item. Sould the iiith daye of February in the yere of o^r Lord God . . . a crosse of gylt for xii li. By the church wardenes that is for to. Wylmth Seman, Robert Aldose, John Goodwyn, wythe assent and consent of all the namys aboue sayd.

5.

— M^d. That the reckynyng was madethe xiiii day of April the 4 yere of the reigne of o^r Souerigne lorde Kynge Edwarde the VI. betwene the towneshipp of Mendylsham and Wylliam Seman, Robert Aldous, John Goodwynn, churchwardens. A cleare & draughte of & for all the church goodes of Mendylsham of them solde & geven before the date aboue wrytten, sauyng they are content yf any can dewly prove any thyng forgotten they are content to alowe it.

Robardes Scherrardes bylle of a counte for the towne goodes (no date is given in the bill, which appears to have been drawn in the first year of Mary) contains these items:—

Imprimis, payd for carynge of breeke for the alter, and lyme	v d.
Item, payd for my meate and drynke when I went to Burye to y ^e visitacion of the byshope	iiii d.
Item, payd for holy breade	iii d.
Item, payd for shortnyng of y ^e garments and for makynge of y ^e cloth of y ^e pyxe
Item, payd for a li. candell on Chryste-masse daye in the mornynge	ii ob.
Item, payd for kord for y ^e pyxe	i d.
Item, payd for v li. waxe	iii s. ix d.
Item, payd for makynge of it into candles	viii d.
Item, payd Mr. Viccary for y ^e lector	viii d.
Item, payd to Blake of Cotten for payntynge of the roode	iii s.
Item, payd to Buxton of Cotten, for settynge together of y ^e same	iiii d.
Item, payde for y ^e ii postyle bokes to y ^e olde viccar	x s.
Item, payd for a masse boke & for bryngynge home of them	v s. ii d.
Item, payde to Thom ^s Whyghtynge for makynge of y ^e lector that stonde on the alter	iiii d.

1574. The reconyng of John Seaman and Robert Dunckon, churchwardens:—

Item, pd. to Edmund Pland, scolemaster, for his quarter's wages	xxxiii s. iii d.
Item, pd. to Edward Turpyn y ^e allowance of a calfe taken for the quene more then y ^e quen's price	iii s. viii d.
Item, pd. to the cunstable for the allowance of a wey of chese, & half a reawall of butter taken for the quene, and for caryng it to Ipswich	xiii s. ii d.
Item, pd. to Ries wyfe for drink for the ringers wehen they ronge for joy of that day yt the quen's maiesty was crowned	xii d.
Item, pd. to the bell-founder when he did take the bell to make, in earnest	iiii d.
Item, pd. to Willm th Martin for caryng of the bell to Bury	viii s. viii d.
Item, for the costs of Jeremy Beale & I when we went to Bury to see the weight of the bell	iii s. xi d.
Item, pd. to the muscion that came to bring the sound of the bell	iii s. viii d.
Item, pd. to Nycolas Emhold for caryng of the bolts of iron to Bury, & for meat and drinke that he bestowed of y ^e musicion

The account contains no less than twenty-four separate entries of money paid for the recasting of this bell, which was a costly business.

1586. A true and fulle reconynge for the year 1586. Mr. Mylles Dooker and John Seaman, church-wardens.

Item, payde to the constables, beyng Thom ^s Whytinge & Thom ^s Walker, the xxiii daye of Februarye for that they layd oute more than the quenes price for on weight and three q ^r ters of chese & six firkins of butter, & ther charges	xxiis. vi d.
Item, pay to them more for thre combe oates more than the quenes price	x s.
Item, also layd oute for thre pyntes of clarett wyne for the comunyon	ix d.
Item, payd for thre pyntes of muskadine for the communion the xiiii th of Apryll	x d.
Item, payd to Mr. Rigges, theight of May for too dosen catachismyes	iii s. iii d.

The accounts contain frequent charges for canary (or canarii, as it is usually spelt) as well as claret and

MENDLE-
SHAM.

muscadine, for sacramental use. The allowances to constables for what they had paid in excess of the Queen's price for provisions, furnished to the royal purveyors, are also numerous in the Elizabethan bills; and one is continually coming in the accounts on mention of the trained bands, and allowances to the militiamen. Of the inconveniences and grievances often arising from compulsory service in the trained bands, a good illustration is afforded by the following petition to the Mendlesham churchwardens of some year in Queen Elizabeth's time:—

"These are to certifye the towneshyp of Mendlesham with all that there are diverse poore men within your towne: which were greatlie charged at the two trayninges the last somer a Ypswich, desireinge to be restored agayne from pt. of theyre expensis, which we were at if it can be; and because that you shoulde not thynke but that we have just cause to complayne; we will put you in remembrance of the thyng and how the order was; wher by you myght the better conceyve of vs; in this behalfe; we were commanded by the Quene's Maiesties justices at the muster at Melles Grene to be at Ypswich the next Tuesday by eyght of the clok in the forenoone in payne of imprisonment; therefore bycause the comaundement was so strayght and the tyme of the yere so whote; and also to saie the truthe we thought that if we shoulde haue gone in the morneinge we shoulde haue byn so wearye, that we thought we shoulde not haue ben able to do our prince seruice; therefore we wente on the Mondaye at nyghte to our bedds; and on the Tuesdaye by the said hower as it was appoynted we were called won by one in order, and when we were vewide ouer as the manner was some did serue and other some did not serue; and they that did serue had wages and they that did not had nothings. Wherefore when we were there we would haue ben content to serue bycause we myghte haue hadd wages as the rest that did serue hadd. And yet we that did not serue dust not come awaye bycause we hadd no such comaundement, and so laye from Mondaye at nyght vntill Thursdaye about wone of the cloke; and then those that did not serue hadd comaundement that they myght departe if they would; whych some of you can tell how we did stonde charged as I do thinke, which we leaue to your owne discretion; but the charges were somewhat tedious vnto some of vs besydes the los of our worke at that tyme of the yere, whych we leaue vnto your meditation. And also at the last trayneinge we that did not serue at the trayneinge before were comaunded by the constables to be at Ipswyche, as well as they that did serue and so we were. When we cam thither we were called forth to be loke vpon; then we that did not serue at the trayning before did not serue at this same trayneinge; which coulde haue byn contented to serue, if it had pleased the muster masters as well as them that did serue. And therefore wee beinge pore men and men of occupation we woude desyre you to consider of the tyme of the yere when these two traynings were; the first was made the weake before Pentecost and the last in the begynninge of haruest; that is when pore mene should haue provided thinges necessarie to lyue by afters warde; these losses and others suche lyke will bringe vs vnto begerie, except you and suche as you are do considere of vs. And thus if we hadd no neade to complaysne we woude kepe scilence. Prayinge to Almightye God that he would of his mercie and goodnes provide thinges as shalbe profitable both for our soules and bodies, &c., et sic vale in Christo.

"(Signed) By us John Rudlond als. Mather, John Mather, Willm. Coper, Bartholomew Knygtes, Henrye Dixon, Frauncis Dorman, William Coper, Henrie Dixon, Richard Ridnale, John Beale, Willm. Conger, John Manings, Bartholomew Knyghtes, Edm. Goer, senior, Richard Andrew, als. Morgan, John Moor, Frauncis Dorman."

No date.

(b.) The Parish Registers.

1. Register of baptisms, marriages, and deaths from the beginning of the year 1558 to the November of 1653.

2. Register from the November of the year 1653 to the end of 1659.

3. Register from the beginning of the year 1662 to the end of 1712, from which date the series of registers is complete to the present time.

Register No. 2 is noteworthy as commemorating the new practices of a revolutionary period. Instead of the records of baptisms it gives the registrations of births.

It contains also the records of civil marriages before justices of the peace, performed by parishioners of Mendlesham, in accordance with the provisions of the Marriage Act of the Parliament of 1653, during the three years, when no other form of marriage was valid; as well as the records of marriages celebrated at church in succeeding years, when matrimony could be solemnized by the minister in the parish church, though the civil ceremony in the justice's parlour was still binding and usual.

Extracts from this "Booke for Registering:"—

1653. Thomas Garrod and Ann Bridges being 3 times published were married before Ed. Harvey, Esquier, the 15th December.

1653. Tho. Garrod and Ann Bridges, married the 15th of December before Edmund Harvey, Esquyr.

1656. A contract of matrimony between John Killet and Sary Cock, was published publicly in the publick assembly, February 8, February 15, February 22, both resedent in Mendlesham.

1656. John Killet and Sary Cock, there marriage was solemnized March the 5th, before the worthl Mr. Edmund Fernly, Esquier and justice of the peace.

1656. A contract of matrimony betwene John Esse widower and Mary Beatts single woman was published publicly one three severall lords dayes in the publicke assembly that is to say Marche the first Marche the eate and Marche the twenty tow in 1656 both resedent in Mendlesham. John Esse and Mary Beatts there marriage was solemnized April the seconde before the right worshipfull Mr. Edmund Fernely, Esq.

1656. Publication of a contract of marriage betwene William Stanard and Mary Juel was performed in the publike meeting place July 5, July 12, July 19, commonly called the church; both resident in Mendlesham. William Stanard and Mary Juel thir marriage was solemnized July the 23, before the right worshipfull Mr. Edmund Ferneley, Esq.

1656. A contract of matrimony between John Birde, of Great Thornham, and Margaret Stauerd, of Mendlesham, was published in the market accordinglye, three severall maket days January 13, January 20, by Henry Nash being then reg and upon February 3, 1656, by me Edmund Cockrill.

1656. John Bird and Margret Stanard, their marriage was solemnized before Mr. Edmund Fernely, Esquire, February 19th, a justice of peace.

1657. John Crosby and Elizebeth Churchman thir marriage was solemnized before Christopher Wragge minister October 15, 1657 in the place commonly called the Church.

1657. Thomas Lockwood and Mary Samant thir marriage was solemnized before Mr. Christopher Wragge minister in the Common Meeting place commonly called the Church. October 15th, 1657.

The book contains (with other evidence of the general confusion of registers of the time, and of the consequent desire of married people to create new testimony of their wedlock, some entries, of which the following vague record may be given as a specimen:—

1657. Thomas Jordan and Elizabeth Baldry of Westrops ther marriag was solemnized March the 11th 1657 at Rattlesden by Sqr. Browne justice of the peece as they informe.

The marriage of John Bird and Margaret Stanard's marriage, Feb. 3, 1656, is the last instance in the register of lay marriage before a justice of the peace. The subsequent marriages were solemnized by the minister in the public meeting place, commonly called the Church.

On the last page of this register appear the following characteristic notes:—

1. Registerium in intervallo rebellionis ab anno 1653 ad ann. 1660 in quo restaurabatur Carolus Secundus. In quibus facile est conicere, quod multa sunt omissa, omnia confuse scripta, juxta modum ejusdem ætatis, in quâ sub religionis et reformationis pretextu omnes res ecclesiasticæ non tantum defloruere, sed pene extinctæ fuere. Ordo episcopalis sublatus, et presbyteri, qui regis et ecclesiæ partibus adherere, universim sequestrati, et curis detrusti; et quod observandum est, in nulla regni parte plures a fidelitate ad rebellionem defecere quam in hisce locis associatis. Wm. Smyth, Vic. D. D.

2. (Written by a second writer against Dr. Smyth's signature)—"Non ministravit in hac ecclesiâ (de Mendlesham) Gulielmus Smith in intervallo Rebellionis: Teste hoc parvulo registerio.—Chr. Wragge, mortuus est, A.D. 1661: Nomenque Gul. Smith, in anno 1662, tunc primum invenitur."

DEB.
AM.

3. Gulielmus Smyth a quo observatio super-scripta facta fuit quoad rebellionem in hiis locis; non sequestratus, neque a cura detrusus fuit in illis temporibus; quamvis multa amicitia, amor multus, et desiderium vehementissimum pristinae disciplinae eum possidere videbantur. O tempora! oh, mores! Hoc mihi videtur Rich^{do} Chilton, vicar, 1746.

In the Parish Register Abstract (printed by order of the House of Commons, 2 April 1833) this register is described as "imperfect, 1653-1661"—a description that is somewhat erroneous, as the record, beginning in November 1653, closes at the end of 1659. That Dr. Smyth, vicar of Mendlesham in 1662, did not regard it as a portion of a register that covered the years 1660 and 1661, may be inferred from his words, "registerium in intervallo rebellionis ab anno 1653 ad 1660." No register for the years '60 and '61 is preserved amongst the Mendlesham archives.

(c.) Old Deeds, Charters, and other Parchments of the Parish Chest.

They comprise—

(1.) 8 Edward III. Conveyance of one acre and half an acre of land in Mikelfeld from Robertus dil Merssch to Katrina Mickelfeld, her heirs and assigns.

(2.) 20 Edward III. Conveyance of a messuage in Mendlesham, lying before the gate of the manor house of Mendlesham, from John Olyve of Mendlesham to Geoffrey Chapman.

(3.) 26 Henry VI. Conveyance of a messuage in Mendlesham from Robert Mannyng, Thomas Goodwene, William Baret, and John Adgoor of Mendlesham to Thomas Dunkon, Johanna his wife, William Starlyng, clerk, and John Swalwe, chaplain, their heirs and assigns.

(4.) 30 Henry VI. Conveyance of a messuage in Mendlesham from William Barret, Thomas Alte, Watyr Peyntour and Richard Taylour to Thomas Alte Watyr de Stonham Parva, Margery his wife, Thomas Crowe of the same place, and John Swale, scrivener.

(5.) 38 Henry VI. Conveyance of a messuage in Mendlesham, from Thomas Dunkon, Johanna his wife, William Starling, clerk, and John Swalwe, clerk, to Robert Tyrryngton, Robert Dunch or Bocher, and Thomas Aldhous.

(6.) 11 Edward IV. Last will and testament of Robert Cake of Mendlesham.

(7.) 8 Henry VIII. Last will and testament of Henry Jesop of Mendlesham.

(8.) 8 Henry VIII. Conveyance of a messuage near the market place of Mendlesham, from Richard Pytman and John Airty to Edward Cressent, Richard Stodd, and William Cressent.

(9.) 20 Henry VIII. Final agreement made at Westminster before King's Justices, between William Sengelson and others, plaintiffs, and William Messenger, and Margaret his wife, defendants.

(10.) 30 Henry VIII. Bond by which John Arnold obliges himself, his heirs and assigns, to abide by the award of John Cage of Wolpett, yeoman, John Wage the elder, Thomas Berte of Wederden, tanner, and Lawrence Lynge, appointed to arbitrate in a dispute respecting title to lands, between the said John Arnold of the one part and John Takon and William Takon claim of the other part.

(11.) 32 Henry VIII. General release and quit-claim by William Duckon, yeoman, of Mendlesham, to Robert Pryne, of the same place, labourer.

(12.) 36 Henry VIII. Conveyance of a messuage in Mendlesham from Andrew Wilkyn, 'groser,' to John Anger of 'Penderyng,' co. Essex.

(13.) 6 Edward VI. Release and quit-claim to William Syngleton, John Garnyshe, gentleman, and William Donken of Mendlesham, by Thomas Knyvett of 'Bokenham,' in respect to all his title and interest, present and future, in certain lands and tenements in Mendlesham called 'Pechers' and 'Lutts.'

(14.) 6 Edward VI. Copy of record in the rolls of the manor of Mendlesham of the admission of Francis Gascoigne, gentleman, Charles Syngleton, gentleman, Henry Gascoigne, gentleman, William Dunken, John Dunken, senior, Sweyn Eldnys, George Reves, Robert Sheppard, Thomas Blomefield, Richard Randall, Jeremy Hubbard, and Michael Revitt, newly appointed trustees under the will of Henry Jesop. The record describes this copyhold part of Henry Jesop's bequest to the parish:—"Ad hanc curiam, Willmus Donken, sen., 'præsens in curia reddidit in man' dñe quinq' acr' et 'di' terre v'at' ten' Lutty's ac unū messuagiū variū cū 'vi. acr' terr' inclus' ejusdem ter' Lutty's cū p'tin quas 'Wilts huit per jus accrescendi post mortem Georgii

"Syngylton et Nicholas Seman quos sup'vixit quiq' annuatum de p'missis cū p'fato Willmo ad diu'as vsus et effectus sc'dm ultimā voluntatem Henrici "Jessop seisciti fuerunt."

(15.) 1 Mary. Conveyance of lands and tenements in Mendlesham and Cotton, in consideration of the sum of 40*l.* from Sir Thomas Knyvett, of Buckenham Castle, co. Norfolk, to the parish of Mendlesham. The agreement for this transfer was made by Sir Edmund Knyvett, father of Sir Thomas, and carried into effect by the latter, after his father's death.

(16.) 7 Elizabeth. Agreement between Thomas Knyvett, lord of the manor of Mendlesham, of the one part, and the tenants of the said manor of the other part, for ending controversy respecting the customs of the manor, and defining the rights of the lord and the liabilities of tenants.

(17.) 7 Elizabeth. Release and quit-claim by Edmund Jesope, of Wetheringsett, co. Suffolk, grandson and heir to Henry Jesope, of Mendlesham, in respect to all those lands and tenements, &c. called Pechers, formerly belonging to Henry Jesope and his wife, Johanna Pecher, daughter and heiress of John Pecher, and now in the occupation of Richard Garnyshe, gen^l, John Shurlond, Richard Shepparde, and Charles Seman, of Mendlesham, who have paid Edmund Jesope a sum of money in satisfaction of his claims.

(18.) 20 Elizabeth. New enfeoffment of lands bequeathed in trust for charitable uses in the parish of Mendlesham, by Robert Oake. Old feoffees: Simon Harleston and Barnaby Gybson. New feoffees: Richard Garneys, Thomas Shurlond, John Salmon, Richard Dunckon, William Dockar, Robert Dunkon, John Blomefield, Thomas Hubbarde, Thomas Aldowse, Thomas Whiting, Jeremy Beale, senr., Armoso Beale, William Dunkon, Edmund Whiting, John Seman (son of Thomas Seaman), John Whytynge, Swethin Muskam, Thomas Dunnett, Charles Seman, Simon Edgar, and Bryst Brunwyn.

(19.) 34 Elizabeth. Memorandum of the conveyance of a messuage from Richard Amys to Andrew Bardewell, of Melles, co. Suffolk, and of Richard Amys's undertaking to maintain Andrew Bardewell's title to the said messuage.

(20.) 36 Elizabeth. New enfeoffment of the Jesope trust lands and tenements "cum oibus suis p'tinent' in 'villa de Mendlesham voc' Pechers que nuper fuerunt 'cujusdam Henrici Jesop."

(21.) 5 James I. Conveyance of a messuage in Mendlesham from Peter Pretymann, of Backton, co. Suffolk, to Nicholas Ralf of the same place.

(22.) Conveyance in consideration of the sum of 20*l.* of two parts of a messuage abutting on the Guild Hall (gildam aulam) of Mendlesham, from Nicholas Powlinge, husbandman, to Richard Partridge.

(23.) 12 James I. Conveyance of a messuage in Mendlesham to Master Duck.

(24.) 14 James I. Agreement between Thomas Goodwyn, of Little Stonham, co. Suffolk, lord of the manor of Mendlesham, of the one part, and the tenants of the said manor of the other part, for settling controversies respecting the customs of the manor, and fixing the rights and liabilities of the lord and his tenants. The indenture recites the earlier agreement between Sir Thomas Knyvett and the tenants, and states that after purchasing the manor of Sir Thomas, John Eldred, Esquire (from whom Thomas Goodwyn bought the manor) endeavoured to set aside the arrangement made between Sir Thomas and the tenants.

(25.) 14 James I. Inspecimus of the enrolment of the above-named agreement and of proceedings in the Court of Chancery, together with the final decree of the court, giving effect to the agreement. The great seal of this charter is perfect.

(26.) 14 James I. Inspecimus of the enrolment of the same indenture, with record of proceedings and decree, in the court of the Duchy of Lancaster.

(27.) 15 James I. Conveyance of a messuage in Mendlesham by Peter Duck to John Sheppard, Robert Seaman, and other inhabitants of Mendlesham, in trust, for the residence of a schoolmaster, the maintenance of a grammar school, and the relief of the poor of the town.

(28.) 16 James II. Release and quit-claim by Thomas Partings, of Kettlebar, co. Suffolk, to James Fenn, of Mendlesham, in respect to his title to a messuage called Jackamans.

(29.) 3 Charles I. Conveyance of a messuage in Mendlesham from Humfrey Bardwell, of Mellis, co. Suffolk, linen-weaver, to Henry Bardwell, of Sahum Comit (Earl's Soham), co. Suffolk.

MENDEL
SHAM

MENDLE-
SHAM.

(30.) 24 Charles I. Mortgage of a messuage in Mendlesham to John Dunkon and Robert Dunkon by Henry Bardwell, of Mendlesham, the sum lent to Henry Bardwell on the security being 16*l*.

(31.) 7 Charles II. Conveyance of messuages and tenements in Mendlesham from John Dunkon and Robert Dunkon to Edmund Sheppard, Thomas Butts, Robert Ridnall, and Barnaby Barker, of Mendlesham.

(32.) 26 Charles II. New enfeoffment of the lands left to the parish for charitable uses.

(31.) Fifteen copies (on parchment) of proceedings in the court of the manor of Mendlesham; all of them recording the admission of customary tenants of the manor.

It has not escaped the reader that a large proportion of these deeds had no relation to properties bequeathed to the parish. They were documents belonging to private persons, who consigned them, in accordance with general usage, to the parish chest for safety. The number of the documents thus confided to the great coffer and never withdrawn from it by their depositors or their representatives points to the prevalence of the practice.

Something yet remains to be told in connexion with this account of the Mendlesham parchments. In the vestry of the church may be seen a brass plate, on which the vicar and churchwardens in an early year of the present century engraved brief descriptions of the several properties held by trustees for the benefit of the parish. This brass record mentions the lands left to the parish by its earliest benefactor Robert Cake, who, in the year 1473, and by a testament drawn in contracted law Latin, bequeathed his property, in the first instance, to pay the fifteenth of the lord king, "et aliud on^o ibidem dⁱci dⁱni Regis cū accidit v^l acciderit," charged upon the inhabitants of Mendlesham; the surplus of income, after the payment of the taxes of the wealthier folk, being all that he bequeathed for the relief of the poor and sick. Proper prominence is given on the brazen tablet to the name of Robert Cake, as a benefactor of the parish. The same is the case with Peter Duck, who, in the 15th year of James I., gave Mendlesham property for the endowment of a school-house. But against three of the properties, belonging to the parish and described in brass, no donor's name appears. The plate declares that the donor of each of these gifts is unknown. Mendlesham has long enjoyed such distinction amongst the parishes of Suffolk by owning property which came to her from undiscoverable benefactors, that some of the townsfolk scarcely relished the announcement that my search of their church documents had explained their cherished mystery and falsified their brass tablet. On hearing that the three benefactions, from unknown sources, were all from the same donor, Henry Jesop, who died at Mendlesham in an early year of Henry VIII.'s reign, old inhabitants of the place declared they had never heard of the name of Jesop in connexion with the parish. The production of benefactor's will had little effect on minds disposed to question the genuineness of the discovery, for, though written in English, it was of course illegible to persons unfamiliar with handwriting of the sixteenth century.

The last will and testament of Henry Jesop (or Jesope, as the surname is spelt in some of the Mendlesham documents, or Jessop, as it is usually spelt in Suffolk at the present time).

"In noie Dei Amen. I Henry Jesop of Mendelysham of goode and hoole meende beyng y^e xvi daye of the monyth of Septembr in y^e yeere of owre Lorde Gode m^ccccc^{xvi} make my testamēt and laste wyll in thys forme follyryng. First I be qwethe my soule to Allmyghty God, to owre Lady Seynt Mary, & to alle the seyntes in heuen & my body to be beryed in y^e chyrch yerde of Mendelysh^m. Item I be qweth to y^e hiey autyr of y^e same chyrch iiiij s. Item I wyll y^e Jone my wyffe haue my tenemets callyd Waters and Fedelers and Peynters to geve & to selle aftyr my dyscesse. Item I wyll y^e my wyffe haue my tenemēt callyd Pecher & Lotts terme of her lyffe & tyll Mychelmasse aftyr her decesse, payng to Dauid Wyllyā Bedyngfeld of Seynt Edmonds Bery my son xiiij s. & iiiij d. be yeere. And aftyr y^e decesse of Jone my wyffe I wyll y^e forsayd tenemēt callyd Pechers & Lotts remayne to the towne of Mendelysh^m to y^e fyndyng of a clarke to pley att y^e organys for a p^etuite. And y^e chyrch reys and too moo of y^e towne shall medyll w^t all and no moo of y^e towne payng to Davie Wyllyā Bedyngfeld my son be yeere terme of hys lyff xiiij s. & iiiij d. Item I wyll y^e Jone my wyffe kepe a yeerdaye for me yearlyr terme of her lyffe w^t in y^e chyrch of Mendelysh^m and aftyr her decesse I wyll

"y^e towne of Mendelysh^m kepe a sangarede for me & my wyffe w^t in y^e chyrch of Mendelysh^m p^etually. Also I wyll y^e Jone my wyffe schalle make no stryppen waste in fellyng of tymbyr, but for y^e rep^acion of y^e howys & to kepe y^e howys suffycently in reparacon terme of her lyfe. Item I wyll haue a preste to synge for me w^t in y^e chyrch of Mendelysh^m y^e space of haffe a yeere. Item, I wyll Dauid Wyllyā Bedyngfeld my son synge for me in Bery Abbey y^e space of haffe a yeere. Item I wyll y^e Davie Wyllyā my son haue my blake hors my best kandelystyke a charger my red bedcloth a payre of blankettes & a payre of schetes. Item I wyll y^e Jone Jenor haue a melche kowe. Item I wyll y^e John Jesop my godson of Mekefeld haue a yeoryng boloke. Item I wyll y^e my goddowetyr Isabelle Rowe haue a yeoryng boloke. Item I wyll y^e Thom^s Norfolys chylderen haue vi lambs. Item I wyll Isabelle Baker haue a yeoryng bulloke. Item I be qwethe to y^e chyrch of Mendelysh^m to y^e making of y^e roofe iiiij l. to be takyn of Thom^s Bocher of Needh^m & x s. of Rychard Dryver of Cretyng of my dette. And as I shewyd Mas^r Vekery of Mendelysh^m, Wyllye Donken & Wyllyā Mathew yf they & y^e chyrch reys wold take it of y^e forsayd Thom^s & Rychard or ellys I geve noon for I wyll nott haue my executors trobelyd for y^e said iiiij l. Item I be qwethe to Thom^s Stanton of Ypwychevi s. viii d. Item I wyll y^e my executors haue x combe whete & iii combe malte to my beryng & my xxxⁱ day. It I wyll y^e haue a bulloke & x schepe & a weye of chese to my beryng & my xxxⁱ day. It all y^e resydue of my catell & corne & stuffe of howshold on be qwethe I wyll y^e my wyff haue ytt. It I be qwethe to Symond Egger of Mendelysh^m & to Thomas Benett of Mekefeld eche of them vi s. viii d. whom I chose & make my executors & Syr Thom^s Tyrrell of Gyppyng, knyght, sup^rvyssor of thys my last wyll these wettenesse, Sr Wyllyā Becha, Vekery of Mendelysh^m, Wyllyā Donken, Wyllyā Mathew, Wyllyā Revyll & John Norfol of y^e towne forsayd cū alii.

There is no need to apologise for publishing the ipsissima verba of the will, which restores to us so expressive a word as "sangarede" for a chanted service and which demonstrates that at least as late as the earlier decades of the sixteenth century the burials of wealthy persons were sometimes celebrated in East Anglia with feasts, lasting for 30 days. But what is most surprising in the story of this will and its maker is, that the latter should for a considerable period have fallen completely out of the knowledge of the people of the very town that benefitted so largely by his munificence. This fact is the more astonishing, as the Mendlesham documents prove that Henry Jesop's name and beneficence must have been familiar to the people of Mendlesham, at least as late as the first generation of the seventeenth century. In the seventh year of Elizabeth, the trustees of his bequests satisfied with money his grandson Edmund Jesope, in respect to some title he had or imagined himself to have to the testator's property; just as a few years earlier they had quieted with payment the claims of Thomas Knyvett of Bokenham. In the thirty-sixth year of the same Queen, new trustees were appointed for the lands lately belonging to Henry Jesope, some of whom probably lived to see Charles I. ascend the throne. And yet at the beginning of the present century Henry Jesope's name and acts were so utterly forgotten in the parish, which retained possession of his legacies, that the vicar and churchwardens of Mendlesham wrote in brass that his lands came to the parish from an unknown benefactor. The discovery of Robert Cake's will also throws light on the manner in which the taxpayers of Mendlesham used to divide the income of bequeathed property amongst themselves, giving little or none of it to the poor. From the instrument it is clear that Robert Cake's first purpose was to relieve the tax-payers of his parish from the burden of King's taxes. The words, defining the testator's first object, are both comprehensive and precise:—"ad acquietand^u soluend^u & exonerand^u quint^u decim^u dñi regis et aliud on^o ibidem dñi Regis cū accidit v^l acciderit soluend^u p^e villat^e de Mendlessh^m prout pro inhabitantib^{us} in eadem." It follows from these words that the yeomen and other tax-payers of the parish, who used to apply the revenues of the charity to the payment of their dues to the Crown were guilty of no abuse of charity, but were only acting in accordance with the donor's will.

JOHN CORDY JEFFERSON.

ALWINGTON. THE CHURCH BOOKS OF THE PARISH OF ALWINGTON, NORTH DEVON.

Through the kind offices of J. R. Pine Coffin, Esquire, of Portledge, and by the courtesy of the Reverend — Mules, the Rector of the Parish, I have been favoured with an opportunity of examining the Church Books of Alwington; adjoining to Parkham, the books belonging to which Parish have been the subjects of notice in a previous Report.

The oldest of the Register Books, now surviving, is an oblong folio volume, with leaves of parchment, the writing upon the earlier of which is almost wholly obliterated. The opening leaves of this volume, in its original state, are evidently lost, and, in its present condition, it begins with Baptisms, about A.D. 1550. Further on in the book, some of the leaves are mutilated, and in some the writing is totally effaced. The Baptisms in this volume end in 1654.

The entries of Marriages begin in 1553 or 4: "were woded" is the earlier form, "were wedded" later. Couples are never "married" in this volume, or in the succeeding one, with some few exceptions in the latter; "wedded" being the usual form. The Marriages end in 1654. The entries of Burials begin A.D. 1549, and end in 1642, the book being imperfect at the end. During the period in question, Thomasin, or Thomasia, appears, in this parish, to have been the favourite name for females.

The succeeding volume is a similar oblong folio, but thicker, with leaves of parchment, bound in wooden boards, one side of which is lost. It begins, with Marriages, in February 1654, ending 27th of February 1717. The Baptisms begin 29th of November 1653, ending 25th of December 1716. The Burials begin 29th of November 1653, and end in 1717. The notices in those two volumes, of births and deaths of members of the Coffin family, of Portledge, in this parish, are numerous. The entries are of a very meagre description, and contain nothing that calls for further notice.

A thin paper folio volume, bound in limp vellum, with the following title,—"A book to register the names of such persons as have died in the Parish of Alwington, since the First day of August 1678." Its object was, the registering of affidavits as to whether or not the dead had been buried in woollen, in conformity with the Act of Parliament 30 Charles II. (A.D. 1678) ordering to that effect, under a penalty of 5 pounds. In 1767 the affidavits cease, the entries of burials being continued to 1775. From squire to peasant, throughout, all went to the grave in their woollen garb; the fine, exacted for burial in more costly habiliments, being in no one instance, so far as I observed, submitted to.—

"Odious! in woollen, 'twould a Saint provoke,"—the fair and frail one to whom this sentiment is imparted by the Poet, had no sympathizers in Alwington.

The earliest now existing Church-Rate Book, is an oblong folio paper volume, bound in leather, and beginning in 1767, the latest entries being in 1824. The volume is little more than half-filled. Though of so recent a date, there are some few entries in it that may perhaps deserve notice.—

The ringers received yearly 7 shillings for ringing the bells on the 5th of November, down to the latter date; it being (with perhaps a single exception) the only occasion in the year on which any payment to them was made. The people of Alwington seem, at the period in question, to have had but little taste for the chase; and in their number few genuine sportsmen, probably, were to be found. There are numerous entries for the killing of foxes and their cubs, the tariff being at first two shillings, later three, and then five shillings, per head. The other animals, the slayers of which were similarly subsidized by the Churchwardens, but at lower rates, were martrels, (or martens), greys or badgers, (sometimes written "baggers," sometimes "bagges"), hedgehogs, fetches or fitches (weasels), orters (otters), jays, hawks, kits or kites, and, at a more recent date, sparrows, crows, magpies, and hoops (bullfinches).

The following are some additional extracts from the volume.—A.D. 1767. "Paid for this book to keep accounts 3s. 9d." 1768, "Paid him [John Rogers, the Clerk] for catching the molls [moles] and spreading ye hills, 1s. 6d." 1776, "Paid the Pariter [Apparitor] for a form of Prayer for the Young Princes, 1s." 1778, "To a curten for the pulpett, 2s. 3d." 1779, "To a traveling woman that had a pass signed by the Mayor of Bideford 6d." Entries of this nature become very numerous towards the close of the century. 1783, "To six tyts [hassocks, elsewhere called "kneeling "toytes"] for the church, 6s." At the same date also is the following entry,—"Memdum. No hawks, jays, fitches, or badgers, to be allowed for in future. The bells being now in good order, it is supposed nothing but grease will be wanted for the ensuing year, nor is the Churchwarden to be allowed anything for doing his office." Only one of the two Churchwardens, annually elected, seems, for some years, to have been the acting Churchwarden. For some years after this date, the sums allowed for the killing of birds and "vermin" are but few in number, but gradually the above order, as to hawks and badgers, came to be disregarded. 1790, "To Parkham men, for killing a old fixin [vixen] fox, 2s. 6d." 1792, "To a new pich pipe for the singers, 5s. 6d." 1803, "To Mr. James Peard for teaching the singers 6l. 6s.:"—this comparatively liberal payment is soon reduced to one guinea. 1804, "Relieved 3 children and their mother stranded at Hale, Cornwall 4s. Paid for killing 3 foxes 9s 6d." 1806, "For new drawing the sun dial 1s. 6d." 1807, "Agreed by the Parishioners of Alwington, to pay three pence per dozen for old sparrows, and two pence per dozen for young do., and one penny per piece for hoops. Provided they are killed in the parish." 1809, "Paid for one old fox, and 6 young, 7s. 6d. For one out shell, 9d." 1810, "Mr. Ching for killing two foxes 10s." 1811, "To Edward Bale for fox ale [payment in ale for killing a fox] 5s. My boys for killing 5 dozen of sparrows 1s. 0½d.:"—to which of the two Churchwardens "My boys" belonged, is not stated. 1816, "Paid Edward Bale for fox ale 15s." 1822, "Green baize bag for the bass viol 5s. 9d. William Bailey for playing bass viol 10s. Edward Williams, for playing flute 10s. N.B. Revd. Mr. Morrison gave a bass viol cost —. Mr. Wackeril a flute, cost 1l." The Revd. Mr. Morrison was one of the Churchwardens, for several years.

On the last written leaf is the following entry:—"Memorandum of what has been formerly allowed for killing sundry vermin and mischievous birds. Fox each, 5s. Badgers 1s. Hedgehogs 3d. Hawks and kites 6d. old, 3d. young. Magpies, crows, and jays 3d. Hoops, each 1d. Sparrows, per dozen 2½d. Thrushes 1d. Fitchetts, or wesels, 4d." The entries as to sparrows and thrushes have a line run through them,—and the entry noticed is succeeded by the following:—"Memorandum, at a Vestry held Monday 19th of April 1824 (being Easter Monday). It was agreed that those who kill foxes or mischievous birds, as mentioned above, should produce their account of it at Easter next, when their bills will be investigated and paid, as the majority of Vestry shall direct, by subscription. W. Wackeril Church Warden." All this has as much the air of being obsolete, as if it had happened three centuries ago.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF THE CORPORATION OF DARTMOUTH.

CORPORATION OF DARTMOUTH.
—

With the sanction of —. Puddicombe, Esq., the Mayor, and the Common Council, of Dartmouth, accorded to me personally in the most courteous terms, I have recently had the opportunity of making a prolonged examination of the ancient records in their possession; and, by the courtesy of Percy Hockin, Esq. the Town Clerk, to whom I have much pleasure in acknowledging my obligations, every possible facility has been afforded me for doing so.

These records, which, taken altogether, are very numerous, may be divided into four classes; charters, volumes, deeds, and miscellaneous documents. The miscellaneous documents of a date prior to the reign of Henry the Eighth, are comparatively few in number, and have not been examined by me sufficiently at length to admit of my giving a description of them in the present Report: those of a more recent date, with scarcely an exception, so far as I have examined them, present no feature of either interest or usefulness that calls for notice. The pages of this Report will therefore be limited to a description of the books belonging to the Corporation, and of the contents of a portion of such among the deeds and documents under seal, between the reigns of Henry the Third and Henry the Sixth, as give information in reference to the ancient history of the town, its localities,—some of which have perished out of mind and memory,—its old tenures, and its former officials and inhabitants. The remaining deeds, the town Charters, and the earlier miscellaneous documents, not improbably, will form the subject of a second Report.

The Corporation books, or Registers, are many in number, and, some of them, singularly ponderous; nothing beyond a mere description of them can be attempted in this Report.

The earliest volume is a large paper folio, in its original boards and tattered calf leather, the pages not numbered, but containing about 300 leaves. The cover is lined at the beginning and end with two parchment leaves, illuminated in red and blue, part apparently of a 14th century MS. of the Pandects of Justinian. It is labelled on the outside "Borough Court, 2nd Richard "Second, 1378," but this is a mistake; a few leaves only are lost at the beginning, and the regular entries commence with the 2nd year of the reign of Richard the Third. Leaves 3 to 6, contain musical notation, in a hand of the early part of the 16th century; the words beginning with—"Et exultavit spiritus meus," Luke i. 47. The first Law Court, the proceedings of which are entered in folio 7a, was holden on Monday after the feast of St. Michael, in the 2nd year of Richard the Third. The last entry is the 30th of March in the 21st year of Henry VIII. (A.D. 1530), but one or more leaves are lost at the end. The minutes of the Courts end in the 3rd year of Henry VIII.: and the entries throughout are of a most miscellaneous description, and evidently embody the then current history of the town.

The next Court Book is a large folio, in old limp ornamented calf, containing 222 leaves of paper; its entries commence on Monday after Michaelmas Day, in the 3rd year of Henry VIII., and end at the Feast of St. Matthew in the 29th year of the same reign.

The next volume is a very large folio, in old limp ornamented calf, containing nearly 300 leaves of paper. It begins on Monday after Michaelmas in the 29th year of Henry VIII., and ends with the second year of Philip and Mary, there being some miscellaneous entries also at the end. In the padding of the tattered cover of this volume is inserted, with other matter, a portion of two leaves of a very early printed Latin and English Grammar; "Secunda pars opusculi"—"Of verbis person-
"ales;" only two pages of the Grammar are perfect.

A large folio, bound in calf, with thongs and an ornamented brass buckle; containing about 490 leaves of paper. It begins with the Law Court holden on Monday the 12th of October, in the 3rd and 4th years of Philip and Mary, and the regular entries end in the 9th of Elizabeth. The binding has been strengthened with a fragment of a handsomely illuminated Latin MS. (on legal matters) of the 14th century; the subject appears to be parental authority, and the legal liabilities of the different degrees of relationship.

A large folio, bound in ornamented calf, with a thong, containing 466 leaves of paper. It begins in April, the 9th year of Elizabeth, and its entries end in February, in the 19th year of her reign.

The next volume is a very large folio, bound in calf, and containing 570 leaves of paper; its entries commence in April in the 19th year of Elizabeth, and end in September in the 34th year of her reign.

At this point there seems to be a hiatus of about ten years.

A large folio, bound in limp calf, containing about 550 leaves of paper. Its entries begin in February in the 43rd year of Elizabeth, and end in the 10th year of James the First. The sides are strengthened with fragments of a finely illuminated Service Book, of the 14th century, with musical notation.

The next is a large folio paper volume, in limp calf, containing about 400 leaves. Its entries, beginning at one end, are from the tenth year of Elizabeth to the 43rd year of that reign, being proceedings of the Queen's Water Bailiff at Dartmouth. At the other end, it begins with the Law Courts from the 2nd year of Charles the First, down to the tenth year of the same reign.

A small folio paper volume, bound in limp parchment, containing at one end the Law Courts from the last day of August, in the 11th year of King Charles the First, down to the 24th day of January 1648 (9) fol. 236; to which date they are held in his name. The same Courts are held, under various other denominations, down to the 23rd of July in the same year. There are miscellaneous entries on about 68 pages, beginning at the other end of the volume.

The remaining books seem to be of a miscellaneous character.

A quarto volume, containing about 200 leaves, half of them filled, bound in embossed calf, now in a tattered condition. It contains various Corporation Accounts, beginning in the first year of Henry VIII.; but immediately passes on to the 9th; though, to all appearance, none of its contents are lost. 1547 is the date of the latest account.

A small folio book, of about 300 leaves, bound in embossed calf, has 13 leaves filled with miscellaneous matters, the rest remaining blank. The earliest entry is, "A Constitution for the weekly meetinge of the "Maioir and Common Counsell, at the Guildhalle, made "the xiiith daye of December 1604." The latest entry bears date the 17th of August 1676.

A small quarto paper book, in limp parchment, braced with a fragment of a law Manuscript of the 13th century: 55 of the leaves are written upon at one end, the earliest entries apparently, (as to the mode of admission of enfranchised persons), belonging to the reign of Henry VIII., so far as the writing is concerned; the latest of the "Constitutions" here entered belonging to the year 1773. The entries at the other end of the book are of a somewhat similar nature, ranging from the reign of Henry VIII. to 1777. Three-fourths of the volume remain in blank.

A quarto book of Minutes, in limp parchment, containing 146 leaves of paper, being orders made by the Mayor and Common Council. At page 33 is the following order,—"xvth die Julii 1579. Nicholas Jackmanne "is att this tyme appoynted to cause his daughter, "beyng a sike woman, to be forthwith putt one [out] "his house, and on this side Michaelmas next to provide some convenient house oute of this towne, or "otherwyse order to be taken that he shall not any "longer keep a common bakehouse." The latest entries are in 1609. The cover, black with dirt and scribbling, is part of a finely illuminated Service-Book, of the 14th century, with musical notation.

A thin quarto paper book, with a paper cover, of about 40 leaves, being inquisitions held by the Coroner, between 1603 and 1624.

A folio volume, of about 300 leaves of paper, in old calf, containing proceedings of the Law Courts and other matters from 1680 to 1699.

A large folio, of 369 leaves of paper, in stiff parchment covers, containing proceedings of the Law Courts from 1699 to 1769.

The early deeds, and documents that may come under that definition, belonging to the Corporation, from the reign of Henry III., and indeed earlier, down to the time of Henry VIII., are very numerous; in part, they seem to have belonged to property transferred to feoffees in the middle ages for the use of the Church: while many others of them, as at Axbridge and other Western towns, and again, at Rye in Sussex, may have been placed in the hands of the Common Clerk for safe custody; and, on being superseded by later deeds, were never claimed. The following is a selection of some of the earlier of these deeds, as throwing more or less light on the inhabitants and localities of the town and its vicinity, at a remote period; some hundreds, probably, being of necessity left unnoticed in this Report. Before entering upon an examination of these documents, it may be not inopportune to remark that the ancient and legal appellation of the town is "Clifton Dartmouth Hardness;" it being an aggregate of what in the middle ages formed three townships, Clifton, on the East by South, Dertemouth, in the middle, and Hardness, on the West; the latter so called probably as being the "ness," or promontory, ending in the "hard," or beach. The mother church of Dartmouth was the church of St. Clement at Townstall, or Tunstall, about a mile inland, on the summit of a steep hill; St. Saviour's, the present church of Dartmouth, was built as a chapel of ease to Townstall, in 1374.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, the seal lost, apparently of the beginning of the reign of Edward I., whereby Richard Fitz-William, William being son of Stephen, grants to Robert Uppehille one messuage, "in "my vill of Dertemue," between the houses of Ernald Scot and William de Wight; at a yearly rent of 15d., payable at 3 terms of the year. For this gift and grant Robert has paid him one bezant (a gold coin of Byzantium). Witnesses, Peter the Chaplain, Thomas Perer, Richard de Sede, Thomas Wombe, Wiot Crispin, Walter Long, William de Wight, Jesse (probably a Jew), "and many others."

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by Gilbert Fitz-Stephen, Lord of Nortone, to Henry Rurde and Isobel, daughter of John de Cruce [Cross], of a piece of land in the burgh of Dertemouth, near the tenement of Edward Wilyson, on the west side of the way going down from the "great street" towards the "falaise," (high cliff); at a yearly rent of 3d., and on condition of his paying 2 suits at his Court at Dartmouth, at Michaelmas and Hockeday. Witnesses, Philip Rurde and others. Temp. Edward I. The small seal is much mutilated.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, with a large seal in white wax, representing a flower, probably of the beginning of the reign of Edward I.; whereby Richard Fitz-William, William being son of Stephen, grants to Richard, son of Richard de Sede, one messuage in the vill of Hardenesse, before the chapel of St. Clair; at a yearly rent of one pound of wax at the Feast of St. Michael; one bezant having been paid beforehand.

A small parchment deed, with a small seal, mutilated, temp. Edward I., whereby Gilbert Fitz-Richard, Richard being son of Stephen, grants to William Smith (Fabro) of la Fosse, one messuage in Cliftone of Dartemue, between the way leading from the vill of Dartemue towards the chapel of St. Clair and "my mill-dam" of Dartemue; he paying a yearly rent of 6 pence, and "such other services as my burgesses of Dartemue do;" 2s. having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Henry Burd, and others named.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, with a seal of green wax, representing a knight on horseback, with shield and sword, temp. Edward I.; whereby Gilbert Fitz-Richard, Richard being son of Stephen, grants to Thomas Pelliper [Skinner] one garden on the west side of the vill of Cliftone, to hold to him and his assigns, religious houses and Jews excepted, at a yearly rent of 6 pence. Witnesses, John Clobard, Martin le Vois, Walter de Fawy, William Aubin, Thomas de Cruce [Cross], Richard, his brother, William Crispin, "and many others."

A small parchment deed, temp. Edward I., in Latin, whereby Richard Fitz-William, William being son of Stephen, grants to Roger Joie one messuage in his vill of Hardenesse, at a yearly rent of 12d.; the sum also of 12d. being paid beforehand. Witnesses, Thomas Porer, Wiot Crispin, Brian de Virga, Walter Dubeldai, "and others." The seal is lost.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, with seal representing a shield of arms, but indistinct, temp. Edward I.; dated "At Southwerk near London, on Thursday in the week of Pentecost, in the year of the reign of King Edward the 21st" whereby Gilbert Fitz-Richard, Richard being son of Estephen, "Knight, of the county of Devon," grants to Nicholas de Theukesburi, Clerk, all his manors of Nortone, Dartemue, Tonstalle, Hardynesse, and Cliftone Dartemue; to hold of the chief lords of the fee. Witnesses, Richard le Clerk of Suthwerk, Rogor le Poleter, Henry Graspeys, Ralph Sparowe, Richard le Tymbermongere, Walter Crowe, Gilbert de Fawy, Robert de Pole, William Hemyng, Thomas Fynamur, Robert the Baker, William Man, Ralph Reynard, "and others." This is an important deed in reference to the history of Dartmouth, as Nicholas de Theukesburi [Towkesbury] ultimately conveyed the whole of these possessions to Guido de Brienne.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Gilbert Fitz-Richard, Richard being son of Stephen, lord of Nortone, grants to Philip Rurde, and Constance, his wife, his mill of Hardenesse, with all multure and suit thereof, and with the foss of the said mill and the dam thereto belonging; to hold in tail general, on payment of one rose at the Nativity of John the Baptist; the said Philip having paid 200l. sterling beforehand. Witnesses, Sirs Henry de la Pomeroy, Peter de Fissacre, Hugh le Ferrers, John de Ayselegh, Knights, Robert de Malestone, Ralph de Doddescombe, William de Penellys, Richard de Byneleghe, Gilbert de Fawy, Ralph Renat, Illary Crok, William Hemmyng, "and others." "Given at Derthemue, on Sunday after the Feast of St. Remigius, at the end of the 24th year of the reign of Edward, son of King Henry." Though stated therein to the contrary, no seal, apparently, has ever been attached; and this may possibly have been a duplicate, not executed.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by Gilbert Fitz-Stephen to Thomas Ivone, Chaplain, of one tenement in the vill of Dartemue, with a garden, situate in Cliftone, near the tenements of Robert de Slapetone and William le Mouwere; at a yearly rent of 12d., "and such suits of Court, as the other freemen make;" 20s. having been paid beforehand. The seal, with a shield, the impression indistinct, still remains. Of the early part of the reign of Edward I. A few witnesses are named.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by Sabina, daughter of Thomas Yvon, Chaplain, to Gilbert de Fawy, of Dartemue, of her tenement in Clyftone in Dartemue, being the most southerly tenement of the fee of the lord of Nortone; for 15s. paid beforehand. Witnesses, Robert de Pole, William Hemmeng, John Faukes, Gilbert de Pole, William de Hoo, "and others." Temp. Edw. I. The seal is lost. The mention of the "daughter of a Chaplain," deserves notice.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Gilbert Fitz-Richard, Richard being son of William, son of Stephen, grants to Adam Cade, for his homage and service, a messuage on the west side of "his fosse of Hardinasse," and part of a garden in the west side of the vill of Hardinasse, above the road which leads to Tunstealle, at a yearly rent of 6d.: to hold to him, his heirs, and assigns, a house of religion excepted; 6d. having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, William Finamur, Roger Tubbe, then Provost [or Reeve], John Clobard, Martin de Bois, Thomas de Cruce [Cross], Ralph de Hardenasse, Walter Wite of Hardenasse, John Borberel, William Crispin, "and many others." Temp. Edward I.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Nicholas de Theokesbure, lord of Hywiche, grants to Geoffrey Gilbert, of Dartemue, and Isabel, his wife, wardship of the land and heir of John Fitz-John of Wichemor; his father being dead, and the land held by him by knight-service of the said Nicholas; 20 marks having been paid to him beforehand. Witnesses are named. Given at Nortone, on Palm Sunday, in the 9th year of Edward II.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Gilbert Fyz-Estevene, lord of Dartemue, grants to Gilbert de Fawy, of Dartemue, his tenement in Clyftone in Dartemue, "being the last of his fee below the bank, as near on the south as will allow you to go down to the sea;" rendering yearly 12 pence and 2 suits of Court at Dartemue, as the other free burgesses do, and 2 shillings for relief, when falling due; 33s. 4d. having been paid beforehand. Witnesses are named, John Faukes, and others. Dated the 4th October, 21st Edward I. A seal in brown wax is attached, representing a star, with a bird in its centre.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Richard Fitz-William, William being son of Stephen, grants to John Clobard a "place" [vacant ground] in his vill of Dartemue, near the shore, which lies nearest to the house of Heming, with a garden between that of Andrew le Scot and that of William Flemmyng [Flandrensis]; at a yearly rent of 12d.. 2 shillings having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Richard Farmer, of Tunstalle, William Aubury, David Gillore then Provost [or Reeve], Gocelin, William Finamur, John Borberel, Thomas de Cruce [Cross], and Richard, his brother, "and many others." A large seal is attached, a flower with expanded petals. Temp. Edward I. The family of Fleming here named was the one probably to which belonged Richard le Fleming, Justiciar, in the reigns of Richard I. and John, and which gave its name to Stoke Fleming, and was long connected with Dartmouth.

A parchment deed, finely written, in Latin, temp. Henry III.; whereby Margaret, daughter of Ralph de Saint Lo [Laudo] quit-claims to John, son of John de Silvestone, the whole of her right in all the land of Niweham, in all the land of Penuran, and in all the land of Talskydi, which she had claimed against him in full County Court of Cornwall, by writ of right of the Lord the King; such quit-claim being made in her pure widowhood; 20 marks being paid beforehand. Witnesses, Robert Fitz-Richard, William Fitz-Richard, Serlo de Penpol, John the Seneschal, Walter de Trenerbin, Geoffrey Fitz-Bernard, Thomas de Pridias, Reginald, and Geoffrey his brother, Odo de Trenerbin, Roger his brother, "and others." The seal is lost.

A parchment deed, with a fragment of a large seal, in green wax:—"Omnibus Sanctæ Matris Ecclesiæ filiis, Willelmus filius Stephani, salutem. Noverit universitas vestra me, causa Dei, et intuitu pietatis, dedisse et concessisse Deo et ecclesiæ Sanctæ Trinitatis de Torre, et Canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, ecclesiam de Tunistal, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, pro salute animæ meæ, et Isabel, uxoris meæ, et hæredum meorum, et omnium antecessorum et successorum nostrorum, et pro anima Willelmi de Berchelee, in liberamque, puram, et perpetuam elemosynam. Et ut hæc mea donatio rata et inconcussa permaneat, eam sigilli mei appositione roboravi. Teste, Domino G. Wintoniensi Episcopo, Willelmo Briw[ere], Ricardo Heriet, Thoma de Usseburne, Henrico de Lapumei, Johanne de Torintone, Matthæo filio Herberti, Ricardo Flandrensi, Widone de Aubemara, Willelmo Baviano, Martino Capellano, Radulpho de Brai, Radulpho de Mora, Reginaldo de Aubemara, et multis aliis." Tr.—"To all sons of Holy Mother Church, William Fitz-Stephen, greeting. Know all of you that I, for the sake of God, and for pious considerations, have

CORPORATION OF DARTMOUTH.

"given and granted to God and the church of the Holy Trinity of Torre, and the Canons there serving God, the church of Tunistal, with all its appurtenances, for the health of my soul, and of Isabel, my wife, and my heirs, and all our ancestors and successors, and for the soul of William de Berchelee, in free, pure, and perpetual alms. And that this my gift may remain ratified and unshaken, I have confirmed it with setting thereto my seal. Witnesses, Sir G. Bishop of Winchester, William Briwere, Richard Heriet, Thomas de Ussebarne, Henry de Lapumei, John de Torintone, Matthew Fitz-Herbert, Richard Fleming, Wido de Aubemarle, William Bavian, Martin the Chaplain, Ralph de Brai, Ralph de More, Reginald de Aubemarle, and many others." This deed must have been executed before the death of Godfrey de Lucy, Bishop of Winchester, who died A.D. 1204. William Briwere, the Founder of Torre Abbey, for Præmonstratensian Canons, died before 1226, and Richard Heriet (like Briwere, a Justiciar), died before April 6, 1208.

A small parchment deed, with a large portion of the Bishop's seal attached:—"Universis Sanctæ Matris Ecclesiæ filiis, ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Willelmus, miseratione divina, Exoniensis Ecclesiæ minister humilis, salutem in Domino. Qui cælum terramque regit, pietatis Suæ miseratione disposuit, ut cultum divini nominis ampliaret, intuitu caritatis, partem cum Ipso possideant in regno cælorum, et vitam sempiternam. Cum igitur laborantibus in vinea Domini in Sabaoth panem diuturnum [diurnum] largiri conveniat, et eorum augmentare facultates, juri consonum, ac Deo sit acceptum, qui, divinis orationibus jugiter insistentes, virtutum ac vitæ decorantur excellentia, necnon hospitalitatis munera, juxta suarum vires facultatum, conferentes, ad se confluentibus vultum hylarem præstendant; nos, divine caritatis intuitu, ecclesiam de Tunestalle, vacantem, et ad donationem religiosorum virorum Abbatis et Conventus de Torre de jure spectantem, eisdem Abbati et Conventui, de consensu Capituli nostri Exoniæ, contribuimus et concessimus, in proprios usus imperpetuum possidendam, cum omnibus ad eandem pertinentibus. Ita tamen, quod eadem ecclesia divinis imposterum officiis non fraudetur, sed continue resideat ibidem capellanus sæcularis, honestus et ydoneus, qui se in ecclesia memorata exerceat utiliter et honeste: salva sit etiam in omnibus episcopalis et Exoniensis Ecclesiæ dignitas. In cujus rei testimonium, huic scripto sigillum nostrum apponi fecimus." Tr.:—"To all sons of Holy Mother Church, to whom the present writing shall come, William, by divine mercy, the humble servant of the Church of Exeter, greeting in the Lord. He who rules the heaven and the earth, in the mercy of His pity hath so disposed, that those augmenting the worship of the divine name, for charity's sake, shall possess a share with Him in the kingdom of heaven, and everlasting life. Since therefore it is proper to give to those who labour in the vineyard of the Lord of Sabaoth their daily bread, and to increase their means [therein], it must be consonant with right, and acceptable to God, also to augment the means of those, who, constantly devoting themselves to prayer to God, are adorned with excellence of virtues and of life, and who, bestowing the gifts of hospitality, according to the extent of their means, shew a cheerful countenance to those resorting to them; we, for the love of God, with the consent of our Chapter of Exeter, have contributed and have granted the church of Tunestalle, which is vacant, and of right belonging to the gift of the religious men, the Abbot and Convent of Torre, unto the same Abbot and Convent for ever to their own use to possess the same, with all things unto the same pertaining. So, however, that the same church be not in future defrauded of divine ministrations, but that a secular chaplain continually reside there, honest and fitting therefor, who shall in the church aforesaid usefully and honestly demean himself; and that there be saved also in all things the episcopal dignity, and that of the Church of Exeter. In witness of which matter, to this writing we have caused to be set our seal." The bishop who thus granted the rectory, or great tithes, of Tunstall to the Abbot and Canons of Torre, in consideration of their placing a Chaplain therein, was William Briwere, Bishop of Exeter from A.D. 1224 to 1244. According to some authorities, he was a cousin to the Justiciar of the same name, before-mentioned, who founded the Abbey of Torre.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby John Aubyn, of Dertemue, grants to Hillary Crok, of Hardinasse, his tenement in Clyftone, belonging to Richard Fitz-Stephen, between the tenement of John de Fonte [Atwell] and that which Thomas Yvo, Chaplain, held; 10 marks having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Sir Peter de Fisacre, then Seneschal, John Faukes, Richard de Strete, John de Crosse, Philip Rurde, John de Fonte, Robert de Pole. "Given at Dertemue, on the day of the Purification of the Blessed Mary, in the year of Grace 1280, and of the reign of King Edward the ninth." To this deed are attached the seal of John Aubyn, a decorated cross, and the most ancient seal of the Corporation of Dartmouth, in green wax, a galley with one mast, and sail; the sole impression of it, apparently, that the Corporation now possesses.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Geoffrey de Pole grants to Ralph Crispin and his heirs, 2 "furlings" of land in Ferncumb, which he held of his father, and one field of his demesne, on the west side of the way from Ferncume; to hold for doing the service of one eleventh part of a knight's fee. For the grant, Ralph has given one mark of silver to the said Geoffrey, and to his mother one mark. Witnesses, Roger Crispin, William Crispin, Nicholas de Badistone, Roger de Halheville, and others named. Of the time of Henry III., or prior thereto. The seal is lost.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby William Fleming [Flandrensis] grants to Gilbert Fitz-Adam, Adam being son of Sebrith, for his homage and service, that land in his vill of Cliftone, below the bank, near the houses of Robert Fitz-Siward and Oliver le Taverner, and land for making a garden on the south side of his vill of Cliftone, near the way going to Wel-flut, next to the garden belonging to Ranulph Godesgrace; to hold to him, his heirs and assigns, a house of religion excepted, at a yearly rent of 2s.; for 18s. paid to him beforehand, and to Avice, his spouse, one bezant. He also gives to the said Gilbert a messuage and garden which belonged to Adam Fitz-Sebrith, at a yearly rent of 18 pence, one barrel of wine being given to him beforehand. Witnesses, Sir Robert de Mandewil, Nicholas de Merieth, Gilbert de Hosteswelle, Laurence Fleming [Flandrensis], William le Chenye, Richard Chaplain, Geoffrey de Bromlege, Robert de Hundrigge, Richard de Cumbe, Roger son of Richard Fitz-Sebrith, Hysaac de Hestinges, Richard de Sege, "and many others." A long silken cord is attached, but the seal is lost. Of the time, probably, of Edward I.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by Richard called "Fitz-Stephen," lord of Nortone, to Ervey Makeglad, of a tenement in the vill of Dertemue, at a yearly rent of 15d., and for making two suits of Court each year; half a mark of silver having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Sir Peter de Fisacre, John de Crosse, Richard de Strete, William Joie, Robert de Pole, William de Pole, Nicholas de Cumbe, "and others." Temp. Henry III. The grantor's seal, a shield, with a faint impression, is still attached. Another conveyance of another tenement, the same persons being parties, is attached, Philip Rurde and Richard Hurtebirs being additional witnesses.

A parchment deed, being a grant by Adam de Methayne, of Tottoneys, to Roger Hurteville, for his homage and service, of one house in the vill of Dertemue, between those formerly held by Roger Tubbe and Andrew le Scot; he rendering to him yearly one pair of white gloves at Easter, and to the lord of Dertemue 12 pence; 21 marks of silver having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Richard the Tailor, Provost [or Reeve] of Dertemue, William Finamur, Bailiff of the lord of Dertemue, Thomas de Cruce [Cross], Roger Tubbe, Adam Hovernoth, Helyas de la Hamme, John Knillevole, Richard White, Ran[dolf] Brewse, "and many others." Temp. Edward I. A beautifully written deed; the seal represents a fleur-de-lys.

A parchment deed, being a grant by Richard de Sege to Martin Fake of one messuage in the vill of Cliftone, below the street and way which extend to the sea-shore, near the house of Roger Cok; he rendering yearly 2 shillings sterling, at 4 terms of the year, the said Martin having given to him 4 marks of silver beforehand, and to Alice, his wife 2s.; to Beatrix, his daughter 12d.; to Walter, his son, one pair of boots; to Laurence, his son, one coat [tunicam]; to Eliota, his daughter 6d.; and to Floria [?], his daughter 6d. Witnesses, Sir Laurence Fleming, Ysaac de Dertemue, Jordan Palmere, Roger Roket, Jordan Palmere, John Clobard, and many others." The deed belongs probably to the earlier half of the reign of Henry III.; of the oblong seal, in green wax, the impression is almost wholly effaced.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by Richard Fitz-Stephen to William de Lohge, son of Nicholas of

SPORA-
N OF ART-DUTH.

Buckfast Bridge [Ponte Bukfestriæ], for his homage and service, of a place to make a quay, six feet in width, lying towards the mill-dam, and extending from the garden of the said William, in Hardinasse; to hold to him, his heirs, and assigns, religious houses and Jews excepted, for a yearly payment of one pound of cummin, within the Octaves of St. Michael; half a sextary of wine having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Sir W. de Fissacre, Walter de Alebore, W. Hemminge, Richard Hartheby, Robert Selyming [?], Symon Arthur, Brother Philip de Kyngeswere, "and many others." Temp. Edward I.; a small seal, in green wax, representing apparently a two-headed eagle, is attached.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a record of a covenant made in the Court of the Lord the King, in a suit moved between Gilbert, son of Richard Fitz-Stephen, claiming the advowson of the church of Tunstalle against the Abbot and Convent of Torre; whereby he quit-claimed all right to the same, for 20 marks sterling. "In witness whereof, the said Gilbert has set his seal "hereto." Witnesses, Robert le Deneys, John de Asseleghe, Knights, Peter Heym, Philip Rurde, William de Aleburn, "and others." "Given at Tunstalle, on "Tuesday before the feast of the Epiphany, A.D. 1294, "in the year of the reign of King Edward the 23rd." The seal is lost.

A small square parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Andrew Burstax, of Poudrame, grants to Geoffrey Gilbert, a "place" of land, with its appurtenances, which Richard de la Schute, tailor, once held of Gilbert Fitz-Stephen, lord of Nortone, the same extending towards the water of Derte; he rendering to the chief lord yearly 12*d.* and two suits of Court; 40*s.* having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Hyllary Croke, William de Harde-nesse, John Michel, John Somer, Roger Borberol, Roger Chaplain, [maker] of this work, and many other "suitors": (Roger the Chaplain was, no doubt, the writer of the deed). Given at Dertemuthe, on Thursday before the Feast of the Nativity of the Blessed Mary, in the year of the reign of King Edward the Younger [Edward II.] the third. The small seal, in green wax, represents two triangles intersecting each other.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by Walter Wyte to Geoffrey Taben, his son, and Alice de Chedeling-tone, his son's wife, for his son's homage and service, of a part of his tenement in Hardinasse, which is situate near the ditch of the burying-ground of St. Clair; the beams of his own house to support the roof of that of his son; at a yearly rent of 4*d.* sterling, 12*d.* having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Richard de Chiwille, then Sene-schal, Martin le Boys, John Clobard, William le Bon, William Heming, Adam Cade, William Crispyn, "and "others." A small green seal, representing a flower, is attached. Probably temp. Edward I.

A parchment deed, being an indenture, in Latin, whereby Margaret and Joan, daughters and heirs of Richard Hurteby, of Cliftone of Dertemue, grant, with quitclaim, to Gilbert de Pole, a gutter upon their wall and tenement; right of entry and of removal thereof, in case of necessity, being reserved to themselves; the said Gilbert paying a yearly rent of 6*d.* sterling. Witnesses, Philip Rurde, Gilbert de Fawy, William Hemmyng, Richard le Baker of Hardehesse, William Joe [? Joie] "and many others." Of the early part of the reign of Edward I. The seals are lost.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by William de Briteville to Walter, Vicar of Tottoneys, of 2*s.* of rent which he had in the vill of Tottoneys, from the house in which Robert the Cook formerly dwelt, namely, the two shillings which Rike de Strete was wont to pay, at 2 terms of the year; 20*s.* having been paid to him beforehand, within the four benches [scanna] of the Guildhall of Tottoneys. Witnesses, John Cuil-levalle, then Provost [or Reeve], Walter le Bon, Richard de Clautone, Richard White, Robert de Dertemuthe, Thomas de Strete, Walter the Clerk, "and others." A fragment of the seal, in green wax, is left; the deed belongs to the reign of Henry III.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by Thomas Longe, of Dertemuthe, to Ralph de Boseham, of a mes-suage in Cliftone, near the messuage formerly of Roger Keket, at a yearly rent of 6*d.* sterling; 3 marks having been paid to him beforehand, and 3*s.* to his wife, Emma. Witnesses, John Clobard, Walter Beket, Thomas de Cross, John de Cross, Martin Bois, Richard de Cross, Symon Wyte, Elyas de la Hamme, William Finamur, "and many others." Of the latter part of the reign probably of Henry III.; the seal is lost.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby John Clobard is bound to pay yearly to Richard Fitz-William, William being son of Stephen, as chief lord, one pound of cummin. Temp. Henry III. or Edward I. The seal, in green wax, represents a flower with expanded petals.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Henry le Cog-gere, son of Brunkelot and Bentrax de Sede, grants to Walter de Plymtone his right in a tenement in Dertemue; for 10 silver marks, paid beforehand. Witnesses, William Graveshend, Bailiff, Walter de Aleburne, John Clobard, Edward Rurde, William Heming, David Heming, and Nicholas Heming, with others named. Temp. Edward I. The seal has the impression of a one-masted ship, probably a cog.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Isabel, relict of Henry de Plymtone, quit-claims to Robert de Pole her right in her tenement in Cliftone in Dertemuthe; 10 marks sterling having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Gilbert de Fawwy, William Hemming, William de Pole, William Wylekyn, Martin le Glover, William de Hoo, Walter Choda, "and others. Given at Derte-muthe, on Tuesday after the Feast of our Lord's Epi-phany, in the year of the reign of King Edward the "18th." The oblong seal, in brown wax, is perfect. Two duplicates, with like seals, are attached to it.

A parchment indenture, in Latin, whereby Gilbert Pole, of Clyftone Dertemouth, grants to John Foldhay and Cristina, his wife, and Joan, their daughter, a piece of land in Clyftone Dertemouth near the dam [bedum] of the mill; at a yearly rent of 12*d.* Witnesses, William Bacoun, Mayor of the burgh of Clyftone Dertemouth, John Gordoun, William Hemmyng, and others named. "Given at Clyftone Dertemouth, on Wednesday, the "feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross," 19th Edward III. The small seal has an excellent impression of a cock.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by Roger de Pole to John Smythe and Alice, his wife, of a house in Cliftone Dertemouth, situate opposite "la Pillarie"; and a curtilage on the north side of the way which leads from the Cross towards the west, at the "forde" going to the "Mylpole." Witnesses, Ralph Brewwere, Mayor, and others named. Dated 24th Edward III. The seal is lost.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Richard Pody, of Hardinasse, grants to Alice, his daughter, his tenement in Hardinasse, between the way leading from Hardinasseforde towards Tunstalle, and adjoining the sea on the east. Witnesses, Martin ate Schute, William ate Fosse, smith, John Wyte, smith, William Person, Henry Gaberel, "and many others." Dated at Hardy-nasse, in the 7th year of Edward III. A fragment of the seal, representing a ship, is left. Henry Gaberel was probably a member of the family which gave name to Stoke Gabriel; and possibly they may have been a branch of the Jersey family of Gaborcl. The church at Stoke Gabriel being dedicated to St. Gabriel, it seems not im-probable that this was their patron Saint.

Grant in Latin, on parchment, by Geoffrey Gilbert to William Wilkyn, of a piece of land which he had of Andrew Burstax, near the water of Dertemuthe [river Dart]; he rendering to the chief lords a yearly rent of 12*d.* Witnesses, William Edward, William Bacoun, William Hemmyng, Richard Pody, Gilbert the Chaplain, "maker "of this work" (hujus operis confectore: writer of the deed). Dated at Dertemuthe, in the 18th year of Edward II.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Gilbert de Polo, of Dertemuthe, grants to Thomas Swete and Joan, his wife, a piece of land in Cliftone Dertemouth, having the street which is called the "Keye" on the west side, and as much as they can reclaim, as against the sea, on the east side. Witnesses, Henry de Wyteleghe, Mayor of the burgh of Cliftone Dertemouth, William Bacoun, John Gurdone, William Heming, John Cotte, John Haulee, John Scoz, then Bailiff. Dated 18th Edward III. A seal in red wax, with flowers for device. The family of Haule, or Hauley, eminent merchants, was long resi-dent in Dartmouth; their mercantile transactions were so extensive, that they gave rise to the lines, still remem-bered in connexion with their trade, in this town,— "Blow the wind high, blow the wind low,

"It bloweth good to Hauley's hoe."

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Gilbert Fowy grants to Thomas Taillour, of Dertemouth, a toft of land in Cliftone Dertemouth, which lies near the high road leading from Beatriglonde towards Bayardscove, and near a toft of the land of the Lord Guy de Bryene, lord of the same vill, on the west side; at a rent of 6*d.* yearly. Witnesses, William Clerk, Mayor of the vill, John Clerk, William Knolle, William Harry, Roger Pole, Luke Bacon, Bailiff of the vill. Dated on Wednesday before the Feast of Saint Scolastica the Virgin, 50th Edward III. The seal, in red wax, represents a star, with palm

CORPORATION OF DART-
MOUTH.

CORPORATION OF DARTMOUTH.

branches inserted. Bayardscove is the spot, near the water, now known as "Bear's Cove."

An indenture, in French, being an award by John Bernews and John Prideaux, Esquires, between Philip Howell and Maude, his wife, of the one part, and John Juyll, son and heir of Alexander Juyll, late of Dertemouthe, of the other part; dated Monday before the Feast of the Assumption, 2nd year of Henry V. Two small seals, of the parties to the award, are attached.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by John Slade, of Slade, and Beatrix, his wife, to John Carnaragh, Rector of Southpole, of a yearly rent of 13s. 4d. from their lands and tenements in Slade and Goddysalter [now Goodshelter], for a term of 7 years. Dated at Slade, in the 8th year of Henry V.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by William Knolle, of Derthmote, to John Northcote, of Nywetone, and Thomas, his brother, of his lands in Clyftone Derthmote and Hardenasse. Witnesses, John Haulghe, Mayor, John Clerk, William Henry, Roger Pole, John Knolle, "and many others." Dated 49th Edward III. The seal, a shield in red wax, is in fair condition.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by William Rurde to John de Haulce and Elizabet, his wife, and the heirs of their bodies lawfully begotten, of a piece of land in Cliftone Dertemouthe, near the new mill which stands on the fosse, between the key of the said John and Elizabet, on the south, and the "Golet" of the said new mill, on the north, and as much as they can reclaim from the sea, on the east; at a yearly rent of 4d. sterling. Dated 18th Edward III. The seal, in red wax, a shield, charged with two bugles, two stars, and apparently, an arrow, is in fair condition.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by William Gardiner to John Northcote, of Nywetone, and John Fotray, of a tenement in the vill of Clyftone Dertemouthe. Dated 46th Edward III. The impression of the seal, in dark wax, is much effaced.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by Nicholas Fiz-Estevens, to Joan Taillour, of a piece of land, near the water conduit running to Bozetone [Above-town], on the north; she rendering to the chief lord one red rose yearly, at the Feast of St. John the Baptist, and to the grantor one halfpenny at the Feast of St. Michael. Dated the 13th of Edward III. The seal, in dark wax, is mutilated, and has the impression of a bird.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Robert Sparowe, of Blanforth Forum, in the county of Dorset, quit-claims to William Stamforth, of Asch . . . his right to 2 shambles in the market of Blanforth Forum. Witnesses, Sir John Popham, Knight, Robert Bourton, Thomas Freman, John Page, of Sarum, Richard Abraham, Thomas Schogge. Dated 14th February, in the 19th year of Henry VI. The impression of the seal, in red wax, is wholly effaced.

A parchment deed, being a quit-claim, in Latin, by Alice, widow of Hugh Pewterer, late of Brydeport, to John Newburgh the elder, John Beatriscombe, William Olyver, Richard Burghe and Joan, his wife, of her right in tenements, cottages, curtilages, and shambles, in Blanford Forum, and elsewhere. Dated 20th February, 7th Edward IV. The seal is still attached, a fanciful device of a cross, in red wax. "Beatriscombe" (valley of Beatrice) is probably the early form of the name now known as "Battiscombe."

A Latin deed, on parchment, being a grant by Elizabeth Rokley to John Halwell and others, of, among other property, her tenement called "Halles Bakehows," [Hall's Bakehouse] and her close of land lying between Bakone parket [? Bacon market] and the Verebekynn [? Verebek's inn] in Blandford. Dated 14th Edward IV. A small seal, representing, apparently, a horse, is still attached.

A portion of a Latin deed, whereby — ate Nesse, of Sandwich, conveys to Robert ate Halle, of the parish of Eastri (in Kent), and others, his tenements in the vill of Sandwich. Dated — January in the year — of King Henry —, Thomas Louvyk, then Mayor of Sandwich, John Ricard, William Gaylere, Richard Spycer, and others. A small red seal, with a trade device, is attached. How this deed came here, it seems difficult to surmise.

A parchment indenture, in Latin, whereby Maurice, son and heir of William Coffyn, grants to Alexander Juel, of Derthemowth, half of a tenement in Clyftone Derthemowth Hardenesse, on the north side of the churchyard of the Holy Trinity, and half a close adjoining the highway leading from the church of St. Clement; to hold the same for 30 years, at the yearly rent of one penny. Witnesses, John Foxleghe, Mayor, Richard Harry, Philip Cradeley, John Syneger, William Cross, "barbour, and others." Dated in the 10th year of King Henry IV. The seal has an initial letter, with rushes platted around it.

A deed, in Latin, whereby Alice Hare, widow of William Hare, of Brideport, quit-claims to Alice, widow of Hugh Peautrer, of Brideport, her right in a tenement in Blanford Forum, near a meadow called "Stoke-mede;" and in a cottage in the East town of Blanford; and in a shamble near the stone cross, erected in the market-place there. Dated in the 36th year of King Henry VI. The seal, in red wax, represents a small flower.

A parchment indenture, in Latin, whereby John Hayward the elder, of Aysberton [Ashburton], grants to Robert Creyer and Thomasia, his wife, a piece of land in Aysberton, lying at Syngmore, near to the water called "Derthe" [Dart], at a yearly rent of 8 pence. Witnesses, William Reke of Devenebye, John Stroyte, John Bowyer, Alexander Weke, William Steel of Aysberton, "and many others." Dated at Aysberton, in the 7th year of Henry V. A diminutive seal is attached, in red wax, with a fanciful device.

A parchment deed, being a release, in Latin, by Ithota, widow of William Knolle, to her son, William, of her right in messuages in Dertemouthe, called "Wheteneplace." Dated in the 11th year of Henry IV. A seal in brown wax, is appended, the letter I. with a crown above it.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by Mark Pole, of Fawy [now Fowey], to Walter Bacheler, of Dertemouthe, Merchant, of a tenement near that of John Haulce, Esquire. Witnesses, Tristram Curteys, Stephen Kendale, John Amarle, Thomas Galy, Stephen Jaan, "and others." "Given at Lostwythiell, on Saturday" after the Feast of our Lord's Ascension, in the 5th year of the reign of King Henry, after the Conquest "the Fifth." The seals of the Mayoralty of Lostwythiel and of the grantor, are attached.

A parchment indenture, in Latin, whereby licence is granted by Matilda Helyer, and Joan Burel, to Robert Mynchone, to join his tenement to their wall, the house called "Poyngnone." Witnesses, John Hawle, Mayor of Dertemouthe, Richard Lundone, Bailiff, William Clerk the Younger, Walter Worthi, Richard Harry, "and others." Dated in the 2nd year of Henry IV.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by John Botringan and Joan, to Nicholas Stebbyng: mention is made of the way from Hardenesseforde towards the chapel of St. Clair; the King's highway towards Wal-flete; and the hill "called Crowetorre." Witnesses William Forster, Mayor, Walter Cok and Thomas Taillour, Bailiffs, John Bruscheford, Robert Bowyer, burgesses, John Gardener, William Lye, Chaplains. Dated in the first year of Edward IV. The seal of John Botringan, in red wax, is twice attached; a shield, charged, apparently, with roses; as also, the seal of the Mayoralty of Dertemouthe.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by William Langge the younger, to Alisander Juyll, burges, of a tenement near the churchyard of the Holy Trinity. Witnesses, John Hawle, Mayor, Hugh Westone, Bailiff, and others named. Dated in the 14th year of Richard II. A small seal, in red wax, is attached.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby John Clerk, of Dertemouthe, and Joan, his wife, grant to Richard Wele and Joan Burel, for life, a tenement in Hardenasse; the said John and Joan to keep the same in repair, for the lives of the grantees, and to find Richard all his necessary victuals, as often as he is in poverty or bed-ridden, and to pay for him 20s. for his ransom, "if by reason of war he should be taken upon the sea: and may it not be so." Witnesses, William Glover, Mayor, Thomas Aysshendene, Bailiff, John Foxley, and others. Dated in the first year of Henry VI. Two small red seals are attached, one with the initial I, the other representing a boar's head.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by John Talbot, Knight, brother and heir of Ralph Talbot, to John Speke, Knight, of all his possessions in Dertemouthe Clifton, Dertmouthardnes, Kingeswere, and Baconshayes, in the county of Devon; naming Thurstan Harope and Philip Grenewode his attorneys to deliver seisin. "Given at Salesbury, the 1st day of March, in the 20th year of the reign of King Henry the Seventh." Signed "S. John Talbot, Knyght." A small seal is attached, but the impression is almost wholly effaced.

A parchment indenture being a grant, in Latin, by Robert Wymond and Alesia, his wife, to Alexander Chapelayn and Anna, his wife, of a messuage called "La Chapele," in Cliftone Dertemouthe, between the

Community

MOR-
S OF LET-TER.

tenement formerly of Stephen Sopere, on the west side, and that which belonged to Richard Swet, on the east. Witnesses, Roger Pole, then Mayor of Clifton Dertemouthe Hardenasse, John Matheu, Ralph Bevere, John Geyg, John Hag, and others. Dated in the 25th year of Edward III.

A parchment deed, being a grant, in Latin, by Richard Londone to Michael Salmone and Alice, his wife, of a tenement in Clyftone Dertemouthe Hardenasse, situate on the King's highway, near the "Stappys," on the east side. Witnesses, John Walsche, Mayor, Michael Molyner and John Knyzth, Bailiffs, and others named. Dated in the 17th year of Henry VI. A small red seal is attached, with a device almost obliterated.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby John Ralegh, mariner, of Dertemouthe, grants to Robert Pampallone [part torn away] a tenement in Monkenestrete, within the manor of Northtone, near Hardenasse; he rendering yearly to the Abbot and Convent of Torre 12 pence, and the services due and accustomed for the same. Dated in the 11th year of Richard II. The seal, in red wax, is mutilated. Not improbably this was a member of the family from which Sir Walter Raleigh sprang.

A parchment deed, being a Latin grant by John Horewode, Rector of the parish church of Blanford Mary, and John Touker, of Chepyngblanford, to Walter Besone and Margery, his wife, of Chepyngblanford, of a certain tenement, and a rent of 12 pence, in Blanford Mary aforesaid. Witnesses, Sir Thomas Drwet, Rector of the church of Chepyngblanford, Thomas Gogeyn, Henry Storke, Hugh Smythe, John Bekene, "and many others." Dated in the 21st year of Richard II. The seal of John Horewode represents the Virgin and Child; the impression of the other seal is indistinct. The two present Parishes of Blanford St. Mary and Blanford Forum are here meant.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by Isabel, relict of William Broketone, to John Brusheford, John Yabcombe, and Nicholas Stebbyng, of all her possessions, by will of her late husband, in Clyftone Dertemouthe Hardenasse. Dated in the 30th year of Henry VI. A very small seal is attached, in red wax, apparently of some beauty, representing a man and woman standing side by side. Allusion to the family of Brookedon will be found made in the notice of Mr. Prideaux's document relative to Dartmouth.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by Thomas de Lytteltone to Henry de Dertemouthe and Margaret, his wife, of a messuage in Boghetone [Above-town], in Smythenestrete, near the tenement formerly of Terric Piers, Chaplain. Witnesses, Thomas Asshendene, William Knolle, William Clerk, Walter Worthy, John Poldreseek, William Taillour, William Damyet, then Bailiff. Dated 13th of Richard II. The seal, in red wax, has the initial I.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, whereby William de Pralle [now Prawle] and his heirs bind themselves to warrant against all men to Ralph de Godishaltre, for his homage, relief, and service, as much land in Godishaltre [Goodshelter], and as fully, as his predecessors had of the Prior and Convent of Taunton; he rendering yearly 15s. sterling. Witnesses, Walter Bacoune, Sheriff of Devon, Sir Wido Britevill, William de Deckebere, Gilbert Crispin, Wido Crispin, Hugh Crispin, and many others. Of the seal, in red wax, a fragment only is left. Of the time, probably, of Henry VI.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by Joan, widow of Nicholas Gybbe, to John Harry and Walter Cole, of her tenement in Great Tottenes within the gates there, near the Easte Wallys, to the north. Witnesses, William Rowe, Mayor of the vill of Tottenes, Richard Tucker, Richard Geffray, Roger Cole, Richard Hoygge, then Provost [or Reeve] "of the burgh of the vill aforesaid." Dated at Tottenes, in the 15th year of Henry VI.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by Guy de Briene, Knight, lord of Clifton Dertemouthe Hardenasse, to Thomas Taillour, of Dertemouthe, of a piece of land near the Schute which leads from the shore to the sea; at a yearly rent of 6d. sterling. Dated in the 50th year of Edward III. The seal, representing his arms, in red wax, is mutilated.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by John More, Thomas Gylle, John Meryfeld, John Cade, and Richard Rake, to Richard Cade, Abbot of Torre, of all the messuages which they had in Tonnestalle, of the gift of John Jeornelle; and which they had in Torre Mohun, of the gift of Richard Crocker and Margery, his wife, and of Richard Wolstone. Witnesses, Otes Gylbert, John Holbeme, and Roger Werthe. Dated in the 35th year of Henry VI. Two of the five seals, in red wax, attached, are mutilated.

Grant, in Latin, a parchment deed, by Benedict Kent to Walter Sengger of a tenement, near the church garden on the south side, for a term of 20 years; on payment of one red rose yearly, at the Feast of the Nativity of John the Baptist. Witnesses, Richard Marke, Mayor of the vill of Dertemouthe, Thomas Gale, John Hillyng, John Lambyne, and William Cosyne. Dated in the 17th year of Henry VI. The impression on the seal is effaced.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by Geoffrey Gilbert, of Dertemouthe, and Isabel, his wife, to John Cotta and Constance, his wife, of one piece of land in Clyftone Dertemouthe, near the road descending from the King's highway to the sea, and near the road lying above the falaise [or high cliff], and going down to the sea-shore; at a yearly rent of one silver penny to the chief lords of the fee. Witnesses, William Wylkyn, William Bacon, John Gordon, William Hemmyng, Henry de Wyteleye. Dated in the 17th year of Edward III. Of the two seals, in green wax, one represents a flower, the other a key.

Grant, in Latin, on parchment, by Nicholas Hawley, Esquire, to Thomas Loveney, alias Gater, for his good and laudable service, and his counsel given, and in future to be given, of a tenement and garden in Clyftone Dertemouthe; to hold the same for his life, at a yearly rent of one penny. Witnesses, Richard Karswell, Mayor, and others named. Dated in the 19th year of Henry VI. The seal, in red wax, is almost perfect; a shield charged with two bugles, two stars, and an arrow.

A parchment indenture, in Latin, whereby Walter Cole grants half of a tenement in Tottenes to John Gybbe, Chaplain, son of Joan, and the heirs of his body lawfully issuing, and if he die without such heirs of his body, then to John Ward and Margery, his wife, daughter of the said Joan. Witnesses, Richard Tucker, Mayor of the vill of Tottenes, John Petard, John Worthy, Stephen Bealleghe, John Colatone, then Provost [or Reeve] of the burgh of the said vill, "and many others." Dated in the 22nd year of Henry VI. The seal, in red wax, has a fanciful device, like two or more keys. The mention of "heirs of the body" of the "Chaplain" deserves remark.

A large parchment indenture, in Latin, whereby Joan, widow of Nicholas Stebbyng, grants to Thomas Symond and Katherine, his wife, her palisaded place [palatium], and garden adjoining, situate in Southtoun Dertemouthe, near the highway leading from Daweshill towards Walfetecrosse, on the east, and the hill called "Croterhill," on the west; to hold for 90 years, at a yearly rent of 4 silver pennies. Witnesses, Richard Cade, Mayor, Walter Amadas and Thomas Williams, Bailiffs, Thomas Gale, William Forster, William Hervy, John Fisser, Robert Coode, and many others. Dated in the 16th year of Edward IV.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Hugh Talbot, brother of Ralph, gives to Walter Amadas, and four others named, all his chambers called "The Prestes Chambyrs," in Clyfton Dertemouthe Hardenasse, on the north side of the cemetery of the chapel of St. Saviour [the present church]. Dated in the 12th year of Henry VII. By another deed, attached by a rush to the preceding, Talbot names Nicholas Semer and Robert Savery, his attorneys to deliver seisin and possession thereof; the same date as before. Of the two seals, in red wax, only small fragments remain. The family of Captain Savery, whose name is connected with the earlier annals of the steam engine, belonged to this vicinity.

A small parchment indenture, in Latin, between John Lancetone and Joan, daughter of Robert Perkhay, of the one part, and Joan, widow of William de Chedelyngtone, of the other part; agreeing that the said Joan, widow, shall have dwelling and easement in the house which they had of the gift and feoffment of the said Joan, widow; and that she shall enter therein to dwell, on the Feast of the Apostles Simon and Jude, in the second year of King Edward the Third. Also, she is to have her easement, both in hall, and chamber, and kitchen, so long as she shall live and be without husband; and if she takes a husband, she is to go away with her husband, and abide with him. But if she shall survive her said husband, she is to return to the said tenement, and abide there, as before, all the days of her life. Witnesses, William Edward, Gilbert de Pole, Roger le Taillour, Peter Polymond, Richard Gordone, "and others." "Given at Dertemouthe Suthtone, on Wednesday, the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, in the year of the King's reign above-men-

CORPORATION OF DARTMOUTH.

CORPORATION OF DARTMOUTH.

"tioned." The seal, in brown wax, is broken, and a fragment only of its impression, a flower, is left.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, with a small seal in green wax, with the impression of two stars and a palm-tree; whereby Robert Gilbard, Chaplain, appoints Robert Hulle his attorney, to put Idonia, widow of William Lorymer, in possession of all his tenements. Dated "at Doullische [now Dawlish], on Sunday before the Feast of St. Mary Magdalene, in the 38th year of the reign of King Edward the Third."

A small parchment indenture, in French, with fragment of a seal, in red wax; made between Walter Haulleghe, "Serjeant at arms of our Lord the King, and lieutenant of the Admiral," of the one part, and William Knolle, Mayor of the vill of Dertemouth, and William Stybbe, Bailiff of the water of the same vill, of the other part; witnessing that the said Walter has taken as forfeit to our said Lord the King 3 ships of the said vill; namely, the Margaret, of which the said William Knolle and William Croft are owners, the Codger, of which William Jeke and John Haule are owners; and the James, of which John Haule is owner; and has delivered them into the keeping of the said Mayor and Bailiff, until the King shall have ordained at his will thereon; unless indeed they will come to Hamptone [Southampton], with the other ships of the same port. Given at Dertemouthe, the 1st day of September, in the 46th year of King Edward III. These ships were "pressed," probably, for the King's service.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, finely written, with a small seal in red wax; whereby Richard Chiefe, dwelling within the parish of St. Austyne, in Cornwall, quit-claims to William Lambyn, late master of the little balinger, called the "Jonet of Dertemouthe," formerly of Cancalle [in France], all manner of actions, plaints, and demands, from the beginning of the world until the making thereof. Dated at Dertemuth, the 19th of December, in the 14th year of King Henry IV.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, temp. Edward I., whereby Richard Fitz-Stephen, lord of Nortone, grants to Richard de Bridaport, baker, 2½ acres of land lying near the highway from Tonstaylle to Modbyry, for a yearly rent of 5s. and two suits of Court yearly at Nortone, on reasonable summons of eight days. And if the said Richard, his heirs, or assigns, shall be amerced by judgment of his or their peers, they are to be acquitted, at each Court, for 3 pence: 4 shillings having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Sir Peter de Fissacre, William de Penillis, Robert de Malestone, Gilbert de Fauwy, and others. The seal, in brown wax, is mutilated; apparently, on a shield, a bird with expanded wings.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Alice Lyttone, "whom John Holeway lately in deed (de facto "tenuit in uxorem") held as wife," acknowledges to have received of the said John 10 marks sterling, one bed, and one gown (tunicam), in full and final payment of all dower or debt whatsoever to which the said John in any way to her was bound; and as to which she gives him a full release. In witness whereof, she has procured the seal of the Officialty of Totoneys to be set thereto. Dated at Tavystoche, the 24th of April 1366. The seal of the Official is somewhat mutilated; it represents apparently a font, the cover surmounted by a floriated cross, and two keys on either side of the cross.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, probably temp. Edward I.; whereby William de Praule grants to John de Slade his water called "the Oldewaye," lying below his wood of Praule, called "the Oldewode," with all lets and ducts of water running to the mill of Slade; at a yearly rent of one silver penny, if demanded. Witnesses, Walter de Bath, then Sheriff of Devon, Sir Wido de Bruteville, William de Bykebury, Gilbert Crespy, Wido de Brione, Roger de Pull, "and many others." The seal, in brown wax, is perfect, representing a shield with a chevron. Wido de Brione, here named, it may be remarked, was probably father of Guido de Briene, afterwards lord of Dartmouth, and lord of Stokenham, near Prawle.

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby John de Scherpham grants to John, his son, and Walter de Thorslegh, a messuage and land in Sherpham [on the Dart, near Totnes], with the house, close, and all its appurtenances; the same having descended to him by the death of John Avere. Witnesses, Martin Bodyn, John Martyn, Walter Piers, John Brouse, Stephen Lefte, and others. "Given at Scherpham, on Sunday after the Feast of the Apostles Peter and Paul," in the 50th year of the reign of King Edward the Third. The seal, in green wax, represents a star, with flowers inserted.

A diminutive parchment deed, in Latin, whereby the Prior of St. Nicholas at Exeter, Collector of the tenth, imposed as a subsidy for the Roman Church, acknowledges the receipt of sums respectively from the churches of Welleburgh, Torrebrwre, Tonstalle, Brade-worth, Hanoke, the pension from the Prior of Totoneys, the prebend of the Abbot of Torre of Asse Clyft, the temporalities of the Abbot: the same being for the first term of the third year of the said payment. "Given under our seal, at Exeter, the 13th of the Kalends of December, A.D. 1303." A small seal, in dark wax, is attached, in fine condition, representing the Salutation, with legend to that effect.

A parchment deed, in Latin, being a grant by Nicholas de Theuksbiry to Richard Podi, of a toft in Hardenasse in Nortone; at a yearly rent of 6d. And if the said Richard falls under the mercy of the lord at Nortone, "and may it not be so," he shall be quit of such amercement for one penny. Witnesses, Geoffrey Gilbert, William Wilekyn, William Gore, Nicholas Bealde, and William de Chapel, "and others." Given at Nortone, "on Thursday, the Feast of St. Bartholomew, in the year of the reign of King Edward [the First] the 6th." A small seal in brown wax, with his shield of arms, charged with 3 anchors, is attached.

A parchment indenture of covenant, made between John le Noreys and Margery, his wife, and Robert de la Pytte and Isabel, his wife, on division of the fees to the said wives belonging, on the death of their father, Walter de la Spynee; John and Margery are to have the demesne in Northoe; and Robert and Isabel the demesne in Pennenk, and all the land of Holeway, in the Parish of Landhilp, [? Landulph, near Saltash]. Witnesses, John de Ralegh, John le Chalons, Knights, William de Nywecome, William Dryney, Peter de Haydone, and others. "Given at Coletone, on Tuesday before the Feast of St. Dunstan the Archbishop," in the 8th year of King Edward II. A small fragment only of the seal is left. This John de Ralegh was probably father, or grandfather, of the John, mentioned as living in the reigns of Edward III. and Richard II.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, prior to the preceding, whereby John Heringod, lord of Sampford Spynee [near Tavistock], sells and grants to Henry le Norreys and Master Robert de la Pitte, Clerk, the wardship and marriage of Margery and Isabel, daughters and heirs of Walter de Spynee, for 35 pounds sterling. Witnesses, Sir Gilbert de Cnovile, Sheriff of Devon, Sir John de Asleghe, Knights, William de Nywetone, Robert de Lynham, John de Caletone, and others. "Given at Exeter, on Thursday after the Feast of St. Leonard," in the 24th year of Edward I. A fragment of the seal, in green wax, representing a horse caparisoned, is left. From the deed previously mentioned, we learn to whom the co-heiresses were married.

An indenture of covenant, on parchment, in Latin, (attached to the two preceding), dated the Feast of Pentecost, in the 53rd year of the reign of King Henry, son of King John, between Henry de Spynee, Knight, and Sir Richard de Hilum, Rector of the church of Heantone; whereby the said Henry grants to the said Rector his tenement of Teyng for a term of 6 years; 22 marks being paid beforehand. Witnesses, Sir Henry de Chambernun, Sir Mauger de St. Albin, Sir John Wig', Knights, Master Oliver de Tracy, Master Adam de Brevel, Ralph le Spicer, Nicholas de Stoke, Clerk, and others. Of the seal, in green wax a fragment only is left. Three other small deeds, relative to the same family, temp. Edward I. are also attached.

A deed of partnership, on parchment, in Latin, between two merchants, whereby Henry Bakleford, merchant, delivers to John Denebaud, of Dertemouth, merchant, 50 pounds sterling, for their common advantage in trading; the said John to account for the same, so often as required by the said Henry: adventure to be made therewith, by common consent, and not otherwise; each unto the counterpart of the indenture left in the other's hands has set his seal. "Given at Dertemouthe, on Wednesday, the Eve of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, in the ninth year of the reign of King Richard the Second." They then further agree that yearly, at the Feasts of St. George, the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, and St. Michael, the stock profit (utilitas), and money, shall be ready for view by the said Henry, at Dertemouth, "faithfully then to be paid." And the said John is to find rooms and cellars for the stock aforesaid, but is to receive or reckon nothing for the same.

A parchment deed, to the following effect:—
"Sciant presentes et futuri, quod ego, Thomas Wambe, Capellanus, filius et hæres Thomas Wambe,

CORPORATION OF DARTMOUTH.

"dedi, concessi, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmavi, Deo et Ecclesiæ Sancti Salvatoris de Torre, et Canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, de Ordine Præmonstratensium professis, unum mesuagium in Tunstalle, cum orto, quod situm est inter ecclesiam Sancti Clementis et domum personæ ejusdem villæ; tenendum et habendum dictum mesuagium in liberam, puram eleemosinam, de me et hæredibus meis, libere, quiete, et integre imperpetuum, sicut ego vel pater meus unquam prædictum mesuagium tenuimus. Et ego vero, prædictus Thomas, et heredes mei, prædictum mesuagium dictis Canonicis, cum omnibus pertinentiis, contra omnes homines warrantizare, aquietare, et defendere, tenemur. Ut hæc autem conventio et concessio, et hujus cartæ confirmatio, rata et inconcussa imperpetuum permanent, eam præsenti scripto et sigilli mei impressione roboravi. Hiis testibus, Domino Thoma, tunc Archidiacono Tottoniæ, Willelmo de Pomeray, Willelmo Flandrensi, Willelmo Finamur, Johanne Globard, Willelmo Bon, Martino de Bosco, et multis aliis. Datum apud Dertemue, die Sancti Stephani, anno regni Regis Henrici sexto-decimo." Part of a small seal is attached. This deed is written in a hand of the time of Edward II., and is probably forged. There is also a duplicate of it, of like appearance, in this collection. The following is a translation of it:—"Know present and to come, that I, Thomas Wambe, Chaplain, son and heir of Thomas Wambe, have given, granted, and by this my present charter have confirmed, to God and the Church of Saint Saviour at Torre, and the Canons there serving God, of the Order of Præmonstratensians professed, one messuage in Tunstalle, with a garden, which is situate between the church of Saint Clement and the house of the parson of the same vill; to hold and have the said messuage in free [and] pure alms, of me and my heirs, freely, quietly, and wholly for ever, as I or my father ever held the messuage aforesaid. And I, the aforesaid Thomas, and my heirs, are bound against all men to warrant, acquit, and defend, the said messuage unto the said Canons, with all the appurtenances thereof. That this covenant and grant, and the confirmation of this charter, may remain ratified and unshaken for ever, I have corroborated it by this present writing, and the impress of my seal. These being witnesses, Sir Thomas, then Archdeacon of Tottonneys, William de Pomeray, William Fleming, William Finamur, John Globard, William Bon, Martin de Bois, and many others. Given at Dertemue, on the day of St. Stephen, in the year of the reign of King Henry the sixteenth." The family of Bon, or Le Bon [The Good], which in those days would be pronounced "Boon," not improbably gave its name to the locality in Dartmouth, now known as "Mount Boon."

A parchment deed, in French, made between William Parecombe and John Elys, of Nywetone Abbot, stating that whereas the said William is bound and obliged to the said John in 20 pounds, to be paid at the Michaelmas then next ensuing, the said John still willoeth and granteth, that if John Skynner, of Nywetone, chooses for himself two men, and abides by their award, and that of two other men chosen on part of him, John Elys, of Nywetone, and Joan, his wife, and William Knolle and Isabel, his wife, and acts as they shall award upon a claim which the said John Skynner has against the said John and Joan, William and Isabel, as to certain lands and tenements which belonged to one John Muryel in Nywetone; then the said writing obligatory shall be held as null; but if otherwise, it shall stand in force. Given on Wednesday after the Feast of St. Gregory the Pope, in the year of the reign of our Lord Richard, the Second after the Conquest, the third." A diminutive seal, with the letter O, within a thong, is attached.

A Latin deed, on parchment, whereby John Speke, Knight, remits unto Walter Amadas, Robert Holond, Thomas Newman, John Holond, and John Hyllinge, his right and interest in one tenement in Clifton Dartmouth Hardnesse, situate between the sea, on the east side, and the tenement pertaining to the chapel of St. Saviour, on the west, the palisaded place of John Row, on the north, and the churchyard of St. Saviour, on the south. Witnesses, William Hokemore the younger, Richard Hakewyll, William Bond, "and many others." Dated the 8th of April, in the first year of Henry VIII. The seal is lost.

By another like deed, Sir John Speke conveys to the same parties his interest in two tenements and a vacant piece of ground, one of them being the tenement previously mentioned. No rental, or consideration, is mentioned in either deed, and the conveyance was probably to religious uses. The latter deed bears date the 4th of May, in the first year of Henry VIII. The seal is lost.

A paper writing, to the following effect:—"In Dartmouth, the 11th of February 1642.—Reseved by me, leftennente generale of the westrene forces 2 peses of brasse ordinance of the Corporation of Dartmothe, said taken from the castell, wayinge bothe two thousand foore hundred eighty sixe pound. And as foore the foresayd gunns, I promise to restore the sayme, ore give satisfaction. Witness my hand, the yeare and daye above writtene, W. Ruthven." The writing is better than the spelling. Indorsed, "Colonel Ruthven Receipt for the 2 brasse gunns, which are now a[t] Helsone Castell."

A map of the time of Charles I., neatly executed, with boundaries in various colours; with this title:—"The description of the lands that are set out unto the Corporation of Dartmouth, being the first lott of the second quarter of the Barronie of Rathconrath, in the countie of Westmeath."—"By a chain of 40 perches to an inch." The acreage of each of the localities is given, and the following are the localities by name, each given with boundaries: Gibbstowne, ½ this towne forfeited; Lurgan; Ardbrennan; Red Bog; Rathcarrah; Ardbrennan; Lenamore; Cappahinam; Cleoneaghard; Lockerstowne; Firraffin; Part of Togherstowne; Part of Ballina Carrow; Conerij; Reedy Bog; Part of Croghold; Ballrath; Ballyferrath; Nicholstowne; Oldtowne; Churchtowne; Monenstowne; Doonedonnells. Other localities, without the boundaries, are, Tobbericormieck; Ballencurr; Killare; Cloonownamare; part of Togherstowne; Enewestowne; part of Croghold; Milltowne; Barretstowne; Corra; part of Ballina Carrow; Logh; Loghan; Balliglass; the Baronic of Moyassell and Magherideervan.

There are also among the Corporation documents a considerable number of early deeds bearing reference to Exeter; they are mixed indiscriminately with the others, and it seems difficult to say how they could have reached this locality; deposited perhaps for safe keeping. The following is a notice of a portion of them:—

A parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Sarra Hog, widow of John le Qeu [the Cook], grants to Philip Lonecok, citizen of Exeter, her two selds in the fore part of her tenement, without the West Gate of the city of Exeter, situate between the porch of her tenement, on the east, and the cellar which the said Philip had of her, on the west; at a yearly rent, after the end of a term of 29 years, of 60 shillings. Witnesses, Richard de Chossebeth, then Seneschal of Sir Hugh de Courtenay, Walter de Hoghetone, Henry Sely, deghere [dyer], John Laurentz, deghere, Elias de Keminestone, John de Nymet the elder, Roger de Ohampton, "and others." Given at Exeter, on Tuesday, the Feast of St. Michael the Archangel, in the year of King Edward [the Second] son of Edward, the 17th. By another deed, attached thereto, she conveys to the same Philip, all her cellar, with 2 sollars, and one herbarry to the same cellar annexed, situate without the West Gate of the city of Exeter, between her selds, and extending from the great bridge of Exeter, on the south, to her own tenement, on the north; at a yearly rent, after a term of 29 years, of 100 shillings sterling. The witnesses and the date are the same as in the other deed. One seal is lost; of the other, in brown wax, part of the impression, a star, remains.

A parchment deed, in Latin, beautifully written; temp. Henry III. or Edward I., with an oblong seal, representing, apparently a tulip; whereby Jordan, son of Nicholas Gorel, grants to Henry Tropenel a tenement without the West Gate of Exeter; 20s. having been paid to him beforehand within the four benches [quatuor scanna] of the Guildhall. Witnesses, Hillary Blund, then Mayor, Geoffrey Strange, Hugh de Langedone, Roger Fitz-Henry, Walter La Chawe, Martin Rof, John Pudding, Roger Siden, Richard Walrond, John Hastement, John Champeneys, John Banberi, "and others."

A small parchment deed, in Latin, with a large seal, in white wax, a fleur-de-lys, with legend, dated 29th Henry III.; whereby Joan, who was daughter of Deudenay Trenchard, grants to Henry Hog all her land in Smithenestrete, between the land of Richard Lyricoc and that of Gunnild, daughter of the said Deudenay, at a yearly rent of 12d. For the grant he has given her a new gown [tunicam] of "bluet." Witnesses, Martin Rof, Mayor of Exeter, John de Okestune and Thomas Rof, then Provosts [or Reeves], Sir Thomas, Chaplain of St Mary the Great, Roger, Chaplain of St. Mabyn, William Palmar, Robert Peytevin, William Hog

CORPORATION OF DARTMOUTH.

CORPORATION OF DART-
MOUTH.

Thomas Picher, William de Sampford, Stephen Hog, Clerk, "and many others."

A parchment deed, in Latin, temp. Henry III. or Edward I., whereby Felicia, late the wife of Henry Hog, grants to Hugh Martyn, weaver, her tenement in the city of Exeter in Smaipenestrete, near to "the street" "which leads to the Arches of St. John's," and to the seld of John Pycot, at a yearly rent of 11s.; 4s. having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Martin Durling, Mayor, Richard Alayn, Nicholas de Lane [Venella], Hugh Facun, John Roke, John de Fentone, John de Okistone, Walter de Okistone, John de Coletone, John Gascoyne. A seal in white wax, iron-heater shaped, with impression of a bird, is appended.

A small parchment deed, in Latin, whereby Nicholas Pocok confirms to Henry Hog the grant which Joan, his wife, daughter of Daudeney Trenchard, made to the said Henry of 5 shillings of rent from the tenement late of Alured Irish, situate in Smithene Street, between the tenement of Paulin Taverner and that of Peter de Culmstoke, extending from such street to Priests' street; 8s. having been paid beforehand. Witnesses, Martin Rof, Mayor of Exeter, Walter de Moltone and Robert Splarjowe, Provosts [or Reeves], Peter de Culmstoke, John Irish, Robert de Culmstoke, Martin Derling, Adam Hemery, Richard Roget, John Baubi, Clerk, "and " others." Temp. Henry III. The seal is lost.

A Latin deed, on parchment, exquisitely written in modern Gothic, the seal lost, whereby Roger le Poer grants to Jordan Pichot his part of the tenement between the land of Randolph Hilbert and the land of Richard Chardenache, without the South Gate of the city of Exeter, on the way as you go to Thopesham, at a yearly rent of 2 shillings; to hold to him, his heirs and assigns, a religious house excepted. Witnesses, Master Peter Wimund, Hillary Blund, Mayor of Exeter, Roger Belebuche and Gilbert Blund, Provosts [or Reeves] of Exeter, Thomas Rof, William Bulle, "and " many others." Temp. Edward I.

A like Latin deed, in the same hand, whereby Roger Giffard grants to Jordan Pichot the other part of the same tenement; with the like witnesses, Martin Rof added. An oblong seal in green wax is appended, with a kite-shaped shield, apparently charged with three shuttles.

A grant, in Latin, on parchment, by Geoffrey Fitz-John to Henry Tropinel, of his land in the South Street of the city of Exeter, near the land of Jordan Fitz-Philip, and that of Clarembald and of Richard of Poitiers, to hold to him and his heirs and assigns, a house of religion excepted; at a yearly rent of half a mark of silver, and, to the Nuns of Polslo, one mark of silver, who are, for the same, to acquit the said tenement as against the Monks of St. Nicholas; 16 marks having been paid beforehand within the 4 benches of the Guildhall of Exeter. Witnesses, Master Serlo, Dean of the Chapter of St. Peter of Exeter, Illary Blund, Mayor, Roger Delebuche and Gilbert Blund, Provosts [or Reeves], John Cha[m]pernun, John Turebert, John Pudding, Walter La Chowe, Nicholas Gervase, Geoffrey Taverner, John Clerk, Walter Clerk, and others named. An oblong seal, in green wax, representing a priest in the act of benediction. Temp. Henry III. or Edward I.

A parchment indenture, in Latin, whereby John le Keu, and Sarra, his wife, grant to William de Cryditone, citizen of Exeter, a tenement in Smethene street in Exeter, near the tenement late of John Gascoyng; in exchange for a tenement and curtilage situate in the Prebend of La Heghes, near Exeter, extending lengthwise from the Great Park of la Heghes to the street called "Kouwykstret." Witnesses, Philip Louekoke, Mayor, Martin le Keu, of Bryddeforde, Thomas le Spicer, John de Reydevers, Richard de Wottone, Seneschal, John Bolle, Roger Bolle, John Gilberd. "Given at Exeter, on Monday after the Feast " of the Assumption of the Blessed Mary, in the year " of the reign of King Edward [the Second], son of " King Edward, the 13th." A small seal is attached.

An indenture, on parchment, in Latin, whereby Peter Soth, citizen of Exeter, grants to John le Keu [the Cook] and Sarra, his wife, a tenement and curtilage situate in the Prebend of La Heghes, and extending along the King's highway leading from Exeter towards Ide, to the park of the lord of La Heghes, called the "Sothparc," at a yearly rent of 4s. 6d. Witnesses, Walter Jugement [or, perhaps, "Ingement"], then Seneschal of Heghes, William Austyn, Thomas Codilep, Roger Holle, Thomas Ladde, Walter le Hurt. "Given " at Exeter, on Wednesday after the Feast of St. Martin " in Winter, in the year of the reign of King Edward " [the Second], son of King Edward, the 7th." The seal, in green wax, is whole, representing what is intended for a flower.

An indenture, on parchment, in Latin, whereby William Coffyn and Maurice, his son, "of the County of " Devon," being bound to Alexander Juyll, of Derthemouth in 30l. sterling by statute staple, yet if the same Maurice shall fulfil his covenant as to a moiety of a tenement in Clyfton Derthemouthes Hardenysse, and a moiety of a tenement and close in the demesne of Nortone, the said statute shall be held as of no effect. Witnesses, William Wilsforde, Mayor of the city of Exeter, Richard Larkstoke, Thomas Estone, John Pollow, Henry Mayow, Seneschal of the said city, and others. Dated at Exeter, 2nd of August in the 10th year of Henry IV.

HENRY THOMAS RILEY.

THE HISTORICAL MANUSCRIPTS BELONGING TO THE CORPORATION OF FORDWICH IN KENT.

The town of Fordwich, which at the present day is a small village, was in the Middle Ages a place of some commercial activity. As a member of the port of Sandwich, it was entitled to all the privileges which belonged to the Cinque Ports, and in addition, it possessed some peculiar liberties granted by royal charter.

The Abbot of St. Augustine's in Canterbury was lord of the manor, and claimed certain customs upon all imports; whilst the mayor and jurats had a monopoly of the common quay at which these imports were necessarily landed.

In consequence of this divided jurisdiction, frequent disputes arose between the corporation and their officers on the one hand, and the bailiff of St. Augustine's, the abbot's resident representative, on the other.

Although the town has shrunk to a village, and the imports have ceased to arrive at the quay, the corporation is by no means extinct. It still owns a town hall of 16th century date; and such privileges as the changed times have left to it are zealously guarded by the public-spirited mayor, and by the jurats, who are selected from the gentry of the neighbourhood. It is to the enlightened conservatism of the present mayor, H. Cooper Esq., that the corporation owes its dignity and respectability; and the writer of this report begs to acknowledge the courteous kindness which he received from Mr. Cooper during his examination of the contents of the muniment chest in the town hall.

The great bulk of the records contain abbreviated reports of causes determined in the mayor's court. These extend from the 15th to the 17th century, and chronicle small trespasses punished by correspondingly small penalties.

There are, however, two volumes which are worthy of a detailed notice.

The first, a leather-bound book, containing sixty parchment leaves of quarto size, appears to have been put together in the 17th century. It contains the Customale of the port, and various other matters which seemed at the time when the volume was bound to deserve preservation.

The second, a paper book in a parchment cover, contains the inventory of the church plate of Fordwich and the churchwardens' accounts for the first half of the 16th century.

The Leather-bound Book.

The oaths of the mayor, of the treasurer, of a jurat, and of a freeman, occupy many pages here and there throughout the volume.

The formula in which these oaths were administered varied with political changes. By the most modern example a freeman is required to swear that he will be "from this day forth to the day of your death a true " freeman of the Lord Protector and his successors, and " the state of this town of Fordwich."

A page is devoted to a description in French of the boundaries of the franchise.

This is written in a hand of the 15th century, and is probably a copy of an original, more ancient survey. To ensure to the commonalty of the town full command of both banks of the river, which was the highway of the town and the source of its prosperity, it is declared that the boundary lies back from the water's edge "si longement come un home, estaunt en une batell al plein " meer, purra jetier un axe de vii li, appelle 'Taperaxe,' " sur la terr." This rough-and-ready means of measurement is prescribed for the determination of limits by the bye-laws of other members of the Cinque Ports.

The passing of regulations for controlling the fishery in the public river seems to have occupied a good deal of the attention of the municipal council, whose utmost vigilance hardly restrained the encroaching monks of St. Augustine's, who looked to this river for the furnishing of their table on meagre days.

At some time in the 15th century an arrangement was made by which the monastery was allowed to have the produce of one weir out of three which were annually erected, as in the present day, at the commencement of the fishing season.

Very jealous of her neighbour Sandwich, the town enacted severely protectionist laws in respect of the use of the common quay with its crane.

As a means of avoiding law-suits the mayor appointed every year four freemen to act as arbitrators, who after hearing both sides in any case of trespass should make an award which was to be held as binding upon the parties. Any person who refused to accept their decision, or who attempted to carry the cause to another court, forfeited a hundred shillings, or went to prison for a year.

The prison, a filthy hole about 9 feet square, still exists, and these alternative penalties prove how great has been the decrease in the value of money since the time when a fine of five pounds was considered to be a penalty as heavy as a year's detention in such a den as Fordwich gaol.

Besides these miscellaneous matters the volume contains a Kalendar, Gospels for the administrations of oaths, and the Customal of the town.

The Kalendar, of 15th century date, is written upon vellum, and has the two first and the two last pages finely illuminated in ultramarine and vermilion; the intermediate pages, apparently filled in by another hand, are less ornamental. The months are divided into kalends, nones, and ides, and the Saints' days are written in a firm black letter.

The 29th of December was at one time marked as the winter festival of St. Thomas the Martyr, but some Protestant town clerk has roughly erased the name, which, however, can still be deciphered.

The Gospels, a portion selected from each Evangelist, are written on four pages of vellum, the first line of the page being rubricated and the initial capital nicely illuminated.

The Gospels chosen are the 2nd chap. of St. Matthew, a part of the 1st chap. of St. Mark, a part of the 17th chap. of St. Luke, and the first 14 verses of the 16th chap. of St. John. These are in English, and follow Tyndal's second version. To make an oath binding upon the conscience of a witness it was not necessary that it should be sworn upon the entire book of the Gospels; a portion, as in this case, selected from each was considered to be, according to the vulgar saying, "enough to swear by."

The Customale, which appears to belong to the end of the 15th century, occupies 73 pages of the book, and is divided into 31 clauses, each of which has an illuminated initial letter, other letters here and there upon the page being capriciously spotted with red.

The first clause contains a copy of a charter of Henry II., granting to the men of Fordwich freedom from toll and other liberties. A general clause at the end confirms all the privileges which the town enjoyed "tempore regis Edwardi, Willelmi primi, et secundi, et Henri ciavi mei."

The second prescribes the forms which were to be observed at the election of a mayor.

The third, the oath of a mayor.

The fourth treats of the election of jurats.

The fifth requires that all weights and measures shall be justified by the new mayor.

The sixth regulates the trade of brewing.

The seventh treats "de pœna percutientium et cultellos trahentium."

The eighth declares the rules which govern the hundred court.

The ninth prescribes the manner in which lands may be bequeathed.

The tenth explains "quomodo proximiores de sanguine habebunt primam emptionem terræ."

The eleventh disposes of "rem furtivam" found in innocent hands.

The twelfth regulates the appropriation of waifs and strays.

The thirteenth explains "quomodo et quot modis possunt esse liberi et liberæ."

The fourteenth, "quomodo debent terræ et tenementa infancium infra statem custodiri."

The fifteenth recites a charter of Edward III. "de statu orphanorum."

The sixteenth treats "de Withernamo capiendō," explaining that by this term is meant reprisal upon the men of any town which, after a formal request from the mayor of Fordwich, has failed to administer justice in a cause in which a Fordwich man is plaintiff.

The seventeenth claims that all freemen shall have a right to share in the profits of mercantile ventures.

The eighteenth treats "de recognitionibus finium."

The nineteenth gives to the mayor the right of administering to the estates of intestates.

The twentieth provides for the punishment of misdemeanants. If the offender be a foreigner, not a man of Fordwich, keeping out of the limits of the franchise, the mayor may apply for assistance to the warden of the Ports.

The twenty-first admits that the mayor is bound to protect merchants resorting to the town.

The twenty-second declares that the King's seneschal or clerk of the market may not lawfully exercise his functions within the liberties. A charter of a King Edward is quoted to confirm this claim.

The twenty-third defines the liberties which the Abbot of St. Augustine's possesses in Fordwich.

1. He has his prison, from which if a felon escape the fault shall lie at the door of the abbot.

2. He has his bailiff.

3. He is entitled to certain fines, and forfeitures of the goods of felons and fugitives, &c.

The twenty-fourth gives the form of oath by which the abbot's bailiff is to bind himself.

The twenty-fifth explains the regulations, and the extent of the jurisdiction, to which the mayor's court can lay claim.

The twenty-sixth continues the same subject.

The twenty-seventh regulates the holding of the hundred court, over which the abbot's bailiff presides; "cujus serviens nomine 'Cachepol'" shall give three days' notice to parties who are required to appear.

The twenty-eighth treats of the ways in which arrears of rent may be recovered.

The twenty-ninth explains how certain maritime disputes may be settled by arbitration.

The thirtieth defines what felonies may be dealt with in the hundred court, and what must be sent to the court of Shipway. This clause shows that the Fordwich court might lawfully inflict capital punishment, and that this sentence was, as in other Cinque Ports, carried out by drowning. "Et omnes qui condemnati sunt in illo casu, vel in alio aliquo casu, usque ad mortem, debent duanci a predicta curia Dni. Abbatis, per Stouram usque ad quendam locum vocatum 'Thesfswelle,' et ibi manūs sue sub tibiis debent ligari, videlicet 'Knebent,' et vivi festinanter depelli et emergi (demergi). Et hoc fiat per ipsum qui sequitur;" the prosecutor being made the executioner.

The thirty-first is an inspeimus by Edward III., of an inspeimus by Edward II. of a charter of Edward I., who confirmed to the Cinque Ports certain liberties which they enjoyed in the 44th year of Henry III.

The Churchwardens Accounts.

The paper book of churchwardens' accounts has upon the fly-leaf a statement of the lands belonging to Fordwich Church in 1548.

The rents yielded by these lands, here set down at 2*l.* 3*s.* 5*d.* a year, appear to have been employed in maintaining the services and repairing the fabric of the church, and they are quite distinct from the stipend of the priest.

On the second page is a statement similar to the last, but written a generation earlier; here a tenant named Ralph Hoggyn is an occupier, there his tenement is in the possession of the "heyres" of Ralph Hoggyn.

On pages 3 and 4 is an inventory of the plate and vestments belonging to the church in 1501. The articles herein enumerated suggest a church sufficiently, but not superabundantly supplied with the means of carrying on the services.

The "londys apperteyning to the cross-light" are next specified; the income from these sources, amounting to an annual 3*s.* 10*d.* was applied to the maintenance of the lamp which burned before the rood.

Then follows a record of the "weights of the chalisses" in the church of Fordwich, the sum total amounting to 44½ ounces.

The remainder of the book is filled with the yearly statements of account made by successive churchwardens, and extending from Michaelmas 1510 to February 1540.

The receipts in these debtor and creditor accounts consist of the rents paid for church lands, with, in some years, small additions derived from extraordinary sources. One illiterate churchwarden debits himself with a sum of 4s. 1d. on account of "mony gadyrryed in the church," and at another time 6s. was received for honey made by the church bees.

CORPORATION OF FORDWICH.

The payments represent the expenses which the churchwardens incurred in the performance of their office; for example:—

"It., payd at the vysitacion, viiid.

It., payd for wasshyng the church clothys, xiiid.

It., payd unto Mast. Parson for obetts, 4s. 11d.

It., payd unto the wax chawndeler for all manner of lyghts, as hit a perith in his boke, 11d.

It., payd unto the ryngers at the feast of Corpus Xpi, 4d.

Mem^d., received of Colyar vii. of new wax for owro Lady lyght, Saynt Anny's lyght, and Saynt Margaret's lyght. Payd for strekyng of the same lyghts, viid.

For the wrethyng (writing) of thys accompt, 8d."

The last M.S. in the muniment chest is a begging commission, of 15th century date. This parchment professes to be a permit from the King, allowing the widow of Sir John Holte to travel the country for the purpose of asking alms from the charitable and patriotic.

"Henry by the grace of God, &c., to all his well beloved Archbyschoppes and to all curetes of holy churche, also to all schyrefes, mayres, and baylyves and manicles, &c. Forasmuch as our well beloved servant Elizabeth Holte was the weyfe of Syr John Holte, Knyth, the wych longe tyme continued in our werres, and by fortune of the seyde werres was ytake prisoner in the partes of Normandy and yput in the Castell of the Mount of St Mychell, and there was ysette to the fenaunce 1140 marks, the seyde John and Elizabeth not of power to paye the seyde summes, alle her londys and tenements, for the payment of the seyde summes and fynauce, leyden to mortgage ben to the perpetuall ondoynge of the foreseyde John and Elizabeth. And wythin 15 dayes of the payment of the seyde fynauce the foreseyde John dyed at Roone, and as soon as the seyde Elizabeth come to Ynglond sche was arestyd and grevisly afexyd for divers dettys" &c.

The commission goes on to say that the "Abp. of Canterbury, and the Bps. of Winton and Wyrecestre, "have offered to such as shall refresch the forseide "Elizabeth with theyre almes" indulgence amounting in all to "thirteen skor dayes," to which the Bishop of Bath has added forty days more. It is not unlikely that the bearer of this roving commission was an impostor, whose credentials some keen-witted mayor of Fordwich impounded; if this were not so then the poor woman must have died at Fordwich, leaving her commission in the hands of the corporation.

The muniments of Fordwich are kept in a strong chest, standing in an airy, dry town hall. They are in good condition and well cared for.

J. B. SHEPPARD.

EARL OF ABERDEEN.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF THE EARL OF ABERDEEN AT HADDO HOUSE.

These consist of an extensive series of charters connected with the baronies of Haddo, Kellie, Methlic, and other neighbouring lands in the parishes of Tarves, Methlic, Fyvie, and Deer, and these relating to the barony of Auchtercoull in the upper district of Aberdeenshire.

There is also a collection of political letters addressed by contemporary statesmen to the first Earl of Aberdeen, while Lord Chancellor of Scotland, and a volume of accounts which contains the details of his Lordship's expenditure during the same period.

In the library is a household book of King James the Fifth of Scotland, containing an account of the Royal expenditure for the year from September 1538 to September 1539.

Among the charters (many of which have suffered from the effects of damp) are a considerable number possessing points of historical interest. Of these I noted the following.

Charter by John de Berclay de Menteth Lord of Petmacaldore to William de Camera Lord of Auchnawys of all his lands of Methlayk in the shire of Aberdeen, to be held of the King in capite, sealed with his seal, and in further evidence with the seal of his dearest father William de Fodringhay, Knight. Witnesses Alexander Bishop of Ross, Master William of Dyngwale, Dean of Ross, Hugh Fraser, Alexander of Chesholme, Hugh of Moines, and many others. [Circa 1380.]

Charter of Robert III. King of Scotland to his Esquire David of Fonlarton, for his faithful service, of the lands of the two Methelaykis, which were unrighteously possessed by William of Melgedrum, and which came into the King's hands by the verdict of an assize which sat in the Royal presence at Kyncardyn in the Mernis on the 11th of December 1375. To be held by the said David and his heirs, whom failing by John of Foulartoun son natural of the said David and his heirs, whom failing by Geoffrey son natural of the said David and his heirs, whom all failing by the assignees of the said David; rendering to the King and his heirs Kings of Scotland one shilling of silver at the chief messuage of the lands on the feast of Pentecost yearly. Witnesses William and John Bishops of St. Andrews and Dunkeld, John the King's eldest son, Earl of Carryk and steward of Scotland, Robert Earl of Fyf and Menteth his son, William Earl of Douglas and Marr, Sir James of Lyndesay the King's nephew and Sir Alexander of Lyndesay the King's kinsman, at Perth. 12th Dec. 1401.

Charter by Simon de Ettale chantor of the cathedral church of Aberdeen, nephew and heir of the late Sir William Lang, canon of said church, with consent of William of Ettale Burgess of Aberdeen, his brother to Thomas Kynidy, constable of Aberdeen, of all his lands of Argeth lying "in Scolocaria de Elone" within the shire of Aberdeen. To be held of the bishop of St. Andrews for the time. Dated at Aberdeen, 26 January 1415. Witnesses Gilbert Bishop of Aberdeen, chancellor of Scotland, Thomas of Tynningham, Archdeacon of Aberdeen, John of Tulach, rector of Logi in Buchan, William of Cadiow and Andrew Taillefer.

The "Scolocaria" of Ellen referred to in the above charter consisted (as appears by an inquest in 1357 called by the bishop of St. Andrews) of church lands held from the bishop by certain tenants called Scolocs or Scologs—under burden of providing for the parish church of Ellen, four clerks with copes and surplices, able to read and sing sufficiently—one part of the lands being bound to find a house for the scholars, another to furnish 24 wax candles for the park or perk before the high altar, and another being bound to find a smithy at Ellen.

Charter of confirmation by James I. King of Scotland, confirming a charter of his cousin John Stewart formerly Earl of Buchan to David de Wintoun of the lands of Andyt in the earldom of Buchan, to be held by the said David and Janet of Keth his spouse and their heirs male, whom failing by Ingeram de Wyntoun cousin of the said David and the heirs male of his body, whom all failing by his nearest heirs male bearing the name and arms of Wyntoun. Dated at Stirling, 2nd January 1411. Witnesses Malcolm Fleming, Lord of Bygure, Alexander Seton, Lord of Gordon, and others. The charter of confirmation is dated at Edinburgh, 17th September 1423.

Charter of confirmation by James I. King of Scotland, to William Coutis, of the lands of Uchterconle on the resignation of Alicia and Edina Lummysden. To be held of the King by the said William and after his death by Alexander of Coutis, his brother and the heirs male of his body, whom failing by John of Coutis, cousin of the said Alexander and his heirs male, whom all failing by Alexander of Coutis, brother of the said John and his heirs male of the body, whom all failing to the lawful heirs of the said Alexander of Coutis, brother of the said William. Dated at Edinburgh, 30th January 1433.

Charter by William Fonlartone de Aberewane to James Gordon, of an annual of ten marks out of the lands of Haddaugh. Dated at Aberdeen [] July 1467.

Charter by the said William Fonlartone to the said James Gordon, of the lands of Haldauche and the Shadow half of Mekill Methlike, excepting one croft of the said lands called "le Crystyis Croft," dated 22nd June 1469. The lands of Aberewane in Strathern are conveyed as warrandice lands.

Letters of procuratory by William Fonlartoun, of Methlyk, for resigning into the King's hand his lands of Hawdauch of Methlyk, with half of Mekle Methlyk. The procurators are George Earl of Huntley, David Guthery of that ilk, John Ogistoun of Crag, Alexander Lesly of Balcomy, David Crechtoun of Cranstoun, James Schaw of Saulchy, Duncan Sancher of Murcroft. Dated at Aberdeen, 16th December 1471.

Instrument of resignation by Alexander Lesly of Warderis, in the hands of George Lesly of that ilk, as superior, of the lands of Middil Knokynblewis, Brekoch, Drummeis, and Glassach, to Patrick Gordon of Methlek. Dated 5th Sept. 1480, within the Chapel of the Blessed Virgin Mary of Garioch. Witnesses, Alexander Lummysden, rector of Flisk, Patrick Lesly of Balquhane, Robert Daumahoy, Patrick Strathachin, Thomas

H. OF EDIN.

Lesly, Sir Andrew Ingrame, Robert Stevinsone, Andrew Thomson, chaplains, and David Lesly, the Mair of Lesly, with others.

Charter by David Annande of Ouchterellone to Patrick Gordon of Methlick, of his lands of the park of Kellie, with the lands of Owirhil. Dated at Aberdeen, 12th February 1482. Witnesses, Sir James Ogilvy of Deskfurd, Robert Blindsell, Provost of Aberdeen, Alexander Menzies, John Culan, John Colisone, Donald Bannerman, and Sir Robert Weir, notary.

Precept of Sasine by Malcolm Drummond of Megour, in favour of an honourable man, Alexander Gordon, of the five merk lands of Andait, dated at Edinburgh, 28th June 1510. Witnesses, John Lord Drummond, David Drummond of Cowquhalzie, Master William Toncht, Alexander Gordon of Bodwin, Master James Smythland, and John Drummond of Muthil.

Instrument of Sasine on charter by James Redhynch of Tullichiddel, in favour of the chancellor, prebendaries, and regents of the new college in the University of Aberdeen, for a yearly service to be said for him and for other pious and meritorious works, of his four merk land of Culliny, and his one merk land of Andate, lying in the shire of Aberdeen. Dated 20th August 1511.

Precept of Sasine, by Melchior Cullane of Knawane, son and heir of the late Jaspas Cullane of Knawane, burghess of Aberdeen, to George Craufurd of Federat, for giving sasine of the lands of Knawane, lying in the barony of Kelly, to Thomas Menzies, of Pitfodelis, Provost of Aberdeen. Dated at Aberdeen, 14th April 1539.

Decreet arbitral, by Robert Innes of Invermerky, James Gordoun of Haddow, John Keith of Ludquharne for the part of Robert Master of Erskine, William Strathachin, of Glenkindie, his tenant of the lands of Auchnagatt, within the barony of Kelly, Patrik Chene of Essilmonth, Maister James Wauthaun, parson of Une, and Maister Alexander Ogilvy of the Glassach for the part of ane noble man Gilbert Gray of Scheves, and ane honourable man George Gordoun of Geicht, his oure lord, in ane action debateable of landymeris betuix the lands of Sauquhat pertenant to the said Master of Erskyne, and the lands of Auchnagatt pertaining to the said William Strathachin on the tane part, and the lands of Guiltors pertaining to the said Gilbert Gray, and to the said George Gordoun as Baron of Scheves, together with ane Reverend father in God Robert Abbot of Kinloss, oversman chosen by the said parties. Signed at the Hill of Kalmafillie by the said arbiters "handis our handis" 18th April 1540, before witnesses, the Lord Erskyn [] Chene of Strathloch, John Gordon of Longar, Robert Innes of Moniecabok, Duncan Gordon in Knaven, Thomas Annand in Ochterellon, Alexander Buchan of Auchmacoy, and Master Peter Galbraith, notary public.

The decreet ran that "the rycht meithis and merchis" is and salbe in all tyme cuming betuix the saidis "landis of Auchnagatt, Saulquhat, and Quyltas, begynnand at the west in the myddis of the resk betuix the propir landis of the said George on the west part, and the landis of Auchnagatt on the east part, as is proppit be us in the myddis of the said resk, and fra that cummand eist to ane how hoill at the fute of the hill of Kilmafillie crocit be ws, and fra that ascendand up the hill carne be carne as we haif proppit to the heid of the said hill, and sua the heid of hill as the wynd and wedder devydes to ane carne quhilk we haif callit this day the Commoun "Carne, and fra that descendand carne be carne to the Halymanis Seit, and fra that linealie carne be carne as is crossit and pottit be us to the feild stane."

Charter by John Master of Erskine, with consent of Lord Erskine, his father, of the lands of Mains of Kellie, and others to James Gordon of Haddoch, paying 6l. 30s. 4d. Scots to the Abbot and Convent of Lundores. Dated at Stirling, 19th October 1553.

License by James Gordon of Haddauche to his son Robert Gordon, of Sauchok, to "annalie and wadset the toun and lands callit Murdois Hill alias Halymannis "Seat," lying within the Barony of Kellie. Dated at Kellie, 11th March 1578.

Discharge and receipt by James Gordon of Haddoch to Alexander Chalmers of Cults, for the title deeds of the lands of Little Methlik. The deeds are enumerated, and the first is a charter by umquhile William Chalmer of Fyndone to Thomas Chalmer his son of the Thain—of Little Meythlik, dated in the year of God 1400. The discharge is dated at Aberdeen, 1st April 1588.

H. OF ABERDEEN.

The political letters to which I have referred were addressed to Lord Aberdeen by Sir George Mackenzie of Tarbet, Lord Clerk Register; William Marquis of Queensberry; James Earl of Perth; Sir William Paterson, Clerk to the Privy Council; John Bishop of Edinburgh; Patrick Earl of Strathmore; George Marquis of Huntly; James Earl of Arran; Sir Andrew Forrester, Under Secretary of State; Charles Earl of Middleton; Cromwell Lockhart of Lee; George Earl of Linlithgow; Sir John Cochrane of Ochiltree; Kenneth Earl of Seaforth; Sir George Mackenzie, Lord Advocate; William Duke of Hamilton; the Provost and Magistrates of Aberdeen; George Earl Marischal; Sir John Grahame of Claverhouse; Elizabeth Duchess of Lauderdale; Alexander Archbishop of St. Andrews; the Lord Maitland, Lord Justice Clerk.

These letters were printed for the Spalding Club in the year 1851, and it is thus unnecessary for me to enter on a detailed description of them in this place. Those of Grahame of Claverhouse may be referred to as touching on many points of interest, besides furnishing specimens of the corrupt orthography of this great general. In the first, dated 1st March 1683, written on a journey through Lanarkshire to England, he says, "I found "Clidsdeall full of lays [lies]; such as my Lord Huntlys "gitting a regiment, but that my lord Deuk Hamilton "and Atholl oposed it strongly in Councell; and that "the King was either dead or daying, at least quyt "deaf; and many other lays."

Somewhat later in the same year he gave an account of his dealings with the people of Galloway which thus concludes, "and it may be non saifly said that Galouay "is not only as peaceable, but as regular as any part of "the contry on this seyde Tey. And the rebelles ar "reduced without blood, and the contry brought to "obedience and conformity to the Church Government "without severity or extortion; feu heritors being "fyned, and that but gently; and under that non is or "ar to be fyned, but two or three in a parish; and the "authority of the church is restored in that contry, and "the ministers in saifty."

On the 9th of June 1683 he writes from Stirling to urge that the sentence of hanging should be carried out against a man who had been "actually in the rebellion "and continued in that state for four years." After stating his reasons he adds, "I am as sorry to see a "man day [die], even a whigge, as any of them selfs; "but when on days [one dies] for his owen faults, and "may sawe a hundred to fall in the lyk, I have no "scrupull."

The volume of accounts to which I have referred contains the entries of moneys received and expended by John Gordone upon the accompt of the Earle of Aberdeen Lord High Chancellor of Scotland from 10th May 1682 to 21st November 1684.

Many of the disbursements throw light on the social arrangements of the period, and I selected the following as specimens:

The first show that the Lord Chancellor enjoyed the sports of hawking, hunting, and horse racing. On 17th July 1682 there is paid to "the man that brought the "hauks," 23l. 10s. (Scots); then "for hoods, bells, and "uthir things, 5s. 4s."; for "ane halk glove, 12s."; for "ane halk leuer, 1l. 16s."; "for halk meat, 2s."; for "two pair of bells and three hoods, 4l. 14s."; "To my "Lord goeing to the hauking, 5l. 16s."; "To my Lord "goeing to hunting per receipt, 12l. 14s."; "To Patrik "Logan for goeing north with hauks, 32l."; "To my "Lord goeing to Leith to his race per account, 8l. 8s."; "for weighing the men att Leith that rade, 1l. 8s."; "To the man that ran the night before the race, "18s."; "Item to the tuo grooms drink money att "winning the race at Leith, 8l. 8s."; "Item to the "Edinburgh officers with the cup, 14l."; "Item to the "Smith boy plaitt the running horse feet, 14s."

Payments occur for books by well known writers. "To Sir Jo. Dalrymples man with Stairs decisions, "2l. 18s."; "Sir James Turners man with a book, "1l. 9s."; "To my Lord Glendoyicks man for Acts of "Parliament, 1l. 9s."; "For Grotius de jure belli et "paci, 2l. 18s." Frequent entries appear of douceurs given to the servants of friends who sent presents to the Lord Chancellor. Thus "To my Lord Lithgoues "man for plums, 1l. 4s." "To Waitries man for mor- "fouls, 1l. 8d."; "To Sir John Dalrymples man with "apricocks, 1l. 9s."; "To my Lord Lithgoues man "with pertriges, 14s."; "To Gights gardener with "plums, 14s."; "To Lady Errols man with pears, 14s."; "Drink money to Sir John Whitfuirds man with fruit, "2l. 18s."; "To Lord Douns man with a deir, 2l. 18s."; "To Sir George Lockharts man with a horse, 2l. 16s.;"

EARL OF ABERDEEN.

"To Sir Patrick Humes man with a deir, 2*l*. 18*s*."; "To my Lord Kinnairds man with a goose, 14*s*."; "To Sir William Purves man with a sword, 1*l*. 10*s*."; "To Lord Crawford's man with sparrow graese, 1*l*. 8*s*."; "To my Lord Oxfurds man with a dog, 14*s*."; "To the Marquis of Douglas man with Sullen goose, 14*s*."; "Item to Macleods man with haucks, 14*l*."; "To my Lord Dumfermlings man with fruit, 1*l*. 8*s*."; "To my Lord Blairs man with wild fowl, 14*s*."; "To the Captain of Clan Ronalds man with a hawk, 5*l*. 16*s*."; "To my Lord Lorns man with a deir, 2*l*. 16*s*."; "To my Lord Monteiths man with a deir, 4*l*. 4*s*."; "To my Lord Lithgows man with eils, 14*s*."; "Item to his man with peatches, 8*s*."; "To my Lord Wintons man with pears, 1*l*. 8*s*."; "Item to my Lady Huntlys man with a deir, 1*l*. 8*s*."; "Item to my Lord Strathmores man with English hounds, 4*l*. 6*s*."; "Item to the minister of Curries man with ane English hound, 1*l*. 9*s*."; "Item to Huntlys fouler with pouts, 2*l*. 2*s*."; "To Errols man with a tersel off falcon, 2*l*. 18*s*."; "To Glenbuckets man with dogs, 7*s*."

The entries of the Lord Chancellor's personal outlays form not the least curious part of the accounts. They relate to articles of dress and travelling expenses, payments to the poor, expenses at court and in the country, family expenses, and other outlays of a miscellaneous character.

"Gloves to my lord" cost, 2*l*. 18*s*.; "To my Lord himself going to Cranstoun, 17*l*. 8*s*."; "for helping my lords shoe, 1*s*."; "To my Lord on Sunday, 1*l*. 8*s*."; "for a pock to my Lords hatt, 7*s*. 10*d*."; "To a cobbler for dressing my Lords boots, 14*s*."; "To my Lord going to Landerdales burial per receipt, 9*l*. 16*s*."; "To my lord going to church per account, 1*l*. 9*s*."; "To my Lord off pocket money per account, 21*l*. 2*s*. 6*d*."; The following payments at London are in sterling money. "Item to Dumfermlings man to trim my lord, 5*s*."; "for two fyne shirts and a poynt gravat, 10*l*. 15*s*."; "Item for a castor hatt to my Lord, 1*l*."; "To William Lockhart for a fyne pirie wig, 5*l*. 5*s*."; "for taking a coach over water to Windsor, 1*s*."; "To the King, Queen, and Dukes footmen, 3*l*. 4*s*. 6*d*."; "For a hackney chair to my Lord, five days, 17*s*. 6*d*."; "For my Lord lodging five nights att Windsor, 17*s*. 6*d*."; "Item for my lords expenses coming up to London, 10*l*." The total expenses incurred in travelling to London from Edinburgh, staying there a fortnight, and returning to Edinburgh, amounted to, 150*l*. 17*s*. 11*d*.

The outlays for a journey from Edinburgh to Aberdeenshire included the following: "Drink money at Abbotshall, 13*l*." (Scots.) "Drink money at Cupar, 11*l*. 12*s*." "To the poor at Abbotshall and Cupar, 14*s*."; "For a boat to my Lord himself, 5*l*. 18*s*."; "To Claiverhous man to guid the horse weill, 14*s*."; "The poore at Dundie, 10*s*."; "To my lord himself at Glames, 11*l*. 12*s*."; "To the poor at Glames, 12*s*."; "To the musitioners at Kinaird, 2*l*. 18*s*."; "Drink money at Fetteresso, 1*l*. 9*s*."; "To the porter there, 1*l*. 9*s*."; "To the man keeps the Calsay port, 1*l*. 8*s*."; "To the drummer at Aberdeen, 2*l*. 18*s*."; "In Mrs. Burnetts for drink and accomodation 35*l*. 9*s*. 8*d*."; "For lime and seek ther in the morning, 3*l*."; "For five horses post from Burntisland to Aberdeen, 35*l*."; "To my lord upon Sunday at Skein, 1*l*. 8*s*."; "Drink money at Glenfarquhar, 11*l*. 12*s*."

On a journey to Gordon Castle there was paid "for drink money at Craig of Boyne, 8*l*. 14*s*."; "To a musitioner ther, 1*l*. 9*s*."; "To the poor at Cullen of Boyn, 7*s*."; "To maissons at Wrights at the Booge, 5*l*. 16*s*."; "For drink money at the Booge, 17*l*. 8*s*."; "To the two footmen to drink by the way, 7*s*."; "To the trumpeter at Inverurie, 2*l*. 18*s*."; "To Meldrums trumpeter, 2*l*. 18*s*." The following sums were disbursed at Aberdeen on a return journey from Kellie to Edinburgh:—"To a sutor for mending a malle, 1*s*."; "Drink money to the drummers of Aberdeen, 8*l*. 14*s*."; "For our laueing in Aberdeen att night, 67*l*. 1*s*."; "Drink money to Widow Burnetts tapster, 2*l*. 18*s*."; "Drink money to fiddlers, 1*l*. 9*s*."; "To a poor body at Athroes, 9*s*."; "To my Lord Athols pypers, 1*l*. 8*s*."

Among the miscellaneous disbursements are the following:—"To one Johnston, a poet, by order, 5*l*. 16*s*."; "To a poor schollar, by order, 14*s*."; "To a poor seaman, by order, 1*l*. 9*s*."; "Drink money for a pouny to my Lord Hadd, 5*l*. 10*s*."; "My Lord Haddo to pay for clubs, 1*l*. 16*s*."; "To ane distracted wyfe called Johnston, 14*s*."; "To a poor gentlewoman, by my Lords order, 1*l*. 9*s*."; "To a man keeps the bouling grein, 14*s*."; "To the beddels that keeps my Ladys seatt, 2*l*. 18*s*."; "To my Ladys receipts for house furnishing, from the 15th of January to the 4th of June 1683, 1,946*l*. 17*s*. 4*d*." "Item to the clerk and beddels quhen Katherin was baptised, 13*l*." "To the beddels of the Abay church, 1*l*. 9*s*." It appears to me that the whole record ought to be printed.

JOHN STUART.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF THE EARL OF LAUDERDALE, AT THIRLESTANE CASTLE.

EARL OF LAUDERDALE.

This collection comprises the title-deeds of the family estates from the seventeenth century—a series of public papers connected with national events—and an extensive series of ancient charters relating to lands in different parts of the kingdom, which became vested in the family for a time by marriage or other causes, and have since been disposed of.

Of all these there is a full and careful inventory, in nine folio volumes, to which I have referred in preparing my report.

But besides the documents still remaining in the charter-room, there was a great mass of charters and papers relating to the barony of Thirlestane and other lands of the Maitlands of Thirlestane, dating from the 12th century, which were almost wholly destroyed by being buried in the ground at Balcarres for safety after the battle of Dunbar in the year 1650.

Inventories of these had fortunately been prepared by John, first Earl of Lauderdale, and after the Restoration the Scottish Parliament, at the instance of his son the second Earl (afterwards Duke) of Lauderdale, passed an Act wherein it was stated that the inventories in question were written by the late Earl himself; "and seing it is notour that the said Earle was ane understanding nobleman of eminent and unquestionable integritie, so that it cannot be doubted but that the whole writs contained in the saids inventars wer extant when he made and wrote the inventars of the same with his aine hand," the Parliament ordained the inventories to have as great force and effect as if the original titles had been preserved.

All these inventories being engrossed ad longum in the Act of Parliament, the vast store of materials for family history and topography which they contain is still available. (Acts of the Parliaments of Scotland, vol. vii., p. 134.)

The papers of a public nature still at Thirlestane are described under the following head of the inventory, "Public papers, which were in the custody of Charles Earl of Lauderdale at the time of his death, still kept by the family, tho' they are now of no consequence."

Part I. Containing copies of the King's letters and commissions to the Treasury anent the revenue and excise and customs, with lists of pensions and warrants for payment thereof, and many other such public writs.

Part V. Papers anent disarming the country anno 1678, with lists of people's names in many different parishes in the West Country who carried arms; depositions concerning arms, and accounts of arms brought in out of these parishes.

Part VI. Memorials, proposals, and other memorandums anent reducing the Highlanders to obedience to the laws; also letters anent the fishing company and other public business.

Part VII. Proclamations anent Conventicles, Bonds and other Writs relative thereto. Proclamation against owning King James VII., &c.

Part VIII. Lists of persons to be gratified by forfeitures, 1679. Warrants for seizing Lord Bargany and setting him at liberty again. Accounts of money laid out in repairing Stirling and Blackness Castles and Palace of Holyrood House. Report by the Lord Treasurer on the condition of the Castle of Edinburgh.

Part X. Old accounts of the rents of the Castle of Edinburgh payable to the Duke of Lauderdale as Governor thereof, and received by Sir William Sharp for him.

The following gift is connected with the public services of the Duke of Lauderdale:—

Gift under the Privy Seal of King Charles II. in favour of John Earl (afterwards Duke) of Lauderdale, of the teinds of the parish of Cranshaws, and lands of Swinton, and of all the moveable estate belonging to John Swinton of that ilk at the time of his forfeiture; narrating the good and faithful service of the said Earl and his father and grandfather Chancellor of Scotland, and others his predecessors, to the King and his father and grandfather and other Royal progenitors, not only

L OF DUN-DEE.EARL OF LAUDER-DALE.

in great trust affairs and offices of State, as those of Chancellor, Privy Seal, Secretary, wherein persons of that family had often been employed, but also in other employments and negotiations both at home and abroad; and in special calling to mind that with great zeal and affection the said Earl did adhere to the King in the hardest and worst of times in advancing his service and opposing the usurpers, he did in the end resolve to sacrifice and devote his life and fortune to His Majesty's service, and in the year 1650 did accompany the King in his expedition to Scotland, and constantly waited on him till he was taken at Worcester, and after that time being imprisoned, sequestered, robbed, and dispossessed and forfeited of all his estate, which was disposed of by the cruel usurpers; he was transported divers times from prison to prison, and with much patience, cheerfulness, and courage, past and endured in his person and estate all the degrees, kinds, and extremities of misery which could be expected from a cruel and implacable enemy to loyalty and faithfulness, and death itself in resolution and expectation which was unavoidable would have followed if God had not wonderfully restored the King; and the King being most willing to acknowledge and reward the said services, and considering that a great part of the said Earl's estate was possessed for many years by John Swinton sometime of that ilk, therefore he grants, &c. Dated 25 May 1661.

The following series of early titles of the lands of Halton and others in the county of Edinburgh comprises many of considerable interest. The lands became vested in the family of Lauderdale in the year 1652, by marriage, but were sold in the end of last century.

They are described as "Antient titles found in the Charter Chest of Halton, which do not connect with the Title Deeds of the family, and only kept for antiquity."

Ratification by Henry de Sinclair to Gilbert de Hunter of an alienation made to him by William de Byseth, papil to the said Henry de Sinclair, of his lands of Meldon and Kidston. 1326.

Resignation by Richard Browne in the hands of King Robert III. of his lands of Borrowmore in the shire of Edinburgh. 27th March 1375.

Charter by Robert, Steward of Scotland, to William de Ledele, of his lands of Lochtillock, in the barony of Ratho.

Resignation by Thomas de Elphingston in the hands of William Laird of Seton, of an annual rent of 5 merks Scots out of the barony of Enernet, in the constabulary of Haddington. 5th February 1384.

Tack between John de Mareff, Laird of Egglisface, and John de Nudre, whereby John de Mareff lets to the said John de Nudre the lands of Westerage of Egglisface for 40 merks sterling for 13 years. 20th June 1392.

Precept of sasine on a charter by William Earl of Douglas to Sir William Borthwick of that ilk of the lands of Nainthorn and others. 15th May 1449.

Gift by King Robert II. to Alan de Lawedre of 10*l*. sterling yearly during the King's pleasure, as the said Alan's salary for being Justiciary Clerk upon the south side of the Water of Forth. 14th January 1373.

Commission or order under the Privy Seal of Robert II., King of Scots (in consequence of a decret of Council), to Alan de Lawedre, Constable of the Castle of Temptallon, to make the said castle free to Robert Earl of Fyfe and Monteith, King Robert's son. Dated 7th January 1389.

Charter of alienation by William de Moravia, son and heir of David de Moravia, to Alan de Lawdre, of the lands of Dallincathe, lying in the lordship of Symontoun, barony of Kyle, and shire of Ayr, with right of tenandry, to be held of the overlord of Symontoun, blench, conform to the tenor of the charter of the late Sir David de Lyndissay, Knight, Lord of Symontoun, to the foresaid David de Moravia. About 1375.

Confirmation of the preceding charter by James de Lyndissay, Lord of Crawford and Symontoun. No date.

Renunciation by Osanna de Boyes, daughter and heir of Walter de Boyes, of a plea which she had against Alan de Lawdre anent the said lands, and of all right she had thereto in his favour.

Obligement by Fergus de Erth to Alan de Lawedre, whereby he obliged him to grant charters of the lands of Wormistoun [Urmorastoun], in the regality of Lauder, to the said Alan, and to warrant the same against all men and women; the said lands being sold by Richard de Erth, son to the said Fergus. Dated on the Feast of St. Peter ad Vincula, 1366.

Obligement by Andrew Hebroun, or Trabroun, lord of the same, to Alan de Lawedre, owning the receipt from Alan of 5*l*. 6*s*. 8*d*. sterling to pay his creditor, and obliging himself that neither he nor any other in his name should take penny or pennyworth out of his lands of Newbigging and Burngreys till Alan should be satisfied of his said sum. 24th October 1384.

Resignation by William de Welston in the hands of Alan de Lawdre, Lord of Haltoun, his superior, of the lands of Ayresland, in the barony of Ratho. Dated St. Valentine's Day, 1402.

Precept by Robert II., when Steward of Scotland, for infesting Malcolm, the son of John, the son of Niel of Carrick, in the lands of Whitelaid, in the barony of Leggartwood, as heir, served to the said John, his father. Dated 6th April 1359.

Discharge by Thomas Cissoris to Alan de Lawdre of 22 merks sterling, contained in his obligation. 5th March 1361.

Obligation by Hew Campbell, son to Andrew Campbell, Laird of Lowden, to Alan Lawdre, of Halton, for 6*l*. 13*s*. 4*d*. sterling, as the relief of his lands. Dated 26th May 1394.

Tack by John Kingysse, Laird of Kingyside, to Alan de Lawdre of his lands of Kingyside, in the constabulary of Lawdre, for 10 years, for 26*s*. 8*d*. yearly. Dated 8th June 1387.

Confirmation by Robert King of Scots to John of Halton, of the town and lands of Halton. Dated at Scone, 11th June 1374.

Procuratory by John of Haltoun to Adam de Glendenellbyne and William Elphingston, for resigning his lands of Haltoun in the King's hands, superior thereof. Dated at Kinkell, 13th July 1377.

Precept by the said John to William of Elphingston, his baillie of Halton, for giving sasine to Sir Alan Lawdre and Elizabeth his spouse, of the town and lands of Haltoun. Dated at Kinkell, 15th July 1377.

Charter of the said lands by the said John to the said Sir Alan, bearing to be on payment of a sum of money. Without date.

Precept out of the Chancery of King Robert II. for giving sasine to Alan de Lawdre and Elizabeth his spouse, of the town and lands of Haltoun. Dated at Kindroch, 26th July 1377.

A charter of resignation by the King to the said Alan and his spouse is dated at Kindroch, on the same day as the last.

Charter by John Elder, of Craigy, and Margaret his spouse, discharging to Alan Lawdre, of Haltoun, an annual rent of 6*l*. 0*s*. 4*d*., formerly due to him out of the lands of Halton, with a ratification by Margaret, spouse of the said John. Dated at Craigy, 12th March 1396.

Titles of Norton :—

Charter of confirmation by Robert, Steward of Scotland, confirming a charter by Richard, called Mercator, to Finlaw, son of Henry and Helen his spouse. Without date.

Charter of confirmation by Robert, Steward of Scotland, to Finlaw, son of Henry, of two carrucates of land in Norton, formerly belonging to Ibukes and Annaks, of Nortoun, to be held blench.

Charter of confirmation by Robert, Steward of Scotland, to Alan of Lawdre and his spouse, of the said two carrucates, on the resignation of the said Finlaw. A charter by the said Robert, as King of Scotland, confirming the above charter, was granted on 10th March and 2nd year of his reign.

Charter of confirmation by Robert King of Scots of a charter by Hew Earl of Eglington, to Alan of Lawdre and his spouse. Dated 10th March and 2nd year of the King's reign.

Titles of Ratho :—

Charter of confirmation by Alexander King of Scots, confirming a donation by Henry de Bonne, Earl of Hereford, to William Noble, of two carrucates of land in Ratho. 28th April, no year.

Charter of confirmation by Robert King of Scots to Patrick Noble, of the lands of Westhall of Ratho, for performance of the services used in the time of Alexander King of Scots. Dated at Dundee, 15th October, and 11th year of the King's reign.

Charter of confirmation by John King of Scots to the said Patrick Noble, on the resignation of Thomas Noble, his father, in which the said Patrick is freed from thirlage to the mill of Ratho, which lands were acquired by the predecessors of the said Thomas Noble from Henry Earl of Hereford and Constable of England. Dated at Traquair, 6th December 1294.

Deed of wadset by Thomas Cripnay, of Platt and Scotstown, of the lands of Westhall and Northraw of Ratho and Platt, and of the lands of Scotstown, within the barony of Abercorn, wadsetting the said lands to Alan of Lawdre, and obliging him not to set the said lands without the consent of the said Alan, under a penalty of 200*l.*, one half of which (if exigible) is to go for building the church of St. Andrews, the other to Alan himself. Dated at Edinburgh, 10th December 1375.

HARL OF LAUDER-DALE.

Charter of alienation by Thomas Cripnay of Scotstown of the said lands of Platt and others, to Alan of Lawdre, and that in consideration of the sum of 120*l.* sterling paid to him; to be held blench for payment of a silver penny in the church of Ratho in time of High Mass, and to be holden of his superior, ward. The precept of sasine thereon is dated 16th July 1379.

Charter of approbation and ratification by Egidia Lindsay, spouse to unquhile Hew of Eglington, in her widowhood, confirming to Alan of Lawdre all alienations and assedations made or to be made by Thomas Cripnay to Alan of Lawdre, heritably or otherwise, for all the days of her lifetime, of the lands of Westhall and Northraw of Ratho, reserving to her the annual rent of 4 merks 6 shillings payable furth thereof. Sealed at North Berwick, with the seal of William Lindsay of Byres, her brother, 10th December 1377.

Charter by the said Egidia, and James Douglas of Dalkeith, her second husband, is in the same terms, and is without date.

Charter in the same terms by Elizabeth of Elington, daughter and heir to Hew of Eglington, in her lawful widowhood, with consent of her friends, is without date.

Charter in the like terms by John of Eglington, nephew and heir of the said Hew of Eglington, confirming the foressaid alienations to Alan of Lawdre. Sealed by himself and Alexander Ramsay of Dalhousie, his kinsman. No date.

Obligation by Alexander of Montgomery, laird of Conyton, obliging him to give to Alan Lauder his charter of blench farm of the lands of Platt, Westhall, Northraw, and two ploughlands of Nortoun when required, he delivering to the said Alexander the resignation of Thomas Cripnay. No date.

Another charter by Alexander of Montgomery to the said Alan, is sealed by himself and Alexander Ramsay of Dalhousie. No date.

Disposition by the said Alexander to the said Alan of four merks and eight shillings exigible out of the lands of Platt and Westhall, for a sum paid by the said Alan for relieving his lands of Bonington from James Douglas of Dalkeith and Egidia Lindsay his spouse. No date.

Discharge of said annual rent by the said James Douglas, whereby he had a liferent right from his said spouse. Dated 7th May 1379.

Discharge by the said Alexander to the said Alan of 20*l.* sterling as the price of the annual rent before discharged, which he says is for losing his lands of Bonington. Dated at Tamtallon, 23rd February 1385.

Charter of confirmation by Patrick Cripney, grandson of Thomas Cripney, ratifying all former charters by his grandfather to Alan of Lawdre, of the lands of Platt and others. Sealed in the Monastery of Newbattle, 10th June 1401.

General confirmation by Robert King of Scots to the said Alan Lauder, ratifying all charters and evidents made to him for whatever cause or way throughout the kingdom of Scotland. Dated at Edinburgh, 15th July and 13th year of the King's reign [1402].

Licence by James King of Scots to William Lauder of Halton, to re-edify his house at Halton, and to appoint porters and others officers thereat. Signed by the King himself, and dated at Stirling, 12th October, in the 2nd year of the King's reign.

Writs of the constabulary of Dundee, and of various lands in the neighbourhood of Dundee.

Charter by John King of Scots to Alexander Scrymshour, proceeding on the verdict of an inquest finding that the constable of the Castle of Dundee had been in possession of the lands pertaining thereto, and was in use to receive the duties thereof, therefore granting to the said Alexander the said office of constabulary and privileges thereof. Dated 11th July, 9th year of the King's reign.

Charter by the said John King of Scots to the said Alexander Scrimshour of the lands called Campus Superior prope vill. de Donde ex parte boreali cum illis acris in Campo Occidentali . . . et Constabularia Castri de Donde . . . pro homagio et servitio nobis et successoribus nostris faciendis. Et portando vexillum nostrum in exercitu nostro. Dated 20th June and 10th year of the King's reign.

Precept by Robert Bruce Comes de Carrik unus de Custodibus regni Scotiæ, narrating that Alexander Scrimshour de dono domini Willelmi Wallays infeodatus et sasitus est de Constabularia Castri de Donde et de quibus [dam] dictæ villæ de Donde adjacentibus aliis terris; therefore commanding the Sheriff and Baillies of Forfar as follows, "Vobis nomine Joannis Comyn filii concustodis regni Scotiæ nostræ et nostro mandamus precipimus, Quatenus ipsum in eodem statu in dictis terris et constabularia ponatis et manuteneatis in omnibus sicut easdem tenuit dono dicti Willelmi antiq. custodis dicti regni." 5th December 1303.

Precept by Robert King of Scots for infefting Nicolas Scrimzeour in Maram de Donde, 13th August 1328.

Charter by Robert King of Scots to Nicol Scrimzeour of the office of constabulary of Dundee, with the pertiments, and a hundred shilling land of the dominical lands of Dundee. The reddendo is carrying the King's standard in his army for all other burdens, &c. Dated 10th February 1317.

Charter by the said Robert King of Scots to the said Nichol Scrimzeour of the said office of standard-bearer, and of the lands of Hillfield, South Bordland, and Maryfield, with the pertiments, in the barony of Inverkeithing, which lands pertained to Roger Mowbray, who was forfeited. The reddendo is "Inveniendobis et heredes nostri dictus Nicholaus et heredes sui in officio supradicto duos homines sufficientes armatos ad vexilla nostra portanda in exercitu nostro pro quibus nos et heredes nostri inveniemus equos. Dated at Aberdeen, 12th March 1323.

Warrant under the Quarter Seal of King James V., directed to the Lyon and the Heralds and Pursevants, and commanding the Treasurer to make payment to James Scrimzeour, constable of Dundee, of the bygone fees and duties due to him for carrying the King's banner: Narrating that by reason of his office of bannerman, and his infeftment of the same, the said James was entitled to have, at "the time of bearing our said banner, twa grathit horse for bering of the same, or els forty punds striveling, to furnish him in horse and harness according to his office." Dated 3rd September 1528.

Old writs of Bulzeon and Katermaylen, formerly belonging to the family of Dudhope.

Confirmation by Laurence de Karramund to Rodolphus de Donde, of a donation by the son of William Chaunturel, to Rodulph of Kethermalyn, of the tenement of Melgund. Without date.

Instrument of resignation ad remanentiam by Margaret Mortimer, relict of Robert Ross of Tarbet, of her fourth part of the lands of Katermalyn in the hands of John Scrimzeour of Dudhope. Dated 7th April 1447.

Precept of clare constat by James Cramond of Aldbar, for infefting John Scrimzeour of Dudhope in the lands of Bulzeon, alias Katermalyn, and mill thereof, lying in the barony of Melgund and shire of Forfar. Dated 24th February 1553.

Old titles of Stradichty and others belonging to the family of Dudhope.

Sasine, dated 14th April 1425, in favour of Thomas Clerk, burgess of Dundee, of the lands of Kirkcoun, of Strathdighty, in the regality of Kirrymuir, on precept by William Douglas, Earl of Angus.

Bond by the Earl of Angus, whereby he obliged himself to receive James Scrimzeour, his cousin, to be his tenant in the said lands. Dated 20th January 1444.

Assignment by the said Thomas Clark to John Scrimzeour, son of James Scrimzeour of Dudhope, of the foressaid lands. Dated 6th March 1450.

Charter by David King of Scots, in favour of Alexander Scrymseour of Dundee, of the lands of Ferdell, in the shire of Perth. Dated 14th March, and the 29th year of the King's reign.

Charter by Alexander King of Scots, in favour of Gillascop McGilchrist, of the five penny land of Fenchran, &c., in Errigaythel. 1st August and 26th year of the King's reign.

Precept by Alexander de Ile, Earl of Ross, Lord of the Isles and barony of Kincardine, for infefting Sir John Scrimzeour of Dudhope in the lands of Fasladewach, Balmaquyn, Acharny, and mill thereof. Dated 10th October 1444.

Gifts and mortifications of lands, tenements, acres, and annual rents lying about the town of Dundee, by many of the burgesses of Dundee, the family of Dudhope, and others, to the chaplainries within the church of Dundee, called St. James's, St. Stephen's, St. Michael's, St. Mary's, and St. Salvator's. Presentations to said chaplainries, and other old charters and sasines of

ART OF JAMES KING.

burghal tenements in Dundee not connected with the said chaplainries.

Charter by Robert King of Scots, in favour of Gilbert de Glastre, whom failing, to Alexander Scrimzeour of Dundee, of the lands and castle of Glacestre, in Argyllshire. 3rd May 1374.

The following old charters escaped the general destruction of the Lauderdale titles. They are mostly grants to the Abbey of Dryburgh, and have been printed in the chartulary of Dryburgh:—

Carta resignationis per Joannem de Maxwel, militem dominum de Carlawerok in favorem Alexandri Mateland de tota terra de Pencatland jacente in vicecomitatu de Edynburgh. Circa 1343.

Carta per Robertum de Maxwell dominum de Carlawerok, Deo et Beatæ Mariæ et Monasterio de Dryburgh, de tota illa terra cum pertinent. jacen. in villa et territorio de West Pencatland super resignatione Joannis Mautulent domini de Thrillystane. Circa 1400.

Carta per Joannem Maxwel de Pencatland militem Deo et Ecclesiæ Sanctæ Mariæ de Dryburgh de Patronatu Ecclesiæ de Pencatland. Circa 1343.

Charter by John Mautulant, Lord of Thirlstane, son of Robert Mautulant, to the Monastery of Dryburgh, of the lands of Snawdoun.

Donatio per Ricardum de Morvil Beatæ Mariæ et Sancto Leonardo et Infirmis fratribus Hospitalis de Louerd de terra ubi Hospitalis de Louerd sita est. Circa 1170.

Donatio per Willelmum de Abirnithy militem to the Monastery of Dryburgh de Molendino de Ulkistoun in villa de Louedre. A.D. 1273.

The following relate to the Priory of Haddington:—

Notarial instrument containing commission by the Convent of the Abbey of Haddington to Elizabeth Hepburn, prioress thereof, to feu, rent, or set in tack the lands belonging to the monastery. Dated 25th May 1559.

Charter of alienation by the said Elizabeth, prioress foressaid, to William Maitland, younger, of Lethington, Principal Secretary of State to Mary Queen of Scotland, of the dominical lands of the Monastery of Haddington, the lands of Muirtoun, Westhopes, Easthopes, Woodend, Newlands, Rindslaw, Snawdoun, Carfrae, and Little Newton, all in the constabulary of Haddington, for payment of certain quantities of victual and sums of money. Dated 6th December 1563.

JOHN STUART.

THE MARQUIS
OF AILSA.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF THE MARQUIS OF AILSA.

The Lordship of Galloway, although it may be considered to have been part of Scotland in the twelfth century, yet continued in possession of its peculiar Celtic laws and customs for more than two centuries afterwards.

In the reign of King William the Lion, the great territories of the Lords of Galloway suffered a division, whereby the country of Carrick which formed part of them was assigned to Duncan, grandson of Fergus, Lord of Carrick, who became Earl of Carrick.

Of this ancient stock it would seem that the family of Kennedy, now represented by Lord Ailsa, was originally a branch.

The first of them appearing in record is Gilbert of Carrick, whose son Duncan of Carrick, in the time of William the Lion, granted to the nuns of St. Mary, of North Berwick, the patronage of the church of Kirkbride, in Carrick.

Shortly after this Niel, Earl of Carrick, granted to Roland, of Carrick, probably the grandson of the above Duncan, a charter, which is the first of a series, all illustrative of points of clan polity.

By this deed the Earl granted and confirmed to Roland of Carrick and his heirs the right of being head of their kin in all pleas relating to Kenkenoll, and the office of Baillie, and the leadership of the men of the country under the Earl. This charter was confirmed by King Alexander III., at Stirling, in the year 1276. These documents are found in the Register of the Great Seal. The first original charter of this series now at Culzean is one by King Robert III., dated 28th January 1405, whereby he confirmed to James Kennedy, son of Sir Gilbert Kennedy, Knight, the right of being head of his kin, and the leadership of the men of the country, as in the earlier grants.

On the 3rd August 1455, King James II. confirmed to Gilbert Kennedy, of Dunure, the same privileges, but with some remarkable variations of expression. He constituted “dictum Gilbertum et heredes suos caput “progeniei et consanguineorum ac amicorum de lez “Makmaykains et de Werichsach tam in Calumpniis “quam in aliis articulis negociorum ad supradictum “officium spectantibus cum conduccione et gubernacione “dicti primogeniei et hominum, ac armorum ostensione “et serviciis de lez Kynchaldiis ac cum devoriis [etc.] “adeo libere sicut aliquis capitaneus seu caput dicti “progeniei dictum officium . . . tenuit seu possedit.”

On 23rd October 1454, James II. granted a charter to John Kennedy, son and apparent heir of Gilbert Kennedy, of Dunure, of the said offices, on the resignation of the said Gilbert. There is a substitution of the brothers of John in succession, and a reservation of Gilbert's liferent. “Reservata tamen administracione dictorum “officiorum cum pertinenciis predicto Gilberto Kennedy, pro toto tempore vite sue.”

Besides this peculiar and indeed unique class of documents, the collection at Culzean comprises an extensive and valuable series of family muniments, especially useful for the history of the district, but furnishing also illustrations of national history and policy.

Of these I noted the following:—Copy of a remission by King Robert I. to Gilbert of Carryk, Knight, for the surrender of the Castle of Lochdoune to the English, by Arthur, his son-in-law, and for the delivery of Cristofer Seton, the king's son-in-law, “sibi impositi licet minus “juste, ut verius intelleximus.” The remission, which is undated, is recorded in the Register of the Great Seal.

Charter by King David II. to John de Kennedy, of the lands, tenements, and possessions belonging to or acquired by him, and confirming the same to him, dated 18th January 1357.

Charter by Marjory de Montgomery, cousin and heir of Christian de Montgomery, to John Kennedy, of the lands of Cassilis, in the earldom of Carrick, dated 27th August 1363, with her seal, and also with the common seals of the Monastery of Crossragwell, and the burgh of Ar, and the seals of Thomas Flemingy, Earl of Wygton, and Sir Duncan Wallays, Knight, then sheriff of Ayr. Witnesses, John Abbot, of Paisley, Robert Abbot, of Kilwyning, and others. Charter by King David II., dated 27th August 1363, confirming the last charter.

Charter by Malcolm, son of Roland of Carrick, to John Kennedy, of Dunure, of the twopenny land called Freuchane and Kenechane, in the parish of Keuechanel Munterduffy, in the Earldom of Carrick. The charter is without date, and is witnessed by John Stewart, Earl of Carric, Sir Nicolas, Abbot of Crossragwell, Gilbert Kennedy, John, son of Henry, John, son of Alexander, Adam, son of Thomas, and others.

Charter by Thomas Flemingy, heir of Malcolm, Earl of Wigton, deceased, to Sir Gilbert Kennedy, Knight, son and heir of John Kennedy of Dunure, of the town of Kyrkyntolach. Witnessed by Sir Duncan Wallace, Nicolas of Knocdolian, Adam of Foulerton, William of Conyngnam, the son, Knights, Gilbert Kennedy, John, son of Henry, Adam, son of Thomas, and others.

Charter by King Robert II., to John Kennedy, of Dunure, of the half of the barony of Dalrymple, on the resignation of Malcolm, son of Gilchrist, son of Adam de Dalrymple. Dated 30th March 1371.

Copy of deed of Foundation by John Kennedy, of Dunure, of a chapel in honor of St. Mary Virgin, near the cemetery of the parish church of Maybole, for a priest and three chaplains to celebrate divine service for the weal of himself, Mary his wife, and their children, conveying various lands and annual rents. Dated at Dounour, by 29th November 1371.

Gift of King Robert II., to John Kennedy, of Dunure, of the relief due and payable from the lands which belonged to the deceased Arthur de Dalrymple. Dated 4th May 1375.

Charter by King Robert II. to John Kennedy of Dunure, of all the property acquired by him in time bygone, and confirming the same to him. Dated 13th November 1381.

Letter by John Kennedy, of Dunure, ordaining the senior priest of the chapel founded by him at Maybole, to be the provost of the same, with right of government. Dated 1st March 1383.

Charter by Malcolm Flemingy, of Biggar, to Sir Gilbert Kennedy, son of John Kennedy, of Dunure, and Agnes Maxwell, his wife, and a series of heirs, of the forty shilling land of Kirkintulach, and ratifying charter by the said John Kennedy, of Dunure, to the said Sir Gilbert, and the heirs therein mentioned. Dated 27th January 1384.

MARQUIS OF AILSA.

MARQUIS
OF AIZAS.

Charter by King Robert II. to the chaplain, celebrating divine service in the chapel of St. Mary of Maybole, founded by John Kennedy, of Dunure, of the ten pound land of Nether Glennop, in the earldom of Carrick, which had formerly been given by the ancestor of the said John to the abbot and canons of Bangor, "et que nos contingunt racione forisfacture eorundem ad pacem et fidem Regis Angliæ existencium de presenti." Dated at Kilwinning, 17th September 1385.

Charter by John the Stewart of Scotland and Earl of Carrick, ratifying the last charter. Dated at Dundonald, 13th February 1385.

Bull of Pope Clement VII., in favour of Thomas Hay, clerk of the diocese of St. Andrew's, dispensing with the defect of his birth,—he being the son of a bishop descended from an honourable family of barons, his mother also being of an honourable race,—declaring him capable of promotion to the office of the priesthood at the lawful age, and to hold benefices, and if one of them should be in a church where his father is beneficed, yet if the same is canonically conferred on him, he shall be allowed, in the presence or absence of his said father, to celebrate in a free and lawful manner masses and other divine offices, provided he do not succeed in this benefice to his father, nor be joined with him in the ministry of the altar. Dated at St. Peter's, 14th of the calends of November, and the ninth year of the Pope's Pontificate (1387), directed "Reverendo in Christo Patri et Domino Domino Jacobo Episcopo Rossensi domino suo observando, Scoto, in Scotia."

Indenture dated at Stirling, 8th November 1408, between Robert Duke of Albany, and Sir Gilbert Kennedy, of Dunoir, whereby, in reference to a deed of settlement made by the said Sir Gilbert of his lands of Dunoir and others on a series of heirs, of which the said governor grants "that he na his ayris salnocht mak renoucatione of the said joynt feftment, na talye na mak impediment, na distroublance tharein in time to cum be na way; For the quhilk consent and gude will the said Schyr Gilbert has made his duelling and speciale retenew with our said lorde the governor, and with his launchfull ayris, in pece and in were, al at his gudely power, for al the terme of his lyfe before al uther dedelike personis, his allegiance aucht to the king anerly out tane."

Charter by John Macgillilan, son and heir of Ingelram Macgillilan, to Fergus Kennedy, of Bomunyn, of the half of the upper barony of Glastyncher, commonly called Dalecarn, with his seal and the common seal of the Abbey of Crossragual. At Corsereguall, 18th March 1415. Witnesses, Alexander Kennedy, of Ardstynchere, John Cathkert of that ilk, Sir John of Hamiltoun, lord de le Ross, Knight, John Kennedy, of Dalsask, Alexander of Hamiltoun, and Alan of Cathkert, with others.

Instrument dated 2nd July 1444, setting forth that in presence of James, Bishop of St. Andrew's, appeared Sir John Kennedy, Lord of Blaucharne, Knight, and John Kennedy, his son and apparent heir, who became men for the term of ten years to Gilbert Kennedy, Lord of Dunnure, who was also present and received the oath of homage and fealty of the said Sir John and his son,—their fealty to the King and their feudal superiors being excepted. The said Gilbert was to pay yearly to the said Sir John 20 merks, besides other 10 merks for his homage and service, and because the said sum of 10 merks seemed for the time to be too small, the Bishop of St. Andrews bound himself to pay to him two marks in addition. The transaction took place at Cas-cyllis, near the great garden thereof, in presence of Sir Henry Wardlaw, Lord of Terry, Knight, Robert of Mure, Esquire and George Martyne, citizen of St. Andrews.

James Kennedy, Bishop of St. Andrews, was brother of Gilbert Kennedy, who was created Lord Kennedy about ten years after.

Bond of manrent by Gilbert Kennedy, son of Alexander Kennedy, of Ardstyncher, to Gilbert Kennedy of Dunure, for the lands of arsene. Dated 23rd March 1447, with his seal of arms. Witnesses, Edward of Maxwell, son to Lord Maxwell, Andrew Agnew, of Salchare, Rychard Singlar, Patrick Agnew, and William of Twynam. At Calmanale, 23rd April 1447.

Charter by King James II. to Gilbert Kennedy, of Dunure, of the keeping of the Castle of Lochdoun and lands called the Pennyland belonging thereto, on the resignation of John Kennedy of Coyf. Dated 17th May 1450.

Charter by Finlaus Asenan dominus de Caruchan to Gilbert Kennedy, son of the deceased Alexander Kennedy, of Ardstyncher, of the lands of Oagangill, in the parish of Girvan, on the resignation of William Mackenzel, 23rd July 1450. Reddendo, a pair of gloves on the feast of the translation of St. Cuthbert at the church of Girvan. Dated at Kyrcodine. Witnesses, Colin Mac Alyssunder de Daltussen, Maurice McCharry, John Murdochson, Maurice McGilroe, Martine McLurg, John of Achynell, Malcolm Assenane, with others.

Charter of King James II. to Gilbert Kennedy of Dunure, declaring him and his heirs male chief of his name, and conferring on him the office of Baillie of Carrick, on his own resignation. Dated 13th February 1450.

Another Charter by the King of the same tenor, on a like resignation, Dated 25th May 1451.

Charter by Gilbert Kennedy, of Dunure, in favour of a chaplain for celebrating divine service in the collegiate church of Maybole, for the weal of himself, Catherine Maxwell, his wife, and their children, of the lands of Larginlane, and others. Dated 18th May 1451.

Charter of James Earl of Douglas to Mark Haliburton, his kinsman and secretary, of the lands of Glen-genate, and others, in the barony of Trabeach and earldom of Carrick, on the resignation of John Auchinleck of that ilk. Dated 28th March 1453, at Douglas. Witnesses, Hugh Earl of Ormond, James Lord Balvany, James Lord of Hamylton, Andrew Ker of Auldonburn, and others.

Obligation by James Earl of Douglas to the said Mark Haliburton, narrating the above grant, and stating that if he should happen to be troubled in his possession of the said lands by Margaret, the Earl's wife, or his heirs, the earl shall be bound to provide him in a ten pound land of equal value in Lothian, Clydesdale, or Galloway. Dated 28th March 1454, at Douglas, and sealed and signed by the Earl, "James erl Dowglass."

Resignation by Gilbert Kennedy, of Dununre, of the office of Baillie of Carrick and others in the King's hands, for infettment to be given to John Kennedy, his son and apparent heir. Dated 12th October, 1454.

Charter following thereon by King James II. Dated 15th November 1454.

Charter by King James II. to James Stewart, of Auchterhouse, his brother, of the half of the barony of Trabeach in Carrick, which had come into the King's hand through the forfeiture of Mark de Haliburton. Dated 19th April 1457.

Charter by King James II. to Marion Countess of Angus, of the above lands on the resignation of the said James Stewart. Dated 20th March 1457.

Discharge by Thomas Dunduf of that ilk to Morris McCharry, for the sum of 50 gold nobles, paid by the said Maurice to the said Thomas and his heirs, with Janet Dunduf of the four merkland of Gallachan. Dated 21st June 1462.

Charter by William, prior of Whithorn, to Gilbert Kennedy, son of the deceased Alexander Kennedy of Ardstyncher, and Margaret Cunningham, wife of the said Gilbert Kennedy, in the twenty-five shilling land of Craigneil, on the resignation of Robert Shanks. Dated 9th August 1464.

Charter by Thomas Kennedy, of Carslo, heritable coroner of the earldom of Carrick, to Thomas Kennedy, of Craigfyn, his son, of the office of coroner of the earldom of Carrick, with the fees thereof, to be held of the King. Witnesses, Mr. John Law, chaplain, John Chalmer, Alderman of Ayr, and James Preston, notary. Dated 20th May, 1513.

Charter by John Earl of Ross and Lord of the Isles, to his native esquire John Davidson, son and heir of Gilbert Davidson, of the teinds of Greenan in the earldom of Carrick. Dated Killuinan, 2nd April, 1475.

Obligation by Donald de Ilay, of Glins and Dunivaig, principall councillor of John, Earl of Ross, and Lord of the Isles, to warrant and defend the last charter. Dated at Irvine, 8th October 1475.

Charter by John de Ilay to John Davidson, his native esquire, son of the late Gilbert Davidson, of the lands of Greenan. Dated at Islay 20th August 1476. Witnesses, Rolland Maclean of Dowart, Donald Balloch, of Denovan, Hector Maclean of Cullachboy, Nigel Macbryde, Archdean of Sodor, and Sir James Werk, priest.

Procuratory by John Lord Kennedy to John Dundas of that ilk to appear in presence of King James IV., and resign the office of Baillie of Carrick for new infettment to David Kennedy, his oldest son and apparent heir. Dated 3rd July 1489.

Definitive sentence by John Sproull, vicar of Carmunnock, Commissary of Mr. Martin Reid, official of Glasgow, in the cause of bastardy moved before him at the instance of William Mundwell, son and apparent

LANS OF AIZAS.

MURDOCH
114A.

heir of John Mundwell, of Cark, and the late Katherine Kennedy, his wife, sister of the late David Kennedy, of Craignell, against John Kennedy, of Cragneil, a minor, son of the said David, procreate between him and Besseta Reid, his wife. The plea was that John Kennedy is illegitimate, and had been begotten in incest, in respect it was known that David and Besseta were, before being contracted in marriage, related within the fourth degree, and their marriage was not solemnized in the face of the church, and therefore William Mundwell ought to succeed to the goods of David, being only son of Catherine Kennedy, his sister, procreated between her and John Mundwell, her husband. The official absolved John from the imputation of bastardy, whereupon instruments were taken: in the metropolitan church of Glasgow, on 13th August 1511. Witnesses, Sir John Hawick and Sir Martin Reid, chaplains, Mr. James Neilson, vicar of Colmonell, Mr. Walter Curry, and Mr. James Houston.

Commission by David, Bishop of Galloway, and commendator of the Abbey of Tongland, with consent of the chapter of Whithorn, constituting Gilbert, Earl of Cassilis, Baillie over all the lands of the Bishop of Galloway, and also conferring on his lordship the office of captain and keeper of the Manor Place, and Loch of Inch, in the Rinnis of Galloway, "for the part that he has kept to "our Souerane lord in his les age, and tomy lord Gouvernour his tutour and protectour." Dated at Whithorn, 25th March 1516.

Decreet at the instance of Gilbert, Earl of Cassilis, against John Dunduff of that ilk, in the Baillie Court of Carrick, holden at the Broomhill beside Maybole, by Fergus Dalrymple, and Edward Waugh, baillies of Carrick, relative to the teinds of Dunduff. Dated 31st October 1533.

Instrument on the institution of Thomas Hay, Abbot of Glenluce, into the abbacy thereof, bearing that Sir John Mill, procurator for the abbot, passed to the personal presence of Mr. David Gibson, priest and canon of the metropolitan church of Glasgow, and presented to him a Bull of Pope Pius IV. in favour of the said abbot, dated, at St. Peter's at Rome, 15th of the calends of May, 1560, requiring him to put the same to execution, which he having received and read, thereafter passed to the Abbey of Glenluce, and to the principal gate thereof, knocked three or four several times and demanded admission into the choir, was refused access by Cuthbert Kirkpatrick, servant to John Gordon of Lochinvar, who had forcibly occupied the abbey and expelled the monks therefrom, the said David then read and published the Bull to all having interest, and gave canonical institution of the abbacy to Sir John Mill as procurator foresaid, by delivering to him a cap and a book in token of his possession and government, and thereafter he passed to the church of the Abbey, and in presence of the parishioners therein assembled, again published the said Bull, when Sir David Bullock, prior, Sir John Galbraith, sub-prior, Sir John Anderson, vicar, and Sir Andrew Langlands, Sir Alexander Cairns, and Sir William Halkerton, monks, then chapterly convened, unanimously admitted and received the said Thomas Hay for their abbot and superior. Whereupon the said David Gibson protested that the Bull was duly published, and institution given in terms thereof. Witnesses, Andrew Agnew, sheriff of Wigton, David Kennedy of Baltersan, Hugh Kennedy of Cascreoch, James Kennedy of Ochterlour, and Archibald Kennedy of Synones. Dated at the Abbey of Glenluce on the feast of St. Michael, 1560.

Instrument dated at Glenluce, 17th November 1561, whereby it is shown that John Gordon of Lochinvar removed himself and his servants from the Abbey and delivered up the same to Gilbert, Earl of Cassilis, heritable Baillie thereof, by delivery of the key to the Earl, and that in terms of a decret arbitral by James Commendator of Pittenweem, ratified by the said Earl, the said Abbot, and the said John Gordon, at Holyroodhouse, on the 4th November 1561.

Instrument on the institution of Mr. Allan Stewart, Abbot of Crossragwell into the abbacy thereof, bearing his compearance in the abbey, holding in his hands a deed of gift by Queen Mary, and relative letters by John, Archbishop of St. Andrews, Primate of Scotland, and papal legate, conferring on him the said abbacy. Whereupon he received institution and possession thereof, and was received and admitted into the Church by Sir Michael Dewar, the superior, and the monks. Witnesses, Allan Stewart and John Stewart, sons of the laird of Galrig, Allan Stewart in Braidly, and Patrick Wooplay. Dated at Crossragwell, 16th December 1565.

Licence by King James VI. and the Privy Council of Scotland to John, Earl of Cassilis, permitting him to go out of the Kingdom into the parts of France, Germany, and the low countries, and to remain there for five years. Dated at Newmarket, 24th January 1619.

A series of 13 letters from Queen Mary of Scotland to the Earl of Cassilis are arranged in a volume by themselves.

The first is dated Edinburgh, 29th May 1562. In it she states that, with the advice of her lords, she and her good sister, the Queen of England, are to meet at some place near the borders of both realms, "to the "end we may be sic familiarite intertean the peace "and increas farder amytie betwix us," requiring the Earl to be ready to attend her by the 15th of July next, at Edinburgh, well furnished for a stay of two or three months, and because her whole train will be clad in dule, he and his company are to be after that sort.

Precept ordaining a letter to pass under the Privy Seal, granting a tack of the Abbey of Crossragwell to Gilbert Earl of Cassilis for 13 years, renewable till the full end of 19 years, for payment of the sum therein specified. Dated 10th February 1565.

Letter from the Queen, Edinburgh, 16th March 1565.

"Be reson this trowblis laitlye occurrit hais tane sum "staye quhairthrow sik forcis and assemleis as we "requeyrit ar nocht at this present necessar, yet "newirtheles we pray yow to addres yourself, accom- "paneit with your substantius houshold and kynnis- "men, and sik barounis as ye ken ar voilland to forder "our enterprysis, to cown to ws with all possible "diligence, and at meiting ye sall knaw forder off "owr mynd and intentioun."

The Queen writing from Carlisle, 20th May 1568.

"Forsamekle as I for the saalfte of my bodie findand "na suir acces nor place within my realme to retire "me at this tyme, as ye may knaw I was constrainit "to leve the samen and to pas to this cuntry of Ing- "land, quhair I assur you I have bene rycht weill res- "saut and honorablie accompanied and traicted. I "have deliberit to pas fortherward in France to pray "the King, my guid broder, to support and help me to "delyner and releue my Realme of sic Rebellions "troubulis and oppressionis that now regnis within the "samin, and to depart furth of this toun the xxiv. day "of this instant moneth. Thairfore, I pray yow effec- "tuuslie traist cusing, that ye in the menetye hold "yourself constant in my service, and aduerteiss your "freindis and neighbouris . . . to serue me quhan the "occatiounsal offer, as ye have done trewly afore this "tyme, speciallie at the last battal whair (as I am ad- "werteist) ye have done richt weill your devoir, ye "beiland on your featis whilk sall nocht be forgot be "me in tyme coming. With the help of God I houp "to returne agae about the xv. day of August nixt "with gud company for the effect foresaid, God will- "ing. This I beleve ye will do, as my traist is and "wes aye in yow, and for to mak ane end of my bill I "will commit yow to the protectioun of the Eternal "God, at Carlell, the xx. of Maij 1568."

[On the back.] I pray you, my lord, excus this stamp because the quene has na uther at this time.

Another letter from the Queen is dated from Carlisle, 25th May 1568. "We have reassanit your writting the "xxv. of this instant, and thairby understand your "constancie quhilk is weill provin to us, and mon "never be forgot sa lang as we leve. . . . We are "heir honorablie reassaut and in vere gud hop schortlie "to writt to yow sic thinges that salbe to your confort "and our weill, for we dont nocht to be put in our "awin place agane, with the grace of God, the help of "guid freindis heir, your L. and our loving subjectis "assistance very schortlie, als sone ye will beging to "have some experience. In the mene tyme ye may "weill assure yourself thair sal na eardlie pleasour "confort as quhill we help to releue our trublit freindis. "Pray and you to exercise your wit to entertene and "confort them, quham ye find bear us gude mynd and "do that ye can to winn sic freindis as ye find is "nocht notable offenderis to ws quhais fauoris we "desyre nocht."

On 6th July 1568, the Queen writes from Carlisle. Refers to her recent communications and his continued fidelity, "nocht doubting bot ye will contienew firme and "stable in the samyn, and yet being, thankis to God, in "gud health and weelfair, we thocht expedient be this "present to assure you of the samyn. Praying you, that "ye latt, my lord Murraye, ressaue nane of our mailles "in thai parties nor nane of his. Bot that ye uptak "and ressaue the samyn, bestowing it on soldatis to do

MARQUIS OF AILES.

MARQUIS OF AILSA.

"we service quhair ye have a do with thame sicklyk, as we haif written to the Laird of Lochinwer and utheris in the cuntrey. My Lord Flemyng arrivit yesterdaye to us fra Loundoun quha is boun in Scotland, to whom ye sall gif credreit, and will schaw yow of our proceedingis at mair lenth and amply, nor we think it expedient to wreit at this tyme. Feir nocht quhat contrarious tydingis be schawin yow of us for, God willing, our trew and faythful subjectis will gett relief be France and Spayne, suppois Ingland will nocht assist us to the destruction of our Enemyis and your honor and comfort." The following words are in the Queen's own hand, "Your mest assured frind."

The next is dated Bowtoun, 23rd October 1568. "We haif understand your gud mynd and service declarit to us . . . be Lord Boyde. . . . Ye sall wytt that at this conference quhilk hes bene in York betwix our Commissioneris and thais of the Quen, our Gud Sisteris, quhair our rebellis hes beene hard, and found nathing to thair advantage, our affaires (thankis to God) ar proceedit in gud maner and weill advanced, and the Quene, our gud sister, in the meanetyme hes desyrit vs to send sum of our lordis towartis hir, as in lyk maner of the said is rebellis will be thair. Quhairfor we haif send up our traist counsallouris the Bishop of Ross, my lord Hereis, and the Abbot of Kilwynning at quhais returning we luik to haif ane gud resolution, and as we ar advertised of the futherance thair of in the same manner sall mak yow participant of the samyn."

She renews her promise to reward his good service, and with reference "to sic ane mater as he presently desires," she adds, "considerand the estait we are presentlie in could nocht fulfill your haill desyre in effect as ye requyrit as vnalabill for your profeitt, quhair of we haif communicat with the said beirar at mair lenth. . . . Praying yow to continue in keiping the cuntrey and our faythfull subjectis (so far as ye may) in gud peace and quyetnes till our obedience." The following addition is in the Queen's own hand:—"Ye schal be assured that I schal be als kerful off your weil and off your hous as you schal wusche me, as ye schai heir by your awn man waum to I hef spoknll my mynd. Your richt gud Cusignes."

The next is dated Bowtoun, 6th December 1568. "Forsamekill as we ar advertisit that our Commissioneris for dyuers resonabill causis hes brokin the negociacioun of our affaires, quhilk wes afair our Sister the Quene of England, and hes tane up the mater fra her swa we persais na gud meanis to be haid thairby, heirfor seing our rebellis continewis in the destruction thai may do to us, our faithful subjectis, and realme, with intention to do war fra this furth, nor in tymes bypast gif thai be sufferit, we praye yow that ye be in reddines with your haill freindis and force in substantioun maner to prevene the tyme with the saidis rebellis, and tak the first advantage may be gotten of thame, nocht only to stop thair waye in hame cuming gif it uar possible, bot presentlie gif ye can apprehend any of the principallis of thame in handis quha ar at hame lyk as thai haif of ouris that na mair tyme be lost. We haif nocht as yitt gotten advertisment heirof be our saidis commissioneris bot swa sone we gett the samyn ye salbe participant, God willing, Quhome mott preserve you."

"Bowtoun, 5th January 1568. We haif ressaunt your lettir fra your servitor Sanders Eclis, quha hes schawin us of twa horsis ye haif send us standing in Dumfries, because as yitt we ar nocht resolut that thai sould cum heir. Thanking yow werraye hertlie thair of and hes desyrit the said Sanders to retene the said horsis with himself in Dumfries till we get uthir newes from the Court of Ingland, and that for ane x. or xii. dayis to the effect we maye then know quhat salbe done with the same. Quhairfor ye sall excus him of his long tary. We haif na uthir newes to wryt to yow than thais we haif writtin with the laird of Skeldoun quhilkis, as thai occur ye salbe advertisit of the samen."

The next letter is dated Tutbery, 10th February 1568. In it the Queen refers to the Earl's faithful constancy and "now specially seing the resolution of our affaires and proceeding thair of ar sa neir apperantie to tak gud effect. Prayis yow that ye will perseweir in setting forwart all that quhilk may redound to the weillfair and advancment of our authoritie. And albeit we wryt nocht sa ampie and sa oft to every ane of yow as we wald do, for dyuers discommoditeis, and cheiflie becaus our lettres are commounly tane be the waye, yett be nocht discouragit nor skar nocht

"thairat gif we wryt to thame only of quhome ye may understand our desyre weill aneuch, and think nocht that we leif for that to esteme ewerie man in his awin degrie. Bot considering our commoditie that we maye nocht wryt to all ye sall excuse us thairin, Quhairfor we haif despeschit our lovit servitor, the Lard of Gartly, present beirar heirof, towartis all thais with quhome he may communicat to schaw yow our mynd mair ampie nor we can wryte quhome ye sall credreit and sicklyke our traist Cusigne and Counsallour, the Duke of Chastelherault, being retournit in our realme, will declair and mak mair manifest unto yow our will and intention."

The following is an addition by the Queen herself, "ie vous prie en labssance de mi lord boyd que ie retiens pour vn temps pour mon seruisse suporter et maintenir son fils et seruiteurs en leur actions mi lord heris vous informera de lestat de mes affaires ie vous prie aussi vser de son bon conseil comme celui qui scet lestat des choses issi."

Writing from Tutbery, 7th April 1569, the Queen wonders at not having heard this long time of advertisements furth of Scotland. "Now presentlie we have ressaunt the double of certane articlis quhilk the Quene our Gud sister hes send to us, delyerit to hir be Mr. Johne Wod, contening the headis of certane commowning betuix the Duke of Chastelherault and utheris in his name with the Erle of Murraie at Glasgow, the xiii day of Marche last wes quhairin thair is dyveris headis contenit nocht onlie prejudice to us, bot also to thair awin honour, dewitie, and promesses sa oft tymes maid and confermiit to us as to thair Souerane, quhilk makis us on na wayis to beleif bott the same ar invented be our rebellis as dyuers utheris has bene of befoir, to caus us take ane ewill opinioun of our faythful subjectis, quhilk we will nocht do unto the tyme we be surely aduertisit, nocht doubting that ye will remane in lykmaner constant towart us" and let her know at least of his own part in all proceedings, "for (praysit be God) we ar in hoip of ane gud succes and expedition in our causes throw the gud intertenement and confortabill writingis that we haif ressaunt fra the Quene our gud sister, as also be sic assured advertisementis and lettres that we haif presentlie gottin of France, quhilk the present beirar our Servitor will mak knawin to yow, quhome ye sall credeir." Referring [etc.]

The Queen's next letter is dated Wingfield, 4th June 1569. "Forsamekill as in tyme by past we haif ewer advertesit yow be our lettres of our proceedingis with the Quene of England, our gud sister, nocht sa amply as we wold haif done be resson of the discommoditie of passage hes bene betuix thair realemes, bot at the leist of the gud opinioun we hade of the resolution thair of, and now our traiste counsigne and counsallour my Lord Boyd, ane of our Commissioneris, towartis our said sister being retournit fra hir and hir counsall we haif despeschit him with thir presentis in our realme to declair unto yow at lenth the treuth and gud estait of our affaires and our mynd in all thingis, Quhilk becaus of his sufficiency we wold nocht wryt amply. Bot referring the same to him [etc.]"

The last of the Queen's letters is dated from Shefeld 6th May 1571. In it she understands that amid all the revolts of the subjects he has borne a good mind towards her "yet partlie for feir of los of his gudis and partlie be the crafty persuasions of our enymeis ye haif bene constrainit ether to concour with our aduersaires, or ellis to ly by and abstrack your forces from the ayde and supporte of our Lieutenantis," &c. Yet she will not impute his assistance to her rebellis in evil part, but still esteem him a dutiful subject in his heart, and because her intent is to support him and encourage him to profess openlie his obedience to her as his natural Sovereign. She for that cause has given charge to the Bishop of Galloway to declare to him her good mind and will, "quha as ane faithful Commissioner hes weil done his devoir in treating with the Quene our gud sister for our restitution and releif of yow our gud subjectis and seing ther is no occasioun nocht withstanding this new delay to be disparit of the obteneing of ane finall end of our lang swtis at our said gud sisteris hand we will yow in tymes to cum to declair yourself sic as heir efter ye wald have us your frend for ever." She asks him to assist her said cousin with aid and arms, and has assigned out of her thirds as much yearly as will make his bishoprick of Galloway free of all pensions during his lifetime, praying that he would make payment of as much as should be assigned to him out of his abbeyes of Glenluce and Crossragall of

MARSH OF AILSA.

ACQUIS ALLIAL.

the thirds thereof which would be allowed by the Queen's Collectors [etc.].

In the charter-room is a cabinet, in the drawers of which is an unarranged collection of papers, among which are a good many family letters of the 17th century. Several of these are from the Duchess of Hamilton, in one of which, dated 15th September 1659, to the Earl of Cassilis, she informs him that "When my Lord went first to the General [Monck] he was pleased to give him a fortnight's tyme to advise whether he would sign the engagement or not upon his perell that he should come to Dalkeith at the fortnight's end. At which tyme the General took such paines to perswade him to syne that paper, which would free him from the trouble of imprisonment, but he refusing that, all the favour he could obtain was one week more, and that on Monday next he should render himself prisoner to the Governor of Douglas Castle."

Letter from A. Brodie dated Edinburgh, 3 July 1650, to the Earls of Cassilis and Lothian and remanent Commissioners which attended the King's Majesty in Holland," announcing that yesterday the Parliament did ratify the Treatie and declared the King's concessions satisfactory, and have this day solemnly by proclamation admitted him to the exercise of his Government, but that no approbation nor exoneration to his Lordship or themselves had been taken." Ther hath been much debat anent persons, but the Parliament hath so obstinatie adheared to ther own determination that we could scarce obtain any credit at ther hands."

Among the letters I noticed one from Charles, King of France (1570); one from the Hague in April 1650, from "Amalie P. Orange," various letters from "George Fletcher" in 1682, which refer throughout to public events of the time. In the same collection is an extensive series of estate accounts and rentals from 1640, downwards.

Plenary Indulgence by Pope Benedict XIV. to Thomas Kennedy, a Scotch baronet, granting to him and all his kindred by blood or marriage unto the third degree inclusive, as also to 50 persons to be named by him at his pleasure, a plenary Indulgence at the point of death, provided they being then truly penitent, and having confessed and partaken of the Holy Communion,—or in so far as they may not have been able to do that,—being at least contrite in spirit, and shall have invoked (if not with the mouth at least in the heart) the most holy name of Jesus. On one of the margins of the illuminated parchment on which the Indulgence is engrossed, is written "nemina personarum," with room for 50 names. These, however, are not filled in. The Indulgence is sealed and signed by "Joseph Livizzani, Secr."

JOHN STUART.

ACQUIS
BUTH.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF THE MARQUIS OF BUTE AT MOUNTSTUART.

The letters in question were not accessible at the time of my previous inspection of Lord Bute's papers.

The first series, consisting of a miscellaneous Scotch correspondence, ranges in date from 1683 to 1763, and has been arranged chronologically in a volume.

The earliest in date were addressed to Sir James Stewart, heritable Sheriff of Bute, who was created first Earl of Bute in 1703.

They begin with a letter dated 31st July 1683 from the Earl of Aberdeen, Lord Chancellor of Scotland, on the condition and temper of the Shire of Argyll and the behaviour and inclinations of the people towards His Majesty's service, approving of the Sheriff's diligence in obtaining information. Others in the same year are from the Duke of Queensberry, Earl of Perth, and Sir George McKenzie.

In one, signed "Raith," from Edinburgh, in July 1690, the writer says he is glad to hear that the Sheriff neither had nor designs to have any meddling with any people that make it their work to disturb the government and so the peace of the country.

Sir James Stewart was married in the year 1663 to Agnes, eldest daughter of Sir George Mackenzie, of Rosehaugh. On 28th November 1692 Elizabeth Mackenzie, a younger sister of Lady Stewart, writes to her "Dear Sister," the Sheriff's wife, the first of a series of letters of a domestic nature.

On 6th March 1691 the Earl of Linlithgow writes from Linlithgow Palace a letter expressive of his great friendship for the Sheriff, and touching the state of the country he adds, "I have good grounds to believe that "we shall have no disturbance in this Island this en-

"sewing season."

There are several letters from the Duke of Hamilton in 1692-3. In one of them, from London, in February, after referring to the state of political parties, he says, "But I hope in God my actions shall sho me to be a
"trew hearted Scoteman, who will make it his endea"vours to recomend himself noe otherways but by
"persewing the trew interest of his cuntrie."

One from the Duke, dated Hamilton, 10th October 1700, begins, "Good honest Sherife! I have received "your oblidging letter this day, and your good friend "and mine, the Prior of Blantyre, is present at the "writting of this."

The "Prior" thus referred to was Lord Blantyre, whose ecclesiastical title was founded on the grant by King James VI. to his ancestor of the Priory of Blantyre.

Referring to the elections, the Duke says, "If you "have regard for anything that can preserve your "countrie and whats most valuable to itt, you must "now make noe further hesitation in coming in to con-
"tributt to the good of itt. This will grow delay
"[daily] more and more plain to you, and if you neg"lect this opportunity, I may boldly say you never "can have such a one heerafter to shew yourself a "trew hearted Scoteman. Now the question will be "whither wee shall be a free people or slaves, and "dependant on others, without a power of extricating
"ourselves heerafter. Theres nather time to be lost
"nor any further roomo for ruminating upon this "mater. It's now or never that whats vaeleable to "Scotland must be head or lost. When my lord Blan-
"tyre sees you, I am sure he will second you."

The Duke again writes from Holyrood House on 2nd November 1700:—"I think I should have added nothing "to what I wrott last to you from Hamilton, and "trusted to my lord Blanter to send it to you. I hope
"its come safe long or now; but I must now tell
"you if you are not willing to see yourself and contrie "destroyed, I hope you'll come to prevent it, for tho' I
"her there was a preliminary votte this day in relation "to my Bro. Box Election, which after two days strug-"ling came to be votted. They carried itt but by "one, when all the forces were most chapterly con"vened, soe you see how much you have to answer for
"by your absence . . . if you dont come in now when
"it may doe soe much good, both you and all thes that "follow that cours must be counted the authors of all "our futtore and present miseries, which I hope you'll "prevent in soe far as depends on you."

Lord Haddo writes from Edinburgh on 30th January 1701 to "My dear sweet and most affectionat comered," on various subjects, and among others, on the state of political parties. "I hear of noe treaty nore accomo"dation betwixt the Dukes. There cannot as yet be "any certain account anent the parliament of England,
"only it is generally believed that the Tory party will "prevail. I have been much taken up since you went "from this in the Duke of Gordon's affair, and I am "sure you'll be glad to know that my lord Argyle this "week has sisted his process for this Session of Parlia"ment against the Duke. This I judge he has done,
"because of some letters from Court in favour of the "Duke."

One from the Earl of Antrim (sent by Mr. Alexr. McDonnell) is dated Dunluce, 25th August 1701. In it he thanks the Sheriff "for the many services and kind"nesses done him and his Bro. San., for which and "other your favours done to my name in that country.
"I return you many thanks."

In a letter from the Duke of Hamilton, dated Holyrood House, 9th September 1702, his Grace writes:—"My good freind Sherife! Since I had soe good an "occasion as by this present Bearer, I would not omitt "telling you that sometime agoe I had a letter from "Lord Blantyre acquainting me that her Majesty was "desirous that the Marquise of Tweedall, E. of Tulli"bardin, and I should come and wait upon her, and "yesterday I receaved ane other letter from the High
"Treasurer of England consarning what my Lord
"Blantyre had written by her Majestys Command:
"soe now we are preparing ourselves to goe to court,
"and we intend to be there against the time her M.
"returns from the Bath. The Treasurer tells me her "M. Royal inclinations are to take such measures as "shall be most proper and advisable to preserve her "ancient Kingdom in peace, and to compose all the "divisions and animosities of her subjects there, so it "would appear that at present ther are healing mea"sures in view."

MARQUIS
OF BUTE.

MARQUIS
OF BUTE.

"I write this also to tell you, my dear friend, that I hope you'll not oppose my good honest Robin, for he thinks himself sure you are not averse to him, and I am convinced it is soe."

Lord Haddo, writing from Kelly, 14th August 1702, refers to political news, the accounts of the Duke of Queensberry's illness and of his recovery,—of his arrival and good reception at Court, and the Queen's approbation of his behaviour as to the Abjuration.

The Earl of Mar writes from London on 17th November 1705 with offers of service. On 6th May 1708 his Lordship again writes that he has represented to the Queen the good service of the Sheriff, and announces her order for the liberation of the Sheriff's brother and Lord Balmerino.

Various letters from the Earl of Glasgow in 1711 are on family affairs, as are others from the Earl of Montrose and Campbell of Ardkinglas in 1712.

On 5th July 1715 Lord Belhaven writes that he has delayed to answer the Sheriff's letters, on account of the pain which it cost him to send the disagreeable news of "our worthy and good friend being dismissed from all the employments he had from the King, and which is most crewell of all was forced from the Prince his master extremely contrary to his inclination; nor could the view of the most horrible consequences that might have followed upon the Prince's refusal to part with him, have obliged him to agree to it, had it not been at the Dukes own and repeated and earnest desire, he having offered three times to resign it upon his knee before the Prince could be persuaded to accept of it. The afflicted condition of the best of princes and kindest of masters would have without doubt given you the utmost pain, as it did to every body that had the happiness of seeing him, but, dr. Bute, we have this comfort still, that millions regret his misfortune, and non dare hold up their face and own they had a hand in it, and where he had one friend before I doe assure you he has now ten . . . The crime laid to his charge is that he dissuaded the Prince from accepting the Regency in the terms the King proposed, which is very false." Then follow notices of the new appointments.

There are letters from William Stewart, Provost of Edinburgh in 1716; Colonel Erskine, Edinburgh, 1716; Earl of Buchan, Edinburgh, 1717; Viscount Garnock, 1717; and John Bishop of Edinburgh, from Greenhall, 1722.

There is a series of letters from John Duke of Argyll and his brother, the Earl of Islay, commencing in 1712. On 9th August 1714 Lord Islay writes from Dudingston:—"I had the pleasure to receive your letter yesterday. It has been the greatest satisfaction to me these two years, while my enemies have prevailed, to find him most my friend whom I most wished to be so. I had sent you word of the Queens illness when first I heard of it, but that not knowing then what might happen, it was my opinion that your Lordship should be quiet at home, and not ruin your familie for uncertainties. My Brother and I indeed were in a different case, for condemned persons run no risque in making their escape, whatever the danger may be in attempting it to one capable of a pardon; but fate has now otherwise determined affairs, and I hope we shall soon have it in our power to do our duty in justice both to our friends and enemies. I go for London this day, to endeavour to be there when the King comes . . . There is all the appearance in the world that there will not be any disturbance either here or in England."

On 22nd September Lord Islay writes from the same place:—"I am at last arrived in order to be a spectator of our famous election. . . . Our Brethren are so strongly corrupted, that having disserved them and the Country is now the only title to their favour." Lord Islay writes many letters subscribed "Your Slave," full of familiar banter, but with many references to politics.

On 1st January 1716 the Duke of Argyll (to whose sister Lord Bute was married) writes, and refers to an attempt of the Earl of Sunderland, "who seems at present to have more power than I'm afraid is consistent with the welfare of the King and Country, designs to try if he can hurt me by calling me to account in Parliament. My cause I know to be good, but that does not prevent its being necessary to have my friends present, so I must beg, my dear Lord, that you will not fail to be here by the meeting of the Parliament."

Lord Islay writes from London on 19th October:—"I can give you in two words a notion of the many various reports that are always a going about my Brother and me. We happen to have got pretty forward in the world for our ages, and that joyed with some foundation of interest at home makes us always observe the posture of affairs so as to endeavour to withstand the open attempts of our enemies, and to avoid the little artifices of many who pretend to be our friends. For this end we always judge for ourselves without any prejudice of any side farther than honour and interest joined oblige us. This makes a man who would willingly lead us blindly into all his measures, say we are never to be pleased, intractable, &c. Another whose interest it is to have plunged in the extremity of his party (and consequently their slaves) say we are not steady to our party, that he does not know where to have us, &c. All little under favorites, fearing their trade would cease by persons of distinction or interest having the reins entirely in their hands, continually insinuate that we are dangerous, if we have too much power,—that its better to make creatures, and give them credit, interest, and power, than support those who by having interest of their own are more independent, &c. Thus Politics is a continual petty war and game, and as at all other games, we will sometimes win and sometimes loose, and he that plays best and has the best stock has the best chance. In the main I think we have been pretty lucky, considering the constant attempt of many sorts of people to oppress us. I assure you, my dear Lord, if we happen to succeed it shall be of service to you; if otherwise, we shall take care in time that it shall be so too."

Lord Islay again writes from London, Saturday, 17 J: . . . :—"Pray keep our folks from talking of my brother and me by way of commending us in tender points and to strangers who make very ill uses of such discoveries. It is enough that we can maintain an interest with some of both sides without giving up anything we must and ought to maintain, and if I can save myself or my friends by being thought a Mahometan by a Turk, I'll never decline it.—Your Slave."

On 4th April 1722 the Duke of Argyll writes from London:—"I send you enclosed the letter I received from Lord Sunderland yesterday morning, and today the King commanded me to acquaint you with the contents of it. I have a reason why I would not have as yet known who you are to succeed, but only that you are in the Bedchamber. There is one thing good in this, that the payment is very exact, which can be said of few offices at present."

On 27th March [no year] the Duchess of Argyll writes to Lady Bute:—"I hope this will find dear Lady Bute perfectly recovered. I cant condole with you that this child was not a son. You having 2 fine ones already have reason to be satisfied, and he that has had the small pox may be reckoned as good as 2; so mortal as that distemper has been this year in town never was known." Others from her Grace are dated in 1712 and 1714.

On 29th November 1715 Sir John Shaw writes from Greenock:—"My Lord Duke is very well and my Lord Islay in a fair way of recovery. I saw his wounds dressed on Saturday, which look't so well that I hope in a little time he will be able to sign the just sentence against those who desired to have broke the arm of justice, tho' I am convinced the dog that gave the wound fell upon the spot. I have now nothing new to tell you, but only that upon Saturday last one of Marr's Lieutenants deserted, and came in to his Grace, who gives an account that they are busie entrenching themselves in Perth, and there's mighty divisions among them, so that I am hopeful if Marr does not hang himself the poor people that he has so much imposed upon will take care of him."

Col. Middleton writes from Stirling on 19th November 1715:—"Sunday last we engaged the rebels after having laid on our arms all night a little beyond Dumblain. They advanced in vast numbers and much better order than anybody expected, and attackt us. They pressed our left wing so hard that they gave way in great confusion, and thinking that we on the right had undergone the same fate, run all straight to Stirling with the loss of about 300 men and some officers killed and wounded and taken prisoners. Coll. Lamam and Capt. Chiesly prisoners. Capt. Arnul and six or seven other officers killed. L^d Forfar mortally wounded, the joint of his knee shot of so that its a miracle if he recovers. My Lord Duke and his Brother were with us on the right, consisting of Portmores, Evans, and Stairs dragoons,

MARQUIS OF BUTE.

EQUIS
BUTH.

"Forfar, Wightman, Montague, and some regiments of foot, whose fate happened to be much better for ourselves and for his Majesties service. Wee defeated them entirely and pursued them about 2 miles; took 14 colours and standards, 4 pieces of cannon, and a great deal of their ammunition and baggage. Among their killed are Strathmore, Auchterhouse, Captain of Clanronald, Fraserdale, and many others. Panmure mortally wounded; Marshal slightly wounded, but escaped; Barrowfield, Logy, Achtertyre, Monboddoo, and many other gentlemen prisoners. Lord Islay is wounded in his arm and his side, but very hearty, and in a mighty good way, and I hope out of all danger; the Duke perfectly well. We reckon we have lost nearly 400 men and about 18 [?] officers; have killed, wounded, and taken of the rebels above 1200."

Lord Islay, writing on 26th November 1715 from Stirling, says:—"As for our men, tho' we cannot yet dismiss, yet I hope in two or three days we shall be at some certainty and that we may dismiss them all as we hear the Rebels have done theirs except the clans whom they keep in garrison at Perth."

Ad. Campbell, from Fanab, Glenfalloch, on 14th November 1715, writes:—"I came here last night from Strathfillan. I came to the end of Loch Dochart earlie in a morning, and the shouldiers being cold made great fires on the first loun we came to. This made them towards Lochtay believe that all above them was burnt. There were fyrie crosses sent everie where, and the E. B., who was at Drummond at that time with the E. Mar and the chief men of that partie, was in a werie great confusion. I am told there's a detachment of 2,000 men ordered against us. We must be mach on our guard, being within a nights march of them."

Three days later the same writer says:—"There's one returned last night whom I sent to the E. Mars armie for intelligence, who hapned to be there at the time of the battle. He tells that the McDonalds, McLeans, and what men the E. Breadalbine had there were on the right of Mars armie, and that the battle was begun by them; that their opposite fled at the first fire towards Stirling, and that they made some slaughter in the pursuit. He says that much about ye time the rest of the E. Mars armie fled at the first fire and fled towards the water of Alan wher there were a great many killed and drowned. Among them who ran away were Lochell, Apin, Huntly, Seaforth, the Athol men, and a great many more. He says E. Mar fled among the first . . . The most of the comon shouldiers are fled home. He says he mett Appin and Lochell returning with a few men to Ardoch, where the rest were. He did see the Captain of Clanranald dead who was killed at the first fire."

Lord Islay writes from Invarary on 9th October 1715:—"I can very easily imagine, from the variety of difficulties I meet with here, that you cannot possibly have things ready as you would desire. These Highlanders are a most unaccountable pack of— I dont know what to call them . . . I hardly believe the Clans will spend their time so ill as to molest us here while to be sure L^d Mar presses them hard to joyn him. I have had no news from the Christian part of the Country fresher than what I had at Stirling. We had a letter yesterday from the Highlander I have been tampering with this long time, and he assures us he will joyn my Brother with his fellow cherubims this week. I do really incline to believe he will. I am thinking your people will be as good, if not better, than any for the Sea Expedition, being both Seamen and having no relations among the Barbarians in these parts. I would not have you by any means hurry yourself in coming here before you have settled all you have to do."

From Stirling Lord Islay writes on 31st December 1715. Enclosing a proxy for signature he adds:—"It seems they have something to do at the beginning of the Parliament, for my Lord Townshend wrote to me very pressingly about proxies. He tells me that the King approves of my opinion in relation to the Clans, so that I kope they'll be pretty well handled. The Rebels have all declared for some days that the Pretender is landed, and is to be at Perth tonight. My Lord Mar and some others went as it were to meet him from Perth some days ago, so that we take it for granted that either the one is come into Scotland or the other is gone out."

In a letter from Lord Glasgow, 1st Oct. [no year], he says:—"To be free with you I mightily want one hour's conference with you anent this affair of the

MARQUIS OF BUTH.

"Union which I make no accompt of; for you know the last appearance I made against that damned Abjuration, though the Union served for an argument above board, that was not the impulse or reason in my heart why I opposed so much the Abjuration, and now, though England should grant never so fair Articles and terms of Union, I am fully determined through God's strength never to make nor medle directly or indirectly with their German Royal family."

A long letter, apparently from Lord Breadalbane, but without date or place (except April 28), is mainly occupied with the Elections. He begins by complaining of his feeble health. "I am as to public affaires of the same opinion as when we parted, it having been in the politicks ane old fault in me, and a very great one, not to be changeable as to my opinion." He wishes to be advised if such of the nobility as are suspected (though not accused) for treason or treasonable practices will be sustained, altho' set at liberty before the time of Election; "whereof I doubt (supposing that to be one of the designs for securing them), unless they be vindicat of that suspicion before they vote, and next, if they be not set at liberty, the question is, if the proxies of these prisoners be valid, altho' qualified according to law. These points I would be cleared in, and I wish to have a draught of the proxy and the diet of Election when and where. . . . Be pleased to let me know by what manner I am to serve the Earle of Weems and the Earle of Northesk, otherwise than by my own vot, for I judge them to be very worthie persons and good country men. I wish to know who were my friends in Council, and how our young Lord Ila behaved. As for me and my neighbour Duke Atholl, who continues very ill, what is past in Council is no secret. Cause write it be way of journaill. I have ordered my agent Colin Kirk to receive your commands by word or write. I am not sure if your brother be prisoner or to be sent to London as it is reported, or what is his crymes." The following sentences are written in a feeble hand, different from that used in the previous part of the letter:—"I askt my old friend if the wealth he so confidently asserted should heap upon us be still in his head, to which he gave but a doubtful answer, but said, altho' that should not hold, yet we should have better, which is ane Amen Government, and that I should not be put in the Castle of Edinburgh without a known cause. I pray you ask him which is the easiest, that or the Tower. I am not in the least surprized with what has or will befall us. My d. Lord, adieu."

A series of original letters addressed by Lady Mary Wortley Montagu to her sister the Countess of Mar, arranged in a volume. They are 42 in number, and a pencil marking informs us that of these 28 have been printed, but in several cases with passages omitted and expressions altered. This remark would seem to refer to the earlier editions of Lady Mary's letters, as in that of 1861 by Mr. Thomas there appear nine of the remaining 14 of the present collection said to remain unprinted, viz., Nos. 7, 13, 14, 15, 36, 38, 39, 47, and 50 of the letters to Lady Mar, printed in his first volume. They have been printed, however, from copies and not from the original letters.

In the first of the unprinted letters Lady Mary writes:—"I am heartily sorry (Dear Sister), without any affection for any uneasiness that you suffer, let the cause be what it will, and wish it was in my power to give you some more essential mark of than unavailing pity, but I am not so fortunate, and till a fit occasion of disposing of some superfluous diamonds, I shall remain in this sinful seacole Town, and all that remains for me to do to shew my willingness (at least) to divert you, is to send you faithful accounts of what passes among your acquaintance in this part of the world . . . For my own part I have some coteries where art and pleasure reign, and I should not fail to amuse myself tolerably enough, but for the damn'd quality of growing older and older every day, and my present joys are made imperfect by fears of the future."

One (of which the first page is noted as having been printed p. 167), but of which other seven pages remain unprinted, thus concludes:—"The Duchess of Kingston grunts on as usual, and I fear will put us in black Bombazine soon, which is a real greif to me. My dear Aunt Cheyne makes all the money she can of Lady Franceese, and I fear will carry on these politics to the last point, though the girl is such a fool, 'tis no great matter. I am going within this half hour

MARQUIS
OF BUTE.

"to call her to Court. The most diverting story about Town at present is in relation to Edgecombe [and Miss Tichbourne], though your not knowing the people concerned as well as I do, will, I fear, hinder you from being so much entertained by it."

In one dated "Rome, Feb. 14, N.S.," Lady Mary says:—"The letter you sent to Venice never came to my hands, and this which I received yesterday is the first I have had from you. I am now in a place where I hear you spoke of with a great deal of regard and remembered with a real esteem."

In another, "Mr. Baily is dismissed the Treasury and consoled with a pension of equal value;" and after referring to her acquaintance and Rodrigue, says that the best thing would be a general Act for divorcing all the people of England.

At the end is a letter from the Earl of Bute to Lady Mary, dated Mountstuart, Dec. 31, 1740, announcing that Lady Bute had been delivered of a son on the previous night.

A letter to Lady Mar, apparently from Lady Gower, states that the Duchess Dowager of Kingston wished to get the guardianship of her grandson, but the Duke at 14 had confirmed those appointed by his grandfather's will.

JOHN STUART.

LORD
KINNAIRD.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF LORD KINNAIRD AT ROSSIE PRIORY.

The collection here comprises large masses of charters relating to the lands of Kinnaird, in the Carse of Gowrie, a barony from which the family represented by Lord Kinnaird drew their name, as also to the lands of Inchture and others which subsequently became vested in the family by marriage. There are likewise various charters relating to the barony of Cowbin in the shire of Murray, which, as well as Skelbo in that of Sutherland, were acquired by the marriage of Thomas of Kinnaird with Egidia heiress of Walter Murray of Cowbin in the early part of the fifteenth century, and belonged to the family of Kinnaird for a time after that event.

The three earliest charters of the series were delivered up to Sir Patrick Thriepland on his purchase of the barony of Kinnaird many years ago, as appears from a memorandum among the papers. By the first of these charters King William the Lion conferred on Radulphus dictus Rufus the barony of Kinnaird. The second was granted by Richard son of Radulphus to Isabel his sister; and the third was a deed confirming the last, granted by Radulphus de Kinnaird to Richard son of Isabel.

Radulphus de Kynard, said to have been the grandson of the last-named Radulphus, swore fealty to King Edward I. at Kincardine in the Mearns on 4th August 1296.

The oldest charter now remaining in the collection is one by Raigenaldus de Kynard, dominus particularis de Inchture, by which he confirmed to his cousin Andrew de Muncur of that ilk, the lands of Muncur in the shire of Perth, as held by the said Andrew and his predecessors "prout per veredictum proborum et discretorum patrie sum veraciter informatus." The lands were held blench, with the singular reddendo by the vassal of a chaplet of roses yearly to be presented at the Law of Inchture, on the feast of St. Margaret Queen, "cum oris osculo utriusque nostrorum in signum pacis et concordis," with a pair of white gloves. The charter is without date, but, besides the granter's seal, is authenticated with the seals of Patrick Gray Lord of Broxmouth, Andrew Gray Lord of Fowlis, and Andrew Gray "ejus filius naturalis femoris"—men who flourished in the end of the fourteenth and early part of the subsequent century.

The next in date is a Procuratory by Alan of Kynarde of that ilk to his son and heir apparent Thomas of Kynarde, for giving seisin to John Abbot of Scone, of certain lands in the barony of Kynarde, dated at Scone, 28th April 1478: the witnesses being Silvester Rettre of that ilk; William Hay of Lynplum, Knight; Edmund Hay; Mr. Henry Cramby, Vicar of Kynspindy; Sir James Flemyng, Vicar of Collace; David Brioss of Petdenys; Mr. Walter Small; William Peblis; Thomas Grinlaw; John Cramby; and Sir John of Kynninmonth, Chaplain, and others.

Charter dated 10th May 1476, under the Great Seal of King James III., confirming a charter by Alan de Kynard of Cowbin, with consent of Egidia de Moravia his mother, and his other relatives and friends, to his brother-german Thomas of Kynard, and his heirs male, of the lands of Cowbin, Dalpotty, Esterbin, Myreton, and Aikcnheade, in the shire of Forres, of date 1st September 1465, and witnessed by John Scrimgeour, Constable of Dundee; James Matelande of Quenysbery; William Kynard of Kynninmonde; John Scrimgeour, son of the late Nicholas Scrimgeour, burgess of Dundee; and others.

Reversion by James Ogilvy of Inchmertyn to Thomas Kinnaird of Skelbo, relative to a right of annual rent out of the lands of Kynard, granted by Alan Kynard of that ilk, father of the said Thomas, to David Ogilvy of Inchmertyn, on payment of 120 merks on the high altar of the Parish Kirk of Perth. Dated at Inchmertyn, 6th January 1506.

Indenture dated at Kynard, 4th March 1511, between Thomas Kynard of Skelbo and Andrew Kynard of that ilk, touching the gift of the marriage of the late Thomas Spalding, burgess of Dundee.

Letters of Manrent by Rore Murray of Spangdale to Thomas Kynard of that ilk. Murray to be his man and servant, and to ride and gang with him all the days of his life, excepting his allegiance to the King and the Bishop of Caithness, "because at the said Thomas has given me a competent fe tharfor in liferent for all the days of my life, to do to him my best service I can within the boundis of Sutherland, and farther within the sheriffdom of Inverness upon the said Thomas expensis, unless I have a lawful excuse." Dated at Dornoch, 10th June 1512. Witnesses, John of Kynard; Alexander Urquhard; Walter Kynard of Culbin; David Mudy, burgess of Dornoch; and John Murray.

Of miscellaneous charters, I noted the following as of historical interest.—Charter by Alexander Erwyne, Lord of the Forest of Drum, to John Bel, for his good service, of various oxengates of land in the barony of Inchture. Dated at Aberdeen, 18th November 1416. Witnesses, Alexander de Seton, Lord of Gordon; Sir Walter Lyndesay, Sir Alexander of Forbes, Knights; William of Chalmers; and William Cryne, with many others.

Charter by Walter Haliburton of that ilk and Baligirnach, to Andrew de Muncur, lord of that ilk, of the lands called Threplande and Mireflat of Muncur, held blench on payment of a mark at the Castle thereof at the feast of Pentecost yearly if asked, Dated at Balligirnach, on the feast of St. John Baptist, 1422. Witnesses, Andrew Gray of Fowlis; Sir Walter of Bikerton; David de Ogilbi; and others.

Charter by Dungallus Makdowal, lord of the fourth part of the lands of Yhester, to his consanguineus Eustace Maxwell, lord of the third part of Strathardill, of his fourth part of the barony of Telyn in the shire of Forfar, and his fourth part of the barony of Pulgawy in the earldom of Gowry, in excambion for his fourth part of the barony of Yhester, and the fourth part of the baronies of Dunkemlaw and Moram, and lands of Giffardgate within the constabulary of Hadynton and sheriffdom of Lothian, along with the fourth part of a pound of cumin payable yearly out of a croft near the town of Forfar by John de Grabat and his heirs to the said Eustace. Dated at Dundee, 15th August 1427. Witnesses, John de Strathawan, Vicar of the Collegiate Church of Bothanis, and Thomas Melligane, priests; Mr. John Idill, notary public; Robert de Ledhous, burgess of Dundee; and Henry de Strathawane, with others.

Charter of Confirmation of the preceding charter under the Great Seal of James II. 1441.

Instrument dated 23rd November 1448, narrating the settlement by Andrew Lord Gray and Sir Andrew Ogilvy of Inchmartine, Knights, as arbiters in a dispute between John Buttergask, son and heir-apparent of Richard Buttergask of that ilk, and Thomas Bell, farmer, relating to a Templeland belonging to the Hospital of St. Germain, lying in Inchture. The land is to remain with Thomas, who is to pay 20 merks to John upon the altar of St. Katherine Virgin, in the Parish Church of Inchture. Witnesses, Gilbert Monorgund of that ilk; Thomas Fife, Chaplain; Robert Kynard, Esquire; and others.

Charter by Sir Walter Stewart, Knight, of Strathowyn, to Margaret Strilynge his spouse, for her many good services, and for her life, the lands of Pitkass Morynche Thomebeth, Auchdregene, and others in the lordship of Strathowyn and shire of Banff, rendering service at head courts at Drummyn when required. Dated at Drummyn, 4th Dec. 1479.

Notarial Instrument dated 9th June 1483, at the instance of David Ogilvy of Inchmertyne, setting forth his readiness to perform to John Muncreff of that ilk, then being present, all the obligations undertaken by him touching the marriage to be contracted between John Muncreff, son and heir of the said John, and Egidia, daughter of the said David, and in special to deliver to the said John, on the feast of the Nativity of John Baptist ensuing, the sum of 100*l.* Scots; and if he had hitherto been negligent in the performance to the said John of Muncreff of what was right under the said contract, he was now to be bound to the performance thereof to the satisfaction of James of Muncreff, uncle of the said John Muncreff of that ilk, and Robert Donyng, burgess of Perth. Done within the parish church of the burgh of Perth, at the altar of St. Monan, in presence of Laurence Lord Oliphant; Alexander Blayr of Balhiok, and James Oliphant of Arquholze; Andrew Charteris of Cuthilgurdy; Mr. Alexander Murray, Canon of the Collegiate Church of Abernethy; Thomas Blayr, son and apparent heir of the late Alexander Blayr; David Lyndissay of Lekowy; John Oliphant of Dron; Mr. James Fentonne, Rector of the Parish Church of Dupleyne; and William of Abbircrommy, with many others.

ORD
KINNAIRD.

Charter by William Bishop of Aberdeen, Chancellor of the University of Aberdeen, and Conservator and Preceptor of the House of St. Germans, to Walter Bell and Elizabeth Small his wife, of certain Templelands in Inchture, reserving the liferent of Ranald Bell, father of the said Walter, to be held of the Bishop as Preceptor forsoresaid. Dated at Edinburgh, 10th June 1506. Witnesses, Sir John Elphinstoun of that ilk, Knight; John Kynnarde of Inchstur; David Monorgund of that ilk; John Charteris, son and heir-apparent of Thomas Charteris of Kynfawnis, Andrew Elphinstoun of Selmys; and Alexander of Waristoun, with others.

Instrument of possession to Agnes Bell, as heir of Walter Bell, in Inchture, in three Templelands of Inchture, on a precept by William Bishop of Aberdeen, Chancellor of the University thereof, and Master of the Hospital of St. Germans in Lothian. Dated 4th August 1510.

Charter by Gilbert Monorgund to Andrew Moncur of that ilk, of the lands of Adeland rede land and the 9 riggis, 11 riggis, 14 riggis, and thrislehome lying in the barony of Langfordgund. Dated at Perth, 16th September 1519. Witnesses, Mr. Robert Monorgund, Rector of Banchry; John Mason; Michael Anderson, burgess of Dundee; William Fife; and Robert Seres, junior, notary public.

Among the miscellaneous papers are the following:—

Commission by the noblemen, gentlemen, and heritors of Perthshire, appointing George Kinnaird of Rossie, and Mr. John Nairne of Mukersie, to meet General Monck at Edinburgh, to treat about the affairs of the county. Dated 10th October 1659.

The "dowbell" of a Letter, dated Perth, October 26th 1659, addressed to General Monck (by a correspondent, whose signature has been torn off), on the position of public affairs—and especially of affairs in the county of Perth—enclosing a paper of 15 queries or suggestions for the General's consideration, as to the best methods of securing the peace and welfare of the country. The tenor of these may be gathered from a few of them:—

1. If your Lordship march away and give up all the garrisons to the owners of them: that caire may be taken that they be not byased be the gentleman that ye know of, for ther is some that hes relations to him.

2. That your Lordship may send to gett intelligence what he is presentlie doeing in respect that we have some suspect and surmises that he is making preparation for some mischief to us, and your Lordship's interest, and some of his militarie freinds in our shyre hes been with him this fortnight.

3. If he should ryse he and all his people being armed and we nott; what is and sall be the best to prevent this?

4. If he should ryse, that ane fitt persone may be thought upon by your Lordship to command us, and that there may be soe many English officers and Scots noblemen and gentlemen benorth Tay thought upon by your Lordship that ye may trust too, for to regulat affairs in your absence, and to be readie upon ane call either to oppose him or to assist your Lordship as may fall out.

6. In all thir former respects that your Lordship may not leave this countrie desolat and comfortless, having all ther hopes upon your Lordship, and the justnes of your intentions and straightnes of your wayis, but to take in all faithfull and honest men, who will spend to the last drop of their blood with you for the freedome of the people, you being their stock and hopes, whair-upon they rely should be overthrowen, then all thair freinds and weill wishers are ruined and destroyed without being in ane capacitie to helpe themselves.

Commission (to which are attached the signatures of many of the nobility in Perthshire) to Sir George Kinnaird, as commissioner for the county, to repair to General Monck at Berwick and treat with him on matters concerning it. Dated 3rd December 1659.

Letter from the Countess of Strathmore to the Laird of Balthayock, without date, but apparently about 1594. It is in the following terms:—

Trayst freynde. Efter my hartlie commendatiounis, this salbe to aduertis yow that his Majestie is cum to Sanct Johnstoun and is of mynde to pas to the North apone the rebellis. Thairfor I pray yow to be heir the morne be awcht houris with your freindis and seruandis bodin to pass with his Majestie, as ye wod the weill of my husband, the causs of quhais dyat at your cuming ye salbe aduertisit. Remitting the rest thairto I commit yow to God. Off Glamis this Setterday, Be

Your gud freinde, Euphame Douglas.

To the richt Hon^{bl.} the Laird off Balthayok.

JOHN STUART.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF LORD WHARNCLIFFE.

LORD WHARN-
CLIFFE.

The papers belonging to Lord Wharncliffe, in the hands of his agent at Dundee are of greater value and more general interest than the portion of them in the Charter room at Belmont already reported on. They consist for the most part of charters and other documents relating to portions of his Lordship's lands, but in the light which they throw on several families of note at an early time, and their illustrations of ancient modes of tenure, they have an interest not often possessed by formal deeds of investiture.

One series of these relates to the lands of Cupermaculty in Perthshire, lying within the Regality of the Abbot of Dunfermline, which, as we find from the register of the Abbey, were granted to the church of Dunfermline, along with the church of the Holy Trinity of Dunkeld, by Adam, Bishop of Caithness, and Malcolm the Fourth, King of the Scots, in perpetual alms for the weal of the soul of David King of Scotland.

A document in the same register shows that a claim having been made on the part of the Crown for a certain sum from the Abbot on account of his neglect to give suit for the lands of Cupermacultin, Fordoui, and others, in the court of the Sheriff of Perth, an inquest was held before Alexander Cumyn, Earl of Buchan, Justiciary of Scotland, through various baronies, whether snit was owing from the said lands or not, and after careful enquiry, Sir Gilbert of Hay, Knight, who had been present at the inquest thereafter, in "pleno Colloquio domini regis," at Holyrood, on the 14th of January 1255, pronounced the verdict of the baronies to be that they had seen the men of the lands come to the said court, but never as suitors: whereupon the King "in pleno colloquio predicto per commune" "consilium magnatum suorum ibidem existencium," altogether freed the Abbot from suit for the said lands in time coming.

The lands in the year 1282 were confirmed by the Abbot of Dunfermline to Malcolm de Ferenderach, in suchwise as they had been previously possessed by John de Ferenderach, and from this family they passed into the possession of Sir James Fraser, of Ferenderach. In his time the charters in Lord Wharncliffe's collection begin, the first being a charter by John, Abbot of Dunfermlyn to Sir Richard Comyn, Knight, of the lands of Cupermaculty, with an annual rent of 5 merks of Sterlings, out of the lands of Fordwy, which lands and annual rent belonged to Sir James Fraser, Knight, and were resigned by him in the Monastery of Dunfermlyn, on the 2nd day of November 1394, in presence of Unfredus Conynghame, Knight, and of Sir William Rede and Alan de Lyn, monks thereof, as well as of William de Lyndesay, Richard Comyn, and Richard Ayson, Esquires. Dated at the Monastery of Dunfermlyn on said day, in presence of Walter Bishop of St. Andrew's, Master Duncan Petyt, Archdeacon of Glasgow, Chancellor of Scotland, Master John of Caron, Rector of the Church of Rathou, and noblemen Sir Walter Olyfaunt and Sir John of Ramesay, of Kernoc, Knights. The charter contains the following clause: "Sciatis autem dictus Ricardus et heredes sui habebit et habebunt forisfactam vaccam vacce et ovis de hominibus suis legiis infra dictis terris de Cuper-

LORD
WARREN-
CLIFFE.

"maculty et de Forduy manentibus, et nos autem habemus forisfacta vaccam et ovem excedencia."

Charter by John, Abbot of Dunfermlyn, narrating the resignation by Sir Richard Cumyn, Knight, made at Dunfermline on the 20th of February 1403, in presence of Laurence, Abbot of Inchcolm, Sir Thomas Mungale, Prior of Dunfermlyn, Sir William Reston, Sacrist of Dunfermlyn, and Richard de Mungale, monks, Mr. Andrew de Trebrain, Eleemosinar General of our Lord the King, and of his having consequently granted to the said Sir Richard Cumyn, Knight, the said lands of Cupermaculty and annual rent of 5 merks out of Fordewy in liferent, and after his death to David Cumyne, his son natural, and Cristian, daughter of Malice Dawson, his wife, and the survivor of them and their heirs male, lawfully begotten; whom failing, to John Cumyne, son natural of the said Sir Richard, and the heirs male of his body, lawfully begotten; whom failing, to return to the said monastery, in pure and perpetual alms, for the weal of Sir Richard's own soul, and the souls of his predecessors. Dated at Dunfermlyn, 20 February 1403; witnesses, Laurence, Abbot of Inchcolm, Sir Archibald Stewart, Knight, Mr. Andrew of Trebrown, Eleemosinar General of our Lord the King, Sir Walter Bell, Rector of the Church of Kyngorn, Malice Dawson, Andrew Endswane, William Dolar, Esquires, Thomas Twyn, Notary Public, and others.

The lands continued in the possession of the Cumings down to the beginning of the seventeenth century. On 3rd April 1601 they were resigned by John Cuming into the hands of Queen Anne as Superior. This took place in the Queen's Chamber at Holyrood, in presence of Mr. John Elphinstone and Mr. John Kennedie, apparent of Baltersane, the King's servants, John Ker and Thomas Rutherford, servants of Lord Roxburgh, with others. The charter which followed thereon is dated at Dalkeith, 10th May 1601, and is signed by the King and Queen, being sealed with the Queen's Seal.

On 13th June 1606, John Cuming of Cowtie, and John Cuming, son and heir of the late Archibald Cuming, brother-german of the said John, conveyed the lands to James Halyburton, of Petcur, and Margaret Serymgeour, his spouse. The charter is dated at Cupar in Argus, before witnesses, Patrick Butter, of Gormok, Mr. Alexander Wedderburn, of Kingany, Alexander Ramsay, Burgess of Dundee, and John Blair, Apparent of Balgillo.

Another series of early charters relate to the lands of Newtyle, Kilpurny, Balcraig, and others.

The first is a charter by Robert, King of Scots, to William Olifaunt, Knight, of the lands of Newtyle and Kynprony, in the shire of Forfar, to be held in free barony with all the liege and native men of the said lands, performing the fourth part of a knight's service in the King's army. Dated at Newbotyll, 21st Decr. 1317.

A notarial copy of this charter made at the instance of Sir John Olifaunt, Knight, Lord of Aberdalgy, on 2nd October 1438, in the house of the Carmelite Brethren, of Tulylum, near Perth, in presence of Brother Laurence Pentland, Prior thereof, John Were, Brother of said house, Sir David Anderson, Chaplain, and Andrew Murray, Esquire.

Charter by David II., King of Scots, narrating that Walter Olyfant, having resigned the lands of Newtyle and Kynprony, "in pleno consilio nostro," at Perth, on 20th January 1364, the King, therefore, now confirmed them to the said Walter and Elizabeth, his spouse, the King's sister, rendering for the said lands a pair of silver spurs on the feast of All Saints at Halton of Newtyle yearly, in name of Blench Farm, with three suits at the King's Court at Forfar. Dated at Edinburgh, 28th February 1364.

A similar charter by the King of same date confirming to the said Walter and his said spouse the lands of Ochertyre and Balcraig, on the resignation of the said Walter, the reddendo being three broad arrows on the feast of St. Martin yearly, at Ochertyre in name of Blench Farm, with three suits at the King's Courts at Forfar.

Cognition at the Myre of Newtyll betwixt the lands of Newtyle and Ochertyre, belonging to John Lord Oliphant, and the lands of Migill, belonging to John, Earl of Crawford, before Andrew Lord Gray, Sheriff of Forfar. Dated 24th September 1508.

Charter by Robert King of Scots, on the resignation by Niel, of Carrick, in the King's hands of the lands of Ochertyre which had belonged to John Comyn, granting them to Sir William Oliphant, Knight, for the service of three archers in the King's army, and Scottish service used and wont. Dated at Scone, 20th March 1326. (20th year.)

Testimonial of David Guthrie of Kyncaldrum, Sheriff depute of Forfar, that in virtue of the King's briève he had given sasine at the Chemys of the third part of Ochertyre and Mill, to William Hakate, of the third part lands of Ochertyre Balcraig and Mill. Sealed with the seal of the Sheriff of Forfar, 7 December 1457.

Writ, dated 13 November 1524, setting forth that within the Consistory, in St. Giles College church, of Edinburgh, in presence of Mr. Thomas Cowtis, perpetual vicar of Cargyll, and official of St. Andrew's, within the archdeanery of Lothian, appeared Elizabeth Aytoun, spouse of John Ialket of Pitfirren, and there apart from her husband, resigned her third part of Ochertyr and Balcraig in favour of Robert Marsar, in Mekilhour, in presence of Thomas Marjoribanks, Philip Dernly, father, and others. A fine seal of the official remains at this writ.

Precept of Sasine, by George Archdeacon of St. Andrew's, and perpetual Commendator of Dunfermline, for infesting George Blair, son and heir of the late David Blair of Pethy, and his heirs, whom failing, John Ogilbe, son and heir apparent of James Ogilbe, of Cukistone, and his heirs, whom failing, the nearest heirs of Marjorie Durye, mother of the said George and John, in the lands of Bennathy. The cause of granting is said to be "in augmentationem ecclesie veteris ruinose et in magna parte delapse, totiusque nostri monasterii reparacionem decorem et policiam. Dated at Dunfermline, 11 March 1538.

Precept of Sasine, dated 1 July 1543, by the said George, for infesting John Ogilvy, son and apparent heir of James Ogilvy, of Cukistoun, in the lands of Bennathy. The precept has the signature of the Commendator and 20 monks.

Charter by Patrick Haldane, of Wester Keillour, to his son and apparent heir, Silvester Haldayne, of the lands of Wester Keillour, dated at Perth, 4 April 1492. Witnesses, James Rattray, Vicar of Cullace, James Muncur of Balluny, Robert Small in Foderynnis, and others.

Charter by John Abbot of Lundores and conven: thereof, to Janet Blair, relict of Archibald Anderson, of Bournemouth, in liferent, and George Blair of Gairdoun, brother of the said Janet, in fee of the lands of Balman. Besides the reddendo, of money, the vassals were bound to provide sufficient carriages for conveying the Abbot's goods bought in the market at Cupar in Angus to the water of Tay, near Lundores, as they had been in use to do. They were also to ride with the Abbot's men in the army of the King, or at any rate to find a sufficient horse with his attendant on foot, to bear the Abbot's carriages, with his men, against invaders of the realm in time of war, whenever it might be necessary. They were also to give lodging to the Abbot's servants, with his cattle bought beyond the Mounth, and provide them in all necessities at their own proper charges. Signed at Lundores on 13th April 1542 by John the Abbot, James Carstairs, sub-prior, and 18 monks.

Instrument of Sasine, dated 28 May 1500, on the Sheriff's precept narrating the King's briève for giving sasine to John Lord Oliphant, of the lands of Kilpurny and others. The Mair is desired to take secnry for two silver pennies "beand the duplicacion of the blanche" "farme of the lands of Twrings and Drummy, and of ii. pundis gynger for the dowblyne of blanche ferme" "of the landis of Gallowraw forsaidis, and of sex bred" "harrow heddis for the dowblyne of the blanch ferme" "of the twa pairt of the said lands of Ochertyre and" "Bawcraig, and of twa par of quhyt spurris for the" "dowblyne of the blenche ferme of the landis of Newtyl" "and Kynpurni, and for the seasing oxin and uthers ys" "dw efter the tenor, forme, and effect of our Souerane" "lordis breiff." Witnesses, David Maxwell, Esquire, and others.

Retour of the service at Edinburgh on 2nd May 1566, of Laurence Lord Oliphant, as heir of Laurence his father, in the lands and baronies of Aberdagy and Duplyne:—the lands and barony of Gask; Newtyle, Kilpurny; parts of Auchertyre and Balcraig, Turingis, and Drymme; lands and barony of Galray in Forfarshire; lands and barony of Glensaucht in Kincardineshire, and lands of Muirhouse and Nakitcors in Edinburghshire.

The blench duties due for these lands to the Crown were various and curious, and may be referred to as specimens of the somewhat jocular tenures then prevalent.

For the lands of Aberdagy and Duplyne there was due "unam merulam sive speculum" at Aberdagy, on the feast of St. Peter and Vincula yearly.

LORD
WARREN-
CLIFFE.

RD LXX-PFE.

For Gask, a chaplet of white roses at the manor of Gask on the feast of St. John Baptist.

For Newtyld, a pair of spurs on the feast of All Saints.

For Auchtertyre and Baucraig, three broad arrows at Martinmas.

For Turing and Drymme, a silver penny at Christmas.

For Galray, a pound of ginger, at Pasch.

For Glensaucht, "a chaplet of mastick," at the manor of Kincardine, on the feast of SS. Peter and Paul.

For Muirhouse and Nakitcorss, a tersel of falcon at the Castle of Edinburgh.

The lands of Muirhouse were first conferred on Sir William Olifaunt by King Robert Bruce, whose charter bears that it was granted "in escambium pro quadam pecia terre quam Joannes de Balliole cepit infra clausuram parci de Kyncardin in le Merenis et quam terram dicto parce volumus remanere."

Sir William Olifaunt, after having submitted to King Edward I. in the year 1297, afterwards threw in his lot with the national party. Being in command of the Castle of Stirling, he was besieged in it, in the year 1304, by King Edward in person, and the garrison having capitulated in the month of July in that year, Sir William was carried to London, where he was detained in captivity for four years, when he was released by Edward II.

From King Robert he received grants of various lands, besides those enumerated in the charters now reported on.

Besides the large masses of documents out of which the above were selected, there is a MSS. volume, entitled "Court Book of the Baronies of Newtyle, Keillours, Cowty, and Bendoohie," begun September 1725, when Patrick Grant of Bonhard, Baillie, held his court at the mill of Newtyle, and at which Mr. Charles Rattray, of Gelliebanks, produced a letter of bailliary and chamberlainry, granted by Anne Countess of Bute, in his favour. The courts seem ordinarily to have been held at Halcoun and Newtyle, and the proceedings illustrate the condition of agriculture in the district, and in some measure bear on points of social economy.

In a court held on 8th November 1725, certain Acts were passed and recorded, with a direction that they should be read over once or twice in the year, when the tenants should be convened in greatest number. The Acts had the following heads:—

1. Act anent commonities.
2. Act anent planting and cutting of trees and breaking of enclosures.
3. Act anent the milnes and farm meall.
4. Act anent the moss.
5. Act anent breaking of enclosures.
6. Act anent vagrant persons. The tenants were prohibited from admitting any person into their grasshouses who have not a visible way of living, and are not of good fame, and bring not a sufficient testimony of their good behaviour.
7. Act anent good neighbourhood. The tenants in use to have common herds for sheep and cattle are not to take on them to separate their flocks, or refuse to join in the common charge of keeping herds, and that they have their respective proportions of grass, meal, and teathing of their own field, according to their proper shares, under the penalty of ten pounds toties quoties.
8. Act anent the meadow.
9. Act anent sward ground.
10. Act anent smyddies.
11. Act anent stipends.
12. Act anent biggins.
13. Act anent the tenants—attending courts, &c.
14. Act anent sowing of pease.
15. Act anent complaints and assessments.
16. Act anent the disposal of corns.
17. Act anent millars.

At the court which followed this one, other Acts of a like nature were passed, and bear to have been made at the instance of the Countess of Bute, "and sanctioned" by the tenants of Rosehaugh's Estate in Perth and "Forfar."

One of the additional Acts thus enacted is against public-houses and offices not authorised, and provides "That none presume to set up an alehouse, brew or vend ale or any other liquors, neither set up smiddies or exercise the smith's craft, nor set up malt barns, or make malt, but by the special allowance or approbation of the master; and when any persons are so authorized and appointed to exercise these different trades, that all the inhabitants of the Barony be obliged, as their occasions require, to employ them; and

"the brewers, smiths, and maltmen of the Barony shall be preferred to all others; they in their respective offices giving due service, attendance, and work, to those of the barony who employ them. The penalty of the possessors or tenants not employing them shall be 40s. Scots, and the penalty of the brewers, smiths, and maltmen not doing faithfully thier parts shall be 10l. Scots, besides the damages."

Others are "For encouraging the enclosing of grounds," and "For encouraging and regulating the spinning of yarn."

JOHN STUART.

LORD WHARREN CLIFFE.

MUNIMENTS OF SIR JOHN BETHUNE, BARONET, AT KILCONQUHAR IN THE COUNTY OF FIFE.

SIR J.
BETHUNE,
BART.

Sir John Bethune is paternally a Lindsay, and has taken the surname of Bethune in terms of an entail of the estate of Kilconquhar made by a former proprietor of the Bethune family. Sir John is the chief of the Lindsays of Wormiston in the county of Fife; and as such, he is the male representative of the Lords Lindsay of the Byres, and of the Lindsays Earls of Lindsay, who have all figured prominently in the history of Scotland, along with their great chiefs the Earls of Crawford.

Sir John Bethune is in possession of a large collection of muniments relating to the families of Lindsay and Bethune, but the greater mass of them do not fall within the scope of the Commission, not being documents of an historical character. There are, however, a number of early charters and letters which require to be reported on, and these are here arranged in three divisions:—1. Charters: 2. Letters: and, 3. Miscellaneous Papers.

Several of the charters quoted or referred to are very ancient, dating from the latter half of the twelfth century, and have some additional historical value from the presence of certain names attesting the respective deeds. One charter, unfortunately not well authenticated, purports to have been granted to a certain Venerus in the year 1165. Four charters are given in full; three of these are in Latin and belong to the 12th century; the fourth is in the Scotch dialect and was granted in the year 1456.

The second division embraces a number of letters of the seventeenth century addressed chiefly to Patrick Lindsay of Wormieston, then commissary of St. Andrews, from three successive archbishops of that see, James Sharp, Alexander Burnet, and Arthur Ross. Three letters of the unfortunate archbishop first mentioned are given entire, one of which is an affectionate address to his former parishioners at Crail on the eve of his elevation to the see of St. Andrews; another, written four years prior to his murder on Magus-moor, comments on the Act of Fife with relation to the suppression of conventicles.

The few miscellaneous papers given, embrace an interesting document of a rare kind, being the copy, in all probability contemporary, of a Brieve issued at Dumbarton in 1310 by King Robert the Bruce, ordering an investigation to be made of the dues and privileges of the Constable of Crail, an office which had long pertained to the family of Spens of Wormieston, with the return thereto; an order of Charles I. releasing Mr. John Lyndesay from prison, and a certificate anent the same matter a few days later from the first Marquis of Montrose; also a warrant and grant of liberty to Patrick Lyndesay by Colin, third Earl of Balcarras.

I.—Charters.

1. Document indorsed "Copie of the chartour grantit be King William of the lands of Wolmerstoun." The charter (according to this copy) bore the date of 1165, the first year of the reign of William I. (the Lion). The boundaries of the lands of Wormieston are minutely described, and the grantee is one Venerus, who is to hold the lands therein mentioned in fee and heritage immediately of the Crown, for the yearly payment to King William and his heirs of two pennies under the name of blench farm at Pentecost, if asked. In this copy the names of the attesting witnesses are not given. This charter is not sufficiently authenticated, although it is referred to, without suspicion of its genuineness, in an inventory of the charters, &c. of Wormieston prepared in the year 1662.

2. Charter by King William I. (the Lion), in favour of Robert of Gasgigrey of the lands of Gasgigrey. [Granted between the years 1189–1192.]

SIR J.
BETHUNE
BART.

"Willelmus Dei gratia Rex Scottorum, omnibus probis hominibus tocius terre sue, clericis et laicis salutem: Sciant presentes et futuri me dedisse et concessisse et hac carta mea confirmasse Roberto filio Henrici Pincerne, Gasgingrei, per easdem dinisas per quas Archenbald, Abbas de Dunfermelin, cum probis hominibus meis et per preceptum meum terram illam ei perambulavit: Tenendam sibi et heredibus suis, de me et heredibus meis, in feudo et hereditate, in terris et pratis et pascuis, et cum communi pastura de mora de Kellin, libere et quiete: Faciendo inde forinsecum seruicium, tantum, scilicet quantum pertinet ad dimidiam carucatam terre in Kellin shire: Concessi etiam predicto Roberto et heredibus suis ut quieti sint de multura: de domo sua propria ad molendinum meum de Kellina Set uolo quod homines sui dent multuram: Testibus, Hugone cancellario meo, Henrico Abbate de Aberbrothoc, Roberto de Londonia, Johanne de Hasting, Bernardo de Haudene, Dunecano de Lascelles, Herberto Marescallo, Herberto de Camera: Apud Kingorn."

3. Charter by King William I. (the Lion) in favour of William of Glasgingrey of the lands of Glasgingrey. [Granted subsequent to the preceding charter, between the years 1189-1192.]

This grant is the same, almost in language, as the preceding one to Robert, father of the grantee herein mentioned. The attesting witnesses are "Hugo cancellarius meus, Robertus de Londonia, Robertus de Quinci, Willelmus de Lindesia, Willelmus de Haia, Henricus Biset, Willelmus Giffarde, Walterus Murdahe," and the charter is dated "Apud Strivelin (Stirling) xxviii die Augusti."

4. Charter by Alexander III. in favour of Sir Nicholas Hay of the lands of Glasgyngrey, proceeding upon the resignation thereof in the King's hands by Ada of Glasgyngrey, one of the heirs portioners of the deceased William of Glasgyngrey. Dated 4th October 1282.

"Alexander Dei gratia Rex Scottorum, omnibus probis hominibus tocius terre sue, clericis et laicis, salutem. Cum Eda de Glasgyngrey, filia quondam Willelmi de Glasgyngrey, die dominica proxima ante festum beate Margarete virginis, anno Domini M^o CC^o octogesimo secundo, in capella nostra de Clony, nobis per fustum et baculum resignauerit totam tertiam partem terre de Glasgyngrey quam ipsa Eda de nobis iure hereditario tenuit, tanquam vna heredum predicti quondam Willelmi de Glasgyngrey, ad infeodandum Nicolaum de Haya, militem, de eadem terra cum pertinenciis: Sciatis nos ad instanciam predictorum Edo et Nicholai ac amicorum suorum eundem Nicolaum de dicta tertia parte terra de Glasgyngrey dictis die, loco et anno infeodasse, et homagium suum inde recepisse: Tenendam et habendam de nobis et heredibus nostris eidem Nicholao et heredibus suis in feodo et hereditate, in terris, pratis, et pascuis, et cum communi pastura de mora de Kellyne quanta pertinet ad dictam tertiam partem terre prenominate, libere, integre et quiete: faciendo inde nobis forinsecum seruicium quantum pertinet ad tantam terram in Kellynscyre: Concessimus etiam predicto Nicholao et heredibus suis ut quieti sint de multura de domo sua propria ad molendinum de Kellyn: Set volumus quod homines eorum dent multuram, secundum quod in carta felicis recordacionis domini Willelmi Regis, aui nostri carissimi, plenius est expressum: Testibus, Jacobo Senescalco Scocie, Willelmo de Sancto Claro, Roberto de Cambrune, Symone Fraser, Patricio de Graham, et Ricardo Fraser, Apud Newbotyll, quarto die Octobris anno regni nostri tricesimo quarto."

[Part of the great seal is still appended to this charter.]

5. Charter by Gilbert of Caskyngray in favour of Nicholas de Hay, Lord of Errol, of his land of Caskyngray. [Before 1293.]

"Omnibus hanc cartam visuris nel auditoris, Gilbertus de Ca-kynggray filius et heres Laurencii et Ellote de Caskyngray, eternam in Domino salutem: Noveritis me dedisse, concessisse, et hac presenti carta mea confirmasse domino Nicholao de Haya, domino de Errolle, totam terram meam de Caskyngray, cum omni iure et redditibus quod et quos hactenus habui in eadem terra, ac quod et quos ego uel heredes mei habere aliquo casu poterimus in posterum in terra predicta: Tenendam et habendam dicto domino Nicholao et heredibus suis de domino Rege, adeo libere et quiete, bene et pacifice, sicut ego et antecessores mei prefatam terram tenuimus aut tenere potuimus: faciendo inde debita et consueta seruicia que ego et antecessores mei facere solebamus et tenebamur: Ita quod nec ego uel heredes mei nec aliquis per nos, aliquid iuris uel clamii de cetero in dicta terra uel eius redditibus habere uel exigere poterimus. In cuius rei testimonium sigilla domini Johannis Dei gratia prioris Sancti Andree et domini Radulphi de Lascelles presenti carte apponi procuravi et in simul sigillum meum apposui: Hiis testibus antedicto dompno priore, domino Johanne archidiacono Sancti Andree, dominis Radulpho de Lascelles et Hugone de Haya, militibus, Willelmo de Abircrumby, Adam Marescallo, Rogero filio Nicholai, et aliis."

6. An infeftment by resignation of Robert de Trumbley in favour of Laurence Laird of Wolmerstoun, Constable of Crail, of the lands of Torbreg, with 28 acres of land in the tenement of Wolmerstoun, under two great seals.

This infeftment is referred to in the Wormiestoun inventory of 1662, and was probably made about the year 1300.

7. An indenture made betwixt Thomas Hay of Balcomie and Laurence of Wolmerstoun, for the decision of the way betwixt Balcomie and Wolmerstoun. Dated 1326, and referred to in the inventory ut supra.

8. A contract, written on parchment, betwixt Thomas Hay of Balcomie and Laurence of Wolmerstoun anent the lands of Stewartflat. Dated 1326, and referred to in the inventory ut supra.

9. An instrument of sasine "past upon ane precept" out of the Chancellerie, whereby Isobel of Wolmerstoun is infeft in three fifth parts of the lands of Wolmerstoun. Dated 1386, and referred to in the above inventory.

10. A bond, written on parchment, given by John Weymis, laird of Kincaldrum, to Annas of Wolmerstoun of forty pounds money.

Dated 4th August 13[---], and referred to in the inventory.

11. An inventory of Annas of Wolmerstoun made by her for her lifetime to Duncane Spens of all her lands lying within the barony of Wolmerstoun. Dated 17th June 1390, and referred to in the inventory of 1662.

12. An instrument annulling the sasine taken by John Weymis of Kires, knight, of the lands of Wolmerstoun and Braidlayis, made by Annas of Wolmerstoun. Dated 31st July 1394, and referred to in the inventory.

13. Charter by William de Hay, Lord of Errol and Constable of Scotland, with consent of Gilbert his eldest son and heir, of all the lands of Castyngray in the shire of Fife which the granter held in chief of the Crown: To be held by the foresaid Nicholas and the lawful heirs male of his body, whom failing to revert to the said William Lord of Errol and his heirs, of the granter and his heirs, in fee and heritage for ever, as freely, fully, &c. as they had been held by the said William de Hay or any of his predecessors, the said Nicholas and his heirs rendering the customary forinsic service to the Crown, and to the said William and his heirs the service due and wont, viz' "wardam, releuim, humagium et "seruicium," the frank tenement of the lands being reserved by William de Hay for himself during his lifetime.

Given under the seal of the said William and his son Gilbert at Farvy, 17th February 1431. The witnesses are Alexander de Seton de Gordon, Andrew Stewart, Alexander de Irwyne, John de Ogyston of that ilk, and many others.

14. Letters by William Earl of Errol, confirming an inquest declaring Gilbert Hay to be the nearest and lawful heir of his father Nicholas Hay of Castyngray, in the lands of Castyngray. Dated 14th December 1456.

"Tyll all and sindry to quhais knowlage thir presentez lettres salcum, Williame Erle of Errole, lorde the Haia and constabile of Scotlande, gretying in Gode: Sen it is neidful and meritabile to ber leile witnessing to suthfastnes, and specealy in the thingis quhilkis ar declaryt and done in judgement, Then it is that befor vs sittande in judgement in our curt haldin at Slany. the dai of the date of the makyne of thir presentez lettres, comperit personaly our cusing Gilbert the Haia, son and air till quhillum our ceeme, Nicholl the Haia, and askit ande requeryt vs to grant hym ane inquest of that our curt of quhat landis and annuall rentis, with the pertynance, the said Nychol the Haia deyt last vest and saisit as of fee, in dew fourme; And we herrande and considerande his resonabile desire and request, gert call to that inquest thir personis vnderwrytyn, that is to say, Rycharde the Wans, Williame Rede off Coliston, David Haia of Essindy, Williame the Wans, Symon Banerman, James Berclay, John of Moncreffe, Thomas of Lask, Thom Gray, Slany pursywant, Alexander Haia, David Rede, John of Murref, Williame Modane, Alane Gray, and George off Fentone. The quhilkis, the gret ath sworne, said at the said Nichol the Haia, vmquhill fader to the said Gilbert deyt last vest and saist as of fee of the landis of Castingray and of Fudy, with thar pertynance, liand in our barony of Errol, within the schirefdome of Fife, and at the foresaid Gilbert the Haia is lauchful and nerrast air of the said Nichol vmquhil his fader, off the said landis with the pertynance, and at he is nocht yheit of lauchfull age, bot he sall be of perfite and lauchful age at the fest of the Innencion of the Halicroice, callit Beltane, next to cum, efter the date of thir presentes lettres, and at the said landis with the pertynance ar now worth be yher xxv lib., and thair war worth in tyme of pese xx lib.; and at thair ar haldin of vs be seruice of ward and relief, mantrent and seruice; and at thair ar now in the said Gilbertis handis be saising giffin be vs till hym a yher syne and mair, nochtwithstanding his nonage; the quhilk saisine and possessione now as than quhen he sal be of lauchfull age, and than as now, we approve, ratifis and confermys be the tenour of thir presentes lettres. To the quhilkis, in witnes of veritee, and of the foresaid thingis, our seele, togidder with the seele of Richarde the Wans, for hym, and procurit be al thaim at was upon the inquest for thaim all as is appensit, at Slany, the xiiij. dai of December, yhe yhere of God a thousand four hundreth fiftie and sax: Witnes, maister Johne Lummysdene, persoune of Sanctmodois, Schir Alexander Banerman and Schir Thomas Broune, chaplanes, with othiris diuers."

II.—Letters.

(1). Letters from James Sharp, Archbishop of St. Andrews.

15. "Edinburgh, Apryll 29, 1661.

"Mistress,

"This is to pay my thanks for your kyndnes to my wife, of the constancy wherof she and I upon all occasions have cause to be sensible: I must part with her for a time now as formerly, of which she will acquaint your ladyship: and therfor shall leave her upon your hand. If I can be of any use to yow or yours wherever my lot shall be cast, I hope yow will doe me the right as not to doubt of my readines, and good will. I have engaged to my lord thesaurer that no new order come from above in behalf of John Boswell; and if no motion come from thence, my lord resolves to take his hazard with what can be done for him here. It may be beleved that I will preferr your sones interest in that busines to any other, and wherin I can contribute to the furthering of it, I will not be wanting. Remember my service to the Laird your sone and his ladye, to your daughter, your sone George. All mercy and peace attend yow all.

I am, Mistress,

Your assured freind to serve yow,

JA. SHARP.

"I had wreat a particular letter to your sone, but that I have no time. The letter my wife is to give to him he may be pleased to communicat to the elders of the Session."

Dorso.—"For his much Honored the Ladye Wormiestoun."

JS

16. [Written from London in May 1661.]

"Honored and dearly beloved in the Lord:

"James Moncreif can acquaint yow that I am commandit to make a journey for London. It was in my heart and desire to have seen yow befor my going, but I could not. It hath been, I confess, to your disadvantage and my greif that I have been so often parted from yow; and albeit now my interest in yow is not such as it hath been, yet I shall ever think myself oblidged to be concerned in the wele of the parish, and contribute what I can towards it. That yow have not been prowdyt of a minister befor this can not in reason be imputed to me, who have no other designe but that yow may have a pious faythfull man fitted for the Lord's work amongst yow, to which purpose I have spoke to my Lord Thesaurer who assures that he will come over, and by your own consent present one, whose ministrie may have success amongst yow. My heart's desires on your behalf are continually with the great Sheapheard of the flock, that he would prowde for yow a pastor after his own heart who may make up the wants of my ministrie amongst yow, which is the greatest blessing I can wish unto yow; and till it be the Lord's good pleasure so to order, my prayer to the Lord, and my exhortation is to yow, that yow may be helped to watch over the people over whom yow are sett, and by your example and care keep them in the 5.

fear of God and obedience and love of the ordinances of Jesus Christ. The only wise and good God prowde for yow, bliss, guyd and prosper yow! To His grace and tender mercies yow are commendit by

Your most loving faythfull friend to serve yow,

JA. SHARP."

Dorso.—"For his much Honored Patrick Lyndsay of Wormiestoun, to be communicated to the elders of the Session of Craill."

17.

"Edinburgh, January 14 [16]75.

"Hona" Sir,

"The Act of Fyfe in the contriving and presenting of which yow had a cheef hand, when read at the Council board, was very pleasing to all, but in regard of some defects, was committed to the further consideration of my Lord Chancellor and others; which after beeng reported to the Council with the amende-ments, did pass at a full meeting without contradiction, and I beleve is by my Lord Chancellor transmitted to the 4 meetings in the severall presbytries. The Council, —finding the band did not mention the engaging to live orderly in obedience to the lawes, meaning nothing but the lawes which doe forbid disorderly baptisms & marriages, and expresly injoyn the keeping of the respective parish churches, the neglect wherof is the cause of conventicling and must lead to irreligion, and atheism,—have therfor resolved to adde that clause in the band, which is expected will not be scrupled by any heretour in Fyfe: for it is more eligible to give way to conventicles then to allow or connyve at withdrawing from the church, and publick meetings for God's worship. And in regard that vagrant preachers and intercommuned ministers are the cheef incendiaries, and give lyfe and boldnes to these disorders, it was judged necessary that [a] clause be addit also, which relates to the not harbouring of these persons, and endeavouring they may be apprehendit. The fynes of delinquents belonging to the King, the Lords of the Thesauray could not be induced to allow they should be employed for the defraying of the charge mentioned in the Act; and that wheras 20 dayes provision is ordered to be levied for the militia of Angus who are to march to the west country, 14 dayes only are ordered for Fyfe, and so much for the militia of the Lowthians, who besyds must goe upon duty. The commission for levying of the money and the 4 captains are also past the Council, but I hope we shall obtain some allowance off the fynes for incouragement of the captains and other officers. This account I give yow, Sir, of the summe and reasons of these alterations of that Act which are judged to be necessary, and will be made the patern according to which other shyres where disorders are to be rectifyed must expect termes, else by force they will be impeled to the greater cost. Fyfe has done itself and my Lord Chancellor much right by the late actings at Cowper upon reasons I shall make appear to yow at meeting; and in my opinion a ready and cheerfull obedience to the Council's orders at this tyme without stiking, will prevent the detriment and dishonour which else must come upon Fyfe; and your care to have all done as it ought, is beseeched by,

Sir,

Your assured freind and servant,

SCOT. ANDREWS."

Dorso.—"For the Hon^l. the Laird of Wormieston, Commissar of St. Andrews."

18. Fourteen other letters of less interest than those above given in full, from Archbishop Sharpe to the Laird of Wormieston, then Commissary of Saint Andrews.

19. A letter from Alexander Burnet, Sharpe's successor in the archbishopric of St. Andrews, to the Laird of Wormieston, dated 1681.

20. Three letters, all written in 1686, from Arthur Ross, Burnet's successor in the archbishopric of St. Andrews, and the last holder of the See before the Revolution, to the Laird of Wormieston,

21. A letter from Sir Alexander Areskine, dated at London, January 23, 1711, in which the writer acknowledges to the Laird of Wormieston the receipt of a letter from Dr. Arbuthnot inclosed in one from the Laird to himself, and says, "I have spoke to him, and wee shall both concur in any thing that can be serviceable to the Doctor." He also refers to a report, which he considers credible, that the Queen had that morning requested the Duke of Argyll to assume the duties of Ambassador and of Commander of her Forces in Spain. The Duke had that day at dinner intimated to the Earl of Mar that he would accept the offer. He further writes:—"The news in the coffee house this

4 K

SIR J.
BETHUNE,
BART.

"day is that the D. of Marlborough will goe over
" Captain Generall, as formerly, to Flanders."

III.—Miscellaneous Papers.

22. Brieve of King Robert I., with return thereto, setting forth the dues and privileges of the Constabular of Craill, 1310 :—Robertus Dei gracia rex Scotorum, iusticiario suo ex parte boreali aque de Forth, vel eius locum tenentibus seu tenenti, salutem: Monstravit nobis Laurencius de Wenmerstoun evidencias quas habet de custodia constabillarie nostre de Karale de temporibus antiquis, quod quidem officium eidem Laurencio in feodo et hereditate ex mera voluntate nostra concedimus in perpetuum et confirmamus. Quare vobis mandamus et firmiter precipimus, quatinus per probos homines et fideles et burgenses, per quos rei veritas melius sciri poterit et dinosci, diligentem et fidelem recognitionem fieri faciatis super comoditatibus, feodis, et iuribus pertinentibus ad officium dicte constabillarie nostre: et etiam quid dictus Laurencius nomine officii predicti faciet. Et quid per dictam recognitionem inneneritis deinceps in eadem forma firmiter custodiri faciatis. Datum apud Dumbrettane quinto die Marci, anno regni nostri quarto. Teste meipso.

Recognitione facta apud Cuprum in Fyffe de mandato eiusdem domini nostri Regis, coram Willelmo de Strabrok et Henrico de Prestoun locum tenentibus nobilibus viri Domini Roberti de Keth, Iusticiarii ab aqua de Forth usque Orknay ad festum Sancti Dionisii Martiris, anno gracie millesimo tricentesimo duodecimo, per fideles et meliores patrie subscriptos, juratos videlicet: Dominos David de Wemys, Alexandrum de Dambyrtoun, Johannem de Haya de Achnewchtane, Malisium de Douery, Johannem de Dündemor, Willelmum de Monte Alto, Willelmum Suard, Milites; Thomam de Balkasky, Walterum de Karale, Johannem de Abircrumby, Henricum de Aynstrother, Bartholomeum de Kyldunchane, Herueum de Strathanry, Walterum Scot, Thomam Bell, Johannem dictum Goddysmane, burgenses Sancti Andree; Willelmum Boner, Willelmum Comyn, burgenses de Kyngorne; Willelmum Brawnche, Johannem filium Josue, burgenses de Innerkethyne; Radulfum dictum Yung, Henricum Herward, Willelmum filium Mariorie, Gilbertum filium Johannis, Laurencium de Petolly, Mauricium de Pottergat, Adam filium Johannis, burgenses de Karale: super comoditatibus, feodye, et iuribus pertinentibus constabillario de Karal, de iure et antiqua consuetudine. Qui iurati dicunt, quod constabillarius de Karal qui pro tempore fuerit de iure capiet de una batella per diem viginti albos pisces pro denario: et sic singulis in circuitu equaliter dividendo. Et habebit per annum ad duo tempora capiendi allecia, sex milia pro denariis suis ad precium domini regis: et de qualibet batella veniente ad villam de Karale cum morellis, vnum morellum ad electionem constabillarii pro uno denario. Insuper habebit de bracinis, videlicet, de qualibet braciatrix que seruiciam vendit vnam lagenam cum dimidia pro vno denario quotiens omnes bracinant et vendunt; exceptis hospitalariis. Ac predicti iurati dicunt quod est officium constabillarii de Karale qui pro tempore fuerit, quod debet de iure habere custodiam castri de Karale, et precipere ianitori ad recipiendum omnimodos homines attachiatos et omnes districtos captos pro comodo domini nostri Regis, et leuare omnes firmas domini nostri regis infra baroniam de Karale et easdem super warandia expendere. Ac habet recipere preceptum domini nostri Regis super fractura sue prouidencie et ad videndum quod custos moris et warandie faciat officium suum, et ad recipiendum omnes sectas presentatas castro de Karale, tam de purgacione baronie quam de nequicia, quas predictas sectas constabillarius vicecomiti presentabit; et omnes alias sectas sibi presentatas quecumque aut vndeunque sint, ita in eisdem potest testificare; et omnimoda plegia sibi inuenta, si que fuerint, presentabit vicecomiti de Fyffe qui pro tempore fuerit; et capiet per annum de domino nostro Rege quadraginta solidos pro feodo suo. Ac sociatis me Willelmum de Strabrok et Henricum de Prestoun socium meum sigilla nostra predictae recognitioni dedisse, dicto die et loco, habentes [MSS. torn] . . . Regis in warandio. Datum et cet."

23. "Charles R.

"These are to require all and euery one whom it may concerne, that forthwith upon sighthereof, yo^e sett at libertie Mr. John Lindsay of Wormestoun out of yo^e custodie and prison, wheeof yo^e are not to fayle, as yo^e will be answer^{ble} at yo^e highest perille. Given under our hand and signett at Newcastle the 30th day of July 1646.

By his Majesties command,
LANKRICK."

24. There is a certificate to the same effect from James first Marquis of Montrose, as follows:—

"Thes are to show that I had not, ner hes anay thing to charge Mr. Jo^e Lindsay, younger, of Wilmerston withall, and knowes nothing bot that he should be sett at libertie according to my several desyirs to that effect. Given under my hand at Old Montrose, Agust the 9th, 1646.

MONTROSE."

25. Warrant and grant of liberty to Patrick Lindsay of Wormieston, from Colin Earl of Belcarras.

"Wee Coline Earle of Balcarras, shirreff principall of Fyffe, one of his Majesties privie Counaill, and having power and warrand from his Majesties high commissioner to dispenche with such heritors in Fyfe as is infirme and sickly from goeing to the hoast. Therfor, being certainlie informed of the inabilitie and sickness of Patrick Lyndsay of Wormestoun, I doe heirby declair that he is in saiffitie and friedom to stay at home, and shall not heirefter be troubled, quarrelled, nor fyned for the same being absent from his Majestie's said hoast at the present expeditione, and that for the causes above exprest. In witness q'off we have subscrybed thir presents with our hand. Att Kirkaldie the twentie thrid day of May j^o vi and eightie fyve [1685] yeirs.

BALCARRAS."

Having given at length in this Report the more important and interesting of the Charters and Letters, and as the remainder are not numerous, and the terms of them fully stated, I do not think it is necessary to suggest that any separate Calendar of them should be prepared.

WILLIAM FRASER.

Edinburgh, 32, Castle Street,
18th July 1874.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF SIR WILLIAM FORBES, BART., OF CRAIGIEVAR, AT FINTRAY HOUSE.

SIR W.
FORBES,
BART.

The barony of Coule and Ohele formed part of the great possessions of the powerful family of the Ostiarii or Durwards, the last male representative of which died towards the end of the 13th century, leaving three daughters, who carried their large estates into other families.

The lands of Coule and Onele next belonged to the Earls of Fife, and the earliest of the charters in this collection is an extract of a charter by King Robert II. to his son Robert Earl of Fife and Menteith, of the barony of Coul and Onele, which belonged to Isabella Countess of Fife, daughter of Duncan Earl of Fife, and who in her widowhood resigned the said barony at the Monastery of Dunfermline on the day of granting the said charter. Dated at Dunfermline, 12 August 1399.

About a century after this time the barony became vested in Patrick, third son of James second Lord Forbes, and ancestor of the present owner. This appears by the next charter in point of date being one by King James III. to his esquire Patrick Forbes of the barony of Onele, viz., the lands of Coule, Kincragy, and Le Corss, to be held of the King for the annual payment of 21*l.* and 3 marts, or for each mart 15*s.*, and also to the Bishop of Aberdeen for second tithes due from these lands, 4*s.* 8*d.* Dated at Edinburgh, 10th October 1482. Witnesses, Alexander Duke of Albany, Earl of March, Mar, and Garriach, Lord of Annandale and Man, Guardian of the East and West Marches, and Admiral of the Kingdom; John Bishop of Glasgow, the King's Chancellor; James Bishop of Dunkeld; John Earl of Athol and James Earl of Buchan, the King's uncles; David Earl of Craufurd; John Lord Kennedy, William Lord Borthwick; Mr. Archibald Quhitlaw; Archdeacon of Lothian, the King's Secretary; Patrick Lech, Canon of Glasgow and Clerk of Register.

David, as son of Patrick Forbes, had a charter under the Great Seal from King James IV. of the lands of Kincragy and Le Corss on the resignation of Patrick, and reserving his liferent. The charter narrates that Patrick Forbes of Fotherbirr holds these lands of the King, for payment of the specified feu duty and second tithes, and that he is at present at the King's summons to hear the said lands decreed to belong to the Crown, but that the King annuls said summons and action and all their consequences, and on account of good service done to his father and himself by the said Patrick, the great expenses of infestment in said lands under his father, and certain sums of money paid into his Treasury, grants this charter to the said David, which is dated at Edinburgh 30 April 1506.

W.
FORBES,
BART.

By another charter, dated at Edinburgh 11 January 1510, King James IV. granted to David Forbes, son natural of Patrick Forbes, and Elizabeth Panitere the wife of the said David, the lands of Onele, Corse Kin-craggy, and others, reserving the liferent of Patrick, who had resigned the lands of Coule into the hands of the King, who had otherwise disposed of them, which lands are thereby united and incorporated into a free barony to be called the barony of Onele. This David enjoyed in his day the warlike soubriquet of "David Trail the Axe."

The lands of Corse came by succession to be vested in Patrick Forbes, Bishop of Aberdeen, who died in 1635, and in his son, Dr. John Forbes, Professor of Divinity in King's College, Aberdeen, who died in 1648.

The lands of Craigievar, which for upwards of two centuries belonged to a family of the name of Mortimer, were acquired in the year 1610 from John Mortimer by William Forbes, the bishop's brother, whose son William was in the year 1630 created a baronet of Nova Scotia.

Among the writs of Craigievar the oldest is a charter by King James II. to Edmund Mortimore of the lands of Craigievar and others, on his own resignation, dated at Aberdeen 12 November 1457. Witnesses, George, Bishop of Brechin, Chancellor; Patrick Lord Glamis; James Lord Forbes; Mr. James Stewart, Dean of Moray, the King's Treasurer; Thomas Waus, Dean of Glasgow, his Secretary; and Ninian Spot, Canon of Dunkeld, his Comptroller of Accounts.

The instrument of resignation is dated within the lodging of John Fyff, in Aberdeen, on 12 November 1457, and sets forth that Edmund Mortimer on bended knees resigned his said lands into the hands of George Bishop of Brechin and Chancellor of Scotland, as having authority of the King to that effect. The witnesses were William, Theyne of Caldor; Sir Alexander Yong, Canon of Aberdeen; and Alexander Forbes of Petalogocho.

The lands of Wester Fowlis and Easter Leochel, which were added to his estate by Sir John Forbes in 1675, originally belonged to the Monastery of Monymusk. They came into the possession of the Earls of Huntly, and by a charter dated at Huntly 21 March 1554, they were conveyed by George Earl of Huntly to George Gordon of Beldorney. The witnesses to this charter are George Lord Gordon, Alexander Seton, younger, of Meldrum, John Gordon of Dunmelyth, William Con, Patrick Maitland, Alexander Meldrum, James Stevin, and others. It was confirmed by David Prior of Monymusk and John Elphinston of Invernochty, his assistant and successor, and by the King. When the lands became vested in Sir John Forbes, the grant in his favour was confirmed by the Bishop and Chapter of Dunblane as representing the Prior of Monymusk.

The lands of Wester Corse for a time belonged to the family of Pantoun of Pitmedden. By decret of the Lords of Council and Session, on a summons raised by David Forbes, tenementor of the lands of Easter Corse, against John Pantoun, for his "wrangwiss ryving" "furth" of the common between their properties, it is decerned that the disputed ground is to remain common to both.

The lands thereafter belonged to the Frasers of Stonywood (ancestors of the Lords Fraser), from whom they passed to the Urrys of Pitfichie (a family from which Sir John Hurry, who served on both sides in the civil strifes of the time of Charles I., was sprung), and at last were bought by William Forbes of Corse. Among the papers are titles of these different families, as well as of the Skenes of Wester Corss, who were superiors of the lands; and selections from the whole have been printed by the Spalding Club, in their Collections on the History of the Shires of Aberdeen and Banff.

A prominent feature of the collections at Fintray House is the correspondence of Sir Andrew Mitchell of Thainston. This gentleman, who studied at Edinburgh under Maclaurin, was for a time the representative of the county of Aberdeen in Parliament, and afterwards acted as British Ambassador at the Court of Frederick the Great, from 1753 till his death at Berlin in 1771, where he acquired distinction on account of his diplomatic ability.

Sir Andrew Mitchell at his death without issue left his property, including his papers, to Sir Arthur Forbes, Bart., of Craigievar and Fintray. In the year 1810 a portion of Sir Andrew's political papers were acquired from Sir William Forbes, the son of Sir Arthur, by the Trustees of the British Museum, and are now arranged in that noble repository. A memoir of Sir Andrew Mitchell, by Mr. Andrew Bisset, barrister, of Lincoln's Inn, was published in the year 1850, in which, use is made of the collection in the Museum, and of the papers still left at Fintray House.

Among the letters is a series from Dr. Maclaurin to Mitchell (then Mr. Andrew Mitchell) in London. In November 1735, the Professor writes that he has got a wife, "whom I think agreeable but is tender, and a diverting boy. I have a girl too since Tuesday last, but I have not the least acquaintance with her as yet." "A new theorem or problem is still one of my greatest ragouts, and I study rather more than formerly, because I am more at home and less exposed to idle company." He concludes with some of the "town's talk" of Edinburgh, both in civil and ecclesiastical matters.

In a letter dated in May 1736 he gives an account of the General Assembly, before which Principal Campbell had been called: "He is obstinate, and will not own his expressions exceptionable in any degree. His oratio academica in the committee was found to contain exceptionable expressions by seven majority. The minority indeed only voted a delay. I must be like that discourse, but yet we wish him to get off for the sake of liberty. He explains by self-love to be delighting in the glory of God."

One in April 1737 relates to several telescopes sent to London by Mr. Short. "I have not as yet done with receiving letters from the country about the eclipse, tho some of them signify little. I am to draw up my account without delay now." Others relate to matters about the clergy of Edinburgh, his Fluxions, the Philosophical Society of Edinburgh, his books and mathematical subjects.

A series of letters from Mr. Robert Dundas of Arniston, on the politics of Edinburgh and Aberdeen, and general subjects, range in date from 1752 to 1755. In one of 1 November 1755, he writes, "I have obliged the Duke of Newcastle, though in my life I never did anything with greater reluctance." In another dated February 1752, he refers to a report "that Mr. Mitchell had been the means of stopping H. H." [Henry Home] letter to be our judge, by saying to the Eng. M. that his family was disaffected in so far as his father was in the rebellion of 1715." He gives the opportunity of contradicting it.

Several letters to Mr. Mitchell from Lord Deskford, 1752-5.

In one of March 22, 1752, he refers to Mr. Mitchell's employment abroad, his supposed connexion with the letter of appointment of Lord Kames as a judge. "Your crime is having some share of the Duke of Newcastle and Mr. Pelham's favour, without depending upon those who call themselves the Scotch ministry for it." He goes on to speak of the difficulty of Mr. Mitchell's election for the county of Aberdeen, with the whole weight of the Scotch ministry against him, and discusses local politics.

Letter in October 1752, from Lord Aberdour, at Leyden, about the law classes there.

Five papers relating to Miss Villiers Pitt, 1752.

Two news letters from Earl Granard, at Spa, September 1753.

Drafts of letters and papers on public affairs, by Mr. Mitchell, 1752, 1753.

Memoranda by him of arguments to be used, Brussels, 1752 and 1753, with regard to negotiations. Heads of conversations with the Marquis de Botta; hints concerning the trade with Flanders; a description of the ceremonial at opening the Conference, 1739, &c.

A series from Mr. Burnett of Kenmay (who became his secretary after his mission to Berlin), extends from 1742 to 1747, and in one of them is an account of his proceedings in the late rebellion.

There are six letters from Principal Blackwell, one of which relates to the publication of his "Memoirs of the Court of Augustus."

A series from the Earl of Findlater, 1752-55, are principally on the politics of the day. Another set from the Earl of Morton, 1749-1752, relate to Mr. Mitchell's election for the county of Aberdeen; Lord Lauderdale's incivility to Lord Morton, his neighbour; and his attempts to vindicate Mr. Mitchell in the matter of the judgship of Lord Kames, and politics.

Letters from Mr. Robert Wallace, Edinburgh, in one of which, dated 4 February 1752, are remarks as to the election of Mr. David Hume as successor to Mr. Buddiman as librarian in the Advocates' Library.

SIR W.
FORBES,
BART.

SIR W.
FORBES
BART.

Two news letters from Earl Granard, dated Spa, September 1755.

Papers by President Munchausen, 1757. Various "Memoires" and "Precis d'une Conference," relating to the treaty with the Duke of Brunswick.

Drafts and copies of letters by Mitchell from Breslau in 1759 to Lord Holderness, the Duke of Newcastle, and Mr. Pitt. In one to the latter (on 8th January) he assures him of his satisfaction that the Prussian Majesty is so highly pleased with the measures pursued by the King's Ministers and with the fair, candid, and honest manner in which they have behaved to him. "If any thing could add to the joy I felt on this occasion, it was to hear His Prussian Majesty make the parallel between his former ally and his present, and the comparison between the behaviour of the French and English Ministers. But amidst general applause it would be unjust to conceal from you the very particular and distinguished approbation with which that monarch has been pleased to honour your conduct; the Prussian Ministers at London having transmitted to their master an account of what you said in the House of Commons when it was proposed to address the King not to deliver up Louisbourg to the French by any subsequent treaty of peace. The King of Prussia admired the firmness of your behaviour in replying instantly in the manner you did, and said the declaration you made on that occasion was like a great statesman; and he, honest man, he concluded with these words 'enfin ce'toit un coup de maitre.'" In a letter to the Duke of Newcastle, of January 1759, he begs him to ask the Order of the Bath for him from the King. In one of 5 May 1759 to Earl Holderness, he says, "His P[russian] M[ajesty] surpasses, if possible, his usual activity, vigilance, and application, and as he is resolved to continue on the defensive as long as possible, I flatter myself all will go well." On 20th May 1759 he writes to Mr. Pitt that the K[ing] of P[russia] had expressed his warmest wishes for peace. "He asked me, 'But can your ministers make a peace—are things yet in that situation?' I answered, 'I was sure they wished for peace,' and says he, 'I hope I shall not be forgot.' My reply was prevented by the King's adding immediately, 'No! I am in no danger. Mr. Pitt is an honest man, and firm; my interests are safe in his hands.'"

Writing from Forgau to Earl Holderness on 22 October 1759 ("but not sent," as is marked in the draft), he gives an account of the battle of Cunnersdorff, fought on the 12th of August, of the situation of the Prussian army, and a good deal of detail. A long letter from the King of Prussia to Mr. Mitchell, signed "Frederic," and dated Berlin, 19 Aug. 1756. Relation by Comte Tottleben of the fighting between 26 September and 18 October 1760. Letters dated Wilsdruff, Dec. 1759, from Mr. Mitchell to the Duke of Newcastle and Mr. Pitt, are marked "Private," and give an account of the progress of events, and his conversations with the Prussian King. Many drafts of letters to the Duke of Newcastle and others during conferences at Brussels, 1752-3. A mass of duplicates of despatches from Lord Holderness to Mr. Mitchell, 1757. A mass of communications from President Munchausen, dated from Hanover, 1756-1764. Several letters from General de Schmettau, Hanover February 1757. Drafts of letters from Mr. Mitchell to the Secretary of State, Berlin, 1756. Many of them are marked "Secret."

Letter from the Duke of Brunswick to Sir Andrew Mitchell, with extracts from a letter of King Frederick regarding Sir Andrew. Dated Brunswick, 24 February 1757.

Copies of letters from the Duke of Newcastle to Mr. Mitchell, 1752-3.

Returns and other papers relating to grievances in trade between England and Flanders, 1714 and 1738.

A bundle of papers, conventions, and others for the campaign of 1748.

Resultat of the conferences between the Earl of Chesterfield and Mr. Trevor, and the deputies of their high mightinesses, March 1745. Treaties with various Powers. Abridgement of the treaty of 1495, between Henry VII. of England and Philip Archduke of Burgundy.

Plan for reducing the English history to general heads, and for the better connecting of these facts.

A series of papers consisting of propositions, resolutions, answers, and commissions at the Conference, May 1752.

State of the negotiations at Brussels, January 1754. Letters between the King and Prince of Prussia, July 1757. A short recapitulation of the matters which gave rise to the conferences at Antwerp in 1737-38-39, with observations thereon. Copies of papers by the Secretary of State submitted to the King relative to the resolutions of the States General of October 1738.

Eight letters from "H. Warrender" (1740-55), (one to Mr. Mitchell at Brussels in 1752), with political news and gossip.

Memoranda of journeys by Mr. Mitchell in Holland and Flanders 1730-31, and in France and Italy 1731-32.

Notes of a visit by Mr. Mitchell to Rome in 1733; descriptions of the Vatican library, galleries of paintings and statuary. Notes of a journey through Italy in 1734.

A volume containing notes of the letters written from day to day from 1742 to 1745, by Mr. Mitchell, while Under Secretary of State for Scotland, to the Lord Advocate, Mr. Solicitor Dundas, Lord George Hay, Lord Justice Clerk, Sir John Cope, Lord Bollo, and many other correspondents. Letter from Mr. A. Burnett to Sir Arthur Forbes, dated Berlin, 29 July 1771, announcing the death of Sir Andrew Mitchell.

Book of accounts of the Rev. William Mitchell, one of the ministers of Edinburgh, 1695-1727. This gentleman was father of Sir Andrew Mitchell.

General Wade's reports on the state of the Clans and the Highlands, 1724.

Description of the hills, glens, and passes in the counties of Aberdeen, Angus, Mearns, and Banff, and the disposition of troops for the protection of the country, 1747; with notes of the various routes by which stolen cattle are driven to the South.

Memorial concerning a cross-road from Inverlochty, by Ruthven of Badenoch, and through Braemar to Aberdeen, with descriptions of the Grampian range, of the Castle of Kindrochit, and of the Castle at Braemar built in 1628, by John Erskine Earl of Mar; and a notice of the Earl's rising in 1715.

Memorial anent the thieving and depredations in the Highlands of Scotland and Countries bordering thereon.

Memorandum anent the true state of the Highlands, as to their Chieftainries, Followings, and Depredations before the late Rebellion.

In the library at Fintray House is the original MS. Diary of Dr. John Forbes, ranging in date from 1624 to 1647. This learned man was celebrated among his contemporaries for his deep piety and great humility. He wrote various works on ecclesiastical subjects, which were collected in two folio volumes printed at Amsterdam in 1703. To this work the editor has prefixed a Life of the Author, with selections from the diary translated into Latin.

Dr. Forbes had more than his share of the troubles incident to the times in which he lived, and the diary, which he has styled "Spiritual Exercises," contains many reflections on the difficulties which surrounded him, and many affecting prayers for guidance in straits where he was led by his intense love of peace on the one side impelling him to submit to the Covenant, and his scrupulous adherence to principle on the other, which prevailed, and led to his deprivation from the office of professor of divinity at King's College, Aberdeen, and his banishment to a foreign country.

While the diary is mainly occupied with devotional thoughts and prayers, there are occasional entries which illustrate the state of the country, and furnish details of public events.

In 1636 he records that "some unrighteous and cruel limmers Highland men cam under silence of night, and violently spoyled the houses of some of my tenants in Corse, as they had beene doing to many others our neighbours, for a long space of tyme before, uncontrolled, and by some also encouraged by connivence and correspondence, as is well known in Scotland. I hearing therof, and beholding how small appearance was of humane help, and remembering that in the tymes of my ancestors, since memorie of man, the lyke had not been practised upon that land, which God now hade given to me by heritable succession; I said the lyke indeed hath not been accustomed against my forbeers, and it seemeth that these robbers doe take advantage through disesteem of me, as being a schoolman, wenidraw from that pairt by reason of my spirituall calling,

W.
223
JST.

"and being unaccustomed with such medlies; but I serve the same God whom my ancestors served, and I hope in his mercy, that he will shew me the way whereby these robbers shall repent themselves of this wicked attempt. In the meantyme they were spreading abroad menacing speeches, boasting to set for my person if I compleened to the Secret Counsell, or essayed any course against them, or refused to buy their peace, as many others had done by paying to them blackmail. I finding myself in this assault and difficultie, I trusted not in any other means which I used, but I did sett myself to seeke God by humble prayers and supplications." Fol. 48.

Again, two years later, he writes: "Also finding myself yet compassed with dyvers afflictions by the good hand of my heavenly father, upon myself, my wife, my daughter, and my estait, and my reputation, and upon my friends; and remembering how fearfully I have been threatened and reproached and troubled both by my countrymen, subscryvers of the late Covenant, boasting to take my life and my estate and my good name from me all at once, and to bury them all in ignominie, and also by the savage Highlandmen who took captive one of my tenants, being my cousin also, and thretned to kill him except they got in hast a very greit ransom." Fol. 58.

In this year, 1638, he prepared "A peaceable Warning to the Subjects in Scotland," which in his diary he says was done at the request of the Marquis of Huntly, and his intention in which he thus describes: "I considering that it became me not to stryve for words wherat they took exception, and which they did interpret as reproachfull against them, altho' my constant intention was lovingly to warne them. I resolved with the advyes of some brethren, to publish that warning in print, removing out of it all hastie words, and craving pardon for anything that was amiss, thus to declare to all men my Christian and peaceable disposition. Heirby they seemed to be somewhat appeased, but yet some of them doe continew threatening me, if so they may drive me by humane terror to approve and goe their way, which truely my conscience suffereth me not to do." Fol. 59.

In 1640 he was summoned to appear before the General Assembly held in July of that year at Aberdeen. In his diary he records his daily preparation by prayers, and the subjects on which he was questioned. Thus: "Upon the 30th day of Julie 1640, in the morning early, revolving what had passed yesterday, I found that in my words before the Assembly there were some which I should rather not have spoken, and that I hade omitted some words which hade been very convenient to be spoken; and fearing lest any offence have arisen therby in the mynds of my brethren, and fearing desertion, I prayed and wept unto God for mercy, and that he would remeid and remove all offences given by me to any, or taken by any at me, that day or at any tyme, and to be with my heart and with my mouth, and to grant me mercy and grace in his sight, and convenient mercy and favour in the eyes of all with whome I have to doe; and I was comforted in God; to him be glorie for ever. Amen."

"Upon the first of August 1640 I compeared before the Committee of the Generall Assemblie, and being questioned upon many things, I found God's mercifull presence so evidently with me, as notwithstanding of my scruples concerning the Covenant, and of my wreittings, yet they were pleased with me. Also they tooke in good part my answeris to other questions upon the 4th and 5th dayes of the same moneth. Now all the dayes of the General Assemblie I prayed every day with groans and tears unto God to be with me, and give me a comfortable outgett and a blessed event, and to forgive all my sinnes; and the Lord heard me. Praised be the Lord."

The case was continued for farther consideration in Edinburgh, and at a later time a sentence of deprivation was passed against Dr. Forbes for declining to take the Covenant, and he was compelled to take refuge in Holland. He returned to Scotland in 1647, and died at his Castle of Corse in the following year.

The diary extends to 179 folios.

There is also in the library the Court Book of the lands and barony of Fintray from 1711 to 1724. The Courts were held at Haltoun of Fintray.

JOHN STUART.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF MRS. BARCLAY-ALLARDICE (OF URY AND ALLARDICE) AT LOYAL HOUSE, PERTHSHIRE.

MRS.
BARCLAY-
ALLARDICE.

This collection is drawn from three sources.

The first and largest part of it consists of charters and papers relating to the barony of Allardice in Kincardineshire, which from a very early period belonged to the family of Allardice of that ilk, now represented by Mrs. Allardice.

The second series is connected with the Earls of Airth and Menteith, and the claims to the dormant title which have been made in the House of Lords by the late Mr. Barclay-Allardice, and by Mrs. Barclay-Allardice, his daughter, arising through the marriage, in 1662, of Sir John Allardice of that ilk with Mary, one of two sisters of William last Earl of Menteith and Airth.

A third set of papers relate to the family of Barclay of Ury, in Kincardineshire, through the marriage of the heiress of the family of Allardice with Robert Barclay of Ury in 1776.

Among the ancient writs of the barony of Allardice are many of considerable interest, especially as illustrating tenures, and processes of Scottish law relating to land.

Of these I selected the following for description:—

Extract from the Books of Council and Session of a charter by William King of Scots (1165-1214) to Walter, son of Walter the Scot (Scotti) of Alredies, to be held by the service of one archer with horse and habergeon, and performing common service, as much as pertains to 13 oxgates of land as the charter of his father bears. Witnesses, Hugh the King's Chancellor, G[ilbert] Abbot of Aberbrothock, Earl Duncan, Justiciar, Robert de Quinci, Robert of London, Philip of Mowbray, William of Hay, John of Hastings, Yvo of Vipont, Walter urdac, Roger of Lakern, Thomas son of Tankard. Mated at Stirling, 16th of October [no year]. The original charter was registered in the Books of Council and Session on 20th August, 1703.

Charter by John of Allyrdis of that ilk, confirming to John called Harwer, for his good services to his father and also to himself, all his lands of Ardrgrane, with their pertinents, in Buchan in the shire of Aberdeen, which had been previously granted by his father to the said John Harwer and his heirs, and also to one assignee to whom he might desire to assign the said land. Reddendo a pair of gilt spurs in name of blench farm yearly at the feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, if asked, and performing to our lord the King, and to other lords of the fee, the services exigible from such a land. Sealed with the seal of the granter, and in farther testimony with the seal of a noble man, Alexander of Straton, of that ilk, at Aberdeen, 1 September, 1376. Witnesses, John Frasser, Philip of Abirbuthnot, William Lassellis, Thomas of Rate, Alexander Bannerman, Alan Fauconer, burgess of Monross, Thomas Spryng, burgess of Aberdeen, and many others.

Instrument dated 20 February, 1458, within the church of St. Giles, at Edinburgh, on the refusal of the Bishop of Brechin, Chancellor of Scotland, to allow to be repledged the goods and lands of Thomas Allirdes of that ilk, which had been recognised, according to the request then made by him to said Bishop, Chancellor aforesaid. Witnesses, William Murray de le Gask, Sir Robert Crechtoun of Sanchar, William Murray of Tyermam, and Mr. Alexander of Carsteris, rector of Keth, with many others.

Notarial instrument dated 12 March, 1458, setting forth that in presence of the King, James the Second, by the grace of God King of Scots, and his Council and the prelates and nobles of the kingdom in great number in the Town House of the burgh of Perth, appeared Thomas Allirdes of that ilk, and there desired that his lands of Allirdes, with their pertinents, in the shire of Kincardyn, his lands of Ochterlese and Polglassy and Ardrgrane, with their pertinents, in the shire of Aberdeen, and his goods, now for certain causes recognised in the King's hands, might be given to him to borch, offering himself ready for his said lands and goods to do whatever by the law and custom of the kingdom ought to be done. Upon which the said Sovereign Lord, by delivery of a staff which he held in his hands, gave the same to him in broch, in presence of Thomas Bishop of Dunkeld, Ninian Elect confirmed of Whithorn, Malise Earl of Mentethe, William Earl Marischal, James Lord Levingstoun, Great Chamberlain of Scotland, Patrick le Grahame, Patrick Lord of Glamys, Robert Levingstoun of Drumry, and John

MRS.
BARCLAY-
ALLARDICE.

Ogilby of Luntrethyn, Knights, with many others. The notary is John de Atheray, Treasurer of Dunkeld, Clerk of the King's Council.

Notarial instrument dated 2 May 1459, within the Court House of the burgh of Aberdene, at a court held by Walter Lyndesay of Bewfurd, sheriff of the said burgh, setting forth the compearance of Thomas Allirdes of that ilk, accused of the spoliation of David Dempstar of Achterless his lands of Balglassy in the barony of Achterles, and the unjust detention of the rents thereof for the space of twelve years last by-past, for the amount of which he was found liable in re-payment, in a certain session held in Edinburgh, as appeared by a decret thereof under the testimony of the Great Seal; the said Thomas alleging that the said spoliation, rents unjustly detained, and the said decret itself were false, offering himself ready to prove that at the time of making of the said decret there was no session held at Edinburgh or in any part of Scotland, and alleging also that he is now in the King's ward "ob quam rem namos et bona sua injuste abstulerant." He therefore protested solemnly "quod quicquid prefatum materiam concernens quomodo in dicta curia deliberatum seu indicatum esset in prejudicium vel detrimentum hereditatis sue minime verteretur." These things were so done at 11 o'clock before noon: on which day, at two hours afternoon, within the chamber of Alexander of Douglas, sheriff depute of Aberdene, the said Thomas earnestly asked of the said Walter, the sheriff, a copy of a certain letter or precept, written on parchment and sealed with the King's seal, touching the execution of the foresaid decret of said session, which had been presented to the sheriff in court; which sheriff answering him said that he declined to give a copy of the said precept until the King and his Council should first be consulted. The witnesses to the first act were noble and potent men, William Earl of Erle, Lord of Hay, William Earl Marischal, Lord of Keith, Alexander of Irwin, Laird of Drum, William Hay of Ure, David Aberbuthnot of that ilk, and Alexander of Strathachyn of Dulyewarde. The witnesses to the second act were David Lyndesay of Forest, Philip Lyndesay, Robert of Rossy, John of Tulche, David Allirdes, and Alexander Glene, with others.

Notarial instrument dated 24 January 1470, on the presentation by Thomas Allardes of that ilk to venerable and noble men, councillors of the King, of a schedule or paper relating to a sum of money claimed by John Dempstare as rents of the lands of Polglassy, with the pertinents, recognised and unjustly given to broch to the said John, the said Thomas asserting that he was the possessor of the same. Of which schedule the tenor follows:—

"Soveran lord, and nobilis of our soneran lordis counsals. I, Thomas Allirdes of that ilk, protestis that I enter nocht in play here at this tyme anent the summondis made apone me be Jhone Dempstare and till his instance, for I understand at the mater aucht nocht to resort nor procede here at present tyme befor your lordschippis, be thir resonis folond. In the first the sumoundis war not signet nor selit be the summondare as it aucht to be of resoun as wes actit in the last Parliament. Secundly, this questioune movit apone me be Jhonne Dempstare my perti hes beynne reconist befor in his faderis tyme and mynne, and lattin to borgh to him be wrang information and parcialite of the bishop Schoriswode, chancellor for the tyme, he beand his familiar man, and syne thaireffir it was reformit in a counsals generale in King James the Secundis tyme, your progenitour, quhame God assoilze, and lattin me to borgh, and sa was I restorit to my possessioun agane and tuk sesinge be Jhone Skrimgeour Masare that levis yit, throu comand of the King; and, my lordes, I understand that it is agane the comoun law and consuetud that ony mater or questioune decidit and decretit be a generale counsals or Parliament, sould resort or remane to be determinit in a laware court, and this caus neulingis movit upon me throw meynis be Jhonne Dempstare, dependis upon my fee and heritage of the samyn landis of Polglassy, the quhilkis I was restorit to as said is be the King, as my documentis beris witness; and alsua, my lordis, thir landis of Polglassy ar to me proppir fee and heritage thir twenti yeris and ma sen synne and befor as my perti beris witnes, and als the said Jhonne Dempstare clamis thame in fee and heritage til him, and tharefor he folowis me of twenti yeris malis in his faderis tyme, his brotheris and in his awine tyme, and thus we clame thame fee and heritage for us baith, and sa thai ar fee and heritage till [ane] of us apone law but drede; and, my lordis, sen thai ar fee and heritage, I beseik your lordships at the reverence of al I may be deferrit to my juge ordinar, and to keip sic law and consuetude to me and my symplines as ye do till utheris our soueran lordis lieges, and gif your lordschippis dois utherwais herein I protest it turne me to na prejudice and my said fee and heritage." After the reading of which schedule to the said lords, the said Thomas of Allirdes ut supra. These things were done at Striueline about two o'clock afternoon on the day before specified, in presence of Reverend Fathers in Christ Andrew Bishop of Glasgow, William Bishop of Orknay, Andrew Lord Avandale, Chancellor of Scotland, Colin Earl of Argyle, James Lord Hammiltoun, and Alexander Lord Glammys, with many others.

Notarial transumpt dated 28 May 1474, within the Court House of Aberdeen, before a noble man, Walter Lindsay, sheriff depute of Aberdeen, then sitting in judgment, setting forth that John Allardes of that ilk compeared and craved that a brieve of our soverign lord for serving him heir to his father Thomas in two parts of the lands of Uchitirless, with the pursalbutis and their pertinents, should be copied and transumped, which desire was granted and the brieve engrossed, in presence of honorable men, Alexander Forbes of Petslegow, Knight, Alexander Fraser of Durris, and Duncan Forbes, Esquires, and many others.

Charter by King James III. under the Great Seal in favour of George Meldroum, son and heir-apparent of William Meldroum of Fyvy and Elizabeth Innes, his spouse, of the lands of Petkary, in the shire of Kincardine, on the resignation of the said William. Dated at Edinburgh, 10 March 1482.

Charter by Alexander Irvin of Drum to John Allardes of that ilk, of his lands of Fulzemond, in the barony of Auchindoir, in warrandice of two parts of the lands of Ardgrane, in the earldom of Buchan, sold by him and his son by a charter of same date. Dated at Aberdeen, 24 November 1485. Witnesses, Mr. Adam Gordone, rector of Kinkell and chantor of Murray, Robert Aberbuthnot of that ilk, Alexander Menzeis, Alexander Burnet of Leis, Alexander Irvin of Belteis, David Allirdes, Sir John Arveling, and Sir Robert Leis, chaplains and notaries, with others.

Notarial instrument, dated 26 June 1490, setting forth that, in presence of a notary and witnesses, appeared a prudent woman, Joneta Betsoun, wife of James Allardes "et fide media manualiter obligata est honorabili viro Johanni Allardes de eodem ac domino de Ochterles forma subsequenti, viz, si contingat prefatum Jacobum sponsum suum de hac vita antea eam decedere, quod abhinc non duceret alium virum in sponsum suum, nec de bonis eo tempore proliis inter prefatas Jacobum et Jonetam genitis pertinen tibus, ullatenus in fraudem et damnum earundem disponeret absque prefati domini de Allirdes consilio et consensu. Et si contrarium fecerit quod absit assedacio terrarum de Cuschne per prefatum dominum dictis Jacobo et Jonete et eorum diucius viventi facta sine mora expiraret." These things were done at Cuschne at eight o'clock in the evening, in presence of Archibald Rate of Drumtocty, and John Malwyn, apparent of Hervistoun.

Notarial instrument, dated 12 June 1493, setting forth the compearance of honorable men, Sir John Rutherford of Terlane, Knight, and Robert Blinsele, burgess of Aberdeen, who produced the seal of a noble man, Alexander Irwyn of Drum, and by his authority affixed the same to a contract of marriage, written on parchment, entered into between the said Alexander Irwyn and Alexander his son and apparent heir on the one part, and John Allirdes of that ilk and Janet his daughter and heir-apparent on the other part. Done within the lodging of the said Robert in the burgh of Aberdeen, in presence of Gilbert Keth, son of the laird of Inverugy, Mr. Alexander Gordon, vicar of []linge, Thomas Prat, John Kintor, John Gordon, William Cuminge, and Mr. Alexander Massy, notary, with others.

Notarial instrument, dated 5 November 1495, shewing that, in presence of a notary and witnesses, "compeared James Allirdes, et fideliter promissit ad faciendum servitium fidelitatemque servandam in omnibus ac decet honorabili viro Johanni Allirdes de eodem ac domino de Ochtirles hereditibusque suis pro toto suo tempore vite, cum ad dictum servitium debite premonitus fuerit. Et si, quod absit, dictum contingat defectum in servicio suo faceret, ipso ad hoc compe tenter ab hoc ut prefertur premonito. Tunc in instanti ac sine mora assedacio terrarum de Cuschne dicto Jacobo et uxori sue facta prout in literis desuper “confectis plenius continetur penitus expiraret.” These things were done in the Hall of Allirdes at two o'clock afternoon, in presence of discreet men, Sir Andrew Valentyn and Sir Robert Blaklawis, chaplains.

Notarial instrument dated 13th November 1500, shewing that in presence of William Bishop of Brechin, then sitting in judgment, appeared James Richardson, chaplain, procurator of John Allirdes of that ilk, and produced certain letters of reversion by Alexander Irwyn, apparent of Drum, and Jonat Allirdes his spouse, of the two parts of the lands and barony of Ochterles, sealed with their seals and dated 13 December 1499, and after presenting and reading thereof, the said procurator “ab honorabili domicella Joneta Allirdess” sponsa Alexandri Irwyne, filii et apparentis heredis “honorabili viri Alexandri Irvin de Drum inquisivit” si ad sigillationem dictarum literarum reversionis “libere et voluntarie pro parte sua consentiebat. Que” quidem Joneta non vi auit metu ducta [etc.] Sigillum suum proprium in manum tenens intra cujus circumferentiam tria folia de le holyne cum undis [] sculpta erat in absencia sponsi antedicti tactis Sacro Sancti dei Evangelii in manibus dicti episcopi juramentum prestitit corporale quod ad dictarum literarum sigillationem liberrime incoacta et ex propria voluntate motuque consensit. These things were so done in the choir of the parish church of Montrose at eleven o'clock before noon, in presence of Mr. George Meldrum, chantor of Brechin, Sir David Ochterlowny, vicar of Monbely, Alexander Grahame, William Mureff, John Grahame, William Allirdes, and Mr. John Nauchty, notary.

Notarial instrument, dated 15 June 1512, setting forth that John Allardes of that ilk, having compeared “plegium sive le borghe in manu Thome Bissate mari” feodarii Regii, vicecomitatus de Aberdene posuit, “quo de jure arrestaret novam culturam formatam in” Drowndewane et blada sive grana in eadem crescentia “non Remouenda ac veractum vulgo le fauche infra” eandem non laboranda una cum edificiis constructis “in dictis terris de Dronmedewane prope Blakfurd non” fungend. Pro injusta occupatione earundem terrarum “donec per leges titulo juris cujus sint discuciantur.” Quia ipsas dictas Johannis Allardes sibi allegabat “pertinere et partem esse sue patris baronie de Och” tirless. Et ut sibi Inwino Garden Regia auctoritate “inhiberet ne ipsas terras occupet usque in prefinium” tempus legale. Et ut eandem arrestam sibi intimaret “non obstantibus ipsis arrestamentis iteratis vicibus.” In pretaxatis alias affixis minime valentibus. These things were done on the lands of Drowndewane at twelve o'clock noon, in presence of George Meldrum of Five, Sir Gilbert Hay of Ardendracht, Knight, Walter Barclay of Tolly, George Abercromby of Petmethane, Robert Gordon of Bealle, Patrick Stewart of Lathieris, Robert Allardess, Mr. Alexander Ogilvy in Glashalche Magnus de Monte alto, son and apparent heir of John Mowat of Loscragy, Andrew Cragie of Cragisfyntay, Thomas Meldrum of that ilk, James Craford of Fetheray, James Bissate, and Mr. Andrew Patrickson, notary, with many others.

Licence under the Privy Seal of James V., dated Edinburgh, 22 March 1516, permitting John Allardes of that ilk to sell annalies or wedsett his landis and barony of Allirdes, in the Sheriffdom of Kincardine.

Notarial instrument, dated 5 September 1522, setting forth that on that day John Allirdes of that ilk, and John his lawful son and heir, compeared at the Market Cross of Aberdeen, and there by proclamation thrice repeated by the mouth of David Herine, one of the officers of the said burgh, at the command of the said John, the father and son warned a noble man, Alexander Irwein, of Forglind, son and heir of Sir Alexander Irwein of Drum, and Janet Allirdes, his wife, spouse of the said Alexander Irwein, of Forglind, to appear in the church of St. Nicholas of Aberdeen, on Monday the 3rd of November next, to receive the sum of 1,200 merks, due for the redemption of two parts of the barony of Ochterles, in terms of letters of reversion.

Tack by John Abbot of Lundores, and Convent of the same, to Gilbert Keith of Troup and Isobel Forbes his spouse, and to William Keith their son, for 19 years, of the lands called Scottistoun, together with Marcorye and the officiar land of the same within the barony of Witstonis and sheriffdom of Kincardine. Dated at Lundores, 24 July 1532. Signed by the abbot, subprior, and 23 monks.

Charter by James V. to John Allirdes of that ilk of the lands of Allirdes, with the principal messuage, and mains lands of Little Barres and Leys, lying in the shire of Kincardine, and also the two parts of the lands and barony of Ochterles, containing two parts of the lands and barony of Ochterles, two lie parsantis, one part of the lands of Ordley, Thomastoun, Smailburne, Quysneis, Knockleith and mill thereof, two parts of the lands of Bonkillis, Bakyhill Langschaubrae, Logyaltoun, Fischerford, Reidhill, and Hassiewellis, with the manor thereof; also all the lands of Blakfurd, Badinskeith, and Inneroherny, in the shire of Aberdeen; resigned by the said John, and now united into one whole and free barony, to be called the barony of Allirdes, ordaining the manor-house of Allirdes built and building, to be the principal messuage of the said barony. Dated at St. Andrews, 28 May 1540.

Instrument on the resignation into the King's hands by John Allardes of his lands of Allirdes, dated 28 May 1540, on which the above charter proceeds:—“Acta” erant infra Monasterium Sancti Andree in Palacio “Serenissimi Principis nostri Jacobi Quinti Scotorum” regis hora quarta pomeridiana, Presentibus ibidem “Reverendissimo in Christo Patre et domino David” miseracione divina titulo Sancti Stephani in Celio “Monte Cardinali presbytero, Sancti andree Archi” episcopo Tocius Scocie primato legato nato Ecclesie “Cathedralis Mirapiciensis in Gallia administratore” generali, Monasterii de Aberbrothok Commendatario “perpetuo, nobilibus et potentibus dominis Johanne” domino de Innermeith, Thoma Erskin de Breichen “milite et S. D. N. Regis Secretario, et Henrico Kempt” de Thomastoun testibus,” &c.

Inquest held at Aberdeen, 9th January 1553, serving John Allardes as heir of James Allardes, his uncle, who fell under the royal banner at Pinkie, in the lands of Balgowny in the barony of Frenndraught and shire of Aberdeen, held blench of William Crichton of Frenndraught, and that in virtue of a General Act in favour of the heirs of those falling in said battle.

Testament dative and inventar of the goods of Robert Allardes, apparent of that ilk, at the time of his death in Edinburgh, 26 December 1587, given up by Captain Andrew Stewart, as tutor dative, to Elizabeth Allardes, only lawful daughter of the deceased.

Summons raised against John Allardes and his tenants by Margaret Erskine, Lady Petcarie and Banffe, under certain obligations in a contract between her and John Allardes of that ilk, dated 31 December 1587, and a copy thereof, which is entitled, “Copie for John Allardes” apperand of that ilk as executor and universall intro” metter to the maist venomous pestiferous serpent, “Margartt Erskyne, Lady Makterey, 4 of August” 1597.”

A contract dated 22 July 1592, between John Allardes of that ilk and his tenants, Thomas Strathachin in Leyis and Robert Falconer in Classindrum, on the one part, and Barbara Forbes, Lady Petcarrie on the other. “The said lady is God-willing to come and meitt at” ane speciall weik day at the kirk of Arbuthnot, betwixt “nine and twelf horis afoir none, betwixt the date of thir” presentis and the twantie fyrst day of August nixto” cum, and thair sall acknowledge and confess the “wrang done unto the laird of Allardes in this last” fact committit at the Moss of Monymont, and sall “promas in all tymes cuminge interteinment of guid” freyndschip and concord without braik of hir pert, “craving the lyik concord and freyndschip to be ex” tendit to hir on his part in all tymes cumminge, with “promois also that scho sall caus her twa brethir” Robert Forbes, prior of Monymusk, and Abraham “Forbes in Blaktoun, accompanie hir to the said kirk” and acknowledge the sameyn gift scho may obtiene “thame thairto, quhais compeirance to the said kirk” salbe signefeit be the said Barbara to the said John “Allardes sex dayes off befor the said day.”

A large mass consisting of upwards of a hundred unarranged papers of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, many of them receipts for payment of teinds of the lands of Scotstown to the provost and masters of the New College of St. Andrews; vouchers and discharges of loans; law papers; contracts of marriage; contracts with neighbouring proprietors; submissions and relative decreets, and old inventories of title deeds.

Among the papers relating to the Earldom of Menteith are the following:—

Charter by William Earl of Menteith to Agnes Gray, his future spouse, of the barony of Kinpont, dated 30 March 1612.

Procuratory of resignation in favour of John Lord Kinpont and Lady Mary Keith proceeding on their contract of marriage, dated 11 April 1632.

Letter from the Earl of Airthe to James Livingston of Beill, one of His Majesty's Bedchamber, dated Edin-

Mrs.
BARCLAY-ALLARDICE.

Mrs.
BARCLAY-
ALLARDICE

burgh, 17 September 1639:—"Richt worthie and loveing freind, the reasone that I have beine so long in wretting to His Majestie was that I resolved to be silent until I might have something of importance to vrett, and altho I know His Majestie is advertised by many daylie of the procedure of this assemblie, yet he hath hade no shorter relatione then that which I send heir with, whairfor I intreate yow to delyver this tother letter to His Majestie and desyre ane ansuer, for I have sende this berar expressly for it, and His Majestie's effaires doe requyre that the ansuer may be returned with diligence. I have send yow herein ane little scroll which containeth the most materiall things which ar doone in this assemblie: it is only for your awin use, and therfor efter yow have redd it, burne it, and I hope His Majestie will do so with my letter, and the paper within it. I had send you that money long er this, bot that Williame Gray hath beone this thrie weekes in Angous and wilbe heir the morrow, and I assure yow he shall immediately send ane warrand to his factor thair to pay yow, and I shall dispatch it with ane man of my awin, for altho' His Majestie be owing me far greater soumes, yet I shall never for such ane triffl as is owing me have such ane base thocht as to seeke allowance of such ane soume; therefore expect it, and lett not this berar nor any living know that there is anything of this kynde betwix yow and me. Now I must intreate that as yow love the goode of His Majestie's effaires, and as yow doe respect me in particular, to hasten bak this berar, and intreate His Majestie to vrett the ansuer to my letter, and I beseech yow to inclose His Majestie's letter within one of your awin to me. So wishing yow all happiness, I shall ever rest your treulie affectionat freind to serve yow. "AIRTHE."

Charter by King Charles I. in favour of John Lord Graham of Kinpont and Lady Mary Keith his spouse, eldest daughter of the Earl Marischal, and William their eldest son, of the lands of Kilbryde. Dated 8 January 1644.

Note of Lady Mary Graham's contract of marriage with Sir John Allardice of that ilk. Dated 26 September 1662.

Memorandum and queries for the Laird of Allardyce, 1694:—"The Laird of Allardyce being the eldest sister son to the deceast Earl of Monteith, and Graham of Gartmore the youngest sister's son, and so they both the nearest of kin to the Earl in blood, and who can succeed to him, and the late Marquess of Montrose having, as is informed, impetrate a disposition from the Earl of his whole estate, and which disposition was got by threatening even to the hazard of the Earles life, which can be proven, and the Lady Marquess, mother to this Marquiss, who is under tutorie with severall others without warrand by exhibitione, has with some of the friends gone to the house of one Brown, where the Earles charter chest was lying, and carrying the papers away under silence of night without inventareing or sealling up the samen by warrand of Councill, Session, or other magistrate, to the prejudice of the nearest of kin who have interest as appearand heirs, and had lykeways particular dispositiones from the Earle in his ain time to severall interests which were in the charter chest among the other papers which they medled with: Queritur, If this will not be a ryott, and if a bill may not be drawn to the Councill at the appearand heirs instance for sequestrating and inventarying the saids writes and taking the oathes of the Lady Marques [] the tutor and others present, and to find and declare it to be a ryott."

Then follow questions on the subject of teinds, and on a point arising out of the marriage of Anna, sister to the Laird of Allardice, to the Laird of Brackley.

Information for the Earl of Monteith, 1696.

Answers for the Marquis of Montrose to the claim given in by the Laird of Allardice, 8 July 1703.

Ane Inventorie of the Evidents of Kinpont.

Official extract of the Airth patent, 1790.

The following papers are from that part of the collection which relates to the Barclays of Ury:—

Extract, dated 17 April 1626, of contract dated 12 April 1624, and registered in the Sheriff Court books of Kincardine between William Earl Marischal and certain inhabitants of the town of Stonehaven, containing obligation by him to grant to them feus of their tenements; and with provisions for maintenance of bridges and causeways, the election of magistrates, &c.

Contract of marriage between the Laird of Allardice and Elizabeth Barclay, 1690.

Extract, dated 28 August 1733 from the Sheriff Court books of Kincardine, of disposition and right to the shore dues, and customs of two mercats for upholding the pier of Stonhyve, by William Earl Marischal, dated 10 May 1697.

Copy of a letter sent by Barclay of Ury to the Earl of Marr:—

"Ury, 12th of $\frac{4}{mo}$. 1713.

"Respected frind,

"Had I the honour of thy acquaintance as much as I have of my very good frind thy brother Grange, I should not put thee to the trouble of this apologie, but hopes thou will excuse what I cannot help, and not take it amiss that I become thy humble suiter in behalf of myselfe and my friends in this nation. Our caice is, wee cannot with freedom take the benefite of the solem affirmation formerly granted to our friends in England, and now under consideration of the House of Commons to be renued and extended to us, without it be made easier and more agreeable to the simple and plain precept of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. I begg of thee, with all the earnestness I can, that if it come your length, thou wold become our advocate for ane amendment so as to make it effectual, to us, thy friends in the Ancient Kingdom, as well as thousands of our brethern in England under the same difficultys with us, wee always being willing to be subjected, upon the breach of our simple affirmation to the same penalties by law inflicted upon perjurie. The befriending us in this will be a work of great charity, and I hope will draw down upon thee and thy family those blessings bestowed upon such as helps to relive the oppressed for conscience sake. I know I need not use it as an argument to so great a man that it wold put ane infinite obligation upon all receiving benefite by it, and in particular thy true friend R. Barclay."

A draught is preserved of a similar letter to the Earl of Argyll of the same date.

In a list of manuscripts lent by Robert Barclay Allardice of Ury to John Barclay of Alton in Hampshire, 9th month 1826 (but now among the papers) are, the following entries:—"3 & 4. Two little pocket diaries of R. Barclay, the apologist, in his own hand. A Journal, imperfect. A Quaker's notion of the divine light in a letter to a friend by R. B."

A Genealogie of the Barons of the Mearns unto the year of God 1578:—Straiton of Lauriston, Strachan of Thornton, Graham of Morphie, Barclay of Mathers, Ramsay of Balmain, Wood of Balbegno, Ogston of Kirklands of Fettercairn, Lindsay of Broadland, Leslie of Pitnamoon, Douglas of Glenbervie, Falconer of Halkerton, Middleton of Killhill, Rait of Hallgreen, Lundy of Benholm, Lyall of Balmaliddy, Hay of Ury, Straton of Craigie, Strachan of Monboddie, Falconer of Balandroe, Moncur of Slains, Fraser of Durris, Tulloch of Cragnastoune, Melvill of Herviston, Arbutnot of that ilk, Irvine of Drum, Barclay of Johnston, Barclay of Balmakuan, Douglas of Bridgeford, Ogilvie of Barras.

A genealogical account of the Barclays of Ury (a modern copy).

Notes of various members of the family of Barclay (some of them American), 1659-1774.

JOHN STUART.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF A. D. R. BAILLIE COCHRANE, Esq., of Lamingtoun, M.P.

The ancient and knightly family of Baillie have been in possession of the barony of Lamingtoun, in the upper ward of Lanarkshire, for many centuries. Its members have on various occasions occupied a prominent position in national affairs, and have intermarried with many of the noble and powerful families of Scotland. The records, however, which at one time remained to witness the varied fortunes and growing importance of the family, have been dispersed, and the charter chest, to which Mr. Baillie Cochrane gave me ready access, contains only fragments of the earlier series of charters with the usual progress of title deeds of later date.

Nisbet, the writer on Scotch heraldry, in the early part of last century, examined the charter chests at Lamingtoun, where he saw a charter by King David II., dated 27 January 1368, confirming to Sir William Baillie, Knight, the barony of Lambistoun, and these lands still belong to Mr. Baillie Cochrane, the descendant of the grantee.

The only papers of historical interest which I noticed among the masses of business documents, relate to a portion of the estate, in the neighbourhood of the town of Lanark, which was held by the tenure of baking certain wafers of bread for the King when he happened to reside at Lanark.

The earliest document of the series is a charter by Murdach, Duke of Albany, to John Ker, burgess of Lanark, of all and whole the lands called Wafrelandis, with their pertinents in the territory of the burgh of Lanark, between the burgh and the parish church. The reddendo is thus expressed: "Faciendo domino nostro regi, et heredibus suis dictis Johannes et heredes sui pro dictis terris cum pertinenciis pisturam wafra-rum dicti domini nostri regis quociens ipsum domi-num regem apud Lanark contigerit residere." Dated at Stirling, 30 November 1422. Witnesses, William, Bishop of Glasgow, Chancellor of Scotland; Alexander Stewart, of Kinclevin, the Regent's son; Archibald of Cunningham, sheriff of Stirling; Alan of Otterburn, secretary, and others.

Charter by John Ker, burgess of Lanark, Lord of Vaufratslat, and John Dobyson, burgess of Lanark, of the four acres belonging to him in the territory of the burgh of Lanark. Paying to him therefor within the parish church of Lanark, on the feast of the Nativity, a penny Scots, in name of blench farm. Dated in the grantor's manor at Lanark, 5 December 1429, before witnesses (who also witnessed the giving of seisin to the said John Dobyson by the said John of Vaufratslat, the Lord Superior); Sir Robert Tynningham, chaplain; William Ker, the grantor's son, William Clerksoun, Baillie of the burgh of Lanark for the time, and others.

Instrument of sasine, dated 13 October 1471, in favour of William Doby, chaplain, as lawful heir of John Doby, Vicar of Stow, who died seised in four acres of Wafratslat. Sasine was given by William Ker, burgess of Lanark, and Lord of Wafratslat.

Instrument dated 21 August 1489, containing sentence by John Quhitlawe, Licentiate in Degrees, Canon of Dunkeld, and rector of the parish church of Pennycoke, commissary of William, Archbishop of St. Andrews, in favour of Sir William Doby, in a suit at the instance of Thomas Carr, laic, against him, touching their rights in four acres of Uafratslat, moved before the official of Glasgow.

There are many masses of titles relating to the lands of Waufratslat, Hyndford, Boathaugh, Hyndshaw, Lamington, Bonnington, Coblehaugh, and other lands.

JOHN STUART.

REPORT on the MANUSCRIPTS of AUGUSTUS JOHN WILLIAM HENRY KENNEDY ERSKINE, Esquire, of DUN, in the County of FORFAR, by WILLIAM FRASER, Edinburgh.

The lands and barony of Dun have been possessed by the family of Erskine for upwards of five centuries. Sir Robert Erskine of Erskine, ancestor of the Lords Erskine and Earls of Mar, was proprietor of the barony of Dun, in the reign of King David the Second. In the following reign, he resigned the barony to his eldest son Sir Thomas Erskine, Knight, who obtained from King Robert the Second a Charter of the barony dated on the 8th of November 1376. After his acquisition of Dun, Sir Thomas Erskine was designated Lord of Dun, as appears from a Charter granted by him to Adam Forster, burgess of Edinburgh, of the lands of Carcary in the barony of Dun, dated 28th April 1385. [Original Charter at Kinnaird.]

Sir Thomas Erskine of Dun resigned the barony of Dun in favour of his second son, Sir John Erskine, who obtained from King Robert the Third a Charter of the barony dated 25th October 1392. Under the designation of John of Erskine, Knight, Lord of Dun, Sir John granted a Charter of the lands of Carcary to Walter of Ogilvy, dated 18th March 1400. That Sir John Erskine was the direct ancestor of the family of Erskine of Dun, which is the oldest existing branch of the historical house of Erskine.

In the course of the long-continued descent of the line of Dun, there have been several members of the family who have taken an active and prominent part in the civil and ecclesiastical business of Scotland.

Four of the Erskines of Dun fell in the fatal Field of Flodden in the year 1513, namely, John then Laird of Dun, Thomas his brother, Sir John his eldest son, and Alexander another son. Although the house of Dun, like other baronial houses in Scotland, was much weakened by that disastrous battle, the Erskines of Dun in the immediately succeeding generations, had a wonderful vitality. In the year 1588 four generations of the family were all living and in manhood at the same time, the superintendent, his eldest surviving son Sir Robert, John of Logy, son of Sir Robert, and John of Nathrow, who was the son of John of Logy. It is remarkable that these four Erskine Lairds all in the direct line of succession to each other, successively died in each of the four following years. The Superintendent died in 1589, his son Sir Robert in 1590, his grandson John in 1591, and his great grandson, also John, in 1592. [Obits of the Lairds of Dun.]

At the same time that these four Lairds were living upon the estate, there were five ladies, the wives or the widows of Lairds, who also derived their livings from the estate. These were heavy burdens to bear, even although they only continued for a short time; and in a contract of marriage of one of the family in the year 1591, special reference is made to the embarrassment of the estate through life-rents, terces, and other burdens.

John Erskine of Dun, early joined the ranks of the Reformers, and he became the friend and follower of John Knox, who refers to him in his History as being "marvelouslie illuminated." In the year 1556, after his arrival from Geneva, Knox visited Erskine at his place of Dun, where he remained a month, daily exercising in doctrine, and where the principal in that country resorted to him. Knox afterwards made a second visit to Dun; and he records that teaching there in greater liberty, his hearers required that he should administer to them the sacrament of the "Lord's Table," and that the greater part of the gentlemen of the Mearns were partakers.

Being active in the overthrowing of the old and establishing the new form of faith, and being possessed of great learning and business capacity, John Erskine was appointed to the office of Superintendent of Angus and Mearns. He was elected moderator of four general assemblies between the years 1564 and 1566; and in all his prominent and responsible positions, he carried himself with such moderation as to merit the approval of his Sovereign, and the principal parties both in the Church and State.

From the family papers now reported on, it appears that the Superintendent was born in the year 1509, and that he survived till the year 1589. He thus lived in the time of five Sovereigns and of seven Regents of Scotland. He was too young to take part in business during the reign of the two first of these Sovereigns, but of the other three he was the correspondent. The letters to him from these Sovereigns and Regents are quoted in the present Report.

When his father fell at Flodden in the year 1513, the Superintendent was left a child of less than five years old. He was fortunate in having for his guardian his uncle, Sir Thomas Erskine of Brechin, Secretary to King James the Fifth. Sir Thomas was careful to give his nephew the advantage of a liberal education, both at home and abroad, of which he derived the benefit in the prominent positions which he afterwards occupied. His mother, Margaret Ruthven, dowager Countess of Buchan, appears also to have been very dutiful to her son during his minority.

Previous to the Reformation, John Erskine was on friendly relations with Cardinal Beaton, who in the year 1544, earnestly asked his advice and assistance, which were also solicited by several noblemen and ecclesiastics of high rank. [Nos. 1, 13, and 14 infra.] In one of these letters it is remarked that King James the Sixth had as good an opinion of Erskine as of any subject in Scotland.

It is also worthy of notice that the family of Erskine was, at the beginning of the 16th century, on terms of intimate friendship with the families of Melville and Paniter, both of which are prominent in the period of the Scottish Reformation. Not only was there the most intimate relation between John Erskine, afterwards the Superintendent, and the lay members of the family of Paniter, which was one of the most influential in Montrose, and to which David Paniter the Commendator of Cambuskenneth was related, but it appears from an early Charter that Erskine, while yet a boy, was on close terms with the Commendator himself; and in a paper referred to in this Report, the Abbot enters into an indenture with Sir Thomas Erskine, which shows the close intimacy that had existed between

A. J. W. H.
K. ERSKINE, Esq.

A. J. W. H. Paniter and the immediate ancestors of the Superintendent (No. 53).
K. L. S.
SKIRN, ESQ.

A still more decided influence appears to have been exerted upon young Erskine by his connexion with the family of Melville. The lands of Baldovny seem at one time to have formed part of the estates of the family of Erskine of Dun: and Richard Melville, father of Andrew Melville the Reformer, appears as one of John Erskine's Curators in the year 1526. The youth of Erskine was thus passed amidst impressions from both sides of the religious movement in Scotland; and it may be that in this way was generated in him that spirit of moderation which made him to be respected by all the parties of the State.

Archbishop Spottiswoode in his History records a very flattering opinion of Erskine. He says that he governed the portion of the country committed to his "superintendence with great authority, till his death, giving no way to the innovations introduced, nor suffering them to take place within the bounds of his charge, while he lived. A baron he was of good rank, wise, learned, liberal, and of good courage; who for divers resemblances, may well be said to have been another Ambrose. He left behind him a numerous posterity, and of himself and of his virtues a memory that shall never be forgotten."

As the father of Archbishop Spottiswoode was one of the co-superintendents along with Erskine, the Archbishop must have derived from his father his knowledge of the character of Erskine, and he was thus enabled to pronounce his eulogium on the best authority.

Although the superintendent Erskine is best known and most prominent in history in his official capacity, he was occasionally called on to act in a civil and military as well as an ecclesiastical character. In the years 1578 and 1579, while he was superintendent, he was required by King James the Sixth to recover the fortress of Redcastle near Arbroath, an ancient stronghold dating from the time of King William the Lion; and Erskine was required to keep the castle in his own hands. [Nos. 66, 67, and 69.]

In his own letter to the King he says,—"In the weirs we had with England, quhen the Inglismen possessit Dondie, Bruchtie Craig, and the firth thair, I defendit the countrie at my power from thair invasions at the desyr of the Queinis grace Regent and Duck of Chatilroy thane Gouernour. I biggit ane forth in Montrois, tuk vp ane gret number of men of weir for a lang tyme, and furnisit all of my awin guidis, sua that the sowmes debursit be me excoedit tuentie thousand merkis." [No 16 infra.]

About ten years after his appointment as Superintendent, his own parsonage of Dun became vacant. King James the Sixth presented Mr. James Erskine, who is not designated. He was probably one of the younger sons of the Superintendent of that name. James Erskine studied under the learned Melancthon. Amongst the Dun Papers there is preserved the Act of admission by the Superintendent of James Erskine into the parsonage of Dun. A copy of the Act is here given as a specimen of the form observed in such cases by the Reformed Church:—"Jhone Erskaine the sernand of Jesus Christ, Superintendent of Angwas &c., unto the Congregation of God within the parochie of Dwn, and to all vtheris quhais knowlege thir presentis sall to cum, wischis euerlasting health in Christ our Lord. Forsamekle as the personage of Dwn lyand within the Dioce of Sanctandriis and Sherifffome of Forfar is vacand throw the deceiss of vnuquhill Dame Ewfame Leslie last Prioress of Elcho, quhilk personage sumtyme pertinit to the priorie of Elcho, and now our soueraine Lord hes pesentit vnto ws he his Grace letters of presentation Mr. James Erskaine to be admitted to the ministrie of the Kirk and to the gift and possessioun of the personage foirsaid, We according to the Commissioun of the Kirk gewn vnto ws and vnto his hienes directioun, hes takin triall of the said Mr. James conversatioun and doctrine, and hes found him sufficientlie qualifeit to instruct that congregatioun in the trew word of God and way of Salvation, and thereby convenient to enter in the ministrie to be profitable in the samyn, be resoun quhairfof we haue admittit him to the cair and charge of the said congregatioun: and hes gewin him for his honest sustentatioun the said personage, with all teinds, frutis, manas, gleib and vtheris pertinentis thairof whatsumever, during all the days of his lyfe, conform to the said presentatioun alanerlie, and nay vther wais: Quhairfoir in the name of the eternall God, and vnder the paine of inobediencie, we requier yow and ilk ane of yow ministeris and redaris of the Kirkis of

"Strakathro' respectiue, as ye sal be requirit heiryvone, to pas to the said Kirk of Dwn, and vtheris placis necessar, thair to gif the said Mr. James lawchfull institutioun in the said personage, and als to put him in reall possessioun of the samyn, with all that pertenis thairto, be placing him in the pulpit of the said Kirk, and be deliuerance of the buik of God callit the Bible in his handis: and requier all the gentillmen and inhabitantis of the said parochioun to intend and obey to him as to the lawchful pastour of thair sawles, with sic reuerence as becums thame to do of the law of God, as at mair lenth is contenit in the saidis letters of presentatioun of the dait at Edinburgh the 21st day of September 1570; prouiding that the said Maister James mak residence at the said parochie Kirk and execut his office faythfullie thairat to the comfort of the floke gewin in his cwir, and continew in honest and godlie conversatioun, swa that nay sklauder arryys be him to the euangell; and in caice that be decret of the generall assemblee of the Kirk (to the jugement quhairfof he sal be alweiss subject) he be found aither negligent in doctrine or sklandrous in lyfe, or for guid causis worthie and meit to be transpartit to ane vther place and charge, this present admissioun, with all that sall happin to follow thairupone, to be null; and sum vther qualifeit persone to be presentit to the said personage of new, efter the forme and tennour of the saidis letters of presentatioun in all pointis. In witnes of the quhilk thing to thir our letters of admissioun subscrut with our hand, the seale of our office is affixit at Dwn the 29th day of September 1570.
(L.S.) (signed) JHONE ERSKINE."

Five years afterwards the parsonage became vacant by the death of Mr. James Erskine; King James the Sixth and the Regent Mortoun presented John Erskine of Dun to the parsonage. Being Superintendent of the district, Erskine could not admit himself, and the presentation was addressed to Mr. John Wynram, Superintendent of Fife. It narrates the qualification, literature, and good conversation of John Erskine, and of "his long travels in the Ministrie within the Kirk of God." In Wynram's letter of admission of Erskine, after referring to the presentation, he states that "according to the desire quhairfof, knowine by large experience, the sufficient qualification, the godly literature and gode conversation of the said John Erskine, together with his great labours and diligent travel sustained in the Ministrie of the Kirk of God within this realm," he admits him to the charge.

A family occupying such a prominent position for so many centuries as the Erskines of Dun, necessarily accumulated many muniments connected with their landed estates, and also in reference to the public business of Scotland, in which they took a leading part. The Charters, correspondence and miscellaneous papers of the Erskines of Dun appear to have been preserved from any accident of fire, and they have now a considerable collection, including several documents of historical interest. The charters of the landed estates now and formerly belonging to the Barony of Dun are both numerous and ancient, but they do not require any special notice: The collection of other papers, however, has formerly attracted the notice of historians. Thomas Innes, the learned author of the critical essay on the History of Scotland, extracted valuable information from the Dun Papers. Bishop Keith also found them of service in his History of the Church of Scotland which was published in the year 1735. More recently the Council of the Spalding Club made a still larger use of them by including a selection of the Dun Papers in the fourth volume of their MISCELLANY printed in the year 1849. Although the present Report is written from the Original Papers which are in my own custody, the selection of them which was printed by the Spalding Club has also been referred to for convenience.*

In addition to the Dun Papers proper, there is now in the Charter Room at Dun a separate collection which formerly belonged to the Riddells of Haining in the county of Selkirk. Mr. John Riddell of Haining was sheriff of that county, in the reign of King Charles the Second. Commissions were granted to Sheriff Riddell and others on the Scotch and English sides of the Borders for the suppression of theft, and also for the punishment of those who frequented conventicles and neglected their parish churches, and other ecclesiastical irregularities.

* Since this Report was written, the whole Papers have been returned to Dun.

W. H.
Esq.

Through the marriage of David Erskine of Dun, who became a Lord of Session and Justiciary under the title of Lord Dun, with Magdalen Riddell, daughter of Sheriff John Riddell, the papers of Riddell of Haining were transferred to the Dun repositories.

A short notice of the Papers of the Riddells of Haining is given in the present Report in a separate section.

The entire Report is arranged under the following divisions:—

- I. Correspondence of the Erskines of Dun from the year 1544.
- II. Royal warrants and Commissions and Miscellaneous Papers of the Erskines of Dun from the year 1474.
- III. Correspondence of the Family of Riddell of Hainidg in the shire of Selkirk, now at Dun, from the year 1674.
- IV. Royal Commissions and relative Papers connected with the Scottish Borders from the year 1619.

I.—Correspondence of the Erskines of Dun from the year 1544.

1. Original letter of Cardinal Beton to John Erskine of Dun, St. Andrew's, 25th October [1544]. The Cardinal refers to a diet to be held by the Regent Arran at Edinburgh, at which he has no doubt Erskine will be present, on the 1st of November then next, expresses his confidence in his inclination to serve the governor, and assures him that his good will and the "gret wais" and solistatioun maid with mony your gret freyndis "to do the sammin," should come to the higher honour of him and his house and friends, which the writer would "procure and fortife," as he had more fully stated in a letter to Dun's cousin Sir Thomas Erskine of Brechin, Knight. The Cardinal requests the Laird of Dun to be present at St. Andrew's on Wednesday with his friends and servants, so that they might all set off together on Thursday towards the Lord Governour.

(Signed by the Cardinal.)

"To the rycht honorable and our rycht trast cousin
"the Lard of Dvn."

2. Mary Queen Dowager of Scotland to the Laird of Dun, Stirling Castle, 11th January [1547-8].

The Queen Dowager thanks the laird of Dun for his service in defence of the common weal of the realm and of her "derrest dochter," praying he will continue in the same. She assures him that she should soon obtain such support for the relief of the country from the trouble that was instant, as should comfort him and honourable men like him for having proved true to their native realm; and she thinks herself "addettit" till do onto him sic pleshir" as might be conform to his good deserving.

Signed by the Regent "La bien vostre MARIE R."

"To our traist friend the larde of Dvn."

The signature alone is holograph of the Queen Dowager.

3. Mary, Queen Dowager of Scotland to the Laird of Dun, Stirling, 12th March [1547-8].

With reference to information she had obtained regarding the purposed sailing of some ships from Montrose with victual, contrary to the "commone weill," the Queen Regent charged the Laird of Dun to seize and escheat to the Crown any ships in the port of Montrose with such a purpose.

The Regent subscribes herself "La bien vostre MARIE R."

(Indorsed) "To oure weillbelouit and traist freind
"the Lard of Dwne and proveost of Montross."

4. Mary, Queen Dowager of Scotland to the Laird of Dun, Edinburgh, 29th August 1549.

From this letter it appears that the Laird of Dun had desired artillery and men for the fort [in Montrose], and that a company of men had been sent there under Captain Beauchastell. This company had not been received, and Erskine, who appears to have considered the appointment of a captain as trespass on his own right apparently as constable of the constabulary of Montrose, had written on this matter to the Queen Regent. She denies any intention of taking from him any of his "heretage," states the necessity of soldiers having over them a captain who was no stranger, and declares it to be her "mind" that these forces should be used by his command and "aviss." The letter closes thus in a postscript: "Als it is nocht best that sic thing suld be done, considering we haue writing so mekill guid of your part to the King, or that now any thing suld be schawin of you in the contrair."

The Regent subscribes "La bien vostre MARIE R."

5. James, Earl of Murray, Regent of Scotland, to the Comptroller, Edinburgh, 2nd November 1567.

The Regent orders the Comptroller not to "mell or intromet," with any thirds of benefices assigned to the ministers for their stipends, of the '66 crop, either of silver or victuals, but to suffer the ministers or their collectors to use them at their pleasure, and he commands the comptroller to restore to the ministers any victuals with which he may have intromitted.

Holograph signature, "JAMES, Regent."

6. Official letter of Adam Erskine, commendator of Cambuskenneth to the Laird of Dun, younger, requesting him to urge his father [John Erskine, Superintendent of Angus and Mearns], to be present on the 15th of June 1579, at the castle of Stirling, at the court summoned to inquire into the "pussening" [poisoning] of the Earl of Athole. Lady Athole and other of Athole's friends were to be present. The Earl of Mar seems to have been interested in the trial and the attendance of his kinsmen is anxiously desired. "I dont nocht bot "3e will do thairin as 3e tendir the Kingis estait, and "my Lord of Mar's weill and honour, for thair is "sindrie gret materis to be intrettit at the said day, "the quhilkes giff thay be weill handillit at this tyme, "it sall put my Loird to the gretter rest." Dated at Stirling Castle, 10th June 1579.

7. David, Earl of Craufurd, to his "rycht traist" "cousing Robert Erskin off Dun younger." Cairny, 13th August 1579. The Earl wishes Erskine to present to the King letters of horning with their executions, which he had obtained against John Lyoun younger of Cossonis. The Earl states that Lyoun was dependent on him for his living, holding of him a wadset under redemption, and that he never could obtain the small yearly duty Lyoun owed him. Lyoun had conspired with the Master of Glamis to murder the Earl of Craufurd in his bed, and so the Earl for this ingratitude was "mowit" to persew him by ordour off law."

8. John Hepburn, Minister of Brechin, "to the richt" "honorabill Lord off Dun, Superintendent off Angus" "and Mernis." Brechin, 23rd March [1579].

The writer refers to a synodal convention to be held by the Superintendent at Montrose on the 23rd March. He had summoned James Stirling, "citiner," of Brechin, to appear before that court; and he mentions the summons of Walter Grym, whose crimes "the rider" "and comissioners" would show him at length. He excuses his own non-attendance, owing to impediments which prevent his sitting, standing or riding.

9. The Reverend Thomas Smeton, "at the command" "of the brethren send in comission," writes from St. Andrews, 30th July 1580, to John Erskine, the Superintendent, concerning the proceedings in the General Assembly, and "sute in court thir many dayes by-"past." He fears their matters in council will not have the issue they desire, nor will it be according to "the necessitie of this horrible confusion, quhilke is
"lyk to wraik the kirk of God in this countree," while he regrets the absence of Erskine through weakness and disease of body, he requests him, from time to time to "let them understand his godlie counsell and
"indgement concernyng the yphold of thir ruynous
"wallis of afflicted Herusalem."

10. James Scrimgeour, Constable of Dundee, to John Erskine, the Superintendent. 18th January 1580.

This is a letter of presentation, whereby the constable nominates and presents Robert Gray, lawful son to Patrick Gray of Ballegermo, to the "altarage that "was superstitiouslie erectit in the honour of Saint
"Margaret Quene, situat within the kirk of Dundee,
"quhair of the nominatioun and presentatioun of ane
"competent persone thairto pertenis heretablie to me
"in patronage, and to confer and gif collacioun and
"institutcioun thairapone belangis vnto you as bischop
"and superintendent of the samyn." The presentee is described as a scholar of good "ingine," able to increase in literature and sciences civil and divine. The various annual rents constituting the endowment, and the lands and tenements from which they are derived, are specified; and the whole endowment, extending to eight pounds six pennies of annual rent, besides a piece of burgage land, is "to be liftit and vptakin yeirlie,
"visit and disponit be the said Robert during his lifetime "to support his burding and expensis at grammar
"scoles and scholes of vniuersiteis in his minoritie, and "to by his bukis to help his stwdie, to the fine that he "may cum to perfectioun of knowlege to maintene the "religioun and set furth the gospell of Jesus Christ." The writer then requests Erskine to give Robert Gray formal collation and institution upon the said altarage, &c.

A. J. W. H.
K. Er-
SKINE, Esq.

A. J. W. H.
K. ER-
SKINE, Esq.

11. King James VI. "to our richt traist freind the Laird of Dun, ane of our ordinarie counsallours, or in case of his indispositioun and inability to travell, to his sonne Robert Erskin younger, of Dwn." Halyrudehouse, 1st March 1580.

"Richt traist freind and counsallour we greit yow hartly weill. This haynous disobedience and rebelloun in James Gray and certaine of his complices be the withholding of the house of Reidcastell in manefest contempt of our charge direct to him to render and delyner the same to the officiar executour thair of vnder the paine of treason, hes movit us to tak sic ordour with it as may remove the exemple thair of fra any other subiect that we sall happin to charge with the lyke; and to that effect to direct our commissioun to yow our trustie freind and servand to persewe and assege the said house with fyre, sworde, and all other kynde of wearelyke ingynes for the recoverie thair of furth of thair handis, conteyning ane command and charge to all and sundrie our liegis within the shirrifdome of Forfar, to meit yow in the maist substancial and sensible maner, ready to pas fordwar with yow to that effect. Quhilk we will earnestlie desyre yow earnestlie to put executioun in all pointis as ye will do we special pleyer and gude service. Thus we commit yow to God."

(Signed) JAMES R.

12. King James VI. to the provost and bailies of the burgh of Dundee. Halyrudehouse, xii March 1580. This letter is of the same tenor as that to the Laird of Dun of the 1st March, and the King desires them to conform in all points to the Commission he had directed to the Laird of Dun younger.

Signed by the King, JAMES R.

13. John, Earl of Montrose [Lord High Treasurer], and Sir John Maitland [Secretary of State], to the Laird of Dun. Edinburgh, 18th November 1584.

Dun is addressed as "my lord and father." They had shown his letter to the King, who approved of it all except the "conuenying off the mynistris to gidder" quhill obediens be first to his Maiesteis statutis." His Majesty sends him a commission for the ministry of Angus and Mearns, with a bond to be subscribed by the ministry within his jurisdiction similar to that which had been subscribed in the Edinburgh district. "His Maiestey hess that guid oppynioun off yow that he will he layth to sie any seditioun provyit or mynistrat in your boundis, for His Maiestey is alwayis weill myndit to you in your particular, gif that the causse be not in your self, for truly His Hiness hess als guid oppynioun off yow at this present als he hess off any subiect in Scotland."

14. "P. Sanct Andros" [Patrick Adamson, Titular Archbishop of St. Andrews], to the Superintendent, who is throughout addressed as "my Lord" and as "your Lordship." The letter is dated from St. Andrews, 22nd January 1584, in answer to a letter from the "lord of Dune," and states that the King's commission for Dun had come with letters to the Archbishop himself, and had been directed to Mr. James Melvin in Arbroath. The Superintendent would learn His Majesty's intention with regard to the diocese of Dunkeld on coming to Dunkeld, and he should take order as before for the parts of the diocese of St. Andrews lying within Angus and Mearns. He wishes him to do in the diocese of St. Andrews as he did in Brechin.

15. "The brethren wpoun the exercise of Montross Brechin and Mernis," write to the Superintendent from Montrose, 29th January 1584, regarding the Convention which had met at Montrose on the previous day. The convention was thought to have less grace through his Lordship's absence. Two obligations had been presented by Mr. Henry Duncan, one of which, "wanting the condition," was thought hard to agree to. There was some appearance of danger if the said subscriptions were not presented to the King before the 1st of February. His lordship's care of the brethren is referred to with confidence, and some ministers are named out of each exercise to wait on him.

16. Letter to King James VI. from John Erskine Superintendent of Angus and Mearns:—

[This letter is probably the draft of the principal letter which had been sent to the King. The draft bears an indorsation to the effect that it is "ane wretting send to the Kingis Grace." It bears no date but it was probably written about the year 1587 or 1588, as the writer asks the King to enjoy his possession but for one year, as he hopes by that time to be delivered from the bondage of corruption. He died in the year 1589. The letter gives a summary of the labours of the Superintendent, under his own hand. It has not been known till I lately found it at Dun, and it is now given entire.]

"Pleis your Maiestie to consider that I am your graces subiect and a barrone of your graces realme, and that ane of the maist ancient of yeiris. I haif bene ane faithfull seruand to your hynes nobill prediceousness and to your graces self wnto this day. I haif euer bein obedient to your Maiesties lawes, ordinances and proclamations. I haif vit me sua that my nyctbouris compleit nocht on me. I wes neuer accusit for cryme befor your graces iustice. I tuik neuer remissionne for ony offence, in respect of the quhilk your Maiestie aucht the mair to regaird me. Farther, I neuer spairit my trawellis, my bodye nor guidis, in seruing of my prince and for the commune welth. Of sum thinges thair of I will putt your grace in remembrance. In the weires we had with Ingland quhen the Inglis men possessit Dondie, Bruchtie Craig and the forth thair, I defendit the countre at my power fra thair invasions, at the desyr of the queinis grace regent, and Duck of Chatilroy thane gouverneur. a biggit ane forth in Montrois, tuik vp ane gret number of men of weir for a lang time and furnisit all of my awin guidis, sua that the sowmes debursit be me excedit tuintie thousand merkis as the comptis buir, and yet may be sein. Efter this at the queinis grace regent desyr, and estaittis of parliament, I passit to France in comissionne with the Lordis that wes directit for the maryage of the queinis grace your maiesties mother. My expensis thair wes gret, as thy that wes in company dois knawe. Efter this, knowing how necessar it wes a brig to be vpone the Noir watter, at the desyr of thame that had the gouernment and recompens promisit me, I bygit that brige, and warit gret sowmes thairvpone, as thy that luikis on the werk may consider. The queinis grace regent, and the counsall willing to recompance my gret costis, referrit to my self quhat accident or vther thing I wald desyr for recompence, I beand leth to pres thame dresse tyme. Than at the last in the queinis grace tyme your maiesties mother, wes assignit to me (whill farther mycht be had) this pensioune that I haif nowe of the Kirk, quhilk wes na recompance to me, for the same haif I spendit yeirlie in the causse of the Kirk and now presentlie in vsing and fulfilling the office that I haif of your grace and the Kirk. I haif possessit it thir mony yeiris past, and now to tak it fra me cane nocht be without my gret displesour to sie my guid service sua ingrattie recompansit. Heirfor I maist humble besek your grace that I may bruik my possessionne bot for a yeir, hoiping or that tyme be passit I sal be delyuerit fra the bondage of corruptions. Your Maiesties guid answar I desyr.

Your m. humbill and obedient subiect

JHONE ERSKYN.

17. King James VI. to the Laird of Dun [Robert son of the Superintendent]. Stirling, 17 August, 1590. We give entire this peculiar and plain-speaking letter:—

"Traist freind we greit yow weill. It is heuvalie lamentit to us vpoun the behalf of our louit Grissell Forrester relict of vmquhile Samuell Erskyne your sone, that albeit we promitit to grant and dispoine in fauour and for the support of hir and hir barne, your oy the escheit of hir said vmquhile husband fallin in our handis for the allegit putting of violent handis in his awin persoun, yit ye haue be contraventioun of us and our thesawrer, vnder pretence and promeis to apply the said escheit to the vse and behuiff of hir and hir barne, purchest our gift thairvpoun and be vertew of the samin not onle mellit and intrametit with the hail cornes, guidis, and geir belonging to your said sone and his spous: Bot secludit and put hir maist schamefulle and vnnaturaly frome the possession and proffiet of that rowme belonging to him and hir in coniunct feftment, quhilk we think verrey strange and a mater sua inconscionable in your persoun, being in the rank and estimation of a barroun in the contrey, and of sa godle and honorable ane hous, as we have not hard of the lyke. We wald be glaid that as all guid personnes regraites and pieties the cais of this semple and young gentill woman, wraikit and redactit in messary, as appeires, be your vngodle and vnnatural dealing, sa ye wald remord your awin conscience, and baith for the accomplisshement of our promeis maid first to dispoine the said gift to hir and hir barne, and your awin honour and naturall dewatie, ye will tak sic ordour as sche may be restoirit to the guides, cornes, and vtheres intrametit with be yow, as said is, or ony vtheres vnder yow be vertew of that escheit, and to the possession of that sowme belonging to hir in coniunct feftment, sua that we heir na farther occasioun of complent thairannent howsaeur ye pretend rycht

J. W. H. thairto be the said gift of escheit. Vtherwais to assuir your self that we will querrel and call the samin in questionn, and challenge yow of your dewtie and promeis thairannent as the caus merites. Sua lenking for your ansuer with the beirar to the effect, in cais of your refusell of this our godle request abone writtin, we may put remeid thairto, We commit yow to God. Of Striiling the xvii day of August 1590. JAMES R.

Indorsed: "To our traist freind the Larde of Dwn."

18. James VI. of Scotland, and afterwards I. of England, to the ministers of the Presbytery of Mearns. Holyroodhouse, 4th April 1603.

The King commands Mr. Alexander Forbes, minister of Fetterkairne, a member of the Mearns Presbytery, to accompany him to London, on the occasion of the death of Queen Elizabeth with other ministers similarly called, and to bring back to Scotland directions to the General Assembly regarding the preservation of the peace and unity of the Kirk. He asks the Presbytery to appoint one of their number to serve at Fetterkairne in Forbes's absence.

Signed by the King, JAMES R.

19. James Halyburtoune of Pitcur, writes to the Laird of Edzell, October 30, 1608, mentioning that the Laird of Dun was much troubled by the Bishop of St. Andrew (George Gladstaines), for not producing the original sasine of Logy Montrose. He asks this writ from Edzell. Then "we sall immediatlie be at ane waif point with the biship."

20. Henrie Erskine to his brother the Laird of Dun, Edinburgh, 16th July 1625. Mentions that he had consulted with Mr. George Flesher, advocate, anent the laird's "Patent of a Baronet." When in England he had been promised by Sir William Alexander that a patent should be kept for the Laird of Dun in a "good rowme." It would cost 3,000 marks, and the writer thinks that his brother should insist on being placed next those who have already obtained patents.

21. Letter from the Privy Council of Scotland to the Laird of Dun, dated Haliraidhouse, 24th August 1626, requesting him to continue in the sheriffship of Forfar till the next commission day, when it was hoped the horning against the Laird of Bonnytown sheriff-elect would be "purged," and he would be able to enter on the office. Signed by George Viscount Dupplin, Chancellor, and Thomas, Earl of Melros, as Lord Privy Seal.

22. Letter from the Privy Council of Scotland to the Laird of Dun, dated from Holyruidhouse, 31st August 1627. They had written him before concerning the war His Majesty had undertaken against France, asking what number of men he could furnish for the service. He had sent no answer worthy to be returned to His Majesty. "Thairfor these are of new to request and desyre yow to send in to the burgh of Edinburgh betuixt and the 20th day of September nixt suche number of persounis as yow may furnishe in this mater, and thair delyver thame to the erle of Mortoun and his officers, who will be thair readie to attend and ressave thame; and that they be persouns of good vigour and abilitie of bodie and not of these who are in the common rolls for the service of the King of Denmark."

Signed by the Chancellor, the Earls of Wintoun, Linlithgow, and Haddington.

23. Lady Marie Erskine, daughter of John, Earl of Mar, and Countess Marischall, to William Delgardno, in Chrechie. Her cousin, the Laird of Dun, had accepted the post of captain in the King of Denmark's service, and was to levy 300 men in Scotland. He asks Delgardno to "try out" in the bounds whereof he had charge, "for all sort of men that ye think fitting to want and that ar meit to go to the warres." Dated at Canongait (Edinburgh), 21st March 1627.

24-32. Nine letters from Patrick Maule, of Panmure, afterwards Earl of Panmure, the favourite attendant of King Charles the First, all addressed to his nephew, Alexander Erskine, Laird of Dun.

24 (1.) First letter, dated 8th May 1631.

Among other things he writes:—"My lord of Mortone can mak noe excuse for his unwillingnesse to giue way to yow for transporting of victuall, but that he was not in Scotland; and these that war their, was mor able too judge of the plantie which was in the kingdome then hee could"

"I understand in lyk maner by the Aduocat that the lord of Spynie hath the past a renunsiatione in my fauours of my landes of the Baroni of Dunie, which I tak for kindlie from him, not that I think they war in much danger For that bussines which yowe left with me anent the making of salt in "Ireland, I haue moun'd his Majestie theirin. Wher- wpon I find soe maney questiones and doutes arysse that I can not ansuer them, soe that I fear it must lay wntill my hom-coming."

25 (2.) Second letter, dated 10th March 1633. Chiefly reates to the King's intended visit to Scotland. After stating his unwillingness to bestow his daughter on the laird of Bonnytown, owing to the youth of his daughter, the large number of children the laird already had, although yet a young man, and the incumbrances on his estate, he writes:—"For yow being in Edinborough at His Majesties being their I know not what to aduysse. I believe uerely there wilbe few gentle-man of qualetie in the kingdom but wilbe their, and yett I know it must be chargeable to these that comes. As for a place to serue in during His Majesties being their: befor this all places was apointed, and if they war not, I can not imagine aney place that had bein fitting for yowe wnesse it had bein a mester-hous- hold, and that number hath bein full abone this tow yearis. For the rest of the placis I know non that is fitting for a gentill-man of qualetie. My lord Mortone is to be at home about the end of this month, and if their be aney place that yowe haue a mynd too, I perswad my-self hee wilbe willing to giue you contentment in it, for hee and my Lord Traquair hath the disposing of all places."

26 (3.) Third letter, dated 16th December 1635. Concerning the writer's claim to Balmaledy and other lands. He adds, "I have not forgotin Gilderoy, but cannot make the King to apprehend it as I would."

27 (4.) Fourth letter, dated 1st November 1636. The King and the Earl of Traquair had gone to Newmarket.

28 (5.) Fifth letter, dated 12th January 1636-7. Mentions Maule's having procured a letter from His Majesty to the town of Montrose, in favour of James Guthrie, which he sends with His Majesty's letter to the town. "It is a thing uerey wnting for him to doe, for hee hath noe pouer to apoint there clark." Maule accuses Erskine of being "sloe in wreeting" to him.

29 (6.) Sixth letter, dated 22nd November 1637. Maule writes:—"As to your wish that I should be cairfull to doe all the good I can in this present bussiness of the church, be confidant I shall neuer be wanting therin to the utermost of my pouer, and believe me I haue not bein eidle with my best indououris to giue his majestie the true informatione with as much aduantage to thise that hath appeer'd in this bussines as possiblie I could, soe that I hope (if they bee discreete, and stand to there ground, and not brak amongse them selfis) that the bussines shall haue a good tulent."

30 (7.) Seventh letter, dated 23rd February 1638. Maule thanks his nephew for the interest he had taken in bringing about Jeane's marriage [probably the marriage of Maule's daughter to the Earl of Northesk].

"For the church affair I can adde no thing to what I haue wreatin in my former letters to yowe which I hope will com sauffie to your hands. I pray God all things may be quieted. For the presedant I assure y hath (soe farr as I can learne) self uerey well, and I believe if would haue takin hold of his the countrie should haue gotine contentment. But what conclusions was takine and send home with Traquair, I am perswadit was resolued befor ener the presedant cam heere. Befor the rescat of your letter I hard of your being in Edinbrough at the tym of the tumult in Brechin, which I was uerey glade to heere, and am uerey well plesed in resauing the assurance thereof from your-self, for I should be sorie that yowe should doe that at which their might be iust grounds of exceptiones, for a man should carie him-self soe, that their may not be notish takine of his behaiour further then his good wishes to the bussines."

"For the prisic of uictuall heere: the barly, pease, beenes, and oits is uerey deere, for good barly is at fourtie shilline starling the quarter, beanes at that sam rait, oites at aughteine and tuantie shilline the quarter. I haue procured from his Majestie a warrant to the Lord Treasurar for giuing leesance to me for the transporting of fiftie chalders of uictuall, which I haue heer-with send yowe the coppie, and withall I haue wreatin this letter my self to him theiranent, for if yowe find that their is aney good theirin to be done, cause deliuer the warand with my letter, if otherwyse keepe them both untill I sie yowe."

31 (8.) Eighth letter, dated 2nd February 1639. Maule in this letter says:—"The unsertintie of deliuerie of letters make me that I dar not wreit freele."

A. J. W. H.
K. ER-
SKINE, Esq.

A. J. W. H.
K. Erskine, Esq.

"His Majestie coming to York the first of Aprill is com to your knowledg befor this, where their is to be a powerfull armie; how or wher it shalbe imployed is not to me knowne. I shall pray for pace, but I fear if his Majestie be forced to see much trouble and charge both to him-self and the wholl keengdome, that the couenanters shall not gate so much of their will as they expect. I am sure they might haue made faire condisiones, both for church and kingdome, if it hade bein takin in tyme; but what they can doe now God knowes. I must hope the best, for I am confidant, all good men will indeuour to seek pace."

32 (9.) Ninth letter, dated 11th April 1640, with a postscript of the 24th. Maule says that "bussines comes to that height," that there was no safety in writing as all letters were intercepted. He entreats his nephew, although he does not hope to persuade him to abandon the course he had taken "to carrie himself with that temper and discrations that their may not be cause to tak greater exception at him then at others that is ingadged as he is." He beseeches him to say nothing disrespectful to the King's person, as that might "preiudge" him and do no good to the "business." "Remember that Kings hath long ears."

"The Erll of Montrois ureat a letter to me since my coming. I aquented His Majestie with what he ureat to me and shewed His Majestie the latter he ureat to Mr. Routhen his ouncle and returned him His Majesties answer theiro to which I [] hee ureat to him, and nithall he promesid to mak my excuse, for not wreiting, for I could say nothing bott what I had spokin to Mr. Routhen, see if that my excuse for not wreiting bee mead it is enough, but if it bee not, Mr. Routhen did me the mor wrong, for I should be loith to negleck that duesti which his respect to me hath euer merited. Therefore I pray you lett him know what I haue wreitin."

33. Copy letter from King Charles I. 18th June [1640]. "Trustie and weill belouit, greyt you weill. Hawing fullie vnderstood of your constant affectione to our seruice and sufferings for the same we giue you hartie thankis; and as heirtofor we haue wretime, we will not be wnmynndfull therof, but our subjectis whoo have offendit us, hawing at this tyme giwin us satisfacione excepting of that we proponit to them, we thoct it fitt to acquent you therewith to the end you doe not proceed in anie thing tuiching hostilitie; but that you sattill your tyme in ane peaceabill way; and so we bid you hartilie farweill. At Birkis from our camp, the 18 day of Juni." [No address.]

34. Holograph order by David Leslie, Lieutenant-General of the forces in Scotland, desiring all officers and soldiers under his command, and all others to suffer the laird of Dun with his servants to pass and repass to Edinburgh without let or molestation. Given at Mulders, 6th April 1649.

35. The same to his "loving comerad Colonell Keithe." Perth, October 8, 1649. "Yours of the eight of this . . . is come this evining to my hands schoing me of your returne into the countrie and desire to be excepted as others of your condicione with assurance of securrity for bygones. My advice is that yee present your self to the committie of esteits quho did sett out acts for those of your condicione that did come into the countrie againe, who I belive will be easily satisfied and desire no more of yow then securrity for the peace of the countrie in times coming." He then asks Keith to visit him on his way from Edinburgh . . . "I wish you will consider quhat service yee ar doing to God or your prince, and that ye wold remember the last warning quher God was plased with ane handfull to beate suche ane gallant armie and yeet to spare yow, thus desiring your favourable constructions of him quho honores your persone, take quhat course you will."

36. Lord Spynie and Ogilvey and Robert Beattie to David Erskine. Intimating that Erskine's father had died on Tuesday night. Would allow none to write home concerning his sickness. He was buried on Thursday night in St. Martin's Church, accompanied by the greater part of the nobility and all the gentry of Scotland then in London. "He ows about ane hundereth and twente ponds sterling hier, and if wee had not ingadged for the payment thairof his corps had bein arrested."

37. Letter signed by the following Lords:—Mar, Eglintounne, Balmerino, Linlithgow, Kilsyth, Northesk, and by Alex. Erskine, Lyon [King of Arms], Hugh Paterson, Geo. Lockhart, Ja. Murray, John Carnegie, Alexander McKenzie, Al. Cuming, and Ja. Murray, but unaddressed. [Probably to one of the Scottish bishops. He is addressed as "My Lord."] London, March 21st, 1712-13.

"The enemies of the Church of England here, who are much alarm'd at any countenance that is shown to the Episcopal party in Scotland, and who are indefatigable in their endeavours to keep us still under the hatches, have no other game left . . . but to represent us all, both clergy and laity, as enemies to the present Government." These avowed that the Episcopal clergy would not take the oaths or pray for the Queen. The latter accusation was true of many. While these rumours are spread, they continue, "it is impossible that we can succeed in our weak endeavours for the church. It cannot be expected that the Queen will grant her protection to those that will not so much as pray for her; it is what her ministry cannot have the face to ask of her."

Their friends in England thought it absolutely necessary in order to counteract these reports, that the Scottish Episcopal clergy should send up an address testifying their affection to Her Majesty's person and government. His lordship's assistance is prayed for. No time was to be lost; Parliament would assemble the following week, and their enemies were prepared for a violent attack. The clergy should pray for the Queen and send up the address speedily.

38. Captain James Erskine, M.P., to his brother Lord Dun. London, March 27th, 1715.

Regarding a petition against his election on the ground of his having been carried by an unlawful council at Montrose and by bribery at Brechin. He asks his brother for 30l. as "thes things cannot be done without money." The petition would be brought before the bar of the House of Commons, "wher lile justice is to be expected, but only interest determines, for though your not named in the petition youl be brought in for bribery."

39. John, Fourth Marquis of Tweeddale, Secretary of State, to Lord Dun, pressing him to reconsider his resignation of the office of Commissioner of the Court of Justiciary. Whitehall, 23rd June 1744.

40. Archibald, Third Duke of Argyll, to Lord Dun, apparently on the same matter as in the preceding letter. London, February 19th, 1744-5.

41. John, Marquis of Tweeddale, Secretary of State to Lord Dun, appointing Lord Drumore as his successor in the above office, and continuing to Lord Dun a salary of 100l. Whitehall, 7 March 1744-5.

42. "To the Right Honourable the Lords of Council and Session, the humble address of the Lord Dun, one of their number," intimating his resolve to resign his office. Copy, 1753.

43. The Lords of the Court of Session to Lord Dun, regretting his resolution to resign connexion with them. Edinburgh, 25 July 1753.

44. Holograph letter from Archibald Duke of Argyll to Lord Dun on his resignation. Edinburgh, 17 August 1753.

II. Royal warrants and commissions and miscellaneous papers of the Erskines of Dun from the year 1474.

45. Discharge by John of Chawmer "Maister of Saint Germans" and persoun of Abirluthnocht in favour of "an honourable squyar" John of Erskyn of Dun, of 100 merks scotts as full payment of the teind sheaves of the Kirk of Abirluthnocht for the year 1473. Dated 31 July 1474.

46. Factory by John of Chawmer pensioner of Saynt Germans, appointing "an honourable squyar" John of Erskine of Dun to receive for him from Sir Patrick Pyot the sum of 46 merks due to the said John of Chawmer for the teind sheaves of the towns of the Bernys and the Ecclesmaldie in the parish of Abirluthnot. Dated 2nd August 1475.

47. Notarial certificate by Walter Clerk, priest in the diocese of Brechin, relating that John Erskine of Dun had appeared on the lands of umquhile Walter Ogstoun of Perth, and had there given satisfaction to several tenants and servitors of the said Walter for felony committed by John Erskine and others against them, and for oppression of them and destruction of their grain and other goods; and that these tenants, &c., quit-claimed the said offenders for ever. 9 July 1490.

48. Lease by Alexander Maull of Hadderwick of half his lands of Haderveik and others in the shire of Forfar,

* The hospital of Saint Germain's was situated in the shire of Haddington.

J. W. H. to John of Erskine of Dun for 19 years, for 40s. yearly.
3 March 1491.

C. Er.
R. Esq.

49. Remission by King James IV. to John Erskine younger of Dun. Dundee 13 February, 1501.

The king pardons the premeditated felony committed by John Erskine younger of Dun against Walter Ogilvy, William Nudry and others in the burgh of Montrose, and also remits all crimes and offences, and frees him from all action to which he might be liable for any crimes committed by him previous to the date of the present remission, excepting treason, homicide &c.; provided he gave satisfaction to those who had been aggrieved, that in future no just cause of complaint should be found against him; and further the king inhibited all persons on pain of death or loss of limb from inflicting any injury on the said John Erskine for his past transgressions.

50. Inventory of the personal estate and testament of John Erskine of Dun who died at Flodden. Dated 15 August, 1513. Confirmed 19 August, 1515.

"Inventarium omnium bonorum Johannis Erskyn de Dwn factum ibidem per seipsum xv^o die mensis Augusti anno domini m^o v^o xiii^o coram hiis testibus, dominis Georgeo Foulartoun vicario de Dwn, Johanne Willok, Johanne Ettail, capellanis, et magistro Johanne Nauchti notario publico cum diuersis aliis."

His estate is thus divided (1.) Goods in the diocese of St. Andrews: (2.) Debts due to him in that diocese: (3.) Goods in the diocese of Brechin: (4.) Debts due to him in that diocese: (5.) His debts to others. The whole estate after the deduction of all his debts amounted to 170*l.* 19*s.* 10*d.*

The value of farm-stock and of the various kinds of grain in Scotland at this time may be ascertained from this inventory. The "utensilia et domicilia" are estimated in a lump at 40*l.* Four work-horses are valued each at 26*s.* 8*d.*, 41 ploughing oxen at 20*s.* a piece: 28 cows at 16*s.*: 18 calves at 2*s.*, one bull at 1*l.* 13*s.*: score and four sheep at 30*d.* each. Oats which appear to have been sown on this estate in greater quantity than any other grain, are valued at 40*d.* per boll; barley at 8*s.*; wheat at 10*s.*; peas at vis. 8*d.*

By his testament, which is appended to the inventory of his estate, John Erskine nominated Katherine Monypenny his spouse and Mr. Thomas Erskine his son to be his executors. The inventory and testament were made a few weeks before the battle of Flodden.

51. Inventory of the personal estate of Sir John Erskine younger of Dun, Knight, father of the Superintendent, and who also died at Flodden, dated 15 February, 1513 and confirmed by the commissary of Saint Andrews on 3 April 1516.

There is a considerable difference in the valuation of the stock &c. in this inventory from that of Sir John's father. The oats are valued at 4*s.*, barley at 6*s.* 8*d.*, peas at 6*s.* 8*d.* There is still more difference in the horses, one of which is valued at 4*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* and other two at 40*s.*

One item of debt is "servis metentibus grana in awtumno vi lb."

Dame Margaret Ruthven is named in the confirmation as the relict of Sir John Erskine.

The inventory was made a few months after the knight was killed at Flodden.

52. Letter by John Duke of Albany Governor of Scotland under king James the Fifth, to the laird of Dun and his tutors to come to the governor at Edinburgh to give him their counsel and assistance with regard to the intended invasion of Scotland by her "ald enemys of Inghland." This invasion the governor means to resist. The party summoned were to "pre-termit nocht the furnishing of their part of men of were to the bordouris" under the order contained in a separate letter. Dated at Edinburgh, 17 September [1514].

53. Indenture dated at Edinburgh, 1 April 1517, between "ane venerable fader in God" Patrick Abbot of Cambuskenneth and secretary to the king on the one part, and Mr. [afterwards Sir] Thomas Erskine tutor to John Erskine of Dun, for himself and as procurator to Katrine Monypenny his mother on the other part. By this indenture Patrick Pantar is to receive repayment of 120 merks which he had paid to the bishop of Caithness, king's treasurer, for John Erskine, while he "differis" two other sumes also due by the said umquhile John Erskine, one of 250 merks, the other of 50 pounds, "in hope and traist of the said Master Thomas, Katrine, te frendis and haralliances gude" "bering kindnes and behaving toward the said venerable fader, his kynnismen," &c. These sumes, however, were to be paid in event of any unkindness being exhibited to the Abbot. The second contracting party were to be ready to "gang in all honest materis and querrellis agains all parties exceptand the king, gouernoure and Erll of Huntly," in defence of the Abbot.

The indenture is subscribed "Patricius Panitar Abbas de Cambuskenneth Secretarius" and T. Erskyne. The seal of Panitar is affixed, but only a fragment remains.

54. Notarial instrument narrating that on the 10th October, 1521, James Stewart of Reland, sheriff depute of Banff, appeared before several witnesses in the market place of Banff and made a declaration as to certain amerciements to which the "tenentes husbandi et inhabitores" of Knokorth &c., had become liable through their absence from the courts assigned to them for the "wapinschawing." These fines were, "35 vaccas et ly zong oxin, et 23 ly stottis et steris," all which were valued at 40*l.* scots, and were offered to the tenants, &c., for payment of the said sum or on sufficient caution for the payment by a certain day. None of them, however, appearing, the cattle were taken possession of according to order of law by the said James Stewart.

55. Contract of marriage, dated at Dundee, 20 December 1522, by which it is agreed betwixt David Earl of Craufurd on the one part, and John Erskyn of Dun with consent of James Stewart of Ryland, and Mr. Thomas Erskyne of Haltoun, his tutors, on the other part, in manner following:—The said John Erskyn is to marry and have to wife Elizabeth Lindsay daughter of the earl of Craufurd whenever he should arrive at the perfect age of 14 years: two days before the marriage Lord Craufurd was to pay over 700 merks for the redemption of Erskine's lands; and among other things it is advised by Erskine's tutors that on his coming to the age of 14 years and entering on the possession of his lands, he shall bestow on his sister Katherine a year's profit of the whole of his lands for her marriage. This duplicate of the contract is signed by the Earl of Craufurd.

56. Notarial instrument narrating that James Learmonth of Darsy, provost of St. Andrews, and James Beinstoun of Lammyclaithame appeared in the presence of George Atkinson notary public on the 4th June 1526: that the deceased Edward bishop of Caithness had at his death given the patronages of three chaplainries to David Learmonth of Clatto, father of the foresaid James Learmonth, present contractor; these chaplainries to "be fundit" it for the guid and veill and honour of vmquhill Eduard "bischoep and his saull heill that is grawit in the paroch Kirk of the cete of Sanctandris, and inlikwyiss for the guid and veill of the saull and honour of wmqhill ane reuerend fader in God Jhone bischoip of Orkney last deceisid, grawit in the college of Sanct Saluatur foundit within the said ciete and for louabill suffrage for" to be done for the saidis Reuerendis faderis saullis in "all tymis to cum, at places forsaid, according to thair honour and bredhedis veill;" that hereby the said James Learmonth founds a chaplainry in the college of "our Saluatur" for the purpose above mentioned, and for the sum of 100*l.* scots transfers the patronage of the same to James Beinstoun; and that James Beinstoun binds himself to find caution to Gawane bishop of Aberdeen, or failing him to James Learmonth, that he will, as executor of John bishop of Orkney, complete the three foundations and dispoise the money according to the will of the founder, "on the paines of cursing."

57. License under the signature of King James V. to John Erskine of Dun, Thomas Erskine, son of Sir Thomas Erskine of Brechin, Knight, Secretary to the King, and John Lamby of Duncany, to travel into France, Italy, or any other parts beyond sea, to remain abroad for two years for the doing of their lawful business; and to take or have transmitted to them such gold, &c., as they may require. They were to suffer no "skaith" by acts or prosecutions of any kind during their absence. Dated at Stirling, 16 April, in the 29th year of the reign (1542).

58. Similar license for 3 years to John Erskine, elder, franktenement of Dun, Thomas Erskine son of Sir Thomas Erskine of Brechin, John Erskine fiar of Dun, and William Erskine parson of Douchquhale. Edinburgh, 10 May (1542).

59. Commission by King James V. to (Sir Thomas Erskine) his Secretary, and David Lindesay of Adzell, to order his lieges and tenants of the Earldom of Craufurd, Dun, Brechin, Adzell and Montrose, who were unfit for war, to furnish able persons to join the host as their substitutes; and this notwithstanding former proclamations of the King and his commission to the Sheriff of Forfar. Dated at Edinburgh, 19 October 1542.

A. J. W. H.
K. Er.
SKIN, Esq.

A. J. W. H.
K. ER-
SKINE, Esq.

60. License by Queen Mary under the signature of the Regent Arran to John Erskyne of Dun to travel abroad for five years. St. Andrews, 12 March 1545-6.

61. Lease of the Abbey of Scone for nineteen years to John Erskine of Dun, and grant to his lady in liferent, of the lands of Blaknes, Driburgh, and Blagartno, by Patrik bishop of Moray and Commendator of Scone. Perth, 13 February 1546-7.

62. Lease of the fruits of the parsonage and vicarage of Arbutnot for three years by Sir Vilzern Rynd parson of Arbutnott, and Robert Erskin dean of Aberdeen, in favour of John Erskin of Dun, for 300 merks yearly. Brechin, 23 April 1552.

63. Letter of Mary Queen of Scots, dispensing with the attendance of John Erskin of Dun and his servant at the raid to be convened in Edinburgh to pass with the regent to the burgh of Jedburgh. Edinburgh, 26 October [1552]. Subscribed by James Duke of Chatelherault as Governor.

64. "At Aberdene quinto Januarii 1558. The Counsall gevin be the denye and cheptour of Aberdene to my lord bischope of Aberdene thair ordinar at his lordschippis desyr for reformatioun to be maid and stancheing of hereseis pullelait within the diocie of Aberdene, and the ordour prescruit to be obseruit to the sammyn effect." Three pages folio.

This important document has been long known to historians and is printed in the Introduction to Bishop Keith's History of Scotland, p. xiv., edition 1734.

65. Letter by Francis and Mary King and Queen of Scotland, &c., given under the Royal signet at Sanctandrois, the 22d February [1559], narrating that, "Forsa-mekle as the lordis of our secrete counsalle havand consideration that the blak freris place of Montroiss was first ane hospitale for the povirs of that toun, and that the saidis freris being sturdy beggaris vnder colour of almshouse and moyoun of courte for the tyme, spulzet the poor thair of, intrusand thame selfis thairin, and takand the hail place and rentis thair of to thame; and sen it hes plesit God of his grite mercy to open thair ipocrasie and maist justlie to caus thame be electit thairfra, it becumis the saidis lordis of thair dewitie, bayth towardis God and man, to restoir the poore of the said toun to the said hospitalitie as to their ald and maist[r]ichfull possessioun."

Therefore the lords appoint the said Blackfriars Place with all its lands, &c. to be distributed to the poor of Montrose; and order a hospital to be erected thereupon "according as tyme and expensis of the superexcessens giff ony beis will suffer" for the entertainment of the poor. The lords also being persuaded of his "fayth, conscience, and pietie towarte the poore" constitute John Erskyn of Dun general factor, intromittor, and up-lifter, and distributor of the fruits of the hospital, keeper and "conservare" of the "excrecence gyff ony beis," disposer of the same for the erection of a hospital, principal master, "admittare, imputtare and owtputtare" of the "poore and neddy thairin" at his discretion. All persons in debt to the institution are commanded to make immediate payment on pain of horning and imprisonment in the castle of Dumbertane during their Majesties pleasure.

66. Letter by King James VI., dated from the Castle of Stirling, 14 May [1579], to John Erskine Laird of Dun and his son Robert or either of them: commanding the safe conduct of those who were in the house of Reidcastell, especially of John Stewart brother to James Lord Innermeith, into the King's presence; and that the Erskines should make an inventory of Lord Innermeith's goods, now pertaining to his "faderless bairnes" and should retain possession of them until further notice from the King and Counsel. Subscribed by the King, the Earl of Leuenax and Robert Commendator of Dunfermline.

67. Letter, dated from the Castle of Stirling, 26 September 1579, enjoining the Laird of Dun elder, to surrender the house of Reidcastell to John Stewart, on obtaining sufficient caution from him for the charges he had been subject to while keeper of the Castle. The alleged ground of this delivery is, that John Stewart had deadly enemies in that district ready to pursue him, and that such a residence would conduce to his better safety. Subscribed by the King and the Commendator of Dunfermline.

68. License by King James VI., to his "weilbelouit counsallour" John Erskine of Dun and the persons with him in company, to eat flesh as oft as they please from the 13th February following the issue of the order to the 26th March: and this notwithstanding the recent royal proclamation or other inhibitions. Holyroodhouse, 10 February 1580. Subscribed by the King and by the Earls of Argyll and Montrose.

69. Letter by King James VI., commanding John Erskine younger of Dun, immediately "to surrender the house of Reidcastell and its plenishing into the hands of James Lord Innermeith." Subscribed by the King at Holyroodhouse 14 March 1580.

70. Licence by King James VI. to John Erskin of Dun "his bairnis, freindis, men, tennentis, seruandis and "propir dependaris" to remain at home from "the rayd appointit toward Striueling for persute of certane oure rebellis and tratouris quhilkis surprisit oure toun and castell of Striueling and fortifit and withheld the sammyn agains ws and oure auctoritie lailtie in the moneth of Aprile instant." Subscribed by the King at Edinburgh, 25th April 1584.

71. Extract of decree of the Lords of Council, dated at Halyruid house, 16th November 1584.

Narrates that Patrick Lord Drummond, Robert Drummond of Carnock, David sometime commendator of Dryburgh, and Robert Erskin fiar of Dun, by their obligation, dated the 3rd, and registered in the books of secret council the 20th December 1583, had become bound as sureties for Adam (Erskine) sometime commendator of Cambuskenneth, that he should leave the realms of Scotland, England and Ireland within thirty days after the date of the obligation, "wind and wedder serving," that he should remain beyond seas during the time mentioned in the royal license, and during his absence behave himself as a dutiful subject to his Sovereign Lord, "and suld do, attempt nor practize nathing in hurte or preiudice of his hienes estate and trew religion presentlie preicheit and be the law established within this realme," under the pain of 10,000*l.* scots. But in contempt of this obligation and decree the commendator remained in the realm of England, and was there residing at the date of this decree, and in the interval had practised, attempted, devised, and committed sundry crimes of treason and "lese maiestie," of which he was convicted in Parliament. The cautioners refused to pay the sums stated in their obligation, and this decret was consequently obtained to compel Robert Erskine to pay his part of the sum, for which he had become bound, and which amounted to 2,500*l.*

72. "Ane Licence to you L[ordship] for eating of flech," [Dorso], subscribed at Halyruidhouse 25th February 1584 by King James VI., James Stewart Earl of Arran, and John Lord Thyrilstone, as follows:

"We vnderstanding that our weilbelouit clerk Johnne Erskyne of Dwn is past the age of lxxvj yeiris, and that he is seikle and subject to diuer's infirmities and diseases: Thairfor be the tennour heirof with aulse of the Lordis of our secrete counsell gevis and grantis Licence to him to eit flesh sa oft as he sall think expedient on the forbiddin dayis in the oulk, to wot, Woddinisday, Fryday, and Satterday, and in the tyme of Lentroun, during all the dayis of his lyf tyme . . ."

73. Summons in name of King James VI. from the Lords of Exchequer, dated at Stirling 9th September 1588, raised at the instance of John Erskine of Dun, superintendent of Angus and Mearns, against the Abbot of Arbroath, the Bishop of Brechin, the Abbot of Cupar, and others, for the payment of his stipend for the year 1585. The stipend consisted of money and victuals as follows:—

	lb.	s.	d.
From the siluere third of Arbroath	170	4	2½
" " third of Cupar	52	16	6½
Charterhouss	22	0	10
From the Jedburgh and Restennete	25	6	8
Third of the preceptory of Maison-dow	13	6	8
Thomas Knox's annavele in Brechin	0	0	12
From the third of Edwie parsonage	27	2	2½
From the prices of the victualls of Kinnell	26	13	4
Summa	337	11	6½

The Victuals are:—

	Chalders	Bolls	Firlots	Pecks
Arbroath Abbacy "fayte"	4	12½	0	0
" beer	6	14	3	1½
" beer	5	8	0	0
Brechin "fayte"	0	3½	0	0
" beer	5	2½	0	0
" meill	3	2	0	0

74. Grant under the privy seal of King James VI., dated 1 November 1587, to John Eskine, of his stipend

W. H. as superintendent out of the thirds of certain benefices [as in No. 73]. The preamble runs thus:—

"Wit ye ws, Considering the lang, earnest, and fructfull travellis tane and bestowit be oure louit Johne Erskyn of Dwn superintendent of Angus and Mernis, in the suppressing of superstition, papistrie and idolatrie, and avancement and propagationn of the evangell of Jesus Christ the tyme of the reformatioun of the religioun, and in his ydent, and faithfull perseuerance in the samin contennallie sensyne to the grit glorie of God, and singular conforte of all oure subiectis within the boundis of Angus and Mernis now flurishing abundantlie in the preiching of the trew word of God and rycht administratioun of the sacramentis be the grace of God and industrie of the said Laird of Dun," &c.

75. Commission by King James VI., and the Lords of the Privy Council to John Earl of Mar, and such of his friends and servants as he should nominate. Dated Edinburgh, 13 November 1610.

Narrates that the King and Council had been informed that David Blenhois in the Leyis of Dun, Thomas Stone there, George Kirk, John Kirk, and Gilbert Campbell, all in Logy, and one called "Irishe James, ane vagabound," "vpon some godles, wicked, and detestable" opinioun and apprehensioun of thair awne had consultit, conferrit, resolved and concludit to haif the "lyvis of Erskyn of Dwn and Erskyn his brother, tua young boyis, the eldest of thame not past ten yeiris of age, and that outhir be poyssoun, witchcraft or some ither divilish, vnhappy and detestable practizes, and had had sundrie meetingis and conferenceis anent the forme, maner, meanes, and possibilityis of the executioun of their vnhappy resolution, and they do await some fitt tyme and occasioun when "and whair thay sall execute the same." Power is given to Mar, and those to be appointed by him to seize these persons and examine them, taking their depositions in different chambers or prisons, and causing them, if necessary, to be put to the torture.

76. Contract between Alexander Erskine and James Blair, son of Sir John Blair of Balgillo, Knight, whereby the former, for the love and favor which he bears to the said James Blair, assigns to the latter his right under a patent granted to him by Alexander Lord Spynie, Colonel, to levy 300 soldiers to go to Germany for the service of the King of Denmark, and the sum of 900 dollars, each being worth 58s., besides 160 dollars already paid to the officers, to furnish him with 100 of the men, and obtain a new patent from Lord Spynie, while James Blair consents to pay 500 merks Scots, for any skaith that might be sustained by the other contracting party. Dundee, 29 March 1627.

77. Temperance Bond, Dundee, 5 July 1627. The parties to this contract, which is attested by four witnesses, are Alexander Erskine of Dun, and Sir Jhone Blair of Balgillo. They bound themselves to drink nothing, except in their own dwellings, till the 1st of May 1628, under the penalty of 500 merks Scots, for the first "failzie and brack," and of 100 merks for every succeeding one, and for security agreed to register the contract. The reason alleged for this agreement is that the "access [i.e. excess] of drinking is prohibit bothe "be the Law of God and Man," and that they were "willing to giue guid exampill to vtheris be their lyff "and conversacioun to abstain from the lyke abuse."

78. Order by King Charles I., dated at Whitehall, 30 March 1631, to his Treasurers, &c. in Scotland, to allow Alexander Erskine of Dunne to transport 80 chalders of wheat, barley, and oats, from Scotland to any port in His Majesty's dominions.

79. Grant under the Privy Seal of King Charles I. at Oxford, January 31, 1643-4, of a pension of 200l. yearly to Sir Alexander Erskine of Dun, Knight, for the services of himself and his predecessors to the King and his progenitors.

80. Signature superscribed by King Charles II., containing a Ratification of the foregoing grant, dated 5 March 1669.

81. Extract from the records of Parliament held at Edinburgh on the 23 December 1669, of an Act in favor of David Erskine of Dun containing the establishment of a yearly fair to be held on the Muir of Dun on the second Wednesday after Whitsunday, for "buying and selling of horse, nolt, sheip, meill, malt, and all sort "of grane, cloath, lining and woollen, and all sort of "merchant commodities." The usual customs are granted to David Erskine and his heirs.

82. Valuation of the firs in the parks about Kildrummy, the principal castle of the Earl of Mar, in the Earldom of Mar and Garioch, 22 April 1704.

The trees are valued from 24s. to 8s. each, and the whole number 13,151 deducting 2s. "for workmanship" on each, is set down as worth 7,523l. 12s.

Nine papers relating to the history of the Erskines of Dun, vizt.:

83. "A brief historical account of the Erskines of "Dun." Contains the life of Sir Robert Erskine, Scottish hero of King David's time.

84. Notes relating to the family of Dun, 1376-1646.

85. "Erskine of Dun." From Sir Thomas Erskine, immediate ancestor of this branch of the Erskines to David Erskine, 9th baron of Dun. [1668.]

86. Copy MSS. on some of the early Erskines.

87. "The obeitis of the lardis and ladeis of Dwn efter "the yeir of God 1500."

88. "The obeitis of the lairdis and ladeis of Dwn." [1504-1613.]

89. Copy of the "obitis of the lairdis and ladeis of "Dwn," from 1504 continued to the year 1698.

90. Memorial to John Erskine of Dun, containing copies of the "obitis," &c.

91. "The death of the lairdis and ladeis of Dun fra "the yeir of God 1504, vnto yeir of God 1580."

III.—Correspondence of the Family of Riddell of Haining, now at Dun, from the year 1674.

92. Thomas Denton, one of the English Commissioners on the borders to Sir James Johnson, Knight, Westraw, near Langholme, Carlisle, 20 December 1674. Knowing Johnston's "seale" for suppressing theft and rapine on the borders, he wishes to let him know when the English Commissioners "are about to act anything "considerably in that affair." There was to be a "Gaol delivery" at Carlisle on the 27th January. The gaol was full of thieves, while there were others out on bond. He wishes Johnston or any other of the Scottish Commissioners to be present; their presence would be a terror to the thieves and an encouragement to the English Commissioners to prosecute. There had been shortly before this a small gaol-delivery at Morpeth preparatory to "a greater purposed execution" there the following spring.

93. The Earl of Carlisle [address wanting]. Noward, 1st November 1676. Sends to the Scottish Commissioners a list of persons of "evil fame and dissolute lives," who had disturbed the peace of the Borders. Many were reputed to have gone to Ireland, and were ready to return on the least opportunity. He wishes their return to be prevented, and any vessel coming from Ireland into Portpatrick or any other Scotch port to be watched. There was to be a gaol-delivery at Morpeth after Christmas.

The list referred to in the Earl's letter contains 33 names, chiefly Armstrongs and Elliots. Some of the worthies have peculiar appellatives, "Black James," "Great Simon," "Long John," "The Bastard," "Patty," "Little Arthur," &c.

94. Petition of the Commissioners of Justiciary for the Scottish Borders to the Duke of Lauderdale, his Majesty's High Commissioner for the Kingdom of Scotland. Kelso, 31st May 1678.

The Commissioners complain that all their "waikes "paynes and endeavours" for suppressing the thefts, robberies, and misdemeanors of the Borders were hindered by suspensions of sentences and forfeitures granted to criminals and their cautioners by the Lords of Council, &c., who were misinformed by favourers of these malefactors, and followed their false information without consulting the Commissioners or the donator of these fines and forfeitures. They crave "that no suspension be granted of any sentences pronounced be "the Commissioners of justiciarie, or of any bands "granted be cautioners for fellones without consignation of the soume charged for, or at least until two "or three of the Commissioners and the donator to the "gift of the fynes be first hard to object against the "reasones of suspension. Without which the Commissioners ther paynes and traivells and the interest "of that court will be rendered ridicolous."

This petition is signed by Sir William Scott, of Harden, and other four Scotts, James Murray, of Hangingshaw, John Rutherford, of Edgerstoun, John Ker, and others.

95. Letter from James Duke of Buccleuch and Monmouth to John Riddell, Laird of Hanneing, Scotland. Whitehall, 1st October 1678.

"Sir,—I am informed that Adam Elliott, in Mosspeebles, on of my tenents, hauëing been induced to become surety for the good behaviour of some persones under the penalties of considerable soumes of money to the Commissioners of the Border, it seems they

A. J. W. H.
K. ER-
SKINE, Esq.

A. J. W. H.
K. Esq.
SKINE, Esq.

have thought fitt to descerne him lyable to the payment of these summs, and I understand that yow have a gift from the King of the fynes imposed by these Commissioners, therefore I most interpose with you, in behalfe of that man, that yow would show him all the kindness yow can, for whatever pairt yow shall exact of that fine most impair of my rents, seeing it shall not onely incapacitat him to continow in his farme, bot lyke-ways to pay his bygone resta. Therefore I hope I shall not need to trouble, yow nor my selfe any furdur, but does expect that yow will endeavour by your returne to this to putt ane obligations upon,

Sir, your friend and servant,

BUCCLEUCH AND MONMOUTH."

96. A. Forrester, Secretary to John Duke of Lauderdale, to the Laird of Haining. Whitehall, 26th November 1678. Had received and delivered Hayning's letter to the Duke of Monmouth. He says, "I am told that ther is none who thinks himselfe more concerned than his Grace is, to suppress the thefts and depredations about the Borders."

97. The Scottish Commissioners to the English Commissioners. Kelso, 21st March 1678-9. Anent the desire of the English Commissioners that the fine imposed on Christopher Jameson should be mitigated. The Scottish Commissioners answer that they considered it their duty to adhere to their judgment.

98. Patrick Maxwell, of Kirkconnell, one of the Commissioners on the Scottish Borders, to the Laird of Hayning. 24th May 1679. He was every day expecting his servant from Ireland to give him the deputy of Ireland's pleasure when to receive Irving and Armstrong at Portpatrick.

99. Petition [1681]. "To His Royall Highness and the Lords of his Majesties most Honourable privie Councell. The humble petition of the Commissioners of the Borders:—

"Sheweth,
"That your petitioners have ever been willing to serve the King their Sovereigne and Master in keeping the Borders of both kingdomes quiet and peaceable upon their own expenses. But of late some notorious thieves having abstracted themselves from underlying the law, have disappointed all the methods that are ordinar for quieting the borders by offering to suspend and reduce our sentences, whereby they escape justice, and we are brought to such great expenses that we will not hereafter be able to bestow either the attendance or monney that such tedious processes will requyre. And as it is oure interest to be verie careful to be exact justiciars in that place. So it is the interest of the King and both the kingdomes that the good old formes of the Borders be not altered. Nor wer they ever in so good a condition as they are now notwithstanding even of these broken times.

"May it therefore please youre Royall Highness and your Lordships to discharge anie reductions, suspensions, or advocations before any judicaterie whatsoever, which shall encourage and oblige us to distribute impartiall justice, and in which if wee faile, wee are still lyable to His Sacred Majestie from whom wee deryve our commission."

100. William, Marquis (afterwards Duke) of Queensberry, Lord High Treasurer, and Lord Drummond, to the Sheriff Principal of Selkirk and his deputies. Edinburgh, 13th April 1683. Requires all judges and magistrates to send in a true and exact account of all fines that had been imposed by them on heritors for "Phanatick irregularities and disorders" since the last royal indemnity after Bothwell-bridge: also the names and qualities of the persons fined, their crimes, what fines were paid, and what remained unpaid.

101. Colin McKenzie to the Laird of Haining, Sheriff of Selkirk. Jedburgh, 8th October 1684. By command of the Lords of the Privy Council he orders the sheriff to cite all the heritors, ministers, elders, and readers within the shire of Forrester and Selkirk to compare before their lordships at Jedburgh on the 14th of the same month: the ministers to bring with them complete lists of all "irregular persones whither baptizers of their children or withdrawers from ther parish churches."

102. Janet Brodie, Lady Torwoodlie [who signs "Your affectionat sister"] to the Laird of Haining. Torwoodlie, 8th October 1684. Her infirmities had prevented her attendance at church for five or six years. She states that it is her principle, and was her practice, to go to church without any scruple when she had health. She encloses a "testimonie" to the same effect from the minister, elders, and clerk of session at Stow, dated 7th September 1684.

103. James Earl of Perth, chancellor, to the Laird of Drumelzier. Edinburgh, 14th May 1685. The High Commissioner and Privy Council strictly require Drumelzier to call together all the heritors, freeholders, and their followers in the shires of Selkirk and Peebles, sufficiently armed and with 20 days' provision, conform to a recent proclamation of the King, and to rendezvous them in a convenient place, there to remain till they should receive orders from Colonel Graham of Claverhouse, or whoever should be appointed by the Council. William Hay encloses the above letter to Sheriff Riddell, requesting him to sammon the heritors, &c. of Selkirkshire to be at Selkirk at 12 o'clock on the 20th.

104. Order from James Earl of Perth, chancellor, to the Laird of Haining, to apprehend James Nicol in Buckleuch, and keep him or send him to Lieutenant Graham, to be by him sent in with a good guard. 26th January 1665.

105. Colin McKenzie, Clerk of the Privy Council, to the magistrates of Selkirk. 13th September 1688. Enclosing extract from the Acts of the Privy Council, authorising the magistrates of royal burghs to remain in office, in accordance with a royal letter of the 29th August, suspending for the time the election of all such municipal officers.

106. The same to the same. 22nd October 1688. Giving a peremptory command of the Privy Council to the magistrates to buy in all the gunpowder in their burgh, and to seize all powder in suspected places.

107. David Fyffe to Mr. Andrew Riddell at Bath. Edinburgh, May 14, 1706. Describes his return from accompanying Riddell and the Earl of Traquair towards Bath. "After we parted from you, we came to Shop, wher we dined, and was not thrifty there, and with a great deal of difficulty I perswaded the Laird and brother to goe and see Lowther House; wher, indeed, we saw a finer house than any in our antient kingdom, and that roome, done by Varro, defeats the gallery at Versailles. Ther is a great deal of fine rooms, and pictures of value, besides fine statues, and a stable of fine horses and brood as any in England." The rest of the letter is for the most part occupied with a relation of the drinking exploits of the party.

Besides these letters there are many others in reference to the same subject of the Borders, and also letters on professional matters from the celebrated Dr. Archibald Pitcairn who practised in Edinburgh.

IV. Royal Commissions and relative Papers connected with the Scottish Borders, from the year 1619.

108. Royal Proclamation, commanding all Scotsmen to send in their complaints against the inhabitants of the English borders before the 12th November, for the meeting of the Commissioners of Scotland and England at Newcastle on the 29th November 1619.

109. Printed bond by the Committee of Estates of Parliament to Violet Douglas, Lady Riddell, elder, for 2,400l. scots, advanced by her for the armies sent to England and Ireland. Edinburgh, 24th December 1644.

110. Articles of agreement concluded between the English and Scottish Commissioners of the Borders, chiefly relating to the transferring of prisoners to their proper court of jurisdiction. Morpeth, 5th October, 1665.

111. Extract ratification of the preceding articles at Morpeth by the Lords of the Scotch Privy Council. Edinburgh, 21st December 1665.

112. Royal Commission under the signature of the Lords of the Scottish Council, appointing William Earl of Roxburgh and others Commissioners of the Scottish Borders, with certain powers. 8th January 1669.

113. Additional articles of agreement to those concluded at Morpeth in 1665, between the Commissioners of the Borders of England and Scotland. One article orders constables in Bedlingtonshire, Northamptonshire and Ilandshire, &c., in England, and all on the Scottish Borders, to search suspected places. Another orders any person who received again any of his goods that were stolen should inform the Commissioners as to how he came by them. Subscribed by the Earl of Carlisle, Lord Morpeth, and others. Carlisle, 29th August 1674.

114. Decree of the Privy Council anent the procedure of the Commissioners of the Scottish Borders, in apprehending and imprisoning Robert Broune and Christopher Jamesone, Englishmen. Edinburgh, 6th September 1677.

W. H.
Esq.

115. Copy Instructions, under the signature of Lord Chancellor Rothes, as authorised by the Lords of the Privy Council, to Adam Urquhart of Meldrum, justice of the peace for the shires of Berwick, Roxburgh, Selkirk and Peebles. He is directed to summon together all the justices in these shires, and the members of this convention are empowered to appoint whatever constable they deem expedient. He is to use diligent endeavours to inform himself of any intended conventicles, to dissipate those meetings with the assistance of the people around, to imprison persons found at or retiring from them, and to act against these conventicles, with any commander of the King's forces who might be at hand. He is to seize "vagrant ministers" or who preach without allowance of these ordinaries. He is to cite before him men or women who shall be at conventicles, or are guilty of illegal marriages or baptisms, and who have resided forty days within his jurisdiction. The woman is always to be fined according to the husband's quality. If the criminals be cited personally and do not compare, they are to be "unlawed" in 50l. Scots, "toties quoties as frequently as you can." He is desired to apprehend any who contemptuously disobey the discipline and censure of the church, and imprison them till they find security for their obedience: and this at the request of the parish minister. He is to put in force the 1st Act, 3 Sess. 1 Parl. ch. 3. He is to apply to his own use the whole fines of those who are not landed, in other cases one half was to go to the commissioners, the other half to the King. Dated 8 May 1679.

116. Extract Commission of the Privy Council to Adam Urquhart, renewing his commission of 4 March 1680, by which he and those to be appointed by him, were empowered to proceed against conventicles in the shires of Berwick, Roxburgh, and Selkirk. The utmost diligence was to be used in obtaining lists of the rebel heritors, and of their ressetters and correspondents, and sheriffs, bailies, burgh magistrates, parish ministers, &c., were to be compelled to give evidence against them on pain of imprisonment. Urquhart is thanked for his service in prosecuting his former commissions, and this renewal is made on the ground that an interruption in the prosecution had provoked the old disorders. Edinburgh, 27 January 1681.

117. Extract Act of Privy Council, Edinburgh, 21st July 1681, in favour of Adam Urquhart of Meldrum as Sheriff in these parts, containing decret against James Murray of Philiphaugh, sheriff principal of Selkirk, and William Murray his depute, for abetting conventiclers. It is narrated that Adam Urquhart of Meldrum, John Riddell of Hayning, William Elliot of Dunlairbyre, George Pringle of Blindlie, and Hary Ker of Gradane, were commissioned to Act as justices in the shires of Selkirk, Roxburgh, and Peebles, against conventicles and such disorders, but that their attempts had been materially frustrated by the two Murrys of Philiphaugh, who had designed to hinder the execution of the laws against some who were "notour ringleaders," by citing such persons before them, pronouncing sentence against them, and receiving pretended bonds for their fines. An instance is given of the way in which the Murrys frustrated the attempts of the justices specially commissioned. Hearing of a court to be held by them at Selkirk, Murray and his depute appeared at the Tolbooth on the appointed day with two justices who are called "pretended," and ordered the persons summoned, to be present at his court on the following Thursday. The special justices went to hold their court in the Tolbooth, when Murray and his depute informed them that they had sent the accused home, and fines were accordingly imposed on the absentees. Murray held his court. The justices held their second meeting on the day to which they had adjourned, the accused appeared, pleading that they had been already fined by the sheriff. The sheriff himself acted as their procurator, and "proposed frivolous and disingenuous defences" and he behaved himself in that manner that "he gives great encouragement to disorderly persons," even asserting that the Privy Council had no power to grant such commission. It is complained of the sheriff's grand uncle, John Murray of Ashistiell, that he had himself confessed that, after his appearance before the Privy Council, he had received "Mr. Thomas Wilkie" a vagrant preacher, entertained him in his house all night, and receite rebells and vagrant preachers upon "all occasions." John Stoddart of Williamhoe who had been fined several times, was countenanced by the sheriff. "The most frequent and considerable conventicles," in the shire were held in the parish where Murray resided and near his house. Since the Act of Indemnity was issued he had conversed with and entertained conventiclers, especially William Stoddart in Cams, Mr. Alexander Lennox and Mr. Thomas Wilkie, "vagrant intercommuned persons," while his depute had entertained such "notorious traitors" as Mr. John Welsh, John Cuile, William Stoddart, Turnbull of Standhill, Alexander called Captain Home, while they were "in actual rebellion in the toune of Selkirk," and conversed and drank with them when they had seized the arms, drums, &c., of the militia. Sentence against the sheriff is deferred till next council day, but meanwhile he is ordered to pay 2 rixdollars to each witness adduced against him in this process. William Murray is ordered to be conveyed to Edinburgh and committed to the Tolbooth till his trial. The complaining justices are approved and thanked for their diligent and faithful prosecution of the trust committed to them.

118. Precept of poynding issued by sheriff Murray against various persons in the parish of Yarrow for attending conventicles. We give a few of the names and fines:—

Robert Baptie in Ladhope, five conventicles	- 125
Andro Tod in Catslackknow, two conventicles	- 50
Francis Hardie in Dewohar, one conventicle	- 25
John Murray in Lewinshope, six conventicles	- 150
John Gilles younger in Philiphaugh, one conventicle	- 22

The total number of persons is 32, and the sum of their fines 2,128l. Scots. Dated 26th March 1681.

119. A list of the leaders of the militia in the west of Roxburghshire as it was rectified in June 1682.

Buccleuch, 21 horse: Laird of Cavers, 3 horse: Glaidstaines in Cavers, 1 horse, &c. The whole number of horse is 50.

120. Information for the commissioners of the borders 1681. Showing that the lords of session have no legal right to suspend or reduce the sentences of the commissioners. It is an independent tribunal with criminal jurisdiction. "When causes have depended long before the lords of the session, the lords themselves being obliged to judge by the border laws and customs, and so they must send commissions to the commissioners of the borders to try what these are; and so at last the commissioners of the borders will be still the onlie judges."

121. Commission by King Charles the Second and the Privy Council to the sheriffs of Selkirkshire, Sir Francis Scott of Thirlstone, James Murray of Deuchar, Riddell of Hayning, and others, to proceed against those who were "debauched with schismaticall and seditious principles," especially against those who had "either been arte and part of the contriving, affixing, spreading, and publishing the late traitorous and bloody declaration." It is complained that the rebels had "of late erected themselves under a mock forme of government" and had declared war, from which His Majesty infers that these "inhumane monsters" consider it "not only lawful but a duty upon them to kill us." Dated 30th December 1684.

122. A list of the chief recusants in the parish of Ettrick. Undated.

123. List of articles to be voted upon at the general convention of the burghs at Edinburgh on 3rd July, 1688. Sent by the town council of Edinburgh to the magistrates and council of the burgh of Selkirk.

124. Memorandum of interrogatories to be put to the persons imprisoned, as ordered by Her Majesty's letter, in relation to the invasion or practices against the government. The last of the 13 interrogatories is: "If they know that Mr. Charles Fleeming and Boyn younger have come lately from France: If they have seen them or what informations they brought thither." No date.

125. Five papers relating to a contract made in 1671 between King Charles II. and the Laird of Hayning as to the rearing of a breed of horses in Scotland. The speculation was not a paying one for Hayning. Hayning laid out his lands for the purpose mentioned, but he never received the promised horses from the King, who in lieu thereof presented him with the Border fines. Hayning in 1682 petitioned to be discharged from the agreement.

126. "Memoriall to the Queens most excellent Majestie concerning the restraining the importation of Irish corns and cattell into Scotland, the preventing many frauds in the Tobacco trade, the preventing the exportation of wool and preserving the salmond fishing from the Mule of Galloway to the port of Inverlochkie."

In addition to the papers above specified there are portions of three volumes, two of them stitched in leaves, another partly bound in parchment, containing

A. J. W. H.
K. H.
SKINA, Esq.

the proceedings by the commissioners of the Scottish Borders, under the commissions before mentioned. One of these volumes contains a record of the proceedings from July 1674 to June 1675, and occupies in all about 80 pages folio; the other volume contains a similar record of proceedings from March 1676 to May 1679 and occupies in all 202 pages. The third volume or minute book contains a briefer note of the proceedings.

Besides these three formal volumes there are many detached papers connected with the proceedings of the commissioners. These latter chiefly relate to actions against persons who were guilty of the crimes of stealing cattle and sheep which was long a special characteristic on both sides of the Borders, of making counterfeit coin, &c. and show the constant attempts, sometimes made it appears with enthusiastic vigour and corresponding severity, to suppress by the arm of law that form of crime by which so many lawless depredators supported themselves and which was a constant sore in the government of both England and Scotland.

WILLIAM FRASER.

Edinburgh, 32 Castle Street,
23 March 1874.

W. C.
GORDON,
Esq.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF WILLIAM COSMO GORDON,
ESQUIRE, AT FYVIE CASTLE.

The name Formartin is now applied to one of the five districts into which the county of Aberdeen is divided. At an early period of our history it was a thanage, and formed part of the demesne lands of the Crown, of which the Castle of Fyvie was the chief messuage. It continued to be the property of the Crown till towards the end of the fourteenth century, when the barony was conferred by King Robert II. on his eldest son, the Stewart of Scotland, afterwards King Robert III., who soon resigned it to his cousin, Sir James Lyndesay.

In 1296 Edward I. halted at Fyvie Castle on his route from Kintore to Banff, and about a century later the wife of Sir James Lyndesay was besieged in the castle by her nephew, Robert de Keith, son of the Marischall, as related in Wyntounis Cronykil.

"A thousand and thre hundyr yere
Nynty and five, or thare-by nere,
Robert the Keth, a mychty man
Be lynage, and apperand than
For to be a lord of mycht
Of many lands of rycht richt
In Fermartine at Fyvy
Assegit his awnt, a gud lady,
That tyme the Lord of Craufurdys wyf
(That led in al hir tyme gud lif),
Schir James de Lyndesay than hir lord,
Movit agane hym in discord,
For his mesownys first gert he
Fra thare werke removit be;
And quha that Watty broucht fra the burn
He gert thaim oft wytht his ost spurn.
Thus he demanyt that lady
Wythin the castil of Fyvy."

Sir James Lyndesay on hearing of this assembled about 400 men and crossed the Mounth to raise the siege. He was met, however, at the Kirk of Bourty by Sir Robert Keith, who had the worst of the day, and lost 50 of his men. So that—

"Fra thine he past noucht til Fyvy
For til assege that gud lady."

B. ix., c. xvi.

From the charters at Fyvie it appears that the barony of Fermartyn came from Sir James Lyndesay to Sir Henry Preston in the following way. Sir Henry, who, as well as Sir James, were engaged in the doughty fight of Otterburn, would seem to have there captured the English Knight, Sir Ralph Percy. And a charter by King Robert II. in favour of Preston, on the resignation of Sir James Lyndesay, His Majesty's brother-in-law, narrates that it was for the ransom of Percy, the right to which he probably surrendered to the King.

Sir James Lyndesay left two daughters, who, notwithstanding of the King's grant, still retained certain rights in the barony. Margaret, the eldest, was married to Thomas Colville, of Oxenham, and Eufemia, the second, was married to Sir John Herys, of Trareglys, Knight.

An agreement between Margaret, the eldest daughter, and Sir Henry Preston relative to the surrender by her of her part of the lordship and barony of Fermartyn, viz., the castle and burgh of Fyvie, is dated within the sacristy of St. Nicholas Church at Aberdeen, 4 February 1403, and engrosses a charter in his favour by Thomas Colville and the said Margaret, dated 12 June 1397.

A charter by King Robert III., dated 1 September 1405, confirms a like deed of surrender by Sir John Herys and Eufemia, his wife, by which they conveyed to Sir Henry Preston and Elizabeth, his spouse, their part of the lordship and barony of Fermartyn, viz., of the castle and burgh of Fyvie, with tolls and burgh rents. This charter, with a few of the older Fyvie charters, is printed in the Topographical Collections of the Spalding Club (vol. I., p. 499, et seq.).

Sir Henry Preston died about 1433, having probably built one of the towers of the Castle, which has always been known as "the Preston Tower." He appears to have left two daughters, one of whom, Mariotade Preston, was married to John of Forbes, son of Sir Alexander of Forbes, Knight. She was a widow in 1420, when on the 6th of July of that year, she, as daughter and one of the heirs of Sir Henry Preston, Knight, of Formartyn, granted a charter to the said John Forbes in marriage of one half of the barony of Fermartyn.

Alexander of Meldrum, who in 1438 appears as dominus de Fyvy, is believed to have acquired his part of Fermartyn by marriage with another daughter of Sir Henry Preston.

A charter by King James IV. to George Meldrum, son and heir apparent of William Meldrum, of Fyvie, granting to him the lands and barony of Fermartyn, is dated 30 January 1502.

By an instrument dated at the Chapel of St. Michael the Archangel, at Petkarry, on 2 October 1511, Alexander, eldest son of the said George, resigned his right of succession to his younger brothers, William and George, on account of a bodily infirmity of ten years standing.

George Meldrum was infest in the lands and barony of Fyvy, alias Formerthin, on 12 March 1577.

Towards the end of the 16th century they passed into the hands of Alexander, son of George, Lord Seton, who, after having had various dignities and offices conferred on him by James VI., was created Earl of Dunfermline in 1606.

Among the papers at Fyvie is a commission to him (dated 13 December 1604) as Lord Fyvie, appointing him to the office of Lord High Chancellor of Scotland; also "Commission for creating Lords Home, Drummond, and Fyvie Earls of Home, Perth, and Dunfermling," dated 11 February 1605. "The creation parfyted, 4 March 1605." This refers to "Carta erectionis Comitatus de Dunfermline," 4 March 1605-6.

There is also a Royal gift dated 6 April 1611, granting to him the keeping of the palace, park, and yards of Halyroodhouse, "Palacii nostri de Halyroodhouse ac roborarii sive saltus ad idem spectant. hortorum po- mariorum viridariorum hortulorum pratorum," &c. This grant followed on the death of George, Earl of Dunbar, and gave Lord Dunfermline power to appoint officers under him "pro custodia, nec non et hortulanos olitores ac alios servos qui colent laborem ac in reparatione et policia custodiant omnes hortos viridarios tum borealia tum australia ac parvum hortum intra dictum palatium," with 20*l.* of money and one chaldier and four bolls of barley, as the fee for keeping the said North Garden; 33*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* of money, and one chaldier and ten bolls of barley for keeping the south garden, with fourteen bolls of barley for keeping the small garden, besides 66*l.* for keeping the said palace and its pertinens—"et integram deoriam commoditatum et proficuum que ipse acquirere seu facere possit de dictu saltu nostro de Halyrudhouse."

Lord Dunfermline greatly embellished the noble pile of Fyvie Castle, having added to it the "Seton Tower," and by various other works harmonised the two earlier Preston and Meldrum towers with his own addition.

He was succeeded in the year 1622 by his son Charles, second Earl of Dunfermline. This peer was engaged in various political missions in the stirring times of Charles I. and Charles II. The title became extinct in the person of his son James, the fourth Earl, who fought under the Viscount Dundee at the battle of Killiecrankie. He was forfeited in 1690, and died at St. Germans in 1694. The barony of Fyvie was then purchased by William, Earl of Aberdeen, by whom it was given to a younger son, the ancestor of its present owner.

There are many State Papers in the collection here, principally of the period of the second Lord Dunfermline. Of these I noted—

Safe-conduct by Charles I. to Charles Earl of Dunfermline, John Lord Loudon, Sir William Douglas, of

W. C.
GORDON,
Esq.

Cavers, Sir Patrick Hepburn, of Wauchton, John Smith, Mr. Alexander Wedderburn, Mr. Alexander Henrieston, and Mr. Archibald Johnston, commissioners from Scotland, to attend the conference at Bignon on Thursday, 1 October, under the sign manual and privy seal, and dated at York, 28 September 1640.

Instructions by King Charles I. to —, containing proposals to the Parliament of Scotland for the pacification of the kingdom, and interceding for the Earl of Traquair and the absentees, and stating his intention of being present in the Parliament in person under the sign manual, and dated Whythall, 16 June 1641.

Copy order of Lords and Commons in Parliament assembled sent to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland at St. Andrews, relating to their petition to the King and their desire to avoid a civil war, dated 21 July 1642.

Instructions of King Charles I. to Charles Earl of Dunfermline as Commissioner to the General Assembly of the Kirk held at St. Andrews, under the sign manual, and dated at Leicester, 23 July 1642.

Letter from King Charles I. to Charles Earl of Dunfermline, Commissioner to the General Assembly at St. Andrews, requiring him to make known to the Assembly His Majesty's answer to a petition of the two Houses of Parliament in England, and the reply of the two Houses of Parliament, wherein they had refused His Majesty's propositions for reconciling differences, under the sign manual, and dated at Beverley, 26 July 1642.

Copy letter from Charles Earl of Dunfermline, Commissioner to the General Assembly of the Kirk at St. Andrews, to Charles I., intimating the Assembly's appointment of Lord Maitland (afterwards Duke of Lauderdale) as bearer of their answer to the Parliament's declaration, and of their supplication to His Majesty, dated St. Andrews, 5 August 1642.

Letter from Charles I. to Charles Earl of Dunfermline, commissioner as aforesaid, in answer to his Lordship's letter of the 2nd August, under the sign manual, and dated York, 7 August 1642.

Copy letter from Charles Earl of Dunfermline to Charles I., professing his sincerity in His Majesty's cause, and hinting that some others had more zeal than prudence, dated 20 January 1643.

Letter from King Charles I. to Charles Earl of Dunfermline requiring him to assemble his friends, vassals, and dependants, and make known to them His Majesty's willingness to maintain the established government, ecclesiastical and civil, in contradiction to the seditious pamphlets then scattered by His Majesty's enemies, under the sign manual, and dated at Oxford, 21 April 1643.

Copy letter from Charles I. addressed to the Speaker of the House of Lords pro tempore, to be communicated to the two Houses of Parliament at Westminster, and to the Commissioners for the Parliament for Scotland, wherein the King proposes to disband his army, dismantle his garrisons, and return to the two Houses of Parliament, they giving their faith for the preservation of his honour, person, and estate, and his adherents being allowed to return to their homes unmolested in their persons or properties, and also that an Act of Oblivion and free pardon should be passed, under the sign manual, and dated at Oxford, 23 March 1645.

Salvus conductus sub signo manuali Caroli I. in favorem Joannis Butler, ducis, equitum, a principio belli inservientis venit impetrata in Galliam alias transmarinas regiones proficiscendi, datum atque signatum in Aula Novi Castri super Tiniam 14 Januarii 1646.

Copy obligation by Charles I. under the sign manual, to confer on Charles Earl of Dunfermline, Gentleman of his Bedchamber, the place of Lord Privy Seal of Scotland, on the removal or death of the Earl of Roxburgh, dated Newcastle, 10 December 1646; with form of gift and admission to that office, and also of gift of the Principal Sheriffship of Aberdeenshire.

Gift by Charles I. to the said Earl of the office of Keeper of the Privy Seal of Scotland, vacant by the death of Robert Earl of Roxburgh.

Warrant of King Charles I. addressed to the Treasurer of Scotland, for a yearly pension of 1,000*l.* in favour of Charles Earl of Dunfermline, one of the Lords of the Bedchamber. Dated Newcastle, 16 January 1647.

A true copy of His Majesty's Message to the Houses of Parliament by the Earl of Dunfermline, in regard to his leaving Holdenby unwillingly (June 1647).

Extract Act of the Committee of Estates, setting forth the great losses which Charles Earl of Dunfermline and his tenants on his estates in Aberdeenshire and Morayshire had sustained, and recommending to Parliament that he should be relieved from all public burdens until he should be reimbursed; and also that he should be paid the value of 800 bolls of meal furnished by his tenants of Fyvie for the use of the Earl of Argyle's army in 1645, with the interest of the same. Dated Edinburgh, 26 February 1650.

Copy Paper presented to Charles II. at Breda by the Commissioners of the Estates of Scotland, containing the demands, under three heads, for a settlement of differences, preparatory to his restoration, dated 4 April 1650; with a Paper from the King in answer, desiring to know whether the Paper of the Commissioners contained all their demands, and a further Paper by the Commissioners stating that it did so, and that upon his agreeing to these demands they had warrant immediately to invite him to his ancient kingdom of Scotland. Dated 14 April 1650.

Draft Concessions by the King to the demands of the Commissioners contained in the Paper last noted, with His Majesty's demands under eight heads, upon receiving security for the fulfilment of which the King professed his willingness to agree to the demands of the Commissioners. (Without date.)

Amended copy of the last paper.

Observations by the Commissioners on the King's demands.

Extract Act of Committee of Estates, whereby upon hearing the Commissioner for the Shire and Boroughs of Fife upon the controverted horses of the present levy, the Committee exempted the Boroughs from the levy, and decreed the Shire to afford 280 horses. Dated Perth, 15 October 1650.

Requisition addressed to the Earls of Dunfermline and Callander from the Committee of Estates, summoning them to attend a meeting at [], in the Isle of Bute, on the 8th of October next 1651. (Signed) Loudon, Tullibardin, Glencairn, Lothian, Wemyss, Linlithgow, Argyll, A. Blackhall, James Menteith, and others. With a letter from the Earl of Callander to the Earl of Dunfermline stating his inability to attend. Dated Revin, 4 October 1651.

Copy Letter from Charles II. to the Earl of Middleton, Commissioner to the Parliament of Scotland, desiring that a dispute between Charles Earl of Dunfermline and Alexander Livingstone regarding the possession of a certain estate should be determined by the Lords of Council and Session, and that the Parliament should not interfere therein; under the sign manual, and countersigned by the Earl of Lauderdale. Dated Whythall, 10 June 1661.

Copy Injunction to the Sheriff Principal of Aberdeenshire to enforce the Act against Conventicles and to levy the fines incurred. Signed by the Earl of Rothes, 6 March 1667.

Letter from R. Maitland (afterwards fourth Earl of Lauderdale and translator of Virgil) to James Earl of Dunfermline regarding his absence from the host, regretting that he dare not solicit the Lords on his behalf, but promising to mention the matter to his father; and, in conclusion, advising him to be in town next session. Dated Edinburgh, 7 July 1680.

Letter from George Adamson to James Earl of Dunfermline, with newsletters and gazettes, and alluding to Mr. Spence's confession and the Primate's hopeless illness. Dated 23 August 1684.

Among some miscellaneous papers I noted the following:—

Presentation by James VI. to William Dunbar, minister of Dyke and Moy, to the united parsonages and vicarages of Dyke and Moy, now vacant by the decease of umquhile George Bishop of Moray, the vicarage of Dyke by the forfeitour or barratrie of Mr. John Leslie, sometime Bishop of Ross, and for not confession of his fault conform to our Act of Parliament, and the parsonage of Moy by decease of umquhile Mr. William Sutherland, and the vicarage of Moy by deprivation of John Dunbar, last possessor of the said benefices. It is dated at Dalkeith, 6 May 1592, and given under the privy seal. The presentation is addressed to the Presbytery of Forres, who were to admit William Dunbar without any new or special presentation or collation, to give him their collation and provision thereupon in respect of his qualification and actually serving in the ministry.

Among the charters are a few of early date, not directly connected with the barony of Fyvy, which seem worthy of note.

Ordinance touching a dispute between Thomas de Melgdrum, Lord of Achyvevo, and John of [], about the lands of Culter, on the Dee, which had been submitted to the determination of Sir James of Lyndesay, Lord of Crawford; dated in the lodging of the

W. C.
GORDON,
Esq.

W. C.
Gordon,
Esq.

said Sir James at Perth, 1 April 1337, in presence of William of Lyndesay, Lord of Byria, Sir Gylbert of Graham, Sir George of Lesley, Sir John of Maxwell, Sir William of Newbyng, and Sir Robert of Levynstoun, knights.

Grant [dated probably A.D. 1362], by William, of Meldrum, Lord of Auchneef and Petkary, of various annual rents to the altar of St. Laurence and St. Ninian, in the church of St. Nicholas of Aberdeen, for a chaplain to serve thereat, and to find a sufficient light and other ornaments for the said altar, as well as bread and wine. The subjects granted were to be vested for these purposes in the alderman and four baillies of Aberdeen, and the guardians of the church work of St. Nicholas, who might distrain the tenants of the grantor on either side of the Mounth, "tanquam pro debito divino vel ipsorum proprio debito secundum leges et consuetudines burgorum sic quod non oporteat ipsos ad hoc alicujus officarii Regis licentiam petere vel habere." Sealed with the seals of William of Meldrum, the grantor, of the Bishop of Aberdeen, and of the burgh of Aberdeen. Witnesses, Sir William of Keith, Knight, and Marischal of Scotland, Sir Alexander of Fraser, Knight, Sheriff of Aberdeen, Thomas Mercer, Alderman of Aberdeen, William of Leth, and John Crab, burgesses of Aberdeen.

Charter by Sir Alexander, Lord of Seton, Guardian of the House of St. John of Jerusalem of Torfechyn, narrating that by the evils of the wars in Scotland Walter Grethens, burgess of Aberdeen, lately his tenant in fee and heritage of the lands of Ochtyrelon, in Buchan, had been reduced to such poverty that for his relief and subsistence he had been compelled to sell these lands, without the said Sir Alexander's consent, to William of Melgdrum, son of the late John, of Melgdrum, and that it would be more for his advantage to have the said William than the said Walter for his tenant, therefore confirming to him the said lands, he making the customary returns, and giving suit at three head courts at Little Harthill, in the Garuyach. Dated at Aberdeen, on Monday after the feast of St. Mary Virgin, 1345.

Grant by William Meldrum, Lord of Fyvie, to the altar of St. Ninian, within the church of St. Nicholas of Aberdeen, at Aberdeen, 17 August 1490.

Presentation by Andrew Meldrum of Fyvy, Patron, of the chaplainry of St. Ninian, vacant by the decease Mr. Alexander Allardes last chaplain, in favour of Andrew King, clerk and burgess of Aberdeen, at Aberdeen, 10 October 1593.

Register of the rights of the chaplainry of St. Ninian, presented by Andrew King, chaplain to Alexander Lord Fyvy, patron.

JOHN STUART.

MISS M. E.
STIRLING.

THE MANUSCRIPTS of the Family of HOME of RENTON, in the County of BERWICK, now in the possession of Miss MARY ELEANOR STIRLING of Renton.

The family of Home of Renton, is descended from the Homes of Wedderburn, a distinguished branch of the great border house of the Earls of Home. The first who acquired the estate of Renton was Patrick Home, second son of Alexander Home of Manderston, a younger son of Wedderburn. Patrick Home married Janet Ellem, daughter and heiress of David Ellem of Renton and Butterdean, of an ancient family in the county of Berwick. Renton then became the territorial designation of Patrick Home and his descendants. The eldest son of the marriage of Patrick Home and Janet Ellem was Alexander Home of Renton, who held the office of sheriff-principal of Berwickshire from the year 1616 to 1621. In his official capacity he was very rigorous in the punishment of witches; and in a letter from his son, dated in 1624, and addressed to his kinsman Sir Patrick Home of Polwarth who then held the office of sheriff, it is stated that Alexander Home burned seven or eight witches at Coldingham. In the present collection are two letters from King James the Sixth of Scotland, then First of England, to the same Alexander Home regarding the affairs of Sir George Home, Earl of Dunbar. (Nos. 28 and 29.)

The son and successor of the rigorous sheriff was Sir John Home, who became Lord Renton as a lord of session. He held a prominent place among the Scotchmen of his time. According to Wodrow the historian, he was one of the greatest zealots for episcopacy in Scotland; and his own petition to King Charles II. (No. 37 of this Report), bears evidence of his close attachment to the house of Stuart. He claims to have been the first in Scotland who took up arms in defence of King Charles I., and not only did he spend his entire fortune in the Royal cause, but he was even forced to flee the country in a destitute condition. His loyalty, however, received ample compensation on the restoration of King Charles II. He was knighted, created a privy councillor, and on the 4th June 1663, nominated a lord of session and justice clerk. Lord Renton died in 1671, leaving two sons by his wife Margaret Stewart, daughter of John Stewart, commendator of Coldingham, son of Francis, Earl of Bothwell, whose father John Stewart was also commendator of Coldingham, and a natural son of King James the Fifth. The eldest son of Lord Renton was Sir Alexander Home, of Coldingham. His grandson, Sir John Home, who died in January 1788, was the last of his line. The second son of Lord Renton was Sir Patrick Home of Renton, who was created a baronet of Nova Scotia in 1682. His son, Sir John Home, claimed the title of Earl of Dunbar, as heir-male of George the first Earl. His son Sir James, the third baronet, who died in 1785, is said to have been the last of his line.

Henry Home of Kames, who, under the designation of Lord Kames, was celebrated both as a judge and as the author of several learned works, was descended from the Homes of Renton.

Owing to the connexion of the owners of Renton with the ancient priory of Coldingham, the collection of family papers contains several documents of interest relating to that religious house. The collection also embraces a number of early documents, containing interesting notices of men conspicuous in the annals of their country. Among these are Andrew Forman, Bishop of Moray, Henry Balnaves of Halhill, James Kirkcaldy of Grange, Robert Logan of Restalrig, and Sir George Home, afterwards Earl of Dunbar, the favourite minister of King James the Sixth. Andrew Forman, one of the foremost Scottish statesmen and diplomatists of his day, is witness to several deeds executed at the priory of Coldingham in 1509, one on the 11th June and another on the 12th July, and in these various writs the name of Henrison, clerk of the Justiciary, appears beside that of Forman. We may suppose that these two politicians resided in the priory of Coldingham, or in that district, for several weeks, and that the object of their visit was somehow connected with the administration of the Church lands. A Thomas Forman, Esquire, probably an ancestor of the famous ecclesiastic, witnessed a notarial instrument relating to the forestry of Coldingham, dated in 1410, and fully described in the present report. Several of the charters introduce to us James Kirkcaldy of Grange, the Treasurer of Scotland, in the act of despoiling the Abbey of Coldingham of its lands of Press or Preasis, and enriching with them his brother, George Kirkcaldy (vide No. 15, etc.). We find the Protestant leader Henry Balnaves, so highly enlogised by Knox, in the company of Kirkcaldy, at the Monastery of Coldingham, in March 1539.

From the present papers it appears that Robert Logan was alive on the 31st August 1605 (No. 26.). In 1603 he still enjoys the favour of King James VI., but the charter No. 26, dated 31st August 1605, by which Logan alienates his lands of Flemington to the Earl of Dunbar, King James's favourite, at once suggests from the nature of the transfer that suspicion had been directed against him as being intimately connected with the Gowrie conspiracy. Logan's signature to this deed lacks its former firmness, and it may be conjectured that James was only prevented by compassion for his age and feebleness from subjecting Logan himself to that trial which was carried out in 1608 against his fellow conspirators, when the bones of the deceased laird of Restalrig were produced in court. It is worthy of notice that George Sprot, a notary, who was afterwards executed for concealment of the Gowrie conspiracy, appears as a witness to this charter of 1605; and we have also the name of James Bowir, perhaps the same person who was servitor to Logan, and his accomplice, although he is here designated "parson of Auchincraw." The narrative in the charter by King James VI. in favour of George, Earl of Dunbar, indicates by its peculiarly bombastic style, that the King himself may have assisted in the composition of the glowing eulogy.

ANCIENT CHARTERS.

1. Charter by William de Rydale in favour of John de Bayntoun, burgess of Southberwick, of two oxgates of land in Nether Aytoun in the tenement of Fleming-

MS. B.
IRLING.

toun, which are called Baxterlande, with free "brasina" butcheria, and other privileges. To be held of the said William de Rydale and his heirs for an annual payment to him of six silver pennies, and to the Lord of Coldingham through him of 18 silver pennies, at fixed and usual terms. To this charter was affixed the seal (now lost) of the granter, and, as his was little known, those of the "religiosus vir," Sir Adam de Ponte Fracto, prior of Coldingham, Sir Henry de Prendirgest, Knight, and John, son of Walter, then Sheriff of Berwick and steward of the aforesaid priory, were also appended. The charter is dated at Aytoun, 5th July 1325.

2. Charter by William Riddell in favour of John de Reyntoun, burges of Southberwick, of an oxgate of land in Nether Aytoun within the tenement of Flamingtoun, called the land of Margaret Aire. To be held of the said William Riddell for yearly payment to him and his heirs of three silver pennies, and to the lord of Coldingham through him of nine silver pennies, at fixed and usual terms. The seals of the same persons bear to have been appended to this charter as to the preceding charter, and the charter is dated at Aytoun, the Wednesday immediately preceding the feast of Saint Michael the Archangel [September 29] 1325.

3. Notarial instrument narrating that on the 12th February 1410 Gilbert de Lummysden appeared before the court held at Renton by John de Aclyfe, prior of Coldingham, who sat as judge, and there on behalf of Mariot, his spouse, as forester of the barony of Coldingham, claimed from the said lord prior all the stipends or emoluments due to the foresaid office, to be declared by an assize: that the prior, admitting the reasonableness of his petition, forthwith instructed his bailiff, Alexander of Home, to summon an assize of "good and elderly men" to his court: that the bailiff accordingly selected and summoned James of Qwhytlaw, Patrick Broun, Patrick Sleyth, William of Rayntoun, John of Paxtone, Robert of Fenwick, Richard Blakberd, and 12 others therein named, who, having sworn a great oath and been fully advised, found that John the Forester received the underwritten:—

Food and drink for himself and his man, and forage for their horses when they came to the prior's house.

Item, they found the forester to be keeper of "wrak" and "wayffe" within the said lordship, and entitled to receive from the said lord prior and wayfe 12 pennies for every pound, reserving the balance for the use of, and for disposal by, the lord prior.

Item, if any ship or boat should land in the harbour or elsewhere in the lordship, laden with grain, salt, coals, or any such freight, and should sell thereof, the forester was to receive for his own use a boll before and a boll behind the mast.

Item, for anchorage of a ship, 12 pence, and of a boat 4 pence.

Item, a threave of oats from every husband-land of the farms of the lord prior, the husband-lands of the town of Coldingham only excepted.

Item, from every waggon of goods, 4 pence.

Item, from every "tractus equinus" [horse load], 1 penny.

Item, from every "quercus quadratus" drawn by oxen, 4 pence.

Item, wood hens due according to custom.

Item, John the Forester received at Christmas a suit of clothes fit to be worn by gentlemen (roba generosis apta).

These and all other dues hitherto enjoyed by John the Forester were to be similarly enjoyed by his foresaid son, Gilbert, until another charter was produced; but the jury declared that they did not know whether these emoluments were due by law or from use and wont. They had only seen that such things had been usually allowed. In consequence of this decret the present notarial instrument was prepared at Reston in presence of Sir William Drake, monk, sacristan of Coldingham; Sir John Broun, vicar of Eddrem; Sir Richard of Spot, chaplain; Patrick of Home, Robert de Blackwod, Thomas Forman, John de Lummysden, Thomas de Lummysden, David of Home, esquires, and many others.

4. Precept of sasine by John, commendator of Coldingham, for infesting John Logan, son of John Logan of Restalrig (Restalrig) as heir of his father in the lands of Flemington. 6th August 1495.

5. Instrument of resignation by John Lumsden into the hands of John, prior of Coldingham, of his six husband-lands in the town of Rentoun in favour of Alexander Ellem and Christian Lumsden, his spouse. Dated 11th June 1509. This instrument was signed in the choir of the monastery of Coldingham, and the two witnesses attesting are, the famous Andrew Forman, here designated "Andrew, Bishop of Moray, Commendator of Pettinweym, and of Cottingham in England," and Mr. James Henrison "clerk of the general Justiciary of our supreme Lord the King." These two persons are also witnesses to the subsequent sasine of the 12th June, and to a charter of the 26th July by John prior of Coldingham in favour of the above Alexander Ellem and Christian Lumsden.

6. Notarial instrument of resignation, narrating that on the 10th August 1512, John Lummisden of Coldingham personally appeared before Lord Alexander, Archbishop of St. Andrew's, perpetual commendator of the monastery of Dumfermline and of the priory of Coldingham, and on bended knees (flexis genibus sedens) resigned into the hands of the said Alexander as lord superior thereof the third part of a carucate of land in the town and territory of Coldingham in favor of Alexander Ellem, spouse of Cristiane Lummisden, daughter of the said John Lummisden. Done in the royal palace adjoining the monastery of the Holy Cross in Coldingham.

7. Lease by Adam prior of Coldingham, with consent of the chapter thereof, narrating that for great sums of money received by them from Alexander Ellem in Rantoun, for payment of their tax to the King and for redeeming them from great debts due by them for the "weill" of the abbey, and for great sums of money paid by him for the utility of their place and abbey, and "convertit in the common weill," utility, and profit of the same, they set to the said Alexander Ellem and his heirs, for 19 years, the lands of Rantoun, for 16 merks and 4 shillings yearly; reserving to themselves the "thirle multure" thereof, &c. Dated 2 October, 1535.

8. Commission by Pope Paul III. to Richard Lausoun, archdeacon of the cathedral church of Sodor, and John Guilliarmi, provost of the collegiate church of Seytoun in the diocese of St. Andrews, to inquire into the preceding grant of the lands and town of Renton, and, if satisfied with the agreement, to approve and confirm it. Dated 15 March, 1535.

9. Proclamation by Richard Lausoun, archdeacon of the cathedral church of Sodor, and John Guilliarmi, licentiate in laws, provost of the collegiate church of Seytoun in the diocese of St. Andrews, to all rectors, vicars, &c. in Scotland, in obedience to an order from Pope Paul III., requiring an inquest to be made with reference to the grant of the lands of Renton to Alexander Ellem, and commanding all who had, or considered themselves to have, an interest in these lands, to be present at the court for hearing such matters to be held on the chapel or aisle of St. Thomas in the church of St. Giles, Edinburgh, on the 21st July following. Dated at St. Giles, 13 July, 1536.

The seals of Richard Lausoun, and of the provost of Seytoun, are appended. The seal of the provost is a ship on the sea. Circumscription, "S. Johannis Willi. Prepositi de Seto."

10. Letter of confirmation by the said Archdeacon Lausoun, provost Guilliarmi, and the lord dean of Restalrig, of the grant of the lands of Renton in favour of Alexander Ellem. Made at St. Giles, Edinburgh, 21st July 1536.

11. Papal rescript by Cardinal Antonius, commissioning the archdeacon of the church of Glasgow, the dean of Restalrig, and the provost of Seytoun, to inquire into the grant of the lands of Pressis made by the prior of Coldingham to George Kirkcaldy, brother-german of James Kirkcaldy of Grange, and, if satisfied with the agreement, to approve and confirm it. Given at St. Peters', Rome, 4th nones of September, 5th year of Pope Paul III. [1539].

The charter here referred to was given by the chapter to Kirkcaldy on 9th January, 1538.

12. Charter by Adam, prior, and the chapter of the monastery of Coldingham, in favour of Robert Logane, son and heir apparent of Robert Logane of Restalrig, of the lands of Flemington in the barony of Coldingham, which had been resigned by Robert Logane, elder, in favour of his son; the life-rent of the lands being reserved by Robert Logane, elder; and a third part after his decease in favour of Elizabeth Hume, his spouse. The charter is dated at the monastery of Coldingham, 4th March 1539. Two of the witnesses are James Kirkcaldy of Grange, Lord Treasurer of Scotland, and Mr. Henry Balnaves of Halhill.

13. Letters of confirmation by John Laudar, archdeacon of the church of Glasgow, John Guilliarmi, provost of Seytoun, and the lord dean of Restalrig, in obedience to letters from Cardinal Anthony, of a grant

MISS M. E.
STIRLING.

MISS M. E.
STIRLING.

of the lands of Pressis by Adam, prior of Coldingham, in favour of George Kirkcaldy. The lands to be held for payment of six merks yearly to the prior of Coldingham. Done in the collegiate church of St. Giles', Edinburgh, on 25th August 1541.

14. Charter by George Kirkcaldy, brother-german of James Kirkcaldy of Grange, in favour of Alexander Hume, brother-german of umquhile David Hume of Wedderburne, of the lands of Pressis in the barony of Coldingham; to be held of the granter and his heirs from the prior and convent of Coldingham for paying yearly to the prior of Coldingham the sum of six merks. Dated at Edinburgh, 10th January 1542. Two of the witnesses are Henry Balnavis, of Hallhill, and John Kirkcaldy, brother-german of the granter.

15. Notarial instrument, narrating that on January 23rd, 1542, the sub-prior and convent appeared for the chapter of the monastery of Coldingham, and in the chapter-house exposed and declared how they had given a charter of the lands of Pressis to George Kirkcaldy on January 9 1538, that the grant was made in obedience to the "supplicatio litterarum Serenissimi quondam domini nostri Regis (cuius anime propicietur Deus)," and through fear of the Prince; and that, nevertheless they confirm the grant by George Kirkcaldy to Alexander Home (No. 14 supra) on account of the numerous favours, aids, &c. which the latter had bestowed on the monastery.

A confirmation of the grant was given on the same day, signed by John, commendator, &c. No mention is made in it of the ground of the gift.

16. Precept from Queen Mary to Gawin, Archbishop of Glasgow, enjoining him to issue a proper charter of confirmation under the great seal of the grant of the lands of Pressis in favour of Alexander Hume [as in 14 supra].

The precept reserves to the Crown "denotorum preces et orationum suffragia de eisdem perprius vsitata et consueta." Dated at Edinburgh, 19th March 1542.

17. Charter by John, commendator, and the convent of Coldingham, in favour of Alexander Hume, in Hielawis, and Barbara Hume, his spouse, of the four merk lands of Hielawis, &c., for aids, &c., often given by him to the said monastery, and especially for a certain sufficient sum of money paid by him "gratanter et integre" for the repairing of the monastery when it was razed and burned by "our ancient enemies of England." To be held for rendering certain sums of money therein specified, with 12 capons and 4 "pultre foulia." Dated at the monastery of Coldingham, 8th April 1547.

18. Charter by Robert Logane, of Restalrig, and Margaret Snytoun, his spouse, in favour of James and William Auchincraw, of the 10 merk lands of Flemington. [Margaret Seton signs with her own hand.] Part of her seal remains, three crescents within the royal treasure. Edinburgh, 10th December 1547.

19. Ancient copy charter by George, archdeacon of St. Andrews and commendator of Dunfermline, in favour of Archibald Edmestoun, of the lands of Wolmet, in the lordship of Musselburgh and shire of Edinburgh. Dated at the monastery of Dunfermline, 10th December 1555.

20. Instrument of sasine in favour of Robert Logane, son and heir of umquhile Robert Logane, of Restalrig, of the lands of Flemington in the barony of Coldingham. Dated at Fastcastell, 5th May 1576.

21. Charter by Robert Logane, of Restalrig, in favour of David Ellem of Bantoun, of certain lands in the barony of Coldingham. Dated at Fastcastell, 29th October 1577.

22. Charter by John, commendator of Coldingham, and James Durhame, of Duntarvie, his administrator, with the consent of King James VI., Francis Earl of Bothwell, and others, in favour of Sir George Home of Pryorsknew, Knight, and familiar servitor to King James, of the lands of Horsley, &c., in the barony of Coldingham and shire of Berwick. To be held for payment yearly to the commendator of Coldingham of 20*l*. Scots. There are attached six seals, including those of the King and the Earl of Bothwell. Dated at Kelso and Holyroodhouse, 30th January 1590.

23. Contemporary office copy under the hand of Sir John Skene, clerk, register, of a charter by King James the Sixth in favour of Robert Logane of Restalrig, of the mains, mills, and fortress of Fastcastle, the lands of Flemington, and others, which he and his ancestors had formerly held of the prior of Coldingham, but which were now annexed to the Crown to be held by yearly payment to the King of 30*l*. Dated at Stirling, 22nd August 1598.

24. Charter of confirmation by King James the VI. in favour of Robert Logan of Restalrig, of the lands and barony of Restalrig, which he had resigned into the hands of the King for new infestment, erecting them into one entire and free barony called the barony of Restalrig: also containing a novodamus. Dated at Holyrood House, 5th April 1603.

An instrument of sasine, proceeding on a precept in the preceding charter, was executed at the manor of Restalrig, 1st November 1603.

25. Charter by Robert Logan of Restalrig, with consent of Marioun Ker, his spouse, in favour of George Earl of Dunbar, in fulfilment of a contract formerly agreed upon between the granter and grantee of the whole lands of Flemington in the barony of Coldingham, to be held for payment to the Crown of the sum of 36*l*. yearly. Dated 30th and 31st August 1605. Among the witnesses are George Sprot, notary, and James Bowir parson of Auchincraw. "Marioun Ker" signs with her own hand.

26. Precept from the Crown, proceeding on a charter of novodamus by King James the VI., to George Earl of Dunbar, Lord Home of Berwick, &c., of the lands of Greenelaw, Reidpeth, Fowlden, Edington, Pincartouns, Lochend, Fastcastell, Flemington, &c., and erecting the same of new into one free earldom, lordship, and barony to be called the earldom of Dunbar. Dated at Whitehall and Perth, 1st and 9th July 1606.

The following preamble precedes the grant:—

"Inasmuch as we, revolving frequently in our memory the faithful, most profitable, lengthened, and most pleasing obediences and services rendered to us by our most faithful and beloved Kinsman and familiar counsellor George Earl of Dunbar, Lord Home of Berwick, high treasurer of our realm of Scotland, and Chancellor of the Exchequer in England, who having in his earliest youth really dedicated and firmly bestowed all the cares and thoughts of his body and soul, his whole life even to us, and to our safety, service, and most noble will, has continued to this day with the same constancy and perfect fidelity in this his most noble purpose of deserving well of us." In this strain King James proceeds to narrate that, while the country, as distracted by factions among the nobles and the people and the royal person was even endangered, Sir George Home remained a watchful and faithful minister, despising all the allurements that were wont to destroy and enervate the courtiers of Kings, and his nerves of wisdom and industry were kindled by the highest care and a sort of divine providence, so that he was able to detect the dangers that hung over the King and to avert them. The less upright lords fearing his prudence, fidelity, and industry, a large force of rebels was collected by them, and the King not being able to furnish a force sufficiently strong to cope with them, Sir George Home retired from Court, unwilling to expose the King to danger, and escaped with difficulty. He was, however, when the storm had blown past, again restored to Court, and to his former offices, which he fulfilled with even greater faithfulness and care, and he accompanied his Majesty on affairs of the greatest moment into Norway and Denmark. [Here he especially recommends Home's "summa prudentia et rara taciturnitas," which we may suppose Home exercised in manner specially pleasing to James in the marriage expedition of 1589, here obviously referred to.]

The King gives him the credit of having successfully and alone fully discovered and combated the rebellious schemes of Bothwell; praises his management of the Treasury of Scotland; speaks of his energetic endeavours by home and foreign diplomacy to pave the way of James to the English throne, so that on Queen Elizabeth's death his accession was attained without shedding of blood.

ROYAL AND OTHER LETTERS.

27. Letter of gift by King James the Sixth to Sir George Home of Spot, of the ward, nonentrics, &c. of all the lands, tenements, &c. which belonged to David Ellem of Renton, and to Jonet, his daughter, and Patrick Home, her spouse, within the barony of Coldingham. 1580.

28. King James the Sixth to Alexander Home of Renton, Palace of Whitehall, 28th May 1612. Subscribed by King James the Sixth, and also by Alexander, Master of Elphinstone, as treasurer.

Relates that direction had been given to Alexander Home, by a former special warrant from the King, to intromit with the rents, duties, &c. not uplifted before the death of the Earl of Dunbar. He is commanded to deliver the sums he had collected to the agent of the 12. Earl of Suffolk, Chamberlain of the King, who would employ the sums to defray the debts of the deceased Earl. The King had written to his Session and Council in Scotland to expedite a special Act in favour of Alexander Home, liberating him from the burden of all arrestments which might be taken out against him by the creditors of the deceased Earl. The letter is superscribed by the King.

29. King James the Sixth to Alexander Home of Renton and George Nicolson. The "Mannour of Theobaldes," 16th July 1612.

Authorises Home and Nicolson to "thresh out" whatever corns still remained in their custody, belonging to the late Earl of Dunbar. This letter is subscribed by the King, and it shows to what minute and commonplace subjects his Majesty occasionally directed his attention.

30. Copy letter of King James VI. to the Lords of the Scottish Council. Newmarket, 15th December 1616.

Explains the grounds of his purposed visit to his "native and ancient kingdom of Scotlande."

31. Warrant by King Charles I. in favour of John Home of Renton. Whitehall, 13th February 1641.

Orders his general, and all other officers and ministers of justice whom it might concern, to permit John Home with his family to pass safely to his residence in Scotland.

A special clause intimates his high displeasure if "the said Jhone Hoom of Rentone should any wayes suffer ether in his persone or estaite by reasone of his affectione to our service during the tyme of these laite disorders." Superscribed by the King.

32. Warrant by King Charles II. in favour of John Sibald, servant to the Laird of Renton. The Court at Stirling, 6th June 1651.

Orders his magistrates and other officers and soldiers to permit John Sibald to pass at Anstruther or any other convenient place on the coast of Fife for Lothian and the Merse. Superscribed by the King.

33. Letter by King Charles II., countersigned by the Earl of Lauderdale, to the Earl of Glencairne, Chancellor, and the president and senators of the College of Justice. Whitehall, 4th June 1663. Copy.

The King has resolved to keep Sir Robert Murray at the Court, although he had formerly nominated him a senator of the College of Justice. He appoints John Home of Renton in his stead.

34. The Earl of Lauderdale to his much honoured cousin the Laird of Renton. Windsor Castle, 20th July 1657.

Commissions to the Laird of Renton to sell part of the Earl's lands to satisfy his Lordship's creditors.

35. The same to the same. Windsor Castle, 13th August 1657.

On the Earl of Lauderdale's affairs.

36. The Earl of Lauderdale to the Lord Justice Clerk (Sir John Home). Whitehall, 26th July 1664.

On business not specified.

37. Draft Petition of Sir John Home of Renton to King Charles II. [Date torn away.]

Narrates "That whereas your Maiestie by your letter to your late Commissioner the Earle of Middleton, of the date the 2d of January 1661, was graciously pleased to take particular notice of the petitioner's singular heavy sufferings in the yeares 1639, 1640, 1641, amounting to eight thousand pounds sterling; and that for his ready obedience to your Royall father's special commands, and that your said father of blessed memory had ingaged his Royall word for satisfaction of the same, which your Maiestie conceived yourself bound to make good, and accordingly required your said commissioner, as he tendered your Maiesties owne, but more particularly your dearest father's honour, to endeavour that your Parliament might take some effectuall course for the petitioner's payment of the aforesaid sume; and yet notwithstanding thereof, declared your Royall intention to imploy the fynes for releife of your good subjects who had bene great sufferers, and that the petitioner had the honour to be the first, who to the hazard of his life and sequestration and ruine of his Estate and fortune, did publickly assert the Royall interest and did firmly and constantly adhere to your Maiestie and your Royall father during the whole tracke and tyme of the late troubles, whereby and by the calamities of the late usurpations, his family is reduced to a low and ruined condition, except your Maiestie in your Royall wisdom and princely bountie shall provide remede for the same."

5.

The petitioner then prays the King to save his family from perishing, and to appoint the payment from fines or otherwise of the foresaid sum, and of 2,000 pounds lost in the troubles of the years 1650 and 1651.

38. William Somervell to Mr. John Chisholme, "Minister of the Gospell for present att Rentounne." Edinburgh, 23 September [16]97.

Chiefly on the articles of peace agreed upon between France and England. "The newes of the peace hes put almost all other newes out of date. It will not be proclaimed till one of the articles be interchanged, and then wee shall have another merry day of it as we had upon Saturday last. It is thought if anything be done for the French protestants it is done by private comounings, and there is no doubt bot, if ther shall happen to be good and firme freendship betwixt the two Kings, our King will procure at last the French King's favour towards them."

The letter also narrates: "The letters gives account only of one passage remarkable: that the French King should have said that he never did beleve that the Czar of Muscovy wes in Holland till that he heard that the King of England had payed him a visite, and then he made no furdur doubt of it,—which is the first time that ever he wes heard name the P[rince] of O[r]ange King. It is said that the Czar is to have 500 officers from the K[ing] of Great Brittain, and that he is not to come to London. The King had him at dinner, and with quhich the Czar wes so well pleased as to the customes, maners, and service at the King's table that he invited himselfe again to dine with the King which was very well takene."

MISCELLANEOUS PAPERS.

39. Copy inquest made at Langton in presence of John Cokburne of Chapelclench, and Adam Anderson in Langfermacus, sheriffs-depute of Berwick, of the value of the lands of the barons and free-tenants temporal, held of her Majesty the Queen and situated in the aforesaid shire. Dated 26th February 1554.

40. Petition to the Lord Protector entitled "Ane trow schedull of the past of the long and great sufferings of the bordering shyre of Berwick." [No date, but written during the Protectorate, and after 1653.]

The complaint bears that the shire had been maintaining all its former imports notwithstanding the loss of Berwick, and the lands of the Earl of March in East Lothian; and that the sufferings of the county during the late troubles had been singular. It had long been the centre of war; the whole Scots armies had been there many days during 1639 and 1640, and extreme impoverishment had followed their entertainment; while this was made worse by the destruction of the corns, wood, etc. Likewise, their sufferings had been great by reason of the army raised towards the close of 1643 having been quartered there during the greater part of the winter, and they had also suffered from the levy of 1644 under the Earl of Callendar. In 1648 they had suffered long and heavily from the English army, from the broken condition of the Scots army, and from the garrisons at Berwick and Home Castle; and lastly, they had suffered from the entry of the English army in 1650-1, till it was restrained by the care of the officers. Also, the late pretended roll of valuations could never be respected, in that shire at least, for several reasons, which are given at length in the petition.

41. Draft copy petition by Sir John Home of Renton to King Charles II., sent to [very probably the Earl of Lauderdale]. Sir John Home narrates that for his loyalty to the King, during the years 1639-1641, by commission from the committee that had assumed the government, his rents had been uplifted, his house, plundered, his plantings and woods cut down and sold, and his whole stock disposed of, to the value of 8,000*l*. He was banished with his wife and many young children and rendered destitute; he was obliged to leave the country or starve; and during this time he had burdened his estate to the amount of 1,500*l*., chiefly spent in his Majesty's service. In 1648-1651 he had lost, by the English, corn, stock, household stuff, &c., to the sum of 4,000*l*. Petitions his Majesty to reimburse him of all his losses, according to his Majesty's proclamation of 1638.

42. Paper, 7 pages folio, entitled "Answeris for the craftis of Edinburgh to the paper entituled The Petitione of the provest, baillies, and counsell of Edinburgh." This petition had accused the crafts of being seditious.

43. "Memorial for lybellling a summons or precept at the instance of Sir Robert Home of Renton, Baronet,

Miss M. E. STIRLING.

Mrs M. B.
STIRLING.

"against Captain Christopher Pomphray of Berrie-haugh and his tenants and cottars." January 24th, 1721.

Narrates that an assault had been made on Sir Robert's attorneys while attempting to collect the old custom of the office of Forestry. The curious perquisite was, one wood or reek hen out of each dwelling-house that kindled fire and had reek within the barony of Coldingham, and particularly of nine reek hens yearly out of the lands and estate of Berriehaugh. Captain Pomphray armed himself against the collectors of the obnoxious tax with "swords, pistols, guns, . . . and did in a masterfull and outrageous way obstruct, &c." the pursuer and his officers.

WILLIAM FRASER.

Edinburgh, 32, Castle Street,
23rd July 1874.

MR. AND
MRS.
MAXWELL
WITHAM.

The MANUSCRIPTS of MRS. DOROTHY MARY MAXWELL WITHAM of KIRKCONNELL, and her husband, ROBERT MAXWELL WITHAM, ESQUIRE.

The family of Maxwell of Kirkconnell is very ancient, and traces its origin to Aymer de Maxwell, second son of Sir Herbert Maxwell of Maxwell and Carlawerock, and brother of Sir Herbert Maxwell, first Lord Maxwell and ancestor of the long line of peers now represented by the Lord Herries. The estate of Kirkconnell, in the Stewartry of Kirkcudbright (not to be confounded with the former parish of that name in the Stewartry of Annandale, immortalized by the pathetic story of fair Ellen Irving of "Kirkconnell Lee"), came into the possession of this younger branch of the Maxwells by the marriage of the Aymer de Maxwell just mentioned to Janet of Kirkconnell of that ilk, the representative of an ancient family which is supposed to have owned that estate from about the middle of the eleventh century. The date of this marriage cannot be definitely ascertained: but Aymer de Maxwell and Janet his spouse obtained from King James the Second a charter of the lands of Kirkconnell on the 20th March 1456; and it is probable that the event took place about the year 1430. The family of Kirkconnell was unflinching in its support of the parent Maxwells, Lords Maxwell and Earls of Nithsdale, and was engaged in many of the bloody border feuds. During the four centuries of possession of these lands by the family of Maxwell, of Kirkconnell, in direct descent from Aymer its founder, several of its representatives and cadets attained distinction, not only in the military sphere, but in the more peaceable pursuits of literature and science. A prominent cadet of this house was William Maxwell, a younger son of the Laird of Kirkconnell, who, after serving in the household of Mary of Guise, joined a Scottish regiment in the service of the French King. His grandson, James Maxwell, M.A., wrote an autobiography, and several works on religion and the history of the Church. A distinguished member of this house in modern times was James Maxwell, who was infested in the lands of Kirkconnell in 1734. Like many others of the same family which remained steadfast, not without much persecution, to the Catholic Church, he received his education at the College of Douay, and as a confidential officer of Prince Charles, took part in the insurrection of 1745. After the battle of Culloden he escaped to France, and in the interval which elapsed previous to his return to Scotland in 1750 he composed a "Narrative of 'Charles Prince of Wales' Expedition to Scotland in 'the Year 1745,'" which possesses not only historical value as a record of the observations of one who knew intimately the secret workings of the Pretender's Council, and the military events of the period, but the additional interest of being composed with "a remarkable degree of precision and taste." This treatise was published by the Maitland Club in 1841. His second son, William Maxwell (born in 1760), while studying in the medical schools of France, came under the influence of the revolutionary ideas then current in that country, and, as one of the National Guards, attended in arms at the execution of Louis XVI. in 1793. It is related of him that he dipped his handkerchief in the blood of the executed king; and his impulsiveness gained him the appellation of "Dagger Maxwell." On his return to Scotland he settled in Dumfries, and in the peaceful profession of physician attained a very high reputation in his native country. He was the friend of Robert Burns, the Scottish poet, and attended him with peculiar care during his last illness at Dumfries. After the poet's death he exerted himself with the utmost zeal to excite sympathy in the public mind for his destitute widow and children. He died at Edinburgh in 1834. The last male representative of the name and family of Maxwell was James Maxwell, who died in 1827, and whose only child and heiress, Dorothy Mary Maxwell, married in 1844 her cousin Robert Shawe James Witham, now called Robert Maxwell Witham of Kirkconnell, eldest surviving son of William Witham of Gray's Inn, London.

For further particulars as to this family I would refer to "The Book of Carlawerock, vol. i. pp. 600, 601, (Edinburgh, 1873), where a complete pedigree is given, with notices of the more important individuals."

From the present report a few of the documents which might have been worthy of a place were omitted, as they have already been published by me in "The Book of Carlawerock," vol. ii., pp. 431, 434, 435.

On the 11th July 1448, a notarial instrument of perambulation of the marches of Lesser Aird, Greater Aird, and Kirkconnell, as fixed by an assize before Alexander Mur, the justiciar of Annandale, was obtained by William Abbot of Sweetheart and Amer de Maxwell of Kirkconnell; the assize consisting of 21 "good and true men," among whom are two Gledstanis. In 1456 King James the second granted the charter of the lands of Kirkconnell already referred to; and an instrument of sasine, of the 13th November 1461, narrates that the same Amer de Maxwell, founder of this line, had disposed of the lands of Keltown, in the shire of Dumfries, to George Nelsoun of Maidenpap. The only interest that attaches to this last writ arises from the presence of certain names as attesting witnesses:—John Panter, who appears as burgess of Dumfries, although we know this family to have been connected with Forfarshire, and the two thoroughly Celtic names of Mollach, and McMolane, considered respectable enough burgesses, even at this early period, to find a place in the same parchment with the Lord Maxwell. There are other writs of this comparatively early period, but none of them possess any historical interest.

The present report contains notices of, I. A collection of letters from royal and noble personages; II. A manuscript volume of King James the Second, certified by Queen Mary of Modena in 1702; and, III. Two registers of the Scots College of Douay.

None of these papers have any direct connection with the family of Kirkconnell, and have been acquired by purchase or otherwise. Special interest attaches itself to the authentic original of the Douay Register, and to its little companion based on it and containing additions. It is to be hoped that some day the former may find some patron generous enough to lay its entire and valuable details before the public. It might also be well if the interesting, though less valuable, volume of King James the Second were made public in its entirety.

I.—Collection of Letters from Royal and Noble Personages.

1. Letter of King Henry VIII. of England, indorsed as follows:—"To the right excellent, right highe and mightie pryncce, our most derest brother and nephew the King of Scottis."

"Right excellent, right high and mighty prince, our most dereste brother and nephew, we recomende us vnto youe in our most hertie and affectionous maner (by this berer your familiar seruitour David Wood) we haue not only receyued your most louing and kinde lres declaring howmoche ye tendre and regarde the conseruation and mayntenance of good amytie betwene vs roted and grounded as well in proximitie of blood (as in the good offices, actes, and doyngis showed on our partie) whiche ye to our greate comforte affirme and confesse to be dayly more and more in your consideration and remembrance (but also two caste of faire and good haukes whiche presented in your name and sent from youe) we take in most thankfull parte, and gyve vnto youe our most hertie thankis for the same. Taking greate comforte and consolacion to perceyve and vndrestande by your said lres and the credence committed to your said familiar seruitour David Wood (which we haue redde and considered) and also send vnto youe with thise our lres answer vnto the same (that ye like a good and vertuous prince) haue so moche to herte and mynde the good rule and ordre vpon the borders, with redresse and reformation of suche attemptatis as haue ben commytted and don in the same. Not doubting but if ye for your partie as we intende for our (doo effectually persiste and contynue in so good and vertuose purpose and intente) not only

AND
THE WELL TEAM.

our realmes and subgiettis shall lyve quyetly and peasably without occasion of breche, but also we their hedges and gouvernours shall soo encrease and augment our syncre love and affection (as it shalbe to the indissoluble assurance of good peax and amytie to the inestimable benefite, wealth, and comoditie of vs, our realmes and subgiettis hereafter).

"Right excellent, right high and mightie prynce, our most dereste brother and nephieu, the blessed Trynytie haue you in his gouernaunce. Geven vnder our signet at Yorke Place besides Westmester the xith day of Decembre.

"Your lovyng brother and vnclie,
"HENRY R."

[The signature is King Henry's.]

2. "Answers made by the Kingis highnes to suche articles of credence as were exhibite in writing from his derest brother and good nephiew the King of Scottis by his famylier seruant David Wodd."

This paper, which occupies 3½ pages folio, is signed "Henry R." It is apparently the paper mentioned supra in the King's letter.

In answer to the first three articles of the proposal of King James V. communicated by David Wood, King Henry states his readiness to have the "mysorders" of the borders removed, and that he, to "thintent that" the trouthe may be known whither any suche "enormyties" haue ben committed on this side as in the "said articles of credence be alleged," had charged the wardens of his borders to agree with those of the Scottish borders upon "a day of true" when they should examine the troubles and take measures accordingly; and prays the king of Scotland to give a similar charge to his wardens.

In answer to the fourth article, which had expressed King James's hope for the "conseruacion of the peax," and fear lest some sinister report should deprive him of King Henry's trust, the King of England declares himself to be "a prince of most franke (syncere) and playne dealing, and without colour, compass, or pretence," who esteemed all other princes to be the same, above all his "derest brother and nephew," &c.

In answer to the last article, in which King James purposes sending particulars concerning "certayn ovirtures" of marriage made to him "as wel on the" "Frenche Kingis as also on themperours behalfe" in order to obtain Henry's advice, the English King expresses his readiness to give such counsel "as he shall" "thinke most highly to conduce to the honour, suretie, and commodite, of his said good brother's persoun, and the wealthe and benefite also of that his realme."

3. Eighteen Articles of Instruction to the Postulate of Ross, Scottish Ambassador to France, under the signature of the Earl of Arran, "James G."—James Governor of Scotland. The paper is indorsed "Articulis to the postulat Ros, ambassadour toward Fraunce," and under this, in a different hand, is added "ressavit in Paris the xxvij day of Maii 1547." The ambassador was David Pantar, then bishop-elect of Ross, and for years the representative of Scotland at the Court of France.

The first "article" lays a basis for the others. The most Christian King is desired to keep the "article of" "comprehensioun of our souerane lady her realme and" "subiectis contentit in the last treate of peax takin" "betuix ye maist cristin Kingis fader [Francis I.] & ye King of Ingland that last decessit" "[Henry VIII.]," so that Scotland might "brouk" a perfect peace with England similar to that possessed by France.

The subsequent "articles" narrate various violations of the "comprehensioun" on the part of England, in particular the capture of the Johnstouns by an English force, and the seizure of Lord Maxwell's House of Langhop, afterwards occupied by a garrison of English, and the starting-point of daily incursions which the Governor and Council predict in "proces of tyme sall" "grow to plane conquest." In the event of a treaty not being agreed upon by France and England, France is desired to send money and arms to Scotland; and, should the French King decide to land an army in England, the Scottish forces would co-operate from the North. King Henry is also desired to secure the favour of Denmark and the Emperor.

The last "item" brings forward a common Catholic allegiance as a bond of union between France and England. The ambassador is desired to show the King that the absolution sent by Francis I., his father, to the "alayaris" of Cardinal Betun was insufficient, and to desire him to send to the Pope for a wider absolution "conforme to this memoriall."

4. Letter in French dated "Paris ce vij^e Aueil 1587," shortly after the execution of Mary Queen of Scots, written by Ja. Archeuesque de Glasgo [James Bethune, then ambassador from Scotland at the Court of France], and the rest of the Council established for the administration of her dowry in France. Addressed "Au Roy" "Descosse" [James VI]. The execution of Mary is spoken of as a deed "inhumain et detestable," worthy of the vengeance of God, and which had touched the hearts of all good Frenchmen, so that tears and regrets were universal. Part of the Queen's dowry yet remained, which might be applied to the clearance of her debts in France and England; and in this matter they waited upon the pleasure of the King.

5. Letter of date 22 September 1615, to King James I. by Lord Nor . . . , on the assault which he states Lord Willoughby made on him in a church or churchyard. It is gallant, vigorous, and well-written.

6. Receipt, dated at Leith, 29 September 1655, by Geo. Bilton, acknowledging the payment of 300*l.* sterling, the second moiety of a fine of 600*l.* imposed by the Protector on Lord Duffus. The original fine was 1,500*l.*, but by an ordinance of 6th April 1655, by which many fines were suspended, that of Lord Duffus was reduced. The receipt is a printed form.

7. Letter, dated Edinburgh 14 May 1661, from Sir William, shortly afterwards Lord Bellenden, to a "noble" "Lord." It principally relates to the action of the Lords and Parliament. " . . . If those now in com- petition with me have performed equally that duetie that all of us pettie officers of State ought to his Majestie, I leave your Lordship to judge. I shall patientlie suffer my confynement till his Majesties pleasour be knowin, being necessitat not to appear in Parliament or at the Articles butt with losse of my honour which is no less dear to me then it ought to be, and I hope will admit of something of tendernes in your consideration. Yesterday ther was a new Act brought in to the Parliament after the accustomed maner, by surpnyze At present it seemes that that precious clerk, who assumes to himself the glory of all the great things done for his Majestie, is never satisfied but in taynting the honor of his countrie without exception: and when he is pleased to extend himself on that subject, nothing butt gall and wormwood is destilled from his pen Some here not obtayning a present positive answer from my Lord Treasurer for passing of ther grants in the Exchequer are resolved to pass them in Parliament. Why such voluntarie Acts from the King should be made bynding to his Majesties prejudice, or to speak it more plainly to the absolut ruin of his Majesties Revenues, I nather doe nor can be brought to understand. What his Majesty hath given more then what he had to give, will be clearlie represented after the sitting of the Exchequer ather by Earle Crawford or myself."

8. Letter from the Earl of Linlithgow to a Lord, whose name is not mentioned, dated Linlithgow, May 7th 1664, states that Mr. Robert Fleiming, a "fanatick" minister, had sailed that day for Rotterdam with consulatory letters and money (the collections had been not inconsiderable) for the banished ministers in Holland, from which his lordship feared that disturbances might arise to the "peace of this kirk and kingdome." It is suggested that Sir William Davidson or his deputies should be ordered to secure and search the ship on her arrival at Rotterdam, or, if Fleiming had gone to land before his lordship's order arrived, that a watchful eye should be kept upon him.

9. Letter written from Lerwick, 2nd December, by Col. William Sinclair to the "Earl of Lauderdale, his Majesties Cheiff Secretarie of Steat for the kingdome of Scotland." Complaining of abuses done in Shetland, and mainly of the abuse done to the King himself in the wrecking of a richly laden vessel named the Carmerland, that had been cast away near Lerwick the winter before he came, out of which, as he had been credibly informed, 24 bags of gold had been taken, each of which contained 1,800 ducats, besides other valuables. The prize was to be sent to Leith. The letter is indorsed 1665.

10. The Earl of Caithness writes from Edinburgh, October 23, 1668, to the Earl of Lauderdale, concerning the "mutuall persuts betwixt the shyre of Caithness and Sutherland;" complaining of groundless calumnies vented against himself and the shire of Caithness; and enclosing a "remitione" which he wishes passed, hoping

MR. AND MRS.
MAXWELL
WITHAM.

MR. AND
MRS.
MAXWELL
WITHAM.

that then his difficulties may be removed. On the back is the date 1668.

11. Letter from Henry Welkie, Dortreck [Dort] ¹⁵/₁₆ August 1668, to [the Earl of Lauderdale]. Narrating that the conservitour and commissioners from the burghs of Scotland, observing that the trade of Scotland had removed from Zeeland and Flanders to the province of Holland, had fixed on Dort as a fitting place for the staple, and were then discussing the several articles with the magistrates of that city.

12. A. Ramsay, provost of Edinburgh, writes from this city to the Earl of Lauderdale concerning their former privileges with France, on the 8th January 1669, at the request of the merchants there, to the end that by his lordship's mediation the heavy impost of 50 "solz" per ton might be removed, now that a treaty of commerce was being made between that country and England.

13. Sir Alexander Fraser, physician to King Charles II., writes as follows to the Lord High Commissioner of Scotland, from "Whythall," 23 July [16]70:—

"May it please your G[race]. This place affords no newes. The best and I am sure the most well-come to your Grace and kingdom, is the recovery of his R.H. Feauer, coughes, and all other symptoms are vanished, good appetit to his meat, longs to hunt, abhominats all noxious temptations and impedimenta sanitatis. The Duk of Bugingham, with the Lord Buckurst, Sir Ch. Sidly, Mr. Stanly, James Porter, and 4 servants sets out Moonday at night, without traine, coach, or any thing of greatnes: his abood fortnight only. They discourse variously of his journey, and because I know not, I will say nothing of it. His Ma. in good health: dined this day at Sir Tho. Ingrams. Hunts Monday. All are going to their country houses. The exchequer shoot up for a month. I hope by the next to hear of your G[race's] seaff arrivall and of all your company. And so, with the tender of my duty to your G. and all the noble company, I remeane "Your G.—most humble obedient servant,

"S. A. FRASER."

14. Paris, 3 April 1661. Andrew Lord Rutherford [here "Rotersfoort"], afterwards killed in Africa, to Lord —: writes—"We are informed that all the clothing or other merchandise bocht heir for our King's coronation doe pay great customes in France, and are confisqueit in England." He is trying to "get some things past at an easie rate" for his correspondent. "I will be forced to ruin your Lordship with two laced bands. For boottops, you may carry as the mode is heir, woven of whyt silk with whyt silk stockins, and a ruban past round about them. This is the great mode heir which cometh from England."

15. Edinburgh, 7 September 1661. Earl of Glencairn and Sir John Gilmour to [the Earl of Lauderdale], on a vacancy on the bench.

16. Kellie, 14 October 1661. The Earl of Kellie to Lord —. Had been during the previous week sworn a member of the Secret Council. The Earl of Tweeddale's enlargement had been discussed for two days: it had been pressed by the Earl of Rothes, and opposed by "very considerable persons in the Counsel."

17. Dublin, 2 December 1663. Sir Arthur Forbess to the Earl of Lauderdale.

18. Edinburgh, 2 February 1664. Sir Archibald Primrose to Lord —, with the Acts of the Scotch Parliament.

19. Edinburgh, September 17, 1664. Sir John Gilmour to Lord —, recommending Mr. John Lockhart for the vacancy in the Session.

20. 17 February 1667. The English Commissioners of Trade to the Scotch Commissioners, requesting a list of the names, burdens, and ports of all prize ships and foreign-built ships belonging to Scotland; also a list of their own Scottish-built ships.

21. Edinburgh, 6 May 1669. General Robert Montgomery to the Earl of Lauderdale, concerning his pension.

22. Edinburgh, 1 July 1669. Mr. Thomas Hay to Lord —.

23. July 31 (no year), John Lord Rothes to —.

24. Leith, 11 September (no year). Anne Countess of Balcarres to Lord —.

II.—MS. Volume of King James the Second, certified by Queen Mary of Modena in 1702.

25. MS. copy of a work by King James II., post octavo size, bound in red morocco, entitled "A collection of several of his late Maiesties papers of devotion, copied exactly out of the original manuscripts left by his Majesty in his own handwriting." The collection embraces 172 pages, and has the following certificate of authentication on the last page, holograph of Mary of Modena, widow of King James II.:—

"This is a trew copy of the original papers, which are now in my hands, and which, when the King my son and I make no mor use of them, are to be deposited in the Scotts' Colledge of Paris, ther to be preserved with the rest of the King of ever blessed memory his original papers, conforme to his Maiesty's intention.

"MARIA R.

"St. Germain, Jan. 27, 1702."

To this note of the widowed Queen is appended another, signed "L. Inese" [Lewis Innes, her Majesty's almoner]. The note states "that three short papers written in his said late Majesty of ever blessed memory his own hand were added to the collection of the originall papers and pasted to the last of them by the Queen's order, at St. Germans, this 5 December 1703, by me, L. Inese." These articles are not copied into this volume.

The volume also contains a table of contents, and to this Innes has added another note, specifying the contents of the three articles added on the 5th December 1703.

The articles in the entire volume are 35 in number. The last five are written in French; all the others are in English.

Most of the articles are of a devotional nature; a few are controversial, as those entitled "Advice to Converts" and "Motives of Conversion." One paper of the former class (No. 17) entitled "Wishes to dy and to be with Christ," appears to be the latest written by the King; it is dated July 31, 1700, only six weeks before his Majesty's decease. Another paper (No. 15) contains his "Distribution of time." He resolves to rise at seven in the morning, or half an hour later, and never to be more than eight hours in bed. In a special prayer composed by himself he prays that the Prince of Orange "may repent his past life." He praises the Trappists in various articles; traces his conversion to his first visit to them, and in a special paper (No. 12) on the edification, &c. he had received at La Trappe, he speaks of his visits to that monastery as a necessity for his spiritual life.

Innes's description of the papers added by him in 1703 to the original collection is as follows:—

"The 1st paper is the beginning of the project of a letter designed for the Pr^{ince} of Den.

"The 2^d is the project of a letter from one English Catholic to another upon the publication of his Majesties Declaration for liberty of Conscience.

"The 3 discourses of the danger of being praised even by good men, and tho' what is said of us be true."

[It is probable that this copy of "the Collection, &c." of King James II. is unique. If the original was transmitted, as Mary of Modena's note would lead us to expect, to the Scots College at Paris, it is undoubtedly lost. The fate of the MSS. of James placed in that institution is given in the prefatory notice to the "Memoires de Jacques II.," published at Paris in 1824. During the ravages of the French Revolution they were transferred to St. Omer as a temporary resting-place before their final removal to England; but through fear of their discovery, and apprehension of serious results therefrom to her husband, the wife of a Frenchman to whom they had been intrusted at first mutilated and afterwards destroyed them. If these papers, however, were not deposited in the Scots College, but retained in the family of Stuart, they may yet exist in the Stuart Papers removed from Rome in 1810 and placed in the library of Carlton House. These Stuart Papers are now at Windsor Castle.]

III.—Two Registers of the Scots College of Douay.

26. I. The first of these registers is a folio volume. It is known in the Kirkconnell Library as the "Larger Register of Douay," to distinguish it from another register to be afterwards mentioned, which is called the "Smaller Register of Douay."

It contains,—

1. The names of the various alumni of the Scots College, which was successively established at Pont-a-Mousson, Douay, and Louvain, commencing with the entries of students under Father Creighton at Pont-a-Mousson in 1681, and continuing till the close of the year 1772. A short account is given of the character and fortune of each student. Each preceptor added in

P. AND
MRS.
J. W. MAXWELL
WITHAM.

his turn whatever news he heard of any former pupil of the college.

2. In addition to the lists of alumni, there are in the volume a number of unbound sheets of paper which contain various historical fragments by the early preceptors of the college, relating to the foundation and history of this institution, with accounts of its revenue and benefactors, and other matters historical and financial relative to the college.

The register is incomplete, as appears from the paging, which is not continuous.

II. In addition to the Douay register now mentioned, there is another volume of octavo size, called the "Smaller Douay Register," which contains a list of the alumni of the Scots College from the year 1581 to the year 1742. This list has been abstracted chronologically from the larger register, as is evidenced by the latter so far as it now exists. The names of the pupils show that they were connected with many distinguished Scotch families, and a number of them are extracted for this purpose. It is also remarkable that the first and second names at the beginning of the list are those of Bruce and Wallace, which may be considered as good representative Scottish names at the foundation of the Scots College at Pont-à-Mousson.

Of the number of students in the first list, from 1581 to 1592, fully one-half entered upon an ecclesiastical life; a majority remained upon the Continent, not a few having, subsequently to leaving Pont-à-Mousson, entered the Society of Jesus; a large number, however, returned to Scotland, and became, to use the expression of the register, "boni operarii." The fate of several is not recorded, probably because unknown to the writer. We may therefore suppose that these did not adopt a clerical life. Seven became teachers in colleges and elsewhere; two followed the profession of law; one became a physician, and another a merchant; two, Robert Bruce and James Leslie, followed the life of the Court; James Myrton, "aliquamdiu bonus operarius," "post lapsum in Angliam ivit," and was living there in 1598. Two are mentioned as having married. The Bruce and Wallace names are thus entered:—

1581. Guilielmus Bruce nepos magistri Henrici Keir 1581: Professor legum in Germania.

1581. Mr. Guilielmus Vallace Edinburgensis magister Creyton a Lugtoun est nunc monachus in provincia Limonicensi, factus sacerdos Mussipontani.

The second list is thus headed:—"Alumni Scoti Duacenses a 1593 et Lovanienses à 1595 ab eodem P. Gul. Creyton descripti Julio 1598 dum seminarii curam deponeret."

The first entry here (of 1593) is:—

Mr. David Law, ex Calviniano Catholicus factus ad seminarium Mussiponti admissus et iterum Duaci unde sacerdos missus 1594 ad missionem Scotticam, in itinere ab Anglis captus, post incarcerationis annum cum dimidio, rediit Lovanium ut inde Romam iret ad societatem, sed remissus fuit mense Junii 1598 ad missionem Scotticam ad experimentum antequam reciperetur in societatem.

The second entry is Mr. Wm. Barclay, lawful son of the Laird de Tolye, who also studied successively at the three universities of Mussipontum, Douay, and Louvain, and having completed theology (absoluta theologia) was sent to Paris in June 1598, where he became professor of humanity.

Some of the residents at Douay boarded at their own expense; of others (and this is a more frequent notice) it is mentioned that after a long term at Douay or Louvain they withdrew to another field, in order to relieve the former seminary of the burden of their maintenance. In this list, and among those who maintained themselves, are found two names of scions of the noble Scotch families of Huntly and Angus:—

1594. Guilielmus Gordon, frater Comitum Huntlaei vixit in seminario sub legibus seminarii sed propriis expensis factus Franciscanus non perseveravit. Guilielmus Gordon parvulus puer precedentis famulus dimissus est post annum cum dimidio, pro seminario non aptus.

1596. Franciscus Douglas frater Comitum Angusiani in Seminario Lovaniensi suis expensis vivens, ex calviniano factus est catholicus, ivit Romam ubi philosophiam absolvit hoc anno 1598.

A large number of the entries here are of Protestants (Calviniani) who had become Catholics. Some of them are spoken of as "vir maturi." Nor were all Catholics when they entered the college, as the following shows:—

Mr. Alex. Seton Calvinianus juvenis modestus et boni ingenii. Agitur de ejus conversione de qua est bona spe.

Robert Strachan, another "Calvinianus," was admitted the same year confessedly "pro tentanda ejus conversione."

The next division embraces a few names of pupils under the "procuratorship" of George Elphinstone, from 1598 to 1603. Among other names we have Andrew Crichton, who having become a secular priest in Scotland was seized in August 1610, "et patrem Patri-cium Andersonum prodere voluit."

The next division is thus headed:—Joannes Libion suscipiens 1^o April 1606, vicariam curam seminarii Scotorum Lovaniensis ex mandato R. P. Gulielmi Veranemanni Rectoris collegii Societatis invenit in Seminario sequentes alumnos. Ceteri 23 admissi fuerunt tempore Joannis Libion a 1^{mo} Aprilis 1606 usque 15 X^{bris} 1608.

The first entry is a comparatively long one concerning Mr. Rogerius Lyndesius, son of the Baron of Mains, who became an active member of the Scottish Mission, and died in 1666 "in opinione Sanctitatis." He was seized in Scotland in 1610, and "confessed much concerning Father Patrick Anderson."

There are four of the name of Macbrec: Patrick, Alexander, James, who suffered imprisonment and was condemned to death in the time of Cromwell; and John, who entered in 1607 among the "figuriste," became noted in Germany, and was one of the deputies appointed to escort from France Maria Gonzaga, who was afterwards crowned Queen of Poland in July 1646. He is described as "magno in pretio habitus ab omnibus" "aulicis ob ingenium vastum, omniumque linguarum peritiam."

1612. William Christie laboured as a member of the Society in Austria for about 20 years. He was Rector of the Scottish Seminary at Rome for three years, and obtained a similar post at Douay in 1650.

1620. 15 May. Robert Maxwell (known at Douay as Jacobus Lindsayus), son of Maxwell, Laird of Conhaeth, was dismissed in 1623. [A number are mentioned as having different names at Louvain. Some were dismissed on account of sickness; others, such as Gilbert Seton (entered 6 June 1620) "ob mores insolentes," and yet others because "inepti ad studia."]

Entries under Father Charles Malapert:—

1620, 31st Oct. Patrick Gray (there known as Forbes), 14 years of age; brother of Lord Gray. He died in Germany.

Henry Seton, natural brother of the Laird of Munie.

John Seton, brother of ditto. Died in misery at Paris.

Sebastian Carider, 16 years, son of Sir William Carider, long in the service of his most Catholic Majesty.

In 1626 some of the students died of the plague, and others were dismissed on this ground. Among the dry, curt notes we come upon such a kindly notice as this, "Rogerius angelice hic obiit peste."

1621. Edward Maxwell (there called Gramius), entered at 13, brother of Robert Maxwell above-mentioned.

From 1623, pupils admitted by Father Lambertus Lobetius:—

1625, John Seton, son of the Chamberlain of Fife; became Superior of the Scottish Seminary at Madrid.

1627, 7th October. Was entered Adam Gordon of Cult as a student of poetry. In 1631 he returned to Scotland, but in 1646 he crossed to Rome, and ultimately became Rector of Douay, April 1668.

On the same day entered David Abercromby of Petelpie as a student of composition. On account of his health he departed in June 1631. In 1640 he became tutor to the second son of the Earl of Winton, and some years later devoted himself to medicine in London.

Father James Bonfrerius succeeded Lobetius in September 1628.

28th July 1629. Frederick Maxwell, son of Lord Herries, who afterwards became a member of the Society, and died as Rector of the Scotch Seminary at Madrid in November 1632.

Bonfrerius was succeeded by Father Barnard Robinoy in October 1631.

Among others entered in 1632 was Alexander Maxwell, son of Lady Gribton, who about that time resided in Paris; and John Gordon, a nephew of the Baron of Cluny.

John Robæus first succeeded Robinoy in September 1632.

6 January 1633. Was entered Robert Francis Iruinus of Aberdeen, 19 years of age. He became a presbyter of St. Bernard, and subsequently a Capuchin, and lived at Somerset House, London, till the death of the Queen in 1671.

Robæus died 13 March 1633, and was succeeded by Father Hypolitus Curlæus.

Father William Leslie succeeded as rector in 1634.

MR. AND
MRS.
J. W. MAXWELL
WITHAM.

MR. AND
MRS.
MAXWELL
WITHAM.

29 October 1634. James Brown, son of John of Lochiel, entered at 15 years of age. Was at the college of the Jesuits in Paris in 1642. After teaching humanity, giving three courses in philosophy, and haranguing for a year, he returned to govern the college in June 1668.

After two other rectors, Thomas Robæus was called to govern the college, 26 September 1640.

15 October 1640. "Dñs Alexander Iruius exul jam a 16 annis è Scotiâ cum uxore Marioria Menzies ob invictam in fide Catholica constantiam propter quam in patria, ubi domus ejus semper habita est pro domo Societatis, totidem ante exilium annis inaudita passus est, adhuc licet fundo satis opulentus bonis tamen suis ob exilium et temporum angustias frui non potest." Irvine brought his two sons to the college, Robert Francis and Alexander, the former of whom subsequently studied at Madrid and Rome.

10 September 1643. Walter Forbes, son of James Forbes of Blacktown and Magdalen Fraser, daughter of Sir Alex. Fraser of Philorth. His record is this: "uxorem duxit, et hæreticus factus est."

[There are other entries even more terse: e.g., "uxorem duxit et obiit."]

His brother Arthur, 6 years younger and only 12, entered the same day.

2nd October. "Joannes de Burgen, 18 annos: filius unicus illustris Domini Octaviani de Burgen Scoto-landri et domine de Zoninghem . . . dimissus ut lubricus et inconstans postquam jam 2^o aufugisset."

1644, 10 March. John Forbes, son of Duncan Forbes of Campbell [P Campbell], 17 years of age, afterwards studied a year at Madrid, and returning to Scotland reverted to the Protestant faith. "Est jam 1671, prætor capitalis, permanetque singulario nostrorum et Catholicorum amicus."

On the 25th was entered James Forbes, son of John Forbes of Corsinday.

Father Robert Gall succeeded Robæus in September 1646.

1647, 17 January. John Ogilvie, 16 years, was a son of Sir John Ogilvie of Craig (son of James sixth Lord of Airly), who was imprisoned for his faith in Edinburgh Castle. He became a member of the Society, and died as a student at Douay.

James Iruius, son of Sir Alex. Irvine of Drum.

1649, 28 April. Archibald and James Semple, brothers of Lord Semple. James afterwards went to Madrid.

James Douglas, son of Lord Mordington, 11 years of age.

Robert Gall was succeeded by Father William Christie in May 1650.

Gall died and was succeeded by Father James Anderson in May 1656.

Father William Christie succeeded Anderson in 1656.

1656. Alexander Iruius, son of Alexander Irvine of Bely.

1657, 7th March. "Henricus Lindsæus, hic Andreas Graius æt. 12, ad figuristas, filius unicus Comitiss Craufordis et Margaretæ Gramis Comitiss Montethii filis. Dimissus quia illegitimus." The college was not always so strict.

1657, 31 August. Francis Crichton, son of Viscount Frendraught. Became a soldier, leaving the college of his own accord.

1658. Robert Seton, younger son of the Earl of Winton. At his death in 1673 he left 30,000 merks Scots to the Scotch College of Douay.

1662. Robert Fordesius (Fordyce) who was twice rector of Douay, and was also procurator of the Mission at Paris.

1663. Alexander Irvine, son of Sir Alexander Irvine of Drum.

1665. James Sempil, son of Lord Sempil, 10 years of age.

1666. Christopher Irui (19) left through sickness; afterwards sent to Rome by his father, Sir Christopher Irui.

Father Adam Laurence Gordon succeeded Christie in March 1666.

1667. James Douglas, son of Lord Mordington, 16 years.

William his brother, 14 years.

Francis, 12 years.

Father James Brown succeeded Father Gordon in 1668.

1668. Herbert Maxwell, 15 years of age, son of Maxwell of Kirkconnell. "Egregius filius Societatis ultra 34 annos: in aula Jacobi Regis missionarius."

1670. Robert Semple, eldest son of Lord Semple, 15 years of age.

1670. Thomas Preston, grandson of General Preston, Viscount Taragh in Ireland, &c. "Multum debet Collegio nec spes est solutionis."

1670. Sir Edward Widdrington, 15 years, was drowned 7th April 1672.

Father Thomas Robæus succeeded Father Brown in 1671.

1672. William Skeen, son of the Baron of Skeen.

1675, 25 May. "Georgius Setonus primogenitus Joannis Baronis de Garleton equitis aurati et Christianæ Hume filias Baronis de Renton, 10 annos. Parisiis adductus a R. P. Alexandro Conæo."

Father G. Inglis succeeded Robæus in 1676.

Father Thomas Paterson succeeded Inglis in 1680.

1681. Charles Gordon, 11, and Patrick Gordon, 9, sons of Charles Lord Aboyne.

1685. William Hay, brother of Lord Kinnoull.

1685, "18 Septembris. Alexander McKenzie, hic White, filius et frater Comitiss Seaforthii: postea fidem destruit factusque est colonellus pro rege Gulielmo 3^o."

1685. George Gordon, brother of Charles (see 1681), 10 years. Joined the Society.

John, his brother, 8 years.

1689. Adam Urquhart, son of Urquhart of Meldrum, and grandson of Lord Huntly. Entered the Society.

1689, 18 May. "Carolus Fleming, frater Comitiss Wigtonii [he was afterwards Earl]. Fidelis valde religioni Catholicæ et regi suo semper perstitit."

1691. Frederick Howard, son of the Duke of Norfolk. Went to the English College at Andomar in 1693.

1691. James and William Maxwell, sons of James Maxwell of Kirkconnell.

1692. Thomas Drummond, son of the Duke of Melfort.

William, his brother, 6 years, became Archpriest of St. Eustachius in Rome, and Canon of St. Paul's, Liege.

1693. John and Charles Drummond, 14 and 12 years, sons of Lord Perth.

1694. Andrew, son of Lord Melfort.

1694, 18 July. Robertus Dumber. Rediit in Scotiam valetudinarius Septembris 2^o 1699.

1695, 21 Januarii. Joannes Grant aliter Le Grand ex patre Petro Grant de Caron et — Dumber. Septembri 1696 abiit ad tyrocinium Romanum.

1695, "20 Septembris. Joannes Grant, 10 annis, ex Joanne de Ballendalloch. 22 Novembris 1702 abiit insalutato hospite."

1698, 18 Aprilis. "Georgius Seton, 12 annis, ex patre Georgio de Garleton, post philosophiam in Scotiam rediit."

1698. James Grierson, son of Sir Robert Grierson of Lag. He left on the 29th June 1700.

1700. Reginald and Philip, brothers of Thomas, William, and Andrew Drummond.

1714, July. "Andreas Seaton, 16 annos, frater Georgii et Joannis ex Garleton: ivit in Hispaniam ubi factus est miles."

1723, "2 Novembris. Alexander Stanislaus Grant desertis Benedictinis Scotis, Wirzburgensibus, et Anglis, Parisiensibus, et tandem militia etiam Hollandia rediit ad monasterium suum Wirzburgense. Hic per aliquot menses fuit antequam Benedictinus fieret inter Anglos."

1732. Reginald McKenzie, son of the Marquis of Seaforth, 7 years of age.

Nicholas, his brother, entered in 1735.

1734. James Dalzell, 7 years, nephew of Lord Carnwath.

The last entry in this book is that of John Nairne, 24 August 1742. The register occupies altogether 60 pages. The latter portion embraces fewer representatives of Scotch families; the most frequent name in this part is that of Maxwell, which represents the families of Terraghty, Kirkconnell, Munches, Orchardtown, &c.

The list of names is continued in the larger register to the year 1772, but very few of the names recorded after the year at which the smaller record ends are Scotch.

WILLIAM FRASER.

Edinburgh, 32, Castle Street,
4th August 1874.

MR. AND
MRS.
MAXWELL
WITHAM.

BURGH OF PERTH.

THE MANUSCRIPTS OF THE ROYAL BURGH OF PERTH.

In the very dawn of our national history we discover a community gathered together on the fertile and central banks of the Tay at Perth, which in later times, through royal favour and general policy, came to be endowed with the rights and franchises of a King's burgh.

Among the papers of the Corporation is a series of Royal Charters, which are recited and confirmed in a charter of King James VI. to the burgh, dated at Holyrood House, 15 November 1600.

The earliest of these, by King William the Lion, contained no words of incorporation, but conferred many exclusive privileges on the burgesses of Perth, which extended over the sheriffdom. A charter by King Robert I. conferred on the burgesses the rights of guildry and of merchandise in all places within the sheriffdom of Perth, with certain prohibitions and rights of pre-emption. Other charters confirming and amplifying the burghal privileges were granted by David II., Robert II., Robert III., James II., and James V.

The earliest volume of the Burgh Register contains the Acts of Council from 1543 to 1684. In it are copies of deeds and ordinances of various dates, some of which contain points of historical interest. Among these are "Discharge Robert Bruce of Clakmannan to the burgh of Perth," "Remission to the burgh of Perth by Laurance Lord Oliphant of Abirdalgie, Knight, for the doune casting of the hous of Duplyne, and of the spoilzeatioun of it and of Abirdalgie," "Remission by King James V. to the town of Perth for burning of the house of Craigie," "Decreit in favouris of the burgh of Perth pronuncit be the borrowis for the prioritie of place of Dundie," "Bakband be Elizabeth Gray, Countess of Huntlie, with consent of Alexander Erle of Huntlie, to the burgh of Perth, anent a licence upon thair comoun wallis in the Speygait," "Indentour of the bowt of Balhousie," "Indentour betwix the hous of Ruthven, the Laird of Balhousie, and the toune of Perth anent the uphaudding of Lewis Wark," "Indentour betwix the Aldermen, Counsall, and Communitie of the burgh of Perth and Robert Kinglassie, tuiching the gild herbar and the comoun calsayes."

There is also recorded in this volume a missive to the burgh of Perth from King James I. (superscribed Jacobus Scotorum Rex), announcing that he has, "thankit be God, maid appoyntment of our delywerance with the excellent King of Ingland, and for neidfull dispens that we man mak on our passage, and for payment that we sould mak quhair we ar awand in London, we have writtin to our ayme of Albanie to send us of our awin guidis to pay our debitis and mak our costis as worschip weeld, and gif he help us not as we haif prayed him and charged, necessitie compellis us to pray yow till help us with sum pairt of dispens at this tyme. Quhairfor speciallie we pray yow and requyris that ye gif us or len us a certain portioun of your propir guidis as ye ar disposed. Quhilk we sal gar be allowit to you in your earest custome quhat euir it be, and send us this good with ane honest burges of your awin, quhilk sall have saif

BURGH OF PERTH.

"conduyeit as the berare of this lettres sall doe you witt. To the quhilk ye give firme credence in oure name, and gif ye can not find to refresh us in this mister we doe you to witt that it is oure will, and we charge yow ye put no merchandise to the see that saw us custom under all payne that may follow in tyme to cum till ye hawe licence and commandement of us. Wreitten at Londoun, the aught day of August, under oure proppir signe manuall and signett. Nota sæillit, with the ring of the []"

Obligation by James I., King of Scots, to relieve the four burghs of Edinburgh, Perth, Dundee, and Aberdeen of the sum of fifty thousand marks, for payment of which they had become bound to Henry King of England for the liberation of the said King James. Dated Durham, 26 March 1424.

In 1544 there is recorded a list of the ornaments of Our Lady Altar, within the parish kirk of the burgh:—
"Imprimis, ane chesable of blak ueluet with the peroris of blue ueluet, stole and fannoune of bird Alexander. Alb, amyt, and belt. Ane chesable of auld claitht of gold with the peroris, stole, and fannoune of bird Alexander. Alb, amyt, and belt. Ane chesable of grene dammess samyn, parouris of burd Alexander, and the belt, alb, and amit. Ane chesable of Ane uthir auld chesable of quhite silk, and the thrid chesable of auld Ane stole and fannone. Ane new prent mess buke, ane auld. Ane buke of mes buke of prent. Three pair of towellis with thre frontellis. Ane pend of with ane frontell thairat of reid dammess. Ane pend of pirne sating under the tabernakle Three coddis of auld pirne silk. Ane corporale with ane cass; four gret chandillaris for the precatiss, and four for the heress; four precatiss. Ane crewet. Ane pig for wyne. [Ane hingand] chandillar of brass; ane uthir of trene work. Ane vaie pend at the alter. Ane [siluer chandillar] gilt. Twa new torches and tua auld. Ane spoun of siluer, and chandillaris in Johne Smetonis hand, as yit one deliuerit."

The point of precedency between the burghs of Perth and Dundee was long contested, and after appearing to be settled it was opened up again. In the volume now referred to, a decreet in favour of the claims of Perth is recorded, and in a later one is entered a missive from James VI., addressed to the Earl Marischal, on the same subject:—"We greit you weill. It is oure will, and we command you, that ye place the commissioners of our burgh of Perth in the second place, and nixt the commissioners of our brugh of Edinburgh the hail tyme of this Parliament, and in tyme cuming that thai may have the prioritie, first rank, place, and wote, befor the commissionaris of Dundee, according to thair and decreet of our hail burrowis gewin thairanent, as ye will answer to us [&c.]. Subscryuit with our hand at Holyrudhous, the penult day of Maii 1594."

Minute of the Convention of Burghs held at Perth, 21 June 1582, settling the above question of priority in favour of Perth over Dundee, to which the signatures of all the commissioners are attached.

JOHN STUART.

CIRCULAR OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMISSION.

CIRCULAR
OF THE
SECRETARY
OF THE COMMISSION.

HISTORICAL MANUSCRIPTS COMMISSION.

Rolls House, Chancery Lane.

Her Majesty has been pleased to appoint under Her Sign Manual certain Commissioners to ascertain what MSS. are extant in the collections of private persons and in institutions, which are calculated to throw light upon subjects connected with the Civil, Ecclesiastical, Literary, or Scientific history of this country. A copy of the Commission is inclosed, which will best explain the object Her Majesty has in view.

The Commissioners think it probable that you may feel an interest in this object, and be willing to assist in the attainment of it, and with that view they desire me to lay before you an outline of the course which they propose to follow.

If any nobleman or gentleman express his willingness to submit any paper or collection of papers within his possession or power to the examination of the Commissioners, they will cause an inspection to be made by some competent person, upon the information derived from whom the Commissioners will make a private report to the owner on the general nature of the papers in his collection, such report will not be made public without the owner's consent, but a copy of it will be deposited and preserved in the Public Record Office, to which no person will be allowed to have access without the consent of the owner of the papers reported on.

Where the papers are not mere insulated documents, but form a collection which appears to be of Literary or Historical value, a chronological list or brief calendar will be drawn up, and a copy thereof presented to the owner, and to no other person without his consent, but the original of such calendar will be deposited for preservation in the Public Record Office, to which no person will be allowed to have access without the consent of the owner of such collection.

The Commissioners will also, if so requested, give their advice as to the best means of repairing and preserving any papers or MSS. which may be in a state of decay, and are of Historical or Literary value.

To avoid any possible apprehension that the examination of papers by the Commissioners may extend to or include any title deeds or legal documents, I have to call your attention to the fact that nothing of a private character or relating to the titles of existing owners is to be divulged, and to assure you that positive instructions will be given to every person who examines the MSS. that if in the course of his examination any title deeds or other documents of a private character chance to come before him, they are to be instantly put aside, and are not to be reported on or calendared under any pretence whatever.

The object of the Commission is solely the discovery of unknown Historical and Literary materials, and in all their proceedings the Commissioners will direct their attention to that object exclusively.

In no instance will any MSS. be removed from the owner's residence without his request or consent, but if for convenience any MSS. be intrusted to the Commissioners, they will be deposited in the Public Record Office, and be treated with the same care as if they formed part of the Public Muniments, and will be returned to the owner at any time specified by him.

The costs of inspections, reports, and calendars, and the conveyance of documents, will be defrayed at the public expense without any charge to owners.

The Commissioners will feel much obliged if you will communicate to them the names of any gentlemen who may be able and willing to assist in obtaining the objects for which this Commission has been issued.

I have the honour to be,

Your obedient servant,
JOHN ROMILLY,
Secretary.

CIRCULAR OF THE
SECRETARY
OF THE COMMISSION.

LONDON:

Printed by GEORGE E. EYRE and WILLIAM SPOTTISWOODE
Printers to the Queen's most Excellent Majesty.
For Her Majesty's Stationery Office.

F I F T H R E P O R T

OF

THE ROYAL COMMISSION

ON

HISTORICAL MANUSCRIPTS.

PART II.

I N D E X.

Presented to both Houses of Parliament by Command of Her Majesty.

L O N D O N :
PRINTED BY GEORGE EDWARD EYRE AND WILLIAM SPOTTISWOODE, PRINTERS TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.
FOR HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE.

1876.

[C.—1432.—I.] Price 3s. 6d.

INDEX TO FIFTH REPORT.

A.

- A. B. C., liber dictus; 334 bis.
 Aas, John, of Idenne; 518.
 Abbatt:
 Mr.; 573.
 John; 572.
 Abbenessi, Richard de; 336.
 Abbetot, Osbert de; 302.
 Abbeville; 147.
 letter dated at; 476.
 Marquis of, 1688; 198.
 Abbey Berry, Devon; 572.
 Abbeys:
 and other religious houses, lands of, taken by Henry VIII., may be held by dispensation, 1554; 312.
 alien, holding English benefices; 427.
 foreign; ib.
 Abbodesbury, abbot of; 577.
 Abbot:
 John, mayor of Melcombe Regis; 578.
 William, of Swetheart; 650. See Abot.
 Abbots; 452.
 "English-French," 1660; 195.
 signatures of; 450.
 professions of obedience made by; 452.
 Abbotshall; 610.
 Abbotsham, Devon; 122.
 Abbotsley, Huntingdon; 126.
 Abbotts, Edward; 26.
 Abden, Mr.; 7.
 Abdick Hundred, Somerset; 131 ovs.
 Abduction; 416.
 capital punishment for; 380.
 Abdy, Nicholas; 95.
 Abedetock, Geoffrey de; 302.
 Aber Allow:
 alias Aberlaw, fishery in; 417, 418.
 collections concerning; 417.
 "wellays and hamlett of land" in; ib. See Aberlaw.
 Aberbrothock:
 abbot of, Henry; 624.
 — Gilbert; 629.
 commendator of the monastery of 631. See Arbroath.
 Aberbuthnot:
 David, of that ilk; 630.
 Robert, of that ilk; ib. See Abirbuthnot; Arbuthnot.
 Abercorn, barony of; 612.
 Abercromby:
 David, of Petelpie; 653.
 George, of Petmethane; 631.
 James, volume by; 216.
 R. (burgess of Edinburgh), letter from; 261.
 See Abircromby.
 Aberdalgay, Abirdalgay:
 barony of; 622.
 Lord of, Sir John Olyfaunt, Knight; 622.
 Laurance Lord Oliphant of; 655.
 Aberdeen; 54, 235, 462, 610, 620, 627, 628, 629 bis, 640, 653. politics of; 627.
 charters dated at; 608, 609, 612, 627, 630, 646.
 alderman and baillies of; 646.
 burgesses of; 608, 609, 629, 630, 646.
 burgh of; 655.
 — seal of the; 646.
 cathedral church of, canon of; 608.
 — chanter of the; ib.
 constable of; ib.
 court-house of the burgh of; 630.
 King's College; 627.
 — professor of divinity at, office of; xx, 628.
 market cross of; 631.
 provost of; 609 bis.
 provost and magistrates of, letters from the; 609.
 St. Nicholas, church of; 631, 644.
 — altar in the church of; 646.
 — chaplainry in the church of; 646.
 sheriff of the burgh of; 630.
 University of; 609.
 — chancellor of the, William Bishop of Aberdeen, 1506; 621.
 Bishop of, seal of the, 1362; 646.
 — Gilbert, chancellor of Scotland, 1415; 608.
 38757.
- Aberdeen—cont.
 Bishop of, 1482; 626.
 — William, chancellor of the University of Aberdeen, and conservator and preceptor of the house of St. Germans, charter of, 1506; 621.
 — Gawane, 1526; 639.
 — 1558; 640.
 — Patrick Forbes, died 1635; 627.
 dean of, 1552; 640.
 dean and chapter of, 1558; 640.
 archdeacon of, Thomas of Tynningham, 1415; 608.
 canon of, Sir Alexander Yong, 1457; 627.
 diocese of; 640.
 sheriff of; 646.
 sheriff principal of, 1667; 645.
 sheriffship of, principal; 645.
 sheriff depute of; 630 bis.
 sheriffdom of; 631.
 shire of; 608, 609, 610.
 — estates in the; 645.
 county of, election for the, 1752; 627 bis.
 — M.P. for the; 627.
 — description of the hills, glens, and passes in the; 628.
 Aberdeen, Earl of:
 report on the MSS. of the; vi, xix, 608.
 first, Lord Chancellor of Scotland, letters to the; 608, 609.
 — accounts of the, 1682-4; 609.
 — letter from the, 1683; 617.
 William; 644.
 Aberdour, Lord, letter from, 1752; 627.
 Aberewane, William Fonlartone of; 608.
 Aberffrydion, Montgomeryshire; 423.
 Abergeveny; 361. See Bargany, Lord.
 Aberlaw, co. Anglesey, township of; 415. See Aber Allow.
 Abernethy, collegiate church of, canon of the; 621.
 Aberuwane in Strathern, lands of; 608.
 Abingdon:
 division, Berks; 120.
 parish, Berks; ib.
 St. Mary of; 322.
 abbot of; 450.
 — John, signature of; 430. See Abyndone.
 Abingdon, Major; 254.
 Abington, co. Berks; 368.
 Abington, Earl of:
 1706; 364.
 [temp. Geo. I.]; 189.
 Abirbuthnot, Abirbuthnocht, Abirbuthnochth:
 parish of; 638.
 kirk of; ib.
 parson of; ib.
 Philip of; 629. See Aberbuthnot.
 Abircromby:
 John de; 626.
 (or Abircrommy), William of; 621, 624. See Abercromby.
 Abirdalgie; 655. See Aberdalgay.
 Abirnithy, Willelmum de, militem, donatio per; 613.
 Abjuration; 619.
 of the kingdom; 530.
 the, 1702; 618.
 oath of; 153.
 oaths of, 1702; 590.
 Abjurers, 1660; 199.
 Able men, from the age of 16 to 60, to be enrolled, 1626; 581.
 Ablyn, Jacob; 98.
 Abot, Richard; 582.
 Abotteslonde, Robert de; 508.
 Aboyne, Viscount:
 1643; 84, 93, 94.
 Charles, sons of, 1681; 654.
 Abraham:
 Nicholas; 578.
 Richard; 602.
 Abray, William; 490.
 Absolution; 305.
 from the guilt of apostacy; 335.
 fees for; 368.
 Abystate, Agnes de; 561.
 Abyndone:
 abbey of, proctor of the; 477.
 men of; ib. See Abingdon.
 Aby, co. Linc.; 128.
 Academy, notes upon private art collections and an, by Lord Lansdowne, 1785; 258.
 Acazy, Albubery, son of Sacharia; 334.

- Acchecumbe, over against Olepenne, land in; 336.
 Accidentals, being and essence of; 334.
 Accidents, collection of, 1578-88; 262.
 Accountants:
 standing orders transmitted to the several public, 1685; 258.
 minute concerning the Bill against, 1597; 294.
 Accounts; 335, 352, 419, 437, 441, 443, 444, 450, 482, 489, 516, 551, 567, 568, 578, 580, 585, 589, 598, 608, 617.
 for copying petitions, orders, &c., of the House of Lords, 1641-42; 6.
 bailiffs; 332. See Bailiffs.
 bursars, 13th cent.; 335. See Bursars.
 cellarers', 13th and 14th cent.; 335.
 Commission of, to consist of nine members of the House of Commons; 256.
 Commissioners of; ib.
 — 1782; 257.
 — first six reports of the, 1782; ib.
 — Secretary to the, letter from the, 1783; ib.
 corporation; 533.
 ministers' [temp. Hen. VII.]; 331.
 public; 258.
 — for the year 1692; 259.
 — various, 1749-51; 260.
 — 1750-59; ib.
 — from 1754-60; ib.
 private; 398.
 rolls of, 14th cent.; 370.
 Accrington, Lanc.; 127.
 Acdenne, William, son of Thomas; 513, 514.
 Acharny, lands of; 612.
 Achart, Andrew, parson of Spersholt; 478.
 Acheene:
 letters relating to, 1658-60; 360.
 Queen of, and her neighbouring kings, Dutch wars with the, 1658-60; ib.
 Achmutie, . . . ; 316.
 Achnawchtane, John de Haya de, Knight; 626.
 Achterles, Achterless:
 barony of; 630.
 David Dempster of; ib. See Ochterlese, Uchtirless.
 Achtertyre, . . . , prisoner; 619. See Auchtertyre, Ochter-tyre, Uchtertyre.
 Achynell, John of; 614.
 Achyneve, Lord of, Thomas de Melgdrum; 645.
 Ackcliffe. See Aycliffe.
 Ackton (Agkton), York; 134.
 Aclyfe, John de, prior of Coldingham; 647.
 Aemunist; 341.
 Acourt, Mr.; 360.
 Acre, den of; 513.
 Acred, Mr., letter to; 53.
 Aeroche, Robert; 495.
 Act:
 of 18 & 14 Car. II.; 297. to enable His Majesty to conclude a peace or truce with certain colonies in N. America, 1782; 242.
 Acton, house near; 47.
 Acton rode, near Tiburne; 385.
 Acton, alias Ackaton, near Sudbury, Suffolk, parish of; 471.
 Acton, Sir Thomas, letter from; 265.
 Actors, 1749; 359.
 women; 158.
 Actune, John de; 337.
 Adair:
 Alexander, letter to; 238.
 J.; 225.
 Adam:
 the berewarde; 551.
 Clement; 515.
 John; 551.
 John, of Lydd; 524.
 John, Esq.; 529.
 John, M.P., 1412-13; 538.
 John, bearward; 550.
 Nicholas; 423.
 Stephen; 513, 533, 534, 535.
 William, letter to; 256.
 Adamant, H.M.S.; 239.
 Adams; 256.
 alderman; 167, 173.
 Mr.; 242, 255.
 — account of what passed between Mr. Diggs and; 242.
 John; 240, 242, 252.
 — letters from; 240, 252.
 — letter to; 240.
 Samuel; 251.
 Thomas, letter from; 277.
 Till, Mr.; 324.
 William, and his wife and children; 87.
 Adamson, George, letter from; 645.
 Adequot, Th., examination of; 286.
 Adderbury (Alderbury):
 East, Oxford; 130.
 West, Oxford; ib.
 Adderley, Francis, petitions of; 31.
 Addingham, Cumberland; 122.
 Addington, Bucks; 120.
 Addington, Henry, letter from; 218.
 Addison's Latin poem on the Resurrection, translation of; 340.
 Addestrop, Gloucestershire; 104.
 Address moved in the Peers, 1783; 257.
 Addressing personages of exalted rank, modes of; 489.
 Adelaide, Queen; 328.
 Adelanado, relacio del viaje del, 1597; 292. See Spain, Adelantado of.
 Adeland, lands of; 621.
 Adelphi; 256.
 Adenborough. See Attenborough.
 Adgoor, John, of Mendlesham; 595.
 Adisham, Kent; 126.
 Adlam:
 John, deputy naval officer of Barbadoes, letter from; 246.
 John, letters from; 245.
 Adlington, Cheshire; 7.
 Adlington, Lanc.; 127.
 Adlington, Ann; 119.
 Admand:
 Robert; 529.
 William; ib.
 Admer, John; 564.
 Administration: formation of an, 1779; 209
 letters of; 298, 502.
 — report on, in the plantations, 1707; 228.
 Admiral:
 the, 3, 4 Edw. IV.; 544.
 — 1472; 525.
 — 1473-4; 526. See Cinque Ports, Admiral of the.
 — 1571; 309.
 Lieutenant of the, 14 Hen. IV.; 604. of England, Thomas of Lancaster, temp. Hen. IV. 50
 Lord, 1475; 495.
 — minstrels of the, 1502-3; 549.
 — 1512-3; 550.
 — 1587; 583.
 — 1589; 188.
 — letter to the, 1590; 264.
 — letters from the, 1592; 266.
 — letter from the, 1593; 267, 268.
 — letters to the, 1594; 270, 271.
 — letter from the Queen to the, 1594; 271.
 — letters from and to the, 1595; 274, 275, 276, 278, 279, 280, 281, 286.
 — letters to the, 1596; 283, 285, 286.
 — ships and men under the, 1596; 283.
 — his squadron, 1596; 284.
 — letters from and to the, 1597; 287, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293.
 — 1598; 136.
 — letter to the Earl the, 1600; 362.
 — 1603; 137.
 — 1605; 140.
 — order to the, 1625; 411.
 — or his lieutenant, 1625; 411.
 Lord High, 1641; 349.
 — letters to the, 1641; 349, 351.
 — order to the, 1641-2; 9.
 — order of the Commons for the, to give commissions to merchants to seize ships of rebels of Ireland, 1641-2; 9.
 — relation of forces preparing in France, presented by
 the, 1641-2; 13.
 — 1642; 13, 16, 39, 47.
 — resolution of the Lords that they will support the, 1642; 15.
 — the King's commands to the, 1642; 24.
 — Sir John Pennington appointed, by Charles I., in the room of the Earl of Northumberland, 1642; 33.
 — Earl of Northumberland discharged by the King from being, 1642; 34.
 — order to the, 1643; 117.
 — commissioners for exercising the office of, 1740; 400.
 — power and rights of the; 260.
 Vice; 44.
 — 1593; 343.
 — (of the Earl of Warwick), 1642; 39.
 — Captain Batten, 1642; 58.
 Admiralli Angliæ, ab anno 1307 ad annum 1670; 259.
 Admirals:
 names of the, 1666; 315.
 vice; 413.
 Admiralty; 183.
 quest of the, 1445; 528.
 the, 1474; 528.
 (at Weymouth) clerkship and serjeantship of the, 1585;
 582. jurisdiction, 1587; 584.
 relation of the Ambassador of Spain touching his lawsuits in the, (c. 1625?); 411. record of the, 1634; 413.
 and the other courts, matters in dispute between the, 1642; 21.

Admiralty—cont.

- jurisdiction in the plantations, 1730; 229. See Vice-Admiralty Courts.
- the, 1800; 212.
- Black Book of the, copy of the; xi.
- commissioners of the, 1634; 413.
- 1697; 325.
- Court of; 25, 29, 31, 85.
- 1587; 584.
- many causes in the, 1642; 21.
- list of ships and goods condemned in the, 1664–7; 405.
- suit in the; 84.
- fol. vol. labelled; 259.
- jurisdiction of the; 260.
- in North America; 220, 223.
- petition from the judge of the, 1766; 220.
- [in New York?], decree of the, 1781; 238.
- Courts of, jurisdiction of the, in North America; 217.
- (of the Cinque Ports); 139, 494, 517, 518, 537.
- held on the seashore; 493, 516, 520 bis, 521 bis.
- Judge of the; 349.
- 1642; 21, 25.
- Sir Henry Martin (late), 1642; 25.
- Sir Charles Hedges, report of; 228.
- Lords of the, letter to the, 1767; 223.
- Marshal of the High Court of; 39.
- order to the, 1642; 55.
- officers of the; 580.
- statute of the, of 15 Ric. II.; 542.
- Adstock, Bucks; 120.
- Advent, Cornwall; 121.
- Adventurers; 457.
- by sea for the relief of Ireland, propositions concerning, 1642; 18.
- order respecting the subscriptions of the, for the additional forces by sea for Ireland, 1642; 19.
- treasurers of moneys due upon subscriptions of, 1643; 84.
- [for relief of Ireland], 1643; 111, 113.
- See* Ireland; Irish adventurers; Merchants Adventurers.
- Adventurers, the ship; 232.
- Advocate:
 - reports of the, 1764, 230.
 - the Lord (about 1782); 211.
 - letter to the, 1783; 251.
- Adwalton, York; 134.
- Adysone, John; 565.
- Adzell:
 - tenants of; 639.
 - David Lindsay of; ib.
- Ædric, 456.
- Ælfheh, minister; 457.
- Ælfhere, Dux; ib.
- Ælfred, of Wessex, charter of; 437. See Alfred.
- Ælgar:
 - priest named; 447.
 - the priest, Helye the son of; ib.
- Ællwine, presbyter; 457.
- Æthelredus, rex Anglorum, A.D. 963; 453.
- Æthelstan, King, charters of; 437, 456.
- Æthelstan Ætheling, son of Ethelred II., will of, 1015; 426, 456, 459 bis.
- Ætherici, testamentum; 456, 459.
- Aetius, letter from the Britons to; 333.
- Aff Puddle, Dorset; 124.
- Affiliation:
 - orders made on; 571.
 - cases of; 589.
- Afforde, Richard; 553.
- Africa; 230, 242, 244, 652.
- volume of papers relating to the British settlements on the coast of; 248.
- cessions in, 1763; 218.
- British governors in, letters from, 1766; 250.
- official correspondence relating to the coast of, 1767–8; 249.
- gum trade from, 1782; 243.
- coast of; 248.
- west coast of, possessions on the; 252.
- Africa, H.M. ship; 236.
- African:
 - corps, lieutenant of the; 246.
 - merchants, representation of the; 230.
 - pirates on the English coasts, 1636; xix, 582.
 - trade; 243.
 - ships belonging to Liverpool employed in the; 216.
- Afrique, et Traité des Negres; 241.
- Agave, Robert; 504.
- Agazari, Alfonso, F., letter to; 473.
- Agbrigg Wapentake, York; 134.
- Aggregate meeting, the, 1784; 212.
- Aghene (Agen), Thomas of; 522.
- Aghrim, John Newton of, lease to; 267.
- Agincourt, battle of; 539.
- Agitators:
 - factions of Cromwell and the, division in the army between, 1647; 179.
 - proclamation against, 1660; 146.

- Agmodesham, Geoffrey de; 560.
- Agmondesham; 565.
- Agnew:
 - Andrew, of Salchare; 614.
 - Andrew, sheriff of Wigton; 615.
 - Patrick; 614.
- Agod:
 - Henry, and Agatha his wife; 560.
 - Stephen; ib.
- Agodeshalf, Geoffrey; 326.
- Agricultural products, values of; 441.
- Agriculture; 623.
- state of, temp. Edw. III.; 370.
- Ague; 374.
- Agues; 146.
- Agua y Vergari, Juan de, letter from; 288.
- Aguirre y Vergara, John, friar, letters from; 291 bis.
- Aid:
 - to a landlord on the marriage of his eldest daughter; 299.
 - royal, payments of the, 1664; 404.
 - commissioners for the, 1667; ib.
 - See Henry, Prince, son of James I.
 - money, the Prince's, 1612–13; 573.
 - silver; 485.
- Aids:
 - 17th and 18th cent.; 329.
 - royal, 17th cent.; 333.
 - assessments to, 17th cent.; 360.
- Aieth, siege of; 188.
- Aighton Bailey, Lanc.; 127.
- Aikenhead, in the shire of Forres, lands of; 620.
- Aikton, Cumberland; 121.
- Ailmer, Geoffrey; 481. See Aylmer.
- Ailsa, Marquis of, MSS. of the; vi, xix, 613.
- Ainecuria, Gervaise de; 329.
- Ainalie, Sir Robert, letter from and to; 254.
- Ainstable, Cumberland; 122.
- Ainsworth, Lanc.; 127.
- Aird:
 - Greater, march of, perambulation of the; 650.
 - Lesser, march of, perambulation of the; ib.
- Aire (Scotland); 194.
- Aire, Margaret, land of; 647.
- Airey, Dr., Principal of [St.] Edmund Hall, Oxford; 181.
- Airlie, Earl of, 1643; 94.
- Airly, Lord, James VI.; 654.
- Airth:
 - patent, official extract of the, 1790; 682.
 - Earls of; 629.
 - Earl of, letter from the, 1639; 631.
- Airty, John; 595.
- Aisthorpe (Aistropp) cum Thorpe, Linc.; 128.
- Aix, court at; 314.
- Aix-la-Chapelle, treaty of; 215.
- Akeden, William, of Canterbury; 513.
- Akeley, Bucks; 120.
- Akerington [Alkington?], Lanc.; 127.
- Aky, Elias; 326.
- Alabama, river; 217.
- Alabaster:
 - M., letter from; 279.
 - T., letter from; 291.
- Aladensis, Thomas, Episcopus; 450.
- Alan, water of; 619.
- Alan, Cardinal. See Allen.
- Allard:
 - John, son and heir of Robert, of Winchelsea, release by; 509.
 - Justin; 503, 504, 505.
 - Reginald; 503.
 - Robert, son of Robert, of Yhamme, grant by; 510.
 - See* Allard.
- Alayer, in Minorca, University of; 249.
- Alayn:
 - Richard; 520, 606.
 - William; 424.
- Albamara, Walter de; 387.
- Albanians, action between the Vermonteers and, 1782; 234.
- Albano:
 - Bishop of, letter from, 1296; 446.
 - (or Albani) Cardinal; 471 bis.
- Albany; 215, 216.
- county of; 238.
- lieut.-governor in, the Hon. John Waufan, 1701; 215.
- commissioners for Indian affairs in, meetings of the, 1723; 215, 216.
- commissioners at the congress of, 1754; 215 bis.
- post to and from New York, 1766; 225.
- quartermaster general's department at; ib.
- letters dated; 231, 234.
- Albany, Duke of:
 - Robert, 1408; 614.
 - Murdach, charter by, 1422; 633.
 - (c. 1480); 655.
 - William, Admiral of Scotland, 1482; 626.
 - John, Governor of Scotland, letter by, 1514; 639.

- Albemarle, Duke of; 815.
General Monck, 1660; 154, 169, 200, 201.
 1661; 171.
 1667; 404.
Captain-General of all the forces in the three kingdoms, 1660; 155.
 made Lieutenant of Ireland; ib.
 the General, regiment of; 156.
 7,000*l.* a year bestowed by the King on the, 1660; 184.
 the King, Queen, Princess, &c., supping with the, 1660; 200.
 letters from the, 1660; 361.
 guards of the, 1660-1; 201.
 Council letter signed by, 1660-1; 327.
 to be Lord High Constable at the Coronation, 1661; 202. letters from the, 1662; ix, 314, 344.
 ships under the, 1666; 315.
 letters from the, 1666; 315.
 letters from the; 333.
 signature of the, 1668; 422.
 George, died 1669; 300.
 letter from the, 1681; 344.
 1684; 186 bis.
 and his regiment, 1685; 373.
 Lord Lieutenant of Devon, 1685; ib. reasons offered to the, against his going Governor to Jamaica, 1687; xiv, 372. accepted the governorship of Jamaica, 1687; 373 bis.
Albemarle, Duchess of:
 1660; 196.
 the young; 1670; 398.
Albemarle House, letter dated; 344.
 [Albemarle.] See Aubemarle.
Albert, Cardinal:
 letters to, 1597; 288.
 letter from, 1597; 291.
Alberti:
 Liber, de moribus et naturis animalium; 334.
 Tractatus, de plantacionibus arborum et conservacione vini; ib.
Albeville, Marquis of, letters from the, 1688; ix, 319.
Albin, William; 423.
Albius, Thomas, letter from; 465.
Albonic, John; 40.
Albourn, Sussex; 133.
Albus, Simon; 301.
Albyn, Thomas; 481.
Alcester Liberty, Dorset; 125.
Alchymical treatises, 334. See Alkymiz.
Alcock, Robert, signature of; 570.
Alconbury cum Weston, Huntingdon; 126.
Aldbar, James Cramond of; 612.
Aldenham, Herts:
 order for sequestering the living of, 1642; 84.
 petition of inhabitants of; 88.
 petition of the sequestrators of the living of, 1643; 103.
 churchyard of; 87.
 vicar of; 87, 105.
Alderbury, Wilts; 133.
 Hundred, Wilts; ib.
 East and West. See Adderbury.
Alderlegh, Nicholas; 338.
Alderley, Glouc.; 309, 312.
Aldermaston, Berks; 130.
Alderney, Island of, revenues, &c. of the, 1755; 259.
Aldersay, William, the elder, collections by; 339.
Aldersey, Thomas, alderman of Chester; 344.
Aldewic, Walter de; 481.
Aldhous, Thomas; 595.
Aldingbourne (Alinbourne), Sussex; 133.
Aldington (Kent):
 court of; 525, 531.
 manor of; 531, 532.
 letter dated; 446.
Aldithele, Jacobus de; 454.
Aldobrandini, Cardinal, letter to; 476.
Aldose, Robert; 593.
Aldowse, Thomas; 595.
Aldrich, Aldrych:
 Sir John, letters from; 279, 280, 286, 288, 289 ter.
 Stephen; 491.
Aldridge, Stafford; 10, 132.
Aldridge, Mr.; 203.
Aldrinton, grange of; 335.
Aldus, Robert, petition of; 62.
Aldwick Hundred, Sussex; 133.
Aldworth, Berks; 120.
Aldworth, Richard; 367.
Aldy, John; 547.
Ale; 445, 518, 546, 576.
 excise of, granted to Charles II., for life, 1660; 158.
 fines for selling, in cups, &c.; 576.
 breaking the assize as to brewing; 577.
Alebore, Walter de; 601.
Aleburne, Walter de; ib.
Aleburn, William de; ib.
Aleford, Richard de, and Elena his wife; 481.
Alehouse-keepers; 326, 401.
 fines upon; 1592; 267.
Alehouses; 118, 354, 483, 623.
 search in; 166.
 proclamation for suppressing the unnecessary number of, 1599; 343.
 letter of James I. against; ib.
Alendon, or Aledon, R. de, monk; 438.
Aleppo, letters dated; 316.
Alesburye, land about; 151.
Ale-tasters; 370, 578.
Aleway:
 Thomas, searcher of the Port of London; 9, 12.
 — petitions of; 8, 33.
Alexander; 334.
 John, son of; 613.
 Joseph, petition of; 57.
 W., letter from; 256.
 William, Sir; 637.
Alexiano, Theodore; 248.
Aley, John; 564.
 William; 556.
 — mayor of High Wycomb; 557.
Aleyn, Aleyn:
 Henry; 519.
 John; 509.
 — and Margery his wife; 510.
 Richard; 519 bis, 528.
 Robert; 500.
 — clerk; 511.
 Thomas; 495.
 William; 424.
 — and Joan his wife; 424.
 William; 527 bis.
 See Allen, Alleyn.
Aleyor (in Minorca); 248.
Alfarez, letter of the Earl of Essex touching, 1596; 280. See Alvares.
Alford, Linc.; 128.
Alford:
 Lancelot; 332.
 Marm., letter from; 399.
Alfray, Master, of Sussex; 529.
Alfred, King; xv.
 charter of, A.D. 898; 456. See Ælfred.
Algarkirk, Linc.; 127.
Algarve; 363.
Algebra; 209.
Algerine slaves; 379.
Algesiras; 211.
 preparations making at, 1782; 254.
Algiers (Argeire): war between Morocco and; 343.
 Turkish pirates from, 1642; 5, 18.
 captives in, 1642; 72.
 order for collections to be made for the relief of the captives in, 1643; 82.
 redemption of captives out of, 1646-7; 589.
 memorial about war with, 1664; 315.
 French fleet before, 1688; 379.
 French consul at; ib.
 See Argiers.
Alibond, Job; 60 bis.
Alibone, Richard, Sir; 488.
Alicant:
 castles of; 349.
 siege of, 1706; ib.
Alien abbays and ecclesiastics holding English benefices; 427.
 religious foundations, confiscation of the goods of, 1299-1300; 431.
Alienation, without license, pardon for; 416.
Aliens; 525, 585. money of; 519, 521.
 silver; 526.
Alimony; 201.
 order for; 12.
 Bill concerning; 158, 200 bis.
Alington, H., letter from; 293.
Alkerton, Oxford; 130.
Alkington (Akerington), Lanc.; 127.
Alkymiz, liber de spiritu occultate; 334.
Allanson:
 William; 298.
 William, Sir, M.P. for the city of York; 192. See Allinson.
Allard: family of; 503.
 Robert; 510.
 See Alard.
Allardice, Allirdes, Allardes, Allerdess, Allyrdis, Allardyce:
 in Kincardineshire, barony of; xx, 629, 631.
 hall of; 631.
 lands of; 629, 631.
 lands and barony of; 631.
 manor-house of; ib.
 family, of that ilk; 629.
 laird of; 631, 632.

Allardice, &c.—cont.

laird of claim by the, 1703; 632.
 — Amia, sister of the; ib.
 Alexander, chaplain; 646.
 David; 630, bis.
 Elizabeth; 631.
 James; ib.
 — Joneta Betsoun, wife of; 630.
 John of, charter by; 629.
 John, Sir, of that ilk; 629, 632.
 John, of that ilk; 630, 631.
 — and Janet his daughter; 630.
 — and John his son; 631.
 Jonat, wife of Alexander Irwyn, apparent of Drum; ib.
 Robert; ib.
 Robert, apparent of that ilk; ib.
 Thomas; 629.
 — of that ilk; 629, 630.
 Willam; 631.
 Allcock, Mrs. Mary; 464.
 All-de, Edward; 341.
 Allegiance; 15.
 oath of; 58, 130, 131, 247, 300, 351 bis, 352 bis, 468.
 — a new, 1688–9; 376.
 oaths of; 236. See Oaths.
 protestation of, by Catholic priests to Queen Elizabeth, 1602; 468.
 declaration of, to His Majesty, made by the dean and chapter of the Catholic English clergy, 1662; 466.
 Allein, Francis, license signed by; 143.
 Allen:
 Alderman, and his wife; 146.
 (Alan), Cardinal; 465, 467, 474.
 — brief to; 468.
 — protestation by; ib.
 — letters from and to; 467.
 — letter to; 471.
 — history of; 464.
 — oration on his death; ib.
 — epitaph on; 463.
 Dr.; 467.
 — letter of; ib.
 — letter to; ib.
 — president of the English College at Rheims; 468.
 Mr., letters from; 251 bis.
 Signor d', letter to; 261.
 Andrew; 251.
 Arnold; 232.
 F., Sir, letter from; 264.
 Robert; 138.
 Thomas, Captain, soldiers delivered to; 290.
 Thomas, letter from; 470.
 — affidavit of; 92.
 W., letter from; 464.
 William, Dr., grant to; 467.
 — letters from and to; 468.
See Aleyn, Alleyne, Allin, Allyn.
 Allerdale Ward, Cumberland; 121.
 Allerdale-above-Derwent Ward, Cumberland; ib.
 Allerdale-below-Derwent Ward, Cumberland; ib.
 Allerton, York; 134.
 Allerton, North, York; ib.
 Brompton near; ib. See North Allerton.
 Allertonshire:
 Division of, West Riding, York; ib.
 North Division of; ib.
 Alleyne:
 Edward, college at Dulwich founded by; 23.
 Edward, kinsman to the founder of Dulwich College; ib.
 (or Allen) Elias, of the Strand, mathematical instrument maker, petition of; ib.
 John; ib.
See Allen, Aleyn.
 Alleyne, John Gay, Speaker of the House of Assembly of Barbadoes, letter from; 245.
 Allfreton; 400.
 All Hallows, Cumberland; 121.
 Allhampton, Somerset; 132.
 Alliance, project for a Northern; 255.
 Allibone, Judge; 187.
 lying in state; 379.
 Allies, army of the, 1706; 364.
 Allin:
 Richard, letters from; 399, 400.
 Thomas; 587.
 Allington, Dorset; 124.
 Allington, Wilts; 133.
 Allington, East, Devon; 132.
 lord of the manor of; 64.
 Allington [West], Linc.; 127.
 Allington Hall; 46.
 Allington:
 Lord, death of, 1684; 186.
 Sir Giles; 111.
 Hugh, letter from; 265.
 Allinson, Sir William; 108. See Allanson.
 Allirdes. See Allardice.

Allix, Mons.; 375.
 Allman, Richard, affidavit of; 44.
 All Night:
 ancient service or allowance called; 333.
 allowance of, served up in the King's presence chamber; 345.
 Allnutt, H.; 257.
 All Saints (Kent), church of; 437.
 Allyn, Bartelmew, mayor of Weymouth; 585.
 Allyrdis. See Allardice.
 Almanack, by Mr. Partridge; 380.
 Almcestre; 303.
 Almoestria, alias Rutherford, Worcester diocese, monastery of; 303.
 Almer, Dorset; 124.
 Almond, Oliver, letter from; 473.
 Almondbury, York; 134.
 Almonds; 354.
 Alms; 418, 495, 550, 640. license to ask; 608.
 Almsdeeds; 460.
 Almshouses; 556.
 Almsmen; 111, 409.
 Almundestre, Roger de; 336.
 Alno, or De Alneto, family of; 366.
 Alnwick; xi.
 Alogmark, the Bergan of; 405.
 Alow, river of, demises of the fishing of the; 418.
 Alphamstone, Essex; 125.
 Alphington, Devon; 123.
 Alrede, Richard; 515.
 Alredies, Walter, son of Walter the Scot of; 629.
 Alresford; 488.
 Alrethe, or Alreche; 489.
 Alrewas, Stafford; 10, 132.
 Alsace, province of; 144.
 Alse, Thomas; 83.
 petition of; 86.
 Alsopp, Bernard, printer, petitions of; 67, 83.
 Alstoe, hundred of, chief constables of the; 404.
 Alstofts, York; 134. See Altofts.
 Alston, Lanc.; 127.
 Alston, Sir Thomas, high sheriff of Bedfordshire; 40 bis.
 Altar:
 bowing to the; 83.
 grant to an; 646.
 ornaments of an; 655.
 Alte Watyr:
 Thomas; 595.
 — of Stonham Parva; 595.
 Alterennes, William Cecil of; 283, 285. See Haultereinnes.
 Alternon (Altarnum), Cornwall; 121.
 Altham, Lanc.; 127.
 Althorp, Lord, 1782; 210, 211.
 Althorpe, Linc.; 128.
 Altieri, Cardinal, letter from; 317.
 Altofts, York; 272. See Alstofts.
 Alton, Hampshire; 632.
 Alton Pancras, Dorset; 124. liberty of, Dorset; ib.
 Alum, purchase of, for Her Majesty, 1578–97; 292.
 Alune [St. Allen], Cornwall; 121.
 Alured:
 Col., regiment of; 361 bis.
 Robert, son of Master; 335.
 Alvares, letter from; 286. See Alfares.
 Alvediston, Wilts; 134.
 Alverdiscott, Devon; 123.
 Alverthorpe, York; 134.
 Alvescot, Oxford; 130.
 Alveston, letter dated at; 345.
 Alvingham, Linc.; 128.
 Alvington, West, Devon; 122.
 Alwalton, Huntingdon; 126.
 Alwey:
 Edward; 526.
 John; 526, 550.
 Alwington, Devon; 122.
 North Devon, parish of, church books of the; vi, xvi, 597.
 Alworthe, Thomas, of Bristol; 580.
 Alys:
 Ant., letter from; 285.
 Arthur, letter from; 280.
 Alys, John; 495.
 Amadas, Walter; 605.
 — bailiff of Dartmouth; 603.
 Amaric, Tupar, account of the devastation in Peru by; 236.
 Amarle, John; 602.
 Ambassador:
 English (?), letter from the, 1594; 272.
 declaration of the Lords and Commons that they will receive nothing from any foreign, unless directed to one or both Houses, 1643; 114.
 Ambassadors: confined or ordered to depart, 1523–1685; 320.

Ambassadors—cont.

- shameful disorder of subjects in resorting to the houses of foreign, 1626; 411.
- expected from all Princes, 1660; 205.
- Ambergrease seized in Jamaica, 1709; 229.
- Amberley, Sussex; 132.
- Amboina, business of; 196.
- Amboise, letter dated at; 309.
- Ambras, Juan des, letter to; 264.
- Ambreis, Henry; 504.
- Ambreys, John; 509.
- Ambrois, Ralph; 504.
- Ambrose, St., Latin quotations from; 311.
- Ambrosius, Aurelius, succeeded by his brother Uter; 333.
- Ambroys:
 -; 507.
 - Henry, and Agatha his wife; 506. See Aumbroys.
 - J., the younger; 506.
 - John; 503, 506, 507, 508, 509.
 - grant by; 505.
 - son of Stephen, and Stephen his brother; 506.
 - baron of Rye; 508, 509.
 - Ralph; 507, 510.
 - grant by, to Stephen his son and Isabel his daughter; 508.
 - Richard, son of Henry; 505.
 - Stephen; 508, 505.
 - grants by; 506.
 - Thomas; 508.
- Ambroysestone, in the parish of Pleydenne; 512.
- Ameloone, Loughlyn; 351.
- America; 323.
 - account of the discoveries, &c. in; 244.
 - 1492-1670; 244.
 - treaty of neutrality in, 1686-7; 216 bis.
 - Act for reuniting to the Crown the government of the several colonies and plantations in, [1689]; 226.
 - Bill for the better regulation of charter and proprietary governments in, 1705-6; 227.
 - surveyor and auditor general of revenues of the Crown in, 25 Geo. II.; 231.
 - sugar colonies in, importations from H.M., 1757-64; 244.
 - number of slaves sold in, from 1758-64; 216.
 - cessions in, 1763; 218.
 - governors in, circular of the Earl of Egremont to all the, 1763; 222.
 - paper currency in, 1764; 218.
 - Church in, papers relative to the; 227.
 - Church of England in, thoughts upon the present state of the, 1764; ib.
 - plan for securing the future dependence of the provinces on the continent of, 1764; 235.
 - statutes extending to the colonies in, to 4 Geo. III.; 250.
 - H.M. colonies in, list of the governors and other officers in, 1764; 366.
 - illicit trade of, 1765; 218.
 - military establishment of, 1765; 225.
 - riots in, on occasion of the Stamp Act, 1766; 218.
 - Act of Parliament passed in favour of, 1766; 220.
 - disturbances in, 1766; 222.
 - governors in, letter to, 1766; 223.
 - governors on the continent of, circulars to all the, 1766; 223, 224, 226.
 - civil establishment of, 1766; 224.
 - annual expense of the; 226.
 - distribution of H.M. forces in, 1766; 250.
 - British governors in, letters from, 1766; ib.
 - Act granting certain duties in, 1767; 221, 224.
 - Act for quartering of the troops in, [1767]; 226.
 - Court of Admiralty in, 1767; 223.
 - plan for the settlement of the conquered countries in, [1767]; 228.
 - Italian emigration to, 1767; 253.
 - remarks on the present state of, 1767; 218.
 - commissioners of the customs in, memorial of the, 1768; 250.
 - colleges in, scholarships for the, 1769; 235.
 - disturbances in several provinces in, papers relating to, 1774; 233.
 - the late five Acts of Parliament relating to, 1774; 234.
 - rebellion in, papers relating to the, 1775; 235.
 - revolted colonies in, 1776; 254.
 - address to H.M. on the war with; 256.
 - operations against the rebels in, 1777; 233.
 - prisoners to be exchanged in, 1778; 209.
 - impossibility of levying taxes in, 1778; ib.
 - war with, notes on the conduct of the ministry respecting the, chiefly in 1780; 256.
 - evacuation of H.M. garrisons in, 1782; 236.
 - proceedings of the leaders of the rebellion in, 1782; 238.
 - naval affairs in, 1782; ib.
 - state of, 1782; ib.
 - proposal for independence of, 1782; ib.
 - provincial corps in, 1782; ib.
 - people of, desire to be at peace with Great Britain, 1782; 239.

America—cont.

- persons of note with the people of; 242.
- memoranda from Mr. Digges relative to treating for peace with, 1782; ib.
- Lord North's propositions to the French ministers for them to abandon, 1782; ib.
- independence of; ib.
- connexion of, with France, 1782; ib.
- schemes relative to, 1782; 250.
- plans for pacification of, 1782; 250, 251.
- proposal for a commercial intercourse between England and America through Amsterdam, 1782; 251.
- French affairs in, 1782; 258.
- French commerce with, 1782; 256.
- British settlements in, 1782; 254.
- dismemberment of, 1782; 257.
- army in, paper relative to victualling the, 1782; 258.
- abandonment of; 212.
- peace with, papers relative to the, 1782; vii, 238, 242, 251.
- negotiations for, 1782-3; 256.
- 1783; 215.
- distribution of troops in, 1783; 238.
- provisional treaty with, 1783; 243.
- propositions with reference to taxes and currency between England and, 1783; 252.
- trade between the West Indies and, 1784; ib.
- account of, 1795; 258.
- captains-general and governors-in-chief in and over our colonies and islands in, orders and instructions to; 215.
- thoughts concerning, by Mr. Hasenclever; 216.
- plan for settling a township in; 217.
- colonies in, papers relating to the; ib.
- superintendents in; 218.
- preservation of H.M. timber in; ib.
- Crown officers in; ib.
- officers of H.M. ships in; 232.
- people of; 233, 236.
- North; 217, 245.
- lakes in; 217. See Lakes.
- army in; ib.
- paper currency of; ib.
- jurisdiction of the Courts of Admiralty in; ib.
- chief engineer of; 218.
- troops in; 218 bis.
- quitrents of; 219.
- grants of lands in; 222. See Crown lands.
- salaries of judges in; ib.
- estimate of the expenses of the King's barracks in; 225.
- commissary muster master's office in; ib.
- brigadier-general's department for the northern district in; ib.
- assistant deputy quartermaster-general's department in the northern district in; ib.
- expenses for provisions for H.M. troops in; ib.
- southern provinces of; 237.
- account of H.M.'s duty of 4½ per cent. in, for 39 years, from 1721-60; 226.
- state of the colonies in, 1754; 215, 218.
- papers and proposals relative to, from 1754-67; 216.
- governors in, letter to the, 1757; 226.
- observations relating to, 1761; 217.
- settlement of, after the peace, 1763; 231.
- list of civil officers employed in, 1766; 216.
- disturbances in, 1766; 222.
- governors of, circular to the, 1766; 223.
- distribution of H.M. forces in, 1766; 226.
- plan of forts and garrisons proposed for the security of; ib.
- memorial of the merchants trading to; 232.
- memorial of the merchants, &c. interested in the trade to, before 1766; 251 bis.
- H.M. forces in, 1767; 218.
- charges in, 1767; ib.
- settling of Greeks skilled in the culture of silk in, 1767; 222.
- governors in, circulars to, 1767; 224.
- establishment of the forts, staff garrisons, &c. in, 1767; 22.
- contingent charges in, 1767; ib.
- grants of lands in, 1767; ib.
- remarks on the state of the forts, ports, and communications in, 1767; 238.
- deputy commissaries in, 1767; 230.
- governors on the continent of, circular to all, 1768; 250.
- imports from, to the British West India Islands, 1771-3; 244.
- imports to the British sugar-colonies from, 1771-3; 244.
- fleet for, 1778; 209.
- danger of our army and fleet in, 1778; ib.
- Mr. D'Estaing's expedition to, 1778; ib.
- French fleet to proceed to, 1781; 237.
- southern army in, 1781; ib.

America—cont.

- North, state of H.M. forces serving in, 1781; 237.
 - remarks relative to, and the forts in the King's possession, 1782; 234.
 - propositions for the employment of H.M. forces in [1782]; 235.
 - list of transports serving in, 1782; 238.
 - information respecting the revolted and loyal colonies of, 1782; 243.
 - treaty, provisional, between Great Britain and, 1782; 241.
 - South, limits of the Spanish and Portuguese settlements in, 1701-65; 244.
 - propositions relative to, 1781; 246.
 - affairs in, 1782; 255.
 - letters relative to; 253.
 - Spanish dominions in; 215, 236, 252.
 - Spanish, discoveries relative to, 1782; 251.
- American:
- account current, with its vouchers, 1781; 235.
 - affairs, 1765-83; 232.
 - 1766-83; 215.
 - papers relating to, 1766-9; 249.
 - papers chiefly relating to, 1782-4; 250.
 - 1783; 243.
 - 1793; 252.
 - army; 238, 251.
 - and English armies, operations of the, 1777; 252.
 - Assembly, issuing writs for choosing representatives for an, 1748; 230. See Assembly.
 - Assemblies, Acts of, the suspending clause in; 226.
 - reports of Acts of, 18th cent.; 227.
 - Colonies, early history of the; 215.
 - and West India Islands, prohibitory Act on the trade between, 1650; 250.
 - volume containing an examination of the Acts of Parliament relative to the trade and the government of the, 1752; 216.
 - lists of the King's officers in the, 1764; 362.
 - Lord North's view with regard to the, 1778; vii, 136, 209.
 - desire of the, for independence, 1782; 235.
 - projected division in the, 1782; 251.
 - list of civil and naval officers in the; 236.
 - North; 218.
 - commerce, 1767; 250.
 - 1782; 251.
 - and finance, 1782; 256.
 - Commission, Secretary to the; 242.
 - Commissioners, commissions to treat with the, 1782; 240.
 - minutes of conversation with the, 1782; ib.
 - letters to and from the, 1782; ib.
 - articles agreed on with the, 1782; ib. bis.
 - Congress; 256.
 - account of the composition and character of the, 1782; 256.
 - congresses, continental and provincial, 1774; 233.
 - correspondence, abstract of, 1765 to 1767; 226.
 - custom-house, draught of a Bill for an; 217.
 - draughts, 1766-7; 222.
 - expenses, both military and civil, Accounts of, volume endorsed; 225.
 - gentleman, letter from an, 1776; 252.
 - Government, 1782; 251.
 - monetary affairs of the, 1782; 238.
 - governors, letters from, 1766-7; 218, 221, 250.
 - petition by the late, 1783; 236.
 - letters from, 1783; 235, 236.
 - Independence; 252 bis., 253, 255, 256.
 - papers relating to, 1782; 251.
 - leaders; 239.
 - proceedings of the, 1782; 238.
 - levies in the King's service, 1781; 237.
 - loyalists; 235, 236, 238, 239, 250, 251.
 - declaration of the Board of Directors of Associated, 1780; 236.
 - conduct of the, since Lord Cornwallis's surrender, 1782; 236.
 - proposition to dispose of the, 1782; 236.
 - claims of, 1782; ib.
 - demands of the, 1782; 237.
 - suffering, 1782; 251.
 - terms to be given to the, 1782; 256.
 - petition from the agents of the, 1783; 235.
 - memoranda about the, 1784; 252.
 - 1785; ib.
 - merchants, report of a committee of, 1782; 236.
 - committee of, letter from the, 1782; ib.
 - military chest; 239.
 - money; 251.
 - papers relative to, 1783; 238.
 - contractors' agents; 239.
 - money, considerations on the nature of; ib.
 - Mutiny Act; 226, 227, 249, 250.
 - newspapers, contents of, 1782-3; 239.
 - papers, volumes labelled, 1686-1766, 1705-1724; 215.
 - miscellaneous, 1770 to 1793; 252.

38757.

American—cont.

- police; 237.
 - prisoners; 237, 238.
 - in England, 1781-2; 242.
 - in Ireland, 1782; 255.
 - provinces, the; 238. See Provinces, Provincials.
 - refugees; 239.
 - revenue; 226.
 - articles of; ib.
 - rulers, 1782; 243.
 - Stamp Act, repeal of the [1767]; 226.
 - sufferers, who receive allowances from the Treasury, list of, 1782; 236.
 - salaries or pensions to, 1782; 251.
 - cases of, 1783; 236.
 - taxation, 1774; 253.
 - trade, 1767; 250.
 - war, the; 252.
 - notes on the, 1780; 256.
 - 1782; 253.
 - plan for prosecuting the, 1782; 235.
 - North, language, book on some; 297.
 - merchants, meeting of the committee of the, 1766; 218.
 - petition of the, in favour of the paper currency, 1767; 222.
 - advice of the, 1767; 230.
 - ships; 255.
 - trade, before 1766; 251 bis.
- Americans:
- the; 236, 243.
 - 1774; 234.
 - refusal of the Canadians to act offensively against the, 1775; 233.
 - treatment of the, by the English Government, 1775; 234.
 - feeling of the, towards Great Britain, 1776; 234.
 - leading characters among the, 1780; 256.
 - remarks on the Commissioners' proposals to the; ib.
 - North; 255.
- Amery:
- John; 425.
 - Richard, and Thomas his son, and Agnes his mother; 513.
- Ames, —, one of the sheriffs of Lincoln, King's warrant for the arrest of; 36. See Amis.
- Amesbury, Wilts; 133.
- Hundred, Wilts; ib.
 - manor of, customs of the; 310.
- Amethyst, an oriental; 169.
- Amherst:
- Lord, letter from, 1782; 234.
 - Sir Jeffrey, observations of; 218.
 - letters from; 217, 218.
- Amherst, Fort, in St. John's Island; 225.
- Amias, Sir; 137.
- Amiens; 166.
 - letters dated at; 135, 146.
- Amis, —; 319. See Ames, Amys.
- Ammunition; 36, 69, 84, 93, 94, 105, 106, 107, 113, 117, 162, 191, 297, 356, 619.
 - ship from Holland with, 1642; 35.
 - to be sent from France to Ireland, 1642; 40.
 - order for issuing; 51.
 - for Ireland; 56.
 - search for, 1643; 101.
 - warrant for levying money to provide; 422.
- Amois (in China), journal (written) at; 365.
- Amounderness Hundred, Lancashire; 126.
- Amphill, Bedford:
- petition in behalf of the inhabitants of; 19.
 - parson of; 19.
 - letter dated at; 309.
- Amsterdam; 63, 164, 176, 581.
 - nouvelles de la part des Comptoirs d', 1596; 285.
 - Admiralty of, petition of the, 1641-2; 13.
 - Charles II. at; 207.
 - will not acknowledge the young Prince of Orange, 1654; 144.
 - besieged by Count Wm. Nassau, 1654; 397.
 - earthquake at, 1692; 383.
 - proposal for a commercial intercourse between England and America through, 1782; 251.
 - letters dated at; 313, 323.
 - bank at; 192.
 - the Charity of (ship); 405.
 - Greek and Russian Church at; 323.
- Amwagh, minister and churchwardens of; 418.
- Amyce, Israel; 322.
- Amyota, tenement called; 554.
- Amys, Richard; 595. See Amis.
- Anabaptist preachers; 110.
- Anabaptistical meetings; 404.
- Anabaptists; 44, 170, 181 bis.
- Anagni:
- Gregory of; 428.
 - John of; 439.
- Ancher, Master; 495. See Angere, Auchier, Auger.
- Ancherville; 309.
- Anchona, Johannes de, treatises of; 484.

- Anchorage; 647.
 duty of Minorca; 248.
 Ancona; 366.
 Andait, lands of; 609.
 Andalusia; 364.
 Andate, Aberdeen; 609. See Andait, Andyt.
 Andeley, manor of (? in France); 461.
 Anderby, Liuc.; 128.
 Anderson, Dorset; 124.
 Anderson:
 Ld., letter from, 1595; 275.
 . . . ; 482.
 Adam, in Langformacus; 649.
 Archibald, of Bournemouth; 622.
 D., letter from; 266.
 David, Sir, chaplain; 622.
 Edmund, Sir, letter from; 276.
 Francis, sheriff of Newcastle, letter from; 34.
 H., letter from; 266.
 Henry, Sir, letters from; 107, 108.
 — his wife and children; 107.
 — — her daughter, Hotham; ib.
 — son of; ib.
 — paper found upon; 115.
 James, letter from; 235.
 James, Father; 654.
 John, vicar of Glenluce; 615.
 Michael; 86.
 Michael, burgess of Dundee; 621.
 Patrick, Father; 653 bis.
 W., agreement with, touching perfection of a medicine; 261.
 — letter from; 271.
 Anderton, Lanc.; 127.
 Anderton:
 . . . ; 574.
 . . . , printer, execution of; 384.
 Hugh, letter from; 346.
 James, letters from; 282, 285.
 Andomar, English college at; 654.
 Andover, inhabitants of; 19.
 Andowe, Thomas; 350.
 Andresdell, Thomas; 563.
 Andreson, Adrian, engineer; 569.
 Andrew, Andrewe, Andreu:
 . . . , esquire of the (King's) body; 150.
 Bartholomew; 509.
 Benedict; 514.
 Edmund, of Winchilsea, son of John; 503.
 Gervase; ib.
 John, of Thanet (Tenet); 524.
 John, bailiff of the liberty of the Abbot of Battle; 529.
 Oliver, and John his brother; 66.
 Richard; 561.
 Richard, son of Thomas, and Joan his wife; ib.
 Richard, alias Morgan; 594.
 Stephen; 497, 509, 511.
 — and Joan his wife; 510, 511.
 Stephen, son of Stephen, of Winchilsea; 509.
 — grant by; ib.
 Thomas; 561.
 William; 391.
 — letter to; 387.
 Andrews, Andrewes:
 Captain, company of; 73.
 L., Dr., letter from; 291.
 Lady; 488.
 Matthew, Captain; 81.
 Thomas, sheriff of London; 56.
 William, Sir, Bart.; 487, 488 bis.
 — his daughter, Mrs. Anne; 488.
 Andyt, lands of; 608. See Andate.
 Anecdotes; 364, 366.
 Aneresdelle, Anersdelle, Thomas; 562, 563.
 Angel, the, ship of the King of Spain; 25, 29.
 Anger, John, of Pendersyng, Essex; 595.
 Angere, Master; 495. See Anchere, Auger.
 Angers, faculty of, letter from the; 466.
 Angersleigh, Somerset; 132.
 Anglesey, island and county of; 406, 414, 416, 419, 420, 422 quater, 423.
 message from the Commons for the Earl of Bridgewater to deliver in the papers he has about the, 1642; 16.
 tenants of farms in; 405.
 lands in; 415.
 documents illustrative of social life and public affairs in the county of, 17th cent.; ib.
 collections relative to; 417.
 the King's lands in, purchased by the Londoners, 1628; 418.
 resolutions to be adopted by the gentlemen of; 420.
 taxation of, for maintenance of Parliamentary forces; ib.
 petition of the gentry, commons, and inhabitants of the; 421.
 troop of horse to be raised in the; 422.
 schedules of assessments of taxes in parishes of; 423.
 commissioners of array for the, letter from the; 420.
 commissioners of assessments in the, 1668; 422.
 deputy lieutenants of, warrant by, 1619; 417.
 — warrant by, 1621; 418.
 Anglesey, island and county of—cont.
 deputy lieutenants of, 1666; 422 bis.
 — warrants by, 1678; 422.
 — lieutenant of, 1703; 423.
 gentlemen of; ib.
 — letters from and to; 421.
 governor of the island of, Lord Byron; 421.
 sheriff of, writs to the, 1586–8; 415 bis.
 — commission for the, 1608; 416.
 — 1622; 418.
 — and others of the, writ to the, 1643; 420.
 — John Griffith, writ to; 415.
 high sheriffs of, burdens laid on the; 423.
 court of great session of the county of; 415.
 great sessions for; 419.
 — 1643; 420.
 — fine levied in the court of, at Beaumaris, 1611; 417.
 — chief justices of the, 1610; 416.
 — justices of the; 422.
 trained bands in the, 17th cent.; xii, 416.
 Anglesey, Earl of; 190, 330.
 discourses by the; 366.
 1660; 151.
 Lord Valentia to be, 1660–1; ib.
 letters from, beginning of 18th cent.; 188.
 1715; 189.
 [temp. Geo. I.]; ib.
 Anglezarke (Anlesarghe), Lanc.; 127.
 Anglicus, Robertus; 451.
 Anglo-Saxon fragments; 312. See Saxon.
 Anglois, Sir Philippe; 296.
 Angmering, Sussex; 132.
 Angus; 632, 636, 641.
 militia of; 625.
 county of, description of the hills, glens, and passes in the;
 628. ministry of; 636.
 superintendent of; xxi, 633, 634, 635, 640, 641.
 Earl of, William Douglas, 1425; 612.
 — bond by the, 1444; ib.
 — 1528; 308.
 — 1582; 311.
 — 1584; 214.
 Countess of, Marion charter to, 1457; 614.
 Anhalt, Prince of, Christian, letter from, 1642; 18.
 Anhalt Dessau, Prince of, three letters from the, 1785; 258.
 Animalium, Liber Alberti de moribus et naturis; 334.
 Anite, John; 510.
 Anjou:
 Count of, Henry, 1150; 452.
 Earl of; 301.
 Duke of; 158 bis.
 — ordem de batalha do exercito chamado dos das coroas mandado pelo Senhor Duque de A.; 364.
 — Francis Valois, commission to treat for marriage with,
 with the articles of contract, 1581; 406.
 — brother of the King of France, 1658; 167.
 — 1660–1; 169, 184, 199, 201.
 — match between Princess Henrietta Maria and the, 1660;
 157, 169, 170, 174, 175, 195, 196, 200, 202, 207.
 — rumour of Princess Henrietta being privately married to the, 1660; 194.
 — 1706; 348, 349.
 Anlaby, town of; 191.
 Annaks, of Nortoun; 611.
 Annand, Annande:
 David, of Ochterellone; 609.
 Thomas, of Ochterellon; ib.
 Annandale:
 justiciar of; 650.
 stewartry of; ib.
 Lord, Andrew, Chancellor of Scotland, 1470; 630.
 Lord of, Duke of Albany, 1482; 626.
 Earl of, Act for apprehension of the, 1643; 92.
 Marquis of, 1722; 189.
 Annapolis, in Maryland; 215, 239.
 deputies appointed by the several counties of Maryland at, 1774; 235.
 letters dated at; 221, 224, 225.
 Anne, Queen of Richard II., anniversary of; 449.
 Anne, Queen of Richard III.; 496 bis.
 minstrels of; 527, 547.
 Anne [Boleyn?], Queen; 496.
 letter from; 294, 296.
 Anne of Denmark, Queen of James I.; 312.
 Sir Peter Young seven times ambassador for making the match between her and James VI.; 65.
 petition of the daughter of Fowler, secretary to; 74.
 her creditors; 355.
 1601; 622. her chamber at Holyrood; ib.
See Denmark, Princess of; Scotland, Queen of.
 Anne, Lady, 1660; 178.
 Anne, Princess of Denmark; 652. children of; 575. See Denmark, Princess of.
 Anne, Queen; 187, 188, 190, 320, 617, 618, 635. coronation of; 575.

- Anne, Queen—cont.
description of the happy coronation of, 1702; 366.
establishment (of the household) of, 1702; 258.
commission of, 1703; 227.
money for; 329.
refusal to pray for; 638.
memorial to; 643.
death of; 613.
- An[ue]sley, Notts; 129.
- Annesley, Stafford; 132.
- Annesley:
Arthur, President of the Council of State; 361. See Anseley.
Bryan, letter from; 267.
- Anniversaries; 303.
- Anointing of Charles I.; 411.
- Anon Alow, fishery in the river and water called; 417.
- Anseley, —, of the Privy Council; 184. See Annesley.
- Ansell, Mr.; 24 bis.
- Anselm, letters from and to; 308.
- Anselmus:
de Similitudinibus; 484.
Ferario; 334.
- Anspach troops (for N. America), 1781; 237.
- Anstey, Warwick; 133.
- Anstey, East, Devon; 123.
West, Devon; ib.
- Anstruther; 649.
- Anstruther, Governor; 249.
- Antechamber, the (King's); 199.
- Antelope, the, [H.M.S.]; 39.
- Antelope "packet," the; 254.
- Anthems; 568.
- Anthonus, Christ., letter from; 290.
- Anthony:
... , letter to; 265.
Edward, receiver of the county of Devon, orders to; 41, 42.
- Anthorpe, Linc.; 128.
- Antichrist; 310.
- Antigua:
court of Chancery in, report on the erecting a, by Act of Assembly, 1705; 228.
defenceless state of, 1782; 245.
state of H.M. troops at the island of, 1782; 246 bis.
intended attack on, 1782; 246.
President of, 1781; 235.
letters dated; 246.
- Antioch, Patriarch of, Nectarius Protosyncellus to the, 1763; 323.
- Antiquaries, Society of, letter touching the, 1766; 359.
- Antiques; 253.
- Antonellas, Batista, description of Panama by; 277.
- Antonianus, Silvius, letter to; 478.
- Antonio, Franc., letter from; 271.
- Antonius, Cardinal, papal receipt by; 647.
- Antony, the (ship); 526.
master of the; ib.
- Antony, James, letter from; 293.
- Antrim, Earl of:
and his brother, 1641-2; 6.
and the Lady Duchess of Bucks his wife, petition of the creditors of the, 1641-2; ib.
1642; 52. order for the, to be committed to the castle of Carrickfergus, 1642; 30.
1643; 84, 89, 93.
plot of the, 1643; 93.
examination of the, 1643; 93, 94.
escape of the, from Carrickfergus, 1643; 93.
1660; 168.
taken prisoner, 1660; 298.
letter from the, 1701; 617.
his "Bro. San.;" ib.
- Antrobus, George:
letter from; 399.
daughter of; ib.
- Antwerp; 165, 465, 472. conferences at, 1578, 1592; 214.
advertisements from, 1595; 274.
conferences at, in 1737-8-9; 628.
letters dated at; 7, 315.
- Anwick, John, his defence of the Bp. of St. David's; 267.
- Anwykyl, John, master of Magdalen College School, Oxford; 360.
- Ap David, Hoell Ap Jennr; 415.
- Ap Ethell, Owen, of Merrowe, co. Anglesey; ib.
- Ap Evan, Owen, and his son; 419.
- Ap Gruf, John Ap Jenner; 415.
- Ap Hoell, Ap Hoelle:
David Ap Madoch Ap David; 415.
Ithell; ib.
Res Ap Madoch Ap David; ib.
- Ap Howel, Ap Howell:
Edward Ap William, of Gwesany, co. Flint; 417.
John Ap Rees, grant to; 418.
Rees; 419.
- Ap Hugh, John; 417.
- Ap Jennr:
John; 415.
William; 420.
- Ap Jenr, Rowland Owen Ap Hugh; 418.
- Ap John of Roskolin, Hugh Ap Robert; 416.
- Ap Llein, Lewis Gruffith, of Tre Ednyved, co. Anglesey; 417.
- Ap Llwyn, Llwyn Ap Rees Ap Tudder; 416.
- Ap Mathewe, Rees, of Llangeinwen, co. Anglesey; 419.
- Ap Moris, William Ap Evan, of Eskiviog; 418.
- Ap Morys, Syr Jones, rector of the church of St. Hilary, co. Anglesey; 415.
- Ap Owen, David; 418.
- Ap Rees, Ap Rea:
Jane verch Gruffith, daughter of Gruffith; 417.
Griffin Ap Hughe Ap; 415.
Gruffith Ap Rees Ap David, of Soughtyn, co. Flint; 417.
William Ap David, alias Conwey; 415.
- Ap Robert:
Hugh; 417.
— of Rythin; 418.
Owen; 417.
William; 418.
- Ap Roberts, Evan; 422.
- Ap William:
Gruffith Ap Edward, of Gwesany; 417.
Hugh; 405.
Parrie Ap John, mason; 419.
Robert Ap William; ib.
- Aphorisms; 364.
- Apin or Appin (rebel, 1715); 619.
- Apleby, . . . , matters concerning; 269.
- Apley; 170.
- Apollonia, Cape, in Africa:
conduct of the Dutch with respect to, 1767; 222.
claim of the Dutch with respect to, 1767; 230.
- Apostacy, absolution from the guilt of; 335.
- Apostolic See, appeal to the, 1463; 591.
- Apostolic, letters; xiii 446.
- Apothecaries; 347.
- Apothecary:
Charles I's; 61.
bill of an; 441.
- Apothecary's stuffs for the use of Charles I.; 61.
- Apparel:
17th cent.; 389, 398, 412.
proclamation touching, 1597; 290.
inventory of; 362.
- Apparition, an; 384.
- Apparitors; 139, 430, 438, 597.
- Appeal: to the King; 432.
to Rome; 430 bis, 431, 432 591.
- Appeals:
speech on the subject of, 1675; 318.
from decrees given in the plantations, 1717; 229.
from courts in plantations; 228.
from the plantations to the King in Council, 1754; 230.
instructions relative to, 1753; ib.
- Appin. See Apin.
- Appleby, Westmerland:
sheriff of; ix, 329.
St. Lawrence; 133.
St. Michael; ib.
- Appleby, Linc.; 128.
- Appledore, Apuldore, Apoldre, Apildowre, Appuldore, &c., Kent; 490, 493, 494, 509, 519, 521, 523, 525, 528, 532, 536, 545 bis, 546, 548 bis, 550, 554. banners of; 548.
creek; 553.
shewers of the play of; 524.
vicar of; 493.
- Appledore, Devon; 373.
- Appledram, Sussex; 133.
- Appleford, Berks; 120.
- Applethorp, Notts; 129.
- Appleton, Berks; 120.
- Appleton, six miles from York; 193.
- Appleyard, —; 482.
- Appraiser; 429.
- Apprentice:
an; 65.
a run-away; 529.
- Apprentices; 88, 181.
1653; 192, 350.
(at Westminster); 4. that enlist as soldiers, order for securing, against their masters, 1642; 56.
See London.
- Apprenticeship:
terms of; 543.
indentures of; 571.
enrolments of; 576.
- Apprenticeships enrolled; 586.
- Aprimal, Sr. Fr., letter to; 266.
- Apsley, H., letter from; 292.

- Apulreflet ; 540.
 Aqua vitæ ; 294.
 Aquaviva, . . . , letter to ; 274.
 Aqueduct :
 the assurers about the, 1642 ; 22.
 patent of the ; ib.
 money raised for the ; 92.
 at Canterbury ; 428.
 Aquila, Don Juan de ; 136, 137.
 letter from, 1594 ; 271.
 Aquinas, Thomas, works of ; 484.
 Ar, burgh of ; 613.
 Arabella, Princess, despatch of, to Durham ; 471.
 Arabic :
 work, treatise compiled from a Latin translation of an ; 334.
 numerals ; 448.
 Arabs of Bussora ; 254.
 Aragon ; 364.
 crown of ; ib.
 Aramaic ; 367.
 Aranda, Comte d' ; 241. offers by, in treating for a peace ; ib.
 letters from and to ; ib.
 Arbiters ; 609.
 Arbitration ; 303, 538.
 Arbitrators ; 455, 607.
 award of ; 439.
 Arbroath ; 636, 640.
 fortress of Redcastle near ; 634.
 abbacy of ; 640.
 abbot of, bond under the seal of the, 1279 ; 462.
 — 1588 ; 640. See Aberbrothock.
 Arbury, Lanc. ; 127.
 Arbuthnot :
 kirk of ; 631.
 parsonage and vicarage of ; 640.
 parson of ; ib.
 of that ilk ; 632.
 . . . ; 364.
 Dr. ; 625.
 Vice-Admiral ; 237. See Aberbuthnot.
 Arcadians, the ; 220.
 Archæological letters, 1749 ; 359.
 Archbishop and bishops under censure, petition on behalf of the, 1691 ; 319.
 Archbishop's household, rules for the regulation of an, 13th cent. ; 440.
 Archbishops, bishops, &c. :
 title to the Act for abolishing, 1642-3 ; 69.
 lands of ; 106.
 Archbould, Mr., his kinswoman ; 142.
 Archdeacon, Mr. T., 1594 ; 138.
 Archdeacon :
 memoranda by an, of offences, 13th cent. ; 437.
 visitation of an ; 573.
 Archdeacons, Catholic, in England ; 472. instructions for ; ib.
 Archduke :
 passage to the, on H.M. service, 1605 ; 312.
 list of Lord Hartford's company to the, 1605 ; xi, 407.
 the, 1614 ; 140.
 the [17th cent.] ; 197.
 Archer :
 Mr. ; 392.
 Richard le, bailiff of High Wycombe ; 561.
 Robert, of Winchelsea, and Margery his wife ; 507.
 Susan, widow ; 329.
 Thomas le ; 337.
 William ; 360.
 — Esq., of Cooper Sale, near Epping, letters to ; 364.
 Archers :
 1490-1 ; 548.
 Scotch ; 622.
 Archery, commission of array for levying soldiers to practise, 1577 ; 570.
 Arches, Court of ; 557.
 Archileus, the philosopher, Liber de corporibus et spiritibus, by ; 334.
 Archillar, Enarratio ; 334.
 Archpriest (Catholic) :
 letters from the, 471.
 the ; 476.
 letter to the, 1610 ; 476.
 letters from the, 1611 ; 470.
 — 1612 ; 476 bis.
 and his twelve assistants, 1619 ; 468.
 Archpriests, Catholic ; 469.
 Ardagh :
 tithes and lands of the see of, 1641-2 ; 12.
 Bishop of, cause against the, 1641-2 ; 6.
 — John, petitions of, 1641-2, 1643 ; 12, 85, 97.
 — petition against the, 1642 ; 28.
 — suit against the, 1642-3 ; 86, 79, 85.
 — cause between Sir Thomas Cary and the, 1642 ; 40.
 — payment to the, 1643 ; 78.
 Ardagh—cont.
 Bishop of, application from the, 1643 ; 78.
 — his answer to a petition, 1643 ; ib.
 — his wife, 1643 ; 97.
 Ardarne, Richard, and Matilda his wife ; 337.
 Ardbrennan, Ardbrennan, Westmeath ; 605 bis.
 Arden, Sir Pepper ; 211.
 Ardenburgh, Egidius de, prior de Thrulegh, alienigena ; 427.
 Ardendracht, Sir Gilbert Hay of, Knight ; 631.
 Arderne, Robert ; 47.
 Ardfer, Bishop of, Thomas Fulwar, D.D., petition of, 1642 ; ib.
 Ardgrane, lands of, in Buchan, in the shire of Aberdeen ; 629 bis, 630.
 Ardinge, Peter ; 503.
 Ardkinglas, Campbell of, letters from ; 618.
 Ardoch ; 619.
 Ardsley (Ardslaw), East, York ; 134.
 Ardsley, West (Westardly), alias Woodkirk (Woodchurch, York ; ib.
 Ardstenchere, Alexander Kennedy of ; 614.
 Ardstyncher, Gilbert Kennedy, son of Alexander, of ; ib.
 Ardwick, Lanc. ; 127.
 Areley, co. Stafford, manor of ; 295.
 Arembeginus, Ricardus Baro, legatus Scotorum Regis Landini, 1591 ; 264.
 Aremburg, Marquis d', discours de la prise du, 1594 ; 273.
 Arensene, lands of ; 614.
 Areskine, Alexander, Sir, letter from ; 625.
 Arewe, co. Warwick ; 303.
 Argenterati, letter dated ; 311.
 Argeth, lands of ; 608.
 Argiers ; 815.
 enterprise upon, 1661 ; 160. See Algiers.
 Argoll, Captain ; 341.
 Argyll, Argyle :
 shire of ; 617.
 Earl of, Colin, 1470 ; 630.
 W., signature of, 1559 ; 309.
 Earl of, 1580 ; 640.
 Marquis of, retreat of the, from the King and Parliament, 1641 ; 351.
 Earl of, army of the, 1645 ; 645.
 — protestation of the, 1647 ; 172.
 — Hamilton and the, enemies, 1647 ; 173.
 — 1651 ; 645.
 — confined, 1659-60 ; 194.
 — 1660 ; 201.
 — ship in which he was sent towards Scotland, cast away, 1660 ; 158.
 — said to be cast away going for Scotland, 1660 ; 201.
 — taken prisoner, 1660 ; 298.
 — charged with high treason, 1660-1 ; 170.
 — plea of, before the Parliament in Scotland, this petition to the King, 1661 ; 159.
 — condemned to be hanged in Scotland, 1661 ; 160 bis, 203.
 — warrant for the execution of the, 1661 ; 203.
 — "the great traitor," execution of, 1661 ; 171 bis, 175.
 — plot of the, 1685 ; 374.
 — 1690 ; 381.
 — a son or near relative to the, 1690 ; 380.
 Lord, 1701 ; 617.
 Duke of, requested to assume the duties of ambassador and of commander of forces in Spain, 1711 ; 625.
 — petition to the, 1712 ; 248.
 — John, letters from, commencing in 1712 ; xix, 618.
 — letter to the, 1713 ; xx, 632.
 — 1715 ; 618 bis.
 — Archibald, third, 1744-5 ; 638.
 — letter from, 1753 ; ib.
 Duchess of, letters from the, 1712-14 ; 618.
 Arington, near Hungerford, letter dated at ; 318.
 Aristotle :
 metaphysics from ; 304.
 commentary on his treatise on generation and corruption ; 405.
 Arithmetic ; 209, 210, 368, 369. See Arythmetice.
 Ark, the, H.M.S. ; 304.
 Arke, Robert, Med. Professor, certificate by ; 95.
 Arlecdon, Cumberland ; 121.
 Arley ; 147.
 Arley, Warwick ; 183.
 Arlington, Devon ; 123.
 Arlington, Earl of : order signed by the ; 321.
 letter to the, 16— ; 330.
 correspondence of Lord Sandwich with the, 1664 seq. ; 244.
 1665 ; 315.
 letter to the, 1665 ; ib.
 letter signed by the, 1666 ; ib.
 1667 ; 404.
 licence counter-signed by the, 1672 ; 347.
 letter from the, 1672 ; 197.
 letter to the, 1672 ; ib.
 letter to the, 1673 ; 358.

Arlington, Earl of—cont.
 letters from the, 1674; 316.
 defence of the, before the House of Commons, 1679; ib.
 letter from the, 1685; 344.
 — (temp. Jas. II.); 333.
 Arlington Street, letter dated; 245.
 Armachanus [Fitz-Ralph] de Quæstionibus; 484.
 Armada [for invasion of England], 1695-6; 325.
 Armagh:
 purchase of land in; 398.
 Archbishop of, J.; ix, 313.
 — Ja., letter by, 1627; 312.
 — James [Usher], certificate by, 1642; 17.
 — order for payment of 200*l.* to the, 1642; 56.
 — pass for trunks, &c., of the, to Oxford, 1642; 57.
 — 1643; 297. See Usher
 — Plunket, 1679; 318.
 McGrahan, Roman Catholic Abp. of, letter from, 1591; 265.
 Armesby, William, of Hadle, Suffolk; 513.
 Armeston, James, Esq., letter from; 398.
 Armies:
 disbanding of the, resolutions concerning the, 1642-3; 73.
 — Charles I.'s message concerning the, 1643; 81.
 — paper from the Committee concerning the, 1643; ib.
 on both sides, 1643; 85, 100.
 Parliamentary, order for officers in the, to declare their approbation of the Covenant, 1643; 106. committee to advise with the Lord General for the speedy advancing of the, 1643; 109.
 propositions for disbanding the, 1643; 115.
 (Parliamentary) in the North, 1643; 116.
 of the Commonwealth, maintenance of the, 1653; 422.
 American and English, operations of the, 1777; 252.
 the allied, failure of, 1792; 213.
See Army.
 Armin; 193.
 Armitage, Stafford; 132.
 Armitage, York; 134.
 Armorer, Sir Nicholas, letters to; 357. See Armourer.
 Armour; 138 bis, 181, 287, 290 bis, 339, 548, 580.
 and coat money for soldiers, 1587; 137.
 account of; 569.
 church; xvii, 572, 573.
 mail, 1511-12; 550.
 dressers; 7.
 Armourer, Cuthbert, and his sons, misdemeanours by; 287.
See Armorer.
 Arms; 28, 36, 55, 68, 73, 90, 94, 99, 104, 111, 113, 117, 118, 119, 139, 297 ter, 298, 315, 346, 356, 550.
 summons to a man who refused to bring his; 297.
 and ammunition, seizure of; 344.
 cessment for, for the service of a trained band; 417.
 persons charged with, 1621; 418.
 cessment for the providing of; 420.
 charged upon a hundred; 422.
 inventory of; 445.
 brought from Ireland to France, 1642; 33.
 resolutions respecting the buying of, 1642; 36.
 searches for, 1642; 43, 46, 47. order to search for, 1642; 43. order for seizing, 1642; 52.
 orders touching, 1642; 53.
 commissaries to enrol and value, 1642; 58.
 order for payment of money to provide; 60. taken from disaffected persons in the North (by the Royalists), 1642-3; 69.
 seizure of, 1642-3; 70.
 ordinance to seize, 1642-3; 74.
 belonging to the Parliament, order for marking the, 1642
 -3; 77.
 search for, 1643; 101, 103.
 foreign, imported; 111.
 proof of; ib.
 people's names who carried (in Scotland); 610.
 depositions, &c. concerning (in Scotland); ib.
 law and practice of; 366.
 blazoned; 339.
 tricked; 340.
 drawings of; ib.
 cognizances, and crests, usurped; 344.
 and pedigrees of the ancient nobility of Britain; 366.
 of families of different counties, names and blazon of, by Samuel Todde; ib. of peers; 366 bis.
 coats of; 365, 366, 367.
 — of the nobility and gentry, 15th cent.; 367.
 coat of, papers relative to the right to a; 418.
 Royal; 351, 367.
 Arms, Office of:
 in the City of London, letter dated; 344.
 next Doctor's Commons; 418. See Herald's College.
 Armstrong:
 . . . ; 642.
 Archibald, petition of; 50.
 — cause between the Dean of York and; 56.
 Captain, and 27 officers, order for payment of 1,000*l.* to; 24.
 John, license to, to do services in Scotland; 282.

Armstrong—cont.
 Thomas, Sir; 186, 325, 342.
 — execution of; 186.
 Armstrongs; 641.
 Army:
 waggons and horses for the, 1591; 266.
 account, in French, 1594; 273.
 Lord General of the English, Earl of Essex, sonnet to the, 1596; 287.
 papers, relative to captains, officers, and troops, 1596; ib.
 English, at Cadiz, 1596; 304.
 remembrances touching the, 1597; 294.
 to be disbanded, 16—; 330.
 a standing, names of persons who voted for a, (no date); 414.
 abuses in the supply of drugs for the; 347.
 the, 1640; 331.
 not yet disbanded, 1641; 141.
 at Oatlands, 1641; 351.
 the, 1642; 162.
 treasurers of the, order to issue money to the, 1642; 46.
 list of officers and soldiers enlisted in Aug. 1642 in the Earl of Stamford's regiment; ib.
 order for compulsory contributions to the support of the, 1642; 58.
 ordinance for the better provision of victuals and other necessaries for the, 1642; ib.
 the King's, 1642; 60, 66. order for the assessment of the several counties for the support of the, 1642; 60.
 H.M., payment for fish for, 1642; 61.
 in Ireland, 1642; 346.
 commissary of the, 1642; 352.
 Parliamentary, Papists in the, 1642-3; 67. of Lord Fairfax, the, 1642-3; ib.
 the King's, Papists in, 1642-3; ib.
 in Devon, expenses of the, 1642-3; 68.
 necessaries for the, 1642-3; 75.
 Parliamentary, ordinance for raising money for the maintenance of the, 1642-3; ib.
 His Majesty's, 1642-3; 77.
 — Provost Marshal General of; ib.
 ordinance of Parliament for sequestering the estates of delinquents for the use of the, 1643; 79.
 the King's answer about disbanding the, 1643; 80.
 message from the House of Lords touching the state of the,
 1643; ib.
 the King's message in answer to the request of the committees about disbanding the, 1643; ib.
 under Sir Wm. Waller and Sir Arthur Haselrigg, order touching money advanced for support of the, 1643; 82.
 the King's, 1643; 83, 96 bis. order to redress the abuses in taking horses for supply of
 the, 1643; 85.
 resolutions of the Commons concerning the, 1643; ib.
 assessment for support of the, 1643; ib.
 ordinance appointing additional committees for raising money for the maintenance of the, 1643; 88. contribution to the support of the, 1643; 89.
 in Ireland, rate imposed by the Irish Council for relief of
 the, 1643; 90.
 Catholic, in England, 1643; 93.
 H.M., under the Earl of Newcastle's command, 1643; 95.
 raised by the Parliament, 1643; 103. committee for advance of money and other necessaries for
 the, 1643; 111.
 order for a conference respecting recruiting the, 1643; 116.
 money advanced for supply of the; ib.
 committee of the Lords and Commons for the, letter from
 the, [1646-7]; 421.
 commissioners for raising the monthly assessment for the,
 [1646-7]; ib.
 committee of the, for the supply of disbanding money for North Wales, 1647; ib.
 censure of the, 1647; 151.
 declaration of the, 1647; 172.
 government of the; ib.
 the, 1647; 173.
 officers of the, 1647; ib.
 proposals of the, 1647; ib.
 underhand treaties between the officers of the, and Charles I.; ib.
 the, demand their arrears before they disband, 1647; 179.
 disbanding of the, 1647; 179.
 good correspondence between H.M. and the, and between them and the City, 1647; ib.
 division in the, between Cromwell's and the agitators' factions, 1647; ib.
 petition of an officer in the name of the, to Charles I., with His Majesty's reply, 1647; 414.
 English, 1648; 649.
 payment of the, 1649; 180.
 receipts for horses for the, 1649; 298.
 Royal, diary of the doings of the, during the civil war; 362, 367.
 in Rutland, order by General H. Ireton to the; 403.
 English, 1650-1; 649.
 of the Parliament, 1651; 299.

Army—cont.

officers of the, 1655; 180, 183 bis.
 the, 1657; 162, 164.
 chief commanders in the, 1657; 162.
 Cromwell's speech to all the officers of his, 1657; 177.
 the, 1657-8; 166 bis.
 a remonstrance from the officers of the, desiring that the nation may be governed by a Parliament, 1658; 143.
 officers of the, met to discuss their grievances, after Cromwell's death; vii, 135.
 petition of the, to his Highness Richard Cromwell; 146. soldiers of the, will petition for a Parliament, 1658; ib.
 provision for the, 1658; 171.
 general meeting of all officers of the English, at the chapel at Whitehall, 1658; 172.
 generalship of the, question as to the, 1658; ib.
 officers of the, turned out by the late Protector, 1658; ib.
 — 1658; 173, 300.
 favourable to Richard Cromwell, 1658; 300.
 officers of the, 1659; 193.
 Northern, return of the, to their obedience, 1659-60; 152.
 Lambert's, defection of; 135.
 — disbanding of, 1659-60; 194.
 letter respecting the, at the Restoration; 298.
 doings, letter relative to; ib.
 the, 1660; 144, 153, 206, 207, 314, 361.
 payment of the, 1660; 145.
 officers of the, 1660; 149.
 nine officers voted out of the, 1660; 153.
 the Northern, lately under Lambert, to go into Scotland under Morgan, 1660; 153.
 discontents in the, 1660; 154. money for disbanding the, 1660; 156.
 the, to disband, 1660; ib.
 disbanding of the, 1660; 168, 181, 184, 414.
 commissioners appointed for disbanding the, 1660; 361.
 — letter from, 1660; ib.
 tax for disbanding the remainder of the, 1660; 404.
 arrears of the, 1660; 169.
 by sea and land, disbanding of the, 1660; ib.
 debates about the, 1660; 174.
 regiments of the, 1660; 184, 207.
 the, grumble much at the new colonels, 1660; 194.
 charge of 2,000*l*. a day for the, 1660; 205.
 commanders of the, 1660; 207.
 regiments of Charles II. and the Dukes of York and Gloucester, 1660; 208. corrupting the, 1660; 298.
 of Charles II., commission in the; 360.
 the King's, in pursuit of the rebels, 1685; 373.
 business, 1688; 319.
 part of the, gone towards France, Sept. 1692; 383.
 disbanding of the, 1698 and 1699; 329. register of official letters on the affairs of the, 1701-18; 362, 366.
 the, 1708; 324.
 grand (in the Netherlands), 1709; 188.
 1745; 400.
 Royal, entry of the, into Lancaster, 1745; 401.
 number of men voted, 1776-81; 256.
 observations on officers of high rank in the, having been dismissed without the judgment of a court-martial; 257.
 Scotchmen in the, 1778; 253.
 1782; 258.
 in America; 239.
 — paper relating to victualling the, 1782; 258.
 victuallers, list of, at New York, 1783; 238.
 See Armies; Auxiliaries; Fairfax; Foot; Forces; Horse; Officers; Regiments; Soldiers; Troops.
Armyn, Sir William, letter from; 115.
Armynard, Armynarde, Moses; 548, 549, 550.
Armyne, Euers, justice of the peace; 397.
 — letter to; 396.
Arnauld, letter from; 317.
Arne, island of, revenues, &c. of the, 1755; 259.
Arne, Dorset; 124.
Arney, Henry, petition of; 69.
Arniston, Robert Dundas of, letters from; 627.
Arnold, Notts; 129.
Arnold:
 brigadier general; 236, 287.
 Edmund, citizen and grocer of London, and Katharine his wife; 564.
 General; 237.
 — correspondence of; 252.
 — letters from; 235.
 John; 595.
 — petition of; 63.
 — letters by; 480.
 Lieutenant; 239.
 Nicholas, petition of; 65.
 Robert; 508.
 — mayor of Winchelsea; 509.
 Thomas; 548, 549.
Arnul, Captain; 618.
Arquholze, James Oliphant of; 621.

Arran, Earl of:

letters to the; 308.
 James, letters from; 609.
 letter to the, 1548; 309.
 Regent, diet to be held by the, at Edinburgh, 1544; 635.
 — 1545-6; 640.
 James, governor of Scotland, instructions by, 1547; xx, 651.
 letters from the, 1547; 309.
 James Stewart, 1584; 640.
 letters to the, 1674-5; 357.
 1684; 186.
 [1686]; 187.
 in custody, 1722; 191.
Arras cushions; 569.
 hangings; 45, 48.
Array:
 commission of, 1577; 570.
 commissions of, order to prepare a Bill respecting, 1641-2; 2.
 commission of, from the King, 1642; 30.
 commissions of, 1642; 32, 39, 141, 161 bis, 182.
 — report from the committee appointed to consider of, 1642; 30.
 — the King's proclamation respecting the lawfulness of the, 1642; 30.
 commission of, to Lord Strange and others, 1642; 31 bis.
 commissions of, order to arrest certain Lords for putting them in execution, 1642; 36.
 — joint committee upon, 1642; 40.
 commission of, for co. Chester; 41.
 — declaration concerning the illegality of the, 1642; 42.
 — order against a, 1642; 42.
 commissions of, order for suppressing the, 1642; 43.
 commission of, impeachment for proclaiming the, 1642; 48.
 commissions of, declarations of both Houses touching the illegality of, 1642-3; 67.
 commissioners of, 1642; 32, 48, 49, 135, 141, 183.
 — for co. Leicester, letter to the, 1642; 28.
 — warrant by, 1642; 30.
 — for co. Warwick, one of the, 1642; 47.
 — resolutions at Whitechurch of the, 1642; 142.
 — warrant by, 1642-3; 75.
 — for the county of Chester; 37, 145.
 — in Sussex; 86.
 — for Anglesey; 420.
 See Commissions.
Arrest contrary to privilege; 10, 17, 19 bis, 20 bis, 21, 22, 23, 25, 31, 35, 43, 53, 55, 62, 64, 65, 66, 69, 71, 72, 77, 82, 88, 96 bis, 101, 102, 104, 105, 108, 117.
Arrests, freedom from, for all members of the House of Commons; 203.
Arrows; 462, 494, 495, 552, 622.
Art collections, notes upon private, and an academy, by Lord Lansdowne; 258.
Arthur, Prince, son of Henry VII.: minstrels of; 548, 549 bis.
 players of; 551.
 serjeant of; ib.
Arthur:
 John, Captain, 589 bis.
 — Vice-admiral of Dorset; 587.
 Little; 641.
 Sir; 179. See Haselrig?
 Symon; 601.
Arthur, Cumberland; 122.
Articles of 1571; 319.
Articles. See Thirty-nine Articles.
Artificers; 234.
 prohibited from going out of the realm without licence, 1718; 229.
Artillery; 41, 226, 254, 379, 548, 567.
 train of, in Ireland, 1643; 79, 108.
 train of, 1688; 324. companies; 227.
 Royal, in North America, artificers wanted from England for service of the, 1781; 234.
 — — brigade of, 1782; 234.
 (in Tobago); 246.
Artkin, Charles; 421.
Artoyse, Chattelar in, battle at, 1642; 161.
Arts, Bachelor of, degree of; 369. See Bachelor.
 Master of, degree of; ib.
Arundel, Sussex; 545, 562. curate at; 7.
 Rape of, Sussex; 132.
Arundel House; 202.
 letter dated at; 41.
Arundel, Earl of:
 library of the; 429.
 W., 1213; 430, 454.
 Richard, sheriff of co. Caernarvon, account of, 20 & 21 Edw. III.; 415.
 lieutenant of the, 1353; ib.
 1414-15; 539.
 temp. Hen. VI.; 492, 517.

Arundel, Earl of—cont.

- minstrels of the, temp. Hen. VI.; 491, 520, 521.
temp. Edw. IV.; 494 ter, 495.
pursuivant of the, temp. Edw. IV.; 494.
minstrels of the, temp. Edw. IV. and Ric. III.; 495, 525, 526, 527, 545 bis, 546 bis, 547.
1471-2; 545 bis.
1472; 525.
1472-3; 526, 545.
1478-9; 526.
players of the, 1480-1; 527.
1483-4; 547 bis.
1489-90; 548.
1498-9; 549.
H. Fitz-Alan, signature of, 1555; 485.
letter of the, temp. Eliz.; 218.
Fitz-Alan, letter to; ib.
1589; 262, 263.
letter from the, 1589; 263.
Philip, view of manors, lands, &c. escheated by attainder of, 1589; ib.
lands come to the Crown by attainder of the, 1595; 278.
1616; 409.
letter of petition from the, 1617; xi, 409.
(= and Surrey), order signed by the, 1625; 411.
1626; 412.
letter from the, 1627; 470.
1629; 412.
(= and Surrey), autograph of the, 1638; 402.
— 1640; 1.
armour-dresser to the, 1641-2; 7.
informations respecting words spoken by the, 1641-2; ib.
Philip (late), and Lady Anne his wife, partition made between, and the late Lord William Howard and Lady Elizabeth his wife, 1642; 17.
account of an agent for the, 1642; 41.
licence to the, 1642; 45.
the late, 1642; 51.
(= and Surrey), chests belonging to the, 1642-3; 68.
— Thomas, servant to, petition of, 1643; 78.
— — estates of, 1643; 78, 118.
goods belonging to the, 1643; 96.
petition of the Lords for restoring the, to be Duke of Norfolk, 1660; 155.
attempted restitution of the, to the dukedom of Norfolk, 1660; 178.
- Arundel, Countess of:
minstrel of the, 1519-20; 550.
Anne, letter from, 1589; 262.
letters from the, 1597; 291, 292.
Blanche, Lady, widow, petition of, 1643; 89.
— — children of; ib.
— — her husband's death; ib.
- Arundel, Arrundell:
Mrs., letter from; 292.
John, Sir, protestation of, 1588; 406.
M., Mrs., letter from; 283.
M., Sir, letters from; 265, 266, 278, 279, 281, 286, 289, 290.
— letter to; 290.
Robert de; 504, 505, 506.
Thomas, examination of; 281.
— charge against, 1597; 288.
— letters from; 261, 274, 275, 284, 286, 287, 289, 290, 293, 463.
— letter to; 286.
Thomas, Sir, letters from; 263, 280, 281, 282, 283, 290.
William; 14.
— petitions of; ib, 51, 78.
- Arveling, John, Sir; 630.
Arythmetice, Liber; 334.
As, John; 513.
Asby, Westmerland; 133.
Asby, Robert, minister of Stratford, Suffolk; 307.
Asch; 602.
Ascham, Roger, letter to; 363.
Aschebroke, Aschebrok, Robert, mayor of High Wycombe;
556, 557, 564.
Ascot-under-Whichwood, Oxford; 130.
Ascough:
Sir Ed.; 148.
Henry, and others, petition of; 5. See Ayscough.
Asenan, Finlaus, dominus de Caruchan, charter by; 614.
Ash, Kent; 126.
Ash Priors, Somerset; 131.
Ashampstead, Berks; 120.
Ashbourn; 401.
Ashbrittle, Somerset; 131.
Ashbrook:
Viscount, papers of the family of; 367.
Lady Dowager; ib.
Ashburnham:
.; 173, 178.
Mr.; 151.
— papers taken from; 35.

Ashburnham—cont.

- John; 295.
Ashburton; 282.
(Aysberton); 602.
Ashburton, Lord, draft by, 1783; 258.
Ashbury, Devon; 122.
Ashby, Lincoln; 57.
Ashby-juxta-Fenby, Lincoln; 128.
Ashby Puerorum, Lincoln; ib.
Ashby:
Mr., letter to; 265.
Ashcombe, Devon; 123.
Ashdowne, Sussex:
presentment of the customs of; 304.
Forest; 184.
— presentment of abuses in; 304.
- Ashe:
Mr.; 101.
Ed.; 298, 353.
John; 323, 353.
— order signed by; 143. See Asshe.
- Ashen, Essex; 125.
Ashenden, Capt., letter from; 270. See Asschendene; Assheldene; Ashendene.
Ashes; 79.
Ashfield:
Kirkby in, Notts; 129.
Sutton in; ib.
Ashfield:
Lady, Dorcas; 343.
— Mary; ib.
Richard and Ann; ib.
Sir Richard, Bart., children of; ib.
Ashford, Kent; xvii, 47, 520, 525, 527, 547, 550, 552.
rector of; 430.
vicar of; 430.
commissioners at, 1481-2; 527.
— the King's, 1471-2; 545.
men of, order for the indemnity of the, 1642; 86.
- Ashford, Devon; 122.
Ashford, Middx.; 129.
Ashill, Somerset; 181.
Ashington, Sussex; 133.
Ashistiell, John Murray of; 643.
Ashleworth, assessment for, 1666; 360.
- Ashley:
Lord; 320.
— (Sir Anthony Ashley Cooper) made Chancellor of the Exchequer, 1661; 151.
— 1667; 404.
— signature of, 1668; 422.
— letter to, 1671; 313.
— (first Earl of Shaftesbury) projected writing a history of England; 308.
Mr., letters from; 277 bis, 281.
— letter to; 285.
Anthony, Sir, letters from; 265, 267, 269, 279, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 289, 290, 292, 293.
— signatures of, 1587, 1592; 583.
Captain; 33.
— ship of; ib.
— of (H.M.S.) the "Employment"; 52.
E., letter from; 278.
Jacob, Sir; 3, 162. See Astley.
- Ashmole, Mr.; 487 bis.
Elias; 317.
- Ashmolean Library, MS. in the; 340.
Museum; 309.
- Ashmore, Dorset; 125.
Ashprington, Devon; 122.
Ashreiguy, Devon; 123.
Ashridge, house at; 90.
granary at; 93.
troopers at; ib.
- Ashton, Devon; 123.
Ashton, Lanc.; 127.
Ashton-under-Lyne, Lanc.; 127.
Ashton, Assheton, Asshetone:
.; 482 bis, 573.
., of Welcombe; 573.
Mr.; 320.
John, of Hemel Hempstead, ironmonger, petition of; 27.
Rafe, Sir; 527.
Ralph, letter from; 32.
William, draper; 85.
- Ashurst, Sussex; 133.
- Ashurst:
(Ashton), Mr.; 53.
Mr.; 185.
- Ashwardby, Lincoln; 128.
Ashwater, Devon; 122.
Ashwell, Robert; 86.
Ashworth, Lanc.; 127.
Askerswell, Dorset; 124.

Askew, Askue:

- Dorothy; 297.
 Sir George, made admiral for the Swedes; 172.
Askham, Notts; 129.
Askham, Westmerland; 133.
Aslackby, Lincoln; 128.
Aslaoce Wapentake, Lincoln; ib.
Aslacton, Notts; 129.
Asleghe, John de, Sir, Knight; 604. See Asseleghe.
Aspatia, Cumberland; 121.
Asplin, John; 328.
Assaults; 329.
 fines for; 489, 490.
 penalty for; 607.
Asschendene, Thomas, mayor of the vill of Dartmouth; 425.
 See Assheldene; Asshendene; Ayschedene; Aysshendene.
Asschendone, lands in; 562.
Asse Clyft, prebend of the Abbot of Torre of; 604.
Asseleghe, John de, Knight; 601. See Asleghe, Aysseleghe.
Assemblies:
 unlawful; 4.
 charge of gathering together unlawful and disorderly; 403.
Assembly, House of (North America), 1766; 218. See American.
Assembly of Divines; 54, 93, 99 bis, 100, 105 bis, 109.
 "lay clergy synodical," 1641; 182.
 petition to Charles I. to call an, 1642-3; 67.
 amendments to the ordinance for calling an, 1643; 89.
 for settling the government and liturgy of the Church of England, ordinance for calling an, 1643; 90.
 summons for persons nominated to attend the, 1643; ib.
 alteration in the ordinance for an, 1643; 91.
 order for prayer to be made by all ministers in their churches in behalf of the, 1643; 92.
 to consider of the first ten articles of the Church of England, order for the, 1643; 95.
 protestation to be taken by every member at his first entrance into the, 1643; ib.
 order giving authority to the, to send for papers, 1643; ib.
 Scotch Commissioners' approval of the appointment of the, 1643; 96.
 order for the, to consider of the doctrine of certain of the thirty-nine articles, 1643; 103.
 — to set forth a declaration touching the Covenant, 1643; 105.
 ordinance for the, to consider of a form of church government, 1643; ib.
 to adjourn to the Jerusalem Chamber in the College of Westminster from Henry VII.'s Chapel, order authorising the; 106.
 the Covenant referred to the consideration of the, 1643; 107.
 report of the, 1643; ib.
 Scotch Commissioners to treat with the, 1643; ib.
 answer of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland to the letter of the, 1643; ib.
 committee to join with the committee of the, to meet and treat with the divines of Scotland concerning a form of church government, 1643; 110.
 humble message and petition of the, 1643; 115.
 order for payment of 400*l.* for the necessitous members of the, 1643; 116.
 message and petition of the, to the Commons, 1643; 117.
 at Westminster, for the Reformation of the Church of England, 1643; 414.
 — verses on the (1643); xii, 414.
 — 1646; 589.
 See Synod.
Assenane, Malcolm; 614.
Assendone, Robert; 512.
Assent, the Royal, commissions for giving the, 1642; 5, 6, 7, 12, 13, 18, 29.
Asser, George, fisherman of Barking; 21, 29.
 — petition of; 23.
Assessment; 387. of ship money, 1635-9; 402. ordinance for an, 1642-3; 59, 60, 74, 88. order for the exemption of the members and assistants of both Houses from the, 1642; 60.
 1643; 78, 114, 117.
 for support of the army, 1643; 85.
 the weekly, 1643; 82, 85, 101, 105.
 — ordinance for, 1643; 75, 80, bis.
 — order for adding certain persons to the committees for the several counties for, 1642-3; 77.
 — ordinance for disposing of the houses of those who have gone away and have not paid the, 1643; 103.
 — committee for Bucks for the, 1643; 105.
 for the twentieth part, 1643; 116.
 a certain, not to be drawn into a precedent, 1643; 117.
 made for a contribution to H.M. garrisons, 1645; 297.
 the monthly, commissioners for raising, [1646-7]; 421, 1653; 422.

Assessment—cont.

- 1660; 195.
 Act for, 1660; 207.
Assessments; 106, 116, 829, 333, 401, 421, 623.
 15th cent.; 497.
 16th cent.; 139.
 to poll money, 17th cent.; 360.
 to aids, 17th cent.; ib.
 temp. Car. I.; 402. schedules of; 403.
 documents relating to; 69.
 order touching, 1642-3; 71.
 petitions touching, 1642-3; 73.
 Charles I.'s proclamation forbidding; 75.
 order concerning; 84.
 weekly; 90.
 — ordinance for, [1642-3]; 73.
 — appointment of two persons in each county for gathering the, 1643; 83.
 — committees for, 1643; 87.
 schedules of, temp. Car. II.; 404. schedule of, 1663; ib.
 the monthly, committees for raising (no date); 422.
 of taxes, schedules of; 423.
Assessors; 85, 86 bis.
 or collectors, order for commitment of negligent, 1642-3; 71.
Asshbroke, Robert; 564.
Asshdon, Ralph; 547.
Asshe, William, bailiff of Rye; 512.
Assheldene, Ayscheldone:
 Thomas; 424, 425.
 William; 424.
Asshendene, Thomas; 425, 603. See Asschendene.
Asshwellthorp, Norfolk; 487.
Assiento, the; 215.
 papers, volumes labelled, 1718-48; ib.
Assisa scaccarii; 441 bis.
Assisis, writs de non ponendis in; 345.
Assize of weights, &c.; 368.
Assizes; 327, 345, 348. general, and gaol delivery, Charles I.'s answer concerning the putting off the, 1642-3; 74.
 ordinance for putting off the, 1642-3; 75.
 draft order for adjourning the, 1643; 95.
 the, 1719; 325.
 See Pleas.
Associated counties; 87, 101.
 of Northampton, Leicester, &c.; 68.
 six, 1643; 100 bis.
 — ordinance for raising 20,000 soldiers in, 1643; 102.
 seven, committees appointed for the collection of money in the, 1643; 106.
Association, the (ship); 349.
Association:
 the, 1584; 311.
 letter of Queen Elizabeth and James VI. about the, 1584; ib.
 for the defence of the kingdom, heads of the conference concerning an, 1642; 55.
 (of counties), 1642-3; 70, 347. of counties, ordinances for, 1642-3; 57, 59, 80, 88, 90, 113. See Counties.
 of cos. Stafford and Warwick, 1642-3; 71. of Shropshire with cos. Warwick and Stafford, 1642-3; 72. of certain counties, propositions made for an, 1642-3; 571.
 in defence of the Protestant religion, 1688; 198.
 against the importation of goods (into America), 1769; 235.
 for the defence of the country, 1803; 307.
Associations, Charles I.'s proclamation forbidding; 75 bis.
Astell Grove, lands called; 64.
Astey, Sir Samuel, letter to; 328.
Asthall, Oxford; 130.
Astle's History of Writing; 322.
Astley, Lanc.; 127.
Astley:
 Sir A., letter from; 293.
 Jacob; 569. See Ashley.
Aston Abbots, Bucks; 120.
Aston Tirrold, Berks; ib.
Aston Upthorpe, Berks; ib.
Aston cum Hothersall, Lanc.; 126.
Aston Steeple and Middle, Oxford; 130.
Aston, North, Oxford; ib.
Aston and Purve, Northampton, manor of, grant of the; 267
Aston, Rutland, parish of, assessments for the; 404.
Aston:
 Mr.; 364.
 Ant., letter from; 283.
 R., letter from; 261.
 Richard, Sir, at the Court of Spain, proceedings of, 1624; 463.
 Roger, letters from; 262, 280.
 — letters to; 266.
 Thomas; 141.

Aston—cont.

- Thomas, letters by; 339.
 Thomas, Sir; 32.
 Astrologer; 386.
 Astrological treatises; 334.
 Astronomiā, De; 304.
 Astronomical work; 405.
 — in Greek; ib.
 Astronomy; 368, 369.
 Aswell, William de, of Budestone; 327.
 Aterwelle, Ralph; 504.
 Atevante, William, of Rye, and Margery his wife; 519.
 Atewelle (Fonte), Richard de; 504.
 Atheism; 376, 625.
 Atheists; 376.
 Athelhamptone, Dorset; 125.
 Athelstan. See Æthelstan.
 Athelwold, Bishop; 457.
 Atheray, John de, treasurer of Dunkeld, clerk of the King's Council, notary; 630.
 Atherington, Devon; 123.
 Atherton, Lanc.; 127.
 Athlone, taking of, 1691; 382.
 Athlone, Lord, 1691-2; ib.
 Athol:
 men, the; 619.
 Earl of, John, 1482; 626.
 — poisoning of the, 1579; 635.
 Lord, 1683; 609.
 — pipers of (1682-4); 610.
 Duke; 619.
 Lady, 1579; 635.
 — her portion, 1673; 358.
 Athroes; 610.
 Atie. See Atye.
 Atkins, Atkyns:
 Mr.; 572.
 Alderman, house of; 94.
 C., Mr., examination of; 318.
 Charles, examination of; ib.
 Judge, in the Exchequer; 206.
 Richard; 142.
 Robert, letter from; 328.
 Robert, Sir, the elder; 325.
 Robert, Sir; 348.
 Samuel; 318.
 Sydney, Captain; 63.
 W., Sir; 328.
 Atkinson:
 . . . , a decayed milliner; 8.
 Mr., letter from; 290.
 Anthony, letters from; 267, 271, 274, 284.
 George, notary public; 639.
 Joseph, pass for; 76.
 — H. M. milliner, petition of; 12.
 Ri., of Ripon, proceedings against; 282.
 William; 571.
 Atkyn, William; 572.
 Aton, Johannis de, Apparatus; 484.
 Atson, John; 494.
 Attainder and confiscation of the estates of Ireton, Cromwell, Hewson, &c., Bill of, 1660; 200, 201.
 Atte Bregge, Thomas; 518, 528.
 Atte Gate, Richard; 529.
 Attenborough (Adenborough), Notts; 129.
 Atterbury, (Fr., Bishop of Rochester):
 author of a book against Dr. Wake; 333, 360.
 letters from; ix, 188, 189, 308.
 Atteson, John; 492.
 Attewelle, Juliana, wife of Ralph; 504.
 Attewell, Philip; 577.
 Atte Wode, John, and Elinora his wife; 425.
 Atte Wylle, William; 424.
 Atton, William, letter from; 76.
 Attorney; 119, 445.
 order touching an; 556.
 letters of; 330, 427, 429, 480, 515, 565.
 powers of; 453.
 warrants of; 499.
 Attorney-General:
 letter from the, 1593; 269.
 letters to the, 1595; 276, 277.
 letter from the, 1596; 280.
 — 1597; 290. See Coke. warrant to the, 1631; 355.
 acquitted, 1641; 338, 350. petition of H. M., touching the counsel assigned to him, 1641-2; 10. See Herbert, Sir Edward.
 letter of Charles I. concerning the, 1641-2; 10.
 17 Chas. I.; 344.
 1660; 154.
 opinions of the, 1673-1707; 259.
 1684; 186.
 Earl of Pembroke married to the daughter of the, 1684; ib.
 1685; 327.
 38757.

Attorney-General—cont.

- letter to the, 1686; 328.
 reports of the, 1689-1768; 228, 229, 230.
 report of the, 1724; 243.
 — 1731; 248.
 — 1756; 227.
 — 1764; 231.
 letter from the, 1765; 248.
 reports of the, 1766; 231, 232.
 report of the, 1767; 257.
 opinion of the [1767?]; 217, 226.
 Attorneys; 524.
 bills of; 571.
 letters of; 405.
 Attwood, Thomas, affidavit of; 328.
 Atwell (Fonte), John de; 600. See Attewelle.
 Atwood, Judge, complaints against; 222 bis. See Atte Wode.
 Atye, Atie, Arthur, receiver-general of fines, &c., accounts of; 263, 266.
 — letter from; 274.
 Aubemarle:
 Reginald de; 600.
 Wido de; ib.
 Aubenes, William de; 334.
 Aubigny, Lord, 1660-1; 151. son of, 1660; 155.
 Aubin:
 John; 428.
 William; 599.
 Aubiry, William; ib.
 Aubrey, W., Dr., letters from; 263, 264, 268, 271.
 Auburton. See Edburton.
 Aubyn, John, of Dartmouth; 600.
 Auc, Alexander; 504.
 Auchdregene, lands of; 620.
 Auchier, Henry, of Lossenham, Kent; 515. See Ancher.
 Auchincraw:
 parson of; 646, 648.
 James and William; ib.
 Auchindoir, barony of; 630.
 Auchinleek, John, of that ilk; 614.
 Auchmacoy, Alexander Buchan of; 609.
 Auchmuty, Mr., case of; 220.
 Auchnagatt, in the barony of Kelly, lands of; 609.
 Auchnawys, Lord of, William de Camera; 608.
 Auchneef, Lord of, William of Meldrum, grant by; 646.
 Auchtercoull, barony of; 608.
 Auchterhouse, killed, 1715; 619.
 James Stewart of, brother of James II.; 614.
 Auchtertyre; 622, 623. See Achtertyre.
 Auckborough cum Walcot, Linc.; 128.
 Auckland St. Andrew and townships, Durham; 125.
 Auckland St. Helena, Durham; ib.
 Auckland, Lord:
 letter from, 1792; 213.
 Lord Granville's explanation of an assertion by, 1797; 258.
 Auditor; 84.
 observations by the; 258.
 Auditors:
 letter from the, 1597; 291.
 H.M.; 62, 70.
 certificate by the, 1643; 90.
 of imprest, rules for the; 258.
 — fees payable to the; 260.
 Audley End; 482.
 letter dated; 581.
 Audley, Audeley, Audelay:
 Lord de, temp. Hen. VI.; 493.
 Lord, letter from, 1588; 261.
 — letter from, 1596; 283. See Awdeley.
 Mr.; 396.
 Auger, Denny; 498. See Angere.
 Augmentations, Court of; 440.
 — records in the; 417.
 — auditor of the; 307.
 Augsburg; 366.
 Augusta, Fort; 225.
 Augustine, St.; 461, 497.
 de Similitudinibus; 334.
 canons regular of, rule of; 441.
 grant by Æthelbert to; 448. See Austin.
 Augustini, S., ratio de Anima; 369.
 Augustinianesses at Louvain, convent of; 465.
 Augustinus de Spiritu et Animā; 334. ad Comitem; ib.
 in libro de verbis Domini; 369.
 ad Paulinum; ib.
 in epistola ad Felicem; ib.
 Aukley, Notts; 129.
 Aula, Richard de; 433.
 Auldonburn, Andrew Ker of; 614.
 Aumbroys, Henry, relict of; 506. See Ambroys.
 Aumont, Marshal d'; 147, 181.
 Aunby, Linc.; 127.
 Aunsell, Henry; 368.
 Aurey, William; 504.

- Aurlore, Ralph le; 561.
 Auro Monte, Ralph de; 301.
 Austin, Saint; 555.
 Channonesses Regulier of the order of; 465.
 Austin, . . . , a corporal; 70. See Austyn.
 Austinson, Godfrey, affidavit of; 105.
 Austonley, York; 134.
 Austria; 653.
 Reflexions sur l'alliance de la Russie avec l'Autriche ou avec la Prusse [et] l'Angleterre; 258.
 House of; 194.
 Don John of; 165.
 — soldiers of; 164.
 Austrian:
 armies in the Low Countries, 1792; 218.
 ministers, 1792; 218.
 Austyn:
 John; 505, 506.
 William; 606.
 — and Agatha, his wife; 509. See Austin.
 Autograph signatures; 430.
 Auxiliaries; 167, 185, 203, 204, 420.
 Green Regiment of; 97.
 Avalon, in Newfoundland, petition of Lord Baltimore respecting his claim to a tract of land called, 1754; 230.
 Aveden (?), Joannes, letter from; 272.
 Aveiro family, the; 255.
 Aveland wapentake, Linc.; 127, 128.
 Avelyn, John, citizen of London; 513.
 Average; 531, 532.
 Avere, John; 604.
 Averham, Notts; 130.
 Aveton Gifford, Devon; 122.
 Avicennæ Abycencæ, Epistola de Alkymia; 334.
 Avignon; 144.
 Avisford Hundred, Sussex; 182.
 Avon, Nether, Wilts; 134.
 Avon, the river, Act for making, navigable in the counties of Somerset and Gloucester; 325.
 Award; 308.
 Awbrey:
 . . . ; 211.
 Thomas, chancellor of St. David's; 36.
 — — warrant for arrest of; ib.
 Awdeley, Awdley:
 Mr.; 398.
 James Lord, and Earl of Castlehaven, petition of, 1642; 42.
 Wheatethall, Esq.; 125 note.
 Awirdt, Charles; 368.
 Awliscombe, Devon; 122.
 Axbridge; 598.
 Axe, Mr., legacy by, for discovery of the true longitude; 382.
 Axholme:
 isle of, minister to the poor strangers inhabiting the; 39.
 level of, pastor of the French congregation in the; 119.
 — participants of the; ib.
 Axminster, Devon; 378.
 Axtell, Axtall:
 Colonel, one of Charles I.'s judges; 155 bis, 156, 177, 194.
 — voted to be hanged; 168, 174.
 — excepted out of the Bill of Indemnity; 199.
 — hanged; 157.
 Daniel, execution of; 174.
 — quartered; 175.
 Richard, affidavits of; 87, 108, 105.
 Axton Hundred, Kent; 126.
 Aycliffe (Ackcliffe):
 petition of parishioners of; 20.
 Durham; 125.
 Ayerson, John, information of; 46.
 Aykesbury, meadow of; 337.
 Aylesbury; 31, 561.
 garrison at, 1643; 81, 105, 116.
 committee at, letter from the, 1643; 86.
 living of, impropriation of the; 98.
 letters dated at; 2, 68.
 Aylesbury:
 Lord, Earl Marshal, letter from, 1681; 404.
 Sir Thomas, pass for; 68.
 Aylesby, Linc.; 128.
 Aylesford [Kent]; 46.
 Aylett:
 Dr.; 45, 59, 108.
 — report of; 42.
 — certificate by; 68.
 Jeremy; 104, 105.
 — petition of; 104.
 — and his tenants, order for discharge of; ib.
 Aylewyne, Ayllewyn, Ailwynne, &c.:
 Andrew, clerk; 543.
 — vicar of Lydd; 519, 520.
 James; 518, 519 bis, 520, 522.
 John; 527 bis.
 — wife of; 519.
 Thomas; 521, 522 bis, 523 bis.
 See Eylwyne.
 Ayliffe, M.; 206.
 Aylinge, Joan, of Fittleworth, information of; 276.
 Ayloffe:
 Benjamin, Sir, order respecting; 69.
 — death of his wife; 183.
 G., letters from; ib., 184.
 Guicciardini, letters from; 184, 185.
 William, justice; 368.
 Aylmer, Garrat, examination of; 2.
 — of Balrath, examination of; 11. See Ailmer.
 Aylmore, Robert, miller, petition of; 29.
 Aylworth, John, general receiver; 296.
 Aymes, Winifred, widow, affidavit of; 88.
 Ayncurt, Ralph de; 380.
 Aynstrother, Henry de; 626.
 Aynsworth, John, letters and papers by; 463 bis.
 Ayr:
 alderman of; 614.
 sheriff of; 613.
 shire of; 611. See Ar.
 Ayresland, in the barony of Ratho, lands of; ib.
 Ayschedene, William, mayor (of Dartmouth); 424.
 Ayson, Richard; 621.
 Ayselegh, John de, Sir; 599. See Asselegh.
 Ayssheley, Morgan; 591.
 Aysshendene, Thomas, bailiff; 602. See Aaschendene, &c.
 Ayscough, John, letter from; 138. See Ascough.
 Aytoun, charter dated at; 647.
 Nether, land in; 646, 647.
 Aytoun, Elizabeth, wife of John Halket, of Pitfirren; 622.
 Azevedo, F. d', letter from; 292.
- ## B.
- B., Viscount; 340.
 B., Doctor, one of the King's physicians; 178.
 B., J., letter from; 316.
 B., R., a poor scholar; 868.
 Babb, Babbe:
 cause against; 11.
 v. Trelawney; 25.
 Mr., mayor of St. Alban's; 566, 567.
 — letters to; 567.
 Thomas; 9, 118.
 Babington:
 . . . , a captain under Lord Grey; 109.
 Mr., letter to; 289.
 letters between Queen Mary and; 311.
 Baboon; xviii, 551.
 Babraham, co. Cambridge; 485.
 Baccelli, letter from, to the D. of D. (1782?); 211.
 Baechnus, image of a little, digged up at Chester; 259.
 Baccus, Captain; 298.
 Bachcroft, Thomas, (of Cambridge); 318.
 Bachelor:
 John; 584, 545.
 Walter, of Dartmouth, merchant; 602.
 Bachelor of Arts; 369.
 Latin statute prescribing the books and time of study before the degree of; 368.
 certificate of having taken the degree of; ib.
 Bachiler, John, minister; 75.
 Backhouse, C.; 197.
 Backstead, John, Lieutenant of the Tower, excepted out of the Act of Indemnity; 204.
 Backton, Suffolk; 595.
 Backwell Hall; 349.
 Bacon:
 Justice, 1643; 100, 101.
 — certificate by; 82.
 — chambers and house of; 101.
 Lady (mother of Sir F.), letter from; 271.
 Mr., letter to; 285.
 Anthony; 354.
 — remembrances recommended by, 1596; 286.
 — apology, &c., written to; 363.
 — letters from; 261, 268, 270, 288, 293.
 — letters to; 268, 280.
 Francis; xviii, 566.
 — Sir, Solr.-General; 338.
 — argument by; ib.
 — letter to, 1594; 271.
 — counterfeit letter by, to the Earl of Essex; 362.
 — Earl of Essex to; ib.
 — Lord Keeper, petition to; xi, 409.
 — Chancellor, his letter to the Lords of the Upper House, 1621; 354, 409.
 — Lord, his submission to the House of Lords; 410.
 Luke; 424.
 — bailiff of Clifton Dartmouth; 601.
 Nicholas, Sir, Lord Keeper; 565, 566, 567.
 N.; 226.
 William; 424, 608.
 Baconshayes, Devon; 602.
 Bacoun, Bacoune:
 Walter, sheriff of Devon; 603.

- Bacoun, Bacoune—cont.
 William; 601.
 — mayor of Clifton Dartmouth; ib. See Bakone.
- Bacup (Bacobb), Lanc.; 127.
- Badaios; 364.
- Badbury Hundred, Dorset; 125.
- Badcock, Mr.; 578.
- Badcock, John; 338.
- Baddesley Clinton, co. Warwick; 367.
- Baddinakeith, in the shire of Aberdeen, lands of; 631.
- Baddyng; 491.
 Joan, relict of Richard; 512.
 John; 518.
 — mayor of Rye; 489, 512.
 — bailiff of Rye; ib.
 Richard; 509, 510, 511.
 — mayor of Rye; 497, 510.
 — and Joan his wife, grant by; ib.
- Badealton. See Bathealton.
- Badelsmere, Bartholomew de, and Peter his son; 423.
- Baden:
 Marquis of, Jo. Car., letter from, 1595; 274.
 Prince of, great entertainment for the, 1693-4; 384.
- Badenoch, Ruthven of; 628.
- Badenough, Seigneur de, John Comyn, 1291; 432.
- Badger, Salop; 131.
- Badgers, or greys, payments for killing; 597.
- Badges to be worn by the poor, order for; 556.
- Badgeworth, court roll of; 329.
- Badistone, Nicholas de; 600.
- Badliamere, Kent, parish of; 512.
- Badminton, letters dated at; 324, 348, 414.
- Badmynton, John; 544.
- Badnege, Thomas, Captain; 51.
- Baer, Ro., letter from; 289.
- Bag Enderby, Linc.; 128.
- Bagbier, Nicholas; 98.
- Bagborough, Somerset; 132.
- Bagenell, Bagnall, Bagnell:
 Arthur, inquisition after the death of; 419.
 Griffith, second son of Sir Henry Bagnall; 416.
 Griffith, Esq.; 422.
 Henry, Sir; 416.
 — marshal of Ireland; 419.
 — letter from; 285.
 Nicholas, Sir, of the Newry; 415, 416.
 — lease to; 415.
 Nicholas, son of Arthur, petition of; 419.
- Bager, Thomas; 363.
- Bagford, John, typographical antiquary; xv, 379.
- Bagg, Bagge, Jeremy; 13.
 — glassmaker, petitions of; 19, 23.
- Baggage; 619.
- Baggarley, Humphrey, relation of; 339.
- Bagge:
 George; 585.
 Sir James, son-in-law of; 161.
- Baggeston, cellarer of, account of the; 335.
- Bagglye, John, of Burnham, deposition of; 29.
- Bagilhole, Bagylhole:
 Agnes; 571.
 Alice; ib.
 Henry; 574.
 Thomas; 370.
 William; 571.
- Bagnor, Berks; 120.
- Bagot, Bagott:
 Lord, letter from, 1785; 212.
 M.; 208.
 Har., petition by; 298.
 Her., letters from; ib.
 John, merchant of Bristol; 327.
 Thomas; 526, 546.
 Walter, signature of; 297.
- Bagpipe, the Lancashire; 355.
- Bagshaw:
 Dr., letter from; 469.
 Henry, petition of; 27.
 Mary, petitions of; ib., 36.
 Thomas; 27, 36.
- Bagshot Heath; 380.
- Bahama Islands:
 proprietors of the, forfeited their charter, 1706; 228.
 — surrender of several of the, 1717; 229.
 Governor of the, 1745; 215.
 — 1767; 224.
 — Maxwell, letter from; 245.
- Bail; 111, 112, 324.
- Bailey, Bailly:
 . . . ; 141.
 Dr., president of St. John's College, Oxford; 131.
 Mr., dismissed the Treasury; 620.
 H., examination of; 268.
 James, Captain, order to; 356.
 William; 597. See Balie; Bayley.
- Bailliff; 607.
 business letters by a; 140.
- Baillifs; 195.
 accounts of; 329, 332, 441.
 — from the 12th cent.; 496.
- Baillie, family of; 632.
 Cochrane, A. D. R., Esq., of Lamingtoun, M.P., MSS. of; 632.
 Mr.; 245.
 William, Sir, Knight; 632.
- Bailiol, Johan, Seigneur de Galloweys, 1291; 432. See Baliole.
- Bainbrigg:
 Thomas, D.D., deputy Vice-Chancellor of the University of Cambridge, Master of Christ's College, letter of; 120.
 — — certificates signed by; ib.
 — — letter signed by; 313.
- Baines, Roger, letters to; 478.
- Bake, Cornwall; 375.
- Bake family; ib.
- Bakebere, John; 577.
- Baker, Bakere:
 Captain, murder of; 382.
 — letter from; 264.
 Mr., letters to; 469.
 Mrs., a rich widow; 146.
 Adam, of Winchilsea; 503.
 Alice Webb, alias, petition of; 20.
 Bartholomew, petition of; 96.
 Chr., cordage received by; 267.
 Clement; 547, 550, 552.
 — M.P.; 550.
 Digory, and Elizabeth his wife, petition of; 64.
 Elias; 509.
 George; 74.
 — merchant, petition of; 117.
 Gervais le, mayor of High Wycomb, 556, 560, 561.
 Isabel; 596.
 Joan, wife of John, of Gestlyng; 498.
 John, Sir, Bart., cause against; 14.
 John; 424, 505, 508, 518, 527, 529, 550, 553, 577.
 John, and Agnes his wife, grant by; 512.
 John Martin, petition of; 249.
 Matthew; 509.
 Michael; 85.
 Richard the; 423.
 Richard; 491.
 — letters to; 469, 470.
 Richard le, of Hardness; 601.
 Richard, collier, petition of; 87.
 Robert; 509.
 Robert the; 559, 599.
 Roger; 563.
 Samuel, Dr.; 86.
 Sa., signature of; 814.
 Thomas; 511.
 — and Joan his wife; 509, 510 bis.
 William, of Apoldre; 509.
- Baker's dozen; 531.
- Bakers; 271, 489, 565, 570.
 ordinance touching; 531.
- Bakleford, Henry; 604.
- Bakone, John; 525. See Bacoun.
- Bakyhill, lands of; 631.
- Balances, pair of, with weights, for gold; 478.
- Balandroe, falconer of; 632.
- Balbegno, Wood of; ib.
- Balcarres; xx, 610.
- Balcarres, Balcarras:
 Countess of, Anne, letter from; 652.
 Earl of, Colin, third; 623.
 — Colin, declaration by, 1685; 626.
- Balcomie; 624.
 Thomas Hay of; ib.
- Balcomy, Alexander Lesly of; 608.
- Balcraig, lands of; 622 bis.
- Baldebourn, land called; 510 bis.
- Balderston, Lanc.; 126.
- Balderton, Notts; 129.
 inclosure and division of the south fen of, 1642; 21.
- Baldi (Colonel of the Swiss), letter from; 285.
- Baldovy, lands of; 634.
- Baldry, Elizabeth, of Westrops; 594.
- Baldwyn, Baldwyne:
 Henry; 548, 551 bis.
 Sam., letter from; 145.
 William; 548.
- Bale:
 Mr.; 168.
 Edward; 597.
 John, Sir, articles of impeachment of; 36.
 — and others, order of impeachment served upon; 38.
 John, and Frances his wife; 367.
- Balenger, a common; 533.
- Balfour, Sir William, troop of; 101.
 — Lieutenant of the Tower; 120. See Belfore.

- Balgillo :
 Sir John Blair of; 641.
 John Blair, apparent of; 622.
Balglassy, lands of; 630.
Balgowny, lands of; 631.
Balguy, Nicholas, of Magdalen College, Oxford, oration of; 863.
Balhousie :
 bowt of; 655.
 Laird of; ib.
Balie, . . . ; 497.
Balk, Mr., Fellow of Queen's College, Cambridge; 318.
Balkasky, Thomas de; 626.
Balkburgh, William; 564.
Ball, playing at; 398, 520.
Ball :
 George; 556.
 Henry, letter from; 313.
 John, assignees of; 3.
Ballads; 426.
Ballard :
 Mr.; 574.
 John; 561, 562.
 Thomas, bailiff of Wycombe; ib.
Ballast; 101.
 business; 101 bis.
Ballegerno, Patrick Gray of; 635.
Ballencurr, Westmeath; 605.
Ballendalloch, John, grant of; 654.
Balley, Robert, order for payment of 50*l.* to; 55.
Balligirnach, Walter Haliburton of that ilk and; 620.
Balliglass, Westmeath; 605.
Ballina Carrow, Westmeath; ib.
Ballington, Essex; 125.
Balliole, Balyol :
 J. de; 454.
 Joannes de; 623. See Baillol.
Balloch, Donald, of Denovan; 614.
Balloting; 149.
Ballrath, Westmeath; 605.
Balluny, James Muncur of; 622.
Ballyferrath, Westmeath; 605.
Balmain, Ramsay of; 632.
Balmakuan, Barclay of; ib.
Balmaleady; 637.
Balmaliddy, Lyall of; 632.
Balman, lands of; 622.
Balmaqunyn, lands of; 612.
Balmerino, Lord :
 and Lord Chief Justice Heath, cause between, 1642-3; 66.
 James, father of John; 26.
 John, petition of; 1642; ib.
 1705; 618.
 1712-13; 638.
Balnaves, Henry, of Halhill, the Protestant leader; xxi, 646 bis. 647, 648.
Balquhane, Patrick Lesly of; 608.
Balrath; 11.
Balscot, Oxford; 130.
Balsome, Robert, minister; 28.
Baltersan, David Kennedy of; 615.
Baltersane, John Kennedy, apparent of; 622.
Balthayock, Laird of, letter to the; 621.
Balthok, Alexander Blayr of; ib.
Baltic Sea :
 the; 165 bis. 443.
 Princes and States of the, envoys from Parliament to the, 1643; 114.
 a port in the; 443.
Baltimore, fortified by the Spaniards, 1601; 137.
Baltimore, Lord :
 1642; 14, 51.
 affidavit of, 1642; 14.
 Calvert, letter from, 1642; 465.
 Cecil, petition of, 1642; 14.
 — petition and answer of, 1642; 51.
 cause against, 1642-3; 73.
 petition of, respecting his claim to a tract of land called Avalon in Newfoundland, 1754; 230.
 letter to; 226.
Baltinglass :
 Viscount, Thomas, petition of, 1641-2; 13.
 — 1643; 95.
 Viscountess, Anne, petition of, 1642; 47.
 — order for payment to, 1642; 54.
Baltonsborough, Somerset; 131.
Balvany, Lord, James, 1453; 614
Bamfield :
, M.P.; 196.
 Sir John, order for payment to; 54.
See Bamfield, Banfield.
Bamford, Lanc.; 127.
Bamfield, Colonel, and his regiment; 56. See Bamfield.
Bampton :
 parish of (Patton and Shillingford), Devon; 122.
 Hundred, Devon; ib. bis.
- Bampton :
 and hamlets, Oxford; 130.
 Hundred, Oxford; ib.
Bampton, Westmerland; 133.
Banastre, Gilbert; 481.
Banberi, John; 605.
Banbury ; 162, 212.
 battle near, 1642; 160.
 recusants at; 311.
 castle of, confinement of recusants in the; 486 Hundred, Oxford; 130.
 — bailiff of, 1625; 411.
 Lady of, 1642; 58.
 — 1643; 108, 118.
 Lord, engaged in a duel, 1692; 383.
 — letters from; 188.
Banchry, rector of; 621.
Bancks, Bankes :
 Sir John; 569.
 — Attorney-General, order to; 313.
 William; 406.
See Bankes; Banks.
Bancroft :
 Dr.; 139.
 D., one of H.M. commissioners, letter to; 311.
 John; 102.
 Margaret; 105.
 Richard, letter by; 486.
 Thomas; 105.
 — estate of; 102, 104 bis.
 — widow of; 100.
Bandinell, David, of Jersey; 14.
Bandini, Cardinal :
 testimonial of; 468.
 letters to; 470, 471, 472.
Bandon ; 346.
Bandon Bridge, Bandonbrigg : order for payment of 200*l.* for relief of the English in, 1642; 24.
 troops raised by the town of; 55.
 captain of a troop of horse at; 56.
 necessities for the town of; 72.
Banerman :
 Alexander, chaplain; 625. See Bannerman.
 Simon; 624.
Baners, R. de, monk; 437.
Banewe, church of; 445.
Banff ; 644.
 market place of; 639.
 shire of; 620.
 — description of the hills, glens, and passes in the; 628.
 sheriff depute of; 639.
Banffe, Lady Petoarie and, Margaret Erskine ; 681.
Banfield :
; 184.
 George; 25.
See Bamfield.
Bangor ; 212.
 cathedral church of, burials and seats in the; 417.
 — reparation of the, 1629; 418.
 — tenth granted by the clergy of benevolence to the bishop towards repairing the, 1636; 419.
 diocese of, general synod of all the clergy of the, 1636; 419. see of; 420.
 abbot and canons of; 614.
 Bishop of; 418.
 — Anianus, grant of indulgence by, 1274; 444.
 — election of M. de Englefield, 1327; 432.
 — Vaughan, letter from, 1593; 274.
 — Henry Rowlands; 362.
 — licence to the, exempting him from attendance at the Parliament, 1614; xii, 417.
 — articles of accusation against the, [temp. Jac. I.]; ib.
 — assault by the, on the Dean's wife; ib.
 — Lewis, letter from, 1626; xii, 411.
 — and his Chancellor, differences in points of jurisdiction between; 412.
 — son of the late, 1636; 419.
 — Edmund, 1636; ib.
 — (1641); 420.
 — Dr. Humphreys (1701); 340.
 Dean of; 417.
 Chancellor of the diocese of, Dr. William Griffith; 406, 418, 419.
 — letter from the, 1660 414.
Bank, the; 208.
 charter, notes by Lord Shelburne on the; 257, 258.
Banke, Hewe; 494.
Bankes :
 Lord, 1642; 147.
 Chief Justice; 178.
 William, letters from; 358.
See Bancks; Banks.

- Bankrupt :
a, 1658 ; 199.
judgment of a statute of ; 165.
- Bankruptcy ; 167.
commission of, 1642-3 ; 67, 85, 120.
— 1651 ; 393.
- Banks, Christopher, Catholic Vicar-General of Yorkshire and the northern counties ; 467. See Bancks, Bankes.
- Bankside, in Southwark : order for the assessment of the, 1648 ; 85.
fire near the timber windmill at ; 380.
- Bann criers ; 526, 527.
- Bannerman :
Alexander ; 629. See Banerman.
Donald ; 609.
- Banns, or Banes, Thomas, chaplain to Cecily, Duchess of York ; xvi, 590, 591, 592. See Banya.
- Banns. See Plays.
- Banqueting Hall ; 175.
- Banqueting House, the, Whitehall ; 150, 184, 200, 204.
presses for the Records under the, 1597 ; 292.
- Banya, Thomas, prior of Folkestone ; 592. See Banns.
- Banstead Downs ; 202.
- Bapaulm ; 192.
- Baptie, Robert, in Ladhope ; 643.
- Baptism ; 305.
- Baptisms ; 110, 625.
illegal ; 643.
- Baptizers of children ; 642.
- Bar, licences to practise within the, 1655 ; 301.
- Bar-le-Duc, letter dated at ; 320.
- Barbadoes ; 165, 166, 183, 197, 244, 246, 251, 258.
petition for passes for four Spanish ships to come from the Spanish West Indies to, to fetch negroes, 1708 ; 228.
Act, repeal of a, 1709 ; 227.
a fort in, 1725 ; 229.
4½ per cent. duty at ; 245.
defence of ; ib.
defenceless state of, 1782 ; ib.
state of H.M. troops at, 1783 ; 246.
statutes of, extracts from the ; ib.
papers relative to the affairs of, 1783 ; 251 bis.
letters from, 1783 ; 251.
letters dated from ; 245, 246, 250, 252 bis.
Assembly of, reports on members of the, absenting themselves, 1703-4 ; 228 bis.
— House of ; 245.
— Speaker of the House of, letter from the, 1782 ; ib.
— agent to the, 1783 ; 252.
Attorney-General of, 1782 ; 246.
Council of ; 222.
Court of Admiralty at, judgeship of the ; 245.
Governor of, 1748 ; 215.
— 1767 ; 224.
— Cunningham, 1782 ; 245, 250.
— letter from ; 245.
naval officer of ; ib.
deputy naval officer at, 1782 ; ib.
— letter from the, 1782 ; 246.
naval officers at ; 251.
President of the Council of, Samuel Rous, letters from, 1766 ; 222.
provost marshal, &c. at, office of ; 217.
- Barbaer, Jacques, information to be obtained by, in the Low Countries ; 264.
— letter from ; ib. See Barlaer.
- Barbary ; 372.
instructions for voyage to, 1596 ; 280. coast ; 151, 349.
nag, a ; 161.
wine ; 183.
powers, the, 1765 ; 248.
- Barber, legacy to a ; 460.
- Barber :
Mr. ; 49.
Mr., merchant ; 372.
Mr., letter from ; 279.
John, Alderman and Mayor of London ; 342.
Miles, of Liverpool, petition of ; 222.
- Barbere, Henry ; 577. See Barbour.
- Barberini, Cardinal ; 466.
— patent by ; 468.
— Protector, order of ; ib.
— Fr., faculties of ; 471.
— dispensations by ; 475.
— letters from ; 317, 465, 467, 468.
— letters to ; 466, 470 ter, 471, 472.
- Barberousse, a pyrate, and King of Tunis ; 320.
- Barbers ; 88, 565.
- Barbitonsor ; 457.
- Barbor, Mr. ; 341.
- Barbour, Barbur :
Alice ; 542.
Gregory le ; 561.
Henry ; 576, 577. See Barbere.
- Barber, Barbour—cont.
John ; 513.
Nicholas ; 433.
Robert le ; 560.
Thomas, alias Netherland ; 492.
Thomas ; 508.
William ; 524, 525, 541, 591.
- Barcelona ; 14.
siege of, 1706 ; 333, 348.
— raising of the, 1706 ; 349.
letters dated at ; 249, 349, 354.
letters from, 1706 ; 364.
Bay of ; 348.
- Barckley. See Berkeley.
- Barclay :
Allardice, Mrs., of Ury and Allardice, MSS, of ; vi, xx, 629.
— Mr. ; ib.
— Robert, of Ury ; 632.
of Balmakuan ; ib.
of Johnston ; ib.
of Mathers ; ib.
of Ury, in Kincardineshire, family of ; 629, 632.
— genealogical account of the ; ib.
Mr. ; 251.
Elizabeth ; 632.
John, of Alton, in Hampshire ; ib.
R., the apologist, diaries of ; ib.
Robert, of Ury ; 629.
R., of Ury, letters by ; 632.
Walter, of Tolly ; 631.
William ; 653.
family of ; 632. See Berclay.
- Bard, Mr. ; 67.
- Bardelby, Robert de ; 446.
- Bardesey, Robert ; 564.
- Bardford St. John, Oxford ; 180.
- Bardolf, Lord de, 1410-11 ; 538.
- Bardwell, Bardewell :
Andrew, of Melles, Suffolk ; 595.
Henry, of Earl's Soham, Suffolk ; ib.
Henry, of Mendlesham ; 596.
Humfrey, of Mellis, Suffolk ; 595.
- Barelli, Roger ; 335.
- Baret, Barete, Barette :
Adam ; 336.
Alured ; 336 bis, 337.
John, house of, at Oxford ; 477.
Roger ; 336, 337, 512.
William ; 595. See Barrett.
- Barford St. Michael, Oxford ; 130.
- Barford St. Martin, Wilts ; 133.
- Barfreston, Kent ; 126.
- Bargany, Lord, warrants for seizing, and setting him at liberty ; 610.
- Barge :
the King's ; 202.
a town ; 535, 536.
- Bargemen, lightermen, and others, Act to restrain them from working on Sunday ; 3.
- Bargemen, H.M. ; 109.
- Barges ; 156.
- Bargrave :
Dr., incumbent of Eythorn ; 92.
Margaret, Mrs., of Canterbury, will of ; 460.
Thomas, son of the Dean [of Canterbury ?] ; 47.
- Barham, Huntingdon ; 126.
- Barham, Kent ; ib.
- Barholme, Linc. ; 127.
- Barillon, Sieur ; 216.
credence for ; 318.
- Baring :
Mr. ; 249.
Francis, letters from ; 243.
- Barkeley. See Berkeley.
- Barker :
extinct family of, of Lyndon, co. Rutland ; 387
Lady, letters from ; 398.
Mrs., senior ; ib.
— junior ; 400.
— letter to ; 401.
Abel, father of Sir Abel Barker, letters to ; 396.
Abel ; 389, 390.
— high sheriff of Rutland ; 397.
— certificate of his marriage with Mary Noel ; ib.
— mother of ; 398.
— letters from ; 397.
— letters to ; 396 seq., 404.
— of Hambleton ; 402, 403.
— Sir ; xii, 387.
— private letter-book of ; 387 seq.
— his mother, letters from ; 387.
— patent of his baronetcy ; ib.
— father of ; 396.
— list of children of ; 398.
— will and codicil of ; ib.

Barker—cont.

- Abel, Sir, inventories of chattels, &c., in his house at Lyndon; 398.
 — letters to; ib.
 Anne, Mrs.; 390, 391.
 — letters from; 387, 388, 389, 390.
 — letters to; 396, 397.
 Baldwin, estate of; 396.
 Barnaby, of Mendlesham; 596.
 Bridget, letter from; 397.
 Captain; 83.
 Colonel, governor of Coventry; 115.
 Edward; 361.
 Elizabeth, letters from; 389.
 — widow of Baldwin, letter from; 396.
 — letters to; 388, 389.
 Hugh, D.C.L., Chancellor of the Bishop of Oxford, petition of; 410.
 J., letters from; 473.
 John; 393.
 — accounts of the personal estate of; 398.
 — letter from; 397.
 — letter to; 388.
 — of Hambleton, co. Rutland; 402.
 John, petitions of; 31.
 Mary; 396.
 — letters from; 387, 389, 397, 398.
 Nathaniel, letter from; 397.
 Richard, vicar of Romney; 543.
 — Sir; ib.
 Robert, justice; 417.
 Robert, King's printer; 3, 414.
 Samuel; 400, 401.
 — letters from; 396, 397.
 — letters to; 391, 393, 399, 400, 401, 404.
 — Mrs., letter from, to her husband; 400.
 — letter to; ib.
 Thomas; 387, 397.
 — letter from; 396.
 — letters to; 392, 393, 394, 396, 397, 401 bis.
 Thomas, brother of Abel; 398.
 Thomas, son of Sir Abel; ib.
 Thomas, (Catholic) Archdeacon of Somersetshire; 467.
 Thomas, Sir, Bart.; 391, 399, 401.
 — inventory of chattels in his house at Lyndon; 399.
 — letter to; ib.
 — high sheriff of Rutland, letter to; 404.
 William, of London, merchant, petition of; 84.
Barking; 21, 29.
 St. Mary and St. Ethelburga of; 322. vicarage of; 319.
Barkisland, York; 134.
Barkley. See Berkeley.
Bark Sale (Easton, co. Northm.); 91.
Barkshire, Lord. See Berkshire, Earl of.
Barksted, Col., Lieutenant of the Tower, knighted; 175. See Berkstead.
Barlaer, Jacques de, undertaking by; 263.
 — letter to; 265. See Barbaer.
Barlaston, rectory of; 145.
Barlavington, Sussex; 132.
Barley, Barly, Barle:
 . . . ; 522, 523.
 John; ib.
 Richard; 521, 525 bis, 526, 528.
 — common serjeant of Lydd; 521, 524.
Barley:
 exportation of, 1642; 62.
 lands sown with; 93.
 importation of; 257.
Barliamonte, Count of, Spanish ambr. at Lubeck, 1597; 289.
Barlings, Lincoln; 128.
Barlow:
 Rudisind; 466.
 — letters of; 463.
 — president of the English Benedictines at Douai, letter from; 467.
 Thomas, affidavit of; 62.
Barlynde; 493.
Barnacre, Lanc.; 126.
Barnard:
 Lord [temp. Geo. I.]; 189.
 Master, canon of Christ Church (Oxford?), letter from; 363.
 Daniel, Vice-chancellor of Oxford; 367.
 Edward, of Warfield; 26.
 Richard; 39.
 William, bailiff of Wycombe; 563.
Barnard Castle, Durham; 125.
Barnburgh, co. York; 472.
Barnby, Notts; 129.
Barn Elms, Barnelmes; 168.
 letter dated at; 583.
Barnes, Surrey:
 petition of inhabitants of; 91, 92.
 parson of; 91.
Barnes:
 F.; 465.

Barnes—cont.

- John, of Windlesham, Surrey, constable, deposition of; 24.
 John, servant of Lord Morley; 77. See Baynes.
 Joseph, printer and bookseller; 362, 368.
 — and Barbara his wife, and Anne his daughter; 368.
 Mark, affidavit of; 57.
 Stephen, letter of; 463.
 Thomas; 269.
Barnet; 153. See Fryern Barnet.
Barnethy [le Wold], Linc.; 129.
Barnett, Barnet:
 Commodore; 365.
 — letter-book and papers of, 1743–6; 362.
 See Barrett.
Barneswell, Sts. Andrew and Giles of; 322.
Barnham, Sussex; 132.
Barnham, Barneham:
 . . . ; 495.
 William; 496, 515.
 — mayor of Rye; 497, 515.
Barnhill, Anglesey; 422.
Barningham, Suffolk; 545.
Barnoldby-le-Beck, Lincoln; 128.
Barnsley, Glouc.; 73.
Barnstaple, Devon; 117, 122, 370, 373, 573 bis, 574.
 order to indemnify the inhabitants of, for fortifying their town, 1642; 55.
 order for the indemnity of the men of, for fortifying their town, 1643; 83.
 surrender of, 1643; 110.
 letter touching the election of burgesses for, 1659–60; 371.
 key of; 573.
 magistrates of, 1591, letter from the; 265.
 mayor of, letter from the; 372.
 monk of; 370.
Barnston, Notts; 129.
Baron, Lord Chief:
 letter to the, 1586; 583, 585.
 Sir Lawrence Tanfield; 418.
 1660; 175.
 Serjeant Hales; 145, 184.
 Recorder Steele made; 172.
Barone:
 John; 562.
 — carpenter; 536.
 Robert; 537.
Baronet:
 knight, patent for a, might be had for 300*l.* or 400*l.*; 205.
 patent of a; 637.
 of Nova Scotia, a; 627.
Baronets:
 catalogue of the, of King James's and King Charles's time; 177.
 knight; 185.
Baronius, Cardinal; 475.
Barons:
 great guarantee given to the Church by twelve of the, 1213; 431, 454.
 in arms against King John, ecclesiastical censure against, 1216; ib.
 letters of the, and of Henry III.; 426.
 Prince Edward's defiance of the; ib. war, letter of the French King about the, temp. H. III.; ib.
 and Henry III., history of the dispute between, 1262–3–4; 454.
 letter from the King of the Romans to the; 455.
 address by the, to Henry III. [1264]; ib.
 Henry III.'s answer of defiance to the; ib. their committee for the regulation of Edw. II.'s household, and of the kingdom in general; 431.
 list of twenty, who enjoy their baronies in right of their wives, 1588; 261.
 1601; 354. created by King James, list of; 338. making of six new, 1661; 146. sons of; 354.
Barr, Great, Stafford; 132.
Barraby; 392.
Barrack Act of New York, 1767; 227.
Barracks; 225, 248, 260.
 in N. America; 227.
Barras, Ogilvie of; 632.
Barre, the; 549.
Barre, Walter at; 327.
 William; 563.
Barré, Isaac, Colonel; 250, 254. to replace Burke at the War Office (1782?); 211.
 letters to; 242, 249.
Barrecourt. See Barr's Court.
Barrell, Robert, curate of the church of Maidstone, Kent; 88.
 — petition of; 87.
 — parson of Boughton Malherbe; 91.
 — of Magdalen Coll., Oxford; 131.
Barres, Little, in the shire of Kincardine, lands of; 631.
Barretstowne, Westmeath; 605.

- Barrett, Barret :
Commodore, letter-book and naval papers of; 366. See Barnett.
Dr., letter to; 264.
E., Sir, letter from; 140.
Edmund, Sir (created Lord Newburgh by Charles I.), went into Spain, 1605; 135.
Richard, Dr., rector of the English College at Douai, letters to; 467.
— president of Douay, letters from and to; 473, 476.
William; 595.
- Barrie, Nicholas; 355.
- Barrimore, Earl of, 1642; 346.
- Barring estates, report of the Attorney-General on, 1704; 228.
- Barrington, Somerset; 131.
- Barrington Hall, Essex, MSS. at; xi.
- Barrington :
Lord, Secretary of War, plans by; 218, 228.
— observations of, 1766; 226.
— letters to, 1766; 219, 225.
— letter from, 1767; 219.
— letter from, 1768; 257.
— letter from, 1782; 233.
Sir Thomas, petition to; 77.
— order for payment to; 52.
- Barrow, Salop; 131.
- Barrow [on Humber], Lincoln; 129.
- Barrow, Henry, letters from; 264.
- Barrowe, James, common clerk of Romney; 550.
- Barrowby, Lincoln; 127.
- Barrowfield, prisoner; 619.
- Barr's Court, Barrecourt, Barrows Court, near Bristol; 323, 324, 325, 326.
letters relating to; 329.
letters of the family of Newton of; ix, 323.
- Barry :
Lord, letter from, 1597; 290.
Mr.; 139.
...; 523.
J., letters from; 240.
James, Sir, payment to; 103.
John; 327, 425.
William, Chevalier, and Joan his wife; 512.
[Barrymore.] See Barrimore.
- Barabee, Walter, "saye-master" of H.M. Mint, co. Cardigan, affidavit of; 16.
- Bart-under-Needwood, Stafford; 132.
- Bartelot, John; 513. See Bertelot.
- Barter, John, rector of Westwell (Kent); 427.
- Bartholomew fair; 318.
- Bartholomew, Thomas, one of the grooms of His Majesty's chamber; 140.
- Bartin, le père; 471.
- Bartlett :
Captain; 88.
William, order to; 41.
— receiver of the county of Devon, order to; 42.
- Bartley :
Charles, Sir; 301.
Mons.; 310.
- Bartone; 327.
deed dated at; ib.
- Barton, Bucks; 120.
- Barton, Linc.; 107.
- Barton, Notts; 130.
- Barton, Stafford; 356.
- Barton, Westmerland; 133.
Martindale in; ib.
- Barton, near Bristol, Gloucester, hundred of; 339.
- Barton-on-the-Heath, Warwick; 358.
- Barton Hentmersh; 327.
- Barton-on-Humber :
St. Mary, Lincoln; 129.
St. Peter, Lincoln; ib.
- Barton Steeple, alias Barton Magna, Oxford; 130.
- Barton Westcott, Oxford; ib.
- Barton, Bartone :
Mr., letter to; 267.
Capt., second son to the Earl of Lindsey; 142.
John; 303.
John, affidavit of; 96.
R., letter from; 279.
Richard, minstrel; 543.
Roger de; 332.
Roger le Heyr de; 327.
Thomas; 540.
Thomas, common clerk of Romney; 539.
Thomas, Sir; 142.
William, vicar of Mayfield; 92.
- Bartruppe, John; 530.
- Bartue :
Lady; 17.
Sir Peregrine; ib.
- Bartyne, ...; 492.
- Barvitijs, Jo., letter from; 286.
- Barways, R., priest, matters disclosed by; 271..
- Barwell, John, rector of Old Romney; 542.
- Barwick; 198. See Berwick.
- Base, James; 523.
- Baseley, Robert; 493.
- Basford, Notts; 129.
- Basildon, Berks; 120.
- Basing; 407.
Charles I.'s advance to, 1643; 116.
House; 214.
- Basing, Edward, petition of; 88.
- Basingstoke; 382.
letter dated at; 214.
- Basingthorp-cum-Westby, Linc.; 127.
- Baskerville :
...; demands to be made to the Generals by, 1595; 276.
Sir T., letters from; 265, 276, 277, 279, 280, 281.
- Basley, John; 53.
- Basques, F., letter from; 286.
- Basqueville, M. de, letter to; 287.
- Bassadona :
John, questions by; 272.
Sr., letter from; 280.
- Basse, Hum., letter from; 287.
- Bassenthwaite, Cumberland; 121.
- Bassetlaw wapentake, Notts; 129.
- Bassets, manor of; 304.
- Bassett, Bassett :
Francis, Esq., Vice-Admiral of the north parts of the county of Corawall; 24.
Ralph; 295.
Thomas, the Lancashire bagpipe; 355.
Simon, rental of the tenants of; 329.
William, of Claverton, co. Somerset; 143.
- Bastard, the; 641.
- Bastardy, cause of; 614.
- Bastell, John, affidavit of; 112.
- Bastions; 348.
- Baston, Lincoln; 127.
- Bastwick, Bastwicke :
Dr.; 182.
John, writ of habeas corpus for production of; 42.
Susanna, wife of John Bastwick, Dr. in physic, petition of; ib.
- Bat :
Martin; 326.
Philip; 676. See Batt.
- Batavia; 365.
- Batcombe, Dorset; 124.
- Batcombe, Somerset; 132.
- Bate :
Andrew; 522, 523, 526, 527, 528, 529, 531.
— bailiff of Lydd; 522.
Henry, or Harry; 524, 525, 526, 528.
— his servant Henry; 526.
James; 522, 525, 526, 530.
— common clerk of Lydd; 516, 524, 527, 528.
John; 513, 519, 528, 530, 531, 540.
John, the elder; 520.
John, chaplain; 550.
Laurence; 521.
Simon; 525.
— steward of Playdone; 499.
Thomas; 517, 521, 522, 525, 529, 531.
Thomas, the younger; 522.
William; 517, 518, 524, 529.
- Bateberwe, Goldwin de; 505.
- Baten, Vice-Admiral of the Navy; 173. See Batten.
- Bates, Dr.; 150, 202.
- Bath, or the Bath; 182, 206, 311, 325, 328, 359, 617, 642. waters, the; 296, 479.
cathedral church of; 445.
Sts. Peter and Paul of; 822.
letters dated at; 58, 213.
Bishop of, Robert, report by, 1145-7; 453.
— seal of the, 1151; 431.
— (1184-92); 439.
— 1215; 432.
— Robert, 19 Edw. I.; 302.
— seals of the, 19 Edw. I.; ib.
— [temp. H. VI. ?]; 608.
— John, deed and seal of, 20 Hen. VI.; 369.
and Wells, Bishop of, letter from, 16[8 . . ?]; 324.
— Thomas Ken, letter from, 1691; 319. See Ken.
— Dr. Beveridge elect, 1691; 381.
— George, letter from, 1723; 319.
title of; 190.
- Bath, Earl of :
letter to the, 1590; 264.
letter from the, 1591; 265.
letter from the, 1592; 266.
letter to the, 1594; 272.
marriages of the, (before 1596); 138.
letter from the, 1596; 280, 284.
letter from the, 16—; 314.
● birth of the young, 1630-1; 574.
Edward, late, 1642; 41.
1642; 148, 161.
order for the, to attend the House of Lords, 1642; 17.
Henry, letter from, 1642; 22.

Bath, Earl of—cont.

- Henry, servant to, 1642; 41. order for his apprehension, 1642; 43.
 petition of, 1642; 59.
 wife of; ib.
 1643; 295.
 Henry, prisoner, petition of, 1643; 92.
 library of the, 1658; 145.
 (lately Sir John Greenville), groom of the stoole, 1660; 157.
 [temp. Car. II.]; 196.
 letter to the, 1670; ib.
 John, wife of, letters of; 197.
 letter from the, 1670; ib.
 and Countess, letter from the, 1670-1; 191.
 his lodgings at Whitehall, 1672; 197.
 letter from the, 1685; 819.
 and Lady, 1688; 187.
 1688; 187 bis, 198.
 Pultney, afterwards; 364.
 Countess of, Rachel, petition of, 1643; 92.
 — her husband; ib.
 — and her Lord, 1661; 146.
 — 1669; 196.
 — Jane, daughter to Sir Peter Wyche, letters of; 197.
 — 1684; 186.
 — Lady Carteret to be created, 1714; 188.
 Bath, Walter de, sheriff of Devon; 604. See Batonia.
 Bath, Knights of the; 146, 185.
 — fees payable on creation of, 1626; 135.
 — made at Charles I.'s coronation; 140.
 — creation of, 1661; 170, 175, 202.
 Bathealton (Badealton), Somerset; 131.
 Bathurst, Earl; 188.
 letter from, 1722; 189.
 1724; 190.
 President of the Privy Council, 1779; 209.
 letter from, 1778; 212.
 Bathurst, . . . ; 21.
 Batisforde, William; 497.
 Batleghe, chapel of; 581.
 Batley, Notts; 130.
 Batley, York; 134.
 Batonia, H. de, et socii sui, justiciarii itinerantes, 1247; 439.
 Batot:
 Isabel, of Winchilsea, grant by; 511.
 John; 514, 515.
 William, of Winchilsea, and Joan his wife, grant by; 514.
 Batt, Thomas, petition of; 34. See Bat.
 Battan Wyme, the Grace of God of; 350.
 Batten, Captain, Vice-Admiral; 53. See Baten.
 "Batterie," order of the Commons for two pieces of, to be sent to Munster, 1642; 27.
 Batteries; 187, 348.
 Spanish floating; 254.
 Battersea; 168.
 Charles II. bathing at; 135.
 manor of, grant of, 1591; 265.
 Battier, secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, letter of; 352.
 Battiere, Mr., secretary to the Earl of Leicester, letter to; 20.
 Battiscombe (Beatriscombe); 602.
 Battle, termination of a dispute about land by; 299. See Duol.
 Battle, Sussex; 493, 495, 505.
 St. Martin of; 822.
 abbey of; 532.
 abbot of; 531.
 — 30 Edw. I.; 503.
 — John Newton, temp. Edw. IV.; 524, 529.
 — bailiff of the liberty of the, temp. Edw. IV.; 529.
 — temp. Edw. IV.; 525, 526, 527, 529, 530.
 — matter between the, and the Archbishop of Canterbury, 1479-80; 527.
 — signature of the, 1534; 430.
 monks of; 451, 525.
 John of, proctor, 1277; 451.
 Batty, Battie, Battye:
 John; 47, 94, 112, 114.
 Thomas; 46.
 Batyn, John, son of Andrew, of Wycombe; 561.
 Baubi, John, clerk; 606.
 Baucraig; 623.
 Baud and Lane, cause between; 8.
 Baudoin, J., Mr., letter from; 256.
 Bavaria, Duke of; 164.
 Bavent, Dr., letter from, to his brother; 470.
 Baverdyn, Thomas; 564.
 Baverstock, Wilts; 133.
 Davian, William; 600.
 Bawburgh, church of; 450.
 Baxter:
 Jane, examination of, at York, for coining; 279.
 Rd., letter from; 317.
 Baxterlande; 647.
 Bay, Marquis de, Spanish army under the; 190.
 Bayard, Mr.; 228.

- Bayard's Green, in Oxfordshire, account of the march of the army from the rendezvous at, to the relief of Gloucester, 1643; 2, 104.
 Bayardscove; 601, 602.
 Baydon, Thomas; 564.
 Bayene, Bayen, Thomas; 523, 580.
 — mayor of Rye; 496.
 — attorney; 525.
 Bayeux, Bishop of, Odo, and Earl of Kent; 462.
 — charters by; 442, 457.
 Bayforde, Simon; 514.
 Bayles, Mr., of Witham, Essex; 60.
 Bayley, Bayly, Baylly, Bayle:
 Mr., letter from; 257.
 Harry; 495.
 Henry, mayor of Rye; ib. bis.
 John; 490, 492, 495, 499, 515.
 — jurat of Rye; 492.
 — serjeant to the Lieutenant of Dover; ib.
 Nicholas; 577.
 Richard; 499, 514, 515.
 — son and heir of John, of Rye; 515.
 Walter; 425.
 Walter, M.D., Public Professor of Medicine in Oxford, and Anna his wife; 368.
See Bailey.
 Baynam, . . . ; 362. See Baynham.
 Baynard, Captain, letter from; 293.
 Baynardys Castle, in London; 590.
 Bayne, Thomas; 495.
 Baynes, Bayns:
 Captain; 48, 49.
 — and his company; 46.
 John, servant to Lord Morley; 77 bis, 78, 82.
 — petition of; 82.
 — outlawry of; 82.
 Roger, letter to; 473.
 Baynham, Alexander, petition of; 119. See Baynham.
 Bayning, Sheriff, letters from, 1588; 269 bis.
 Bayninge, Viscountess of, of Sudbury, Lady Penelope, wife of Philip Lord Herbert, 1642; 20.
 Bayonne; 349.
 ships of; 457.
 Governor of, letter from the, 1595; 274.
 — letter from the, 1596; 280.
 Lieutenant-Governor of, letter from the, 1596; 286.
 Baynton, Messrs., proposal of; 218.
 Beach, common called, at Lydd; 531.
 Beachampton, Bucks; 120.
 Beacon; 523, 551.
 a constable to set fire to a; 492.
 watching at a; 548.
 charges of setting up a; 567.
 Beacons; 520.
 watching the, 1513-14; 550.
 on the coast, duty of watching and guarding the, 1597; 570.
 to be provided, orders for, 1666; 348.
 Beadwell, Mr., letter to; 268.
 Beaford, Devon; 122.
 Beagham, Peter, Remembrancer of H.M. Court of Exchequer 352.
 Bealde, Nicholas; 604.
 Beale:
 Wincott and, Chapman and others against; 95.
 Mr., letter to; 293.
 Armoso; 595.
 Dr.; 102.
 — principal of [St. John's College], Cambridge; 62.
 Jeremy; 593.
 — senior; 595.
 John; 594.
 R., letters from; 261, 272, 282, 284, 289, 291, 292.
 Robert; 593.
 Robert, instructions for; 214.
 Roger, examination of; 35.
 William, D.D., master of a college in Cambridge, petitions of; 49, 60.
See Bele.
 Bealle, Robert Gordon of; 631. See Beill.
 Bealleghe, Stephen; 603.
 Bealtirbirt, in co. of Cavan, estate at; 39.
 Beaminster:
 Hundred, Dorset; 124. parish of, Dorset; ib.
 Beaumont, Philip, Esq.; 571.
 Beaumund, Roger; 424.
 Beanquike, Thomas; 550.
 Beard, a false; 351.
 Beard:
 Mr., letters to; 269.
 Ben., letters from; 267, 268, 269.
 Francis, underkeeper of Swinley Walk, deposition of; 24.
 — information of; 26.
 — affidavit of; 39.

- Beard—cont.
 Maximilian; 61.
 R., letter from; 290. See Berde.
- Beare:
 John; 370.
 Stephen; 573.
- Bear's Cove, Dartmouth; 602.
- Bears, baiting of; xviii, 404.
- Bearward; ib.
 the King's; 549, 550.
 Adam the; 551.
- Beasts, of the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, serjeant-keeper of the, 1497-8; 549.
- Beatly, Captain; 40.
- Beaton. See Beton.
- Beatriglonde; 601.
- Beatriscombe, John; 602. See Battiscombe.
- Beattie, Robert, letter from; 638.
- Beatts, Mary; 594.
- Beauncastle, Musgrave, Captain of, letters to; 261, 270. See Beauchastell.
- Beauchamp:
 Eudo de; 302.
 W. de; 301.
 — Sir; ib.
 — of Elmeley; 302.
 W., of Powyk, Kt.; 303.
 Walter de, Lord; 302.
 — Lord, and Alice his wife, and their sons and daughters; 303.
 William de; ib.
 — seal of, 20 Ric. II.; 369.
See Bellocampo.
- Beauchastell, Captain; 635. See Beauncastle.
- Beandesert:
 (Stafford?); 297.
 letter dated at; 141.
- Beaudley, M.P. for; 299. See Beawdley.
- Beaufels, Guillaume, seneschal of Fescamp; 502. See Byaufilz.
- Beaufort; 191.
- Beaufort, Duke of:
 [1685]; 327, 328.
 letter to the, 1685; 328.
 letter from the, 1685; ib.
 letter from, 1688; 414.
- Beaulieu; 432.
- Beaumanor, co. Leicester; 483.
- Beaumaris, Beaumares, Bewmares, Anglesey; 349, 415, 419 bis, 420, 421 bis, 422.
 surrender of, 1648; 339.
 court of great session of the co. of Anglesey held at; 415.
 fine levied in the court of great session at; 417.
 messuage, &c. in; ib.
 muster holden at; 422.
 letter dated at; 349.
 Castle, demand for surrender of; 421.
 — surrender of; ib.
 mayor of; 349.
- Beaumont, Cumberland; 121.
- Beaumont:
 Lord de, John, Warden of the Cinque Ports, and Constable of Dover Castle, 1394-6; 500, 535.
 — — — summons by, 18 Ric. II.; 501.
 — — — writs by; 502.
 Viscount, John, deed and seal of, 20 Hen. VI.; 369.
 — 1642; 64.
 — Thomas late, 1642; ib.
 Lady de, 1395; 535 bis.
 — 1397; 577.
 John, Sir, regiment of foot under; 47.
 Justice, letter from; 298.
 William de; 326.
See Beaumont.
- Beaupry, Symon; 534.
- Beausfield [Whitfield], Kent; 126.
- Beausse, Actes du Synode provincial de, 1625; 312.
- Beauvere, Val de; 440.
- Beauvoir:
 M. de, French ambassador, letters from and to; 263.
 — letter from; 274.
 Pierre, letter from; 293.
- Beauvois, M. de, letters to; 267, 268.
- Beauvoys, Mr., rector of Withyham, Sussex; 17. See Benoico, Bevoies.
- Beaverley, John, petition of; 67.
- Beavis, Mrs. Margaret, letter to; 316.
- Beavoir, Mr.; 295.
- Beawdley Bridge; 299. See Beaudley.
- Beaworthy, Devon; 122.
- Bec, covenant to make a; 301.
- Bec:
 abbey of; 428.
 — confirmations to the, &c., ib.
 abbot of; 427, 428.
- Beaconsall (Beaconsfald), Lanc.; 127.
- Becha, William, vicar of Mendlesham; 596.
- Becham, church of; 450.
- Beche, Roger; 567.
- Bechenore, John de; 505.
- Becher:
 M., letter from; ?
 W., letter from; 269.
See Beecher.
- Bechyndenne, Walter; 510.
- Beck, Nicholas; 324.
- Beckbury, Salop; 131.
- Beckermest, St. Bridget's, Cumb.; 121.
- Becket, Archbishop. See Canterbury, Archbishop of.
- Beckett, John, son of Edmund; 503. See Beket.
- Beckingham, Notts; 129.
- Beckley, Ralph de; 332.
- Beconsfald. See Beconsall.
- Becquia, Island of; 245.
- Becwelle, Richard; 493.
- Bed:
 a; 200.
 a rich, presented to Charles II. by the Dutch; 145, 150.
 furniture; 445.
- Beda, De Templo Salamonis; In Lucæ Evangelium; Historia Anglorum; 484.
- Bed-chamber: portal for a; 140.
 the King's; 145, 154, 159, 618, 631.
 — lobby near; 199.
 — places in; 186 ter.
 — gentleman of, 1660; 155.
 — First Lord of; 190.
- Bedding; 410. See Beds.
- Beddingham, Sussex; 86.
- Bede. See Beda.
- Bedell:
 John; 355.
 William; 550, 552.
- Bedells, Thomas, information of; 40.
- Bedenested, John de; 481.
- Bede-roll, a, of the 12th century; ix, 321.
- Bedewynde, Walter de, rector of the church of Rippel; 303.
- Bedfont, Middlesex; 129.
- Bedford; 179.
 petition of justices of the peace and inhabitants of the town of, 1642; 45.
 St. Cuthbert's, rectory of; 72.
 — parson of; 87.
 — parish of, inhabitants of, petitions of the; 72, 87.
 — churchwardens of; 100.
 — tithes of the parish of; ib.
 — parishioners of; ib.
 St. Mary's, church of; 45.
 — parson of; ib. 72.
 — minister of; 45.
 archdeacon of, 1298; 430.
- Bedford, county of; Bedfordshire; 146.
 lands in the; 46.
 soldiers for the, 1597; 290.
 petition of the high sheriff, knights, esquires, and inhabitants of the, 1642; 12.
 riot in the; 1642; 40.
 petition of divers knights, esquires, and others inhabiting the, 1642; 62.
 ordinance for raising money in the, 1642-3; 68, 87.
 weekly assessment of the, 1643; 105. committee for the, order to the, 1643; 116.
 commander-in-chief of the forces in, 1660; 347.
 election in, 1705; 188.
 auditor of, letter to the, 1589; 263.
 high sheriff of the; 40 bis.
 justices of the; ib.
- Bedford:
 Duke of, Regent of France, letter to the, 4 Hen. VI.; 213.
 — minstrels of the, 1493-4; 548.
 Earl of, John Russell, signature of, 1555; 485.
 — Francis (2nd), letters from; 567.
 — — letter from, 1558; 582.
 — — letter from, 1560; 309.
 — [1581]; 579.
 — Francis, signature of, 1583; 566.
 — the late, daughter of, 1596; 138.
 — Francis, receipt by, 1636; 344.
 — petition by the, 1640; 214.
 — signature of the, 1642; 2.
 — cause between the inhabitants of Ramsey and the, 1641-2; 5.
 — 1642; 161 ter, 162.
 — two troops of horse levied by the, for H.M. service, 1642; 44.
 — the late, the great level of the fens undertaken by the, 1642; 64.
 — and the Earl of Portland, proceedings in the case between the, and the inhabitants of Whittlesey, 1643; 90.
 — — judgment in the same case, 1643; 93.
 — William, petition of, 1643; ib.
 — riot upon the lands of the, at Whittlesey, 1643; 98.
 — letter respecting the return of the, to the Parliament, 1643; 119.

Bedford—cont.

- Duke of, cook of the, 1661; 160.
 — 2nd, letters from the; 188.
 — letters from the, 1708–5; ib.
 — pass signed by the, 1748; 330.
 — letter from the, 1749; 244.
 — in Chesterfields "Characters"; 364.
 Countess of, letter from the, 1595; 274.
 — letter from the, 1596; 286.
 — letters from the, 1597; 287 ter, 288, 293.
 — 1616; 840.
- Bedford House; 151, 181.
 letter dated at; 567.
- Bedford, Lancashire; 127.
- Bedford:
 Mr.; ix, 189.
 Mr., minister of the Temple parish; 320.
 George, prisoner in the King's Bench; 3.
 Hilksah; 319.
 James, a Nonconformist preacher; 321.
- Bedfordd, co. Anglesey; 420.
- Bedingfield, Bedingfeild, Bedyngfeld:
 H.; 309.
 Mary, prioress of the English convent at Bruges; 488.
 Thomas, knight, H.M.'s attorney of the duchy [of Lancaster], petition of; 11.
 Dauid William, of St. Edmund's Bury; 596.
- Bedlam, Little, order of, a club so called; 399.
- Bedlingtonshire, constables in; 642.
- Bedresden (Kent), criers of the play of, 1508–9; 549.
- Beds and bedding; 332. See Bed, Bedding.
- Bedulph, alias Fitton, Peter, priest, agent in the court of Rome; 472.
- Bedwell, Mr., captain of the volunteers of Ipswich; 58.
- Bedyll:
 . . . , Archbishop Warham's secretary; 446.
 Richard; 498.
- Bee, Arthur; 553.
- Beecher:
 Mr., letter from; 288.
 Lyon; 113. See Becher.
- Beedon, Berks; 120.
- Beef; 68 bis, 74, 79 bis, 80 passim, 98, 107.
 price of; 554. See Beeves.
- Beegyndone, John, of Lydd; 513.
- Beeling, Colonel; 22.
- Beelsby, Lincoln; 128.
- Beenham, Berks; 120.
- Beer; 36, 341, 518, 546, 548.
 assessment on, 1643; 95.
 excise of, granted to Charles II. for life, 1660; 158.
 licenses upon export of, 1595; 277.
 and ale, excise of, farm of the; 331.
 casks of, for the navy; 379.
 ordinance touching; 531.
 supervisors of; 569.
 exported, duties on; 570.
 small; 586.
 and ale brewers and sellers; 586.
 barley; 79.
- Beer Crocombe, Somerset; 181.
- Beer Ferris, Devon; 123.
- Beer Hackwood [Hackett], Dorset; 124.
- Beer Haven, fortified by the Spaniards, 1601; 137.
- Beerston (Beeston?) Castle; 346.
- Bees; 608.
- Beesby, Lincoln; 128.
- Beeston, Notts; 129.
- Beeston-next-the-sea, Norfolk, letter by inhabitants of; 485.
- Beeston:
 Mr., letter from; 277.
 — letters to; 270, 274.
 G., letter from; 282.
- Beete, Richard, book of prescriptions by; 365.
- Beeves; 113.
- Beg, license under the great seal to; 572.
- Begbrook, Oxford; 130.
- Begeham, monastery of, William, abbot of the, and the convent thereof, grant by; 509.
- Beggars; 410.
 employment of, 1693–4; 384.
 sturdy; 640.
- Begging license, a counterfeit, 1597; 290.
- Beill, James Livingstone of, letter to; 631. See Bealle.
- Beinstoun, James; 639.
 — of Lammyclaithame; 639.
- Bekene, John; 603.
- Bekensfelde; 556.
- Bekesbourne [Sussex], manor of; 454.
- Beket, Walter; 601. See Beckett.
- Bekley, Sussex; 502.
- Bekwith, Henry; 332.
- Bel, John; 620.
- Bel (?), T., letters to; 281.
- Belchamp Otton, Essex; 125.
 — St. Paul, Essex; ib.
 — Walter, Essex; ib.

Belcher:

- . . . , Governor of New Jersey; 215.
 J., Governor of New Hampshire; ib.
 Jonathan, Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia; 217.
- Belde:
 Richard, son and heir of Roger, of Rye; 507.
 Walter, baker; 504.
- Beldorney, George Gordon of; 627.
- Bele:
 John; 495, 496.
 Robert and William; 309.
 Thomas; 565.
- Belebuche, Roger, provost of Exeter; 606.
- Belsbey, Henry de; 336.
- Belfore, Sir William; 15. See Balfour.
- Belfry, a; 518, 527, 528, 529.
 in a churchyard; 517.
 expenses for making a, 1445; 528.
- Belgare, manor of; 531.
- Belgium; xii, 464, 566.
 English clergy in; 473.
 Papal Nuncio in, articles exhibited by [William?] Bishop to the, 1612; 476.
 — letter to the, 1616; ib.
 — letter to the, 1622; ib.
- Belgrade, battle of; 198.
- Belhaven, Lord, letter from, 1715; 618.
- Beliure; 188.
- Belknap, Robert, Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, kinsman of; 477.
- Bell, church, payments for recasting a; 593. See Bells.
- Bell-founder; 574, ib.
- Bell-ringers; 573, 589, 593, 597, 608.
- Bell Yard, in the Strand; 387.
- Bell:
 Mr., letter from; 258.
 Agnes, heir of Walter, of Inchtute; 621.
 Henry, letter from; 473.
 Henry, Scotsman, petition of; 23.
 Humphrey, of London, silkman; 85.
 John; 484.
 John, common clerk of Romney; 549, 551.
 Ranald; 621.
 Simon; 580.
 T., letter to; 281.
 Thomas; 620, 626.
 Walter, and Elizabeth Small, his wife; 621.
 Walter, Sir, rector of the church of Kyngorn; 622.
- Bellamy, N., letter from; 275.
- Bellard, John; 561.
- Bellarmin, Cardinal, letters to; 463, 476.
- Bellase, Mr.; 187.
- Bellasis:
 petition to the King signed by, 1640; 331.
 Lord, 1657; 152.
 — 1660; 149.
 Henry, M.P., letter to; 7.
- Bellaugh, Fort, letter dated at; 348.
- Bellchalwell, Dorset; 125.
- Bellegarde, Bellegrade, Bellegrande, Roger de, Mons., letters from; 265, 277, 288.
- Belle Isle, Island of Newfoundland; 233. fishing on the coast of, 1766; ib.
- Belleisle, Marshal; 217.
- Bellenden:
 John, Sir; 309.
 — of Ancherville, Kt., justice clerk; ib.
 William, Sir, letter from; 651.
- Belleytere, Richard le; 302.
- Bellin, C., letter from; 252.
- Bellingham:
 Rt. Hon. Spencer Perceval shot by; 305.
See Belyngham.
- Bellocampo:
 John de, sheriff of Appleby; ix, 329.
 Willelmus de; 301. See Beauchamp.
- Bellot:
 Mr., letters from; 283, 292.
 R., letter from; 275.
 Thomas, letters from; 269, 289, 290, 291 bis.
- Bells; 441, 519, 528, 529, 540.
 of Exeter cathedral to be melted for ordnance, 1642; 60. agreement for making, 15 Car. I.; 358. used at a Coronation; 538.
 casting of; 573, 574.
 ringing of; 143, 145, 167, 181, 198, 203, 204, 364, 382, 545, 574, 587.
 church; 517, 572, 574. See Bell.
- Belman, John, the younger, examination of; 94.
- Belmethorpe; 402.
- Belmont, charter room at; 621.
- Belmsthorpe, Ryall cum, constables of; 402.
- Belnavis. See Balnaves.
- Belne Bruyn, Worcester; 304.
- Belne Simonis, Worcester; ib.
- Belsam, Mr., pass for; 88.
- Belstone, Devon; 122.

- Belteis, Alexander Irvin of; 630. See Belty.
 Beltisloe wapentake, Lino.; 127.
 Belton, Lincoln; 128.
 Belton, Rutland, assessments of, 1671; 404.
 Belton :
 cause against; 96.
 Henry de, mayor of York; 330.
 Belty, Alexander Irvine of; 654. See Belteis.
 Belvoir; 208, 403.
 woods near; 16.
 proceedings concerning evidences at; 275.
 Castle; 388.
 Belyngbam, Robert, Esq.; 495.
 Bemerton, Wilts; 133.
 Bemstone Hundred, Somerset; 131.
 Ben. :
 letter from; 475.
 Mr., letter to; 469.
 Bench, the Upper; 149, 180 ter, 181.
 judges of the, 1658; 183. prisoners of the; 403.
 See King's Bench; Queen's Bench.
 Bendis, Henry; 578.
 Bendish; 359.
 Sir Thomas, coming home [from Constantinople?]; 174.
 Bendochie, barony of, court book of the; 623.
 Benedict, St., rule of; 451.
 Benedictine :
 a; 320.
 chapter at Northampton, 1366; 461.
 monks in England; 471.
 cloth, black; 437.
 habit; 432, 438.
 Benedictines; 466.
 Order of; 308.
 English, provincial chapter of, 1338; 461.
 in Paris; 465.
 English, report on the cause of the, 1608; 469.
 of the province of Canterbury, provincial of the, 1623; 467.
 agreement between the English secular clergy and the; 468.
 agreement between the Vicars Apostolic of England and the, 1695; 471.
 in England, order of the; ib.
 Benedictines, English, at Paris; 465.
 — convents of; ib.
 Benediction; 432, 437, 452.
 Benedictions; 305.
 Benefeld, John, bailiff; 578.
 Benefices; 455, 462, 614. exchange of; 428.
 list of, 1374; 453.
 Scotch; 635.
 — thirds of; 641.
 Benefit of masses, prayers, &c. grant of the; 330.
 Benetham, lands in; 332.
 Benethfeld, Adam de; 560.
 Benevolence :
 silver; 526.
 of the King, 1481-2; 527. for the relief of the distressed subjects of Ireland, warrant to collect a, 1641; 345.
 voted for the King, 1661; 203.
 Benevolences; 204, 402.
 Benfield, Dorothy; 587.
 Bengal; 243.
 Bengalla Bay; 360.
 Benge, John, clerk of the county of Kent; 493.
 Benholm, Lundy of; 632.
 Bennathy, lands of; 622.
 Bennetaller, Rev., letter from; 251.
 Bennett, Bennet, Benet, Beneyt :
 ... , servant of Sir Samuel Luke; 40.
 Dean of Windsor, letters from; 284, 290.
 Master, apothecary; 441.
 Mr., letter to; 472.
 Mr., bookseller, letter to; 318.
 Alderman, letter from; 272.
 Benjamin, Lieutenant-Governor of Bermuda; 414.
 Dr., letters from; 282, 286.
 Dr., assistant in the House of Peers; 111.
 E., letters and papers by; 463.
 Edward; 466.
 — appointment of, as (Catholic) Vicar General; ib.
 — (Rom. Sava), letters from; 473, 474, 475, 476.
 — letters to; 468, 474. See Sava.
 George, merchant; 351.
 H., letter from; 269.
 Harry, Sir; 151.
 James, letters by; 463.
 John; 407 bis, 465, 492, 509, 520, 561.
 John, clerk; 562, 563.
 John, Dr., letter from; 476.
 — priest; 466.
 — letters from; 469, 475.
 — letters to; 468, 476.
 — Rev., agent at Rome for the English Catholics, letters, &c. to; 473.
 Bennett, Bennet, Benet, Beneyt—cont.
 Paul, petition of; 36.
 Richard; 503, 504, 505, 537, 561.
 — grant by; 506.
 — butcher; ib.
 Robert; 492.
 Robert, and Emma his wife; 561.
 — of Wycombe; ib.
 Thomas; 509.
 Thomas, of Mekefeld; 596.
 W.; 523.
 William; 522, 523, 525, 526.
 Benoice, William; 6. See Beauvoys, Bevoies.
 Bentall, John, affidavit of; 95.
 Benthall, Salop; 131.
 Benting, Monsieur, at the Hague; 320.
 Bentley, Stafford; 132.
 Bentley, Sussex, house called; 53.
 Bentley :
 Dr., dialogue between Horace and; 364.
 Richard, Rev. Dr., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, letter to; 399.
 Saunders; 513.
 Benwell, Thomas; 478.
 Benyon :
 ... ; 49.
 Mr.; 11.
 George; 27, 34.
 — impeachment of; 9.
 — articles of impeachment against; 15.
 — report of the conference touching the impeachment of; ib.
 — answer of, to his impeachment; ib.
 — citizen of London, prisoner in the Tower, petitions of; 12 bis, 13, 14, 15, 24 bis, 30.
 — answer of, to a petition; 15.
 — cause between Lord St. John and; 26 bis, 46.
 — wife of; 30.
 Bepton, Sussex; 133.
 Berbice :
 colony of; 247.
 Council and inhabitants of; ib.
 Governor-General of, 1782; ib.
 Berchelee, William de; 600.
 Berchen, W., letter from; 280.
 Berchtwulf, King of Mercia, charter of; 437, 456. See Biorhtwulf.
 Berclay :
 James; 624.
 John de, de Menteth, Lord of Petmacaldore; 608.
 See Barclay.
 Berde, Nicholas; 577.
 Bere, Regis, Dorset; 125.
 — hundred of, Dorset; ib.
 Bereblock, William, letter from; 267.
 Bereford, alias Bradford, rectory of; 65.
 Beregrove, Robert, clerk; 511.
 Berell, Thomas; 527.
 Berelynde :
 in the parish of Pesemersshe; 512.
 Matildis de, alias de Dene, release by; 512.
 Berens, John, letter from; 257.
 Beresford :
 Captain, order for payment to; 50.
 Jo., letter from; 265.
 Lau., letter from; ib.
 Bergen-op-Zoom; 263.
 Lords, Estates, and Governor of, Colonel of regiment of foot under the, 1642-3; 75.
 Berghe, Countess de, letter to [1592]; 267.
 Bergrove, Richard, clerk, rector of the parish church of Snergate; 515.
 Beringer, Richard, petition of; 119.
 Berkeley :
 Barkley, Gloucester; 356, 357, 358.
 letters dated at; 346, 356.
 Castle; 345, 347.
 — articles for surrender of, 1642; 356.
 — letters and papers in 1642 about, and its siege and surrender; x, 333.
 — papers relating to, 1642-6; 356, 357.
 — churchyard adjoining to; 356.
 — letter dated at, 1719; 325.
 — letters dated at; 346.
 division of, names, &c. of able men for the wars in the; 339.
 Hundred of; 339, 346.
 — list of 22 villis in the, with sums of money to be levied in them, 1643; 346.
 — assessments in the; 333, 360.
 — high constables of the, 1643; 346.
 — chief constable of the, 1646; 356.
 Berkeley, Berkley, Berkley, Berkelai, Barckley, Barkley, &c. :
 Lord, Maurice (13th cent.); 334.
 — 1317; 337.
 — George, Elizabeth ... married to; 344.
 — Maurice, 1590; 343 bis.
 — Maurice, 1601; 353, 354.
 — Lord Lient. of co. Gloucester, 1608; 339.

Berkeley—cont.

- Lord, Maurice, letter to, 1613; 345.
 — the late, 1614; 409.
 — a ward, 1614; ib.
 — 1636; 344.
 — 1642; 333, 356.
 — 1643; 347.
 — 1646; 356.
 — his tenants; ib.
 — his petition, 1646; 357.
 — 1646; ib.
 — his steward, John Smyth, of Nibley; 333.
 — 1660; 149.
 — letter from, 1660; 347.
 — [t. Car. II.]; 295.
 — 1688; 198.
 — 1691-2; 382.
 Earl of, Charles, custos rotulorum of co. Gloucester, letter to, 1706; 348.
 Lady; 325.
 — orders set down by, 1601; 353.
 Lords; 344.
 Mr; 341.
 — letter by; ib.
 — letter to; ib.
 . . . ; 325.
 A., Sir, letter from; 288.
 Charles, Sir, petition of; 69.
 — child of; 72.
 G., letter from; 345.
 H., letter from; 325.
 H., Sir, minute of Council against; 268.
 Henry, Sir, justice of Somerset, certificate of; 5.
 John, Sir; 173, 191.
 John, Captain, letters from; 279, 289.
 John de, Sir, son of Sir Thomas de Berkeley, Lord of Berkeley, and Lady Hawyse his wife; 337.
 Maurice, letter from, 1595; 278.
 Maurice, deputy lieutenant of Gloucester, letters from, 1638-41; 345.
 Maurice de, son and heir of Sir Thomas de Berkeley; 337.
 Oliver de; 335, 336, 337.
 Philip de, Roger de Nuventun, son of; 336.
 R., deputy lieutenant of Gloucester, letter from; 345.
 R., Sir, letters from; 267, 274 bis, 279, 282 bis, 289, 290 bis, 293.
 Richard; 340.
 Robert de, deeds by; 335.
 — Juliana and Lucy his wives; ib.
 Robert de, Sir; 337.
 Robert, Sir, Justice of the King's Bench, prisoner; 10 bis, 49.
 — members [of Parl.] appointed to manage the evidence at the trial of, 1642; 21.
 — order for attendance of witnesses in his case; 24.
 — order to; 57.
 — notes respecting his trial concerning ship money, 1643; 105.
 — articles of impeachment of; ib.
 — judgment of the House [of Lords] upon, for his opinion in the case of ship money, 1643; ib.
 — trial of; 148 bis.
 Roger de; 335, 337.
 — Henry his son, Philip and Oliver, brothers of the said Roger; 335.
 Roger, son of Roger of; 337.
 Ry.; 345.
 Thomas de, uncle of Sir Thomas; 337.
 Thomas, Sir, and Lady, rules for the domestic service of; x., 333.
 — articles agreed upon between him and the Lady Elizabeth his wife, and John Smyth, gent.; 354.
 Thomas de, Sir, son and heir of; 337.
 W., Sir, body of; 315.
 William de; 333. See Berchelee.
 Berkeley Town (Virginia); 341.
 Berkeleys, Smyth's Lives of the; 367.
 Berkenroode:
 — Mons. de, letter from; 241.
 — letter to; ib.
 Berkhamptstead, manor of; 25.
 Berkshire, county of Berks; 47, 111, 153, 464.
 — petition of the high sheriff, knights, esquires, and other inhabitants of, 1642; 11.
 — custos rotulorum and justices of the peace of, letter to the, 1622; 410.
 — justices of the peace of, letter by two; 364.
 — justice of the peace of; 367.
 — sheriff of; 20.
 — high sheriff, &c. of the, 34 Eliz.; 368.
 — archdeacon of, official of the, 1574; ib.
 — Catholic archdeacon of, Ric. Maurice, 1649; 467.
 Berkshire, Earl of:
 — letter to the, 1641-2; 9.
 — 1642; 148.
 — Thomas, petition of, 1642; 48.
 — 1660; 149.
 — [temp. Geo. I.]; 189.

- Berkstead, Lord, Governor of the Tower, 1658; 142. See Barksted.
 Berlin; 627.
 — court of, 1792; 218.
 — letters dated at; 253, 254, 255, 628.
 Berlyngbroke; 510.
 Bermakere, Bartholomew; 539.
 Berm., Clarembaldus, prior monachorum de; 442 bis.
 Bermondsey:
 — St. Mary Magdalen's, petition of the churchwardens and parishioners of, 1642; 26.
 — petition of the parishioners of; 73.
 — order for the assessment of; 1643; 85.
 — order for sequestering the living of; 86.
 — St. Saviour of; 322.
 Bermuda:
 — islands of, or Somer Islands; 247.
 — patent for the, 13 Jas. I.; 340.
 — certificate under the public seal of, 1706; 414.
 — seizure of vessels belonging to, by the Spaniards, 1713-14; 229.
 — a Mutiny Bill in; 219.
 — Act for punishing mutiny, &c., in; 226.
 — Act passed in, in 1740, to prevent lawsuits; 230.
 — intended attack on, 1782; 247.
 — affairs of, 1789; 252.
 — Assembly of; 222.
 — Council and General Assembly of, 1706; 414.
 — custom-house, letters dated; 247.
 — Governor and Council of, 1749; 215.
 — Governor Bruere of, letters from, 1766; 222.
 — Governor Brown of, letter from; 245.
 — King's Bench in, power of the, 1750; 230.
 — Lieutenant-Governor of; 245.
 — [Benjamin Bennett], 1706; 414.
 — officers of the Crown in; 245.
 — settlers in; 221 bis. See Somer Islands.
 Bernan, William; 515.
 Bernard, St., a presbyter of; 653.
 Bernard:
 — Governor; 227.
 — commission to; 226.
 — reply of the House of Representatives to the message of; 227.
 — his altercations with the House of Assembly; 227.
 — letters and despatches from; 218, 220, 224, 227, 233, 250.
 — letters to; 223, 224, 250.
 — Henry; 336 bis.
 — of Culcreton; 336.
 — Henry, son of; 336, 337.
 — John, Lieutenant; 352.
 — Richard; 564.
 — Richard, of Rye, bond of; 512.
 — Walter; 335.
 — Walter, son of Henry; 336.
 Bernardi, Francis, agent to the ambassador of Spain; 69, 81.
 Bernardus, John, de Caresano, narrative of his life; 273.
 Bernbourg, letter dated at; 18.
 Berne; 366.
 Bernews, John, Esq.; 602.
 Berney, John, letter to; 484.
 Bernhand, Bernehond, Robert; 497, 508, 510, 511.
 Bernstorff, Baron; 255.
 Bernyngham, Robert, prior of the house of St. John the Baptist of Romney; 545.
 Bernys, town of the; 638.
 Berow. See Berw.
 Berrieaugh's:
 — lands and estate of; 650.
 — Captain Christopher Pomphray of; ib.
 Berrington, John, examination of; 285.
 Berrow, Berrowe:
 — Colonel; 356.
 — letter to; ib.
 Berrowe. See Berw.
 Berry Pomeroy, Devon; 123.
 — letter dated at; 372.
 Berry:
 — one; 385.
 — Colonel, Governor of Salop and the counties adjacent; 172.
 — John, Sir; 372.
 — John; 425.
 — John, of London, merchant, petition of; 119.
 — John, glazier, letter from; 414.
 — Sarah, petition of; 53, 56.
 — husband of; 53.
 — and her husband, cause between; 56.
 Berryarbor, Devon; 122.
 Bers, Adam; 425.
 Berte, Thomas, of Wederden, tanner; 595.
 Bertelot, Bertelot, Bertlot:
 — John; 511, 512, 513.
 — and Joan his wife; 511. See Bartelot.
 Bertie:
 — Mr.; 364.
 — Charles, the Hon.; 399.
 — Francis, fellow of King's College, Cambridge; 368.
 — See Bartue.

- Berulle, P. de, letter to; 470.
 Mgr., letter to; 471.
- Berw, Berow, Berrowe :
 co. Anglesey; 405, 406, 418, 419, 421.
 in the parish of Trevarthyn; 420.
 manor house and demesne of; ib.
 township of; 415.
 Issa, township of; ib.
 Issaph, ib.
 Ucha, messuages, lands, &c. in; ib.
 Yasa, lands, messuages, &c. in; ib.
- Berwick-upon-Tweed; 129, 193, 198, 275, 649. certificate of allowances to controllers of the checks and musters and of works at, 1593; 267.
 paymaster of the forces in garrison at, and of the works and fortifications there, 1643; 27.
 Irish prisoners sent to, 1642; 34.
 garrison of, paymaster of the, 1642; 40.
 garrisons at; 70.
 English garrison at, 1643; 106.
 proposal for a garrison of Scots to be put into, 1643; ib.
 town and garrison of, treaty between England and Scotland concerning the settling of the, 1643; 115.
 garrison of, ordinance respecting the payment of the, 1643; 117.
 — 1648; 649.
 commission to Sir Geo. Kinnaird to repair to General Monck at, to treat with him, 1659; 621.
 letter dated at; 309.
 grammar school of; 482.
 marshal of, 1592; 266.
 mayor of, 1642; 34.
 — letter to the; ib.
 mayor and corporation of, 1643; 106.
 merchant of; 443.
 sheriff of; 647.
 sheriff principal of the shire of; 646.
 sheriff-depute of; 649.
 treasurer of, letter to, 1594; 271.
 — letter to the; 136.
 county of; 646.
 shire of, justice of the peace for the; 643.
 — schedule of the sufferings of the, 1653; 649.
 (Berewycke), Henry of; 326.
 Lord Home of (Earl of Dunbar), 1606; 648.
- Berwick, North; 612.
 St. Mary of, nuns of, grant to the; 613.
- Berwick St. James, Wilts; 183.
- Berwick St. John, Wilts; 134.
- Berwick, South, Burgess of; 646, 647.
- Berwick, Duke of, 1689; 198, 345.
- Berwick, John, bailiff of the Hundred of Cudleston, letter to; 297.
- Beryar, William; 560.
- Besançon, Ranulf de; 481.
- Beakcott Park; 184.
- Beane, Seneiur de, James Jolly, Knight; 586.
- Beasdaleigh, Berks; 120.
- Best, Charles, petition of; 92.
- Besthorpe, Notts; 129.
- Betchworth, Surrey; 132.
- Betelefete; 505.
- Betham :
 J., letters from; 464.
 Thomas de; 332.
- Bethel, Hugh, letter from; 276.
- Bethell :
 Colonel; 193, 199.
 Slingsby, sheriff of London, death of; xv, 386.
 [Bethersden.] See Bedresden.
- Bethlehem, church of the Nativity at, Bishop of the, Hugh,
 grant of indulgence by, 1291; 444.
- Bethlesdene, monks of; 336.
- Bethune :
 family of, muniments relating to the; 623.
 John, Sir, Bart., muniments of; vi, xxi, 628.
- Beton, Beaton, Betoun, Betun :
 David, Archbishop of St. Andrew's, Cardinal; viii, 309, 631, 633.
 — letter of, 1544; xxi, 635.
 — murderers of; 309.
 — absolution sent by Francis I. to the "slayaris" of;
 xx, 651.
- Bets, John, under-keeper of Lamborne Walk in the Forest of Waltham, affidavit of; 96.
- Betahanger, Kent; 126.
- Betsoun, Joneta, wife of James Allardes; 630.
- Bette :
 John; 526, 527, 529.
 William; 519.
- Bettenham, Betenham, Stephen; 535, 537.
- Betting. See Wagers.
- Bettiscombe, Dorset; 124.
- Betton :
 John; 49.
 — affidavit of; 45.
 — petition of; ib., 49, 52.
 Richard; 45.
- Betton—cont.
 Richard, delinquent; 49.
 — of London, merchant, petition of; ib.
 — case of, against Owen George; 52.
 — senr.; ib.
 — junr.; ib.
- Betts, Thomas; 403. See Bets.
- Beumares. See Beaumaris.
- Bever, Bevere, Bevor :
 John, chaplain of the chantry of St. Mary at Rye; 489.
 — priest; 497, 498.
 Ralph; 608.
 Stephen; 515.
 — Lieutenant; 514.
 — mayor of Rye; 489.
- Beveridge :
 Dr., elect of Bath and Wells; 381.
 Thomas; 340.
 — song with music by; 340.
- Beveringe (ambassador in England), audience given to, 1653;
 192.
- Beverlett, Beverlette, John; 52, 53, 54.
- Beverley; 183, 191, 194.
 letters dated at; 38, 645.
 Alured of, copy of part of; 340.
- Beverley :
 Mr., letter from; 293.
 George, letters from; 261, 262.
 Jo., letter from; 285.
 Thomas, Sir; 300. See Beaverley.
- Beverwarden, —, 1653; 193.
- Beville, Sir; 188.
- Bevill, Mr., letter to; 292.
- Bevoies, Mr.; 12. See Beauvoys, Benoice.
- Bevon, David, affidavit of; 15.
- Bewcastle, Cumberland; 122.
- Bewe, Margaret; 523.
- Bewell, —, a tenant of the Earl of Salisbury; 60.
- Bewford, Walter Lindsay of, sheriff of the burgh of Aberdeen;
 630.
- Bewmares. See Beaumaris.
- Bewsborough Hundred, Kent; 126.
- Bexele, vicar of, John; 498.
- Beza, MS. of; 400.
- Bianchett, John, a Bononois, letter by; 213.
- Bianchetto, Cardinal, letter to; 469. See Blanchetti.
- Bible : bequest of a; 460.
 the Paris; 314.
 polyglot (Walton's); ib.
 — approbation of the proof of the; ix, 313.
 — expense of printing the celebrated; 308.
 Wicliffe; xi.
- Bibles; 45.
- Biblical : chronology; 399 bis.
 history; 400.
 theology; ib.
- Bicester; 104.
- Bickenhall (Bicknell), Somerset; 131.
- Bicker, Linc.; 127.
- Bickers, John; 2, 11.
 — petition of; 11.
- Bickerstaffe; 27, 48.
- Bickerton (Bickington), High, Devon; 123.
- Bickerton :
 Randall, affidavit of; 45.
 Robert, pass for; 88.
- Bickford, Mr.; 371.
- Bickington :
 Devon; 123.
 Abbot's, Devon; 122.
- Bickleigh, Devon; 122, 123.
- Bickley :
 Anne, petitions of; 85, 103.
 — order on a petition of; 104.
 John, of London, draper; 85.
 — suit of, against Anne Bickley his wife; 95.
 — petition of; 104.
- Bicknoller, Somerset; 132.
- Biddle, Sir Theophilus; 298. See Bidle.
- Biddlesden, Bucks; 120.
- Biddulfe, Mich., warrant signed by; 297.
- Biddulph :
 Mr.; 239.
 Capt.; 350. See Bedulph.
- Bideford, Devon; 122, 373, 572, 573.
 (Bryddeforde); 606.
 grammar school at; 372.
 men of; 575.
 mayor of; 597.
 letter dated at; 372.
- Bidle, the Socinian, tried for his life; 176.
- Biere, John, mariner; 587.
- Big, James, mayor of High Wycomb; 555.
- Bigamy; 169.

- Bigbury, Devon; 122.
 Bigby :
 Somerby juxta, Lincoln; 129. and members, Linc.; ib.
 Bigg, Bigge :
 ...; 482.
 Mr., chaplain of the Savoy; 139.
 Mrs., yard of, in St. Giles'; 65.
 Henry, mayor of High Wycomb; 558.
 John; ib.
 — mayor of High Wycomb; 556.
 — common clerk of High Wycombe; 559.
 — senior; ib.
 Biggar, Malcolm Fleming of; 618.
 Biggleswade, co. Bedford, impropriation of; 56.
 Bigman :
 ...; 497.
 William; 363.
 Bignor cum Buddington, Sussex; 132.
 Bijrasson, Magnus; 804.
 Biker, William, of Brede; 515.
 Bikerton, Walter of, Sir; 620.
 Bil :
 Adam; 559.
 Benedict; ib.
 John; 560.
 Walter; 559.
 William; 561.
 Bilbao, Bilboa, in Biscay; 24, 63, 314. prisoners in, 1586; 578.
 Bilborough, Lancashire; 126.
 Bilborough, Notts; 129.
 Bill of complaint and answer thereto; 422.
 Billars, William, alderman; 94.
 Billericay, Essex; 11.
 Billeting; 56. of officers; 581.
 of soldiers; 37, 73, 142, 331, 344, 349, 352, 397.
 and free quarter of soldiers, 1645; 403.
 Billets; 502.
 loading vessels with; 489.
 Billets for 12,000 men; 400.
 Billiard table, a; 338.
 at Oxford; 345.
 Billingborough, Lincoln; 128.
 Billingham, Durham; 125.
 Billingham, Sussex; 132.
 Billingsley :
 Alderman, letters from; 261, 266, 267 bis, 270 bis, 271, 272, 281, 286.
 — letter to; 270.
 Captain; 413.
 H., letters from; 262, 263, 264. *
 W., letter from; 262.
 Billington, Lancashire; 126.
 Billington, Captain, letter from; 282.
 Billmen; 329, 331, 417.
 Bills; 139.
 Billy, M. de, commissioner at Lisle, letter to; 291.
 Bilsington (Bilsyntone), prior of; 516, 524. See Bylsyngton.
 Bilson, Thomas, Dr., letters from; 276, 278, 281, 282.
 — account by; 279.
 Bilsthorp, Notts; 129.
 Bilton, George; 651.
 Binbrook, St. Gabriel, Lincoln; 128.
 St. Mary, Lincoln; ib.
 Bincombe, Dorset; 124.
 Binderton, Sussex; 133.
 Binding :
 payment for; 477.
 in oaken boards; 360.
 eastern; 405.
 Bindon :
 liberty of, Dorset; 123.
 parish of, Dorset; ib.
 Viscount, his livery of the Order of the Garter, 1607; 408.
 See Byndon.
 Vicountess, dowager of the, 1595; 278.
 Binegar, Somerset; 132.
 Binfield Hundred, Oxford; 130.
 Bingham, Notts; 129.
 Wapentake of, Notts; ib.
 Bingham :
 Mr., letters from; 252 bis.
 Sir Richard, letter to; 268.
 — letters from; 268, 285, 290.
 Bingley, Captain; 69.
 Binstead, Sussex; 132.
 Biographical notes; 298.
 Biorhtwulf; 456. See Berchtwulf.
 Biorhtwulfus, presbyter; 457.
 Birch, Lancashire; 127.
 Birch :
 Mr.; 185.
 Colonel; 361.
 — inscription on the tomb of; 384.
 Birch—cont.
 Thomas, Colonel; 342.
 Thomas, Esq., deposition of; 48.
 Birchington, Kent; 126. See Byrehington.
 Bird, Mr., student at Gray's Inn; 382. See Byrd.
 Birdbrook, Essex; 125.
 Birde, John, of Great Thornham; 594.
 Birdham, Sussex; 133.
 Bird's Plantation, north of James river, letter dated; 237.
 Birds Norton [Worcester?]; 300.
 Birds, sums allowed for killing; 597.
 Birkhead, Birkett, Birked, &c. :
 (alias Chamberlain) Mr., letters to; 468.
 George, Dr., archpriest of England; 472.
 — records about; 463.
 — letters and papers relating to; 469.
 — letters by; 463, 465 bis, 468 bis, 469, 475 bis, 476 bis.
 — letters to; 465, 469, 475.
 — (alias Salvin) letters to; 468, 469.
 William, letters from; 475.
 Birkinhead ("brother to our Oxford Anlicus"); 176.
 Birkinshaw, York; 134.
 Birkis, letter dated at; 638.
 Birkwood, Thomas; 433.
 Birmingham; 254.
 notes upon the priestly riots at, 1791; 258.
 letter dated at; 254.
 Biron :
 regiment of; 191.
 Mons. le Mareschal de, 1594; 273.
 — letters from, 1591; 265.
 — letter from, 1597; 288.
 Duc de, letter from the, 1597; 294.
 Birrough Bridge, formerly Isurium; 198.
 Birstall, York; 134.
 Birth :
 four children at a; present by Queen Mary to the mother;
 380.
 bull dispensing with defect of; 614.
 Births, registrations of; 594.
 Birtle, Lancashire; 127.
 Biscay; 24, 163, 582.
 Bay of; 349.
 coast of; 166.
 Spanish preparations at, examinations concerning, 1597; 288.
 Bisco, Mr., minister of Saint Thomas, Southwark; 81.
 Biscuits; 80.
 Biset, Henricus; 624.
 Bisham (Busklesham), Berks, prior and convent of; 561.
 Bishe, Edward, Sir, or Mr. (Clarenceux), letter to; 487.
 Bishop, Bisshope, Bisshop :
 Agnes; 563.
 D., Mr., instructions for; 465.
 Edward; 7.
 George; 328.
 Richard; 551.
 Robert; 548.
 William; 574.
 William, Dr., articles exhibited by, to the Papal Nuncio in Belgium; 476.
 — letters and papers by; 464.
 — letters from; 463, 469, 472, 473, 475, 476.
 — letter to; 470.
 — appointed to the see of Chalcedon; 466.
 — bull for the consecration of, as bishop of Chalcedon;
 467. See Chalcedon.
 See Busshoppe, Byschop.
 Bishop :
 office of, Dr. Hammon on the; 262. son of a, 1387; 614.
 a, and two lords sent to the Tower, 1722; 191.
 Bishoprics : of England, with the tenths payable to H.M., valuation of all the; 338.
 void, to be supplied, 1597; 294.
 1660; 175.
 (Catholic); 468.
 Bishops; 183, 318, 344, 414, 452.
 signatures of; 450.
 suffragan; 429.
 — original professions of obedience made by, to the Archbishop of Canterbury; 426, 453.
 — consecrated out of Canterbury, guarantees from; xiii, 453.
 See Suffragans. election of, charter of King John granting freedom in the,
 1215; 432.
 election and consecration of; ib.
 who opposed the Reformation; 469.
 letter to the, about vestments, temp. Ediz.; 363.
 Lord Chancellor's opinion on authority in excommunicating, and translating of prelates; 355. instructions concerning certain orders to be observed by the (temp. Jac. I.); 408.
 circular letter from the primate to the, 1622; 410.
 1626; 411. list of the, 1635; 476.

Bishops—cont.

twelve, impeached by the House of Commons, petition of the, 1641-2; 3.
 — proceedings upon the impeachment of the, 1641-2; 4.
 — petition of the, 1641-2; ib.
 petitions for their exclusion from the House of Lords, 1641-2; ib., 5 bis, 10.
 petition against, 1641-2; 6.
 the King's answer concerning the Bill for taking away their votes, 1641-2; 7.
 Lord Keeper's speech before the passing of the same Bill; ib.
 message of thanks to the King for passing the same Bill; ib.
 proceedings against the twelve, 1641-2; 9.
 free liberty to the, to answer for themselves without counsel, 1641-2; 10.
 prisoners in the Tower, petitions of the, 1642; 15, 16.
 under the Black Rod, petition of the two, 1642; 15.
 copies of votes of the Commons concerning the impeached, 1642; 16.
 petitions, thanking the House (of Lords) for casting out the, from sitting among them, 1642; 18.
 the impeached, Bill for the forfeiture of the lands, and for the punishment of, 1642; 21.
 in restraint, petition of the, 1642; ib.
 1642; 32.
 abolition of; 105.
 lands of; 106.
 and the sale of their lands, voted down, 1647; 173.
 1660-1; 157, 168 bis, 170, 184.
 and Presbyterian ministers, conference before the King between the, concerning Church government, 1660; 135, 157.
 five, consecrated in Henry VII.'s Chapel, Westminster, 1660; 157.
 impropriations of, 1660; 158.
 consecration of, 1660; ib.
 order by the Commons touching leases by, 1660; 199, 204.
 petition of the City of London to the House of Commons against, 1660; 204.
 lands of; 205, 206.
 — to be restored, 1660; 204, 205.
 settled by the King, both for Ireland and England, 1660; 206.
 Bill to repeal the Act against, and restore them to their votes in the House of Lords, 1661; 145, 160.
 dispute about their coming into the House of Lords, 1661; 151. opposition to the, 1661; 159.
 will be admitted into the House of Lords, 1661; 202.
 repeal of the Act excluding the, 1661; 203.
 1688; 325.
 well assured of James II.'s gracious intentions and favour for the Church of England, 1688; 198.
 desired to sign an abhorrence of the Prince of Orange, 1688; 324.
 King James II.'s; 376.
 seven, trial of the; 379.
 bellringing for deliverance of the, 1688; 575.
 and the new oath of allegiance, 1688-9; 376.
 labouring hard to effect a reformation, 1692; ib.
 Bills proposed in Parliament by the; ib.
 1710-11; 399. bench of, 1754; 322.
 subscriptions by (for the Hungarians), 1755; 322.
 foreign; 450.
 Bishop's Castle, Salop; 409.
 Bishop's Hull, or Hill Bishop's, Somerset; 132.
 Bishop's Norton, Linc.; 128.
 Bishopsbourne, Kent; 126.
 Bishopsteignton, Devon; 123. See Teynton, Bishop's.
 Bishopston, Wilts; 134.
 Bishopthorpe, letter dated at, 1711; 325.
 Bishopton, Durham; 125.
 Bisley, Bisleye, Bisly, Gloucester:
 petition of parishioners of; 64.
 church of; 64.
 vicar of; ib.
 hundred of; 339.
 parish of, land at Roewde in the; 336.
 Bispham, Lancashire; 126. See Byspham.
 Bispham, Mr., sub-dean of Chester; 350.
 Bissate:
 James; 631.
 Thomas; ib.
 Bisseford, Richard de; 335.
 Bissop, Henry; 423.
 Bitchfield, Lincoln; 127.
 Bitton, Gloucester; 326, 328, 329.
 rental of; 329.
 parish of; ib.
 — a mead called Sydenham in the; 328.
 parish and manor of, copies of records relating to the; 329.
 manor of, court rolls of the; 323, 329 bis.

Bitton—cont.

Hundred rolls of; 329.
 letter dated at; 328.
 Bixley:
 parish church of, chapel of our Lady in the; 435.
 — chantry in the; 460.
 Blaca, Richard la; 301.
 Blachenden, Master; 549.
 Blackabere, John; 580.
 Blackauton, Devon; 122.
 Blackburn, Lancashire:
 Hundred of; 126, 127.
 parish of, and places therein; 126.
 Blackburn, John, letter from; 236. See Blakeburne.
 Black Bo[w]rton, Oxford; 130.
 Black Death, great pestilence so called; 430.
 Blackfan, John F., prefect of the English (Catholic) mission in Spain, correspondence of; 466, 468.
 Blackhall, A.; 645.
 Blackheath; 162, 167, 168.
 inquisition as to the men who were at, 1472; 545.
 Black letter, oath of a burgess printed in; 323.
 Blackley [Blakeley], Lancashire; 127.
 Blacklow, Blackloe, Thomas; 465. writings of; ib.
 the Yorkshire priests' rejection of his books; ib.
 affairs of; 466.
 letters to; 472 bis.
 archpriest, papers concerning; 476.
 — letters from; 465.
 Blacklyn, Thomas, sergeant; 109.
 Blackmail; 629.
 Black monks; 451.
 Blackmore:
 Major, Governor of St. Helena; 381.
 Richard; 338.
 Blacknall, . . . ; 299.
 Blackness Castle, repair of; 610.
 Black Notley. See Notley, Black.
 Blackpool, Lancashire; 126.
 Blackpoole Mill (Devon); 572.
 Black River, on the Mosquito shore; 245.
 Rattan, people of; 246.
 letters dated at; 222, 247.
 Black Rod:
 Gentlemen Usher of the; 16, 35, 114, 150, 151, 154.
 — petition of the two Bishops under the, 1642; 15.
 Blackrode, Lancashire; 127.
 Blacks (mourning); 411.
 legacies to buy; 409.
 Blackston, William, minister; 62.
 Blackstone, William, of London, Spanish writing found by; 267.
 Blacktown, James Forbes of; 654.
 Blackwell:
 . . . ; 154, 207, 325.
 Captain; 199.
 Colonel; 168.
 George, archpriest; 473, 475.
 — examination of; 464.
 — letters from; 466.
 — letters to; 466 bis, 475, 476.
 Jacob; 216, 217.
 John; 155.
 Joseph, observations on West Florida by, with three plans; 216.
 Principal, letters from; 627.
 — his Memoirs of the Court of Augustus; ib.
 Blackwod, Robert de; 647.
 Bladwell, John, Captain, petition of; 117.
 Blagartno, lands of; 640.
 Blagdon:
 . . . ; 574.
 John; 573.
 Peter; ib.
 Blage, Henry, letter to; 363.
 Blagrove:
 John, oration by; 365.
 — verses by; ib.
 — A.M., Latin oration on the death of; ib.
 Samuel, signature of; 571.
 Blague, Admiral; 176.
 Blair, Blayr:
 Lord (1682-4); 610.
 . . . , signature of; 240.
 Alexander, of Balthiok; 621.
 Colonel; 94.
 George, of Gairdoun; 622.
 George, son and heir of David, of Pethy; ib.
 J., letter from; 225.
 James; 641.
 Janet, relict of Archibald Anderson, of Bournemouth; 262.
 John, apparent of Balgillo; ib.
 John, Sir, of Balgillo; 641.
 Thomas, son of Alexander; 621.
 Blaisworthe, William; 512.

Blaithwait, Mr. ; 325. See Blathwayt.

Blakberd, Richard ; 647.

Blake :

... of Cotten ; 593.

Anne, wife of William ; 71.

— petitions of ; 68, 72.

Chr. ; 267.

General ; 164.

— fleet of ; 164 bis, 165, 183.

— news from ; 164.

— news of his coming ; 165.

— hath taken nine Dutch men-of-war ; 191.

— set up his standard in the Straits ; 397.

John, mayor of Barnstaple, letter from ; 372.

Robert, Admiral, commoner of Wadham College ; 479.

Valentine, Sir, Irish rebels under ; 33.

William, petition of ; 71.

William, of Bridgwater ; 479.

— sub-warden of Wadham College ; 480..

Blakeborge, St. Katharine of ; 322.

Blakeburne, John, serjeant-at-arms ; 535. See Blackburn.

Blakehurst, Worcester, hundred of ; 304.

Blakemere, St. Mary and St. Laurence the Martyr of ; 322.

Blakepolle, Blakpolle, Blakpol, &c. :

John ; 563 bis, 564.

— mayor of Wycombe ; 563.

Blakethurne ; 327.

Blakewase and Dengeness, near Lydd, franchise of the Archbishop of Canterbury between, 1469 ; 524.

Blandford, Blanford, Dorset :

deeds relating to ; xvi, 602, 603.

east town of ; 602.

the Verebekynn ; ib.

Chepyng ; 603.

Forum ; 124, 602..

— market of ; 602.

— parish of ; 603.

— tenement in ; 602.

St. Mary ; 124.

— parish of ; 603.

— parish church of, rector of the ; ib.

— tenement in ; ib.

Blane, John, letter to ; 394.

Blanket, or Blanketts ; 299.

Blankett, Blanket :

Captain, account by ; 254.

— letters from ; 254, 255.

J., Captain, letter from ; 256.

Osbert ; 302.

Robert ; ib.

Blantyre, Lord, prior of Blantyre, 1700-2 ; 617.

Blappelle, John ; 564.

Blaquewelle, la ; 334.

Blasphemous :

words ; 76, 77.

charge of speaking ; 45.

speeches ; 150.

swearing ; 587.

Blasphemy ; 157, 168.

words of ; 83.

Blaston ; 391, 394.

Blathwayt, W., the Hon., principal secretary to H.M. in Flanders, letters to ; 296.

Blathwayte, W., letter from ; 320. See Blaithwait.

Blaucharne, Lord of, Sir John Kennedy, Knight ; 614.

Blaydon, near Oxford, living of ; 375.

Blayney, Thomas, letter from ; 361.

Blayseworthe, William ; 512. See Bleseworth.

Blean, otherwise St. Cosmus and Damian, Kent ; 126. See Bleen.

Bleangate Hundred, Kent ; ib.

Bleasby, Notts ; 130.

Bleasdale, Lancashire ; 126.

Bleeding ; 186.

Bleen, vicar of ; 440. See Blean.

Blegbery (Devon) ; 572 bis.

Blekelane ; 510.

Blekewelle ; 499. See Blykewelle.

Blenheim ; 211.

MSS. of the Duke of Marlborough at ; vii.
letter dated at ; 189.

Blenhois, David, in the Leyis of Dun ; 641.

Blennerhaysete, John, letter from ; 486.

Bleseworth :

William ; 511.

William, son and heir of William ; 513. See Blayseworthe.

Bletching, lordship of, near Lydd ; 531.

Bletchingley, Surrey ; 132.

Blewbury, Berks ; 120.

Blewet, Mr., letter to ; 319. See Bluett.

Blewett :

river of ; 14.

friars living about ; ib. See Bluett.

Blez, Roger de ; 337.

Blibro, St. Mary of ; 322. See Blyborough.

Blidworth, Notts ; 130.

Blincoe, George, letter from ; 264.

Blindlie, George Pringle of ; 643.

Blindness ; 319.

Blindsell, Robert, provost of Aberdeen ; 609.

Blinsele, Robert, Burgess of Aberdeen ; 630.

Blisland, Cornwall ; 121.

Blistering ; 186.

Blithfield, letter dated at ; 212.

Block-houses, stone ; 225.

Blodwite ; 552.

Blois ; 316.

Charles of, 1373 ; 453.

Peter of, archdeacon of London ; xv, 481.

Blomefield :

Gilbert ; 593.

John ; 595.

Thomas ; ib.

Blond. See Blount.

Blood :

drawing ; 549, 550, 553, 576, 577.

— fines for ; 551.

drawn between priests, 1514-5 ; 550.

Bloodleters :

surname of ; 503.

John ; 506.

John le, and Margery his wife ; ib. bis.

Bloomsbury Square, duel at ; 384.

Blosme, William ; 514.

Blosse, Tobias ; 66.

Blossom, John ; 524.

Blount :

... ; 213.

C., Sir, inventory of goods of ; 363.

Ch., Sir, letters from ; 269, 271 bis.

— letter to ; 269.

Eliza, letter by ; 488.

H. Tich., letters to and from ; 476.

Henry, Sir ; 196.

M., Sir, letters from ; 269, 271.

Richard, letters from ; 463.

(Blond) Richard, provincial of the English Jesuits, letters from and to ; 468.

Richard, Sir, sheriff of Oxfordshire ; 411.

Tom ; 488.

Thomas, Sir, letters from ; 268, 292, 293.

Water, Sir, Treasurer of England, letter of, 1464 ; 485.

See Blunt.

Blow, Henry ; 483.

Blower, Mr. S. S., letter from ; 236.

Bloxham, Oxford ; 130.

near Banbury ; 412.

Hundred of, Oxford ; 130.

— bailiff of the, 1625 ; 411.

Bloxworth, Dorset ; 124.

Bludworth :

Mr. ; 52.

Thomas, Sir, M.P. ; 181.

Bluemantle, visitation by, 1619 ; 367.

Bluet, Spanish army at, 1593 ; 269. See Blewett.

Bluett, R., letters by ; 463. See Blewet.

Blund :

Gilbert, provost of Exeter ; 606 bis.

Hilary ; 605.

— mayor of Exeter ; 606.

Nicholas ; 503 bis.

Symon ; 301.

Blundell, R., monk ; 488.

Blundeston, Robert, dispensations to ; 475.

Blunt :

C., Sir ; 363.

F., letter from ; 465.

Francis, papist ; 59.

George, letter from ; 281.

Hugh le ; 295.

Thomas, book written by, concerning Charles II.'s escape from Worcester ; 177.

See Blount.

Bluntisham cum Earith, Huntingdon ; 125.

Blyborough, Linc. ; 128. See Blibro.

Blykewelle :

spring called, near Rye ; 515. See Blekewelle.

Ralph de ; 504.

Richard ; 504, 506, 507.

Blyth, Notts ; 129.

Blyton, Lincoln ; 128.

Boars ; 444.

Boat :

a pleasure, sent H.M. by the States of Holland ; 168.

half share in a, bestowed in pious uses ; 454.

Boathaugh, titles relating to the lands of ; 633.

Boats ; 101, 217.

Bobby, or Bobbio, a valley of Luzern, community of ; 323.

- Bochard, Henry ; 508.
- Bocher :
- Peter ; 500, 511.
 - Reginald ; 511.
 - Robert ; 509, 510, 512. See Bucher.
 - and Benedicta, his wife ; 511.
 - the elder ; ib., 513.
 - son and heir of Peter, grant by ; 512.
 - Robert, alias Dunch ; 595.
 - Thomas ; 526.
 - Thomas, of Needham ; 596.
- Bocking, Essex ; 125.
- (Bockyn), rectory of ; 20.
- Bocking, Kent ; 456, 459, 461.
- corn mill at ; 444.
 - farm at ; ib.
- Boconnoc, Cornwall ; 121.
- Bodde, Nicholas, notary public ; 368.
- Bode :
- John le ; 503.
 - John, of Margate ; 536.
- Bodel, Nicholas le ; 302.
- Bodele, John, and Rose his wife ; 425.
- Boden, Mr., preacher ; 26.
- Bodenham, Wilts ; 184.
- Bodenham :
- Fran. ; 402.
 - Frank, sheriff of Rutland ; ib.
 - William de ; 337.
- Bodi, Richard ; 478.
- Bodicott, Oxford ; 130.
- Bodinger, John, B. L., notary public ; 368.
- Bodleian Library, Oxford :
- Latin inscription for a portrait of Dean Swift in the ; 342.
 - erection of the ; 369.
- Bodlen, co. Anglesey ; 420.
- Bodley :
- ; 473.
 - Lieutenant, words spoken by, concerning the safety of London ; 40.
 - Mr. ; 273.
 - remembrances for, touching musters ; 261.
 - letters from ; 270, 274.
 - letters to ; 264, 279.
 - Thomas, new library erected by (at Oxford) ; 369.
 - Thomas, Sir, letters from ; 264, 270, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 289, 292, 293.
 - letters to ; 264, 266.
- Bodlow, messuages, lands &c. in ; 415.
- Bodmin, Cornwall ; 111, 121, 574.
- Bodnowlyn, messuages and lands in ; 415.
- Bodrigan, John ; 425. See Botringan.
- Bodvel, John ; 416.
- Bodwell, John ; 421.
- Bodwin, Alexander Gordon of ; 609.
- Bodwine ; 417.
- Body, squire of the (King's) ; 154.
- Body, William ; 564.
- Bodye, William, the King's servant ; 296.
- Bodyn, Martin ; 604.
- Boethius de Consolatione Philosophiæ ; 404.
- Bogelere :
- John le ; 560.
 - Ralph, son of John le, of Sandhurst ; ib.
- Bohemia :
- King and Queen of, subscription for the, 1620 ; 570.
 - Queen of, present to the, 1660 ; 156.
 - 1661 ; 160 bis, 170, 171, 203 bis, 207.
- Bointon, Sir Matthew ; 108.
- Bois, Martin de ; 599, 605.
- Boisvon, M. de, sent by Louis XIV. to Scotland ; 116.
- propositions of ; ib.
- Bois-le-duc, in Holland ; xviii, 566.
- Bokenham ; 595, 596.
- Bokenham :
- Bridget (wife of Dr. Prideaux) ; xv, 373.
 - Francis ; 401.
- Bokerel, Elias ; 337.
- Bokhanger Wood ; 455.
- Bolbrook, manor of ; 304.
- Bold, William ; 421, 422.
- Boldstone, John, rector of Ivecchurch ; 548.
- Boldon, Durham ; 125.
- Boldyng, John ; 521.
- Bole (Bolle), Notts ; 129.
- Bolebec, Stephen ; 560.
- Bolehaies ; 583.
- Boles, Mr., vicgerent of Pembroke College Oxford ; 131.
- Bolesby, Henry de, Master ; 337.
- Bolestrode, Sir William ; 71. See Bulstrode.
- Boleyn :
- Anne, Henry VIII.'s marriage with ; 308.
 - copy of her letter to the King ; 309. See Anne.
 - George, letter from ; 270.
 - Thomas, Sir, agent in the Low Countries, letters from ; viii, 308.
- 38757.
- Bolingbroke (Bullingbrooke), Lincoln, riots at, 1642 ; 25.
- See* Bullingbrooke.
- Bolingbroke, . . . ; 364.
- Bolker, Roger ; 406.
- Bollacok, land of ; 386.
- Bolle :
- John ; 606.
 - Roger ; ib.
- Bollecote, in the manor of Newintun ; 337.
- Bologna ; 336.
- Bolon :
- Comes, R., 1213 ; 430, 454.
 - and Warren, W. Earl, charters by ; 442. See Warren, Earl of.
- Bolt, Isaac ; 587.
- Boltere, Thomas, common clerk of Romney, Kent ; 541. See Boulter.
- Bolton, Cumberland ; 121.
- Bolton, Lancashire ; 127.
- parish of ; ib.
 - Great ; ib.
 - Little ; ib.
- Bolton, Westmerland ; 133.
- Bolton [Duke of], signature of, 1715 ; 297.
- Bolton :
- E., letter from ; 475.
 - John de ; 450.
 - Richard, Sir, Lord Chancellor of Ireland, petition of ; 50.
 - letter from ; 82.
- Bolyn, Alice, wife of John ; 370.
- Bombs ; 348, 379.
- Bomelond, James ; 541.
- Bomunyn, Fergus Kennedy of ; 614.
- Bomur, Benedict ; 504.
- Bon :
- Walter le ; 601.
 - William le ; ib., 605.
- Bonamy, Samuel ; 259.
- Bonaventura, F. (Anglus), letters by ; 463.
- Bonaventura, the ; 187.
- Bonby, Lincoln ; 129.
- Bond :
- Mr., and other commissioners to value horses ; 57.
 - Mr., recorder of Weymouth ; 589.
 - Abraham ; 574.
 - John ; 572.
 - John, Captain, petition of ; 101.
 - John, Doctor, recorder of Weymouth ; 588.
 - Nicholas, D.D., Vice-Chancellor of Oxford ; 367, 368.
 - Thomas ; 368.
 - Thomas, Esq., complaint of ; 355.
 - William ; 605.
- Bond Street :
- letter dated at ; 359.
 - Old ; 190.
- Bonds ; 97, 101, 111, 112, 117, 405, 445, 451, 462, 489, 502, 571, 595, 610, 624.
- Bone :
- John ; 503.
 - John, son of Henry ; 498, 505.
 - grant by ; 505. See Boune.
 - Thomas ; 512.
- Boner :
- of Wettressam ; 493.
 - Edmonde, "clerk general," release by, 1569 ; 300. See Bonner.
 - William ; 626.
- Bones, discovery of some remarkable, like those of elephants, 1767 ; 216.
- Bonevassall or Bonevassell, Mighell or Michel ; 549, 550, 552. See Bonvassall.
- Boneved, Thomas le, and Juliana, his wife, grant by ; 506.
- Bonfires, bonfires ; 143, 145, 149, 167, 181, 203, 379, 382, 385, 589.
- Bonfrerius, James, Father ; 653.
- Bongars, the first of the works printed by, in the Gesta Dei per Francos ; 404.
- Bongay, Suffolk, great fire at ; 379. See Bungay.
- Bongrave, Sts. Mary and Blaise of ; 322.
- Bonhard, Patrick Grant of ; 623.
- Bonho :
- John ; 569.
 - William ; 510.
 - of Rodemersham, grant by ; 509.
- Bonington (Scotland) ; 612 bis. See Bonnington
- Bonitham, Mr., a commissioner ; 383.
- Bonjour, James, and Sarra, his wife ; 509.
- Bonkillis, lands of ; 631.
- Bonleigh, Devon ; 123.
- Bonnel, Jo., letter from ; 282.
- Bonner :
- Bishop, letter by, asking aid against the Abp. of Canterbury ; 299, 300. See Boner.
 - Humphrey, mayor of Nottingham, speeches by ; 270.
- Bonnington, titles relating to the lands of ; 633. See Bonington.
- Bonny. See Bunney.
- Bonny, the, ship called ; 341.
- Bonnytown, laird of ; 637.
- Bonrepaux, Sieur de ; 216.

- Bontyng, Bontynge :
 Margery ; 555.
 William the elder ; 564.
 — the younger ; ib.
- Bonulton, Thomas de ; 506.
- Bonus, Alexander, letter from ; 262.
- Bonvassall, John, clerk ; 549. See Bonevassall.
- Bonyt, Engelbert, ship called ; 443.
- Booge, the ; 610.
- Book, intituled "H.M. Propositions to Sir John Hotham and the Inhabitants of Hull," imprisonment for printing a scandalous ; 83.
- Bookham, Robert, information of ; 77.
- Books ; 87, 111, 319 bis, 322, 460 bis, 462, 627.
 and pamphlets, seditious, King's warrant against the printing and publishing of, 1641-2 ; 3.
 — scandalous, committee appointed to consider of, 1642 ; 16.
 warrant against printing libellous and seditious, 1642 ; 21.
 imprisonment for publishing, 1643 ; 82 bis.
 sequestered, ordinance for the preservation of, for public use, 1643 ; 114.
 licensing of ; 348.
 lists of ; 367, 369, 371.
 purchase and price of, 17th cent. ; 378.
 auctions of ; 378, 379.
 inventories of ; 444, 451.
- Bookseller ; 318.
- Booksellers of London and Westminster ; 320.
- Boomage ; 493.
- Booms ; 542, 545, 548.
- Boone, Boon :
 . . . ; 482.
 . . . , one of the city chirurgeons ; 166.
 Henry, chirurgeon, petition of ; 116.
 Thomas ; 251.
 — governor of South Carolina, warrants granted by ; 217.
 — letter from ; ib.
- Boons ; 332.
- Boors, the, in Flanders ; 152.
- Booth, Boothe :
 Andrew, petition of ; 114.
 Charles ; 342.
 Colonel ; 176.
 George, Sir ; 155, 156 bis, 174.
 — made a baron ; 206.
 — insurrection made by ; 300.
 — Bill for confiscation of the estates of those persons that were engaged with ; 153.
 — letter to, 1642 ; 344.
 J., pedigrees of Cheshire families by, with arms ; 367.
 Matilda, Mrs., letter to ; 390.
 W., Sir, house of ; 296.
See Bothe.
- Boot-hose, laced ; 113.
- Bootle, Cumberland ; 121.
- Borastoni Distinctiones ; 484.
- Borberel, Borberol :
 John ; 599.
 Roger ; 601.
 Thomas ; 424.
- Borbure, Simon clerk of ; 302.
- Bordeaux ; 180, 460, 537.
 wine from ; 536.
 voyages to, temp. Hen. V. ; 539, 540.
 and England, trade between ; 192.
 English merchants at, declaration of, 1596 ; 282.
 river of ; 14.
- Bordeaux, Mons. de, resident French ambassador, 1660 ; 154, 194, 205.
- Bordelais ; 461.
- Borden, John, letters to ; 394.
- Border :
 causes, Scotch commissioners in, 1597 ; 290.
 feuds ; 650.
 fines, the ; 643.
 laws and customs ; ib.
 matters, temp. Hen. VIII. ; 309.
- Borders, the ; 274, 308, 331, 639. disorders on the, temp. Hen. VIII. ; 650, 651. horses to be found by the Queen's tenants for service on the, 1592 ; 266.
 points of the Scotch King's letter compared with overtures for quiet of the, 1597 ; 291.
 commissioners for the suppression of theft on the, t. Car. II. ; 634.
 English and Scottish commissioners on the, 1674-6 ; 641.
 suppression of theft and rapine on the, 1674-8 ; ib.
 thefts and depredations about the, 1678 ; 642. letter from the Scottish commissioners to the English commissioners on the, 1678-9 ; ib.
 commissioners of Scotland and England on the, 17th cent. ; 642.
 commissioners of the, 1681 ; 643.
 — petition of the, 1681 ; 642.
 letters in reference to the ; ib.
 wardens of the ; 651.
- Borders, the—cont.
 Scottish, xxi, 70, 651.
 — royal commissions and papers connected with the, from 1619 ; 635, 642.
 — commissioners of the, volumes of proceedings by the, 17th cent. ; 644.
 — commissioners of justiciary for the, petition of the, 1678 ; 641.
 — commissioners on the, 1679 ; 642.
See Marches.
- Bordland, South, lands of ; 612.
- Bordwat, Robert ; 559.
- Boreman, William, Sir ; 345.
- Borgeys, John ; 561. See Burgeys.
- Borghe, chapel of, in Worcester diocese ; 303.
- Borghese, Cardinal : regulations by, 1600 ; 463.
 memorial to ; 466.
 letters to ; 475, 476.
- Borisdone, John ; 370.
- Boritone, Simon de ; 326.
- Borkby, York ; 134.
- Borlase, Burlace :
 Mr., of Cornwall ; 386.
 Jo. ; 352.
 — signature of ; 350, 352.
- Borley, Essex ; 125.
- Borne, Stephen ; 424. See Bourne.
- Borough :
 Mr., letter from ; 287.
 John, Garter King at Arms ; 418, 419
 John, Sir, keeper of the Records in the Tower ; 112.
 William, letters from ; 277, 285, 291 bis.
- Borough holders, t. Car. II. ; 197.
- Boroughs :
 in the West ; 171.
 rights of ; 257.
- Borow ; 491.
- Borrell, John ; 565.
- Borrowes, Mr., letter to ; 248.
- Borrowmore, in the shire of Edinburgh, lands of ; 611.
- Borstede, Stephen ; 433.
- Borthwick :
 Lord, William, 1482 ; 626.
 Sam., letter from ; 261.
 William, Sir, of that ilk ; 611.
See Bothwick.
- Boscawen, W., signature of, 1715 ; 297.
- Boscobel, Charles II.'s retreat to ; 469.
- Boscombe, Wilts ; 133.
- Boseham, Ralph de ; 601.
- Boseny :
 Adam de ; 503.
 Ralph ; ib.
- Boseville, J., letters from ; 469, 475.
See Bosseville, Bosville.
- Bosham hundred, Sussex ; 133.
- Boane :
 John de ; 508.
 Thomas ; 514.
- Bosome, Thomas, prior of Norwich ; 450.
- Bosomworths, claims and pretensions of the ; 217.
- Bosseville, Bosseville :
 Captain, letters from ; 284, 287.
 John, letters from ; 463. See Boseville, Bosville.
- Bostock, Richard, of Tattenhall in Cheshire, gent., his poem on the earls of Chester ; 333, 338.
- Boston, Lincoln ; 29, 127.
 suits of officers of the port of, with answers for Corporation, 1593 ; 268.
 riots at, 1642 ; 25. order for the customers of, to allow provisions to be sent to Hull, 1642 ; 36.
 volunteers, order for the indemnity of the, 1642 ; 39.
 mayor of ; 25.
 — letter from the, 1594 ; 271.
- Boston, Massachusetts ; 215, 219, 242. scheme for erecting a landbank in, 1735 ; 229.
 depositions of the inhabitants of ; 220.
 riots at, 1766 ; ib.
 seizure of the ship "Liberty" at, by the officers of the customs, 1768 ; 230.
 insurrection in, 1768 ; 231.
 council held at, minute of, 1774 ; 233.
 commencement of hostilities by the King's troops between Concord and, 1775 ; 234.
 French agent at, 1789 ; 256.
 letter from, 1788 ; 252.
 letters dated at ; 224, 233, 252, 256.
 Evening Post and General Advertiser, 1782 ; 236.
 Gazette, the ; 218.
- Bosville, Captain, letter from ; 279. See Boseville.
- Boswell :
 John ; 625.
 Jo., letters from ; 476.

Boswell—cont.

Sir William, the King's resident at the Hague, papers exhibited by, to the Estates General; 102.

Boteler :

Lord, an idiot; 109.
 . . . , order for his discharge; 18.
 Allan, cup-bearer to Henrietta Maria, petitions of; 10, 17 bis.
 Ph., Sir, letters from; 273, 278.
 Stephen; 494.
See Botteler.

Botemount, Alexander, clerk; 504, 505, 506.

Botetok, John; 513.

Boteyn, Simon; 493.

Bothanis, collegiate church of, vicar of the; 620.

Bothe, Mr. Sheriff, letters to; 269.

Bothenhampton, Dorset; 124.

Liberty; ib.

Bothwell, Earl :

indictment of, upon the murder of the Lord Darnley, King of Scotland; 213.

letters to, from Queen Mary of Scotland, remarkable passages collected out of the; ib.

contract for marriage between Queen Mary and, 1567; ib.
 James, contract for marriage between Queen Mary and, found in 1568; 309.

— See Orkney, Duke of.

rebellious schemes of; 648.

letters from the, 1588; 261, 262.

— 1589; 262.

letter from, 1590; 264.

Francis; 646.

— seal of, 1590; 648.

letter to the, 1594; 272.

answer to, 1594; 273.

letter from, 1594; 270.

— 1596; 281.

letter to, 1596; 286.

Bothwell-bridge; 642.

Bothwick, Captain, his discourse on the marriage of James (King of Scots); 264.

Botringan, John and Joan; 602. See Bodrugan.

Botta, Marquis de, conversations with the, 1752-3; 627.

Botteler, William, and Joan his wife; 571. See Boteler.

Bottesford and hamlets, Linc.; 128.

Bottlebridge, Huntingdon; 126.

Bottles; 573.

Boturforde, John; 538.

Botus Fleming, Cornwall; 121.

Boty, alias Parkyns, Thomas; 565.

Boudon, Sir Richard de; 802.

Boufflers, Marshal; 345.

Boughton, Notts; 129.

Boughton-Malherbe, Kent, petition of the inhabitants of; 91.
 parson of; ib.

Boughton :

Thomas, deputy lieutenant for the county of Warwick; 30.

William, Sir, justice of the peace in co. Warwick; 15.

Bouillé, Marquis de; 246, 252.

— commander in chief of His most Christian Majesty's forces in the West Indies, proposals to the; 245.

— See Bouillon, Marquis de.

Bouillon, Duc de :

letters from the, 1591; 263, 264.

letters to the, 1593; 269.

letters from the, 1595; 274, 275, 276, 277.

obligation of the, for the defence of Boulogne-sur-Mer, &c., 1596; 281.

letters from the, 1596; 280, 281, 284, 286.

letter to the, 1596; 284.

letters from the, 1597; 289, 290, 292, 293, 294.

Marquis de, (1782 ?); 210. See Bouillé.

Boulogne; 147, 164.

(Bolon), town of, won by King Henry VIII.; 424.

sur-Mer, &c., the defence of, 1596; 281.

See Bolon, Earl of; Bullen; Bulloigne Bay.

Boulonnais, seneschal of the, his lieutenant general; 461.

Boulter, John, clerk; 559. See Boltere.

Boulton, Richard, letter from; 417.

Boundaries; 606.

[Indian], in N. America; 227.

Boundary line, a, in N. America; 224.

Boune, John; 425. See Bone.

Bounties, from 1744; 260.

Bounty of the Crown, 1761; 323.

Bourbon :

waters of; 63.

Charles de, letter from, 1595; 275.

Franc. of, letter from, 1595; 278.

Henri de (Prince de Condé), letter from, 1591; 265.

— letter from, 1595; 278.

Duke of, Madame de Prie, mistress of the; 364.

Bourbourg; 202.

Bourcher, Henry, letter from; 267.

Bourchier, Bourghchier, Bowsier :

Lord de, minstrels of the, temp. Henry VI.; 491 bis.

Bourchier—cont.

and Lovayne, Lord; 331.

Lady Dorothy and Lady Ann, daughters and co-heirs of Edward, late Earl of Bath; 41.

Cardinal, 1482; 435.

Bourdieu :

James, Mons., letters from; 255, 256.

— letters to; 256.

Bouremans Barns; 543.

Bourne Dyke, Lincoln; 128.

Bourne :

Nicholas; 85.

R. de; 435. See Borne.

Bournemouth, Archibald Anderson, of; 622.

Bourton, Oxford; 130.

Black, Oxford; ib.

Bourton, Bourtone :

Richard de, and Agnes his wife; 327.

Robert; 602. See Burton.

Bourty, kirk of; 644.

Boute . . . , Mrs. [actress]; 198.

Boveree, . . . , Sir, merchant of London; 384.

Bovey :

North, Devon; 123.

South [or Tracy], Devon; ib.

Bovy, William; 424 bis, 425.

Bow, long, exercise of the, 1601; 353.

Bow Street, letter dated at; 359.

Bowdyne, John; 527.

Bowe, William a; 551.

Bowen :

Mr.; 218.

Captain, address by; 239.

Bower Chalk, Wilts; 134.

Bower :

Mrs. [actress]; 197.

Roberti, Magistri, compotus; 477.

Bowers, Robert, marriage of, with Elizabeth Parker; 66.

Bowes :

. . . . ; 57.

E., letter from; 274.

Robert, ambassador in Scotland, instructions to; 273.

— letters from; 261, 285, 289, 290.

— letters to; 272, 285, 293.

Thomas, Sir; 38.

W., treasurer of Berwick, letter to; 271.

W., Sir, and others, commissioners, answer to articles by; 278.

— search in Raby Castle by; 285.

— indentures delivered to; 290.

— remembrances of, on arrest, 1597; 294.

— letters from; 289, 290.

— letter to; 289.

Bowetby, John, of Rye; 512.

Bowetoune, in the parish of Lydd; 534.

Bowfrount, Alice; 511.

Bowghey, Thomas, of Brockton in co. Stafford, petition of; 13.

Bowir, James, parson of Auchincraw; 646, 648.

Bowles :

. . . . ; 328.

Oliver; 108.

Robert, Captain; 63.

Bowling (Boulling), York; 134.

Bowling; 353.

green, a; 103.

Bowls; 46.

Bowman, John, of London, navy agent; 249.

Bowmen; 329, 331, 567.

Bowne, Nicholas, examination of; 94.

Bowness, Cumberland; 121.

Bows; 520.

and arrows; 516, 543.

Bowsher, Alexander, affidavit of; 68.

Bowtoun, letters dated at; 616.

Bowyer, Bowyer :

John; 602.

Richard le, bailiff of High Wycombe; 561.

Robert, burgess; 602.

Box and Stockbridge Hundred, Sussex; 133.

Box, Thomas; 517.

Boxford, Berks; 120.

Boxgrove, Sussex; 133.

Boxley, Boxle :

parish of; 512.

St. Mary of; 322.

abbot of; 452.

Boxstead, Suffolk, minister of; 51.

church of; ib.

Boy Bishop :

the (of Romney); xvii, 516, 517, 520, 522, 524, 527, 528.

of St. Nicholas; 529.

Boyce, Jeffery; 93. See Boys.

Boyd, Boyde :

Lord, 1567; 310.

— 1568-9; 616 ter.

— 1569; 310.

- Boyd, Boyd—cont.
 Lord, 1573; 309.
 George, petition of; 249.
 Boydell, Thomas, letter from; 359.
 Boydin, John, clerk; 326, 327.
 Boyle:
 abbey of; 288.
 castle of; 80.
 Boyle:
 David; 350.
 James, letter from; 364.
 R., letters from; 314.
 Boyn, younger; 643.
 Boyne; 610.
 Boynton:
 Sir Francis; 193.
 Sir Thomas; 332.
 Boys:
 Edward; 138.
 Edward, signature of; 570.
 Jeffery, petition of; 98. See Boyce.
 John, Captain; 350.
 John, deputy lieutenant of Dover Castle, letter from; 571.
 Juliana; 423.
 Martin le (or Bois); 601.
 Osanna de, daughter and heir of Walter de Boyes; 611.
 Robert, certificate by; 117.
 W., Mr., jurat of Sandwich, collections of; xviii.
 Boyse, Anthony; 120.
 Boysterley, Worcester, manor of; 295.
 Boyt, Walter; 582.
 Boyten, Reyman, ship; 443.
 Boyton, Cornwall; 121.
 Bozen; 366.
 Br . . . ns, Bryan, Sir; 208.
 Brabant:
 M. Dumourier's army in, 1792; 213. account of affairs in, 1792; ib.
 Brabant, Mr., customs officer; 381.
 Brabesone, William; 535.
 Brabourne, church of; 427.
 Bracciano, Duke of, Flavio, letter from; 317.
 Braceborough, Lincoln; 127.
 Bracebridge, Lincoln; 128.
 Brackele, Walter de; 336.
 Brackenbury, R., letter from; 265.
 Brackley, Laird of; 632.
 Bracy:
 Robert de, Lord; 302.
 William de, agreement by; 301.
 Bradbourne, Humphrey, petitions of; 58, 59.
 Bradburne; 520.
 Braddon, Mr.; 574.
 Bradeote, manor of, rent in the; 303.
 Bradele, John de; 561.
 Bradelega:
 Henry the clerk of; 335.
 Hugh de, and William his brother; ib.
 Bradelege, William de; 336.
 Bradeley, pasture in, called St. John's ground; 295.
 Bradenestoke, St. Mary of; 322.
 Bradenham; 558, 561.
 church of; 562.
 parson of, Sir John; 562.
 Bradestane, Robert de; 337.
 Bradeworth, church of; 604.
 Bradewud, Alan de; 301.
 Bradfield, Berks; 120.
 Bradfield, St. Clare, Suffolk; 52.
 Bradford, alias Bereford, rectory of; 65.
 Bradford, Devon; 122.
 Bradford, Dorset; 125.
 Bradford, Abbas, Dorset; 124.
 Bradford, Lancashire; 127.
 proclamation by the Earl of Newcastle at, 1643; 95.
 Bradford, Somerset; 132.
 Bradford, York; 134.
 Bradford, Captain, letter to; 263.
 Bradgate:
 Mr., letter from; 291.
 M., Capt., letter from; 274. See Bredgate, Brodgate.
 Bradicote, Worcester, lands in; 295.
 Bradley, co. Gloucester, hundred of; 339.
 Bradley, Lincoln; 128.
 Bradley Haverstoe Wapentake, Lincoln; ib.
 Bradley, West, Somerset; 131.
 Bradley, John, Captain; 74.
 — petitions of; 72, 74.
See Bradele, Bradelega, Bradeley.
 Bradmore, Notts; 130.
 Bradninch, Devon; 122.
 Bradpole, Dorset; 124.
 Bradshawe, Bradshaw:
 Mr., letter from; 226.
 — of the Treasury, letters from; 250.
 Henry; 360.
 Bradshawe, Bradshaw—cont.
 James; 486.
 John; vii, 150.
 — papers and writings of, custody of the; 328.
 — letter from; 344.
 — President of Council of State, 1650; 344.
 — Lord, Chief Justice of Chester, Flint, and Denbigh, petition to, 1656; 422.
 — State papers embezzled by; 323.
 — bill of attainder against, 1660; 184.
 — intended exhumation of, 1660; 298.
 — the Commons vote that the body of, be taken to Tyburn; 135.
 — to be hanged at Tyburn; 151.
 — carcass of, taken up and drawn upon a hurdle to Tyburn, &c.; 158.
 — confiscation of the estate of; 150, 205.
 Nicholas, mayor of High Wycomb; 558.
 Bradstede, manor of; 458.
 Bradstock, [Burton], Dorset; 124.
 Bradstone, Devon; 123.
 Bradstreet, Col., his congress with the Indian deputies; 218.
 Bradworthy, Devon 122.
 Brady, Joane, relict of Garratt Brady, gent., petition of; 39.
 Braemar; 628.
 Castle at, description of the; ib.
 Braga, in Portugal; 202.
 Bragg:
 v. Rosewell, in error; 12.
 (Brage), Captain; 403.
 — his company; 587.
 John, verses on the death of; 365.
 Roger, gent., petition of; 65.
 — his son; ib.
 Braham, D.; 250.
 Brai, Ralph de; 600.
 Braidlayis, lands of; 624.
 Braidly, Allan Stewart in; 615.
 Braine, Robert, Esq., estates of; 329.
 — sisters and co-heirs of; ib.
 Braintree, Essex; 125.
 Bramber Rape, Sussex; 132, 133.
 Bramcote, Notts; 129.
 Brames, Arnold, merchant, petition of; 112.
 Bramley, Thomas; 566. See Bromley.
 Bramford Speke, Devon; 123.
 Brampton, Bramston, Bramstone:
 Sir John, Lord Chief Justice, 37, 44, 59, 111.
 — petition of; 13.
 — reports of; 43, 111.
 — certificate of; 50.
 Robert; 564.
 Roger, bailiff of Wycombe; ib.
 — mayor of High Wycomb; 557, 564.
 Brampton, Cumberland; 122.
 Brampton, Huntingdon; 126, 484.
 Brampton, Lincoln; 129.
 Bramptone, John; 562.
 Brampton, William, citizen of London; 443.
 Bramshaw, Wilts; 133.
 Branceford Bridge; 299.
 Brancepeth, Durham; 125.
 Branch and Dole Hundred, Wilts; 133.
 Brande, William; 490.
 Brandenburg; 170.
 envoy from, 1660; 205.
 Joachim Fredericus, eldest son of Mary of, letter from 1590; 264.
 Elector of, 1614; 140.
 — mission from Charles II. to the, 1654; 314.
 — ambassador from the, 1661; 159.
 Duke of, 1661?; 202.
 Brandon:
 Lord, 1684; 186.
 Duke of, the Duke of Hamilton's claim to a seat in the House of Lords as, 1780; 212.
 Brandon, Joseph, Esq.; 43.
 Brandy; 325.
 Brandye, M., letter from; 268.
 Brandywine, Sir W. Howe's army at; 236.
 Branston, Lincoln; 128.
 Branthwaite, Brantwaite, Richard, petitions of; 59, 62, 74.
 Brantsen, Mons. de, letter from; 241.
 — letter to; 241.
 Brasier, John; 477.
 Brass; 354, 357.
 Brasse, Thomas, yeoman; 515.
 Brassington, Mr.; 397.
 Brasted, Kent; 126.
 Brattleby, Lincoln; 128.
 Bratton Clovelly, Devon; 123.
 Bratton Fleming, Devon; 122.
 Braughull, Lord, 1642; 346.
 Braund (witness to a deed); 481.

- Braunton :
Devon; 122.
hundred, Devon; ib.
Brawnche, William; 626.
- Bray :
...; 482.
H. de, Master, Escheator; 432.
Reginald, Sir; 331, 332.
See Brai.
- Brayley, Henry, letter from; 372.
- Braynesford, fatal encounter at, 1642; 147.
- Brazil; 244.
fleet, the Portuguese, 1657; 149.
military preparations of the Spaniards against; 244. limits of, treaty between Spain and Portugal to settle the, 1750; ib.
infractions of the peace in, 1765; ib.
settlements; 254.
Viceroy of, Comte Da Cunha, letter from the, 1765; 244.
- Brasilians; 255.
- Brasils, the; 163.
- Bread :
in bakers' shops, extortionate prices for, 1622; 410.
assize of; 489, 540.
ordinance touching; 531.
- Breadalbane :
Lord, letter from; 619.
Earl of, 1715; ib.
- Breage (Breock), Cornwall; 121.
- Breakfast; 544, 545, 548, 550.
- Bream :
Colonel, of Kent, sons of; 384.
Giles, Esq; 111.
- Brearton. See Brereton.
- Brechin ; 635, 636 bis, 637, 638, 640.
chanter of; 631.
minster of; 635.
tenants of; 639.
letter dated at; 314.
diocese of; 638, 639.
Bishop of, George, Chancellor of Scotland, 1457; 627.
— Chancellor of Scotland, 1458; 629.
— William, 1500; 631.
— 1588; 640.
— Da., letter from, 1665; 314.
— Ro., 1676; 317.
Sir Thomas Erskine of; 635.
— Secretary to King James V.; 633. See Breichen.
Thomas, son of Sir Thomas Erskine of; 639.
- Brecknock, inhabitants of; 266.
prison of; 464.
- Brecknoke, Richard; 515. See Breknok.
- Brecon :
lordship of; 407.
alias Brecknock, Little Forest of; ib.
county of, Lieutenant of the, order for the Earl of Pembroke to be, 1642; 40.
- Breda; ix, 149, 180, 205, 206, 357. relief of; 411, 487.
Charles II. at; 181, 300, 645.
the King's declaration at, 1660; 195.
Lord Ambassador Coventry at (1667); 315 bis.
letter dated at; 315.
- Bredbury; 499.
- Bredcake, . . . ; 29.
- Brede, Sussex; 495, 511, 515.
court of, lands held of the; 510.
lordship of; 500.
manor of; 508, 514.
parish of; 509.
vill of; ib. 514.
Reginald de, grant by; 506.
- Bredware, Robert; 504, 506.
— grant by; 505.
- Bredgate :
Mat., Capt., instructions to, for voyage to Barbary; 280.
— letters from; 280, 285. See Bradgate, Brodgate.
- Bredone; 302, 303.
- Bredy, Little, Dorset; 125.
- Breen :
Mr.; 251.
John; ib.
- Bregandynse, the; 552.
- Bege, John of; 492.
- Bregeman, John; 424.
- Bregetone, William; 425.
- Bregge :
or "a Bregge," John; 529. See Brigge.
Robert, vicar of Romney; 427.
- Brehtone, (?) Philip, and Alice his wife; 562.
- Breichen, Thomas Erskin de, miles, et Regis Secretario; 631.
See Brechin.
- Brightmet (Brightnett), Lanc.; 127.
- Breistwell, York; 134.
- Brekespere, Joan; 541.
- Brekstone; 515.
- Brekstone or Brekestone, William; 510, 513.
William, the elder; 510.
— — and Joan his wife, grant by; 509.
William, the younger; ib., 510.
- Breknoke, Breknok :
John; 492.
Thomas; 492.
See Brecknoke.
- Brekoch, lands of; 608.
- Brekynnden, Robert; 491.
- Bremen, merchants of; 443.
- Bremesgrave, Worcester, manor of; 304.
- Brenan, David, rector of the church of St. Maria de Foro [Bristol?]; 327.
- Brenchley, Kent, clerk and sexton of; 46.
- Brenchley, Joan, chantry endowed by; 435.
— will of; 460.
- Brendanus-Banarwe, church of; 445.
- Brendon, Devon; 123.
- Brent, South, Devon; 122.
- Brent Tor, Devon; 123.
- Brent :
the lawyer; 89.
Nathaniel, Sir; 29, 35, 57, 68, 91, 92, 105. .
— vicar-general; 85 bis.
— certificate by; 86.
Roger; 523.
— of Canterbury; 494.
- Brentano, M. de, son of; 253.
- Brente, William, and Joan his wife; 423.
- Brentford, Middlesex; 129, 324. poor of; 111.
order for relief of the inhabitants of; 58.
- Breredon, Stafford, messuage in; 295.
- Brerely's Apology, dedication to James I. of the Latin version of; 474.
- Brereton :
Richard, letter to; 344.
William, Sir; 32, 142, 143 bis, 205, 339, 344, 349, 350.
— baronet, commander-in-chief of all forces in Cheshire; 144.
— instructions for; 29.
— letters from; 31, 290.
— M.P.; 350.
— letter to; 352.
William, letter from; 344.
- Brerewood :
Jane, Mrs.; 143.
Robert, serjeant-at-law, recorder of Chester; 352.
— — letter to; 344.
- Breslau, letters dated at; 255, 628.
- Brest; 254, 345.
memoranda for, 1594; 271.
French fleet at, 1642; 14.
fleet, the, 1782; 245.
governor of, letter from the, 1596; 280.
- Bret, R. le; 337. See Breth.
- Bretagne; 536.
ship called "Le Ruge Culé" of; 528.
Duke of, proclamation of peace between the King (Henry VII.) and the, 1486-7; 547.
Anne de, Queen of Louis XII. of France; 362.
See Britany.
- Bretenne, the (ship); 494.
- Bretenne, . . . ; 495.
- Breth, Ric. le; 337. See Bret.
- Brether, John, clerk; 425.
- Bretherton, Lancashire; 127.
- Breton, Cape : island of, state of the, 1766; 219.
coal mines of; 223.
Daniel, affidavits of; 108.
— petition of; ib.
- Bretons; 528, 542.
- Brett :
Captain, letter from; 289.
George, captain; 137.
John, petition of; 118.
Richard; 260.
Robert, Sir; 409.
- Bretton, West, York; 134.
- Bretton, William; 336.
- Brettus, lord of, 1642; 346.
- Bretun, William; 336.
- Bretwelle, John de; 560.
- Breus, Marie de, letter by, 14th cent.; 337.
- Breuse, W. de; 454.
See Brewes, Brewse.
- Breuwere, Ralph, mayor of Clifton Dartmouth; 601.
- Breviel, Adam de, Master; 604.
- Brewar, John; 529.
- Beward, [St.], Cornwall; 121.
- Brewer :
...; 58.
Edmond, clerk, petition of; 64.
Edmund, preacher; 83.
Professor; v.

- Brewers ; 489, 565, 623. ordinances touching ; 531, 557.
- Brewerton, Sir William ; 78.
- Brewes, Piers de, chivaler ; 498.
See Breus, Brewse, Brouse.
- Brewhouse, composition relating to a ; 448.
- Brewing :
trade of ; 95, 607.
contrary to the assize, fines for ; 576.
- Brewse, Randolph ; 600.
See Breus, Brewes.
- Brewsters' barrels ; 489.
- Brewton, Richard, suit of ; 29.
— petition of ; 41. See Bruton.
- Breymaston. See Brigmerston.
- Briani, Alexandri, martyrism ; 473.
- Briant, Sibbelley ; 574.
- Bribery ; 64, 82.
at a Parliamentary election, temp. Car. II. ; 197.
— 1715 ; 638.
Bill, 1783 ; 258.
- Bribing members of Parliament, 1679 ; 297.
- Brickhill ; ib.
Bucks, postmaster at ; 66.
- Bricks ; 441.
- Bridaport, Richard de ; 604.
- Bridekirk, Cumberland ; 121.
- Bridestowe, Devon ; 123.
- Bridewell, New, list of commitments by Parliament to, 1642 ; 63.
- Bridford, Devon ; 123.
- Bridge :
draft for building a ; 221.
erection of a ; 585.
See Bridges.
- Bridge, Kent ; 126.
Hundred, Kent ; ib.
- Bridge :
Mr., minister of Billericay, Essex ; 11.
Thomas, affidavit of ; 33.
William, letter from ; ib.
See Brege, Bregge.
- Bridgefoord, Douglas of ; 632.
- Bridgeford, East, Notts ; 129.
- Bridgeford, West, and hamlets, Notts ; 130.
- Bridgeman, Bridgman :
Lord, daughter of, married to Sir Thomas Slingsby, whose father was beheaded ; 146.
Mr. ; 315.
order written by ; 321.
James, warrant to apprehend, as a rebel ; 344.
Orlando, Fellow of Magdalene College, Cambridge ; xvi, 483.
Sir Orlando ; 181.
— his brother ; 358.
— removed from the office of Chief Baron to be Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas ; 175.
— Chief Justice of the Common Pleas ; 153.
— Lord Keeper, 1667 ; 404.
— letter to ; 482.
William, signature of ; 347.
See Bregeman.
- Bridgenorth, Bridgnorth, Salop ; 49 ter, 131, 142, 160, 162, 418.
- Bridgerule, Cornwall ; 121.
- Bridgerule, Devon ; 122.
- Bridges :
repairs of, legacies for ; 460.
maintenance of ; 632. military ; 299.
portable ; 191.
See Bridge.
- Bridges :
Mr. ; 186.
— vicar of Thorpe Mandeville ; 64.
Ann ; 594.
R., letter from ; 281.
Thomas, Sir ; 328.
— affidavit of ; ib.
Tobias, Colonel ; 558.
- Bridge Town, Barbadoes, naval office at ; 246.
- Bridgewater, Bridgwater, Somerset ; 120, 131, 187, 373, 479.
magistrates of, letter from, 1591 ; 265.
officers of, letter from the, 1596 ; 283.
Lord, J., signature of, 1626 ; 584.
Earl of, answer of the, 1641-2 ; 13.
— message from the Commons for the, to deliver in the papers he has about the Isle of Anglesea, 1642 ; 16.
— John [1642] ; 63.
— petition of the, 1643 ; 90.
Duke of ; 558.
See Briggewater.
- Bridging, Mr. ; 251.
- Bridham, Clement ; 539.
- Bridport ; 373, 582, 602.
petition of inhabitants of ; 37.
Division, Dorset ; 124.
See Bridaport.
- Briefs, Papal ; 463.
upon English affairs ; 464.
- Brienne, Briene, Guido de ; 599.
— lord of the liberty of Dartmouth ; 425.
— knight, lord of Clifton Dartmouth Hardness ; 603.
— lord of Dartmouth and Stokenham ; xvi, 604.
— See Brione, Bryene.
- Briercliffe (Breaccliffe), Lanc. ; 127.
- Brigantines (brekynders) ; 550.
- Brigge, John, fisher ; 515. See Bregge.
- Briggs, Robert ; 407.
- Briggewater, Joan ; 558. See Bryggewater.
- Brigham, Cumberland ; 121.
- Brigham, Richard, petition of ; 117.
- Bright, Mr. Edward, minister ; 17.
- Brightford Hundred, Sussex ; 132.
- Brightelmstone, letter dated at ; 212.
- Brightlingsea, near Colchester, inhabitants of ; 569.
- Brightman :
— ; 375.
Thomas, predictions and prophecies by ; 182.
- Brightnett. See Brightmet.
- Brightwaltham, Berks ; 120.
- Brightwelle, John de ; 561.
- Brightwelsbarowe, co. Gloucester, Hundred of ; 339.
- Brigmerston (Breybaston), Wilts ; 133.
- Brigsley, Lincoln ; 128.
- Brill ; 68.
account of a skirmish near, 1642-3 ; 2.
the King's forces at, 1642-3 ; 66.
- Brill, magistrates of the, declaration of, to Queen Elizabeth ; 278. See Bryll.
- Brimpton, Berks ; 120.
- Brimstone ; 249.
- Brimstone Hill, siege of, 1782 ; 238.
- Brindle [Brindhill], Linc. ; 127.
- Bringhurst, Mrs. ; 112.
- Brinton, Huntingdon ; 126.
- Brinkhill, Lincoln ; 128.
- Brinley, Thomas, one of the auditors of the Court of Exchequer, certificate of ; 27.
- Brinvilliers, Madame de, and her poisonings ; 357.
- Brione, Wido de ; 604. See Brienne.
- Brioss, David, or Petdenys ; 620.
- Brisach, town of ; 144.
- Brisco, Briscoe :
John, petition of ; 88.
Ralph, clerk of Newgate, certificate of ; 109.
Robert, affidavit of ; 61.
- Brisete (?), St. Leonard of ; 322.
- Bristleton Hill ; 287.
- Bristol, Bristowe ; ix, 7, 18, 49, 84, 105, 120, 146, 162, 198, 327, 328, 337, 341, 346, 349, 367, 382, 414, 440, 491, 572, 580.
relief of the distressed Protestants fled to, out of Ireland, 1642 ; 22.
declaration of the Commons that the city of, is a distinct county, 1642 ; 40.
match and powder for, 1642 ; 53. order to prevent the conveyance of arms, &c. from, 1642 ; 53.
threatened by the Cavaliers, 1642 ; 58. order for the security of, 1642 ; ib.
letter about the taking of, 1642 ; 61.
order for securing the 3,000*l.*, lent by the inhabitants of, 1642-3 ; 67.
conspiracy at, order to seize the estates of delinquents concerned in the, 1642-3 ; 76.
surrender of, 1643 ; 110, 111.
— papers relating to the, 1645 ; 214.
Jacobites in ; 372.
deeds ; 323.
wills ; ib.
extracts relating to ; 326.
Jewry ; 327.
pillory ; 326.
St. Augustine of ; 322.
— Abbot of ; 334.
St. James in the city of, manor place of ; 329.
S. Maria de Foro, rector of the church of ; 327.
St. Nicholas' parish in ; 346.
Temple Street ; 324.
Wynechestreet ; 326, 327.
aldermen of, displaced by James II., 1687 ; 325.
bailiffs of ; 326 ter, 327.
bark of, called the Margaret ; 341.
burgess of, oath of a ; 323, 326.
burgesses of ; 326, 327.
chamberlain of ; 323.
charter of ; 328.
common council of, displaced by James II., 1687 ; 325.
coroners of ; 323.
fair of ; 336.
houses in ; 326.
lands in ; ib.
mayor of ; ib., 327 bis, 382.
— and corporation, letter from the, 1591 ; 265.
— letter from the, 1596 ; 283.

- Bristol, Bristowe—cont.
 mayor of, 1608 ; 323.
 — letter to the, 1641-2 ; 5.
 — and aldermen, order of the Commons upon a petition of the, 1642 ; 22.
 — — 1642 ; 58.
 — payment to the, 1643 ; 72.
 — and aldermen, letter to the, 1643 ; 76.
 — letter to the, 1661 ; 323.
 — 1661-2 ; 328.
 — displaced by James II., 1687 ; 325.
 — certificate of the ; 340, 341.
 mayors of ; 326.
 merchants of ; 326, 327, 446.
 præpositi of ; 326.
 seal of the town of ; 327.
 seneschals of ; 326.
 sheriff of, 1608 ; 323.
 sheriffs of, displaced by James II., 1687 ; 325.
 ship called the " True Love " of ; 28.
 town clerk of ; 325.
 letters dated at ; 61, 63, 341, 347, 465.
 — 1682-1700 ; 324, 325 bis.
 Bishop of [t. Geo. I.] ; 189.
 — Dr. Hall, master of Pembroke College, Oxford ; 385.
 Dean of, (Dr. Watson), and the rectory of Cheynham ; 287.
 — letter from the, 1682 ; 324.
 — 1780 ; 328.
- Bristol, Earl of :
 instructions for the ; 256.
 interrogatories and answers of the ; 312.
 articles of the, whereby he chargeth the Duke of Buckingham, 1626 ; 412.
 1640 ; 1.
 petition of the Earl of Middx., presented by the, 1640 ; ib. report of proceedings in the House of Commons, when he appeared within the bar, 1640 ; 413.
 1642 ; 141 bis.
 John, petitions of, 1642 ; 16, 18.
 speech of the, 1642 ; 148, 178.
 report of the death of the, 1652 ; 183.
 and his Lady, 1658 ; 146.
 1660 ; 151, 155.
 bought Wimbleton of the Crown, 1660 ; 150.
 quarrel between the Duke of Buckingham and the, 1660 ; 168, 204, 206, 298.
 high words in the Lord's House between Buckingham and the, 1660 ; 177.
 1660-1 ; 151.
 his journey to Parma stopped, 1660-1 ; ib.
 mission of, 1660-1 ; 170.
 1661 ; 175, 185. daughter of the, 1661 ; 159. embassy of the, 1661 ; 159 bis.
 1688 ; 198.
 letter from the, 1782 ; 251.
- Bristol, Wells (in America ?), letter dated at ; 235.
- Bristow, Bristowe :
 Francis ; 13.
 — glassmaker, petition of ; 19, 23.
 John de ; 560.
 John (Moody), letters from ; 271, 272 bis.
- Bristwelle, Bristewelle, John de ; 560.
- Britain ; 92.
 reign of king Leir in ; 333.
 Great ; 217, 232, 238, 253.
 — messages of peace from, to America, 1782 ; 239.
 North, custom-house affairs of, since the Union, 1709 ; 260.
- Britannia, letter dated ; 249.
- Britany : affairs of, 1373 ; 453.
 and England, peace between, 1467 ; 524.
 agreement between France and England for sending 6,000 men into, 1590 ; 264. order for 500 men for, 1591 ; ib.
 transportation of 20 bands of footmen out of the Low Countries into, 1592 ; 266.
 privy seal, for money for forces returned from, 1595 ; 275.
 Spanish preparations in, examinations concerning, 1597 ; 288. relation of the sea and land forces preparing in, 1641-2 ; 31 port towns in ; 581. See Bretagne.
- Britevill, Briteville :
 Wido, Sir ; 603.
 William de ; 601.
- Britford, Wilts ; 183.
- British :
 colony at the Illinois, reasons for establishing a ; 218.
 commission, secretary to the ; 242.
 commodities, Act of Carolina laying a duty on, 1718 ; 229.
 Empire, view of the, 1775-80 ; 252.
 generals in America, number of troops under some of the, 1781 ; 235.
 history ; 333.
 — early, fragment of ; 462.
- British—cont.
 men, women, and children killed in Ireland ; 112.
 subjects abandoned their allegiance to the King of Spain and retired into Portugal, 1782 ; 254.
 British Merlin, Ryder's, for 1767, 1768, 1776, 1771 ; 260.
 British Museum :
 extracts from the Cotton MSS. in the ; 320.
 collections in the ; 367.
 office of a librarian in the, 1756 ; 401.
 letter dated at the, 1767 ; 359.
 Trustees of the ; 627.
 Briton, a True, letter from ; 242.
- Britons :
 history of the ; 333.
 letter of the, to Aetius ; ib.
- Britton, Mr. ; 64.
- Briwer, Briwere, William ; 454, 600. See Bruwer.
- Brixham, Devon ; 128.
- Brize Norton, alias Norton Broynne, Oxford ; 130.
- Broad Chalk, Wilts ; 134.
- Broadclist, Devon ; 122.
- Broadhembury, Devon ; ib.
- Broadhempston, Devon ; 123. See Brodehomstone.
- Broadholme, Notts ; 129.
- Broadland, Lindsay of ; 632.
- Broadmayne, Dorset ; 125.
- Broad oak, Cornwall ; 121.
- Broads (coins so called) ; 297.
- Broadsides ; 343.
 printed ; 341.
- Broadstairs, Kent ; 126.
- Broadwater, Sussex ; 132.
 rector of ; 304.
- Broadway, Dorset ; 125.
- Broadway, Somerset ; 131.
- Broadwell, with Filkins and Holwell, Oxford ; 130.
- Broadwindsor, Dorset ; 124.
 Liberty, Dorset ; ib.
- Broadwood Kelly, Devon ; 122.
- Broadwood Widger, Devon ; 123.
- Broc, family of ; 366.
 Henry ; 505.
 Henry del, grant to ; 294.
 Luke ; 505.
 Reginald le ; 503.
- Brocas, William, letters from ; 272 bis.
- Brocheye, Elias de ; 505.
- Brock, Humfrey, affidavit of ; 45.
- Brockden, Henry, pass for ; 80.
- Brockholes, Mr., letters to and from ; 476.
- Brocklesby, Lincoln ; 129.
- Brockley, Northampton, 46 persons apprehended at ; 63.
- Brockton, Stafford ; 13.
- Broclond, John ; 537.
- Broctone, Worcester ; 304.
- Brode :
 John, coroner ; 546.
 Robert le ; 505.
- Brodeaysshe, Devon, vill of ; 370.
- Brodehomstone ; 425. See Broadhempston.
- Brodgate, Captain, letter from ; 280. See Bradgate, Bredgate.
- Brodhill, Brodhulle, Brodell :
 the (of the Cinque Ports) ; 537, 542, 545, 547, 550, 553.
 acts of the ; 539.
 a common ; 541.
 letters of ; 535.
- Brodie :
 A., letter from ; 617.
 Janet, Lady Torwoodlie, letter from ; 642.
- Brodnax, Henry, information of ; 118.
- Brodnex, Richard ; 545.
- Broghele, Lord, 1657 ; 163.
- Brograve :
 cause against ; 98.
 Dorothie, widow, petition of ; 88.
- Brohexe, Helyas de ; 504. See Brosexse.
- Broke, Brok :
 George, Sir, Lord Cobham ; 485.
 Henry ; 577.
 John ; 580.
 Nicholas atte ; 561.
 Richard ; 497.
 W., vice-warden of All Souls' Coll. Oxon. ; 451.
 See Brooke, Brouke.
- Brokedone, William, and Isabel his wife ; 425.
- Brokeland, Broklond. See Brookland.
- Broker :
 Simon ; 499.
 William ; 517.
- Brokeshend ; 448.
- Brokeslane, Andrew de ; 334.
- Brokethall, letters dated at ; 567.
- Broketone, Isabel, relict of William ; 603.
- Brokett, John, Sir, letters from ; 567.
- Brokis, Herr, letter to ; 262.

- Brokke :
 John, the elder ; 514.
 Richard ; ib.
 William ; ib.
- Broklond. See Brookland.
- Brome :
 Eustace de ; 461.
 Roger de ; ib.
 Thomas, letters by ; 463.
 — letters and papers by ; 464.
 Walter de ; 481 bis.
 See Broome.
- Bromehill. See Broomhill.
- Bromell, James ; 483.
- Bromfield, and townships therein, Cumberland ; 121.
- Bromfield, Bromfeild :
 Edward ; 57.
 Edward, son of John, of Odyner, Sussex ; 356.
 Edward, son of Robert ; ib.
 Henry, son of John ; ib.
 John, son of John Bromfield of the Inner Temple, common serjeant &c. of London ; ib.
 John, son of Robert ; ib.
 Thomas, son of Thomas, of Odemer, Sussex, town clerk of London ; ib.
 William ; 350.
 William, son of John ; 356.
- Bromholm, St. Andrew of ; 322.
- Bromich, Andrew, speech of ; 468.
- Bromlege, Geoffrey de ; 600.
- Bromleghe, Walter de, of Winchelsea, daughter of ; 505.
- Bromley, letters dated at ; 189, 319.
- Bromley, [Kent] ; 97.
- Bromley, Lincoln ; 128.
- Bromley, St. Leonard's, Middx. ; 129.
- Bromley Regis, Stafford ; 132.
- Bromley, Bromeley :
 . . . , daughter of Rachel Newport ; 145.
 Mr., letter to ; 289.
 George ; 342.
 Henry, son and heir of Sir Thomas ; 69.
 Jack, made a cornet to a troop of horse ; 155.
 John ; 203.
 John, of Garsington, co. Oxford, petition of ; 21.
 Katharine, Dame, widow of Sir Thomas, of Holte Castle,
 Worcester, petition of ; 69.
 Rachel ; 146.
 Richard, monk of the monastery of Vale Crucis ; 334.
 Thomas, Chancellor, signature of, 1583 ; 566.
 — signature of, 1586 ; 583.
- Brommell, James ; 482.
- Brompton, York ; 134.
- Brompton Ralph, Somerset ; 132.
- Brompton Regis, Somerset ; ib.
- Bromsmythe, lands of the tenure of the ; 512.
- Bromwich, West, Stafford ; 132.
- Bromyard Tractatus ; 484.
- Broncard, Henry, grant to, of customs in Ireland ; 273.
- Bronkard, Sir H., 362.
- Bronker, Sir Henry, warrant to ; 362. See Brouncker.
- Bronwede, near Writtele ; 481.
- Brooches ; 444.
- Brooke ; 396.
 letter dated at ; 76.
- Brooke House ; 179.
- Brooke, Broke, Brook :
 Lord, 1642 ; 161, 183.
 — order to, 1642 ; 27.
 — Robert, Lord Lieutenant of co. Warwick, 1642 ; 35.
 — indictment preferred by Captain Robert Lee against, for executing the militia, 1642 ; 39.
 — forces of, 1642 ; 160.
 — executors of, 1642-3 ; 75.
 — Robert, late, 1643 ; 90.
 — 1660 ; 145, 146, 149, 150.
 — letter to, 1661 ; 298.
 — death of, 1692-3 ; 384.
 — [temp. Geo. I.] ; 189.
 — letters from, beg. 18th cent. ; 188.
 . . . ; 143.
 Watson, and others, against Dobie, case of ; 233.
- Basil, Sir ; 63, 71.
 — petitions of ; 69, 71 bis.
- Duke, letter to, 1590 ; 264.
 — of Temple Court, Soms. ; 289.
- E., Sir, letter from ; 267.
- Edward, of Magdalen College, Oxford, letter from ; 571.
- Ferdinand, otherwise Father Hugh Greene, martyrdom of ;
 464, 466.
- G., letter from ; 280.
- Geo., letter from ; 287.
- H., letters from ; 269, 272 bis., 274, 277, 280, 285.
 — letter to ; 268, 277.
- Henry, letter to ; 271.
- Henry, Sir, letter to ; 139.
- J., Capt., letter from ; 285.
- John, Capt., his receipt for 130 men out of Kent ; 277.
- Brooke—cont.
 John ; 512, 514.
 John, of Weymouth ; 585. See Brouke.
 John, Sir ; 341, 407, 409.
 — justice of the peace, warrant by ; 100.
 Peter, Sir, letters from ; 358.
 William ; 514.
 William, Sir ; 60.
 — of Cooling Castle, Kent, lands of ; 108.
 See Broke, Brouke.
- Brookehaven, John, Captain ; 80.
- Brookehouse, letter dated at ; 298.
- Brookend, (Oxford) ; 130.
- Brookes, Thomas, declaration of ; 273.
- Brookland, Brokeland, Broklond, Kent ; 516, 520, 521, 546.
 parish of ; 517, 519.
 play of, banns of the ; 551, 552, 553.
 players of ; 551.
 vill of, men of the ; 536, 550.
- Brooks, Philip, Rev. Mr., B.D., Fellow of St. John's College,
 Cambridge ; 190.
- Broome :
 Lieutenant ; 13.
 Thomas, letters and papers by ; 463. See Brome.
- Broomhill, Bromehill, Bromhelle, Kent ; 407, 503. walls about ; 407.
 letter dated at ; 314. See Fromhelle.
- Broseley, Salop ; 131.
- Brosexe, William de ; 509. See Brohexe.
- Brotherhoods, the (of the Cinque Ports) ; 569. See Prodhill.
- Brotherly Assistance, the, 1642-3 ; 54, 66.
 paper from the Scottish commissioners concerning the payment of the, 1642 ; 21.
 arrears of the, 1643 ; 99. See Scotland.
- Brotherson :
 Charles Payne, captain commander of Saint Martin's Island, letter from ; 245.
 — signature of ; ib.
- Brothertoft, Lincoln ; 127.
- Brotherton, William, Captain ; 357.
 — letter to ; 856.
- Brough under Stainmore. See Burgh.
- Brough Hall, Yorkshire ; 305.
- Brough :
 Captain ; 20.
 Richard, letters by ; 464, 475.
- Brougham (Browham), Westmerland ; 133.
- Brougham, Edward, warrant signed by ; 297.
- Broughton, Huntingdon ; 125.
- Broughton, Lancashire ; 126.
- Broughton, Lincoln ; 128.
- Broughton [Sulney], Notts ; 129.
- Broughton, Oxford ; 130.
- Broughton Poggs, Oxford ; ib.
- Broughton, Broughtone, Broutone :
 Mr., excepted out of the Act of Indemnity ; 204.
 John, petition of ; 78.
 Michael, of Boston, affidavit of ; 29.
 Philip de ; 561, 562.
 Richard, agreement between the Earl of Essex and, 1595 ; 276.
 — relation by ; 464.
 — letters from ; 275, 476.
 William ; 514, 562, 563.
 — mayor of Rye ; 489, 490, 499, 514, 515.
- Brouke :
 Henry ; 577.
 John, of Weymouth ; 582.
 Laurence ; ib. See Broke, Brooke.
- Brouncker, Brounker :
 Lord, brother of, 1661 ; 146.
 — letter to ; 295.
 Mr., letter from ; 280.
 H., letter from ; 272.
- Broun, Brroune :
 . . . , judge in the Common Pleas ; 196.
 Mr. ; 394.
 Charles ; 473.
 Christopher, letters to ; 394, 395.
 Elias ; 504, 505.
 John, "diere ;" 562.
 John, vicar of Eddrem ; 647.
 Patrick ; ib.
 Robert ; 552, 563, 642.
 Thomas, chaplain ; 625.
 William, of Wolbaldingherst ; 504.
 William, citizen and grocer of London ; 515.
 See Brown, Brun.
- Brounstel :
 John ; 561.
 Richard ; 562.
- Brouse, John ; 604. See Brewes.
- Browghtone, William. See Broughton.
- Brown, Browne :
 Mr. ; 67, 574.
 Mr., a papist ; 47.
 Mr., clerk of the Greenoloth ; 363.

Brown, Browne—cont.

- Mr., letter from; 284.
- letter to; 291.
- ...; 632.
- ... of the city; 150.
- ... collector of rents; 388.
- Governor of Bermuda, letter from; 245.
- Governor of West Florida, letter to; 228.
- Lieut-Governor, letters, from; 222, 224, 225.
- letters to; 223.
- General; 207.
- Sqr., justice of the peace; 594.
- Ambrose, Sir; 34.
- Ann; 17.
- C., letter from; 397.
- Captain, company of; 48.
- murder of; 384.
- Edward; 450.
- Edward, letter to; 392.
- George, examination of; 43.
- Henry; 69.
- Hugh; 407.
- James, and Thomas, pass for; 330.
- James, son of John, of Lochiel; 654.
- James, Father; 654.
- John, and others, rioters; 20.
- John, letters from; 261, 266, 289.
- John, letter from; 584.
- John, Esq.; 587.
- John, clerk of the Parliaments; 5, 31, 68, 93.
- handwriting of; 1, 2.
- letters to; 17, 39.
- John, Sir; 80, 581.
- letter from; 581.
- Mr., brother-in-law of Charles Leigh; 205.
- Maud; 524.
- Moses, letter from; 286.
- Richard; 611.
- Richard, of Castle Hedingham; 64.
- Richard, Col., letter from; 2, 97.
- Richard, Sir, (the King's agent) in Paris; 151.
- Robert; 494.
- Samuel, minister; 98.
- Thomas, letters from; 474, 475.
- Thomas; 564 bis.
- bailiff of Wycombe; 563.
- Thomas, Sir, letter by; xvi, 487.
- William; 329.
- William, affidavit of; 29.
- of Sutton, affidavit of; 100.
- See* Brown, Brun.
- Brownestown, co. Meath; 12.
- Brownflette, Brownflet, William; 520, 528.
- Browning, William; 548.
- Brownists; 44.
- Brownlow, bishop of Lichfield and Coventry, letter from, 1774; 212.
- Brownrigge, Ralph, (of Cambridge); 313.
- Brownshall Hundred, Dorset; 124.
- Broxbourne, Herts :
 - petition of inhabitants of; 18.
 - vicar of church of; ib.
- Broxholme, Lincoln; 128.
- Broxmouth, lord of, Patrick Grey; 620.
- Broxton Hundred, collections for; 339.
- Broxtow Hundred, Notts; 129.
- Bruce :
 - E. (Lord Kinloss), signature of; 1608; 487.
 - Lord, lands of, 1643; 85.
 - letter to, 1643; 103.
 - commander-in-chief of the forces in Bedfordshire, 1660; 347.
 - 1684; 186.
 - (beg. 18th cent.); 188.
 - letter from; 189.
 - Henry, Sir, petition of; 49.
 - letter from, 1641; 351.
 - Col., servant to; ib.
 - gentleman of the privy chamber, servant to; ib.
 - J., letter from; 235.
 - R., letter from; 263. See Brus.
 - [Robert, King of Scotland. See Brus.]
 - Robert; 653.
 - Robert, of Clakmannan; 655.
 - William; 653.
- Bruchtie Craig; 634, 636.
- Bruckman, Borehart, letter from; 293.
- Brudenell :
 - Lord, 1658; 145.
 - to be Earl of Cardigan, 1660-1; 151.
 - Mr., daughters of; 145.
 - Mrs.; 146.
- Bruera, W. de; 428.
- Bruen, Mr.; 350.
- Bruer; 330.
- abbot and convent of, grants to the; 329, 330.

38757.

Bruere :

- George, letter from; 247.
- Governor, of Bermuda, letters from; 222.
- letters to; 224.
- letters from; 226.
- Bruern, Oxford; 130.
- Bruerne, Lady Elizabeth Cope's house at; 75.
- Bruester, W., letter from; 291.
- Bruges; 165, 530.
- commissioners at, mediating between England and France, 1374; 453.
- notary at; 488.
- English canonesses regular of, prioress of the; 464.
- prioress of the English convent at; 488.
- clergy of; 152.
- governor of, report that Charles II. was married to the daughter of the; 202.
- Bruges :
 - Simon; 320.
 - William de; 327.
- Brun :
 - lord John le; 336.
 - sir John le; 337.
 - Osbert le; 301.
 - Philip le, of Writele; 481.
 - Symon le; 504.
 - William, grant by; 509.
- Brune, Thomas, letter from; 261.
- Brunswick :
 - letter dated at; 628.
 - Duke of, Ernest, letter from, 1595; 275.
 - letter from, 1596; 282.
 - treaty with the, 1757; 628.
 - letter from the, 1757; ib.
- Brunswick, N. Carolina :
 - solicitor general, treasurer, and clerks of the Pleas of; 221.
 - letters dated at; ib., 224.
- Brunus :
 - daughter of; 295.
 - lands of; ib.
- Brunwyn Bryst; 595.
- Brus :
 - Peter de; 329.
 - R., letters from, 1594; 271. See Bruce.
 - Robert de, excommunication of; 432.
 - Seigneur de Val Danaunt [Annandale], 1291; 432.
- Brusheford, Brusshforde, Bruscheford, John; 426 bis, 602, 603.
- Brush :
 - heath; 268.
 - makers, letter from, 1593; 269.
- Brushford, Devon; 123.
- Brushford, Somerset; 132.
- Brusoni, Signor; 317.
- Brussels, Bruxelles; 198, 242, 333, 473, 474, 627, 628.
- admiralty of; 358.
- Benedictine nuns at; 463.
- abbess of the, Mary Percy; ib.
- account of the, 1598-1718; 467.
- convent of English Benedictines at; 465.
- Pope's internuncio at; 318.
- letters from the, 1660; 467 bis.
- letters from and to the; ib.
- Jesuits at, opinions by two; 358.
- physicians, opinion of six; 358.
- Charles II. at; 300.
- news from, 1712; 190.
- conferences at, 1752-3; 628.
- negotiations at, 1754; ib.
- letters dated at; viii, 242, 245, 256, 308, 312, 314, 357, 468, 473, 474, 475.
- Bruteville, Wido de, Sir; 604.
- Bruton, Somerset; 72, 198.
- Bruton, Richard, petition of; 19. See Brewton.
- Bruwer, Will., 1213; 430. See Briwer.
- Brux, Edmund; 269.
- Bryan, John, citizen of London; 563.
- Bryanstone, Dorset; 124.
- Bryce, Alan; 491.
- Bryene, Guy de, Lord; 601. See Brienne; Brione.
- Bryggewater, Bryggwater, Joan; 563, 564. See Briggewater.
- Brykeynden, Richard; 543.
- Brykhulle, John; 564.
- Bryll, the; 570. See Brill, the.
- Brym, William; 513.
- Bryning cum Kellamurgh, Lancashire; 136.
- Bu . . . , Jo.; 166.
- Buccleuch :
 - [Duke of, 1681?]; 643.
 - and Monmouth, Duke of, James, letter from, 1678; 641.
- Bucenal, M., considerations touching the peace of France by 1589; 263. See Busanville, &c.
- Buchan; 608, 646.
- in the shire of Aberdeen; 629.
- earldom of; 608, 630.
- Earl of, Alexander Cumyn, Justiciary of Scotland, 1255; 621.

F

Buchan—cont.

- John Stewart, formerly, 1423; 608.
- James, 1482; 626.
- letters from the, 1717; 618.
- Countess Dowager of, Margaret Ruthven; 688.
- Alexander, of Auchmacoy; 609.

Buchanan:

- ... , picture of; 383.
- George, Champeleon by; 310.
- Robert, yeoman of the wine cellar of Charles I., pass for; 77.

Buchard, Thomas; 503.

Bucher, Robert; 511. See Bocher.

Buck:

- ... , a silkman; 49.
- Captain, letter from; 286.
- Mr., a Justice in Hatton Garden; 382.
- Charles, Sir; 189.
- Mr.; 137.

Buckcleugh, James Nicol in; 642.

Buckden, Huntingdon; 126.

Buckingham Castle, Norfolk; 595

Buckenham, alias Bucknams, Hawstead cum, Suffolk, manor of; 17.

Buckerell, Devon; 122.

Buckfast Bridge; 601.

Buckfastleigh, Devon; 123.

Buckhorn Weston, Dorset; 124.

Buckhurst, Lord:

- Chancellor of Oxford; 368.
- letters to, 1588-9; 261, 262.
- Council letter signed by, 1590; 138.
- signature of, 1592; 583.
- letters from, 1593; 267, 269.
- letters from, 1594; 271.
- letter to, 1594; 273.
- order by, 1595; 275.
- signature of, 1595; 486.
- letters from, 1595; 275, 276, 278, 279.
- letters to, 1595; 275, 276.
- letters from, 1596; 282, 285, 286.
- letters to, 1596; 283, 286.
- letters from, 1597; 290, 291, 292.
- letters to, 1597; 289, 291, 298.
- signature of, 1599; 486.
- Council letters, &c., signed by, 1600; 180, 811, 262, 263.
- letter from, 1600; 363.
- Council letter signed by, 1601; 139.
- Treasurer, 1641-2; 9.
- 1670; 652.
- nephew of the Earl of Middleton, 1674; 375.
- Richard, letter from the 6th Earl of Dorset while; 140.
- See* Bukherst.

Buckingham:

- county of; 141, 158, 384.
- petition of the inhabitants of the, 1641-2; 8.
- 6,000*l.* advanced by the, upon the Act of Contribution for the affairs of Ireland, 1648; 17.
- order of the Commons for repayment of the loan advanced by the gentlemen of the, 1642; 28.
- deputy-lieutenants of the, order to the, 1642; 29.
- petition of the trained bands and volunteers of the, 1642; 31.
- votes concerning the, 1642; 86.
- orders concerning the forces in the, 1642; ib.
- commissioners for the, names of, 1642; 58.
- order for raising money in the, 1642-3; 68.
- invaded by the King's forces, 1648; 90.
- committee of Parliament in the, 1643; ib.
- committee for the weekly assessment in the, 1648; 105.
- weekly assessment of the, 1648; ib.
- militia of the, 1642; 141.
- gentry of the; 181.
- a parson of the; 331.
- sheriff of the, mandate to the; 565.
- Archdeacon of, 1290; 560.
- official of the, 1437; 568.
- Catholic Archdeacon of, Ric. Maurice, 1649; 467.
- Hundred of, Bucks; 120.

Buckingham:

- Duke of (temp. Hen. VI.); 490.
- Warden (of the Cinque Ports), temp. Hen. VI.; 520.
- 1458; 522.
- minstrels of the, temp. Hen. VI.; 491, 492, 520, 521, 522, 523.
- Stafford, letter by Henry VIII. to; 809.
- minstrels of the 1512-3; 550.
- Marquis of, verses made by James I. at the house of the; 409.
- Duke of, relation by the, of proceedings when Prince Charles was in Spain; 406.
- explanations by the, to Parliament; 410.

Buckingham—cont.

- Duke of, his demeanour in Spain; 410.
- articles of inquiry against the, 1623; 410.
- his speech to the Commons, temp. Car. I.; 411.
- 1626; ib.
- articles of the Earl of Bristol, whereby he chargeth the, 1626; 412.
- Charles I.'s letter to the University of Cambridge on the election of the, to be chancellor, 1626; ib.
- signature of the, 1626; 581, 584.
- George Villiers (I), accounts of the expenses of; xi.
- Villiers, dialogue between, and Sir J. Outler; 864.
- 1657; 149. See Duke.
- and his lady, and her mother, 1657; 177.
- troop of horse went into the North for the, 1657; ib.
- 1659-60; 193, 194.
- his father; 193.
- 1660; 150, 155, 157, 200.
- estate of the, 1660; 149.
- quarrel between the, and the Earl of Bristol, 1660; 168, 204, 206, 298.
- high words in the Lords' House between the Earl of Bristol and the, 1660; 177.
- servants of the, 1660; 184.
- regiment granted to the, 1660; 204.
- troop of the, 1660; 207.
- 1661; 159 (?), 175, 202.
- quarrel betwixt the, and Admiral Montague, 1661; 159.
- 1670; 652.
- 1677; 318.
- letter from the, 1678; ib.
- General Ginkle "to be made," 1691; 382.
- Duchess of, wife of the Earl of Antrim, petition of the creditors of, 1641-2; 6.
- 1642; 351.
- Lord, nominated to the Lientenancy of Ireland, 1776; 209.
- Buckland, Kent; 126.
- Buckland Brewer, Devon; 122, 578.
- Buckland Filleigh, Devon; 122.
- Buckland, East, Devon; ib.
- Buckland, Egg, Devon; 123.
- Buckland-in-the-Moor, Devon; ib.
- Buckland Monachorum, Devon; ib.
- Buckland Tout Saints, Devon; 122.
- Buckland, West, Devon; ib.
- Buckland [Newton], Dorset:
 - Hundred; 124.
 - and tithings; ib.
- Bucklande Ripers, Dorset; 125.
- Buckland, St. Mary, Somerset; 131.
- Buckland, West, Somerset; ib.
- Buckland, Surrey; 122.
- Buckler, Edward, minister; 589.
- Bucklesbury, Berks; 120.
- Buckley, chantry of, in the church of Charing; 436.
- Bucklow:
 - Hundred of; 37.
 - high constable of, Richard Worrall; ib.
- Bucknall:
 - Sir ... , the great brewer, widow of; 386.
 - Mr.; ib.
- Bucks, killed, account of; 208.
- Buckstone, ... ; 80.
- Buckworth, Huntingdon; 126.
- Buctone, Sir Adam de, Kt.; 326.
- Buda:
 - [siege of?], 1686; 187.
 - volunteers killed before, 1686; ib.
- Budden:
 - Jo., letter from; 267, 269.
 - Mr., feodary of Dorset, letter to; 286.
 - letter from; 290.
- Buddington, Sussex; 132.
- Budeford, Buddeford:
 - Geoffrey de; 337.
 - Jordan de; ib.
- Budestone; 327.
 - land in; ib.
 - church of; ib.
 - William the son of Walter of, and Cecily his wife; ib.
- Budleigh West Hundred, Devon; 122.
- Budock, Cornwall; 121.
- Buenos Ayres; 255.
- Buff coats with buff belts; 428.
- Builders' bills; 441.
- Building:
 - account, 14th cent.; 450.
 - 15th cent.; 444.
 - estimate for; 225.
 - expenses; 335.
 - 15th cent.; 492.
 - 17th cent.; 480.
 - materials; xii, 441.
 - and labour, 13th cent.; 457.
 - new, 1642; 38.
 - in the suburbs; 118.

- Buildings; 52. reasons of state for the Bill of, 1597; 294.
- Bakkerst:
Alice, daughter of John; 544.
Isabel, daughter of John; ib.
John; 515.
John, testament of, 544.
Rose, wife of John; ib.
Stephen; 542.
William; 549, 550, 552.
- Bakholte, Lady of, clerk of the; 519.
- Bakyngham's chantry, foundation of; 460.
- Balford, Wilts; 133.
- Balgate Sale (Easton, Northtonsh.); 91.
- Balkeley:
Lord, letters from, 1646; 421.
— letter to, 1646; ib.
— Robert, Viscount Cassells in Ireland, Thomas Holland, Esq. v.; 422.
— Viscount, Robert, of Barnhill, co. Anglesey; ib.
— Robert, Viscount Cassells in Ireland, answer of, 1663; ib.
Arthur; ib.
Daniel, will of; 418.
Hugh; 417.
Katharine, daughter of Sir Richard; 299.
Richard, deputy lieutenant of Anglesey; 418, 422.
— letter from; 418.
Richard of Bewmares; 419.
Richard, Sir; ib.
— — deputy lieutenant of Anglesey; 422.
— — the elder, of Bewmares; ib.
R., Sir, letter from; 284.
Row.; 421.
Thomas, Esq.; 415.
— Captain; 422.
William; 422.
- Balkworthy, Devon; 122.
- Ball:
William, Hon., Lieut.-Governor of South Carolina; 227.
Lieut.-Governor; 237.
William; 606.
- Ballen, convent of English Benedictines at; 465.
- Bullen, Anne. See Boleyn.
- Bullet bags; 572.
- Bullets; 347, 420, 580.
iron; 142.
- Ballfinches (hoops), payments for killing; 597.
- Ballingbrooke:
honor, manor, and lands belonging to; 184.
Earl of, Oliver; 41.
See Bolingbroke.
- Bullion; 4, 12 bis.
and coin, foreign; 4 bis.
importation of, 1643; 103.
paper on the scarcity of; 314.
- Bullock:
David, prior of Glenluce; 615.
Edward, Sir; 40.
William, petition against; 30.
- Bulloigne Bay; 325.
- Bulle, papal; 463.
copies of, from 1060; 426.
original, at Canterbury; xiii, 432, 463.
upon English affairs; 464.
- Bulmer, Essex; 125.
- Bulston Hundred, Somerset; 131.
- Bulstrode:
Colonel, letter from; 2, 68.
Henry, colonel of the trained bands and volunteers of three hundreds in the Chilterns, co. Bucks; 55.
Richard, Sir; 186.
William, Sir; 401. See Bolestrode.
- Bulwell, Notts; 129.
- Bulzeon, alias Katermalyn, lands and mill of; 612.
writs of; ib.
- Bumpstead, Steeple, Essex; 125.
- Bumpus, Robert, information of; 46.
- Bunbury, Chester, agreement made at, for the pacification of the county; 67.
- Bunbury:
Harry, letter to; 344.
William, Sir, letter to; 359.
- Bunce:
Alderman; 173.
— estate of; 149.
Cyprian, Mr.; 426.
- Bungay, St. Cross of; 322. See Bongay.
- Bunney (Bonny) cum Bradmore, Notts; 130.
- Bunny, Fr., letter from; 281.
- Bunre (?), Henry, letter from; 272.
- Bunse, William; 564.
- Buntyng:
Mr.; 552.
John; 529, 550, 552.
Stephen, of Lydd, yeoman; 553.
Thomas; 520, 527.
- Buntyng—cont.
Thomas, of Greenwich, vintner; 25.
(or Bontynge) William, bailiff of Wycombe; 564.
- Buquer, F., Sig., letter to; 223.
- Burbeach Hundred, Sussex; 132.
- Burburgh or Burbroke, two leagues from Mardike, English at; 177.
- Burch, Richard, mayor of High Wycombe; 557.
- Burck, . . . , Irish priest; 570.
- Burcombe, South, Wilts; 133.
- Burd:
Edward; 423.
Henry; 599.
- Burden's Ball (Burthenstall), Wilts; 132.
- Burdett, Burdet:
Joane, wife of Richard, carpenter, petition of; 117.
John, sergeant; 105, 108.
Nicholas; viii, 299.
Thomas, of Arewe, co. Warwick, Kt.; 303.
— Nicholas, his son; ib.
- Burell, Burell:
Joan; 602 bis.
William; 481.
- Bures:
Richard de; 481.
Walter de; ib.
- Burford and hamlets, Oxford; 130.
- Burford, Lord; 1722; 190.
- Burgage, tenants in; 576.
- Burgannus, Philippus, Bignonnen., Britogallus; 367.
- Burge, William, executor of the Earl of Northampton, 1614; 409.
- Burgeis, Richard; 336.
- Burgen:
Joannes de; 654.
Octavianus de, Dominus; ib.
- Burgens, Richard; 336.
- Burges:
Dr., lecturer at St. Paul's, London; 117.
Cornelius, Dr., vicar of Watford, petition of; 102.
Thomas; 460.
- Burgess:
Mr., minister; 92, 173, 379.
James; 305.
- Burgesses; 559.
- Burgeys, John; 498. See Borgeys, Burgeis, Burgis.
- Burgh (Brough) under Stainmore, Westmerland; 132.
- Burgh:
Hubert de, Justiciary; 433.
Lord, letter from, 1589; 263.
— letter from, 1590; ib.
— letters from, 1593; 267, 269.
— propositions made by, to the King of Scots, 1593; 267.
— letter to, 1593; ib.
— letters from, 1594; 271, 272.
— Thomas, letters from, 1595; 274, 276, 277, 278.
— letter from, 1596; 279, 280.
— letter from, 1597; 288, 289.
Lady, letter from, 1597; 287.
- Burgham, alias Burpham, Sussex; 132.
- Burghby-Sands, Cumberland; 121.
- Burghie, Richard, and Joan his wife; 602.
- Burghfield, Berks; 120.
- Burghill, Francis, Esq., Rouge-dragon Officer of Arms; 404.
- Burghley, Burleigh, Burley; 189 bis, 190, 399.
the Honble. Order of Little Bedlam at; 399.
garrison of; 403.
House, verses made by James I. when he was at; 409.
Baron of, William Cecil, knight; 365.
Lord; ix, 309, 321.
— threats of certain priests to kill; 280.
— Lord Treasurer, letter from, to Queen Elizabeth, about her displeasure; 214.
— letter from, to his son Robert; ib.
— royal visits to, at Theobalds, from 1572 to 1591; 265.
— signatures of, 1572; 570 bis.
— letter to, 1575; 364.
— Chancellor of Oxford, 1576; 367.
— letter from, 1579; 570.
— letter to, 1583; 214.
— order by, 1585; 486.
— signature of, 1586; 583.
— signatures of, 1587; 137, 583.
— letters from, 1588; 138, 261.
— letters to, 1588; 138, 261, 262.
— Council letters signed by, 1588-9; 138, 311.
— letters to, 1589; 262, 263.
— Council letter signed by, 1590; 138.
— letter from, 1590; 343.
— letters to, 1590; 264.
— letters from, 1590-1; ib.
— 1591; ib.
— mem. by, of the state of the Conclave upon the death of Pope Innocent IX., 1591; 265.
— letters from, 1591; ib.
— letters to, 1591; ib.

Burghley, Burleigh, Burley—cont.

- Lord, appointment by, 1592; 267.
- possessions of, 1592; 322.
- signature of, 1592; 583.
- letters from, 1592; 267, 311.
- letters to, 1592; 266, 267.
- letters from, 1593; 267, 268, 269, 343.
- letters to, 1593; 268, 269.
- letters from, 1594; 270, 271.
- letters to, 1594; 270, 271, 272, 273, 274.
- 1595; 276.
- signature of, 1595; 486.
- letters from, 1595; 274, 275, 277, 278.
- letters to, 1595; 276, 277, 278, 279.
- 1596; 285.
- French bonds with, 1596; 282.
- letters from, 1596; 281, 282, 284.
- letters to, 1596; 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286.
- 1597; 294.
- letters from, 1597; 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293.
- letters to, 1597; 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293.
- birthday of, 1695; 399.
- Lady Mildred, funeral of, 1592; 266.
- Burghs :
 - royal; 642.
 - general convention of the, at Edinburgh, 1688; 643.
- Burgis, Thomas, affidavit of; 40.
- Burgoyne :
 - ... , his defeat; 252.
 - J., Lieut.-General; 233.
 - John, of Winchelsea, and Margery his wife; 511.
 - Robert; 513.
 - of Winchelsea, grant by; ib.
- Burgundy :
 - House of, intercourse between the Kingdom of England and the, 1642; 60.
 - Archduke of, Philip, treaty of 1495 between Henry VII. and; 628.
 - Duchess of, gentlewomen of the; 530.
 - Duke of, 1696; 324.
- Burial :
 - by torchlight; 203.
 - of men cross-legged; 582.
- Burials; 110, 417.
- celebrated with feasts, 16th cent.; 596.
- draft of an Act to prevent extortions for, 1642; 16.
- tax upon, 1694; 385.
- affidavits as to whether or not the dead had been buried in woollen, 17th and 18th cent.; 597.
- See Burying places.
- Burke :
 - ... , 1782; 211.
 - ... , Colonel Barró to replace him at the War Office (1782 ?); ib.
 - Mr., draft of his Bills for economical reform; 257.
 - Edmund, 1782; 238.
 - delivered after suffering hard usage in the castle of Santi Petri, near Cadiz, 1782; 255.
 - Redmund; 251.
 - Richard, letter to; 239.
 - W., Mr. (1782 ?); 210.
- Burkitt :
 - Miles, one of the vicars of Pattishall, Northampton, petition of; 71.
 - William; ib.
- Burlamachi, Philip; 59.
- sequestration of the inland post office to, 1642; 47.
- letter office sequestered into the hands of; 52.
- committee appointed to take the accounts in the case between the Earl of Warwick and; 60.
- letter from; ib.
- four petitions of; 62.
- Burleigh. See Burghley.
- Burlescombe, Devon; 122.
- Burleston, Dorset; 125.
- Burley House. See Burghley.
- Burley :
 - Jo., Captain, letter from; 34.
 - Simon, Sir; 477.
 - Simon de, Warden of Dover Castle; 533.
- Burlington (New Jersey), letters dated at; 224.
- Burly, In Ethica et Politica, and In Politica (cum Ægidio); 484.
- Burnage, Lancashire; 127.
- Burnand, Nathaniel, petition of; 18.
- Burnby, Burnaby, Henry, bailiff of the Hundred of Toseland, co. Hunts., petitions of; 46, 91.
- Burne, Robert; 490.
- Burnell :
 - Mr.; 324.
 - George, examination of; 270.
- Burnett, Burnet :
 - A., Mr., letter from; 628.
 - Alexander, of Leis; 630.
 - Dr., deposition of, relating to the Duke of Lauderdale, 1675; 317.

Burnett, Burnet—cont.

- Dr., theory of the earth by; 340.
- Prince of Orange and Her R.H. (Mary) sponsors to a child of, 1688; 319.
- his "Reformation"; 383.
- bishop of Salisbury, accident during a sermon by, 1690; 380.
- 1693; 384.
- 1695; 376, 377.
- Gilbert, letters by; ix, 308, 314.
- character of, by Mr. Lealy; 355.
- Mr., of Kenmay, letters from; 627.
- Mrs.; 610.
- widow; ib.
- W., governor of New York, propositions made to the Indians by; 215.
- letters from; 215, 216.
- Burngreyns, lands of; 611.
- Burnham, Essex; 19, 21, 29.
- river of, or Burham water; 16.
- fishing for oysters, &c., in the; 19, 21, 23, 29.
- Burnham, Lincoln; 128.
- Burnham, Burneham :
 - Edward; 264.
 - Matilda de; 556.
- Burnley, Lancashire; 127.
- Burns, Robert, the Scottish poet; 650.
- Burntisland; 610.
- Burntwood, Essex; 161.
- Burpham, alias Burgham, Sussex; 132.
- Burre, Captain; 93.
- Burrell :
 - Captain; 58.
 - Edward; 569.
 - Jo., letter from; 273.
 - v. Burrell, order in the cause of; 12.
- Burrey, Joan; 564.
- Burrington, Devon; 123.
- Burrington, Captain, governor of North Carolina; 215.
- Burrough, ... , letter from; 266.
- Burroughs, Mr., letter from; 286.
- Burrow, James, letter from; 250.
- Burrows, Robert, affidavit of; 105.
- Burry, Lieutenant; 403.
- Bursars' accounts; 385, 477 seq.
- Bursell :
 - John; 551.
 - Richard; 551, 552.
 - Thomas; 547.
- Burslem, Will., letter from; 208.
- Burstax, Andrew, of Poudrame; 601.
- Burstock, Dorset; 124.
- Burston, John; 72.
- Burstow, Surrey; 132.
- Burt, Mr., opinion of; 252.
- Burthenstall. See Burden's Ball.
- Burton, lands in; 322.
- Burton [Bradstock], Dorset; 124.
- Burton, Lincoln; 391.
- Burton Coggles, Lincoln; 127.
- Burton, next Lincoln; 128.
- Burton-super-Stather, Lincoln; ib.
- Burton Joyce, Notts; 130.
- Burton, West, Notts; 129.
- Burton-upon-Trent, Stafford; 132.
- Burton-cum-Coates, Sussex; ib.
- Burton, Kirk, York; 184.
- Burton :
 - ... ; 185.
 - ... , letter to; 313.
 - Major-general; 154.
 - letter to; 223.
 - Mr., the feodary; 388.
 - Andrew, esq., letter to; 390.
 - Anne, eldest daughter of Sir Thomas; 387, 389.
 - Mrs., letter to; 389.
 - letter from; 390.
 - Edward, Sir, knt., of Eastbourne, Sussex; 304.
 - Edward, D.D., MSS. by; 304 bis.
 - Frances, Lady, letters to; 388, 389, 394.
 - Hesekiah; 482.
 - prebendary of Norwich; ib.
 - Jane; 389.
 - Mrs., letters to; 389, 390.
 - Robert; 574.
 - Thomas, Sir, bart.; 389, 394, 395.
 - of Stockerson, co. Leicester, Anne daughter of; 387, 389.
 - will of; 395.
 - letters from; 389, 396.
 - letters to; 387, 389, 390, 391, 392, bis, 395.
 - Walter de; 336.
 - William, son of Roger de; 332.
 - William, letter to; 312.
 - W., letter to; 313.
 - See Bourton.

- Burwaje, salt-matter at; 262.
 Burwell, Thomas, petition of; 27.
 Burwell cum Walsgate, Linc.; 128.
 Bury, Huntingdon; 125.
 Bury, Lancashire; 32, 127.
 Bury, Sussex; 132.
 Hundred, Sussex; ib.
 Bury St. Edmunds; 179, 581, 593, 596.
 abbey of; 484, 596.
 abbot of, Sampson, 1200; 439.
 Bury:
 Dr., removed from the rectorship of Exeter College by the Bp. of Exeter; 376, 377.
 — rector of Exeter College, suspended, and a book by him condemned to be burnt; 380.
 Mrs.; 376.
 Burying-places; 406.
 Busanville, M. de, letter from; 284. See Bucenval, Bussenville.
 Busbequius, . . . ; 320.
 Busbye, Hugh; 109.
 Bushell, Thomas; 21.
 — petition of; 16.
 — order made on petition of; ib.
 — charge presented by, against Sir Richard Price and others; ib.
 — farmer of H. M. mines royal in co. Cardigan, petition
 of; 24.
 Bushey, Bushy; 212.
 living of, order for sequestering the; 71.
 Park, letters dated at; 208.
 Bushey, Andrew, letter from; 290.
 Bushill, Mr., letter to; 143.
 Buss, John, grant by; 503.
 Busse, in Flanders, captains of the garrison at, 1643; 96.
 Busse:
 H., letter from; 290.
 William; 551.
 Bussenville, M., letter to; 274. See Busanville, Bussenval.
 Busses; 191.
 Bussier, John, of Margate; 139, 140.
 Bussoppe, Robert; 581.
 Bussora:
 Arabs of; 254.
 letters from; 254.
 Buston:
 Mr.; 393.
 John, letters to; 391, 395, 396.
 Butcher:
 Mr. [naval officer at Barbadoes]; 251.
 Avery, grant to; 265.
 Henry, of Deal; 570.
 John, mayor of Bristol; 323.
 John; 588.
 Robert, naval officer of Barbadoes, letters from; 245.
 — letters to; ib.
 See Bocher, Bucher.
 Butchers; 352, 401, 526, 534, 539, 565.
 ordinance touching; 531.
 order touching; 556.
 Butchett, John, affidavits of; 116.
 Bute:
 Isle of; 645.
 heritable sheriff of; 617.
 Earl of, first, letters to the; xix, 617 seq.
 — letter from the, 1740; 620.
 — 1758; 323.
 — The Administration of the, written in 1763; 364.
 — character of the; ib.
 — 1774; 209.
 — 1782; 242.
 Countess of, Anne, 1725; 623.
 Lady; 618.
 — 1740; 620.
 Marquis of, MSS. of the; vi, xix, 617.
 Butevilain:
 William; 336, 337.
 W., the elder; 337.
 Butler, Chief, Sir William Waller, 1643; 95.
 Butler:
 Captain; 20, 348, 403.
 — letters by; 333, 349.
 Colonel; 349 bis.
 Councillor; 321.
 Mrs.; 391.
 Alban, Rev., letters to and from; 476.
 Adam de, Sir; 327.
 Andrew, rector of Hallaton, letter to; 391.
 Brackenbury; 63.
 Edmund, and others, petition of; 42.
 Elizabeth, Lady, daughter to Lord Ormond; 155.
 James; 80.
 John; ib.
 Jo., Quartermaster-General, letter from; 361.
 John, of Okeham, co. Rutland; 401 bis., 402.
 John, Colonel; 37.
 — petitions of; 11, 13, 27, 38, 43 bis., 46.
 — pass granted to; 44.
 Butler—cont.
 John, safe conduct for; 645.
 Reginald; 481.
 Richard, brother to the Earl of Ormonde; 346.
 Richard, Lord, 1661; 202.
 Richard; 95, 552.
 — petition of; 111.
 — relict and executrix of; 49.
 — orphans of; ib.
 R., letter from; 291.
 Stephen; 495.
 William, Sir, house of, at Teston; 46.
 See Boteler, Botteler, Pincernæ.
 Butlers, family of the; 11.
 Butte, Richard, Sir, chaplain; 562.
 Buttel, St. Mary of; 322.
 Butter; 80, bis., 98, 107, 113. payments for; 72.
 boxes; 177, 192.
 — about the Land's End; 177.
 and cheese; 586.
 Butter, Patrick, of Gormok; 622.
 Butterdean, David Ellem of; 646.
 Buttergask, John, son and heir apparent of Richard, of that ilk; 620.
 Butterleigh, Devon; 122.
 Butterwick, Lincoln; 127, 128.
 Butterworth, Lancashire; 127.
 Buttery:
 the King's, valet of the, temp. Hen. VI.; 305.
 yeomen-purveyors of carriages for H. M.; 408.
 inventory of things in a; 478.
 Buttolpho, Sussex; 133.
 Button, parish of; 327.
 Buttons, silk; 113.
 Butts; 492, 495, 496, 518, 519, 521, 522, 523, 541, 543, 548, 549, 552, 586.
 Butts, Thomas; 596.
 Buxhirst, John; 541.
 Buxstedd, Sussex; 305.
 Buxted, furnace at; ib.
 Buxton:
 drinking of the water at, 1782; 210.
 Wells; 366.
 letter dated at; 210.
 Buxton, . . . , of Cotten; 593.
 Buye, James; 519.
 Buzenval, M. de, letter from; 263. See Bucenval, &c.
 Byaufiz:
 William; 503.
 William, son of William; ib. See Beaufels.
 Byckebury, William de; 604.
 Bydyndene:
 Richard; 541.
 Walter, of Rye; 509 bis.
 Byen, Robert; 430.
 Byerley, Mr., of Gray's Inn; 87.
 Byfeld, William, of Lydd; 540, 541.
 Bygery (?); 561.
 Bygure, Lord of, Malcolm Fleming; 608.
 Bykynden, John, certificate by; 513.
 Bylsyngton; 545. See Bilsington.
 Byndon, Viscount, letters from, 1593; 270. See Bindon.
 Byneleghe, Richard de; 599.
 Byng:
 George, letter from; 139.
 — letter from, 1609; 570.
 Sir George, list of ships under; 349.
 — men of war under; ib.
 Byrch, Elizabeth; 298.
 Byrchington; 140. See Birchington.
 Byrchwelle, John de; 560.
 Byrd, Jo., letter from; 271. See Bird.
 Byres, Byris, Lord of, William of Lindsay; 612, 646.
 Byrkenyd, Robert; 500.
 Byrhtrie, minister; 457.
 Byron:
 Lord, Field Marshal General of North Wales, and governor of Chester, 1645; 144.
 — governor of the Island of Anglesey; 421.
 Lord, [t. Geo. I.]; 189.
 Lady, application by, 1642; 62.
 Admiral, his fleet; 209.
 Edward, Sir; 358.
 John, Sir; 162.
 — lieutenant of the Tower, delinquent; 4.
 William, Sir; 421.
 Byseth, William de; 611.
 Byse, John, recorder of Dublin; 350.
 Byschop, Byashop, Byshope:
 . . . , of Calais; 443.
 Agnes; 564.
 William, Dr., letters from; 474, 475.
 Byshull, John; 295.
 Byspham, Lancashire; 127. See Bispham.
 Bytham, Little, Lincoln; ib.

Bytham Castle cum Couthorpe, Lincoln ; 127.
 Bytham, John, serjeant-at-arms; 536.
 Bythorn, Huntingdon; 126.

C.

C., letter from, 1596 ; 286.
 C., Lord, his unfortunate affair; 359.
 C., F.; 137.
 C., W., letter from; 268.
 Cabinet:
 the, 1673; 357.
 the, 1782; 209, 210, 211, 242.
 a, called, 1773; 208.
 Lords of the, 1774; 209.
 ministers, 1778; 209. minutes of the, in Lord Shelburne's hand; 256.
 — 1782; 258.
 Cabourne, Lincoln; 128.
 Cachepol; 607.
 Cadbury, Devon; 122.
 Caddington, in cos. Hertford and Bedford:
 petition of inhabitants of; 119.
 manor of the Berry of; ib.
 vicarage of; ib.
 Cade:
 Adam; 599, 601.
 Jack ("the captain") with his army; 490.
 — "capitayne of the oste"; 520.
 — present by a corporation to; 516, 520.
 — insurrection of; xvii, xviii, 580, 543.
 — a letter sent to; 520.
 — Captain of Kent, proclamation for the apprehension of, 1450; 455.
 — (John Mortymer), and his followers, proclamation of pardon to, 1450; ib.
 — rebellion of, proclamations dated 1450, referring to the; 459.
 John; 603.
 Richard, mayor of Dartmouth; ib.
 Richard, abbot of Torre; ib.
 W., letter from; 271.
 Cadeby, Lincoln; 128.
 Caderethedom, Robert; 504.
 Cadiow, William of; 608.
 Cadiz, Cales, Callis; 164, 209, 244, 254, 314, 372. voyage to, 1596; 138.
 fleet employed at, 1596; 284.
 report of money, plate, jewels, and goods taken at, 1596; ib.
 Spanish advertisements of the riches in, 1596; 286.
 "things especially considerable in the taking of the town of," 1596; 286.
 pledges delivered by the town of, 1596; ib.
 treasure taken at the capture of, 1596; ib.
 warrants under hands of the generals for service of, 1596; 287.
 preparations for the voyage to, 1596; ib.
 names of captains that served at, 1596; ib.
 armour intended for, 1596; 287 bis.
 account of the expedition to, 1596; 304.
 great loss of shipping before the Bar of, 1660; 169.
 Spanish flota at, 1690; 380.
 Lord Admiral Russell's country apartments at, 1694-5; 385.
 French and Spanish fleets at, 1782; 254.
 preparations making at, 1782; ib.
 — for a general attack on Gibraltar, 1782; 255.
 Castle of Santi Petri, near; ib.
 Governor of, Don Juan de Ribas, letter from, 1597; 288.
 troops at, 1783; 255.
 coast of; 162.
 Cadleigh, Devon; 122.
 Cadney cum Housham, Lincoln; 129.
 Caduallader, Roger, letter from; 476.
 Cadworth. See Cawden and Cadworth Hundred.
 Caen; 334, 573.
 charter made at; 334.
 stone; 441.
 Caenby (Cannbye), Lincoln; 128.
 Caerdegog, co. Anglesey, township of; 420, 422.
 Caernarvon. See Carnarvon.
 Caernether, Caernethour, Carnethor, &c.; 417, 418, 420, 422.
 lands and tenements in; 407, 415, 417.
 collections concerning; 417.
 mansion-house at; 420.
 Caerwen; 418.
 Caesar:
 Charles, Sir, Master of the Faculties; 59.
 Dr., report of; 264.
 — examination before; 286.
 Julius, Sir, letters from, 1589 to 1597; 263 bis, 264 bis, 267, 275, 281, 291, 293.
 — letter to; 262.
 — Dr., letters from; 270, 272, 286 bis.
 — signature of, 1608; 408.
 — Master of the Rolls, signatures of, 1612; 487.

Caesar—cont.

Julius, signature of, 1614; 140.
 — signatures of, 1626; 581, 584.
 Cage, John, of Wolpett, yeoman; 595.
 Cahir, Lord of, 1642; 346.
 Caicos Islands, the; 222.
 plan for the settlement of the, 1767; 324.
 See Caiques.
 Caietan, Cardinal. See Cajetan.
 Caiques [Islands], the; 217. See Caicos.
 Cairns, Alexander, monk of Glenluce; 615.
 Cairny, letter dated at; 635.
 Caistor, Lincoln; 129.
 Caistor, near Yarmouth; xvi, 484.
 Caithness:
 shire of, mutual pursuits between the, and Sutherland; 651.
 Earl of, letter from the, 1668; 651.
 Bishop of; 316.
 — Adam [12th cent.]; 621.
 — 1512; 620.
 — the King's treasurer, 1517; 689.
 — Edward, deceased, 1596; ib.
 Cajetan, Cardinal:
 Protector of England, letters from; 466, 467, 468, 475.
 apostolic legate, letters from and to; 476.
 Cake, a country, "to choose king and queen with"; 390.
 Cake, Robert, of Mendlesham, will of; xviii, 595, 596.
 Cakstone, Cakystone, Cakton:
 John; 534, 535, 536, 537.
 Robert; 535.
 See Caxton.
 Calabria, Duke of; 334.
 Calais; 14, 147, 157, 162, 164 bis, 165, 168, 173, 175, 182, 192 bis, 296, 325, 330, 338, 379, 434 bis, 443, 493, 502, 521, 523, bis, 525, 536, 541, 546. victuals for, 3-4 Hen. V.; 539-40.
 voyage of Henry VI. from, to England; 317.
 subsidy for defence of, 1462-3; 544.
 proclamation for men to go to, 1463-4; 538.
 commission to have archers at the town of, 1490-1; 548.
 cog-ship of, 9 Hen. VII.; 502.
 ships for transporting Henry VIII. over to, 1520-1; 551.
 extracts of letters written from, 1590; 264.
 advertisements from, 1593; 269.
 captain of, complaint against the, 1407; 443.
 constable of, 1407; ib.
 ex-governor of, letter from the, 1596; 281.
 governor of, letter to the, 1596; ib.
 the governor's son of; 165.
 lords of, 1460-2; 522.
 deputy-lieutenant, mayor, treasurer, and controller of; 502.
 Calamy:
 Mr.; 145, 158, 168, 204.
 Presbyterian minister, 1647; 173.
 made provost of Eton and dean of some other place, 1660; 145.
 petitioned His Majesty against his two royal brothers for going to plays, 1660; 174.
 chaplain of Charles II.; 181.
 Ed.; 589.
 Calburne in Scotland, the Gift of God of; 352.
 Calceby, Lincoln; 128.
 Calcethorpe [Calstropp], Lincoln; 128.
 Calceworth Hundred, Lincoln; ib.
 Calch, Calche, Robert; 577.
 — M.P.; ib.
 Calcinato, Italy; 348.
 Calcott, John, under-sheriff of Middlesex, affidavit of; 101.
 Caldbeck, Cumberland; 121.
 Caldecot, Caldecott; 392, 393.
 Caldecote, Huntingdon; 126.
 Caldecote (Calcot), Warwick, manor of; 9.
 Calderon, John, and Mahalt his wife; 449.
 Caldor, Theyne of, William; 627.
 Caldwell Place near Quebec, letter dated; 232.
 Caldwell:
 Mr., receiver-general of Quebec; 251.
 H., letter from; 232.
 — Major, letter from; ib.
 Calef, John, esq.; 234.
 memorial and petition of; ib.
 letters from; ib.
 Calendar:
 reasons against the alteration of the; viii, 311.
 letters on the alteration of the, 1582-3; ib.
 a; 305, 607.
 Calenge, Ralph de la; 561.
 Cales. See Cadiz.
 Calstone, John de; 604.
 Calf, Nicholas, commissary and sequestrator-general within the archdeaconry of Lewes; 502.
 Calf, Abraham, vicar of Lewisham, Kent; 73.
 Calfhage, Roger de; 336 bis.
 Calgarth Park, keeper of; 330.
 Caliverers [i.e. men using the caliver]; 417.

Calivers; 138, 139, 567, 572, 573.

Callaghan:

Dennis, Col.; 331.

John, letter from; ib.

Callander, Callendar, earl of:

1644; 649.

summons to the, 1651; 645.

Callere, John, of Rye; 510, 511.

Callicut, on the Malabar Coast, surrendered, 1782; 254.

Callingford, Stafford; 132.

Callington, Cornwall; 121.

Calnady, Josias, of Wenbury, Devon; 487.

Calmanale; 614.

Calsay port, the; 610.

Calstock, Cornwall; 121.

Calstocke, living of; 814.

Calt, Daniel; 74.

Calthorpe:

Lord Mayor, letter from, 1588; 261.

Francis, Esq., of Norwich, letter to; 485.

Philip, of Ludham; ib.

Calteystyles; 505.

Calvacanti, . . . , letter from; 269.

Calverleigh, Devon; 122.

Calverley, York; 134.

Calverly (place); 391.

Calverly:

. . . ; 389.

Henry, letter from; 397.

— letters to; 390, 391, 392.

Walter; 389.

Calverthorpe; 324.

Calverton, Notts; 180.

Calvin, John, family and personal history of; 465.

Calvinists; 653.

Calvo, Eliano, M., letter from; 290.

Cambden, Lord, 1661; 160.

— son of; ib.

See Camden, Campden.

Cambden House, London; 174. See Camden.

Cambeforde, W., prothonotary of the Common Bench; 295.

Cambell, Mr., daughter of; 152.

Camber, Cambre, the (near Rye); 491, 492, 495, 517, 518, 519, 525, 528, 529.

men of war in the; 523.

Castle, order for ordnance to be removed from, to Rye, 1642; 45.

Camberwell, schoolmaster of; 384.

Camborne, Cornwall; 121.

Cambray; 314.

letter dated at; 464.

convent of English Benedictines at; 465.

Cambria, Archdeacon of, letter from; 473.

Cambric, customs for; 287.

Cambridge; 182, 190, 310, 322, 324, 376, 400, 581.

the Cardinal's citation at; 318.

difference at, between the vice-chancellor and senior regent, 1614-5; 408.

legality of the King's mandate to, to admit Alban Frances, a Benedictine, to be M.A. without oath; 320.

persons having the privilege of scholars at; 120.

preachers of; 375.

public officers at; 120.

friars minor of; 322.

St. Mary's Church, speech by Queen Elizabeth in; 464.

See St. Mary, church of.

St. Radegund of; 322.

documents, copies (c. 1650) of; 367.

letters dated at; 399.

University of; 374, 377.

— letter from the Archbishop to the, 1595; 278.

— papers by Archbishop Laud about his right to visit

the; 308.

— reasons given by the, why it is exempt from Episcopal jurisdiction; 407.

— visitation of the [1635-6]; 313.

— disorders in the, 1636; ib.

— petition of the, 1643; 108.

— order by Charles II. to the governors of the, 1674; 375.

— method of education at the, 1692; 374.

— description of the, with its arms and the arms of every college, the first founders, &c.; 367.

— Chancellor of the, 1614; 408.

— Duke of Monmouth, 1674; 375.

— vice-chancellor, regents, and non-regents of the, letter to the, 14 Eliz.; 368.

— 1579; 386.

— Dr. Pearne; 313.

— Andrew Perne, 23 Eliz.; 368.

— Dr. Legg, 1588; 406.

— and heads of the, reasons by the, why Cambridge is exempt from metropolitan visitation [1635-6];

318.

— and heads of colleges therein, petition of the,

1642; 15.

— Thomas Bainbrigg, D.D., letter of, 1643; 120.

— and scholars of, letter from the; 312.

Cambridge—cont.

University of, masters of colleges in the; 49.

— petition of, 1642; 60.

— library keeper of the, 1712; 190.

— professor of mathematics in the; 400.

Caius College, letter from, 1590; 264.

— master and fellows of; 368.

Christ's College; 120.

— master of, Thomas Bainbrigg, letter of, 1643; ib.

— master and fellows of, 1574; 368.

— letter dated at; 488.

Clare Hall; 120, 400.

— student at; 368.

— master of, Dr. Paske; 26.

— master, warden, and fellows of; 368.

— mastership of; 86.

Clare College, petition from, 1765; 257.

Corpus Christi College; 120.

— agreement under the seal of, 1569; 433.

— master of, 1589; 311.

Emanuel College; 120.

— legacies to, 1594; 272.

— disorders as touching church causes in, 1603; 313.

Gonville and Caius College; 120.

Jesus College; ib.

— master and fellows of; 24 bis.

— fellows of, petition of the; 62.

King's College; 120.

— Pope Eugenius' bull of exemption for, 1485; 313.

— fellow of; 368.

Magdalen College; 120.

— MSS. of; vi, xv, 481.

Pembroke College, MSS. of; vi, xvi, 484.

Pembroke Hall; 120.

Peter-house, fellow of; 7.

Queen's College; 120.

— fellow of; 318.

— fellows of, petition of the; 62.

— master of, Dr. Tyndall; 278.

St. John's College; 120, 440.

— fellow of; 190.

— fellows of, petition of the; 62.

St. Katharine's Hall; 120.

— master or warden and fellows of; 368.

— library of; 454.

St. Peter's College; 120.

Sidney Sussex College; ib.

— and its master; 374.

— letters dated at; 399, 400.

— fellow of; 589.

Trinity College; 120, 285, 319, 484.

— library of; 135, 144, 182.

— Dean, &c., of, letter from the, 1593; 267.

— fellow of; 485.

— master of, Dr. Nevill, 1649; 182.

— Dr. Bentley, 1707; 399.

Trinity Hall; 120, 482.

— fellows and scholars of, 1641; 412.

B.A. of, 1673; 358.

Cambridge, county of; 104, 251, 485, 567, 581.

receipt for money for soldiers provided by the, 1590; 263.

letter from the, 1642; 9.

petition of the knights, esquires, gentlemen and commons of the, 1642; 12.

order for watches to be kept in the, 1642; 43.

trained bands of the; 47.

forces raised in the, 1642; 61.

order for raising dragoons in the, 1642; ib.

delinquents in the, 1643; 83.

committee in the, 1643; 91.

office of philazer of the; 97.

committee of, sequestrations for the, 1643; 98.

committee in the, 1643; 105, 109.

— certificate of the, 1643; 116.

lord lieutenant of the; 9.

justices of the peace for the; 485.

and other counties, propositions for the association of the, [1642]; 63.

— order for the association of the, 1643; 88.

— associated, committee for the, 1643; 100.

— association of; 106.

Cambridge, Duke of, son of the Duke of York:

very ill, 1661; 151.

death of, 1661; 151, 170.

burial of the; 185.

death and burial of the, lamented by his mother; 203.

Cambridge, Philip; 328.

Cambrune, Robertus de; 624.

Cambuskenneth:

abbot of, 1517; 639.

commendator of; 633, 635, 640.

Camden, (N. America); 237.

victory over the rebels near, 1780; 236.

Camden House; 184. See Cambden House.

Camden:

(Lord?), 1782; 210.

Lord, 1784; 212. See Cambden, Campden.

Camden—cont.

- Mr.; 237.
 William (the historian), letter from, 1596; 285.
 — Clarenceux, letter from; 343.
 Came, [Winterbourne,] Dorset; 124.
 Camelford, Cornwall; 121.
 Camera:
 Herbertus de; 624.
 William de, Lord of Auchnawys; 608.
 Camerarius, William; 336.
 Cameron:
 Mr., deputy superintendent of Indian affairs; 238.
 Alexander, letter from; 227.
 Dr.; 414.
 See Camron.
 Camerton, Cumberland; 121.
 Camfield, Mr., "a son, or nearly related, to the Earl of Arguile;" 380.
 Camilla, Theodosius de, rector of Wingham; 428 bis.
 Camme:
 Eustache de; 335.
 Ralph de; 337.
 Cammeringham, Lincoln; 128.
 Camp, the, 1686; 187 bis.
 Campaign of 1748; 628.
 Campbell:
 Lord, William; 223, 226.
 — Governor of Nova Scotia; 250.
 — — — letters from; 220.
 — — — letters from; 224, 225.
 — — — letters to; 223.
 Principal; 627.
 of Ardkinglass, letters from; 618.
 Ad., letters from; 619.
 Andrew, Laird of Lowden; 611.
 Archibald, Lieut.-Governor of Jamaica, letters from; 238, 245, 251.
 Gilbert; 641.
 Hew; 611.
 John, Vice-Admiral, Governor of (Newfoundland); 239.
 Major; 295.
 (? Camphill), Duncan Forbes of; 654.
 Campden, Gloucestershire; 96.
 Campden, Viscount:
 1633; 402.
 1636; ib.
 letter to, 1642-3; 73.
 house of, letter dated at, 1642-3; 76.
 second son of, petitions of the, 1642-3; 76 bis.
 — 1643; 78.
 — 1643; 79.
 letter from, 1660; 398.
 Baptist, Lord Lieutenant of Rutland, instructions to, 1660; 403.
 Viscountess Dowager of, Elizabeth, petition of, 1643; 82.
 — — will and estate of, 1643; 93.
 See Camlden.
 Campeachy:
 Bay of; 243.
 trade; ib.
 Campeau, Mr. Bpt., letter to; 227.
 Campeggio:
 Cardinal; 446.
 J. B., Bishop of Majorca, letter from, 1582; 467.
 Campesse, St. Mary of; 322.
 Camphill. See Campbell.
 Campian, John, of Worcester, mercer; 295.
 Campiani, Edmundi, P., vita et martyrium; 473.
 — carmina in laudem; ib.
 Campion:
 Edmund, S. J., history of; 464.
 Richard; 402.
 Campo Mayor; 190.
 Campsall Hall, Yorkshire, MSS. at; x.
 Campvere; 286.
 Campville, Stafford; 132.
 Camron's brother; 316.
 Cams, William Stoddart in; 643.
 Can, Philip; 573.
 Canada; 233, 239, 243, 252.
 French inhabitants of, oaths proper to be proposed to the; 281.
 list of the French officers of justice in; ib.
 seizure of French territory in the islands of, 1690; 380.
 government of, papers and memorials relative to the, 1763-67; 281.
 letters, &c. relating to, 1763 to 1767; ib.
 thoughts upon the ecclesiastical establishment in, by the Abp. of York, 1764; 227.
 revenue of, 1765; 231.
 paper money of, 1766; 232.
 paper, British commissary for, 1766; ib. committee, letter to the, 1766; 222.
 troops in, 1767; 219.
 conduct of Jesuits in, 1767; 224. expense of the government in, 1767; 225.

Canada—cont.

- fees of offices in, 1767; 225.
 Church in, letter relating to the, 1767; 227.
 judicature of, proceedings at a council relating to the, 1767; 250.
 Discours qui a été fait par les principaux chefs de, pour être communiqué à la cour de France, 1768; 232, 233.
 expenses incurred in, under the instruction of the controller of works, 1776-8; 239.
 thoughts for conducting the war from the side of, 1777; 233.
 estimate of the expenses of the province of, 1782; ib.
 commanding engineer in, 1782; 239.
 merchants, letter from, 1783; 243.
 — representation of the, 1783; ib.
 notes on the prosecutions for treason in, 1792; 252.
 account of goods imported from, 18th cent.; 233.
 memorial of the merchants trading to; 232.
 proposal for seals for; 217.
 observations relative to the service in; 233.
 Assembly of; 231.
 commissary-general of stores and provisions department in; 225.
 government of; 250.
 [postmaster] in, Mr. Finlay; 233.
 Canadian:
 bishop; 219.
 boundaries, 1783; 243.
 boundary, the; 220.
 trade, 1785; 252.
 Canadians:
 complaint of some, on account of the boundaries, 1767; 223.
 refusal of the, to act offensively against the Americans, 1775; ib.
 Canaples, M. de; 319.
 Canaries, the; 164, 166.
 freightage of a ship to the, 1596; 284.
 remonstrance of the London merchant trading to the; 313.
 Grand; 366.
 Canary Islands, memoir of the, by George Chalmers, 1762; 250.
 Canary wine; 183, 573.
 Canc., Fra., 1600; 363.
 Cancalle [in France]; 604.
 Cancer; 385.
 Candles; 520.
 burning of; 516, 518.
 Cane, Abraham; 509.
 Cane-shop, and canes; 383.
 Canele, Henry; 424.
 Canford Magna, Dorset; 124.
 Canham:
 John; 388.
 Robert; ib.
 Cann (or Shaston St. Rumbold), Dorset; 125.
 Cannbye. See Caenby.
 Canne, Emma, Mistress; 574.
 Canning:
 ...; 212.
 Richard, Captain, commander of H.M. ship Worcester, order to; 296.
 Cannings, William, will of; 326.
 Cannington, hundred of, Somerset; 132.
 Cannock:
 perambulation of; 295.
 near Lichfield; 296.
 Chase, ridership of, grant of the; 297.
 Cannon; 103, 142, 160, 187, 198, 619.
 the first, cast in England; 305.
 balls; 348.
 baskets; 191.
 brass; 348.
 Cannons, Middlesex, manor house of; 9.
 Canon law, professors of the, 1633; 413.
 Canon, Canone:
 ...; 490.
 Maurice; 5.
 Richard; 499 bis, 515.
 Thomas, Sir, legatees of the will of; 5.
 Canonbury Crosse, Cumberland; 121.
 Canonical obedience; 429, 431, 432.
 professions of; xiii, 452-3.
 Canons, transgressions of the; 438.
 Cansdall, Mr.; 382.
 Canso, Gut of; 217.
 Canterbury; xviii, 21, 47, 49, 139, 145, 146, 150, 167, 181, 195, 212, 318, 365, 433, 434, 446, 447, 492, 493, 494, 509, 518, 516, 518, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 529, 535, 537, 541, 542, 544, 547, 548, 553, 570. city and county of; 59.
 court roll of the city of; 433.
 evidences upon my lord Archbishop Abbot his quo warranto against the city of; 434.
 Placita de Juratis et Assisis apud Cant., 1247; 439.
 — 1313; 516.
 summons to attend a consecration at, 1314; 447.
 Henry VI. at; 520 bis.
 pilgrims to, 1456; 521.

Canterbury—cont.

- Edward IV. at ; 545.
 riot in, pleadings and depositions relating to a, 1500 ; 459.
 French gallants at, 1601 ; 136.
 Benedictines of the province of, provincial of the, 1623 ; 467.
 letter from certain persons at, 1642 ; 33.
 letters about the proceedings of the Parliamentary troops at, and their violence in the cathedral ; vi, 45, 46 bis.
 certificate about the riot at, by the soldiers, and their outrages in the cathedral, 1642 ; 48.
 Charles II. at ; 199.
 aldermen of ; 434.
 bailiffs of, 1432 ; 433.
 burgesses of ; ib.
 brothers observant at, 1517-8 ; 550.
 fairs and markets at ; 462.
 hackney-man of, the ; 548.
 manse in, called "Meistr. Omers" ; 460.
 mayor of ; 459, 521, 522.
 — letter from the ; 268.
 — certificate by the, 1642 ; 48.
 mayor and commonalty of ; 433.
 — composition between the prior and convent of Christ Church and the, 1492 ; 438.
 mayor and sheriffs of ; 47.
 mayors of ; 434.
 — list of the ; ib.
 messuage and shops in ; 433.
 property in ; 449.
 residents in ; 437.
 scholars of, 1569 ; 433. school of ; ib.
 serjeant-at-mace of ; 434.
 sheriff of ; ib.
 Walloon congregation in and about ; 126.
 Burgate ; 433-4.
 Castle of ; 520.
 — master porter of the ; ib.
 city wall ; 433.
 fish market ; 434.
 Northgate ; 433.
 — hospital of ; 443.
 Queningate ; 433.
 Westgate ; 434.
 letters dated at ; 70, 139, 313, 318.
 Christ Church Cathedral, 322, 440, 448, 456, 460.
 — and the priory of St. Martin, Dover, dispute between ; 426, 441.
 — and St. Augustine's, suits between ; 426, 431.
 — and York, dispute between, as to the carrying of the cross ; 426.
 — and Norwich, composition between, concerning jurisdiction, sede Norwic. vacante ; 450.
 — lists of ordinations held in ; 426.
 — materials for the history of ; ib.
 — Letter Book, volume called ; ib.
 — a "provision" in ; 428.
 — consecration of bishops in the church of ; 432.
 — outrages in, by the Parliamentary troopers, 1642 ; 3, 45, 46, 48.
 — description of ; 338.
 — property belonging to ; 440.
 — possessions of ; 451.
 — charters to, royal ; 456, 457.
 — privileges granted to, catalogue of ; 462.
 — almoner of ; 440, 441.
 — almonry of ; 434, 436, 441, 442.
 — Arundel's oratory in the nave of ; 435.
 — altar of St. John the Baptist in ; ib.
 — altar of St. Stephen in ; ib.
 — berthonarius of ; 441.
 — cellar of ; 449.
 — cellarer of, office of the ; 445.
 — — Jocalia in officio celerarii ; 440.
 — chamberlain of ; 441 bis.
 — chamberlains' accounts of ; 437.
 — chantries in ; 435.
 — — foundation deeds of ; ib.
 — chantry of St. Thomas "juxta portam prioratus" ; 436.
 — Chapter of ; 429, 432, 437, 446, 449, 459.
 — — official of the ; 429.
 — chapter-house of ; 430, 438.
 — choir of, windows of the aisles of the ; 462.
 — conduits at ; 429.
 — Convent of ; xiii, 430, 432, 445, 447, 448, 451, 453, 454, 458, 459, 460, 461.
 — — and the Archbishops, contention between the, 1200 ; 442.
 — — and the Bishop of Ferns, final concord between, 13th cent. ; 445.
 — — lands and men of the, in London ; 447.
 — — wine given by the Kings of France to, 1179 seq. ; 426, 460.
 Christ Church Cathedral, convent of, grants to the ; 462.

38757.

Canterbury—cont.

- Christ Church Cathedral, Dean of ; 432.
 — Dr. Carier, letters to and from, 1613-4 ; 464.
 — 1642 ; 47.
 — notes of information against the, 1642 ; ib.
 — son of the, Thomas Bargrave ; ib.
 — Dr. Nevill, 1649 ; 182.
 — Dean and Chapter of ; 433, 448, 458, 531.
 — MSS. of the ; v, vi, xii, 426, 427 seq.
 — Dean and prebendaries of ; 47.
 — infirmary chapel of ; 444, 452.
 — kitchen of, the King's corrodies in the ; 449.
 — liorary of ; 462 bis.
 — manciple of ; 441.
 — monastery of, royal charters to the ; 437.
 — — valuation of possessions of the, 1540 ; 440.
 — — survey of lands on dissolution of the ; 448.
 — — almoner of the ; 440.
 — (or Holy Trinity), monks of ; xiii, 429, 433, 437, 439, 444, 457 bis, 458 bis.
 — — mutiny of the, 1275 ; 438.
 — — chapel of our Lady in the infirmary of the ; 444.
 — — parish of ; 48.
 — — penitentiary of ; 429.
 — — prebend in ; 86, 569.
 — — prebendaries of, petition of, for protection, 1643 ; 78.
 — — prebendary of ; 26.
 — — precinct of ; 126.
 — — Prior of ; 431, 434, 438, 442, 443, 445, 447, 458.
 — — custom of presenting a palfrey to each newly elected ; 461.
 — — Wibert ; 428.
 — — Benedict, 1175-7 ; 437, 449.
 — — Alan ; 431, 432, 452.
 — — — papal letter to, 1180 ; 446, 456.
 — — Geoffrey ; 427.
 — — Galfridus, 1191-1206, signature of ; 430, 442.
 — — — demise by ; 445.
 — — letter to the, 1200 ; 449.
 — — William, 1221 ; 441, 449.
 — — and the monks of Rochester, composition between the, 1243 ; 456.
 — — dispute between the Archbishop and the, 1247, 1258 ; 439.
 — — certificate by the, 1249 ; 450.
 — — 1255-7 ; 445.
 — — 1270 ; 428.
 — — Thomas Ringmer, 1275 ; 438, 451.
 — — 1276 ; 456.
 — — 1278 ; 447, 451.
 — — dispute between the suffragan bishops and the, 1278 ; 429.
 — — H., 1282 ; 457.
 — — Thomas Ringemer, 1284 ; 432.
 — — 1289 ; 451.
 — — Henry, 1293 ; 430.
 — — 1294 ; 429.
 — — 1296 ; 451.
 — — letters to the, 1297-8 ; 446.
 — — letters to the, 1299, 1300 ; 452, 461.
 — — and the men of Sandwich, composition between the, 13th cent. ; 457.
 — — long dispute between the Archdeacon and the, end of 13th cent. ; 430.
 — — 1300, 1304 ; 429.
 — — Henry, 1302 ; 449.
 — — letters to the, from the Archbishop, 1294-1305 ; 446, 447.
 — — letter to the, 1305 ; 452.
 — — letter to the, 1308 ; 445.
 — — 1316 ; 436, 450.
 — — Henry ; 450.
 — — and a faction of the monks, quarrel between, 1320 ; 438.
 — — 1321 ; 436.
 — — Henry of Eastry ; 437.
 — — letters to ; 447.
 — — Oxenden, 1331-8, letter from ; ib.
 — — appointment of ; 1338 ; 444.
 — — 1338 ; 461.
 — — 1339 ; 451.
 — — Robert Hathbrand, election of, 1339 ; 453.
 — — 1340 ; 440.
 — — 1347 ; 436.
 — — 1349 ; 430.
 — — deed by the, 1365 ; 442.
 — — 1374 ; 430, 453.
 — — 1375 ; 429.
 — — Thomas Chillenden ; 450.
 — — election of, 1390 ; 453.
 — — 1392-1411 ; 436, 444, 448.
 — — John Wodnesborough, 1422 ; 445.
 — — W. Molash, 1428 ; 445.
 — — John Salisbury, 1440 ; 444.
 — — John, 1443 ; 430.

G

Canterbury—cont.

- Christ Church Cathedral, Prior of, Goldstone I., 1454 ; 445.
 — 1456 ; 521.
 — 1472 ; 436.
 — 1478 ; 429.
 — letter to the, 1483 ; 455.
 — William Sellyng ; 430.
 — 1486 ; 430, bis.
 — petition of, 1486 ; 454.
 — petition of ; 461.
 — 1493 ; 445.
 — 1500 ; 450, 459.
 — Goldstone, 1500 ; 430, 451.
 — petition of ; 461.
 — petition of the, 1501 ; 434.
 — Thomas, 1504 ; 436.
 — indenture between Henry VII., the Abbot of Westminster, and the ; 426.
 — 1534 ; 429.
 — Thomas, precepts by, 1536 ; 455.
 — Adam de Chilindenne ; 444.
 — Jeremiah ; 446.
 — Odo ; 449.
 — Goldwell ; 440.
 — letters from monks to the ; 426.
 — accounts of his visits to London ; 426.
 — private note book of a ; 439.
 — new chapel of the ; 444.
 — gaol of the ; 455.
 — Prior and Chapter of, xii.
 — letter to, 1284 ; 459.
 — prior and convent of ; 428, 429, 432, 433, 435, 436, 439, 444, 447, 451, 458, 460, 462, 509.
 — official of the ; 429.
 — chronic dispute between the city and the ; 433, 434.
 — dispute between the, and Archbishop Edmund ; 439.
 — agreement between Henry VII. and the ; xiii, 436.
 — prior and monks of, 1213 ; 454.
 — priors of ; 431.
 — and the archbishops, disputes between ; 439.
 — election of ; 453.
 — priory of ; 432, 440, 446.
 — offices in the ; 429.
 — temporalities of the ; 439.
 — mintyard of the late ; 440.
 — pensions to the expelled monks of the late ; 440.
 — sacristan of ; 441.
 — sextre of, the ; 531.
 — shrine of, violated ; 438.
 — shrine of St. Thomas ; 460.
 — the prior's certificate of a miracle performed at the, 1445 ; 462.
 — sub-prior of ; 433, 435.
 — Reginald, the Pope's letter for his promotion to the archbishopric, 1206 ; 429.
 — his election as archbishop ; 446.
 — tenants of ; 441, 446.
 — tower of, the central, expenses of re-building ; 441.
 — treasurer of ; 458.
 — treasurers of ; 441, 444.
 — roll of payments made by the, 1221 ; 431.
 St. Alphege, parish of ; 435.
 St. Augustine of ; xiii, 322.
 — abbey of ; 431, 442.
 — manors, &c., belonging to the ; 448.
 — and Leofwine priest of St. Mildred's, dispute between ; 456.
 — abbot of ; 442, 457, 606.
 — Silvester ; 428.
 — Hugh, 1099 ; 431.
 — professio Silvestri abbatis, 1151 ; 431.
 — Clarembald, 1163 ; ib.
 — Roger (elect) ; 432.
 — Egelsin ; 442.
 — suit against the, 1451–2 ; 543.
 — 1494 ; 459.
 — liberties of the, in Fordwich ; 607.
 — seneschal of the ; 442.
 — monks of ; 437, 447, 607.
 St. Gregory ; 322.
 — canons of ; 429.
 — prior of ; 432.
 St. Margaret, parish of ; 512.
 St. Martin's, halimote of ; 429.
 St. Mary Magdalene, petitions of the parishioners of ; 33, 40.
 St. Mildred's, Leofwine, priest of ; 456.
 Sancte Radegundis, abbas, Henricus ; 452.
 St. Paul's, Longport, part of ; 126 note.
 St. Sepulchre ; 322.
 — chapel of the nunnery of ; 435.
 Archdeacon of ; 437 bis, 438, 441.
 — Roger, his consecration as Archbishop of York ; 452.
 — Herbert Pauper ; 457.
 — Henry de Chastell, and his vice-archdeacon ; 428.

Canterbury—cont.

- Archdeacon of, H. de Castello, letter from, circ. 1200 ; 457.
 — jurisdiction of the, 12th and 13th cent. ; 430.
 — Simon Langton, 1227 ; ib.
 — Richard de Ferring, 1293, 1298 ; ib.
 — 1339 ; 451.
 — Bernard Sistre, 1340 ; 440.
 — Peter Cardinal of Sta. Maria Nova, 1349 ; 428.
 — William, Cardinal, (ob. 1374) ; 427.
 — William Judicis, Cardinal, 1374 ; 428.
 — Henry Wakefeld, 1374 ; ib.
 — Sir John Wakeryngge, 1410–1 ; 538.
 — and his official, 1446 ; 519.
 — official of the, 1514 ; 461.
 — Dr. Kingsley, 1643 ; 88, 92.
 — cause against the, 1643 ; 95.
 Arches Court of, judge of the ; 420.
 Court of, inhibition and citation by the official of the, 1463 ; 591.
 — Prerogative ; 63. See Prerogative Court. commissary of ; 427, 433.
 commissaries of ; 459.
 dean of [rural] ; 433.
 archbishopric of, 1660 ; 184.
 diocese of ; Articuli corrigendi in isto sacro concilio in diocesi Cantuar. ; 431.
 — taxation of the, on account of a tenth, 1534 ; 456.
 province of ; 429, 430, 432, 436, 591.
 — suffragans, &c., of the ; 336.
 see of, vacancies of the ; 429.
 — frequent vacancies in the, 1348–9 ; 430.
 Catholic provincial of ; 471.
 Canterbury, Archbishop of :
 Cuthbert, A.D. 742 ; 456.
 Athelard, charter to, A.D. 790 ; declaration of, A.D. 803 ; 456.
 Wulfred or Vulfrède, A.D. 812 ; 456.
 Æluricus, A.D. 963 ; 458.
 — A.D. 972 ; 456.
 Egelnthus ; ib.
 temp. Will. I. ; 532.
 Lanfranc ; 431, 436, 442, 443, 453, 455, 456, 457.
 — 1072 ; 462.
 — signature of ; 430, 452.
 and the Archbishop of York, accord entered into by the, concerning the primacy, 1072 ; 452.
 may carry his cross erect throughout Britain, 1072 ; 452.
 Anselm, 1099 ; 431, 453.
 — charter by ; 435, 450.
 — letter from, 1109 ; 452.
 — letters from and to ; 308.
 William of Corboil, 1125 ; 429.
 Theobald, (1138–62) ; ib., 430, 431, 439, 441, 442, 452.
 — charters by ; 435, 456.
 — regulation by ; 437.
 — certificate by ; 447.
 — his return from St. Audoen ; 453.
 — his secretary, Peter Scriptor ; 461.
 — deed by ; 461, 462.
 — letters to ; 442.
 — papal letter to ; 446.
 — letter from ; ib.
 G., temp. Hen. II. ; 301.
 St. Thomas the martyr ; 431, 433, 448, 462.
 — charters by ; xiii, 432, 435, 450, 453.
 — the King's offering to, 1500 ; 434.
 — kinsmen of ; 431, 441.
 — nephew of ; 447.
 — murder of ; 327, 437.
 — tomb of ; 445.
 — martyrdom of ; 426.
 — hangings representing the martyrdom of ; 460.
 — expiatory offering by W. de Tracy, one of the murderers of ; 461.
 — festival of ; 607.
 Richard ; 429, 457.
 — papal letter to ; 437, 446.
 — 1175 ; 448.
 Baldwin ; 430, 440.
 — [charter by] ; 431.
 — papal letter to ; 439.
 and the convent, quarrel between the, 1184–92 ; ib.
 Hubert ; 430, 440, 442, 462.
 — and the convent, dispute between, concerning Lambeth College, 1200 ; 439.
 — and the convent, contention between, 1200 ; 442.
 — autograph of ; 430, ib.
 — letter to, circ. 1200 ; 457.
 — mandate by, 1202 ; 428.
 papal letter to the, 1203 ; 446.
 professions of obedience to the, 12th and 13th cent. ; 452–3.
 Stephen Langton ; 428, 432, 439, 440.
 — charters by ; 447 bis.
 — and all his suffragans, notice to the, 1216 ; 454.
 — [1221] ; 431.
 — receipt from, 1223 ; 451.
 — charters of, 1227 ; 430 bis.
 — deed by ; 462.

Canterbury, Archbishop of—cont.

- Edmund, protestation of; 432.
- dispute between, and the convent; 439.
- Cardinal, letters to the, [1232-3]; 336.
- Boniface; 441, 453, 532.
- deed by; 462.
- papal letter to; 432.
- letter from, 1245; ib.
- 1255; 445.
- dispute between the prior and, 1247, 1258; 439.
- his bailiffs, 1258; 440.
- and the Earl of Gloucester, composition between, 1258; 458.
- Robert Kilwardby (elect), papal letter to, 1272; 429.
- grant of indulgence by, 1274; 444.
- John Peckham; 432, 453.
- charter by; 450.
- deed of, 1281; 449.
- letter by, 1284; 459.
- document by, 1291; 433.
- Robert Winchelsey; xiii, 431.
- charter by; 428.
- letter by, 1294; 429, 446.
- and his clergy, refuse to contribute to the King's wars; 433.
- letters from; 446, 447.
- mandate by; 447.
- detained in Rome, 1294; 459.
- letter to, 1296; 446.
- 1297; 451.
- grant of indulgence, 1297; 444.
- 1299; 431.
- letter from, 1299; 452.
- carries his cross erect through the province of York, 1299; ib.
- 1300, 1304; 429.
- account of the estate of, 1303; 444.
- letter from, 1305; 452.
- suspension of, 1306; 443.
- restoration of, 1307; 461.
- will of, 1313; 460.
- death of, 1313; 429.
- 1316; 450.
- Walter Raynold, letters from; 438 bis, 447.
- will of, 1327; 460.
- Mepham, 1330; 450.
- death of, 1333; 429.
- John Stratford, election of, 1333; ib.
- 1334; 459.
- 1339; 453.
- will of, 1348; 460.
- executors of, 1348; 460.
- inventory of goods of, 1349; 444.
- Simon Islip; xiii, 440, 445.
- 1350; 441.
- 1355; 444.
- deed by, 1355; 443.
- will of, 1361; 436.
- 1362; 450.
- 1363; 435.
- deed by, 1365; 440, 442.
- Langham; 442.
- W. Wittelsey, 1372; 450.
- William, 1373; 453.
- Simon Langham, re-election of, 1374; 429.
- Sudbury, signature of; 430.
- tomb of; 434.
- William Courtenay; 435.
- 1385; 533.
- 1387; 429, 534.
- 1390; 453, 534.
- 1391; 534.
- 1394; 535.
- 1395; ib.
- Arundel; 435.
- his oratory; ib.
- 1397; 534, 535.
- 1400; 536.
- 1401; ib.
- 6 Hen. IV.; ib.
- 1406-7 and 1409-10; 537.
- H. Chychele; 445. See Chicheley.
- 1413-4 and 1414-5; 539.
- 1418-9 and 1420-1; 540.
- 6-7 Hen. VI.; 541.
- 1435; 518.
- auditors, crozier, and clerk of the kitchen of the, 1436; ib.
- bailiff of the; 1436; ib.
- steward of the, 1438; 519.
- 1441; ib.
- cross-bearer of the, 1441; ib.
- seneschal of the, 1441-2; 542.
- [temp. Hen. VI. ?]; 608.
- John Stafford; 430, 435.
- election of, 1443; 430 bis.
- 1446; 519.
- 1447; ib.

Canterbury, Archbishop of—cont.

- minstrels of the, 1447; 519.
- 1449-50; 520, 543.
- 1450-53; 543.
- John Kemp, installation of, [1452]; 491.
- minstrels of the, 31-33 H. VI.; 543 bis.
- serjeant of the, 1452-3; 543.
- surveyor of the, 1452-3; ib.
- minstrels of the, 1453-4; 521.
- Thomas Bouchier, Cardinal; 496.
- chantry of; 435.
- enthroneing of, 1454; 521.
- messenger of, 1454; ib.
- installation of, 1454-5; 543.
- 1455-6; 521 bis.
- 1458; 522.
- 1460-2; 523.
- minstrels of, 1460-2; ib.
- 1463; 590, 592.
- letter from, 1463; 592.
- minstrels of, 1466-7; 523.
- 1468; 545.
- 1469-70; 525.
- franchise of, between Blakewase and Dengeness, near Lydd, 1469; 524.
- 1472-3; 545.
- steward of, 1472; 525.
- 1473-4; 526.
- 1476-7 and 1478-9; 546.
- 1478; 429.
- matter between the Abbot of Battle and, 1479-80; 527.
- council of, 1480-1; 547.
- 1482-3; ib.
- 1484-5; 527 bis.
- death of, 1486; 430.
- John Morton, Cardinal; 440.
- election, &c., of, 1486; 430.
- his legacies for the advancement of learning; 451.
- surveyor of; 547, 548.
- 1487-8 and 1488-9; 548.
- great surveyor of the house of, 1493-4; ib.
- 1495-1500; 549.
- minstrel of the, 1497-8; ib.
- 1498; 459.
- William Warham; 360.
- Chancellor of Oxford; 869.
- signature of; 430.
- secretary of; 446.
- letters relating to a, jubilee proposed by; ib.
- Cardinal (late ?), 1512-3; 550.
- serjeant of the, 1517-18; ib.
- deputy-bailiff of the, at Romney, 1518-19; ib.
- 1529; 429.
- Warham, chantry of, 1529; 435.
- 1533, 1536; 429.
- Cranmer, seal of, 1534; 456.
- visitation by, 1534; 459.
- letter from; 213.
- letter by Bishop Bonner asking aid against the, 1549; 299, 300.
- letter to the; 363.
- Matthew Parker; 445.
- letter from, 1566; 310.
- 1571; 309.
- Edmund Grindal, letter to, 1578; 311.
- letters to the, 1582-3; ib.
- E., letter by, 1583; viii, 311.
- John Whitgift, letter from; 284.
- letters from and to, 1585; 311.
- letter from, 1589; 262.
- letters to the, 1588, 1589, 1592, 1593; 311.
- summons by, 1592; 486.
- signature of, 1592; 583.
- books received from, 1594; 270.
- letters from, 1594; 270, 272, 273.
- letters from, 1595; 275, 277, 278, 279.
- signature of, 1595; 486.
- 1596; 139.
- letters from, 1596; 280, 281, 282.
- letters from, 1597; 288, 290, 291, 292.
- letter from, 1599; xvi, 486.
- summons by, 1599; ib.
- examination taken by the, 1606; 464.
- examination before the, 1607; ib.
- letter to the, 1608; 311.
- R., letters from, 1608; ib.
- Richard, 1608; 408.
- George Abbott, instructions for, concerning certain orders to be observed by the bishops; 408.
- letters by; 308.
- letter from, 1611; 312.
- Council letter signed by, 1614; 140.
- letter to, 1614; 464, 468.
- letters from, 1622; 410.
- letters to, 1622; ib.

Canterbury, Archbishop of—cont.

- George Abbott, letter from James I. to, in behalf of a popish priest, 1622; 465, 468.
 Laud. See Laud.
 Dr. Juxon, late Bishop of London installed, 1660; 156.
 Sheldon, 1667; 404.
 letter to the, 1684; 344.
 1688; 187.
 letter to the, 1703; 401.
 1705; 414.
 1706; 349.
 letter to the, 1721; 400.
 letter from the, 1747; 401.
 letters from the, 1753-63; 321.
 Thomas [Herring], letters from, 1753-6; ix, 322.
 Thomas [Secker], letters from, 1758-63; ix, 323.
 1758; 322.
 letters to the, 1762-3; 323.
 was always chief lord of the town of Lydd; 531.
 book of record of the, called the Black Book; 531, 532.
 Archbishops of; 431, 462.
 — seals of the, from Anselm; 426.
 — elections of; 429.
 — and priors of, disputes between; 439.
 — maintenance of the table of the; 444.
 — continental refuge for the; 448.
 — agreement respecting services to be rendered at the installation banquet of; 458.
 — offices of seneschal and butler at the enthronisation of; ib.
 — short lives of; 461.
 Cantrell, George, and Rebecca his wife, petition of; 49.
 Canute. See Cnut.
 Carwick, Lincoln; 128.
 Canynghes, Simon, will of; 326.
 Capacin, Mr., letter of; 227.
 Capcots, R. (deputy of the Mercht. Adventurers), letter from; 275.
 Cape Breton, island of:
 description of the, 1767; 244.
 state of the, 1766; 219.
 coal-mines of the; 223.
 Cape Clear; 237.
 Cape Fear River; 236.
 Cape François; 245.
 fleet bound from Havannah to, 1782; 238.
 Cape of Good Hope; 243 bis, 341, 360.
 paper relating to the Spaniards going to India by the; 244.
 letter dated at the; 254.
 Capel, Capell:
 Lord, report of, 1642; 28.
 — sequestered estate of, 1643; 102.
 — [court martial on?]; 207.
 — judges of (temp. Commonwealth); 155.
 — 1660; 155, 207.
 — sister of, 1660; 150.
 — his friends, 1660; 199.
 — made Earl of Essex, 1661; 170.
 Lady; 169.
 A., Sir., letters from; 283, 293.
 Arthur, letter from; 142.
 William; 327.
 Capeleyn, Robert, and Edmund his brother; 507.
 Capellanus, Simon; 459.
 Capital punishment carried out by drowning; 607.
 Capman, Richard, affidavit of; 38.
 Capon, John; 481.
 Cappahinam, Westmeath; 605.
 Capper, Cappere, Agnes; 576, 577.
 Capponi, Cardinal, letter from; 467.
 Cappelquin, defeat of Irish rebels near, 1642; 346.
 Caps; 483. payments for; 72 bis.
 Captain's commission, a; 331.
 Captains; 148, 366, 520.
 1587; 137.
 1589; 138.
 ill treatment of soldiers by the, 1589; ib.
 letter from, to the Council, 1589; 263.
 (of the army), 1596; 287. list of, in several counties, 1597; 294.
 1643; 83.
 sea, petition of, 1643; 114.
 1660; 200.
See Commissions.
 Captives:
 taken by the Turks, 1609-10; 573.
 ransom of; 574.
 money for the redemption of; 72.
 redeeming of, out of Algier [Algiers], 1646-7; 589.
 Capuchin:
 friars, 1642; 50.
 — order for the banishment of the, 1642; 46.
 — at Denmark House, 1642-3; 76.
 — house in Lincoln's Inn Fields fitted up for, 1687-8; 378.
 — the chapel by Somerset House, where formerly they had their exercises; 314.
 preacher and superior; 39.
 Car. See Carr.
 Caracas, in S. America; 236.
 letters dated at; ib.
 Caracena, Marquis de; 204.
 Carack. See Carrack.
 Cararolet (?), M. de, almoner to the Spanish ambassador in London, letter from; 467.
 Carbery, Earl of:
 Lord President of Wales, secretary to the, 1661; 202.
 — letter from, 1661; 338.
 — 1663; 422.
 — 1666; ib.
See Carborough.
 Carbiners; 423.
 Carbines; 105.
 Carbonel, W.; 301.
 Carborough, Earl of, married to Lady Alice Egerton, 1652; 145.
 Carbrooke, towne of; 486.
 Carcary, lands of, in the barony of Dun; 633.
 Car Colston, Notts; 129.
 Carey, Sir Jo., letter from; 282.
 Cardegoge, co. Anglesey, township of; 422.
 Cardenagh, J., letter from; 270.
 Cardiff; 63, 467. execution at, 1679; 464.
 port of; 582.
 governor of, 1660; 361. See Kerdyf.
 Cardigan, county of:
 H.M. mint, saye-master of, 1642; 16.
 deserted mines in the; ib.
 farmer of H.M. mines royal in, 1642; 24.
 Cardigan, Earl of:
 Lord Brudenell to be, 1660-1; 151.
 letters from the, 1720-3; 188, 189.
 1722; 189.
 Cardinal, M., letter from; 278.
 Cardinal's hat, the (an inn?); 525.
 Cardinals; 438.
 English; 469.
 signatures of, A.D. 1131; 480, 443.
 John Storm suborned by the, to murder Sir Edw. Norreys, 1597; 288.
 of the Congregation of the Holy Office, report to the, 1608; 469.
 — letter to the, 1612; 476.
 — letters to the, 1627; 470.
 proceedings before the, 1685; 471.
 Cardinas, Don Alonso de, ambassador from Spain, request and desire of, 1642-3; 67.
 Cardinham, Cornwall; 121.
 Cardoing, . . . ; 314.
 Cardoneel, Adam de, of London, a French merchant, petition of; 84.
 Cards; 175.
 hombre, the new game at; 202.
 fines for playing at; 547 bis.
See Play; Playing cards.
 Cardugen, brigadier, affair of; 187, 188.
 Care [Presbyterian minister], 1647; 173.
 Careby, Lincoln; 127.
 Caresana, Giov. Bernardo di; 273.
 — letters from; 271, 275.
 Carette, John de; 498.
 Carew:
 . . . , condemned to be hanged, 1660; 157, 174, 181.
See below, Carew, John; and see Cary,
 F., Sir, letters from; 281, 289, 290.
 George, Sir, master of the ordnance in Ireland, account of, 1592; 266.
 — master of the ordnance in the two voyages southwards, commission for taking accounts of; 294.
 — letter from Q. Eliz. to; 266.
 — letters from; 268, 269, 271, 272, 275, 277, 281, 282, 283, 285, 289, 291, 292, 293.
 Jo., signature of; 571.
 John, execution of, 1660; 174. See also above.
 John, Sir; 371.
 Joyce, Lady, letter from; 293.
 Matthew; 362.
 — judgment of; 265.
 Richard, letter from; 285.
 Thomas, patent to, for keeping of Hurst Castle; 281.
 William, petition of; 100.
 — case of, 287.
 Carey:
 Mr., letter to; 285.
 Charles; 49.
 E., Sir, letters from; 283.
 George, Sir, ambassador at Stirling; 310.
 — letters from; 268, 271, 272, 276, 277, 281, 287, 292, 293.
 J., Sir, letter from; 290.
 John, letters from; 283, 290.
 M., Mrs., letter from; 283.
 R., Sir, letters from; 283, 286, 289, 290.
 — letter to; 288.
See Cary.

Carfrae, lands of; 613.
 Cargyll, perpetual vicar of; 622.
 Carhampton, Somerset; 131.
 Hundred, Somerset; ib.
 Carib sedition, the; 246.
 Caribbee Islands, Southern, sales of lands in the, 1765-6; 225.
 Caribbs, proposed stipulations with the French respecting the, 1783; 245.
 Carider:
 Sebastian; 653.
 William, Sir; ib.
 Carrier, Dr. See Carrier.
 Carignan, L., a bankrupt; 233.
 Carisbrook, castle of; 47.
 — resolution for putting 20 men into the, 1642; 60.
 Cark, William, son and apparent heir of John Mundwell of; 615.
 Carlaverock:
 Sir Herbert Maxwell of Maxwell and; 650.
 dominum de, Joannem de Maxwell, cartæ per; 613.
 — Robertum de Maxwell, cartæ per; ib.
 See Kaerlaverok.
 Cariby (Carelbie), Lincoln; 127.
 Carleton; 396.
 Lord, signature of, 1626; 581.
 D., signature of, 1626; 584.
 Dudley, Sir, clerk of H.M. Privy Council, pass for; 113.
 Brigadier, letters to; 224.
 Governor (or Lieut.-Governor); 218, 222.
 — letters from; 219, 225, 231.
 — letters to; 223.
 Guy, captain-general and governor-in-chief of the province of Quebec; 233.
 — letter to; ib.
 — Sir; 235, 239, 250, 251.
 — suit against; 233.
 — American rank of; 236.
 — appointed to command the 84th regiment of foot; 238.
 — General, state of the army under, 1782-3; 238 bis.
 — letters from; 238, 240, 252.
 — letters to; 233, 239, 240.
 Thomas, letter from; 239.
 Carletti, Comte François de, mémoire du; 258.
 Carlingford, Lord of, 1686; 186.
 Carlisle; 93, 193, 198, 317, 318, 642.
 assizes, trial at, 1658; 183.
 gaol delivery at; 641.
 garrisons at; 70.
 St. Cuthbert; 121.
 St. Mary; ib.
 mayor of, letter from the; 7.
 — letter to the, from Prince Charles, Regent, 1745; 331.
 letters of Mary Queen of Scots dated at; 615.
 letters dated at; 312, 641.
 Bishop of, Mey, letter from, 1596; 280.
 — — letter from, 1597; 290.
 Carlisle, Earl of:
 signature of the, 1626; 581.
 1642; 59.
 chief keeper of Newlodge Walk, warrant of the, 1642; 30.
 petitions of the, 1642; 48, 62.
 killing deer of the, 1642-3; 66.
 James, order for the protection of, 1643; 86.
 and his Lady, both dead, 1660; 200.
 Lord Howard to be, 1660; ib.
 the new, Howard, 1660; 196.
 letter from the, 1670; 641.
 1674; 642.
 letters from the, beg. 18th cent.; 188.
 1776, 1779; 209, bis.
 letters and papers from the, 1778; 240.
 Countess of, death of the old, 1660; 157, 184, 196.
 — lying in state at Salisbury House, 1660; 200.
 Carlisle:
 Chr., letter from; 269.
 Katharine, and her executor; 119.
 R., letter from; 263.
 See Carlyle; Carlylle.
 Carlton, Lancashire; 126.
 Carlton, Castle, Lincoln; 128.
 Great, Lincoln; ib.
 Little, Lincoln; ib.
 North, Lincoln; ib.
 South, Lincoln; ib.
 Carlton in Lindrick, Notts; 129.
 Carlton, York; 134.
 Carlyle,, letters from, 1590; 264.
 Carlyle, John; 524.
 Carmarden:
 Mr., letter from; 286.
 Alderman, letters from; 266, 267, 270, 272.
 R., letters from; 264, 265, 267, 271, 272, 273, 275, 277, 278, 280, 281, 284, 286, 287, 288, 289, 291, 292, 293.
 — letter to; 272.
 Richard, letter from; 267.
 W., letters from; 270.

Carmelites, discaled; 466.
 Carmerland, the, vessel named; 651.
 Carmunnock, vicar of; 614.
 Carnargh, John, rector of Southpole; 602.
 Carnarvon, Caernarvon:
 town of; 421.
 King's exchequer at, 1596; 416.
 letters dated at; 349, 421.
 county of; 422.
 — sheriff of the, 20-21 Edw. III.; 415.
 — lands in the; 416.
 — King's lands in, commissioners to survey timber on the, 1608; 416 bis.
 — His Majesty's wood in the, survey of; 416.
 — justices of the great session in the; 422.
 Carnarvon, Earl of:
 regiment of the, 1642; 191.
 the King's forces under the command of the, 1643; 90.
 woods of, 1643; 90.
 sequestration of the estate of the, 1643; 116.
 Countess of, 1642-3, goods belonging to the; 73.
 Carne:
 Colonel, payment to; 61.
 Thomas, Lieutenant-Colonel to Sir John Merrick, petition of; 30.
 Carnegie, John; 638.
 Carnethor. See Caernether.
 Carnock, Robert Drummond of; 640.
 See Kercoc.
 Carnwath:
 Lord, letter from, 1642-3; 66.
 Earl of, act for apprehension of the, 1643; 92.
 Lord, nephew of, 1734; 654.
 Carolina; 256. boundaries of; 217.
 troops in; 219.
 Assembly, address of the House of Lords to H.M. to repeal two Acts of the, 1705; 226.
 — repeal of two laws of the, 1706; 227.
 two unwarrantable Acts passed in, 1706; 228.
 Act of, laying a duty on British commodities, 1718; 229.
 grants made by the lords proprietors of, 1730; ib.
 reduction of, 1781; 237.
 Gouverneur de la Caroline Méridionale; Discours de Mr. Jean Rutlege, à l'Assemblée générale de cet état; 256.
 North; 221.
 — provinces of; 250.
 — Act of, 1715; 230.
 — mem. relative to the trade with, 1721; 215.
 — state of, 1732-3; ib.
 — case of the blank patents in, 1737; 230.
 — estimate of moneys emitted and raised in, from 1748 to 1766; 225.
 — Acts passed in, 1750; 230.
 — Court of Exchequer in; ib.
 — state of manufactures in, 1767; 224.
 — saw-mills in the province of; ib.
 — fees of office in, 1767; 225.
 — mode of granting lands in, 1767; ib.
 — expenses of the government of; ib.
 — Lord Granville's district in; 218.
 — Lord Granville's estate in, 1774; 253.
 South; 237.
 — mem. relating to the trade with, 1721; 215.
 — revenue of; 217.
 — mode of granting lands in, 1767; 225.
 — fees taken in; ib.
 — expenses in; ib.
 — state of the province of, 1774-81; 234.
 — civil regulations in, 1780; 236.
 — seized estates of the rebels in, 1780; 237.
 — suspension of the King's authority in the province of, 1781; 237.
 — civil officers of the province of, 1782; 237.
 — townships in; 249.
 — lands in; 251.
 — estates in; 251 bis.
 — agent for, letter from the; 217.
 — Assembly of; 251.
 — Attorney General of, letter from the, 1783; 243.
 — Chief Justice of, C. Skinner; 221.
 — Council of; 251.
 — county sheriffs in, appointment of, in lieu of a provost marshal, 1767; 250.
 — court of exchequer in, power of the Crown to erect a, 1738; 230.
 — Governor of, 1749; 215.
 — — Thomas Boone, warrants granted by, 1763; 217.
 — Lieut.-Governor of, Hon. William Bull, 1765; 227.
 — Governor of, Lord C. G. Montague, letters from, 1766; 221.
 — — Lord C. G. Montague, letters to, 1767; 223.
 — receiver-general of, Thomas Irving, letters from, 1781; 237.
 Caroline, Queen; 364.
 death of, 1737; 400.
 Carolus Jacobus, Frater, letters from; 278.

Caron:

John of, rector of the church of Rathon; 621.
(or Carron) Noel de, M., agent for the United Provinces; 266.
— letters from; 276, 278, 280, 281, 283, 285, 286, 291 bis.
— letters to; 272, 273, 276.
Peter Grant of; 654.

Carousing; 354.

Carpentarius, Petrus, abbas B. Mariæ de Laude; 473.

Carpenter, payment to a; 419.

Carpenter:

Lord, Governor of Minorca, 1731; 248.
...; 66.
Edward; 493.
F., letters by; 464.
John; 448, 511, 542.
John Russelle, alias; 563.
Nicholas; 507.
Richard le; 562.
Richard le, Burgess of Bristol, and Elena his wife; 327.
Roger; 326.
Turric the; 560.
W. le; 562.

Carpenters; 521, 522, 538.

wages of; 535.

ships; 379.

Carr, Carre, Car:

...; 156.
Dr., vicar of Aycliffe; 20.
Gamaliel, clerk, petition of; 64.
George, letters to; 262, 264.
Lady; 54.
— trustees for; 84.
Lewis, affidavit of; 31.
Lieut.-Col.; 347.
Mary, Dame, wife of Sir Robert, petitions of; 6, 49, 62.
Patrick, a Scotch gentleman, petition of; 68.
Richard; 5.
Robert, Sir; 57.
— petition of tenants of; 54.
— children of; ib.
— wife and children of; 57.
— lands belonging to; 84.
— letter from Sir Walter Raleigh to; 213.
T., letter from; 465.
Thomas; 633.
William, letter of; 466.
William, Sir; 344.

Carrack:

lading of the, 1592; 266.
the Great, captured by Sir Walter Raleigh; 267.
goods of the, 1598; vi, 136.
a foreign; 523.

Carreglwyd, Carreg Loyd, Anglesey; xi, 405, 414, 422.

collection; 418.
leases, the; 406.
rivulet running by; 423.

Carriages; 120.

yeomen purveyors of, for H.M. buttery and spicery; 408.

Carrick, Carrik, Carryk:

country of; 613.
baillie court of; 615.
baillie of, office of; 614.
baillies of; 615.
Kirkbride in; 613.
earldom of; 613 bis, 614.
— heritable coroner of the; xix, 614.
Comes de, unus de Custodibus regni Scotiæ, Robert Bruce, precept by, 1303; 612.
Lord of, Fergus; Duncan, grandson of; 613.
Lords of; xix.
Earl of, Niel, deed by; ib.
— John Stewart; ib.
— 1385; 614.
— John, the King's eldest son, 1401; 608.
— John, 1642; 61.
Countess of, Elizabeth, petition of, 1642; ib.
— her late husband Sir Thomas Southwell; ib.
Duncan of; 613.
Gilbert of; ib.
— knight, Arthur his son-in-law; ib.
Malcolm son of John son of Niel of; 611.
— son of Rolland of, charter by; 613.
Niel of; 622.
Roland of; 613.

Carrickfergus (Knockfergus); 41, 52, 55, 198, 345.

order for transporting 15,000*l.* to, for the Scottish army there, 1642; 43.
council of war held at, 1643; 93.
Scotch army at, 1643; 118.
castle of; 30, 89.
— rendered to the Scots, 1642; 41.
— constable of; ib.

Carrier, Carier:

Benjamin, letters from; 463.
Dr., Dean of Canterbury, letters from; 464, 466, 468.
— letters to; 464, 466, 468.

Carriers; 62, 176, 177, 207, 389, 390, 391, 393, 394, 395.

Carrig, town of; 346.

Carrock, Castle, Cumberland; 122.

Carron, Noel de. See Caron.

Carroule, Sir C., letter from; 268.

Carrowe, James, common clerk of Romney; 554.

Carso, Thomas Kennedy of; 614.

Carstairs, James, sub-prior of Lundores; 622.

Carsteris, Alexander of, rector of Keth; 629.

Carswelle, Richard; 426.

Carswyle, David; 370.

Richard; 426. See Karswell.

Cartar, Mr.; 567.

Cartare, Henry; 529.

Carter:

...; 104.

Captain; 18.

Felix, constable of Uxbridge; 46.

John, affidavit of; 82.

John, high constable; 297.

Richard, certificate of; 102.

William; 407.

Cartere, Edith; 577.

Richard le; 327.

Carteret:

Lord, letters from; 188.

— letter from, 1714; 190.

Lady, to be created Countess of Bath, 1714; 188.

— created Viscountess Carteret and Countess Granville, 1714; 190.

G., Sir; 197.

H. F., Right Hon., Postmaster-General, letter from; 233.

Philip de, Seigneur of St. Omer, request of, for ordnance; 267.

Philip, Sir, Lieutenant-Governor and Bailiff of the Isle of Jersey; 14, 43.

— petition of; 11.

— letter to; 14.

Carthagena (S. America); 254.

account of an expedition against; 259.

taking of, 1706; 333, 349.

consul of; 250.

Carthayes, St. Michael, Cornwall; 121.

Carthusians, English, prior of the, letter to, 1577; 464.

[Cartmell.] See Kertmell.

Carts; 87, 106, 331.

Cart-takers, "Briefe and true discours of the King's Majesties," by Robert Fletcher; xi, 406, 407.

Cartworth, York; 134.

Cartwright:

...; 482.

Dr., to be Bishop of Oxford; 187.

Mr., letter to; 311.

G.; 259.

— letter from; 250.

John, M.A., of Trinity College, Cambridge; 319.

To., and others, bill against; 311.

Thomas; 264.

— letter from; 311.

Carty, Ch., letters from; 272.

Caruchan, dominus de, Finlaus Asenan, charter by; 614.

Carvell, a; 580.

Carvell, Jane, letter from; 273.

Carvyl, Carvyl:

P., letter from; 261.

Robert, letters from; ib., 262, 263, 271.

Carwardine, Daniel; 20.

Cary, Carye:

Lord, Robert, Baron of Leppington [created Earl of Monmouth in 1626]; 64.

Lady; 85.

Mr., 81 quater, 385.

Mr., private band of, 1591; 265.

— his answer to allegations touching trained bands in Devon; 266.

... voted to die; 168. See Carew, John.

Daniel; 565.

Edward; 563, 564.

— the elder, will of; 556.

Richard, memorial by; 266.

Richard; 564.

— bailiff of Wycombe; 563.

— mayor of High Wycombe; 557, 559, 564.

Robert, sent into Scotland, instructions for; 261.

Thomas, Sir; 78, 85.

— cause between, and the Bishop of Ardagh; 40.

— petition of, against the Bishop of Ardagh; 23.

— petitions of; 6, 12, 36, 78, 79, 85.

Walter; 562, 564.

See Carey.

Caryll, J., letters from; 464.

Casaubon, Isaac; 355.

— his wife and son; ib.

— letters from; 466, 468.

Cascreoch, Hugh Kennedy of; 615.

Cascyllis; 614.

Casemates; 254.

Caserta, letters dated at; ib.

Caseways; 587.

Casewell, Josias, petition of; 57.

Casey, letters delivered by; 277.

- Cashe, Thomas; 40.
 Cashe, Casell, Casshel, in Munster:
 city of; 346.
 Archbishop of, Archibald, petitions of, 1642; 10, 52.
 Casio Hundred, Hereford; 125.
 Casiere:
 Hugh le, Bailiff of Wycombe; 560.
 John le; ib.
 Payen le; ib.
 Casimir, Duke, letter to the, 1588; 261.
 Caskyngray, land of; 624.
 Gilbert of, charter by; ib.
 Laurence and Ellota de; ib.
 See Castyngray, Gasginey.
 Cassano, Bishop of, Owen Lewis, protestation by, 1591; 468.
 Casse, W., letters and papers by; 463.
 Cassel, letter dated at; 313.
 Casselake, John, Sir, priest; 497.
 Cassells, Viscount, Robert Lord Bulkeley; 422.
 Cassemar, Matthias, gentleman; 586.
 Cassemarsland; 509.
 Cassilis, lands of; 613.
 Earl of, Gilbert, baillie over all the lands of the Bishop of Galloway, 1516; 615.
 — heritable baillie of the Abbey of Glenluce, 1561; 615.
 — letters from Mary Queen of Scots to the, 1562-71; xix, 615, 616.
 — John, letter from, 1596; 283.
 — letter from, 1597; 288.
 — 1619; 615.
 — letter to the, 1659; 617.
 — letter to the, 1660; ib.
 Cassington, Oxford; 130.
 Cassinhurst, Robert, chaplain; 87.
 Casteele, Michael; 80.
 Castel, Jean, letter from; 288.
 Castell, John, Master; 478.
 Castello, H. de, Archdeacon of Canterbury, letter from; 457.
 Castiglione, G. B., letter from; 267.
 Castile:
 crown of; 364.
 Prince of, business with the, about the Intercourse of 1506; 308.
 Castillion, Baptiste, letter from; 279.
 Castlake, Castelake, John; 545, 546, 547.
 Castle Acre, St. Mary of; 322.
 Castlebytham; 392.
 Castleconell, lord of, 1642; 346.
 Castle Durrow, Lord, the first; 367.
 Castle Eden, Durham; 125.
 Castlefield, R., letter from; 286.
 Castlehaven, Castle Haven: fight with the Spanish ships at, 1601; 137.
 fortified by the Spaniards, 1601; ib.
 Lord, Mr. Smith's account of; 467.
 Earl of, James, Lord Awdley and, petition of, 1642; 42.
 — 1652; 192.
 — letter from the, 1673; 333, 357.
 Castle Hedingham; 64.
 Castlemaine, Castlemayne:
 Lord, trial "against," 1691; 382.
 Earl of, 1695; 385.
 Castle Martyr, letters dated at; 318.
 Castlepark, the breed of colts of; 292.
 Castle Rising, Lord Northampton's hospital at; xi, 409.
 Castleton, Dorset; 124.
 Castleton, Lancashire; 127.
 Castleton Ferry; 193.
 Castleton, certificate signed by; 331.
 Castle-town, letter dated at; 339.
 Castleward; 485.
 Castlon, John, petitions of; 62.
 Caston, John, postmaster in Barbican; 60.
 Castries, Marq. de, letter to the; 256.
 Castro:
 Countess of, Lady Lucretia Lingani Gattinari; 469.
 Francis de, Bishop, letter to; 465.
 Castwysle, John; 514.
 Castyngray, Castingray, in the shire of Fife:
 lands of; 624, 625.
 Nicholas Hay of; 624.
 See Caskyngray.
 Casveld, Tideric; 443.
 Catalonia; 14, 364.
 Cataracony, fort of, chaplain to the; 215.
 Catchmaye, Sir Richard; 345.
 Catechismal exercises on Sunday afternoons, 1622; 410.
 Catechisms; 593.
 Catelnye, John; 527.
 Caterham, Surrey; 132.
 Catesby:
 . . . , prisoner at Oxford; 61.
 Anne, Lady; 311.
 John, Master; 525.
 [John], serjeant; 526.
 Michael; 403.
 William, protestation of, 1588; 406.
 Catesby—cont.
 William Sir; 311.
 Cathcart, Lord, Allan, 1573; 309. See Cathkert.
 Cathedral: organ in a; 324.
 ornaments in a; ib.
 windows of a, pictures in; 462.
 churches; 414.
 — title to the Act for abolishing all dignitaries in, 1642-3; 69.
 — ordinance of Parliament sequestering the revenues of; 119.
 Catherins, William, clerk to Edw. Pitt, Esq., one of the tellers of H.M. Receipt of Exchequer, petition of; 87.
 Catherlogh, county of, lands in the; 413.
 Cathkert:
 Alan of; 614.
 John, of that ilk; ib.
 Catholic:
 a Roman; 45.
 affairs, documents respecting, between 1600 and 1630; 463.
 archdeacons, English, instructions for the; 466.
 army in England, 1643; 93.
 bishop, papers relative to the appointment of a, in England, 17th cent.; 472.
 bishops; 466.
 bishops and clergy, procurator for, at Rome; 471.
 bishops, pastoral letter from, to the lay Catholics of England, 1688; ib.
 Chapter, members of the; 472. See Chapter.
 Church in England; 472, 650.
 — history of the, 1500-1688, by Dodd; 467, 476.
 — petition to James I. against the agents of the; 408 — documents relative to the, 471.
 — condition of the, 1632; 472.
 clergy; 469.
 — agent of the, at Rome, 1612; xii, 471, 474.
 — letter from the, 1624; 470.
 — encyclical letter touching the, 1635; 465.
 — letter to, concerning prayers for the King, 1638; 467.
 — agent for the, at Rome, 1659; 472.
 — English, dialogue on the condition and position the, 1667; 466.
 — descriptive list of the, 1692; ib.
 — memoirs of, by Dodd; 476.
 — English, in Belgium; 473.
 — in Canada; 232.
 — secular and regular, lists of the; 464.
 — secular; 471.
 — English secular, petition of the, to the Pope; 472, bis — fund, 1630; 466.
 Dean and Chapter, letter to the, 1644; ib.
 — of the English clergy, declaration of allegiance to His Majesty made by the, 1662; ib.
 — of the English secular clergy, memorial of the, 1685; 318.
 doctors and priests, names of; 463.
 English, letter from one to another; 652.
 episcopate, establishment of, in England, letters and papers concerning the; 476.
 exiles, 1596; 474. faction; 159.
 faith and heresy, treatise of the nature of the; 367.
 faith, in England, proclamation against all persons making converts to the, 1667; 404.
 — articles proposed by the King of France, as to the exercise of the, on the French match; 465.
 — documents connected with the history of the; 471.
 gentlemen, declarations of loyalty and allegiance to the Queen by, 1588; xi, 406.
 — imprisoned in Ely Palace, orders of Council touching the, 1590; ib.
 King, the; 355. See Spain. league of France, causes moving the, to join with the King of Spain, 1590; 264.
 lords, in danger of losing their sitting in the Upper House, 1661; 159.
 Majesty, style of; 312.
 mission in England, 1700, 1718, 1737, &c.; 471. nobility of England, heads offered by the, to Gregorio Panzani, 1635; 470.
 officers, 1688; 325. officers and gentlemen, who lost their lives in defence of Charles I.; 469.
 officers (in Ireland); 319.
 priests, rules and regulations of a proposed association of Roman, 1596; 287.
 — petition for the execution of the six condemned, 1642; 2. See Priests.
 provost, papers relative to the appointment of a, in England; 472.
 religion, in England; 12, 819.
 — children bred up in the; 411. See Seminaries.
 — state of the, 1635; 476.
 — report upon the state of the, 1637; 471.
 — in Canada; 233.
 subjects in Ireland; 113.
 youths and maidens sent over to Dunkirk "by every packet," 1642; 28.

Catholicæ :

Status religionis, in Anglia, 1632 ; 465.
 relatio status religionis, in Anglia ; 471.

Catholics :

in England ; xii, 319, 654.
 lay ; 470. lives of eminent, by the Rev. H. Tootle, alias Dodd, 1500–1688 ; 467.
 abstract of penal laws against the, from 1558 ; 472.
 examinations of, 1596 ; 285.
 archpresbyter for the, appointment of an, 1598 ; 473.
 “Ymportant considerations which ought to move all true and sownd Catholikes,” 1601 ; ib.
 order of James I. to the Lord Keeper in favour of the ; 467.
 warrant by James I., for pardon and dispensation to, to use their religion ; 466.
 persecution of, 1611–12 ; 470.
 letters of the Privy Council for disarming, 1612 ; 476.
 English, agent at Rome for the, letters and papers addressed to the, 1613 and 1615 ; 475.
 — agent at Rome for the, 1622 ; 473.
 the security agreed on for the quiet of, 1623 ; 467.
 letter about concessions to, 1624 ; 312.
 lay, letter to, 1627 ; 465.
 English, letter from, to the King of France ; 476. kindness shown by Queen Henriette Marie towards, 1635 ; 465.
 address to the, 1636 ; 463.
 papers connected with the, 1637–72 ; 471.
 Lord President of the Supreme Council of the Confederated, 1645 ; 355. practices of the Spanish faction here amongst our, 1661 ; 159.
 list of, to whom Charles II. committed himself upon his retreat to Boscobel ; 469.
 Casus ; an liceat Catholicis in Anglia uti jure patronatus, 1671 ; 465. question whether it is lawful for them to use the right of patronage, 1671 ; 468.
 petition and profession of allegiance of, presented to Charles II. ; 466.
 profession of obedience of ; ib.
 papers respecting the ecclesiastical affairs of the ; ib.
 letter against severity to, 1675 ; 317.
 1688 ; 197, 358.
 false report that many thousands of, were up in arms about Northampton, 1688 ; 399.
 alleviation of the, 1688 ; 471.
 persecution of the, 1717 ; 471.
 condition of the, 1718 ; ib.
 disabilities of, in the countries ceded to H.M. in America, 1765 ; 230.
 in Canada, not subject to penalties, 1765 ; 231.
 — insolence of the, 1766 ; ib.
 report against the exclusion of, from the courts of justice in Canada, 1765 ; ib.
 (in Ireland) ; 319.
 Catilla, P. del, letter from ; 286.
 Cutlye, Robert, Chief Justice of England ; 311.
 Caton, capture of the ; 246.
 Cator, Mr., house of, in Coleman Street ; 393.
 Cats, wild ; 572.
 — rewards given for killing ; 572.
 — payments for heads of ; 574.
 Catslackknow, Andro Tod in ; 643.
 Catteral, Lancashire ; 126.
 Cattistock, Dorset ; 124. rectory or parsonage of ; 408.
 incumbent of ; ib.
 Cattle ; 111, 112, 113, 332, 385, 387, 395, 525, 526.
 plague ; 401.
 stealing ; 628, 644.
 Catworth Magna, Huntingdon ; 126.
 Caudewell, St. John the Baptist and St. John the Evangelist of ; 322.
 Caudry, Mr. ; 589.
 Caundle :
 Bishop, Dorset ; 124.
 Marsh ; ib.
 Purse ; ib.
 Caunton, Notts ; 130.
 Caunvile, William ; 514.
 — Alice, mother of ; ib.
 Causeways, maintenance of ; 632.
 Causse, . . . ; 323.
 Caustone, William ; 536, 537, 538.
 Cautiones (guarantees by bishops, &c.) ; 432, 453.
 Cavalier minister, a ; 146.
 Cavaliers ; 42, 57, 71, 78, 82, 104, 117, 145, 149, 153, 161, 174, 176, 179, 191, 193, 194, 196, 203, 208, 587, 588. plundering, 1642–3 ; 58, 68, 70, 71, 92. account of an attack on the, 1642–3 ; 68.
 Charles II.'s neglect of the ; vii, 135.
 exiled, quarrelling and fighting among themselves ; 135.
 search for ; 166.
 proclamation for banishing the, 20 miles from London, 1657 ; 177.
 affrights offered by the, to the well affected party, 1660 ; 361.

Cavalry ; 192.

skirmish, mem. of a, 1591 ; 265.
 corps of ; 307.

Cavan, county of ; 39.

Cavandoloz (?), F. R., letter from ; 466.

Cave :

and Dawse, Messrs., letter from ; 266.
 Bryan, letter from ; 340.
 Cecil ; 43.
 T., letter from ; 293.

Cavellus, Hugo, letter from ; 473.

Cavendish :

Lord, son of Lord Devonshire, 1658 ; 146.
 — contract between Lord Ormond's second daughter and, 1661 ; 159.
 — letter concerning, 1675 ; 317.
 — Frederick, 1782 ; 210.
 John, Lord, 1782 ; 210, 211, 251.
 — letter from, 1780 ; 257.
 H., letter from ; 289.

Cavendish Square, Hollis Street, letter dated ; 233.

Cavendishes, the ; 211.

Cavers :

Glairstaines in, [Laird of] ; 643.
 Laird of ; ib.
 Sir William Douglas of, safeconduct to ; 645.

Caversfield, Bucks ; 120.

Caversham, Kaversham ; 555.

pais de ; 440. See Kaversham.

Cawden and Cadworth Hundred, Wilts ; 133.

Cawdrey, Mr. Daniel, member of the Assembly of Divines ; 109.

Cawfield, Lord, education of two sons of the late, 1642 ; 35.

Cawn :

Acbar ; 254.

Ally Morul ; ib.

Cawns, several of the principal, put to death ; 254.

Cawode, Peter ; 571.

Cawood Castle (the Bishop's house) ; 191.

Cawthorne, J., letter from ; 232.

Cawthorpe, Lincoln ; 128.

Caxton, Caxtone :

Hugh, of Sandwich, mercer ; 530.
 Thomas ; 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 537, 545, 546, 547.

— common clerk of Lydd ; xvii, 516, 522, 545.

— of Tenterden ; 491, 492.

William, the first printer ; xvii, 522, 530.

— brother of ; 491.

See Caustone ; Cakston.

Cayley, J., Keeper of Records ; 339.

Caysere, William le ; 561.

Ceate, Nicholas ; 578.

Cecil, Cecyll :

MSS. ; v, 261 seq.
 Lady, letter to, 1596 ; 279.

Mr. ; 189.

C., Sir, letter from ; 283.

Charles, the Hon. ; 399 bis.

Ed., letter from ; 285.

J., letter from ; 267.

Robert, Sir ; vii, 294.

— instructions for, 1592 ; 266.

— calculations of, upon copper mines ; 273.

— mems. by ; 273, 279, 289.

— Latin verses by Lady Russell to, 1596 ; 287.

— a writing of ; ib.

— his chaplain, Dr. Knight ; 291.

— preparations for his journey into France, 1597 ; 294.

— letters from ; 264, 266, 268, 269, 271, 273, 274, 275, 277, 279, 280, 282, 284, 287, 288, 291.

— letters to ; 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294.

— signatures of ; 139, 311, 362, 363, 486.

— warrant by, 1600 ; 362.

Robert, letter from (1703) ; 320.

Thomas, Sir, letters from ; 270, 271, 272, 275, 276, 277, 278, 283.

William, Sir, “Mr. Secretary” ; 213, 262, 309, 310, 569.

— letters from ; viii, 308, 310.

— signature of ; 310.

William, letters from, 1593, seq. ; 267, 268, 276, 283, 289, 290.

— Sir, letter to, 1594 ; 272.

William, of Alterennes, letters from, 1596 ; 283, 285.

William, the Hon., 1705 ; 399 bis.

See Sitsilt.

Cedle, John, and Joan his wife ; 515.

Ceilings ; 90.

Cele, Henry ; 511.

Celeseye, Robert de, monk of Christ Church, Canterbury ; 451.

Cellarer (of Canterbury), regulations for the ; 426.

Cellarers' accounts, 13th and 14th cent. ; 335.

Cellars ; 458.

Cells, Mr. ; 251.

Celtic laws and customs ; 613.

Cely, Sely :

Benedict ; 509, 510.

Stephen, called Playdenne ; 502. See Cele, Sely.

- Coennolph, or Kenuulf, King, charter of, A.D. 812; 456. See Coenuulf.
- Ceremonies: opposition to; 194.
letter about, 1571; 310.
- Ceres, H.M.S.; 239.
- Cerne:
Up, Dorset; 124.
sub-division, Dorset; ib.
hundred, Dorset; ib.
Abbas, Dorset; ib.
- Certiorari; 94, 327, 568. See Writs.
- Cessation of arms:
between Charles I. and Parliament, proposed, 1642; 57.
Charles I.'s message concerning the, 1642-3; 73.
committee to consult with the Lord General concerning the; 73, 75.
1642-3; 74 b.s.
draft of the propositions for a, 1642-3; 74.
draft of the answer of Parliament to the King's message concerning the, 1642-3; 78.
reasons offered by the Lords and Commons to His Majesty why they cannot agree to the alterations made in the articles for the; ib.
debated in Charles I.'s Council; ib. instructions to the Committee at Oxford concerning the, 1642-3; ib.
proposed by the House of Lords, 1643; 99.
- Cestr., Statuta ecclesiarum cathedralis; 339.
- Cestrie, Villare Com.; ib.
R. Comes, 1213; 454.
- Cevennes, Upper, act of a Synod in the, 1758; 323.
- Ceylon, Island of; 254.
- Chabert, Mr., case of; 219, 224.
- Chackmore, Bucks; 120.
- Chactaws and Creeks, rupture between the, 1766; 227.
- Chaddleworth, Berks; 120.
- Chadgley. See Chaigley.
- Chadintone, W. de; 302.
- Chadlington:
Oxford; 130.
hundred, Oxford; ib.
- Chadwell, one; 68.
- Chadwick, Jordan; 484.
- Chagford, Devon; 123.
- Chaigley (Chadgley), Lanc.; 127.
- Chain, gold; 541.
- Chair hire; 189.
- Chair, P. de; 314.
- Chaises; 184.
- Chalbury, Dorset; 125.
- Chalcedon, Bishop of; 463.
— bulls and papers on the jurisdiction of the, 1611-36; ib.
— R. Orontes, letters from, 1612; 474 ter.
— letter to the, 1614; 472.
— Dr. William Bishop appointed, 1623; 466, 468.
— bull for his consecration; 467.
— letters to, 1623; ib.
— letters from and to, 1623-4; 470.
— copies of addresses of letters sent to, 1623-4, 1627; 471.
— narrative of the life and death of; 470.
— letter from the, 1624; 472.
— letter to the, 1624; ib.
— Dr. Ric. Smith, papers connected with; 463.
— letters and papers concerning the proceedings of, 1624; ib.
— treatise on the jurisdiction of, 1624; ib.
— 1626 seq.; ib.
— letters from and to, 1627-49; 465.
— 1627; 467.
— letters of, 1627; 470.
— letter to, 1628; 467.
— letters from and to, 1628-32; 466.
— letter to, 1629; 467.
— letter to, 1630; 470.
— papers concerning, 1631; 463.
— appointment by, 1631; 472.
— diploma of, 1645; 466.
— appointment by, 1646; 472.
— death of; ib.
— 1649; 466.
— letters patent of the, 1649; 467.
— vicars-general and archdeacons appointed by the; 463.
— history of the, letters and papers connected with the; 464.
— affairs of the; 464, 465.
— notes by the; 465.
— jurisdiction of the; ib.
— papers relating to the; 466.
— dissertation on the; ib.
— papers touching the episcopal authority of the; 470.
— question between the, and the regulars; ib.
- Chalcedonensis, Decani et Capituli, institutio, 1623; 471.
- Chaldon Herring, Dorset; 124.
- Chaletain, J. Samuel, letters by; 323.
- Chalfount, William, gent.; 565. See Chelfounte.
- Chalk:
Bower, Wilts; 134.
Broad, Wilts; ib.
Hundred, Wilts; ib.
- Challacombe Rawleigh, Devon; 123.
- Challenge:
a; 159, 177.
1742; 359.
letter of; 213.
to fight; 328.
- Challoner, Catholic bishop, letters to and from; 476. See Chaloner.
- Challow:
East, Berks; 120.
West; ib.
- Chalmers, Chalmer:
Alexander, of Cults; 609.
George, memoir of the Canary Islands by; 250.
G., letters from; 256.
John, alderman of Ayr; 614.
Thomas, of the Thain of Little Meythlik; 609.
William of; 620.
William, of Fyndone; 609.
See Chawmer.
- Chalon, John le, knight; 604.
- Chaloner:
F., Sir, letter from; 279.
Gilbert le; 559.
T., Sir, letters from; 279, 280.
William, clerk; 514.
See Chaloner.
- Chamber:
presence, the King's; 199.
— allowance of "all night" heretofore served up in the King's, 1685; 345.
Privy, the King's, 1642; 41.
— 1660; 144, 199, 205.
— gentlemen of the; 39, 72, 296.
— gentlemen ushers of the, 1626; 140.
— groom of Henry VIII.'s; 416.
— grooms of Charles II.'s; 414.
— messenger of the; 105.
— messengers of the, 1597; 289.
— pages of the, 1608; 416.
Treasury of the, estimate for payments by the, 1596; 284.
- Chamberlain, Lord:
— (temp. Hen. VI.); 490.
1590; 406.
account to the, 1596; 284.
letters to the, 1596; 279, 284.
letter from the, 1597; 291.
1639; 345.
letter to the, 1641-2; 5.
resolutions of the Commons respecting the, 1642; 17.
Earl of Pembroke, petition to the, 1642; 65.
1643; 102.
Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery, late, 1643; 105.
Earl of Essex, 1643; ib.
1660; 184, 195. to be Knight of the Garter, 1661; 151.
dispute as to the right to be, between the Earls of Oxford and Lindsey, 1661; 203.
1674; 317.
1684; 186.
1692; 324.
See Chamberlainship.
- Chamberlain, Vice, 1589, letter to the; 263.
- Chamberlain, Chamberlayne:
Birkenhead, Mr., letters to; 466, 469.
Francis, H.M. servant in ordinary; 78.
George, letter from; 288, 289, 293.
Thomas, Captain; 56.
- Chamberlainship, High, dispute for the, between the Earls of Oxford and Lindsey, 1660; 184.
- Chamberlan, W.; 337.
- Chamberlen, Peter, one of Charles I.'s physicians, petition of; 102.
- Chamberlin, Edward; 9.
- Chamberlin coat armour; 367.
- Chamberling, Henry; 340.
Henry Matthew; ib.
- Chambernum, Henry de, Sir, Knight; 604.
- Chambers:
Mr., attendant on the Commissioners for Ireland; 52.
David, letters by; 464.
Fr., statement of; 284.
Richard, suit against; 119.
- Chambery; 144.
- Chambre, Richard; 546.
- Chamham, Richard de; 481.
- Champagne:
frontiers of; 164.
Actes du Synode provincial de, 1625; 312.
- Champagne, M., letter from; 279.
- Champain, Lewis; 321.
- Champernowne, Champernoun, Champernun:
...; letter from; 274.
Mr., letter from; 277, 288.

Champernowne, Champernoup, Champernun—cont.

- Mr., reasons why he cannot be a colonel; 287.
- A., letter from; 289.
- John; 606.
- R.; 265.
- letter from; 278.
- Richard, claim of; 294.
- See Chambernum.

Champney:

- Anthony, Dr., Dean of the Catholic Chapter; 466.
- letters and papers by; 463, 464.
- history of the reign of Queen Elizabeth by; 464.
- letter of, to pray for King Charles I.; 465.
- letters by; 463, 467, 469, 470, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476.
- letters to; 474, 475.

Champneys, Champneys:

- Mr.; 574.
- Gowyn, one of the Chancery clerks, oppressions and abuses of; 64.
- John; 605.

Champtoll, William, of Greenwich, affidavit of; 13.Chance, William; 539.*Chancel:

- door, walling up a; 77.
- the rail in the; ib.
- screen in a; 358.
- erection of pews in a; 419 bis.
- wall, faculty to break down a, and erect a chapel; 420.
- See Chancels.

Chancellor, Lord:

- Thomas, temp. Hen. II.; 462.
- 9 Hen. V; 542.
- minstrels of the, temp. Hen. VI.; 491.
- surveyor of the, 1486-7; 547.
- 1584; 567.
- [temp. Eliz.]; 363.
- 1590; 406.
- letter to the, 1591; 265.
- letter from, 1594; 270.
- his opinion on authority in excommunicating of bishops and translating of prelates; 355.
- late, 1617; 409.
- Charles I.'s warrant to the, 1642; 413.
- 1660; 154, 155, 156 bis., 158, 196, 200, 201.
- marriage of his eldest son, 1660; 150.
- and his daughter Mrs. Hyde, 1660; 157.
- made Baron of Hendon, in Wilts, 1660; 157, 184.
- to be made a Duke, 1660; 158 bis., 200.
- 1660-1; 151.
- 40,000*l.* to be laid out by, upon St. James's House, 1660-1; 169.
- 1661; 151, 159, 185, 203.
- speech of the, 1661; 203.
- 1665; 315, 324.
- 1673; 316.
- 1688; 187.
- [Jeffreys?] petitions the Prince of Orange; 325.
- [temp. Geo. I.]; 136.
- 1715; 189.
- 1721; 190.
- letter to, 1748-9; 401.
- 1784; 212.
- 1799; ib.

Chancels out of repair; 437. See Chancel.Chancery; 30, 59, 94, 104, 300, 319, 383.

- Court of; 410.
- bills in; 8, 13, 36, 50, 66, 358, 391, 422.
- decrees in; 7, 51, 65, 412, 417, 595.
- decree in, appeal to reverse a; 343.
- extent sued out of, 1643; 114.
- injunction in, 1642; 23.
- order in; 89.
- proceedings in; 66, 595.
- suits in; 19, 26 bis., 29, 33, 63, 64, 69, 398, 895, 569.
- suit in (in America); 234.
- clerk in the, petition of a; 77.
- clerks; 64.
- curators of the, petitions of the, 1643; 82, 115.
- master in, Dr. Wm. Griffith; 413.
- masters in; 97, 482.
- His Majesty's order for civilians to be, 1633; 413.
- messenger to carry the writs out of the, to be sealed with the great seal; 82.
- to the curators of the; 82 bis.
- registrars of; 116.
- office of; ib.
- court of, report on the erection of a, in Antigua, by Act of Assembly, 1705; 228.

Chandernagore, remarks relative to, 1782; 243.Chandlers; 88.

- ordinance touching; 530, 531.
- See Chandry.

Chandos, Lord:

- letter from, 1595; 277.
- 1642; 346.

Change, the; 152. See Exchange.Channel:

- the; 63, 166, 2.

Channel—cont.

- the Dutch in the, 1652; 192.
- Islands. See Isles.

Channell, Dr.; 167.Chantilly, letters dated at; 314.*Chantrell, Mr.; 358. See Chauntrell.*Chantries, foundations of; 435.*Chantry, foundation deed of a; viii, 299.*Chapel:

- the King's; 204.
- Noll's seat in; ib.
- furniture; 444.
- a private; ib.

Chapel, William de; 604.Chapel, North, Sussex; 132.*Chapel Sucken, Cumberland; 121.*Chapelclench, John Cokburne of; 649.*Chaplain, Chaplain:

- Alexander the; 335, 481.
- and Anna, his wife; 602.
- Gilbert the; 601.
- John the; 330, 541.
- Martin the; 600.
- Osmund the; 337.
- Peter the; 598.
- Richard, of Writhell; 481.
- Richard; 600.
- Robert the; 503, 505.
- Roger the, Master; 481, 601.
- Walter; 481.
- Walter, notary; 503.
- William the; 301.
- See Capellanus, Capeleyn.

Chaplain:

- a, who celebrated an irregular marriage, committed to the Gate-house, 1596; 135.
- for the King's household; 206.
- King's; 381.

Chaplainries; 639.Chaplains; 447.

- in ordinary, list of the King's and Prince's, 1640; 413.

Chapman:

- ...; 7.
- Mr.; 573.
- Mr., vice-principal of Alban Hall, Oxford; 131.
- Geoffrey; 595.
- Henry, petition of; 95.
- John, Sir; 87.
- sheriff of Surrey; 113.
- John, Sir, Lord Mayor of London; 379.
- John; 562.
- Robert; 578.
- Kester and Wincott v.; 92.
- and others, against Wincott and Beale; 95.

Chapman, a; 388.Chapmen; 588.*Chapter, English (Catholic); 472.

- instrument for the erection of the, 1623; 468.
- instrument of confirmation of the, 1624; 472.
- erection of the, 1645; 466.
- arguments in favour of the; ib.
- letters by members of the; 466, 471.
- letters to the, 1660; 467.
- letter from the, 1667; 473.
- vindicated, The; 465.
- papers relating to the; 465, 466.
- canons and dean of the, petition of the, to the Pope; 472.
- dean of the; 467.
- deans of the; 469.

Characters, original MSS. of the celebrated; 362.Charcoal; 87.*Chard, vicar of; 62.*Chardenache, Richard; 606.*Chardstock, Dorset; 124.*Charenton, Actes du Synode provincial tenu à, 1625; 312.*Charing:

- church of, chantry of Buckley in the; 436.
- letter dated at; 446.
- See Cherryng.

Charing Cross; 157, 161, 174, 177, 181.

- executioners at, 1660; 174.

- the Crown below; 345.

- the watch and Round House at; 381.

Charitable:

- bequests, 1614; 409.
- collections; 323.
- uses, commissioners for, in the city of London, 1643; 105.
- governors or trustees for; 330.
- land for; 345.
- lands bequeathed in trust for; 595, 596.

Charities; 556.Charity, deeds of; 435.*Charlbury (Chorlebury), Oxford; 130.*Charle, Thomas; 529.*Charlecumbe, Lord of; 326.*Charlemont; 94.

- garrison of; 198.

- Lord, 1706; 349.

Charles, Prince :

1613; 345.
 1614; 408.
 reception of, at the court of Spain, 1623; 467.
 and the Infanta, articles touching the proposed marriage between; 355, 410.
 Pope Gregory XV.'s letter to; 410.
 Duke of Buckingham's relation of proceedings when he was in Spain; 405.
 his adventures in Spain; ib. See Wales, Prince of.
 Charles I.; vi, 3, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 12, 15, 18, 19, 21, 23, 25, 27, 28, 29, 31, 32, 34, 41, 42, 44, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 57, 59, 61, 62, 63, 65, 67, 68, 69, 73, 74, 75, 77, 81, 82, 84, 87, 88, 89, 93, 96, 106, 108, 111, 113, 115, 116, 141, 142, 143, 148, 150, 154, 161, 162, 168, 173, 175, 182, 185, 186, 191, 197, 199, 204, 297, 298, 304, 312, 344, 346, 347, 348, 351, 352, 358, 359, 369, 401, 409, 411, 412, 421, 467, 469, 555, 582, 584, 610, 622, 638, 644, 645, 646, 649. coronation of, 1625-6; xii, 411.
 — proclamation for the; 343.
 — the proceeding to the, 1625; 259.
 — account of the; 411.
 — Knights of the Bath made at the; 140.
 his speech to the Lords and Commons at Oxford, 1625; 411.
 speeches of, to Parliament; 1626; 411, 412.
 letter from, to the University of Cambridge, on the election of the Duke of Buckingham to be Chancellor, 1626; 412.
 speech of, to the Parliament, 1627; 355.
 order to provide horses to attend, on his return from Scotland, 1633; 402.
 his intended visit to Scotland, 1633; 637.
 Dr. Champney's letter to pray for, 1638; 465.
 going to York, 1639-40; 638. resolve of, to meet the nobles at York, 1640; 331.
 at York, 1640; ib.
 speech of, 1640; 355.
 — to the lords at York, 1640; ib. petition to, by the lords of the late Parliament and others of Scotland, and answers by the King, 1640; ib.
 a prayer for, 1640-1; 574. in Scotland; 11.
 commissions by, 1640-2; 331.
 instructions by, 1641-2; 645 bis. driven from Whitehall by the seditious routs of the Londoners; 339.
 example of the relations in matters of courtesy between the King and Parliament; 2.
 petitions of Parliament to, with his answers, 1641-2; 4. answer to the King's message concerning the peace of the kingdom, 1641-2; ib.
 message from, 1641-2; 5.
 petition of both Houses to, 1641-2; 6.
 his answer concerning the Queen's going into Holland, 1641-2; 6. letter from, to Lord Mowbray and Maltravers, 1641-2; 9. further declaration of both Houses to, 1641-2; 11.
 message from, concerning Ireland, and declaring against the validity of any Act or Ordinance that has not received the royal assent, 1641-2; 12.
 articles agreed upon between, and the King of Spain; ib.
 a petition for his presence near Parliament, 1641-2; 13.
 answer of, to the declaration of both Houses against fears and jealousies and ill counsels, 1641-2; ib.
 his message of 20th January, 1641-2; 28.
 petition of the Lords and Commons to, that the Earl of Warwick may be appointed to the command of the fleet, 1642; 14.
 message from, to both Houses of Parliament upon his removal to York, 1642; 15.
 his answer to the last message of both Houses, 1642; ib.
 petition of the Lords and Commons to, with his answer, 1642; 17.
 resolutions of the Commons against his proposed journey to Ireland, 1642; ib.
 message to, from the Lords and Commons, to dissuade him from going into Ireland, 1642; ib.
 paper from the Privy Council of Scotland for conciliating matters between, and Parliament, and for staying his journey to Ireland, 1642; 19.
 warrant from, to suppress the printing of his messages, &c. to Parliament, 1642; 21.
 notes of the conference about the paper from the Privy Council of Scotland for conciliating matters between, and the Parliament, 1642; 22.
 warrant by, to the officers at Hull, 1642; ib.
 his pleasure that certain lords should not depart the Court; 1642; 25.
 notes of the conference concerning the amendments in the propositions to, 1642; 26.
 presentation to, of the petition from Parliament, 1642; ib.
 petition of the county of York to, 1642; 27.
 a sheriff charged with distributing [copies of] some petitions of the House of Lords to, with the King's answer, 1642; 28.

Charles I.—cont.

at York, 1642; 28, 329, 339. letter to the Privy Council of, 1642; 29.
 petition of noblemen and others to, 1642; 29.
 two declarations of, 1642; 31.
 answer of, to the declaration of the Lords and Commons, 1642; 33.
 resolution to spend lives and estates in defence of, 1642; 34.
 letter from the Speaker of the House of Lords to, 1642; 35.
 order of Parliament indemnifying subjects for not attending, 1642; 36.
 petition of Lords and Commons to, to compose differences, 1642; 37.
 orders respecting the presentation of the petition of both Houses to, 1642; ib.
 delivery of the petition [of Parliament] to, 1642; 38.
 wines &c. belonging to, ordered by House of Commons to be delivered up, 1642; 39.
 his answer to the petition of Parliament, 1642; ib.
 writs and proclamations of, brought to the House of Lords, and not proclaimed, 1642; 40.
 reply of the Lords and Commons to the answer of, to their petition, 1642; ib.
 contributions for; 42.
 message from, to Parliament proposing a treaty, 1642; 44.
 — answer of the Lords and Commons to the, 1642; 45.
 message of, answer of both Houses to a, 1642; 47.
 commission from, 1642; ib.
 message of, for conciliating differences, answer of Parliament to the, 1642; 48.
 declaration expressing the loyalty of the subscribers to, 1642; ib.
 at Uttoxeter, 1642; 49.
 expected to set up his standard at Shrewsbury; ib.
 at Nottingham; ib.
 raising men and money for, 1642; 51.
 petition of both Houses to, instructions to the Earl of Essex to deliver the, 1642; 52.
 declaration of, after his late victory against the rebels, declaration of both Houses in answer to the, 1642; 55.
 proclamation by, offering pardon to those who would submit to him; 1642; ib.
 petition of Parliament to, for restoring peace, 1642; 56. protest against the resolution of the Lords to send a petition to, 1642; ib.
 proclamations of, order to the sheriff of London not to publish, 1642; ib. votes of the House of Commons for sending the petition to, 1642; 57. message of, concerning the treaty, answer of Parliament to the, 1642; ib.
 alteration in the petition to, 1642; 58.
 petition of both Houses to, that he would return to them, 1642; ib.
 proclamation of, order not to publish a, 1642; ib.
 his answer to the last petition from both Houses, 1642; ib.
 order that the receivers of the revenue of, shall not issue any money, 1642; ib.
 apparel for, provision of, 1642; 59.
 a petition to, with his answer, 1642; 60.
 apothecary's stuffs for the use of, 1642; 61.
 protest of certain lords against one of the articles of the propositions to, 1642; ib. See Propositions. declaration of, after the battle of Edgehill, declaration of Parliament in answer to the, 1642; ib.
 at Salop, 1642; 135. offers to go into Hull with only 30 attendants; 135, 147.
 commission for raising 1,200 foot for the defence of, 1642; 141.
 answers of, to the second and third remonstrances; ib.
 articles to defend, in his [just rights]; ib.
 declaration in favour of, [1642?]; 144.
 at Chester, 1642; 145.
 messages between, and the Parliament, 1642; 147, 148, 161, 178, 191.
 declarations, proclamations, &c. by, 1642; 148. party of, in London, 1647; 151.
 at Leicester, 1642; 162.
 answer and propositions of, to the Parliament; 183.
 at Warwick, 1642; 345.
 pamphlet, "The King's Majesties charge to all the judges of England," 1642; 462.
 answer of, to the petition of Parliament concerning the adjournment of the term to Oxford, 1642-3; 68.
 list of the Committee of the House of Commons appointed to go with the Lords to, with propositions, 1642-3; 69.
 propositions from both Houses to, for accommodating differences, 1642-3; 70.
 instructions to the Earl of Loudon sent by the Scotch Commissioners to, 1642-3; ib.
 further answer of, to the propositions of both Houses, 1642-3; 71.
 answer of, concerning the putting off the general assizes and gaol delivery; 74.

Charles I.—cont.

Earl of Northumberland and Viscount Say and Seale to be sent to, 1642-3; 75.
 proclamation of, forbidding assessments, protestations, and associations; ib.
 — forbidding certain counties to raise forces; ib.
 answers of, list of the Committee appointed by the Lords to confer with the Commons about, 1642-3; ib.
 gloves and other necessaries for the use of; 76.
 seditious words spoken against; ib.
 accounts of the presentation of the articles for the cessation of arms to, 1642-3; 77 bis.
 Council of, at Oxford, 1643; 78.
 resolutions concerning the treaty with, 1643; 79.
 papers relative to his negotiations with the Parliamentary Committee at Oxford, 1643; 80, 81.
 proposal for his return to the Parliament, 1643; 81. message of, concerning the disbanding of the armies and his coming to the Parliament, 1643; ib.
 paper presented to, by the Scotch Commissioners at Oxford, with his answers, 1643; ib.
 message from, about the Bill for reducing the Irish rebels, with the answer of Parliament, 1643; 84.
 proclamation by; 85.
 at Oxford; ib.
 answer of, to two papers delivered to him at Oxford, Committee's report of the, 1643; 86.
 message of, desiring an answer to his last message concerning an accommodation of differences, 1643; 87.
 declaration of loyalty to, 1643; 91.
 draft petition to, for an accommodation, proposed by the Lords to the Commons, 1643; ib.
 petition for peace to be presented by Parliament to, 1643; 92.
 plot to bring all forces out of Ireland to assist, 1643; 93.
 attempt to levy forces in Ireland for his service in England, 1643; 94. at Oxford, proceedings of the Scotch Commissioners sent to, 1643; ib.
 proclamation by, 1643; 98.
 propositions for peace to, by the Lords, rejected by the Commons, 1643; 2, 98, 99, 100.
 protestation and declaration by, 1643; 98.
 message of, 12th April 1643; ib.
 proclamation by, against the authority of Parliament, 1643; 100.
 propositions to, by Parliament, 1643; ib.
 revenue of, ordinance for receiving and collecting the, 1643; 106.
 answer of the National Assembly of the Church of Scotland to a letter from, 1643; 107.
 revenue of, order for publishing the ordinance concerning the sequestering of the, 1643; 108.
 plate sent to, by members of colleges; ib.
 letters from, to the Council of Scotland, 1643; 111 bis.
 letter from, to the Lords Justices, empowering commissioners to treat with the Papists of Ireland, 1643; 112.
 passes for persons with apparel for, 1643; 113.
 letter to, from the Privy Council of Scotland, 1643; 114.
 letter from, to the Commissioners of peace for Scotland, 1643; ib.
 his advance to Basing, 1643; 116.
 revenues of, ordinance concerning the sequestration of the, 1643; 118.
 order for discharging all officers of courts of record who have assisted, 1643; 119.
 letter from, to the Lord Mayor and Aldermen of London, 1643; 119.
 proclamation by, for the Parliament to meet at Oxford upon the invasion of the Scots, 1643; ib.
 protestation by, against Popery, 1643; 297.
 messages from, to the Lords and Commons, 1644; 142.
 commission by, 1644; 355.
 proclamation by, for settling a speedy peace, 1644; 414.
 two letters concerning his personal treaty with Parliament, and their answer, 1645; 214. letter from, to the two Houses of Parliament, 1645-6; ib.
 — proposing to disband his army, &c., 1645-6; 645.
 evil counsellors of, 1646; 421.
 obligation by, to Charles Earl of Dunfermline, 1646; 645.
 1647; 179.
 (in the hands of the Parliament), 1647; 151.
 at Newcastle; 172.
 at Hampton Court, 1647; ib.
 in the Isle of Wight, 1647; 173.
 King of Scots, demand touching; ib.
 underhand treaties between the officers of the army and, 1647; ib.
 propositions by Parliament to, 1647; 179.
 answer by, to propositions, 1647; ib.
 at Hatfield, 1647; 397.
 at Windsor Castle, 1647; ib.
 petition to, by an officer in the name of the army, with H.M.'s reply, 1647; 414.
 message of, to Parliament, 1647; 645.
 prisoner, and his deposition, 1647-8; 297.
 pretended design to poison, [while in the hands of the Parliament]; 182.

Charles I.—cont.

propositions to, with his answers, 1648; 313.
 documents relating to, 1648; 143.
 trial of, journal of the; 149.
 — transactions at the, drawn fair in a book; 153.
 — register of all the names of those that had any hand in the; 204.
 warrant for execution of; 153, 157, 313.
 — signatures to the; 207.
 execution of; 555.
 scaffold on which he was executed; 135.
 prophecies of the execution of; 135, 144, 182 bis.
 the fellow that made the rings and the pulleys upon the the scaffold for the execution of; 169.
 executioner of, Hugh Peters; 135, 174, 205.
 — Hewlett supposed to have been the; 157.
 those who had born arms for, ordered to depart from London, 1657-8; 166.
 judges of; 149, 153, 154, 155, 156, 168, 169, 194, 195 bis., 199, 204, 205, 207, 208.
 — persons and estates of the, to be seized, 1660; 150.
 — order to all sheriffs to seize the estates of the, 1660; 153.
 — trial of the, 1660; 157.
 — all their estates to be settled on the Duke of York, 1660; 158.
 — excepted from the Act of Indemnity; 298.
 murderers of; 174, bis., 177.
 his corpse to be brought from Windsor to London, 1660; 168.
 funerals of, solemnized, 1660; ib.
 death of, voted by Parliament to be murder, 1660; 181.
 — bells tolled in remembrance of the; 575.
 children of; 99.
 — proposition respecting the marriage of any of the, 1642; 26.
 — to be removed into London, order for the, 1642; 55.
 — order for an allowance to be made for support of the, 1642; 55.
 — order for payment of 800*l.* a month for the maintenance of the, 1642; 56.
 — order for maintenance of the, 1642; 58.
 — expenses of the; 59.
 — removal of the, to St. James's, 1642; ib.
 — order of Parliament for the return of the, to St. James's, 1642; 60.
 — at St. James's, 1643; 74.
 — — household expenses of the; 75.
 — — Countess of Dorset appointed governess over the, 1643; 97.
 army of, 1642, 1643; 101, 102 bis., 142, 143, 147.
 — battle between the, and the Earl of Essex, 1643; 160.
 — successes of the, 1642; 414.
 — under the command of Prince Rupert, 1643; 346.
 — proclamation for better observing prayer and preaching in the, 1644; 343.
 forces of, 1642; 162.
 — ravages committed by the, 1643; 86.
 — proceedings of the, 1643; 119.
 address to; 569.
 charter by; 632.
 Council letters from Scotland with the signature of, impressed with a stamp; xi.
 grant under the privy seal of; 641.
 instructions by; 313.
 letter from, 1640; 638.
 letters from, 1641-2; 5, 6, 10, 12, 13.
 letters from, 1642; 25, 26 bis., 27, 28, 35, 142, 351, 490.
 letter from, 1643; 295.
 letters of; xxi, 214, 308, 312, 313, 333, 344, 645.
 letters to, 1642-3; 28, 38, 81.
 letters to; 142, 312, 645.
 medals and MSS. of; 184.
 notes about; 320.
 orders by; 331, 623, 641.
 petitions to, 1642-3; 14, 22, 43, 62, 66, 331, 345.
 signatures of; 5, 6, 7.
 sign manuals of; 645.
 warrant by; 1641; 649.
 warrants by, 1642; 15, 19, 32, 33 bis., 35 bis., 36, 37, 53, 57, 59.
 warrant by, 1646; 626.
 — 1647; 645.
 carver to; 102, 105.
 chaplains in ordinary to; 304.
 footmen in ordinary to; 63.
 — and others, petition of; 69.
 guard of; 148.
 master of the ceremonies to; 62.
 officers of; 160.
 page of the bedchamber to; 87.
 physicians of; 102.
 receiver of the revenues of; 403.
 servants of; 20 ter., 25, 47, 51 bis., 52, 66, 71, 72, 75, 76, 77 bis., 78, 102. servants in ordinary to; 105, 147.
 servant extraordinary to; 64.

Charles I.—cont.

- sworn servant to; 101.
- woollen draper to; 79.
- See Array; Cessation of arms; Hull; Kimbolton, Lord; London; Militia; Money; Parliament; Proclamation; Salmasius; Ships; York.
- Charles, Prince:
 - son of Charles I.; 13, 20, 141, 142, 178 bis, 185.
 - song on the birth of; 365.
 - list of servants entertained by the, 1638; 413.
 - expected to be crowned very shortly, 1641; 351.
 - 1642; 83, 160, 161.
 - resolution of both Houses enjoining the Marquis of Hertford to take care of, 1641-2; 4.
 - tenants of; 5.
 - resolutions of the House of Commons upon the King's answer to their petition concerning, 1641-2; 10.
 - order for the Marquis of Hertford still to continue his care of, 1642; 17.
 - petition of the commissioners of his revenue, 1642; 25.
 - ordinance for receiving and collecting the revenue of, 1643; 106.
 - order for publishing the, 1643; 108.
 - revenues of, ordinance concerning the sequestration of the, 1643; 118.
 - 1647-8; 151.
 - at St. Germain, 1647-8; 151.
 - rumour of his being in Holland, 1647-8; 151.
 - report that the Scotch have much courted him to command their army, 1647-8; 297.
 - would suddenly invade England, 1658; 152.
 - attorney of, 1642; 33.
 - embroiderer to, 1642; 53.
 - footman to, 1642-3; 69.
 - guards of, 1642; 191.
 - saddler to, 1642-3; 77.
 - servant in ordinary to, 1642; 51.
 - 'tiring rooms of, 1643; 108.
 - yeoman usher of the guard to, 1642-3; 69.
 - See Wales, Prince of.
- Charles II.: 146, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 169, 170, 171, 174, 175, 177, 178, 185, 186, 195, 196, 200, 201, 202, 203, 205, 206, 208, 295, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 319, 324, 330, 344, 357, 361, 372, 375, 414, 467, 556, 609, 641, 643, 651, 652.
- exile of; 464.
- in Jersey, 1649; 180.
- removed from Jersey for Scotland, 1649; ib.
- treaty of, with the Scots, 1649; ib.
- in France, 1649; ib.
- expedition of, to Scotland, 1650; 611.
- at Breda, paper presented to, by the Commissioners of the Estates of Scotland, with a paper from the King in answer, &c., 1650; 645.
- notes relative to his march to Worcester and the battle there, 1651; 299.
- escape of, after Worcester fight; 156.
- from Worcester, book concerning the; 177.
- verses on the defeat of, at Worcester; 365.
- retreat of, to Boscobel; 469.
- instructions by, 1652; ix, 314.
- instructions signed by, 1654; 314.
- 1658; 171.
- search for, in the city of London, 1658; 183.
- at Calais, 1658; ib.
- address to the Emperor in favour of; ix, 314.
- voted to be the lawful heir-apparent to the Crown; 167.
- declaration of the House of Commons concerning the King [1659-60]; 185.
- commissioners of both Houses to meet, 1660; 181, 205, 206, 207.
- ship stopped that was carrying 200,000*l.* in money and goods over for the service of, 1660; 208.
- restoration of; vii, 135, 144, 145, 146, 149, 150, 167, 168, 173, 181, 183, 184, 195, 199, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 298, 594, 617, 646. See Restoration.
- prophecy of Grebnerius touching the; 135, 144.
- extracts touching the; 318.
- his landing at Dover, 1660; 135, 144 bis, 146, 168, 314.
- his reception in London of; 135, 167, 181, 184.
- tonnage and poundage granted to, for life; 144.
- lands of; ib.
- his constancy to the Protestant religion; 145.
- allowances to, 1660; ib.
- arms of, set up, 1660; 167.
- declaration of, 1660; 185.
- proclamation of, 1660; 153, 167, 206.
- account of his proclamation by the Lord Mayor, 1660; 206.
- manner of his return to England, and procession through London, 1660; 259.
- address to, 1660; 298.
- accession, landing and coronation of; 300.
- declarations of loyalty to, by inhabitants of Rutland, 1660; 398.
- Scotch commissioners which attended him in Holland, 1660; 617.
- obliged to show favour to the Presbyterians; 135.

Charles II.—cont.

- marriage of; 151, 175.
- speculations about the; 135.
- with the Duke of Parma's daughter, proposed; 159.
- with a sister of the late Prince of Orange, proposed, 1660-1; 170.
- referred to the Council, 1661; 202.
- with the Princess of Portugal, 1660-1; 145, 158, 159, 160, 170.
- rumour of his having been married to a relation of the Prince de Ligné; 170, 202.
- obligations by, to Prince Rupert, 1660-1; 176.
- preparations for the coronation of, 1661; 259.
- coronation of, 1661; 146, 151, 156, 158, 159, 170, 175, 185, 201, 202, 208, 378, 652.
- reviews the city trained bands in Hyde Park, and throws his collection (collation?) among the people, 1661; 151, 203.
- report of his being married some time since to a lady in Flanders, 1661; 159.
- voted to be a præmunire to say that the King is Popishly affected, 1661; 170. See Popery.
- Bill for the safety of, 1661; 196.
- Bill for securing his sacred person, 1661; 203.
- intended progress of, in Worcestershire, 1661; ib.
- progress of, 1661; 175.
- Act for the further securing and preserving the King's person and these kingdoms, 1661; 208.
- contributors towards a present to, 1661; 404.
- speech or letter by, 1662; 357.
- letter by, to the States, 1666; 315.
- at Newmarket, 1672; 197.
- speech and declaration by, 1673; 317.
- agreement by, with the King of France, 1677; 318.
- alarmed at the successes of the French, 1678; ib.
- answer of, to the address of the House of Commons, 1678; 348.
- conspiracy against the life of, 1678; 371.
- original note from, to the Duke of York, 1679; ix, 317.
- paper presented to, by the Duke of York, 1679; 318.
- at Newmarket, 1682; ib.
- his safe deliverance from plots of Presbyterians, 1682-3; 589 bis.
- design to kill, 1683; 325.
- declaration of, 1683-4; 574.
- illness of, 1684; 186.
- commission by, 1684; 643.
- married to the Duke of Monmouth's mother by Dr. Cousens, Bishop of Durham; 318.
- death of; 186, 318, 340.
- the nation like to rue that he ever reigned, 1693; 376.
- address presented to, remarkable; 558.
- army of, commission in the; 360.
- birthday of; 589.
- charter by; 325.
- footmen of; 610.
- grant by; 331.
- letters from; x, 295, 308, 314, 323, 328, 333, 344, 484, 645, 649.
- letters to; 314, 316, 317, 318.
- letters from certain cardinals at Rome to; 303, 317.
- papers of the time of; 323.
- personal notices of; 135.
- petitions to; 646, 649.
- picture of; 205, 565.
- by Charnocke or Jarnock; 158.
- sign manual of; 487.
- warrants by; 317, 649.
- See Scotland, King of.
- Charles, Prince:
 - officer of, 1745; 650.
 - his expedition to Scotland, narrative of, 1745; ib.
 - Regent, letter from, 1745; 331.
- Charles,; 96.
- Charles, Devon; 123.
- Charlestown, Charles Town; 284, 236, 251.
- warlike preparations of the people of, 1776; 234.
- garrison of, Congress evades an exchange of the convention troops with the, 1780; 236.
- British recruits embarking for, 1781; ib.
- intelligence from, 1782; 238.
- garrison of, 1782; 239.
- inhabitants of; 237.
- merchants of; 217.
- police of; 237.
- board of police at; ib.
- letters dated at; 217, 221, 227, 235, 237, 239, 253.
- camp near, letters dated; 237.
- South Carolina, collector of customs at; 217.
- letters dated; 234.
- Charleville, Lady; 251.
- Charlotte, Fort; 225.
- Charlotte Street, near Portland Chapel, letters dated; 242, 243.
- Charlotte, Queen:
 - house of; 210.
 - establishment of the yearly charge of the salaries to the officers and servants of her house, 1761; 366.

Charlotte, Queen—cont.
 establishment of the ordinary wages and allowances for, 1761; 366.
 Charleton, Devon; 122.
 Charlton Marshall, Dorset; 124.
 Charlton House, Kent; 305.
 MSS. of Sir J. M. Wilson at; 304.
 Charlton, Charlton, Charlton :
 Mr.; 49.
 . . . ; 162.
 . . . , and his kinsman; 477.
 . . . , and his wife; ib.
 Francis, of Apley; 170.
 George, petition of; 39.
 Job; 205.
 — Sir; 196.
 Robert, Sir; 478.
 S., letters from; 204, 205.
 Stephen, letters from; vii, 160 seq.
 See Cherlton.
 Charlwood, Surrey; 132.
 Charlys, John, outlaw; 521.
 Charminster, Dorset; 125.
 Charmouth, Dorset; 124.
 Charnock Heath, Linc.; 127.
 Charnock, Richard, Linc.; ib.
 Charnocke, or Jarnock, picture of Charles II. by; 158.
 Charnock, Robert, letter from; 298.
 Chart :
 Kent; 546, 548.
 Great, Kent; 546.
 Little, Kent, parson of; 29.
 Charta, Magna; 163, 533.
 confirmation of; 569.
 a certificate of, 1502-3 549.
 Chartæ Antiquæ :
 at Canterbury; 427, 428.
 — catalogues of; 435.
 Charter House; 184, 379, 390.
 pensioner in the; 48.
 See Sutton's Hospital.
 Charterhouse (in Scotland); 640.
 Charteris :
 Andrew, of Cuthilgurdy; 621.
 (" Chestons "), Colonel; 190.
 John, son and heir apparent of Thomas, of Kynfawnis; 621.
 Charter-party; 341 bis.
 Charters :
 English, granted by successive Kings, from Edward the Confessor to Henry II.; 459.
 abstracts of; 340.
 ancient, destruction of, 1646; 357.
 at Canterbury; 426.
 — Royal; 437.
 — Saxon; 456, 458.
 at Condoover Hall, Shropshire; 833.
 at Dartmouth; 597.
 at Lydd; 516.
 of Melcombe Regis; 575, 576.
 at Mendlesham; 595.
 at Rhydd Court, Upton-on-Severn, Worc.; 301, 302, 303.
 at Rye; 488.
 at St. Albans; 565.
 at Teddesley, co. Stafford; 295.
 Scotch; xix, xx, 608-614, 620-624, 626, 627, 629-634, 644-648, 655.
 Chartham, Kent :
 benefice of; 70.
 living of; 76, 87.
 — right of presentation to the; 2.
 manor of; 444.
 — lease of the; ib.
 rectory of; 80, 81 ter., 82, 85, 88.
 tenants at; 455.
 Chartres, Fort; 216, 218.
 Chartres, Vidame de, letter from; 279.
 Chartulary of the abbey of Cokersand; 329, 332.
 Chasee, F., prior of the English Carthusians, letter to; 464.
 Chastelard, execution of, letter from Maitland to Mary Queen of Scots about the; viii, 310.
 Chastelet, alias Luzancy, M.; 321.
 Chastell, Henry de, Archdeacon of Canterbury; 428.
 Chastes, Aymar de (Gov. of Dieppe), letter from; 274.
 Chastillon, Princesse de, letter from; 317.
 Chastleton and Brookend, Oxford; 130.
 Chatburn, Lanc.; 127.
 Chateau-Martin, letters from; 268, 269, 270, 271, 275.
 Châtelherault, Chastelherault, Chatilroy :
 Duke of, Governor of Scotland; 634, 636.
 — James, Governor of Scotland, 1552; 640.
 — instructions by the, 1559; 308, 309.
 — letter to the, 1560; 309.
 — 1568; 616.
 — communing betwixt the, and others, and the Earl of Murray, 1569; ib.
 Chatfield, John, minister; 61.
 Chatham; 38, 39, 137 bis., 170, 198.

Chatham—cont.
 warrant from Charles I. to the officers of the navy at, 1642; 33.
 dock; 46.
 dockyard at, order to the officers of the, to issue stores for the fleet under the Earl of Warwick, 1642; 45.
 order for securing the navy and provisions at, 1642; 56.
 great ship burnt at, called the Princess Royal, 1658, afterwards called the Resolution; 173.
 shipping at, viewed by the King, 1688; 378.
 Upnor Castle near, governor of, 1695; 325.
 Chatham, Earl of; xix.
 speech of the; 257.
 Chatte, Thomas; 491.
 Chattelar in Artoys, battle at, 1642; 161.
 Chastelard. See Chastelard.
 Chatsworth; 366. gardens; 362, 366.
 Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, MSS. of; xi.
 Troilius and Cressida, MSS. of; x.
 Chaucer, Samuel, memorial by; 323.
 Chaulny, letter dated at; 313.
 Chaundler :
 John, English consul at Lisbon, and his wife, papists, order for; 22.
 . . . ; 552.
 Chaundry, His Majesty's, yeoman of, pass for; 73.
 Chauntrell, Richard; 571. See Chantrell.
 Chauntrel, William; 612.
 Chauvi, Geoffrey de; 335, 336, 337.
 Chawe, Walter La; 605. See Chowe.
 Chawleigh, Devon; 123.
 Chawmer, John of, master of St. Germans; 638.
 Cheadle, Thomas; 419.
 Check, clerk of the; 407.
 Cheddington, Bucks; 120.
 Cheddington, Dorset; 124.
 Cheddon [Fitzpaine], Somerset; 132.
 Chedelington, Alice de; 601.
 Chedelyngtone, Joan, widow of William de; 603.
 Cheekley, —, delinquent; 48.
 Cheese; 98.
 payment for; 72.
 Cheesman, Cheeseman, Edmund, waterman; 76.
 — petition of; 83.
 See Chese-man.
 Cheeses; 328.
 Cheetham, Lancashire; 127.
 Cheke :
 Lady, letter from, 1597; 293.
 John, Sir, letters by; 308, 309.
 Chekkere, Le, Ralph of; 519.
 Chelborough, West, Dorset; 125.
 Cheldon, Devon; 123.
 Chelfounte, William, son of Thomas; 565. See Chalfount.
 Chelmsford; 179, 339. decision of the justices assembled in quarter sessions at; 4.
 Chelsea :
 the house of the orphans of the Bishop of London at, 1596; 282.
 Hospital, contributions for, 1684; 333.
 — foundation of, letter of Charles II. asking for subscriptions; x, 344.
 reader or lecturer of; 382.
 "College of Controversies;" 467.
 letter dated at; 284.
 Chelsham, Surrey; 132.
 Chemical receipts; 366.
 Chemist, a; 341.
 Chemys; 622.
 Chene :
 . . . , of Strathloch; 609.
 Patrik, of Essilmouth; ib.
 Chenew, Chenewe :
 John; 526, 542, 544, 545.
 William; 542.
 See Cheynew.
 Chenies, poor of; 344.
 Chenye :
 F., letter from; 278.
 William le; 600.
 Chepman, Roger; 560.
 Chepstow, Governor of, 1660; 361.
 Chepyng Toryton; 571.
 Chequer board, playing at; 543.
 Cherbury, Lord of, death of the, 1655; 180.
 Cherestrete; 509.
 Cheret, —; 314.
 Cheriton Fitzpain, Devon; 122.
 Cheriton Bishop, Devon; 123.
 Cherleton, Cherletune; 335.
 lands in; 336.
 land and messuages in; 337.
 Adam de; 336, 337.
 Richerus de; 337.
 Roger, son and heir of Adam of; 335.
 See Charlton.

Cherokee boundary, the; 231.
 Cherry Willingham, Lincoln; 128.
 Cherry, Cherrye, Cherrie, Fr., letters from; 279, 280, 286, 289, 293.
 Cherrying [Kent]; 522.
 deanery of; 430.
 vicar of, 1460; 522.
 Chert, William, warden of Canterbury College, Oxford; 450.
 Chertull, grange of; 335.
 Chertogne, Monsieur de; 187.
 Chertsey; 24.
 petition of the gentry of, 1642; 26.
 Chesapeake, the; 235, 237.
 operations in the, 1781; 236, 237. prizes made in the, 1781; 238.
 Cheseldine, Mr.; 392.
 Cheseman, Chesman:
 John; 515.
 Richard; 512. See Chesman.
 Chesewick; 43.
 Chesham; 556.
 Cheshire. See Chester, county palatine of.
 Cheshire:
 ... , a seditious preacher; 78.
 Dr., protection of; 86.
 Chesholme, Alexander of; 608.
 Cheshunt, Chesthant, Hertford:
 parish of; 86.
 manor, house, and park of; 184.
 town of, charge of the, 1591; 264.
 Cheshunt Nunnery, Hertford; 77.
 Chesilborne, Dorset; 124.
 Chesebethe, Richard de, seneschal; 605.
 Chester; x, 32, 44, 49, 121, 148, 182, 198, 296, 298, 344, 349, 351, 352 bis, 359.
 history and antiquities of; 333.
 municipal history of, collections for the; ib.
 breviary or collections for the city of, by the Rev. Ro. Rogers, B.D., Archdeacon of Chester; 333, 338.
 collections for the city of; 339.
 volumes containing antiquities of; 340.
 history of; ib.
 collections relating to the ecclesiastical affairs of; ib.
 papers relative to; 342.
 Henry VIII's charter to the city of; ib.
 commissioners for viewing soldiers at, 1602; ib.
 examinations of suspected persons staid at, 1641; 349.
 soldiers at, 1641; 350.
 visit of Charles I. to, 1642; 145, 344.
 collections of passages and occurrences in, during the civil war; 333, 339, 349.
 money ordered to pay the troops at, 1642; 352.
 troops of horse mustered at, 1642; ib.
 petition for the fortification of; ib.
 waggons to be sent from Hull to carry arms to, 1641-2; 9.
 money advanced for the relief of, 1642; 59.
 account of the siege of, 1645; 339.
 articles for the surrender of, 1645; 135.
 — and the fort thereof; 144.
 the Leaguer before, 1645; ib.
 alderman of, 1642; 352.
 aldermen of, 1641; 344, 350.
 — 1642; 344.
 alderman and treasurer of, 1642; 351.
 chief justice of, 1656; 422.
 clarke of the Pentice of; 342.
 governor of, 1645; 144.
 Herald, 1564; 367.
 justices at, 1641; 351.
 magistrates of, letter from the, 1593; 267.
 mayor of, letters to the; x, 333.
 — oath of the; 339.
 — and citizens, privileges of the; 342.
 — letter to the, 5 Edw. VI.; 343.
 — and aldermen, letter to the, 1557; ib.
 — letter from the, 1593; 268.
 — letter to the, 1593; 343.
 — letter from the, 1595; 278.
 — 1600; 189.
 — Council letter to the, 1602; 342.
 — and citizens, award in a dispute between, and the Dean, &c. of, 1607; ib.
 — — award between John abbot of the monastery of St. Werburg and the; ib.
 — aldermen and citizens, petition to the King by the, t. Jac. I.; 342.
 — and justices of the city and county of, letter to the, t. Jac. I.; 343.
 — 1641; 349, 350.
 — and aldermen, 1641; 350, 352.
 — letters to and from the, 1641; 349, 350, 351, 352.
 — 1642; 344.
 — letters to the, 1642; 344, 351.
 — and aldermen, 1642; 352.
 — election of, 1732; 340.
 mayors of; 338, 339, 340.
 — collection of the; 339.

Chester—cont.

recorder of; 344.
 — oath of the; 339.
 — letter to the, 1641; 350.
 — 1642; 350, 352.
 recorders of; 342.
 sheriffs of; 339, 340.
 — oaths of the; 339.
 — letter to the, 5 Edw. VI.; 343.
 — 1641; 349, 350.
 — 1642; 145.
 — letter to the, 1642; 350.
 town clerk of, letter to the; 344.
 Abbey of, annals of the; 359.
 abbey court; 296.
 Castle of; 356.
 — garrison of the, 1688; 358.
 — well in the, poisoned, 1689; 345.
 — governor of the, 1660; 168.
 — letter dated at the; 358.
 churches in; 350.
 common hall, office of keeper of the, 1642; 351.
 court at, letter dated; 344.
 custom house at, collector of H.M.; 352.
 Eastgate of; 342.
 — a drawing of the; 359.
 Golden Lyon, the; 344.
 Grace, the (ship), of; 344, 350.
 Holy Trinity; 121.
 Northgate of, prisoners in the; 350, 352.
 Pentice, the Roed dee; 351.
 port of; 139.
 — and the members thereof; 349.
 Red Lyon, the; 344.
 St. Bridget; 121.
 St. Martin; ib.
 St. Mary on the Hill; ib.
 St. Michael; ib.
 St. Olave; ib.
 St. Oswald; ib.
 St. Peter; ib.
 St. Werburgh, abbey of, account of the; 340.
 — fair of; 342.
 letters dated at; 31, 198, 345, 349, 352.
 cathedral of; 350.
 — description of the; 339.
 archdeacon of, Robert Rogers; ib.
 archdeacons of; 340.
 Bishop of, William, letter from, 1572; 810.
 — letters from, 1673-5; 358.
 — Chaderton, letter from, 1592; 266.
 — — letter from, 1594; 270.
 — Vaughan, letter from, 1597; 291.
 — Thomas, 1628; 319.
 bishops of; 340.
 Dean and Chapter of, encroachments of the; 342.
 Dean of, 1641; 350.
 — letter from the, 1767; 359.
 deans of; 340.
 prebendaries of; ib., 342.
 sub-dean of; 350.
 Chester, county palatine of; Cheshire; 47, 79, 162, 339.
 supplication exhibited to King Henry VI. by the inhabitants of the; 216.
 visitation of, by William Flower, alias Norroy, King of Arms, and Robert Glover, Somerset Herald, 1580; 338.
 — temp. Eliz. by Somerset Herald; 339.
 raising a troop of horse out of, 1642; 27.
 order for defence of the, 1642; 58.
 lords, knights, and gentlemen of the, 1642; 347.
 petition of the nobility, knights, gentry, and freeholders of the; 352.
 declaration of the Lords and Commons against the agreement for the neutrality of, 1642-3; 67.
 agreement made at Bunbury for pacification of the, 1642-3; ib.
 ordinance for raising forces and money in the, 1642-3; 72.
 warrant for sequestering rebels' goods in the, 1642-3; 76.
 ordinance for its association with other counties, 1643; 80.
 appointment of an auditor and treasurer of the moneys raised in, 1643; 104.
 insurrection in the, 1659; 300.
 letter to the, 1780; 256.
 collections for; x, 333.
 evidences, Dr. Williamson's collections of; 339.
 history of, sketch of materials for a; 339.
 extracts from inquisitions post mortem for, from 1 Hen. VIII. to 12 James I.; ib.
 Cowper's collections for; 333, 340.
 barons, criminal jurisdiction of; 342.
 commander-in-chief of all forces in, 1645; 144.
 commission of array for the, 1642; 41.
 commissioners of array for the, 1642-3; 37, 67, 143, 145.
 committee and sequestrators for the, 1648; 352.
 families of, pedigrees of, by J. Boothe, with arms; 367.
 gentlemen of, knighted by the Earl of Hertford at Leith; 340.
 Great Seal of the; 301.

- Ohester, county palatine of—cont.
 high sheriff of the, 1641; 349.
 hundreds of; 339.
 justices of the peace of the, 1642; 344.
 lieutenant of the; 10.
 lord lieutenant, &c. of the, declaration of the, 1688; 343.
 — Viscount Cholmondeley, 1703; 423.
 deputy lieutenants of, 1642; 31, 67, 339.
 — instructions for the, 1642; 29.
 under sheriff of; 348.
- Chester, Earl of:
 Hugo Lupus, sword of; 383.
 R., 1213; 430. See Cestrie.
 Earls of; 339, 340.
 — Bostock's poem on the; 333.
 — history of the; 338.
 — account of the; 339.
 — chronicles of the; 340.
- Chester-le-Street and townships, Durham; 125.
- Chester Ward, Durham; ib.
- Chester Town, Maryland, letters dated at; 243.
- Chester:
 Mr.; 324.
 — suicide of; 383.
 Ch., letter from; 266.
 Edward, letter from; 298.
 Thomas; 345.
 — petition of; 324.
 Thomas, letter from; 284.
- Chesterfield, Earl of:
 and his Lady, 1642; 142. prisoner, 1643; 88.
 1660; 155.
 married to the Duke of Ormond's daughter, 1660; 156, 203.
 1660-1; 151, 203.
 general of the fleet, 1661; 203. daughter of the late, 1661; 159.
 1688; 325.
 Philip second, common-place book, original compositions and extracts by; x, 362, 364.
 Philip, folio written by; 366.
 advice to the late; x, 364.
 the great; ib.
 the third; 366.
 Philip Dormer Stanhope, original "Characters," &c., by;
 x, 364.
 — fragments by; ib.
 — original compositions by; 362.
 and Mr. Trevor, and the deputies of their high mightinesses
 [the States General], conferences between the, 1745; 628.
- Chesterton, Cambridgeshire; 390.
- Chesterton, Huntingdon; 126.
- Chestons (Charteris?) Colonel; 190.
- Chetnole, Dorset; 124.
- Chettle, Dorset; ib.
- Chetwin, Thomas, sheriff of Staffordshire; 175.
- Chetwind, Mr., M.P.; 208.
- Chetwode, Bucks; 120.
- Chetwoode, Mr., letter from; 400.
- Chetwynd:
 J., letter from; 187.
 John, Esq., letters of; 186.
- Chevalier, the; 400.
 tract by an adherent of the; 319.
 memorial from the; ib.
 letter from the, to his wife, 1725; ib.
 memoir of the; ib.
See James III.; Pretender.
- Chevening, Kent; 126.
- Chevereuse, Madame; 192.
- Cheverny, —, letter from; 272.
- Cheverton, Alderman, chosen to be Lord Mayor of London; 165.
- Chevigne, De, père de l'oratoire to King James II.; 319.
- Cheyne:
 Lord, letters from; 188.
 — letter from, 1714; ib.
 — letters from, 1714-5; 189.
 . . . ; 619.
 John, Sir, knight, son of William Cheyne, Chief Justice; 544.
 Simon; 514.
 — grant by; 515.
 T., signature of; 296.
 William, and Alianor his wife; 515.
See Cheyne.
- Cheynow, Cheynewe, Cheynu:
 George; 547.
 John; 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 551.
 — of Romney; 521.
 — the younger; 551.
See Chenew.
- Cheynewes, field called; ib.
- Cheyney, John, of Agmondeham, esquire; 565.
- Cheynham, rectory of; 287.
- Chicheley:
 Archbishop, monument of, in Canterbury Cathedral; 48.
 Thomas de; 301.
- Chichester; 46, 133.
 ruinous state of, 1595; 276.
 order for fortifying, 1642; 56.
 malignants at, 1643; 86.
 church of, petition of the vicars choral, Sherborne clerk, lay vicars, and other inferior officers of the, 1643; 119.
 Cathedral Close; 133.
 All Saints within; ib. See Cicestria.
 St. Andrew; ib.
 St. Bartholomew without the West-gate; ib.
 St. Martin's; ib.
 St. Olave's; ib.
 St. Pancras, without and within; ib.
 St. Peter's the Great; ib.
 St. Peter's the Less; ib.
 bishopric of, keeper of the spiritualities of the, 1420; 498.
 Bishop of, Ralph, consecration of, 1091; 453.
 — seal of the, 1151; 431.
 — 1279; 498.
 — Stephen de Berksteed, 1281; 498.
 — J., 6 Edw. I.; 295.
 — Henry Ware, 1418-9; 497.
 — 1446; 519.
 — John Arundel, mandate by, 1476; 496.
 — Watson, letter from, 1596; 283.
 — letters from, 1597; 288 bis.
 — letter from the, 1614; 408.
 — Samuel Harsnet, letter from; 487.
 — Henry, petition of, 1643; 112.
 — Dr. King, 1661; 203.
 — Dr. Williams made, 1696; 385.
 Chancellor of, 1279; 498.
 Dean and Chapter of; 119.
 Dean of, William Miltone, 1420; 498.
- Chichester Rape, Sussex; 133.
- Chichester:
 Lady, married to Mr. Ruytter; 383.
 Arthur, Captain, names of soldiers delivered to; 285.
 — letters from; 286, 289, 290.
 John, letter from; 128.
- Chickerell, Dorset; 125.
- Chickney (Chik), St. Mary of; 322.
- Chiddingstone, Kent; 126.
- Chideock, Dorset; 124.
- Chief Justice, Lord:
 presents to the, 1582; 482.
 1642; 49.
 1684; 186.
- Chiefe, Richard; 604.
- Chiesly, Capt.; 618.
- Chieveley, Berks; 120.
- Chiggelewe; 337.
- Chigwell, letter dated at; 298.
- Chilcombe, Dorset; 125.
- Chiloet, Capt., letter from; 277.
- Child Okeford, Dorset; 124.
- Child:
 John, examination of; 318.
 William, gent., of Chesham; 556.
- Child-murder; 573.
- Childe, William; 533.
- Childersley, John, D.D., petition of; 82.
- Chilton, Robert, of Pollesworthe; 295.
- Chilgrove, Sussex; 133.
- Chilham, church of, Kent; 427, 428 ter.
- Chilhampton, Wilts; 133.
- Chilleham, Hugo de; 428.
- Chillenden, Kent; 126.
- Chillenden, Chyllendenne, Chyllendenne:
 . . . , Prior of Canterbury; xiii, 435, 448, 450.
 Adam de, prior ecclesie Cantuar.; 444.
 — elected Archbishop of Canterbury; 429.
 Thomas, prior of Christ Church, Canterbury; 444, 453.
- Chillington, Somerset; 131.
- Chillonde, in the parish of Holintone; 504.
- Chilson, Oxford; 130.
- Chilterns, three Hundreds in, co. Bucks, the colonel of trained bands and volunteers of; 55.
- Chilton, Sussex; 132.
- Chilton, Berks; 120.
- Chilton, Chiltone:
 John, jurat; 553.
 — of Romney, gent.; ib.
 Peter de; 510.
 Richard, vicar of Mendlesham; 595.
 Simon, son of Vitalis de; 507.
 William de; 509.
- Chilwell, Notts; 129.
- Chimneys; 353.
- China; 488.
 Jesuits in, 1698; 377.
 journal of a voyage to and from Emois in China, 1700-2; 362, 365.
 view of the trade of, 1701; 365.
- Chinchon, camp at, letter dated; 364.

Chinese, the, 1698; 377.
 Ching, Mr.; 597.
 Chingford, minister of; 20.
 Chippenham, lands near; 120.
 Chipping, Lanc.; 127.
 Chipping Norton, Oxford; 130.
 Chipping Sudbury:
 Ridings at; 346.
 letter dated at; ib.
 Chipping Wycombe, or High Wycombe, Bucks, borough of,
 MSS. of the; vi, 554.
 Chipstable, Somerset; 132.
 Chipstead, Surrey; ib.
 Chirintun:
 land in; 336.
 land and a message in; ib.
 Adam, son of Henry of; ib.
 Chirintune, Luke de; ib.
 Chirurgeons; 97.
 petition of; 116.
 Chiselhurst; 87.
 letter dated at; 343.
 Chisholme:
 Major; 219.
 John, minister, letter to; 649.
 Chislet, lands in; 435.
 Chislett, Kent; 126.
 Chisseldyne, William; 402.
 [Chiswick.] See Cheshwick.
 Chitecroft, John de; 513, 514.
 Chithurst, Sussex; 133.
 Chittlehampton, Devon; 123.
 Chivas; 187.
 Chivelstone, Devon; 132.
 Chiwille, Richard de, seneschal; 601.
 Choctaw Indians, depositions relating to the, 1767; 222.
 Choda, Walter; 601.
 Choiseul, Duc de, Memoire remis par My Lord George Lennox à M. le, 1766; 233.
 Choke, George, Esq.; 399.
 Cholderton (Chouldrington), Wilts; 133.
 Chollerton [Chorlton cum Hardy], Lancashire; 127.
 Chollet, Cholet, Mons., letter from; 256.
 letter to; ib.
 Cholmondeley, Chomeley, Cholmly:
 Viscount, Robert, letters to, 1642; 339, 344.
 Lord, 1688; 325.
 — Hugh, lord-lieutenant of North Wales and of the county palatine of Chester; 423.
 Earl of, patent to the, 25 Geo. II.; 231. arms of; 339.
 Hen.; 147.
 Henry, certificate signed by; 331.
 Henry, Sir; 185, 193.
 Hugh; 409.
 Hugh, Sir; 69, 147, 152, 185.
 — Governor of Scarborough, letter to; 84.
 — V. P. of Wales, letter to; 342.
 R.; 141, 347.
 — letter by, 1642; 350.
 Reginald, Esq., report on the MSS. of; vi, x, 333.
 Richard, petition of; 37.
 Thomas; 347.
 William, clerk to the Earl of Essex, letter from; 362.
 Cholsey, Berks; 120.
 Cholwill:
 Nich.; 573.
 Thomas; ib.
 Chonlesbury, Bucks; 120.
 Chorlebury. See Charlbury.
 Chorley:
 warrant dated at; 345.
 Lancashire; 127.
 Chorlton cum Hardy [Chollerton], Lancashire; ib.
 Chorlton Row, Lancashire; ib.
 Chottenham, co. Gloucester, Hundred of; 339.
 Chowe, Walter La; 606. See Chawe.
 Chrechie; 637.
 Chrism; 430, 431, 432, 447.
 Christ:
 crucified, a painting representing; 334.
 statue of; 45, 49.
 Christenings: attended by Charles II.; 174.
 tax upon, 1694; 385.
 Christian and Turkish armies, occurrences between, 1596;
 285.
 Christian Knowledge, Society for promoting; 399.
 Christian, . . . , killed by the men of Romney; 520.
 Christianity:
 defence of, against the Deists; 375.
 Primitive, proceedings of the Society for promoting; 899.
 Christians, foreign; 377.
 Christie:
 Brigadier-General, commander-in-chief of H.M. forces in the Leeward Islands; 246.

38757.

Christie—cont.
 William, rector of the Scottish seminary at Rome; 653.
 William, Father; 654.
 Christmas; 480, 495.
 solemnities at; 317.
 presents at, 16th cent.; 415, 416.
 satirical propositions respecting, temp. Car. I.; 414.
 Christmas day, order against the observance of, 1652; 192.
 Christmas, Mr., H.M. trumpeter, death of; 317. See Cristemasse, Crystemasse.
 Christopher, Samuel, A.M., Latin oration by; 365.
 Christovad, E., letter from; 278.
 Christow, Devon; 123.
 Chronicle, a; 333.
 of England, a; 299, 301.
 Chronology; 399. scheme of, since the patriarchs; 312. of events from 1847; 264.
 Chuddebe [Chuddle?]; 500.
 Chudleigh, Devon; 123.
 Chudleigh, Chudley:
 Mr., the King's minister in Holland; 186.
 Major-General, treachery of; 111.
 young, a comploter with, at Stratton; 114.
 George, Sir, order for payment to; 42.
 — and others, order for indemnity of; 61.
 — letter from; 371.
 Chulmleigh, Devon; 123.
 Church:
 Holy, laws of; 355.
 absentees from; 376.
 armour; xvii, 572, 573.
 attendance at; 642.
 books; 597.
 burials in a; 572.
 censure, the; 848.
 dues; 66.
 goods; 572, 573, 593.
 — inventory of, 1475; 554.
 — temp. Hen. VII.; 556.
 — inventories of, temp. Hen. VIII. and Edw. VI.; 555
 bis.
 government; 99, 115, 168, 183, 204, 205, 206, 558, 609.
 — ordinance for the Assembly of Divines to consider of a form of, 1643; 105.
 — Scotch commissioners to treat for uniformity in, 1643; 107.
 — committee to join with the committee of the Assembly to meet and treat with the divines of Scotland concerning a form of, 1643; 110.
 — letter on, 1644; 313.
 — 1646; ib.
 — conference before the King at the Lord Chancellor's betwixt the Bishop and Presbyterian ministers concerning, 1660; 135, 157.
 — the King to be the moderator in the business of, 1660; 168.
 — innovations in, 1660; 195.
 — Charles II.'s declaration concerning, 1660; ib.
 — and ceremonies, Bill to turn the King's declaration concerning, into an Act, 1660; 196.
 King's arms in a; 573.
 lands; 607.
 lands for maintenance of a lamp in a; ib.
 livings; 176.
 malefactors taking refuge in a; 529, 530 bis.
 musical instruments in a; 597.
 ornaments, decay of; xvii, 428 bis.
 plate, found in a ship at Erith, 1593; 269.
 — inventory of; 606.
 — and vestments, inventory of; 607. players in a; xviii, 494.
 preferments, 1705; 414.
 pulpit, seats, &c. in a, order to make; 418.
 rate books; 597.
 rates; 572, 574.
 — at Nibley, co. Gloucester; 358.
 reeves; 596.
 repair of a; 559.
 repairing the fabric of a; 607.
 seats in a; 406, 417, 546 bis., 572, 573, 574.
 seats or pews in the chancel of a, erection of; 419.
 — in a, order by a Bishop touching; 566.
 seats for women in a; xvii, 575.
 sessions held in a; 537.
 singers in a; 573.
 singing books for a; ib.
 stile, proclamations at a, 1479–80; 527.
 torches in a, 1445; ib.
 treasurer's account, 1638–9; 572. work, 1639; 358.
 “taking tobacco” in; 73.
 not coming to; 82.
 an order of Parliament read in a; 112.
 frequencing; 300.
 built in England, temp. Cromwell (the only one); 369. accident in a; 380.

I

Church—cont.

- riotous conduct in a; 430.
- ordinance touching collections in a; 581.
- custom for poor persons to leave a sheep to a; 573.
- payments for keeping dogs out of; 572, 574.
- and King; 183.
- and State, 1660-1; 170.
- Church of England; 44, 110, 131, 197, 401, 453, 483, 638.
 - guarantee given to the, by twelve of the great barons, that King John shall be compelled by the great barons to restore its ancient privileges, 1218; 431, 454.
 - scripturarum et patrum testimonia ad defensionem religionis Eccl. Anglic., 1588; 262.
 - authority of Scripture for reformation of errors in the, 1594; 273.
 - petition that the, may be reformed, 1641-2; 6.
 - petitions for a thorough reformation of the, 1641-2; 7.
 - petition against offenders in, 1641-2; 10.
 - reformation of the, order of the Lords and Commons for, 1642; 16.
 - endeavours to bring in great changes in the, 1642; 44.
 - doctrine of the; 62.
 - title to the Act for abolishing dignitaries in the, 1642-3; 69.
 - question whether it is a true church; 88.
 - ordinance for calling an assembly of divines for settling the government and liturgy of the, 1643; 90.
 - order for the Assembly of Divines to consider of the ten first articles of the, 1643; 95.
 - proposed reformation in the, 1643; 99.
 - reformation of the, progress of, 1643; 107.
 - assembly of divines for the, 1643; 414.
 - letter of Charles I. about the, 1645; 313.
 - proposition to Charles I. concerning the, [1648]; ib.
 - affairs, divines to consult about, 1660; 155.
 - the King's declaration concerning the affairs of the, 1660; 157.
 - petition for establishing the, in the same splendor and ceremonies that she was in, in King James' and Queen Elizabeth's time, 1660; 199.
 - settlement of the, 1660; 200.
 - the King supreme in the, 1660-1; 170.
 - room for the use of such as do not conform to the, 1672; 347.
 - the bishops well assured of James II.'s gracious intentions and favour for the, 1688; 198.
 - letters relative to the, 1689-1701; 376, 377, 378.
 - service of the, read in Italian at Guildhall chapel, 1691-2; 382.
 - proposed reformation of the, 1692; 376.
 - party disaffected against the, 1692; ib.
 - caressed by the Court, 1694; 348.
 - submission to the; 300.
 - liturgy of the; 558.
 - ministers of the; 384.
 - affairs (in N. America); 219.
 - in America, papers relative to the; 227.
 - thoughts upon the present state of the, 1764; ib.
 - See* Reformed Church.
- Church Kirk, with Osbaldwistle, Lanc.; 127.
- Church Knowle, Dorset; 124.
- Church Stanton, Devon; 122.
- Church:
 - Captain, order for payment to; 50.
 - Roger, commissary of Canterbury, 1498; 459.
- Church-ende, William; 370.
- Churches; 160, 203, 205, 207, 460.
 - appropriated; 436.
 - notices of, 12th cent.; 321.
 - and chapels, decayed, in the North, money collected for, 1605-6; 573.
 - order for removing scandalous pictures from, 1641; 350.
 - order for prayer in, for the Assembly of Divines, 1643; 92.
 - soldiers to leave their arms in certain, on disbanding, 1647; 179.
 - Charles II.'s arms set up in all, 1660; 167.
 - order that the King shall be prayed for in all, 1660; ib.
 - the League and Covenant ordered to be taken down in all, 1661; 303.
 - parish; 625.
 - in England, number of; 338.
 - commissions to punish those who neglected their, temp. Car. II.; 634.
 - withdrawers from; 642.
- Churchetowne; 425.
- Churchey:
 - Mr.; 589.
 - George; ib.
 - alderman of Weymouth; 587, 588.
- Churchill, Oxford; 130.
- Churchill:
 - afterwards Duke of Marlborough, letters by; 294.
 - J., General, letters from; vii, 295.
 - Lord; 344.
 - sent to Louis XIV., 1685; 318.
 - in pursuit of the Duke of Monmouth, 1685; 373.

Churchill—cont.

- Lord, 1688; 358.
- Lady; 325.
- Sir Winstone; 345.
- Churchman, Elizabeth; 594.
- Churchstow, Devon; 122.
- Churchtowne, Westmeath; 605.
- Churchwardens; 106, 402, 597.
 - accounts; 488, 572, 574, 606, 607.
 - at Mendlesham; 593.
 - book; xvi, 488.
- Churchyard:
 - ordinances touching animals in a; 489.
 - play acting in a; 495.
- Churston Ferrers, Devon; 123.
- Churtness in Hartfield, co. Sussex, manor of; 304.
- Churton, Mr.; 574.
- Churwell, York; 134.
- Chymney, co. Devon; 117.
- Chyticroft, Chytetroft, John; 513 bis.
- Cicestria, Capitulum celebratum in Ecclesia Omnium Sanctorum in Palenta [the Pallant] de, 1333; 438.
- Cider; 489, 518, 535, 542, 551.
 - ordinance touching sellers of; 538.
- Cincetelone, half a hide in; 301.
- Cinctetone, Hugh de; ib.
- Cindadela, in Minorca, University of; 249.
- Cinnamon; 163, 491.
- Cinque Ports; xvii, 72, 81 bis, 139, 442, 457, 488, 493, 501, 513, 521, 523, 532, 534, 535, 537, 539, 545, 548, 606.
 - Acts of the; 541.
 - arms of the; 492.
 - charters to the; xix, 516, 569, 607.
 - claims of the; 538.
 - customs of the; 544.
 - franchise of the; 590.
 - jurisdiction of the, at Yarmouth; 571.
 - liberties of the; 454, 535, 539, 542, 547.
 - rights of the; 516.
 - their names, privileges, &c.; 259.
 - ships furnished by the, at the transportation of the King; 532.
 - lances and bells for the canopy held over the King at his coronation by the barons of the; 535.
 - men of the, to be present at the enthroning of the Archbishop of Canterbury, 1454; 521.
 - ship of war to be provided by the, 1458; 522.
 - inquisition as to the privileges of the, 14 Edw. IV.; 569.
 - confirmation of privileges to the, by Ric. III.; ib.
 - composition between the, and the Lord Warden, W. Brooke, Lord Cobham, 1574; ib.
 - ships to be furnished by the, 1587; 570.
 - ancient courts for some of the, revived, 1601; 135.
 - returns as to corn and malt in the, 1608; 569.
 - list of grievances by the, 1629; ib.
 - execution of Exchequer writs in the; ib.
 - return to a writ of habeas corpus that it does not run in the; ib.
 - Admiral of the; ib.
 - 1601; 139. See Admiral.
 - admiralty of the, 1601; 139.
 - bailiffs from the, at Yarmouth; 553.
 - barons of the; xvii, 454, 497, 516, 532, 540, 544 ter, 545.
 - rules for the attendance of the, at coronations; 488.
 - claims of privileges by the; 569.
 - brethren of the; 536, 537.
 - clerk of the; 550.
 - common clerk of the; 539.
 - mayors, bailiffs, and ministers of the, writ to, 17 Ric. II.; 502.
 - mayors, bailiffs, and jurats of the, 1560; 569.
 - mayors, bailiffs, jurats, freemen, and other inhabitants of the, petition of the, 1642; 13.
 - Lord Warden of the; xvii, 568, 607.
 - S. de Pencestre, 13th cent.; 457.
 - Sir John Devereux, 1390; 501.
 - John de Beaumont, 17 Ric. II.; 502.
 - 1394; 535.
 - John Lord Beaumont, 1395; 500.
 - 1400; 536, 537.
 - Prince Henry, 1410-11; 538.
 - 1418-4; 539.
 - Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester, 3-4 Hen. V.; ib.
 - Duke of Buckingham, temp. Hen. VI.; 491.
 - Lieutenant of the; ib.
 - Richard, Earl of Warwick, 1461-2; 544.
 - 1463; 592.
 - minstrels of the, 1463-4; 523.
 - Lieutenant of the, temp. Edw. IV.; 494, 496.
 - — dinner given to the; 495.
 - office of, 1470-1; 525.
 - 1471-2; 545.
 - minstrels of the, 1471-2; 525, 545.
 - 1474; 528.
 - 1475-6; 529.
 - 1495-6; 549.
 - serjeant keeper of the beasts of the, 1497-8; 549.

- Cinque Ports—cont.
 Lord Warden of the, minstrel of the, temp. Hen. VIII.; 553.
 — 1512-3; 550.
 — 1516; 553.
 — minstrel of the, 1530-1; 551.
 — 1524-5; ib.
 — his patent, 7 Eliz.; 569.
 — letter from the, 1578; 570.
 — letter to the, 1588; 138.
 — Lord Cobham, letters to, 1596-1603; vi, 139. See Cobham, Lord.
 — — 1596; 284.
 — lieutenant of the, 1601; 139.
 — droytgatherer of the, 1602; ib.
 — and Admiral of the, 1602; 140.
 — orders by the, 1602; 569.
 — Earl of Northampton, 1604; 570.
 — 1614; 408.
 — Lord Zouch, letters from, 1616-20; 570.
 — order, &c. by, 1628-9; 569.
 — 1642; 57.
 — 1643; 80.
 — 1660; 181.
 — 1665; 295.
 Cinyare, Joseph; 543.
 Cippell, St. Mary of; 322.
 Cirencester, Gloucester; 845.
 — proceedings at, for raising ship money; 313.
 — the Ram at; 346.
 — garrison at; 347.
 — letters dated at; 345, 347.
 — hundred of; 339.
 Cisbett, J., letter from; 266.
 Cissoris, Thomas; 611.
 Cistercian order, abbots of the; 336.
 Cistercians, white robe of the; 488.
 Cisterciense, habitum; 432.
 Citations; 430, 447, 592.
 Civel, Mr., a papist; 50.
 Civel, Peter; 46.
 Civil Law; 273.
 — professors of the, 1638; 413.
 Civil List:
 — debts of the; 190.
 — affairs for the kingdom of Ireland, list containing all payments to be made for, 1709; 259.
 — from 1728; 260.
 — Act, abstract of the, 1782; ib.
 Civil Service:
 — minutes as to the reform of the, 1782; 258.
 — report of the commissioners for reorganising the, 1784; ib.
 Civil War:
 — temp. Car. I.; vi, ix, xi, 172, 178, 333, 349, 359, 388, 645.
 — letters and other papers giving account of different incidents in the; xii, 2, 135, 142, 147, 161, 347.
 — tracts, from 1640 to the Restoration, collection of; 320.
 — collection of passages and occurrences in the, concerning Chester; 333, 339.
 — letters relative to the, 1642-3; 346.
 — diary of the doings of the royal army during the; 362, 367.
 — Catholic volunteers in the; 469.
 Civile, Fran. de, letter from; 263.
 Città Vecchia; 270.
 Civitate, Henry de; 481.
 Claibun the Datary; 335.
 Clakmannan, Robert Bruce of; 655.
 Clancabrough, Devon; 123.
 Clancarty, Lord, his escape out of the Tower, 1694; 385.
 Clanchfield, Oxford; 130.
 Clan polity, charters illustrative of points of; 613.
 Clanrickard, Clanricard:
 — Earl of, letter from the, 1614; 409.
 — — 1641; 350.
 — — 1641-2; 8.
 — and St. Alban's, Earl of, resolutions respecting the surrender of Galway to the, 1642; 32.
 — — Ullick, propositions made by, to the town of Galway, 1642; 32.
 — — 1642; 33.
 — — order of the; ib.
 — — letter from the, 1642; ib.
 — — 1642-3; 70.
 — — a papist, protection of the estate of the, 1643; 86.
 — — letter from the, 1646; 465.
 — Lord, 1686; 319.
 Clan Ronald, Clanranald:
 — Captain of; 610.
 — — killed, 1715; 619.
 Clans:
 — the; 619 ter.
 — George Wade's reports on the state of the, 1724; 628.
 Clapham; 77.
 Clapham, Surrey, letters dated at; 484.
 Clapham, Sussex; 132.
 Clapham:
 — John, letter from; 275.
 — Ro., letters from; 463, 474, 475.
 Clare; 267.
 — manor of; 427.
 Clare, Tilbury juxta, Essex; 125.
 Clare:
 — G. de, 1264; 455 bis.
 — Richard de, Earl; 575.
 Clare, Earl of:
 — 1642; 148.
 — 1643; 347.
 — cause between the Earl of Thanet and the, 1692; 383.
 — 1767; 218.
 Clare, Thomas, affidavit of; 29.
 Clare, petition of the owners and merchants of the ship; 109.
 Clarendon, Notts; 129.
 Clarendon, 606.
 Clarence, Duke of:
 — bearward of the, temp. Edw. IV.; xvii, 494.
 — minstrels of the, temp. Edw. IV.; 494, 495, 496.
 — men going on a voyage with the, 1469-70; 525.
 — minstrels of the, 1472-4; 526.
 — — 1474-5; 545.
 — 1480-1; 527.
 Clarendieu, King of Arms, 1646; 487. See Cooke, Robert; St. George.
 Clarendon:
 — Earl of; 344.
 — — letters from; ix, 308, 315.
 — — 1665; 404.
 — — letters from, 1667; ix, 316.
 — — notes of the impeachment of; 320.
 — — copy of his letter to the Lords; ib.
 — — nomination of, as Governor of Ireland, 1685; 319.
 — — letter from, 1686; 319.
 — Countess of (temp. Jas. II.); 320.
 — House, letters dated; 315, 316.
 Clarges, Sir Thomas; 347, 348. See Clerges.
 Claringhorn, Mr.; 325.
 Clark, Clarke:
 — . . . ; 96.
 — Mr.; 106, 222.
 — — recommended to the rectory of Stisted; 20.
 — — letter to; 296.
 — Mrs.; 296.
 — Sergeant; 390.
 — widow; 17.
 — Captain; 33, 149.
 — — governor of Cowes, Isle of Wight; 385.
 — Daniel; 399.
 — Dugard; 65.
 — Ed., letter to; 316.
 — Elizabeth, widow of Captain Peter, petitions of; 19, 23.
 — George, Sir, sheriff of the city of London, petition of; 40.
 — Henry, Sergeant, order for the indemnity of; 97.
 — Humphrey, affidavit of; 6.
 — John; 109, 566.
 — — curate of Stisted, Essex; 18.
 — — parson of St. Ethelborowe's within Bishopsgate; 62.
 — John, recusant, articles against; 464.
 — Peter, Captain, murder of, 1641-2; 6.
 — R., letters from; 467.
 — Richard, petitions of; 89, 109.
 — Robert; 578.
 — Roger, information against; 55.
 — Thomas; 579.
 — William; 361.
 — See Clerk.
 Claro Wapentake, York; 134.
 Claryoner, surname of; 503.
 Classindrum, Robert Falconer in; 631.
 Clatto, David Learmonth of; 639.
 Clatworthy, Somerset; 132.
 Claudian, time of; 339.
 Cloughton, Lancashire; 126.
 Claussen, Laurence, journal of; 215.
 Clautone, Richard de; 601.
 Clavell:
 — name of; 577.
 — Gilbert; 582.
 Claverhouse:
 — Laird of; 316, 610.
 — Colonel Graham of; 642 bis.
 — Sir John Grahame of, letters from; 609.
 Clavering, Colonel; 69.
 Claverton, Somerset; 143.
 Clavyle, Robert; 577.
 Clawton, Devon; 122.
 Claxby, Lincoln; 128.
 Claxby Pluckacre, Lincoln; ib.
 Clay, digging of; 370.
 Claydon, Steeple, Bucks; 120.
 Clayhanger, Devon; 122.
 Clayhidon, Devon; ib.
 Claypole:
 — Lady, daughter of Cromwell; vii, 135, 172, 183.
 — — "a great lover of plays and piety;" 143.
 — — very ill; 146.
 Clayton Lancashire; 127.

Clayton-le-Dale, Lancashire; 126.

Clayton-super-Moras, Lancashire; 127.

Clayton, York; 134.

Clayton:

Dr., verses on the death of; 365.

James, letter from; 475.

John, recorder of the borough of Leeds, petition of; 110.
— son of; ib.

Cla[y]worth, Notts.; 129.

Cleator, Cumberland; 121.

[Cleck] Heaton, York; 134.

Clederow:

Richard; 543.

— M.P.; 544.

Clee cum Thorpes, Lincoln; 128.

Cleeve, Gloucester, Hundred of; 339.

Cleeve, Old, Somerset; 132.

Cleeve, letter dated at; 104.

Clegroke, alias Cleyrog, Anglesey, lands and waste in; 416.

Clemence, . . . , condemned; 181. See Clement; Clements.

Clement:

. . . , condemned; 157.

C., letter from; 473.

Cesar, Dr., letter from; 468.

Gregory; 184.

Margaret, abbess; 474.

Nicholas, monk; 440.

Richard; 517.

Vincent, the Pope's Nuncio, dispensation from; 330.

Clementes, Thomas; 580.

Clement's Inn, chamber in; 390, 393.

Clements, Gregory, execution of; 174. See Clemence, Clement.

Clenachan, Mr., signature of; 240.

Clench:

Dr., murder of; 382 bis.

— murderers of; 383.

Clenchere, Walter le; 507.

Clenock:

Maurice, Dr.; 468.

Morgan, letter from; 470, 475, 476.

Clenstone, Winterbourne, Dorset; 124.

Cleoneaghard, Westmeath; 605.

Clephane, David, letter to; 264.

Clerc:

Rob., letters and papers by; 463, 464, 474.

[Pett], Robert, letters from; 475.

Clere:

B., searcher at Ipswich, letter from; 273.

Henry; 577.

Clerges, Dr., knighted; 150.

Clergy:

the; 145, 158, 344, 430, 446, 447, 453.

protection granted to the, by Edw. I., 1294; 431.

refuse to contribute to the King's wars, 1297; 433.

articles by the, complaining of grievances and oppressions, 1299-1300; 431.

privileges of the, temp. Edw. II.; ib.

the, temp. Edw. II.; 455.

to get the people to pray against the Spaniards, 1588; viii, 311.

prohibitio formata de Statuto Articuli Cleri, 1590; 263.

the old, ejected, 1660; 194.

of the old stamp, 1660; 200.

the, 1690; 380.

petition by the, 1691; 319.

the Chevalier's restoration abhorred by the; 319.

thoughts upon the; 364.

Clergymen; 206, 378.

order by the Commons touching leases by, 1660; 199.

Clericus ecclesie uxoratus; 459.

Clerk, Clerke:

. . . , letter to; 363.

sheriff; 10.

Alan the; 330.

Amand; 326.

Andrew; 548.

Arnulph the; 337.

Dionysia, widow of Peter the, grant by; 508.

— daughter of; ib.

Geoffrey; 560.

George, Sir, alderman and sheriff of the City of London, petitions of; 5, 10, 49.

Giles; 326.

Hervey the; 559.

John; 326, 334, 352.

John; 424, 601, 602, 606.

— of Dartmouth, and Joan his wife; 602.

— mayor of Dartmouth; 424.

John, common clerk of Rye; 492.

John the; 508, 509.

John, steward; 522.

John le, mayor of Wycombe; 561.

John; 562.

John the, son of Matthew; 560.

Laurence the; 505.

Nicholas; 425.

Peter the; 508, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509.

Clerk, Clerke—cont.

Philip the; 481, 503.

Richard the; 302.

Richard; 334.

Richard le, of Southwerk; 599.

Robert; 500, 510, 511.

Simon the; 302.

— of Bobbure; ib.

Simon, bailiff of New Romney; 533.

— jurat; 534, 535.

Stephen; 327, 505.

T.; 558.

Thomas, or Thomas le; 561, 563, 564.

Thomas, Esq., letter from; 399.

Thomas, Burgess of Dundee; 612.

Thomas, son of Geoffrey; 560.

W., letter to; 363.

W., Sir, letters from; 292, 293.

Walter, or Walter the; 433, 601, 606.

Walter, priest; 638.

William, or William the, 425, 478, 505, 509, 564, 603.

— mayor of Bristol; 326.

William, son of Gilbert the; 332.

William, the younger; 602.

— mayor of Dartmouth; 425, 601.

William, of Wycomb; 562.

— mayor of Wycombe; ib.

See Clark.

Clerkenwell, Middlesex; 117.

new prison in, 1643; 95.

St. James's; 103, 129.

— order for search to be made for horses in, 1642; 55.

Clerks:

to read and sing; 608.

imprisonment of, by secular judges, 1299-1300; 431.

Clerksoun, William, bailie of the burgh of Lanark; 633.

Cleveland (York); 186.

York, petition of the gentry, ministry, and commonalty of; 7.

Cleveland, Earl of, 1642; 65.

— the King's forces under the command of the, 1643; 90.

— 1658; 145, 181.

— 1660; 184.

Cleveland, Duchess of; 295.

— daughters of the, by Charles II.; 375.

Cleveland Satyr . . . ?; 374.

Cleves, county of; 140.

Cleybury, John; 577.

Cleydon, Oxford; 130.

Cliburn, Westmerland; 133.

Cliffe, monastery of; 461.

See St. Margaret at Cliffe; West Cliffe.

Clifford:

Lord, 1667; 404.

— signature of, 1668; 422.

— 1673; 317.

— "an infamous relict" of, the Countess of Fauconberg, 1674; 375.

— 1684; 186.

Captain; 138.

— instructions for, to take charge of ships, &c.; 279.

Geoffrey de, Master; 301.

Henry; 472.

N., Captain, letters from; 276, 277.

N., Sir, letters from; 267, 270, 271.

• Robert de; 481.

Robert, of Welle, will of; 460.

Thomas, letter from; ix, 314.

Thomas, Sir; 188, 315.

W. de; 454, 461.

Clifton; 600.

letter dated at; 295.

Clifton-Dartmouth-Hardness; 424, 598, 599, 601, 602.

court of, fine levied in the; 424.

manor of; 599.

messuages in; 425.

tenements in; 423, 424, 426.

tenement in, called the Wellehowse; 425.

vill of; 424.

— land in the; 425.

lord of; 603.

mayor, his brethren, and inhabitants of, petition of the; 5.

mayors of; 601.

See Dartmouth.

Clifton cum Salwick, Lancashire; 126.

Clifton:

North and South, Notts; 129.

cum Glapton, Notts; 130.

Clifton, Stafford; 132.

Clifton, Westmerland; 133.

Clifton, York; 134.

Clifton, Cliftone, Clyftone:

. . . ; 273.

Gervase; 520, 521, 522.

— Lieutenant of Dover Castle; 519.

Gervase, Sir, knight; 544.

Henry; 485.

Climping, Sussex; 132.

- Clink :
order for the assessment of the, 1643 ; 85.
prisoner in the; 465.
- Clinton :
and Say, Lord, John, 1463 ; 590, 592.
— letters from, 1463 ; 590, 591, 592.
Lord, 1555 ; 484.
— E., signature of, 1567 ; 310.
George, the Hon., Governor of New York ; 215.
Henry, Sir, Lieut.-General, troops under ; 234.
— letters from ; 235, 236, 237, 238, 240.
— letters to ; 236, 237, 238 bis.
- Clipped money, 1478 ; 526.
— 1695 ; 885.
- Clippers, 1696 ; 385.
- Clipping money ; 298, 385.
instruments for ; 388.
engines and instruments for, 1695 ; 885.
executions for, 1696 ; ib.
- Clipson, George, petition of ; 109.
- Cliston Hundred, Devon ; 122.
- Clitheroe (borough), Lanc. ; 127.
M.P. for ; 340.
- Clitherowe, Clyderowe, Clytherowe, Clederow, Cliderow :
Richard, Esq. ; 519, 538, 540, 542.
Robert ; 544.
William ; 535, 536, 537, 539.
— relict of ; 544.
- Clive :
... , M.P. ; 179.
John de ; 504.
Robert, letter from ; 474.
See Clyve.
- Cliverger, Lancashire ; 127.
- Clixby, Lincoln ; 129.
- Clobard, John ; 423, 599, 601.
- Clobery, Oliver, petition of ; 30.
- Clock ; 549, 550 ter.
keeping of a ; 587.
- Clocke, Richard ; 425.
- Clockere, William the ; 459.
- Clogher, Bishop of, Tyrrel, 1679 ; 318.
- Cloister :
deserter from a ; 437.
diversoria in a ; 447.
- Clonmell, town of ; 346.
- Clony, capella de ; 624.
- Clookhay, ... ; 345.
- Cloonownamore, Westmeath ; 605.
- Clopton, Walter ; 577.
— Chief Justiciar of the King's Bench ; 577.
- Closet, Dean of the ; 144.
- Cloth ; 18, 67, 79, 108, 436. working, in Essex ; 4. See Clothing. shipment of, to Germany ; 38.
fine ; 165.
exportation of ; 372.
contract to supply, by a Salisbury clothier ; 459.
- Clothes ; 79, 80, 115, 444.
orders for sending, to Ireland, 1642 ; 56 bis.
- Clothiers ; 135, 349.
petition of ; 33.
of the old and new draperies, petition to the House of Commons from the, 1646 ; 403.
- Clothing ; 53.
(for soldiers) ; 52, 53.
reasons for the immediate reformation of ; 820.
- Clotworthies, the ; 100.
petition of the, 1643 ; 112, 114, 117, 118.
of the kindred of Robert Gray, petition of the ; 94.
- Clotworthy :
Sir John, payments to ; 38, 79.
Joyce Powell, alias, petition of ; 112.
- Clovely, Devon ; 122, 373, 572, 573.
Key ; 572.
- Cloves ; 136.
- Cloveshof, celebris locu^s qui vocatur ; 456.
- Clovesteen, Simon ; 443.
- Cloville, Robert de ; 481.
- Cloverwall, letter dated ; 345.
- Club, circular of a social, called the Honourable Order of Little Bedlam ; 399.
- Clubs ; 381.
- Clunn, co. Salop ; 409.
deed for the execution of benevolent undertakings at ; xi, 406.
direction for the completion and endowment of a hospital at, 1614 ; 409.
hospital of, statutes of the ; 412.
manor of ; ib.
- Cluny :
church of ; 442 bis.
abbot of, Peter ; 442.
— letter from ; ib.
Baron of, 1632 ; 653.
Cardinal of, 1373 ; 453.
- Cluter, John le ; 561.
- Clutterbooke, Will., library keeper at Trinity College, Cambridge ; 182.
- Clutton ; 339.
- Clyde, river ; 30.
- Clydesdale ; 609, 614.
- Clyff, John ; 571.
- Clyffe, Matthew ; 490.
- Clymer, Edmond, payment to ; 61.
- Clynclade, Walter de ; 304.
- Clyst St. George, Devon, the collection of MSS. at ; 323.
- Clyve, R. de ; 430.
- Cnobette, ... , tavern of ; 539.
- Cnovile, Gilbert de, Sir, sheriff of Devon ; 604.
- Cnut :
laws of ; 312.
charters of ; 426, 437, 456, 457.
Latin grant by, translation of ; 458.
- Coach :
letter about a ; 371.
horses ; 146, 179.
maker to His Majesty ; 117.
- Coaches ; 66, 67, 88, 111, 154, 169, 174, 181, 184, 200, 202, 206, 207, 383, 414. hackney ; 93.
gilded ; 194.
not to pass on a certain day in the streets between Somerset House and Westminster ; 299.
- Coal mines :
(in N. America) ; 220.
of Cape Breton ; 223. leases of ; 416.
- Coals ; 87, 89, 117, 350, 647.
ordinance prohibiting ships from going to Newcastle for, 1642-3 ; 68.
sea, draft ordinance for rating ; 73.
carriage of ; 160, 415.
high price of, 1690-1 ; 381.
lease with liberty to dig and sell, 16th cent. ; 415, 416.
- Coasts, guns laid along the, in forts and ships, 1660 ; 207.
- Coat and conduct money collected in Worcestershire, 1642 ; 51.
- Coat, cloth, with large silver lace, the badge of an Englishman (in India) ; 360.
- Coates :
Lincoln ; 128.
Great, Linc. ; ib.
Little, Linc. ; ib.
North, Linc. ; ib.
- Coates, Sussex ; 132.
- Coats ; 98.
buff ; 207.
grey ; 98.
- Cobb, Cobbe, Cobbes :
Captain, company of ; 147.
F., Sir ; 192.
George, common clerk of Romney ; 550.
John ; 543, 544, 545.
Richard ; 536.
- Cobham (Kent) ; 146, 167.
estate, note of corn due from farmers yearly on the, 1595 ; 279.
— woods sold on the, 1595 ; ib.
Hall ; 46, 181.
House ; 206.
- Cobham :
Lady, letter from ; 280.
— Anne, letters from, 1597 ; 289, 291.
Lord, Sir George Broke, 29 Hen. VIII. ; 485.
— William Brooke, Constable of Dover Castle, and Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports ; 568.
— petition to, 1560 ; 569.
— letters by, 1560 ; ib.
— letters from and to, 1569-71 ; 570.
— composition between, and the Cinque
Ports, 1574 ; 569.
— his ward, 1581 ; 137.
— letter to, 1581 ; ib.
— Lord Warden, letter from, 1587 ; 570.
— 1588 ; 138.
— Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, and Lieutenant of the county of Kent, letter to, 1588 ; 138.
— letter to, 1588 ; 261.
— letters to, 1588-96 ; vi, 138.
— ordered to raise 1,000 men in Kent, 1589 ; 135.
— inventory of household stuff of, in Blackfriars,
London, 1589 ; 262.
— Henry, obligation of, to his brother, 1589 ; ib.
— letter from [1589] ; 138.
— letters from, 1591 ; 265.
— advertisements from Spain to, 1592 ; 266.
— letter to, 1592 ; ib.
— letters from, 1593 ; 267, 268, 269.
— letters to, 1593 ; 267, 268, 269.
— letters from, 1594 ; 270, 271, 272.
— W., letters from, 1595 ; 138, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278.
— the grandson and ward of, married to his cousin, 1596 ; 135, 138.
— W., letters from, 1596 ; 139, 280, 283, 285, 286.
— letters to, 1596 ; 282, 283, 284.
— Wm., Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, 1596 ; 284.

Cobham—cont.

- Lord, letters to, 1596–1602; 189.
- letter to, 1597; 287.
- H., letters from, 1597; 289, 290, 292, 293.
- Henry, Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, letters from, 1597–8; 570.
- Lieutenant of the county of Kent, letter to, 1600; 189.
- Henry, letters from, 1600–1; ib.
- letters to, 1602–3; 140.
- (and Lady?), c. 1646; 389 bis.
- H. de; 431, 441.
- John de; 302.
- John, Chivalier; 454.
- John de, justice; 458.
- Thomas de, Bishop of Worcester; 303.

Cobiquid, at the head of the Basin of Minas; 239.

Coblehaugh, titles relating to; 633.

Coc, Reginald, 302.

Cochineal; 109, 163, 164, 372.

Cochrane:

- A. D. R. Baillie, Esq., of Lamingtoun, M.P., MSS. of; vi, xx, 632.
- John, Sir, of Ochiltree, letters from; 609.

Cockburn, Cockburne:

- R. letter from; 262.
- Sam., letters from; 261, 281, 282.
- W., letter from; 263.
- See* Cockburne.

Cocke, Cock:

- H., Sir, letters from; 268, 274, 276, 282.
- John; 556.
- Nicholas, of Rood Lane, London; 28.
- S., letter from; 267.
- Sary; 594.
- (or Cockes), W., Sir, letters from; 279, 280.
- See* Coc, Cok.

Cockerington, North, or St. Mary, Lincoln; 128.

Cockermouth, Cumberland; 121.

Cocket Office, the; 110.

Cockfield, Durham; 125.

Cockin, Cockyn:

- Captain; 48.
- Serjeant-major; 45.

Cocking, Sussex; 133.

Cockington, Devon; 123.

Cockpit:

- great feast made in the, by Protector Cromwell, for all his chief commanders; 166.
- the Silent Woman acted in the; 200.
- the Princess of Denmark at the, 1691–2; 382.
- letters dated; 314, 344, 361.

Cockrill, Edmund; 594.

Cocks:

- Hugh; 73.
- James, merchant, petition of; 11.
- John, and others, affidavits of; 74.
- S., letter from; 287.

Cockthorpe [Cokethorpe], Oxford; 130.

Cocoa, duties on, 1767; 218.

Cod fish; 232.

Cod:

- John le; 504.
- William; ib.

Coderagge, road from Worcester to; 302.

Codex Alexandrinus, custody of the; ix, 308, 314.

Codford, Mr.; 350.

Codicot, letter dated at; 359.

Codilep, Thomas; 606.

Codinges, John de; 504.

Codrington:

- Colonel, commission for; 228.
- Ed., Sir, answer of, to the Earl of Lincoln; 279.
- Edw., confession of; 275.
- John, letter from; 346.

Codsheath Hundred, Kent; 126.

Coe, Thomas; 73.

Coenuulf, of Mercia, charter of; 437. See Ceonulph.

Coffee:

- excise of, granted to Charles II. for life; 1660; 158.
- duties on, 1767; 218.
- house, quarrel in a, 1690; 380.
- houses; 625.

Cofferer, Mr.; 11.

Coffin, Coffyn:

- Mr., huntsman of; 573.
- Anne, Mrs., son of; 377.
- letters to; xiv, 371, 372, 373, 375–378.
- Anthony, Master; 574.
- Bridget; 374.
- Edward, S. J., letters by; 464.
- Francis, gent.; 575.
- Humphrey, gent.; ib.
- John, of Portledge, Esq.; 371.
- John; 377.
- John, letters from; 372.
- John Richard Pine, Esquire, of Portledge; 597.
- MSS. of, at Portledge, North Devon; vi, xiv, 370.

Coffin, Coffyn—cont.

- Maurice, son and heir of William; 602.
- Richard, a Spanish merchant; 372, 374.
- Richard, high sheriff of Devon; 372, 373.
- probably author of an expostulation to the Duke of Albermarle; 373.
- of Portledge, letter from; 371.
- and his family, letters to; ib.
- letters to; xiv, 372, 374, 378 seq.
- Thomas, gent.; 575.
- William; 571.
- William, and Maurice his son, of co. Devon; 606.
- family, of Portledge, births and deaths of members of the; 597.

Coffinswell, Devon; 123.

Cogdean Hundred, Dorset; 124.

Coggere:

- Henry le, son of Brunkelot and Beatrix de Sede; 601.
- John, of Kyngiswure; 424.

Coggeshall, Cogshall, Coggshall, Essex; 391, 392, 395, 396.

St. Mary of; 321.

Coggs, Oxford; 130.

Coghell, Sir J.; 251.

Cogship, a; 502.

Coin:

- of England, mandate by Prince Henry (son of Henry VII.), respecting the; 569.
- letter by Queen Elizabeth about the; 333.
- Council letter about the, 1621; 570.
- and bullion, paper on the scarcity of; 314.
- foreign, 1642; 4 bis, 12.
- persons accused of clipping and counterfeiting the current, 1696; 347. See Clippers, Clipping.
- making counterfeit; 644.
- in the plantations, report on regulation of, 1703; 228.
- foreign, proclamation for settling the rates of, 1705; ib.
- foreign silver, Queen's proclamation for settling the rates of, 1707; ib.
- holders of unlawfully diminished, 1773; 208.
- gold, of these kingdoms, 1773; ib.

Coinage:

- money, in the Tower of London, 1642; 59.
- letters relative to the, 1660; 158.
- expenses which have attended the, 1782; 258.

Coiners, 1696; 385.

Coining:

- money, the method of business at the Treasury on; 260.
- 1694; ib.
- executions for, 1696; ib.
- instruments for; 383.
- mills for; 385.

Coins; 317, 359.

Cokayne, Mr.; 390.

Cokburne, John, of Chapelclench; 649.

Cok, Cokke:

- ... of Sandwich; 521.
- the smythe; 517.
- John; 495, 506, 507.
- and Juliana his wife; 425.
- Peter; 424.
- of Hardness, and Margery his wife; 425.
- Reginald; 302.
- Roger; 600.
- Walter, bailiff; 602.
- See* Coc, Koc, Kok.

Coke:

- Reports by, Persons' dedication to his answer to; 473.
- Mr., letter from; 236.
- Lord Chief Justice, letter from; 286.
- Daniel Parker, reports from; 236.
- Edward, Sir, Attorney-General, letters from; xvi, 270, 371, 272, 274, 275, 276, 278, 282, 287, 289, 290, 291, 292, 312, 345, 485, 486, 487.
- letters to; xvi, 275, 486.
- eldest daughter of; 487.
- John, son of Sir Edward, letter from; xvi, 486.
- J., signatures of, 1626; 581, 584.
- John (Secretary), letter from; 358.
- John, the younger; 571.

Cokeman, John; 577.

— bailiff; ib.

Cokenhatch, letter dated; 298.

Coker, Lieutenant-Colonel; 586.

— his company; 587.

Cokerilstrete; 510.

Cokersand, Abbey of, chartulary of the; ix, 329, 332.

Cokeryd, Alice, and John her husband; 525.

Cokessay, William; 303.

Cokethorpe [Cockthorpe], Oxford; 130.

Cokkes, John, son of James Cokkes; 327.

Colan, Cornwall; 121.

Colanno, Carlo, Don, ambassador of Spain in England, letter from; 467.

Colapitte, Henry de; 423.

Colard, Colarde, Collard:

Walter; 563, 564.

William, of Wycombe, mercer; ib.

Colatone, John, provost; 603.

Colbert, pass signed by; 296.

- Colbrande, . . . ; 542.
 Colbron, John, examination of; 277.
 Colbronde's tenement, in Romney; 539. See Colebrond, Kolbrond.
 Colby, William, muster-master; 398.
 Colchester; 80, 84, 45.
 the "Ligure" before, 1648; 143.
 siege of; 182.
 archdeacon of, Richard [1198]; 481.
 bailiff of, letter from, 1595; 274.
 bailiffs of, letters from, 1597; 290, 291, 292, 293.
 [churches of] Christ and Sts. Botolph, Julian, and Denis of; 321.
 corporation of; 14.
 — letter from the, 1595; 278.
 house, &c., at; 89.
 John the Baptist of; 321.
 lands and tenements in; 26.
 mayor of; 26, 38.
 — order for the, 1642; 52.
 mayor, aldermen, and council of, cause against the; 14.
 mayor and aldermen of the town of, petitions of the; 19, 33.
 mayor, aldermen, assistants, common council, and free burgesses of, petition of the, 1642; 35.
 merchant of, W. Turner, examinations of; 271.
 recorder of; 45, 46.
 Wm. Smythe of; 271.
 Colcotes, Lancashire; 127.
 Colden:
 Lieut.-Governor of New York; 220, 227.
 — letters from; 227.
 Cadwallader, letter to; 250.
 Coldham, Captain, captain of trained bands in Surrey; 51.
 Cold Hanworth, Lincoln; 128.
 Coldingham:
 witches burnt at; 646.
 town of; 647.
 town and territory of; ib.
 barony of; ib., 648, 650.
 — forester of the; 647.
 forestry of; 646.
 — old custom of the office of; 650.
 royal palace adjoining the monastery of the Holy Cross in; 647.
 abbey of; 646.
 monastery of, chapter of the, 1542; 648.
 — choir of the; 647.
 priory of; xxi, 646.
 — steward of the; 647.
 commendator of; 646.
 — John, 1509; ib.
 — John, charter by, 1547; 648.
 — John, charter by, 1590; ib.
 prior of; ib.
 — John, 1509; 647.
 — 1539; ib.
 — Adam, and chapter of, lease by, 1535; ib.
 — charter by, 1539; ib.
 — Adam, 1541; 648.
 prior and convent of, 1542; ib.
 priors of; 647.
 sacristan of; ib.
 Sir Alexander Home of; 646.
 Lord of; 647.
 Coldred, Kent; 126.
 Coldstream:
 the river; 154.
 General Monk, lying at, 1659; 193.
 Viscount (Monck Duke of Albemarle), 1660; 154.
 Coldwaltham, Sussex; 132.
 Coldwell, Arthur, letter to; 393.
 Cole, lands sown with; 93.
 Cole:
 Lieut.; 350.
 . . . , a plumber; 383.
 Alan; 507, 509.
 Alexander, son of Elyas, of Rodmersham, release by; 507.
 George; 412.
 Jo., gent., treasurer of the co. of Rutland; 403.
 M., letter from; 280.
 R., letter from; 274.
 Robert, executor of the Earl of Northampton, 1614; 409.
 Roger; 603.
 Thomas, of Weymouth; 577.
 — (mayor) of Melcombe Regis, Richard the chaplain of; ib.
 — and Willemina his wife; 578.
 Walter; 603.
 William, Sir; 69.
 — his regiment at Enniskillen; 74.
 William; 560.
 Colebrond, Andrew; 503, 506. See Colbrande, Kolbrond.
 Colebrook, Devon; 123.
 Colebrook, John, case of; 217.
 Colee, near Reading; 568.
 Colehouse, or Colehey; 575.
 Coleman:
 . . . , 1678; 818.
 Mr., order touching, 1675; 321.
 John; 578.
 Colemanyne, order by Mary Queen of Scots to; 310.
 Colepepper, Alexander, Sir, protestation of, 1588; 406.
 See Colpeper, Culpepper.
 Coleraine; 41.
 siege of, 1689; 345.
 Coleridge:
 Devon; 123.
 — trained bands at; 265, 266.
 Hundred, (North Division), Devon; 122.
 — (South Division), Devon; ib.
 Coles:
 Francis; 108.
 — petition of; 70.
 — of London, stationer, petition of; 82.
 Coleshill; 183, 297.
 Colet, John; 518. See Collet.
 Coletone; 604.
 John de; 424, 606.
 Thomas de; 424.
 Colewiche, Richard de; 337.
 Colgrave, Capt.; 321.
 Colin, Richard, of Culcretun; 336. See Colyn.
 Colisone, John; 609.
 Colistoun, William Rede of; 624.
 Coliton, Devon; 373. See Colyton.
 Colkerton, Colin de; 387.
 Colkowne, John, petition of; 119.
 Colkyn, John; 542.
 Collace, vicar of; 620.
 Colladon, Dr., physician; 84.
 Collard John; 555. See Colard.
 Collarth, Ch., letter from; 268.
 Colle:
 Peter; 302.
 William; ib.
 Collecke, Ed., letter from; 475.
 Collections; 574.
 of money for relief of sufferers by a fire; 566.
 Collector (papal) in England; 446.
 Collectors: of revenue, extortions and oppressions of the; 330.
 papal, 13th cent.; 451.
 Collects; 436.
 College:
 a proposed, in London; 115.
 lands, verses on the sale of; 365.
 Colleges:
 (Catholic); 471.
 English, abroad; 469.
 Collegiate churches, title to the Act for abolishing all dignities in, 1642-3; 69.
 Collesdone, Worcester, lands in; 295.
 Colleshille, Henry; 559.
 — and Agnes his wife; 558.
 Collet, John, consul at Genoa, letter from; 254. See Colet.
 Colleton:
 John letter from, to His Majesty; 465.
 — Dean of the (Catholic) Chapter (of London); ib.
 — vice-archpriest; 468.
 — vicar-general; 471.
 — attestation by; ib.
 — Dean, appointments by; 472.
 — letters from; 465, 467, 471, 472, 474, 475.
 — letters to; 472.
 — alias Smith, letters from; 472, 475.
 Collier, Mr.; 138.
 Colliers, fleet of; 381.
 Colliery, in N. America; 225.
 Collin:
 Mr.; 388.
 Andrew, letters to; 388, 391, 393.
 (or Cullen), Patrick, treason and attainder of; 273.
 Thomas, letter to; 387.
 Thomasyn, Mrs., letter to; 391.
 Collingbourn Ducis, Wilts; 134.
 Collingham:
 North, Notts; 129.
 South, Notts; ib.
 Collins:
 . . . ; 392.
 Mr., deputy surveyor-general of Quebec, letter from; 231.
 Arthur; 96, 101.
 — affidavit of; 101.
 S., (of Cambridge); 313.
 Thomas, notary public; 368.
 William; 42.
 Collman, Dav., mariner of Lubeck; 284.
 Colloin, letter dated; 464.
 Collompton, re-edifying of; 573.
 Colly, Anthony, knight, sheriff of Rutland; 402.
 Collymore, Geo., answers of, to certain articles; 264.
 Colmonell, vicar of; 615.
 Colne; 340.
 Colne, Huntingdon; 125.
 Colne Earles, antiquities of; 322.
 Colne Trawden, &c., Lanc.; 127.

- Cologne; 317, 368.
 an English Capuchin in, letter from; 468.
 Jesuit's college in, rector of the; ib.
 Archbishop and Elector of, Ferdinand, letter from, 1614;
ib. See Coloniensis.
 Archbishopric of, 1688; 317.
 See Colloin.
 Colonel, commission to a; 361.
 Colonels; 179, 200.
 See Commissions.
 Colonial:
 affairs, 1766-83; vii, 215.
 commerce, paper on; 257.
 governor, report on proceedings in courts of justice in cases where a, is concerned, 1715; 229.
 — power of a, to prorogue the General Assembly, 1719; ib.
Coloniensis, Archiepiscopus, Ferdinandus, letters from, 1614;
 464. See Cologne.
 Colonies:
 the; 209, 216, 218, 223, 252.
 act of naturalization in the, 1702; 228.
 mem. relating to trade with the, 1721; 215.
 manufacturers in the, 1783; 227.
 resolutions of the House of Lords relating to the laws of the, 1734; ib.
 northern, plan for a union of the, 1754; 215.
 provision for the clergy in the, 1766; 227.
 letter about upholding the authority of the kingdom over its, 1774; 233.
 American, early history of the; 215.
 thoughts concerning the; 216, 217.
 notes of the statutes, &c. extending to the; 227.
 list of the officers of the, residing in Great Britain; 235.
 commissioners of the, treaty with the, 1782; 240.
 governors of, to correspond with the secretaries of State; 222.
 — proprietary, the Crown's right to appoint, 1707; 228.
 — right of, to appoint naval officers, 1708; ib.
 the southern; 237.
 Colony Acts, the; 227.
 Colpeper, John; 535. See Colepepper, Culpepper.
 Colours; 119, 149, 619.
 of a company of cavaliers; 68.
 of regiments; 104, 202. taken, 1601; 137.
 Colrede, John (? Simon); 534.
 Colshille, John; 564.
 Colshulle:
 Henry; 563.
 John, son of Henry; ib.
 Nicholas son of Alexander de, of Hugendene; 561.
 William, of Great Missyudene; 564.
 William, son and heir of Henry; 563, 564.
 Colston Bassett, Notts; 129.
 Colston, Car, Notts; ib.
 Colston, Ralph; 581.
 Colstone, William; 547.
 Colsulle, John; 564.
 Colt, Mr.; 149.
 Colts, letter concerning, 1597; 292.
 Coltsmore, constables of; 402.
 Colum, St. Mary of; 321.
 Columbus, in the East Indies, town called; 163.
 Columpna, Johannes de, Magister; 428.
 Columpton, Devon, lands in; 370.
 Colverlese, place called; 550.
 Colville, Colvill, Colvile:
; 482.
, letter from; 286.
 M. de, à Londres, letter to; 270.
 J., letter from; 263.
 James, letters from; 261; 263.
 John, letters from; 262, 263, 271, 272, 275, 288.
 Thomas, of Oxenham, and Margaret, his wife; 644.
 Colwick, Notts; 130.
 Colyar,; 608.
 Colyn, Colyne:
 Andrew; 533, 534.
 Edith, wife of Andrew; 534.
 Harry; 522, 525.
 Hankyn; 492.
 Richard; 536.
 Robert, bailiff of Wycombe; 563.
 Simon; 543.
 See Colin.
 Colynson, Robert, prior; 332.
 Colyton, Devon; 122.
 Hundred, Devon; ib.
 See Coliton.
 Comb-makers' ordinary, gentleman at the; 152.
 Combat, judicial, procedure in cases of; 442.
 Combe Bissett, Wilts; 133.
 Combe Florey, Somerset; 132.
 Combe, Long, Oxford; 130.
 Combe Martin, Devon; 122, 373.
 Combe St. Nicholas, Somerset; 131.
 Combe:
 Bartholomew, mayor of Sandwich; 569.
 John atte; 370, 425.
 Combe—cont.
 William atte; 562.
 See Coumbe.
 Combeinteignhead, Devon; 123.
 Comber, Thos. (of Cambridge); 313.
 Combes, M. B., letter from; 271.
 Comerford, Geo., letter from; 262.
 Comestoris Sermones; 484.
 Comitiss, Henricus serviens; 336.
 "Command men," names of, 1642; 63.
 Commanders; 116.
 Commerce; 221, 241, 242, 249, 253.
 treaty of, 1405; 443.
 — between France and England, 1669; 652.
 British, 1782; 255.
 Commercial:
 law; xiii.
 intercourse between England and America through Amsterdam, proposal for a, 1782; 251.
 intrigue, 1782; 255.
 regulations with America, proposed, 1783; 243.
 treaty of 1783; 252.
 — between the United States and Great Britain; ib.
 Commissary:
 Department (in N. America); 235.
 General (in N. America), department of the, 1766; 235.
 Commission:
 of lieutenantcy or array, Act for the securing and freeing all such persons as have executed any power upon any, 1641-2; 12.
 forms for a colonel's commission, for a captain's commission of foot, and for a captain's commission of horse, 1642; 18.
 a captain's, sale of, 1642; ib.
 for captains in the newly raised forces for Hull, draft of; 35.
 a captain's, form of, in the forces raised for the relief of Hull, 1642; 39.
